Change May Be Made Among the Doukhobors

It Is Reported That Government May Permit Some to Practice Communistic Precepts.

It has been popular knowledge for some months that Rev. John McDougall had been engaged upon a special mission among the Doukhobors in Saskatchewan, but the nature of his mission has not been made public.

It has come to the hearing of the Albertan that some of the Doukhobors, a small minority, have proved to be unreasonably or unwise in their degree, that they have declined to become naturalized, and that this minority have insisted upon leading the communistic life and no other. The greater part have settled down, but the remnant have proved so unyielding that arrangements are in progress by means of which they will be enabled to lead this life. This is the work upon which Mr. McDougall is engaged at the present time, rather upon which he has been asked to report.

Interviewed by a member of the press, Mr. McDougall, before he left, was not inclined to say very much. He admitted, however, that the government had asked him to make a report upon certain matters in this regard and that certain steps probably would be taken with the remaining Doukhobors who refused to be naturalized and that he had been employed by the minister of the interior to negotiate with these obstinate people.

PROSPERITY BY THE SEA

Mr. Bennett Tells of Activity in the Maritime Provinces

LUMBERING ACTIVE IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Feeling Loss of People Coming West but making best of it

R. B. Bennett returned to Calgary on Saturday after a short visit to his old home in New Brunswick, spending Christmas with his friends there.

Mr. Bennett in an interview yesterday said that conditions in the maritime provinces were very satisfactory. In New Brunswick the lumbering industry was taking on new life. In Nova Scotia conditions were satisfactory in industrial circles. "Of course the maritime provinces are losing a large number of their best people," said Mr. Bennett. "But those who remain understand that greater effort devolves upon them, and they are making the best of it."

In political matters Mr. Bennett said that in New Brunswick the center was in Mr. Blair, who was attempting to get into political life again.

"Mr. Blair is a very strong man," said Mr. Bennett. "What he wants very often gets. He will have great opposition but he has a following in New Brunswick yet."

DIAMOND BURGLARS GET SENTENCED

Toronto Crooks Get Fairly Good Sentences in the Kingston Penitentiary

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Governor Hughes today granted a reprieve to William Stinson of Terra Haute, Ind. on the charge of burglary. Stinson was the vice president of the National mine workers of America for the 11th district of Indiana. On Christmas day a burglary was committed in the office of John H. Kennedy, Harrison Ind. and checks and money orders for upwards of $200 were taken. Some of the checks and money orders it is alleged were found in his possession.

CROKER NOT COMING BACK TO AMERICA

The Ex-Tammany Chief Seems Satisfied With Britain

London, Jan. 7.—Concerning the reports of his intention to return to the United States, Richard Croker telegraphed the Associated Press from Dublin as follows: "I am not returning to the United States and there is no truth in these rumors."

BIG MERGER IN COBALT MINES

One Company Proposes to Absorb Two Other Neighbor- ing Mines

Toronto, Jan. 7.—A million dollar merger is on the tapis. The Cleveland Cobalt Mining Co. proposes absorbing the Silver City, a contiguous property, and the Albert, next adjoining to the south.

All three mines have been under way for some time. The Cleveland Cobalt people are putting in a large plant and desire to secure additional territory.

CLUB GETS TO WORK

The 100,000 Club has a Confer- ence With the New Secretary Last Night

SEVERAL ENQUIRIES FROM PROSPECTIVE INVESTORS

Mr. Webster Starts out to Get 5- 000 Members for the Popu- lar Club

A meeting of the 100,000 club was held last evening in the board of trade rooms, when the president, R. J. Hutchings, occupied the chair. C. W. Webster, the new secretary, was present and took the secretary's chair.

Mr. McQueen, chairman of the publicity committee, gave a report of the prize winners of the essays, also reported the publicity buttons had been ordered. There were 1000 for children, which was a large button, and 2500 for adults were ordered. These buttons are smaller, and they are being printed in black on an oval gold background.

Mr. McQueen, as one of the committee appointed to get a secretary, reported that they had appointed Mr. Webster, whom he thought would meet with the requirements of the club.

F. Higgins reported several enquiries, some for particulars regarding starting business here, others to know what inducements could be offered for firms operating in Calgary. All these were given the necessary information.

A discussion took place regarding the duties of the new secretary, also the best method of handling the membership tickets to be able to keep the name, number and track of a member, in which Messrs. Jones, Darker, McDonald, Richardson, Lambert and Dr. Scott all took part.

The chairman said now that they had their secretary they would be able to get down to work. The secretary would act in conjunction with all the committees and he hoped the committees would work hard. He thought they had made a wise choice in Mr. Webster and they had great confidence in his ability. He (the president) wished to thank the press for their valuable assistance, and hoped they would continue to do so as well in the future as in the past.

Mr. Webster thanked the members for their confidence and trust in him, and he felt it was nice to be working with those who had confidence in him. He thought the club would have good members in a short time. The more members the greater the interest that would be taken in the club. The issuing of tickets should be left with the secretary so that he could keep track of them and hand them out to those wishing to get members.

Mr. Darker thought some one should be appointed to look out for the club's interest among the sporting circles, such as the baseball, hockey and lacrosse clubs. He knew they had an entertainment committee, but this hardly covered the sporting circles.

On the proposition of Messrs. Lambert and Higgins it was decided to have a meeting in the near future, they could at this meeting present the prizes to the essay winners. They could at the same time have a manufacturers' exhibit of local goods made in Calgary, such as from the Great West Sundry Co., Alberta Biscuit Co., Standard Soap, candy companies and others employed in manufacturing goods. That was left in the hands of the entertainment committee, of which Mr. McDonald is chairman. They will look into the matter and arrange the meeting in conjunction with the chairman.

