Thirty Oarsmen, Hilton Among Them, Away for Buffalo from Toronto This Morning—St. John Man
Cheery Over Next Race.

Toronto, Aug. 4.—A local sport writer has this to say:
"Hilton Belyea of St. John, N. B., the new national champion, arrived at the Argos boathouse yesterday and took a long row around the bay in the evening. They apparently have few breakwaters down Belyea's way, for the much discussed new champion remarked with enthusiasm the splendid protection the sea wall affords for trial sprints."

"Among the various unusual methods of the champion's style to be noticed, a new one came to light last evening when Belyea took off from the intermediate four oared event on the traditional taking off port or starboard from the side of the boat, the champion steps deliberately into his shell with one foot on the runway and shores off to stern. His style in take off carries him fully ten feet from the boat."

Toronto, Aug. 4.—Numbering about thirty and confident that they will make a good showing in the competition for the United States rowing championship, about thirty Canadian oarsmen who will compete at the regatta at Buffalo on Friday and Saturday left this morning for Buffalo.

The Argonaut four who finished second to the fast Philadelphia Vesper four at St. Kitts on last Saturday, had their final workout on the bay last night preliminary to entraining this morning. The double blue crew will compete in the intermediate four oared event on Friday, and if they win, will race against Jack Kelly's Vesper four and other United States crews in the final on Saturday.

Hilton Belyea of St. John, who won the Canadian sculling championship at St. Catharines last week, has been training and sprinting here during the last few days and feels confident of winning the U. S. championship at Buffalo on Saturday.

The University of Toronto's first and second crews are all fit and confident for the Buffalo events. If the university crew come through in the intermediate event on Friday, they will go up to the senior race on Saturday.

Johnny Durnan, ex-champion of Canada, is another entry at Buffalo, and hopes to redeem his record.

Accompanying the Canadian oarsmen are Coach Joe Wright, of the Argonauts, Jimmy Rice, of Columbia University, and "Tommy" Lander, who will handle the University of Toronto crews.

ODD FEATURES
IN BALL GAMES
In the Field and at the Bat—
Late News in the World of Sport.

New York, Aug. 4.—Good fielding performances featured the major league contests yesterday. In the first Chicago-Boston National League game every Cub player had one or more assists. Alexander, who had six assists and was the only Chicago player without a putout to his credit, was the pivot in a peculiar double play. Left fielder Sullivan caught a fly, threw the ball to the infield, where Alexander threw to third baseman Dean, who completed the play. In the second game each of the Boston outfielders had two putouts.

Plack, of the Chicago Nationals, and Smith, of the St. Louis Nationals, lead-off men in batting, opened with home runs. All of the Pittsburgh players, except Cateher Schmidt, forced out by injury, made at least one hit, while pitcher Koofer had two.

Try Again Tonight.
New York, Aug. 4.—For the eighth time Gene Tunney, American expeditionary force light heavyweight champion, and Marty Burke, of New Orleans, will attempt to meet in the ring here tonight. They have been matched seven times in various cities, but each time the bout was postponed, usually on account of rain, and now the fighters are known as the "rain makers."

Mike Gibbons, St. Paul middleweight, and Augie Ratner, New York, will also clash in a scheduled ten-round match, this bout having been postponed from Tuesday night because of rain.

Davis Cup.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 4.—Tennis experts of the British Isles and Australia today played the first of their preliminary rounds in the Davis Cup matches on the grass courts of the Allegheny Country Club. Today's play brought together in the singles, Anderson, Australia, and Woodman, British Isles; Hawkes, Australia, and Lowe, British Isles.

Moncton Races.
Moncton, N. B., Aug. 4.—Horse races here on the 12th and 13th instants, promise to be hummers. There are five events as follows:

MANY MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE
BEFORE COUNCIL

Decide Not to Oppose School Board Application for Bonds.

Amount, However, Must Not Exceed Cost of One School—City Will Lease Potato Warehouses—Application for Overhead Crossing—A New Industry for Lancaster.

A big volume of business was transacted by the city council in committee this morning, including matters pertaining to the city water supply, the proposed overhead crossing at the falls end of Douglas avenue, the lease of potato sheds in West St. John and the lease of property in Fairville for a new industry. The mayor presided and all the commissioners were present.

D. W. Ledingham, manager of the Parness, Wilby Co., appeared before the council to ask that the city grant a lease of the potato warehouses on the old C. P. R. wharf at West St. John for the shipment of potatoes. Commissioner Bullock explained that the matter was up before but was held up pending the result of the plebiscite on the harbor commission.

Ledingham said it was the intention to continue potato shipments, which had been diverted to Boston. Last year the shipments were resumed here and nine ships were loaded. The New Brunswick shippers were being urged to ship more this year. The potatoes will be brought in bulk and barreled here. It is the intention to place orders for about 15,000 barrels with local firms. The company asked for a five year lease and permission to put in heating apparatus. The company was willing to guarantee fifteen steamers a year or forfeit the lease.

He asked the council to cancel the resolution imposing a penalty if the fifteen steamers were not loaded. He estimated that repairs to the sheds would cost $7,000 to $8,000, and then the company would have to take up with the C. P. R. the strengthening of the trestle at the end of the warehouses.

Commissioner Bullock said the shed had not been used for the last three years. The potatoes will be added to the $100 a year rental the side and has a drainage would amount to $300 to $350 a year.

Commissioner Bullock asked moved into the city the request of the Parness Wilby Co., the city to have the option of terminating the lease if fewer than fifteen steamers loaded in any one year. Carried.

Ferry Repair.
Commissioner Bullock reported that about two weeks ago the main shaft in the ferry steamer Governor Carden broke. Figures obtained from local foundries were as follows:
Phoenix Foundry $432.50
St. John Iron Works 440.00
Union Foundry 440.00
He said this was the third accident of this kind this year. He moved that the contract be given to the lowest tenderer, the cost to be provided for out of next year's revenue if necessary.

In response to Commissioner Frink, Mr. Bullock said that he would place ahead and make the application.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 4.—Virtually all boxing bouts except those staged by fraternal organizations, the American Legion or baseball clubs have been placed under the ban in Michigan, pending reorganization of the State Athletic Board of Control, which Governor Goodbeck has announced will be the first step towards "eliminating commercialism from the sport."

SEES NEED OF NEW WATER MAIN FROM
SUPPLY SOURCE

Silver Falls Pump No Good for Emergency, is Report.

City Can Expect No Assistance from West Side in Event of Accident—Break in Old Pump House Reported to Police—Engineer's Opinion.

Reporting on the possibility of using the Silver Falls pumping station as an emergency measure in case of the failure of the Loch Lomond water supply, Commissioner Frink said at today's meeting at City Hall:

"Prior to the extension of the water mains to Loch Lomond the higher levels of the city were properly supplied and as a result complaints of want of water were frequent. This state of things continued for a long period and finally the sufferers became so impatient and insistent in their demands for an improved service that the engineer at the time, the late Wm. Murdoch, recommended the installation of a double action duplex pump capable of raising 2,000 gallons a minute as a possible means of relief to the then existing situation."

"In 1908 the pump was installed and soon afterwards the water, which formally only reached the basements of the dwellings in the higher levels, was, by means of the new appliance, raised to the cisterns in the upper flats."

"It was not, however, until the completion of the water supply to all parts of the city became entirely satisfactory."

"When the conduit was extended to Lake Latimer an additional head of 135 feet was obtained and the pump at Silver Falls reservoir is held in reserve. By damming the valley in this vicinity the water of Little River was extended to a level of about 95½ acres, and upon this source of supply we must depend hereafter in the event of a serious disturbance occurring in the line west of Lake Latimer."

"It would seem to me that there is either an enormous consumption of water or a very great waste in our system; if we may judge by comparison with the other cities, the consumption was given as 5,217,000 imp. gallons; it is now nearly 16,000,000 gals. daily. Upon the phasing of the matter I hope to be able to present a report."

