The Lost Will; OR, LOVE TRIUMPHS AT LAST!

CHAPTER VII.

When Jack and the butler were left alone they went through a form of trying to restore the life which had departed, though they knew their efforts were hopeless. Presently they heard the panting of a motor-car; the doctor came in. After scarcely more than a momentary examination he shook his head.

"Let us take him upstairs," he said.

"But, good heavens, Wetherby!" groaned Jack. "It can't be possible! I tell you he was all right a little while ago, when I saw him after dinner—"

"He has not been right for years, Chalfont," said the doctor, gravely. "Heart! I warned him. I advised him to cut work and take it easy; but, poor fellow! he was one of those men who won't take advice, especially from a doctor. No, no; no need for you—we can manage him," he added, compassionately.

For Jack was shaking like a leaf; but, notwithstanding his emotion, he insisted upon bearing a hand, and they carried Chalfont to his room, where Jack remained for some time, kneeling beside the bed, his hand gripping the cold one of the man who had been so good to him. At last Wetherby persuaded him to leave the room; they went downstairs to the den, as if by an inspection of it they could bring themselves to realise that its owner was indeed dead.

"What was it?" inquired Jack, dropping into a chair and clasping his head in his hands. "As I told you, he was quite well, just as usual. He was talking to me as calmly, cheerfully—"

He stopped for a moment as he recalled Chalfont's words. "Yes—he did say something about his heart the other evening; but he made light of it. Why should he die to-night, when he was quiet and resting? For the work he was doing wouldn't worry him. If there had been a sudden knock—"

He stopped again, remembering, in a vague fashion, the incident of the old man and his daughter. Had the man been up to the house, seen Mr. Chalfont? Had there been any scene? He was too confused, bewildered, overwhelmed, to pursue the mental inquiry. He heard the doctor go to the telephone and call up Mr. Horton, the lawyer Chalfont employed for his private and confidential legal work; he heard Wetherby say, in grave and hushed tones:

"I know, I know," responded Jack, struggling with his tears, and the lump which rose in his throat and seemed to choke him. "Oh, yes, he has had a good time; but he deserved it, at hand, to help him; perhaps I might have given him something to stave it off, to pull him round. It was a fine night—I thought he was engaged with his work—I went for a stroll—"

"My dear fellow, you've nothing to reproach yourself with," said Wetherby. "It might have happened any time when you were not with him. Come, come, don't harass yourself with such thoughts! I know you were fond of him—"

"Fond of him!" echoed Jack. "I should think so. I've reason to be. He treated me like a son, though I had no claim on him; none whatever. I've lost the best friend a man ever had—"

His emotion threatened to overwhelm him; he got out his pipe and, with a trembling hand, filled it and lit it. "That's better," said Wetherby. "Pull yourself together, Chalfont; everything lies on your shoulders now. He had no kith or kin, I believe," he added, significantly.

"No," assented Jack, with difficulty. "He had only me."

"Well, there's one thing, his affairs are sure to be in good order," mused Wetherby, for the sake of talking; "he was a splendid business man, and Horton will have everything straight. Now, what do you say to going to bed and trying to get a little rest? I shall stay here for the night—don't you trouble, I'll make arrangements—you go to bed."

Jack shook his head. He paced his own room for the rest of the night; and he had scarcely changed and had his bath in the morning when Horton arrived in his motor. He was a fine type of the legal profession—tall, thin and spare, prematurely bald, with the clear-cut features, the calm but searching eyes of the lawyer. He was a man of scrupulous honour and integrity, and he had fully appreciated the acute brain and unwavering purpose of the self-made man which had enabled him to amass his vast wealth.

AutoStrop SAFETY RAZOR

From the War Zone

Comes the news that the AutoStrop Safety Razor is helping officers to maintain the high morale of the soldiers.

Nothing makes a soldier feel more like himself than a clean, velvety shave—this is only possible with an AutoStrop. Because of its self-stopping feature it is the only razor that is always in perfect condition.

New Attack Opened By Franco-American Forces.

Battle Raging Over a Front of 40 Miles. 5000 Prisoners and Twelve Towns Taken. British Invade Bulgaria From Macedonia. Fourth Turkish Army in Perilous Position.

WAR REVIEW.

Twelve towns and more than 5000 German prisoners have been taken by American troops fighting in conjunction with the French in a new offensive begun with the break of day on Thursday in the region extending from the northwest of Verdun to within 15 miles of the cathedral city of Rheims. The Americans advanced to a depth of seven miles, overcoming the stubborn resistance of the enemy. Pennsylvania, Kansas and Missouri troops were among the fighting forces which in less than a day won territory of great importance to the enemy and further depleted his army through men captured or killed or wounded. The gage of battle has been thrown down on a 40-mile front, extending from the Sulpice River in Champagne, 15 miles east of Rheims, eastward through the Argonne forest to the Meuse River, northwest of Verdun. In the first stages of the battle the Allied lines were pushed forward for material gains to that portion immediately northwest of Verdun held by the Americans, to a depth of from five to six miles, and that of the French to the west nearly four miles at certain places. Under the terrible bombardment preceding the commencement of the battle, the Germans hurriedly quit numerous positions and into these the Americans and French went unimpeded. At last accounts the Allied attack was progressing favorably. Many French villages and German strong points have been captured. British troops have invaded Bulgaria from the north of Lake Doiran in Macedonia, marking another epoch in the history of the war, aside from the moral effect of the penetration of the mountainous country of King Ferdinand, the manoeuvre is likely to prove of great strategic value once the Strmitza River valley, leading towards the Sofia-Serbia railway is reached. In the meantime, days of adversity continue with the Teutonic forces in Southern Serbia and Palestine, and the British and French are keeping up their manoeuvres which are gradually bringing the important town of St. Quentin into their hands. In Serbia, the Serbians, Italians, Greeks and British are still threatening the enemy forces with disaster by reason of their rapid advance and the state of confusion in which the Bulgarian and German armies have been thrown by the shock of the offensive. Likewise, the Turks in Palestine are being sadly harassed by the forces of the British General Allenby and the tribesmen of the King of the Hedjaz. A most surrounded east of the Jordan, the Turks are frantically endeavoring to extricate themselves from the converging Allied forces. From the east and south the British are driving the Ottomans northward, and coming south to meet the enemy and to crush him between the two Allied lines are the Arabs. Seemingly with all the crossings of the Jordan now in Allied hands, the Turkish Fourth Army has little chance of escape. Taken in conjunction with the Allied offensive which has materially bent back the German front in Flanders, Arras and Picardy and along the Aisne, the new drive of Marshal Foch in the south will bear important fruit if it meets with success. Driving northward the entire western battlefield would be shaken, and of necessity be compelled to readjust itself. Lateral railway lines of great importance to the German positions between Leon and Verdun lie directly in the path of the advancing Franco-American forces. Voussiers, an important railway junction on the main line from Leon to Metz, is but 12 miles north of Servon which already is in the hands of the French. The American troops, through the capture of Gerocourt, N.W. of Verdun, are in the Meuse valley, which leads northward to Sedan, and a little further west at Varennes have won the Aire valley, which winds in a northwesterly direction to Voussiers. A successful advance along these two valleys for any appreciable distance would be disastrous to the German lines from the North Sea to the Swiss frontier. Northwest of Verdun, Montfaucon, a German strong point of great resisting power, is said to be in American hands, as likewise are several other villages between the Meuse and the Aire. Around St. Quentin both the British and French armies have made further advances against the Germans and repulsed a heavy counter attack in Flanders, also near Arras the British have advanced their front.

