SMART MISSES' COSTUME.

Waist and tunic, with 1 1/2 yard lining 27 inches wide for front, back and long sleeves or 3/4 yard for front and back; 3/4 yard contrasting material 17 inches wide for collar; 1 1/2 yard lining 17 inches wide for foundation gore.

Proceeding with the construction, the seams of the lining are first closed, as indicated, and then stitched in the back. Turn under edge of gathered yoke on small "O" perforations; stitch 1/4 inch from fold inserting cord. Gather between double "O" perforations.

The lining sleeve may be omitted, if desired. Now under-arm and shoulder seams of outer blouse are closed as follows:

notched, the bottom gathered and Japanese collar added. First outer sleeve as indicated, bringing "O" to corresponding double "O" perforations. Lay front edge on back to small "O" perforations, large "O" perforations on, and stitch. Sew in arm-hole of outside as notched. Arrange outside on lining, centers and under-arm seams even; stitch lower edges together. Bring single small "O" perforations near center-back and large "O" perforation near shoulder seams together and tack. Back pointed and in front.

Model for two kinds of crepe or any other combination of materials. The side pleated tunic skirt and Japanese collar are features of the dress. This new model has splendid possibilities, because it is suitable to develop in all of the fashionable materials. WHAT FIVE WORKING WOMEN SECRETLY TOLD THE PRIME MINISTER OF ENGLAND

Stories of Wrong, Which They Say "Votes By Women" Will Cure, Recited

(BY MARY BOYLE O'REILLY)

Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, after hunger-strike carried through London on a stretcher, and below the working women who told their stories to Prime Minister Asquith, from left to right, Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Bird, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Scurr, who accompanied them to the Prime Minister's house.

Five delegates from East London Suffrage societies chosen by public meetings held in Lime House, Canning Town, Poplar Row and Bromley, (the five boroughs where millions of toilers struggle to live), left Old Ford Road in the heart of the dim East End to wait upon the prime minister.

Instructed to go alone, without suffrage organizers or members of parliament, Mrs. Ford, a tailor, Mrs. Hughes, a brushmaker, Mrs. Parsons, a cigarette packer, Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Bird, housewives, gathered in the premier's library.

A Transport Worker's Wife's Story Mrs. Bird, wife of a transport worker stepped forward.

"Sir, I am the mother of six children under thirteen years of age. I have one of the best of husbands—a teetotaler—earning $8.25 a week. You may see I am not fighting for the vote for myself, I am one of the best-off women of the East End. There are thousands poorer off than me. But holding the home together depends upon us keeping our health.

"The tenement we live in, the markets for our food, my baby's milk, the streets where our children must play, all these are healthy, or dangerous, according as borough councillors attend to them. My husband cannot follow up such things. He comes home late, dead tired, poor man, needing his sleep. It is I who must protect the family. The East End, as we know it is not a place for children.

A Stove is on duty all day. First comes breakfast, which must be attractive and appetizing. And so it is where there is a Gurney-Oxford.

Breakfast

Back of a successful lunch there must be a stove with a quick and sure response. The Gurney-Oxford has these qualities.

Lunch

Dinner is an important meal, with roasts, steaks, soup, fish and pudding to cook. Here is responsibility for a stove. Only a stove of character can meet these responsibilities—and the Gurney-Oxford is that kind.

Another woman stepped forward, Mrs. Ford, of Stepney, a tailor. Though she loved bravely her hands trembled.

"Sir, I am a widow these eleven years. There is no man to speak for me or my two children. As my trade it is a common thing for grown women to earn but seven shillings ($1.75), for a full week's work. It is impossible to live decently on that. It is a hard struggle to make both ends meet.

"There is no help for us but the workhouse. That means separation from my little ones. Surely if I was fit to bear them I am fit to care for them.

"In my young days I took up trouser making and pressing but was forced to leave the shop rather than submit to the unwelcome attentions of a foreman.

