BEGIANS LIFT THE CUP

Beat Trinity Hall, Argonauts' Conquerors, Without Much Effort.

Henley, July 5.—The crew representing the Club Nautique de Gand (Belgium) today defeated Trinity Hall, Cambridge, by three lengths, in the final for the Grand Challenge Cup. Time 7 minutes 9 seconds.

The half course was covered in 3.25. The cup thus leaves England for the first time in its history, and for the next 12 months will adorn the headquarters of the Belgian Rowing Club.

The ease with which the Belgians beat the crack British crew was a rather rough shock to the complacency of the home rowers and to the belief in the inviolable invincibility of their methods of rowing. Apart from a momentary advantage at the start, Trinity Hall was never in the race.

In the heat for the Victoria Cup, St. John's College, Oxford, was beaten by Jesus College, Cambridge, by two and a half lengths and Trinity Trinity beat Trinity Hall.

For the Ladies' Plate, First Trinity, Cambridge, beat New College, Oxford, by three-quarters of a length.

For the silver Goblets, Trinity Trinity, Cambridge, beat the Leander Boat Club by three lengths, in the final for the Grand Challenge Cup. Time 7 minutes 9 seconds.

The Don Rowing Club will hold one of their popular art and dance in the club house next Saturday evening.

A FRIEND HATH DONE THIS.

According to the judgment of Mr. Justice Mabee, the moral forces of Owen Sound that carried the local option bylaw, were incited and instigated by the virus of election brigandage.

By law, the ratepayers should have been allowed to vote in each ward in which they were qualified. The town clerk interpreted the law otherwise, showing that he was more of a town clerk than a lawyer. He proclaimed that voters must vote in the sub-divisions in which they reside. And the judgment said, "He was a friend of the bylaw."

The abominable friendship of the town clerk resulted in 257 ratepayers, who by law were entitled to 573 votes, casting only 257 votes. If it were a political contest, this deprivation would be characterized as "the theft of 316 votes."

Ignorance of the law will not allow the friendly town clerk to escape censure. Further, the judge said that the very many omissions and irregularities appearing in connection with the vote leads to the irresistible conclusion that officials were selected without regard to fitness. That 316 votes against the bylaw were thrown out, which should have been counted, and that 100 illegal votes were recorded, prove that a fair test of public opinion was denied.

It is unfortunate that this state of affairs existed. A moral crusade cannot afford to be tainted with even the semblance of irregular practices. In this case, the taint was glaring, and that the friends of local option could wish to profit by such specious methods passes comprehension. The local option law is a good law, but no law is worth the paper it is written on if it is not backed by honest public opinion.

It was the duty of the moral forces of Owen Sound to see that an honest vote was obtained; that they did not, adds no honor to them, and grieves their friends throughout Ontario. How often have the champions of a good cause to exclaim, "Deliver us from our friends!"

JOHN BURNS ON PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

John Burns, Labor member of the House of Commons and president of the British local government board, attended in his official capacity the opening of a new and large municipal electric lighting station at Brighton. Like the vast majority of British working men he was and is a firm believer in the virtue and benefit of public ownership.

In his speech at the occasion, which, at his express desire, was not provided at the ratepayers' expense, and in reply to the toast of his department, he referred to the extent of its duties, which included the supervision of more than 25,000 local authorities and the expenditure of $500,000,000 of the ratepayers' money. Incidentally he gave it as his opinion that the "at times the pessimist might howl, the despondent might grumble and the niggardly and economical complain that he did not get value for his money, the solid and substantial fact remained that in this country we had municipally the best-governed people in the world; we had from the point of view of the probity of our civil service and the efficiency of our staff, speaking broadly and generally, the most disinterested group of municipal councillors that could be found anywhere in the world."

This is high praise coming from a minister cognizant of the inside working of British local authorities, but it has been repeatedly confirmed by the judgment of independent observers who are practically unanimous in attributing the success of municipal ownership and operation of public services in Great Britain to the excellent personnel of the town councils and the business ability brought to bear upon public business.

Speaking later at the ceremony of inauguration Mr. Burns advised the Brighton Corporation not to mind a deficit for a year or two or take notice of the critics who would no doubt be heard suggesting that the undertaking should be handed over to a company if they did not make a profit at once.

"Probably," he said, "if the identity of those critics was disclosed it would be found that they would form themselves into an anonymous syndicate and be prepared to buy the undertaking, but the council should not listen to them for a moment. The concern was worth a good deal more than they had sunk in it and there were many far-sighted men in London, who came to Brighton to live, who would be pleased to see them sell for £300,000 more than they had spent."

He advised them not to listen to any such proposals, but to stick to that heritage into which they had come, feeling convinced that it would be a great success.

The Brighton electric lighting undertaking has now been in existence for 14 years. During that time the number of consumers has increased from 213 to 4500 and the lamps connected with it from 11,000 to 300,000. The annual output has increased from 156,000 units to 8,000,000 units, the capital invested from $265,000 to $3,500,000 and the revenue from $23,000 to $455,000. The undertaking from the start has been entirely self-supporting and at no time has cost the ratepayers anything. The sum of $650,000 has been paid in respect of the sinking fund; the rates have been relieved to the extent of $71,000 out of profits and the reserve fund is now over $100,000. All this has been done while the average price charged was being steadily reduced. Starting in 1892 at 14 cents per unit—last year it was five cents. The new generating station erected at a cost of $1,750,000 has been rendered necessary by the growth of the business and is believed to be capable of meeting all possible requirements.

