PROBATE COURT

Mrs. Falconer Leaves Bequest to Plymouth Brethren—Mrs. Crothers Divided Estate Among Daughters and Grandchildren.

Friday, July 11.

In the probate court yesterday the will of Mrs. Margaret Falconer, widow, was proved. She gives to the Plymouth Brethren, St. John, $100; to her sister Catherine C. wife of Henry P. Harvey, testator, $200, and her household effects; the rest of her estate to The Eastern Trust Company under trust to invest $150 and to use the income thereof for the perpetual care of her burial lot in the Church of England Bural Ground in balance to go to Thomas Vallerott Edgewood Seely, grandson of her sister Catherine C. Harvey and she nominates W. Henry Harrison of St. John, barrister-at-law, executor. Her will was proved. There is no real estate; the personal estate, having been reduced by the testatrix in her lifetime, is stated at $400. Herbert C. Creighton presents his petition in person.

The court took up the matter of the estate of Edward Traynor, carpenter and tinsmith. He died some years ago, his widow, Mary Jane Traynor, at three infant children, Harold aged 8, Marion aged 5 and Serena aged 3 years. On the petition of Thomas Vallerott Edgewood Seely, administrator, there is no real estate; personal estate $700. Dr. Richard F. Quigley, K. C., is proctor. The will of Herbert C. Creighton, retired manufacturer was proved. The testatrix gives to her daughter Ida J. B., wife of Herbert C. Creighton, $1,000, and the residue of the Canadian Express Company, her farm in the Parish of Westfield, which she inherited from her late husband, to her daughter Margaret T. wife of Horace W. Cole, whatever money may be standing in the name of the testatrix in the Savings Bank at the time of her death. She directs that her household goods and premises in Paradise Road shall be sold by her executors and the proceeds divided equally among those of her seven grandchildren living at the time of her death—all of whom did survive her; the rest she gives to her two daughters share and jointly. She nominates her husband and her son in law, Herbert C. Creighton, executors. They were sworn in as such; real estate $2,000, personal estate $1,500. Clarence H. Ferguson, is proctor.

HOPWELL HILL NOTES

Hopewell Hill, July 10—C. D. Dickson, of Hampton, who recently resigned his position as principal of the advanced department of the school here, has been given the principalship of the Petford Junior School. Mr. Dickson's friends here will be glad to hear of his success. Mr. Wright, of the school, has been on a visit to Moncton.

Crops which have been backward, as now growing fast. Potatoes are particularly promising. The hay crop, generally speaking, is considered likely to be light.

A very interesting session of Golden Rule division was held on Tuesday evening when a number of visitors were admitted. Music was furnished and speeches were given by M. M. Tingley, D. C. W. P., G. W. Newcombe and others.

INDIA HOARDING ONE-TWENTIFTH OF WORLD'S GOLD SUPPLY.

Washington, July 7.—In reviewing the commercial and industrial activities of Bombay in 1912 Consul Edward J. Norton says: Attention was drawn in last year's report to the remarkable growth in the imports of gold. The increase then recorded was $12,028,746, and this year's report shows a further advance of no less than $28,751,021. The imports of gold bullion to Bombay were valued at $90,000,000 at $17,807,519, the aggregate imports of the metal being equivalent to over 20 per cent of the total gold production of the world in 1911. The most noteworthy feature of the movement of gold in the marked increase in the importations of coin that strengthens the inference that gold is displacing silver as a form of hoarding and is supported by the marked decrease in the net imports of silver. Re-exports of gold, which included shipments from India, were valued at $11,001,186.

TRAINMEN AGREE TO STAY STRIKE

White House Meeting Successful

New Arbitration Board to Settle the Dispute

President Wilson and Congressional Committee Agree to Rush Legislation to Create a Permanent Mediation Commission.

(Canadian Press.)

Washington, July 14.—Representatives of the 80,000 conductors and trainmen of eastern railroads, who have voted to strike for higher wages, and managing officers of the railroads, agreed at the White House today to submit their differences to arbitration under the provisions of the Newlands-Clayton act, which President Wilson and congressional leaders promise to make law by tomorrow night.

In the meantime no strike will be declared, officials of the employees' brotherhoods agreeing to an armistice until Wednesday night.

This victory for arbitration over the strike was the result of a two-hour conference at the White House between President Wilson and congressional leaders, both Republicans and Democrats, the presidents and managers of the railroads and representatives of the brotherhoods of trainmen and conductors.

The agreement not only averted temporarily at least the strike which threatened to disrupt the railroads, but also gave the impression that had arisen in both houses to the composition of the board of mediation and provided a permanent commission to deal with railroad disputes.

The pathway was cleared for prompt action in both houses. Senator Kern telephoning from the White House, would have the senate adjourn until tomorrow, instead of Thursday, as contemplated, and Representative Clayton announced that he would move to take from the speaker's table his bill, to the new amendments in conformity with the Newlands bill in the senate would be attached.

The president later announced that he would sign a measure such as agreed upon.

A permanent mediation board.

The perfected bill will create the United States board of mediation and conciliation, to be composed of a committee of mediators and arbitrators appointed by the president with the consent of the senate, with a salary of $7,500 and a tenure of seven years, and not more than two other facts from the government already appointed by the president with the consent of the senate who shall be designated by him as the two other members of the board.

There also would be an assistant commissioner with a salary of $5,000 authorized to act in the commissioner's absence. For the settlement of controversies as they might arise the measure would provide for boards of arbitration of six or three to be selected with the help of the board of mediators and conciliation wherever necessary. The latter board would pass upon any disagreements among the arbitrators. Awards made by the board would be executed by the federal courts, with which appeals could be filed.

The president said he would name the new commission quickly as possible, and that the contending parties had assured him that they would await legislative action.

LANDSDOWNE ASKS GOVERNMENT TO WITHDRAW IT AND HOLD REFERENDUM

WILL ACCEPT RESULT

(Canadian Press.)

London, July 14.—The home rule bill for Ireland came up today before the house of lords for second reading, the second time under the provisions of the parliament act which permits the passage of bills over the heads of the peers within a specified period.

The main interest in the re-appearance of the bill in the house of lords lies in the possible developments of Lord Lansdowne's motion, which begs, "That this house doth not proceed with the consideration of the bill until it has been submitted to the judgment of the country."

The Marquis of Crewe, secretary of state for India, and Liberal leader in the house of lords, in moving the second reading, remarked that the government regarded the opposition motion as a demonstration against the parliament act rather than as one against home rule.

Lord Lansdowne, in presenting his motion, remarked that if the house read the bill a second time it would be tantamount to accepting the principle of the parliament act, and would be an acquiescence in "the treatment which has been meted out to this house." In his opinion this could not be done without loss of self-respect.

Lord Lansdowne invited the government to withdraw the home rule bill from the operation of the parliament act, and before it became law, to discontinue parliament and refer it to the electors by means of a referendum. The opposition, he promised, would accept that verdict.

Carson Changes Tactics

Montreal, July 13.—A special London cable says:

Sir Edward Carson's forecast of the appointment of a provisional government for Ulster is a welcome change from the threats of blood and revolution which he has all along been making. "At the same time, it is not expected that the forecast will be fulfilled. A provisional government requires practical unanimity, and how can this be assured when Ulster returns a majority of Nationalist members? The question of the birthplaces of electors living in Ulster would also be a drawback to such a government."

Then again, it is hardly likely that Orangemen would pay sufficient taxes to carry on what after all would be a sham government.

"Ulster must not forget that revolution breeds revolution," said a leading Irish parliamentarian to the media.

BALKAN STRUGGLE TO END BY EXHAUSTION

Bulgaria Cries for Help in Vain

Sir Edward Grey Declares Powers Cannot Force Peace—Turkey Within Her Rights—Greece and Serbia Determined to Wage War Against Bulgars Without Mercy.

(Canadian Press.)