JAPANESE ARE NOT AFRAID

Burglar Held a High Office

Toronto, Jan. 7.—John Milligan, Fred Marsh and John Warren were sentenced to four years in the penitentiary and Jos. Warren was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary by Magistrate Denison this morning for burglary of the jewelry store of David Ward on Adelaide street, near the Saturday night before Christmas. All except Warren pleaded not guilty.

MORNING ALBERTAN

MORNING ALBERTAN, CALGARY, TUESDAY, JAN. 8, 1907.

CALGARY MAY BE SECURE

Argued that City Does Not Allow Suits Against for Damages for Injury

MAN SUING CITY FOR $5,000 DAMAGES

He Broke His Arm and Maintains that City is Liable.

A case of considerable interest came up for argument yesterday before Justice Harvey. It was in connection with an action brought by Hugh P. Clark against the city of Calgary for $5000 damages for an arm broken by a fall on the sidewalk adjoining Knox Church last winter. The accident, the plaintiff alleged was due to an accumulation of snow and ice on the sidewalk, making the place dangerous for pedestrians, and which the city was bound to have removed.

The city charter vests the streets in the city and gives the city the right to raise money to keep them in repair, and imposes upon it the duty of keeping them in repair. The charter also gives the city the right of compelling the owners of property adjoining sidewalks to keep them free from snow and ice, with remedy against such owners in case damages are found against the city for their failure or neglect.

For the defence it was objected in the pleadings by the late J. B. Smith, K.C., that the city was not bound to keep the streets in repair, nor to remove snow and ice from sidewalks, and that the city had no right of action to any one sustaining damage by any neglect to repair on the part of the city, and unless such right were given in express words, it did not exist. No such right was given by common law.

It was also objected that no action could be brought without a month's notice and that sufficient notice had not been given.

These two objections were argued before the court today by the Hon. J. S. Hall K.C., who appeared for the city.

WAYLAIN AN EDMONTON MAN

A Young Man was Sandbagged and Robbed of $200 in Cash on Saturday.

Edmonton, Jan. 7.—A daring robbery was reported to the police last Saturday night, when Mary Ann Milner, clerk in the grocery store of Milner & O'Connor, telephoned that Charlie O'Connor had been sandbagged and relieved of two hundred dollars while entering the bank of the same name.

According to O'Connor's story, he was working in the store on Saturday evening and in the course of his duties went out to a shed behind the store to get some lumber. He was carrying a large bundle of lumber on his head by one person and robbed of over $200. He lay senseless for nearly twenty minutes when he recovered sufficiently from the blow to make his way back to the store and reported the matter to Miss Milner, the clerk, who notified the police.

O'Connor says he has no idea who committed the robbery. He says there was a suspicious character loitering around the store on Friday evening and on Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock an unknown man came into the store and walked out. He was afterwards seen to stand in the back of the store for a considerable time.

O'Connor says he counted his money about 8 o'clock on Saturday evening and had $319.40, $119 of it was on one side of the pocket book. A customer came in and he put the amount in the till, while he put the pocket book in his pocket. He was preparing to deposit the two amounts in the bank that evening and on Saturday afternoon had discontinued opening for business on Saturday evenings.

Inquiry at the police court this morning elicited no knowledge of clue of the highwayman.

ATTRACTING IRISH PEOPLE

Calgary is Being Advertised Throughout the Emerald Island

EXHIBIT OF ALBERTA WILL SOON BE GIVEN

A Display of Alberta Products at the Dublin Exhibition.

The present indications point to a large number of Irish immigrants settling in this part of Alberta during the coming spring. G. H. Stepien, the Canadian Pacific Irrigation Co. agent at 114 South Frederick St., Dublin, writing to Mr. G. P. Wheeler, said:

"I have started an active newspaper campaign, and from inquiries received throughout Ireland, it is very evident that active interest is being taken in the colonization scheme."

"At the Dublin exhibition which is to be opened by the King on May 1st, a large exhibit of Alberta products will be shown. Calgary is also attracting attention."

Mr. Stepien asked for literature concerning this city. Mr. Moore, who left on Sunday for the British Isles will make his headquarters at Dublin with Mr. Stepien, and all operations through out England and Scotland will be conducted from the Dublin office.

PONCE IS NOW LONG OVERDUE

Should Have Been in Port Six Days Ago

New York, Jan. 7.—Another day has passed with no news from the steamer Ponce on the New York and Porto Rico steamship company which sailed on Dec. 26 from Ponce, Porto Rico for New York. The voyage under ordinary circumstances should have been over due.

The Ponce was last reported on Dec. 25 as appearing to be making her usual speed. Under orders from the United States treasury department three revenue cutters are searching for the missing vessel. The owners refuse to alter their belief that nothing serious than temporary disablement has delayed their craft.

Kingston, Jan. 7.—J. McD. Mowat, the Liberal nominee, was elected mayor. A by-law to reduce the liquor license carried.

LIBERALS ARE CONFIDENT

They Have Started the Big Fight in Province of British Columbia

EXPECT TO HAVE MAJORITY OVER ALL

They Seem Certain of Gaining Eight Seats or More.

Vancouver, Jan. 7.—Liberal leader Macdonald and W. B. McInnes passed through Vancouver this afternoon for Victoria, where they opened a Liberal campaign in slashing style.

Mr. Macdonald thinks Liberals will gain at least eight seats on Feb. 2, which will give them a majority over all parties. He held out strongly against Orientalism, which Conservatives covertly encourage.

Mr. McInnes said, "From all we could gather on our way through the interior there is a cheerful note of confidence and determination among Liberals. As far as the up country seats are concerned, I'm satisfied we shall wrest from the government, Nelson, Kelowna, Kamloops, Nanaimo, Lilloet, Ymir and Similkameen and I see no reason why we should lose any of them."

