Legal Decisions
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the Post Office—whether directed to his name or another's or whether he has subscribed or not—is responsible for the payment.

2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

3. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post Office, or removing and leaving them uncollected for a prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

NOBLE CRANDALL,
MANAGER.
TELEPHONE NO. 35.

"It must be about the time he is to start," she said to herself one day.

And by-and-by as she glanced over a newspaper, her eye was attracted by his name, and with white lips and dilated eyes, she read of his marriage to another.

"Married! Taken another bride, instead of coming back to marry me! Oh, Paul, Paul! I loved and trusted you for this!"

She covered her face with her hands, and wept bitterly.

An hour afterward, as she sat there in the twilight, with the fatal newspaper lying on her lap, she heard a step on the gravel walk; and, looking up, she saw John Phillips coming up the steps. He had been to see her often before, but had never yet spoken of love, and had, of course, received no encouragement to do so. He was a plain, hard-working farmer, with no romance about him, but matter-of-fact to the core. His wife would get few caresses or tender words. He would be kind enough—would give her plenty to eat and wear.

Now he seemed to have come for the express purpose of asking her to be his wife; for he took a chair, and, seating himself beside her, after the usual greeting, reserving scarcely a moment to take breath, began, in his business-like way, to converse. There was no confession of love, no pleading, no hand-clasping, no tender glances; he simply wanted her; would she be his wife? His manner was hearty enough; there was no doubt he really wanted her—would rather marry her than any other woman he knew; but that was all.

Her lips moved to tell him that she did not love him; but as she let her eyes fall upon the crimson hearted rose that swung from the vine over the window, she thought of those lines again.

"Married!" she said to herself. "What can I do? He doesn't ask me to love him. If I marry him I can be a true wife to him, and nobody will know that Paul had jilted me."

The decision was made. Her cheeks were ashy pale as she looked up, straight into his eyes, and answered quietly, "Yes, I will be your wife."

Her parents were pleased that she was chosen by so well-to-do a young man; so it was all settled, and they were married that same summer. People thought she sobered down wonderfully; more than that, nothing was said that would lead anyone to suppose any change had taken place.

Yes, she was sobered down. She dared not think of Paul. There was no hope ahead. Life was a time to be filled up with something, so that she might not think of herself. John was always kind, but she got so worried of his talk of stock and crops, and said to herself, "I must work harder; plan and fuss, and bustle about so other women do, so that I may forget, and grow like John."

Two years went swiftly by. A baby slept in a little cradle; and Martha—nobody called her Mattie but Paul—sat rocking it with her foot; as she knitted a blue woolen stocking for the baby's father. There was a knock at the half-opened door.

"I have got into the wrong road; will you be kind enough to direct me the nearest way to the village?" said a voice, and a stranger stepped in.

NOW IS THE TIME
Cure Your Rheumatism
Before It Gets a Hold.

Take Ryckman's Kootenay
Cure.

Thousands have been Cured by its use.

During the coming winter a large portion of your time will be spent indoors.
Want of exercise will cause sluggish blood,
and as a consequence the kidneys will not perform their functions. You become dyspeptic, have pains in your back, hips or limbs and lose your appetite. That means rheumatism. Look out for it.
Ryckman's Kootenay Cure invigorates and purifies the blood. Stomach troubles disappear in from one to seven days.
Sometimes a few doses is sufficient. If conscientiously used, it never fails to cure rheumatism, neuralgia and kidney complaints. All druggists sell it.

She arose to give him the required direction, but stopped short, while he came quickly forward.

"Paul!"
"Mattie!"

His face lighted up, and he reached out his arms to draw her near him.
With a surprised, pained look she drew back.

"Mr. Gardner, this is a most unexpected meeting."

"Mr. Gardner?" he repeated. "Mattie what do you mean?"

"Don't call me Mattie, if you please," she replied with dignity.
"My name is Phillips."

"Phillips!" he echoed. "Are you married?"

"These are strange words from you, Paul Gardner; did you think I was waiting all this time for another woman's husband?—that I was keeping my faith with one who played me false
so soon?"

"Played you false! I have not. I am come as I promised you. The two years ago but just past, and I am here to claim you. Why do you greet me thus?
Are you indeed married, Mattie Gray?"

She was trembling like an aspen leaf.
For answer she turned and pointed to the cradle. He came and stood before her, with white face and folded arms.

"Tell me why you did this! Didn't you love me well enough to wait for me?"

