The fyle table in parliament contains applications from Colonel J. Wesley Allison, "representing Vickers, Limited," for mark VI ammunition. The ammunition in question was the property of Canada and was in the arsenal at Quebec. General Hughes approved and the ammunition

Many of these men were in the uniform of the Irish volunteers, a body formed at the time men of Ulster organized against granting home rule to Ireland. The party worked quietly, compelling all officials to quit their posts, while they cut all the telegraphic communication and posted sentinels on the doors and windows.

Soon afterward firing opened in the neighboring streets, for the rebels mediately shot down any man in khaki. Several officers and men of the regular army thus fell.

Troops Surround Rebels.

Wednesday: The authorities formed a plan to deal with the situation and began making dispositions of troops, drawing a large cordon of men around the city and other smaller cordons around Sackville street, St. Stephen's Green and Four Courts. These movements of troops led to much fighting and bloodshed. Sniping became general through the city, and it was dangerous to walk a few steps in the open. Authorities Net Ready.

The authorities, unprepared at first to deal with the uprising, ordered the police and soldiers to retire at once to their quarters, none of them being armed. In the meantime the rebols seized other points in the city. They established themselves at the city hall, Liberty hall and St. Stephen's Green, and also occupied many houses in Sackville street and the side streets leading to it. Their sentries patrolled blocks in the centre of the city and sharpshooters took up positions on the roofs and at the windows of houses. Failure Severe Blow to Prestige, Says Frank

BLAMES GOVERNMENT

On Military Side Surrender Utterly Insignificant Detail.

A neutral view of the surrender of the British force at Kut-el-Amara is given in an editorial by Frank Simonds in The New York Tribune. The following are his views:

On the military side the surrender of the British army in Mesopotamia is an utterly insignificant detail in a world war. The number of troops surrendered is lissignificant indeed by contemporary standards; the whole affair amounts to something approximating an outpost affair in Europeand the loss of a trench or a village.

But unfortunately it is not on the military side that the Bagdad incident will be viewed or its influence felt. We have seen in The Tribune accounts of the Verdun battle recently that the drue meaning of this colossal struggle was not military, but moral; that the Germans made supendous sacrifices to take, the French to hold, something that was not of military but of moral value. Precisely the same agguments on which resis the French claim to a great victory at Verdun contribute to establishing a really great British defeat before Bagdad.

the war at what the British army has accomplished. They have been disappointed because the failure of the British has cost them terrible losses, but they are equally conscious of the fact that the failure has not been thru lack of effort, and that the British aid remains a great and useful, even more, a necessary, factor in the result they seek. The Russian sentiment is more obscure, but hardly different.

surface to the troops of the Mahometan I Sultan.

In the near east, in the far east, this surrender before Bagdad is a greater fact than the Russian victory at Erzerum of the French at Verdun. What the French have purchased on the Meuse, the Russians along the upper Euphrates, for prestige and influence for the anti-Teutonic alliance, has been wasted by the British in Mesopotamia and in Ireland. All the allies suffer thereby: but who can exaggerate the decline of British prestige in the world? Suppose the war were to end today on the basis of status quo ante, suppose treat Britain were to keep the German colonies that she has taken, what would be the moral estate of the several powers? France would emerge from the storm greater than ever in her splendid history. No German dreamers would ever again in this century fancy France decadent or venture to attack France as an easy way to world power. Germany would stand forth as the marvelous nation which had for many months faced and, on the whole, bested the world in arms, performing miracles but failing to conquer Europe because the thing could not be done. Russia would be stronger, be-and and on the whole, bested the world in arms, performing miracles but staling to be done. Russia would be stronger, because Russia has been reorganized upon a national basis; the people have taken over the war, and after the war they will take over the nation.

But what of Britain? Her fleet has kept the yeas, she remains the ruler of the yeas, she remains the ruler of the yeas, but on land wherever her armies have gone to battle they have gone to defeat, ignominous defeat, regard being had for the seneralship, splendid defeat, regard being had for the soldiers.

To this very day, when British prestiga has become a byword in the market pigers of the world, the British press and the British rulers are talking about what is to be done to Germany, about crushing Germany, about crushing Germany, about crushing Germany would care to change the Germany to talk about anyway—if the same method, the same men and for the British method? Does any one suppose that there will ever be a real fine the question that is asked of very returning traveler; it is fine the question that is asked of very returning traveler; it is fine fact that the people have proves themen who are facing the fact without illusion and the fact that the people have proves themen have failed to march and to die, but in the same method, the same method the same men have failed to march and to die, but in the same without they have come to be because the nation the fact that the people have proves themen have failed to merch and to die, but in the same with the manual to the fact that the people hav bulance at once for the police department.

Two resignations from the fire department were considered. That of F. Paul was accepted, but T. Acton, who has enlisted for active service, was granted leave of absence. The application of J. G. Peddler, ex-fire chief of North Bay, for a position on the force, was granted. He will draw second-class pay for two months, after which he will receive first-class pay.

Another local man, Private Robert Wilkinson, a member of the Princess Pats, has returned home from the front. Wilkinson, who is a married man with two children and resides at 25 Edinburg avenue, was wounded in the trenches on May 5 last, his hip being shattered by a rifle bullet.