"In the same place there was a young girl, innocent but weak-willed, and she had to go to the workhouse where a child was born. The mother could not have had no place to go. She came home with me and shared my bed and room.

"There were five of us in one room and rather than take the bread from my children's mouths she went out one day. I never saw her again until she and her baby were dragged from the river. She was dead, sir, but the guilty man went to feed. I am trying to tell you, Mr. Asquith, why we need the vote. As it is now, it is always the woman who pays!"

A Brushmaker's Story Mrs. Hughes, an elderly woman, advanced and handed the prime minister a hairbrush.

"Sir, I am a brushmaker these forty-three years, a quick worker, having been at it so long. That brush is sold for $2.50. For making it I am paid four cents. Employers know it is safe to sweat women. Two cents one sweater offered me for filling two hundred holes with brushes. 'Man,' says I, 'I'll have the law on you.' 'Woman,' he laughs in my face, 'You're nothing before the law.'

"We brushmakers know that to force better wages we must strike and have questions asked in parliament. Anarchists belittle women workers holding they do not count. My husband's trade was destroyed by machinery. Therefore I must work fourteen hours a day to make six brushes, (twenty-four cents), to '—"

"In everything but the name I am the man of the house. I think I have a right to vote the same as my husband. He hardly does any work at all. I think it is unjust and wrong that I cannot have a voice in making the laws.

"Sir, has a woman no concern with the law only to obey it?"

Even the grim premier smiled.

The Premier "I have received you," he answered, "because you and your organization do."

approve violence in political disputes; protest the militant methods which have done so much to impede the progress of your cause.

"You claim that the economic conditions under which women labor in a community like the East End of London are such that neither legislation nor administration can secure substantial and intelligent reform unless the women themselves have a voice in choosing their representatives in parliament. On one point I am in complete agreement with you. I have always said that if you are going to give the franchise to women give it to them on the same terms as to men."

SAYS NO ONE NEED REMAIN THIN NOW

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fats, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness, and is also unequalled for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Sargol. Six strengthening, fat-producing elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this perfect preparation, which is endorsed by eminent physicians and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient. A month's systematic use of Sargol should produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying highly concentrated fats to the blood. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats that this people need are provided. Leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it. While this new preparation has given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitalizer, it should not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.

Where Shall I Invest My Money? This is a question that often bothers us when we have any surplus money. Some people are born rich and do not have to provide for independence, others are looking for investments that will bring them in good dividends.

The History of The Industry. If you inquire, you will find that the majority of rich men in P. E. Island have made their money in the Fox Industry, which, while yet in its infancy, shows the probability of making a great many more rich men. This being the case, you should not let this opportunity of increasing the earning powers of your money pass without giving it your careful consideration. Directors ARE Reliable Men. This is a most important feature when you consider that these are the men that you must look to for a square deal.

Foxes Capitalized at $17,000 PER PAIR. This capitalization included all expenses for the first year up to September 1, 1913. In other words, the breeding stock will be recruited, cared for, fed and all expenses paid for the first year without any cost whatever to the shareholders.

Your Investment is Protected. Each director is placing practically all his fox investments in this enterprise and the directors have their interests so involved in this ranch that they cannot afford to let their interest and watchful care lapse for a moment. The best breeding stock has been secured and one of the strongest, safest and most convenient ranches yet established is being erected and equipped. John P. THE HOUSING QUESTION.

Considering the purpose for which it was called, the meeting of the Community Council last evening was not a complete success.

IS IT SATISFACTORY?

"Altogether the premier's statement is quite satisfactory," was the general opinion in these words the St. John Standard expresses its view of the admissions made by Premier Fleming before the Royal Commission yesterday.

Mr. W. F. Burditt set out very clearly the need of housing reform.

Mr. F. Neil Brosie showed very clearly the need of radical reform of the building laws, and he also gave very valuable information on the requirements for economical construction of houses, with an estimate of cost which should form an excellent basis for deliberations as to the practicability of a housing scheme in St. John.