She went and unlocked a drawer, and took out a newspaper. Unfolding it, and finding the place, she pointed to it, with her finger, and he read the marriage notice.

"What is this?" he asked, as he met her questioning, reproachful look.

"Oh, Mattie! you thought it meant me. It is my cousin. I am not married, nor in love with any one but you."

"Are you telling me the truth?"
she asked, in an eager, husky voice.

And then, as he replied, "It is true,"
she gave a low groan and sank down into a chair.

"Oh, Paul, forgive me! I nearly broke my heart! I didn't know that you had a cousin by the same name.
I ought not to have doubted you; but 'twas there in black and white—and this man, my husband, came, and I married him!"

With bitter tears, she told him how it all happened. With clenched hands he walked to and fro, then stopped beside the cradle, and bent over the sleeping child. "Lower he bent, until his lips touched its wee forehead, while he murmured softly to himself, "Mattie's baby."

Then he turned, and, kneeling before her, said, in a low voice, "I forgive you, Mattie; be as happy as you can."
He took both her hands in his, and looked steadily, lovingly, into her face.

His lips twitched convulsively as he arose to his feet. "I have no right here—you are another man's wife.
Good-by—God bless you!"

He turned, as he went out of the door, and saw her standing there in the middle of the room, with arms outstretched. He went back, and putting his arms around her, pressed one kiss on her cheek, then left the house, never looking back.

And she went down on her knees beside the sleeping baby, and prayed for strength to bear her great trial. They never saw one another again.

Seventy years old her stalwart son and bright-eyed daughters remember her as a loving and devoted mother, her gray-haired husband as a most faithful wife.

"Never was a woman more patient and kind, and as good a housewife as ever was," he said, as he brushed the back of his old brown hand across his eyes while looking down on the peaceful face.

And not one of them ever knew of the weary heart and broken hope that had died in her breast, nor ever dreamed of the sorrowful load she had borne through life.

The Mission of Woman.

A woman who is a deep thinker, and a clever writer as well, puts her thoughts to paper in the following interesting little article on woman's mission:

We have heard a great deal in the past year about woman's mission and woman's sphere, until between two contending forces we have begun to wonder whether woman really has any right to exist on the earth at all.

On the one hand we have been told that she is entirely too good for this earth, but while watching to see how unfold her downy wings and fly away to some spot where political economy is unheard of, along comes another argumentative person and tells us that woman is such a very inferior creature that we look to see her swallowed up instantly in that pit whose bottom has not yet been sounded.

Instead of either of these things happening, woman continues to perform much the same mission that has fallen to her lot since the world began;
doing it better in some cases than others, but doing her mission and developing with the race and the world into new opportunities, higher duties and greater privileges. It is an old teaching but one which we need constantly to recall to mind, that the one who does that duty which is nearest to hand is the one who accomplishes the most for the world. It is as true of classes as it is of individuals.

The Divine Name.

The Rev. Dr. Wise, president of the Hebrew Union college at Cincinnati has given his view of the ancient Jewish rendering of the name of the Deity.

He says that the term "Jehovah," the ineffable tetragrammaton, is never pronounced by any Israelites. They use the word "Adonai," which signifies
"the Lord." In ancient times the Pharisees replaced the tetragrammaton by Shem. They used "Shemo," which is also Biblical, as the sacred name, and this name is yet retained, to some extent, among the Jews. But it would appear from passages in the Psalms that Adonai, or the Lord, for Jehovah was more ancient than the times of the Pharisees. It thus occurs eight times in Psalm lxxvii. It also appears in the book of Exodus where "Jehovah"
had been used in the original Hebrew.
This substitution would seem to be older than any other, and yet it is common among all Jews.

Dr. Wise says he found that the ancient translations testify in favor of "Adonai."

Looking at English translations of the Old Testament, it will be found that the name Jehovah appears in the books of Genesis, Exodus, Judges, the Psalms and Isaiah. It is not in the New Testament.—New York Sun.

Sunlight.

Do admit the sunlight. It is very essential to health and is certainly life-giving. Why is it that we are afraid of it? We find homes so densely surrounded by trees that even the most persistent sunbeam could not penetrate through the branches. When sickness and death frequently visit such a place, we wonder why it is. Sunlight diffused through a room clarifies the air. It has a direct influence on the minute organic poisons—an influence which is most precious, and it has, also, a cheerful effect on the mind.

It is no wonder we become greatly attached to beautiful trees and look

A Valuable Note.

