The Toronto World SPRACKLIN SAYS TORONTO "LEAGUE" SENT DEATH THREAT German Ex-Emperor In His Book Capital Ship to Retain Its Place As Principal Unit of British Navy

GIBBS IS HOPEFUL OF REAL PEACE IN TROUBLED IRELAND

Dominion Home Rule Is the Ultimate and Only Solution, He Asserts.

SINN FEIN TO ACCEPT

"As far as I have been able to ascertain, there is no general ill-feeling towards Britain in the United States. I have spoken at meetings in more than 20 cities throughout the U.S.A. and have always found the greatest friendliness towards England. All the educated and intelligent people there realize that the future of the world virtually is dependent on the amicable relations between these two great countries."

"I certainly had a hot time in New York," he commented, in referring to an organized Sinn Fein demonstration made at one of his meetings in that city. "I am convinced, however, that the Sinn Feiners or Sinn Fein sympathizers are in the very small minority over there. New York, of course, is its hot-bed, but even there I was assured by many of the leading citizens that it was only a well-organized minority that was trying to create a disturbance. Many people came to me after the meeting to assure me that such was the case. Father Duffy, whom I had met when he was a chaplain in France, came to a meeting I held in New York, and they were making fools of themselves and that I was not trying to knock the Irish."

"This remark to the effect that I have an ill-feeling toward Ireland is more than true. I have a warm spot in my heart for that country, and my mission is to try and find the solution to the problem. I have nothing against them. In Boston, where I spoke to a meeting where more than half of the audience were Irish, there was not one disturbance. Solution of the Problem.

"There is no doubt in my mind," said Sir Philip, "but that dominion home rule for Ireland will be the ultimate and only solution to the problem. The latest reports show that everything is working towards that end. Both sides appear to be more than willing to compromise. My private information, which I have on the highest authority, is that the Sinn Fein themselves are about ready to accept this."

HOSTILE REPUBLICS ACCEPT MEDIATION

Panama and Costa Rica Notify League That Hostilities Have Ceased.

Geneva, March 13.—The League of Nations today published despatches exchanged between Panama and Costa Rica and Sir Eric Drummond, general secretary of the League of Nations, in which the two republics notified Sir Eric that they had accepted mediation by the United States in their frontier dispute, and that hostilities have ceased.

Panama and Costa Rica each holds the other entirely responsible for the difficulty along the border between the two republics. Panama reiterates her refusal to recognize the decision of Chief Justice White of the United States Supreme Court in delimiting the frontier, and reserves the right to demand an indemnity for the expenses of defensive expeditions. Emphasis is laid upon the fact that Costa Rican prisoners and wounded are being well-treated by the Panamanians in conformity with international agreement, and as is proper in a civilized country.

WHISKEY IN BALED PAPER.

Albans, Vt., March 13.—Customs officials here seized 190 cases of liquor at an estimated value of $25,000. It was found in a carload of baled paper. The officials declined to say from what point it was sent of its destination.

WILHELM DECORATES HIMSELF WITH HALO OF ANGEL OF PEACE

Declares He Was Foiled by Machinations of Britain, France and Russia—Also Throws Some Interesting Sidelights on European History—Claims He Made Proposals to Found League of Nations.

The Hague, March 13.—In the book he has written for private distribution in an attempt to show that Great Britain was responsible for the war, former Emperor William of Germany through speaks always of himself in the third person. He paints William as a man who tried for 30 years to maintain peace in Europe, but says he was foiled by the "perfidious machinations of Great Britain, France and Russia."

As long ago as 1905, the former kaiser says he tried to found a league of nations. Although full copy of the book is yet available and both the former emperor's entourage and the Dutch and German governments are worried because of the publication of his extracts from it, sufficient of the contents of the volume have leaked out to indicate the general trend of the entire work. The book was principally due to the Berlin correspondent of The Rotterdam Maasbode.

The correspondent says the book begins with notes as far back as 1854, some years before the date when William succeeded his father as king and emperor. "In some places," says the correspondent, "the document is very interesting, especially notes of August 18, 1891, where he treats of the visit of William to Czar Alexander III, at Narvik, when the czar said he hated the French republic and wanted to restore a monarchy in France. But, says the correspondent, the Russian-French military agreement had been negotiated saying that in the (Continued on Page 10, Column 4.)

BARS U.S. FLIERS FROM CANADA'S AIR

Bureau Must First Be Established There for Licensing and Registration.

New York, March 13.—United States army, naval and civilian pilots will be prohibited from flying over Canadian territory after May 1, unless the United States government establishes a bureau to issue licenses and register pilots, according to the agreement reached at the recent international air convention. The convention, it was announced today by the Manufacturers Aircraft Association, was subscribed to by all the powers, including the United States, and established the ruling that air pilots should be barred from flight over other countries than their own until they receive government licenses for airworthiness and responsible operation. No government board invested with power to issue such licenses exists in this country, although Canada and larger European powers have such bureaus already in operation.

SEES DUCKS AND GEESE RETURNING FROM SOUTH

Assiniboln, Sask., March 13.—Corp. James Bell, provincial police officer, says that while at Wood Mountain he saw ducks and geese coming back from the south. This is the earliest date for their return in 48 years, declare "old timers."

Germany Will Dissolve All Her Civilian Guards

Berlin, March 13.—The federal council has adopted the government's draft law providing for the definite dissolution of all German civilian guards and self-defense organizations. Bavaria's seven votes were the only ones cast in opposition to the measure. This threatens to bring to a head the long-expected clash between the central government and Bavaria, which stubbornly opposes the breaking up of the powerful system of "Freiwilhrer" and local committees formed to maintain law and order. The Bavarian government has declared that the measure is not demanded by reasons of foreign relations and that its enforcement will seriously threaten internal unity. The representative of Bavaria claimed that neither the Versailles treaty nor the Spa agreement obligate Germany to

DR. MICHAEL CLARK ATTACKS PROTECTION

In Cobalt Speech Declares High Tariff Restriction Upon Trade.

