BUDGET SUSTAINED BY MAJORITY OF 13

Counter Revolution To Marshal Pilsudski Under Way At Posen

OPPOSITION'S MOTIONS LOST BY SAME MARGIN

Division Reached In Early Hours This Morning

CHORUSES SUNG

Neither Premier King Nor Opposition Leader Cast Their Vote

OTTAWA, Ont., May 19.—After over a month of debate, ending in an all-night sitting, the House, at 4.05 this morning, defeated the Conservative amendment to the budget by a majority of 13. The vote stood: Against, 121; for, 108; majority against, 13.

LEADERS PAIRED

An unusual feature of the division was that neither Premier King nor Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, opposition leader, cast a vote. Mr. Meighen was absent through illness. Mr. King was paired with Mr. Meighen. There were no party switches. The division present went solidly against the amendment. Conservatives voted solidly for it.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF RESULT

Progressives, Independents and Labor voted with the government. Announcement of the result was greeted with loud Liberal cheers. The House then again divided on the main budget motion.

ONCE MORE DIVISION BELLS RANG

Throughout the building, as members waited for the return of the whips, songs broke out and papers were thrown into the air. "Show me the way to go home," mingled oddly with old French songs. Main budget motion was carried by 121 to 108. Majority for 13.

ON THE MAIN BUDGET MOTION was reversed, the Liberals, Progressives and Independents and Labor members voting in the affirmative, and Conservatives in the negative.

LARGEST MAJORITY

The main budget motion—the technical motion that the House resolve into committee of ways and means to consider the budget resolutions, carried by a majority of 121 against 108—government majority 13.

IN TWO DIVISIONS

the government secured its largest majority of the session on a major measure. The taking of the division occupied rather more than an hour and a half this morning, when the last speech ended, and Speaker Lemieux rose to put the question.

MARITIME VIEW

In the closing moments of debate, F. P. Quinn of Halifax cited had the opportunity, he would have moved an amendment to the budget. His suggested amendment held that conditions in the Maritime provinces, such as steel, were alarming; that remedial measures had been too long delayed; that the conditions were due to tariff reductions made in recent years, especially in respect of steel and iron, and that the budget contained no provisions for a remedy.

FOLLOWING ADOPTION OF THE BUDGET MOTION

the House resolved into committee of ways and means but only to report progress. Then at 4.25 a.m., the House adjourned.

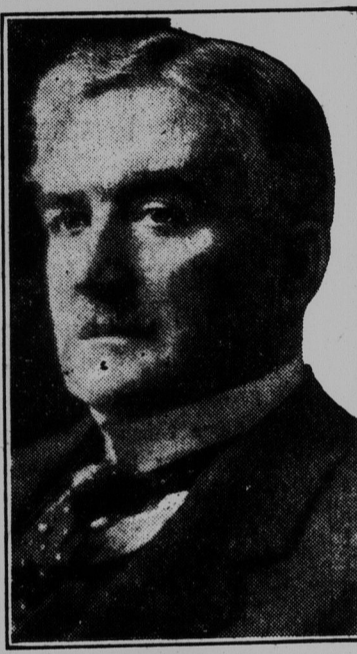

TEXT OF AMENDMENT

OTTAWA, Ont., May 19.—The text of the Conservative amendment to the budget reads: "In the late general election campaign assurances were repeatedly given by the Prime Minister and other ministers of the crown, that before further tariff changes were made, an opportunity would be given industries affected thereby to be heard before an advisory board.

GENERAL HALLER READY TO MOVE ON TO WARSAW

CABINET HELD

Pilsudski Government, However, Says Posen Difficulties Will Be Overcome

WARSAW, May 19.—The Polish General Haller, who has at his disposal 35,000 men of all arms and with tanks, preparing to attack Marshal Pilsudski, who recently carried out a successful coup and overthrew the Polish government, says the Posen correspondent of the Echo de Paris.

"REIGN OF TERROR"

"There is a reign of terror in Warsaw and fighting has again broken out," the correspondent quotes General Haller as having said to him. The general absolutely denied that eighty per cent of Polish troops supported Pilsudski or that President Wojciechowski had resigned. "The ministers are prisoners and refuse to accept the situation imposed by violence," General Haller added. "I have every confidence in the value of the Posen troops," he declared. "It will not be long before we will have them back, but we shall succeed."

It insists there is no separatist movement in Posen.

CONSERVATIVES SPLIT ON TARIFF, SAYS PREMIER

Terms Manion Amendment as "Milk and Water" One

MANY CLASHES

Denies Statement Attributed to Him in Clash With Hon. R. B. Bennett

OTTAWA, May 19.—In his speech winding up the budget debate in the House of Commons early this morning, Premier King reviewed the country's financial situation, dealing particularly with the tariff question. He termed the Manion amendment a "milk and water" one.

GOVERNMENT CLEAR

On the government side the position regarding higher tariff had been made exceedingly clear, he said, and would be made clear again when the resolutions expressing the budget proposals were before the house in committee. Premier King described the Conservative amendment to the budget as "milk and water amendment." It meant nothing either for good or ill and it was not touching upon the vital question of tariff at all but dealt merely with an incident in procedure.

The budget had been brought down on a Thursday and the amendment had been moved the following Tuesday. No doubt between these two days a Conservative caucus was held. Mr. King said that in all probability the Conservative leader expressed himself to his followers in favor of the protective tariff. Mr. Meighan was at least always consistent in this matter. But when he came to look around he found that members from the Maritimes did not include in their claims of Maritime rights an all-round protective tariff. He also found that members of his party from Manitoba also shied away from the consistently maintained protective tariff.

It was very remarkable when an opportunity was afforded to give expression to their belief in a protective policy that no such amendment was proposed. It indicated that all the opposition members were not united on this point.