London, July 14.—That the Balkan struggle will end by a process of mutual exhaustion seems the only hope that Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, is able to hold out. In a statement in the house of commons tonight he said that mere words were not likely to affect the situation, and it would be most difficult for the European powers to resort to force to impose peace.

Neither Serbia nor Greece has paid any attention to Russia's proposal that they cease hostilities. They appear determined to negotiate peace with Bulgaria only on the field, without intervention by any third party, and unless Bulgaria proves amenable, it is believed that an advance will be made upon Sofia to enforce acceptance of the Serbo-Greek terms.

Serious fighting for the time being is suspended, but the advance of the Turkish and Roumanian troops continues without opposition. A Belgrade report says that the Serbians on Sunday captured an important position eight miles west of Kustendil.

According to the Athens correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, Greece and Serbia signed a secret treaty last May, binding them to prosecute a war, which was then frozen, with Bulgaria until the Bulgars acquiesced in the territorial arrangements laid down in the treaty. If these arrangements the eastern boundaries of Greece would be extended to the Aegean Sea, and the coast of the Aegean Sea at two points.

Greeks Chasing Bulgarians.

Saloniki, July 14.—Greek troops today occupied the town of Melnik, 55 miles northeast of Saloniki and are advancing toward the Bulgarian frontier. The Bulgarians further retreated to Dimitriev close to the famous pass, which the Greek commanders anticipate that the next big fight will take place on Bulgarian territory.

Russia Disarms Bulgarian Warriors.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—A Bulgarian gunboat and several torpedo boats lying in the harbor of Sebastopol which had taken refuge from the Roumanian fleet, were disarmed today by the Russian authorities, and twenty-four hours grace allowed to belligerents having expired.

Bulgaria Seeks Armistice.

Belgrade, July 14.—Only outpost engagements along the frontier occurred today. It is reported that Bulgaria has made direct overtures to Serbia for an armistice.

Turkish Troops Advancing.

Constantinople, July 14.—The Turkish delegates to the Balkans financial commission at Paris have been recalled. The Turkish army are continuing their advance and have arrived at the Sillir-Belgrade forest line. Ever Bey's forces have occupied Forost.

It is understood a Serbo-Turkish agreement has been reported, but that it is awaiting ratification from Belgrade before being signed.

Bulgarians Effect "Splendid Retreat."

Sofia, July 14.—It is confirmed that General Ivanoff has effected a "splendid retreat." Serbo-Turkish forces are being issued, accusing the Greeks of setting fire to the town of Seres and declaring that the Bulgarians attempted vainly to get the fire under control. Other statements charge the Greeks with wholesale massacres and atrocities at Seres and elsewhere in Macedonia.

Cannot Force Peace, Says Grey.

London, July 14.—In the house of commons tonight, Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, replying to a suggestion that an armistice should be forced on the Balkan states, said that it was impossible to exaggerate the horror of the war, but mere words were not likely to affect the situation and it would be most difficult for the concert of Europe to resort to force to impose peace.

Bulgaria had asked Russia to aid her in securing peace, and Serbia and Greece had agreed to cease hostilities upon certain conditions. As to Turkey, no explanation could be taken to her action, so long as she adhered to the Enos-Midra line.

The essential thing for the powers, said the foreign secretary, was to perfect and maintain an agreement. The war was so exhaustive that it could not be of long duration, and no complications ought to arise endangering the European concert.

There was every reason to believe, he concluded, that matters would be brought to a satisfactory termination.

HOME RULE BILL BEFORE THE LORDS

Earl of Crewe Says Real Opposition is to Parliament Bill—Sir Edward Carson Drops Bloodthirsty Threats and Makes Forecast of First Irish Government.

BARTENDERS OF R. & O. STEAMERS FINED $1,400

Toronto, July 14.—Fourteen hundred dollars was the amount paid by Toronto police court today as fines imposed on the wine clerks on seven of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company's passenger steamers which ply from this port. The clerks summoned belonged to the steamers Caraga, Chiopwa, and Corone, of the Niagara fleet, the Kingspan, Toronto and Rochester, of the division and the Chloera of the Ojibwa line and none were present personally, all being represented by T. C. Roberts, K. C.

Drowned Trying to Save Two Children

Oakville, Ont., July 14.—Geo. Ochtang was drowned in Lake Ontario off Howard avenue, Oakville, shortly before 12 o'clock, while swimming out to save two children in a punt which was drifting out into the lake.

FOURTEEN DEAD IN CALIFORNIA WRECK

Hundred and Fifty Injured

Toronto Man Among the Killed and a Woman Badly Hurt

(Canadian Press.)

Los Angeles, July 14.—Fourteen persons are dead as a result of the wreck of a Vinyard station last night, when two Pacific electric trains collided. The number of injured was said tonight to exceed 150. Several of these are in a precarious condition. Two bodies, those of a man and a woman, have not been identified. The revised list of the dead follows:

Edna Altar, secretary Associated Charities, Pasadena (Cal.)
Ollie W. Azley, Bakersfield (Cal.)
Jacob Marmon, Los Angeles.
F. Gonniguchi, Japanese, Los Angeles.
Sidney Johnston, Youngstown, Ohio.
Miss Veronica Miller, Los Angeles.
Edward Murray, Toronto, Canada.
J. Carl Murray, Los Angeles.
Mrs. C. C. Norman, Los Angeles.
William Taylor, Pasadena.
Unidentified man, about 35 years old.
Unidentified woman, about 25 years old.

Among the injured are:
S. B. Craig, Detroit (Mich.), internal injuries.
Mrs. Irene Gray, Detroit (Mich.), body crushed.
Nellie Murray, Toronto, Canada, nose broken.

Blame Trainmen for Disastrous Collision at Los Angeles—Many Others Are Not Likely to Recover.

Officials of the Pacific electric road assert that the blame for the disaster lies between Conductor Emil Bartholomew, of the standing train, and Motor-man Joseph Forrester, of the one that crashed into it. The conductor insists that he warned a full-length in front of Forrester's train in plenty of time for the latter to have stopped had he heeded the signal. Forrester, who was found today at his home, slightly injured, declared he did not see the lantern until within 600 feet of the standing train. This distance, he declared, was so short that his brakes failed to stop the train. Before the state railway commission officials of the road stopped a train of cars the same type within 600 feet. A coroner's inquest will begin tomorrow.

TERRIFIC CLOUDBURST HITS CENTRAL OHIO

Streams Become Raging Torrents and Much Destruction of Property Ensued—Railways Tied Up and Damage Will Be Heavy.

Columbus, O., July 14.—Railroad and interurban traffic out of Columbus will be paralyzed by a cloudburst which swept a large part of Central Ohio early today. Small rivers and creeks were swelled into raging torrents which resulted in washing out bridges, causing landslides and doing other damage. At Zanesville, the temporary bridge of the Baltimore & Ohio went out during the night. This is the only connecting link Zanesville has with the west. The Muskingum river is said to have risen nine feet during the night.

Pennsylvania service between Columbus and the west was paralyzed during the night. A Baltimore & Ohio train from New York and Pittsburgh due in Columbus early today derailed at Cambridge on account of washouts. It was still there at 10 o'clock this morning.

Mulhall's correspondence told of the efforts to re-elect former Congressman Littlefield, of Maine, and defeat the present representative from that district, Daniel J. McGillicuddy. Littlefield was to be supported by the National Association of Manufacturers because of his stand against labor legislation. Mulhall said on cross-examination that he had been told that $60,000 was spent in the campaign. Littlefield was beaten.

Mulhall's letters went into detail concerning the campaign he made in Maryland to beat former Congressman Pearce, of Cumberland. Pearce was another "objection bill" and Mulhall and other agents went out to get his political scalp.

Just before the committee adjourned, the letters began to show Mulhall's activities after Marshall Cushing, the secretary of the association with whom he had corresponded so long, had resigned "on leaving resignation." Mulhall declared, "because he said no self-respecting politician could report on lobby work."