In his defence of municipal enterprises of this class Mr. Burns offered some valuable criticism on the complaints made by municipal ownership opponents regarding the increase of what they call the public debt. "When a company," he said, "asks the public for money, the capitalists call it capital, but when a municipality does the same thing they label it debt. Why should that be? There is no distinction between the two. They are both devoted to the same purpose, but in the case of company capital, of money taken from the public for enterprises of this kind, a few men get a relatively large profit out of catering for a municipality in a region in which municipalities are capable of acting for themselves. A company makes large profits its business, but a municipality makes a small profit out of low prices for public services for the benefit of the ratepayers. The capitalists say, this is not carried out on business principles and is not according to the best dictates of private enterprises. But what does it matter to the ratepayer if he gets a small profit on his undertaking as a whole and gets it out of lower prices for the commodity which the municipality supplies to him. The ratepayer gets it every way. He gets a small profit for the common good and he gets it by the best way; that is, by extending the area of the use of the electric light, which is the chief consideration of the lighting committee."

This is the situation in a nutshell and the remarks of the president of the local government board should be carefully considered by all Canadian ratepayers.

TORONTO IN LINE.

Mayor Coatsworth has named Toronto's representatives to attend the convention of the Western Union of Municipalities, at Galt on July 24 and 25. He has also put the city on record as asking the government, in conformity with recent legislation, to furnish an estimate of the cost of transmitting and distributing power here.

All he has done has been done with the intention of showing interested municipalities that Toronto desires to profit by the government's power policy and to support a united effort to hasten the day of cheaper power.

While it would have been quite within the dignity of the mayor to have nominated himself as one of Toronto's representatives, yet the press of executive duties may be pleaded for his reluctance, when it is known that he is an ardent supporter of the policy and plans of the power commission.

His nominees will be spokesmen for him, and Toronto may rest reasonably sure that her interests will be taken care of by Messrs. Shaw, Noble and Keeler. Yes! it would have been a graceful tribute to his own sincerity and the earnestness of western municipalities had he chosen to be in Galt in person.

Toronto's interest is one with that of the Western Union of Municipalities, and what will benefit them will benefit her. She appreciates that in union there is strength, and that only a united stand will crown the power campaign with success. In this she is a shining example for Galt and any other municipality that may have been or may be benefited by the electrical combine.

THE PENSIONERS' PROTEST.

Sir Adolphe Caron, for himself and his co-pensioners, has addressed a protest to the governor-general-in-council against the proposed repeal of the clause conferring pensions on ex-ministers. The ground of the protest is the familiar one of vested right, an interference with which is maintained to be a breach of faith on the part of parliament.

For the present government at least it will scarcely be possible to plead that the pensions granted by the act of last year were purely gratuitous and subject to revision or recall. It has employed the argument of vested interests on cases of surrender of public rights indistinguishable in point of principle from that of Sir Adolphe Caron and his brother pensioners. A ministry whose spokesmen approves of saddling the people with liability to pay dividends on watered stocks is not in the best position to cancel grants of public money to recipients, many of whom neither needed it nor had earned it.

This has been an unfortunate session for Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues. Their chickens are coming home to roost and they are finding it increasingly difficult to conciliate the contending sections of their heterogeneous party. The difficulties in which they are involved are bringing them into strange places where they can neither go forward nor backward without risking popularity and loss of prestige which, with them bulks far more considerably than honor and reputation. The present is the author of the settlement—he is a great phrase-maker—that the twentieth century is Canada's. If it is to be justified some higher standard of administration must be adopted by those responsible for the administration of the Dominion.

ROBUSTEVNSKY'S CHIVALRY.

Even more tragic than the story of the forlorn hope Admiral Robustevnsky led from the Baltic to the straits of Tushima, was his appearance before the court-martial appointed to try his surviving officers for surrendering the gunboat Bedovi to the enemy. In an heroic effort to save them from the consequences of an act prompted by affection for their wounded commander, he accepted the whole responsibility and asked that he alone be subjected to the death penalty imposed on an officer who struck the Russian flag to a hostile vessel. His attitude cannot but be deeply sympathetic which had been freely extended to him when the circumstances attending his ill-fated expedition become more fully known.

That the duty imposed upon him was an impossible one, at least for the nondescript and wretchedly manned and equipped fleet supplied to him, can hardly be denied. Its inadequacy must have been realized by no one better than himself, and despite his unfortunate encounter with the Hull fishing fleet, the fact that the admiral actually pursued his voyage to the bitter end, and made at the last a show of fight, however ineffectual, spoke volumes for his own ability and personal courage. Admiral Robustevnsky has now displayed the chivalry of a true seaman, and it is hardly conceivable that his self-immolation as a victim of departmental corruption will or could be accepted. There lies the ultimate responsibility, and if a scapegoat is needed it should be found elsewhere.

Justice Mabee has given knock-out drops to the local option bylaw in Owen Sound.

It was not like that in the olden days, says Ned Hanlan, several times champion oarsman of the world.

Is it possible that the Lord's Day bill has overlooked animal Sunday? What about fish and fowl Sunday?

Would it be too much to ask Hon. Adam Beck to send a marked copy of the hydro-electric power commission report to Mayor Coatsworth?

THE OTHER SIDE.

Editor World: My attention has been called to the letter of "Brant Policyholder" in your issue of yesterday, in which he has so grossly misrepresented the facts about his policy in the Ontario Mutual (now the Mutual Life of Canada) that I beg leave to be permitted to reply thru your columns.

