WARREN OSBORNE CRUSHED TO DEATH TODAY AT MONCTON.

He Fell Under Moving Cars Which Passed Over His Body—Arrest of a Man Suspected of Stealing from Metapedia Station

MONCTON, May 11.—For some time past express parcels have been disappearing from the express office at Metapedia station, and when on May 1st a package containing $31.24 was lost the I. C. R. authorities were notified and asked to place a detective on the case. Officer Noble of Campbellton was detailed and arrested Henry Levesque. Levesque had been employed as porter for one of the Metapedia hotels since March first, and all the thefts have occurred since that date. Inspector Noble is searching the prisoner did not find any trace of the money package, but discovered several tickets which had evidence been removed from suits of clothes. Two or three suits of clothes were among the missing articles. Detective Noble also secured a suit of clothes that the prisoner had disposed of at a ridiculously low figure. The suit had been identified as one which was shipped by the Campbell Clad Co. of Moncton by express to New Richmond and was stolen from Metapedia station. The prisoner was taken before Magistrate Stiles at Metapedia on Thursday and remanded until the sixth instant, when he will come up for preliminary hearing.

Warren Osborne, an I. C. R. brakeman engaged in shunting in the West End station yard, had his life crushed out about 1:30 this morning by falling beneath shunted cars. Some cars were being shunted and Osborne was detailed to catch the car and apply the brakes as is usual if necessary. Osborne stood ready to catch the car, but as he made an effort to board it he made a mistake and fell in front of the second car, the trucks of which crushed the lower part of his abdomen, one leg and one arm. He was found beneath the car wheels a moment later by brakeman McLaughlin. Medical aid was summoned as quickly as possible and Osborne was at once removed to the hospital. He died about seven hours after he was taken to the hospital. He was conscious for a time and said that the mistake was caused by his falling back on the car while braking on the I. C. R. for about two years. He belonged to Salem, Albert county, and was married with three small children. He was 32 years of age and was generally respected by his fellow workmen. His brother Purdy was notified, and after taking the statements of trainmen engaged with the deceased, the time of the occurrence decided that an inquest was not necessary. While driving from the city to Levesque a few days ago Constable Charles H. Thomas sustained painful injuries. The spring of his wagon broke and he was thrown out, alighting on the front wheel and breaking three ribs. Showers of snow fell here this morning and have continued up to noon.

GUATEMALA AND MEXICO ARE FRIENDLY ONCE MORE There Will be No War—A Settlement of Disputes Has Been Arranged. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 10.—The Mexican ambassador, Mr. Creel, tonight authorized the Associated Press to say that the trouble between Mexico and Guatemala, which, for several days, has threatened to terminate diplomatic relations between the two countries, has been satisfactorily and definitely adjusted. Mr. Creel tonight received advices from his home government to this effect. As to the basis of the agreement, the ambassador declined to talk. MEXICO CITY, May 10.—The Guatemalan affair has been settled. Mexico will not persist in her demand for the extradition of General Jose Lima and of Colonel Chofre Dones, charged with complicity in the assassination of General Barillas. Diplomatic relations will not be severed. Senator Gamboa, Mexican minister to Guatemala, will attend to this country's affairs in Guatemala. At the same time Mexico will not give Senator Goussier, his passport, the idea being to humiliate Guatemala and express Mexico's resentment for Cabrera's conduct during the war. The state department will shortly publish the history of the entire case with the official correspondence, in this way showing to the world, what this government terms the bad faith of Guatemala.

MOB ATTEMPTED TO LYNCH DETECTIVE BELIEVING THAT HE HAD SHOT A PRISONER.

Henry Cole Killed by an Officer When Trying to Escape—A Wild Time in Butte, Montana

BUTTE, Mont., May 10.—Patrol driver Charles Jackson tonight shot and killed Harry Cole, while the latter was attempting to escape, and a mob of 1,000 persons, led by brothers of Cole, made an ineffectual attempt to lynch Detective McGarvey, the crowd laboring under the impression that McGarvey had shot Cole. Cole had been arrested by McGarvey on a forgery charge and was suspected of being one of the two bandits who several days ago held up the North Coast Limited on the Northern Pacific R. R. at Welsh Spur, murdering Engineer Frank Clow and wounding Fireman Thomas Sullivan. Cole is now serving in sentence of the robbery at the Burlington Flyer, near Butte, two years ago. While he was undergoing an examination by the police, Cole, it is said tonight, asserted that he knew all about the hold-up of the Northern Pacific Limited and made a dash down an alley from the police station. He is now serving in sentence of the robbery at the Burlington Flyer, near Butte, two years ago. While he was undergoing an examination by the police, Cole, it is said tonight, asserted that he knew all about the hold-up of the Northern Pacific Limited and made a dash down an alley from the police station. He is now serving in sentence of the robbery at the Burlington Flyer, near Butte, two years ago.

Timothy Cole, another brother of the dead man, took the leadership of the mob and with more than 2,000 men hastened to the county jail where they thought McGarvey was hiding. They attempted to force a way through a line of armed officers. The men got a long rope and the shout was made to down the officers. At this point Deputy Sheriff Wyman stopped the leaders of the mob and told them that McGarvey had left the jail and that they were welcome to search the building. This was done, no search was made, and the mob dispersed. Mounting the court house steps, Timothy Cole made an impassioned exhortation to the crowd to average the death of his brother, who he declared had been shot down by McGarvey in cold blood, and telling the mob to follow, made his way to the police station, with the rapidly augmenting crowd following him. The mob soon reached several thousand.

