DIVISION COURT will be held in Watford on Sept. 22nd.
ABOUT one hundred from Watford took in the circus at London on Saturday.
THIS is called Fall Fair month, but the best fair of the fall comes October 5th and 6th.
WATFORD defeated Petrolia on the local bowling green Friday night. The score, 12 up.
NEW GOODS, new goods all over the store.—SWIFT BROS.

You will eventually wear a "King" hat. Why not now?—A. BROWN & CO., sole agents.
Mr. H. A. COOK received a cablegram Friday stating that Mrs. Cook and party arrived in Liverpool that morning.
Rev. S. W. MUXWORTHY, Glencoe, will occupy the pulpit of the Watford Methodist church next Sunday morning.

MR. GEORGE MURPHY, soloist in one of the Sarnia Presbyterian churches, will sing a solo in Trinity church, Watford, next Sunday evening.
THE September meeting of the daughters of the Empire will be held at the home of Mrs. Brown on Friday the 8th. Quotations from "Canadian Patriotic Poems."

BOYS' SCHOOL SUITS at $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00. They will wear like iron.—A. BROWN & CO.
MRS. JAMES, wife of the late William James, died at her home near the old town hall on Thursday night last, and the remains were interred in the Watford cemetery on Saturday.
THERE will be morning as well as evening service in Trinity Church next Sunday. Morning sermon especially for children. Celebration of Holy Communion after morning service.
GREAT assortment of new scribblers and exercise books, and all school supplies at McLaren's.

HEATHERBLOOM regal taffetta and silk anorette, the best underskirts in the market.—SWIFT'S.
THE Thorne people who went to Oscada last week found when they arrived there that a mistake had been made in the telegram sent, and that it was Thomas Miller instead of William Thorne who had passed away.
THE tenders for the erection of the new Congregational church were opened at a meeting of the congregation on Monday evening and the contract awarded to Mr. Thos. McWatters. Work on the building will be commenced at once.
THE directors of the Michigan State fair have decided to postpone "Canadian Day" to Monday, Sept. 25th. The original date had been set for Sept. 20, but as this was the eve of the Canadian general elections, the change was decided on.
You need not buy because you look too cheap because you look too cheap because you look too cheap.—SWIFT'S.
THE public school will re-open for the fall term on Tuesday, Sept. 5th. All pupils must be in attendance on the opening morning in order that proper classification may be made, and should not purchase any new books unless instructed so to do by their teachers. According to the school law all pupils must be at least five years of age before entering school, but the best educational authorities and teachers of experience claim that the best results are obtained if pupils wait until they are between six and seven before starting.

READ the Want Column page four.
VISIT our mantle department.—SWIFT BROS.
LICENSE INSPECTOR McCALLUM was in town Tuesday looking after some of the Indian lists. Trouble ahead for some of them.
MR. GEO. MURPHY, tenor soloist, Sarnia, will sing in the Presbyterian church, Watford, next Sunday morning.
JUDGE MACWATT held a court of revision on the Watford voters' list in the Council Chamber on Tuesday. Quite a number of changes were made in the list.
LADIES' fall and winter coats opened this week. Correct in every detail.—A. BROWN & CO.
THE members of the Leamington Women's Institute at the last meeting decided that so far as they personally were concerned they would do their Saturday shopping before six o'clock, or carry their own parcels home and thus relieve the delivery boys.
FIRE of unknown origin Thursday afternoon destroyed a large barn at Alvington, the property of D. C. McEachern. A new touring car, the property of H. H. Middleton, of the Molsons bank, was consumed with the building. Neither the barn nor the auto were insured.
A GOOD turnout of Boy Scouts and residents of the town is requested at the adjourned meeting to-night, (Friday), in the Fire Hall at 7:30 sharp, for the purpose of re-organizing the Boy Scouts. The movement is to go ahead in Watford, so come and help to make it a success.
LARGE shipment of ready-to-wear clothing. As usual, Sanford's the first and best.—SWIFT BROS.
THERE are now about 75 public library buildings in Ontario and over 400 libraries. There were 12 public library institutes held in Ontario last year, when 250 libraries were represented. A fine of five dollars is imposed on libraries not sending a representative. It is worthy of note how closely the programs have kept to the small library and its problems.
THE following are some of the shipments made from the G.T.R. station this week: Frank Restorick, one car export cattle, R. Manders one car, J. McManus one car, W. W. Edwards one car, also one car of hogs, all to Toronto; Union Cheese and Butter Co., one car casein to Georgetown; Watford Flour Mills one car export flour to Montreal and one car bran to Toronto; Andrews Wire Co., six cases wire goods to Vancouver.
HAND painted china direct from Yokohama, Japan; also a shipment of hand-some goods from the potteries in the Old Land, at P. Dodds & Son's. See our south window.
SEVEN large mail sacks containing about six hundred catalogues from a Toronto mail order house were received at the Watford postoffice last Friday. The cost of these catalogues including postage would be about $500. There are six or eight lots sent out during the year, so you can easily reckon how much it costs to draw the trade from Watford to Toronto each year. The mail order customer pays the cost.
G.T.R. AGENT VAIL reports an unusual occurrence. A man came into the station the other day, examined the time-table, found the connections he wanted and left the building without speaking a word. The ordinary man will ask half a dozen questions on an occasion of this kind. It is supposed that the man in question was an expert magician and could understand the intricacies of the ordinary time table without any assistance.
MR. W. B. STEWART, who recently sold his chipping mill here to Mrs. Trenouth, has purchased the engine, boiler and other machinery of the Petrolia flour mill recently destroyed by fire and will erect a new mill and commence business in that town. He has obtained a free site and a fixed assessment for a term of years and will put up an up-to-date flouring, gristing and chipping mill without delay.
BOYS' BLOOMERS and sweater coats. Special values for school opening.—A. BROWN & CO.
THE prize lists for the East Lambton Fall Fair are now in the Secretary's hands for circulation. A number of revisions have been made, which bring the list more in conformity with what is required these modern times. Intending exhibitors should get a copy and check off the articles or produce they intend to get ready for the big county show. There is an extra large list of special prizes this year. A large exhibit is looked for in all classes this year as there are some splendid prizes offered.
WM. WILLIAMS, coal dealer, wishes all those who attend the Western Fair at London this month to take a look at the exhibit of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Coal Co., who will have an electrically operated Miniature Coal Breaker on exhibition. The Breaker is a model of one of their largest machines, and will prove interesting to users of coal, by showing them how the celebrated Scranton coal is prepared and sized for shipment. The company will also have a display of mining tools and pictures. The exhibit will be found in Machinery Hall. See it.
THE Board of Directors of the East Lambton Agricultural Society have their plans well matured for making the fall fair this year the most successful one ever held under its auspices. The School Children's Exhibit will receive special attention and among other features will contain a special prize valued at $30 for the best specimen of handwriting exhibit.

