CATARRH Of the Stomach For Eight Years

The cause of this trouble is the fermentation of food in the stomach which generates a gas that is very frequently belched up. There is also a rumbling of the bowels and a discharge of gas therefrom, there is constant retching, and the meals are frequently vomited. There is a burning pain in the stomach, the appetite is feeble, the tongue coated, the breath bad, constipation is generally present and the sufferer becomes weak, nervous, depressed and exceedingly miserable. The blame lies with a sluggish liver, as it holds back the bile which is so necessary to promote the movement of the bowels, and when the bile gets into the blood a badly disordered condition of the stomach, liver and bowels will surely follow. Keep your liver active and you will always enjoy good health. Mrs. Agnes Gallant, Reserve Mines, N. S., writes: "I had been a great sufferer for eight years from catarrh of the stomach. I tried several so-called curative remedies without relief until a friend advised me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, which I did, and four visits completely relieved me. That was six years ago, and I have had no return of my old trouble." Price, 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FED UP WITH LIFE; TURNS GIPSY. "I felt just fed up with everything, with clothes and money and things; tired of the whole life. Then a sudden impulse came to me to go out and leave it all." That was the reason—in her own words—given by Miss Pamela Beckett, the beautiful eighteen-year-old daughter of the Hon. Rupert and Mrs. Beckett for her disappearance from home. It was the fragmentary story she told to George Gee, a young cottager, and his wife of Newgate street, a remote village on the Hertfordshire Essex borders, who found Miss Beckett living in a lonely spot of the Home Woods, by Cuffley. She had no plans at all when she left her home in Grosvenor street on Tuesday. Her one vague idea was this: "I wanted to join up with the gipsies. I remembered them when we lived near Potters Bar. They used to camp near us with their caravans, and I always thought how nice the life must be." This pretty young girl, with her pearl necklace and other jewelry, her money and her furs, wandered for two days and nights along the highways and byways in the country northeast of London without molestation or harm. "I had no food at all, but I bought a newspaper to see the result of the Cambridge-shire, for I had a bet with my father about the race. "One night two men in a motor-car stopped me and asked where I was going. One of them said that I could not stay out and drove me to his house. His wife asked me to go to bed, but I would not do that, and lay down on a couch. When everybody was asleep I got up, opened the front door and ran away."

DR. WOODS' NORWAY PINE SYRUP. You will find a remedy that will stimulate the weakened bronchial organs, subdue the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, loosen the phlegm and mucus, and help nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulation. Mr. John H. Root, 40 Maple Ave., Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with bronchitis and had a very bad cough. I had it so long I was beginning to get afraid of other developments. I tried all kinds of tough remedies without relief. I was advised by a friend to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle, and it convinced me to believe that I had at last gotten the right medicine. I used several bottles and am practically well. I have recommended it to other sines, and good results followed." Be sure and get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it; price, 35c. and 60c. a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

RINGS OF DEATH. The employment of rings for criminal purposes was common in olden days. Hannibal, we are told, from a fear of being delivered up to the Romans, swallowed poison, which, to be prepared for the worst, he carried with him in the hollow of a ring. The principal symptom of bronchitis is a cough which is dry, harsh and hacking, accompanied by rapid wheezing, and a feeling of tightness through the chest. PRISON CHAPLAIN'S VIEWS ON CRIMINALS

Fondness for Reputation, No Matter How Black, Creates Them, Says Father Cashin—Limited Mental Outlook.

(New York Times)
 Father William J. Cashin, Catholic Chaplain at Sing Sing, has been up the river for nine and a half years. Or, as he puts it, "nine years and a wop." He has walked the last few steps with many doomed men. He has talked with many more. He has lived among convicts, and he ought to know what makes them.
 Especially the young criminal, of whom, according to all authorities, there is an ever-increasing number.
 "It's the same thing that makes many actors and many politicians," he explained, "the love of being noticed. The fondness for having a reputation—no matter what the reputation may be. That's the main reason, as I see it, but, of course, there are others—the desire for luxury, poor upbringing, lack of religious influence and bad surroundings."
 "Father Bill," as they call him in the silent city on the Hudson, was doing his talking down in the Criminal Courts Building. Off in a small room a striping of twenty years was being grinded. The lad—Hoey—was charged with killing a policeman. He had surrendered to the priest and the priest had taken him down to the District Attorney, just as the trembling fugitive had asked.
 "A great number of the boys I've met had a very limited mental outlook, and, as such, they centered their thoughts mostly upon themselves," said Father Cashin. "They were always looking out for their advantage. They could see things only from the point of view of what's in it for me."
 "I don't agree with those who write and talk on the theory that criminals are mentally deficient. The criminals may be deficient in the sense that they may not have had the proper moral training. They may be deficient in that they usually have perverted views on life. But they most certainly are not mentally deficient. They are, as a rule, well 'brained,' but their intelligence never was given opportunity to expand, to move along rigid courses.
 "Lack of religious training in schools—I do not think of any one religion in particular—undoubtedly is contributory to the turning out of the youthful law-breaker. Out of the total number of prisoners in Sing Sing, of all shades of religious belief, there are not more than three out of every one hundred who have ever had anything like proper moral training in their youth. Of the Catholic population up there, to cite in example, not more than 5 per cent. have been students in parochial schools. "We have found that the great bulk of the criminal population comes from the great cities. Greater New York contributes 60 per cent. of all the inmates in the State's prisons, but if facilities were available I dare say we could cut down that figure somewhat. "And if we could survey New York City, with a view to ascertaining where the criminal comes from, we'd find that he comes from certain well-defined areas. The standards in these areas, these gang playgrounds, are radically different from the standards in other areas of the big city. "I'd define these areas as certain localities on the lower west side, in the lower east side, the middle west side,

JOFFRE AWAY TO VISIT JAPAN

Also Will Extend Thanks of France to Other Countries That Helped in War.

Marseilles, Nov. 12.—(Associated Press by Mail)—Marshal Joffre who left Marseilles on Armistice Day to visit Japan, will also make an extended tour of the countries bordering the Pacific Ocean, including Indo-China, Siam and China.

He has been entrusted by the French government with the task of carrying to the chiefs of the governments of the Far Eastern states that participated in the victory of the Allies the salute and gratefulness of France.