BURNS AND SQUIRES TO FIGHT ON MAY 30th

Details Settled Yesterday—The Bout to Take Place at Colma—Jim Jeffries Will be Referee. NEW YORK, May 11.—A despatch from Los Angeles says Bill Squires of Australia, and Tommy Burns were agreed there yesterday to box at Colma, for the world's championship on May 30th. Jas. W. Cothran, the San Francisco promoter arranged the event at a conference with the parties interested at a local sporting resort. Squires interests were looked after by his manager Barney Reynolds. The bout is scheduled to go forty rounds. The men agreed that there should be a side bet of $5,000 apart from the other emolument, and there was no hitch until it came to the selection of a referee. Burns wanted George Siler of Chicago or nobody, and Reynolds objected on the score that Siler was too old a man to handle a couple of young huskies like Burns and Squires. Burns suggested Jim Jeffries, as a compromise and Reynolds promptly said "We'll accept him," Jeffries on being located, agreed to act and the rest of the matchmaking was easy sailing.

GOT $100 FROM AUNT; WANTED MORE, REFUSED

BOSTON, Mass., May 10.—The contested will of the late Mrs. Mary Ann Gowen, who died at ninety years of age and left $30,000, was sustained by a jury before Judge Ruger in the Supreme Court today. The widow of Charles Gowen, a marketman who died many years ago. Her grandson, Charles H. Moore, of Rockland, Maine, to whom she left only $100, was the contestant. He claimed that she was of unsound mind and was unduly influenced. By her will she provided $7,000 in bequests for relatives and friends. She gave one-half the residue, which is the bulk of her estate, to local charities.

REMARKABLE SUCCESS IN THE TESTING OF SUBMARINES

PIANO AGENT HAD TO TAKE OUT A LICENSE He Objected and Made a Scene in City Hall But It Did Not Go Worth a Cent.

Some excitement was caused at City Hall this morning over the issuing of a license. A few months ago a piano organ traveller of Halifax came here to do business. Sergeant Campbell became aware of the traveller's presence, and informed him that he would have to take out a license. The Haligonian promised to comply with the sergeant's instructions, but a few days afterwards he found that his license had been granted. About two months later the traveller again visited the city and again succeeded in getting a license. He left the city and did not return until two weeks ago. He did not register at the hotel he had previously patronized, but went to a boarding house. He in this way kept his presence in the city unknown to the police until last night, when Sergeant Campbell met him on the street. He warned the traveller that if he did not take a license out today he would be summoned to court on Monday. At sharp 10 o'clock this morning the traveller was at City Hall. He approached the mayor's clerk and asked for a license. The latter commenced to write out the document when the piano seller began to call the city by every name he could think of. Clerk Campbell became angry and in disgust told the man that if he didn't like the way they did things here to complain to the proper authorities. The traveller asked the price of the license, and when told it was $30 he grew still more disgusted with St. John, but when he saw that Mr. Ward meant business he asked that $10 be given later. This price of the license was with the official approval, and after much more talk the $20 was paid. Shortly after five o'clock the piano organ traveller came in, who stated that the agent was a member of one of the biggest firms in Canada and that his net worth was thousands of dollars. The police are very strict regarding travellers in these lines taking out licenses, as the canvassing of the city by these salesmen interferes with the business of the local agents.

SERIOUS FREIGHT WRECK ON THE BOSTON & MAINE

A Fireman Injured—Twenty Freight Cars Burned at a Loss of $100,000. SHIRLEY, May 10.—A rear-end collision took place here between two east-bound freight trains on the Fitchburg division of the Boston and Maine R. R. in the yard here, late tonight. A fireman was seriously injured and twenty freight cars and the freight house were burned, entailing a loss estimated from $80,000 to $100,000. A Tuttle, the fireman, sustained serious internal injuries and the fracture of three ribs. Both trains were bound for Boston. A local train bound from Fitchburg to Boston, stopped at the station here and was entering a siding when a heavy through train from the West came along and crashed into it. The engineer of the western train saw the light of the local train and attempted to set his airbrakes, but the brakes refused to work and the locomotive crashed into the rear of the local. A dozen cars were derailed. The locomotive of the Western train capsized and lying alongside a couple of cars standing in the yard. The engineer escaped injury. The fireman, Tuttle, was pitched headlong from the cab and badly injured. The wrecked locomotive set fire to the cars in the yard and in a few minutes the fire communicated to cars on the local freight and to the freight house. Fireman Tuttle was removed to a hospital in Fitchburg. Traffic was blocked for some hours.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Fire last night did damage estimated at $60,000 in the building on Sixth Avenue, occupied by Sheppard, Knapp and Co., dealers in furniture and carpets. One wing of the building was almost completely cleaned out. The heavy loss is due to the fact that the firm carried a valuable stock of fine goods including many high priced Oriental rugs.

Vessel Travelling at Full Speed Was Stopped and Submerged in Four Minutes—Results are Highly Satisfactory

NEWPORT, May 11.—The American boat was broken yesterday when the submarine Octopus went through a series of extraordinary tests in Codrington Cove in a nasty sea, with a thick fog which cleared at times and a southwest wind that blew at the rate of 35 to 40 miles an hour. The principal test was to determine whether the Octopus would be able to be submerged quickly should an enemy submarine, propelled by gasoline engines, the Octopus received a signal from members of the Naval Trial Board on the order of the surface. Immediately the engines were stopped and power was furnished by storage batteries. Diving rudders were adjusted, the submarine took 37 tons of water into her tanks and sank to a depth of 20 feet, so that the deck which is four feet above the axis of the boat was at a depth of 15-24 feet. All this was accomplished in 41-3 minutes after the signal. A second test reduced the time by about half a minute. Running at full speed ahead under water the ability of the Octopus to stop while running at full speed ahead under water was tested. The Octopus stopped in the lifting fog a tug and a tow of barges. The submarine immediately dived and escaped a collision, by dipping so deep that the tow passed above her in safety. At another time when the Octopus was running at full speed ahead under water an hour she dived and was completely submerged within 25 seconds.