He states (1) that no less than six different years he received no dividend at all; (2) that in the other years the dividends ranged from 25 cents at the lowest point to four dollars and ten cents at the highest; (3) that the total amount of dividends he received in 26 years was $24.68, a policy of $2000; (4) that this is due to "robbery" on our part; and (5) that we maintain a reserve for new business.

I have before me a statement of a policy similar in all respects to that of "Brant Policyholder" and the facts and particulars of which are as follows:

1. The gross premiums paid in 26 years were $1,597 44

2. The total amount of dividends was $24.68

3. The net amount of premiums was 1,150 21

4. The average net annual premium for the policy was $44.27

5. The present surrender value of the policy is $13 62

6. If the policy were surrendered for its cash value the net cost of 26 years' insurance for $2000, from ages 41 to 67, would have been $1150 21—$1312.62, or 236 63

7. Or $45.8 per annum for 2600; or $45.4 for 1000.

8. The dividends were paid annually in reduction of premiums. The first was $2.29, paid in 1883; the last was $24.98 for the current year (being 46 per cent. of the annual premium).

9. The company paid a dividend every year, without exception, and the total amount for the 26 years is, as above stated, $447.23, instead of only $24.68, as your correspondent asserts.

If policyholders are being "robbed," no evidence of the fact has so far come to light, but "Brant Policyholder" is sincere in believing that the dividend record as given in his letter is correct, and he feels the charge to be true in his case.

He turns up his renewal receipts, on which the dividends from year to year are plainly stated, when he will find that instead of the dividends being a few cents in each of the years 1902-6, as stated in his letter, they were $24.61, $24.25, $24.48, $24.73 and $24.98, respectively, and that relatively large dividends were paid in all the previous years since.

WORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS WATER SUPPLY FOR JUNCTION

Negotiations Will Be Open for Supply From Artesian Wells 20 Miles Distant.

Toronto Junction, July 5.—The town council met to-night and received a petition from the residents of Pacific-avenue asking the council to prevent the completion of a two-story iron-clad building being erected by the Bait Lumber Co. The council recalled the permit and the work will be stopped for a week. A motion by Councillor Baird that the cement sidewalk be laid on the local improvement plan, the owners to pay one-half the cost, was voted by 4 to 2. A motion was carried that negotiations be opened with a company for a supply of pure water from artesian wells, a distance of 20 miles north of the town. The mayor, Councillors Haines, Bull and Baird were appointed delegates to the annual meeting of the A.A. Association of Ontario Municipalities at the city hall, Toronto, on Aug. 28, 29 and 30.

The Toronto Junction Gun Clubs held its annual meeting to-night and the following officers were elected: President, F. Ellis; vice-president, W. Wakefield; secretary, J. G. Wright; official scorer, W. Speers; field captain, J. Handy; executive committee, F. Wakefield, F. Ellis, D. J. Taylor and C. W. Wakefield; first home, B. Gilbert; second home, J. Death, Dr. Godfrey was called, and found him suffering from shock and internal injuries.

North Toronto.

Engineer Gibson handed in his report re laying sidewalks on different streets. The matter of a brick wall on Glen Road, near the bridge, the engineer reported unfavorably, as in his estimation the brick wall would injure the trees and injure the brick wall. He recommends a plank walk; also a tar and gravel walk for Hawthorne-street, East Street, Crescent and Shelldrake-avenue, Davison-avenue, south side, and Eglinton-avenue, east.

Miss Lottie Klinek of Yonge-street and Sherwood-avenue is making a trip to the Northwest.

The Sunday School of Christ Church, Deek Park, held their annual picnic on Monday last.

On Wednesday evening the pupils of Miss L. G. Pugsley gave a piano recital at the town hall, which was of a high order, and was well patronized, especially as the collection, which amounted to $14, went in aid of the Sick Children's Hospital. Dr. Jeffs occupied the chair acceptably. Those who took part in the entertainment were: Councillor W. J. Lawrence, Messrs. Fred McLachlan, Ernest Brown, Howard Jeffs, Misses Gertrude and L. Perry, Edna Atkinson, Vera Rundle, Marguerite Armstrong, Ruby Pugsley, Annie Quinton, Lillian Armstrong, Essie Pugsley, Myrtle Armstrong, Beattie Spruce, Edna Irish, Ada Calhoun, Jean Shaver, and Edna Bevan.

The resignation of Miss E. M. Henderson was considered. Inspector Fotheringham, Principal Moore and Miss Moore took part in the discussion. Miss Henderson resigned because she and the principal couldn't get along. The principal said that her June (1905) examination was a failure and the last examination was not a success. Miss Henderson stated that in the last year there were four changes in the room on account of overcrowding, and that she was handicapped. The resignation was accepted.

Contracts for school repairs went to Fish & Ramsay for $185, and Paxton got the contract of concreting Davison-avenue school pavement for $130.

Civic Holiday at Bond Lake.

Editor World: I had my attention drawn to the heading of a letter in the columns of your paper of the 4th inst., regarding overcrowding at Metropolitan Bond Lake.

Bond Lake, July 5.—(Special.)—One of the largest and most enjoyable picnics ever held at the lake was that of the city and Newmarket staffs of the Office Specialty Co. this afternoon. More than 1000 of the employees and their friends were present, and under an efficient games and music committee, everything passed off most enjoyably. Music was furnished by the Newmarket band and an orchestra provided for dancing. Luncheon was served during the afternoon. Every athletic event was keenly contested and for these prizes were donated. Gustave Erbe, general manager, J. F. Wildman, manager, R. F. Schmidt, superintendent, and J. D. Colie, chairman, were indistinguishable in promoting the comfort of the party.