ited. We hope this will stimulate the teachers and the pupils of all senior grades to give special attention to this very important subject, and that many competitors will strive to win this prize.
Boys' school pants, Friday bargains.—SWIFT'S.
Do drivers of vehicles ever realize that a pedestrian has a right to cross streets, and while on the crossings running from one corner of the sidewalk to the other, he has as much right there as the driver of a horse or any other vehicle. One would think not, judging by the way drivers act, and the narrow escapes that occur by drivers dodging across a crowded street on Saturday afternoon or evening. The rights of pedestrians at crossings are violated constantly, both by many of the drivers of automobiles and the drivers of horses. The driver of an automobile is inclined to depend too much on his horn. He does not want to run over anybody, but many of them seem to think it is the sole duty of the foot passengers to avoid collision. It is the duty of both, and extra care and lessened speed at crossings in incumbent on the driver of an automobile. The great and increasing number of those who own and operate automobiles nowadays makes it important that their rights and the rights of pedestrians on the streets should be defined. It is well to have it known that a crossing is an extension of the sidewalk, that pedestrians have a right to be on the crossings, and that all vehicles on the street and each should exercise those rights with due regard to the rights of the other.
FRIDAY is bargain day at Swift's.
A Watford Boy to the Front.
We were pleased to note that Mr. Jas. A. Ramsay has obtained the Art Specialist Standing, which is greatly to his credit.
The Art Specialist examination is a most severe test. This is evident from the fact that in the entire Province there was only one successful candidate last year, and but four this year. During the past two years Mr. Ramsay has been Commercial Master of the Windsor Collegiate Institute. At the close of last term he resigned and accepted the principalship of Ottawa, a lucrative and responsible position, as the School is one of the best of its kind in the province.
On his severing his connection with the Windsor School he was the recipient of many tokens of appreciation. Among these were the works of Shakespeare in six volumes bound in morocco from the staff of a gold handled umbrella from the pupils, and a valuable bronze urn from an individual pupil. His many friends wish him success.
"The diligent man shall stand before Kings."
Address and Presentation.
A number of friends gathered at the home of Miss P. Restorick, on Wednesday evening, to say farewell to Miss M. Sedwick prior to her departure to London for a course in the Forest City Business College. The evening was spent in games and music. During the evening Miss Sedwick was called upon to accept the following presentation and address:
DEAR MISS SEDWICK:
Upon this occasion of your leaving for London to attend the Forest City Business College, we, your friends, feel that we would not wish to see you go, but without showing some token of our appreciation we shall miss you and regret having to say good-bye to you for a time; but we hope you will meet with great success in your new venture. On behalf of the girls present, it affords me much pleasure to ask your acceptance of this presentation, as a token of our sincere appreciation and Christian love.
Signed on behalf of the girls,
M. THOMPSON,
F. WILLOUGHBY.

Death of Mrs. C. F. Abbott.
Death came with startling suddenness to Mrs. Charles F. Abbott on Saturday night at her home on Wall street. She was apparently as well as usual during the day and was in the act of retiring about ten o'clock when attacked by a fit of coughing. Her husband and daughter, Miss Lillian, going to her assistance, found that she was in a critical condition. Her physician was hastily summoned, but the vital spark had fled before he arrived. She had been troubled with an affection of the heart for some time previous to her death.
Deceased was a member of the Church of England, and was at all times deeply interested in church work. She made for herself an especial place in the hearts of her friends and neighbors. Living quietly yet actively, doing good and extending kindness to all those she came in contact with, she was a friend of everyone and her days were spent in good works and self-denial for husband, children and friend, thus inspiring the love and respect of all who were so fortunate as to be acquainted with her.
Deceased was the third daughter of the late J. M. Wilson, of Warwick Village, and was born at that place. She was married in 1868 to Charles F. Abbott, who survives her. She leaves to mourn her loss besides her husband, three sons, Dr. C. F. Abbott, Winn, Mich.; Dr. H. V. Abbott, Shepherd, Mich.; and Gordon Abbott, Chicago; and two daughters, Mrs. C. H. Howden, Watford, and Miss Lillian at home. Her surviving sisters are Mrs. Davis, Wyoming; Mrs. Adolph, Owen Sound; Mrs. Sherk, Uttoxeter; and Mrs. Archer, Warwick; and her brothers, M. J. Wilson, Pacific Grove, Cal.; J. M. Wilson, Wyoming; John Wilson, Esterville, Iowa; Dr. Maurice Wilson, Esterville, Iowa; and A. C. Wilson, Oelwein, Iowa.
The funeral was held from the family residence on Tuesday afternoon at the Watford cemetery, a very large number of people attending. The Rev. S. P. Irwin, B.A., rector of Trinity church, performed the last sad rites. The pall bearers were—Col. Kenward, E. D. Swift, W. J. Howden, A. G. Brown, A. Mitchell and A. Dunlop.
Those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wilson, Oelwein, Iowa; Dr. C. J. and Mrs. Abbott, Winn, Mich.; Dr. H. V. and Mrs. Abbott, Shepherd, Mich.; Mr. Gordon Abbott, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Adolph and Miss Carrie Adolph, Owen Sound; Mrs. Mack Elliot, Ingersoll; Mrs. Marian Davis, and Mr. Jas. M. Wilson, Wyoming; Mrs. Fred Hughes, Mrs. Miles, Mrs. Thompson, Strathroy; Miss Mary McVicar and Miss Stapleton, London; and Mrs. Huff, Sarnia.

