PROMINENT CANADIAN BANKER DEAD.

Sir Edward Clouston, Millionaire Banker and Financier, Dies Suddenly of Apoplexy.—Well Known as a Philanthropist.—In Younger Days Athlete and Sportsman.

Montreal, Nov. 23.—The death of Sir Edward Scaborne Coulston, Bart., one of the best known bankers and financiers of Canada, occurred here today. Sir Edward fainted this morning while engaged in a conversation with a friend in the Royal Securities building. Recovering for a few minutes, later he objected to being removed to the hospital, contending that he was all right. On the advice of his friend, however, he allowed himself to be conveyed to the Royal Victoria Hospital where an examination was made.

The hospital authorities at first issued a bulletin announcing that the Baronet's condition was not very serious and that the fainting fit had been brought about by acute indigestion.

About 2.30 Sir Edward's condition began to get rapidly worse and he passed away at 2.45, death being due to apoplexy. The deceased financier was the son of S. J. Stewart Clouston, chief factor of the Hudson Bay Company, and was born at Moose Factory, Hudson Bay. After spending a year in the service of his father's company, he joined the staff of the Bank of Montreal in 1865 as a junior. He became General Manager of the bank in 1890. He was elected as first Vice-president in 1906. He resigned from the position of General Manager last year.

Sir Edward Clouston was connected in one capacity or another with twenty large financial and commercial concerns and is reported to have been worth well over a million.

In private life he was a generous supporter and member of practically every charitable organization in the city. He was a great sportsman and in his younger days distinguished himself as an athlete, playing lacross, football and racquet equally as well. He was created a baronet in 1908. He was born May 9, 1849.

It is understood that in deference to the wishes of Sir Edward, the funeral will be strictly private and devoid of the slightest ostentation, no announcement being made of the date of the interment. The body will be cremated.

Methodist Church Notes.

On Friday evening of this week the Epworth League are to hold their quarterly social at the home of Mr. Frank Fowler. The social committee are arranging exercises which promise to make the evening of a real jolly nature.

The second meeting of the quarterly official board of the Bridgetown circuit for the current year will be held on Thursday Dec. 5th.

Rev. N. A. MacNeil, pastor of the Baptist church will exchange pulpits with Rev. B. J. Porter, pastor of the Methodist church, Sunday evening next.

Dr. Jacques' Estate

The will of Dr. H. S. Jacques, dated Nov. 5th, 1910, appoints James H. Dow, J. P., Halifax, and Arthur W. Smith, Kingston Station, executors. Testator directs that the income of the estate shall be used for maintenance and education of his daughter, Abigail Amanda, until she is 19 years of age, when the income of the estate is to be paid to her quarterly. Should she marry and have issue, the principal remaining shall be paid to her. Should she die without issue, said principal shall be paid to her mother. Should the latter predecease his daughter, the estate will be equally divided between his sister Stella, nephews Edward and Charles. The value of the estate is estimated at $9,000.

Printers Run Foul of Lottery Act.

Fotheringham and Popham, of Ottawa, had an experience recently that should serve as a warning to other printers in the matter of printing tickets for lottery. They were asked to print some tickets as follows: "To be drawn for, a gold watch, on Wednesday, July 10, at the home of Albert Jarvis, 88 Forward Avenue. Tickets 25 cents." Shortly afterwards they were summoned to the Police Court before Stipendiary, where they were fined $100 for breaking the law regarding lotteries.

While pleading guilty to the charge Fotheringham & Popham explained that the work was done in entire ignorance of the fact that it was a contravention of the law, as similar work had been done for church and charitable bazaars without resultant trouble. However, the Magistrate pointed out that the print of this ticket constituted a serious offence punishable by a fine not exceeding $2,000 or a sentence of 2 years in jail. In view of the fact that the work had been done without knowledge of its law-breaking character a fine of $100 only was imposed.—Printer and Publisher, Toronto.

Section 236 of the Criminal Code of Canada has very severe penalties for the printer of a lottery ticket, the buyer, holder or seller. These penalties extend from five years in the Penitentiary and a fine of $2,000 as the maximum down to $20 for the mere buying of a lottery ticket.

The whole term of the Code is that printers and others must not in any way be connected with lotteries.

Only Cure For Cancer

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—The real and only cure for cancer is its treatment in its earliest stages, declares Dr. Thomas C. Cullen, assistant professor of gynaecology at Johns Hopkins Medical School, Baltimore, when interviewed to-day at the Queen's Hotel.

"Our message to the public, and particularly to the women of America, is to consult the family physician the moment any condition arises which might conceivably be a cancerous affection. It will then be possible to save a large proportion of lives."

DEATH OF WM. HUNT.

We record this week the death of Mr. Wm. Hunt, of Smith's Cove, at the advanced age of 78 years. Mr. Hunt had been in poor health for several years but during the past few months had been gradually failing and passed away on Friday morning at 5 o'clock. He is survived by six sons and two daughters, Edward I., of Belleisle, Alonzo S., of Medford, Mass., who was unable to be present at the funeral; Charles S., Capt. B. G. and Beatrice, of Everett, Mass., Edgar, Lorenzo W., Nelson, and Georgie at home. Mr. Hunt was a member of the Baptist Church. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock with interment in the Thomas cemetery. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. McPadden.—Digby Courier.

Parliament Opened. Emergency Contribution Mentioned in Address from the Throne.

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—The parliament of Canada was opened today by the Governor-General with the usual ceremony. The speech from the throne was almost congratulatory one, as it showed the country was in a most prosperous state in all lines of business; that railway building was going on, that crops were good, and both the finances of the country were growing as well as the numbers of new people settling in Canada. In regard to the naval policy, Governor-General said, "During the past year the members of the Government conferred in London with His Majesty's government on the question of naval defence; an important discussion took place and conditions have been disclosed, which in the opinion of my advisers, urge that the naval forces of the empire should be strengthened without delay and my advisers are convinced that it is the duty of Canada at this juncture to afford reasonable and necessary assistance for that purpose. A Bill will be introduced accordingly."

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—The Dominion parliament was opened this afternoon with the usual ceremony. The speech from the throne was as follows:

Hon. Gentlemen of the Senate, Gentlemen of the House of Commons.—

I have during the past summer spent several months in visiting the principal cities and towns of Canada, from coast to coast, and have endeavored to make myself as far as possible acquainted with the conditions prevailing. It has been a source of the deepest satisfaction to me to see the almost universal prosperity which reigns throughout the Dominion and to witness the energy and enterprise which are shown in developing the rich resources of the land. It is most gratifying to observe that the trade of the Dominion is increasing rapidly and steadily, the aggregate trade for the last fiscal year being the largest on record.

During the present year the same steady increase has been noted, and it is anticipated that the total volume of our trade for the present fiscal year will greatly surpass that of any previous year in our history. The revenues of the Dominion continue to expand, and in every branch of business and industry there is a remarkable activity, which gives assurance of continued progress and prosperity.

A copious and welcome stream of immigration has poured into our country during the past summer. The volume of immigration during the present year is greater than during any corresponding period of your history, and in larger measure than usual it has been drawn from the British Isles.

The labors of the husbandman have been blessed with an ample return; although in some districts the weather has been unpropitious for the harvest, it is expected that the total value of our field crops will be greater than in any previous years.

Papers will be laid before you which embody trade arrangements that have been consummated between the Dominion and certain of His Majesty's possessions in the West Indies. It is hoped that these arrangements will prove of great advantage not only to those possessions, but to Canada as well. A bill will be introduced for the purpose of carrying this agreement into effect.

During the past summer four members of my government conferred in London with His Majesty's government on the question of naval defence. Important discussions took place, and conclusions have been disclosed, which in the opinion of my advisers render it imperative that the effective naval force of the

Sudden Deaths at Wolfville

(The Western Chronicle)
The third death within two days in Wolfville from heart failure occurred there Thursday morning, when James Redden formerly of Gaspe, but now of Millville Annapolis, dropped dead while waiting with his wife on the station platform for the west bound express which they meant to take for their home at Millville. Mr. Redden was an elderly man and is well known in this county. A little over a year ago he sold his farm in Gaspe and rebought in Annapolis, and had been paying a visit to old friends and relatives in Wolfville the past week. Mr. Redden is a brother of Mrs. Robert Schofield, of that town.