Young Woman Acquitted of Man Killing Arrested Again.

Montreal, July 5.—(Special.)—Miss Tracy, nee Eva Beard, who was acquitted last evening at Sweetsburg by the coroner's jury of the charge of murdering Howard, is once more under arrest. At the inquest Eva Beard, the admitted slayer of Howard, gave her age as 26. She was alone in her home with her two children when Howard came in, she said, and he asked where her husband was. She told him Ed was in the glen washing the wagon. Howard looked thru the window and said "Ed is coming." She went to the window to look out, when Howard grabbed her. When Howard rushed at her with open arms, she grabbed the first thing to hand, which was the gun. She told him that unless he got out she would tell Ed, and when he came towards her again she leveled the gun and fired. When he fell she ran to Mrs. Gleason's. She declared she had married Ed Tracy at Richmond, Vt., five years ago, but knew that he had another wife living. She had a marriage certificate. She knew the deceased, and declared that he had previously tried to assault Nancy Whitehead, Emma Beard and Floyd Wood.

NEGRO BOY TO HANG.

Youth of 17 Convicted of Criminal Assault on White Women.

Baltimore, Md., July 5.—Wm. Lee, a colored youth of 17 years, was tried in the circuit court here to-day and sentenced to hang in Somerset County for criminal assault on two white women six weeks ago. He confessed his crime.

Lee fled to Virginia and was brought here to escape the vengeance of a mob which had assembled in Somerset County. The feeling in that county continues to be such that it was deemed unsafe by the authorities to take him there to be tried, and for that reason the trial took place in this city. He will be taken to Somerset County to be executed.

Bugle-Major Swift and the Q.O.R. buglers entertained Mr. Fleury, who to-day continued to meet the members of the Bedfordshire men. On Tuesday evening he will be presented at the regular meeting of the veterans and will be enrolled as a member.

WOMAN'S WORK.

Cautious for the River. Cushions are an absolute essential to comfort on the river. The newest and most attractive are those of linen adorned with an applique border of flowered cretonne. A good bold design is selected, and the pattern of roses, trails of lilies or chrysanthemums—as the case may be—is cut round, leaving a spare quarter of an inch of material at the edge. The design is then basted on to the cushions square, and button-holed all round so as to bind the raw edge of the cretonne. Washing silk or cotton with a silk finish is usually employed for this purpose, while the interstices between the flowers are frequently ornamented in addition with embroidered dots.

Some very pretty cushions for the electric launch were made of dark green linen, the border piped with pink, while a design of pink roses, in cretonne was applique in festoons across the pillows. Some were round, while others were square and oblong, the former taking the form either of festoons, wreaths or single detached bunches of the blossoms with their foliage.

Another very pretty effect was gained in the case of a set of butcher blue linen punt cushions and pillows, which were ornamented with a scroll-work design in blue of a lighter shade, carried out in cretonne, the monogram of the owner being embroidered in the corner of each, while others in red were successfully adorned with an artistic border of pink and white may, outlined with button-holing in a dark shade of pink.

Perhaps the prettiest cushions are those covered with squares of linen slit at intervals to permit of the introduction of a broad band of ribbon, which design in blue of a lighter shade, carried out in cretonne, the monogram of the owner being embroidered in the corner of each, while others in red were successfully adorned with an artistic border of pink and white may, outlined with button-holing in a dark shade of pink.

Talks on Hygiene.

One of the necessities of perfect health is that the skin perform its duties properly, and to do this the pores must be kept active and vigorous. The pores of the skin are very important avenues in eliminating the impurities in the blood, caused by improper diet, over-feeding or lack of exercise. When these impurities accumulate too rapidly for the skin to throw them off, the natural result is the appearance of blotches, blackheads, pimples, etc.

Consequently, it will be seen at once that the first thing necessary to a perfect complexion—that is, a skin smooth, fresh and of good color, and free from discolorations or monograms of the owner being embroidered in the corner of each, while others in red were successfully adorned with an artistic border of pink and white may, outlined with button-holing in a dark shade of pink.

Dress Embroideries.

The latest eccentricity in the world of dress is represented by the fruit and broderies which have, to a certain extent, taken the place of flowers. Garlands of strawberries and leaves with straggling tendrils are a favorite design, and these would be carried out on silk or satin, or on a material of the same tone as that of the material.

With coats and skirts of coarse colored linen, adorned with Japanese embroidery in several shades of blue, make a very effective combination. It is a no-nonsense embroidery, and nowadays, and old Byzantine and Greek designs, as well as the "Venetian" and "Florentine" patterns, are almost equally in evidence.

Sandals for Children.

Nothing is better for children's wear, especially in the hot weather, than the little leather sandals now procurable at any shoe store. They are cool and comfortable, and are not cramped nor do they distort. They may be worn with or without hose, as desired. In choosing the style choose those with the little upper that is set well on the sole, rather than those which are tightly drawn, as the latter is likely to draw the toes upward.

ANYTHING TO COMPLAIN OF?

If So, Why Not Add Your Grievances to Those Below?

The neglect of the waterfront by the civic street cleaning department is being complained of again by steamboat men. In the winter season of the wintering boats it is infrequent, but the rainfalls have been generous, there have not been this year conditions so annoying as those of last year. However, there is room for improvement in the opinion of marine men.

Another complaint of a different sort is leveled against the crossing at the foot of Bay-street. The roadway in wet weather becomes a fair inferno, and the crossing at the best is barely passable to even those who are not ultra-fastidious about their footwear. The ferry plying across the Bay-street crossing, preferring, despite the annoyance, to go that way rather than the round about one.