Mulhall said Cushing resigned in the spring of 1907 to the late James W. Van Cleave, then president of the association, who wanted full reports of all his work. The committee read several letters from Mulhall to Van Cleave in which the "lobbyist" showed that he did not care so much for Cushing after the secretary left the association.

Some of the letters read earlier in the day showed that Mulhall had been known to the late Vice-President James S. Sherman, who in 1907 was chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee. In a letter he wrote on July 1907, to Mr. Sherman, Mulhall said he was going west and call on the Hon. James E. Watson, of the sixth Indiana district, and that he intended to look up members of the organization in that district.

N. W. Howell made this statement on the result:

"My information convinces me that the result in North Grey was due to the open combination between the Whitney government and the liquor interests with unlimited financial resources at their disposal. For the sake of Mr. McQuaker, who was an exceptionally fine type of candidate and the workers who stood so valiantly by him, I regret the result. The loss of the seat, however, will have its compensations if it helps to awaken the people of the province to the undoubted fact of an offensive and defensive alliance between the Whitney government and the liquor interests. When the people realize that this combination exists I don't believe they will stand for it."

MRS. PANKHURST WANTS FREEDOM OR DEATH

Militant Leader Breaks Terms of Release and Defies Authorities—Spoke at Suffragette Meeting and a Lively Battle Follows—Escapes Arrest By Speed of Auto—Another Amazon Auctions Her Tickets of Leave and Is Captured.

(Canadian Press.)

London, July 14.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the leader of the suffragettes, made her escape from the police today under exciting circumstances.

With Miss Annie Kenney, one of the most ardent of the militants, she appeared this afternoon at a meeting of the Women's Social and Political Union.

Both women, although they were suffering severely from the effects of their recent hunger strike in prison, delivered stirring addresses. Mrs. Pankhurst announced she would rather die than submit to the government.

Mrs. Pankhurst said she had come against her doctor's orders, but that if she was well enough to be tortured in prison by Regina McKenna, the home secretary, she was also well enough to attend a meeting of her comrades.

She leaned heavily on a table as she addressed a few fervent sentences to the audience. She said:

"I am a rebel as Sir Edward Carson is. Both of us are rebels because there is no other way open to us to redress our grievances. I would sooner be a rebel than a slave. I would rather die than submit. I mean to be a voter in the land of my birth or die. My challenge to the government is: 'Give me freedom or kill me.'"

PLURAL VOTING BILL PASSES BRITISH HOUSE

London, July 14.—The bill to abolish plural voting at elections in the British Isles passed its third reading in the house of commons tonight after a motion to reject the bill had been defeated 309 to 222.

This bill passed its first reading on April 8 by a vote of 309 to 107. It embodies the principle of "one man, one vote."

NOTED LOBBYIST ON THE STAND

Mulhall Tells of His Activities in Behalf of the Big "Interests"

AMAZES AUDIENCE

Reels Off the Names of Washington Legislators and Others and Identifies 600 Letters from Employers—Relates of Campaign to Elect Anti-Labor Congressman.

(Canadian Press.)

Washington, July 14.—Martin M. Mulhall, confessed field agent, strike-breaker, lobbyist, and political worker for the National Association of Manufacturers, continued today his remarkable story for the senate lobby investigation committee.

Mulhall was on the stand for six hours. In that time nearly 500 letters, telegrams and scraps of memoranda were identified by him, with hardly more than a glance.

He remembered apparently the first names of members of congress, of lesser politicians, of labor leaders and underlings, of secretaries to congressmen, and of all the men he had worked with throughout a year of most active campaigning in many parts of the country.

His performance seemed so remarkable that lawyers present that they sat and watched a long day intently watching the witness and listening closely to the letters and every word that the witness uttered in his brief cross-examination that accompanied some of them.

The senate committee devoted today largely to reading into the record the present evidence against Mulhall.

There was an occasional reference to strikes in which the "lobbyist" had figured, and an allusion now and then to the industrial campaign he conducted, but for the most part it was a story of politics as Mulhall played the game.

Spent $60,000 in Maine Election.

Mulhall's correspondence told of the efforts to re-elect former Congressman Littlefield, of Maine, and defeat the present representative from that district, Daniel J. McGillicuddy. Littlefield was to be supported by the National Association of Manufacturers because of his stand against labor legislation. TORIES WIN IN NORTH GREY

Owen Sound Majority Elected Cameron—Views of the Leaders.

Owen Sound, July 14.—By a majority of 278 North Grey today elected Colin S. Cameron to represent it in the legislature. It was the vote in the town of Owen Sound that defeated John McQuaker, the Liberal candidate, as the town gave Mr. Cameron a majority of 12.

Toronto, July 14.—On hearing the returns from North Grey tonight Sir James Whitney said:

"It is a magnificent victory and a very far-reaching one, indeed."

Hon. W. J. Hanna (over the long-distance telephone from his home in Sarnia) said:

"The electors of North Grey did what anyone would have expected. They were fully acquainted with the issues and the hypocrisy of the leaders of the Liberal party who went into North Grey to agitate the electors. There was no mistaking, from the time the electors got busy, what they were going to do."

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 16, 1913.

SENATOR ELLIS.

St. John loses another distinguished and widely esteemed citizen by the death of Senator John V. Ellis, editor of the Globe, which took place Thursday.

While Mr. Ellis had been falling for some time, and while it was feared that his end was approaching, news of his death even at his advanced age, after a life of steady industry and usefulness, will cause a shock throughout the great circle of his acquaintances and among all who knew him personally or by reputation as a legislator or as a journalist.

For a much longer time than falls to the lot of most newspaper men, Senator Ellis had edited and directed the policy of his own journal, and for many years he has been one of the oldest and best known of Canadian writers for the press. A man of marked independence of thought, a close student of affairs, a wide and thoughtful reader, Mr. Ellis exercised in his day no little influence upon the views and thoughts of others, but he did not hesitate to continue on his own way if he found that some refused to follow. When convinced of the soundness of his own opinions he neither readily abandoned them nor gave over their public advocacy.

Beginning as a lad in a printing shop, he spent almost his entire life in and about a newspaper office, but during his mature years he took an active part in public affairs in the House of Commons and the Senate, and during the political campaigns which his party conducted he was an active and vigorous exponent of his political views. Of late years he had drifted somewhat out of line with the Liberal party, and time, apparently, had somewhat modified his earlier views with respect to the future political development and course of the Dominion, but always it could be said of him that he set forth his opinions with moderation and with persistence.

He was a friend of many good causes, and never hesitated to give generously from his private purse to further them. He was a conspicuous figure in Masonic circles, and was held in high esteem by the members of that order. A man of dignity and of benevolent appearance, the figure of Mr. Ellis has been a familiar in the streets of St. John for nearly half a century, and it is no commonplace to say that the citizens, among whom he was active and respected so long, will miss him greatly and will mourn his death sincerely. The surviving members of his family will have in their hour of sharp bereavement a great outpouring of respectful public sympathy.

Mr. Home-Payne gave the address he did for the purpose of paving the way for larger and better loans to the Canadian Northern and other railway corporations in which he is said to be heavily interested. In his speech he said: "Great harm has been done, but I think the turning point is well in sight. It is being made increasingly evident that British investors will take no more city bonds, and when that is once realized on the other side of the Atlantic there will be no more expensive attempts to force issues on this market, and other Canadian investments will gradually recover their popularity and their prices to their merits. With the exception of these difficulties in city finance, and the troubles of a few small enterprises, there is nothing to cause the least anxiety in connection with Canada. On the contrary, the prosperity of the Dominion is very great, and my advice to you is to leave municipal securities severely alone and to take this opportunity of investing all the money you can in those securities. Canadian investments in municipal investments which have recently fallen most heavily in price, I repeat that there never will be a more favorable opportunity than this to secure a high rate of interest, with the certainty of a great increase of capital in the course of a few years."