According to O'Connor's story, he was working in the store on Saturday evening and in the course of his duties went out to a shed behind the store to get some lumber. He was carrying a large bundle of lumber on his head by one person and robbed of over $200. He lay senseless for nearly twenty minutes when he recovered sufficiently from the blow to make his way back to the store and reported the matter to Miss Milner, the clerk, who notified the police.

WILL MAKE OFFER ON MONDAY NIGHT

The Power Question to be Sub- mitted Early to the City Council

A communication has been received by the city clerk from the Rocky Mountain Power and Development Co., making an offer for the supply of power and light to the city of Calgary.

The offer has been published already. The only difference being that the company agrees to make a test of the cost of power of the city for one month, and then cut that out in two, in supplying the power.

The question will come up at the first meeting of the new council, which will be held in the city council chamber on Monday night next.

RESCUED AFTER PROLONGED ATTL

Man had Been Unconscious But Recovering Managed to At- tract Attention

New York, Jan. 7.—The search for the fireman, Lenon Campbell and sister who went down with the ruins when Hill's paper warehouse was burned and collapsed last night was suddenly halted tonight as the sound of some one tapping on a timber from within the debris was distinctly heard. For nearly twenty hours Campbell had been lying on a siding as a result of which the B. & B. train ran down a gradient and Campbell received severe injuries.

The appeal was made upon the point as to whether or not Campbell was in charge of the B. & B. train, had or had not been guilty of contributory negligence.

The cases are as follows: The King v. Josiah Gilbert. The King v. Peter Milligan. Cases under section 900, C. C. Lincoln v. Laffery.

Reports of Disastrous Result of Storm Very Greatly Ex- aggerated

Medicine Hat, Jan. 7.—Reports of heavy losses on ranches as the result of the prevailing cold weather and snowstorms are greatly exaggerated. Only one rancher in this district has suffered loss and his cattle wandered before a storm and fell into a railway fence, when between five hundred and a thousand perished.

The new club rooms at St. Mary's hall which have recently been furnished throughout, were the occasion of much admiration. Judging from the opinions expressed by the delegates it is safe to say that there is no club of its kind in Western Canada.

The officers elected were: P. J. Nolan—Grand Knight. B. T. Keating—Deputy Grand Knight. C. B. Rolly—Chancellor. E. G. Cullen—Financial secretary. A. H. Esch—Treasurer. Dr. T. J. Costello—Recording secretary.

Dr. A. V. Cashman—Warden. P. Paradis—Lecturer. P. J. Bergson—Advocate. A. McInnes—Physician. Rev. Fr. Lamarchand—Chaplain. T. A. McInnes—Inside Guard. J. O. McDonald—Outside Guard. Trustees—Dr. E. H. Rouleau, J. McCaffrey and E. McCormick.

All the towns from Red Deer to Regina in May.

After the ceremonies which were concluded about 9.30 p.m. the different councils repaired to the Alexander Hall where a banquet was tendered them by their Calgary hosts. The toasts to "The King," The Pope, Christopher Columbus, National Council Knights of Columbus, Visiting Brothers and the Ladies were well received while a quartette favored the assembly with songs at intervals. Capt. Bagley's orchestra also being in attendance.

C. P. R. TRAIN WAS WRECKED

Two People Killed in a Disastrous Accident Near Fort William

A NUMBER OF PERSONS WERE ALSO INJURED

Train Going East. Accident Caused by a Broken Rail

Winnipeg, Jan. 7.—The transcontinental express which left here Saturday evening for the east was wrecked yesterday afternoon at 5.30 half mile east of Kaminitikwia, a station on C.P.R. 25 miles west of Fort William.

Two men were killed and six injured. The wreck was due to a broken rail, which threw the mail car and five of the coaches following of the track.

The dining car and sleeper left the rails. Both of these men were pinned under the wreckage and died before they could be released. The injuries to the passengers were largely due to broken glass, or to the having been violently thrown against the seats or side of the car when it was overturned.

THE DEAD ARE:
I. Smith, Montreal, waiter.
K. Campbell, Montreal, waiter.

THE INJURED:
Lewis Kozar, employee, Montreal, out about head.
A. M. Ferguson, Winnipeg, mail clerk, head and shoulder cut.
G. B. Koyes, shoulder hurt.
H. Thompson, Sheffield, Eng., head cut.
R. B. Varber, London, Eng., head and shoulder cut and bruised.

The injured were removed to Fort William hospital.

One of the coaches which left the track first was thrown across and actually broke the embankment and the side of it was crushed in by the coach following. It was here that the fatalities occurred.

H. Smith, one of those killed, was on his way to Montreal, and Campbell was on his way home to England. Both of these men were pinned under the wreckage and died before they could be released. The injuries to the passengers were largely due to broken glass, or to the having been violently thrown against the seats or side of the car when it was overturned.

Hill's Transcontinental Line Abandoned

The Albertan is Informed that the Big Canadian Project is Hung Up

The Albertan has received information from a source that it is inclined to believe to be about as reliable as can be had that James Hill has abandoned his Canadian transcontinental scheme. If not abandoned, it has been hung up for some time to come and will not be carried through by James Hill.

The Great Northern is not having the smoothest kind of a time in the United States. Application for release of their bonding privileges to the extent of $60,000,000, which more than doubles the bonding of the old, is being vigorously opposed by the attorney general of Minnesota.

Besides Hill is getting to be an old man, and his announced retirement from active business, which is next July. Had Hill been a younger man, he doubtless would have put one and at least postponed for a considerable time ago.

It is known that the Great Northern had an option on the Regina and Prince Albert line before it was purchased by the C.N.R., and the option was for some hundreds of thousands of dollars less than paid by the C.N.R.

The C.P.R. is building between Weyburn and Lethbridge, and that will mean almost a second or third transcontinental by the C.P.R.