TRENCHES AND PRISONERS CAPTURED.

LONDON, Sept. 26. The British divisions have captured in the last few days a German system of trenches and strong points northwest of St. Quentin with 1,500 prisoners, according to the war office tonight. There were only minor encounters to-day. The text of the statement reads: Except for encounters between raiding parties and patrols in different parts of the front in the course of which we captured a few prisoners, there is nothing of special interest to report. In the past few days the first and sixth divisions of the ninth corps under command of Lieut. General Sir W. P. Braithwaite, captured by hard fighting, but at small cost, an intricate system of trenches.

ALLIED ADVANCE CONTINUES.

SALONIKA, Sept. 26. The Allied advance into Bulgaria continues and British and Greek units are forcing their way over the Chisla mountain range on the Bulgarian border, northeast of Doiran, says a British official statement issued here. North of Lake Doiran the Greeks are nearing the crest of the mountains. The Drama Obasi has been reached by the British. The statement reads: Our cavalry and infantry continue to advance into Bulgaria. The Anglo-Greeks are advancing over the steep Belachista range. The Greeks are approaching the crest of the mountains north of Lake Doiran. Our troops have reached Drama Obasi.

FRANKFORT BOMBED.

LONDON, Sept. 26. British airplanes yesterday dropped bombs on the German city of Frankfort, according to an official statement issued this evening by the war office. Five enemy machines were shot down. Four British airplanes are missing.

ENEMY EXPECTED ATTACK.

PARIS, Sept. 26. The new Allied offensive in the Champagne was begun three years almost to a day after the first offensive of the French at the same front on Sept. 25, 1915. The French fourth army is conducting the attack in conjunction with the American forces, and the front extends to the east and west of the Argonne forest. The fourth army, says La Liberté, has held this sector since the first battle of the Marne. The enemy expected the attack and had even been taught to look forward to the effort. He foresaw that the troops in this sector had been given special nourishment. The struggle, therefore, will be of a different character to those described in recent reports which showed the Allies almost galloping to victory.

ferent character to those described in recent reports which showed the Allies almost galloping to victory.

SITUATION IN ROUMANIA.

ROME, Sept. 26. The situation in Roumania, according to information received here, has become alarming for the Central Powers. The Roumanian peasants made enthusiastic by the victories of the Entente countries are beginning to resist openly the German and Austro-Hungarian military. Local revolts have occurred at a number of places and the Roumanian Government has sent agents to Berlin and Vienna to obtain a mitigation of the Austro-Hungarian rule. The Roumanian Government is reported to have pointed out that if its request is rejected it will be unable to guarantee the maintenance of order or avoid the eventualities of sanguinary crisis.

BERLIN OFFICIAL.

BERLIN, Sept. 26. The attacks by the Franco-American troops launched on a wide front this morning in Champagne and between the Argonne forest and the Meuse River has not succeeded in breaking the German front, according to the German official communication issued this evening. The battle began after artillery preparation lasting 11 hours and fighting continues. The text of the statement follows: In Champagne and between the Argonne and the Mase, French-American attacks have commenced on a wide front after eleven hours of artillery preparation. An enemy break through have been frustrated. The fight for our position continues.

GOVERNMENT CRITICIZED.

LONDON, Sept. 26. Brief reports of the speech made by Adolph Groeber, one of the German clerical leaders, at the session yesterday, were in a despatch from Copenhagen to the Exchange Telegraph Co. here. Groeber sharply criticized the Imperial Government and said evidently there was disunion between the civil authorities and the military. He declared that resistance in subordinate circles to the plan of the Government must be stopped, and that military rule in the frontier states must be ended. Herr Groeber demanded that the secret order of the military authorities prohibiting public speech on the Reichstag peace resolution be rescinded.

TURKEY SQUEALING FOR PEACE.

LAUSANNE, Switz, Sept. 26. Public irritation in Constantinople has become great, according to a despatch from the Turkish capital to the Lausanne Gazette. Rumors are again spreading that the Ottoman Government will seek a separate peace. The Sultan himself, the message says, would aver separate peace if he could obtain favorable conditions from the Entente Powers.

ISSUES DECREE.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 26. The Russian Bolshevik Government has issued a decree rescinding its reign of terror, according to the Mir of Moscow. The question was discussed at a meeting of the central committees of the Soviet, the newspapers says, and when Premier Lenin expressed an earnest desire to return to orderly methods of government, a majority of those present supported him.

VELES CAPTURED.

LONDON, Sept. 26. Veles, 25 miles southeast of Uskub, in Macedonia, has been captured by the Serbians.

NEW ATTACK LAUNCHED.

LONDON, Sept. 26. French and American troops launched an attack this morning against the German positions on a front of 40 miles, between Sulpice and the river Meuse. The Germans voluntarily abandoned their forward positions. There was not much artillery or infantry resistance.

CONTINUING SATISFACTORILY.

PARIS, Sept. 26. The Franco-American attack on both sides of the Argonne is continuing satisfactorily, according to the War Office announcement to-night. French troops have made an advance of nearly four miles at certain points west of the Argonne.

ADVANCED FROM 5 TO 6 MILES.

PARIS, Sept. 26. American troops attacked to the west of the Verdun region in co-operation with the French this morning.

The Germans, anticipating the attack, seemingly had withdrawn a portion of their forces. According to the latest unofficial reports reaching Paris, the American advance is progressing well and is now from five to six miles from the point of departure. Among the places captured are Gerocourt, Cuisy, Montfaucon, Cheppy and Varennes, all nor of Verdun.

STRAINING EVERY ENERGY TO REACH USKUB.

LONDON, Sept. 26. The reports received to-day emphasized the demoralisation of the Bulgarians who are retreating in confusion, leaving behind an enormous amount of material and probably many thousands of prisoners, as the Allied troops strain every energy to get to Uskub and thereby make the victory complete. It is pointed out that the Bulgarian army, estimated to aggregate 300,000 men, is in a very dangerous position, but the victory will not be decisive in the opinion of the military experts until Uskub, the center of all the enemy's communication lines, is captured. If that is accomplished, it is believed the victory will be numbered among the few decisive ones of the war. The renewed resistance of Bulgarian rearguards and the arrival of German reinforcements in Macedonia have not succeeded in stemming the great Allied advance. British cavalry to-day entered Bulgaria opposite Kostrino, thus avoiding the Belachista mountains which it was feared might bar its progress, while the Serbians, French, Greeks and British troops routed the Bulgarians from either side of the great salient which now stretches far into Serbia. The Serbians who are taking the leading part in the liberation of their country, are at the gates of Ishtib, and their cavalry entering the town of Iavor has cut the only remaining road northward, that running from Prilep to Veles, and along which a large body of Bulgarians is reported to be attempting to escape. This probably will lead to an abandonment by the enemy of the Babuna mountains, which are considered virtually impregnable.