The marshal's first call was to be at Port Said, where an official reception was planned. At Singapore, he will board the cruiser Montcalm, flagship of the French Far East squadron.

At Saigon, the marshal will visit the French possession of Indo-China for a few days as the guest of the governor-general of the colony.

He will arrive at Bangkok about Dec. 20, and be received by the King of Siam, which country was one of the allied powers during the war.

After visiting the states of Cambodia and Tonkin, Joffre, on the 24th, accompanied by several destroyers, will proceed directly to Yokohama, where he expects to arrive about Jan. 25. His sojourn in Japan will last about a month after which he will visit Peking, traveling by way of Seoul and Mukden.

FIND BODY OF DERBY DOG RACER

Sled Had Gone Through the Ice of Moose Lake.

The Pas, Man., Dec. 2.—The body of Walter Goyne, a famous American dog derby racer, who was drowned with his team of nine dogs in Moose Lake, on November 18, has been found. Search parties had been scouring the lake for days looking through the transparent ice, and within 22 paces of the shore a searcher discovered the body. The body was found sitting upright in his sled, partly covered by a heavy eiderdown robe, with the nine racing dogs stretched out in alignment in eight feet of water.

The provincial police, who investigated the accident, believe that Goyne was going at racing speed for the shore to escape thin ice, when he pitched headlong through and under heavier ice where escape was impossible.

Cold weather set in the day after the tragedy and the spot was frozen over with a foot of ice, removing every vestige of evidence that might lead searchers in that direction.

Of the eleven loose dogs that were following Goyne and his racing team, two perished, and they were found lying

COUNSEL ADDRESS JURY IN M'AULEY MURDER TRIAL

August 3. If he had, the crown could have proved it, and they have not."

Gordon Hayman swore he saw Paris on the train at Truro on August 3 on the same day that Hayman's son left on a harvest excursion. There were also several Truro people who left Truro on August 3. There was an excursion train left Truro on August 4, but it did not come to St. John. The evidence of others on the train was given to show that Paris was on the train that day, and there was no evidence to show that it was on any other date that he returned. The evidence of Laura Johnson was given to show that Paris did not get home until August 4.

The evidence produced by the crown to the effect that Paris said "The man and brother who resembled him was not corroborated by the production of that man." "If Paris was on the train regarding whom the defence witnesses gave evidence, would not the detectives have rounded up such a man and have him in court here? In fairness to this man, he should have been brought here."

"I think we have satisfied you that on August 1 and 2 John Paris was not in St. John. Before you can find this man guilty you will have to satisfy yourself beyond a reasonable doubt that this is the man who committed the crime. The grave responsibility is yours. Your duty is a solemn one, and I submit that the evidence would lead you to bring in a verdict of 'Not guilty.'"

The Attorney-General.

Attorney-General Byrne, said there was not one of the jury whom he had met before with the evidence of Mr. Scribner. John Paris, the accused, he said was charged with the murder of Sadie McAuley, a cripple, nine years of age. It was a dreadful and horrible crime to lay at the door of any man, but the crown was pressed to lay it at the door of John Paris. It was for that crime he was committed for trial and indicted by the grand jury.

"A glance at John Paris," he said, "will convince you that the blood of the African flows in his veins. It was his counsel who brought that fact to your mind. It is not the desire of the crown to raise a prejudice on account of his color, but it feels that it has the right to try John Paris by the evidence given at this trial. No matter what color or creed, he has a right to a fair trial according to the sworn testimony."

"That he has had a fair trial and that he has been ably represented no man will deny."

He said that there was a feeling abroad in the province that trial by jury had outlived its usefulness; that no matter how clearly the witnesses established the guilt of a prisoner, it was difficult to get a jury to render a verdict of guilty. It was not for him to say if this sentiment did exist it did not spell safety and security for the people of the country.

Paris, as pointed out by his counsel was to be presumed innocent until proven guilty. But this presumption, he said, had long since been broken down and dispensed.

Paris said he was not guilty of the crime. But the people of the country look to you to give the verdict in this case. You have sworn not to deliver Paris out of the custody of the law unless it is a true and just delivery. If Paris goes out of this court cleared of this crime, he can never be tried again on this charge, even if he confessed that crime. It is therefore that the people of the province await the outcome of your verdict. Paris' counsel pointed out the duty of the crown to satisfy you beyond any doubt that he is guilty of the crime, and that you can bring in a verdict of guilty."

The Crime.

On August 2, he said, Hattie Lavine and Sadie McAuley went to Douglas avenue about 10 o'clock. They were picking berries and were met by a man who went off with Sadie McAuley. After returning to tell the circumstances, he told of the search made for the little girl. He asked the jury to picture the horrible scene which occurred after the man had led the little girl away with a promise of better berries. Knowing that her outcry would prevent him from escaping, the brute who committed the terrible offence again and again pressed the spark of life from her body and buried her where the deed was committed. The crown, he said, declared the man was John Paris.

"It was not until the ninth day of August that the body was found, and although her lips were sealed in death there could be no doubt as to the events which took place that day, according to the evidence of Dr. Abramson. It was one of the most horrible and distasteful outrages that could be committed, and it is the duty of the crown to point out this evidence to the jury."

There was evidence, he said, that the body lay only 150 feet from the road. It showed that the man who committed the crime was a cunning man, and no man could question that the man whom Hattie Lavine saw on August 2 was the man who committed that crime.

"John Paris says he is not that man. His counsel says it is his belief that Paris is not that man. But the torch which should light you on your way is your own reason. But I have confidence in the crown's witnesses, who were under greater responsibility because on their evidence rested the possibility of this man's life being taken from him. Witnesses for the defence have not the same responsibility."

"Paris says he left St. John on July 23 and reached Truro on July 24. No witnesses have been produced to show that Paris was in St. John from July 23 to July 31. It is not contended that he did not leave here on July 23. Paris, the accused, swore that on Sunday, July 31, he was at the Truro station. Upon the 26th or 27th of July some gasoline was stolen in Truro, but Paris could leave there on Saturday, July 30, as there was no train to St. John on that night. But Mr. McDonald stated that Paris tried to borrow $2 from him on August 1 in the city of St. John."