The news of the sudden death of Dr. E. P. Bowles, of Wolfville, Tuesday night, came as a great shock to his many friends and acquaintances. Dr. Bowles was apparently enjoying his usual good health Tuesday and attending to his practice. Tuesday night at nine o'clock he was out about town in several stores, going home about 9.30, and retiring. Shortly after eleven Mrs. Bowles was awakened from a light sleep and was horrified to find the doctor had breathed his last.

Fire

The fire alarm startled the citizens of Bridgetown on both Thursday and Friday evenings of last week.

Shortly after six o'clock on Thursday evening the fire department turned out in full force in response to a summons from the eastern end of the town, where it was discovered that the barn of Louis Michie was on fire. There was little chance to save the building when the firemen got there, but they made a good attempt with the result that a portion of the walls were left standing, while the house was protected from fire. A quantity of hay in the barn was destroyed, but some wood was saved from the burning building. The fire is said to have started from a match carelessly dropped while a member of the family was picking up wood.

The second fire started at a little before six on the following evening in the same section of the town and the cause of its origin is a mystery. The large barn of Zacharias Phinney, who resides on what is known as the DeWitt homestead, with all its contents was totally destroyed. Besides twenty tons or more of hay, four cows, a pig and some hens, with two carriages, harnesses and a lot of farming utensils were consumed. The horse was saved, but an attempt to save the other live stock was futile.

Mr. Phinney had been in the barn to feed the stock a few minutes previous to the discovery of the fire. It is a complete mystery how in so short a time the fire gained such headway that before an alarm could be rung in the building was a mass of flames.

The work of the fire department and the despatch used in getting the fire apparatus on the spot in the shortest time possible, received strong praise, together with the satisfactory condition of our water system has resulted in increased confidence in our fire department and fire fighting facilities.

The Jamaica Disaster

Deaths Now Placed at Over 100

KINGSTON, JA., Nov. 21.—An official estimate of the dead in the hurricane and tidal wave that visited the western part of Jamaica places the number at more than one hundred in the coast towns alone.

The destruction of property was very great.

LAWRENCETOWN HOLDS BANQUET.

About Forty Progressive Citizens Hold Annual Gathering at Elm Hotel.—Subjects of Importance to Town's Advancement Discussed. Dr. L. Saunders Gives Impressions of the West.

The annual Citizens Banquet was held at the Elm House on the evening of Thursday 20th inst., about forty ladies and gentlemen of Lawrencetown and vicinity being present.

Dr. J. B. Hall presided in his usual happy manner, and after a well served repast the evening was given up to toasts and speeches.

The toast list, which was mainly carried out, was as follows:—

The King.—The National Anthem and He's a Jolly Good Fellow

Our Province.—Dr. L. St. C. Saunders

Our Schools.—R. J. Messenger

Town Improvements.—H. H. Whitman

Attraction for Tourists.—L. H. Stoddard

Speeches were made by several other gentlemen present, but the speaker of the evening was Dr. Saunders, who has lately returned from the West.

During his absence the Dr. has visited many places in the West and it was good to hear from a man who had seen and observed at first hand the conditions and resources of the much lauded and adored West. Dr. Saunders, who has long been a resident of this county, has been in the West since 1887, his native province, fully satisfied that she offers just as good opportunities for advancement and wholesome living as any country on the continent. All Nova Scotia needs is advertising and faith in her opportunities to make her one of the leading countries of the American continent. It would be well if the Dr's. address could be read by every Nova Scotian.

J. E. Shaffner gave a very practical talk on the need of several industries in the town, such as a barrel factory, evaporator, etc. Mr. Shaffner as well as Messrs Whitman, Stoddard and others expressed the view that before we can get more settlers we must have more industries, electric lights and other conveniences and attractions.

One of the pleasing features of the evening was a toast to, and an appreciation of Mr. Paul Durling of the Royal Bank, who expects to leave his position here shortly. His exceptional qualities of head and heart have won for Mr. Durling the highest esteem of those who know him.

A toast to the health and prosperity of the town was also given.

Accounts of Battles That Never Happened

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Utter discredit is now thrown by military experts in England on the reports published in Vienna papers of the movements and operations of the Bulgarian and other armies in the field.

The reputation of Lieut. Wagner of the Reichspost, which went up like a rocket when he was claiming to be the only correspondent witnessing the battles, has now fallen like a stone. The English newspapers express the opinion that the Viennese war correspondent has been used knowingly or innocently by the Bulgarian armies for the purpose of misleading the Turks.

The great battle, he declared had been fought nearly a fortnight ago at the line of the Tchatalia, when the losses were declared by him to have exceeded those at Lule Burgas, never occurred.

One correspondent with the Bul-

Novel Sentences For Careless Chauffeurs

Vancouver, B. C., Nov.—Convicted of manslaughter by killing men by careless driving of automobiles, two young chauffeurs were given novel sentences by Justice Clement. The accused were Hugues and Pollard, youths of twenty, and they agreed when the judge allowed them freedom on bonds to devote themselves during the next few years to working for the support of the widows and children of the men whom they killed. The two lads had already spent some time in jail, and were penitent.

garian headquarters declares that Lieut. Wagner was at headquarters most of the time during the battle of Kirk Klisseh, which he claimed to have witnessed and he would have had to ride 200 miles in two days if he had seen it.

Is About to Win $500,000

Herman Oelrichs to Receive That From Aunt in Few Weeks

New York, Nov. 7.—To feel glad that you are going to lose $500,000! What a rare and exquisite sensation!

It is the sensation which Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt Jr. is about to enjoy. Already she is tasting in anticipation the delights of giving up $500,000. Mrs. Vanderbilt is the youthful aunt of young Herman Oelrichs, Jr. He is the son of her elder sister, who is the widow of Herman Oelrichs. He was page at his aunt's wedding.

She let her nephew $500,000 that he could not abstain from drinking and tobacco until his 21st birthday. Within a month, in all human probability, she will have to pay her bet.

Young Herman is one of the most promising youths physically in the four hundred. He is a rider, a fencer, and has won all sorts of golf and tennis prizes.

He is the son of a father who was as strong as an ox and was noted for being the most powerful man in society. He could swim for four hours at a time and could hold his own with the gloves against a professional prize fighter. In spite of his strength and his powers, Herman Oelrichs died a comparatively young man, and his life was far from happy. He left his property away from his wife.

Two years ago young Herman Oelrichs was nineteen years of age, just at the age when life begins to offer its greatest temptations to the rich and well favored.

Mrs. Vanderbilt saw the pitfalls that lay before her young and attractive nephew, and she determined to guide him on the path of abstinence and industry in a very original way.

"Why don't you do some real work, Herman?" she asked.

"Can't earn enough to make it worth while," said the youth carelessly.

"How much would you consider worth while?" inquired his aunt.

"Oh $100,000 a year, or so."

"Well, I will give you a chance to make it."

This caught the young man's attention and drew his thoughts away from cigarettes and whatever other worthless objects they were centered upon.

His aunt then made a wager with him that if he abstained from all intoxicating liquors and tobacco until he was twenty-one years old, she was to pay him $500,000. If he failed to make good he was to pay her $500,000.

"Well, that money is as good as in my pocket," was the young man's comment when the wager was concluded.

ARE YOUR HANDS CHAPPED.

ZAM-BUK WILL CURE THEM.

The particular danger of chapped hands and cold cracks (apart altogether from the pain) is that the cold is likely to penetrate and set up inflammation, festering, or blood poisoning. Directly the skin is broken by a cut, by the action of the cold winds and water, the one necessary precaution is to apply Zam-Buk freely.

The pure herbal juices from which Zam-Buk is prepared are so perfectly combined and refined that the immediate effect of these Zam-Buk dressings is soothing, antiseptic and healing. Pain and inflammation are allayed, disease germs expelled from the wound or sore, and the latter is quickly healed.

VERMONT INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

An Institution Doing Noble Work for the State and Humanity in Education; Homeless and Neglected Boys and Girls Presided Over by Nova Scotian

The following article is reprinted from the Jeffersonville (Vermont) Sentinel. It was published in connection with the announcement of the opening of the new Girls' Dormitory as an annex of the Vermont State Industrial School, which is presided over by a native of Annapolis County, Mr. J. N. Bars, a nephew of Miss Helen Vidito and Mr. Alfred Vidito of this town.