The local branch of the Secours National has issued a report, stating that up to the present time, the sum of $13,061.14 has been received thru public subscription. The society sent $1 cases of hospital supplies overseas during the month of April.

Is England Awake?

"Is England awake?" is the question that is asked of every returning traveler; it is the question that is asked in France and in Russia. Yes and no. England is awake terribly, horribly awake to what is happening, to the shame and the disgrace of what has happened, not in the sense that men have failed to march and to die, but in the sense that they realize that alone of the countries of the world their country has failed to meet the crisis, not at the moment when it came, but ever since. England has amde tremendous sacrifices; it has given of its best and its bravest. England is in mourning, not yet to the extent of France, but beyond that of America in the civil war; but France has the Marne and Verdun, England has Galkipoli and Bagdad. What it has given

Raps at Censorship.

The censorship of the British press, the public utterances of the British atatesmen have from the beginning deceived the people. The leaders told them two years ago that no war was conceivable. The war came, the English went to the defeat that was inevitable, and the leaders who had deceived them suppressed the fact, clothed defeat with the garments of victory, never for a moment gave the British people a real vision of the conflict or a real appreciation of the fact that the war was to be long, the issue doubtful and the sacrifice enormous.

The English people have had to find out for themselves and in the depth of agony and suffering what this world war was. The colonies, far more alive to the fact than the mother country, have sent thair sons to Flanders and to Gallipoli, and they have been slaughtered as they were at Anzac, at ypres. Talk with Australians or Canadians in England or on the continent and you will get a real and a saddening view of British conditions. These men sec, they have suffered, they are ready to suffer more, but there is a despair in their hearts because they feel that the British will not see, will not understand.

suffered, they are ready to suffer more, but there is a despair in their hearts because they feel that the British will not see, will not understand.

Talk with the Frenchman and there is no difference. His effort to praise the British is almost painstaking. He will tell you that England has done more than she promised, much more, that she fights with cleaner hands than any nation. But he will say also: "They always come too late; they do not understand this war that we are fighting. Their generals are brave, their soldiers are splendid, but they never arrive and they never learn?" These Frenchmen will ask you anxiously about the true meaning of all the British talk about crushing Germany and continuing the war until Germany is crushed and reorganized from the outside. The Frenchman is willing to fight until the German idea is crushed. He will never lay aside his arms until he is beaten or Serbia and Belgium are liberated, but crushing Germany is another matter.

All Prasse for French.

In France you have the impression of a people dealing with the most terrible fact in this history of the race with courage, competence and complete comprehension. You feel that the people and the generals, the soldiers and the civilians have taken a firm grip upon the realities of their world. But in England you have no such impression, no such reaction. In France men talk to you about the strength of Germany, but if you read the British press you must conclude that Germany is starving to death, bankrupt, that the people are on the point of rising to expel the kaiser and request Asquith or Grey to accept the German crown. You hear of british successes which were British defeats; you hear of how Britain has saved France and saved Russia, and is about to save France gium; you know that Britain has never yet been able to save anything on land, and that the whole war waits until the British can at iast get ready.

London Unreal,

The whole atmosphere of London today is an atmosphere of unreality, of apprehension and of a nation wand

the air defence is a failure, that is, it has failed so far-these are symptomatic of England.

The allies may win the war, and yet England may fail to readjust herself, to find herself. The odds against Germany are great, but the thing that every friend of England must feel is that without a readjustment, without something that approximates a revolution, that sweeps out of office and out of public life the little men with their fluent speech and their purblind eyes, their elegant phrases and exquisite verbal regard for the omralities of life, England will end the war in worse shape than a beaten Germany, than a France ravaged from the Marne to the Moselle, numbering her dead by the hundred thousand.

Expect to Win War.

The French expect to win the war, but they expect to win it by hard fighting, by terrible sacrifices, and they recognize at all times that the Germans are skilful, brave, strong. But the British press and the British public seem still to believe that the war will be won by a miraclo because the Germans are wicked; that God will do for the English what they have not done for themselves; that Germany is going to curl up and go generally to deep damaation of a sudden

Friday: Sniping by rebel sharpshooters had become so prevalent that it was decided to shell the postoffice and houses in its neighborhood. Eight shells had been fired into the Young Men's Christian Association building and two into the postoffice, when a cessition of the cannonade was ordered by a superior officer, as some houses had a superior officer, as some houses had caught fire and it was feared the entire city might be placed in peril. Rebels Started Fires. Rebels Started Fires.

The rebels started fires in several places in the hope, it was reported, of the flames reaching the castle. On Friday night the sky for miles around was illuminated and flames shot up from many points. The green rebel flag that flew over the postoffice was sharply outlined by the glow. Rebels were seen walking on the roof, from were seen walking on the roof, from which flames later increased in inten-sity the already brilliant light enveloping that part of the city. The rebels finally retired to the collseum.

Wanted to Surrender.