An honest old blacksmith down in Texas, despairing of ever getting cash out of a delinquent debtor, agreed to take a note for the amount due. The debtor wished to go to a lawyer and have the document drawn up, but the knights of the law, who had been a sheriff in days gone by, felt fully competent to draw it up himself.

This he proceeded to do with the following result:

"On the first day of June I promise to pay Joems Nicks the sum of eleven dollars, and if said note is not paid on the date aforesaid, then this instrument is to be null and void and of no effect.
Witness my hand, etc."

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., DEC. 11, 1896.

Editorial Chat.

Hon. David Mills has been appointed to the Senate in place of Hon. David MacPherson deceased, and Mr. Geo. A. Cox, in place of the late Dr. Ferguson.

It is a pretty well established fact that the question of the leadership of the Liberal party in England has been settled. Sir William Vernon Harcourt is now the recognized leader.

We notice by one of our exchanges that more money is to be invested in the hope of finding Capt. Kidd's treasure. What a pity the old "Cap" could't take a peep out into the coin world and give us a tip as to the location of his chest. It would save a lot of bother and money.

The busy season is now over with the majority of our people and the long winter evenings will provide an opportunity for reading and thinking. We should be glad during the winter to open our columns to any of our readers for expressions of opinion on any subject of general interest. We trust our friends may avail themselves of the invitation, and that the discussion of live topics may be productive of pleasure and profit.

The South African millionaire, J. B. Robinson, has bought a stately mansion Dudley House, Park Lane, Piccadilly. Another Afrikaner, Beit, has built a palace near Grosvenor Gate, and "Barney" Barnato is erecting in Park Lane the largest and most gorgeous private building in England. Robinson, Beit, and Barnato may expand themselves to the expenditure of millions, but they cannot get admission into clubs and social circles where poorer men are welcomed.

Dr. Jamieson has no cause to complain of the severity of British justice. Because of ill-health he has been released from jail after serving only a few months, for an offence which almost led to war between the Boers and Great Britain. The British people will probably approve of this, for the Transvaal raid did not meet with general condemnation, but it is not likely that President Kruger's temper will be improved thereby, and that is a matter of some importance at this moment.

A horrible murder took place at Dundas, P. E. I., on Saturday last. A young man named Archibald McGowan became suddenly insane, and seizing an axe went to the home of Miss Margaret McKenzie, and hacked her so badly that she died from the effects of the wound on Tuesday afternoon. Miss McKenzie was a housekeeper for Messrs Jonathan and Duncan Matheson, and was about 65 years of age. McGowan is 20 years of age, and is very respectably connected. He was conveyed to the Charlottetown insane asylum on Tuesday evening.

We notice that the inhabitants of our sister town of Berwick are moving in the direction of the instituting of a public library in that place. This is a project that has been frequently advocated for Wolfville by the ACADIAN, but so far without effect. We see no reason why we should not have in this town a good public library, and we feel sure no one will question the advantage that it would be. In the New England States many towns of less population than Wolfville have good public libraries that are a source of pleasure and profit to the people.

Grip is in New York again, but it is in a much milder form than it was in 1889 and 1890, when it counted its dead on both sides of the Atlantic. Thus far it has scored no dead in New York city—at least none have been reported. The malady has been prevalent for perhaps a month, but it is only within the last few days that it has been recognized as the dread visitor from Russia, who came in December, 1889. At first the doctors passed the case off as colds, but they have found them so stubborn and unyielding to treatment that they are now yielding the more serious view.

The London Times says: "This has been an unprecedented year for fruit growing in Canada. The yield of peaches and grapes has been above the average, while the yield of apples is extraordinary. Thousands of barrels being dispatched to Montreal daily for shipment to England before navigation closes on the St. Lawrence. From one little station, Winona, on the Grand Trunk Railway, near Hamilton, 2,000,000 pounds of grapes have been shipped in the past six weeks. A case of fruit of different varieties grown in the Hamilton district has been forwarded to England for presentation to the Queen."

Readers of the Halifax papers during the past week might reasonably be a little unsettled as to who really is president of Acadia. On Saturday last the Herald devoted a large amount of space to Rev. T. Trotter, who was referred to as the new president. On Monday the Chronicle had the following:

"Prof. Keirstead, president of Acadia University lectured before the Dalhousie students yesterday on 'The Philosophy of Tennison's works and his ideas of human life.' The lecturer spoke on 'The Philosophy of Tennison,' and for an hour held the close attention of his audience as he showed the tendency of Tennison's works and his ideas of human life. The hearty applause at the close showed the appreciation of the students for the lecturer."