The representatives of labor who were present were emphatically in favor of the city itself building the houses, but submitted no data to show that the city could build them to rent at a low figure without a heavy burden of taxation, or in effect subsidizing the homes of some members of the community, which would amount to the same thing as paying a part of the present rental of a certain number of householders. It may be argued, it is true, that it is up to the city council to get the houses built cheaply enough to ensure a low rental, but merely saying the thing does not accomplish it, nor ensure a desirable class of buildings.

Mr. W. F. Burditt set out very clearly the need of housing reform. It only needs a little study of the facts he presented to convince anyone that there are too many families paying a rental too high for the accommodation they get, and living under conditions which are not desirable for bringing up families of children.

Mr. F. Neil Brosie showed very clearly the need of radical reform of the building laws, and he also gave very valuable information on the requirements for economical construction of houses, with an estimate of cost which should form an excellent basis for deliberations as to the practicability of a housing scheme in St. John.

The representatives of labor who were present were emphatically in favor of the city itself building the houses, but submitted no data to show that the city could build them to rent at a low figure without a heavy burden of taxation, or in effect subsidizing the homes of some members of the community, which would amount to the same thing as paying a part of the present rental of a certain number of householders.

The chief merit of last night's meeting is that it has focused public attention on the whole question, and revealed the great necessity for clear thinking and united action to solve a community problem. No meeting is an utter failure which reveals to a community some of its defects and offers at least some practical suggestions to provide a remedy.

PREMIER FLEMING

Premier Fleming asks the people to believe that the lumbermen of the province were eager to raise a fund for the benefit of the Conservative party in this province, and that he warned Mr. Berry not to have anything to do with it.

How then does he explain the meeting in his room in a hotel in Fredericton, at which Mr. Berry, and the lumbermen's treasurer, Mr. Brantley, and the other treasurer, whom Mr. Fleming himself nominated, Mr. E. R. Teed were all present and at which he told Mr. Brantley that anything Mr. Berry said about Mr. Teed would be all right?

But does Mr. Fleming expect the people to believe that the lumbermen, some of whom were American citizens, and some of whom were politically opposed to the Fleming government, would get together and volunteer to contribute sums varying from $1,000 to $20,000 for purely political purposes, to be used for the benefit of one particular party?

The Globe says:—"Lumbermen very well knew they were giving money for business and not political reasons." Just so.

Suppose we assume that Mr. Fleming was so simple-minded as to believe that the lumbermen, some of them American citizens, and some of them political opponents, were uniting to contribute to the party fund so soon after an election, when no funds were needed; but accept also his statement that he knew about the fund and took enough interest in it to name the treasurer, the people agree with the Standard in saying that such a course pursued by the premier of a province is "quite satisfactory?" Let us hope not.

Whether the Roblin government in Magdalen is sustained or not, its party is in a popular minority, as its poll dates received less than fifty per cent of the popular vote.

The Chatham World expresses the opinion that the return of Premier Fleming to control of affairs would result in his government being swept out of power at the next election. That election should not be delayed.

The Fredericton Mail observes:—"Mr. Pinder seems to have got ahead of the business-like Borden and Fleming governments. And we have it on the authority of Col. McLeod, M. P., that 'Mr. Pinder is not a good business man'—enough said."

One of the boys who is implicated in recent burglaries is credited with saying that big grafters are not punished, while small thieves get the limit, that may have been a bid for sympathy, but where did the youngster get the idea? Has he been reading the papers?

Was it a "grandstand play" when Mr. Fleming's counsel got an adjournment yesterday so that The Standard's report of Mr. Fleming's testimony might go to the country without the cross-examination? The Standard, which is an authority on grandstand plays, might be able to answer this question.

