LONGLEY ASKS CANADIAN NAVY

Supports Government Scheme of Building Ships National Pride Should Lead Canada to Do Its Share Eminent Jurist Speaks Before Canadian Club at Amherst

AMHERST, Dec. 1.—The regular meeting of the Canadian Club was held this evening in Parish Hall after partaking of luncheon served by the ladies of Christ's Church, the large number of members present listened to a forceful and eloquent address by His Honor Mr. Justice Longley.

In the absence of the President, Mr. Stewart Jenks, Vice President Dr. A. Morrison presided, and introduced the lecturer, Mr. Longley expressed his pleasure at meeting with the members of the club here. He referred to the influence of the Canadian Club and the work they were doing in creating a national spirit throughout Canada.

He compared Canada to the growth of a man from infancy who in infancy could not be expected to take upon himself the responsibility of manhood but when he had reached his maturity must if he were a man, make his place and do his share, so Canada, whose revenue in 1875 was only thirteen millions, and now is over one hundred millions, and is now a rich and prosperous nation, must take his place of responsibility.

He was not an alarmist but his self respect would lead him to say that Great Britain should not bear it alone. The Canadian government has taken charge of it and is paying all the military expenses for the protection of Canada and British soldiers have been withdrawn there is a much stronger justification for spending money on naval than military forces.

DOWN STAIRS WITH A LAMP IN OTHER HAND WAS BURNED TO DEATH

Tragic Fate of Mrs. John W. Jamieson Who Met Death in Flames Which Guffed the House—Husband, Who Was Already Sick, Now in Bed Suffering From Nervous Shock and From Burns Received While Attempting to Save His Wife

Mrs. John W. Jamieson of 77 Colborne street had a severe shock at an early hour this morning when she fell with a lit lamp in her hand and was burned to death.

The accident occurred about six o'clock. Mrs. Jamieson had risen early and was on her way down stairs to the basement to light the fire and prepare breakfast when she fell. Her husband was sleeping on the main floor, heard her scream and rushed to her assistance.

The fire was already spreading around the room and up the stairway and so after an unsuccessful effort to beat out the flames with a heavy blanket, he dragged his wife who was then unconscious, into the next room, off which a door opens to the street.

GETTING READY FOR CHRISTMAS

It is time you were, for it is only twenty days away. Some have been getting ready for a year or more. The Christmas trees for instance, have been getting ready. The little girls of the home are very busy these days, and what is surprising is when the door opens, and many a slipper and purse, book-mark are quickly hidden away in the drawers.

Another reason why you ought not to forget to get your Christmas shopping early

For the sake of the clerks you ought to get your shopping as early as you can. Many of the clerks are young and inexperienced and will not be able to give you the service you desire.

My advice is to give the gift of loving service. If you have the feeling, faint-ning habit, get ready for Christmas by giving it away to some person who needs it.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The Times publishes a letter from Sir Charles Tupper to R. L. Jardine is elected as Liberal representative in Esquimalt, against Harry Helmken. Though Albert Barnes is not in yet in full, both parties concede that Brewster is elected. Two Socialists complete the house. There is a rumor that Premier McBride, being elected in two places, will ask his constituents of Yale to elect a second member, leader of the Liberals, to take that seat. Though Mr. Oliver announced yesterday that he had retired from politics for good, it is likely he would readily agree to sit in Yale. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 27.—The failure of an engine in one of the big power houses, caused by a low tide shutting off the water from the condenser, interrupted all telegraphic and wireless communication with the outside world for about twenty minutes tonight and gave rise to a flood of rumors throughout the country that the international communication was cut off by an earthquake. As soon as the trouble in the power house was repaired and communication restored, many telegrams of inquiry from all parts of the country deluged the local telegraph, newspaper and press offices. The fact that Portland, Los Angeles and Salt Lake telegraph offices reported to their eastern connections that they could not raise San Francisco on any wire, tended to give some color to the rumors of an earthquake.

BETWEEN 20 AND 30 JAPANESE KILLED

Train Goes Through Fill-in Near Vancouver

Engineer and Fireman Escape Death By Jumping

Japs in Box Car Meet Fate Without a Moment's Warning

Work Train Saves the Seattle Express

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 28.—Between twenty and thirty Japanese were killed early this morning when a work train went through a fill-in on the Great Northern between Vancouver and New Westminster. No white men were killed, the engineer and fireman having jumped while the caboose was not in the wreck. The train left Vancouver shortly before six o'clock and was dark and raining heavily when the accident occurred.

Rain has been pouring heavily yesterday and today and the flood loosened the filling over the railway. The engine had just over safely when the fill from behind was felt. On looking the engine and train were seen in the whole fill in was being swept away, leaving an unsupported gap forty feet below the track.

The fireman in jumping landed on the moving earth and escaped only by a miracle. The Japanese were in a box car behind the engine. The locomotive fell back on this cutting it in two and many bodies were badly mutilated. This afternoon seventeen dead Japanese were laid out on the bank of the stream and portions of the bodies of the others could be seen in the wreckage.

There was no chance of escape—the locomotive coming in on the side and eight flat cars following. The box cars were piled on top of those which were not killed were drenched.