TWIN SULLIVAN AND HUGO KELLEY FOUGHT A DRAW

Chicago's Hard Passed Through—The Boat a Clear One. ANGELES, May 11.—Jack "Twin" Sullivan of Boston and Hugo Kelley of Chicago, fought 20 rounds to a draw before the Pacific Athletic Club last night. The decision was received by the crowd with satisfaction. Neither man was badly damaged. Kelley scored two points on Knock down of the fight in the fourth round. He sent Sullivan to the mat with a left to the right of the jaw. Sullivan recovered quickly, however, and finished the round without trouble. In the eighth round Kelley knocked Sullivan to his knees with a blow that landed below the belt. Referee Burns cautioned Kelley, warning him about the blow. The Boston fighter recovered almost on the instant, however, and was unharmed. The last was the best round of the fight. Kelley rushed throughout the entire three minutes and both fought with vigor, the Chicago fighter having the better of the mill.

STEEL BAR PUNCHED A HOLE IN THE CONCORDIA

Donaldson Liner Was in Some Danger at Montreal, But Repairs Have Been Made. MONTREAL, May 11.—While unloading the S. S. Concordia last evening a huge steel bar for the Dominion Bridge Co. fell from the derrick and went down into the hold and through the bottom of the ship. The ship was in great danger, the water rushing in terribly. The crew warped the ship 100 feet into shallower water and a diver went down and managed to stop the hole to a great extent. Today permanent repairs are being made and the Concordia will sail for Glasgow on Monday.

James McKinney has been reported for allowing water to flow across the sidewalk on Carmarthen street.

C. W. Stewart complained to the police court this morning that a young fellow named Dean broke his window while engaged in playing ball with some other boys. They promised to repair the glass about three weeks ago but have failed to keep to their agreement. The glass will be repaired immediately by order of the court or the boys will be asked to attend court.

The members of the Carleton Cornet Band were very successful with their recent concert and feel under an obligation to the public, so much in fact that they have decided that during the summer they will conduct free evening sports twice a month. The events will be pulled off on Market Square and will be followed by band concerts. The band will soon give an order for new uniforms. The organization is at present in excellent standing.

THE BAGDAD RAILWAY AND THE BLACKMAIL OF THE DEAD

The pact between England and Russia to delay the construction of the Bagdad Railway, so much desired by Germany, will have the effect of prolonging indefinitely one of the strangest conditions of rigidity still prevailing in any part of the world. This is the blackmail of the dead conducted by the robbers of the Tigris valley. The story of its origin runs back some thirty years to the time when the old chief of a nomad tribe died leaving two sons, Djanir and Mama-Souleyman, to quarrel following and his sphere of operations. Hovering about the frontier between the Turkish dominions and Asia these two continued in their father's footsteps, the latter, common ordinary brigand, and so were they their youthful vigor, however, they made themselves very obnoxious to the Shah of Persia, who was unable to hunt them down, decided to make friends with them and bribe them to be good. Djanir, the Shah's advances in a conciliatory spirit. He accepted a fortified dwelling near the caravan route to Fermo and he kept quiet for a little while but his restless spirit soon became impatient and he renewed his attacks upon travellers. He levied tribute systematically on all who passed his way, and no further effort was made to suppress him until he descended one day upon a caravan in which was daughter of the Shah, a sister of the monarch's son, who died a few weeks ago. The brigand seized the young woman and carried off to his stronghold, she was imprisoned in his harem and treated not as a princess but as an ordinary captive might be. The high temper of a Kadjar race revolted against this indignity. The Princess could not stand it, and Djanir, hearing of her way of a crowning insult, being sent back to her father riding on a donkey and almost without attendants. It was fatal mistake. The outrage was too great to be overlooked. The Shah, complicated with the Turkish, and on the Persian border. By a preconcert arrangement Persians and Turks marched together upon Djanir, they killed his men and carried off the women and horses and flocks of his tribe. He besieged him in the castle that he had given to him, storming the place and took him prisoner. Then they dug a hole and buried him up to the neck. After leaving him a day or two in the contemplation of his plight, they finally mowed his head off to the ground. So may for Djanir; but when he heard of news, Mama-Souleyman, his brother determined to have revenge. He had the means, and he had the help of the Turkish Governor of Bagdad from the off of captain of gendarmes at Kermanshah, a town in Turkish Kurdistan, with convenient range of the Persian frontier. His official position had no particular effect on his behavior. What is plunder before, now became tribute; that was the only change. But there was no joy in mere plunder robbery after he had heard of the fate of Djanir. Something must be done that would make Persia and Arabia smart. He called in the aid of his brother's following and recruited his force. He established a petty band which is known as the mawan, and developed a bright idea set himself up as the blackmail of dead Persians. At fifty miles from Bagdad are the desert towns of Nejd or Meshed-Allah Korbela or Meshed-Hussain. Thence the court of the Caliph Ali and the latter that of the Shah son, the patriarchs of the Ispahan set of Mohammedans, to which Persians belong. The two towns are abominated by the Turks, but the Persians not only make pilgrimages to them while living, but in many cases strive to be buried in their sacred precincts when dead. To rest in their sacred soil is to go direct to the seventh Mohammedan heaven. Mama-Souleyman and his bandits took up positions all along the routes leading from Persia to these places. As the funeral corteges came their way—polluting the air, since the Persians have no skill as embalmers—they swoop down upon the mourners and demand tribute. Mama-Souleyman established early a regular tariff, based on the wealth of the deceased for his own benefit, and he still exacts it today. It has become so much a matter of course that the Persians regard it as a regular part of the funeral expenses in such cases and start prepared to pay it. But over and above this the members of the band are apt to take care of themselves. Any display of jewelry by those accompanying the corpse is indelicate. Too fat a bag of money is apt to be well thinned. Even a handsome pelisse has been known to pass over to one of Mama-Souleyman's henchmen. The profits of this system of blackmail are considerable. In ordinary years it is said at least 4,000 bodies of pious Shiites are taken to the sacred cities for interment. In years when any pestilence is rife the number will reach 10,000 or even 12,000. The Persians can do nothing to stop the plunder, because it is all done on Turkish territory. The Turkish authorities at Korbela and Nejd are the sources of considerable wealth to the region. The imams in charge of the mosques and cemeteries have been known to exact the equivalent of $12,000 from the family of a rich man for a choice position near one of the sacred tombs, and $200 is the lowest sum they will deposit. The payments are said to be at least equal to $80,000 a poor year and sometimes to reach three or four times that amount. Though the construction of the railway from the terminus of one of the present lines in Asia Minor or Syria to Bagdad would not directly affect the lines of travel of the dead Shiites or the band that intercepts them, yet it is certain that the general conditions admitting of such lawlessness could not long survive the opening up of the region. Bagdad is at present extremely inaccessible. It may be reached by steamer via the Red Sea, the Persian Gulf, the Strait of Arab, and the Tigris. This journey takes almost two months from English ports. The land route takes a week or two less. One journeyer by camel from Damascus across the desert of Syria, or else one goes by rail-road to Angora in Asia Minor, whence the journey is completed on horse or camel under the protection of the Tatare, the Turkish mail carrier, who is a brigand himself, but who has an exalted sense of official responsibility and who enjoys immunity among the other brigands along his routes. Not only will he defend himself and his share, but his predatory tribes in general would combine to defend him against any one, even one of their number who might attack him. Despite the wild state of the country, cash in large amounts is carried by him in absolute safety. Under these conditions the present amount of travel to Bagdad is relatively very small. But if the railroad were constructed the ancient commercial importance of the city would doubtless be revived and the influx of tourists would no doubt be considerable. Securely possible conditions, such as exist along the coast line of Syria, would soon have to be established. The prohibition of a railway from