Sir William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern, says Mr. Home-Payne spoke only for himself, and Sir William has been advised to inform his friend that next time, before speaking, he should think of the harm such ill-considered observations are likely to do to the country in the prosperity of which his own fortunes are so deeply involved. Mr. Home-Payne's speech was an unjust assault on the credit of Canadian borrowers, and was manifestly absurd. The municipal borrowings of the Dominion have been relatively large during the last few years, but, excepting those of a few western towns, no larger than was warranted by the actual expansion of business. Canada is full of ambition, as a young and rich country should be, and doubtless the feeling of uncertainty or suspense in the money market is a temporary thing. Indeed some good judges are now saying that the end of the period of tight money is coming sooner than was anticipated a month ago.

THE SMALL COLLEGES. The federal bureau of education in the United States, after a survey of conditions, has issued a bulletin in which the opinion is expressed that there is an excess of colleges, and that a proper remedy is to consolidate many of the smaller institutions. It is felt that undue competition is not bringing the best results, and that education would benefit if combinations could be effected among the weaker universities.

There is a growing feeling among well-informed people that we have too many colleges in the Maritime Provinces. There has been considerable discussion in the past with respect to a possible union of the leading Maritime universities, but without results, though no one doubts that there is a needless duplication of educational effort in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. A great amount of money is tied up in separate plants and equipment which could be used to far better advantage if the efforts of all the small colleges were concentrated in one large and prosperous university which would rank with the leading educational institutions in Canada.

Many motives that have governed founders and supporters of colleges in the past are less controlling today, and loyalty of alumni and recurring solicitation of the leading Maritime universities, as really corresponds to the conditions. It cannot be disputed that a large number of young students from the Maritime Provinces go direct to Upper Canada and American universities for engineering and scientific courses, who would not think of doing so if a consolidation of our own small colleges were brought about, thereby making it possible to equip laboratories equal to those of McGill, Toronto and Queen's. There does not seem to be much hope of such a union in the near future, but there is a strong feeling that a merger would be a sagacious move.

UNJUST AND INDISCREET. Mr. Home-Payne, head of the British Empire Trust Company, and London representative of the Canadian Northern Railway, who, speaking in London recently, advised British investors to boycott all Canadian municipal bonds, must realize now that his statements were uncalled for and indiscreet, for he has been severely criticized by financial men who are in a position to know the facts. Early reports of his speech, cabled to Canada, were to the effect that he had condemned the action of certain Western towns in actually spending money before they had raised the money, and there seemed to be some grounds for his criticism. A full report of the address, however, shows that he urged the capitalists in Great Britain to have nothing more to do with the securities of any Canadian municipality, east or west. As a direct result of this advice, it is believed, a recent Montreal issue was turned down in the London market.

Mr. Home-Payne's judgment has been condemned not only by scores of financial men in Canada, but by many prominent London bankers as well. Sir Frederick Williams Taylor, manager of the Bank of Montreal in London, Franklin Jones, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in that city, Mr. Dainford of the Royal Bank, and Mr. Rabe of the Union Bank, stoutly dispute his assertions, and declare that Canadian municipal bonds, especially those of the East, are sound investments and very attractive at present prices. The London Financial News tells the British investors to pay little attention to the advice offered by the Canadian Northern representative, and says that, all things considered, there seem to be few sounder securities in the financial world than the bonds and debentures of Canadian municipalities.

It is intimated in some quarters that the person is in general better than the institution. In fact, if we set our hearts upon having a righteous state, we can have one more righteous than any individual. The individual is changeable, impulsive, warm, fresh, plastic, and in some ways may grow faster than the institution, but the institution has the stored and sober and tried goodness of the ages, and the deposit, little by little, of what has been found practicable in wayward human ideals. The institution has the wisdom of the gray-haired father, and the wisdom of the child in comparison. The political state and the church with their vast and venerable strength, their ancient customs and symbols, should find the way to a high morality comparatively easy and the way to dishonor and low ethics difficult.

WHY NOT? The esteemed Standard misunderstands or misrepresents the position of this journal with respect to Imperial preference and Imperial co-operation, and if we mistake not, is misunderstands or misrepresents its own position also. An immediate step along the line of Imperial co-operation would be an increase in the British preference. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association has warned Mr. Borden that the British preference must not be increased. Mr. Borden has taken no step to increase it, and we have not seen in the columns of the Standard any argument favoring the increase. Meantime, our contemporary expresses delight because Mr. Borden Law and some of his followers have agreed upon a fiscal policy which is designed to avoid Mr. Chamberlain's objectionable food taxes. The Standard is mistaken in supposing that The Telegraph has not referred to this "latest" policy of the Unionists, for only a short time ago, we printed with some satisfaction Mr. Asquith's merciless dissection of Mr. Law's plan to give the Dominion a preference on manufactures. If the Standard has not followed the Prime Minister's exposure of Mr. Borden Law's scheme it is scarcely in a position to estimate its value. But, in the interval, why not increase the British preference?

THE END IS NOT YET. The Colchester Sun, Conservative, has again taken the unpopular Borden government to task, and this time it warns the Premier that there is bound to be a serious trouble over Hon. Mr. Cochrane's high-handed action in ignoring the rights of the Maritime Provinces with respect to intercolonial freight rates.

"What is wrong with Hon. Mr. Cochrane?" the Sun asks. "He is undoubtedly not pleasing to those with whom he comes in contact. His coming and going reminds one of a hail storm in July—leaving a withered path in its wake. He was a success in his own right, but he has not reached the point of rebellion among the Maritime Provinces people. It is the honorable gentleman who is too self-opinionated to bluff in his manner? We doubt not that Hon. Mr. Cochrane has some high regard for his own position. He is I. R. C. but if he is casting his management of the road from the private corporation road standpoint then he is not, nor never, will please the people of these provinces. Not because they are unreasonable, but because they understand the terms of Confederation and expect them to be carried out. Mr. Cochrane cannot see that point, then so much the worse for both himself and the government."

NOTE AND COMMENT. Something must be the matter. It hasn't rained in this particular burg for two whole days—Lethbridge News. And Lethbridge is in "Sunny Alberta."

SCHOOL HYGIENE. We are reminded every now and then of our ineffectiveness in applying the knowledge of sanitary science to public health. Sanitary science has made rapid strides in every direction since the discovery of disease microbes by Louis Pasteur in 1864, and thousands of lives have been saved from tuberculosis, diphtheria, cholera and other ravaging diseases. But these advances are of little consequence if the citizens are not instructed concerning ways and means of preventing disease; if they are not taught how to dispose of waste in houses, and if sanitary rules are not inculcated in the minds of children.

A health inspector for our schools is one of the needs of the city at present. In recent years an increasing amount of attention has been given to this important question in the United States and Europe. Among the Canadian cities, Vancouver stands out for its effective organization. In Norway and Sweden children are regularly examined and those needing it are provided with medicine and tonic free of charge. In Belgium medical inspection is regular and thorough in most schools. For example,

In Brussels every child in the public elementary schools is medically examined once in every ten days. In France medical inspection is regular, and glasses are supplied to the children needing them. In this country where the people of nearly all classes, and particularly the poorer classes, dose themselves with medicines until it has become a notable form of intemperance, the only method of effective reform is through the children in the public schools. It has been found also that an enormous number of boys who have been punished for truancy and other irregularities are suffering from physical defects which a wonderful examination would reveal and medicine would remove. They are being punished for irregularities for which they are not morally responsible, and their usefulness in after life is seriously impaired. In all probability many of them will become criminals, and yet it is reasonably probable that a whole generation would change their whole course of life and set them on the right road to health and usefulness.