Mr. W. F. Holmes, Cleveland, will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. Jacklin next Sunday. His wife is now visiting them.
Mrs. F. J. Hughes has returned from Talbotville where she was called through the death of her brother, Mr. James Wallis.
Mrs. Geo. McCormick, Carman, Man., and Mrs. W. Loree, Winnipeg, and two daughters, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Elliot.
Miss Estelle McIntyre, London, who for the past week has been visiting relatives here, returned to-day, accompanied by Mrs. T. N. Langan.
Mrs. George Wise and children, and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, of Sarnia, are spending a few days this week with their father, Mr. George Thorner.
Mrs. Hood, wife of Mr. Stewart Hood of the News-Tribune staff, Duluth, and Miss Miller, Winnipeg, visited their brother, Mr. L. Miller, St. Clair street, this week.
Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Wanlass, Messrs. Walter Strangway and J. Mavity, Jr., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Class Sunday. Miss Sarah Mavity returned with them to Sarnia.
Mr. S. W. Louks was called to St. Thomas, Saturday, on account of the death of his sister, Mrs. D. S. Tredwell, of that place. The funeral took place on Monday to Clear Creek cemetery.
Mr. Walter Restorick, Gunganda, is home for a visit. He has been in the north country for some five years and speaks highly of the place and the prospects for doing well there.
Mr. John Cowan and his daughter, Mrs. Dalgleish, of Calgary, have been the guests of Mrs. S. H. Mitchell the past week and left for Hagersville Monday after spending six weeks with friends in Watford, Sarnia and Petrolia.

Good Positions.

The London Business College is a worthy link in a chain of Seven Business Colleges located in the cities of London, Peterborough, Welland, and the towns of Orangeville, Walkerton, Wingham and Clinton. Owing to its high grade work it is affiliated with the Commercial Educators Association of Canada. It is freely admitted that owing to these connections, its students get the very best positions. Fall openings are on August 28th and Sept. 5th; but at this School each student is instructed privately at his or her own desk, students may enter any time. Many students study all at home and others partly at home and finish at the College. As Spotton Colleges are the highest trained in Canada and have thirty years experience, it will be well for young people to get their training there. Last year Mr. Spotton trained over 1200 young people and placed them in good positions. What he has done for thousands of others he can do for you. 25-2

New Collegiate for Strathroy.

Strathroy, August 30.—The freeholders election to determine whether or not the town should spend $10,000 for the erection of a new Collegiate Institute resulted in a majority of 114 votes in favor of the measure. In view of the fact that there has been much opposition, especially among retired gentlemen without children of school age, and among people who thought $30,000 an ample sum for school purposes, the Board of Education are highly gratified at the result.

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindsay, Ont.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to her some time ago I was a very sick woman, suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the female organs, and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend this medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and think they are fine."—Mrs. FRANK EMSLEY, Lindsay, Ontario.

We cannot understand why women will take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, without first trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration.

Your Town.

More towns die for want of confidence on the part of business men and lack of public spirit than any other cause. When a man in search of a home or business location goes into a town and finds every citizen brim full of hope and enthusiasm of the prospects of the place and all earnestly at work to build it up, he soon becomes imbued with the same spirit, and as a result he decides to remain and goes to work with the same interest. When, however, he goes to a town where everyone expresses doubt or apprehension for the future prosperity of the place, moping about and indulging in mournful complaints, he naturally feels that it is no place for him, and at once shakes the dust off his feet, while he pulls out with all possible speed for some other place. Consequently try and make a live, enterprising town out of the one in which you live. When you are working or saying a good thing for your town, you are accomplishing all the more for yourself.

It doesn't cost very much to please a woman, but keeping her pleased is what causes many a man to go broke.

Danger in Rest.

British medical journals have been discussing the question whether intellectual work shortens life. The Lancet gives the question an emphatically negative answer. Mere intellectual labor, it says, whether it be of the profound type that scientists and philosophers habitually indulge in, or the lighter toil of barristers, business men, and others who work with their heads, does no harm; indeed, it sometimes serves to keep the physical condition fit and trim.

The Lancet adds that there is truth in the old adage that it is not the work that kills, it is the worry that kills. Any man with sound physical and mental equipment, fair luck, and opportunities, can work hard, often to an advanced age; but emotional stresses are harmful. Among emotional stresses it classes unpaid bills and the use of the telephone.

The Philadelphia Evening Post recently contained an interesting article giving a number of instances in which men who retired from business at a comparatively early age had collapsed apparently from disuse of their faculties. It suggested that the only safe way to prepare for retirement was to cultivate a hobby. And when a man is so wholly engrossed in business that he has no other interests, he is very apt to find himself uneasy in retirement. He is not a reader. His familiar friends are business men. He tries to keep up the acquaintance and finds that his lack of knowledge of current business movements places him at a disadvantage in conversation. So he begins to wish himself at work again. A hobby, ridden hard, seems to be the only preventive.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

A Scotch Marriage.