AUCTIONS.

WSP Walter S. Potts Auctioneer. Sales of all kinds attended. Furniture Sales at Residence a Specialty. Office—Market Street. Phone 291. SEEK TO WED BY PROXY, BUT LAW SAYS "NO" Novel Scheme of Bridgroom-Elcet Knocked in the Head by a Stern Official. HELLEN, May 10.—This week's South American mail steamer from Hamburg will carry to far-off Peru a woman well known in Berlin society, who is travelling half way round the world to get married, because the law does not permit her to wed by proxy here. Her future husband is a young German engineer in Peru. For property's sake—not wishing to incur the cost of a journey home—she wanted to welcome his sweetheart in Peru as his wife, and not as his betrothed. To that end he induced the local German consul general to execute an official certificate attesting that the engineer conferred upon his brother-in-law, living in Berlin, authority to marry his fiancée in his name. The girl went to a registrar's office armed jointly with the consul general's certificate and her intended's understudy. The unscrupulous officials, however, looked up the records, and, finding no precedent for marriage by proxy, solemnly gave it as their opinion that German bridgrooms have no authority for leaving to other men the utterance of the fateful words on their behalf. ON VERGE OF MARRIAGE WITH OWN DAUGHTER TOKIO, May 10.—A strange incident is reported from Osaka, with the disappearance of a wealthy merchant named Sakamoto, who was to have been married next week to a pretty girl of 20. Sakamoto, who is 42, was first married twenty-two years ago, but after the birth of a baby daughter he quarrelled with his wife and deserted her at Omori, near Yokohama. He then went to a northern province and built up a lucrative business as a merchant. His wife died two years later, and the daughter was adopted by a family living at Osaka. A few months ago Sakamoto returned from business and went to Osaka to live. He became acquainted with this couple, and finally arranged to marry their supposed daughter. He discovered quite by chance that his intended bride was really his own daughter, whom he had deserted nearly twenty years before. Sakamoto disappeared after leaving a substantial sum for his daughter. AN INSINUATION FEARED. Clergyman—Madam, you must be consoled with the thought that your husband is at rest. Widow—Do you mean that he didn't have any more to die?

ALL THE AMERICAN RECORDS BROKEN IN SUBMARINE TESTS

NEWPORT, R. I., May 10.—All American records for quick diving by a submarine boat were broken today when the submarine Octopus went through a series of extraordinary tests in Coddington Cove in a nasty sea, thick fog that cleared at times, and with a southwest wind that blew at a rate of from 35 to 40 miles an hour. The principal test today was for the purpose of determining whether the Octopus would be able to get submerged quickly if an enemy should be sighted. Running at full speed on the surface, propelled by gasoline engines, the Octopus received a signal from members of trial board on board the Nina. Immediately the engines were stopped and power furnished by storage batteries. Diving cylinders were adjusted, the submarine took 37 tons of water into her tanks and then sank to a depth of 20 feet, so that the deck gauge, which is four feet above the axis of the boat, showed a depth of 15k feet. All this was accomplished within four and a half minutes after receiving the signal. A second test reduced the time about half a minute. A test was also made to determine the ability of the Octopus to come to a full stop while running at full speed ahead under water. For this purpose several experiments in quick reversing were made. When coming to the surface from one of her dives, the Octopus sighted in the lifting fog a tug and tow of barges. The submarine immediately dived and executed the strategy of a coil of ten knots an hour, she dived and was completely submerged within 23 seconds.