EVADE QUESTION

The action of the opposition in evading the whole question in the amendment before the House was all the more remarkable, said Premier King, when one considered the professed solicitude of the Conservative party for the manufacturing interests of this country and more particularly the automobile manufacturers. If Conservatives had been sincere, they could have moved an amendment expressing regret that the tariff on motor cars had been reduced. Not a word to this effect was mentioned in their amendment; the opposition sought to escape and avoid altogether an expression of view in the matter.

GIVES DETAILS

The Premier gave the details of the actual tariff reductions, the reductions in the income tax and the excise taxes. It was pointed out that a man with an income of $4,000 a year with a wife and three children, paid in 1925 $16 income tax. Last year he would pay $40, but with the reductions announced in the budget he was entirely exempt from Federal income tax. In all, it was estimated that the people of Canada had been relieved of $25,000,000 of taxation. In view of what were the facts regarding Canada's present prosperity, Mr. King asked the House to see if there was any justification for the statements made by the leader of the opposition. Mr. King proceeded to quote expressions from his speeches, such as that Canada was "stagnant and semi-paralyzed," and that "our life blood is leaking out." Members of the Conservative party, said the Premier, had got into the habit of making assertions which were not correct and were doing infinite harm to the country. Most of these statements were mere words. A typical example was the declaration that the Canadian National railway was in "the mire and the swamp."

What were the real facts? There had, stated Premier King, been a reduction of business failures since the of votes of thanks were extended to the choir, special mention being made of Mrs. Blair MacLean, choir leader, and Mrs. V. Lingley, leading soprano, and thanks were also extended to the Ladies' Aid for splendid service.

C. W. L. BANQUET ENJOYABLE EVENT

Address is Given by Bishop LeBlanc—100 Are Present at Function

The first banquet of the Saint John sub-division of the Catholic Women's League held last night at the Royal Hotel was so highly successful that it was hoped the event might be made an annual event. There were 100 members present and special guests were His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc and Rev. M. Nichol.

Miss Katherine Lavelle, president, was in the chair and gave a short address of welcome. Bishop LeBlanc in his address in reply to the toast to the clergy referred to the good work of the C. W. L. and the pleasantness of the banquet. He expressed the hope that the banquet would be made an annual occurrence. There were 100 members present and special guests were His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc and Rev. M. Nichol.

The toast to the King, which was first proposed, was responded to with "Yes." Most of these statements were mere words. A typical example was the declaration that the Canadian National railway was in "the mire and the swamp."

The Little Fellows Do the best work

The large frothy bubbles of ordinary shaving soap lather are never most efficient. They never reach the base of the beard, where the work is done—and they only hold air spaces against the hair-surface where they do touch.

But Colgate's Rapid-Shave Cream!—here we have millions of tiny bubbles that get right down to business, and from root to tip, hold water against the hair. The razor's work is easy—one clear sweep takes the wisest stubble off, clean as a whistle.

And your face will surely appreciate it!

CRISIS IN CHURCH

Toronto Preacher Condemns Dismissals From Faculty of McMaster University

OTTAWA, Ont., May 19.—Rev. John Linton, of Toronto, declared before a mass meeting of Ottawa Baptists here last night, that the dismissal of F. S. Campbell and Rev. E. M. Keirstead from the staff of McMaster University, was due to modernist influence and created a crisis in the Canadian Baptist Church. He ridiculed the idea that the dismissal, or superannuation of these two professors, had no connection with their attitude to modernism. Mr. Keirstead will make his home in Wolfville, N. S.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., MAY 19, 1926.

THE BUDGET.

After a debate lasting more than a month, during which singularly little originality was displayed, the House of Commons has adopted the budget by a majority of thirteen. As was expected, the Progressives and Labor aligned themselves with the Government and the Conservatives were equally solid in opposition from the moment the Conservative want of confidence move failed there was little doubt as to the outcome of all this talking.

The actual budget provisions were discussed in these columns when the budget was brought down and the past month has produced nothing new on which to comment. It is a clever budget, politically; it remains to be seen what will be the exact effect of the tariff changes introduced, and the present administration can hold office long enough to prove, as it contends, that the alterations are not going to react unfavorably. It will have won a marked victory. It is, however, just one of those things that time alone will show.

On the contrary, it turns out that Canadian industries have been injured, Canadian workmen deprived of employment or driven to the United States, the Mackenzie King Government will have sounded its death knell. Meanwhile, we must watch results and, at the same time, derive a modicum of comfort from the undoubted relief contained in those sections of the budget which lift burdens from the rank and file of Canadians.

MADE-IN-CANADA.

Mr. J. E. Walsh, of Toronto, speaking to the Maritime manufacturers here yesterday, touched on the Made-in-Canada movement. This is something that has the sympathy of every true Canadian, and every student of Canadian history realizes that money spent in his own country returns to his own pockets in one way or another.

Mr. Walsh reviewed all the points in favor of the slogan, stressing in particular that the home-made article is good as the alien product. Thus far some will disagree. Usually the price is the stumbling block. The matter has been discussed over and over again. Canadian manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, always come back to the point and it is not proposed now to enter into discussion on how far our present fiscal system acts in their favor.

The purchaser is primarily concerned with getting the best value for his money. He may be willing to accept other things being equal, to sacrifice a small percentage to buy Canadian-made goods on the principle that money circulating in Canada will react to his advantage in the end. But there are some discrepancies in prices which he cannot follow.

As an instance, let us take a certain brand of tobacco sold both in the United States and in Canada; in the former under the label of the American Tobacco Company and in the latter under that of the Imperial Tobacco Company. In Saint John a bag costs a quarter, Canadian duty paid. Across the line two bags cost fifteen cents. American duty paid. The Canadian bag is slightly heavier than the other, and the difference of two cents value at the outside. It is hard to convince the people that the tariff makes up for the difference. This is only one example.

The manufacturers of Canada may rest assured that in principle the people of Canada are wholeheartedly behind them, but at the same time they must remember that each individual has his private budget to consider and that patriotism is sadly strained by the drag of the dollar, more especially when that appears inequitable.