Do you know that Vermont leads the world in one thing? It is the manner of caring for the wards of the state, those poor unfortunates who never knew the real meaning of "home."

Her State Industrial school at Vergennes has been commended by legislative committees of other states and by representatives of foreign governments as "a model institution."

It deserves all these good words. Its officers, the State commissioners, all progressive men, deserve the credit.

Few people know what a great work it is doing.

Here is a brief, unvarnished statement of what it is doing now and what it should do, obtained for this paper by the editor personally, who recently visited the school. He went unannounced. Not a commissioner or officer knew that he was coming.

We wanted the facts and we got them.

First, the State owns a farm of some 200 acres of rich land on the banks of the Otter river, on the outskirts of the city of Vergennes.

It is an ideal place for such a school. It is situated upon high ground amidst the most beautiful surroundings, with the Green Mountains on the east and Adirondack mountains on the west—one of the most beautiful spots in the whole Champlain Valley.

The buildings consist of the main or administration building, three stories, with an annex, in which are located the trades' school department, the steam heating plant for all the buildings and the pumping station. An Artesian well drilled 529 feet through solid rock, furnishes pure water for all the buildings.

There are four in number, the first mentioned, the administration building; the "old arsenal" now used for high and graded school purposes; the Fairbanks Hall; the girls' old dormitory; the dairy, creamery and barn; and the girls' new model dormitory.

The school has a capacity for 175 pupils but has over 200 now.

It is managed by a board of State commissioners, Hon. J. E. Weeks of Middlebury, Hon. N. K. Chaffee of Rutland and Hon. F. L. Webster of Swanton and is under the immediate direction of Supt. J. N. Bars.

This school is a real industrial school.

It not only furnishes a real home to those who never knew the meaning of the word, but it gives them a good education; teaching them the trade for which they are best adapted; but it is making good men and women; good citizens; productive workers out of them.

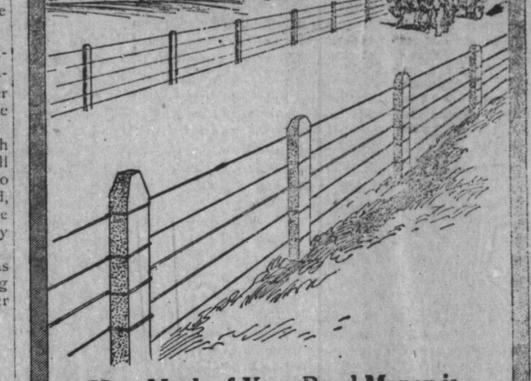

It is conserving the greatest asset of Vermont, her boys and girls, some of whom without this school, whom would make anything but desirable citizens.

Under the present efficient management, the cost per pupil, is steadily decreasing while the efficiency of each graduate is steadily increasing.

Five years ago there was little demand for its graduates.

This year it has been utterly unable to supply the demand.

Those who employed members of the class of agriculture and dairying last year are asking for more this year. Over fifty applications had to be turned down because there were not enough to fill the call this summer.

How Much of Your Road Money is Spent in Filling Ruts?

IF the millions of dollars that have been spent repairing worn-out, washed-out streets and roads had been used to build more miles of good highways, fewer farmers would now be wasting valuable time and money taking "round-about" routes to town.

FIRST cost of an ordinary dirt or macadam road is usually only a "starter." The cost of upkeep soon equals that first cost and there is always an ever-increasing annual expense for repairs. The worst feature of it is that such a road is never a really first-class highway.

IN estimating the cost of a road you should include the expense of keeping it in good condition for at least twenty years. If you don't, you're figuring on the first payment for that road, only. And the remaining payments are as certain as taxes. The upkeep cost of concrete roads is practically nothing.

Concrete roads are the best roads from the first—and the best and cheapest roads at the end of ten, fifteen and twenty years.

CONCRETE is the ideal paving material for streets in small towns as well as for main highways in the country.

Edward N. Hines, Wayne County, Michigan, Road Commissioner, and one of America's foremost authorities on good roads, says: "Any community that wants a good road, a road that is cheaper for even a short time under fairly heavy traffic than any other good road, a road that is more properly maintained, a road that is sanitary and durable, a road that is not slippery, a road that affords good traction for any type of vehicle 365 days in the year, a road that in the long run, say 10, 15, 20 years and longer, is the cheapest of all good roads, should investigate the merits of concrete."

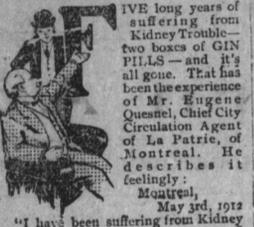

WRITE for the facts about Concrete Highways. When convinced, use your influence to have the roads for which you pay built to last. We have highway experts who will visit any community intending to build more roads and explain just why and how concrete roads are best and cheapest.

CITY CIRCULATION AGENT

Of Leading Montreal Daily Endorses GIN PILLS

I have long years of suffering from Kidney Trouble—two boxes of GIN PILLS—and it's all gone. That has been the experience of Mr. Eugene Quesnel, Chief City Circulation Agent of La Patrie, of Montreal. He describes it feelingly.

May 3rd, 1912
"I have been suffering from Kidney Trouble for over five long years. I had also Rheumatism in all my bones and muscles, could not sleep nights and on some occasions could hardly walk. I had been treated by some of our best Physicians but without relief and I lost over fifteen pounds. One day I met one of our leading hotelkeepers, who had been cured by your famous GIN PILLS, and he advised me to try them. So I bought two boxes at my druggist's and before I had used one box I felt a big change. Before I finished the second one I was completely cured. I can assure you I can hardly believe it for I had only known what I know now I would not have spent over one Hundred Dollars for nothing when two boxes of GIN PILLS cured me."

EUGENE QUESNEL.
GIN PILLS are gaining a world-wide reputation, by the way they conquer the most obstinate cases of Rheumatism and all kinds of Kidney Trouble.

Now just a word about the work of the school.

Each working day of the year is divided into three parts—one for graded school work, one for practical instruction in the trades and one for recreation, play and amusement.

That these boys and girls have been interested, is evidenced by the fact that nearly a score volunteered to enter the new department in Mechanical and Technical Drawing and Arts and Crafts instituted last December, taking the time therefore out of their play and reading hours. The work of this volunteer class is simply wonderful, as an inspection at the fairs of the Addison and Rutland counties, and the State this fall proved to thousands.

The new building just completed for the girls west of the main building is pronounced by Dr. Paracenti, the special representative of the Italian government who investigated conditions in such institutions in this country and Europe, as the best in its entirety that he has found anywhere in the world. From basement to attic, everything is the best that can be had. More, everything in its construction except the brick is a product of Vermont. Builders who have inspected it say it could not be erected for less than $25,000 but only $13,000 was available and the building stands completed and occupied for that sum, thanks to the assistance furnished by the classes in carpentry, plumbing and painting in the school. All the work, except one day, in the plumbing and steam heating line was done by the pupils in the school.

The largest class in the school is in agriculture and dairying.

What has it done? All the work on the farm of two hundred acres has been done by this class under the direction of the practical farmer and his assistant, the instructors in this department.

What has been raised? Here is what the books show was the product of the farm for 1911.

- 100 tons hay.
- 1000 bu. grains.
- 600 bu. ears corn.
- 1000 bu. mangle wortzels.
- 200 tons ensilage.
- 20 bu. potatoes.
- 3500 heads cabbage.
- 50 bu. green peas.
- 55 bu. onions.
- 150 bu. turnips.
- 125 bu. table beets.
- 26 tons squash.
- 150 bu. carrots.
- 100 bu. tomatoes.
- 2000 heads lettuce.
- 20,000 ears sweet corn, etc.

What Vermont farmer can show a better yield from the same number of acres?

Is the management efficient? Does it produce results that count?

In 1909 there were 132 pupils in the school. The cost was $208.33 per pupil, or less than half the cost in any other state.

In 1910 with 159 pupils the cost had been reduced to $173.83 per pupil. This year shows a still more gratifying decrease in cost per pupil, although the

WAS A CONFIRMED DYSPPEPTIC

New Finds It a Pleasure to Enjoy Meals

Here is a case which seemed as bad and as hopeless as yours can possibly be. This is the experience of Mr. H. J. Brown, 384 Bathurst St., Toronto, in his own words:

"Gentlemen—I have much pleasure in mentioning to you the benefits received from your Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets and can cheerfully recommend them. I simply had confirmed dyspepsia with all its wretched symptoms, and tried about all the advertised cures with no success. You have in Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets the best curative agent I could find. It is now such a pleasure to enjoy meals with their consequent nourishment that I want to mention this for the benefit of others."

efficiency of the school has been increased more than four fold in years.