BOUQUET FOR MEIGHEN

Cobalt, March 13.—(By Can. Press.)—Dr. Michael Clark, M.P., for Red Deer, Alta., addressed a well-attended meeting in the Grand Theatre tonight under the auspices of the United Farmers of Ontario and the Independent Liberal party. His speech was devoted entirely to the subject of protection. He said the prime minister of Canada had settled the policy of the government as an anti-industrial Tory would, and had nailed the protection flag to the mast. The Progressives, said Dr. Clark, would gladly take up the challenge. Protection, said the member for Red Deer, was in a word, government assistance to certain industries at the expense of others. It was, therefore, unjust, and should be condemned by the common moral sense of the community.

SPRACKLIN ASSERTS LEAGUE IN TORONTO MENACES HIS LIFE

Says He Was Told He Will Be Shot If He Wages Dry Campaign.

HIS PLANS UNALTERED

Paris, Ont., March 13.—(Special.)—Threats against his life by a Toronto organization were reported by Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin here tonight in preaching to the congregation of the Methodist church. His sermon marked his first appearance in a series of addresses throughout Ontario on behalf of the "drys" in the referendum campaign. Mr. Spracklin declared the threat from Toronto had been sent to his home at Sandwich, Ont. It was sent by the "Determination League" of Toronto and warned him to keep away from that city in connection with the campaign of the dries or he "would be shot."

Kingston, Ont., March 13.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. John Hough, Pictou, celebrated their seventy-first wedding anniversary. Mr. Hough is ninety-seven years old and Mrs. Hough is eighty-nine.

SUDDEN DEATH OF REV. DR. M'BRIDE

St. Michael's Cathedral Rector Had Preached at Sunday Morning Services.

Rev. Dr. Denis McBride, rector of St. Michael's Cathedral, died suddenly in St. Michael's Palace, Church street, at 3 p.m. yesterday in his 34th year.

The late Dr. McBride, who was born in Hamilton, was ordained to the sacred ministry in Boston eight years ago. Returning to Toronto he held the professorship of Canon Law and Moral Theology in St. Augustine's Seminary for the past seven years, and was appointed to the rectorship of St. Michael's Cathedral last October.

The late Dr. McBride was in his usual health yesterday morning when he celebrated his 34th birthday. He had preached at both services and the two later masses. He was seized with his fatal illness shortly after leaving the Cathedral for St. Michael's Palace. The sudden death of the rector was announced to a capacity congregation at the evening service and there were many expressions of sorrow over the sad news. Dr. McBride is survived by his parents, two sisters and four brothers.

DIES, AGED 115 YEARS.

Moncton, N.B., March 13.—Thos. Ross, who resided at Hallsboro, Albert County, at the reputed age of 115 years.

GUNMEN FROM U.S. TO INVADE BRITAIN

Daily Graphic Says Prominent Men Are Marked for Assassination.

London, March 14.—The Daily Graphic this morning claims that a Sinn Fein plot is on foot "to import from the United States a large number of young men of Irish nationality, adept in acts of violence. These 'gunmen,' the newspaper declares, are expected here shortly, 'laboratorily disguised.' But the British secret service, says the Daily Graphic, have adopted equally adequate precautions to trace them down. Certain members of the cabinet, and other prominent men have been marked by the expected visitors, according to the newspaper.

MILLIONS OF POUNDS CUT OFF ESTIMATES FOR BRITISH NAVY

Capital Ship Will Remain the Main Unit, But Replacement of Eight Obsolete and Four Obsolete Vessels Will Be Deferred Till After Consultation With Dominions—Eight Ships Will Be Scrapped—Mod-rate Building Program—Maintain One Power Standard.

London, March 13.—The navy estimates for 1921-22, to be made public tomorrow, will show a reduction of some millions of pounds on the net estimate for the last financial year, which was £84,375,300, according to the forecast of the political correspondent of The London Times.

He says there will be a reduction of possibly ten million pounds, and understands that, following upon the findings of the sub-committee of the committee of imperial defence, the government has decided in principle that the capital ship must continue to be the main unit of an effective fleet. Outlining the present position, the correspondent says there are now 38 capital ships, of which eight are obsolete, if not obsolete, and adds that it is regarded as uneconomical to man such ships with expensive, highly trained personnel; consequently these eight are expected to be scrapped.

Adhering to the policy of the "one-power standard" enunciated by Walter Hume Long, the former first lord of the admiralty last summer, the government, says the correspondent, considers that the remaining thirty capital ships constitute for the maintenance of the one-power standard. "But as at least four of these ships will presently need to be replaced," (Continued on Page 10, Column 3.)

MIDDLE OF APRIL MAY SEE COMMONS ADJOURN

Ottawa, March 13.—(Special.)—The principal theme of discussion among the members of parliament here over Sunday, has been the rumor of adjournment of the session from Easter till early fall.

The consensus of opinion appears to be that the house should adjourn on the 15th of April, and adjourn about the middle of April. Another suggestion is that the present session be shortened as much as possible with the understanding that parliament be convened in regular session next November.

Four-Dollar Candy Bill Inspires Tale of Hold-Up

Threatened with prosecution if he did not pay a bill of about $4 for candy he had obtained on credit from a west-end confectioner, a 15-year-old lad, employed as a messenger boy by another storekeeper in the locality, on Saturday night faked a hold-up in an attempt to secure money toward making a settlement. His scheme, however, met with failure because it was not backed up by a consistent story and he broke down under examination by Detectives Nicholls and McIlwraith, confessing his guilt.

The mythical bandit loot—$2, to be exact—which the boy had collected during the evening in payment for goods delivered by him, he had placed in the toe of his boot. To the detective however, after making under examination, he disclosed the hiding place and handed the money over to them to be returned to his employer. His frankness was rewarded by his being allowed his freedom.

Thrilling, But Unconvincing.