EXCELLENT NEWS FROM THE FRONT.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 26.—At 9.30 o'clock to-day a French officer of high rank told the correspondent that the news from the principal points of the front attacked was excellent. The French Fourth Army has taken Servon, which has been in German hands since 1914, and Navarinne farm, a strong position, around which there has been much fighting.

SELF-GOVERNMENT FOR PALESTINE.

PARIS, Sept. 26. (Havas).—Liberated territory in Palestine will be administered under the agreement reached between the British, French and Russian governments in 1916 it is learned here. Great Britain and France will carry out the agreement under which France is charged with the preparation of a scheme of self-government for the people of Palestine. This work will be the object of conversations which will take place shortly.

A FAILURE.

PARIS, Sept. 26. (Havas) — Pierre J. Troelstra, the Dutch Socialist leader who has been in Switzerland has fallen in his effort to create an international Socialist bureau with headquarters at Berne, it is reported here.

ATTACKS ON PAPERS.

RIO JANEIRO, Sept. 26. German newspapers at Portoalegre in the state of Rio Grande early this week so aroused the populace by criticizing Brazilian affairs that attacks were made on the plant of three papers.

taken in Palestine now aggregate 42,000, according to the latest advices reaching Paris. A British official statement Wednesday reported 40,000 Turks and 265 guns had been captured.

VICTORY OR PERISH.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 26. We must be victorious if we must not perish politically and economically, Grand Admiral Von Koester, former commander in chief of the German fleet declared in a speech to the German navy league at Nothern a Berlin message reports. After the war, continued the Admiral, our ships in large numbers must traverse the ocean and we must have colonies with strong points of support. We want free trade under the protection of the German fleet. The speaker entreated the sword as a means to victory, declaring as nature needs storms, as God has given, bears teeth and claws, man also needs the sword. In referring to the proposed league of nations Admiral Von Koester, declared that Germany would only have the role of a Cinderella in it.

FIRST BULGARIAN ARMY ISOLATED.

LONDON, Sept. 26. (Macedonia).—Reports in official quarters here indicate that the Prilip-Veles road has been cut at Iavor isolating the first Bulgarian army from its main line of communication and placing it in a precarious position. The first army is on the Allied left.

BULGARIAN TROOPS EXILED.

PARIS, Sept. 26. Advice received in Serbian diplomatic circles here to-day show that the Bulgarian troops in the region of Lake Ochrida towards the western end of the Macedonian front are virtually encircled by the Italians advancing in the direction of Kichevo, and a Franco-Serbian force moving from Monastir towards Kruchovo. The fall of Kruchovo is expected hourly.

FOURTH TURKISH ARMY FACES ANNIHILATION.

LONDON, Sept. 26. A fourth Turkish army surrounded in the region east of the Jordan and faces annihilation by General Allenby's forces. To-day's advices show the total of prisoners already taken was increased to-day to 40,000. The annihilation of the fourth army now hoped for would complete the clearing of the Turkish forces in Palestine to about 90,000.

GREEK TROOPS IN THE FIGHT.

ATHENS, Greece, Wednesday, September 25.—Greek troops are aiding in the Allied advance in Macedonia on three sectors of the front according to an official statement from the Greek War Office to-day. East of the Vardar the Bulgarians are in fight toward Valandora with the British and Greeks in pursuit.

Searching and Thorough.

The serious railway accident of Tuesday last, at Bay of Islands, following so closely the derailment of the express which left Port aux Basques on Saturday morning last near St. George's on the West Coast, and again at Topsail on Monday, must prove conclusively that there is something radically wrong with the line through the country. Three run-offs in almost three successive days is a bit thick, and does not, we think, add to the peace of mind of travellers whose business obliges them to take passage by rail. If the road is defective in places the defects should be remedied at once. No person can afford to take extraordinary risks. The average risk in travelling by rail is quite sufficient for the average man or woman, and people are quite prepared to accept these in their journeyings to and fro. But they do not want the risk to be intensified. No one desires to set out on a train journey in fear and trembling, and possessed of the thought that arrival at the destination will not be accomplished without accident. Neither does any traveller wish to take chances of firing with death. We have had numerous minor railway mishaps in this country, fortunately unattended by a large death toll, and apparently special dispensations of Providence have been made in our behalf to this result. Still we may say in the face of that Providence, which has hitherto guarded us, and try it too far. Our trunk line of railway is far too valuable an asset to let the frequency of misfortunes to trainees passing over it, and an enquiry, at once searching and thorough should be made into the cause of all three derailments, that on the West Coast on Saturday last, that at Topsail on Monday, and the last one, with fatal results, near Mount Moriah on Tuesday. There should be no limit to the scope of this investigation. It should go deeply into every detail affecting the operation of the trans-insular railway and should probe every weak point in the management and equipment. The road itself should be thoroughly gone over and inspected, and wherever there are bad places, these should be made good, and not only that but the gang of workers responsible for that particular section should be punished for allowing it to become dangerous for traffic. There are many other matters in connection with the road which should be fully and completely enquired into. And moreover, the finding of the Commission of investigation should be made public. That is something which must be insisted upon, and any attempt of inclination to conceal facts must be combated. We are approaching the season of the year when the cross country railway will be our only artery of traffic for both freight and passenger service, and it is the bounden duty of the management to put and keep the line in such a condition of repair that will make it the exception, rather than the rule, for an accident to happen. Newfoundland does not wish to be isolated during the winter months because of a reluctance or indisposition on the part of the transportation company to keep the connecting link with the outside world as strong as it, humanly, can be made, and the train and Strait ferry service being our sole connection with our sister dominion, it would be nothing short of disastrous if anything happened to interrupt this for any lengthy period. Therefore it is incumbent upon the authorities to have an exhaustive examination and inspection of the track from St. John's to Port aux Basques: to enquire into and ascertain the specific cause of the recent derailments: to have the report of the board of investigation published in full for the benefit of the people, and last but not least, to insist on the railway line being repaired and put in such condition as will make for at least comparative safety in travelling. We believe that the new management of the Railway Company are in earnest in their endeavours to make the road secure, but time is passing and in a few months the snows of winter will prevent the necessary work from being done. Neither the public nor the company want a recurrence of Tuesday's tragedy. The way to prevent it is by beginning NOW to put the railway line in a fit condition to carry trains.

Khaki Guild.

At the annual meeting of the Ladies Khaki Guild held in the Seaman's Institute yesterday the reports of the year's work were submitted and after their adoption, the officers for the ensuing year were elected. viz.:
Hon. Pres.—Mrs. (Hon.) A. W. Harvey.
President—Mrs. C. W. H. Tessier.
Vice-Pres.—Mrs. McLean.
Treasurer—Mrs. Mofson.
Secretary—Miss Margaret Furlong.
Though some excellent work was done by the Guild last year, their efforts were somewhat hampered in consequence of the demands made on the public by the other patriotic associations. The coming year, however, will witness a new plan of campaign, which it is hoped will greatly stimulate progress. The funds of the Khaki Guild are not given directly for present war needs, but are to be used for the benefit of the soldiers after the war.

Newfoundland Boy Killed.