Of course this change in policy releases merely to the transcontinental system. It is more than probable that the Great Northern may send up branches into Canada, and it is more than probable that one of those branches will strike Calgary at the very earliest possible moment, but it seems certain according to our informant that the general transcontinental system will be abandoned, or at least postponed for a considerable time ago.

LIFE OF MAN IS AT STAKE

Important Case Coming Before the Court on Banc Sitting Here Today

RESERVED POINTS REGINA MURDER CASE

The Advocates for the Octogen- arian Gilbert Making an Effort to Save His Life

Although the list of cases which will occupy the attention of the court on banc which commences its sittings today is a very small one, it nevertheless contains two cases which are of great interest.

The case of the octogenarian, Josiah Gilbert, who is charged with the murder of a neighbor in Saskatchewan, was recently sentenced to death for this crime, at Regina. The defense, however, asked for the reservation of certain points of law which was granted at the trial. These will be argued before the court today. Should the court decide that they are not good the murdered will be hanged on the 18th of this month. As the court will not hand out their judgment until the conclusion of the sitting the condemned man will not know his fate until within a very few days of the date which has been fixed for his execution. Gilbert will remain at the barracks at Regina, pending the decision of the court on banc.

The second case of interest is the case of McPhail v. C.P.R. In the spring McPhail obtained a verdict of $2000 damages against the C.P.R. McPhail was employed on a B. & B. train, and during the course of the night another train collided with the B. & B. train, which was situated on a siding as a result of which the B. & B. train ran down a gradient and Campbell received severe injuries.

The appeal was made upon the point as to whether or not Campbell was in charge of the B. & B. train, had or had not been guilty of contributory negligence.

LACOMBE TO STETTNER

Another Line of Telephone Decided Upon by Alberta

WORK TO BEGIN EARLY NEXT SEASON

Exchanges Likely to be Put in All Along the New Line

Lacombe, Jan. 7.—For some time W. F. Puffer, M.P.P., recognizing the importance of having the east country in direct communication with the main line, has been urging the government to construct a telephone line east as far as Stettler.

That his efforts have been crowned with success will be seen from the following letter received this week: Sir,—Referring further to your communication of the 22nd December with reference to the possibility of the construction of a telephone line from Lacombe to Stettler, I may say in reply that the minister returning somewhat earlier than anticipated has given the opportunity of going into the matter with him, and he states that we will be prepared to undertake the construction of the line in question next season, but there are some questions of municipal exchange at Lacombe and some of the other towns east that should be considered and any information you can give us dealing upon this question will, in the meantime, all have the effect of facilitating matters. You will understand that it seems preferable for the government to own and operate the trunk line system, the towns, municipalities or villages generally to own their telephone system and exchange business with us.

Your obedient servant,
JOHN STOCKS,
Deputy Minister.

Mr. Puffer was in Edmonton on Wednesday and interviewed the minister, and was given positive assurance that the work would be carried through, having passed in order-in-council. In fact he was authorized to state that the department was now prepared to buy poles delivered at Lacombe, Morningside, or any other station near here.

The government will open long distance exchanges in every town on the east line, and will urge upon all the towns and villages to prepare for a municipal system. The department is arranging for wire and phones for local exchanges, which will be sold at actual cost. The cost will be made known in a short time.

Mr. Puffer is highly pleased with the results of his efforts, and he will

The Chinese Act Upon the Statements Made in Roosevelt's Message

Washington, Jan. 7.—American Consul Bergholtz today cabled from Canton a confirmation of reports of renewal of the anti-American boycott in China. He attributed the trouble to statements by Chinese residents of Oakland, Cal., that President Roosevelt in his annual message to the congress had not mentioned the new treaty with China, which was taken as an indication that nothing was to be done to mitigate the severities of the exclusion law.

CALGARY! CALGARY!

The Commercial and Industrial Centre of the Last Great West, 840 miles distant from Winnipeg and 641 miles distant from Vancouver. Without a rival, without a competitor, without a peer. The centre of a vast country, rich in grain and cattle. The distributing basis of immense coal timber and mineral districts.

Calgary has 12 banks, 85 wholesale houses and 25 manufacturing industries. With an educational system which is unequalled. It has 3 fire halls and 3 branch post offices. A street railway is about to be constructed which will serve East, West and South Calgary. This will mean a belt line of about 12 miles in length.

The G. T. P. have declared their intention of reaching Calgary at an early date. The C. N. R. is determined to become established here in the near future. Both companies are fully warranted in putting forth every effort in order to keep pace with the unparalleled development which is taking place in this part of Greater Canada.

Calgary is favorably situated at the foot of the Rockies, with a climate unsurpassed. Watch her grow! Her population in 1890 was 4,000, her population in 1900 was 7500, her population in 1910 will, at a conservative estimate, reach 50,000. Buy Calgary property while you may. It will double and treble itself in price in a short time. It has been the rule in the past and will be the rule in the future. The tremendous influx of immigration compels it. Get in on the ground floor.

The magnificent suburb known as South Calgary, which until recently was under the control of parties in England and which is part of an estate which must be closed up, will now be placed on the market and thrown open to the public. Three thousand lots are now being offered for sale.

Said lots will be sold at prices varying from $35.00 to $60.00 per lot, according to location and value. Terms half cash, balance in three and six months, with interest at 8 per cent. Some of these lots are worth $200.00 each, none less than $50.00 each. This is the greatest snap ever offered the public. You cannot lose money, you are bound to make money. You cannot help it. It is merely a question of whether you make a profit of 100 per cent. or 800 per cent.

Adjoining this property is the contemplated terminus of Jim Hill's road, which will reach Calgary from Fernie, passing through a splendid coal, timber and mineral district.

THE CITY LIGHT

If the new council decides to accept the mandate of the council of 1906 and reverts to the old committee system of administration and have the entire slate...