A new department was instituted Sept. 1st. An old building has been remodelled and made over into a model domestic science school building. Here the girls are taught this line. Heretofore they have been taught in the practical line in the bakery and kitchen connected with the main building, where all the bread used in the school is made by this class. All the cooking for the entire school, the officers, etc., is done by the class in cookery, under competent instructors.

Did you know that all the shoes, all the uniforms, etc., worn by the pupils are made on the premises by the classes in tailoring, shoemaking, etc.?

It is a fact. All the plumbing is done by the class in that line as well as all the steam fitting.

The class in dairying is taught all essentials regarding testing milk and making butter. When they graduate they go into positions in first class creameries, etc.

All the milk and cream and most of the butter used on the tables come from the model creamery and dairy and is made by the classes in these lines.

The only way this institution is made the conspicuous success that it is, is because the work is largely done by these boys and girls.

Are they satisfied? Ask them. One and all will instantly reply, "We are."

Why? Because this is the first real home they ever knew.

A Paris Chemist Has Discovered How to Grow Hair.

In Paris the ladies have entirely abandoned wearing hats, which is due entirely to this new discovery.

It has been proven that Henna leaves contain the ingredients that will positively grow hair. That they contain this long-looked-for article is proven every day.

The French are now placing on the market a preparation containing the extract from Henna leaves, which is having a phenomenal sale.

This preparation is called SALVIA and is being sold with a guarantee to cure dandruff and to grow hair in abundance. Being faintly perfumed, SALVIA makes a most pleasant dressing, and is sold by your druggist. A large generous bottle can be purchased for fifty cents.

The boy and girl who have remained at home and performed dutiful obligations to home and country are worth more to the homeland than a shipload of immigrants or a score of the young men and women who are making their home in foreign lands. Many of the young men and women who have left us in the past are successful in the lands of their adoption; they are an honor to themselves and to the country that gave them birth. We are prouder still of the industrious young men and women who are making a success at home. Are we doing our best by our dutiful sons and daughters?

Sunday School Workers.

To the Sunday School Workers of Annapolis County—

"Be not weary in well doing for in due season ye shall reap if ye faint not." A few of our Sunday Schools stop work in the winter months. This is a mistake. Schools that once try the all-year-round plan seldom go back to the old way. If it is not possible to meet together keep up the lesson study at home until the days get longer and the sun brighter. It is a grand plan to use our long winter evenings by preparing ourselves to do better work in the future. Get Hurlburt's or some other Normal Lesson Book, make its facts your own. Send to Sunday School Headquarters and get some of the books of the Sunday School Teachers' Library, they are yours for twenty-five cents a year. Let us resolve that we will move forward this year all along the line. How many banner districts shall we have to report to County Convention next year?

We feel very grateful for the prompt and hearty way you responded to the appeal to hold the banner for Annapolis County, and we are asking you for no more money than last year. But we do ask very earnestly that you will make a contribution as large as you can at once so the County Secretary will have a respectable amount to forward to headquarters before Christmas. The Provincial Executives have been in the habit of carrying a debt of $500 and often more during nine months of the year. A few cents from each one of us will relieve them of our share of this burden. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

Yours in the work,
C. F. ARMSTRONG, Pres.
Annapolis Co. S.S. Association.

Crime Due to Lack of Education.

Baltimore, Nov. 4.—Dr. Daniel Phelan, of Kingston, Canada, and president of the American Association of Prison Surgeons, was the principal speaker at the Prison Congress in session here to-day. He stated that most of the crimes committed were due to the lack of education.

"The public," said Dr. Phelan, "is of the opinion that to fill a mind with knowledge is all that is necessary for a person to become a good citizen."

"This is very true, but there is something far more important, and that is the training of the physical powers, the cultivation of the mental qualities, the moulding of the moral sense, the shaping of the will, and the inculcation of lofty principles. When you have carried all these things out to the letter, then you will have your good citizens, and we can close up our jails."

Training the Young Horse.

When I was a boy, we thought it great sport to break the colts. The usual way was to let the colt run without even putting a halter on it until three or four years old; then set it into some corner of the stable and put on a halter, and often the same day put on a biting harness. This was simply an arrangement for pulling the colt's head up and its nose in higher than it was ever expected to be kept when at work or being driven. Then turn the poor thing loose in the yard and let it run for several hours.

We did not even think this was a cruelty to the colt; that was really inhuman, not to say wicked, because "a merciful man is merciful to his beast." There was no mercy in this, consequently it was wicked. If the colt is properly handled, there is no need of its being broken.

The first thing is to secure the confidence of the colt; let it understand that you are its best friend. A lump of sugar now and then will be highly prized by the colt. Nothing loves sweets more than the horse, and a lump now and then to the colt will soon have it following you about, teasing for more. Accustom it, when only a few days old, to wearing a halter by putting on a light one for a day or two at a time and leading it around. When only a few weeks old, put on a light collar and back band to which the collar can be fastened, so as not to slip off when the colt puts its head down, and let it wear these for a few hours at a time. Before it is weaned, it should have a light harness put on and be driven by the side of its mother till fully accustomed to the lines. Its feet should be taken up and handled and pounded upon with some light thing until it is accustomed to have them handled in any way desired.

When a year old, it should be handled by the side of a gentler horse, preferably its mother, and hitched to some light vehicle without a load, and driven until fully accustomed to the use of the reins. Accustom it to robes and blankets, so that no matter where it sees them or how they may be thrown against body or heels it will not be frightened. Never attempt to teach the colt but one thing at a time, and the first and most important thing to teach the colt is the word "whoa." Let it understand that "whoa" means stop, at all times and under all circumstances. Never couple any other word with it. "Gee" and "haw" and "back" are important words and should be taught, but "whoa" is by far the most important and if thoroughly taught will save many a catastrophe.

But in training the colt, whatever else you do or don't do, never lose your temper, nor speak harshly or unkindly, or in an excited manner. If you get excited and lose your head, you must not blame your horse for doing the same.—L.S. Woodward in Maine Farmer.

The War in the Balkans

And its Effect on Christianity, subject of sermon by Rev. Mr. Ross, at Fort Massey.

The text in Acts xvi, 9, "Come over into Macedonia and help us" formed the basis for a discussion, on the present Balkan war and its effect on Christianity, by Rev. R. W. Ross, at Fort Massey Church. He said, "No one can tell what Paul's summons in the early Christian era meant to Europe and to Western peoples. It was a cry for help. It is not the only time that Macedonia has cried for help. And the cry was heard then as it has been heard now. It is the battle of Christianity against Mohammedanism."

"There are other forces at work in the near East, in that stretch of land that has been for centuries a centre of commerce between Europe, Asia and Africa. In Persia, Arabia and Turkey, there is a population of 36,000,000, of which 30,000,000 are Moslems. There are 6,000,000 Protestant Christians, and in this territory there are 600 Protestant missionaries. In this work the American church has played a very important part. The present war is but a phase of the greater conflict between the Moslem and the Christian."

BRAVERY AS A GIFT.

Bedouins Do Not Look Upon Cowardice as a Disgrace.

"The idea that nothing is so disgraceful as cowardice is one that is not held by all races. Among the Bedouins a sheik may be the leader of his tribe only in peace. When there is war the chieftains are that he will relinquish his leadership to the fighting sheik."

"I have not the gift of courage," once said an Arab chief to an Englishman, apologizing for not putting himself at the head of a band that he had sent to attack another tribe.

The Englishman learned that these words, extreme personal bravery as a gift, for the want of which a man is no more to be censured than he is to be blamed for not being handsome.

A Bengali says, without the least sense of shame, "I am timid." Yet he will meet death, even when it approaches in the form of the hangman, with the composure of a martyr.

The following instances illustrate strikingly this double nature of the Bengali.

A native had been sentenced to death for killing his wife. On the morning of the execution the officer who was superintending the hanging entered the condemned man's cell. Instead of finding him crouching in terror he was surprised to be greeted with a low bow and a request.

The man wished for some sweetmeats with which to refresh himself on his way to the gallows. They were ordered, and on their arrival the procession set out.