Dr. Quincy shows how a brutal beating inflicted on his gifted brother in school drove him forth a wanderer on the face of the earth; and how he himself, for lack of a dose of simple medicine at his family and home, was estranged from his family and friends, and how he became the most renowned of all the victims of opium. On an examination some years ago, of the school children in the borough of Manhattan it was found that out of 78,401 examined, 68,869 required surgical or medical treatment. The great majority requiring treatment were backward in studies and from one to five years behind the grade to which they should naturally belong. Experience has sufficiently demonstrated that when a child is intractable or deficient, and is at the same time suffering from a removable physical defect, the removal of that defect would almost immediately work a wonderful change both in deportment and ability. The matter deserves the most careful attention of all who are interested in the education and training of children. The amount of light supplied the pupil and the direction in which the light comes is of the highest importance. It seems folly to ask parents to supply books for children, if they are hurting their eyes in trying to read them, or place things on the blackboard which children cannot see half way down the room. If the sight is defective, and glasses have not been supplied, the child is hopelessly handicapped. Medical inspection would, in many cases, greatly remove defects in children which we now regard as stupid or incorrigible. St. John has now promised the beginning of medical inspection next year. It should be thorough.

Lady Sackville gets two and a half millions, the lawyers fifty thousand, and British society a new sensation, while even those who best themselves are able to worry along on a million or so.—Toronto Globe.

Lady Sackville gets the millions and it is not difficult to imagine the heart-burnings that follow.

The failure of a Pittsburgh bank, carrying $35,000,000 in deposits, gives new light on the art of gambling. The bankers were juggling a water company and the Banking Department did not go to the rescue until the game had been carried on for years. That is the explaining fact. The backing of such ventures with other people's money is not banking.

Here's a hint for our Canadian parliamentarians from across the border. A California Journal says: "General Leonard Wood says we need an army of 600,000 men to properly defend the country. His recent speeches indicate that he would favor making business and the arts merely incidental in America."

And that would be a little awkward, wouldn't it?

An enterprising newspaper man in Paris asked Mr. Herrick, the American Ambassador, what he intended to do in regard to Jack Johnson's arrival in France. The ambassador, with a twinkle in his eye, replied: "I can only say that I have decided not to go to meet him." It is supposed that neither Mr. Herrick nor the French government will make any effort to have the black prize-fighter sent back to America.

The humorists will not let Colonel Roosevelt alone. He is now going to Africa on a bear-hunting expedition, and as soon as it was announced that he would take up the strenuous life again several newspapers re-published the biographical lines: At six o'clock he shoots a bear. At seven he tames a native horse. At eight o'clock he takes the air.—He doesn't take it all, of course.

Hon. George Eulas Foster is now supposed to be in China, probably attempting to negotiate a reciprocity treaty. Mr. Foster and his political friends regard trade with China as desirable, but they shudder at the thought of New Brunswickers transacting more business with New England. Well, let us all hope Mr. Foster is enjoying himself. He cannot do much good in China; but on the other hand he cannot do much harm. And he cannot run away from the real trade issue—that of larger markets near home.

Truro, N. S., July 11.—The Colchester Sun (Conservative) says: Dissatisfaction respecting and against the policy of J. C. Borden has been conducted these days in deep-rooted and widespread. It has nearly reached the point where something must give way more so than by the employees of the road, from one end to the other, are straining at the leash and the pathways of members supporting the government are strewn with thistles rather than roses, and the worst of it is the trouble is not of their making but that of officials appointed by the Laurier government, who the people on the 21st of September, 1911, said they did not want any longer but who nevertheless Hon. Mr. Cochrane persisted in keeping at the head of the affairs of the road.

We warned the government long ago that unless there was a change THE STORM WOULD BREAK. If what one hears is correct, IT IS NOW OVERHEADING IN THIS COUNTY AND MAY BREAK AT ANY MINUTE.

Many Amend Offered to But the Stand Not a Unit Opposition.

Washington, July 11.—The Underwood-Simons bill, with its lengthy reduced rates on all commodities will actuate senate next Wednesday.

On Monday, however, a bill on the Democratic side was introduced by Senator McCook, who will schedule the bill. The bill is expected to be passed by the Senate on Tuesday.

Chairman Simmons, Democrats at the time of the bill, declared that the bill was a measure of expediency, and that it was not intended to be a permanent law.

Republicans not a unit in their opposition to the bill. There probably will be reports by Senators Lodge, McCumber, and a separate report by Senator McCook, who is at work on the bill, amendments that will be a new measure.

Senator Simmons was reported to be in favor of the bill, but he is expected to vote against it. The bill is expected to be passed by the Senate on Tuesday.

HOW ONTARIO SPEND AGRICULTURE AID FROM

Toronto, July 11.—The sum of $1,000,000 for the province in 1913 to agriculture, passed by the Ontario legislature, was announced by the minister of agriculture, Mr. D. C. Munro, in a speech in the provincial assembly.

Following consideration of the bill, the Ontario legislature will adjourn until the 15th of the month.

For this year the Ontario legislature has decided to hold a special session in the month of August to consider the bill.

These are our sentiments, and we are prepared to stand or fall by them.

Truro, N. S., July 11.—The Colchester Sun (Conservative) says: Disaffection respecting the way the affairs of the province are being conducted these days is deep-rooted and widespread. It has nearly reached the point where something must give way.

We warned the government long ago that unless there was a change THE STORM would break if it was not headed in the right direction. It is now over-head in this country.

It is said that the local members, Mr. Stanfield and Mr. R. H. Kennedy, have both "taken a holiday" from St. John unless there is a change right quickly.

It is declared by Conservative members that the resignation of Mr. Cochrane has been turned down, that Conservatives in the employ of the road have been treated in such a way as to cause them to resign, and that they are now speaking, and causing them to entertain bitter feelings against the government.

All this while Liberals sit back and laugh and blame them for doing so, for Mr. Cochrane is making more votes for them than a hundred speeches of Mr. Stanfield.

Not only have the employees been made angry but the public along the line as well, and in no way more so than by the dumping of the coal strings that were attached to the locomotives.

Mr. Stanfield, asked if it was true that he would resign unless there was a change in the provincial government, he said that he would not, but he would not deny the fact that he was not in the employ of the road, neither confirmed nor denied the report.

He said that he was not in the employ of the road, neither confirmed nor denied the report. He said that he was not in the employ of the road, neither confirmed nor denied the report.

When the outlook in this country and province appears black to the Conservative party, they wait into the light and hand, won the county and broke the old "eighteen," which was the beginning of the end of the Laurier government.

Since then they have won three elections for the party, two for the dominion and one for the province. They have done that by being persevering, discouraging, to them to have THREE RECOMMENDATIONS, MANY OF THEM, TURNED DOWN BY OFFICIALS who, to say the least, were opposed to them when single-handed fighting and winning battles for the party as above enumerated.

If Hon. Mr. Cochrane and his pet officials think they can hold this county for the government the sooner they resign the better for the province. Having done that, they will be better for all concerned, the sooner the minister will wake up and find out just where he is at.

The sooner someone who has the premier's ear gives him the story of the true state of affairs the better.

For our own part we do not believe in the right honorable gentleman. We are properly informed, respecting the matter, and it is a pity that such a great man, so useful to Canada and the Empire, should be hindered by his own pet officials in whom two years ago the people expressed want of confidence from the public office standpoint.

We quite readily understand that there are lots of Conservatives who will roundly abuse us for thus "speaking out in public," but they are of that class who "hush" until a government is defeated and then blame every person but themselves for its defeat.

It was only the other day when there was indication that a Laurier appointee was to be removed from the service, that a leading Conservative paper expressed sympathy with the official and hoped the government would not displace him by his services.

It is a pity that such a great man, so useful to Canada and the Empire, should be hindered by his own pet officials in whom two years ago the people expressed want of confidence from the public office standpoint.

TARIFF BATTLE OPENS WEDNESDAY

Expected to Last a Month or More

Republicans Disclaim Any Intention of Obstruction

Many Amendments Will Be Offered to the Schedules But the Stand Patters Are Not a Unit in Regard to Opposition.