"Mrs. Calvin and her daughter," he said, "went picking berries in the park in St. John on August 1, fixing the date by the harbor commission placette. Mrs. Calvin and her daughter both saw a man approach the daughter. Mrs. Calvin swore, without any ulterior motive being apparent, that that man was John

The C. P. Steamship Limited liner Sicilian is expected to arrive off Partridge Head early this evening from London and Antwerp. She has no passengers on this trip, but has more than 150 tons of general cargo. She will inaugurate the service between St. John and the West Indies.

INSPECTING FACILITIES

George C. Wells, assistant to the passenger traffic manager of the C. P. R., arrived in the city this morning from Montreal. In company with N. R. DesBrisay he made an inspection of the facilities at Grand Point during the morning and this afternoon will inspect the facilities on the east side.

AIDING NEW-COMERS.

Miss Nellie Thomson, of London, Ont., conductress, has arrived in the city to meet the emigrants on their arrival here from the old country and European ports during the winter months. She will accompany women and children desiring her assistance to points in upper Canada or the west.

INTEREST BIRD LOVERS.

On a mountain ash tree before Millington Headquarters this morning four birds of a kind not often seen in the city were noticed feeding on the berries. It was found that they were pine grosbeaks, three females and one male. The male was a dull red color with grey wings striped with black and white. The females were grey with the same kind of wings.

WAR GRAVES

Among the passengers enroute here on the C. P. Steamship Limited liner Empress of France, this early next week, is Captain Molyneux, an English army officer who is a member of the Imperial War Graves Commission. The local branch of the G. W. V. A. is arranging to have him speak here before leaving for other points.

Hon. Dr. Baxter has not yet discussed the tripartite agreement, the breakwater, the new railway station or the needed terminal on the east side of the harbor. What is the government policy in regard to them? The same old policy of promises and neglect.

The Meighen government will be beaten on Tuesday. New Brunswick should have a voice in framing the new government.

Paris, the accused, and that little girl also swore positively that it was Paris, the accused.

Paris said that when he returned to St. John he was rowed across the river by William Sweet on the morning of August 4, while William Sweet said it was on the evening of August 3 that he rowed Paris across the river.

Paris said he remained an hour or so before deciding to go back to the station and that Walter Humphrey rowed him across the river. Humphrey said he rowed Paris across on the 2nd and the 3rd. Paris said he and Humphrey were had friends, while Humphrey claimed they were good friends.

"Paris said after returning to the station that he lay upon the grass, but Marshall swore that he did not see the accused lying there."

Paris swore that Mr. Williamson rowed him back to the Carleton side on the night of August 4, but Williamson said it was not until August 9 or 10, after the body of Sadie McAuley was found where it was temporarily buried."

The accused, he said, was home on the first day of August, when he tried to borrow $2 from McDonald. The accused was home on August 2. He asked what motive Mrs. Calvin would have in accusing him of the crime, and he was sure beyond doubt that she saw Paris in his own yard that morning. On a forenoon of that date, according to the evidence, Walter Humphrey rowed Paris across from the Carleton side to the St. John side.

Mr. Day testified that he saw this man close to a place where a person could go to the body which the body was found. Paris, the accused, was in the park on the second day of August, the attorney says that Paris, the accused, was the man who told those children he knew where they could get better berries. On that date the Cushing mill fire took place, and on that day, he said, Paris was in his own home, according to the evidence of several witnesses.

"The burning of the Cushing mill was a providential act to prevent the man who committed that dastardly crime escaping from the consequences of his act. What motive would Ernest Campbell have in coming here and saying that he saw Paris on the morning of August 3 when they discussed the Brittain fish shed fire, which took place early that morning? Stanley Humphrey, lessee of the Brittain fish shed, also saw Paris at that date."

Mrs. Craft, he said, saw Paris and Walter Humphrey get into a boat on that morning and row across the river. She marked the date as being the birthday of her only son. John Best said he saw Humphrey and Paris across the river on the morning of the Brittain fish shed fire.

Humphrey had been characterized as a thief by the counsel for the defence, but because a man stole it did not follow that he was a murderer. Humphrey said that Paris asked him to go to the park and help him cover up "that kid."

The attorney general said that Paris had said it would not take two men to carry a child of fifty or sixty pounds "There was no evidence that she weighed fifty or sixty pounds, so how could he carry a child of fifty or sixty pounds unless he had held her in his hands?"

The attorney characterized Humphrey's statement that he read of the missing Sadie McAuley in The Standard as a slip of the tongue, as he had been in the habit of reading that paper.

The attorney general started to deal with the defence alibi when the judge decided to adjourn until 2:30 o'clock.

OUR GRAIN TRADE.
While of course, if we accept the Meighen philosophy, Canadians should discourage all trade with the United States, and believe that all such trade is harmful and certain to lead to political annexation, yet for some reason or other Canadians continue in the face of all this to traffic over the border and through the ocean ports with the "dreaded" Republic more than to any other purchasers. Even in the trade in grain our sales to the Americans are very heavy. In the seven years from 1915 to 1921, inclusive, the total exports of all grain from Canada was 1,222,664,772 bushels. Fifteen per cent of this went to the United States, the other eighty-five per cent going elsewhere. Of this vast volume of outgoing traffic, 253,460,894 bushels were exported through Canadian seaports and 511,901,877 bushels were shipped from American ports, which accounts for the wheat and one of the undisturbed spider webs in the Grain Elevator here in Halifax. The heaviest shipments of wheat were made in three war years—1916, 1917, 1918—the record being the shipments for the year ending March 31, 1918, when 1,826,546 bushels were exported. For the seven years 1915 to 1921, inclusive, the total wheat shipments came to 213,686,298 bushels. Of this quantity, 163,481,877 bushels were sent for exportation to the United States; 141,691,743 bushels, passed through American ports, and 281,831,093 bushels from Canadian ports, or only 37 per cent.

PREDICTS CUT IN OCEAN RATES

London, Dec. 2.—(Canadian Press.)—The Times forecasts a sharp cut in freight rates from the United Kingdom to British Columbia, which should provide special opportunity for the development of British export trade towards Canada. It says the flat rate will soon become twenty-five shilling a ton, which will be equivalent to a penny for thirty bags.

The newspaper adds that it should not be assumed that the cheap rate will be continued indefinitely, as the shipping managers maintain that the new rate would be unprofitable. It is therefore presumed that the cut will be solely due to the slump in shipping, in order to keep the ships employed.