Saturday: Announcement was made that the leaders of the revolt had requested that they be allowed to surrender unconditionally as their com-mander-in-chief, J. H. Pearce, had been wounded in the leg, and it was reported that James Connolly, com-mander of the rebel troops, had received a severe wound. How, many of the rebals surrendered to the mili-tary with their leaders was not learnbrought about an immediate diminution of sniping, and the city became comparatively quiet. Only two areas remained in possession of the rebels at night, and it was clearly seen that the military were forcing them into an ever-narrowing circle which would eventually bring about their capitula-

Snipers Pot at Troops.

Isolated parties of snipers still continued to pot at the troops, being evidently unaware of the capture of their leaders. The Associated Press representative made two long tours thru the city in order to obtain an idea of the sentiments of the population regarding the rebellion. Some men, chiefly of the transport workers' class, were sullen, evidently having expected greater results from the movement, which had been in preparation for a long time. Most of the population, however, expressed indignation at the outbreak, which they considered the work of fanatics, and is a never having had a change of permanent success.

Sunday: The final collapse of the rebellion came on this day, the main body of the rebels in Dublin surrendering during the course of the day, beginning in the morning when those in the College of Surgeons gave themselves up, one of which was the Countess Markievicz, said to be one of the leading spirits of the revolt. In a proclamation issued by J. H. Pearce as "provisional president," the surrender of all the rebels was advised as the members of the provisional government had agreed to unconditional sure in order to prevent the fu slaughter of unarmed people and in the hope of saving the lives of our followers who are surrounded an hopelessly outnumbered." Outside Dublin, however, fighting continued at some points, but messages were sen from the leaders in Dublin carrying the news that the movement had co

Monday: Today came the news the all the rebel leaders had surrendere and that the total number of prisoner taken the day previous in Dublin has reached 1000. their aid, a promise that she could not perform. But that army has about as much chance of getting thru the blockade as a rabbit when caught in the open has of evading a cat.

The sequel to the Irish fiasco will also induce the German people to do some hard thinking, if they ever dare to think between the claims of invincibility so industriously promulgated by their war chiefs and their utter imbecility when afforded a good chance to deal their enemy a body blow in Ireland. The collapse of such a scheme makes it far worse for Germany than if she had never tried to stir up any trouble.

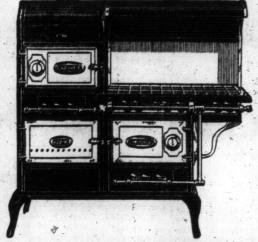

Shelling of French positions on the left bank of the Meuse in a very spirited manner and concentration of gunfire on the Cote du Poivre and Douaumont, on the right bank of the Meuse, today followed the failure of German night attacks on newly-won French positions north of Le Mort Homme and Cumieres, the French war office stated in its communique of yesterday and last night. The French say that the battle of Verdun appears to be reviving a little, but after 69 days of a struggle as tremendous as it is vain, the German effort cannot renew itself with the same intensity. The German offensive there has considerably enfeebled the offensive power of the enemy's fighting forces.

The advance of the Russians on Diarbekr will not be stayed, for their Cossacks have energetically repulsed the Turks toward the west in their progress on that important point. In their movement towards Bagdad, in the same theatre, they also repulsed towards the west an important Turkish division, and they captured by this success a portion of the divisional artillery and numerous calssons. Thus ends another Turkish attempt to stem the tide against Turkey.

The only thing to report from the operations of the past 15 days on the Balkan front is that the allies are fighting more skirmishes with the Germans and Bulgarians than before. In some places the armies are now less tha n1000 yards apart, according to the French war office.

wending the return of hard ground and the drying up after the spring thaw on the eastern front, the Russians are engaged in skirmishing and artillery duels with the Germans and Austrians. In some places the enemy attempts to drive the Russians from their positions. Three such efforts were made southeast of the Ylyka station when the Germans attempted three times to surround a village and were repulsed.

Ask York Township to Refuse Application of Suburban Railway.

Several times during the discussion at yesterday's meeting of the city council, on the board of control's recommendation that the city take over the old General Hospital on Gerrard street, at an annual rental of $10,000, and turn it over free to the military authorities for use as a base hospital, it appeared that endorsation would not be made. Practically every member expressed his views on the subject, and Controller Foster and Ald. Singer made amendments to the recommendation which were defeated. Finally, after considering the matter for more than two hours, the board's proposal was unanimously carried.

Controller Foster led the opposition against the recommendation, and claimed that the government should shoulder the responsibility in this matter. He did not think that the city should stand for the liability as well as the deficits of the Toronto General Hospital board. street, at an annual rental of $10,000,

The $10,000 was a deficit that had to be paid some day and there was no rea-son why it could not be paid now. He declared that altho some members referred to the amount as a war expenditure, it was essentially a peace expenditure. The alderman moved an amendment to the effect that the hospital trust should be asked to give the use of the building free.

Excellent Recommendation Alderman Ball referred to the sentimental and business ends of the question. In connection with the former, he said that half of the sol-diers for military district No. 2 beonged to Toronto, and it was only fair for the city to look after their hospital requirements. "The recommen-dation is an excellent one from many standpoints," he said.

Many others spoke for and against the proposal, and some of the members expressed their views three or four times. The matter was finally brought to a head by Controller Foster, who made an amendment that the recommendation be referred back. This was defeated by a vote of 14 to 7, while Alderman Singer's amendment fared or's amendment fared General Hughes in explanation of the matter. He says that Mark VI is the was then carried.