Doubtless many seeming anomalies may be explained and explanation would be appreciated by the public. On general principles Canada is all for buying Made-in-Canada goods.

LOYALTY OR SOCIAL AWE.

A despatch from the British United Press dealing with His Majesty's personal efforts towards conciliation in the late strike says:

"The King may lack the constitutional power to interfere in such matters, but this social influence so awe-inspiring that few of his subjects are able to resist him when he makes an appeal on grounds of public welfare."

This is singularly infelicitous. It is not "social influence" that gives His Majesty this great power. It is the Briton's deep-rooted loyalty to royal traditions, which makes him willing to sink personal considerations at the Sovereign's bidding, provided that does not conflict with his conscience—which might be defined as his loyalty to divine tradition—well knowing that the King would demand nothing of any one of his subjects that he would not himself perform. Furthermore it is not awe, that inspires the subject to bow to the Monarch's will.

NOT A DIRGE

(St. Thomas Times-Journal.) It may not be generally known that when King George came to the throne he gave instructions that the national anthem should be played and sung faster than it used to be. The result is that in the Old Country it is sung and played in half the time it takes here. It is given snap, does not drag, and there is real heartiness in it. Pop it up next time!

FRIENDS

(Kingston Standard.) That great and good man, Dr. Peterson Smyth, is resigning as rector of St. George's, Montreal, after nearly fifty years' service in the church. In saying farewell he said: "Charles Kingway was once asked, 'What are you most thankful for in your life?' He replied 'That God gave me friends.' With all my heart I thank you for being my friends." But to have friends who leave money behind them when they return to their native land, Game animals are for the most part forest animals dependent on the forest for food and protection. Forest fires either destroy or drive out the wild life.

PRESERVE RESPECT.

(Ottawa Journal.) "There should be well-planned organization of charity, but not too many charitable institutions," says J. J. Kelso. "If relief is freely given people will expect to be taken care of and not expect themselves as they otherwise might and should. Stern necessity has solved many a difficult problem in the past, and if some kind of work can be provided for dependent people that is infinitely better than charity. Self-respect should be preserved at all costs."

POEMS HOME

"Indirection," by Richard Realf.

REALF was an Englishman who came to the United States young, and fought in the Civil War with the Northern forces. His was a curious and little-appreciated genius. It is tragic to know that he died by his own hand. This poem is far too seldom spoken of.

Fair are the flowers and the children, but their subtle suggestion is fiercer; Rare is the rosebud of dawn, but the secret that claps it is rarer; Sweet the exultance of song, but the strain that precedes it is sweeter; Never a Shakespeare that soared, but the meaning outmastered the metre.

Mean a daisy that grows, but a mystery guileth the growing; Never a river flows, but a majesty seeps the flowing; Never a Shakespeare that soared, but a stronger than he did unfold him, Nor ever a prophet foretold, but a mightier seer hath foretold him.

THE BEST OF ADVICE

THE POWER OF PHYSICAL FORCES.

MAN, in his conceit, is quite apt to think himself as quite the most wonderful product of God's creation. He thinks, he creates, he overcomes, and utilizes the forces of nature and adapts himself to all sorts of adverse conditions. He thinks that he is quite irresistible—that nothing can subdue him.

And yet, after all, how puny and heliose is he! If he cannot obtain food he lasts but a short time; if he is deprived of drink he manages to maintain life for an even shorter span, while if air is denied him, he perishes in a few moments. The merest accident may cut out his little life in a moment or a storm may strike and he will be gone. He is powerless in the grasp of those very elements of the earth which he proudly boasts that he controls and harnesses to do his will. The wind passes over him and he is gone; and the place thereof knows him no more, as the psalmist says:

TRULY it behooves us to respect and admire the physical forces of the universe.

"During a thunderstorm we get an inkling of how fearfully and wonderfully man is made, and what energy and activity its apparent passivity and opacity mark. A flash of lightning out of a storm-any compensating protection. Few Americans feel that they are or can be in danger. It needs more imagination than most nations have ever possessed to realize that the next war will be of such a character that American civilization will be threatened as now. Yet, as every year makes the ocean grow less, so this complacency will grow less.

GAME PROTECTION.

(Calgary Herald.) The game of our country is important in that it attracts foreign tourists who leave money behind them when they return to their native land. Game animals are for the most part forest animals dependent on the forest for food and protection. Forest fires either destroy or drive out the wild life.

For hundreds of years trapping has been an important Canadian industry.

MARSHAL JOSEF PILSUDSKI

AFTER remaining in comparative seclusion ever since the termination of the World War, Marshal Josef Pilsudski emerges from retirement to Poland, and seeking it is thought to overturn the present government. Pilsudski is a Socialist, although at the time of his dramatic entrance into Warsaw it was not clear whether he had the support of the Poles and monarchists or of the radical Socialists and Communists.

He is regarded as a hero by many Poles and holds sway over soldiers who admired him during the war. He is an intense nationalist and at present announces that he proposes to free Poland from corruption and instability.

No man has had a greater part in freeing Poland from her oppressor, Russia, than Marshal Pilsudski, former of the famous Polish Legion and former commander-in-chief of the Polish army. His father was a revolutionary and he spent practically all his life working for the education of the Polish people, which he thought intelligently seek their own independence.

For years Pilsudski was almost a fugitive, yet he managed to edit many books, printing them by hand on a small printing press hidden in a small village. With the literature thus created he traveled here and there spreading the revolutionary spirit.

In 1896 the printing press was at length discovered and Pilsudski was arrested. His friends helped him to escape. Until January, 1906, he refused to accept money from the Austrians, but recently made him accept their help to help the Russians. When his beloved country was finally cleared of the last Russian soldier, Pilsudski began to work out the task of forcing the German and the Austrians. He landed in a German prison, where he remained for considerable time.