Last year the light plant succeeded in spite of the fact that there was no interference from the chairman of the committee. This year it has risen to the eminence of a sturdy competitor.

Whatever interference there was last year from the chairman of the committee was bad. There was no effort to increase the light business of the city, no plan for the getting of new business, for as a matter of fact there seemed to be a studied effort to prevent an increase in business, and there was always too much alarm lest the city should get into conflict with the private company.

The policy of the city has been to conserve. For instance the city is losing all hotel lighting because it declines to give a flat rate to these large consumers. This has been the policy of the city.

A man with the vigor of Ald. Watson or Ald. Clarke, or the business ability of Ald. Young or some of the newly elected aldermen is needed to make the city electric light plant a pronounced and unqualified success.

PROVINCE AND TELEPHONES

The government of Alberta has decided upon its third long distance telephone system, which will run from Lacombe to Stettler. With the completion of that line, the government will have built about as many miles of telephones as the Bell, which has been operating in Alberta for many years.

The time is rapidly approaching when the government system will be the premier system and the Bell will take second place, which will be the case a few years before the government system will be the only system.

The Rutherford administration has given Canada the example of the speedy and satisfactory methods which a successful and business government adopts.

THE IMMIGRATION

While immigration from the British Isles is falling off in United States, it is increasing very rapidly in Canada. The very natural conclusion is that the class of people who in times past were attracted to United States are now coming in large numbers to Canada.

And this change will become more evident as time goes on. To get started is the first thing. To get going in the immigration business is the greatest task. That being accomplished, if the country is good, the rest is easy.

If we continue to get a majority of the English speaking immigrants or Northern Europe immigration, we do not worry because our wealthy neighbors get many times as many who come from Southern Europe.

PROSPERITY IN CANADA

Prosperity reigns throughout all Canada. In every district, in every province, in all parts, the same story is being told. The provinces by the sea on account of the impetus in the lumber trade is adding new life to the industries of New Brunswick, and the development of manufacturing in Nova Scotia, are coming along very well.

The provinces of Quebec and Ontario are having their share of the prosperity which is prevailing in the coast to coast. As for the three prairie provinces, no comment is necessary. There is every evidence that the great province of the Columbia is at last coming into its own. Throughout the province there is the thrill of a new life.

AN EDMONTON UNTRUTH

Edmonton and Calgary have their little rivalries and their little misunderstandings without very many bones being broken, and as a rule the little jibes at one another do no harm and do nothing but good. An honest, fair and keen rivalry does help along sometimes and makes every person sit up and take notice.

As long as the rivalry is fair there is nothing to complain about. Calgary always does play fair, goes its own way, goes its own gait and that is all there is to it. It does not go out of its way to interfere with the progress of Edmonton. It does not know.

Calgary was doing an amount of boasting about the clearing returns, which was all right. The expansion of our clearing returns had opened the eyes of the people in the east and the west, and the north and the south. It has been the marvel of the financial world. It was a great credit to the prosperity of the province.

But the people of Edmonton, or some person with some authority in Edmonton, wrote to the leading financial paper in Canada, casting certain reflections upon the way that our clearing returns were made up. That person intimated that there was something about them which was not fair.

Had the objection been well taken it would not help Edmonton out at all, but it would have the effect of making financiers who did not understand the situation suspect all western methods. But the objection, as we have explained by a quotation from the Edmonton Journal, was not well taken.

The Edmonton people complained to the Monetary Times that the clearings from Calgary did not come from Calgary alone, but from banks throughout Alberta, which was partially true, while clearings through the Edmonton banks came principally from Edmonton.

Now the Calgary bank clearing district has an area of about 100 miles north, 100 miles south, 60 miles east and 75 miles west, not a very large district. But the Edmonton district on the other hand has an area of 100 miles south, unlimited district north and west, and 400 or 500 miles to the east. A vastly larger territory than Calgary. Nevertheless, in the light of these facts an Edmonton official attempted to place us before the financial world as dishonorable in our methods and unfair to Edmonton.

It is the same with our building returns. Our building inspector says that the building in Calgary and the suburbs during the current year amounted to $2,400,000. The building inspector in Edmonton says that the building done in Edmonton amounted to $1,800,000. We took the word of the building inspector of Edmonton without further investigation. But the Edmonton people not only have doctored our returns, but something wrong in it and finds that the cement building which is being constructed by the brewery is really 50 miles away.

But some person in Edmonton goes still further and sends a despatch down to the east that Edmonton stands fifth in the Dominion and that the Calgary returns are incorrect and that they have been padded. The Albertan is not certain that the figures of the building inspector at Edmonton are correct. But the Albertan is quite prepared to take the same treatment of others. The Albertan is quite convinced that the Calgary returns are correct, at least that they do not overstate the buildings.

These two particular incidents do not show Edmonton as playing the game with any great degree of fairness.

On the appointment of Mr. Bryce to Washington, the London Saturday Review reiterated the theory that reciprocity between Canada and the United States would result in the annexation of Canada to that country. The new British jingoism pretends a great love for the colonies, but it does not know when it is intolerably offensive to them.

It is certainly not going to add to the loyalty of Canada by ceaselessly denying its existence. But this fear of a Canadian revolt is nothing more than what is implied in the objection raised against Mr. Bryce as one who would aid Canada in obtaining a treaty of reciprocity. This implies that it would be the duty and the right of an ambassador of the new imperialism to thwart Canada in any agreement for better terms with the United States which she might find for her advantage. All the talk on this subject is the more stupid in that there have not yet been heard, even among the most advanced promoters of reciprocity in the United States, any proposals that have borne any semblance to reciprocity that Canada could think of for a moment.