The Acadian Recorder adds its testimony as follows: "Prof. Keirstead, president of Acadia College, discoursed before the Dalhousie students yesterday on 'The Philosophy of Tennison's works and his ideas of human life.' The lecturer spoke on 'The Philosophy of Tennison,' and for an hour held the close attention of his audience as he showed the tendency of Tennison's works and his ideas of human life. The hearty applause at the close showed the appreciation of the students for the lecturer."

"Scott Act in Kentville."

Such is the title of a somewhat remarkable article which appeared in the "Wolfville" Acadian Orchardist of the 8th inst. It would appear as though Mr. J. B. Newcombe, Inspector under the Scott Act for Kentville, had in some unfortunate manner incurred the ire of the "Wolfville" Acadian Orchardist's editor, and therefore because he, farsooth, acting upon advice, and clearly within his rights, sought to compel the liquor dealers, upon whom fines had been imposed some weeks previous, to pay directly to him, and not through the "Town Treasurer" he is treated to a column of editorial castigation.

We should like to know upon what authority a newspaper avowedly published in Wolfville, undertakes to editorially chastise an official of the sister town of Kentville. This goes to show the shallowness of the pretension that the "Wolfville" Acadian Orchardist is in any respect a production of Wolfville and that the young man who collects news items for the paper in this town has about as much to do with the editorial management of the paper as he has knowledge of the unpublished and unwritten doings of the Kentville town Council.

In this same issue of the "Wolfville" Acadian Orchardist the editor takes his readers into his confidence by informing them in characteristic style, that the "Rev. Mr. Trotter has not yet decided to accept the office of President of Acadia, so unanimously tendered him by the governors." Then he referred to "his church here" more than once, as though he, the editor, resided here and knew what he was talking about. Of course we are willing to admit that as Clerk of the Town Council of Kentville, the editor of the "Wolfville" Acadian Orchardist has a better opportunity of knowing of the agreement between that body and Mr. Newcombe, and as Governor of Acadia College he has a better opportunity of knowing of all Rev. Mr. Trotter's decisions, but we object to his claim that in any respect his editorial productions are a product of the town of Wolfville.

As Clerk of the Town Council of Kentville he should want his life in that other paper called The Advertiser, and not seek to create the impression that Wolfville is meddling with Kentville Scott Act embroilments.

Publications.

We have received a copy of the Yarmouth Daily News, which was inaugurated a short time ago by Mr. W. Saunders. Mr. H. H. McDonald wields the editorial pen, and it is quite a new little journal. We wish it a long, happy and useful career.

The twelfth annual issue of the Columbia Pad Calendar, published by the Pope Manufacturing Co., of Hartford, Conn., has reached our table. It is an excellent edition, containing a calendar of unique arrangement of dates that will prove very helpful and convenient to busy men, with hosts of bright contributions from friends and riders of the Columbia bicycle. The calendar can be obtained for five two-cent stamps by addressing the Company at above address.

The Canadian Home Journal for December, published in Toronto, edited by the well-known writer, Faith Fenton, late of The Empire, has just reached us. It is artistically gotten up, full of the Xmas spirit, well illustrated, and in every way justly lays claim to be the leading ladies' paper of Canada. Lady Aberdeen herself, President of the National Council of Women, edits and controls the department devoted to the interests of this influential organization. Music, Art, Fashion, Games, The Household, fascinating and reasonable stories written especially for the Journal, bright, timely articles on books, people and current events are among its leading features, and commend it to every woman in the Dominion. Single copies 10 cents, or $1.00 a year. Address: Home Journal Publishing Co., Globe Building, Toronto.

We have received a copy of the "Canadian Almanac" for 1897, published by the Coy. Clark Co., of Toronto. This is the fifth year of publication of this well-known annual, and its size has been increased to 356 pages. Among the new features are a short history of Canada, giving the main events in Canadian history, chronologically arranged; an historical diary of the years 1895-96; and an interesting article on the "Kings' Loyalists." The regular departments of the almanac are up to date, among them being a post-office gazetteer of Canada, giving the name of every place in Canada, with the railroad or steamship line on which located, or nearest railway station. She usual mass of interesting statistics and astronomical calculations is given, and the almanac is embellished with engravings of prominent persons and public buildings. The price remains the same as in previous years, namely 20 cents in paper covers, and 30 cents in limp cloth.

RHEUMATIC GOUT.