"I find in the 1911 report of the late Mr. Murdoch, who was engineer at the time, this reference to the pump, which I believe was the last time it was used, that the pump was damaged during the afternoon of November 30th, to assist the pressure while Lake Latimer was shut out to the pump house. In the service and was stopped at 2 p. m. recently the engineer, the superintendent and myself visited Silver Falls for the purpose of making an inspection of the pumping plant which is building in which it is installed. We found that the building housing the turbines had been broken into, the door of the pump house and rear window smashed and one of the driving belts stolen. The structure enclosing the rope transmission is in such a bad state that it would be money wasted to attempt repairs to it. The engineer recommends, and I endorse his recommendation, that the plant be dismantled, all portable property, rope, driving belt, pulleys, etc., be brought into the city and if not found useful in the department, be sold. When the machinery is all removed it is my intention to have the building boarded up to prevent deductions of a like character in future."

Mr. Frink said he had communicated with the chief of police and asked him to investigate a break into the pump house. Even if renovated, he said that the pump would not be of use. In the event of a break in the regular main, he thought that the Little River reservoir would be of no use to the city, and the bridge at the falls was not possible, and the Little River reservoir was of no use, then a new main line from the One Mile Pond system at Little River was necessary.

Mr. Jones said he would have the engineer bring in a report on this matter.
Com. Frink said that the superintendent of the water works had reported that the pump was damaged during the afternoon of November 30th, to assist the pressure while Lake Latimer was shut out to the pump house. In the service and was stopped at 2 p. m. recently the engineer, the superintendent and myself visited Silver Falls for the purpose of making an inspection of the pumping plant which is building in which it is installed. We found that the building housing the turbines had been broken into, the door of the pump house and rear window smashed and one of the driving belts stolen. The structure enclosing the rope transmission is in such a bad state that it would be money wasted to attempt repairs to it. The engineer recommends, and I endorse his recommendation, that the plant be dismantled, all portable property, rope, driving belt, pulleys, etc., be brought into the city and if not found useful in the department, be sold. When the machinery is all removed it is my intention to have the building boarded up to prevent deductions of a like character in future."

As Hiram Sees It

"Well," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter, "they fellows buried the hatchet yet—an' made up your mind to fight together in that harbor business?"

"You orter hev free dinners in the poll'n' booths," said Hiram. "Then ye'd get the vote out. I was down lookin' at the harbor this mornin'. It's partly the other did not bear him some ships. I ast where I come from. He said nobody but an' eglit ud ever talk about the harbor. He said he was a smart old feller. I guess he knowed what he was talkin' about—Yes, sir."

Serious at Westfield;
Forest Fire Strengthens

Some People Begin Preparation to Move Out—
Conflagration in Woods Said to be Proving Too Much for Fighters.

Very serious anxiety is felt by some residents of the district around Westfield because of the condition of the forest fires there today. Some of the residents have gone so far as to begin packing their belongings in case their homes should be in the path of the fire which is raging fiercely. The fire fighting is being done under the supervision of Messrs. Brophy, O'Brien and Lingley, and between sixty and seventy men are engaged. A report this morning said that the fighters said they could do nothing more, as the fire had driven them to cover and they were unable to dig any trenches in its path, as they had been forced into the woods by its proximity. At present the flames are raging about the greenwood or slash timber, and though the men are standing by the fire and it is fanning the flames vigorously, though not quite so strong as yesterday, the situation is said to be more serious today than at any time since the fires began.

ULSTER DENIES
THE PROPOSALS

Nothing Yet Submitted by Downing Street.

London Reports Confidence that Matters Progress Well but There is a Tone of Uneasiness—All are Asked to Have Patience.

London, Aug. 4.—Reports that the government of Northern Ireland had definitely and finally refused to have anything to do with the government proposals relative to peace in Ireland were today officially declared to be "absolutely unfounded." It was asserted that proposals had been submitted to the Ulster cabinet by the government.

London, Aug. 4.—While government circles here profess confidence that Irish affairs are progressing toward a settlement, there is a tone of uneasiness, and even of anxiety, in many reports from Dublin during the last few days. These have been accompanied by exhortations for patience, being based upon the ground that the negotiations cannot be hurried and may not be concluded for a long time.

Reports which are contradictory come from Dublin and Belfast regarding steps being taken to settle the relations of Ulster and Southern Ireland. It has been said on one hand that direct negotiations have been opened by Sir James Craig the premier of Ulster, and Esmond De Valera, the Irish Republican leader. It has been declared with equal certainty in other quarters, however, that no negotiations are in progress, there being no one present in Belfast to conduct them, owing to the absence of the principal ministers on their vacations.

Sir James Craig left London for Belfast last night after receiving a memorial from a large number of members of the House of Lords and of the commons, to commemorate his resignation from the lower house of parliament to accept the premiership of Ulster.

"Whatever side the people of England or of Ireland take," he said, during his address, "I absolutely refuse to take any side except that of Great Britain and Ireland. We who must take leading parts in these difficult times, will be foolish to say a single word which might interfere with the realization of peace throughout Ireland. We are all asking for peace in our own way, but I believe it to be wise for everybody, especially the press, to say nothing, owing to the absence of the principal ministers on their vacations."

Two Meetings.
Dublin, Aug. 4.—A full meeting of the Irish Republican parliament is to be called. The official announcement will be published in tomorrow's issue of the Irish Bulletin.

Belfast, Aug. 4.—The Ulster cabinet met this morning for a short session. There was no communication issued as to the subject of deliberations. It was authorized to learn, however, that a message from De Valera, the Irish Republican leader, has yet reached the northern cabinet.

NO DIFFERENCE
WHICH OF THEM
FIRED THE SHOT

Ottawa, Aug. 4.—(By Canadian Press).—Right Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, yesterday issued a statement relative to queries in regard to the Hotrum-McFadden murder case in Toronto, for which two men, Roy Hotrum and William McFadden, paid the death penalty yesterday. The statement is as follows:

"There apparently exists in the public mind a regard to this case widespread impression that the guilt of each of these men of the crime of murder depended upon whether or not he had fired the fatal shot. This impression it is to be pointed out, is entirely erroneous. The provision of the law governing the case reads as follows:—

"If several persons form a common intention to prosecute any unlawful purpose, and to assist each other therein, each of them is a party to every offence committed by any one of them in the prosecution of such common purpose, the commission of which offence was, or ought to have been known to be a probable consequence of the prosecution of such common purpose."

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, AUGUST 4, 1921

SAVED THREE LIVES AND WAS HALED TO COURT

How Roy Macmillan of Big Harbor Rescued Children From Drowning and Then was Dragged by the Gypsy Father Into Court.

(Baddeck Cor. Halifax Chronicle.) In these dull and unromantic days following the greatest war in history one is inclined to think that heroism and chivalry perished with the armistice, but as before the war there were many who believed that the deeds of the nights of old would never be repeated so today there are many who think that it requires a great occasion and a multitude of onlookers to inspire a man to take his life in his hands. That this is not so he who reads further may ascertain.

In the peaceful hamlet of Big Brass d'Or lives a family of Macmillans. One of the younger members of this family is Roderick Macmillan, or Rory as he is familiarly called. He is about twenty-one years of age, a fine, upstanding and muscular young man. He is employed in running a motor boat which tows a scow used for ferrying passengers, horses, cattle, carriages and motor cars from Ross's Ferry, Bonaventure Island, across the Big d'Or to Big Harbor.

It is his job to run the engine and navigate the motor boat with scow in tow so that it swings in to the dock on either side preparatory to loading or discharging its freight, and right skilfully he does it. The scow is a rectangular structure about ten feet wide by twenty long with a board of only a couple of feet. The deck is of course flat and is unprotected by a bulwark of any kind. Motors run on it from a landing stage and during the passage the wheels are blocked with plank boards.

The great occasion came to Rory Macmillan on a recent afternoon. A gypsy arrived at Ross's Ferry, on Bonaventure Island, in his Ford car. In it, besides his household goods, he had three young children. He was apparently lacking confidence in his ability to run his car over the landing stage and the bobbing scow, because he asked young Macmillan if he could operate a car. Having received an affirmative answer, the gypsy installed him in the car, and Rory proceeded to run the car on to the scow without trouble, but something happened. Either the brakes did not release, or the clutch would not engage. In any event, the car ran off the end of the scow and carrying down with it young Macmillan and the three children. He released the children, as he thought, from the overturned car, but when he came to the surface he found he had only brought up two out of three. He immediately dived again and struggled to find the third child among the wreckage in the car. He was unsuccessful. Coming to the surface for air, he dived again. Again he was unsuccessful. In all, he dived four times before he discovered the missing child. Exhausted, he brought her to the surface. Restorative methods were applied, and presently the three children were little the worse for their experience.