In view of this sort of talk against the appointment of Mr. Bryce, Lord Strathcona was on leaving London, questioned by a United States press representative as to how the appointment would be viewed in Canada. Lord Strathcona is quite correct in saying there will be no disposition in Canada to regard the appointment of Mr. Bryce other than in a most favorable light. As a student of affairs and a historian whose works testify to his broad sympathy with the progress and development of free democratic institutions, he can be relied upon to act with wisdom and moderation. A British ambassador at Washington must of necessity be largely concerned in matters affecting Canada, but he can have no power of initiative, save what may be conferred upon him by the government he represents. The government of the Dominion being in close and constant communication with the Colonial Office in London, the treatment of all matters having a bearing on the relations between the Republic and the Dominion are regulated through that channel. Mr. Bryce will, therefore, act as his predecessors have always acted under instructions from the Foreign Office with the advice of the Secretary of the Colonies, who is kept informed of the Canadian attitude on all questions of international concern. Mr. Bryce will bring to the discharge of his functions a higher title to nobility than that of a peerage. Holding a foremost position among the literary men of the time, he will command respect, founded on intellectual achievement, and his selection has already been accepted as the highest compliment that could be paid to the government and people of the United States. All things considered, Mr. Bryce should make an ideal ambassador, and there is every reason to believe that he will fill the position with satisfaction to all concerned.

Although reported at death's door several weeks ago, President Castro and the Shah of Zersia are still increasing the doctor bills their heirs will be expected to settle.

Mr. Hunter, in describing the sermon that his brother evangelist preached on personal impurity, said that it was so powerful that some bad men had fainted. Perhaps in Calgary it would be as well to preach this particular sermon somewhere in the vicinity of the hospitals.

The Calgary Herald after a careful enquiry into the coal shortage has solved the question, and in an editorial yesterday concludes that that has there not been so many orders for coal, there would have been no coal shortage, which is a very wise conclusion indeed.

Regina people are giving great publicity to the fact that a train on the Prince Albert branch travelled six miles an hour one day last week. That's nothing. Trains on the C. & E. branch have often travelled that fast, and have been known to go even a little better than that.

What Jesus did (Edmonton News.) "Jesus never went to the theatre. And he never played cards, says Evangelist Hunter. This is the heading over the Calgary Alberta report of one of the meetings held by Crossley and Hunter, the evangelists who are now holding forth in that city. Mr. Hunter's next sermon is likely true, but there are plenty of things which Christ never did which good Christians do every day. Because Christ never attended a hockey match, are Christians only doing in what the Scriptures show Christ to have done, their conduct will certainly be circumscribed to an extent which no man of intelligence will deem necessary. All that anyone has a right to insist on is that they should do nothing which is contrary to the spirit of his teaching. Card-playing may be turned to evil purposes, but so may any other amusement. Why should it be condemned in itself? Why should all the good games be left to the Devil? To the majority who indulge in it, it is a perfectly harmless source of recreation. Let Mr. Hunter attack the gambling card player, not the game itself. As for the theatre, it also is the source of wholly innocent amusement. It has been the means of bringing many bright hours into otherwise dull and dreary lives but it has done more than this. At its best it is a great educator. Why should we discourage it, simply because in some instances it exercises a demoralizing influence? The remedy is not to blot the theatre as an institution, but for some Christian agency to rebalanced and unlearned to support those plays which are above reproach.

My book tells us that money is a root to every kind of evil. Let us pray for the evangelists. For the good of the cause. C. C. COE.

The Religion of the Future Editor Albertan: Man and God are the co-relates of a working plan of sympathy and resignation are indeed beautiful flowers grown in the garden of many a noble heart. But it is active love and energy which are the basis of the charter of human progress, and progress is the realization of the divine spirit which is incarnate in every human being, double standard will be impatience of men. Did not Isaiah deride and condemn all ritual religion? "Wash ye, make ye clean." This religion will be most emphatic in its convictions that a life worthily spent here on earth is best, and it is the only preparation for heaven. The religion of the future will be impatient of men who claim the right to be saved while they are perfectly content that others shall not be saved, and not lifting a hand to redeem the brother from misery and wretchedness. J. R. HARE.

A column by Dods

Courtesy Last week Mr. Hunter stated that the reason that Mr. Crossley and himself had been so prosperous during their career was that they were always courteous.

On Sunday afternoon the following conversation occurred in the Methodist church: Mr. Hunter: "How many persons here have learned to smoke after they were twenty?"

Mr. Hunter: "Then you ought to be ashamed of yourself." From every person, high or low, I look for courtesy.

But, if perchance, I should be rude, Excuse me, if you can. For courtesy applies to me And to no other man.

Interviewed by Dods, Mr. Hunter said that he had written the book on the ways and habits of bartenders. He would scorn to speak to such persons. He had no offers of contracts as yet. But the time would come.

What a curious thing it was now that the hotel keeper who put up the prayer for the hotel keeps the other hotel clerks one-third less than any other hotel keeper in town. I wonder who gets the rest.

The Morocco Embroglio Tangiers, Jan. 6.—(From Our Very Special Correspondent)—As Lord Methuen said upon a similar occasion and in more or less similar words: "This has been the most sanguinary fight of the century."

As Lord Methuen was speaking in the last century I am quite certain that I am right. For ten hours persons fought. I have never seen fighting anything like that in West IV, Calgary. On all sides followers and others might have been served feeling. When the gallant, glorious, intrepid, five ft. 4 in. equals stalwart-warriors entered the surrendered fortress fifteen prisoners were discovered. They were arrested. They made no resistance. None. No fatalities. I am mistaken. A man sprained his ankle.

He is in the harm. He is not. He is not, but he would like to be. The sun has gone down in BLOOD. All is quiet. The dead have been dismissed.

The dead have recovered. The conquering army—parade of the conquerors will follow later—have arrived with the loot. A great war. The captured sheep are alive and on the carpet. The Spanish have arrived. Greeted by the conquerors they said "Manana" (tomorrow). They will take anything like that overland in a month. They have cornered the cigarette market.