At another time when the Octopus was running awash at a speed of ten knots an hour, she dived and was completely submerged within 23 seconds.

WINDOW BLOCKED PASSAGE; HE WENT THROUGH IT

An Englishman Who Tried to Get Post Cards in a Plumbing Establishment Went Out Rather Hurriedly.

This morning shortly after nine o'clock a tall Englishman with an over-balancing cargo of intoxicants staggered into a Union street plumbing store, looking for picture postals. On being told came saucy and was thrown out, but that he was in the wrong shop he before he received the street in his flight he passed through a large pane of glass. Almost as soon as he bumped on the pavement he was grabbed by a cop, and only having enough money to buy post cards and not enough to pay for the broken window, he was escorted to the police station. He now occupies a room that is not only void of pictures, but of glass. On Monday morning he learns his fate.

RUMORS OF TRANSFER OF THE BOSTON & MAINE

CAME TO BLOWS OVER THE NAME OF A MAN

Magistrate Advises Youthful Giant to Fight on Religion, Politics or Love, Not on Silly Matters.

Last night's atmosphere must have been the cause of a great threat, for there was considerable drunkenness, and the police managed to gather in no less than nine men. In court this morning the drunk looked as if they were sorry for having taken just one too many. There were a couple of old timers in the lot, and they were asked to pay eight dollars. The remainder were knocked down at four dollars. Four of the number were sailors of the government steamer which arrived in port yesterday. Their fines were paid by the captain. The others went to jail.

John Kervin was arrested this morning on a warrant charged by Robert Logan with assault. Logan is a 19 year old boy who is over six feet tall and his complaint was that a few nights ago he and Kervin were standing on a corner. A man passed them. Kervin said the man's name was Colman, while Logan claimed it was McCarty. After a brief but heated argument of "it is" and "it isn't," Kervin struck Logan, who went off the sidewalk and did not respond. He informed the court that he knew Kervin could beat him.

The magistrate said that a man's name was a little thing to get in trouble over. There might have been more cause if the dispute had been over the outcome of the coming by-election, or the man who is evading quite a stir on "the other side." Politics, religion or love, said his honor, are excellent things to argue over and sometimes lead to blows. He advised both boys to be more careful in the future. Kervin was asked to pay a dollar for the issue of the warrant and was allowed to go.

ARBITRATION ON THE LONGSHORE STRIKE

Has Been Proposed But is Not Well Received—Other Labor Troubles.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Arbitration is being broached to end the longshoremen's strike, but there is little hope as yet, of any negotiations being entered upon by the parties to the controversy. The national civic federation has been sounding the representatives of the steamship companies and the strikers' leaders but its efforts have been almost negative.

The federation found neither side willing to take the initiative in even a joint discussion of the dispute, so it suggested that instead of each side appointing conferees, as it first proposed, negotiations be taken up by a committee in no way connected with either side. The steamship management received this latter proposal coldly, but did not say that they would ignore such a committee if it was formed. The strikers' spokesman and leader, Patrick Conners, said that whereas the strikers would not appoint a committee to confer with one from the steamship companies they would be willing to listen to a committee coming from the companies to them. He said also that any outside committee having a settlement for its object would be received by the strikers. This statement of Conners is looked upon by the federation as offering a hope that negotiations can be begun.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 10.—A special from Otrabala, Mexico, says:—The 12,000 striking textile operatives today made an additional demand for the abolition of the fine system. Suffering and destitution are evident among the strikers, but they are obstinate and today declined an intimation of a compromise. An outbreak is imminent.

BOSTON, Mass., May 10.—An embargo on all freight bound for New York and consigned to foreign and southern points has been put in force by the New York, New Haven and Hartford and Boston and Albany roads as a result of the longshoremen's strike in New York. The only exception made in connection with freight consigned to the Savannah and Clyde lines, where an agreement has been reached with the longshoremen.

BERLIN, May 11.—The Master Builders' Association of Berlin and its sub-branches yesterday decided unanimously to lock out May 13, all masons and bricklayers assisting building workmen. Over 300,000 men are affected by this decision. This proposed lockout, which threatens to be one of the greatest that has ever taken place in Germany, arises from the position and dignity of accountants, was transferred to Montreal, where he has been occupying a responsible post. That he is yet a student is shown by the Journal of the Canadian Bankers' Association for April which contains an article from his pen entitled "The Canadian Banking System—with a comparison of its most important features with those of the National Banking System of the United States." The article was written as an essay in a course of work Mr. Hay is doing for the degree of M. A. at Acadia University, and he submitted it to publication at the request of the editor of the Journal, J. T. P. Knight, the editor, says, "the advantages of higher education for bank officials will find something to please them in connection with it. Mr. Hay has proved the possibility of combining a student even after undertaking the daily work of a bank clerk. It is too much to hope that this good example of determination on the part of a young bank official to improve his mental equipment for the struggle may prove an incentive to others."