The Intense Suffering of a Nova Scotia Lady.

Racked with Pains for Months—Her case became so bad that she lost two of her toes—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills came to her Relief.

Boston Landing, N. S., is known to Canadian history as the departing point of the fugitive Acadians. Among its present residents is Mrs. John King, a lady held in high esteem by her many friends. Recently while a reporter of the ACADIAN was spending a short time in the village, he learned that Mrs. King was one who might be numbered among the vast host who have been restored to health and strength through the medium of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In October, 1895, this lady was taken seriously ill with an acute attack of rheumatic gout. For months she endured all that was possible for one to endure and live. Night after night she was deprived of sleep by almost unendurable pains, which kept her in constant torture. The trouble finally became so intense that two of her toes became lifeless and fell off. She seemed to get no relief from the medicine she was taking, and almost as a last resort she determined to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After the use of a few boxes her health began to improve, and the pain left her. In a little while longer she was able to go about, when one day unfortunately, when going from one room to another, her ankle turned and she fell heavily. Again she was prostrated and for upwards of two months was confined to her bed with a serious hip trouble, able only to raise when bodily lifted, the merest movement provoking intense pain. When the accident occurred she discontinued the pills and resorted to medical treatment, but as she was not improving she determined to once more give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, with the result that they again brought her back to relief and although her hip trouble has not wholly disappeared she feels deeply grateful for the good Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done her, and gave the reporter full permission to make the facts public, in the hope that her statement might be of advantage to some other sufferer.

Rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, nervous headache, nervous prostration and diseases depending upon humor in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipela, etc., all disappear before a fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions and build up and renew the entire system. Sold by all dealers and post paid at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Do not be persuaded to try any substitute.

Weston.

Mr. V. H. Skinner, has three "Singing Schools." Two nights of each week at Weston, two at Wolfville and two at Welton Corner.

Miss Eva Cox and Miss Scott McLean are pupil nurses at McLean Hospital, Mass. Mrs. C. E. Sanford has in a measure recovered her health—is able to attend to household duties of a light nature. A number of bars of oats are yet to be threshed.

There is talk of Mr. Morris selling the J. Elliot farm to an eastern man. The Wesley Graves farm has been greatly improved during the past summer by its new proprietor, Mr. M. Ward. Good beef will be made here during the winter.

Hantsport.

Mr. David Robb, of Amherst, spent Sunday last in town. Miss Winnie Robins and Miss May Crooley, of Acadia Seminary, spent a few days with the former's aunt, Mrs. Sarah Robins.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Wm. McLane, who was formerly our station agent, is rapidly losing his eye-sight. He left last Saturday for New York, to be treated by an eye specialist.

Rev. Mr. Dickey, of Windsor, preached last Thursday evening in Sweet's Hall. Mrs. Elderkin, of Wolfville, was the guest of Mrs. Parker on Tuesday last. It is the intention of the Presbyterians to build a church here next spring. Miss Lavers, of Halifax, who has been visiting Mrs. Robert Esak, returned home last Saturday.

WINDSOR & FRASER'S College—the largest, richest, and best Commercial College in Nova Scotia—has a staff of seven skilled instructors. A Diploma from this college gives the best chance for a good situation. More applications are received by the college by first-class positions than can be filled.

Time lost during Xmas holidays is made up to the student. Send for catalogue to S. E. Whiston, principal, 95 Barrington St., Halifax. The election for Cornwall and Stormont takes place on the 19th inst., nomination 12th. The candidates are Messrs. Leith, conservative; Soetinger, Liberal; Adams, Independent.

BLANCHARD & CO., WINDSOR.

Important Points

Contributions to this department will be gladly received. Mr. W. E. Joy, of Truro, was in town this week. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shaw, of Bridge-town, spent Sunday in town. Miss Minnie Fitch and Miss Leda Bars are visiting friends near Boston. Miss Abbie Burgess, of this town, left on Saturday last on a visit to friends in New York. Mr. A. W. Johnston, representing Greenfields & Co., Montreal, was in town this week. Mr. Chas. C. Randall, of New York, formerly of Wolfville, spent Sunday in Wolfville, at the residence of Mr. D. B. Shaw. Mr. William Blackadder arrived from Boston on Wednesday evening, on a visit to his parents here. He has been absent over seven years. Mr. W. F. B. Humphrey, of Halifax, is the new junior clerk in the People's Bank agency, of this town. He entered upon his duties yesterday. Miss Nellie Gough, of Halifax, who for some months past has been engaged with Miss Welton in her millinery business, returned to her home on Tuesday last. Mr. Clifford Jones, B. A., of this town, who for the past three years has been teaching at Banff, has entered upon the study of law in the office of a prominent solicitor at Calgary. "CHIEF" is a bright boy, and will no doubt make his mark. Mr. G. W. Woodworth, of Kentville, was in town a day or two this week in the interest of the Western Chronicle. G. W. always has a pretty good story, but the one he told us this week is the best yet. He said that a man—a respectable, intelligent citizen of this county, did un-solicited, and with malice aforethought, give him two fifty-cent pieces for a year's subscription to the Western Chronicle. That's a pretty good one, "friend George." Try again.