Washington, July 11.—Discussion of the Underwood-Simons tariff revision bill, with its lengthy free list, greatly reduced rates on all commodities and its new system of ad valorem instead of specific rates will actually begin in the senate next Wednesday at noon.

On Monday, however, the opening assault on the Democratic measure will be made by Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, who will speak on the agricultural schedule. The finance committee agreed that he should be given the floor ahead of the formal opening, because he is obliged to leave Washington Monday night.

Chairman Simmons, speaking for the Democrats at the finance committee today, said that the bill would be concluded in five weeks, and Senator Smoot, of the minority, agreed with him, declaring that the Republicans had no intention of purposely prolonging the debate.

Republicans Not a Unit. There probably will be two minority reports. Senators Penrose, Root, Lodge, McCumber, Gallinger and Clark, and a separate report by Senator La Follette, who has had no voice in the work on the bill, and who will have amendments that will constitute practically a new measure.

Senator Smoot is proposing a new wool schedule which he intends to submit as an amendment Monday. Senator Simmons will file the majority report and make the opening argument for the Democrats on Monday afternoon.

As reported to the senate, the bill contains comparatively few changes from that which was reported three weeks ago to the Democratic caucus by the finance committee majority. Among these are a few changes in rates and the free listing of many raw materials, costing less than forty cents a pound, cast iron pipes of every description, iron bars, gunpowder and a few other commodities, swelling the long list of articles free-listed by the committee previously and the already long list in the new bill.

One amendment not heretofore announced makes sinecure one of all kinds dutiable at 15 per cent, an increase from 10 per cent over the invoice bill. The amendment provides that all imports of sine-bearing ores the duties shall be estimated at the port of entry and a bond given in double, the amount of the estimated duty for transporting the ores to smelting or refining establishments, where they shall be assayed by agents of the government and the duties liquidated by customs officers.

Another amendment made necessary because of changing the date from January 1st to March 1st, 1914, from which income shall be computed for the income tax for the first year, provides that the excise corporation tax of one per cent shall be levied on the months of January and February, 1913. The income tax could not be assessed for these months because such tax did not become a law until February 25, 1913.

The cotton futures stamp tax of one-tenth of a cent per pound is inserted in the bill as a special section, and upon this tax it is expected the government will derive some revenue, as its most sanguine supporters do not expect that the bill will entirely eliminate stock gambling in cotton futures.

How Ontario Will Spend Agricultural Aid From Dominion. Toronto, July 11.—Ontario has received the sum of $100,000 as the share of this province in the new federal aid to agriculture, passed by the dominion parliament upon the report and recommendation of Dr. C. C. James, formerly deputy minister of agriculture for Ontario. In accordance with the conditions of the act, the money was transmitted to the provincial government for expenditure on the conditions named.

Following consideration by the provincial government it has been decided to utilize a larger portion of the grant this year in amplifying and making permanent the summer school for teachers at the Guelph Agricultural College.

FARMERS TO GET U. S. MONEY AT LOW INTEREST

New Bill Provides for Building and Loan Plan

CUT RATE IN MAY

Associations of 25 Farmers or More to Be Allowed to Borrow from Government for 20 Years at Low Rates of Interest on Mortgages Upon Their Farms.

Washington, July 12.—Representative Hulings of Pennsylvania today introduced in the house a bill providing for farmers' loan associations. The bill provides a plan whereby an association of not less than twenty-five farmers may borrow only from the government at low rates of interest on mortgages upon their farms, repaying the loan in payments arranged to give the farmer ample time.

The subscribers organize the association somewhat as national banks are organized, pay 10 per cent in cash and in addition give their notes payable to trustees for the use of the United States. The amount of their subscriptions and these notes are secured by mortgages on improved farm lands of an assessed valuation of double the amount of the mortgage.

Notes for Security. As a collateral security for the payment of any or all of these instalments the subscribers' personal notes and mortgages are deposited with the secretary of the association, and the faithful discharge of their duties and approved assurances with mortgages are a valid security.

The association is in proper shape to place the personal notes and mortgages in the possession of the trustees for the purpose of collection as the same fall due and from these collections to pay maturing instalments of the association note, and to see that taxes are paid and the liens of the mortgages are not impaired.

Much of the Ardent Smuggled in by All Sorts of Devices

MANY BIG SEIZURES Vessel Wrecked on Coast Was Loaded With Whiskey, and Officials Had a Stronous Time Capturing It—Bangor "Rum" Room Overflowing With Booze.

Bangor, Maine, July 12.—The Maine liquor war is reaching an acute stage. With the large supply of liquors, left on hand when the removal of four county sheriffs placed in motion the wheels of an enforcement of the prohibitory law in years, now practically exhausted dealers all over the state are taking all kinds of chances to procure and keep on hand a supply of wet goods for their customers.

There was a while following the beginning of the enforcement period that the initiated could procure a little better and a little added expense a quantity of the articles for sale. The dealers to all outward appearances closed shop they nevertheless retained the large stocks on hand and have been peddling them out by the quiet to trusted customers. Now the sheriffs are keeping watch on all the avenues of transportation and with the stock all gone it is hard to get new.

This condition has had its effect on the price of all liquors. The poorest of beer, when it can be procured, brings 25 cents a quart, all hard liquors are $1.75 and $2 a bottle, no matter what the quality, and as for straight ale, there is "there ain't no such animal." Those places that are making a pretense of doing any "business" at all are "dry" and making a chance of smuggling a little hard stuff out once in a while.

For the first time in years the club house of the Bangor Lodge of Elks is "dry." This condition is also true in other parts of the state.

Constant vigilance on the part of the sheriffs and their deputies is having its reward and from the number and size of the liquor seizures made during the latter part of the present week it looks as though the prohibition law is being enforced better than the better of the better that is now being waged with renewed vigor.

The officers do not hesitate to say that some of the "wet" dealers are making it their business to deal in it as a heavy expense.

All kinds of tricks and subterfuges are being resorted to in the effort to get the liquor into the state from the outside, and the ingenuity with which the attacks on the prohibition stronghold have been made is being resorted to with renewed vigor.

One night last week a big auto truck was intercepted in the little town of Wales near Lewiston by Sheriff Fred E. Stebbins, and his men, who were known as the Canadian border, and his deputies.

The truck contained seventy boxes in boxes packed in 8,000 plants of whisky, which was on its way from Boston to Augusta, the capital of the State.

The boxes were cleverly concealed by furniture, carpets, gymnasium mats, household goods and a large desk strapped on the rear.

"What have you aboard?" inquired the sheriff, when he had caught up with the truck after an exciting chase from Lewiston.

"Furniture," was the reply. "Furniture." "Nothing," returned the sheriff. "I can smell it. That's booze!"

"Then he arrested the outfit, and when the men were arraigned the federal government lawyer deputy marshal on hand in the interests of the Webb law.

A Big Seizure. There was another instance near Bangor where a record seizure was made. Sheriff O'Connell and his men got wind of the fact that a whole carload of whisky, direct from old Kentucky was coming into Bangor, and after a clever bit of detective work learned the number of the car.

They searched most of the freight yards in the vicinity of Bangor and finally located the car they wanted at the Hampden yard of the Bangor & Aroostook Railway, about eight miles from the city.

The car was opened and inside were 54 kegs containing in all 600 gallons of Kentucky whisky, valued at $1,612, on which there was a freight bill of $160 for transportation from the south. Hayricks and other vehicles were impressed into service and the whole carload was brought to Bangor and lodged in the "rum" room at the county jail, where it now remains. This is the record seizure of the present period of enforcement.

ORANGEMEN GO OUT OF CITY FOR GLORIOUS 12TH

St. John Lodge Swelled Crowd at Woodstock

THREE PICNICS

District Lodge Had Enjoyable Evening With Keenly Contested Sports—Orphans Entertained by Havelock Lodge—At Lorneville.