That he is yet a student is shown by the Journal of the Canadian Bankers' Association for April which contains an article from his pen entitled "The Canadian Banking System—with a comparison of its most important features with those of the National Banking System of the United States." BOSTON, Mass., May 10.—Determined to break a will under which he was made the chief legatee of an estate estimated at $20,000, Ignace Marcel Gausguel, an artist of prominence, appeared before Judge Robert Grant in the probate court today to oppose the allowance of the last testament of Mrs. Phoebe A. CARLETON PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH CELEBRATES JUBILEE SUNDAY

Special Commemorative Services Will be Held Morning, Afternoon and Evening—On Monday Evening There Will be a Congregational Reunion to Which all Presbyterian Ministers of the City Will be Invited—Historical Sketch by Rev. Mr. Read, Present Pastor

Tomorrow and on Monday the Carleton Presbyterian Church will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of its founding. The order of Sunday's services is as follows:

Morning service at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. D. McEldrum; afternoon service at 3 o'clock, at which Rev. David Lang, B. D., of St. Andrew's Church, and Rev. Gordon Dickie, M. A., of St. Stephen's Church, will deliver addresses. The choir of St. David's Church, led by Mr. McGowan, will have charge of the music.

First Pastor From the records of the Synod of the Presbyterian Church in New Brunswick it may be learned that the Rev. John Irvine of the Irish Presbyterian church had arrived in New Brunswick, and the Presbytery of St. John, meeting at Fredericton in July, 1845, resolved to take him into their care, his commission having been presented from the colonial committee of the Free Church of Scotland. At another meeting held in Beaucebe on the 8th of January, 1846, he was ordained and it was resolved that he be located for the winter in the following stations: Carleton, Nepesic, Jerusalem, Black River (or Stead), and Petticoat, now called Moncton.

On May 7, 1855, the induction of Rev. William Stewart as pastor of the church took place. Mr. Stewart severed his connection with the congregation in 1859, after four years of faithful service. In the year following Rev. Godfrey Shore became pastor. Mr. Shore's ministry was the shortest in the history of the church, lasting but two years. In 1862 he was granted leave of absence, on account of illness, and he was unable again to take up ministerial work in the church and resigned.

The next minister was Rev. James Burgess, now of Broughty's Ferry, Scotland. During his able ministrations the church was relieved of debt. His pastoral term came to an end in 1864.

Present incumbent On Dec. 27th of that year the present incumbent of the pulpit, Rev. Hibbert Read, B. D., was inducted. One most interesting feature of the semi-centennial will be the presence of several persons who were present at the dedication of the building. Concerning these, Mr. Read writes as follows:

"A word of those who have been with us from the first: We have still in our midst the first trustee board. Mr. Wilson is now ninety-one years old and has been present at the first meeting of the church in full enjoyment of his faculties, and his place in the house of God is the same as before. He is a pillar in the church in every way. And he has the honor to be the first member of the members of the church, as well as of the whole community.

At another meeting of the presbytery of St. John, June 18th, 1859, a memorial from Carleton and adjoining districts was presented by Mr. McKillop, commissioner, and it was moved by Rev. Robert Irvine, and seconded by Robert Kedy, elder, that "the services of the Rev. John Irvine be retained at Carleton and adjoining districts for the succeeding six months, with a view to permanent settlement, but in the event of their not being able to maintain him the presbytery should send him to the Bend of Petticoat (Moncton). The presbytery met again at Blackville, Miramichi, and the Presbyterians of Carleton, craving to be formally taken under the special care of this church, and that a minister be appointed for the purpose of organizing them into a congregation, resolved to appoint Revs. Mr. Thompson and Robert Irvine to meet with the congregation of Carleton and report at next meeting the number of adherents in Carleton and their ability and willingness to contribute to the support of the ministry, the Rev. John Irvine to continue his labors in these parts till next meeting of the presbytery. At a meeting of the presbytery held in St. Stephen Sept. 21st, 1852, Rev. John Irvine, to the deep regret of them all, intimated his intention of leaving the province, and was accordingly furnished with the proper credentials. From this time Carleton was supplied by the Rev. William Ferrie of St. David's Presbyterian church, St. John, until the arrival of the Rev. James Baird, the Belfast presbytery, who, being ordained by said presbytery, was sent out to the British colonies under the auspices of the Irish general assembly. Mr. Baird being ordained for Canada, was afterwards recommended to proceed to St. John, and arriving there on Wednesday, April 7th, 1854, was requested to preach on the following Sabbath in this city, and in Carleton, and he was then only a mission station. Mr. Baird was asked to preach again in Carleton, and a unanimous call was presented to him. He was strongly advised to accept the call by friends in this city, who promised to assist in the erection of a church, and eventually decided to do so. On Sep. 27th, 1854, he was duly installed. Rev. Messrs. Bennet and Ferrie officiating on the occasion. The congregation then decided to build a church. The plans were furnished by Mr. Stead, architect, of St. John, and the corner stone was laid on Friday, Sept. 21st, 1855, by the Hon. John Robertson, M. L. C., of New Brunswick. The following is the account of the ceremony as it appeared the following day in the city papers: "The service was begun by Rev. Mr. Baird, who read the 100th Psalm, which was then sung by a large and excellent choir. The Rev. J. Bennet then read the prayer of Solomon at the dedication of the temple, 1 Kings, 8-22, after which he offered an appropriate prayer. The choir then sang Psalm 102, 15-22 verses, and Rev. Mr. Baird presented a silver trowel bearing the emblem of the burning bush and the motto: 'Ardus ac virens, non tamen consumebatur,' with the inscription, 'To the Hon. John Robertson, by the Rev. James Baird, on the occasion of his laying the foundation stone of the First Presbyterian church in Carleton, St. John, N. B.' "After an address by the Hon. John Robertson the choir sang the 80th psalm, and the congregation was dismissed with the benediction. The choir of St. Andrew's church and St. John's church assisted at this service. "The building was completed in April, 1857, and opened and dedicated on May 10th of the same year."

This church is located in the old cemetery of Carleton and commands a magnificent view of the Reverend Falls, the suspension bridge, the Bay of Fundy and the city of St. John. It was dedicated to the worship of Almighty God on Sunday, the 18th day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one, by the Rev. Nicholas Murray, D. D., of Elizabethtown, New Jersey, who preached three admirable and powerful discourses during the day. The devotional exercises were conducted by the Rev. Messrs. Bennet, Ferrie, Ales and Baird.