The Omi express, from Seattle, which reaches Vancouver shortly after seven o'clock, was due to have crossed the same piece of track, but was held in New Westminster till the track was clear. Here the work train not come out the Owl would in all probability have gone through and being a head-on collision, the damage and loss of life would have been much greater. Engineer Beattier and Fireman Kent were in the cab and Conductor Bills in the engine. The latter is believed to be a day or two before traffic can be resumed.

TAILOR SHOP SCENE OF DARING ROBBERY

Overcoats Taken by Thieves—Galbraith and Golding Arrested

A bold break and robbery took place on Friday night or early Saturday morning. The scene of the theft was William F. Higgins' tailor shop, 121 Brunsell street. On arriving at his store on Saturday morning Mr. Higgins discovered the robbery and at once notified the police. Detective Killen and Deputy Chief Jenkins took up the case and on Saturday afternoon succeeded in arresting Arthur P. Galbraith and William H. Golding on suspicion of the robbery.

The thieves made their entrance by way of a back window. One of the panes of glass in this window was partly broken and had a paper-tacked over it. They then entered and did their work. Two overcoats, valued at $40, were hanging up. One was a new one which had never been worn, and the other was one which was being pressed for a customer. These they stole and put on Galbraith is supposed to have taken the coats, and his pal Golding aided in the disposal of them. Detective Killen and Deputy Chief Jenkins rounded up the pair between two and three o'clock yesterday afternoon. The police also recovered the two overcoats.

Galbraith, who is 21 years of age, is charged with breaking and entering W. F. Higgins' tailor shop, 121 Brunsell street, on the night of the 28th inst., and stealing two overcoats valued at $40. Golding, who is twenty years of age, is charged with receiving stolen goods knowing them to be stolen and also aiding in disposing of said goods. Seven-five cents in cash and three keys were found on Galbraith, and on the other prisoner two dollars was found.

Both young men are well known to the police. Galbraith has been arrested for drunkenness on several occasions, and Golding was about three years ago tried for snatching a pocket book containing about $40 for Mrs. J. H. Wood in Leinster street. On this occasion he was acquitted of the charge by the jury.

McCURDY AND BALDWIN TO FLY OVER ICE NOW

Former Writes Sun of Proposed Experiments on Bras d'or Lakes This Winter

Canada, in these days of experiments in aviation is apt to be forgotten while accounts of successful flights in England, France and the United States are so often read, but within the Dominion the problem of flight is being successfully solved. Experiments have been conducted on the Bras d'or, C. B., for the past month and during the coming winter some remarkable feats in flying are expected.

The Sun in receipt of a communication from J. A. D. McCurdy, one of the foremost Canadian aviators, which states that during the past month several flights have been made by machines built by Prof. Graham Bell, Mr. Baldwin and himself. The longest was fifteen miles. Mr. McCurdy states that the heavy storms of rain and wind have seriously interfered with the experiment. New machines are being made ready for flight over the ice, and as soon as Bras d'or Lakes freeze over the flights will be resumed.

NEW MOVE TO SAVE MURDERER DILLON

Counsel Will Seek Examination as to Sanity of Prisoner—Will Involvement Considerable De'ar

MONTEAL, Nov. 28.—A final effort to save John Dillon, the murderer of Constable Shea last year, from the gallows will be made by his counsel at the court of King's bench tonight, when they will invoke a provision of the British common law which has never before been used in Canada, and move for the empanelling of a new jury to examine as to whether he is sane enough to be justly hanged. Such a procedure is new to Canadian criminal jurisprudence, but it was found that it had once been taken in England under the common law, which applies to Canada where not otherwise provided for by Canadian law, and this case will be cited to justify the new move, which will involve a further respite of the prisoner and an examination of all who knew Dillon's present condition of mind as well as his examination by alienists at the crown's expense. This move means that all efforts to save Dillon from an executive clemency have been abandoned.

PUBLICITY SPOILS HER THIRD MARRIAGE PLANS

DEFIANCE, Ohio, Nov. 27.—Too much publicity spoiled for the present the plans for the third marriage of Mrs. Bessie Speck Williams Larcum, aged 19, an intended Thanksgiving event. The girl was divorced Monday by Probate Court from her second husband, Edward Larcum, and through a newspaper reporter confessed to the public that she intended to be married at once to Benjamin Hill, who had been a boarder at her parents' home and had advanced money to pay for the divorce proceedings.

When Hill applied yesterday to the same court for a marriage license, it was refused, and he was informed that the formal decree of divorce would be withheld while the court looked further into the circumstances. The girl was first married at the age of 16 to Percy Williams of Cincinnati, and after a divorce married Edward J. Larcum, of Deshler, in January last.

FLOOD PLAYS HAVOC WITH SUSSEX CRIBWORK

Now Tangled Mass in Bottom of Ditch—Contractor Reports Busy Season in Bridge Construction

SUSSEX, Nov. 27.—Edward Erb, highway structural superintendent for Kent County, was in Sussex this busy season in bridge construction. He is present putting the finishing touches on the Alfred punted bridge at Portage. He has completed a bridge at Knightville on the Smith's Creek. He is also building the McKnight bridge, Roachville. The next will be a bridge over the Millstream at Gray's. These bridges are of concrete foundation with wooden superstructure. Early next summer bridge will be built at Bell's on the Wilson Brook, at McAulay's, on the Millstream, another at Alfred Leters, over the Millstream, and a third at Centreville, over the Millstream.