A resolution was passed asking the York Township Council to refuse the application of the Toronto Suburban Railway for permission to divert their line to connect with the Guelph line. It was thought that the diversion would be prejudicial to the best interests of the city and the township. The motion was immediately sent to the township council, which was in session yesterday afternoon.

A declaration by G. M. Gest to the effect that he was not a German-Anterican and had no sympathy whatever with Germany's cause, was enclosed in a letter sent to the Mayor by Strachan Johnston, K.C. In the opinion of Ald. Robbins, the council wished to help the military authorities in every way, but the $10,000 was purely a government expenditure and should be defrayed by the government.

Ald. Plewman explained that it was an unnecessary expenditure, as the government was guite willing to account here for the above cartridges. Big Reception for New and Old Favorites at Alexandra Theatre.

Frances Neilson is Capable Actress and Made Fine Impression.

"It was worth coming back to To-ronto to get such a wonderful reception," said E. H. Robins last night after the third act of "Under Cover" at the Royal Alexandra, compelled by repeated calls to make a speech of acknowledgment. The Robins Stock Company has come to be an institution of the summer season, and the enthusiasm of the capacity audience last night indicated a degree of loyalty sufficiently strong to satisfy any players. The ushers had a task carrying the baskets of flowers and the huge bouquets up to the stage before Mr. Robins' speech, and the ladies of the company were banked up with the floral tribute until the stage looked like a conservatory. As the several players stepped on the stage for the first time they all received a warm welcome, recognized by old friends of previous seasons. Miss Frances Nellson, the leading lady, had many friends in front also, and was greeted as warmly as any. She is a capable actress, and made a good impression by her refined and restrained methods. Mr. Robins himself received an ovation. "Under Cover" is frank melodrama, but the newer melodrama with plenty of society and fine dresses and a wealthy environment. The story is a detective one, and concerns the attempt to smuggle costly pearls into New York without giving Uncle Sam his toll. Two men are engaged in the plot, into which become entangled two girls, sisters, one innocently and the other, the younger, thru an indiscretion which her youth and charm would excuse with any audience. There are four acts, and they all go with a rush, and altho the company had just got together, and Mr. Robins had not been aware a week ago that he could be present, the piece went without a hitch, and gave evidence of all the "punch" which makes an audience sit up. Eugene Frazier has a strong part as Daniel Taylor, and he makes the most of it. He acts with a forceful naturalness of the most convincing description. Jack Amory had a suitable part as Michael Harrington, whose fondness for cocktails is phenomenal. Jerome Renner was excellent as the nervous young partner of the pearl smuggler and Mr. Robins was unusually well fitted as Steve Denby. Emma Campbell was very funny in the small part in the first act. Vivian Laidlaw and Reina Caruthers as the two ingenues revived many pleasant memories. Helen Travers had a lighter tole than usual, but was particularly cha pacity audience last night indicated a degree of loyalty sufficiently strong to

FUNMAKERS SCORE

Large Audience Enjoyed Work of Very Capable Company.

Daniel J. Sullivan as "T. Boggs Johns," and Ralt Belmont, as "Geo. B. Nettleton, his business partner, was given a more than favorable reception last night in the opening performance of the always-popular three-act farce, "A Pair of Sixes," being produced this week at the Grand Theatre.

A representative attendance, considering it as a first-night audience, was present, and responded to the dry wit, denouements and climaxes of the play with nouements and climaxes of the play with general outbursts of laughter. Applause was generously given now and then, as one of the fun-makers scored some especial hit.

While the two leading comedians carried off signal honors for the number of laughs created, others of the company played their parts consistently and well. Sterling Cheseldine was "Thomas J. Vanderholt," the lawyer. Rebecca Ryeford acted as "Mrs. George B. Nettleton," and Gertrude Fowler assumed the role of "Florence Cole." In the minor character of "Krome," the bookkeeper, John McDaniels acted easily in his assistance of Jane Moore, who interpreted the character of the stenographer, as well as that of "Coddles," the maid.

Thruout the production last night, the company held the attention of the audience, and a final curtain call attested to the same good impression it had made on its first appearance.

WONDERFULLY REALISTIC

Forest Greatest Production, Heads One of Shea's Best Bills.

Vaudeville never presented anything better to its audience than the scenic sensation of "The Forest Fire," given at Shea's yesterday, with Sylvia Bidwell in the portrayal of the heroic chief telephone operator, and a wonderfully realistic drame of the timberlead fully realistic drama of the timberland, thru which runs a story of the working out of justice and the reward of love and sacrifice, which thrills the spectator with the grip of actuality itself.