By the act of 1856 the parties sign in the presence of two witnesses a declaration that they take each other as husband and wife. They then present a petition to the sheriff, asking him to certify that they have been married, and that one or both of them had their usual residence in Scotland before the marriage, or had resided there for 21 days preceding it. This petition may be presented within three months of the declaration constituting the marriage, but is usually presented within three hours. The parties and witnesses attend before the sheriff and the witnesses confirm on oath the statements of fact. The sheriff thereupon grants a warrant to the registrar to register the marriage. The registration can be completed at once. The whole procedure only takes an hour or two and the cost is only a few shillings. On the eve of the new year and summer holidays there is a constant procession of newly married couples and their witnesses before the sheriff in Glasgow. The suitors are principally drawn from the artisan classes and the classes below them, but there is usually a sprinkling of a better class.—The Spectator.

The Calf and the Augur Hole.

Jim Hudnell, who resides near Pochick, Va., recently opened a tanyard in that small hamlet, and offered himself to the public as a purchaser of hides. There being no sign painter within a score of miles he thought himself of a cheap and novel method whereby folk might be informed in his line in trade. Boring an augur hole in the door of the yard he cut the tail from a fresh calfskin and stuck the butt end of it in the hole, proclaiming thereby to the world that he was a dealer in hides, hair, and such like wares.

The day after he had flung to the breeze this hairy emblem of his calling, he looked forth from his window and saw standing before the tan-yard door a chin-whiskered farmer, silently chewing a straw and gazing in deep contemplation upon the calf tail. Him Jim approached.

"Want to sell any hides?" he asked.

"Nope," was the laconic reply.

"Want to buy any?" was the next query.

"Nope," came again from the steady gazing farmer.

"Want to buy any leather?" was Jim's further question.

"Nope," answered the hayseed.

"Well, what do you want and what are ye, anyhow?" exclaimed Jim in irritated tones.

"I reckon I'm what ye call one o' these hyah scientists," returned the farmer, whose eye had never left the calf tail. "I'm trying ter figger out how in tarnation that air calf ever got through that air augur hole."

Morgan Gets Four Months.

S. B. Morgan, of Kerwood, was sentenced to four months in the county jail with hard labor without the option of a fine by Squire E. B. Smith, of Ailsa Craig, at the courthouse, London, on Thursday, for the illegal sale of liquor in the vicinity of Kerwood.

"The evidence clearly shows," said the magistrate in passing sentence, "that Morgan is guilty of a breach of the Liquor License Act and has wilfully defied the law by selling beer in the vicinity of Kerwood and making a profit thereon, and also setting himself up as the authorized agent of the Walkerville Brewing Company, which he was not."

Morgan claimed that he was an authorized agent of the Walkerville Brewing Company and had taken orders for beer from a number of residents of the village of Kerwood. These he had mailed to Walkerville and had received the beer through their agents in Strathroy, delivering it to his customers at $1.25 a case, and where he could collect it, an additional 25 cents per case for cartage from Strathroy.

The Walkerville people deny having appointed Morgan their agent in Kerwood, and refused to give him any help in his defence.

Western Fair's Poultry Show.

The poultry exhibit at the coming exhibition in September promises to be larger than ever this year. The silver cups that were donated by the London Poultry and Pet Stock Association are still offered this year; also silver cup for the best collection of S. C. Brown Leghorns. The Canadian Partridge Wyandotte Club offers handsome badge ribbons, also challenge cups. The Canadian Barred Plymouth Rock Club offers silk badges. The Canadian Silver Wyandotte Club offers silk badges, also silver challenge cup for best cockerel and pullet. The American Black Minorca Club offers silk ribbons. Dr. Pingle, of London, is offering $10 cash special, which is divided into four prizes, for the heaviest dozen eggs, entries to be made by farmers' wives only. In addition to the above specials several sections have been added to the regular prize list, which makes it very attractive this year, and it is fully expected that the poultry building will be crowded to overflowing with the finest lot of birds ever brought together at any previous exhibition. Prize lists, entry forms and all other information sent on application to the Secretary, general offices, London, Ont.

Walkerville still maintains its position as the most lightly-taxed town in Canada, the rate for the year being fixed at 13 mills. Last year's rate was 11 5/10 mills.

The slight increase now is due to the cost of building new sewers and an increase in Public School estimates.

CURED OF CONSTIPATION

Mr. Andrews praises Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Mr. George Andrews of Halifax, N. S., writes:

"For many years I have been troubled with chronic Constipation. This ailment never comes single-handed, and I have been a victim to the many illnesses that constipation brings in its train. Medicine after medicine I have taken in order to find relief, but one and all left me in the same hopeless condition. It seemed that nothing would expel from me the one ailment that caused so much trouble, yet at last I read about these Indian Root Pills.

That was indeed a lucky day for me, for I was so impressed with the statements made that I determined to give them a fair trial.

They have regulated my stomach and bowels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medicine."

For over half a century Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been curing constipation and clogged, inactive kidneys, with all the ailments which result from them. They cleanse the whole system and purify the blood. Sold everywhere at 25c. a box.

Father Morrissey's "No. 7" Tablets

have cured thousands of this terribly painful disease.

Rheumatism is generally brought on by exposure, but is really caused by Uric Acid in the blood. This Uric Acid is an irritating poison, formed from the waste matter of the body. The kidneys should remove it, but when they fail it poisons the blood, and, settling in the joints, causes Rheumatism.