Macmillan's great occasion had found him ready for the emergency. He acted, and acted instantly, to such good effect that he saved three lives which otherwise would have been lost, for he was the only man present who could swim. He showed great courage and resourcefulness. It might be expected that this tale, after recounting the gratitude of the gypsy, should end here, but it does not.

The gypsy's anger at the damage done his car was greater than his gratitude for the saving of his children. He demanded compensation. When naturally it was refused, he hurried off to Baddeck in his salvaged car and sought redress in the courts. After a hearing had been given and all the evidence was in, the magistrate decided that no liability was on young Macmillan for the accident, and dismissed the accident.

This was the majesty of the law vindicated, and another modest young hero exposed to public view.

TWO FIRES LAST NIGHT

An alarm was rung in last evening about 6 o'clock for a fire which started in one of the smoke houses of the Leonard Fisheries, Limited, 18 Britain street. Before the blaze was destroyed and a second one was damaged. There was comparatively little stock in the houses. The property was insured.

Three fire alarms in rapid succession at midnight last night caused nearly all the property in the city to be put to a blaze which started presumably in a pile of cotton in a shed at the rear of A. M. Rowan's hardware store, 381 Main street. The fire spread through a window, into the cellar of Mr. Rowan's store as well as into an adjoining shed owned by Mr. Rowan and into a woodshed and storehouse of D. J. Purcell. The property was insured.

Mr. Rowan said that both the store and buildings were well covered by insurance.

Fire Commissioner Cullen of Providence, R. I., was an interested spectator at the fire.

THE EXODUS OF THE MENNONITES

Paraguay Considering Their Reception—Will Assemble from United States, Canada and Russia.

Asuncion, July 11—(Associated Press by Mail)—Paraguay will become the mecca and home of Mennonites from the United States and other parts of the world, if a bill sent to the Chamber of Deputies by President Gondra becomes a law.

Delegates of the sect who arrived here some time ago from the United States have negotiated for the purchase of about 5,000 square miles of land in the great Paraguayan "Chaco" for purposes of colonization conditional upon the Paraguayan government granting privileges which will permit them to conduct their religion and their system of common administration of their properties, called "congregations."

President Gondra recommended to the house that these concessions be made, which include the exemption of the Mennonites from military service either in peace or in war, the prohibition of the sale of alcoholic beverages in their territory, the right to establish their own schools, which would be conducted in the German language, and in addition the privilege of importing free of duty household articles and agricultural implements for a period of ten years.

The property of the sect is the establishment of the solution of the problem of the settlement of the Mennonites in Paraguay, which would be a beginning of the solution of the problem of the settlement of the Mennonites in Paraguay, which would be a beginning of the solution of the problem of the settlement of the Mennonites in Paraguay.

The delegates have notified the government with the view of securing the approval of the measure more than 4,000 Mennonites in the United States, Canada and Russia are prepared to emigrate to Paraguay.

SOON OVERCOME WAR'S RAVAGES

French Peasants Compete for Prizes Given for Reclamation of Farms—Some Notable Achievements.

Paris, July 21—(Associated Press by Mail)—Fifty farmers from the cantons of Anisy and Coucy in the devastated area of the Aisne (northern France) are today the owners of agricultural implements given to them as prizes by Miss Anne Morgan and Mrs. A. Murray Dike of the American Committee for Devastated France in recognition of efforts they have made to restore their farms to their pre-war state.

The prizes were selected by a jury of French agriculturists from 110 entries in two agricultural competitions.

The first prize, a seed planter from Louisville, Ky. was won by Albert Delan and his wife, 68 and 38 years old respectively, peasants from Allemant (Aisne) who, although their fields were ruined and after two years of hard labor succeeded in putting their entire farm under cultivation.

Cash prizes totaling 4,000 francs were also given by Miss Morgan and Mrs. Dike to the thirty farm hands in the cantons of Anisy and Coucy who were most meritorious. The first prize of 200 francs was won by an aged couple named Thibault who served for forty years on the same farm and two after the war worked a year without wages because their mistress could not afford to pay them.

Through the co-operation of the American Committee with the farmers of the Aisne, 25,000 acres of land ravaged by the war have been reclaimed and are at present under cultivation. The Committee has organized thirty-two agricultural syndicates among the farmers and has placed forty tractors at their disposal. The two agricultural contents with prizes worth more than 20,000 francs is one of the ways in which the American Committee is stimulating the farmers to do their utmost.

WORK FOR THE WORKLESS.

The unemployment situation is very serious in most Canadian cities. It will be more serious than at present in St. John as the season wears on. We are facing a jobless winter for a good many people unless concerted action is taken to meet the conditions. This is a matter the city council alone cannot deal with in a satisfactory way. Business men generally must give it their attention. The question of personal provision for some months to come should give way to a determination to care for the helpless. In Halifax one method of furnishing relief is by popular subscription, but what is really needed is work for the workless. Even if money is subscribed to pay wages those who get it should be given a chance to earn it in some work that would be of benefit to the community. There is a certain percentage of the unemployed who would be only too glad to remain idle and live at public expense. They should be invited to work or go hungry. There are others, the great majority, who dislike to ask for or receive charity. Their self-respect should be preserved by giving them work. In order to meet the very difficult situation which will confront us before the winter is over, there should be a compact organization. There should be no casual charity and no overlapping. It is the plain duty of the well-to-do to organize for the relief of those who will suffer intensely if work is not provided. The women and children are the first consideration. It is not too soon to begin to perfect an organization in St. John which will devise ways and means to provide work for the workless.

THE WELFARE OF ALL.

In his address at the opening of the Institute of Politics at Williamstown, Mass., last week, President H. A. Garfield said: "We are passing from the old covenant to the new. 'Thou shalt not' is giving place to 'Thou shalt.' The measure of equity applies as truly to nations as to individuals. Formerly it was indeed necessary that we should so use our own as not to enable others like us to do things of another. It was necessary that states avoid contact lest contact lead to conflict. The welfare of all must be the watchword of each or the old order of selfishness and strife will not pass away."

A FAR-REACHING BILL.

Commenting on the Sheppard-Towner bill for the protection of mothers and babies, now before the United States Congress, a writer in the New York Evening Post says: "A healthy child is an asset to the nation. A sickly child is a burden. Even more strikingly is this the case with mothers, for others' lives depend upon them. To speak cold-bloodedly, it would be cheaper to save mothers and babies, despite the money which the plan demands. A strong, sound child will grow up into a valuable worker, producing for the state more than he consumes. School tests have proved that the better the physique of the child the quicker his intellect, and from such premises the profit of society from the bill seems, to its opponents, to be the plain conclusion."

The case of New York is cited as an illustration of what can be done. In that city two hundred public and private agencies are devoted to the work of caring for mothers and babies. Last year there were 66,981 babies under care in expectant mothers, while 12,889 were born in hospitals receiving advice and aid. But it is not only in cities the need of such care is urgent. The Post writer says: "It is in remote country districts that the benefits of the Sheppard-Towner bill will be the most welcome—in places where the doctor is ten or twenty miles away (over bad roads) and where the farm homes are lacking in means for the proper care of illness. But the trouble here is that these very places will be the most backward in seeing that their mothers and babies enjoy the new privileges, since ignorance concerning the hygiene of maternity and infancy is amazingly persistent, and not only in the lonely little hamlets." Some figures, and they are startlingly impressive, are given in this connection. We quote again: "Every year 17,000 mothers die in the United States from causes connected with childbirth, while 100,000 babies die before they reach the age of one month. Adequate pre-natal care, it is estimated by statisticians engaged exclusively in this type of investigation, would save two-thirds of these mothers and half of the babies." The Sheppard-Towner bill provides for an annual grant of $10,000 to each state accepting the conditions of the law, irrespective of state contribution, and for an additional appropriation, beginning with $2,000,000, which shall be increased annually by $400,000 for five years, so that thereafter the annual additional appropriation shall be $4,000,000. To profit by the additional appropriation, however, the state must make an appropriation equal to that which it receives. Should the bill be adopted it will be a great advance on legislation for the benefit of mothers and babies, and make possible a country-wide instruction in the hygiene of maternity and infancy through public health nurses, consultation centres and medical and nursing care for mothers and infants, at home or when necessary in a hospital. It would save thousands upon thousands of lives and give the country a more healthy citizenship.

THE LOBSTER INDUSTRY.