The boy's employer, after he had been told of the "hold-up," reported the affair to the police of Cowan avenue police station and Detectives Nicholls and McIlwraith were sent to the boy's home to investigate. To them he told how, while passing the Fern avenue school, two men had jumped from an auto drawn up at the curb and had carried him, struggling, to the school grounds. There, he said, he was told that unless he handed over the money he had in his boot, he would be gagged, tied hand and foot and left there for the night. The men, he stated, did not produce revolvers, but he had handed over his employer's money. He gave a fairly detailed description of the imaginary bandits, even going to the extent of stating his belief that he would be able to hand them over to the police in a day or so, as he was of the opinion that he knew them. The story, however, did not ring true in the ears of the detectives, and after about five minutes' questioning the lad "fessed up."

He stated that the scheme was tried by him in an endeavor to secure sufficient funds with which to meet a bill for candies which he had purchased on credit, the payment of which account, he believed, was the only thing that would save him from jail.

PARADE IN DUBLIN PROTESTS AGAINST EXECUTIONS TODAY

Thousands March to Prison and Are Not Interfered With by Police.

ARE SEEKING REPRIVES

Dublin, March 13.—There was a striking demonstration here today in protest against the execution tomorrow of six prisoners in Mountjoy prison who are accused of complicity in the killing of intelligence officers and participation in an ambush. Anti-British banners bearing calumnious remarks concerning Great Britain and the administration of Mr. Lloyd George, which generally characterize Sinn Fein demonstrations of this nature, were borne thru the streets in a procession arranged hastily by women overnight. The procession started at noon from St. Stephen's Green and the parades marched four abreast in military order in complete defiance of the military regulations. They received constant accessions in strength from women and girls coming out of the churches and also were joined by thousands of citizens, including many hundreds of Irish volunteers. There was no interference from the police.

Wage Decrease and Readjustment of Hours in Effect Today.

100,000 MEN AFFECTED

Chicago, March 13.—With more than 100,000 employees in the packing industry in all parts of the United States balloting on a proposed strike, wage decreases amounting to 12 1/2 and 15 per cent, together with a readjustment of working hours, which were announced last week, will go into effect tomorrow.

WANT OUR PULP AS RAW MATERIAL

U. S. Paper Mills Would Force Canada to Supply Them.

Montreal, March 13.—(Special.)—The Canadian newspaper mills are getting a shock every day. The latest was from John R. Booth the Ottawa lumber and paper king announcing that he would control his own prices of pulp products hereafter and that he would begin work at half a cent less than the combined price of the States and the world at large. Americans now have control of the bond issued of several of the big mills in Canada, including the pulp mills. The paper mills there are getting overstocked and they not only want their own market but of citizens to control the newsprint of the world. They are planning with certain republicans of the new congress to introduce tariff legislation that will close the American market to everything from Canada but pulp wood and pulp. GENERAL PLEA FOR PERSONAL LIBERTY

Forum Speaker Would Only Place Restrictions Required to Keep Peace.

There have been numerous speakers addressing Sunday afternoon meetings at the Open Forum, who have advocated personal liberty in many different ways, but there have been few indeed who made their appeal for liberty as general as the speaker yesterday. According to W. E. Barker, who spoke in the afternoon on "Liberty," there should be virtually no supervision or restraining influence in any shape or form, other than that required to keep a semblance of peace in the land. From what could be gathered during his rambling talk, it was his opinion that every bit of censorship on speech, press, theatre or movies was tyrannic repression and was hurting civilization. "The essence of civilization is liberty," he said, "and that means liberty in every conceivable way. Of course, it is necessary to have certain restraining influences but none other than is required to keep the peace. The governmental function ceases at that point, in my estimation, and the individual should be allowed perfect liberty in speech or in any other way. We haven't civilization if we have a curtailment of personal liberty. "Censorship and restraint are evidences of retrogression on the part of a country. Progress has always come thru some one individual being permitted to voice his opinions. All progressive thought and action has originated with one man, and if he was not allowed to give voice to it, the world would not have progressed. We are now at a period of history where it is time for us to fight against so much restraint of personal liberty," he said.

GIVEN SUIT OF CLOTHES SEVERAL SIZES OUT

A striking case of governmental irresponsibility was brought to light recently in the case of Robert Cudde, a private in the Canadian Machine Gun Corps, who on being discharged from Rosedale barracks, was given a cap and a dyed hospital suit three sizes "out." Cudde served overseas with the Canadian infantry and was wounded. Investigating the case, Secretary J. V. Conroy of the G.W.V.A. found that no clothing was kept on hand for discharged men here in Toronto and an indent had to be sent to Ottawa. Cudde stated that on re-establishment he had disposed of his civilian suit and had no balance with which to purchase a proper suit. In his case, Cudde would certainly not create a favorable impression on any prospective employer, no matter how eager he may have been to secure a job.

$3 KEEPS ONE CHINAMAN ALIVE UNTIL HARVEST

While many people are aware of the fact that there were Chinese in France during the war, yet they do not realize the part they played at a time of grave crisis. In 1916 the allies were desperately in need of men for their armies. The British war office sent its representative to China, and there recruited a corps of 30,000 Chinese laborers, who gladly came to the aid of Britain in her hour of need. The arrival of these laborers in France set free a corresponding number of British soldiers at a time when they were sorely needed for the line of battle. The situation has changed. It is now the dark hour of China's need. These 30,000 laborers have returned to their native land, but the provinces from which they came, viz., Shantung, Chihli, Honan, Shansi and Szechuan, are in the grip of famine. These men and their families are among the millions of people whose lives can be saved only by speedy assistance from abroad. The simple fact is that while Canada is unprepared to help, North China was visited with a year of drought. No rain for a year. What was the straw, no grain, no food for man or beast. The natural question asked by a Canadian is, "Why does not the Chinese government deal with the situation?" Were there in China a stable, united and solvent government, it would have at once taken steps to cope with it. Unfortunately the Chinese government is unstable, disintegrated and hopelessly insolvent. There has just come another appeal to the Canadian people for help, this time in the form of a cable from Lieut.-Col. Gray of the British legation, Peking. There is food in China, it is being shipped abroad because there is no money on hand to purchase for the starving. It must find a market somewhere, if not in China, then in England or the United States. And the small sum of $3 will now keep a person alive until the next harvest in China. There has been but $300,000 sent by Canadians to China up to the present; not more than sufficient to save 100,000 lives, while millions perish.