"No. 7" Tablets clear out the clogged-up kidneys and stimulate them to perform their task of filtering the Uric Acid out of the blood. When this is done the Rheumatism simply and naturally vanishes.

"No. 7" Tablets cost 50c. At your dealer's. 28

TRAGIC EXITS.

Dramatic and Unrehearsed Farewells of Footlight Favorites.

The great Lafayette's name will always be held in honor. He was the man who a few weeks ago in Edinburgh deliberately went back into the flames at the Empire Palace Music Hall to rescue his horse, and died in the attempt.

Too often tragedy lurks beneath the laughter of a music hall audience. One night in November, 1907, a full house was watching with delight the exquisite dancing of Mlle. de la Papimada on the stage of the Apollo, at Berlin. La Papimada was the star of the variety program, and every time that she appeared she fascinated the audience by her beauty and grace.

Just as she was executing the last rapid steps of her performance, which lasted for nearly a quarter of an hour, she sank slowly to the stage with a low cry.

The audience, thinking it all part of the performance, applauded rapturously.

The curtain fell. A moment later the manager stepped out to the front.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he said solemnly, "Mlle. de la Papimada is dead! I will ask you to disperse quietly."

Part of the turn of Daniel Lambert, a wrestler and gymnast, who was performing some years ago at the Rochdale Theatre of Varieties, was to go through a performance of hanging, taking a drop of no less than fifteen feet.

The audience flatly refused to believe that this part of the show was genuine, and Lambert was roundly hissed.

But on the fifth night the audience had its suspicions removed in a tragic manner. Lambert began his performance, but failed to catch the noose as usual, and it became fast at the back of his ear. He hung for a few seconds, and when the cord was loosened, fell a limp heap to the stage. He was apparently dead, but, being hurried off to the infirmary, he was pulled round. But he was suffering from concussion of the spinal-cord, and was paralyzed.

There is more than one case on record of a music hall performer being shot dead in full view of the audience. One such occurred at the Middlesex Music Hall two years ago.

"Clementine, the Rifle-shooting Expert," was doing a William Tell act, in which she shot at glass balls balanced on the head and outstretched arms of her assistant. She had successfully shot away the balls on the man's arm; then she aimed at the one on his head. With the crack of her rifle the man tumbled over with a crash, and a shriek of alarm arose from the audience. He had been shot right through the head, and died a few hours later.

What is probably the most sensational incident ever seen on the stage occurred in August, 1908, at the theatre of Volk, in Russia. Some months earlier a young man of independent means named Ivan Kuznetsoff had fallen madly in love with Nadine Rostoff, a girl employed as a dancer at the local theatre. They became engaged, and the wedding day had been fixed, when the girl wrote to Ivan and told him that they were not suit-

Edward H. B. McKone, a science teacher of London, has discovered what he believes to be a new species of beetle so far as this country is concerned, and which will in time wipe out the Colorado beetle, better known as the potato bug. The new beetle resembles a milk leaf beetle, and it preys upon potato bugs, destroying many of the pests in twenty-four hours. It was found in a potato field near Devizes, a short distance from London, and it is said that where the newcomers were plentiful, the Colorado beetles were scarce. Several specimens have been sent to the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

HARRIS & CO. PROPRIETORS

WATFORD, SEPTEMBER 1, 1911.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Great Britain and the United States and France and the United States have agreed hereafter to settle all international disputes by arbitration, instead of fighting.

And now it is 1915 which is set for the millennium. Religious enthusiasts have been guessing at the end of the world for years, but date after date has passed, and the world still wags on.

Toronto Star: Canada has the distinction of spreading so-called simultaneous elections over a greater number of hours than any other country in the world.

What is the Cost?

The answer of this question is that the cost of a Canadian Government Annuity depends upon four things: 1st, the age of the applicant; 2nd, the amount of Annuity required; 3rd, the age at which the Annuity is to commence; and, 4th, the plan on which the purchase is made.

Ice has been raised in price from $3.50 to $5 a ton at Leamington owing to the excessive hot weather this summer. Sam Knott made a midnight flight from Leamington last week, leaving a number of creditors to mourn his departure.

EAST LAMBTON ELECTION.

Every thoughtful person regards this as the most important election campaign ever held in Canada.

Liberals and Conservatives alike have had their suspicions aroused by the fact that it is the States which are knocking at our business office door, after long years during which they have consistently turned down all offers for closer trade relations.

The thought that is uppermost in the minds of nine out of ten of the residents of the United States is that reciprocity will be followed by inevitable annexation.

The following quotations from a speech, made by W. T. White, a life long Liberal who is, along with thousands of other Liberals, unalterably opposed to Reciprocity, which the Liberals say is the whole issue in this contest, will be found very apt.

So far as Canada is concerned, Free Trade would spell ruin.

We have built three transcontinental railways to carry our wheat, and we are joining an agreement to take it from us.

I believe our true policy to be fiscal independence with no entangling alliances.

The bag of gold for the Canadian farmer is here in Canada, not under any Star Spangled rainbow to the south.

How long could our industries withstand the assaults of the United States trusts?

If we reject Reciprocity it will be a new declaration of independence that will ring round the English-speaking world.

There are no birds on last year's nests, and reciprocity is an old nest, and there are no birds in it for Canada.

American trash would flood his (the Canadian farmer's) market.

Reciprocity is a question above parties and above individuals.

Anti-Reciprocity is my politics at the present time.

A government that, through worse than carelessness permitted the organization of the Farmers Bank which swindled thousands, has certainly qualified itself for defeat.

Between the years 1901 and 1910 inclusive the price of hogs has been higher on the average than in the States except in the year 1902, but the price of the finished product was always higher in the States owing to the power and control of the market by the trusts.