PERHAPS JAPS SEEK BARGAIN

Washington Speculates on Attitude re Naval Ratio. May be Holding Out to get by on Manchuria or Gain Elsewhere—Not Considered There is a Deadlock.

Washington, Dec. 2.—(Ben Deacon staff correspondent Canadian Press.)—Old Mr. Speculation was the most prominent personage at the Washington conference as the delegates again got to work today on several obstinate questions. What does the attitude of the Japanese on the ratio question really mean? Have they taken a definite stand, or are they still in a state of indecision? It has been thrown out as a feeler: Are they getting into a position for striking a bargain, and if so, what are the terms? Many theories were expounded.

The view is that Japan's representatives, by claiming a higher ratio, are really holding out to get by on Manchuria, or to gain elsewhere. Knowing that the position of the U. S. is firmly fixed on that point, they may hope to gain consideration for their claims on some other question by agreeing to back down gracefully on the ratio. This is merely speculation, and it naturally leads to still more conjecture. If this is the case, it is asked, what is it they are after? It has been suggested that the Japanese are anxious to prevent the establishment of bases in the Philippines, but Baron Keto has declared they have no such idea. He has said that the Japanese consider the naval armament matter, and the question of naval bases are not in any way related.

Another guess is that the Manchurian situation is implicated in the suggested saw-off. The Chinese declare Manchuria a part of China. It has a color of its own. The Japanese are not at all sure that the U. S. is prepared to see them out of Manchuria as an excellent field for colonization, and they are establishing a very firm grip on the territory. They desire to have that grip loosened by this conference, and would prefer to have the Manchurian question passed over.

The theory is that they hope the conference may not find it necessary to raise the question if they agree to accept the U. S. figures. Other questions are mentioned in the flood of current gossip in this connection by those who incline to the belief that the Japanese are bargaining.

Meanwhile there is little or no light on the real situation. It is believed that the Japanese have formally put in a demand for the seventy per cent. ratio. In fact, it has been said by their representatives that although the experts of the Tokio contingent have favored it, no decision has yet been reached by the delegates themselves. There is nothing which could be termed a "deadlock," they say, and they continue optimistic.

The Far East committee was scheduled to meet this morning to resume consideration of the matter of foreign trade relations with China. Several sub-committees, including that on the Chinese tariff, of which Sir Robert Borden is a member, are to meet today. The conference and Chinese are due to hold their second session on the shipping problem this afternoon.

IN WALL STREET.

New York, Dec. 2.—(10.30)—Gains and losses in shares of the same description again reflected divergence of speculative sentiment at the opening of today's market. SHIP WITHOUT BOTTOM MAKES N. Y. HARBOR

New York, Dec. 2.—A ship without a bottom came into this port yesterday—The Standard Oil tanker, F. D. Aesch, 284 gross tons, with Captain McKenzie and a crew of twenty. She came all the way from the Bahamas. On October 20, the tanker left here in ballast for Texas City. A hurricane hit her and on October 26, she was driven scraping across Stranger Reef. The storm washed her a mile farther into Manilla Reef, and there she lay while the crew pumped the pumps worked all right, but the quantity of water in the hold did not diminish. The men discovered that instead of pumping out the hold they were trying to pump out the ocean, a most discouraging task. Thus they learned that the bottom was gone.

The wireless brought two wrecking tugs of the Merritt-Chapman Co. What they did was to put a lot of tanks in the hold and then pack them full of compressed air. The ship floated off and they towed her to New York.

Quebec Fire; Damage $30,000.

Quebec, Dec. 2.—Fire last night did damage estimated at $30,000 to the premises in St. John street, occupied by Jos. E. Vincent, printer and book dealer; Mercus Fisher, dealer in photographic supplies, and the residences of Dr. P. E. Bedard and Mr. Vincent.

Real Rest Depends Largely Upon the Depth of Your Sleep

A warning to "light" or "poor" sleepers

The deeper and sounder you sleep the better you feel. Five hours sound refreshing sleep does you more actual good than ten hours restless, disturbed sleep.

This is because the final conversion of food into vital tissue and nerve cells goes on more rapidly when the physical and mental forces are at rest.

You can't get sound, refreshing sleep if your nerves are agitated with tea or coffee. Both these drinks contain caffeine, which is sometimes very irritating to the brain and nervous system.

If you want to know the joy, vigor and stamina that comes to the person who gets sound, healthful sleep, why not stop taking tea or coffee for a while, and drink delicious, invigorating Postum instead.

Thousands of people every where have found that this was the only thing they needed in order to bring about these very happy results.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this delightful cereal beverage of satisfying flavor, for a week. Perhaps, like thousands of others, you'll never be willing to go back to tea or coffee.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

FINDS HOME SWEET AFTER DEATH HOUSE

What Thanksgiving Means Revealed to Joseph Cohen. Freed on Eve of Holiday—Saw 18 Go to the Chair.

(New York Times.)
Four years ago Joseph Cohen, a poultry dealer, was sentenced to death for complicity in the murder of Barnett Raff, a West Washington Market poultry dealer, killed on Nov. 24, 1914. For twenty months he lived in the death house, receiving eight reprieves, one arriving seven minutes before the time set for his execution. Then Governor Smith commuted his sentence to life imprisonment. Yesterday this man, who saw thirteen others go to the death chair, sat with his family and told how Thanksgiving Day had a real significance for him as a result of his unexpected release on bail from Sing Sing Wednesday night under an order for a new trial.

At the home of David H. Goldstein, his attorney, 103 East Fifteenth street, Cohen, his wife and other relatives ate a Thanksgiving dinner which might not have been a joyous affair if the efforts of his friends and counsel had not been successful.
"Tonight I know what Thanksgiving means," Cohen told a New York Times reporter who had been asked to attend. "My heart goes out in thanks to God for His mercy toward me. I am also grateful to Governor Smith, who commuted my sentence, and those who have made it possible for me to be reunited with my family. Of the future I have no fear, as I am innocent of the crime of which I was convicted, and I know that right will prevail in the end."

Didn't Know of Bail.

Mr. Goldstein revealed that Cohen did not know he had been released on bail and thought that he was being sent to this city to be housed in the Tombs when he left Sing Sing. Cohen, in a simple, unaffected way, described events which he said had happened too fast for him to fully comprehend.