60,000 Touring Women.

It is estimated that of the hosts of American tourists who will pass this London during the summer, about 60,000 will be women, says The London Express.

The great feature of the ladies' contingent is that each member of it is exactly like the other. It is, indeed, almost safe to say that every one of them will be wearing a tailor-cut cloth skirt, a white shirtwaist, a felt hat, a green gauze veil, and a leather waistbelt.

Day or night, whether you meet these ladies at Earl's Court or St. Paul's Cathedral, they are all the same, and this opens up the question as to what the traveling trousseaux of these American ladies consist of.

Careful enquiries in this direction were made by a representative of The Express, with the result that it must be said that these ladies that they have for ever "busted" to use their own phrase—the superstition that no woman can wear a hat, and a baker's dozen of Saratoga trunks.

FRENZIED SON SHOTS FATHER

Then Pummels His Head With Butt of Revolver.

New York, July 5.—In a dispute over money matters in the doorway of the apartment house which he owns in West Chester-avenue, Richard Hodgson, aged 55 years, a wealthy real estate owner of the Bronx, last night was shot and beaten by his son Frederick. The son, who is 25 years old, turned on his father after he had shot him in the head and beat him furiously with the butt end of the revolver.

When two policemen arrived young Hodgson turned the weapon on them and fired four shots. His aim was poor and after a short struggle he was subdued.

Several months ago the father started the young man in business as a produce dealer, but he failed. Since that time he had been continually begging his father for some money to resume business.

SCHOONER SINKS; FOUR DIE

Captain Only Survivor—Struck Ledge in Storm.

Machias, Me., July 5.—The loss of four men and of the three-masted schooner Eliza G. Ellis of Rockport, Me., was reported in a message sent here to-day by Capt. W. A. Breen, the schooner's only survivor. The schooner was wrecked late yesterday on Libby Island, in Machias Bay, while bound from New Bedford, Mass., to Windsor, N. S. The dead: E. Brown, St. John, N. B. mate; W. Dupclais, steward; C. Johnson, seaman; unknown seaman.

Capt. Breen while clinging to wreckage was thrown upon the rocks and rescued by life-savers.

Seeking shelter from a heavy wind and rainstorm Capt. Breen had headed into Machias Bay. He misjudged his position and ran too near Libby Island.

The schooner struck the submerged ledge, her hull was pierced and she began to break up. The captain and crew, fearing to launch their boat in the terrible sea, went aboard on a large section of the stern of the vessel.

This was thrown against the rocks on shore and all except the captain were swept back by the undertow and drowned.

PURIFYING SCOTCH.

British House of Commons Modernize Old Laws.

"Ridaris and gangaris thron contris" engaged the serious attention of the house, says The London Express. This and many other quaint and curious phrases lie in the path of legislation, but the house decided in its debate on the Statute Law Revision (Scotland) Bill to smooth out much of this picturesque language into plain English.

The lord advocate of Scotland took the house back to the days when the Highlanders hated the Sassanachs.

Reinforced Concrete Will Play Part in the New City.

Montreal, July 5.—The rapidity with which the people of San Francisco are reinvesting their millions in the reconstruction of the fire devastated city proves that neither holocaust nor earthquake can shake their confidence in the future of the metropolis of the Pacific coast.

But the disaster has taught San Francisco a lesson, the value of which will be demonstrated in the rebuilding. In fact, it has taught the whole world a lesson on the value of certain building materials which would answer the requirements in reconstructing the destroyed city. Among these were Frank B. Gilbreth, second vice-president of the Dominion Engineering & Construction Co. of this city, who passed thru here on his way to New York after spending a month in San Francisco.

It was declared that the spirit exhibited in the western city was the most remarkable he had ever seen.

"Every body," said he, "is possessed with one idea, and that is to get the new city up as quickly as possible and make it bigger and more progressive than it was before. Now the general public does not know much about reinforced concrete, but the people of San Francisco do nothing but talk concrete, and they are learning that its use will ensure by far the best type of building for them. I said after the disaster that the new city would be a city of reinforced concrete, and my prediction is coming true. The manner in which architects and engineers are advocating its use is proof of this. One year ago, in the next season of the world, every structure in its streets will be of reinforced concrete, and my prediction is coming true. The willingness of property owners to invest their money in buildings of reinforced concrete is the best proof of its effectiveness.

Lesson to Be Learned.

"The entire country will learn a great deal from the rebuilding of San Francisco. The building of reinforced concrete of the big plant for the American Tobacco Company in this city is a result of the disaster. Progressive concerns like the Tobacco Company all over the land will insist on reinforced concrete construction, and they are learning that its use will ensure by far the best type of building for them. THE NEW NORMAL SCHOOLS. Kingston is to Have One—Plans Are Elaborated.

Nothing was decided at the meeting of the cabinet yesterday regarding the normal schools, Hon. R. A. Pyne having been occupied most of the day with his duties as registrar to the Ontario Medical Council.

It has transpired, however, that in addition to Hamilton, Kingston is pretty certain to have one of the new structures. The present normal schools accommodate about 200 each, and the new buildings, which will be about the size of the Parkdale Collegiate Institute, will be arranged for 150 each. They will cost $50,000 apiece, the first grant of $100,000 being sufficient to carry on the work for the four which is proposed to build this year, until the next session of the legislature, when a further grant of $200,000 will be made. The plans under consideration are very complete and modern, and include manual training, domestic science, and art departments, a gymnasium, a large central hall, amphitheatre, lavatories, etc.