The horse market is the greatest and most profitable branch of business on the farms of Ontario and Quebec. What will happen to it if Reciprocity is adopted? It will be ruined except possibly as to fancy stock, which is only handled by specialists.

RECIPROCITY!

Where the Farmer Stands to Gain in Selling.

With the reciprocity agreement ratified all Canadian farm products, except wool, will be entitled to entry to the United States without payment of duty. The free list will include:

- Cattle of all kinds.

Armstrong Ships Cream to the States.

J. E. Armstrong selling his cream in Port Huron when he could get as good a price in Toronto is the best object lesson in favor of reciprocity that has yet been given. But why does he do it? He answers:—"The American market being nearer."

"The American market being nearer," is the reason J. E. Armstrong gives for shipping cream to Port Huron instead of to Toronto. These five words by Mr. Armstrong say more in favor of reciprocity than yards of editorials and scores of speeches. They give the essence of the whole situation. The farmers of Lambton now find their best market 3000 miles away. There is a nearer market but they are kept out of it by a tariff wall. Through an error in the framing of the last U. S. tariff the duty on cream was placed at five cents per gallon, instead of two cents per pound, and Mr. Armstrong sends his cream to Port Huron, "the market being nearer." Yet he asks the farmers of Lambton to vote against a measure that will enable them to do just what he has found to his own advantage to do, that is to sell in "the nearer market." If "the nearer market" is the best for Joe, why not for others?

During the year ending March 31st, 1911, the quantity of cream shipped through Sarnia to the States was 124,039 gallons, valued at $102,330. This is an entirely new trade, due to the reducing of the U. S. duty from five cents per pound to five cents per gallon. It was nearly all Lambton cream, and Jos. E. Armstrong was one of the largest shippers. He should be willing to have such benefits extended to his fellow citizens in Lambton.

County Council Opinion.

The "Come to Lambton" pamphlet, issued by the County Council, before reciprocity was an issue, contains the following in reference to dairying, and shows what was thought of the question, apart from politics:—

"Dairying, which is becoming one of the most profitable of the specialized lines of mixed farming is, of course, influenced by all the factors which go to make stock production successful. The reduction in the duty on Canadian cream entering the United States from five cents a pound to five cents a gallon on August 5th, 1909, has had a particularly gratifying effect in the border counties, and in none more so than in Lambton. The price paid for the cream (twenty-seven cents per pound of butter-fat) and the convenience of having the product called for has encouraged an increase in the dairy herds, particularly on the part of those whose other farm interests prevented them from making and marketing butter in the past, or who were not convenient to a cheese factory. Hogs are the natural concomitant of the dairy industry, and especially in a county where the corn yield is so heavy. Whether the farmer elects to finish to butter or to ship cream to the States he retains the skim milk."

The Egg Market.

The Ring of Produce Dealers in Toronto and Montreal, who have things all their own way and all of whom have become millionaires, are fearful that reciprocity should pass and that larger markets would break up their nice little nest, and to prevent this they are trying to stampede the farmers with stories of ten cent Southern eggs, etc.

To bring this about, they have enlisted the services of the local produce dealers and particularly some who could be enumerated, who have printed an odd telegram or two which explain nothing unless it would be the existence of the Ring. We will venture the opinion that this ring of dealers have already made more out of Reciprocity than they will ever lose, because during February last, when eggs should have been selling at about 30c, they hammered the price down to 18c. The reason given (and they never failed to give it) was that Uncle Sam was standing on the border with car loads of eggs ready to throw them on the Canadian market the moment reciprocity passed, when they knew full well that it was months away, but to their chagrin and annoyance the very opposite happened for Uncle Sam invaded our market, not with cheap Southern eggs as people were led to believe that he would, but he came as a buyer instead of a seller, and the result was that in the middle of March the Ring found that American buyers were getting the eggs so they were forced to restore the price to something near to what it should have been. Who ever heard of the price of eggs being advanced in the middle of March, as it did this year when receipts are the heaviest and the hens doing their best? No one can recall a like circumstance and the answer to our friends who say the Ring forced the price below the danger point in their desire to injure Reciprocity, when in stepped the American buyer.

Will these gentlemen please explain this; also tell us how it happened that on Tuesday, August 22nd, the farmers across the river on the Michigan side happened to receive 22c. for their eggs while their Canadian cousins in Ontario only got 17c. Further will they also explain why last fall the Americans paid us 21c. and 22c. for our turkeys when their friends, the Ring in Toronto, wanted them for 15c.

If some of the men in this Produce Ring were well advised they would do as their reputable local dealers are doing, namely, they would stand by those people who have made their business so prosperous instead of allying themselves with a set of merciless combination who would put the farmers' hide on the fence, but the unkindest thing of all is when they presume upon our credulity by expecting us to believe this ten cent nonsense. How the American consumers must laugh when they hear of it and contrast it with the prices they have to pay.

KINGSCOURT

Mr. Rowland King, of 6th line, Brooke, last Saturday went to Mr. J. McCormick's tile yard for a load, when for some unknown cause the team of horses took fright and dashed off at a tremendous pace. They dashed the wagon into the corner of the dry shed, making a large hole, and when they were eventually stopped on the road by Mr. Collin's the wagon only consisted of one wheel and a few splinters. Fortunately no one was hurt.

Another runaway incident occurred on the same day at Mr. J. Bryce's farm, a horse attached to a roller in charge of Mr. Mike Bothland getting out of control but was stopped before any damage was done.

Quite a number of people from around here went to London last Saturday to see the circus.

A LITERARY CRIME.