The story deals with the love of two Repertoire of Songs and Dances brothers for the same girl, Jean Hadley, a telephone operator. One brother commits forgery and the other is blamed and thrown into jail. He escapes after a time, thinking the brother for whom he suffered will assist him, but he refuses, and while the convict is being taken back to prison a forest fire breaks out—how appears later. The heroic operator, who warns hundreds and is rescued from the forest of flame and lurid smoke, from death, midst falling trees and seething river, is the pivot of the play, the finale being one of the strongest scenic pictures conceivable. The Right Way to Heat a House

The Right Way to Heat a House is by HOT WATER. This is PROVED by years of EXPERIENCE, and except for steam in large buildings, hot water is cheapest, best, and practically the ONLY ABSOLUTELY SATISFACTORY method of house heating. Why? Because, water can be regulated to any temperature to suit any kind of weather, and water holds heat longest. The constant, unfluctuating radiation of heat from a King Hot Water Radiator prevents drafts and "cold zones." Blizzards don't affect Hot Water Heating. There is no cold, drafty, "North East" room in a house heated by a KING HOT WATER BOILER. Hot water reaches every room, and every room is heated alike. If, as is the case with the King Hot Water Boilers and Radiators, the system also gives the most and the steadlest heat, it is not only the cheapest, but the best. King Boilers and Radiators are both economical and efficient. One of the principles that makes for efficiency is illustrated this way: Take two vessels—one holding an inch of water, the other two inches of water, and set them over a fire. It is quite plain that the less quantity will heat faster. That principle is followed in the King Boiler. The wall of water surrounding the fire pot and continuing all through the water ways of other makes required to heat and twice as quick to hea

THE FARMERS DAIRY

AGAIN—— A LOWER PRICE

Continuing Our Original Policy of Serving Our CUSTOMERS' Interests First!

When the Farmers' Dairy was formed in 1909 by the leading dairy farmers of Ontario, one absolute and unbreakable rule was laid down as the foundation of our business. It was this, "We will serve our customers to their best interests, and to the best of our ability at all times,"

In carrying out this policy we have introduced new and better methods in the raising and maintaining of dairy cattle. We demand better milk from our shareholders. We have improved shipping facilities. And last year we took the final step and built the wonder dairy—big, bright, many-windowed building of steel, concrete and glass that is the finest on the continent.

Through all these changes and improvements we have been able to keep the price of milk down. Our overhead expense is low, and as a result we are able to pay our farmer shareholders a good price for their milk—a price that enables them to give the necessary time and trouble to producing better milk.

And because of this good price, they are satisfied with reasonable interest on their money invested in this dairy. They are not stock speculators, demanding big returns.

Today we make the most important announcement we have made since the company was formed. Despite the rising cost of production, handling and greatly increased pay to employees, we will fellow our original policy and—

ALLEGED IRREGULARITY

Apartments Ltd. and Pullman Motor Company Are Wound Up.

Justice Middleton at Osgoode Hall yesterday afternoon enlarged the hearing of the motion made before him by Edward Birch, who endeav. ored to restrain the public school board of section 15, York County, from proceeding with the building and issuing of debentures for $87,500, the cost of the erecting of the school, and the case, if resumed, will be heard in the divisional court.

Birch is a member of the York County School Board, and gives as his reason for making the motion be-fore the court that the bylaw calling for the purchase of the property in that section and the plans for the building that were passed by township were irregular and proper.

The case has been in the courts before and came up before Justice Mid-dleton for argument again yester-

When he came to branch Hon Charles Marcil interrupted him with a query as to the truth of the Canadian Government having turned several hospitals in France over to the use of the French Government. Sir Robert replied that three Canadian equipped and operated hospitals at Boulogne, St. Cloud and Dinault had practically been presented to the French Government for the care of French troops. In point of equipment, he said. Canadian hospitals were second to none in Europe.

At the conclusion of his reading Sir Robert made the important announce ment that as a result of earnest efforts on the part of Sir Sam Hughes and himself the Canadian Government had made arrangements with the British war office whereby the ber of Canadian troops in land should be augmented to 52 bat. talions. The Canadian Government had realized, he said, the discrepancies in the number of troops sojourning in Canadian training camp as compared with the number in England and at the front. The was now so arranged so that the transportation of fit Canadian battalions would be much quicker and materially lessen the number of battalions waiting in Canada. As a result of the arrangement, he said, during the months of March and April

Col. Carnegie said the subject was under consideration. Personally he was disposed to be lenient with the company. Up to April 30, they had delivered 157,000 fuses, and he thought it could now continue deliveries at the rate of 14,000 a day. The work had been delayed by strikes and also by many changes of design. Col. Only three factories in England had succeeded in making the No. 80 fuse, and their deliveries were very slow, as were the deliveries of the American factories engaged in such manufacture.

The witness was going on to name the factories and their failure to make good, but it was finally decided that such details had best be omitted in the public interest. The colonel, how-ever, was permitted to say that no company manufacturing fuses had de-livered in to the contractured fuses had deivered up to its contract, either it

PAIN IN THE BACK

Usually Comes From Muscular Rheumatism.

Do not worry about a pain in the back. The worry will do you more harm than the pains. The cause of most backacres is muscular rheumatism, which is painful enough, but not fatal. Lumbago is a form of muscu-Mr. Hellmuth then addressed the commission regarding the charge that Allison and his associates divided a commission of four cents per cartridge case upon an order for 500,000 cartridge cases, placed with Edwards Valve & Manufacturing Co. of Chicago and Gary, Ind., by the shell committee. He said the correspondence in his possession showed that an order to the firm for the cartridge cases had been given, but under a time limit, and he was advised that no delivery had ever been made, but he desired to ask some questions of Col. Carnegie concerning the same.