Not all of the county model schools will be superseded, some in the northern and weaker counties. It is stated, being necessary under the conditions of those districts.

The abolition of the normal college will be compensated for by the department of education, which was strongly recommended in the report of the university commission, and which will almost certainly be established by the new board of governors. A chair of pedagogy will be at the head of the new department. The course of training in the normal schools will be extended from six months to one year, from September to June. Teachers will be trained in their academic work, and will be far more thoroughly equipped than at present.

Great Praise for the Grand Trunk. The Muskoka cottagers and summer visitors to the Highlands of Ontario appreciate the service being rendered by the Grand Trunk, judging by the expressions of opinion heard. The train leaving at 11 a.m. daily, except Sunday, has two of the best cars ever run on a train in Canada; they are buffet parlor cars, seating twenty-nine people, and are manned by elegant waiters. The buffet arrangements being the latest production of the car builder's art.

In addition to this service, there is a midnight special to Muskoka Wharf, Pullman sleeper being open for occupancy at 10 p.m., leaving at 2:35 a.m., noiselessly running to Muskoka Wharf, where connections are made for all points on the lakes. Returning this train arrives in Toronto at 11:45 p.m. For tickets and full information call on C. E. Horning, city ticket office, northwest corner King and Yonge-streets.

SURFACE WORK ON THE NIPISSING HAS CLEARED UP OVER A MILLION

Open-Cutting Only Has Been Done, But Rewards Are Rich—Has Helped to Advertise Cobalt Among the Financial Interests in New York.

Cobalt, July 5.—(Staff Special.)—World readers were recently told of a visit to the camp of the members of the Toronto Stock Exchange and the probable results of that visit. The history of many Canadian mining camps has hitherto frequently been unpleasant reading for Canadian investors.

The visit referred to was made in the month of June, 1906. In the fall of 1904 E. P. Earle and his associates came to Cobalt and invested several hundred thousand dollars in mining property.

A fine romance attaches to the advent of this syndicate from across the border. Indirectly Temagami is responsible for Mr. Earle's association with Cobalt.

The blacksmith, La Rosa, and Messrs. McKinley and Darragh had made the discoveries some thirty miles north of Temagami, but this fact was not widely known. Communication was not easy in those days.

A syndicate was formed, and the celebrated Nipissing Mining Company came into existence. Associated with Mr. Earle were Capt. J. R. Delamar, Ed. Thompson and Joseph Wharton.

Work continues in all directions. At the Green claim active development is going on, and by error Mr. Nesbitt of Toronto was credited in a former Coalt letter with being interested in this important part of the property.

The methods of mining so far employed has been open cutting entirely. The veins have been traced down to the surface in open cuts. No attempt at systematic development is claimed by the superintendent, as it has been deemed advisable to keep the veins as many as possible and learn as much as possible about the conditions controlling the mineralization before commencing to develop upon large scale upon systematic lines.

Working yesterday for the first time, the superintendent expresses himself as highly pleased with the results. Over 150 men are at work, and as soon as the new caverns are completed some 250 men will be employed. Sleeping camps, dining-hall, offices, all of latest and most approved design are being erected. A small village is springing up around Superintendent Linney's handsome private residence. Nearly fifty ore shipments have been made from the Nipissing, and some have been very valuable.

steady ore shipments are being made. To-day there is more excitement over Cobalt in New York than there is in Toronto. The Nipissing Mines Company has been highly instrumental in some of the financial circles of the United States.

The Nipissing has also introduced to the camp Prof. William E. Hadden, one of America's most distinguished mineralogists and geologists. These professors have received recognition in the old world and in the new, and is a fellow of the Geological Society of London.

The condition of "discovery and inspection" is held by some in camp to be unfavorable to the prospect. This idea prevailed at the Haileybury, Liskeard and Latchford meetings, but at the largest attended meeting held at Cobalt, discovery and inspection were insisted on by the delegates who are to visit the premises on Friday.

Among the Canadians largely interested in this company are Messrs. Duncan Coulson and David Fasken of Toronto. It is no longer a close corporation, having been stocked at $6,000,000, and its shares (par value $5) are on sale on New York curb and the Canadian market has been largely subscribed.

Prof. Boyd of Columbia has been here and thinks this a most wonderful camp. An emissary of Schwab, Donald Gillies, formerly the manager of the Tonopah Extension Mine, and interests came here recently for Charles M. Schwab. Since going out he has written to a friend here and says: "You have one of the most remarkable finds for their richness, and the camp appears to have a GREAT FUTURE."

Mr. Schwab accompanied by his brother-in-law, Dr. R. Ward, will be in Cobalt in the course of a few weeks. Frederick R. Weekes is another eminent man who has recently gone out of the camp, and is delighted with all that he saw. He is one of the experts employed by the Guggenheimer & Co. of New York.

Mr. Phillips of Parry Sound has bought the McCrear property in the town of Newell, near Lake. He is said to have paid $35,000. A syndicate of Winnipeg and Toronto investors has bought the northern quarter of lot 4, a tract of 117 acres on this property three feet from the surface. An old-time miner from Parry Sound, John H. O'Neill, who is the new owner, he put in what he termed a pop shot, and got the stuff. An assay showed 65.1-2 ounces silver native silver, and he passed the claim. The gentleman interested are Messrs. John R. Brodie and William Law, A. J. Bell and John P. Lennox, W. A. J. Lennox.

Messrs. Smith, Armstrong and Frost are credited with the sale of their claim on Ontario River. They were stripping and discovered a four-inch vein calcite, bloom, mispickel.