The Destruction of the Great Library of Alexandria.
On December 22, 640, after a siege that had lasted fourteen months, the great Mohammedan general Amrou found himself master of the renowned city of Alexandria, the capital of Egypt and at that time the commercial and intellectual metropolis of the world.
To his master, the Caliph Omar Amrou wrote, "I have captured Alexandria, a city containing 4,000 palaces, 4,000 baths, 12,000 dealers in fresh oil, 12,000 gardeners, 40,000 Jews who pay tribute and 400 theatres and other places of amusement."
Amrou made no reference in his letter to the magnificent library, concerning which there has come down the following story: John the Grammarian, the most learned man of his day, being in Alexandria at the time, begged of Amrou that he would give him the library. Amrou told him that it was not in his power to grant such a request, but that he would write to the caliph about it.
Omar, on hearing the request of his general, sent back the reply: "If those books contain the same doctrine as the Koran they are of no use, since the Koran contains all needful truth; on the other hand, if they contain anything contrary to the Koran they ought to be destroyed. Therefore, whatever their contents may be, I order them to be committed to the flames."
Accordingly they were distributed among the public baths of the city, where for more than six months they served to supply the fires.
The loss to the intellectual wealth of the world by that ruling of Omar is incalculable. The stored up wisdom of ages was in that Alexandrian library, and with the destruction of the precious volumes facts were lost which were never to be recovered. The caliph's ignorant and fanatical belief in the infallibility of the Koran worked humanity the harm that can never be atoned for while the world stands.

An Interpreter Needed.
The following story furnishes a rare instance of that devotion to a foreign language which has caused one to forget for the moment that he speaks his own tongue:
An Englishman, who spent his time in adapting plays from the French for the British stage, was dining once in an English hotel, when, after he had eaten, he was seized with a desire to smoke. He called the waiter and said to him:
"Pou-ou, fumer, ic?"
The man looked blank. "I don't understand a word of French, sir," he said.
The waiter was in despair. "Then for pity's sake send me some one who does!" he exclaimed.

Rossini's Equal.
Rossini after finishing his great work indulged himself in a long period of leisure and did not write a line of music. A friend once called on him and found him writing his autograph, with a sentiment, at the bottom of some photographs of himself. One of these read, "To M. Pillet Will, my friend and my equal in music."
"What?" cried the visitor. "You are not serious M. Pillet Will is not your equal in music."
"Certainly he is since I am doing nothing," explained Rossini.

Coin-Counting Machine.

An ingenious inventor has devised a machine which will count any type of coin—gold, silver, or copper—and will, moreover, wrap up the same with perfect accuracy and security with the speed of five or six cashiers. It is only about the size of an ordinary typewriter, and is driven by a small electric motor. The coins are fed into a chute, and at the opposite end resolve themselves into a continuous edgewise line or roll, each coin as it falls into line recording the fact upon a dial. When the fiftieth coin has been registered the whole roll is automatically gripped, carried under a roll of paper, and strongly wrapped up, with the edges bent over. When discharged in the wrapper, the complete roll resembles a cartridge, and falls into a box where the name and address of the firm is imprinted upon the outside of the wrapper. Owing to the novel means of wrapping, it is impossible for a single coin to be extracted from a roll without evidence of the fact being betrayed by the packing.

Much Too Costly.
King George II. once wished to add the Green Park, in London, to his palace grounds, whether the people liked it or not. He inquired of his Minister as to the cost.
His lordship, mindful of the general discontent then prevalent, answered: "The cost, sir? Oh, it would be a matter of three crowns."
The King took the hint. The people kept their park and the sovereign his triple throne.

She Knew Why.
"If you don't give me a shilling," said little Jimmy, "I shall tell that you kissed my sister."
"But, Jimmy," protested Mr. Softly, "I've never even thought about kissing your sister."
"Haven't you?" murmured little Jimmy in a puzzled tone. "Then I wonder why she told me to say that to you?"—London Tatler.

A Day's Work.
"I call it a good day's work that I did to-day," a friend said to me yesterday, and of course I asked him what it was.
"Well," he replied, "I put down a linoleum, laid a hardwood floor, put down two carpets, papered four rooms and set up a stove."
I looked at him incredulously, when he hastened to add, "In a doll's house."

Patriotic Determination.
"Your wife insists on being allowed to vote."
"Yes," replied Mr. Meek, "she's not content with having the last word in a political argument. She wants to go to the polls and put in a postscript."

"Husband, were you really visiting a friend last night?"
"I was."

The Settler's Daughter

She Chose Her Own Way of Showing Gratitude By SARAH BRYCE VAUGHAN Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

While the Emery family were sitting at supper Phoebe, a girl of twelve, saw through the open door a man on horseback galloping straight for the house. He rode right up to the door and cried out to the husband and father: "Mr. Emery, the body of Ben Armstrong, with whom you had the trouble last week, has been found with a bullet hole in his head. An excited crowd of his friends is coming to lynch you. Come, hurry up; I must put you in the jail before they get here."

"GET OUT A HORSE AS QUICK AS YOU CAN."

Come; get out a horse as quick as you can and go with me to the jail. If I get you in there they'll have to pass over my dead body to get you out. It may be it was these stirring words that fixed the picture of Sheriff John Winslow on Phoebe Emery's mind. "Go with him!" cried Mrs. Emery, terror-stricken. "Go with him, papa!" cried Phoebe. "I reckon you're right, sheriff," said Emery. And, making a dash for the barn, he saddled a horse, and, embracing his wife and children, who had followed him, he mounted, and the two men galloped away.