The schooner Noyah, arrived here from Boston on Thursday last week. Her destination was Port Williams, but some- how she got mixed up and landed here instead. In attempting to go out on the evening tide, she ran aground, where she remained until Saturday morning, when the Hansport tug Waltham came up and towed her to the Port. She was chartered by S. P. Benjamin to load lumber for Boston.

A Dolphin or Coon Jacket made up in the newest style is about the most fashionable coat a lady can wear for fall and winter. I have a number of each on hand that must be sold soon. They will be sold very low for cash. A new lot of Persian Lamb or Dogskin Capes arrived last week, lengths 27 to 30 inches. They are handsome. Also a few dozen pairs of Chenille Curtains and Portiers at lowest prices. If you want a pair of Boys' Serge Pants at 25c. heavy lined, now is your chance. Call at once.

AN INCURABLE CURED.

After Treatment in Canada's Best Hospital Had Failed.

One of the Most Remarkable Cases on Record—Ten Years of Intense Suffering From Acute Rheumatism—The Whole Body Contracted and Out of Shape in Every Limb—Again Restored to Active Life.

From the Newmarket Advertiser. We suppose there is not a resident of Newmarket who does not know Mr J. A. Moffat, who does not know of his years of suffering and who has not heard of his release from a life of helplessness and pain through the medium of Dr Williams' Pink Pills. Indeed we doubt if in the annals of medicine there is a more remarkable restoration than has been accomplished in Mr Moffat's case, and he deems it his duty to mankind to make the facts known through the columns of the Advertiser.

Ten years ago Mr Moffat was working in the Newmarket Hat Factory. Through the influence of the damp room, and possibly some carelessness in regard to his health, he was attacked with a severe cold which eventually settled in his limbs. For some years he was an almost constant sufferer from rheumatic pains and spent much money in treatment for the trouble, but with no result beyond an occasional temporary release from pain. Finally to make matters worse he was attacked with malaria and rheumatic fever. He was then forced to go to the Toronto general hospital when it was found that he was afflicted with verticella (vry neck). During the first six months in the hospital, he was under the treatment of the staff electrician, but the powers of electricity entirely failed, and after a consultation of physicians it was deemed advisable to perform an operation. Six weeks later a second operation was performed. The operations proved successful only in so far as they afforded temporary relief. He remained in the hospital from November, 1890, till January, 1892, and with all the modern remedies and appliances known to the staff of that well equipped institution no permanent relief could be obtained. He was then advised to go home, partly in the hope that the change might prove beneficial, but instead he continually grew worse, and in March, 1892, was again forced to take to his bed, and those who knew of his condition did not believe he had long to live. At this time every joint in his body was swollen and distorted, and he suffered the most excruciating agony. If a person walked across his bedroom it intensified the pain as though he was being pierced and torn with knives, and if touched he would scream aloud with agony. In this state of hopeless suffering he remained bedfast for eighteen months, all the while using all manner of medicines from which relief might be hoped for. Then he was put under the treatment of a celebrated Toronto specialist, but with no better result. After this last experiment failed, he determined to try Dr Williams' Pink Pills, at the same time discontinuing all other treatment. At the end of three months there was a very noticeable improvement in his condition, and so much so that his mother thought he could be lifted outside. He was still so weak, however, that he was only able to remain up a few minutes at a time. When taken back to bed he felt a sudden tingling sensation going up from his toes and through his joints and spine. The next morning when he awoke the pain had left the body and lodged in the arms, and then for some weeks the pain fitted from place to place in the arms and then disappeared, and he has not had a particle of pain since. All this time he was taking Dr Williams' Pink Pills and slowly but surely regaining his strength. Then an invalid's chair was procured, and he was wheeled out, eventually he was able to wheel himself about. The continued use of the Pink Pills added constantly to his strength, and then the chair was discarded for crutches, and then the crutches for a cane. At this time (Sept. 1894) Mr Moffat had so far recovered that he was a frequent contributor to the columns of the Advertiser and procuring a horse and buggy he was engaged as local reporter for the paper. The once utterly helpless invalid is now able to go about, and to get in and out of his buggy without any assistance, and is at his post of duty whenever called upon.