"I was acting as a nurse to a diphtheria patient," he began, "and was glad to have this assignment because I could be of service to the sufferer and because it would enable me to keep my mind, in a way, off the fact that I couldn't be home this holiday."

"Cohen is too modest to state that he volunteered for the task when the call came for a nurse," interrupted Mr. Goldstein.

"While I was talking to the patient an orderly came into the room with a telegram for Joseph Cohen, and asked me to see if it was for me, as there were two men of that name in the prison," Cohen went on. "I didn't expect a message of any sort, as I had heard from my wife and family—certainly I never dreamed of a new trial. I tore open the envelope and read 'New trial ordered,' and signed by Mr. Goldstein."

"I stood dazed for a moment. James Flemming, the patient, took one look at me, broke into a smile and said, 'It is from your lawyer, isn't it?' I recovered my senses and then looked down. The word spread around and prisoners came flocking to congratulate me."

"I continued my work, happy in the thought that 'Thanksgiving would mean a lot for me as a result of this. Then Mr. Goldstein arrived from New York and told me to prepare to leave the prison to go back with him. He didn't say where I was to spend the night, and I presumed he meant in the Tombs. I didn't say anything to him at the time, but I felt I would rather remain up at Sing Sing than be so near my family on Thanksgiving Day and not be with them."

Big Surprise Awaited.

"We rode back to the city in an automobile; came down Fourth avenue and then turned into Fifteenth street. Mr. Goldstein said something about wanting to stop at his house, which was unlighted, asking me to go inside with him. We entered the main living room. I waited in the centre while he fumbled for a light. Suddenly the room was ablaze with light and I stood facing my

Why Dominion Rubbers Wear so Well

Perfect-fitting Rubbers—that fit snug over the instep—that have the exact toe and heel of the shoe over which they are worn—will wear 50% longer than rubbers that wrinkle and run over at the heel.

One reason why DOMINION RUBBERS wear so well is because they provide lasts to fit any shoe.

If you have failed to get a properly fitted rubber, remember it costs no more to have it. Go to the Dominion Rubber dealer. He will fit you.

The Dominion Rubber System is the pioneer in the rubber industry of Canada. For 67 years their experts have been making rubbers that fit and wear.

"Don't ask for 'A Pair of Rubbers,' Say: 'I Want Dominion Rubbers.'"

EVIDENCE COMPLETE IN THE PARIS CASE

Further evidence in rebuttal was heard yesterday afternoon at the trial of John Paris, charged with the murder of Sadie McAuley. Frederick Henderson, train dispatcher, Truro, said that a special farm laborers' train left Truro at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of August 4. William Sweet swore that he had not rowed Paris from St. John to Charlton on the morning of August 4. James Williamson, swore that he was out of town on August 4 and it was not until August 9 or 10 that he rowed Paris from the east to the west side. Thomas McCann, fireman, said that while Paris was in custody, the accused had told him that he was under arrest for a racket in Nova Scotia but that

Paris had a brother who looked so much like him that it was hard to tell them apart.

Policeman Hatt contradicted the statement made by Paris that the accused had no conversation with Hatt. Paris had told witness that the little Levine girl was in to see him and said that he was not the man. Paris told him that he learned from Policeman Thomas that it was the Levine girl.

Sergeant-Detective Power said that when Hattie Levine was brought before Paris on August 18, he had not heard her say "no."

Paris, recalled, denied that statement made by the witness McCann regarding having a brother who looked like him.

MARTHA—Housework and washing is only an excuse for red and ugly hands. I know a great many women who do all their own housework and yet have beautiful white hands. They use what I use, CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM. It is the most wonderful thing in the world for preventing chapped and redness of the hands. I wouldn't be without it. Keep a bottle of CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM on your bathroom shelf and rub a little on your hands every time you have had them in water to do cleaning. It will soften and whiten them and will protect them from the wear and tear of housework. You can buy CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM at any Druggist, 40c. a large bottle.

HELD FOR TRIAL ON CHARGE OF KILLING GOVERNOR OF ILL.

Guerra, Ont., Dec. 2.—Samuel McArdie, Jos. Hobson and Wm. Cook were yesterday committed for trial on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Governor McNab, when they made their escape from the Guelph jail on Thanksgiving day. Both McNab and Turnkey Everson were attacked by the accused, the former dying of his injuries. The trial will take place next spring.

PART PLAYED BY CANADIAN AUTHORS

J. Murray Gibbon, president of the Canadian Authors' Association and writer of note, gave an interesting lecture before members of the Canadian Club in Bond's last evening. His subject was on the question: "Why Should Canadians read Canadian books?" Horace A. Porter, president, Rev. H. A. Cody, vice-president of the Canadian Authors' Association for New Brunswick, also spoke. During his discourse the principal speaker emphasized what part Canadian literature played in Canadian Nationality. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Gibbon addressed a group of citizens in the school trustees board room, who met for the purpose of forming a branch of the Canadian Authors' Association. He pointed out its aims and objects and said that the reason for the forming of the association had been to protest against a proposed copyright law that would place Canadian authors at the mercy of provincial printers. He also spoke entertainingly about Canadian authors. Others participating in the discussion were the chairman, Rev. H. A. Cody, W. Frank Hatheway, H. A. Powell, Mrs. Edmond Raymond and others. A committee was appointed, composed of Rev. H. A. Cody, A. M. Belding and Miss Fleet, to arrange for a general meeting to organize a branch in St. John.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

At a special meeting of the municipal council yesterday afternoon, M. E. Ager told of the need of an extension to the epidemic hospital which would cost about $20,000 and asked the council to approve the proposal. Dr. W. P. Roberts also spoke in support of the plan and said that $10,000 would be required in addition to the $10,000 already voted. There was some discussion between Mayor Schofield, Warden Bullard, Councillor Thornton, Mr. Ager and Dr. Roberts as to the amount which would be necessary. Judge J. R. Armstrong spoke in regard to a bill paid by a man named Laskey to the detective department and it was decided to consider it. The report of the buildings committee was read by Mr. Thornton and adopted by the council. The finance committee's report including a recommendation for the addition to the epidemic hospital and other important matters was finally adopted. The mothers' allowance committee report recommending the adoption of the plan for mothers' allowances was read by Councillor O'Brien and referred

It is generally admitted that it would be a mistake for Britain to rely on the support of Egyptian troops in case of future war, or in fact deny to the legitimate commerce of other nations in peace time. The world at large is not disposed to recognize Egypt as a sovereign state. If Great Britain had chosen to annex Egypt and proclaim it as a British dependency it might have been the easier course.