The doomed man ate the sweetmeats with a relish as he calmly walked along the way of death. When the gallows was reached the crowd which had followed seated themselves on the ground. The man waited a few seconds to finish the last morsel, then mounted the gallows with composure and was swung off.

Strange as it may seem, that man would have been panic stricken at the rush of some wild rumor. His timidity was natural, but his religion and discipline had trained him to accept with calmness the inevitable.—Detroit Free Press.

CRUEL PUNISHMENTS.

The Use of Torture in Legal Processes in Former Times.

The constitution of the United States and the constitutions of the various states in prohibiting cruel and unusual punishments were not fighting an absurdity. The use of torture in legal processes was not, when these instruments were framed, so remote as it is now.

When Sir Thomas Dole came as high marshal to Virginia he crushed a conspiracy by killing the ringleaders by torture. One had a bodkin thrust through his tongue and was chained to a tree until he died. Others were broken on the wheel. It is quaintly stated that Sir Thomas was "a man of good conscience and knowledge in divinity." Dole's date was 1611.

The next notable instance of the use of torture was in 1692, in the Salem witchcraft excitement, when Giles Corey was pressed to death—the "peine dure et forte," the most horrible of deaths.

Executions were in public throughout the east until comparatively recent times. When Quelch, the pirate, and six others were hanged in Boston, Sewall wrote in his diary, "When the scaffold was let to sink there was such a screech of the women that my wife heard it sitting in our entry next to the orchard," though the gallows was a mile away and the wind unfavorable.

The use of torture to wring the truth from witnesses is said to have been recognized as legal in Austria until well within the last century.

Needless Use of Opiates. It is perhaps a conservative estimate that only 10 per cent of the entire drug consumption in this country is applied to the purpose of blunting incurable pain. Thus 90 per cent of the opiates used are, strictly speaking, unnecessary. In the innumerable cases that have come under my observation 75 per cent of the habitual users became such without reasonable excuse. Beginning with small occasional doses, they realized within a few weeks that they had lost self control and could not discontinue the use of the drug.—Charles B. Towns in Century.

Two Enough For Her. He was a small boy with a dark, eager face, and he was waiting at the end of the line of eight or ten persons for a chance to make his wants known to the librarian. When his turn came he inquired briefly, "Have you got 'Twenty Thousand Legs Under the Sea'?" "No," responded the librarian a little snappishly, for she was tired. "I'm thankful to say I've only got two, and they're not under the sea!"—New York Press.

All He Was Fit For. A tramp was passing a marine store, and, seeing the man at the door, he asked in a joking way, "Do you buy rags and bones?" "You've guessed it first time, old chap," answered the man. "Get on the scales!"—London Telegraph.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1913.

The recent fires in Bridgetown have suggested the need of more expeditious means for getting the fire-fighting apparatus to the scene of the fire, particularly when as in recent fires the extreme limits of the town have to be reached. Fortunately, it was convenient at the time to get the assistance of a horse belonging to one of the firemen to aid in getting the hose to the fire, which suggests that as the town has no horse at present it would be desirable to have an agreement with one of the livery stables, or other person always having a horse handy, to be prepared to furnish this assistance to the fire department.

It is reported that the fire alarm system is hampered by interference with the telephone or electric wires and that false signals are frequently heard in the firemen's houses.
This should be at once remedied, lest like the cry of "wolf, wolf!" the true signal of alarm should go unheeded.

A Valuable Coat of Mail

The coat of mail donated by Miss Hattie J. Jost, to the Mt. Allison institutions was a gift to her by the Methodist Church in Kanazawa, Japan, when she was closing her second term of labor as an agent of the W. M. S. It was a highly prized relic of the old feudal times in Japan which have long passed away. It bears marks of considerable usage on the battlefield and was no doubt worn by some brave member of the Samurai, the military class, to whom was entrusted the sole duty of guarding King and country from internal or external enemies. It is made up of narrow pieces of metal, overlapping each other at their edges and bound together by strong closely woven material, and includes special coverings for parts of the body most likely to need protection from the sword.

The whole weighs about forty pounds the helmet with its protecting face piece and cape weighing about one-eighth of the whole.—

Dr. Jost at the late meeting of the

Parliament Opened

empire should be strengthened without delay. My advisers are convinced that it is the duty of Canada at this juncture to afford reasonable and necessary aid for that purpose.

A bill will be introduced accordingly.
A contract for the construction of the Hudson Bay railway from Lepais to Port Nelson has been awarded and the work is being pushed forward with all possible speed.

It is abundantly evident that the highways of Canada constitute an important part of an efficient scheme of transportation. The necessity for improving our existing facilities in this regard is manifest, and a bill will be introduced for the purpose of enabling the Dominion to co-operate with the provinces in the accomplishment of this most desirable purpose.

It is satisfactory to know that the proposal of my government to co-operate with the governments of the various provinces in promoting the agricultural industry has met with hearty approval.
The appropriations which were made last session in connection therewith have proved to be of marked benefit to the country. After a careful study of the whole question my advisers are convinced that co-operation with the provinces on well defined terms and conditions will achieve the best results along the lines of agricultural instructions.
Any such policy to be effective must be continuous. Accordingly a bill will be introduced by which a substantial amount of money will be set apart from the consolidated revenue fund, for purpose of assisting the provinces for a term of years in this highly important national work.

Under existing legislation the charters of the banks will expire on the first day of July next. A bill revising and extending these charters will be submitted for your consideration and approval.

Several other bills will be submitted including measures providing for increased representation of the provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba in the senate.

Gentlemen of the house of commons:
The accounts for the last fiscal year will be laid before you. It will be satisfactory for you to learn that the revenue has been ample to cover both ordinary and capital expenditures.

The estimates of the next fiscal year will be submitted at an early date. They have been prepared with due regard to the one hand for economy and on the other for the necessary development of the resources of the Dominion.

Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate;
Gentlemen of the House of Commons;

I invite your earnest consideration of the subjects to which I have alluded,

Felt at Vancouver, Lasting Six Seconds.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 22.—A distinct earthquake shock was felt here Thursday evening over a district of miles, just before five o'clock. The shock was also felt in North Vancouver and in adjoining municipalities. Its duration was exactly six seconds, and it appeared to be travelling north and south. Two houses at Lynn Valley, on the south shore of Burrard Inlet, almost collapsed, and a child was thrown out of a chair. The motion was most severely felt by a man at the top of the eighteen-story Vancouver block, who narrowly escaped being precipitated into the street below. No damage has been reported.

Obituary

MRS. HARRY J. STARRATT.
This community was shocked to learn of the sudden death on Friday last of Mrs. Harry J. Starratt of West Paradise, and especially sad circumstances. Mrs. Starratt was the daughter of Mrs. F. Sanford of Lawrence town, for whom and her son, in addition to the deeply bereaved husband, sincere sympathy is expressed. Mrs. Starratt previous to her coming to Nova Scotia was a teacher in the public schools of Massachusetts. She was active and helpful in temperance and cheerful in disposition. The social life of the neighborhood as well as the family circle will sadly miss her presence.

LOCAL AND SPECIAL

Mr. C. S. Silver, for the past year proprietor of the Grand Central, is going to Kentville to take the proprietorship of the American House. It is rumored that the Grand Central is to be leased by Mr. Ernest Boyce, now of the Aberdeen, Kentville.

A subscriber from Lower Granville writes: "We are quite busy now in this locality discussing the matter of forming a Fruit Packing Co. and uniting with the United Fruit Co. Co-operation seems to be what is needed in these days. And I think perhaps it will help toward our taking better care of our orchards; we will get a more uniform pack of apples too, which will all lead to better returns, and that is what we want."

Yarmouth Light.—A number of the citizens of this town were astounded on Tuesday evening about 6.30 o'clock to see an airship lighted up, pass over the town going in a southerly direction. The engines were making a fearful noise, they assert. We have not heard of any airship being reported to come this way, and yet it is hardly possible one's eyes and ears can misinterpret especially when the story is verified by others.

An aged and respected citizen of Berwick, Isaac North, fell dead on Wednesday last while hurrying to catch the early morning train at Port Williams. Mr. and Mrs. North were leaving for Moncton to spend the winter. While hurrying to the train Mr. North stumbled and fell, and on being picked up it was found that he was dead. A doctor was summoned who pronounced it heart failure. Mr. North was born on Church Street, Kentville, eighty-eight years ago. He lived for many years in Kentville where he farmed. About twenty-five years ago he sold his farm and moved to Berwick. His widow was a Miss Oakes of Halifax. He leaves a family of sons and daughters residing in the States.