The address of Prof. Knight before the Rotary Club on Monday on the subject of standardization of lobster packing revealed very closely the importance of the utmost care in packing the lobster when taken as well as of controlling the supply which forms the basis of so great an industry. Canada has a practical monopoly of the lobster. Except in Newfoundland waters, it is not elsewhere available for commercial purposes. The lobster fishery of Canada is second in importance to that of the salmon. Last year in Prince Edward Island enormous loss was sustained by bad packing. It is essential that the utmost cleanliness be observed in the canning factory to prevent the presence in the meat of bacteria which spoil the product of one firm bringing sixty cents per small can when the output of another was forty cents or even less. It was a matter of quality, due to care in packing. The speaker very properly said that no apology was necessary for discussing this subject in St. John, where there is no cannery, for this is a large question affecting the prosperity of a national industry, of which the most is not being made. The creation of a public sentiment which will demand standardization in packing, and the proper conservation of the supply, is in the national interest.

The St. John Natural History Society tonight throws open the doors of its Museum, in Union street, in hearty invitation to the people of St. John to assemble and hear a lecture by St. John man who has won high distinction in the scientific world. Dr. W. D. Matthews, F. R. S., of the American Museum of Natural History, of New York, will speak on Canadian dinosaurs, and will illustrate his subject. There is no admission fee. The tribute of a very large attendance is due not only to the society for the excellent work it is doing, but to the noted speaker of the evening, in whom the people of his native city should exhibit a just pride.

Some Ontario correspondents appear to have taken Hilton Belyea's victory very badly. They should be better sports. All the betting was on Dibble, and there was then no hint that he was not in good form. After his defeat all sorts of excuses appear to have been invented. The St. John man waked them all up. The assumption that a few of us should rule all the rest of us is a survival of the period before responsible government. It will not get very far in the St. John of today.

CHILD LABOR IN SUMMER

(Journal of Medicine) Summer time is associated with visions of recreation for the child population. In the old days, when life was mainly agricultural and children were regarded as farm hands the major time of the children in farming communities was spent in application to the task of weeding large crops from the soil. At the present time there has grown to be a vital distinction between children's work that benefits their minds and bodies and child labor which saps vitality and dwarfs physical and mental growth. The newspaper declares that General Berenger, Spanish high commissioner in Morocco, should be authorized to take any measure necessary for the return of the prisoners. QUEBEC FOREST FIRE LOSSES. Quebec, Aug. 4.—(Canadian Press.)—Hon. Honore Mercier, minister of lands and forests, said that forest fire losses in Quebec, although they are heavy, are not in proportion to the devastated territory, due to the fact that fires broke out in many places where the forest was already practically destroyed, or in swampy land where the value of the timber burned was small. The losses are, however, greater than for many years past. Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong, rector of the Trinity church, returned yesterday morning from his trip to Europe, where he went as a delegate to attend the Rotary convention. He is staying at his summer home at Lakeside. He returned on board the steamer Corsican, which arrived in Montreal on Tuesday, two days later than she was due to arrive, owing to bad weather. The canon described his trip to Edinburgh, London, Paris and the battlefields as both educational and enjoyable. He added that the best part of any trip was getting home.

THE CAPITAL "IF."

(With profuse apologies to Rudyard Kipling) If you can keep your wealth when all about you Are losing theirs and blaming it on you, If you can trust your gold when all men doubt you, And make money grow out of their doubting, too; If you can cheat and not be tricked, Or being lied about can meet with lies; Or being beaten find a way of beating; Or being bankrupt, still higher rise; If you can hoodwink crowds without the collusion of the colluders; Or play with kings—nor lose the Midan touch; If neither foe nor friend can mar your going; If all men count on you, and all too much; If you can fill the precious golden minute With sixty seconds' worth of money worth; Yours is the earth and everything that's in it, And—which is more—you'll be a lord, my son. Daily Herald, London.

LIGHTER VEIN.

He was a professional confidant. "Now ladies and gentlemen," he said, waving of the hand, "this is a magic rabbit. I invite any lady in the audience to catch this rabbit. I will open the door, and when it shall be opened again the lady will have disappeared, leaving no trace of her save her hair and breath." "Marie, dear, won't you oblige the gentleman?" "Along the country road walked a man and a woman. The latter was bullying the former, who was weeping and nearly downcast head. Suddenly the woman saw a bull racing down the road behind them. She took refuge in the hedge and her companion kept on, unconscious of danger but his woe. The bull caught him up and he saw his life in the muddy ditch. Then it continued on its wild career. As the weeping figure crawled out of the mire he saw his life half coming toward him. Plucking up a little courage he whispered, 'M-M-Maria, if you let me like a sea-gull you'll really get my temper up, so I warn you.' "A Rangeley Lakes guide one day while working on a log drive, fell into the water. He was nearly exhausted from his struggle, he managed to grasp a big log and hold on to it. The current was so strong and swift that it swept his body under the log, and his feet stuck out on the other side. Just as a companion who had been crawling out of the mire, saw his life in the shoulders he caught sight of his own feet protruding on the other side of the log. "I can hold on a bit longer, Jim," he gasped. Save the poor fellow that's in danger if you can."

OLD DAYS RECALLED.

The death of Senator Donville of Kings Co. removes a man who played a prominent role in the development of his adopted county thirty or more years ago. The senator was an Englishman and never spoke his like in the old days was the man who is today the acting premier of Canada, Sir George Foster. The Foster and Donville meetings were not carried on with gloves exactly. The former had a tongue like a rapier and the latter was known for his use of it with telling effect in a campaign. Col. Donville, as he was then called, was a very able and energetic man. He was a member of parliament for at least one term before he crossed his path. But the colonel was a great canvasser and he had a large personal following, which he carried with him for free and easy ways and by his generosity. He never forgot his friends and he was always a generous giver. These characteristics made him a force to be reckoned with in all election campaigns. Mr. Foster ran his first election in 1882 and had Col. Donville as an opponent. When the campaign opened, the colonel called for a part of the time to speak. But the scheme did not work exactly as he had planned. Foster won the election, and the colonel was defeated. The colonel soon gave up the idea of following him around the country. That election resulted in the defeat of Donville, but Mr. Foster was not even more spectacular than the first. But Foster, although never a good canvasser, was a very able speaker. He spoke with the result that he was returned by an increased majority. But the colonel was not content with that. He declared that after his second defeat he would "fight it out" and he "froze over and then stand on the ice."

DEMAND BIG RANSOM FOR SPANISH PRISONERS

Madrid, Aug. 4.—Large sums of money are being demanded by the Moors for the release of Spanish prisoners taken by them in the fighting near Mellis, says El Diario Universal. The newspaper declares that General Berenger, Spanish high commissioner in Morocco, should be authorized to take any measure necessary for the return of the prisoners. QUEBEC FOREST FIRE LOSSES. Quebec, Aug. 4.—(Canadian Press.)—Hon. Honore Mercier, minister of lands and forests, said that forest fire losses in Quebec, although they are heavy, are not in proportion to the devastated territory, due to the fact that fires broke out in many places where the forest was already practically destroyed, or in swampy land where the value of the timber burned was small. ROMANCE OF YUKON WIRE