Col. Carnegie admitted asking J. Wesley Allison to place an order for copper cartridge cases. He said it was utterly impossible to get deliveries from Canadian manufacturers of cartridge cases in June and July, 1915, and great quantities of uncompleted shells were, therefore, accumulating.

It was a fairly desperate situation and lir rheumatism, so is a stiff neck. Sufferers from any form of rheumatism should keep their general health up to the highest standard by the use of a blood-building tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, while taking good, nourishing food, without too much meat. Proper nutrition and pure blood are the best mer.ns of fighting rheumatism. Rheumatism comes from an acid in the blood. Build it up, strengthen the system, and drive out the poisonous acid that causes rheumatism. In this way sufferers have found complete recovery as is shown by the following case: Mrs. Samuel Childerhouse, Orlilia, Ont., says: "About three years ago I was greatly affected with a severe pain in the back, which I thought at first was due to kidney trouble. I tried a number of remedies, but they did not help me any, in fact the pain was growing worse, and got so bad that I was quite unable to do my housework. Brooklyn Now Leads The National League

SAME SORROWFUL TALE LEAFS' FOURTH DEFEAT

Daily Story From Front-Pitchers Put Up Miserable Fight -A Beating.

Special to The Toronto World. BALTIMORE, Md., May 1.-Toronto has still to win a game in the International League chase this season, the Orioles pushing the Leafs down this aftermoon to the fingle of nine to four, which made the fourth straight defeat of the year for Joe Birmingham's aggregation. Lack of pitchers who are in condition to go thru a battle again proved the undoing of the visitors, who played bangup and faultless ball thruout, their work being in sharp contrast to the fielding offered up by the Birds, who miscued no less than six times. Lyons, Manning and Dye were all used, and, of the trio, the first named showed by far the best form. Had Manager Birmingham let the youngster stick to his guns a bit longer, the score might not have been quite as large as it was. Manning lasted less than a session, and Dye went into the box after the Birds were tired circling the base paths.

Oh, For Some Pitchers! tional League chase this season, the Ori-session, and Dye went into the box after the Birds were tired circling the base paths.

Oh, For Some Pitchers!

Altho the Leafs, including Business Manager Irwin, complain of not being in shape, the fact is they left little or nothing to be desired frfom a defensive standpoint. Their work with the willow lacked most of the time, but had Toronto had the pitchers, the story would have been considerably different. Martin and Black, burne displayed some particularly brilliant work, the former accepting his seven chances, while Blackburne took care of all of his ten.

Baltimore was the first to come thru with a counter; this being done in the second round. Lamar opened with a bingle to centre, and Fewster's screaming liner was taken care of by Blackburne. Ritter doubled to left, Lamar puiling up at third. McAvoy was purposely walked in the hope of getting a double-play. Lyons' chances for escaping looked good, when he fanned Sherman, but he became wobbly and walked Bates, forcing home Lamar. Kopf had a real opportunity, but he lifted to Brackett, who, after misjudging the ball, made a sensational one-hand grab.

The Birds pushed over another in the fifth on Kopf's single, his stolen base and two infield outs.

The Leafs had done nothing with Sherman's shoots during the first five rounds, except in the third session, when two singles and a hit batsman filled the bases, with one down. Brackett, however, popped to Twombly, and Graham hoisted, but the BEAVERS' FIELD DAY.

Two fine events have already been arranged for the military field day to be held by the 204th Beaver Battalion at the Island Stadium on Saturday, May 13. These are marathon races. The first will be a special event put on by Tom Longboat and Jim Corkery for fifteen miles, and a ten mile event open to all men who have not yet won a prize for long-distance running. Plenty of incentive is offered for running soldiers to get out and make this a big event, seeing that there are 25 prizes. The events are open only to soldiers connected with some military unit in military division no. 2.

math of the meeting between Frankie Fleming and Eddie Wallace, which finshed in such an unsatisfactory manner at the Drill Hall on Thursday night, Referee Billy Moorehouse stated that Fleming was not given the decision on a foul. It is well known that a fighter cannot lose on a foul unless he is disqualified by a referee for it. As Referee Moorehouse did not disqualify Wallace, no decision can be given in this bout.

In speaking of the bout, Referee Moorehouse said "that Fleming was no doubt struck low, but that he was responsible for it himself by knocking down a blow of Wallace's." "When Fleming was struck him once or twice in the stomach, and to guard another blow Fleming. Wallace struck him none or twice in the stomach, and to guard another blow Fleming games on no fewer than 23 occasions, particularly wallace made the statement that he would meet Fleming at any time named by him, the proceeds of the bout, wallace for patriotic fund. Fleming, who is now in the hospital, has accepted that challenge, and has also stated that he would give his services in a bout with Wallace for patriotic purposes. Fleming names May 24 as the date of the bout, which, he claims, will give him sufficient time to recover and get back into training.

Fleming names May 24 as the date of the bout, which, he claims, will give him sufficient time to recover and get back into training.