PRISONERS HEAR CONLEY STATEMENT

Friends Allowed to Visit Men Held on Murder Charge.

The statements made to the police by John Conley, charged with two others with the murder of L. C. Sabine, and Walter Huitze, her as a material witness in connection with the same, were read to Wm. McFadden and Roy Hotrum, the other two charged with the murder of the druggist on Saturday morning, according to Fletcher Kerr, counsel for Wm. McFadden. While at headquarters the prisoners were allowed to see relatives. Hotrum was seen by his two brothers from Hamilton who are respected citizens and in good positions. Arthur Conley was seen by his wife, and John Conley by his father. Inspector of Detectives Guthrie on Saturday stated that Art Conley had not "talked" since his arrest. The jail now confines many "bad men," convicted or awaiting trial for crimes of violence. Major Basher, governor of the jail, has been granted an additional guard to watch these men. Over 18 months have passed since Major Basher has taken charge, and "altogether an unusual number of prisoners charged with shooting, house and shop-breaking, theft and robbery with violence have been in his custody, not one has escaped, although many attempts have been made. Since the "crime wave" has been so high, 32 men have been sentenced to the "pen" for terms ranging from five years to 15 years, and these have first passed thru the jail.

The premier's letter was addressed to T. J. Hannigan, secretary of the Hydro-Electric Association, and a copy was sent by Mr. Hannigan to Acting Mayor Maguire.

PROPOSAL TO PAVE STRIP ON YONGE ST.

Plan to Put East Side in Condition to Carry Traffic While Laying Tracks.

The commissioner of works will have a conference on Wednesday with Gen. Manager Couzens of the transportation commission, on a proposal made by Acting Mayor Maguire that the east side of Yonge should be paved at once and made ready to carry the traffic while the trunk sewer is being constructed along the west side, and the double tracks are being laid in the middle of the street. This proposal would not interfere with the widening scheme, as the extra 20-foot strip will be added to the west side if the council decides to go on with this improvement. The sewer construction will be a tunneling job, and according to the works committee, could have been carried out this winter if someone had thought of it. A recommendation from the works committee for the widening of Yonge street from the C. P. R. tracks northward will go before council on the 24th, and if it is accepted, both the works department and the transportation commission will be able to get busy on the Yonge street clean-up. Both the acting mayor and the transportation commission are anxious to have an early start made towards getting this thoroughfare in good condition. The commission will probably have a report on Yonge street ready in the course of a week.

PICKPOCKET CAUGHT.

Shopper Was Responsible For the Arrest of Woman Operating in Big Store. Phyllis Westcott, 355 Church street, was arrested on Saturday in the T. Eaton store by Detective Dawn on a charge of picking pockets. The woman is also charged with the theft of a waist from the T. Eaton Co. street, the police say, was the woman from whose pocket the Westcott woman stole $5. The victim, however, felt the alleged dip's hand in her pocket and held her. Her screams attracted the attention of the house detective, who notified detective headquarters, and Detective Dawn was sent to take the woman into custody. When searched, she had a waist concealed about her person.

SUBDIVIDING YORK TOWNSHIP.

HEN LAID THREE EGGS IN DAY, SAYS OWNER

Poultrymen in Bedford Park are discussing the story of the London, England, hen which laid three eggs in less than 24 hours. A letter recounting the feat has just been received by Mr. W. Fellows, 414 Bedford Park road, from Mrs. E. Fellows, 8 Eastbourne road, London, England, the owner. At noon the hen, a Black Minorca, laid one egg and at ten o'clock at night followed with two more, according to the owner.

NOT A STADIUM ENEMY.

Controller Gibbons Says His Position Was Not Correctly Presented. In reply to the statement made recently by an evening paper that Controller Gibbons was a "stadium enemy," he emphatically denied its correctness. "I voted in favor of spending $17,000 on a proposed Rosedale stadium last year," said he. "and this year I supported the parks commissioner's policy to provide 4,000 seats in five different athletic fields."

Controller Gibbons stated further that when the matter came before the board of control on Wednesday last, he had been decidedly against a change in program until the policy had been definitely decided upon. What he wished to do was to leave the matter over for the estimate.

MINING PROMOTER GOES TO JAIL FARM

Following a plea of guilty by J. W. Corley, K.C., his counsel, Thomas R. Vezina was Saturday sentenced to only one year at the jail farm for passing eight worthless cheques at the Home Bank, totaling $8,143.05.

Vezina, a middle-aged, well-dressed man, was a promoter of mining ventures which had most value on paper. Acting Crown Attorney McFadden said that the cheques, presented on February 29, had been drawn on another bank, where the prisoner had no available funds, and stated further that the man had been properly introduced to the Home Bank and had done considerable business there.

A second charge of theft of $100 with which Vezina was to purchase a Victory bond, was laid, for which he received an additional sentence of thirty days. Mr. Corley pleaded that it had only been a misuse of the money, when Vezina was highly excited over the matter of the cheques. He also urged leniency in that the prisoner was a married man in poor health, with several children.

How to Bridge in Rosedale.

Commissioner of Works Harris has submitted estimates for a new bridge on Glen road (across the Rosedale ravine), and for a still greater bridge to take the place of the present long and slender structure across the second ravine, to North Rosedale.

The world asks for a reconsideration of this expenditure and this location. We believe that a further study of the situation in the light of the need of bringing the new Mount Pleasant street car line (on the east side of Yonge street) down under the Canadian Pacific tracks and by Church street to the Union Station would suggest a larger and much more convenient bridge on a site nearer Yonge street than where the long Rosedale bridge now spans. In a word, the new and future conditions that call for a new north and south thoroughfare from Hogg's Hollow, east of and parallel of Yonge street, would put the two bridges, or a united bridge directly on an extended Jarvis street, to a subway under the C.P.R., one hundred yards east of the C.P.R. bridge over the Reservoir Park ravine; and then north up the hill to Mount Pleasant road. We do not think much of the Sherbourne street bridge as a part of such a line, and will less of the long Rosedale bridge rebuilt. Both are too far east of Yonge street.