PROTECTION URGED AT CANADIAN CLUB

Tariff to Insure Stability Wanted, Says Speaker in Saint John

CO-OPERATION and stability was the keynote of an eloquent address delivered by J. H. Fortier, of Quebec, president of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, at the Canadian Club dinner in the Admiral Beatty last evening.

Gives Address Here

J. H. FORTIER, Of Quebec, president of Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who spoke at Saint John Canadian Club yesterday.

years the wheat growers have been blessed with excellent returns for their splendid crops, the export of which has helped a great deal to bring a favorable balance of trade to Canada.

Mr. Fortier stated emphatically that Quebec and Ontario were not asking for a high tariff, and explained that these provinces were willing and anxious that the east and west should have the benefit of low freight rates.

QUEBEC WANTS UNION

Continuing after a reference to the ideals of English-speaking and French-speaking Canada, Mr. Fortier said: "In the province of Quebec we want union. We are prepared to accept a policy of give and take as long as others will agree to do the same."

TELLS SITUATION

"If you will kindly allow me to open my causerie by a personal remark, I should tell you what I have found out in observing commercial and industrial conditions in Canada."

ASSETS AND LIABILITIES.

"To summarize the favorable and unfavorable conditions of today let me remind you first of our public liabilities and national assets. Adding together all what we owe I believe the financial burden carried by the people of this country is not far from the huge sum of seven billion dollars."

MARITIME PROVINCES.

"Now I would like to give my impressions about the conditions in the Maritime Provinces, as a friendly observer, but at the same time as a prudent business man a bit afraid of politics."

AGRICULTURE BETTER.

"The agricultural situation is good in the western provinces and improving everywhere else. In the last two best type available are not worth to Canada on one of New Brunswick or Nova Scotia.

DISPOSAL OF MONEY.

"It has been advocated that a part of the money spent by Ottawa on immigration should be given the old provinces to offer special advantages to those sons of the soil who do not want to spend their best days in stagnation."

POWER DEVELOPMENT.

"The present and proposed power development will mean a great deal in the form of increased prosperity to the pulp and paper industry. It is additionally estimated that for every dollar invested in power development seven dollars are expended in the application or utilization of the power in manufacturing establishments and for every person employed by the power companies, 45 persons find their livelihood in plants using the power."

QUESTION OF TARIFF.

"When New Brunswick and Nova Scotia claim tariff protection in high protection in the national life in the interest of all. Your individual interest of all. You sincerely believe it is a sure sign that you also feel your obligations towards Canada."

STEELE PROFITS.

"If a ton of steel is imported into Canada already has a source of revenue to our producers and traders. There is a great future for you in that business."

MARITIME CASE.

"Although the question of 'Maritime Rights' is presently submitted to a special tribunal, I suppose it is not indiscreet to make at least one reference to it. There is no doubt that the Atlantic provinces have suffered more than the sister provinces by the economic changes which have taken place in all countries of the world."

BENEFITS OF HOME TRADE.

"If the steel imported from the United States in 1923 had been made in Canada, the Canadian railways would have received a haul of $212,364 tons of raw materials, on which their earnings would have been approximately $4,571,927.14."

SUCCESS ACHIEVED

"Thus it is most clearly shown that where Maritime producers put earnest modern effort behind their production and selling campaigns they achieve deserved success and an enviable fame throughout the Dominion."

How Can a Father Make His Daughter Marry the Suitable Husband He Has Chosen?—Is the Bachelor Girl Missing Something From Life?—Is There a Recipe for Keeping a Wandering Husband Home?

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX—My complaint is this: I can't make my daughter marry the man I have picked out for her. I have a young girl who is inclined to run around and stay out late, and I think she would be better off married. Now, Miss Dix, I have picked out a suitable match for this wayward young daughter of mine. He is in the plumbing business, which is a legitimate and honest profession, and I can't see her objections to him, as he is old enough to be level-headed and keep her in line.

But she will not consent, and I want your advice on how to make her see that marrying this man is the best thing to do.

MR. S. W. McM.

ANSWER:

I am afraid that I cannot help you in this matter, Mr. McM., because I don't believe in parents as matchmakers.

If your daughter was thinking of marrying a man whom you knew to be immoral or drunken or lazy and good for nothing, you would be justified in moving heaven and earth to break it off and saving her from the wretchedness that would be sure to be her portion if she had her husband's lot or a rouse or a man who wouldn't support her.

But making a match is an entirely different proposition, for, while you can tell with mathematical exactness the kind of a husband that will make a woman miserable, nobody knows the sort of a husband that will make her happy.

You see, Mr. McM., the fact that a man is moral and upright and sober and industrious and a good provider doesn't necessarily make him a desirable husband. It doesn't make him a man who will love her or enjoy being with her. It doesn't fill her days with contentment and make her feel that just being his wife is the finest thing in the world.

There has to be something in the man that appeals personally to a woman.

Perhaps she doesn't even know what it is herself, but it is there, and it is something that is stronger than life or death or poverty or riches, and that makes her willing to work for him and sacrifice for him and stick by him through thick and thin just because he is her man.

That is why no father, no matter how wise and clever he is or how good a judge of men he is, can pick out a husband for his daughter. It is purely a matter of individual taste, and the fathers and daughters' tastes seldom run along the same line. The very qualities that would choose a particular candidate are the ones that would have no weight with her.

You have practically on your side, she has romance on hers. You want her to marry a settled, sober man, who will boss her. She wants a playmate, somebody of her own age, who will jazz with her and run around with her and who will perhaps fight with her, but who will not dream of trying to control her. To ask her to change her demands in a man for yours is as unreasonable as to offer mush and milk to one who craves caviar.

Undoubtedly, your man is the safer chance. But if the girl doesn't want him and doesn't like him, if he does not come up to her ideal nor fire her fancy, and if she has no taste for him, how could you expect her to be happy with him?