This week's Record puts forth a plea for more public-mindedness on the part of citizens of Sussex in regard to encouraging manufacturing industries. It cites the case of the Sussex Manufacturing Company, the largest industry in the town, as to how it is badly handicapped by not being able to get a railway siding to their works necessitating a larger force of men, a larger pay roll and more money spent in the town, fewer vacant houses, more new houses, lower tax rates and a greater Sussex.

Last night's flood played havoc with the cribwork along Summer street and today it is a tangled mass in the bottom of the ditch. The water found its way behind the timbers, washed the sand and gravel away so that the timbers fell out of position.

The two small breakwaters recently constructed at Sussex Corner to keep Trout Brook in its channel during the heavy fall and spring freshets, which were wont to inundate the lowlands and tie up the roadways, without the pressure of last night's floods. The long breakwaters, which were not entirely completed, did not fare so well. Owing to the incessant rains this fall which left the land in such a soft condition, it was almost impossible to get the necessary quantity of stone needed for the structure. The cribwork had been put in place and at some points it was at least twenty feet from the bank of the stream. At one point there was a quicksand bed, and despite all that Contractor Crispe could do he could not get to the bottom of it. It was the contractor's purpose to have large quantities of stone hauled in to fill up this space as soon as the land would dry enough to get on it with teams. Last night's floods tore through the opening, and as was its wont wandered at will over the meadows. The onrush of the water tore away the sandy banks of the stream for a distance of nearly one hundred and fifty feet. It partially undermined the cribwork, but did not damage it very materially. Mr. Crispe will put a force of men on the work tomorrow to repair the damage. Had the flood gates remained in operation were completed it is supposed that the structure would have stood the test. The sandy soil bordering on the Trout Brook is very easily moved. Your reporter was told this afternoon by a reliable party that he had seen a line of logs form in the brook one time while stream driving operations were being carried on and before the men could break it up the erratic brook had torn away at its banks and made a new channel twenty feet away from its original bed, leaving the logs high and dry and making it necessary to twitch them to the new stream before operations could proceed.

PERTH JUNCTION, N. B., Nov. 28.—A rather amusing incident occurred at Andover last evening which surely goes to prove the famed perseverance of the Englishman. James A. He was refused, but on his insisting he was told to go to Constable McCrae, who has a house in the town. He went to the house and broke every atom of glass from one of the windows of the recording office. He then went and told what he had done to the constable. The window over Mr. McCrae's head was broken and he was lodged in the lockup.

Eastport Man Committed Suicide by Drowning—Had Been Drinking Heavily—Six Children Left

EASTPORT, Me., Nov. 28.—Evidence of what appeared to the police to have been a murderous assault and suicide was brought to light today. It tended to show that James A. Craig, aged about 35, assaulted his wife at their home in the South End, a remote section of the city, last night with some instrument which has since disappeared, making a gash in the head which required five stitches to close, and it is supposed left her for dead. Then he left the house and at a point about a mile away drowned himself in the bay. Before death he was discovered by a dog that attracted his master's attention and led him to the shore, where Craig was found in four feet of water. It was taken to a nearby house, where he died within an hour. Mrs. Craig had not recovered consciousness today, and it was feared she might not live. Craig had been drinking heavily lately. It was claimed: "He was the father of six children, the eldest of whom is not over 12."

SOCIETY ENJOYS THRILLS OF APPROACHING ELECTIONS

Lady Mary's London Society Gossip—Smart Set Never Happy Unless Excited or Shocked—Is Thoroughly Happy at Present—Drawing Room Meetings and Smart Teas—Everybody Intriguing to Do Friends a Good Turn and Enemies a Nasty One

LONDON, Nov. 29.—London, once more wide awake, is full of overjoying this week. What with the celebrations at Windsor and in the city in honor of the young King of Portugal, and the thrilling statement that the general election is practically at our doors, society is in high tension. The best set here is never happy unless it is being either excited or shocked. Its cup of joy is brimming over just now. Several "grandes dames," among whom are many Americans, are arranging drawing-room meetings and smart teas—favorite entertainments just now—to combat over the political situation. They love the intrigue that politics give scope for; they revel in the chances of "doing good" in terms to their friends and otherwise to their enemies. Lady Granard, who seems more possessed than others by the fever of political excitement, has been urging the workmen engaged at Mortimer House "to hurry up." A fresh batch of men is to be employed to pull things. The house has been pulled completely to pieces and looks as though it might take months yet to make it habitable. The Countess, though it would have been ready by Christmas at the latest, and still has hopes that it may.

Mrs. Harry Blagden's two beautiful daughters, Lady Willoughby de Eresby and Lady Alastair Innes-Ker are also very keen on political matters. The former had a tea party for a crowd of her suffragist friends recently. There were several political men present, yet the conversation was perfectly amicable all the time.

Lady Dufferin, when she gave a farewell party to some of her intimates on her departure for the continent, she was just sick to death of crowds and meant to live in the country in the future. She has taken a pretty place in Surrey and intends to devote herself to music and the arts, just coming to town occasionally to pull things. She has been pulled completely to pieces and looks as though it might take months yet to make it habitable. The Countess, though it would have been ready by Christmas at the latest, and still has hopes that it may.