During the recent anti-foreign riots, the British High Commissioner made himself responsible for the restoration of order through the instrumentality of British troops. That episode is in itself

LOCAL NEWS

Rev. Dr. George Eton Lloyd has been elected Bishop of Saskatchewan by a vote of the Diocese synod, to succeed Rt. Rev. J. Newham. Dr. Lloyd had had a distinguished career, both in the church and as a soldier. He is well known in St. John as he was for some time rector of Rothersey and founded the Rothersey Collegiate school.

The question of taking a vocational survey of the city was discussed at a meeting of the St. John vocational committee held last night. The offer of J. D. P. Lewin to gather information as to what such a survey would cost was accepted. The financial statement of last year's transactions was presented. There was much discussion of the prospects of vocational training.

The recent issue of a Winnipeg paper contains the portrait of Mrs. Arthur S. Ingraham, formerly of this city and daughter of W. E. Newcombe, who was general convenor of the St. Patrick's church bazaar held in the parish hall last week. Mrs. Ingraham is one of the leading spirits in church circles in the prairie metropolis. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newcombe and their son, George, also are resident there now.

Charles Hamilton, assistant to Dr. F. A. Godes, King street, fell from the second story window of a four story building yesterday afternoon, a distance of twenty-five feet. He struck on his head and sustained a bad cut about the eye; the fall also wrenched his side. He was cleaning the window of the office when his foot slipped. He was able to walk home.

The firemen were called out yesterday afternoon for a blaze in a building situated in the rear of the Duffin Hotel Annex in Charlotte street, owned by F. G. Spencer, and used as a stable by J. T. Dunlop. The fire originated in the hay mow and it was not extinguished until ropes were attached and the upper story pulled over. Mr. Dunlop's loss is confined to the hay, but Mr. Spencer had no insurance on the building.

Another fatal shooting accident was added to the list in New Brunswick before the big game season closed on Wednesday. At Irish Settlement, Mr. Cannon lost his life. He had been out shooting and was standing with the butt of the rifle on the ground, his hand over the muzzle. In changing his position his knee struck the hammer and the gun was discharged, the bullet passing through his hand and lodging in his head. Death was instantaneous. He was twenty-seven years of age and is survived by a wife and one daughter. The addition of Mr. Cannon's name brings the total for the season to twelve.

The monthly meeting of the directors of the St. John Protestant Orphanage was held yesterday afternoon and was well attended. D. C. Clark, the president, was in the chair. The monthly bills were read and ordered paid. The only other business that came before the meeting was the making of plans for the tea and sale that is to be held next week. The sale will be conducted by the children of the orphanage, and the goods displayed will all be products of their handicraft. Tea will be served by the lady directors during the afternoon and evening.

A mother and daughter banquet in the Ludlow street Baptist church hall last night was largely attended. The arrangements were in the hands of the men of the congregation. R. J. Parsons was chairman. Rev. Isaac Brimley gave a short address. Miss G. Beives proposed the toast to the King and Empire. Others who took part were Miss Hilda Walton, Miss Pearl Wayne, Miss Thelma Neeldin, Miss Hazel Clark, Miss Edna McLeod, John King, Miss Mabel Sharp, Mrs. Harry Donner, Mrs. A. B. McKinney, Miss Mary Allison, Miss Muriel

Headache

Recurring headaches usually come from an exhaustion of the nervous system, and they do not disappear until the vigor of the nerve cells is restored by such upbuilding treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Temporary relief by use of powders is often obtained at an enormous expense to the nervous system and the general health.

Get the nerves right and the headaches will not return.

Mrs. W. J. Pearce, Nunn St., Cobourg, Ont., writes:

"My system became run-down and I suffered greatly with pain in my head. This was so severe that I would have to bind a cloth tightly about my head so that I could get my work done. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after taking the first box I found quite an improvement in my condition. I continued using them until I had taken about seven boxes, and they strengthened and built up my system splendidly, completely relieving the pain in my head."

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a Glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys. It is their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaker, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dislodge, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jaid Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then get fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia! and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jaid Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

ATHLETICS FOR GIRLS.

Two Opposing Views Are Aided in England.
Athletics for school girls are opposed by many English educators, who maintain that the present system of physical training has a bad effect on future generations. One principal declares that eighty per cent. of the girls she had known who had been trained to become teachers of physical training had been incapacitated for motherhood. Strong chests and big muscles lack elasticity, according to the director of a school for physical development.
Tough sports such as hockey and football are particularly condemned, and it is argued that natural weakness cannot be overcome by acquired strength. One physical educator is opposed, but light physical exercise is favored by these teachers. One principal maintains that the feet are the only part of the body that should be made strong. Athletic women produce female offspring only, says one woman doctor, and seldom have sons. A campaign has been started to circulate these ideas.
On the other hand, at the annual conference of Head Mistresses of Secondary School, held recently at Manchester, every speaker on the subject endorsed the modern custom of organized games.

Mr. P. H. BOONE,
Motor Mechanic, writes:

"Just a few lines to tell you of the wonderful benefits I have received from your tonic Phosferine. I first heard about it during the war, when quite a lot of my pals gave credit to Phosferine for keeping them going. I too, derived great benefit from it, but when I came back to civil life as a Motor Driver and Mechanic I found it splendid, for it does me good both mentally and physically. Car driving calls for steady nerves when one has to drive at all hours and in all weathers, Phosferine gives you them, and from a physical point of view I find that however hard the job is—and sometimes in an urgent repair one has to keep going until it is finished—Phosferine has built up my condition that I am able to carry on."
30, Oak Grove, Cricklewood, London, England. 11th July, 1921.

This skilled Motor Mechanic attributes his steady, reliable nerves solely to the revitalizing properties of Phosferine. Phosferine ensures that his nerve organs are always capable of providing the extra vital force to cope successfully with the unnumbered resp. n. b. i. e., and the prolonged day and night work of his exciting occupation.