The lot on which the building is erected was granted by the city corporation to the Presbyterians in Carleton, and is held by lease in perpetuity. The following were the first trustees: John McLachlan, James Gault, Jarvis Wilson, William King, John Allan and Robert Low.

We are indebted to the Rev. Alex. McLeod, Stately of the Reformed Presbyterian church in St. John for the following information regarding the origin of preaching in the little church on King Square, erected for all denominations in Carleton, but chiefly and particularly for the Presbyterians reading on the Carleton side of the harbor: "I distinctly remember that at a friendly teaming in St. John, so far back as the year 1844, when several ministers were present, arrangements were made for supplying the church in Carleton, erected for the use of all denominations, with occasional preaching. The arrangement was faithfully carried out and the ministers of that day connected with the different branches of the Presbyterian church conducted fortnightly religious services on Tuesday evenings for a length of time, indeed, until the settlement of the Rev. John Irvine, missionary from the Presbyterian church in Ireland, at Carleton, rendered these visits unnecessary.

The ministers above referred to were Rev. H. T. Wishart of St. Stephen's church in connection with the Church of Scotland; Rev. Andrew Halket, of St. Andrew's church, also connected with the Church of Scotland; Rev. Robert Irvine of the St. John Presbyterian church; Rev. Mr. Galloway of the Congregational church, and the Rev. Alex. McLeod Stately of the Reformed Presbyterian church."

IMPERIAL ROAD MAKING BRITAIN AND CANADA TO CHIP IN FOR FOUR DAY ATLANTIC SERVICE.

Twenty Day Service to Australia via Canada Also Considered—Selection of Canadian Port Will be Left to Contracting Company.

LONDON, May 10.—The British government's alternative to the tariff preference is being gradually and cautiously developed. Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, partly drew attention to the subject at the Pilgrims' dinner to the colonial premiers, when he said the difficulty of uniting the Empire was primarily the difficulty of space. The governments of the Empire would do well to consider how they could meet between the different parts of the Empire could be the widest, smoothest and quickest route for the exchange of goods, further developed the idea when addressing the Colonial Conference. He said that he favored improved steamship services, cheaper cables and enlargement of Anglo-colonial commercial agencies. The Westminster Gazette, one of the leading ministerial organs, argued for the scheme as a form of imperial road-making infinitely preferable to what it called a food tax.

Radical members led by Harold Cox, former secretary of the Cobden Club, thereupon protested that this was undermining the free trade ideal, and Lloyd George, president of the Board of Trade, addressing the conference, was thus led to denounce any general system of steamship subsidies. The first editorial in another ministerial organ, the Daily Chronicle, today has every appearance of inspiration when it further draws aside the veil from the imperial project. It says the minister's aim is to make colonial markets not dearer in the British market but cheaper. This indicates that collections will exceed expenditure fall below the Finance Minister's expectations. Mr. Fielding hopes for a surplus of thirteen millions, but the indications are that it will be from sixteen to seventeen million dollars, or the largest in the history of Canada. This means that not only will expenditure on both revenue and capital accounts be substantially reduced, this will all have been accomplished within a period of nine months.

HEAVY SNOW AND FROST IN WESTERN CANADA DESTROYS FRUIT CROPS.

TORONTO, May 10.—A snow fall in several parts of western Canada was the unpleasant surprise of the tenth of May. Two or three inches fell in some sections and Toronto had little under half an inch. Snow flakes were seen at intervals all day. Fruit, such as tomatoes, will probably be a failure. In Cobalt there is ten inches of snow on the ground, and in Manitoba and Saskatchewan heavy snow and frost are reported.

12 YEAR OLD BOY HAS THRILLING RIDE

St. Catharines, Ont. Lad Ran Away From Home and Rode to Hamilton on Front of Locomotive.

HAMILTON, May 10.—Clinging to the front of the engine and travelling through the night at the rate of 40 miles an hour Otto Hill, a 12 year old St. Catharines boy, had a thrilling ride last night. He ran away from his home to see the lights, and when the midnight express pulled into St. Catharines station clambered up on the cow catcher and wedged himself underneath the boiler of the big locomotive. In this perilous position he came to Hamilton and would have gone through to Toronto had not a G. T. R. detective spotted him. The lad was dressed in his father's dress coat, which went below his knees, a vest which reached to his knees and his mother's overshoes. The detective kept him at the station here, and this morning took him home for breakfast, after eating which the lad slipped out. The police are now looking for him.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS ENTERTAINED BY DR. AND MRS. L. W. BAILEY

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 10.—Dr. and Mrs. Bailey entertained the students of the university at a reception in the science building this evening. The affair was largely attended and a most pleasant time spent. The reception was a farewell one, as Dr. Bailey severs his connection with the institution at the end of the present academic year. Reports from up river are not of a very encouraging nature, from the lumberman's standpoint. The water is said to be falling very rapidly, and unless a heavy rain sets in the probability is that a number of drives will be hung up. During the day the river has dropped about eight inches and as the night is cold there is every prospect of a still further fall. Bank logs are coming along quite freely.

HALIFAX MAN BADLY INJURED ON SHIP

BOSTON, Mass., May 10.—The Canadian liner Saxonia, which arrived today from Liverpool, encountered heavy gales throughout the trip. During one gale E. Corbett, a prominent merchant of Halifax, was seriously injured. He was preparing to enter his berth when a heavy wave struck the ship and threw Corbett against the wall rendering him unconscious. He fell on the left side with his face on top of the electric radiator. His left cheek was lacerated to a deep and the throat was burned nearly to the jugular vein. He was rescued by steamship attendants. Corbett is recovering.