A casualty telegram addressed to Mrs. Eleanor Dooley, Dom. No. 3, came to Glace Bay, C.B., stating that Pte. Morris Dooley, infantry, had been killed in action August 25. Mrs. Dooley died some time ago and the casualty telegram announcing the death of her son was received by the brothers and sisters of the deceased soldier.

Pte. Dooley enlisted in the 185th Battalion and in England transferred to a draft of reinforcements for another Nova Scotia battalion at the front. His father and one brother are now at the front in France. Besides these he is survived by several young brothers and sisters.
Deceased was a son of Mr. William Dooley, and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. M. Noseworthy, all of this city, and general sympathy is extended to the relatives in their sad bereavement.

Police Court.

The three girls referred to elsewhere in this paper were before Judge McCarthy this morning, and pleaded guilty of being loose and disorderly persons. Inspector General Eutings, in his prosecution, stated that the three had, for three weeks conducted a disorderly rendezvous in a tent near Kent's Pond, and that it was probably they who were corrupting and contaminating our young soldiers and others. The youngest girl was new to the business and had never appeared before Court before, but the G. asked that her sentence be the same as the others, as it might possibly cure her of the terrible life she has adopted.

The Blue Puttees Petition.

The petition to His Excellency the Governor for an extension of furlough till next spring for the "Blue Puttees" which is being circulated throughout the city is being largely signed and up to press hour to-day upwards of five thousand signatures had been obtained. Yesterday a number of soldiers in caps decorated with flags visited some of the nearby outposts and were everywhere heartily received. We understand the members of the Great War Veterans' Association individually are in sympathy with the movement, many of whom are assisting in the work. At the Blue Puttee Club, Water Street, a notice, asking people to step inside and sign the petition, is posted in the window. A copy has been placed in all the club rooms, hotels and other public places.

NETTEN—WHITEWAY.
The Church of St. John the Evangelist, at Topsail, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday, Sept. 24, when Herbert Maxse Knowles, son of the late Sir Wm. Whiteway and of Lady Whiteway, of Riverview, St. John's, led to the altar Florence Ellen, daughter of Rev. Canon and Mrs. Netten, of Topsail. Precisely at three o'clock the bride entered the Church leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She was charmingly gowned in white pearl-embroidered georgette crepe over silk, with bridal veil and orange blossoms, and was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Vivian Whiteway, who looked very attractive in shell-pink silk, seven with pearls, and white leghorn hat with ostrich plumes. She carried a bouquet of pink asters and spruce. Mr. H. G. Netten supported the groom, while Mr. Reginald Hibbs acted as usher. The ceremony, which was performed by the Lord Bishop of Newfoundland, assisted by Rev. Canon Bolt, was most impressive and very beautiful, and the little church which loving touches had transformed into delicate loveliness with flowers and greens, proved an appropriate setting. The Wedding March was played by the bride's mother, who presided at the organ in her usual brilliant fashion. Owing to recent bereavement the wedding was necessarily a very quiet one, only about twenty guests—immediate family connections and a few intimate friends—being afterwards entertained at the Parsonage. Here both reception and dining-rooms were literally banked with cut flowers, mosses and ferns, most of which came from the well-known conservatories of Riverview, others having been sent by Sir Edgar Bowring. The happy pair received the congratulations and good wishes of their friends under a huge floral bell which hung above the hearth in the reception room. In this room the wedding gifts were displayed, and were much admired. Photographs were then taken of the wedding party and guests in the beautiful grounds surrounding the Parsonage, Mr. S. T. Parsons having come for that purpose. After this a dainty lunch was served in the dining room and the happy couple toasted. His Lordship Bishop White in a neat little speech proposed the bride and groom, to which the groom suitably responded. Other toasts followed. Rev. Canon Bolt in proposing the health of the bride's parents, referred very nicely to Canon Netten's fifty years of service in God's ministry, and as he is now about to retire, took the opportunity of wishing him a well-earned rest in the new life at St. John's, where they will make their home in future. Canon Netten in responding, thanked Canon Bolt, and expressed his gratitude for being allowed to labor so long in the Master's service, but that much of the credit for what he had been privileged to accomplish, belonged to his wife, who had gone hand in hand with him down the years, and helped him in all branches of his work. They looked forward now to a pleasant eventide, living as they would be, so near to the dear daughter who was to-day leaving her father's home. The bride, during her father's six years' pastorate in Topsail has been highly successful in church and Sunday school work, and will be greatly missed. Patriotic circles will also lose much, as her talents have always been at the service of the public on all occasions. We hope, however, that in a wider sphere there will be better scope for the use of such splendid talents. Among the numerous gifts, besides several substantial cheques, were a silver ladle and meat fork from the Sunday school of Topsail, and a handsome silver cake basket from the Cathedral choir, of which of late she has been a member. The groom is a son of the "grand old man" of Newfoundland politics, the late Sir William Whiteway, and is well and favourably known. His gift to the bride was a gold cross set with rubies, and to the bridesmaid a gold filagree brooch set with single sapphires. To J. K. Bursell, Esq., fell the honour of motorizing the bridal party to and from the church, and after the reception, the happy couple left for Holyrood amid showers of confetti, in Sir Edgar Bowring's car, very kindly placed at their disposal for the evening. After a week's honeymoon in Topsail they will return to Riverview, St. John's, where they will live in future. The guests were as follows:—His Lordship Bishop White, Lady Whiteway, Rev. Canon and Mrs. Bolt, Rev. and Mrs. Hewitt, Hon. John and Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. McCowan, Mrs. Seymour, J. K. and Mrs. Bursell, Mrs. Dr. Chisholm, Miss Southcott, Miss Vivian Whiteway, Misses Laura Hewitt, Dorothy White, Queenie Butler, Florence Miller, Ada Chaytor and Gertrude Bolt and Mr. Reg. Hibbs.

At the City Hall.

Deputy Mayor Morris presided at yesterday's meeting and Councillors Tait, Brownrigg, Mullaly, Ayre and Vincombe were present. After reading of minutes, etc., the following matters were disposed of: The Secretary of the Board of Trade wrote re certain firms transacting business in the City for short periods of the year, they having no taxes of any kind to pay. The Secretary is to acknowledge the letter and the Solicitor is to be asked for a report on Council's position in the matter. George Neal applied for permit to use a hose on his wharf for supplying the S. S. Mary with water. Permission could not be allowed. George Reid applied for position of stable keeper. No vacancy. W. A. O'D. Kelly wrote he was not aware of any infringement of the Council's regulations re his auction on George Street. Wm. Best was given permission to erect scaffold on Dunford Street. J. Skinner asked for a few loads of gravel near his premises, Duckworth Street. The City Engineer is to submit a report on the condition of the sidewalks throughout the city for next meeting. J. Baggis applied for permission to erect a house on Pleasant Street. Granted. In connection with J. H. Farrell's application to build a store on Goodridge Street it was decided temporary permission only be given, the store to be removed on three months notice being given by the Council. The place to be used only for storage purposes. The Secretary reported on the lease of Messrs. O'Neill and Coady, Duckworth Street. It was decided to favour the extension of the lease for a term of 99 years. The City Engineer reported on sewerage conditions, Belvidere Street. Cost of extension would be $384.00. It was decided the residents be interviewed to find out how many are willing to connect. The City Engineer also reported on routine work generally during the past week. The Health Officer, Plumbing Inspector's and Water Works Inspector's reports for the week were submitted. After disposing of some routine business and passing of pay rolls and bills the meeting adjourned.