Thus we find that after years of suffering and helplessness Dr Williams' Pink Pills have proved successful after all other remedies and the best of medical treatment had utterly failed. With such marvellous cures as this to its credit it is no wonder that Dr Williams' Pink Pills is the most popular medicine with all classes throughout the land, and this case certainly justifies the claim put forth on its behalf that it "cures when other medicines fail."

The Kind You Need.

Paine's Celery Compound the Only Kind that Cures.

OTHER CELERY COMPOUNTS MERELY WORTHLESS IMITATIONS.

"PAINES" Has a World-wide Record of Life-saving.

If you are numbered amongst the sick and diseased, the medicine you need is the kind that has cured your friends and neighbors.

Paine's Celery Compound is, to-day, the only medicine that can meet your needs if you are suffering from rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney trouble, dyspepsia, constipation, nervousness, or from any trouble that results from impoverished or impure blood. It cures the sick as surely as night follows day.

The vast reputation that Paine's Celery Compound has acquired as a life-saver has led unscrupulous men to put up worthless imitations, and to name these celery preparations. Many people are deceived daily by these miserable frauds, spending their money for remedies that have no established record, and that can never cure.

A little care on the part of those who purchase will soon have the effect of vanishing such deceptive liquid preparations from our midst. Ask for "Paine's"; insist upon getting "Paine's"; and be satisfied that the name "Paine's" is on every wrapper and bottle that you buy. When you secure "Paine's" you have the only medicine on earth that can drive off your load of misery and suffering, and give you a healthy, fresh and joyous life.

The Mockery of Success.

Here is a pathetic story of Palerewski, told in an exchange: "You must be a happy man," said one to him, to which he replied: "You, perhaps, are not aware that my wife died some years ago and that my only child is an incurable cripple. He is all I have in the world, and my wealth and fame can do absolutely nothing for him. My only motive in studying for the career of a public artist was that I should at least be able to obtain the medical advice possible for my poor boy. Alas! I have found it an idle dream! And when the public, which is always so kind to me, applauds me, I think of the little fellow lying on his couch in the house by the sea which I have taken for him, and I feel how poor and how vain it all is."

BEAT ALL OTHERS.

Diamond Dyes Have a World-wide Record.

The Diamond Dyes are far ahead of all other packages dyes made for home dyeing. When the plain directions are followed, a child can dye successfully.

Diamond Dyes are warranted to color more goods than any other package dyes, and to make colors that last as long as the goods hold together. All wise, economical and prudent women use Diamond Dyes because they never suffer disappointments, failures or losses that result from the use of poorly prepared dyes. Every package of Diamond Dyes is warranted to do the work intended for it.

The Little Country Paper.

The morning papers lay on the seat beside him in the elevated train. He was reading with eagerness an awkward, crumpled little sheet. The printing of the paper was unbecomingly looked at though half the letters were smashed. The impression of the type was dull and blurred.

It was the weekly paper, printed in the little town where this prosperous, well-dressed New Yorker had been born and bred. Many a man who has carved his fortune in the city, built the little country paper every week as a welcome messenger. It tells how the crops are flourishing, how the fences are being whitewashed every spring, and, perhaps, once in a while there is a paragraph about the dear old mother, who has got into print by entertaining the sewing circle.

And the prosperous New Yorker reads by the side of him unheeded.

A Nova Scotia Case.

Suffered without help—Eighteen Years getting worse—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BRIDGEWATER, N. S., Nov. 20 (Special).—There is no man in this town better known than J. S. Morgan, thsmith, who for eighteen years had been going from bad to worse without help until at last he got hold of the right treatment. He says: "It began with backache, pains in the limbs, and finally settled down as rheumatism. I was a cripple and after I ran down greatly in weight the doctors said it was Diabetes. About a year and a half ago I quit everything else and took Dodd's Kidney Pills. Have taken twenty-three boxes, and have regained my weight, health and strength. I am perfectly cured."

Never count a temptation so triumphant as ever, so beaten off, that it will never assault you any more. Satan has been called Beelzebub, or the god of fire, some tell us, because he will not take a repulse, because he comes back again and again, because it is impossible to drive him away that he will not return.