Work continues in all directions. At the Green claim active development is going on, and by error Mr. Nesbitt of Toronto was credited in a former Coalt letter with being interested in this important part of the property.

M. L. Foley of Winnipeg, acting for a company recently formed in his city, is operating in Bucke, and also on the Quebec side in the Township of Forbe and County of Pontiac. Mr. Foley and County of Pontiac. Mr. Foley and County of Pontiac.

Mr. Foley is one of the men who confidently look for a rich gold discovery further north. In most camps the low grade ore is a big feature. It has not no figures hitherto in Cobalt. Huge dumps of low grade ore are seen at all the mines, which should be treated, the laws of Economic methods of milling the ore, which have mineral enrichment.

Or shipments are being made from the Nipissing, and some have been very valuable. Ten carloads shipped last fall netted over $100,000. Four hundred thousand dollars has been paid out in dividends; $600,000 is in the treasury and ders (why he limited the number to six is hard to say), and another speaker volunteered to go to jail or even shed his life blood if necessary to secure an amelioration of existing evils.

Mr. Mackay has been a consistent fighter for the principle that a man's willingness to expend either money or labor should be the test as to whether he should (providing he has been the first to stake) be granted the right to work a claim.

PROVINCIAL HEALTH BOARD SOON TO BE RECONSTRUCTED

Government Intends to Put it on a More Modern Business Basis.

The provincial board of health, which concluded its sittings yesterday, was instituted in 1882, the members being William Oldright, M.A., M.D., Charles W. Cornerston, M.D., Horace P. Yeomans, B.A., M.D., Peterboro; Francis Rae, M.D., Oshawa; J. J. Cassidy, M.D., John Galbraith, M.A., C.E., Peter H. Bryce, M.A., M.B., secretary.

Only two of these survive on the present board. Drs. Oldright and Cassidy. The recent deaths of Dr. W. J. Douglas (Cobourg) and Alex. Thompson (Strathroy) leave the board in a state of transition.

Practical delay now results from the practice of holding over municipal corporations for sewerage, waterworks and other projects for the approval of the board would have executive power in dealing with all such matters. They would have the benefit of the advice of a council of medical men who would be called together except in cases of the gravest importance.

LOCAL OPTION QUASHED BUT TOWN WILL STAY TRY

Pending Appeal of Owen Sound Against Judgment, No Licenses Will Issue.

The local option vote in Owen Sound has been quashed. Judge Mabee yesterday administered the knockout in granting the application of W. H. Sinclair of Owen Sound on the ground of lobbying and other irregularities. The costs are to be paid by the town.

Judge Mabee declares that the irregularities plainly existed, and that the local option carried by 1238 against 762, his lordship holds that the illegal acts must be taken cognizance of. The town clerk had contended that a bylaw passed in 1898 had abolished the ward system, and prevented ratepayers voting in each ward in which they held property. With this the judge disagrees. There were 316 votes against the measure, which were thus thrown out which should have been counted, while 100 voted for the bylaw, who should not have voted. The majority is thus reduced to 90.

The proclamation issued by the town clerk stated that the voters must poll in the sub-divisions in which they resided, and called attention to the statutory penalty for voting more than once.

"The clerk," the judgment continues, "had no authority to give this kind of notice. He was a friend of the by-law."

The judge also states that very many omissions and irregularities appeared in connection with the vote, leading to the irresistible conclusion that officials were selected without regard to fitness.

"It appears that some at least who had no votes not only voted, but were very energetic supporting the law," says the judge.

Practically a threat of prosecution was held over the heads of the voters, said the judgment.

Officials in charge of the voting are also accused of gross negligence. Mayor Joyce, Owen Sound, wired the license department yesterday that the local option bylaw had been quashed and requested that no licenses be issued in the town pending the result of an appeal against the decision. The department telegraphed the chairman of the commissioners of North Grey saying that no licenses are to be issued until the appeal is disposed of.

PICKETS ATTACK GUARDS.

One Man Mortally Wounded in New York Labor Fight.

New York, July 5.—In a fight to-day between a number of striking truck drivers and two guards employed by Bruok & Schulman, against which a strike was declared, one of the strikers was wounded, perhaps mortally, another slightly hurt and one of the guards painfully injured. To-day six pickets attacked the two guards, one of whom pulled a pistol and shot one of the strikers near the heart, inflicting probably a mortal wound. One of the guards was stabbed and a second striker suffered a broken nose in the melee.

SMOKE LAW ENFORCEMENT NO SUMMARY PROSECUTION

Commissioner Harris Will Exercise Judgment—The James St. Extension.

There was another discussion upon the proposed extension of James-street before the board of control yesterday. The works committee had favored a 105 foot street. Controller Hubbard moved that the report be amended so as to reduce the width of the street to 66 feet. He was supported by Controllers Jones and Ward, while the mayor and Controller Shaw opposed it. The council will deal with the matter on Monday.

This morning the controllers will talk again of the commissioner of industries and publicity. It is said that Fred Dane would not take it at the salary offered. A new name mentioned is that of Joseph E. Thompson of the treasurer's department. Mayor Coatsworth did not care to discuss the matter last night, but he feels that it will be disposed of as far as the board of control is concerned, to-day.