N. I. W. A. Co-operative Stores.

The shareholders of the Co-operative Stores of the N.I.W.A. have taken over a building, owned by Capt. English, on Central Street, and are now stocking it with provisions. All the necessary capital has been successfully raised, and the opening date is set down for Saturday, October 12. Mr. E. J. Whitty, of Knowling's central grocery store, has been appointed general manager. The opportunity is a good one. $25,000.00 worth of stock has been placed on the market, and to the purchaser of each one of these shares three extra shares are given free of cost. This makes the purchaser of each one dollar share the owner of four fully paid up shares in the company. The company also guarantees that none of the above shares will be subject to any further call. The opportunity to invest is open to everybody. Get busy before it is too late; no bonus shares will be given after the present allotment is disposed of. You can't lose. Invest to-day. For every single dollar you invest in this proposition you get four 1 dollar shares in return. THE ST. GEORGE'S COAL FIELDS, LTD., Cabot Bldgs., 263 Water St. sep17,12

The annual meeting of the Women's Patriotic Association will be held on Monday next, in the Grenfell Hall, and a large attendance of members is expected, as the review of last year's work is sure to prove highly interesting. On Tuesday next the workroom at Sutherland Place will be re-opened. At present there is an urgent demand for shirts among the soldiers on active service, and a big effort by all workers will be necessary to meet the requirements. Every Saturday evening after 7 o'clock, Choice Ends of Beef, Mutton, Lamb, Pork will be sold at cost. ELLIS & CO., LTD., 263 Water Street, nov29,11

Littledale Children's Garden Party.

It is nearly a quarter of a century since the Sisters of Mercy, Littledale, inaugurated the summer pastimes, which, of all others, has been a source of pleasure to the general public, as well as of income for various charities. This refers to Garden Parties.

A children's party was held Wednesday the 25th inst., on the grounds of St. Bride's College, under the distinguished patronage of His Grace, the Archbishop, who with several of the clergy attended, and took a lively interest in the proceedings.

It was successful beyond anticipation, for though late in the season, and the weather far from favorable, there was a splendid gathering, and a brisk business was kept up in waiting on those who flocked to the tables, either to partake of choice refreshments, or purchase the different articles that were there for disposal.

Those kind friends of the Institute, who graciously offered to undertake the affair, left nothing undone to make it a success. It must, therefore, have been gratifying to them, to find their efforts so well patronized.

As the shades of evening crept over the Waterford Valley, the lady table-holders and their assistants prepared to close down the business on the field, and make ready for a concert in the College Hall. This began at 7.15 o'clock, and needless to say proved a very enjoyable treat to the large and appreciative audience. The vocal and instrumental solos and duets, and the recitations were of a highly finished character, and the singing of the National Anthem, at about 9 o'clock terminated a most delightful evening.

It is to be hoped the good Sisters of Littledale may yearly give the public the pleasurable enjoyment of such another evening in their picturesque surroundings.

By request of the Mother Superior and community, this opportunity is availed of to express their heartfelt gratitude to the promoters, the table-holders and their assistants, the performers at concert, the gate and door keepers, and all those friends who by donations of money, fancy work, flowers, vegetables, and confectionery assisted the good work. Though the undertaking was on a small scale, the proceeds already received amount to $334.95.

Cargo of Gas Coal Arrives.

A steamer is now discharging a cargo of Gas Coal for The St. John's Light Co. Another cargo will follow later on, so that ample stocks of coal for the Company's business are assured. We congratulate the management on their success in maintaining the gas supply under conditions, the difficulties of which, are perhaps not fully appreciated by the general public.

Police Discover Rendezvous.

What puts in the shade all previous manoeuvres of those people of the underworld in this city, was unearthed last night by Detective Whelan and Constable Dempsey, who on receipt of a telephone message proceeded to Kent's Pond, Portugal Cove Road, where a mysterious light was reported to be burning for several hours. On arriving at the scene they located a large flashlight on a rising ground, and on making further investigations came upon a camp which proved to be a regular harpist's lair. On going into the camp they found three women of disreputable character and one man. When the latter recognized the officers he beat a hasty retreat through a rear exit in the tent and made good his escape, pro tem. The three harpists were placed under arrest and brought to the police station where they sojourned during the night. The camp and outfit is owned by a man named Healey, who it is believed, did a thriving business. The morality of this city is at present at a very low ebb, and unless the people co-operate with the police in one great effort to stamp out the evil, the coming generations will suffer as a result of the indifference displayed.

Household Notes.

Growing children should have a great deal of milk in their diet. Delicious jams can be made with mashed potatoes and barley flour. Breadcrumbs are better than crackers crumbe for frying oysters.

Two-thirds quinces to one-third cranberries makes a delicious jelly. Pickled oysters are a pleasant change from fried or stewed oysters.

When the quince jelly does not jell, cook the syrup with a slice of lemon.

Apples are delicious baked in a casserole with maple sugar and water. Large fruits should be served cold, but chilling renders small fruits more acid.

Salt should not be added to soup until it is done, because it hardens the water.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

There is something distinctly humorous in the indignation which people of the (so called) upper classes feel on hearing of the money which mechanics and day laborers are getting for their work, these days. They seem to feel positively insulted when they see "those people riding in machines and buying fur coats, and otherwise getting a taste of the luxuries they have so long been able only to look at from a distance. Apparently it takes the savor out of their machines and their fur coats, that "those people" should be able to have them, too.

A woman of this type was talking to me yesterday. "Think of it," she fluminated, "the magazine said that the father and wife and daughter all worked in the factory and that together they got as much as a broker would make. Just imagine it."

An Outrage on the Decencies. Plainly she regarded it as an outrage on the decencies that a mechanic's family should have the income of a broker.

Of course the whole thing is a question of supply and demand. Formerly the brain workers of all sorts, received more than the men who worked with their hands because there were more who could do the manual than the brain work. To-day the shoe is on the other foot. With the millions of men going across to invade Berlin, there aren't enough left to make all the things the people at home need, plus the innumerable things the war needs.

Another Example of The Law of Supply and Demand. The upper class has always smugly explained small wages to the wage earners by saying regretfully, "We wish you might have more, but it is a question of supply and demand." Isn't it up to them to philosophically explain the present situation to themselves as yet another example of the working of supply and demand?

As the hero of the Tree of Heaven said cheerfully, of all his misfortunes and disappointments, "It's a jolly sell."

A Word To These Newly Rich People. And now just one word to the new owners of machines and fur coats. Do not forget the war after the war—that is, the terrific economic readjustment sure to come when war industries shut down and millions of soldiers come into civil life looking for jobs. Nobody knows what is going to happen to wages then.

So don't be close, but do be provident. Save some of your dollars for that day.

This is to certify that I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT in my family for years, and consider it the best liniment on the market. I have found it excellent for horse flesh.

You Are Deceived?