And, after all, isn't it better for the girl to marry the man she wants and the man who pleases her, than to live with a husband or a wife has the right to pick him or her.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am past 30, considered good-looking, have never been in love and have never had a real proposal. I am in the business world, but lead the kind of life so many girls of my type do, so socially aimless. But dancing is the only thing we miss out on, as our salaries amply provide us with all other amusements. My life is full of interests and really quite satisfactory. But I sometimes wonder if I have become old and cynical, and if I am making my independence a fetish. Is there a danger of that?

BACHELOR GIRL

ANSWER:

Yes, I think there is a very real danger of the woman who enjoys her independence making a woman who does not marry loses, and it is good to know from one woman who has intelligence enough and philosophy enough to realize that no lot is without its drawbacks.

The successful business woman has much to be thankful for and little to grouch over. She is one of the darlings of the gods and has drawn one of the prize packages in life.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been married six years and have a daughter 2 years old. My husband is good to me and gives me plenty of money, but he stays out two or three nights each week all night. I feel that I cannot go on staying alone nights, as I am very nervous, and the doctor warns me that I am on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

My husband declares he loves me, and is always saying what a sweet disposition I have, and he does not want me to get a divorce, but he will not stay at home. Can you suggest something for me to do?

DESPERATE

ANSWER:

I do not know of any other one thing in the world that would be such a benediction to my sex and turn so much sorrow into rejoicing as a good, reliable recipe for keeping wandering husbands at home. But so far no Solomon has yet arisen who has had wisdom enough to turn the trick.

The old wisecrack used to say: "Make everything pleasant for your husband at home. Give him the pleasures at home that he seeks abroad," but all such advice is just bunkum.

Undoubtedly a man who has a nice, pleasant, cheerful home, with a jolly little wife who sets a good table in it, is less apt to leave his own hearth than one who has a nagging wife. But the husband who has an itching foot will go, no matter what his home environment, and no wifely arts will stop him.

In your particular case I should say that the only thing to do would be to break up the home in which he will not stay and go to live in some pleasant boarding house or hotel, where you will at least have protection and good company, so that you will not have lonely evenings in which to brood over your wrongs.

HELENE CHADWICK

BEHIND THE SCREEN

SEVERAL years ago Helene Chadwick achieved considerable popularity in comedy-drama roles in such productions as "Scratch My Back" and "Dangerous Curves Ahead." Shortly afterwards for no apparent reason she was cast in other roles with much less success.

Now Hal Roach has given her a starring part in a short reel comedy resembling those in which she first made a name for herself.

STAR DUST

The latest movie actor to lease a home at Oceanfront, Santa Monica, is Richard Barthelmess. His small daughter, Mary Hay, lives with her daddy there.

Harry Langdon, First National comedian, used to tour the country with a stock company and sometimes played four parts on the same bill.

May McAvoy insists that she will not marry for some time, although folks say Bobby Agnew is very attentive.

Scott Sidney, now directing "The Nervous Wreck," claims to have been the manager of the first motion picture theatre in the United States.

This was at the Nashville Exposition in 1896, and while the "show" consisted of three pictures the total footage of the trio comprised only 300 feet.

Motion pictures were then so much of a novelty, according to the former showman, that patrons literally fell over themselves in their eagerness to pay their dime to see a "show" lasting less than ten minutes.

The first three pictures exhibited by Sidney consisted of a scene of a fire engine coming out of a fire house and being driven down a street and the third and the climax of the program a subject entitled "The Kiss," which was nothing more than the close-up of a couple kissing.

Remove cover during the last fifteen minutes.

Glorified Rice—Dissolve a package of gelatine in a cup of boiling water. Add one cup of canned fruit, juice, set aside to cool. When cooled but not congealed beat with Dover egg beater to the consistency of heavy cream. Fold in one cup of whipped cream, four tablespoons of sugar, few grains of salt, set in a cold place to harden. Pile lightly in sherbet or parfait glasses, garnish with whipped cream and a cherry.

Vegetable Stew—One cup cold meat, two medium sized carrots, chopped, one tablespoon chopped onion, one cup chopped cabbage, one cup canned tomato, three tablespoons rice, one quart broth. Cut the meat in small cubes. Cook the vegetables in water and the rice in the broth. When rice is done, add the meat, and when hot combine with the vegetables, adding salt and pepper. ADVENTURES of the TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE RAIN BARREL FAIRIES

The Twins and the Whittef trudged along and along, and pretty soon they came to the watering-trough under which the toad lived.

"Did you see a little lost shadow around any place?" asked Nancy. "This poor little Whittef lost his shadow when he was crossing the stile."

"No," said the toad. "That's a silly thing to do. But since it's done, there is only one thing left. That is for him to keep out of the sun for the rest of his days. Then he won't miss it."

"Well, I didn't come for advice," said the Whittef. "I came for my shadow, thank you. I for one don't care to sit under a watering trough and do nothing but get fat Goodbye."

"Good-bye!" said the toad. "The life suits me. You might ask the rain-barrel fairies. Your suit's all shrunken up. Did you fall in?"

"Did," said the Whittef.

"In?" sang out the other tiny creatures.

"I asked you a civil question, not a question like a step-ladder," said the Whittef. "Yes, I fell into the drain and my suit all shrank up. But that makes no difference. I would know my shadow anywhere even if I am different."

"Oh, look!" cried Nancy as a shadow fell over the rain-barrel and passed on swiftly. "Maybe that's your shadow, Whittef!"

But when the Whittef turned to look, he lost his balance and fell splash! down, down and down, right to the bottom of the barrel where he settled and lay still.

The rain-barrel was deep, and fishing a Whittef out of the bottom of it was no easy task.

But Nick had a happy thought. "We'll pull out the bung and the water will run out," he said. "Hurry, Nancy, help me pull!"

"How about us?" shrieked the first rain-barrel fairy.

"How?"

"About?"