Primrose Theatre.

The management of Primrose Theatre gave a very select and unique series of pictures on Monday night entitled "The Holy City," representing the American Passion Play. The well-known hymn of the same title was rendered by Mr. P. R. Beckwith and a special orchestra, furnished excellent music. This film was preceded by another showing scenes of varied and especial interest. Notwithstanding the evening was drizzly and very muddy the theatre was well-filled.

Washington may be proud of a citizen whose hold upon life is one of the most remarkable on record. Five years ago he fell 350 feet into St. Lawrence River, and broke nearly every bone in his body.

The doctors became interested in the case and made use of ingenious devices to restore him to health. He has some bones held together by gold, silver and steel. For a year he was insane, but an operation on the skull removed the cause of insanity, and now he is in good health and able to take care of himself.

OLD NEW ONTARIO
Traders Have Known Clay Belt For a Hundred Years.

People speak of New Ontario to-day as if it were a newly-discovered country. True, it is only within the past few years that they have wakened up to the fact that in time it will probably be the richest part of the province. But it is old, very old indeed, and to the redman there is nothing new about it. His father's father lived and hunted, fought and died in the forest fastnesses and there passed to the happy hunting grounds long before the "Shogonee" stranger came remained terra incognita to the white man to-day but for the discovery that it possessed much valuable agricultural and timber land. Then the Government began the building of the Timiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway, to open up these lands to settlement, and as construction proceeded they tumbled upon the rich mineral deposit in Cobalt. And so one fine morning Old Ontario awoke to the realization of the good things that lay just outside its back door and hastened to possess itself of them. The boom followed, and soon the name of Cobalt was known at every cross-roads on the continent.

This country is new enough to retain some at least of the landmarks of long ago, for the axe of the lumberjack and the plow of the settler have not had time as yet to obliterate many of the old trails. From time immemorial these have served as highways for the Indian and the voyager of the ubiquitous Hudson Bay Company. Take the Montreal River above Elk Lake, for instance; the self-same river routes and portage trails are used by the Indians to-day that served their ancestors and the Jesuit missionaries of two hundred years ago when they carried the gospel far inland to the shores of Hudson Bay.

The Hudson Bay Company still find it to their advantage to continue many of their posts in this country. Of course these posts are separated by many weary miles of forest, lake and stream, that are only to be negotiated, as they were in the long ago, by paddle and portage. One of these posts is Fort Matachewan, on the Montreal River. It is a three-days' journey above the Elk Lake post, and for nearly thirty years has been in charge of Steve Lafrican, an ex-soldier of the war of the Rebellion. Years ago he secured the entire confidence of the Indians as well as their trade by marrying one of their women, and has raised a family, some of whom have married Indians. He is the one "Shogonee" friend they implicitly trust, and the right man in the right place, and the great fur company know it.

The only innovation in the method of transport in New Ontario, as compared with the old days, is that the long boat of the white man is now used instead of the birch bark. Another old canoe route is that from Stony portage, on the Montreal River, to Gowganda and to Porcupine. During the Gowganda boom of three years ago this route was crowded day and night by prospectors and other ventures, both male and female, of the heterogeneous crowd that go to make up a mining town. To-day that trail is deserted, but for many years to come one may easily recognize it by the empty bottles, barrels, tin cans and canoes that mark every mile of it. Just such trails are to be found all over this country.—Toronto Globe.

Hard to Convince.

A certain western M.P. was once city editor of a big daily paper, and in Toronto newspaper circles they still tell a little story about his heated argument with the foreman of the composing room one day when they were crowded for space. There had been a rush of ads.—not enough for two extra pages, however.

The paper printed twelve pages daily.

"Well," said the editor man, "make it thirteen to-day."

The foreman tried to explain that this was an impossibility, and that if the paper were enlarged it must be to at least fourteen pages.

The editor could not see it, however, and all the emphatic and heated language of the foreman was in vain until in sheer desperation he hit upon the plan of getting a copy of the paper and demonstrating the plain proposition that each sheet has two pages.

And to this day that unfortunate editor M.P. is "kidded" about getting out a thirteen-page paper.—Courier.

Montreal Men Honored.

Out of seven degrees of LL.D. conferred on prominent medical men who attended the bi-centennial celebration of the foundation of the medical faculty of Trinity College, Dublin, held in the capital of Ireland last month, two were given to Montrealers, ex-Mayor Dr. James Guerin and Principal William Paterson of McGill University.

The others who were given such a distinctive honor were the lord mayor of London, the lord mayor of Dublin, the president of the Royal College of Surgeons, the president of the Royal College of Physicians, and the president of the National University of Ireland.

Another great honor and mark of appreciation of his research work was bestowed on Dr. Adams McGill, who was made a doctor of science by the chancellor of Trinity University, who personally congratulated Dr. Adams on the valuable contributions he has given the medical profession.

A Delhi Survivor.

One of the guests at the Toronto Exhibition luncheon recently was the only survivor in Toronto of the siege of Delhi, a descendant of which was given before the grand stand every afternoon and evening. His name is Duke Smith, 45 St. Clarens avenue, who, during the Indian mutiny, was attached to the 52nd Oxfordshire Infantry Brigade. He is 77 years old, but does not appear to have reached nearly that age. Mr. Smith served nine years—1853 to 1862—in the British army in India and was in several engagements during the mutiny. He now wears a medal as recognition of having fought in the war, and it bears a Delhi bar.

CULTIVATE A CHEERFUL SPIRIT

Let us make a mental law not to do so much any one day that we lose control of our nerves through weariness. Stop before you come to that and take the children for a walk. If you only go a little distance or call on an invalid who would be glad to change places with you it will do you good. I know it seems as if you were too tired to make the start, but how the little ones rejoice when mamma goes with them to hunt bright leaves or plants in the woods.

There is a great deal of talk as to the relative advantages of city and country life, but for my part I am genuinely sorry for those who are shut up to city streets, hot enough to stew one in summer, and serving as tunnels in winter to pour the wind through. I know there are advantages in the city, especially in winter, not within reach of the farmers, but I doubt much whether there is in the wide earth a class that takes more comfort in their homes and families, and who are more hospitable and open hearted. I know whereof I speak for I have been the daughter and the wife of a farmer.

People pity us for our cold climate; and I admit freely that Canada is cold, but we have so many advantages to offset the climate, we as a people are not disposed to find fault. We are never pestered by the terrible tornadoes, hurricanes and blizzards we read of; we have never suffered with drought seriously, foods never reach us except a little along the rivers, and perhaps a field or two of grain at the outside. This has occurred but twice within my memory.

I think we are too apt to let the mud and general dreariness depress us, but, instead, cannot we cultivate that feeling of independence and comfort that comes from our knowledge of well-filled cellars and closets, barns and sheds; be glad when the autumn mists drift down the hills and shut us out from the valley of our neighbors and friends? None of us are so badly off but that we might be worse, and it is more comfortable as well as more Christian to cultivate a spirit of cheerfulness. —Selected.

FEARLESSNESS IN CHILDREN

Moral as well as physical courage is due to home influence. It is quite possible to make children untruthful by your method of "finding out" things. If you jump on a child, half the time he will answer your question with a falsehood. At all events, he will be afraid to tell the whole truth.

It is a good plan to tell your children what in half-an-hour, or at bed time, or some other time that it is suitable, you are going to ask for a full account of some misdemeanor. You do this, your explanation may be so that they can have their answers ready and forget no detail.

If you can gain your children's confidence to that degree where they will criticize and condemn themselves, you have advanced them far on the roadway of moral courage.

TOO FAT, OR TOO THIN?

Too fat? Then you should eat less, drink less, sleep less. Drink nothing during meals. Avoid sweets, milk, fat, cheese and all starchy foods such as white bread, potatoes, rice, etc. Exercise daily in the open air. When you reach your normal weight the foods you omitted you can partake of again, but you must keep up your exercises if you want to keep down your weight.