1,901 Miles of Wire Strung Through Wilderness. The North's Gripping Lure—Many Lone Operators Enlisted for War Service But Hurried Back When Demobilized. Vancouver, Aug. 4.—(By Canadian Press)—Whatever old "sondrugs" of the Yukon foregather to talk of the old boom days when they lived in the colorful atmosphere of busy mining camps, the romance of the building of the federal government telegraph line from Ashcroft, B. C., to Fort Yukon, Y. T., just above Dawson, on the Alaskan boundary, is always prominently featured. In their minds, the development of northern British Columbia and the Yukon Territory is closely linked with the maintenance of this quiet avenue of communication with the outside world. In the face of enormous difficulties, the nineteen hundred and one miles of wire were strung through a virtual wilderness in less than three years. All materials for construction and provisions for the workers had to be carried in by dog teams in winter and pack trains in summer. The first venture in telegraph construction by the government was in 1869, at the time of the great Dawson gold rush, when six hundred miles of wire were strung from Bennett, B. C., to Dawson. Messages from "outposts" were mailed by Skagway, Alaska, and carried from there a distance of about two hundred miles through the White Pass to Bennett, where they were placed on the wire. In the fall of 1900, gold was discovered at Atlin, B. C., and the telegraph line was extended from Bennett to that point. From that time until the last pack train from Atlin, B. C., to Dawson, was closed on September 28, 1901, the wire was steadily pushed forward, one gang working from Ashcroft, north and another from Atlin south. Antedated U. S. Cable. At about the time the two crews met, another extension of the line in the North to Fort Yukon, Yukon Territory, had been completed, thus connecting with the United States Alaskan land lines, and bringing in a great deal of additional revenue, as the United States cables to Alaska were not laid until nearly three years later, and in the meantime all messages to America's northern possessions had to go over the Canadian circuit. The lure of the North has strongly gripped most of the telegraph operators, who prefer life in a lonely cabin in the wilderness to the bright lights of the big cities. Many emigrated during the war, but not a time getting back to the North when demobilized. There are two operators in each cabin, one of whom is a combination operator and lineman, who is held responsible for the repairs of any breaks in the wire in his district. They cook their own meals, provisions being sent in once a year by pack train. Moose and other wild game is plentiful, so there is no lack of fresh meat. Most of the men augment their incomes by trapping, making an average of two thousand dollars extra yearly. It having been found that the wire can be used for telephone service without in any way interfering with the telegraph service, the government has installed telephone exchanges at many points, and surrounding ranchers are thus brought into close touch with each other. This feature of the service is being gradually extended, and it is expected that before long even the most sparsely settled region will enjoy the advantages of telephonic communication.

MORE AMERICAN SOLDIER DEAD BROUGHT HOME

New York, Aug. 4.—Conveying the bodies of 1,400 United States soldiers who died on French battlefields, the army transport Centaur docked yesterday. Memorial services will be held at the pier on Sunday. The total number of soldier dead brought back to the U. S. from France in accordance with the wishes of their relatives. LASH IN BELLEVILLE ORDERED FOR THREE YOUNG THIEVES. Belleville, Ont., Aug. 3.—For the first time in the local court, the lash was on Saturday ordered inflicted by Magistrate Mason for theft. Three young boys, Carl Vann, Harry Graves and Frank Godfrey pleaded guilty to breaking into and entering Pappas' Pool Room and stealing about $25 in cash and a number of articles. The court felt that it would be in the interest of justice to impose a slight sentence with the addition of corporal punishment. Each of the boys was given two months in jail. Vann will receive nine lashes, and Graves and Godfrey twelve each. Godfrey had just got out of the reformatory.

OAK GAS IN ENGLAND.

London, July 20.—(By Mail.)—Gas made from old oak logs is now being supplied successfully to the inhabitants of Steyning in Sussex. Other towns are rapidly following suit. It is claimed that this wood gas has practically the same heating and lighting properties as coal gas and its use entails a saving of more than half a dollar per 1,000 cubic feet of the consumer. The Steyning gas works being threatened with closure owing to the prohibitive price of coal, about $5 a ton, the carbonization of wood was resorted to as an experiment, with the result that wood gas has been definitely adopted as an illuminant until the price of coal comes down. At Birmingham, old road paving blocks have been converted into wood gas with equally satisfactory results. The first harvest excursion taking farm hands to Western Canada will leave the city this evening and it is due to arrive in Winnipeg next Sunday. A second train will leave here on August 16.

SEES DISASTER FOR STOCKMEN OF DOMINION

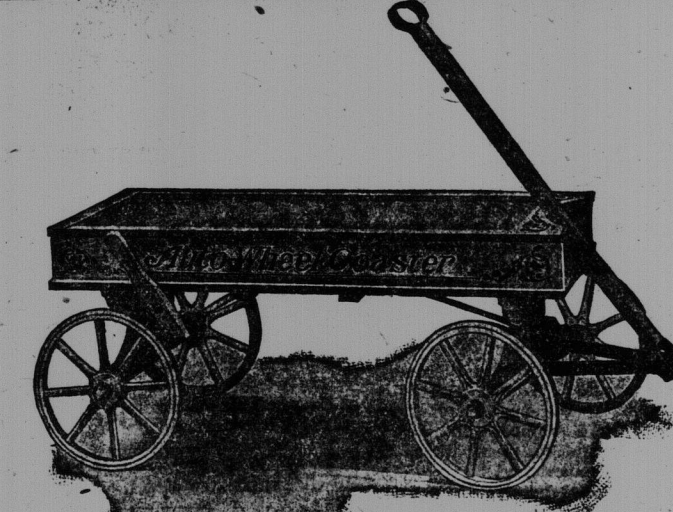

Calgary, Aug. 4.—Discussing the crisis in the livestock industry of Canada, the Calgary Herald says in part: "Canadian stockmen are at the mercy of American buyers. Neither market is available, and prices have been knocked down to the lowest possible point they have reached for twenty years. Low as prices are, the western stockman also has to pay the thirty per cent duty imposed by the Young-Fordney measure, plus the amount of exchange. The paper strongly urges the Dominion government to give immediate attention to this situation. Suggestions looking to relief will be made to the government. It says that there should be given prompt consideration and that complete investigation may show that extraordinary steps will be required to secure a remedy, but "we trust that the government will not hesitate to act boldly and energetically to avert, if it is possible to do so, an imminent national disaster."

PROVISIONS FOR CARE OF INSANE

Legislation Calls for Establishment of Hospital Centres Throughout Nova Scotia.

(Halifax Chronicle)

Under the Act, passed last season respecting institutions for the treatment, care and custody of insane persons, the governor in council may from time to time erect, equip and maintain in the province one or more hospital centres, psychopathic hospitals and convalescent homes for affording facilities for the treatment and care of insane, and legislation is provided to borrow such sums, as necessary and expend the same in securing sites and erecting and equipping buildings for the purpose of any such institutions. The government may instead erecting new buildings take over from any municipality any such buildings now owned and use as asylums for harmless insane or other suitable building, and, if it is deemed necessary, may alter, repair or add to or otherwise make suitable any such buildings taken over.

When any such hospital centre or psychopathic hospital is established, equipped and ready for the reception of patients, the governor-in-council shall by proclamation in the Royal Gazette declare that on and after the date named, insane persons whose settlement is in the territory or area to be served by such hospital centre or psychopathic hospital shall be admitted to the Nova Scotia Hospital or to such local asylums as shall be specified; and all patients whose settlement is in the territory or area to be served by such hospital centre or psychopathic hospital and who shall at the date named in the said proclamation be under treatment at the N. S. Hospital or at such local asylums situated within such territory or area, which are so specified, shall be transferred from hospital centre or psychopathic hospital, unless the inspector of Humane and Penal Institutions shall direct otherwise.

When sufficient accommodation shall have been established in such hospital centres or psychopathic hospitals to provide for all the insane persons in the province requiring treatment and care, the governor-in-council shall by proclamation in the Royal Gazette declare that patients shall be admitted to the N. S. Hospital, or to a local asylum, and if at the time named in said proclamation there are any patients under treatment at the N. S. Hospital or a local asylum, all such patients shall be transferred to the institution for the territory or area in which they have their settlement.

The governor-in-council will appoint a medical superintendent for each such institution who shall be a duly qualified medical practitioner and shall devote his whole time to the welfare of the institution.

Under another act the governor-in-council is empowered to establish and equip in the province an institution for the purpose of affording facilities for the custody, scientific treatment, care and education of mentally defective persons, and is authorized to borrow sums necessary and to expend the same in securing a site, and in erecting and equipping buildings necessary, not exceeding the amount annually appropriated by the legislature for that purpose. The governor-in-council may, instead of erecting new buildings for the purpose of the act, take over upon terms agreed upon, from any municipality any buildings now erected and used as asylums for the harmless insane, or other suitable buildings, and if it is deemed necessary, may alter, repair or add to, or otherwise make suitable for the purpose of the act, any such buildings taken over.

FACT TRADE WITH CANADA

U.S. Hears Warning Re New Tariff Legislation.

Canada Basis of States' Foreign Trade, Says Senator Reed—Outlet for Western Wheat Fields.