What is wanted is a new joint study by the engineers of the city and of the transportation commission. Such a study would, we believe, endorse the extension of the present Jarvis street due north into Rosedale. It would make Jarvis a much greater thoroughfare, most of it free of tracks. It would ultimately allow more cars to get down to Union Station by Church street than will go by Yonge street, once Teroulay street is opened for a line of traffic just west of Yonge street. In other words, if we can't widen old Yonge street we can put two relieving thoroughfares (Church and Teroulay), one east and one west of Yonge street. But the long North Rosedale bridge is not the site for the main bridge on the east side. Nor is the Sherbourne street bridge and the old long bridge to North Rosedale.

The Cattle Embargo.

The contention of those working for the raising of the cattle embargo in England appears to be justified. At the present time because of the extremely high prices which are ruling for domestic cattle in the old country, the depletion of the herds during the war has left a live cattle scarcity there, which has given a placed market to the home farmer, and he naturally resents the attempt to take away this profitable market from him. There is no shortage of meats, however, as large supplies are available from South America, and in the case of sheep and lambs, from New Zealand. If the embargo were raised the profitable market in the old country would last until there was a surfeit of supplies, when conditions would revert to one of natural competition as between supply and demand. When Canadian cattle had the British markets open, exporters here in many instances lost considerable money in the business, as they were entirely at the mercy of the commission men at British ports, and it is just questionable whether conditions would be any different in a short time than they were under the old state of affairs.

Social Service Commission.

The special committee appointed to investigate the social service commission is a long drawn out affair, and appears to be making but little headway. The Inglewood Farm revelations show that there was something radically wrong with the operation of this branch of the civic administration. Generally speaking, there does not appear to be a clear understanding on the part of the city council of what the social service commission is or what its duties are. If any effective reorganization is to take place there must be publicity, so that the members of the city council may get a clear grasp of just exactly what the social service commission is to undertake and do.

ADJOURN COMMONS UNTIL SEPTEMBER?

Possibility of Step Being Taken When Easter Recess Comes. BY TOM KING. Ottawa, March 12.—Western members are urging the government to adjourn the house for at least two weeks over the Easter holidays. The usual Easter recess is from the Wednesday before until the Tuesday after Easter, which this year would mean an adjournment from March 23 to March 29. This brief recess would be of no use to members from the west, many of whom are anxious to get home for a week or two around the first of April get seeding and other spring activities under way.

DRURY ASKS HALT ON POWER BILL

Measure, Respecting Lake of Woods District Affects Backus Interests. BY TOM KING. Ottawa, March 12.—Premier Drury of Ontario, it is understood, has requested that the senate bill now before the house dealing with the Lake of Woods powers in the Lake of the Woods district, be not proceeded with. The bill implements the agreement arrived at between the province of Ontario, the province of Manitoba and the time certain water powers in that district were ceded by the Ontario government to E. W. Backus and his associates.

HE HAS CERTAINLY SLID A LONG WAY SINCE HE SLIPPED

The World's Weekly Novel

By DANA COOLIDGE. (Copyright, 1913, by E. P. Dutton & Co.)

(Continued From The Sunday World.) The moment the train stopped at the rendezvous Sycamore was off and running for the first time. First he fetched four or five ties to make step beneath the high door—then as Jack Haines filled by with the engine crew and the mail clerks and went back to guard the approach, Sycamore passed the dynamite up ahead of himself and leapt lightly into the car. There on the side stood two safes, one locked and the other half open; and as he looked into the local safe his heart almost stopped, for it was crammed with bags of money. He reached for his knife and cut into one but as he grabbed out a handful of coins his rapture began to subside. It was money, all right, but silver money, and Mexican money at that. Ten thousand dollars in Mexican silver a load that would break a man's back and was hardly worth carrying away—that is, if a posse was after you.

THE FIGHTING FOOL

By George Sycamore, you're just the man I'm looking for—give me a knockdown to your friends and say a good word for me and I'll rig you out like a king. Come on out to the hotel with me and we'll talk it over—and I'll show you the latest spring styles! "Chicago!" answered Hackett briskly. "On the road now—selling clothes to order. Have to rag up, you know. Say, where's the best hotel in town?" "Right over there," replied Sycamore, pointing to Hackamore's one measurably. "By George, Sycamore, you're just the man I'm looking for—give me a knockdown to your friends and say a good word for me and I'll rig you out like a king. Come on out to the hotel with me and we'll talk it over—and I'll show you the latest spring styles!"

CHAPTER III

The Plunder. There was mounting and riding in not haste when Sycamore Brown and Haines started out on a certain money-bags—and they rode due south as they had been directed until they reached the dry bed of the lake. Then they dismounted and Sycamore never drawing rein until they reached Hackamore. Heading straight for the lone adobe house, soon they made out the white walls and red roof of the place. Sycamore had held a armful of clothes and in the other he bore their hats, and from that day to the end of the chapter he never gave out a hint.

CHAPTER IV

The Jail Delivery. ONE day the train came in and a gay young man with a cigar in his face dropped down from the seat of the smoker. He was dressed in the latest style and had on a derby hat, but somehow his walk seemed familiar to Sycamore. The he had no friends who wore hard-boiled hats, Sycamore looked at him again, and at the same moment the stranger recognized him. "Why, hullo, old sod!" he shouted, struggling with a heavy sample case as he rushed over to shake him by the hand. "I thought you were punching cows back on the Glai!" He wrung his hands effusively, and as Sycamore looked it gradually dawned upon him who the man was. "Shot Hackett a boy who had been shotgun messenger with him when they were bringing out treasure from the old Paymaster mine at Chula Vista. "Well, hello—Roy," he said, backing off and signing up his loud attire. "Well, who'd a think it—where'd you get that hat?" "Chicago!" answered Hackett briskly. "On the road now—selling clothes to order. Have to rag up, you know. Say, where's the best hotel in town?"