Have you been led to believe that the knife is the only cure for piles? If so, it is unfortunate, for many thousands are being cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Sometimes after operations have failed and often when doctors have said that an operation was the only hope. It won't cost you much to try this treatment in your own home. It is sure to relieve and usually effects complete cure.

HONORED POVERTY.

Until the kaiser's goat is slain, his eagle torn asunder, no man has any right to gain a lot of swag and plunder. Of course it's always wise to save the kopecks cold and clammy—to help to swat the Teuton knave, and back up Uncle Sammy. But no one needs every crown, while Uncle Sam needs every dollar. When Wilhelm is an also ran, and his long sword is rusted, he'll be a proud and happy man who proves that he is busted. "I dug up every cent I had, for bonds and stamps and taxes, to help to arm the soldier lad with guns and battle-axes." If you can make a spile like that when this grim war is over, the pretty girls will deck your hat with laurel, thyme and clover. Perchance some skate may ply his jaws, and tell us, braggart-hearted, "I am much richer than I was before the war was started." Then he'll be shunned by loyal men, they'll shame him and dogast him, and into outer darkness then they speedily will cast him. I'd hate to push myself abroad, and swagger 'mong the living, if I had made myself a wad, while my men were giving. I'd hate to flaunt a hefty roll and feed on duck and peas, while other men were in the hole through making sacrifices.

GONE ON BEST VACATION.

OTTAWA, Sept. 26. The Right Hon. Sir Robert Borden, Prime Minister of Canada, has left Ottawa for a very much needed rest, and is not expected back in Ottawa before a couple of weeks.

GERMAN COMMANDER FLED.

GENEVA, Sept. 26. Field Marshal Liman Von Sanders, Commander of the Turkish forces, who fled from Nazareth shortly before the attacking British troops appeared, has reached Constantinople. Advices from the Turkish capital say that Von Sanders will return at an early date to Berlin.

AMERICANS FINE WORK.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26. Attacking this morning over a front of twenty miles west of Verdun, in co-operation with the French, the American First Army advanced to an average depth of seven miles and captured twelve towns and more than 5,000 prisoners. General Pershing's communication follows: In sector A this morning, north west of Verdun, the first army attacked the enemy on a front of twenty miles and penetrated his line to an average depth of seven miles. Pennsylvania, Kansas and Missouri troops, serving in Major General Jagt's Corps, stormed Varennes, Mohlaineville, Vauquois, and Chappoy. After a stubborn resistance, troops of other corps, crossing the Forges Brook, captured the Bois de Forges, and wrested from the enemy the towns of Malancourt, Bethincourt, Montfalcon, Cuisy, Nantillois, Septesmes, Darnoux and Gercourt at Drilloncourt. The prisoners, thus far reported, number over 5,000.

REVIEW IN BRIEF.

LONDON, Sept. 26. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—Reuter learns that the Franco-American offensive was an a forty mile front. Between the Rivers Sulpice and the Meuse the attacking forces pressed to a depth of some miles. The enemy voluntarily abandoned his forward positions and consequently there was little artillery or infantry resistance. In Palestine, the southern and western shores of the Lake of Tiberias are generally in our hands. The Turkish garrisons resisted stiffly, but were overcome. Our cavalry occupied and are now driving the enemy up the Hedjaz railway into the arms of the Arabs at Bara. Some of the enemy may escape to Damascus, others going southwards to the Dead Sea, the object being to assist the garrison there which is being hard pressed by the Arabs. On the Saloniki Front the Serbians have captured Vales, and the Anglo-Greeks have reached the Western slopes of the mountains, which constitute the defence of Bulgaria from the south. The main lateral line of Monastir, Pripel and Vels is now entirely in the hands of the Allies, and the Bulgarian army is completely broken in two. These forces will undoubtedly endeavor to reunite at Uskub, but the cavalry of the Allies is only fifteen miles out of Uskub, and it is extremely doubtful if any of the enemy slipped through.

BOLSHEVIK ARMY REINFORCED AND LED BY GERMANS.

LONDON, Sept. 26. The plans for the Bolsheviki army on the Volga front, which seriously endangers the Czech army in that region of Russia, call for 51 divisions or half a million men. The army is constantly being reinforced by German troops.

SET AN EXAMPLE TO THE WHOLE WORLD.
OTTAWA, Sept. 26. Fred James, Official Correspondent with the Canadian Forces in the Field, France, writes as follows: "During a visit to France His Majesty paid a special visit to the Canadian hospital at Doullens, which was deliberately bombed by the Huns a few months ago. The King had once before inspected that building, just before the Amiens retirement in March, and had congratulated the staff on the excellent work they were doing. His Majesty had specially admired the big operating theatre at that time, but on this visit found it a mass of charred ruins. From the lips of the commanding officer, the King heard the story of the outrage, and as he was leaving, the royal visitor paid a special visit to the sisters and doctors. 'By continuing your work of mercy under such a terrible experience, you have set an example to the whole world,' His Majesty said."

CAPTURED POSITIONS HUNS HAVE BEEN FOUR YEARS FORTIFYING.
WITH THE FRENCH ARMY ON THE CHAMPAGNE FRONT, Sept. 26. (By the A.P.)—Troops of the French army, operating in conjunction with the Americans in a new battle along the Champagne front, have to-day conquered positions that the Germans have been fortifying for four years, positions that they have sacrificed thousands of men to hold. The French losses have been remarkably light in spite of the fact that the German resistance stiffened this afternoon. General Gouraud's soldiers, who advanced to those positions three years ago and have been facing them ever since, are now enjoying a peculiar satisfaction in being in them. The number of prisoners taken by the French is increasing steadily. They are filing back by all roads in groups of from a score to several hundred. Among them there is a larger proportion of very young men than heretofore taken. Some of the captives are recruits of the 1920 contingent. They are leaving behind them scores of burning villages. Thirty had been observed in flames up to noon to-day. Even this additional and unjustifiable devastation can scarcely add to the desolation that has been spread all over this sharply disputed ground. A feature of to-day's operations was the activity of the enemy air force, which furnished several spectacular encounters with French observation balloons and anti-aircraft artillery.

BRITISH MAKE NEW ATTACK.
LONDON, Sept. 27. British troops attacked on a wide front south of the Senese River, this morning, according to a report received here from Field Marshal Haig. First reports indicate that satisfactory progress is being made. The Senese River is a small stream flowing to the northeast, and paralleling on the south the Scarpe River, which flows past Arras and passes through the important City of Douai, one of the principal German bases on the Artois front in France. It is probable that the British attack is made for the purpose of driving a wedge between Douai and Cambrai, about fifteen miles to the south.

Advices Waiting

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—A most uncalculated attack, to my mind, was made by the Daily Star in its editorial of last evening on the R. N. Co. in its reference to the railway accident. I am not writing this, sir, with the least tinge of politics attached to it, but feel that the Star might have had the common decency to refrain from such an attack until the Government Engineer had returned and made his report. I hold no brief for the Reid N. F. Co. but I feel that the least they are entitled to is British Fair Play. To show the inconsistency of the Star, in their writing up the motor accident a few days ago, I think they made the remark that as the case was now sub judice they would refrain from further comment. Now anyone reading their attack on the Reid's last evening, would certainly not be convinced, but that they had an axe to grind against them.