It is often a mystery how a cold has been "caught." The fact is, however, that when the blood is poor and the system depressed, one becomes peculiarly liable to disease. When the appetite or the strength fails, Ayer's Sarsaparilla should be taken without delay.

Why Should a Church Member Belong to the W. C. T. U.

BY MRS SARAH D. LA FETRA.

"Do not the regular lines of church work sufficiently include work for temperance? Why should a busy church member belong to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union?" We answer, we belong

1. Because we believe that the sinner and his allies are the greatest obstacles which lie in the way of the triumph of Christ and His church in the world. The open saloon is blocking the highways along which must come the King in His beauty, and His triumphal reign cannot be ushered in until the dramshop is cleared away and institutions for men's elevation are substituted. The altars of our church are pitifully devoid of young men, and the pitfalls of vice in our large cities are crowded with them. Thus they are drawn farther and farther away from purity, the influence of a mother's prayers and the restraining and helpful ordinances of the church.

2. We belong because there is a stupefying lethargy on the part of the average church member regarding the evils of the saloon, and a disposition to evade responsibility. Consequently, the aroused and consecrated worker for souls must organize, agitate and cry aloud in behalf of "the slain of the daughters of my people." It is not enough that we offer a prayer occasionally for the downfall of the liquor traffic; not enough that we have quarterly temperance Sunday-school lessons, and once or twice a year a good temperance sermon; not enough that the church periodically pass strong resolutions against the sale of intoxicating liquors. All these are good, but radical evils must have radical remedies, and the rank and file of our churches are conservative and slow to adopt any such measures.

3. We belong because the W. C. T. U. wipes out denominational lines in Christian work against this common foe to all, and realizes the Saviour's prayer that "they all may be one." This blending of women at the mercy seat has brought to them such a revelation of the Holy Spirit's power, such depth of love and peace and joy, that they are conscious that His favor crowns their work and that "He will finally subdue all enemies under His feet."

4. We belong because the W. C. T. U. unites out denominational lines in Christian work against this common foe to all, and realizes the Saviour's prayer that "they all may be one." This blending of women at the mercy seat has brought to them such a revelation of the Holy Spirit's power, such depth of love and peace and joy, that they are conscious that His favor crowns their work and that "He will finally subdue all enemies under His feet."

5. We belong because the missionary work of all our churches is handicapped in foreign countries by the rum sent out from this and other so-called Christian lands to the natives whom our missionaries are making every effort to reach and save. Contracts are made with citizens of this country to send thousands of gallons of rum per day to the Free States of the Congo, that gain may come into the unscrupulous coffers of the rum trade. Mrs Mary Clement Leavitt, our first round-the-world missionary, found whole villages drunk with rum sent from Christian England and the United States, when she arrived with her message of gospel purity and love. God have pity, for the blood of these natives is yet upon our garments!

6. We belong because the Woman's Christian Temperance Union stands for the ecclesiastical emancipation of woman. "Go quickly and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead," said the angel to the women. They are preaching the risen Christ as acceptably and as effectively as any on whom holy hands have been laid in ordination by the church. Who that ever heard our sainted Mary T. Lathrap can doubt that she was called of God to preach the gospel? And yet, the church she loved and honored refused to recognize officially that call because she was a woman! I fully believe that thousands of souls who are now untouched, would be reached and saved annually if our churches would but acknowledge and officially recognize God's call to women to preach the gospel. Such convictions of duty have never come to me personally, so I speak more freely in behalf of others. Our women by their loyalty and devotion to the church (and women form two-thirds of its membership), their faithfulness under this system of injustice, are surely bringing nearer the glad day when there shall be no sex distinction in service for the King of Kings.

In the limited space at my command I have only been able to hint at a few of the good reasons why Christian women should belong to the W. C. T. U. Oh, women, heed God's call to you! Join our ranks and in addition to your church work, work for Him along the lines of Prohibition and woman's emancipation. "This ought ye to do, and not to leave the other undone."

As an instance of the strange conceit and yet really wit of the Irish the following is not a bad example.

An Englishman and an Irishman were one day holding an argument respecting the nationality of various great men who had lived and died.

The Irishman had successfully silenced each one mentioned as a countryman of his own, till at length the Englishman, somewhat nettled, inquired:

"How about Shakespeare—was he an Irishman?"

"Well, I can't say that he was altogether, but at all events he had the abilities of one."