ALABAMA VOTERS DEFEAT PROHIBITION AMENDMENT

Majority Against Amendment Estimated at from 12,000 to 20,000

BERMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 29.—Alabama today defeated a prohibition amendment to the state constitution by a majority estimated at from 12,000 to 20,000 votes. Today's election was the first popular expression in Alabama on the subject.

The state-wide prohibition bill was passed by the legislature, which had been elected on a local option platform, and while several counties had declared for prohibition under the local option act, the voters of the entire state had never been called on to pass on the question direct.

In Birmingham the election was the most exciting ever witnessed. Hundreds of people were crowded around each polling place, women and children were singing and brass bands stationed by the anti-amendment force were playing patriotic airs.

Each polling place was thronged by its quota of hot fights, there being so many it was impossible to keep track of them. Feeling was so high that a few words were sufficient to bring on a brawl. Every other voter was challenged and required to make affidavit to belong to a qualified elector. This delayed the casting of ballots considerably; but, in spite of handicaps, the vote was heavy.

WARBURTON BRINGS UP MARITIME REPRESENTATION

Makes a Special Plea in Behalf of Prince Edward Island—Mr. Fielding Replies

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 29.—The question of preserving the present number of members from the Maritime Provinces in parliament and preventing any reduction in representation through more rapid growth of population in Quebec was brought up in the Commons today by Mr. Warburton in moving for a resolution to be adopted in respect to its relation to the representation of Prince Edward Island in the House.

He said that the population of the Maritime Provinces was decreasing owing to a constant migration to the Canadian West. The increase in the unit of representation was due largely to the growth of Montreal, where the fiscal policy and development of the port had increased the population. But in the case of Prince Edward Island there was no opportunity for any increase in representation and population must remain practically at the present figure. Mr. Warburton maintained that the intent of the federation compact was to preserve to Prince Edward Island and the other Maritime Provinces at least the present relative representation in parliament.

MR. FIELDING REPLIES. Hon. Mr. Fielding said he would be only too glad to restore to Prince Edward Island its lost representation, but the feeling of other provinces had to be taken into consideration. He said that the population of the Maritime Provinces was decreasing owing to a constant migration to the Canadian West.

Prof. Hogarth, Here, Tells of Recent Discoveries

David G. Hogarth, who arrived in the city from Halifax yesterday morning said that he carried on extensive investigations in Asia Minor for the British Museum, and at Ephesus, while investigating on the site of the ancient temple of Diana he was fortunate in discovering a collection of gold vessels which had been used in the workshop of the goddess. These vessels, one hundred and thirty-three in number, are now on exhibition in the British Museum. Mr. Hogarth says that at present the conditions for investigation in Turkey are less satisfactory than before the change in the Turkish government. While the change may have produced improvements in Constantinople, in the provinces there is a condition of anarchy and the central government has very little power. This has interfered very much with the work of the scholars in the last year.

Mr. Hogarth is now curator of the Ashmolean Museum in Oxford. There has been brought into contact with several of the Rhodes scholars. He says that the Canadian scholars are doing very satisfactory work while in the island. For that reason the American scholars have not been so satisfactory.

POLICEMAN AND WOMAN MAYORS

London Judge Elected—Many Peers Selected to Fill the Cane Chairs for Ensuing Year.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Probably the most interesting of the mayoral elections, the official returns of which have just been issued, was the unanimous choice—after unsuccessful candidature for five years—of Mr. George Clarke as Mayor of Kingston-on-Thames, in which he was formerly police constable.

He retired in 1884, after twenty-three years' service, with the rank of inspector. In 1891 he became town councillor, and five years ago alderman. This service carried him to the office he has now attained—the ambition of his heart.

Beaming with pleasure, Mr. Clarke promised his services to maintain the honor of the borough, to possess some property, and to wish to maintain the tradition of mayoral generosity and hospitality. His official salary will be £125.

JUDGES AS MAYORS. The London borough Mayors include Canon Hefsey and two other Church of England clergymen, and Mr. Justice Phillimore, Mayor of Kensington. A deadlock occurred in Stepney and no one was chosen.

In England and Wales five Labor Mayors were appointed: Cardiff, Councilor John Chappell (Lord Mayor); Huddersfield, Councilor John Davies; North, Mr. David Davies; Nelson, Alderman A. Smith (re-elected); and East Ham, Councilor G. Pratt, J. P.

Among the many cases of re-election the most interesting was Mr. Garret Anderson, the first woman Mayor last year, re-elected at Aldershot. Alderman Fin, re-elected at the same time at Lydd; Sir W. H. Stephens, Lord Mayor for the fifth time of Newcastle-upon-Tyne; Alderman Gillies, for the fourth year in succession and six times in all Mayor of Gateshead; Alderman Maden, for seventh time Mayor of Bury, in which he presents a disinteresting situation, making his gifts to the town of a value of over $100,000; and Alderman Lee, for fourth year at Coventry. Mr. Pillely is the first Roman Catholic Mayor of Hereford since the Reformation.

The peers elected Mayors include the Duke of Devonshire (following the previous Duke's experience) at Eastbourne, Lord Exeter, for Stamford, and Lord Fitzwilliam for Sheffield. The last named was supported by both Liberals and Conservatives, but Councilor Barton, Socialist, protested that Lord Fitzwilliam, not being a ratepayer or on the non-resident voters' list, was not qualified.