Washington, Aug. 3.—(By Canadian Press)—Apprehension of serious curtailment of trade between the United States and Canada, to the serious detriment of both countries, is being more and more voiced in Washington as the tariff bill advances toward enactment. It is an interesting fact that Canada is coming to Washington expressing concern and at the same time similar concern is expressed by many in congress. The warning which Senator Nelson of Minnesota voted in the senate the other day that this is a critical time in tariff making and the tariff cannot be rammed along old lines is expressive of that growing number of congressmen and officials believe. This is not saying that enactment of high rates will be prevented but it is indicative of the fact that the new bill, once it is enacted, is exposed to the prospect of an unfavorable reaction of public sentiment. Senator Reed of Missouri, prominent on the democratic side of the senate, has just had published in the Congressional Record a speech he made some time ago in which, among other things, he urged the importance of fostering trade with Canada. In connection with it, he put into the Record tables showing the growth of trade between the two countries. Senator Reed said: Canada Best Customer. "Mr. President, I wish to dwell for a moment upon the Canadian situation, because in my opinion it lies at the very basis of our foreign trade. Canada is today and has for years been the best customer of the United States. "It will be found that if we go to 1913 as the year of normality, we exported to Canada in that year—in round numbers—products worth $403,000,000, and imported products worth $142,000,000. The balance of trade in our favor was $261,000,000. In 1919 we exported to Canada $734,000,000 worth of our products; we imported $494,000,000 worth of products; and we had a balance of trade in our favor of $240,000,000. "Now, let us stop a moment and ask why we should not trade with Canada. There is nothing between Canada and the United States but a red line drawn on the map. The soil of North Dakota and of all our Northwestern States runs directly on into Canada. They have the same kind of soils there, speaking broadly, that we have in Northern United States. They have a population that is more like the population of the United States than any other people of any land whatsoever. One may visit in Canada and be there a month and scarcely realize that he is outside the borders of the United States. The Canadians pay a little higher farm wages than we do in the United States. That is due to the fact that in a new country wages are higher than in a country thoroughly developed. The Canadians use the same kind of farm implements, and they buy them nearly all from us. They have the same language, the same school systems, the same religion, the same hopes, the same code of morals, and the same high ambition and desire to succeed. They are so much like the people of the United States that I would they were a part of the United States, although I do not expect to see them so.

"If it be asked why Canadian wheat comes to Minneapolis and other great centers of the United States, I answer by asking, why does wheat go from North Dakota to Minneapolis. Both questions are answered by the map which I have had suspended from the wall of the Chamber. If Senators will look on that map and observe the heavy blue lines, they will see that the great trunk lines of railroad run from North Dakota, down to Minneapolis. When a farmer wants to get his wheat to a mill, he puts it on a car that is going to the mill, and that is all there is to it. "However, those same lines of railroad cross the imaginary line between North Dakota and Canada and run into and tap the great wheat fields of Canada. The Canadian farmer, who is just across the line, puts his wheat in the same kind of cars on the same tracks that the North Dakota farmer does and sends it to Minneapolis, because it is where the cars run. The wheat seeks its natural outlet. Mr. President, it would be just as sensible to bar North Dakota wheat from Minneapolis as to bar Canadian wheat.

Canadian wheat, which must be consumed in the identical countries where the Canadian wheat must find its ultimate markets. There the two wheats meet, they are sold in competition, and the prices in the markets of Liverpool and Berlin fix the prices of the Canadian wheat and of the American wheat." Senator Reed took the position that the reports of Canadian wheat shipments to the United States in 1920 were overstated and that the effects on American wheat prices were greatly exaggerated.

The afternoon session of the African Methodist Episcopal convention, held yesterday in St. Philip's church, Queen street, was given over to the hearing of reports on the internal organization of the church throughout the province. Bishop Conroy in his speech laid special stress on the work of these organizations, especially on the Sunday school work. The annual conference sermon was preached by C. M. Morgan of Amherst in the evening. The bishop followed Mr. Morgan with an address on the influence of the church on the lives of men and women. At the close of the session several joined the church.

REGAINING HER TRADE POSITION

What American Expert Says of England—Warns U. S. Government to Prepare for New Era.

It is evident that the American financiers and commercial leaders are watching England very closely these days. In an article issued on Saturday the firm of Hamilton & Co., Ballard more deal with the position at some length.

"Let those who adhere to the belief that the pound sterling will never come back and who are inclined to condemn the Secretary of the Treasury because of his policy in the matter of 'buying' Poyers, take heed of the following pointed observation of the Manchester Guardian, says the writer of the article.

"After the war, so great was the need for money at home that in the first half of 1920, nine months remained within the United Kingdom. Investment abroad, outside the Empire, practically came to an end. This half-year, we have kept within the United Kingdom not much more than we have sent outside of it. That may be because home industry is temporarily under a cloud, but it is none the less a healthy sign. The demand for capital during the boom was like the craving of a starving man for food. It was not normal appetite. It even the expense of a little indignation, we have ceased that craving, it is all on the way to permanent recovery. Before the war we used to invest two hundred million pounds abroad every

CARVELL SAYS FREIGHT RATES TO BE REDUCED

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Montreal, Aug. 3.—The Montreal board of trade which has addressed a resolution to the board of railway commissioners calling for reductions in railway freight rates commensurate with the twelve per cent. wage cut now in effect, today received a reply from Hon. F. B. Carvell, chief commissioner of the railway commission board, saying that steps will be taken in the near future to reduce freight rates.

During the war we sold about one thousand million pounds of our foreign securities. It must be many years before we can lend money to the world at large with pre-war lavishness, but it looks as though we had made a pretty good beginning.

"England is our debtor to the extent of some four billion dollars and England is one of our best customers, particularly in so far as oil is concerned. Not two per cent. of her annual consumption of the latter commodity comes from within her own industries, and yet in the teeth of all that the Old Country is forging ahead. With the German indemnity settled issue, peace in Ireland a happy promise, and the clouds upon the industrial horizon clearing, Britain is in a fair way to make commendable progress. She has encountered and weathered the storm which has beset us, and in a generation will have again righted the balance of the scales which were tilted by the dominant factor in the finance of the world. Let those who are 'buying' Poyers and of international trade and commerce give an ear to the promise which the future holds, let the Canada of the United States approach with measured tread the problems which confront us in Europe, and let the business of the United States prepare itself for the new era which will confront it when the major vicissitudes of the post-war period have been surmounted. Slowly, but nevertheless the general tide is turning."

New York, Aug. 4.—Benny Leonard, lightweight title-holder, does not intend to be caught unprepared in facing Tender of Philadelphia in the Quaker City on the night of Aug. 12. Tender is a right hander, but Leonard has adopted an awkward position of right hand and foot extended in the ring, making a difficult target for a clean, effective blow from a boxer with the natural pose, and, in addition, discourages any set plan of a target by the opponent.

To prepare himself against this emergency Leonard has secured the services of a squad of left-hand sparring partners and is daily working out with them, to the exclusion of "natural" boxers, at the training quarters in the Telasco Athletic Club at Coney Island. Leonard believes the familiarity he will get with the portside style through his sparring partners will materially assist him in the elimination of Tender as a rival.

"SPORTS AND SPIRITS"

London, July 12.—(By Mail).—Dr. W. J. Lewis, medical officer of health for Poutardaw, in his annual report issued today says:

"Belief in all sorts of predictions is on the increase. The latest score I have been consulted about is that babies after a certain date will be either twins or triplets—alarming enough. Reading, soap-saying and dream-reading have reappeared, and there are presumably intelligent people living in a continuous state of trepidation because of prognostic that would excite a smile in a savage. Sports and spirits are surging the place for the purpose of our lives. These reversions to primitive type may appear amusing and harmless enough, but thought and feeling, truth and superstition alike begot actions true to their parentage."

WOODSTOCK IN THE MOVIES.

(Woodstock Press.)

Prominent men were shown privately, on Thursday night, after the usual show in the Vogue, motion pictures of Woodstock, bringing out the strong points of a business centre, sporting headquarters and a residential town. These pictures will be shown in many theatres in the maritime provinces as a boom for the Woodstock Exhibition this fall. The pictures show the crowded streets during the Orange parade on July 12th, the entrance to Connel Island Park, the 3,000 automobiles, and many of the 1,000 people who attended the race, the crowded grand stand, a picture of Dr. Stangish, the starter.

The Exhibition buildings, the race track and stables, the race between John R. Braden and Calgary Earl with Mr. Willard and Nevers, as well as other races and important happenings on the three big days.

Bouts at Montreal.

Solly Green of Montreal won a decision over Frankie Eagle of Detroit in a round bout held in Montreal last night. The preliminary was between Louis Hamelin, French featherweight, and Harry Jones of the Maritime Provinces, and was awarded to the former.