The victors are in the mountains. The vanquished are in the valleys. All is quiet. The wounded are doing well. The mosques are full. There are no licensed houses in this country.

Do the Indians Know? A couple of months ago different papers were publishing interesting little items about the Indians and their preparations for a hard, cold winter. But we wise people thought nothing of their superstition and left the coal bin empty and went our way without further consideration.

A couple of months have passed away and we find that we are in the midst, or towards the end let us hope, of the Indian's next season's hard winter. The question now is, do the Indians know about these things, and if they do know will they tell?

When it is remembered that the ancient Egyptians had a vast amount of knowledge which is Greek to us, and other ancients were wise where we are ignorant, Indians and untutored persons have greater powers of sight, of hearing and of the senses in general than we civilized people have. Indian story seems to be a true one.

So perhaps they do have communion with the weather spirits unknown to us. Perhaps it is worth while for some of the best of us to have a pow wow with the red men on these points and learn from them or try to learn from them. It might be well if before the next labor trouble some coal man would make a date with Man Who Gets In Out of the Rain or some of his kind and ask him about the coming season.

Whatever these persons may do, there is one person who intends to see these Indian persons next season as early as they get their prophesy factory in operation, and if they say, "I see it coming," this person is going to get as much coal in the coal bin as Joseph had corn in Egypt.

And there is one thing so really delightful about these persons. After pulling off a good thing like that and making it stick, none of while we are in it and says, "I told you so."

Why Not See what it is like? DODS.

What Jesus did (Edmonton News.) "Jesus never went to the theatre. And he never played cards, says Evangelist Hunter. This is the heading over the Calgary Alberta report of one of the meetings held by Crossley and Hunter, the evangelists who are now holding forth in that city. Mr. Hunter's next sermon is likely true, but there are plenty of things which Christ never did which good Christians do every day. Because Christ never attended a hockey match, are Christians only doing in what the Scriptures show Christ to have done, their conduct will certainly be circumscribed to an extent which no man of intelligence will deem necessary. All that anyone has a right to insist on is that they should do nothing which is contrary to the spirit of his teaching. Card-playing may be turned to evil purposes, but so may any other amusement. Why should it be condemned in itself? Why should all the good games be left to the Devil? To the majority who indulge in it, it is a perfectly harmless source of recreation. Let Mr. Hunter attack the gambling card player, not the game itself. As for the theatre, it also is the source of wholly innocent amusement. It has been the means of bringing many bright hours into otherwise dull and dreary lives but it has done more than this. At its best it is a great educator. Why should we discourage it, simply because in some instances it exercises a demoralizing influence? The remedy is not to blot the theatre as an institution, but for some Christian agency to rebalanced and unlearned to support those plays which are above reproach.

Editor Albertan: I present to you two evangelists in the city & counties have been appointed by three denominational churches to arrange the financial matters of the evangelistic campaign. I will call the committee's attention to the hymn book imposition. The same people that are responsible for the finance are also responsible for the hymn book as a side issue. Anyone that is conversant with publishing can easily see that the profits on this book are simply because in some instances it exercises a demoralizing influence? Let us presume that the present working plan of life, company by company and sell five hundred at each place; their pin money would be nearly five thousand dollars a year. The incongruity comes to view when we hear them warning us of the sin of getting money.

The books will be virtually valueless when they depart. Think of a man with a family of ten being told that they ought to sing! An impossible obligation when money is as scarce as oysters in a Jew's soup.

None. No fatalities. I am mistaken. A man sprained his ankle. He is in the harm. He is not. He is not, but he would like to be. The sun has gone down in BLOOD. All is quiet. The dead have been dismissed.

RED DEER MEETS CALGARY TONIGHT

The Calgary Team Had a Good Practice Last Night

The Calgary hockey team, in view of the match this evening with Red Deer, had a smart work out last evening and showed surprising form. McLeod, Rouleau and McKenzie, the three forwards, with Hemsworth as rover, showed some splendid speed and their combinations were exceptionally good, considering that they have not played together much this season.

Red Deer have strengthened their team by a couple of Olds' best men whom they are bringing down, and they fully expect to take the measure of the Calgary bunch. Some Red Deer enthusiasts who were in town yesterday offered money that the north boys would win, and were promptly accepted. The game this evening will commence promptly on the ice, at 8.30, and those visiting the rink will be rewarded by a fast exhibition of hockey.

Only two games were played in the Brewery Curling competition at the rink last evening which resulted in wins for Turner-Bone and Frosz (the scores being) Turner-Bone 12, McTavish 11. Frosz 17, Lee 5. The games this evening are: Shilbing v. Bryan. Fletcher v. Lee. Frosz v. McLeod. Bradley v. Parker.

THE MEETING OF ALBERTA MUNICIPALITIES

Convention Being Held in Red Deer this Afternoon

The second annual meeting of the Union of Alberta Municipalities commences today in the Odellville hall, Red Deer. From Calgary, Mayor Cameron, ex-Mayor Emerson, City Solicitor Hall and Chief Smart will take in the trip. The first three leaving today, the last mentioned leaving tomorrow. A large and businesslike program has been arranged, which will take considerable hustling to get over in two days. The program will consist of the following:

Tuesday. Reception by the committee of the town of Red Deer. Presentation of credentials and registration of delegates. Address of welcome by Mayor Iseltz, Red Deer. President's address, by ex-Mayor Emerson.

Wednesday. Papers on "Railway Bonusing" by G. W. Green, Red Deer. "Fire Fighting Appliances," by Chief Smart, Calgary. "Municipal Government by Commission," by K. W. MacKenzie, Edmonton.