HOSPITALITY TOO COSTLY. The Hon. Percy Alcock, who accepted office as Worcester for the third time, since no one else would, said he was a very unwilling occupant of the position. He was not going to keep up the hospitality of his predecessors, but to do so. Newsdays it should be enough that a Mayor have his title to the public service; lack of money should not deter any able man from the mayoralty.

The ancient ceremony of weighing in the Mayor and corporation was observed at High Wycombe immediately after the election. Alderman Walter Birch, who brought down the scales at about sixteen stone and easily beat his colleagues, said he was glad to be Mayor last year, despite the cost of office; the mayorship still holds the "championship" at approximately eighteen stone.

TREAT WITH FRANCE

BRIDGE'S APPROVED

Commons Vote is 107 to 33

LENGTHY DEBATE

Fourteen Conservatives Side With Government—Opponents Objections

OTTAWA, Nov. 30.—A long debate in the Commons today resulted in an expression of approval of the Franco-Canadian trade treaty by a vote of 107 to 33, fourteen Conservatives siding with the government.

When the original treaty was approved in the spring of 1908 only five Conservatives had the courage to place themselves on record against it. Today Messrs. Foster, Monk, Daniel, George Taylor, Doherty, and other Conservative leaders, after making all the party capital possible by criticizing the treaty, finally ended by voting for the government's resolution.

Mr. R. L. Borden was absent when the division was taken, but stated in the course of the debate that he was not prepared to vote against the treaty.

The main contention of the critics was that the treaty might lead to complications in the event of Great Britain adopting a tariff policy.

They coupled with this the argument that France was getting the better of the bargain, the serious objection was taken to the serious score that it might lead to the application of Canada of the maximum provisions of the American tariff.

Mr. R. L. Borden, in moving the second reading of the resolution approving the treaty, noted that the supplementary convention of last January dealt with the question of sending to France, under the treaty, cattle ready for the butcher.

Mr. R. L. Borden was rather skeptical as to the advantages which Canada would derive from the treaty, "it is a heavy day," he said, "within the Empire, in the not distant future, a mutual preferential trade system, and I doubt very much the wisdom of compelling our tariff by treaty provisions to co-operate in such an imperial project."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier pointed out the immense market for lumber, agricultural implements and so forth. He pointed out that in each of these items the new convention would give Canada a very material advantage.

Canada, he said, had opened her door wide to Great Britain and he thought that some time or other the Mother country would give a similar preference to the lower Empire.

It is not surprising that the treaty with France would not interfere with the British preference.

The debate was continued by a motion taken at 11.30 with the result as noted.

PROMINENT PRESBYTERIAN DIVINE DIES IN THE WEST

Rev. Dr. Donald Macrae, Former Pastor of St. Stephen's Church, Passes Away—Was One of Canada's Foremost Presbyterians

HELD HIGH POSITION.

Dr. Macrae held a high position as a public orator and has written numerous magazine articles. He was a favorite platform speaker, and many of his sermons, lectures and addresses have been published and commanded wide attention.

In 1883 at the centennial celebration of the Loyalists he was chosen as one of the orators of the occasion.

His death was a great loss to the Presbyterian community, and for many years he was pastor of St. Stephen's church here.

Dr. Macrae had won the respect of all classes of people by his genial manner, his wide learning, his intellectual power and the tolerance of his views. On many occasions he delivered eloquent sermons here, which left a lasting impression upon the members of the congregation, his death took place quietly on Monday night at Calgary, as he was on his way to Vancouver.

BORN IN NOVA SCOTIA. Dr. Macrae was born at Hopewell, Pictou County, N. S., in 1833. His father, Rev. John Macrae, a clergyman of the established Church of Scotland, was for many years minister of congregations in Pictou County. When he was about twelve years of age he went to Scotland, where he pursued his studies in the universities at Aberdeen and Edinburgh, and the theological schools in connection therewith.

He was ordained as a minister of the Church of Scotland in 1856. He came to Nova Scotia and took up the pastorate of St. Columba and St. Paul's churches in Lunenburg, N. S. In 1868 he went to St. John's, Nfld., where he was pastor of St. Stephen's Church, and in 1874, when he had been in the ministry for nearly twenty years, he accepted a call to the St. Stephen's Church in Pictou County, N. S.

He was a member of the Board of the Bank of Montreal, Quebec, and was a member of the Board of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Halifax. He was also a member of the Board of the Bank of New Brunswick, St. John's, Nfld.

NEW DOUBLE FACED RECORDS 90c. for TWO VACANCIES IN BRITISH HOUSE MAY NOT BE FILLED

General Elections in January May Cause the Abandonment of Any By-elections.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—There are now two vacancies in the British Parliament, and there is considerable speculation as to whether the by-elections will be held or not.

Now that the intention of the Lords in regard to the budget is known, and as a consequence, a general election in January is regarded as a certainty, some doubt is expressed whether new writs will be issued for either Portsmouth or the Uxbridge Division of Middlesex.

Of course, if either party desires a contest in November and December in those constituencies there is nothing for it but the issuing of the writs.

It is suggested that a compromise may be arrived at by which there will be only one election in these places, and that at the appeal to the country, as was the case in Norwich in 1892.

Now it is quite different. An election in January is certain. Another factor which may operate against by-elections now is that neither candidate returned in the two constituencies under review ever took his seat.