NEW REGULATIONS FOR INTERNATIONAL SCHOONER RACES

(By Canadian Press.)

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 4.—(By Canadian Press.)—Since the Esperanto from Gloucester whose torn numbers now strew the sand bars of Sable Island defeated the Delawana of Lunenburg off Halifax Harbor last fall and took to the United States the cup presented by the Halifax Herald and Evening Mail as emblematic of the championship of the fishing fleet of the North Atlantic, definite regulations to govern further contests for the cup have been drawn up and embodied in the deed of gift.

The preamble to the regulations states that the trophy has been donated to encourage the development of the best type of craft for employment in the fishing industry, and throughout the rules take particular care to provide that only bona fide fishing craft may engage in the international competitions. To this end the following eligibility clauses are included:

"The only vessel which may compete for the trophy shall be bona fide fishing vessels which have engaged in commercial deep-sea fishing for at least one season previous to the race. A fishing vessel for the purpose of these rules is considered as extending from the month of April to September, and any vessel competing must have remained on the fishing grounds in all weather, as is customary, until the month of September for necessary returns to port for landing cargo or refitting. Fishing Banks shall mean all off shore banks such as George's Western, Grand, etc., and all vessels engaged in shore fishing and making port in bad weather shall not be eligible.

"Competing vessels must be of the usual type, both in form and construction; sail plan and rigging, as customary in the fishing industry, and any radical departure may be regarded as a freak and eliminated.

"The captain and crew of each competing vessel shall be bona fide fishermen actively engaged in deep sea fishing."

All races shall be under control of an international committee of five which will be elected for each series of races. H. R. Silver of Halifax is chairman of the committee controlling next fall's races. Two other members will represent Nova Scotia and two, named by the Governor of Massachusetts, will represent the United States.

The courses for the competitors shall not be less than thirty-five or more than forty nautical miles in length and must be so arranged as to provide windward and leeward work. The time limit of each race shall be nine hours. There shall be no handicap or time allowance. The international trophy shall be awarded to and remain in the possession of the vessel winning two out three races for one year. Cash prizes awarded shall not exceed $5,000 for each series. The money for these prizes shall be provided by the committee representing the country in which the races shall be held.

Mentions of the competitors for the international championship are limited by the provisions of the deed of gift to full fledged fishermen; 145 feet from outside of stem to outside of taffrail; waterline length in racing trim 112 feet; full fledged fishermen; 145 feet from lowest point of keel to regulating waterline measured vertically.

Distances allowed by the regulations are mainsail, foresail, two jibs (including jumbo), jib topsail, fore and main gaff sail area, not including fishermen's staysail is to be no greater than 80 per cent. of the square of the water line length in racing trim, as expressed in square feet. This stipulation does not apply to vessels of the class of those beaten today with readiness by Miss Joy, it can be estimated that Mr. Jones' purchase is worth today at least ten times what he gave for her, and probably much more. The fine Kentucky fully is a medium-sized bay, with no white except a small star.

IMPORTANT LEGAL POINT IS SETTLED

Privy Council Judgment on Liquor Act and Meaning Attached to It.

(Vancouver World.) The enrichment of the provincial coffers by several hundred thousand dollars is not the most important result of the finding of the Privy Council confirming the confiscation of a large quantity of liquor in this city. Rather it is that a very grave legal question has been settled, namely, the right of the province to enact legislation, failure to comply with which renders the defendant liable to imprisonment without the option of a fine. It will be remembered that in a number of appeals in cases arising directly or indirectly out of the Prohibition Act, a well known King's Council has repeatedly argued that it was beyond the power of the province to impose imprisonment as a penalty other than as the alternative in the event of failure to pay a fine. Criminal law, it was asserted, had been restricted as a subject of legislation to the Dominion Parliament and when a provincial Legislature created offences punishable by imprisonment only, it was assuming rights from which, by the British North America Act, it was specifically excluded. Therefore, since if one part of an act is ultra vires, the whole act becomes void, the Prohibition Act, which was originally passed, provided for the imprisonment without option of persons found guilty of selling liquor, was not worth the paper it was printed on. From these premises it followed that all proceedings under the act were void and that the province had no right to retain the confiscated liquor.

abrogated laws had to remain done, a state of chaos, both as regards liquor legislation and courts of summary jurisdiction, would have resulted and continued hastily summoned legislatures passed new acts, all the clauses of which were within their powers. It is not too much to say if that consternation would have prevailed among the authorities responsible for the maintenance of law and order, not alone in British Columbia, but throughout the Dominion. Happily no such catastrophe has been permitted to occur. The Justice Committee of the Privy Council, after hearing for the applicant, as great a British lawyer as Sir J. H. Sims, who had the advantage of the assistance of two able counsel from this city, decided that the Summary Convictions Act and the quasi-criminal clauses of the Prohibition Act were not ultra vires. Mr. S. S. Taylor, K. C., who acted on behalf of the Government of British Columbia, faced the imposing array of legal talent on the other side, it is to be congratulated on one of the most important successes ever achieved by a British Columbia barrister in the court of last resort.

SOLDIER SETTLERS (Toronto Globe.) Despite the fact that the bottom has fallen out of the farm products market within the last year, and that agricultural land was bought at top prices immediately after the war, few actual failures are reported among soldier settlers. About a hundred veterans are farming around Fort Hope, and of this number only six have given up, and these were exceptional cases. The farms purchased as a rule, were too small and poor to support an average family. In other parts of the Province a few failures are reported of men who paid too much for the land. The Government, realizing the peculiar situation faced by the soldier farmer, is giving consideration to those now in financial difficulties, but who have paid off their mortgages regularly in the past.

The Telegram laying errorless ball, the Telegram team defeated the fast East St. John team 9 to 0 before a large crowd on the East St. John diamond last evening. The Telegram team got run in the first inning and added three in the fifth. In the sixth, however, the East St. John team went up in air and after a long fly was missed by three on bases the Rogers started throwing the ball around wildly and before the session was through their opponents had amassed an even half dozen. They added one more in the seventh final inning.

Effect of the Trial.
Chicago, Aug. 4.—Despite the verdict of "Not guilty" returned in the trial of the seven former White Sox players tried in connection with the alleged throwing of the 1919 world series, leaders of the sport and sport officials, including Judge Landis, arbitrator of baseball, and Judge Charles A. McDonald, who directed the first grand jury investigation, united in declaring that the sport had been purged for a generation come, and that it had been restored to the place it held before the mark of scandal fell upon it.
"Inasmuch as I was instrumental in starting the original investigation," said Judge McDonald, "I followed the case to the end and am now moved to say that the result of the trial is disappointing in view of the confessions of guilt. But the grand jury investigation and prosecution that followed put the fear of God and the law in the hearts of crooked gamblers and shady players and has purged baseball for a generation to come."
"While the club owners may have sustained some monetary loss while the trial was in progress, nevertheless I believe our national sport would have gone the way of horse racing and boxing due to the same harmful influences had not the strong arm of the law been extended to save it."
"But," Weaver May Sue.
Chicago, Aug. 4.—One of the seven acquitted former White Sox players may sue to recover payment of salary withheld when suspension followed the verdict of the grand jury in the 1919 world series, so it was indicated yesterday when Attorney M. J. Ahern, who represented "Buck" Weaver in the trial of the players, declared his client has a legitimate claim in connection with his contract.

While rumors of other suits were heard, these for the most part were denied and it was believed that the other members of the now obsolete "Black Sox" delighted with the jury's verdict, will content themselves as best they can with the aftermath verdict of those who control the game that they be barred forever from organized baseball.
"Weaver's contract," Mr. Ahern said, "was to have run through the season of 1922. He probably will ask us to bring action to recover what is due him for 1921, less what he earned this year. If successful in this suit we shall bring another action at the close of the 1922 season."
Charles A. Consky, owner of the White Sox, declared he was ready for any action that might be brought. "They have all been paid every nickel they had coming," he said.
Mack Hears From Dugan.
Philadelphia, Aug. 4.—Joe Dugan, the Athletics' missing third baseman, wrote to Manager Connie Mack from New York, announcing his intention of quitting baseball unless he is sold or transferred to another club.
Dugan walked off the field during a game here last week, refusing to play longer because the fans persisted in joshing him. On several other occasions Dugan has disappeared for the same reason, but each time returned. If Dugan returns this time, Mack declares he will impose a heavy fine. The Athletics' Baseball League, Wm. H. McCarty, San Francisco, president, announced here.
Barred on Pacific.
San Francisco, Aug. 4.—None of the former Chicago White Sox players accused in Chicago last night will ever be permitted to play in the Pacific Coast Baseball League, Wm. H. McCarty, San Francisco, president, announced here.