BIDDEFORD, Me., May 10.—The two-masted schooner Maggie Miller, from St. John, N. B., for Boston, with lumber, in command of Captain J. A. Hives, went ashore today on Nigger Island ledge off Biddeford Pool, but was hoisted late in the afternoon unharmed. The schooner put into Biddeford Pool for an anchorage last night and was driven ashore early today by the high wind and a strong tide. The crew of the Fletcher's Neck life saving station assisted in getting the schooner aground at high tide. It is expected that she will proceed tomorrow morning.

STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE OF ROBERT MCGILL

He Was in Poor Health—Went for a Walk on Thursday Evening But Has Not Returned.

Mystery surrounds the disappearance of Robert McGill, the 45 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McGill, of Elliott Row. The young man left his home on Thursday evening stating that he was going to take a short walk, and he has not been seen or heard of since. A Star representative called at the McGill home today and found the parents of the missing man in a state of great anxiety.

Mr. McGill, speaking of the matter, said: "Robert told us on Thursday night that he was going to take a short walk. He left the house about seven o'clock and when the clock struck eleven he had not returned. I grew anxious and went out to search for him. I spent most of the night looking for my son, but all in vain." Mr. McGill was asked if his son was down hearted when he left home. He replied that Robert had been in ill health for about ten years and he was becoming discouraged through his poor health. A year ago his brother was drowned and this seemed to weigh heavily on the young man's mind. Mr. McGill stated that he had asked Chief Clark to have the police make a search, and his request was granted. The aged father spoke as though he had no hope of ever seeing his son alive again. He has not given much thought to the theory of suicide although he cannot imagine where his son could be if he were living. The McGill home had been saddened a year ago by the tragic death of a son who was drowned in the bay, and the only members of the family now left in the little house on Elliott Row are the aged father and mother who are still nursing the hope that their only boy will return before long.

Robert McGill is tall and slim, and fever caused him the loss of all his hair. When he left his home he was dressed in a suit of dark clothes and a soft hat and wore no overcoat.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Fire caused a loss estimated at $500,000 tonight in the building at the corner of Sixth avenue and Thirteenth street, occupied by Sheppard, Knapp & Co., dealers in furniture and carpets.

W. F. HATHEWAY IS THE CANDIDATE NOW

Conservatives Having Trouble in Getting a Man—Aid. Baxter Refuses to Run.

If the Conservative party decide to contest St. John against Dr. Fugatey W. F. Hatheway will be their candidate. The committee appointed some time ago, assisted by Dr. Daniel, have been searching the town for a man and believed they had reached the end of their quest when some ten days ago Aid. Baxter was selected. Gladly to their dismay Mr. Baxter promptly turned down the proposition.

Since then the committee and Dr. Daniel have at different times been to see Mr. Hatheway asking him to step into the gap and put up some sort of opposition. Mr. Hatheway, the Star learns, has agreed to do his best and will receive the nomination if anyone gets it, which is far from being determined yet.

SNOW FELL ONLY ONCE ON A DATE LATER THAN THIS.

Today's Storm Makes a Record for the Past Generation—On May 24th 1870, a Military Review on Barracks Square Was Spoiled by a Wild Snowstorm

A genuine snow storm set in this morning and before long the ground was covered with a mantle of white. The 11th day of May is indeed a late date for this sort of weather for St. John and on only one previous occasion has a snowstorm been in progress here at a later date.

Shortly before five o'clock this morning the wind changed from the north to the northeast and a few drops of rain fell. Following this the snow came and it continued to fall all through the morning. The ground contained little frost and the snow melted as soon as it arrived on mother earth. Up to this afternoon two inches of snow have fallen, which breaks all records since 1870. Last year a severe snow storm was in progress at Mecklenburg on May 15th. It rained here on that day. Today's storm is the latest since 1870. On May 7th, 1887, at 11.50 p. m. snow commenced to fall and it continued until 4.50 a. m. the next day. There was considerable frost in the ground and the snow remained for some time. The total fall was one quarter of an inch. The only time on record when a snowstorm visited St. John at a later date than today was on May 24, 1870. On that day the sky was clear in the morning. The Queen's Own Rifles were to parade for inspection on the Barracks Green. Col. Holly was the inspecting officer and he arrived at the scene of inspection at three o'clock in the afternoon. The Queen's Own were lined up and thousands of citizens were viewing the inspection. Suddenly large black clouds loomed up and in a few minutes a real old-fashioned snowstorm was in progress. The soldiers' uniforms of green were soon covered with a cloak of white and in the march past the men waded through slush.

That spring was not a backward one and the citizens were wearing their light clothes and straw hats. When the snow began to fall the majority of those present made or home in haste and donned their overcoats. In a few hours the weather cleared and the sun was shining as warmly as before. This year, however, the weather has been backward, and only a few nice spring days have come as yet.

A week ago last Tuesday the roof tops of the houses were white with frost. No doubt, on account of the late spring, the crops will be very backward.

TO REPAIR THE BREAKS IN THE CONCRETE PIPE

The work of repairing the breaks in the concrete pipe on McArthur and McVey's section will be commenced on Monday morning. Engineer Hunter, who is in charge will this afternoon will begin the change in the water supply, going back to the old Silver Falls-Little River service. The pumps will be operated tomorrow from 7 to 9 a. m. and from 11 a. m. till 7 p. m. This change will mean that on the higher levels of St. John there will be the same scarcity of water as before the new system was installed. The repair work will, it is expected, occupy about two weeks.