In speaking of a future bout with Fleming was accident that he will never be able to play football again. He has twisted his knee so badily that there is not any hope it will ever get right again, and thus comes to the close one of the most remarkable careers on the football field in the records of English soccer. That Fleming is determined to meet Wallace again, according to the contract which he signed yesterday, was evidenced when he deposited five hundred dollars in cash with Chief of Police Campeau as a guarantee of good faith that he would donate his services free for another meeting with his Brooklyn rival.

are to be congratulated on securing the film.

Previous to the showing of the main attraction, the pictures of the preliminary training of the boxers, views of Madison Square Garden, the promoters, and other interesting features in connection with the bout, were shown. To reproduce the entire performance it required 18,500 feet of film.

From end to end there is not an objectionable feature. The men broke cleanly, displayed much clever footwork, and there was not even a knockdown during the entire ten rounds to mar the exhibition.

The pictures have to be seen to be ap-

The pictures have to be seen to be appreciated, but they show conclusively that Willard is a great man in every sense of the word. He is not only a good battler, but his giant stature was not as much as shaken by Moran's strongest efforts.

QUALITY OF CATTLE

Fair Percentage of Good to Choice Amongst Those Offered Yesterday.

HELD OUT FOR PRICES

Values for Stockers and Feeders Remained Steady at Last Quotations.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards, on Monday, were 126 cars, 2650 cattle, 232 hogs, 71 sheep, 322 calves and 40 horses. With those that came in on Saturday there would be about 2800 fat cattle on sale. The quality was fair to good, better than is usually offered, a fair percentage of good to choice being amongst them. Trade was slow. Drovers had, as usual, paid exorbitant prices, for their cattle did not want to take values offered by buyers. Heavy steers and medium cattle were about 10 to 15 cents per cwt lower, but choice cattle, 1050 to 1160 lbs., were very firm; one load sold by McDonald & Halligan of this class brought $9.10 to go to the Harris Abattoir Co. The Harris Abattoir Company bought the best load of cattle on the market at $9.15; and 12 carloads of butchers, 1000 to 1200 lbs., at $8.75 to $8.90. The Swift Canadian Co. also bought 10 carloads at $8.85 to $8.90, and one extra quality load at $9.05. Steel and Quebec Railway, the former rising 3½ points, to 110, or within a half, point of its best, in a long period of years, while the latter, on an advance of 2½, to 29, touched the highest price since the summer of 1912. Scotia held well, finishing 103½, or 2½ up for the day. Cobalt Stocks Have Gone Into a Wider Investment Field

The rise in the price of silver has produced the inevitable result, viz: attempts to purchase large quantities of the metal and also the shares of the companies which are silver producers. The movement in the Cobalt stocks, which started only a few days ago, is one of the numerous stock market proceedings due to causes which direct the attention of investors and speculators to certain sections of securities for specific reasons. There were really no silver quotations yesterday because London was on holiday and New York merely repeated Saturday's price of 73½ cents an ounce, without business. Estimating silver at 75 cents or 73% cents an ounce, the increased earnings, accepting last year's production as a basis for the present year, for the following companies will be: Nipbasis for the present search (Coniagas, $266,000; Timiskaming, $205,000; La Rose, $148,000; McKinley-Darragh, $147,000. The big feature of yesterday's dealings on the Standard Stock Exchange was the volume of business. During the morning session the dealings ran over 305,000 shares. The orders came from New York to San Francisco, and in instances single purchases were in blocks of 20,000 and 25,000 shares. The Americans have made piles of money in munitions and copper stocks and are now keenly alert to the possibilities of the Cobalts. With pretty much of a famine in silver and with Cobalt and Tonapah the only camps to be relied upon at present, the future affords a great speculative prospective. The Cobalt market has passed out of its local environment and the various stocks are now being followed by the whole of the North American continent with its population of 100,000,000, Biggest Day in Years at Standar Exchange Yesterday-Stocks Higher.

With sales of 434,355 shares, th Standard Stock Exchange yesterda had the biggest day's business fo years, and brought up memories of the old Cobalt days. It was simply repetition of Saturday's wild marke with the added afternoon session. I noon, when business amounted to over 305,000 shares, it was assured that re cent records established in the bit market around Christmas would it surpassed.

Orders had accumulated over the week-end and these coming in all a once caused considerable congestion and brokers found it impossible to fi market, stocks were selling sometim one and two points apart at the san time on the floor.

case and two points apart at the same time on the floor.

The buying was general, coming in from all over Canada and the United States. The tremendous increase in trading will undoubtedly have the effect of creating sensational price changes.

There was a nominal quotation on silver from New York of 73½, the same as on Saturday, the London market being closed on account of a holiday. However, fluctuations in silver now should not affect Cobalt to any appreciable extent, as the trend is the metal to stop around present price

Timiskaming was the issue me heavily dealt in, with total sales of 7 000 shares. The stock opened at 1/2 points up from Saturday's closed sold up to 821/2, and eased off 8½ on profit taking. McKinley-Da agh was up to a new high lev opening at 66½, I point up, and a vancing to 71, closing at 69. Nipissisold up to $8.50, an advance of 25 point | Sold up to $8.50, an advance of 25 points | from the previous high. It is reported trem United States sources that $10 is being talked of for the stock. La Rose sold up to 85, closing at 83, a net gain for the day of 5 points. Coniagas went up a few notches to $5.55, and Beaver passed the half century mark at 51½, closing at 50½.

| Adanac continued to advance, reaching 70, which is a full 20 points higher than the first issue of the stock put on the market less than two weeks ago. Crown Reserve reacted 4 points to 58 or. the close. Kerr Lake changed hands at $5.

selling up to a new high for the movement at 35, and reacting on profitaking to 33%. There is some talk of a contest for control taking place at the annual meeting, which is to be held shortly.. Trethewey went higher at 34, and closed at 32. Chambers-Ferland was sold at 32. Chambers-Perland was one of the active ones, opening at 33. selling up to 34%, and closing easier at 30%. In the smaller stocks, Foster, Gifford, Hargraves, Bailey and Ophir were largely traded in.