In very many of the Star arguments I am in perfect accord, but in this I am afraid that I am in entire disagreement. Be patient, friend Star, if there is no investigation we shall be all with you.

Yours truly, FAIR PLAY.

Obituary.

There passed away at the General Hospital yesterday morning, a worthy citizen in the person of Mr. John Squires, at the age of 65 years. Deceased was for 45 years a faithful employee of Job Bros. & Co. and was a lifelong member of the Nfld. British Society. He leaves to mourn him a wife, one son and one daughter to whom the Telegram extends its sympathy. The funeral takes place from his brother's residence, 26 Cochrane St., on Sunday at 2.30 p.m.

Accident on South Side.

A young lad named Squires, sprained his ankle this morning, by falling down the hold of an outport craft on the South Side. He, with some other lads, had been skylarking around the dock when he tripped and fell down through the hatch. Members of the craft's crew brought him up, when he was carried to his house, a few hundred feet a way. The injury is not serious.

Bulls and Bulls.

No matter what the condition of the meat market, the Irish Bull refuses to be sacrificed. He is always with us. Not long ago, the Royal British Nurses Association in London was entertained by Sir Edward Sullivan with a lecture on the species of bovine mentioned above. The lecturer pointed out that the House of Commons has always been prolific of these verbal wonders and all of them cannot be blamed on men of Hibernian blood. The incomparable Gladstone himself once said in his most earnest manner: "It is no use for the Honorable Member to shake his head in the teeth of his own words." Sir Boyle Roche himself could hardly beat this. Lord Curzon is a linguistic exquisite and yet he once made the following remarkable statement in the House of Lords: "The interests of employees and employers are the same in nine cases out of ten." I would even say ninety-nine times out of ten. This is a bull of the English type. Away back in the sixties, Sir Patrick O'Brien exclaimed tragically: "My unhappy country is warming with absentee landlords." During the so-called rebellion in Dublin in 1916, a young lad ran out of Jackville street yelling that "the whole street was alive with corpses." Yet there was no misunderstanding what he meant. An Irish Commission on practical education once made this startling announcement in a pamphlet: "The women are being instructed in plain cooking. They have had in fact to go through the process of cooking themselves." This was practical instruction indeed. A mother recommending her boy for a railway position wrote: "I am pleased to say that my boy is a non-smoker and a non-teetotaler." It is told of the late John Redmond, a past master of clear, forceful English, that being annoyed at the Speaker's ruling regarding a remark made by another member, he shouted out: "If I had made that remark I would not have been allowed to." At which Tim Healy was said to remark: "Nothing surer." Of course the king of all bull-makers was Sir Boyle Roche, who asked the famous question: "What has posterity done for us?" His most famous bit of philosophizing was contained in the comment: "We must all confess that all along the untrodden pathways of life may be observed the invisible footprints of an unseen hand." Another, almost a compeer, runs this wise: "Single misfortunes seldom come alone and the greatest of all national calamities is generally followed by one still greater." More recently a prison doctor, called to see a condemned prisoner who had suddenly been taken ill on the evening before his execution: "In my opinion the prisoner cannot be removed from the cell to the place of execution without imminent danger to his life." We are inclined to think that Celtic wit had more to do with this remark than had the bull-making propensity. The bull is simply a sentence that invokes a contradiction and it may be the result of over-haste in speaking, a lack of charity of thought, or an attempt to use figurative expressions instead of plain literal ones. There is also the possibility that it may be the inaccuracy of statement made in one language by a speaker brought up to speak another. But of course the bull is likely to be perpetrated anywhere.—Acadian Recorder.

America's Latest Order.

The wording of the poster announcing the last military order of the United States of America is as follows: "Every man between the ages of 18 and 45 (both inclusive) except those previously registered, must register for the Selective Service Draft, September 12th. Penalty for failure to register is one year's imprisonment, and no man can exonerate himself by the payment of a fine. Patriots will register. Others, must. Register promptly." Uncle Sam means what he says in this war. The party frock may be of satin, heavily embroidered net and narrow stripes of ermine.

That Noticeable Difference

Abbey's Effer-Salt

each morning soon corrects disorders of digestion, invigorates the nervous system and purifies the blood.

You can always tell the sheep whose digestive apparatus is out of kilter—who needs a good cleansing out. His heads are sabby, his complexion yellow—his manner listless.

Abbey's will restore the eliminative organs to a normal, healthy condition, and give you zest for the days work. Try it.

Physicians and Druggists have recommended it for years in all cases of Constipation, Indigestion, Kidney, liver and stomach troubles.

Farmers' Fertilizers!

The shipment of Basic Slag arranged for last year has at last arrived and is now landing ex schooner.

A part of this shipment is unsold and if you need any please let us know without delay.

Basic Slag is put on the ground in the fall or early winter and is invaluable for hay and other root crops.

The Slag comes in sacks of about 200 pounds and the proportion required for one acre is five sacks.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND TONS OF BASIC SLAG were used last season in the Province of Nova Scotia.

In the year 1910 Germany used a MILLION TONS.

The Department of Agriculture, Dublin, urges the use of Basic Slag as an effective substitute for superphosphate.

If you want to increase your Hay Crop use Basic Slag.

Where you get 10 barrels of turnips without fertilizer you will get 15 barrels by using Basic Slag.

$3.00 per sack, 200 lbs.

This shipment of Basic Slag was purchased last year and we are selling it at last year's price.

The Secret is Out

Toronto World:—Now that the Canadian editors have returned, or those at least of the profession who were deemed worthy to join the expedition of wisdom, it may be permitted to reveal the great secret that lay behind their visit to France. Had it been told at first, these brave and disinterested men might have been made the special object of the enemy's attack, with disastrous results to those concerned. The secret was well kept, however, and it probably has not yet occurred to any of the unthinking critics in Canada that the whole tide of war turned as soon as these sapient gentlemen got within earshot of General Foch and told him what to do.

Since then the allied arms have had an unbroken series of triumphs. It is easy to see why. One doubts if it were wise to bring them home at such a crucial stage. However, the nation will rest at ease knowing that their patriotic spirit will place them at Foch's service any moment he wants them, and that they will cross the ocean willingly whenever they may be called upon.

Having purchased the greater portion of Mr. J. J. Strang's stock of Tweeds and Serges, we are now offering one of the finest stocks of Tweeds and pure Indigo Serges. See us about your next suit. SPURRELL the Tailor, 365 Water Street. sep24,ood,t.f

Milady's Boudoir

GRACIOUSNESS AID TO BEAUTY.

If you have observed the guests at a reception or tea you will see that the natural tendency is to choose a comfortable chair and sit there, giving short answers whenever the occasion arises, when introductions are given or an opinion asked by the tactful hostess who strives her hardest to break the clam like silence until it is time to go home.

Among close friends these women may be very entertaining, but they certainly create an unfavorable impression upon strangers.

If this has been your habit, resolve immediately to mend your ways. Make up your mind to be as attractive as you can to others. Forget yourself, and think only of them. Dress in a manner that will be pleasing to the eye, arrange your hair becomingly, take plenty of outdoor exercise, to increase your store of vitality, and, above all, be natural. Worthwhile people refuse to bother with women who try to cover their lack of good breeding with a veneer of affectation.