Too thin? Then you should eat more, drink more, sleep more. Eat sweets, fats, cheese, starchy foods, including rice, potatoes, etc. Take a teaspoonful of olive oil three times a day, during meals or after; mix it with a little lemon or tomato juice. Drink an abundance of water between meals. Eat the coarsest bread-stuff. Exercise daily, but not too vigorously. Drink with or at the close of your meals, but do not wash the food down.

REWARE OF THE TIGHT COLLAR

The tight collars, nowadays so much affected by women, are decidedly dangerous. In the neck is the thyroid gland, an organ whose importance medical men have only recently begun to recognize. Anything that interferes with this gland produces serious disorders. Apart from the thyroid gland, tight pressure on the neck is decidedly dangerous. In an article in the London Hospital quoted in the Literary Digest, Dr. Walter G. Walford expresses surprise that no one seems to have noticed the injury that is caused by slight obstructions to the free circulation of the blood through the vessels of the brain. He mentions numerous instances where he has known tight collars to cause headaches, apoplectic symptoms, vertigo and other troubles. He reminds us that the nerves and vessels of the neck are sufficiently close to the surface to suffer from continual pressure, such as is exercised by tight-fitting collars.

Nor are men entirely blameless in this respect. The present fashion of high, hard collars is not only unsightly and ungraceful but decidedly unhygienic.

HINTS FOR THE HOME.

The most economical steaks you can buy are the round and the rump, because they have no bone in them. To make them tender, marinate them. After steaks are marinated they should be cooked on a very hot broiler, or they will lose their juice.

When you have been so unfortunate as to scorch the bodice or skirt of a white dress, apply peroxide at once. Place a cloth underneath and one over the scorched spot. You may have to make several applications of peroxide before the stain can be entirely removed.

To clean the lace collar of a dressy blouse without ripping it off, place under the lace, a clean Turkish bath towel folded to several thicknesses, then dip a brush in warm, soapy water and scrub the lace well, taking care not to touch the body of the blouse. After the soap has been used brush with clean water. The towel underneath will absorb all the dirt and much of the water. Put the blouse on a coat hanger to dry.

YULETIDE COMMON SENSE.

Put out all presents given from custom. Many a girl is bankrupt or over-worked because she has not laid "the ghosts of a Christmas past." There is no sense in giving a present to a girl because you started to exchange with her ten years back. If you have drifted apart she will be as glad to stop the custom as you are.

Mail Order Farms

(From the Maritime Baptist.)

In the new and enlarged parcels post system, with rates, proposed by the United States Post Office Department many people are seeing visions of considerable saving in the cost of living. The city people are anticipating a reduction in the price of what the farmers supply, and the farmers are expecting to profit by making their business very like a mail order store. By bringing the producer and consumer in direct communication there will be great advantage to both. It may take some time to get the system into working order nicely, though it is stated that already some farmers are getting ready to be able to fill mail orders for poultry, eggs, butter and vegetables the day the orders are received. We quote The Witness: "Smart, neatly printed catalogues of what they are in a position to supply, with their guarantee as to freshness and reliability, are being got out.

"With the new parcel post once started they count on opening a fair-sized mail every morning after breakfast, and supply directly and promptly the needs of their customers. Most of the business they naturally expect will be by weekly or monthly orders. It is not difficult to appreciate the great saving that will thus be effected. To dispose of his chickens to-day the average farmer dresses them and delivers them to the local store in trade. The local store sends them into the city crated to a commission merchant who has his salesmen out through the city disposing of his stock as rapidly as they can. One of these men, who, by the way, have to be paid good salaries, sells the crate of half a dozen chickens to a butcher anywhere within a radius of three miles from the warehouse. This butcher has to have the crate sent to him by cart. Then the butcher, who, like the commission merchant, has a high rent to pay for his store, gradually sells the half-dozen to separate customers scattered within a mile of his store, to whom they must be delivered.

"Each of these transactions adds to the price that the consumer has to pay, while none of them more than pays each agent the cost of his work." The working of the system will be watched with interest.

Unlawful to Cross Bridge This Year.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 19.—When Niagara's next ice-bridge forms it will be against the law to cross upon it. Because of the ice-bridge tragedy of last winter, when Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Stanton, of Toronto, and Burrell Heacock, of Cleveland, lost their lives, the Commissioners of the state reservation have made it a misdemeanor to enter upon an ice-bridge on the American side, and the Queen Victoria Park Commission will take similar action to prevent people from entering upon the bridge from the Canadian shore.

ECONOMICAL.

His wife had been spending a week or two at the seaside with her own people, and Jonsmith had been living the lone and simple life. But there was a curious look of calm desperation in his eyes when his wife came back.

And presently his wife began to make discoveries. "Where is—?" she began. "Goodness! What have you done with my dresses? And what has happened to the lawn? What's that black patch in the centre? Why—?"

Jonsmith took a deep breath, then spoke bravely and manfully. "Julia," said he—"Julia, I starved for two days and then you wrote to say that the key of the pinny was in the pocket of your second best, tailor-made walking skirt—not the bolero of the morning—"

I said morning-skirt, and not the tailor made nor the— "It doesn't matter," Jonsmith interrupted wearily, and yet with a touch of savagery in his voice. "I don't know a tailor-made from a morning-skirt, nor a bolero from a fichu. So I just took the whole lot out on the lawn and burnt them. Then I found the key whilst raking among the ashes."

ENOUGH FOR HIM.

Housekeeper—How is this? You promised to saw some wood if I gave you a lunch.

Tramp—"I recall no such promise, Madam."

Housekeeper—"The idea! I told you distinctly I would give you a lunch if you'd saw that wood over there by the gate, and you agreed."

Tramp—Pardon me, madam, your exact words were 'I'll give you a lunch if you saw that wood over there by the gate.'

Housekeeper—"Exactly."

Tramp—"Well, madam, I saw that wood over there by the gate when I came in."

"Why, really, I've already had two; but it's so good I believe I will have another."

"He! he! Mother's a winner!" said little Frank excitedly: "she said she'd bet you'd make a pig of yourself."

ANOTHER DROP IN FLOUR

A St. John desatch says—Another decline in the price of flour took place yesterday, when Manitoba went down twenty-five cents. There was no change in the price of Ontario patents, but these went down a short time ago and there is still quite a difference in the quotations of each. The indications are said to be at present that flour will be one of the most reasonable staples upon the market this year.

Miss Betty Pickles in Halifax

Last night was guest night at the Ladies' Musical Club, and every seat was filled in the Assembly Hall of the School for the Blind. The programme was prepared under the initiative of Miss Kate Mackintosh, who brought an artist to the city specially for the occasion, says the Halifax Recorder.
The lady, Miss Betty Pickles, of Nictaux Falls, a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, gave an illustration of "Lyric action" in singing. Her paper was read by Miss Mackintosh, at the conclusion of which Miss Pickles rendered her songs according to the axioms of art laid down in her paper.
As therein stated, the singer gives full scope to the imagination and must completely discard all self-consciousness. To the singer last night the "Laddie O' Dreams" was a reality, as was the infant in the cradle in "Rocking in de Win." Among the other numbers given, the favorites were "Lavender for Ladies," which was sung in character, and dainty packets of lavender thrown among the audience. Another dainty thing was "Three Little Chestnuts." Miss Pickles has a gracious stage presence, and is of very charming personality.
The boy's appetite is often the source of amusement. It you would have such an appetite take Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only create a healthy appetite, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to do its work naturally. For sale by druggists and grocers.

Judgment in Stipendiary Patton's case.