Woodstock was the great rendezvous for the local Orangemen on Saturday when the weather was fully in keeping with the traditional "gloriousness" of the Twelfth. Some 8,000 persons assembled there from St. John, Plaster Rock and St. Stephen, two special trains being run for the accommodation of the excursionists. The parade, which included members of many different lodges, was said to be the largest Orange procession ever known in Woodstock and it was estimated that about 800 men took part in it. Dominion Lodge, No. 141, of the North End, was the only St. John officially joining in this celebration.

Besides sports and baseball in the park other forms of entertainment were provided and the music of three bands added to the holiday atmosphere in order to celebrate the "Glorious Twelfth."

In some of the departments the applications for leave of absence to celebrate the Twelfth, was somewhat summarily refused, although a holiday was given, as usual, last month to French Canadian Catholics to celebrate St. Jean Baptiste Day.

The heads of the Orange order for the Ottawa district yesterday took the matter up with members of the government and today Hon. Dr. Reid, acting minister of public works, gave a somewhat belated order to the departmental heads to comply with the request of the Orangemen for a holiday tomorrow. Meanwhile, however, the incensed members of the order had made up their minds that they would take the day off whether the order was granted or not.

Hon. Col. Hughes, the chief Orangeman in the cabinet, is out of the city at present but on his return next week it is likely that some emphatic words will be spoken about equal rights for Protestants and Orangemen when it comes to holidays in the civil service.

Borden Gives Steel Trust a Free Hand. Borden's Point was also well patronized by the members of Havelock Lodge, No. 27, and their friends, of whom about 100 persons were present. The picnic from the Protestant Orphans' Home, who were invited to the picnic and for whom sports were held in the afternoon, both on land and water. Parties were brought to the picnic by the D. J. Purdy in the morning and the Champlain in the afternoon, and all returned in the evening in the motor boat after a most enjoyable day.

The Carleton Lodge chose Lorneville as their picnic ground, about 400 being present, mostly members of the Carleton Blues, No. 11, and the Lorneville Lodge, No. 29 and No. 121. Recorder Baxter and the county master, Wellington Turnbull, spoke.

NOVA SCOTIANS AFTER SHARE IN ESTATE OF MULTI-WILL TONNARE

Boston, July 11.—Informed through a letter published in a newspaper that he is heir to $100,000 as his share of the $460,000 estate of his deceased uncle, John S. Nason of 849 Ferry street, Halifax.

He has taken the trouble to read it through have been started. Here is the clause that has made people take notice. Enumerated in the list of things the new company may do, are: "To acquire by purchase, subscription, or otherwise, to hold, use, deal with, sell or otherwise dispose of stocks, bonds, or any other obligations of any corporation having objects similar or in part similar to the objects of this corporation, or formed for, or engaged in, or pursuing any one or more of the kinds of business purposes, objects, or operations above indicated, or carrying on any business capable of being conducted so as to directly or indirectly benefit this company, or owning or holding any property of any kind herein mentioned, or owning or holding the stocks, bonds or obligations of any such corporation notwithstanding the provisions of section 44 of the said act; and while owner of any such stocks, bonds, or obligations to exercise all the rights, powers, or privileges of ownership, and to exercise the vote and all voting powers thereon."

Under these sections any company competing in any of the various lines in which the Steel Company is authorized to proceed, may be gobbled up. What the United States Steel Company would not be able to do in this country, but what it has obtained the permission of the Canadian government to do, is indicated by the string of prosecutions against trusts which bought up stock in competing companies.

Funeral of Mrs. H. A. Scovil. Shediac, July 10.—The funeral of the late Mrs. H. A. Scovil, of this place, who passed away at the home of her son, Mr. J. W. Scovil, of St. Stephen, on Sunday last, was held at the home of Mrs. P. R. on Tuesday, the funeral cortege proceeding to the Episcopal church at Shediac Cape where a funeral service was conducted by the Rev. W. Armstrong, assisted by the Rev. A. F. Butt. A large number of friends were in attendance to pay their last tribute of respect to one of the best and most highly respected citizens.

The late Mrs. Scovil had been a resident of Shediac Cape all her life until a few years ago, when she and her husband, the late H. A. Scovil, sold their farm and came to the town to reside. A few weeks ago Mrs. Scovil went to make her final journey to her home in Bangor, and when they were opened they were found to contain two kegs of each.

Another instance of the trunk game shows that there is such a thing as overdoing the appearance of honesty in dealing with the Maine sheriff. Liquor for personal consumption is permissible under the code in force, and when a Bangor teamster, who is more or less of a character, visited the sheriff the other day and informed him that he had a "bit of liquor coming for a christening, you know," the sheriff told him to go ahead with it.

It is thought that the burglaries were committed by a band of gypsies who are travelling through this section of the country. (Continued on page 7, sixth column.)

ORANGEMEN OUT IN FORCE ON SATURDAY

AT OTTAWA IS BARELY WERTED

Civil Servants Refused Permission to Observe the Twelfth

Order Revoked at the Last Minute and the Country is Safe—Say French Officials Had No Trouble in Getting a Day Off for St. Jean Baptiste Celebration.

Ottawa, July 11.—Members of the Orange order at Ottawa were sorely incensed at the action of some of the departmental heads on Parliament Hill in refusing to allow members of the order, who are employed in the civil service, to take a holiday tomorrow in order to celebrate the "Glorious Twelfth."

In some of the departments the applications for leave of absence to celebrate the Twelfth, was somewhat summarily refused, although a holiday was given, as usual, last month to French Canadian Catholics to celebrate St. Jean Baptiste Day.

Big Celebrations at Woodstock to Observe the Twelfth

Thousands Gather at Woodstock to Observe the Twelfth

Great Numbers Also Meet in Chatham, Parade to Church and Hear Many Orators—Albert County Brethren Join Forces at Hillsboro—Nova Scotia Members Also Had a Big Time.

Woodstock, N. B., July 12.—The 12th of July celebration, held here, was probably the biggest affair of the kind held in the province in years. It is estimated that from 2,500 to 3,000 members of the Orange order were in town. Hundreds came on trains from all directions and teams and autos brought many others.

A balmy atmosphere, general sunshine and a cloudless sky was nature's contribution to the festivities. Holiday suits, sailing fairs, bright badges and sprightly airs of the bands' shrill cornets, rolling drums and clapping cymbals were in evidence. Thousands were claiming to all that it was the occasion of the Orangemen's anniversary.

Beautiful Connel Park was the spot selected for the proper celebration of the day, and the preparations made to accommodate the vast number present were carried out without a hitch. Under the very large number present, the parade was late in starting but owing to the direction of County Director Osborn Toms, of Richmond, the long line was put in motion in the following order:

Union Jack. Uniformed Mounted Police. Grand Master Sellen. St. John Band. St. John Banner. Prentice Boys, Caribou. Canadian Brass Band. St. Stephen Band. Rolling Dam Lodge and Banner. Tobique Valley Banner. Carleton Place Band. Gowan Lodge Banner. Woodstock Band. Harvey Banner. Canadian Brass Band. Hartland Banner. Four Falls Banner. British Lion Banner. Carleton Place Band. Richmond Banner. Crown No. 69 Banner. Carleton Co. Banner. Carleton Co. Banner. Barouche with prominent members of the Order.

Ladies True Blue Ladies in Carriages. The procession passed through the principal streets and returned to the park, where an address of welcome was made by County Director Osborn Toms, Mayor Jones, who was unable to be present, being in Fredericton on professional business.

A Great Crowd. The grand crowd listened to speeches by Grand Master Sellen, Rev. G. W. Schurman, Rev. Barton and other members of the order, which were strikingly impressive. Every speech was listened to with keen interest and marked attention. The speakers were intimately in touch with their subject, which afforded an opportunity for considerable enlightenment on the aims and object of the order.