Sit Up and Make Your Will

(This Actually Happened) A man was at the theatre. He was seized with appendicitis, rushed to the hospital and made ready for an operation. The doctor said to him: "Have you made your will?" He answered: "No. Why?" The doctor replied: "You have a wife and children depending on you. You owe it to them to make a will in case anything happens to you. Sit up and make it now."

(Continued From The Sunday World.) The moment the train stopped at the rendezvous Sycamore was off and running for the first time. First he fetched four or five ties to make step beneath the high door—then as Jack Haines filled by with the engine crew and the mail clerks and went back to guard the approach, Sycamore passed the dynamite up ahead of himself and leapt lightly into the car. There on the side stood two safes, one locked and the other half open; and as he looked into the local safe his heart almost stopped, for it was crammed with bags of money. He reached for his knife and cut into one but as he grabbed out a handful of coins his rapture began to subside. It was money, all right, but silver money, and Mexican money at that. Ten thousand dollars in Mexican silver a load that would break a man's back and was hardly worth carrying away—that is, if a posse was after you.

Simons Says Germany Must Now Seek for a Middle Path.

Berlin, March 13.—Approval of the German government's attitude toward the allied reparations demands was voted by the Reichstag yesterday

Foreign Minister Simons made a lengthy explanation of his work at the London conference.

The immediate establishment of diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia was decisively defeated.

The house was crowded to hear Dr. Simons' statement, in which he outlined the extraordinary difficulties on the part of Germany to make definite proposals under the uncertainty concerning Upper Silesia and the consequent fluctuations. He explained that an overwhelming majority among the German experts was impossible of attainment for any proposal; hence, the German counter-proposals on a different basis.

After repeating the arguments employed before the London conference, Dr. Simons declared that the idea that because the allies had torn up the treaty it was therefore void toward Germany was all wrong, and that "we should not repay wrong with wrong."

Must Fulfill Treaty. This was greeted with laughter and disorder, but Dr. Simons continued: "For Germany still remains bound by the treaty so far as it is possible, but no further."

He then proceeded to advocate the seeking of a middle path to the counter-proposal on a different basis.

"But," he added, "at the moment we are given a slap in the face we cannot offer our hand and say, 'We will be friends.' It is impossible. If we renew negotiations, we must point out that the basis is altered both psychologically and actually by the imposition of penalties."

The foreign secretary concluded by asking the house to confirm the delegation's final decision to reject the allied reparations demands, adding: "Unless the Reichstag does that it will have to look for someone else to represent the country in any future negotiations."

Karl Trimborn, in behalf of all the government parties, expressed approval of Dr. Simons' action, and also conviction that the penalties would enforce them. Other speakers followed in similar strain.

INDIANS BURIED COMRADE ALIVE

Heard Him Kicking in Coffin, But Were Afraid to Open It.

Redding, Calif., March 13.—Charges that William Taylor, an Indian afflicted with smallpox, was buried alive on Saturday, weeks ago, have been presented to the district attorney for investigation.

The allegation was made by Chief Samson Grant, of the Hat Creek Indians, who stated that he received his information from his daughter, Mrs. Lela Rhodes.

Mrs. Rhodes, who is vouchered for by the local Indian agent, wrote to her father that two Indians buried Taylor after nightfall. Before they took the coffin to the grave, the letter said, they heard Taylor kicking, but were afraid to open the box, fearing the wrath of the health officer.

CANADIAN AUTHORS FORM ASSOCIATION

Montreal to Be Headquarters for Next Three Years—Officers Elected.

Montreal, March 13.—(Canadian Press)—At the second day's session on Saturday of the Canadian authors convention in this city, the constitution and bylaws of the proposed association were submitted by the committee appointed for that purpose and were unanimously adopted.

The convention resolved itself into the Canadian Authors' Association. It was decided to at once establish ten branch centres, each under a vice-president, out of the twelve allowed for by the constitution; nine in Canada and one for Canadian authors in the United States.

The central offices of the association will rotate between Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto and Winnipeg, being located at each city for a period of three years.

Montreal was chosen as central office for the first three years. The officers appointed included:

President, John Murray Gibbon, Montreal; secretary, E. B. Seward, Montreal; treasurer, W. S. Wallace, Toronto.

Basel King of Boston was elected a vice-president. Other vice-presidents elected were: Archibald MacMechan, Halifax; H. A. Cody, St. John, N.B.; Hon. Thomas Chapais, Quebec; Stephen Leacock, Montreal; Robert Stead, Ottawa; F. H. Edgar, Toronto; W. T. Allison, Winnipeg; Nellie McClung, Edmonton; and Isabel Ecclesstone Mackay, Vancouver.

The committee appointed to deal with copyright legislation now before the house of commons at Ottawa consists of Arthur Stringer, Madge MacBeth, Warwick Chipman and Robert Stead.

FALLON REPORTS ON IRISH DISTRESS

London, Ont., March 13.—At a meeting of 500 members of the Holy Name Society here today, Right Rev. Monsignor McCowan read a letter from Bishop Fallon regarding the distress in Ireland, intimating that the collections at the masses on St. Patrick's Day would be devoted to the relief of the Irish people.

Monsignor McCowan said that the priests of this diocese had been waiting for just such a letter in order that they might make known to their people the troubled state into which Ireland has fallen. "Men and women," he declared, "are starving by the wayside for want of food and shelter."

Monsignor McCowan declared that the Canadian newspapers are not receiving true accounts of affairs in Ireland.

"About that time a friend of mine told me about what a large proportion of life insurance applications were being turned down because of physical disabilities resulting from the tense nervous strain of recent years.

"What was I to do?"

"Well, my wife had noticed me being nervous and worried and had been at me for some time to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I had always been pretty well and had not much faith in medicine, but since I realized the serious condition of my system I decided to give it a try-out.