Lord Melbourne, Prime Minister—Well, Mr. Disraeli, what is your idea in entering Parliament? What is your ambition?
Disraeli—"To become Prime Minister of England, my lord."
And he did.
It was a thirty-year fight. Disraeli entered Parliament in 1847. In 1857 Queen Victoria made him Prime Minister. In the interval Disraeli, a young Jew, without fortune or influence, battled his way to the top.
And again in 1876, nine years after his first appointment as Prime Minister, the Queen again appointed Disraeli to be Prime Minister.

MOTION FOR BEER PLEBISCITE BANNED
BY B. C. HOUSE SPEAKER
Victoria, B. C., Dec. 2.—In the legislature, Captain Ian Mackenzie, independent member for Vancouver, brought in a motion favoring a plebiscite on the question of the open sale of beer in the province. Premier Oliver opposed the motion.
Speaker Manson ruled the motion out of order on the ground that a private member could not introduce a motion calling for expenditure of public money, as would be necessitated by a referendum.

LIBERAL RALLY IN THE OPERA HOUSE AROUSES IMMENSE ENTHUSIASM

Audience Responds With Outbursts of Applause to Arguments of Speakers

Telling Denunciation of Meighen Administration, Sound Reasons for Return of Liberal Party to Power and Promises of Brighter Days After December 6 Mark Speeches of Premier Foster, H. R. McLellan, Dr. W. P. Broderick and I. C. Rand.

As one point after another was scored against the Meighen administration, and as reason after reason why the Liberal party should be returned to office was advanced, the great throng of electors who filled the Opera House to its utmost capacity last evening grew more and more enthusiastic in their outbursts of applause. The occasion was a rally in the interests of the Liberal candidates in this constituency, Dr. W. P. Broderick and H. R. McLellan, when they, with Premier Foster and I. C. Rand, addressed the audience.

So eager were the voters of both sexes to hear the speakers and to show their sympathy to the Liberal cause, that hundreds who sought admission had to be turned away. Those who were accommodated in the great auditorium made one of the most enthusiastic audiences ever assembled at a political rally in this city.

The conviction and openly expressed admissions that the Meighen government is doomed to defeat had their part in creating the atmosphere of confidence which permeated the meeting and the speakers found a ready response to their arguments.

The Speakers.

Premier Foster, who was the first speaker, was in fine form and held the audience interested and enthused. At one point he was so much moved by the light touch, he scored his points amid the laughter which was aroused again, in telling arguments he put the facts before his hearers. He set forth the injustices of the railway, the great injustice done St. John in keeping away business and work from this port and giving it to Portland (Me.) He scored the Meighen administration for its tariff policy and its flagrant discrimination against the great body of the people in its handling of the heavy freight rates. It would be Canada's good fortune to enjoy after Dec. 6 Mr. Foster's strong appeal to a united Liberal vote in St. John city and its environs.

H. R. McLellan, the first of the candidates to speak, was given a fine reception. In a speech of compelling interest that was punctuated by frequent humorous sallies, he told of the reasons that impelled him to enter the fight, dealt at some length with the tariff and the inland freight rates, and entered into considerable detail in exposing the railway and the machinations of Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Joseph Flavelle, two knightly gentlemen, who, according to the speaker, have rather made a crime against the people of St. John and the province as a whole. He said that the Liberals would carry out the provisions of the agreement and Dr. Broderick and Mr. McLellan would be vigorous champions in this good cause.

In speaking of the Intercolonial, Hon. Mr. Baxter neglected to deal with the most important phase of that question, the freight rates.

Discrimination Against Us.

In September, 1920, Hon. Mr. Foster said, the railway commission had increased freight rates over Canadian government roads, as well as over other railways, making an increase of freight rates east to west of fifty per cent, and from west to east of thirty per cent, thus discriminating against the products of the maritime provinces in their transportation to western markets. In December of the same year, after many protests, the railway commission re-adjusted the rates so that the increase from east to west was fixed at thirty-five per cent, and that of west to east at thirty per cent. Only applied ten per cent decrease on the original increase of 1920. For instance, if lumber was carried at a rate of $3.50 a thousand in January, 1920, and increased to $4.40 a thousand in September, 1920, the present decrease of ten per cent would apply only to fifty cents, leaving a reduction of only five cents a thousand feet of lumber. The same applied to the same way to all other merchandise transported over government railways.

The Freight Rates.

Mr. Foster referred to the confederation bond, and made a strong argument for ratification of the Intercolonial to its original status; it had never been intended to be a business road, but was built to serve the people of the maritime provinces.

The Tariff.

Turning to the matter of the tariff, Mr. Foster asked Mr. Baxter and Dr. Macdonald to say how protection with high tariff would reduce the high cost of living. That was something, he said, they could not do. The high tariff policy bore heavily on the masses of the people. The Conservatives sought to protect the issue of free trade and protection. They knew this was a mistake. Free trade has been adopted, but not possible for Canada, because other countries had tariffs. What was wanted here was a policy of tariff for revenue only, so adjusted that it would not bear heavily on the masses; with downward revision on food and clothing and the implements of production.

Mr. Foster gave two striking examples of the injustice of the high protection policy of the Meighen administration. He showed the duty on a diamond set in platinum to be but twenty-two per cent, while the much needed suit of clothes or warm undergarments had to be taxed at twenty per cent.

After putting $46,000,000 at the disposal of Sir William Mackenzie in 1914 to build a road through the Rockies, the people of Canada had been told of $10,000,000 when the road was taken over by the Canadian people although, in reality, they already owned the road. In 1919 Sir William came along with another proposition that the Grand Trunk, although there was no need for the Grand Trunk as a feeder to the transcontinental, with the C. N. R. and G. T. P. already acquired. The board appointed to value the Grand Trunk had estimated that the assets were worth $307,000,000 but that $37,000,000 of common, first, second and third preferred stock was not worth anything. This was a signal for Mackenzie and his cohorts to get hold of that stock, the speaker declared, and to later the government appointed a board to see what compensation would be offered those stockholders, but stipulating that the government would not pay more than $64,000,000. Thus the $388,000,000 of common, first, second and third preferred stock, worth the people of Canada $371,000,000.