"Us?" shrieked all of them.

"Yes, and how about us?" called out all the shippers. "We can't swim without water!"

"You'll all have to hunt another rain-barrel," said Nancy. And out came the bung. And out rushed the water.

The Whittef was saved, but his purple bombazine suit was shrunken more than ever.

"Your shadow will never know you now," said Nick. "You look more than ever like a fat little sausage. I think you'll have to get a new shadow."

"I can't," wailed the little fellow. "Don't you remember! The fairy told me that no person in the world could have two shadows."

"That's so," said Nick. "Let's follow the shadow that passed over the rain-barrel just now. It went that way over the top of the hill."

prices too low to be reasonably remunerative. The weather conditions in many sections were an additional hardship. The conditions in the agricultural industry as a whole were somewhat bleak. Dairy products, agricultural products and live stock were sold at good prices on a keen market. Prince Edward Island almost entirely agricultural district, had a banner year. The weak spot, if any, was the 25 per cent smaller crop of apples in the Annapolis Valley, and ruinously low prices. This, however, was an exceptional year and should not cause us to lose confidence in this industry.

For 20 years the people of the Maritime Provinces have been fighting a losing battle under the changed conditions that occurred about that time. The result has been that the industries have decayed and died, banks and financial institutions have departed, and that at home, with vast numbers of unemployed men and women, and in the Maritime Provinces, with a population of over 1,000,000, we are obliged to study and overcome the causes underlying the lack of employment for our own people.

LOSING BATTLE FOUGHT "For 20 years the people of the Maritime Provinces have been fighting a losing battle under the changed conditions that occurred about that time. The result has been that the industries have decayed and died, banks and financial institutions have departed, and that at home, with vast numbers of unemployed men and women, and in the Maritime Provinces, with a population of over 1,000,000, we are obliged to study and overcome the causes underlying the lack of employment for our own people.

GOOD AS ALIEN PRODUCTS "We can honestly point to the 'Produced-in-Canada' movement because we believe that the products of our farms, factories, fisheries, forests and other parts of Canada are as good as those of any other country. When Canadians buy from one another they are helping to keep their own country going. It is available to pay our heavy taxes. These considerations have contributed to the growing popularity of the 'Produced-in-Canada' movement which has made very encouraging progress during the past year.

WORK IN MARITIMES. In the Maritime Provinces the C. M. A. was doing valuable work toward bringing the movement before the people. Mr. Walsh said, were being given all over Canada to help in the importance of supporting home industries. An agitation was on foot to curtail the buying of foreign goods in the United States.

CHAIRMAN'S REPORT. J. L. McDonald, the retiring chairman, presented his annual report as follows:

GENERAL SURVEY "The Maritimes have been somewhat in the limelight during the last few years owing to a strong manifestation of discontent with existing conditions that has given rise to an agitation more or less known as 'Maritime Rights,' and which has resulted in the appointment of a commission by the Government to enquire into its merits.

EAST STAGNATES "A merely passing acquaintance with the history of the Maritime Provinces for the last 50 years shows that, from being one of the most prosperous parts of Canada, they have gradually stagnated and decayed in commercial importance. With at one time over 20 separate banking institutions whose directors were primarily concerned in the prosperity of this part of Canada, and whose funds were seeking investment in its various undertakings, we have today not a single solitary bank with its head office within our boundaries.

AWAKENING OF PEOPLE. "There is a decided awakening of the people of these provinces in regard to the conditions that have been gradually closing in on them for nearly half a century, and now that it is becoming clear where the trouble lies there is little likelihood of being lulled again to sleep by vague political promises, and the sooner this is realized the better it will be to the people who have been the victims of policies not needed to their needs. We have been likened to the arm of Canada jutting out into the sea. Let Canada see that the flow of business blood is not all in one direction, there must be circulation, or, as in the physical body, stagnation and paralysis will result that may well menace the health of the entire confederation.

REVIEW OF 1925. "In reviewing industrial conditions for the year 1925, just passed, we find that the situation in the lumbering industry remains distinctly unsatisfactory. The demand has been poor and the question of transportation costs is of vital importance. It is not my intention to go into this phase in detail inasmuch as special counsel and expert advice has been retained to look after the interests of the Maritime Provinces in connection with the general freight rate investigation, which is now being conducted by the Board of Railway Commissioners. We are hoping and expecting that some relief will be forthcoming as a result. May I here point out that even if the Maritime Provinces manufacturers could deliver their products to the markets in other provinces, at the same freight cost as their competitors in other provinces, the Maritime producers would still be under the handicap of distance.

ACCIDENT PREVENTION "Even since the passing of the Compensation Act in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, our division has taken a keen interest in the question of accident prevention, in view of its direct effect on the assessment rates set up under the act. We were instrumental in the formation of the Nova Scotia Accident Prevention Association, which has just recently held its seventh annual meeting. Your secretary acts as secretary of this organization as well.

GENERAL REMARKS. "The secretary will be submitting a report reviewing the activities of the Division for the year, but I wish to take this opportunity of saying that we are not regretting having had the opportunity of becoming better acquainted and therefore more impressed with the objects and aims of the association, which is recognized as the national organization of Canadian manufacturers. It is in my opinion that the most important realization of the year is that we are now beginning to realize the amount of time, study and money expended in an endeavor to promote the interests of the industry of the Maritime Provinces.

MINING. "A two year contract entered into by the coal miners and the operators in Nova Scotia, following the investigation and recommendation of the Duncan Commission, would lead us to believe that better times are in view in the coal mining industry. The Railway Commission has received instructions through an order-in-council to immediately enquire into and report on the cost of coal movements from the Maritime Provinces to Central Canada. We hope the result of their investigation will mean an extended market for our coal and an increased capacity production of these mines.