The vacancy in Uxbridge was caused by the death of Sir Frederick Dixon-Hartland, the Unionist member. He was in his 78th year. In 1880, Mr. Hartland, as he then was, entered the House of Commons as Conservative member for Evesham under remarkable circumstances.

At a by-election he was defeated by two votes, but on a petition he secured the seat. In 1888, when he assumed the additional surname of Dixon, he was elected for the Uxbridge Division of Middlesex, which he has represented ever since. In 1892, a baronetcy was conferred upon him.

Amongst the public offices filled by Sir Frederick Dixon-Hartland was the chairmanship of the Thames Conservancy and of the Finance Committee of the Middlesex County Council.

He was one of His Majesty's Lieutenants for the City of London. One of the founders of the Primrose League, he took a keen interest in archaeological matters and compiled a genealogical chart of the royal families of Europe.

When the late member for the Uxbridge Division of Middlesex was elected in 1888 he had a majority of 2,478 over his Liberal opponent. His majority in 1892 was 3,143. There were no contests in 1896, 1898, and 1900. At the last general election the result was as follows: Sir F. Dixon-Hartland (C) 6,428 Mr. B. J. Pocock (L) 4,284

The address of Lieutenant Governor Fraser, of Nova Scotia, on "The Day of the Evening Dress" was the feature of the evening.

About half that number were ladies whose gowns gave a touch of brilliant color to the scene.

The celebration began at 8 p. m. with the installation of officers of St. Andrew's Society. It closed at 10.45, and dancing began immediately afterward.

GOVERNOR FRASER IS CHIEF ORATOR OF SCOTTISH NIGHT

"Scottish Night" was observed by St. John's Scots in truly Scottish fashion last evening. The affair of the pipes, the flash of the tartan, the passin' of the mull and all the other adjuncts of Scottish celebration were in evidence when the day of Scotland's patron saint was observed at Keith's Assembly Rooms by the members of St. Andrew's Society of the City of St. John and their guests.

The address of Lieutenant Governor Fraser, of Nova Scotia, on "The Day of the Union," was the feature of the evening. Governor Fraser's address was a fine effort, as it was that of a man who is a Scot of Scots and in all it the fire and enthusiasm that could contain, and was received with great applause.

The celebration began at 8 p. m. with the installation of officers of St. Andrew's Society. It closed at 10.45, and dancing began immediately afterward, continuing until early morning. Supper was served at midnight. The dancing was in charge of the following floor committees: F. F. Burgess, chairman; Jas. Jack, Alex. McMillan, Chas. W. Bell, J. Roy Campbell, C. F. Inches, Dr. T. D. Rehearsal Reveals Beautiful Effects FOREIGN PUPILS German, Russian and Austrian Dancers Who Look and Act Like Greeks

Stepping across the threshold of the ball room at the Hoffman House yesterday, a curious series of contrasts might be encountered. Greek maidens in classic robes, unbound hair and feet that could not bear of sandals fitted about the room, their arms waving and the robes fluttering, while modern cameras in the hands of men in every-attire were leveled at the dancing figures and flash lights were caught on the wing.

It was a dress rehearsal of Lole Fuller, the dancer, and her company, who are to appear in a series of performances at the Metropolitan Opera House. Miss Fuller, also clad in Greek draperies over which a modern cloak had been flung, bustled excitedly among her flock, arranging poses, adjusting veils and cinchures. Presently the group of forty dancers were kneeling about her, their arms extended in supplication, while the last picture was taken.

THE SECOND LARGEST NAVAL HARBOR IN THE WORLD.

The magnitude of the workings now approaching completion, is not only a profound one, but also one of the vastness of the conceptions which have inspired such tremendous efforts. One feels instinctively that one is here brought face to face with some great unrealized future for the present does not in the least detract from the scope of the works displayed throughout the North Sea territories from Kiel to Emden.

GERMAN PREPARATIONS TO OUTSTRIP BRITAIN

Ideal of Whole Nation is to Surpass England in War Preparations—Immense Naval Harbor, New Docks, Inland Waterways All Figure in Their Plans

(By an Anglo-German.) I have just returned from the last of many visits to German relatives in the Fatherland more than ever impressed, not to say startled, by the continuous magnitude of German naval preparations, which quite exceptional opportunities have enabled me to observe at close quarters. I have no less been struck by the singular mental attitude and bearing with which this growing power has inspired one's own German friends and relatives towards this country. It is little short of insupportable to close one's eyes to what Germans among themselves make no attempt to gloss over or explain away.

IMPORTANT SCHEMES OF INLAND WATERWAYS.

Another feature of that tremendous organization for war, which is transforming the German Empire into a vast strategic base, is the vast system of waterways or ship canals, which is now skillfully designed to permit the Kaiser's armaments to move on interior lines behind the protective barrier of their land frontiers. Thus, in addition to the immense enlargement of the Kaiser's Wilhelm Canal, which is now proceeding, a new canal has been designed, and is being taken in hand without delay, from Kiel to the Elbe, with an entrance into the river near Glucksburg. This, which will act as an auxiliary to the Kaiser Wilhelm, will be constructed by the means of a loan, and its completion will enormously increase German naval mobility between the Baltic and the North Sea.