Mr. Foster charged, these lines in the United States would have to be kept up to a standard fixed by the United States, and he reviewed the record of 1896 to 1911, and he would bank his future on the Liberal party and the record that had been made. In closing, Premier Foster made a stirring appeal to the people to weigh well the issues. The ballot was sacred and in it was the future of the country and the welfare of the people of the Maritime Provinces. They should not consider any differences there might have been in the Liberal party in the past. Those who should be sunk deeply out of sight. (Applause.) They should not consider that after a man might worship at the altar of the Liberal party, and he had no doubt, weighing the issues of the Liberal and Conservative parties, and he had no doubt, weighing the issues, they would rally at the polls in support of Mr. McLellan and Dr. Broderick.

H. R. McLellan.

After the great burst of applause that followed the introduction of H. R. McLellan had subsided he thanked the audience for the generous reception, commented on the discouragement afforded by the presence of such a large audience including such a number of women, and appealed to the people to rise superior to all past differences and to consider the important questions in the election for this constituency.

It was a desire to promote the interests of the port of St. John, of the constituency of St. John-Albert, and of the province of New Brunswick that impelled him to enter the campaign, the speaker declared. The people he said should set aside their prejudices and differences and unite upon a platform for the promotion of these interests. Conditions obtaining at present were endurable no longer, and the present government appeared unable to do anything to remedy the situation.

"The general welfare of the country demands that Canada be governed by the able men of the country," said Mr. McLellan. The electorate had been told, he said, that the present government's motto was to put the present government out of power would be a retrograde step.

"It would be retrograde," said Mr. McLellan, "in the sense of putting the government back where they belong." He declared that the people had made the defeat of the government and the destruction of the prosperity of Canada their business, and he declared that the destruction of the capitalist combines whose assistance was given to the welfare and prosperity of Canada today.

The electorate had been told that the tariff was the real issue. In reality, said Mr. McLellan, the tariff was a blind-barrage to obscure the real issue. The Liberals stood for a tariff that would protect the many, as against a tariff for the profit of a few. He ridiculed the allegation that the Liberals stood for free trade.

Tariff As An Asset.

Mackenzie King, he declared, was a man whose keen powers of perception would be enlisted in the task of framing a tariff to meet the needs of the country. If that tariff were so shaped as to enable the Canadian working man to increase his high standard of living in the face of competition of the cheap labor of other countries, it would be Canada's best asset.

He then proceeded to point out how the present attitude of the Conservative government had contradicted their historical position on the subject of reciprocity. In 1854, he only applied a ten per cent tariff to goods negotiated with the United States. In 1868, after Confederation, the government made a treaty of reciprocity with the United States. In 1869, 1870 and 1871 treaties were made to ratify a treaty. "Reciprocity" was a very real thing, he said, and it was the war cry of Sir John A. Macdonald who on another occasion had said he would be willing to own himself a protectionist.

"If," said the speaker, "trade with the Yankees is no benefit, then why did the government buy hundreds of miles of railway in the United States? If their principles are sound then they have been false to them."

Liberal Party and Prosperity.

The Liberals were in power from 1876 to 1911, during which time the industries of the country flourished as never before or since. Therefore it was plain that if the country wanted a return of prosperity the Liberal party should be returned. A man would be a fool who would say that the Liberals were a bad party.

Mr. Meighen, in the east, declared that the tariff was the issue; in the west he forgot all about it. The speaker then went on to explain what a tariff was. It was a method of raising money by placing a barrier on foreign imports. The higher the barrier was the more it kept out the products of other countries.

The Merchant Marine.

Dr. Broderick then took up the subject of the Merchant Marine, saying that the Conservative government under the late Hon. Mr. Meighen had done nothing to help our merchant marine to help export trade. An initial expenditure of $25,000,000 put the Merchant Marine in a state of order-in-council. At that time it was advised by Liberal members that it was a waste of money to build a merchant navy that had grown to $87,000,000. The vessels had not been ready to help in the export trade of Canadian goods from port to port, looking for cargoes.

The railway policy of the government was attacked by the speaker. He said that the freight and grain of western Canada was going through the port of Portland (Me.). This was a great concern and interest to the citizens of St. John. He read from a Portland paper, extracts telling of a "grain strike" being made by the farmers of the large grain shipments from Canada expected to pass through the port as well as thousands of head of Canadian cattle. If the government could not regulate this traffic now, how could it regulate it after the strike had started?

Dr. Broderick asked what was the attitude of the minister of marine and shipping towards the port of St. John? The speaker had it on good authority that the minister was not a Canadian citizen. He had had the people told that the government was as empty as a sack and that the minister of marine and shipping had had the people told to have any truck or trade with the Yankees was to build up United States ports at the expense of St. John and Halifax.

Trade With United States.

The speaker next quoted from a Conservative pamphlet which he had seen, in regard to the Forney tariff. The reciprocity bill had looked good to the Canadian farmer when it would increase the number of the country 100,000 people to the people of a country of 6,000,000. The Conservatives had used the slogan of "no truck with the Yankees." If the reciprocity bill would have put through the Forney bill would be in force today, the speaker declared.

To show how Canada's trade with the United States had been decreased, he gave figures. Three months previous to the enactment of the Forney bill, Canada had exported to the United States $1,176,188 pounds to the United States. For the three months after the bill was enacted, it had only $848,667 pounds. In a like period the cattle exports were $8,867 head, compared with $24,214 bushels, compared with 66,749 bushels.

The only trouble was that Sir Wilfred Laurier had been ahead of his time. If his policy had been put into effect there would have been no recession for the Forney tariff, the speaker said.

A Serious Duty.

In conclusion, Dr. Broderick said that a serious and important duty devolved on those present on December 6, 1921. He said that the government was to hold the reins of power. If they were satisfied with an autocratic government, which put a tremendous debt on the country, placed such a railway burden on their shoulders, who had increased the government's expenditure from $78,000,000 to $368,000,000, then they would vote for the Conservatives. But if they wanted to return to the prosperity such as prevailed from 1876 to 1911, a government at all times subservient to the will of the people, there he believed that they would vote for the Liberal candidates. It would be the best interest of the province, New Brunswick and Canada that Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King should be elected prime minister on December 6.

asked for a Royal Commission to investigate their statements but Mr. Meighen had said that he would not incur them. Mackenzie and Mann had pocketed the profits and had saddled the roads on the people, Mr. Rand declared.

In conclusion the speaker said that now was the time to strike a blow for the people of the country and the time to strike a blow for the restoration of a man like this.

The meeting was brought to a close with cheers for the candidates, Hon. King, and the singing of the National Anthem.