The following is the gist of the decision given by Judge Meagher in the matter of the Application of Stipendiary Magistrate Patton to rescind a resolution of the Town Council reducing his salary. His Lordship, after going carefully into the law, decides that the Stipendiary Magistrate is not a Town Official within the meaning of the Section under which his Application was made, and dismisses the Application for that reason alone. The decision concludes as follows:
The applicant was not appointed by the town; nor has the town the slightest power over him as Stipendiary, he is an independent judicial officer; a public officer in no wise subject to the control or direction of the Council; it would be impossible if he were so subject.
Chapter 33 provides that Stipendiary Magistrates shall be appointed by the Governor-in-Council, shall hold office during good behavior, and shall be paid by the Town Council such annual salary as may be agreed upon, but not in any case less than $150.00. The only relation, therefore, filled by the Council towards the applicant under the law is that it is obliged by Statute to fix his annual salary at $150.00 or upwards, and that I am unable to regard as constituting him an officer of the town, and consequently I am not in a position to exercise the jurisdiction invoked.
Several affidavits were produced on both sides upon the subject of the alleged conduct of the applicant and the causes which induced the adoption of the resolution attacked.
The duties and responsibilities of the Stipendiary have been materially increased in recent years, and meantime there has been a very substantial increase in the cost of all the necessities of life, and in view of these, and the fact that the town has been receiving very considerable sums from the fees of the office of the Stipendiary, it would be but reasonable to expect his salary have been left untouched. Certainly one would not have looked for a reduction in the public interest, or as a matter of economy.
Moreover the reduction of the salary did not effect any saving of revenue, and I am quite persuaded the Council neither expected nor intended it should. The sum payable to the additional Stipendiary equals the reduction made in the applicant's stipend. It is, therefore, obvious the reduction was not made in the interests of economy.
Under the conditions produced by the action of the Council the Stipendiary has been doing about two-thirds of the work and the additional Stipendiary about one-third, and that not the most onerous. This cannot well be regarded as a fair distribution either as regards work or compensation.
In my opinion there is little or no room for doubting that the precedent attacked was prompted by a desire to get rid of the applicant because of alleged dissatisfaction with his decision in proceedings for breaches of the Canada Temperance Act. It was a colorable proceeding. With that end in view Councillor Kinney, a member of the Temperance Committee, appeared to be the mouth piece of the Council, and in the debate on the resolution his express desire was "to have a Stipendiary to try cases under the Canada Temperance Act, who was in sympathy with the cause of temperance." The person who would advocate the appointment of another Stipendiary for the reason he gave must possess a strangely constituted mind on the duties of judicial officers and the due administration of justice. The only qualification he seemed to think necessary, or, at any rate, the most material one, was sympathy with the temperance cause; a quality which would be liable to aid that cause regardless of what justice demanded. I say this because no other ground of complaint against the Stipendiary was put forward at all prominently. Mr. Kinney seemed to forget that the Stipendiary's oath of office obliged him to "do right to all manner of people after the laws of the province without fear, favor, or affection or ill-will." Under that oath sympathy with the temperance cause would be as much out of place in a stipendiary's mind as sympathy with those accused of breaches of The Canada Temperance Act or any other statute or rule of law; yet Mr. Kinney was ready to punish for the supposed existence of the latter while he sought to secure the possession of the former in the new incumbent. The language he used is all the more objectionable because the Council of which he was a member filled a position not far removed from that of prosecutor in the liquor case.
Temperance is, of course, a neces-

MEXICAN TOWN IN RUINS.

Earthquake Destroys Many Buildings, and Fifty-nine Bodies Recovered.
Mexico City, Nov. 22.—The town of Acambay, in the northern part of the State of Mexico, is practically in ruins as a result of the earthquake there on Tuesday. Fifty-nine bodies have been removed from the ruins of a church and other buildings. Many more are still buried in the wreckage.
The injured will number a hundred. Scarcely a house or public building is standing intact.
At various other places in the district reports tell of devastation and death.

Many virtues in all circumstances, and in all things; but justice is equally as necessary in human affairs; the latter, however, in the minds of extremists, when they see the inter-little moment. In the estimation of a good many so-called temperance people whose minds are either not well balanced, or whose moral instruction has been defective, temperance appears to be the only virtue worth upholding.
It will be an evil day for Nova Scotia, so far as the administration of justice is concerned, when the tenure even of Stipendiaries, not to speak of other judicial officers or their characters, depend upon the opinions of extremists and those who co-operate with them, as to the correctness of their decisions or the propriety of their behavior.
My experience in legal matters of nearly half a century confirms me in the belief that it is those who know the least about the facts or law of a given case, who talk most vehemently and comment most unsparingly upon the decision in it and are always the most ready to impute dishonesty of ignorance to the judicial officer or tribunal which gave it. Vulgar, noisy criticism, and but rarely it has any better quality, in nearly every instance proceeds from ignorance, audacity or empty-headedness and a vain desire to be deemed of importance in the community.
It is a matter for greater regret that even members of the Bar, who fail in their advocacy of a certain case of temperance involved, is of course or series of causes, are sometimes found adopting much the same line of conduct and lending their aid to bring the administration of justice into disrepute in order, perhaps, to account for the failure of the cause they supported or to retain the good opinion of those who co-operate with such employers. Such a course is an easy and convenient one, but it is very rarely a true or honest one, and still more rarely an honest or manly one in this Province.
The application must fail as a matter of law, but I shall not say anything on the subject of costs at this stage, because the statute is silent on that branch. Neither shall I refer further to the charges made against the applicant.

(Signed) N. H. MEAGHER, Nov. 11th, 1912.
Mr. Rufus Redden, Kentville, received word yesterday that his brother, Mr. James Redden, of Gasperau, had died suddenly at Wolfville. He was at the station ready to take the morning train to visit his daughter, Mrs. Fred Miner at Billtown. He shook hands with a friend ready to step on the train and fell down and soon expired. He leaves a large family.

Middleton

Middleton, Nov. 26th.—A very successful temperance mass meeting was held in the Baptist church on Sunday evening last after the regular service. About one half the congregation remained and was augmented by accessions from other churches. The Grand Division organizer, W. S. Saunders, was introduced by the pastor, Rev. S. S. Poole. The speaker in his address referred to the loss of the Titanic, the singing of "Nearer my God to Thee" as the huge vessel slowly sank, the warnings of danger all unheeded by the commander. He referred to the reception accorded to the warnings against alcohol. The Titanic went down carrying nearly a thousand to a watery grave, they went down, down but not without hope as they heard the notes of the solemn sublime dirge "Nearer my God to Thee." The world was horror-stricken as the terrible tidings were flashed hither and thither. Then the speaker invited comparison with the ravages of alcohol. Six hundred and eighty thousand lives per annum in the United States. He quoted the statement of the reverend gentleman in Annapolis Royal on a recent Saturday evening, who was advocating the formation of a Branch League of the Nova Scotia Society for the Care and Protection of Feeble minded Persons and said there was 1200 such in this province. Mr. Saunders then quoted from a paper, read before the American Medical Society for the study of alcohol and other narcotics last June, by T. Alexander MacNicholl, M.D., showing the relation between alcohol and insanity and feeble-mindedness. While not disparaging the movement to care for the feeble-minded, how incomparably greater the work of prevention to which the Sons of Temperance are devoted.
The speaker stated this evil to be a matter for national and international legislation. A matter for the Christian conscience of the world and only to be accomplished through a national and international organization such as the Sons of Temperance.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., Ltd.
Gentlemen—I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT on my vessel and in my family for years, and for the various ills and accidents of life I consider it has no equal.
I would not start on a voyage without it, if it cost a dollar a bottle.

The Late Dr. Jacques

The body of Dr. H. S. Jacques, whose death took place on Monday last, was taken to Kingston station yesterday on the early D.A.R. train, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Bustin, and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Campbell. The funeral took place on the arrival of the train, the interment being in the Presbyterian cemetery at Melvern Square. A very large number of the doctor's friends and acquaintances were in the cortege. Members of Aylesford Masonic lodge attended in a body, and the impressive Masonic burial service was conducted at the grave side, the Rev. Dr. Brown being the officiating minister. A number of beautiful floral offerings covered the casket. Sincere regret is felt by very many at the death of Dr. Jacques, whose kindly and sympathetic nature had been a source of comfort to hundreds of patients and others. With one of the largest practices in Halifax, Dr. Jacques was obliged, owing to illness, to largely forego his medical work a few years ago and seek rest in the country. Spending some time on his farm in the Annapolis Valley, he felt himself so far recovered as to warrant his return to the city, and while not desiring a busy practise he, for two or three years, found many patients anxious for his ministrations. In his earlier years Dr. Jacques was an enthusiastic member of the militia, holding the rank of captain in the 63rd Rifles.—Halifax Herald.

Montreal got seven and a half inches of snow on Monday night while a severe blizzard raged.

Kentville Advertiser.—The men employed on the construction works of the new North Mountain Railway, have reached Lakeville the last section of the road to be built this season, and are rushing the work to completion. An epidemic of colds among the men and horses has caused a depletion in the ranks. Mr. Sylvanus Whitney lost one of his valuable span of horses, the other is also sick.

Brooklyn, N.Y., had a million dollar fire on Monday night along its water front. The explosion of chemicals resulted in the serious injury of fifteen men while others are missing.