FISHING. "Evidences pointing to the development of the fishing industry are before us. A fishery school has been established at Halifax and considerable success has already been attained with its research work in connection with the curing of fish. The Nova Scotia fisheries' officers were recently called in for a two weeks course of instruction in the methods developed from the scientific experiments and study. More efficient methods of refrigeration are being worked out for the distribution of fresh fish and it is expected that this will greatly extend the market. The trawler and shore fishing fleets are being increased to take care of the ever increasing demand. Announcement has been made of a proposed construction of a large cold storage and dry ice plant at Lunenburg. A large and modern fish curing and packing plant will be erected in Dartmouth this summer.

MANUFACTURING. "The conditions surrounding miscellaneous manufacturing are not so encouraging. Many of these plants have to depend to a considerable extent on markets in other provinces and there has been in regard to membership. It is only indicative, however, of the trying times through which our industries have been passing. The majority of resignations being attributed to financial conditions and not to any dissatisfaction with the policies or work of the association. Many of those resigning expressed their regrets at leaving to do so and frankly stated that the association is a necessary and worthy institution and deserving the support of all employers.

TRANSPORTATION. "The problem of transportation is an important one in the Maritime Provinces, and during the last six or seven years the C. M. A. has been inculcating assistance in our endeavors to secure favorable adjustments. The staff of the association's transportation department has been largely instrumental in securing the adjustments which have taken place to date in fact the Maritime Provinces would have been at a great disadvantage had it not been for expert assistance rendered by our transportation staff.

NEW PORTFOLIO "Shortly after the new Government in Nova Scotia assumed its duties, a new portfolio was established, namely, Minister of National Resources and Development. It is through such a portfolio that the Government has oversight of the natural resources of the province, but also takes over the responsibility of the water power, agriculture, public works, and other matters of the province and arranging for the placement of new settlers, and other matters of the province.

ECONOMIC CONFERENCES. "Your secretary received an invitation to attend a conference called by the Government of Nova Scotia, held in the office of the Workers' Compensation Board in Saint John on December 4 to consider matters relating to the Compensation Act. The chief matter under review was the question of granting some of the necessary high assessment rates on the lumbering industry.

SALESMAN FOR FACE CREAM. "New York City, Mr. H. B. Menna writes: 'I was a salesman of creams for healing pimples, blemishes, etc., but when my face broke out with blotches, pimples and blackheads, I tried one after another with no results. I was so miserable that I bought a cream as a bald headed man finds selling hair tonic. Finally I decided I would have to get at the cause of the trouble. I was amazed to find that within a few days after taking Carter's Little Liver Pills my skin took on a new beautiful look.' Druggists, 25 & 75c red packages.

INTERNATIONAL RAILWAYS. "The Canadian National Railways is a great asset to the Dominion. It has been instrumental in having Canadian carriers establish to the ports of Saint John and Halifax, routes which do not exceed those applicable to New York for domestic traffic. These rates applying on traffic moving in connection with the inter-coastal services operating from Canadian Atlantic ports to New York, Boston, Philadelphia and other ports are a great benefit to the industry of the Maritime Provinces.

ing of the amendment was not satisfactory and the bill was withdrawn. PRODUCED-IN-CANADA "Our division has been working in co-operation with the general association in connection with the 'Produced-in-Canada' campaign, which the latter has been conducting for many years. During the last few years we have arranged for the distribution of 'Produced-in-Canada' cards and literature at all of the principal exhibitions which are held during the fall months. The larger fairs are usually attended by the secretary and the campaign given personal oversight.

No doubt there is justification for being dissatisfied with conditions, but pessimism never attained an individual or a community any right or good thing. It seems to me that we should cultivate a spirit of optimism and advertise our advantages instead of our disadvantages. We know we are struggling under certain handicaps and that we must overcome these if we are to better our conditions, and let us by all means strive to secure these necessary adjustments but in the meantime put our best foot forward."

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, SAINT JOHN, N. B., WEDNESDAY, MAY 19, 1926

Mayor White Brings Smoke Nuisance Up; Com. Harding To See What Other Cities Do

Flag Staff Will Be Placed At City Hall At Once, Council Told—Committee of Whole to Consider Hydro Bond Issue—Other Matters

THE CITY COUNCIL yesterday discussed the smoke nuisance and it was decided to have the commissioner of safety make some enquiries as to what was being done in other cities to overcome it. Mayor White also referred to the absence of a flag staff at City Hall and Commissioner Harding said one would be placed at once.

A request from the Civic Power Commission for a bond issue for the extension of the hydro distribution system to serve the municipal institutions in East Saint John was referred to the committee of the whole.

W. B. Wallace, K.C., appeared for J. M. Stein in an appeal from the tax imposed on Mr. Stein in 1925. He contended that the amount collected was in excess of the amount due under the statement filed by Mr. Stein and the assessors had refused to make any abatement. The matter was referred to the Mayor, city solicitor, and chairman of the Board of Assessors for report.

ASKS FOR BOND ISSUE

The Civic Power Commission requested the council to authorize a bond issue of $8,519.50 for the extension of the distribution system to serve the municipal institutions in East Saint John.

On motion of Commissioner Frink the communication was referred to the committee of the whole for consideration.

A request of the Carleton branch of the G. W. V. A. that the German guns in West Saint John be set in concrete was referred to the commissioner of public works.

On motion of Commissioner Harding, Mayor White and Commissioner Wigmore were named revisors for the year.

On motion of Commissioner Bullock it was decided to call for tenders for coal for the various departments, to give the usual fortnight holidays to the permanent employees of the several departments and to renew a number of leases expiring this month.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Commissioner Harding moved that the comptroller be authorized to pay street lighting bills, up to the limit of the appropriation, when properly presented by the commissioner of public safety. Commissioner Frink said he would oppose the motion and Commissioner Harding withdrew it.