HAD SPARROW MEAL; RIVER STILL OPEN, ALMOST SNEEZED IN BASKET REACHING RECORD MARK

Paris, France, Dec. 1.—Amid remarkable demonstrations of joy from the natives of the district, Camille Favre was guillotined at Salette, in the Department of Charente-Inférieure.

The present season bids fair to establish a record regarding the lateness of the St. John river remaining open. Before the stream has been open in December. Not a particle of ice can be found in the river. There were small pieces noticed yesterday, but the mild weather has melted them.

Dr. L. A. Curry has some interesting figures on the river's closings. He states that on December 11, 1893, the record was established when a steamer made a trip on the river without encountering any ice. On December 3, 1895, a steamer went as far as Tipper Gagetown. Last year the season reached a close on November 19, when the Elaine came down from Fredericton. She met with great fields of ice and the passage was a hard one. In 1900 the river season was a particularly long one. Navigation was open from April 3 to November 27, a total of 290 days.

There are at present no steamers in operation on the river. "It is not because the stream would not permit them running," said Dr. Curry, "but business does not warrant the service. The farmers have finished their shipments and passenger traffic does not amount to anything."

GRAMPIAN HERE AT LAST AFTER TEMPESTUOUS TRIP

After encountering heavy storms at Liverpool and Halifax, and being delayed down the bay by this weather and at the island waiting for the tide, the Allan Line Grampian docked at St. John about two o'clock this afternoon.

G. E. BARNHILL'S ESTATE

VALUES AT OVER $16,000 BELIEVES INVENTION IS A VALUABLE ONE

Most of It Goes to His Brothers and Sisters—Several Bequests to Friends, Relatives and Servants.

The last will and testament of George E. Barnhill, late of Fairville, lumberman, who died on the 29th day of October last, was admitted to probate in the probate court room for the city and county of Saint John this morning on the petition of the Executors Trust Co., presented by Barnhill, Ewing & Sanford, advocates for the estate. The will is dated 15th December, 1908, and makes the following bequests: To George Rivers, a nephew of the deceased, $100; to John Boyd, a friend who frequently accompanied the deceased on his fishing and trapping trips, all boats, traps and other outfit in the woods at the time of his death; the sum of $100; to Maggie Lynch, who was employed for many years in the deceased's office, the sum of $50; to the children of the deceased, the sum of $50 per year during her life, and to Elizabeth Lewis, an aged aunt of the deceased, $50 per year during her life. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ethel Harris, who was attired in pink silk. The groom was supported by Foster G. Fowler, of Fairville. The bride was given away by her father. Many beautiful presents were received by the bride. She resided at her parents' home until she was married. The young couple will reside in Kingsville.

Capt. Beardsley of the schooner Maude says the statement that his vessel was driven on the rocks near the mouth of the St. John river, was a hoax. ## THREE HUNDRED MADE HOMELESS TODAY

More Evictions From Company's Houses at Ludlow

Funerals in Piled in the Streets and Six Hundred People Seek Shelter With Friends—Much Suffering.

LOWELL, Mich., Dec. 2.—The resumption of evictions of strikers and their families from the tenements of the Ludlow Coal and Iron Co., Inc., Associates, against whose bagging mills here a strike has been in progress for several weeks, and a visit of Lieutenant Governor Prothingham to the town were the principal developments in the labor war here today. The evictions began at 8 o'clock in the morning, and the company's plans called for the removal of the strikers and their families to the Ludlow workhouse. Some of these houses were four family structures, while others sheltered only two families. Including the strikers, their families and boarders, it is estimated that more than 300 persons were made homeless today.

Today's evictions, together with the 12 evictions of last Saturday, bring the total of persons ejected from the company's property to 1,000. There was no forcible opposition on the part of the tenements and the work proceeded quietly and without any demonstration. Several days ago agents of the company served notice on the tenants to leave the company's property today. None of the tenants obeyed the orders and other agents of the corporation made house to house many questionnaires and removed all the furniture.