Went's Prosecute. The smoke nuisance was broached at the meeting of the property committee yesterday afternoon by Aid. Church, who wanted more than one inspector. Commissioner Harris, who has recently returned from a smoke convention, told how much it depended upon the firemen to abate the nuisance, and the different ways of containing smoke. Aid. Church wanted the bylaw enforced after Sept. 15, but Aid. McMurrich and McBride advised leaving it in the hands of the commissioner, and this was carried after the matter had taken up a lot more time and the commissioner had told how easy it would be for him to have people summoned while they were experimenting to get the best device.

The Steed of McIntyre. City Messenger McIntyre got his new horse, and it went alright for a while, and then changed its mind. In the stable it developed a kind fancy on the warm days to fan the messenger with its heels, indicating a broncho streak, presumably overlooked by Aid. Dunn when he purchased the animal from a man who likely had taken it out of captivity. As Aid. Dunn explained, the horse is "now earning his daily bread" by working for Dr. Sheard, medical health officer and street commissioner. Commissioner Harris was asked to try and work the horse off on Dr. Sheard permanently. If this can be done, funds are available. Aid. Sam McBride will buy another animal for the messenger.

Fire Station on Fire. On the morning of June 26 an explosion occurred at fire station No. 33, on upper Dundas-street, which was caused by reason of the ignition of illuminating gas in the small feed-house adjoining the stable. The gas in the feed house had been turned very low, and during the night was in some way extinguished. Early in the morning, when the driver opened the door to procure feed for the horses, the gas accumulated and ignited from the burner in the stable, resulting in an explosion which damaged the rear portion of the building and killed a horse. The insurance companies have decided to pay the loss, which has been appraised at $160, and as soon as matters are finally adjusted the horse will be replaced. Commissioner Harris reported as above, and was told to see that it didn't occur again.

A Dangerous Place. The city will put a fence on the Turbulin dock for safety of citizens. Aid. Graham and Vaughan waited upon the committee as to how dangerous it was at present, and the boat people showed no desire to remedy it themselves. They asked that the city do it.

Commissioner Harris reported that the Turbulin wanted raised stands, so that the passengers could get down from the upper decks. They must submit their plans to him before the consent is given.

That Application of Wm. Walker and Sam Sylvester for a lease of a site on Lake-street, on which to erect a motor-boat shelter and clubhouse, was again postponed, and the parties will be further consulted with as Commissioners Forman and Harris do not think it advisable to grant a lease.

Business has so increased in the license department that two single standing desks are needed. They will cost $24 each, and the committee passed Mr. Coady's recommendation, that the purchase be made.

Three lambs owned by Ralph Brunt, Hanover, escaped from the cattle market thru a hole in the floor between receiving alleys. Two only were recovered. On the recommendation of the property commissioner, the city will pay $5 for the other one, after reading the solicitor's report.

For Better Roadways. There was a special meeting of the board of works yesterday to consider the recommendation of the city engineer respecting additional facilities to carry on the work of roadway repairs, which includes an asphalt plant and the purchase of teams. To repair holes when they are in the embryo stage was the plth of the report. One yard in each ward with direct telephone communication was advocated. This principle was adopted with a further recommendation that there be an independent municipal telephone service to connect the yards.

Aid. Geary said to the works department had laid more asphalt this year so far than during the whole of last year. Extensions to Frederick-street yards, to the Windmill line, are recommended.

Power From Niagara. The mayor told the board of control yesterday that the city should ask the Ontario government to make an estimate of the cost of transmission and distribution of power from Niagara Falls, and council will be asked to make the request of the government.

The mayor, Controller Ward and Aid. McBride will attend the meeting of the Canadian Union of Municipalities in Halifax, Aug. 16, 17 and 18.

On the recommendation of the board of works, the controllers appropriated $900 for the straightening of Manning-avenue, and $4500 for the extension of Wolvre-avenue.

The city legal department reported that the controllers had no power to remove signs unless they constituted danger to life or property.

The work of constructing a Don speedway will at the request of Aid. McBride, be transferred from the engineer's department to that of the park

CORPORATIONS NOT READY.

No Conference on Niagara Power Was Postponed.

Washington, July 5.—Representatives of corporations interested in the development of power at Niagara Falls were to have a hearing before Secretary of War Taft to-day, on the distribution of the waters of Niagara River among rival power companies, but as several of the large corporations interested were not represented, the hearing was postponed until July 13, when all the various interests are requested to submit their claims to the secretary of war, in writing.

Shot the Wrong Men. Bluefield, Va., July 5.—Samuel Farloway, a night watchman, for the Pike Colliery Co., and John Rawson and Bert Jones, engaged in a fight over a gambling game at Matewan to-day.

He arrived at some camp cars on a siding a mile east and saw two men standing at a door. Thinking they were Rawson and Jones, he opened fire, shooting two negro laborers. One died almost instantly.

PRaises WESTERN MILITIA GENERAL PROUD OF THEM

Lord Aylmer, After Month's Inspection, is Pleasantly Impressed.

Lord Aylmer, inspector-general of Canadian militia, passed thru the city yesterday, en route from the west to his home. He has spent 32 days on an inspection tour of the Canadian militia throughout the western provinces.

Lord Aylmer stated he was pleasantly surprised to note the high state of efficiency the service has attained in the west. "The militiamen out there are very enthusiastic in their efforts to improve the service, and I must say they are deserving of great credit and appreciation from the public. Returning, I came via Crow's Nest Pass, and across country to Winnipeg. In the remotest parts, where a regiment is formed, great pride and enthusiasm are shown by the militia members. I am proud of their excellent showing."

Great Britain and France have already agreed to the foregoing features, and Signor Tittoni, the Italian representative, has also agreed to them, but he is awaiting his government's approval of his course before signing the convention.