Mayor White referred to the absence of a flag pole on City Hall and suggested that a light pole might be placed

PUPILS GIVE FINE VOCAL RECITAL

Large Number Are Guests of Miss Steeves and Mrs. Ernest Bissett

The Church of England Institute was filled with the invited guests of Miss Agatha Steeves and Mrs. Ernest Bissett, pupils of Miss Louise W. Knight when they gave a vocal recital of great excellence last evening. Miss Knight was assisted in accompanying by Mrs. Aubrey McKee, who added to the fine treat of the evening with her exquisite rendition of several difficult accompaniments.

Miss Steeves sang with clear enunciation and expressive interpretation a varied repertoire of songs, showing a wide compass of voice, each and every note pleasing.

Mrs. Bissett, whose voice is a rich contralto, sang with feeling and also exhibited a wide range, singing with equal good quality her contralto numbers and the Spiritual "Steal Away." Her encores were generously given and gave added pleasure to the delightful enjoyment of the evening.

Refreshments were served at the close, when a happy social time was enjoyed. Mrs. Reverdy Steeves, of Renforth, and Mrs. McKee served the

SERGEANTS' MESS HEARS FINE TALK

Petty Officer Instructor Thompson Describes Various Battles of War

A large number of members of the Garrison Sergeants' Mess assembled last night in their quarters in the Armoury, with President William Ross in the chair, and listened with great interest to a lecture given by Chief Petty Officer Instructor Thompson. For two hours Instructor Thompson held his audience as he described the Battle of Jutland from start to finish and missed no detail, as he was one of the British seamen who took part in this great victory.

The lecturer, in addition to giving a graphic description of the Jutland battle, described minutely every other battle during the great war, and told in detail of the excellent work accomplished by the British Navy from the time the war started in 1914 until the finish in 1918.

Instructor Thompson also told about the German navy in the different battles, as well as the patrol work and other matters of great interest. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the lecturer at the close of his address.

DISPLAY GIVEN BY Y BOOSTERS EXCELLENT ONE

Fast Steppers Clinch Basketball League Championship

The annual gymnasium display and program given by the Y. W. C. A. Boosters last evening in the recreation centre, King street east, was splendidly successful, reflecting the highest credit on the Boosters and on their wonderful corps of volunteer leaders. The Booster Basketball League championship game was played and won by the Fast Steppers.

The Boosters are the industrial girls of the city and their younger friends and sisters. They have regular meetings at the "Y" and are helped with gymnasium work, handcraft, vocational studies and Bible studies throughout the season. Very many more could be enrolled in their ranks but there is a great lack of volunteer leaders and Miss E. C. Weyman, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A., in speaking of the work last night, made a very earnest appeal for 20 volunteer leaders to start the work next winter.

That the Boosters appreciate all that the "Y" is doing for them is readily seen in the fact that they have undertaken on their own accord to make a donation of money before the end of the year, both the senior and intermediate groups having novel posters to mark the progress in their efforts to raise $50 and $25 respectively.

The most recently formed of the "Y" clubs, the "Overseas Club," is undertaking to raise $50 before the end of the year as its gift.

The fact that yesterday was Loyalist Day was well remembered in the gymnasium program. In the grand march of all the assembled classes numbering close to 100, each girl carried a Union Jack and "O Canada," vocalizing. Mrs. E. C. Weyman, president of the association, was chairman and gave a brief introductory speech, and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, educational secretary of the I. O. D. E., gave a stirring patriotic address. Much enjoyed vocal solos by H. Cromwell and William McEachern were heartily applauded.

GYM NUMBERS

The gymnasium numbers were admirably given. The intermediates gave a wand drill exercise smartly in unison. The juniors pleased everyone with their effective action song. The seniors did some clever and difficult stunts in pyramid formations. The intermediates, prettily costumed as flowers, gave a graceful dance entitled "Spring Fancies." The seniors then showed their skill and suppleness in a wand drill exercise. The juniors smartly executed a dumbbell drill and the seniors in golden dresses gave a charming dance number entitled "Golden Rod."

The Boosters League basketball championship game followed and the Fast Steppers and the Huffs, who had tied for first place, staged an excellent contest. The Fast Steppers won by a score of 11 to 6 and the league championship cup was presented by Ven. Archbishop A. H. Crowfoot, who also made the presentation of the medal won by Miss Vera Bryson, of the Boosters, for the 60 yards dash at the Maritime indoor meet held in the fall.

A sale of candy was conducted during the intermission and a number of very dainty articles made by the Boosters were sold to ready patrons. A quilt that had been made by the intermediates as a gift for the Children's Aid was on exhibition and was very greatly admired.

The program closed with the singing of "Now the Day is Over" and "God Save the King."

BASKETBALL GAME

The basketball game was closely contested and at the end of the first half the score was 5 to 4 in favor of the Fast Steppers. The line-up was as follows:

Fast Steppers: Forwards: Vera Bryson, G. Christenson, Mabel Shaw, Centre: Gretchen Smith, Stilla Smith, Alice Joyce, Guards: Connie Owens, Mary Davidson, Valie Hartt, Spares: Freda Charlton, Myrtle Dempster.

WHAT IS SERVED IN FAIRVILLE FIRE ALARM CASE

Service Accepted by County Secretary in Northern Electric Co. Action

A writ in the case of the Northern Electric Co. vs. William Golding, John T. O'Brien and W. Murray Campbell, has been issued and service accepted on the behalf of J. King Kelley, K. C., county secretary. The three defendants as councillors of the Parish of Lancaster, entered into a contract with the Northern Electric Co. for the erection of a fire alarm system for Fairville, one half of the amount of the contract to be paid when the goods were delivered and the balance when the system had been placed in operation. The goods were shipped and arrived in Fairville last fall but as there was some difficulty in securing permission to place the wires on the poles already set up in Fairville, erection was not begun.

Payment on the contract was also held up and recently the company took legal proceedings to enforce the carrying out of the contract. F. R. Taylor, K. C., is acting for the Northern Electric and J. King Kelley, K. C., for the defendants.