On Saturday the furniture and other household effects were piled in the streets, where they still remain. The town authorities, however, have objected to the highways being obstructed and have notified the mill officials that no property of evicted tenants shall be put in the streets. As a result, the furniture taken out today was piled in the yards around the houses or on some other land owned by the corporation. The central Labor Union of the adjoining city of Springfield planned to go before the superior court today and ask for an injunction restraining the company from evicting the strikers. Lieutenant Governor Prothingham came to Ludlow soon after 8 o'clock. The lieutenant governor, here was made at the request of Governor Draper, who wished to be informed officially of the situation. He was accompanied by Mr. Prothingham, who was in the company of the strike. Mr. Prothingham watched the work of eviction, and asked many questions regarding the conditions of the strikers, who are interested in the struggle.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 2.—With the transportation of strike breakers from Chicago, and other points and the pressing of other employees of the railroad, the strike of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, which was west affected by the strike of the Switchmen's Union of North America, which went into effect Tuesday evening, began their first real work today in the city of St. Paul. The conditions between here and the Pacific coast. Local warehouses were open today and the roads accepted limited freight shipments to points in Dakota and Montana. The efforts of the railroad there was no noticeable improvement in business conditions in the twin cities this morning. In Minneapolis, the four mills, with the exception of one of the smaller ones, were stopped, and the cessation of this industry alone threw 5,000 men out of employment. It is stated that the mill will lose $75,000 a week in wages while the mills are closed and that the loss of business to the milling concerns will be $1,000,000 a week. At the head of the lake, where the most important industries are directly dependent on the waterway, the continuation for a few more days of the present situation will force 10,000 men out of employment. Reports are in circulation this morning that the entire Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen would be called out in the event of a strike. The reports could not be traced to an authentic source. The situation appeared to be satisfied with the situation, however, and were particularly pleased with the result of the strike, but the action of joining the strike, and the action of the Chicago switchmen in demanding an increase in wages. ST. PAUL, Dec. 2.—President Frank T. Hawley of the Switchmen's Union, received a telegram from President W. G. Lee, of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, advising that the latter organization had been instructed to act "in line with the strike" and to support the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. This, Mr. Hawley says, means that members of the Brotherhood, who are in the territory affected by a strike, will be permitted to join the Switchmen's Union, as it is agreed that where members of the two organizations are together, the majority governs. Reports are conflicting as to what members of the Order of Railway Trainmen will do. Although the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen has refused to join the strike, while others say they complied with the strike, the majority of the Brotherhood has remained at work. SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 2.—The strike has assumed a more serious aspect in the Pacific Northwest. The situation in Seattle is particularly serious. Passenger schedules are being maintained with difficulty. The arrival of the Great Northern Line's Minneapolis train, which left last night with 34,000 tons of freight valued at $600,000, much of it for the city of Seattle, was a great added cause for alarm. The train was 1,577 tons of raw silk for New York and 800 tons of other Oriental goods for various cities. Last night after twenty-four hours of idleness attempts were made to get the freight over the Northern Pacific Railway from Tacoma and Elmsburg for Seattle. This morning local service between Seattle and Tacoma was suspended. The Northern Pacific switching crews at the coast terminal points and all competent railway men who apply for positions will be given work.

UNKNOWN THREE MASTER BAUGHT IN THE STORM

UNKNOWN THREE MASTER BAUGHT IN THE STORM

CELESTINE, Mont., Dec. 2.—The switchmen's strike on the Northwest coast has resulted in the partial closing of the Boston and Montana smelter with 300 employees and a consequent loss of $100,000 a week. Twenty-four hours will empty the furnaces of the Great Falls plant. The Boston and Montana derives its fuel from the mines of Butte and Helena upon the Great Northern railway. The other great smelters of the state are in better position. The strike has not affected the Butte, Anaconda and Pacific Railroad, which hauls the ore from Butte to the Washington coast. The American Smelting and Refining Company's plant at Helena, besides having a month's supply of ore, coal and coke on hand, has its own yards and its own switchmen. A division is noticeable in the sentiment of the members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. At Butte and Missoula they are siding with the strikers, but at Billings in eastern Montana they remain at work. Twenty members of the Brotherhood at Helena joined the strikers yesterday. The tie-up seems to be most general in Butte and Missoula divisions of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern roads. Passenger trains, however, are running on time. The closing of the Amalgamated mines at Butte following the closing of the Great Falls smelter will throw thousands of miles out of work. SUPERIOR, Wis., Dec. 2.—The railroad is making an effort to break the strike in the Superior region. It announced this morning that freight was received this afternoon and that local freight would be started tomorrow. Yesterday a sub-committee of the harbor board inspected Duane wharf and decided that the vessel at anchor, the C. P. R. has applied for the wharf for the purpose of storing coal.

SEABOARD IN DISTRESS OF MOONBY POINT—Sixty Mile Gale Last Night

CELESTINE, Mont., Dec. 2.—Rain and fog completely shut out the view of the Moonby Point life saving station early today and it was impossible to tell whether the unknown three master schooner which last night displayed signals of distress, had withstood the storm. The lookout at the station was able, about an hour after sunrise, to discern a light off Little Round Sound, where the vessel was moored last night, but he could not make out the craft. The northeast gale attained a sixty mile velocity early today and the snow squalls of yesterday had changed to a driving rain. A heavy sea was running, and with the lighthouse at Pollock Ship, to the northward, riding off her station and shore of her guiding beacon, navigation across the shoals was suspended during the night. The revenue cutter Gresham and the destroyer Seneca, were at Provincetown today waiting for more favorable weather before proceeding to the assistance of the distressed schooner, as they could do nothing in the heavy sea. The revenue cutter Archibald was storm-bound in Woods Hole.

PLAN CANAL TO PANAMA

Government of Columbia Will Likely Build One

Will be Built at Another Point on Isthmus But on Columbia Land

Columbia Mad Because United States Took Panama

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8.—That the government of the Republic of Columbia is actually contemplating the construction of a canal across the Isthmus of Panama, paralleling that of the United States, but at another point on the isthmus, and within Columbian territory; and that British capitalists are actually investigating the matter with reference to financing the effort, now being earnestly pressed, which has leaked out since the House Appropriations Committee returned from its visit to the Isthmus. Columbia intends to retaliate against the United States for taking the State of Panama and making it a Republic. The Columbia hopes to succeed in the effort, now being earnestly pressed, to get European capital to back another way.

It is reported that the Rothschilds may finance the enterprise. The British Government contends that we are bound by treaty to refrain from fortifying our canal. Three or every indication that the British will be disregarded, for preparations are already being made looking to the immediate construction of a canal across the Isthmus of Panama.