"During the first week I could not see much improvement, and was getting rather discouraged. I could not sleep, and had no appetite. Everything worried me so that I was continually nervous and irritable. But my wife saw to it that I did not miss my regular dose of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and by the second week I began to sleep better and to feel more cheerful.

LEGISLATURE MAY GET TO BUSINESS

Only Nine Working Days Now Before the Adjournment for Easter.

NICKEL HANGING FIRE

O.T.A. Amendments Await Disposal—Hydro Legislation Is Due This Week.

The eighth week of the Ontario Legislature commences today. Thus far one bill, a private member's measure, has been given the third reading, but it is just on the cards that greater progress will be made with business during the current week. A capital start was made last Monday, but it was too good to last, and the remaining four days saw practically nothing done beyond the discussion of matters of more or less public interest. Consequently too much importance cannot be placed on these good beginnings which, with legislators as with other human beings frequently mean bad endings. There are now only nine working days for the house before Good Friday, so that all hopes of prorogation by Easter can be fairly assumed to have been dashed. An adjournment over the holidays, and then a few weeks more "work" is the prospect in store for the legislature.

Cabinet Feeling Good
Dr. Drury and his colleagues are feeling pretty good just now after having got over the budget debate without a division, and consequently with no chance of defeat. To many hard things were said about the government in general and the provincial treasury in particular that nearly all concerned looked for a real division, but Dewar, Ferguson & Co. decreed otherwise, and there was a general sigh of relief on the treasury benches. There is evidently a strong desire on the part of the opposition to criticize, rather than to actually embarrass the government, and the Drury administration looks like steering safely thru the session. There does not seem to be any great desire in any of the various camps for a general election just yet. It is generally conceded that the Farmer-Labor coalition will pull thru another session after this and then go to the country in a real sense whether they come back or not.

Hydro Legislation
Some Hydro legislation is due this week, but it promises to be a non-contentious character, the government having very wisely dropped the recommendation of that famous committee to put a 22 tax on power production. Of course there will be nothing from the Radial Commission which is just now taking a couple of weeks well earned rest, and with a bit of luck a report may be ready when the legislature meets next year. All the American "experts" have been heard by the commission, and one of them in the course of his testimony, which both knocked and boosted radiants, made the remarkable revelation that the tracks of the Toronto Street Railway Company were in a shocking state! This should assuredly reward the government for sending "over the line" to obtain information against the radial project.

Then the O.T.A. amendments are still to be disposed of. These would give power for appeal on conviction.

MEN YOU HEAR OF

Seen as Their Friends Know Them
NO. 134.

COMMISSIONER WM. J. RICHARDS of the Salvation Army. He was born in Merthyr Tydfil, Wales, and received his education there. He and his wife left Merthyr Tydfil in 1880 to become S. A. officers. He held a number of appointments in Great Britain, doing both field and staff service, and was also the governor of the city colony of the Social Work in London, England. He has been Territorial Commander in Denmark, South Africa, New Zealand, and also for the last six years in Toronto, in charge of Canada East and Newfoundland.

for breaches to the county judge, with any fresh evidence. The government, or at least Dr. Drury and Mr. Rane, are strongly opposed to anything but a bare appeal. It is stated that this essentially controversial subject will likely be carried until near the close of the session. A government majority is assured in any case, but O.T.A. matters do not seem to be palatable subjects for discussion in official circles just now. The rural credit bills appear to have been laid aside for this session at all events, and moreover, their guide, philosopher and friend, Manning Doherty, is still in England after the scalp of the cattle embargo. Supply will take up considerable time and there are many routine matters still to be disposed of.

The Bonus Question.
The question of the recently suggested bonus for the members of the legislature in return for their valuable services and "to meet the high cost of living"—even some farmers feel the pinch—is being kept very quiet, but there are whispers that it will come off all the same. A little matter has a knack of being sprung on the house just as the laborers of the session are nearly thru, and this "bonus" bill will likely be no exception to the rule. "The $600 will bring us on a par with the salary paid to the British members of parliament," said one member of the day, "and I think we are entitled to it." The British members receive 400 pounds sterling, so that the $600, with the present indemnity of $1,000, would bring the Ontario legislators to practically the same basis. How nice it has all been worked out!

FOUND MAN'S SKULL 500,000 YEARS OLD

Says Professor Gilbert Grosvenor in Interesting Address on Hawaiian Islands.

On Saturday evening the speaker at Convocation Hall, under the auspices of the Royal Canadian Institute, was Gilbert H. Grosvenor, president of the National Geographical Society of the United States, who delighted in the large audience with his description of the Hawaiian Islands, illustrated with lantern slides. He described the volcanoes and their evolution, as well as the rare vegetation. He said that the native population was fast dying out and that the white residents were the enterprising and wealthy people in the islands. Children bearing characteristics of several different races abound in the islands, the reason for their presence being that to get labor to work the sugar plantations and the pineapple industry, first of all, Portuguese labor had been imported, then Scandinavian, Chinese, Korean, Japanese and Philippine. He said the sugar crop last year in the islands realized $180,000,000, and he told of a visit paid to a pineapple canning factory, where three-quarters of a million cans of pineapple were prepared in one day.

Geographical Authority.
Professor Grosvenor is a world-wide authority on matters geographical and has made valuable contributions to geographical literature from time to time, besides being editor of The National Geographical Magazine. He was born in Constantinople, Turkey.

Speaking on the question of the age of man, Professor Grosvenor recalled that he had published the picture of a skull of a man discovered in Java, which authorities declared to be 500,000 years old. It was not developed to the same degree as the skull of man of the present day. He had reason to believe that man was much older than that, as was contended by the late President Roosevelt.

Professor Grosvenor thought that wireless would be the next field in which scientific development would take place, instancing the experiment being carried out for the bombing of battleships by wireless. The professor is of slight build, but athletic, and the same is true of his wife, who is a daughter of Alexander Graham Bell, the famous inventor of the telephone. Both are fond of mountain climbing, and last July ascended Mount Lee in the Hawaiian Islands, the highest active volcano in the world, rising 13,000 feet above the sea level. The trip took three days to accomplish.