Mrs. Riley was one of the Byers family of Nova Scotia, in which province most of her relatives lived. Jim Riley, recently sold to the St. Louis Nationals, by the Pacific Coast League here, is in Terre Haute at present.
Game Tonight Worth Seeing.
The game between St. Peter's and the Commercials on the East End diamond tonight should prove interesting as both teams will have strong line-ups. Wallace Kirkpatrick will be on the mound for the Commercials, while King will in all probability perform for St. Peter's. The proceeds of the game will be utilized to help defray Hilton Belyea's expenses while abroad competing in rowing regattas.
Auburn Team Defeats Amherst.
The Auburn team from Cambridge, Mass., last evening, defeated a picked team in Amherst by a score of 9 to 1.

Three events were held at the grand circuit meet at Toledo yesterday. The 211 pace was won by Kokomo George, two out of three heats, best time 2:09 1/2. The 215 pace went to Urtko, two out of three heats, best time 2:11 1/2. The 209 trot, The Elk Club stake, worth $5,000, went to Kilo Watts in straight heats, best time 2:08 1/2.
To Ride for J. K. L. Ross.
Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Earl Sande, premier jockey of 1921, will again be seen in the silks of Commander J. K. L. Ross, the millionaire Canadian sportsman, with whom he booked last October when Commander Ross, at the eleventh hour, side-tracked Sande and nominated Keough to ride Sir Barton in his historic race with Man o' War at Kenilworth Park.
Whatever may have been the reason behind this action, which caused a sensation in the racing world at the time, Sande to ride his horses when he is not otherwise engaged by his contract employer, Samuel C. Hildreth, of the Ranocas Stable.

 The guard room at central police station is in the hands of painters and decorators and a marked improvement is already noticeable. It is five years since the job was last done.

AUTO ACCIDENT.
 The rear axle of a sedan automobile owned by Dr. F. C. Bonnell broke this morning in Germain street near King and the right-hand wheel fell off. At the time of the accident the car was in the middle of the street, but soon after was towed to the side and taken away for repairs.

SPENDING COMPLAINED OF.
 A complaint was received at the Times office this morning from a citizen regarding excessive speed of automobiles in Paradise row. The complainant said that the desire to speed seemed to be most prevalent near the intersection of Lombard street and that today a child had a very narrow escape from death at that point.

UNDERWOOD-SHANKS.
 A wedding of much interest took place at the St. George's church, West Side, on Wednesday afternoon, August 3, when Miss Mabel Shanks of Hoyt Station, was united in marriage to Charles E. Underwood of the same place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Sampson, rector. The bride wore a blue serge suit with white picture hat. She was attended by Mrs. A. D. Shanks, while A. D. Shanks supported the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Underwood will reside at Hoyt Station, and they will have the best wishes of many friends for future happiness.

DELIGHTFULLY ENTERTAINED.
 Mrs. George Dohart entertained delightfully the members of "In His Name Circle" of the King's Daughters at her summer home, Drury Cove, on Tuesday afternoon and evening. The entertainers made this the occasion to hand in their "Sunshine" bags, for the month of July, to the treasurer. The contents of the bags realized quite a sum for expenses of circle work during the summer. Among those present were Mrs. C. J. Stammers, Mrs. Harry Machum, Mrs. Guy Smith, Mrs. Carey Hatfield, Miss Maude Shillwell, Miss Mary Thorne, Mrs. Bliss Smith, Mrs. Elmer J. Alexander, Miss Smith, Miss Hattie Dohart, and Mrs. Harvey Colwell.

PROMOTION OF ADMIRAL SIR DOVETON STURDEE

Is Made Admiral-of-the-Fleet, Highest Rank in the British Navy.

Admiral Sir Doveton Sturdee, Bt., G. C. B., K. C. M. G., C. V. O., I.L.D., has just been promoted to the highest rank in the Royal Navy, that of Admiral of the Fleet, of which there are only six allowed.

He was commander in 1893, captain 1899, rear-admiral 1906, and admiral 1915. He served in the Egyptian war at the bombardment of Alexandria, was in command of Scimitar during the native troubles there, and was chief of staff to Admiral Lord Bessborough for some years. CANCEL LICENSES OF 7 MILKMEN

Board of Health Action at a Meeting Yesterday — Free Vaccination Before School Resumes.

At the monthly meeting of the sub-district board of health held yesterday afternoon reports were received from various officers and routine business transacted. Seven milk producers' licenses to sell milk in this health district were cancelled on account of the condition of the milk.

John Kelly, chairman of the local board was in the chair. Other members present were Mrs. R. J. Hooper, Dr. William Warwick, George Blake, and T. M. Burns, secretary.

It was reported that during July fifty-four deaths had occurred in the city. There were reports of six cases of diphtheria, nine cases of typhoid, one case of chickenpox and five cases of tuberculosis. Dr. F. Fred Johnston, food and dairy inspector, submitted a report for July covering inspection of slaughter houses as well as his regular work. Miss Brophy, tuberculosis nurse, also reported.

Dr. H. L. Abramson made a report covering the tests of water made at various times.

Free vaccination for school children was ordered to be begun on August 18, and continue until school opens. Vaccinating will be done only in the afternoons. The L. board also allowed the opening of a house in the south end which had been closed because it was deemed unfit for human habitation. Satisfactory repairs were effected. Copies of reports on the examination of city water were ordered forwarded to the mayor and the commissioners of water and sewerage. The board ordered the purchase of two additional milk sediment testers.

SAYS MAN TOOK CHILD TO SEEK BIGGER BERRIES

Ethel Levine's Story of Missing Sadie McAuley.

Search for Child Fruitless, Though Vicinity of Douglas Avenue Combed by Detectives and Others—Quest Kept Up.

Up to noon today there was no trace of nine-year-old Sadie McAuley, who disappeared on Tuesday at noon while picking berries on a hill in the rear of Douglas avenue. A Times reporter called at the home of Ethel Levine, 93 Clarence street, this morning and was told the following story.

A little before noon on Tuesday she started off for Douglas avenue with her father's dinner. She asked Sadie to accompany her saying that they could pick some berries before returning home. Taking two bottles with them to hold the berries they started off and after delivering her father's dinner, they went through a yard near Bentley street and down to the hill facing Marble Cove. While doing so she said a young man approached and after helping them pick some berries told them he knew where there were many more much larger. She said that Sadie went with him, but she refused and told Sadie not to go.

She said they went towards a fence farther down the hill and the young man assisted Sadie over it and then they walked down the road and out of sight. She said she picked a few more berries herself and, calling out for Sadie, returned home.

Asked to describe the young man as well as she could, she said he was wearing Khaki pants, a brown coat and a peaked cap. She said they had not been playing any games, but were only picking berries a few minutes when the man approached. Despite numerous questions asked she did not change her account of the incident.

Mrs. McAuley said she is practically a stranger in the city and had no idea what Douglas avenue was for, or where she would never have allowed her little daughter to go. She said the child is delicate and slightly crippled as a result of hip disease, but a bright and clever girl for her age. The mother is nearly frantic, and as her husband is working in Charlottetown has no one to fall back on for advice. Her son and daughter have searched the hill and vicinity and have so far failed to find any trace of their sister.

Sergeant Detective Power said this morning that the story told by Ethel Levine was the same as she told him yesterday. He was then in the way to the house further to question the little girl in hopes of finding out something which would give him a clue. He said he and his staff diligently searched the woods and ground in that vicinity yesterday and were assisted by about twenty boys, but they could not find a trace of the missing child. He said he would endeavor to get some Boy Scouts and other familiar with the district and make an effort to find the little girl this afternoon.

The hill in question runs from Clarendon street to the Suspension bridge and slopes down to Marble Cove on the northern section and farther south towards the falls. The water in Marble Cove this side of the road leading down to Murray & Gregory's mill is shallow and it is declared would be impossible for the child to be drowned there unless she waded out a considerable distance.