The members of Benton Lodge wore white uniforms with red trimmings which were very neat and elicited much favorable comment. The grandstands were filled to their capacities and other places affording protection from the sun, although a slight breeze hovered over the ground.

A baseball game between the Athletics and an all town team proved an interesting feature and was watched by a large crowd. The game resulted in a tie. Refreshment stands, booths and games of every description combined to keep the crowd interested. Most of the games were at 6 o'clock in the afternoon. Several places of business were nicely decorated with hunting, the work being done by a professional decorator.

A regrettable accident occurred late in the afternoon by which Solomon Cary, of Richmond, lost a valuable pair of horses. He unhitched them from the wagon and took them to the show of the park for a drink. It is said that the checks were not fastened and in wading out far enough to reach the water the horses stepped into a deep hole and both were drowned. The accident occurred near one of the piers of the bridge and was witnessed by hundreds of people. The team was valued at $700.

Chatham, N. B., July 12.—(Special.)—Perfect weather marked the celebration here of the "Glorious Twelfth" by the Orangemen from the counties of Restigouche, Gloucester, Northumberland, York, Kent and Westmorland and the celebration was of a most successful kind.

Upwards of 1,000 men were in the line of march, over 8,000 visitors coming to town to take part in the procession or watch it, and the streets through which the procession marched were thronged with sightseers. Five bands were in the line and the gorgeous banners of the lodges with the bright-hued regalia of its members made a sight long to be remembered.

A special train of fourteen cars arrived from Moncton about 12.30 packed to the platforms and one came in from Fredericton at 1 o'clock in a similar crowded state, while local trains and buses kept adding their quota to the crowds at every trip. The lodges as

DISTINGUISHED CAREER ENDS WITH DEATH OF SENATOR ELLIS AT 78

Editor of Globe for Fifty-one Years and Prominent in Public Life

A GIVER TO CHARITY

To the Last He Took Warm Interest in Many Humanitarian Institutions of City—Held Independent Views on Political Matters.

Friday, July 11. News of the death of Senator J. V. Ellis, although not unexpected, was received yesterday about the city with expressions of genuine regret. These persons were tempered by the fact that the man who has gone himself rejoiced in the fact that his life work was complete and that others were left to carry on the work he had so ably directed for more than fifty years, but the sense of loss to those with whom he came more intimately in contact in the less and Senator Ellis will be sincerely mourned. He passed away a little after 12.30 o'clock. For several weeks Senator Ellis had been very ill and about the middle of the week he had been confined to his bed. He was a member of the St. John Baptist church, and he had been a member of the St. John Baptist church for many years. He was a member of the St. John Baptist church for many years. He was a member of the St. John Baptist church for many years.

HON. J. V. ELLIS.

Always a good citizen and gave good service as a school trustee, as a director of the N. B. Historical Society, president of the Society for the Preservation of the Crutley, president of the Natural History Society of New Brunswick, treasurer of the Home for the Incurables, and was also president of the Keynote Fire Insurance Company, and a director of the St. John Relief and Aid Society. He was the donor of the medal given for the best standing in English to students of the High school.

In 1897 the honorary degree of LL. D. was conferred upon him by the University of New Brunswick. He was a member of the U. N. B. senate for several years.

Hon. Mr. Ellis was a prominent journalist, having been prominent in both Masonic and Odd-fellow lodges. He held the office of grand master, the highest in the gift of the Masonic order in New Brunswick, and was also P. G. H. priest of the Grand Chapter of New Brunswick, past commander-in-chief of the Sovereign Great Priory of Canada, past commander-in-chief of the Supreme Council of the Grand Lodge of New Brunswick, and past grand master of the Royal Order of Scotland.

Appreciation of the public record of Hon. Mr. Ellis and of his connection with the Globe has been highly spoken of in the columns of the newspapers. The Toronto News said: "Clean handed, high-minded, devoted to the public interest, reliable in any emergency."

The Toronto Globe said: "A man of unblemished character, and high standing in the community, and the editor of a newspaper, who was respected for his moderation and independence."

Mrs. Martin L. Lane. Sackville, N. B., July 10.—(Special)—A telegram received from Montreal announces the death in that city last night of Mrs. Martin L. Lane, a former resident of Sackville. She was 78 years of age. She was a native of Sackville, N. B., and was the widow of the late Mr. Martin L. Lane, a prominent citizen of Sackville. She was a member of the St. John Baptist church, and was a devoted wife and mother. She was a member of the St. John Baptist church for many years.

Joseph Storrs Fry. July 7, 1913, marked the passing of one of the world's greatest philanthropists in the person of Joseph Storrs Fry, of Bristol, England.

Mr. Fry was born in 1828 in the historic city of Bristol, England. He was a man of extraordinary energy and devotion to his work. He was a member of the St. John Baptist church, and was a devoted wife and mother. He was a member of the St. John Baptist church for many years.

Dr. Frederick N. Wedding. Andover, July 11.—(Special)—Dr. Frederick N. Wedding, of Andover, passed away at his home in that city last night. He was 78 years of age. He was a native of Andover, N. DEATH COMES TO BLACK KNIGHT AS PARADE IS ENDED. Charles W. Stockton, City Foreman and Prominent Orangeman, Stricken.

HEART FAILURE. He Marched at Head of Procession Through City Streets and Collapsed Between Brother Members of Preceptory on Way Home—A Valued Man in Waterworks Department.

Monday, July 14. Although his family had strongly urged Charles W. Stockton not to take part in the Orange parade yesterday afternoon on account of recent heart trouble, he insisted on leading the procession, as one of the most prominent Orangemen of the city, and while returning home fell unconscious on King street in the arms of George H. Earle and another friend who carried him into Waterworks department where he was revived.

Mr. Stockton was walking homeward with his two friends after the parade had broken up at the Orange Hall on Germain street, and just after turning the corner of King street his strength failed and he would have fallen had he not been supported by his friends who carried him to the drug store where all that was possible was done for him without avail. He only recovered enough to swallow a mouthful of water and gasp incoherently something about taking a walk before he died.

Dr. Berryman, the coroner, was summoned immediately by telephone and arrived promptly, but not till Mr. Stockton had passed away.

For some time past Mr. Stockton had been suffering from heart trouble and had an attack of this nature a few days ago. He was not feeling well, and just after the parade was over, he had a fainting fit, and was carried to the hospital where he died.

The provincial government has decided to open a new road which will afford a shortcut from Fairville to Duck Cove, the provincial hospital annex and other sections of the locality, and which will be under the supervision of the Highway Department.

REXTON NOTES. Rexton, N. B., July 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jardine and family, of Moncton, are stopping at their summer home here.

GREENWICH HILL ITEMS. Greenwich Hill, July 11.—Mrs. A. E. Pitt of St. John, is visiting friends and relatives here.

THE BORDEN GOVT AND THE C. R. (Moncton Transcript). It looks as if the C. R. conductors are giving to the delegates by their disposition of the officials was to stand firm and it is even said the delegation was not treated although with Chester-sonian courtesies. Then Mr. Gagnon, who was on his way east, was suddenly called to Ottawa. What transpired in Ottawa and elsewhere was the direct result of a Conservative member of parliament and three Conservative members of the Nova Scotia legislature. The government willed and Mr. Gagnon suddenly discovered that he was not general manager and that instead of the conductors being virtually reduced to brakemen on the express trains and one of the regular brakemen dropped, the train agents may be dispensed with instead. The instructions given to the delegates by their locals was to remain in Moncton until the job was settled one way or the other, and when the officials found that the delegates were camped here, and that a strike was certain, the government retreated with humiliation, where it might have granted a concession with honor. But this is a peculiarity of the Borden administration. It puts up a bluff and then backs down. It is composed of bluffers instead of statesmen, but meanwhile it is working overtime in disrupting the Conservative party from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean. Please Mr. Borden kindly bring on the general elections. They will save the Tory party much humiliation in the future. It is better for that party to take the humiliation on the altophatic than the homeopathic principle.