What a night for the Emery family! Only the younger ones slept. Neither Mrs. Emery nor Phoebe closed their eyes. The mother moaned and cried out from time to time: "They've taken him from the jail! He's swinging! I know he is! Oh, heavens, I shall go mad!" "Mother, didn't you hear the sheriff say that they'd have to kill him too?" "Oh, don't talk to me! Your father is dead—hanged for a murder he never committed. I was only afraid that Armstrong would kill him. Armstrong was a bad man—a horrid man. What shall I do? What shall I do?" "All night the little girl strove to keep up a ray of hope in her mother's and when day dawned the child had left childhood. From that night she acted the part of a woman. It was about 9 o'clock in the morning that Cyrus Crowfoot rode up to the cabin. Phoebe saw him coming and went out to meet him that she might beg him to break any bad news he might have gently to her mother. But Mrs. Emery followed her, wildly crying: "Is it all over? Have they killed him? Tell me quick!" "I have come to let you know, Mrs. Emery, that the sheriff concluded not to stop at the jail, but kept right on. The mob, not finding them there, scattered, some of them going to their homes and a few taking the road to Marion. But I don't think they'll catch 'em."

The next appearance of Phoebe Emery in this story is six years later. She is eighteen years old, and nature has endowed her with a face and figure singularly attractive. Strong and beautiful characters are often made so as much by environment as by heredity. Phoebe's experience as a child and her own inherent strength had developed her into a very different person from the average girl of eighteen. The mob, disappointed in finding her father and drunken with liquor, had returned and forced his wife and children out of their home by burning it. But he had been saved to them, and as soon as he could safely communicate with them he had done so. Then the real murderer of Armstrong turned up, and a committee of citizens had gone to Emery and invited him to return to them. But he declined. Emery established himself in one of those rapidly growing western towns which throw off their childhood with in a few years and become cities. There his children were educated and became accustomed to city ways and manners. Phoebe became an accomplished girl and when she was nineteen years old was the acknowledged belle of her social circle. One evening at a ball Miss Emery was standing in the center of a group of young men who were vying with one another to engage her for the dances. Happening to glance toward the entrance, she saw a man enter and stand looking as if attracted by curiosity, but too reticent to join the through. She saw in the man who shrank from elbowing his way through the immaculately dressed young people assembled for the dance Sheriff Jack Winslow. Before her flashed a picture of his stalwart figure riding over the plain to warn her father of his danger at the risk of his own life. He had changed but little. She had budged from childhood to womanhood. Even if at the time he had come to her former home he had not been preoccupied with his warning she was then too young for him to have noticed her, and now, changed as she was, he would not, in any event, have recognized in her the little girl of half a dozen years ago. Phoebe knew him the moment her eyes rested upon him.

The German cotillon was introduced that evening for the first time in the assembly. Jack Winslow, though he had danced in barns, did not consider himself sufficiently polished to take part in a society dance. Indeed, his coat was not a spiffy one, nor did he wear a low cut white vest. So he concluded to "sit out" the cotillon by himself. Various figures were danced, and finally one was introduced wherein a lady was seated by herself in the middle of the room, holding a hand mirror. The young men, one by one, were brought up behind her. She looked at their reflections in the mirror, and when the one she wished to dance with appeared she chose him for her partner.

When it came Phoebe Emery's turn to take the chair one man after another was led up behind her, but she seemed disposed to be very particular as to the man she would dance with. All the young men most prominent in a social point of view were taken up, and all were rejected. Then the less desirable newcomers and generally unknown men were tried, to meet a like fate. At last every man who was dancing the cotillon had been led up and sent back to his seat. Naturally the episode by this time excited attention. What did it mean? That the lady desired to snub the man, or had not the right man been found? The leader, having exhausted those who were in the cotillon, now turned his attention to the few loiterers who were not. They were all known except Jack Winslow. Every man in the room except himself was taken up and rejected. Finally, amid excited chatter, the leader approached the last man. Jack saw the eyes of every one turned upon him.

"Go away," he said, red as a beet. "I don't know the lady." "Come," replied the leader. "Every man must be tried." Jack was dragged unwillingly behind the chair in which Phoebe was sitting. He was about to turn away when she arose from her chair, put one hand on his shoulder and called away amid a burst of applause. The interest excited was short lived except for one person. That person was Jack Winslow. After dancing a few minutes the couple seated themselves, and Jack said: "Will you kindly explain this unusual attention with which you have honored me?" "Not till I have 'honored' you with another. I wish you to be my escort to my home." "And then?" "You will understand it all." "Let us go at once." "I am ready." Later the two ascended the steps of a dwelling, and the girl rang. A man opened the door, but the darkness prevented him and Winslow from getting a good view of each other. "Come in," said Phoebe. They entered a parlor, and Phoebe turned up a gas jet. "Great Scott, sheriff!" exclaimed the man, grasping Jack's hand in both of his. "Where did you come from?" "And you?"—cried Jack, turning to Phoebe. "I am the daughter of the man whose life you saved."

ECZEMA IS CAUSED BY IMPURE BLOOD

Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Because They Make Pure Blood.

Ask your doctor and he will tell you that eczema is caused by impurities in the blood; that nothing can cure it that does not reach the blood—that salves and outward applications are worthless and a waste of money. The reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have always been so successful in curing this most annoying trouble is because they act directly on the blood, reaching the root of the trouble and driving out all impurities. They banish eczema, salt rheum, and unsightly blotches and eruptions, relieve the irritation and itching and give perfect health. Mrs. A. Puling, of Milestone, Sask., says: "I was afflicted with a blood and skin disease which the doctor called eczema, but which did not yield in the least to his treatment. I was covered with sores and in very bad shape. A friend advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after using eight or nine boxes I was completely cured. I can strongly recommend the Pills to anyone suffering from that trouble."

A medicine that can make new, red blood will cure not only skin troubles, but also anaemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, indigestion, and a host of other troubles simply because these troubles are the result of bad blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new blood and under their use blood and nerve troubles disappear. Sold by all reputable dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