McIntyre was one of the features of the whole market, opening at 99 and jumping 10 points in a very short time. Realizing for profits caused a break later to 104. Brokers are calling Mc-Intyre to become the market leader again, a position it has always assured. again, a position it has always assum-ed in any previous big market movement. Jupiter was active, and stronger, selling up to 24. Holly made a new high at $30.75, and Dome Mines was stronger, advancing to $26.

WILL HAVE BIG SURPLUS PLUMMER&CO. The rise in Scotia on the local exchange has brought considerable attention to the eastern issue. The company's earnings for the first quarter of this year amounted to $1,150,000, as compared with $940,000 in the sam period last year. It is figured out that out all of 1916 the end of the year will see a big surplus piled up for the common stock, after all provision had been made for other payments, such as bond interest, preferred stock, and war

German Wireless Sets and Hidden Ammunition Found in Desert.

BERLIN, May 1 (Via London, 4.15 p.m.)—At least another day's deliberations at great headquarters and perhaps more may be expected before the German answer to the American note is decided on. This is deduced from the fact that Ambassador Gerard telegraphed last night it was uncertain when he would be able to return to Berlin. Mr. Gerard is the guest of Emperor William at meals. SURPRISED AT PAULINE.

Motion Picture Editor: I was quite surprised to see that Pauline Frederick was so near the bottom of the list. It seems to me that some people don't know a clever actress when they see one. Mary Pickford is very fine in her own way, and in the class of pictures in which she is starred, but when it comes to portraying jealousy, hatred, love and deceitfulness, as is portrayed in "Bella Donna" and "The Spider," Pauline Frederick is unsurpassable. As for Grace Cunard, I can see nothing in her acting that is worthy of the top place in this contest.

Dear Sir: Here enclosed six votes for the popular star, Miss Grace Cunard. We are trying our very best to boost Grace up again since she dropped a little last week, but hope she will regain and keep her lead until contest closes. Mary Pickford is a fairly good actress, but she certainly should not be first, in my opinion, as there are several others that are not getting the praise they should, including Violet Mersereau, J. Warren Kerrigan and Cleo Madison, but am glad to see them gaining slowly. Wishing them all success in this contest.

THE modern tendency seems to be very much against medicines and drugs of all kinds—especially with people who have naturally good constitutions themselves; they perhaps go rather too far in their wholesale condemnation of them for and fingers, wholesale condemnation of them for wholesale condemnation of them for those less healthily built.

The more we concur in this view and try to replace the use of medicine by a wise choice of diet and due amount of exercise the greater becomes our interest in the medicinal properties of fruit and other foods. We have so long been told that if only we incorporate plenty of fruit and vegetables in our daily diet medicine will be superfluous. Consequently we may become inclined to expect too much from fruit.

Everyone remembers the old adage about fruit being bers the old adage about fruit being "golden in the morning, sliver in the afternoon and lead at night," tho we shall not all necessarily agree with the implied admonition to eschew fruit at the end of the day. An orange or apple—is, however, more useful before breakfast than later. Stone fruits are also efficacious then, tho to eat a banana before breakfast, as some people are known to do, is a mistake—unless they take it merely for nourishment, feeling the need of something to give them strength until breakfast time.

Eat Banamas Cooked.

Bananas are much more digestible cooked than in their natural condition; this is because of the raw starch they contain. Babies may eat them baked, but ought not to touch them when raw. Beating them to a cream with larger inter sugar and discoved galance. lemon juice, sugar and dissolved gel-atine has somewhat the same effect rendering them more digestible as

Fruits do not exert direct medicinal effects—in moderate quantities—so much as they "encourage the natural processes by which the several remeprocesses by which the several remedial processes are brought about."

Lemons have long enjoyed a deserved reputation as being good for the liver. They are pleasant in hot weather, but it is a mistake to take lemonade too strong or too regularly or—particularly if one be at all rheumatically inclined—too sweet. Unsweetened lemonade would often be more wholesome, but a scant teaspoonful to the glass renders it much more palatable.

Many ladies embroider linen or lawn shirt blouses or linen centrepieces and doilies for their friends. Many, too, the naturally neat, will find their work soiled before it is finished. The chalk may afterward be shaken out.

To protect children against accidents from fire an excellent plan is to soak their clothing for nive minutes in a solution of one pound of ammonium phosphate in a gallon of cold water. This fireproofing is non-poisonous, keeps indefinitely, does no more harm to the material than ordinary water, and is recommended for treating not only light clothing but curtains and other inflammable fabrics.