Entertain in your home if you have nothing to offer but a cup of tea and a cracker. Your friends will come to see you, if you are gracious and charming, whenever you give them an opportunity. It is unnecessary to have a lot of expensive clothes to mingle socially. There is no excuse for a dowd, and she will never be sought after to grace any hostess' gathering.

You can wear simple frocks of materials bought at bargain sales, and if you are charming, carry them with the grace of a princess.

So never sigh for beauty of wealth, thinking that it is possible to be popular without one or the other, for some of the most attractive women the world has ever known were homely and had scarcely a penny with which to bless themselves.

$5,000 Reward.

The Daily Mail has been informed on good authority that an attempt will be made to keep alive the pacifist agitation, which is at present at a very low ebb in this country, by means of German money.

The Daily Mail offers £1,000 reward for the discovery and conviction of any person in Great Britain or Ireland who has received money directly or indirectly from German sources for the purpose of causing disaffection or impeding the successful prosecution of the war.

The Defence of the Realm Act provides regulations under which a conviction can be rapidly secured if it can be proved that any person has received money from German sources for the expenses of speakers, for the publication of articles or for the printing and circulation of pamphlets, or for assisting in the election expenses of candidates at a general election.

The Daily Mail will pay £1,000 promptly on the conviction of any person aiding Germany in this manner. All information must be in writing.

Letters containing information will be treated as privileged and confidential. They should be addressed to "Reward," The Daily Mail, London, E.C. 4.

This offer remains open until the end of the year.

Prohibitionist Takes Exception

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—The Daily News has a great deal to say with regard to the "Florida Water evil." It would be far more to the point if that paper would state, 1st, how many, if any, Newfoundlanders are exploiting Florida Water for booze? 2nd, what quantities, if any, are being manufactured in Newfoundland; 3rd, what evil effect it has other than attains to any alcoholic substance of relative strength? Much of the talk of the News with regard to Florida Water is unfounded and shows a great lack of actual facts. Very truly yours, PROHIBITIONIST. Sept. 27, 1918.

The Shedding of Blood.

In these days of so much shedding of blood some Scripture statements come forcibly to the mind, such as "And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission." From the day of Cain, who brought some other offering, seeking to evade the sacrifice of blood, men have stumbled over the way of salvation by sacrifice, as a rock of offense, but in doing so, have caused rivers of blood to flow of their own letting.

The sacrifice of the Son of Man had no need of repetition if the sons of men had accepted the teachings of the Christ of Calvary. Rejecting his atonement, at-one-ment between man and God and between man and man by a strange perversity men continue "since the foundation of the world" (the time of Cain) to shed one another's blood, in floods and rivers, at the bloody present, when to have accepted the teaching (Sermon on the Mount) of Him who once in the past of the world hath appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself would have made the blood-shedding of the present an utter impossibility. Sneering sceptics have said that the way of salvation by the cross savored of the shambles and now, because of its rejection, they stand like butcher-kneep-ers in their brothers' blood.—The Wesleyan.

Lobster Now Luxury.

The lobster has now passed beyond the reach of the poor and has become a luxury only to be enjoyed by the rich. Every year the price of lobsters advances a few points, and even at the highest price offered it is difficult to obtain them. From Massachusetts comes the information that were it not for the catches in Maine and Nova Scotia, lobsters could not be had in Massachusetts, for the waters of that state have been fished out. In 1888, so the Boston Transcript says, 1,740,850 lobsters of legal size were caught in Massachusetts. In 1914, only 16,128 were taken there. The opinion seems to be gaining ground in Massachusetts that a mistake has been made in dealing with the lobster industry. The small lobster has been protected, while the large lobster, which is the one which produces an enormous quantity of young, has been taken. This, it is held by some, is wrong. We should catch the small lobster, so it is argued, and leave the bigger ones to breed.

There seems to be some virtue in this contention, because in spite of the lobster hatching plants maintained by the federal government fewer lobsters are being taken each year, while the demand for them is continually increasing. This, of course, accounts for the high prices. It is also claimed that in planting lobster fry the federal agents have made serious blunders. The fry have been liberated in places where they have been subjected to the attacks of other fish, and few of the lobsters hatched in the government plants have ever attained a size where they could look after themselves. The experienced fisherman of the Maine coast have frequently called attention to the mistakes which were being made in lobster propagation and preservation, but as frequently happens in the making of laws, the opinions of men who know something about lobsters and their habits have been ignored, and the theorists have been the only ones consulted.

If the federal government should put a close time on lobsters for several years and arrange with the Canadian government to do the same thing, it is reasonable to suppose that lobsters would increase and this industry would regain something of the magnitude it has lost. But we have no idea that such a plan will be adopted. It would be strenuously opposed by the dealers, who now make large profits in the business, and probably by the fishermen also, who have considerable capital tied up in their fishing gear. What has happened in Massachusetts, where few lobsters are now being taken, must eventually take place in Maine, and unless some radical step is adopted, the time is not far away when even as a luxury the lobster will become so scarce as to be beyond the reach of everyone save the epicurean of the plutocratic class.—Ex.

Blame the Nerves

When you cannot sleep and are easily irritated and worried you have reason to suspect that the nerves are below normal. They are not getting proper nourishment from the food you eat and need a little special help. A few weeks' treatment with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will do wonders for anyone in this condition. Note your increase in weight while using this food cure.

Baku Evacuated By the British.

London, Sept. 19.—Baku, in Transcaucasia, has been evacuated by the British, who have withdrawn their forces to North Persia. The evacuation was made necessary, it is stated, because of the lack of steadiness on the part of Armenian troops when they were attacked by the Turks during August. By the end of that month it was realized that the co-operation to the local Government and its forces would not be sufficiently effective to justify the retention of the small detachment in the face of the numbers which the enemy could collect. On September 1 the evacuation was definitely decided upon, but on the same day the Turks again attacked and the Allies of the British, the reports state, again failed to co-operate. The result was that the Royal Warwickshire Regiment had to cover a Russo-Armenian retreat, and it is feared that this force lost heavily. Is It Your Boy?

IS IT YOUR BOY THAT IS ALWAYS HARD ON HIS CLOTHES?

Is it your boy that will climb trees and fences and leave part of his clothes there?

Is it your boy that slides for third base and will do considerable of the sliding on the seat of his pants?

ANYHOW HE IS A REAL BOY, BLESS HIM.

But he'll be wanting a new Suit, or at least a new pair of Pants. Still he is worth it these times. But a lot of money is being asked for Boys' Clothes to-day, and the boy may be blessed when prices are mentioned.

We have thought of that, so we say,—
We can give you

BOYS' SUITS

At Most Reasonable Prices.

But in many cases it will not be necessary to buy a whole Suit, as the boy has only worn out his pants (it will be extraordinary if he hasn't).

WE OFFER THREE GRADES OF BOYS' PANTS.

These are our Prices:—
Sizes 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
Grade 1: 1.30, 1.35, 1.40, 1.45, 1.50, 1.55, 1.60, 1.65, 1.70