Resolution from Cardston amending the law re debentures. Question of affiliation with Union of Canadian Municipalities. "Municipal Auditing," by F. Fulmer, Red Deer. "Municipal Ownership," by W. A. Griesbach, mayor of Edmonton.

Deciding on advisability of applying to legislature for an act of incorporation of the union. Goal question, telephone question and other questions. After the routine business of electing officers and deciding on the next place of meeting the company will sit down to a banquet.

CATTLE DYING IN LARGE NUMBERS

The Long Cold Spell and Chilling Wind has its Effect

Messrs. Munns and Beveridge, of Brooks, who are prominent ranchers at Springbank, near Brooks, report that in their district and indeed all along the line cattle are dying in immense numbers from cold and starvation. The causes which led to this deplorable state of things are the intense cold which has prevailed during the last few days and the fact that the ranchers of the district have run short of hay and also of grain. According to these gentlemen this is no question of one isolated instance of want of care on the part of any single rancher, but that throughout the entire district the ranchers have wantedly allowed their cattle to die from lack of care. True the cold snap was not expected, but at the same time the catastrophe could not have occurred if the ranchers had shown any forethought. The number of the dead cattle is said to be so numerous that their carcasses can be seen frequently by travellers who pass in the trains on the main line.

In Favor of University

The following important resolution has been passed by the Calgary synod: Calgary, Dec. 19, 1906. To the Hon. A. C. Rutherford, Premier of Alberta and Minister of Education: Sir—At a meeting of the executive committee of the Synod of the Diocese of Calgary, held in Calgary on Tuesday, Dec. 13, the following resolution was unanimously passed: "Whereas the interests of higher education in the province of Alberta render necessary the establishment of a provincial university at an early date, therefore: "Resolved that his honor the lieutenant governor in council be most respectfully asked to take all necessary steps for the establishment of the university as soon as possible. "And that a copy of this resolution be sent to the honorable the premier and minister of education for Alberta." Obediently yours, CYPRIAN, CALGARY, President. GEO. H. HOGGIN, Secretary.

MINISTERS ARE CHEAP POLICE

Without Churches no Person Would Live in any City as all Says Mr. Hunter

THE CHURCHES SHOULD BE LEFT OPEN ALWAYS

Interesting Services Held at the Central Methodist Church Last Night

Owing to the continued absence of Mr. Crossley, who is suffering from a cold, the service which was held by the evangelists at the Central Methodist Church last night was short of its brightness. The platform was crowded with ministers and the church was filled with people.

The opening of the meeting was sudden and unannounced. Without preamble Mr. Hunter asked for the prayers for a young man who had lost his job through drink. "Poor fellow," said Mr. Hunter. Turning to brighter themes, Adjt. Byers, S.A., referred in eulogistic terms to the editorial which appeared in the Albertan yesterday dealing with the evangelists. "Laborers were worthy of their hire," said the adjutant and sat down.

Mr. Hunter was snappy and brisk. He hoped within a few hours to shake the editor of the Albertan by the hand for his "fair and bright editorial."

Many revivals had been made and many souls had been saved by the newspapers reporting the meetings and so spreading the knowledge of the good work. People should be careful not to throw away these reports. They should cut them out and send them to their friends in the east. Who could tell where the seed would fall? Also the reporters should not be forgotten for it was to the reporters to whom the primary debt was owing. "Revivals. Show me a church with no revivals and I will show you a church which is dead. A church with out power. What did the revival of which the prophet Ezra spoke which cost $75,000 in sheep, cattle and other live stock, all of which the Lord was mightily pleased. God always paid rewards. The harpoon was the weapon for the preachers. Harpoon the people and then they feel it. Let preachers be strenuous, fearing neither rich nor poor. Trouble brought people to God and courage was the need of the pulpit. Calgary was a wilderness of idols. The idol of Calgary was the dollar. Passing to the question of family worship he said that the dust on the Bible in some houses was so thick that the word damnation was written in it. "Ministers! Ministers! Well, what about them? They were the cheapest policemen that the people ever paid for. Tear down the churches in Calgary and not a lot would be sold. Business would be at a standstill. And why? Because the people would have left the city and gone to another where there were some churches.

Coming back to business, said Mr. Hunter, "down east a widow placed $100 on the plate and asked that the prayers of the congregation be offered up for her unconverted son. Within 24 hours her son, who was not within 100 miles of the town was converted.

The churches should follow the example of the Catholic churches and remain always open. If the theatres could keep open, so could the churches. What had the spirit of God done in the world? What wonderful men had it not raised up. Luther, Knox, Wesley, Whitfield, Spurgeon, Moody and Geo. Muller. These were all men who had been guided by the spirit.

Above all things St. Paul was the apostle of the Cross, of the scaffold as it was today, the most shameful thing that existed.

In his concluding address Mr. Hunter said that he had been stopped on the street by a woman who told him that her entire family, eight children in all, had been addicted to drink, or another one who was not mentioned came up again.

The other petitions were for fathers, brothers and so forth, with the exception of a petition by Rev. G. W. Kerby for a wife and children who had been ruined by a drunken husband.

Calgary May be Secure

(Continued from page 1.) James Short represented the plaintiff and urged that though the charter did not contain an express provision giving a right of action for damages for non-repair, a perusal of it showed an intention on the part of the legislators that the city should be liable for non-repair. He cited the case of Cuzner v. Calgary in which the city was held liable under an ordinance not framed so favorable to the plaintiff as the charter.

It was also urged that the provision in the Municipal Ordinance giving the right of action for damages in such cases had not been repealed by the charter. If such a provision were not in force, Calgary was the only place in Alberta, or for that matter in Saskatchewan, Manitoba or Ontario in which no provision had been made in city charters or municipal acts for the right of action against a civic corporation for injury sustained by reason of its failure to repair its roads and streets. At the conclusion of the argument the judge reserved his decision.