ROMANCE IS GONE, REALISM WANTED

Declares Prof. W. G. Alexander, Lecturing on "The Evolution of Literature."

EXPRESSES THOUGHT

Poetry Will Survive to Record Emotions and Strong Feeling.

Realism is the keynote of the literature of today, according to Professor W. G. Alexander of the University of Toronto, who last night gave an address in the Labor Forum at the Labor Temple on "The Evolution of Literature." James Simpson, president of the Independent Labor party, was in the chair.

The professor contended that the strongest tendency today was to show things exactly as they are. The age of romance was gone and the people of the present day wanted realism. The great plays of the past, founded on romance, were not popular now. A play or book to be successful today, he said, must deal with things as they actually are and show people of a type that is really known to exist and with which the public are familiar.

Sign Newspaper Articles.
In dealing with how much credence should be placed on what is published in the newspaper of today, the speaker advocated that everything appearing in the newspapers should be signed. In this way the public would be able to judge how much belief to put in the news by knowing the source from which it originated.

The speaker thought the working classes were gradually but surely gaining more time to themselves, and the younger element might employ this time in physical games, others might find some other form of recreation. He thought the workers would move more and more to the enjoyment of literature as the most advanced and best means of using their spare hours.

Essence of Literature.
He described literature as recorded thoughts and the thoughts of the great minds of the past and present were expressed in literature and distributed among the people. The great literature, however, was not so much the thought itself as the manner in which it was expressed. The great literature, which had been handed down was not necessarily the first expression of a thought, but the best expression of the thought.

Poetry, continued the professor, helps to fix thoughts in the mind better than prose, and literature first appeared in the form of poetry. Some people regarded poetry as trifling and artificial, but it was the true expression of emotion. In early times emotions and thoughts of the tribes were expressed in song.

In the early days of England, when there was very little education; if anyone wanted a thought to become known he expressed it in song, which would become repeated among the people. Thus ballads originated and through this expressed were better remembered than those expressed in prose today.

This was followed by the introduction of the drama as a means of conveying thoughts and past of the many. Drama first originated in the church as a means of conveying to the people religious history.

How Printing Helped.
The art of printing was the next development in conveying thoughts, which made books possible, but this was so expensive that they were very limited, as were also the readers. Those who read were known as the clergy, which was not meant in a religious sense, but most of those who did read were of the church. It was not until the 18th century that printed literature became sufficiently inexpensive to be within the reach of the public, but only a certain portion of the public could read.

When the great modern newspapers of today appeared a little pamphlet which contained news. This was the beginning of the great modern newspapers of today. The news and circulation was very limited, as there existed star chambers, which effectively prevented much of importance going into print. After the star chamber system was abolished, the number of these publications began to increase. They were not really newspapers, but more editorials. A series of they were published dealing with a subject of the eighteenth century. It was called "The Tatler."

Patronage System in Writing.
While the time of Elizabeth has been described as a great one for literature, a writer could not make a livelihood from writing alone. There was a patronage system. A writer would be adopted by the household of a wealthy personage or given a post under the crown, which enabled him to devote the time necessary for writing. Some obtained money write for the drama. Shakespeare wrote for the drama and acted as well, and from his savings was able to buy stock in the theatre. Thus he was enabled to devote himself to his art. A later method was to collect subscriptions, which would enable a writer to produce a book.

THUMB-PRINT CONTEST WILL CLOSE ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Someone Will Win $25 and Nine Others Will Get Two Tickets to See "Outside the Law" at the Regent Theatre.

Thumb-Print Contest

Miss Dean's Thumb Print. MY THUMB PRINT.

Make your thumb-print in blank square next to your name and address, clip coupon and send to Contest Editor of The World. You may win $25.00. Competition open to all; but thumb-print must be on coupon clipped from The World.

Have you sent your thumb-print to the Contest Editor, yet? How do you know that yours will not be chosen as that most resembling Priscilla Dean's? It's a big prize when the small effort required to win it is considered, and somebody is going to get $25 for having the nearest print to that of the noted motion picture actress.

No coupons will be received after Wednesday night. On Thursday the judging will take place. Friday morning the results will be published in The World. The first prize will immediately be given to the winner ($25), and to the next nine, a pair of tickets for the Regent Theatre to see "Outside the Law," with Priscilla Dean and Lon Chaney, the wonderful character actor, in the leading roles.

There is a stack of replies in now, but that does not mean that you may not win the prize. None have been examined, and none will be examined until the contest closes Wednesday night. Then the task will begin and, under the eyes of experts, the decisions will be made.

Send your thumb-print in at once. Use the space in the accompanying coupon, next to Priscilla Dean's. No other paper will be considered. Just impress your right thumb on an ordinary ink pad, or rub it with a soft lead pencil, then press your thumb in the coupon space. Fill in your name and address—send it to the Contest Editor, The World. Do it now!

DECLARES CHURCH IS SUPPORTER OF LABOR

Yesterday Controller Gibbons delivered an interesting address under the auspices of St. Andrew Holy Name Society in the church hall on Gladstone avenue. He discoursed on the relationship between the Catholic church and labor and trade unions, pointing out that the Catholic church always supported labor movements. He stressed that labor unions and such like organizations needed at the present moment all the influence to combat radical and other extreme views. He also pointed out that labor always supported public ownership.

Neighborhood Church Had Fine Service for Boys

There was held yesterday in Neighborhood Church (Rosedale Avenue Methodist) the greatest service ever held in that church before. It was a boys' service from start to finish. The choir was filled with the boys of the community and under the direction of the choir master, sang some of the old hymns with great fervor. The service was presided over by Mr. Percy F. Gilford, boys' work director of the church, and his address was to the fathers and mothers of the congregation for a better understanding between them and the boys and an acknowledgment of the rights of the boys. He said that there were no bad boys, but scores of boys that never had a fighting chance to make good. Also if the father would talk over baseball and hockey problems with his boy he would not have to talk over the boys' problems with the police magistrate.