The Standard gravely informs its readers that hard times are good times. Yesterday it said: "The Dominion revenue for the opening quarter of this fiscal year shows some decrease. But of late years it has been mounting up at such a rate that a slight reaction is a healthy sign."

The more the people hear about the timber lease graft, the more keen becomes their desire for further knowledge of Valley Railway finance. The Globe says that "people must have gasped with astonishment when they read the story told by Mr. Teed." They may gasp again before the Valley Railway inquiry has been completed.

The Hon. J. K. Fleming must have very little faith in good government and honest government if he thinks it must be bolstered up by huge campaign funds. Surely with only two opponents in the house he had a clear field to give the province such good and honest government as would render a huge campaign fund unnecessary. Has he done it?

If Premier Fleming knew that the lumbermen were providing a fund for the benefit of the government party at a time when the question of what the renewal of their timber leases would cost them had not been settled, should he not have regarded it as an attempt to bribe him and the government, and spurned it with the scorn of an honest man?

Com. McLellan Holds Out For Contributions From Abutors For Sidewalk and Street Paving Work—No License For Bouts

The name of Margaret O'Leary, mother of the late special policeman, Frank O'Leary, was ordered placed on the pay roll of the city by the common council yesterday and a resolution of condolence was passed.

The following is the resolution, moved by Commissioner McLellan and passed: Whereas, Francis Edward O'Leary, who was born in the city of St. John on the 11th day of February, A. D. 1891, departed this life in the city of his birth on the 18th day of July, A. D. 1914...

right that we should pay a tribute to his memory. Commissioner Potts said: "The city officer, I feel that the price paid is too much for the lesson we have learned from his death. The city should consider seriously the task of finishing the work which O'Leary started so well."

Commissioner McLellan then said: "I believe it proper that some reference should be made by myself to the sad occurrences of the last ten days, whereby the department of public safety has suffered a most serious loss. I do not feel capable, so do not propose to make any attempt towards delivering any such tribute to the character and career of the deceased Special Officer O'Leary while doing special duty, as he is deserving of it."

"I can only in this informal manner point out to you a fact, the truth of which has been fully demonstrated both to yourself and the public, that he was an efficient, energetic and courageous officer, performing his duties conscientiously and according to the best of his ability, ready to die at the post of duty. He displayed a rare quality of courage in the presence of danger, and continued to do so while lying prostrated on his bed in the hospital, and even unto death. That this city is indebted to him beyond repayment may be the opinion of myself, but it is based upon the fact that since he became a special officer his labors have borne fruit to such an extent as to awaken a portion, at least, of this community to the dangers that exist in our midst."

Premier Flemming Tells Of Collection of The Graft Fund

Named Teed as Custodian—Had Charge of it Himself For Short Time—Says He Got None of it Except in Payment of Stock and as Loan—Declares He Thought Fund Was Given Voluntarily by Lumbermen

Premier Flemming took the stand at the inquiry into the charges yesterday in his own defence. He swore that he was told and believed that the graft fund was a voluntary contribution from the lumbermen, that he did not know that it was collected by W. H. Berry, that he did not touch it while the money was in his custody and that he did not receive any of the funds except in payment for some stock which was a loan. In addition to his evidence regarding the graft fund the premier devoted considerable time to an exposition of his administration of the crown lands department.

Acting Premier George J. Clarke was the first witness appearing in the session. He said that when W. H. Berry left the country he was no longer regarded as a servant of the government, although his resignation was received or action taken to dismiss him. He believed that Berry received his salary for May but not for June.

Mr. Carvell—I wish to draw your attention to a statement appearing in the synopsis report of the proceedings of the legislative assembly of New Brunswick, 1914, page 108, as follows: "Hon. Mr. Clarke—Further that he was authorized by James Kidd Flemming to state publicly and to the public that he denied absolutely every charge contained in the notice of motion; that he did not touch the money and that W. H. Berry, chief superintendent of scales, unlawfully extorted from the lessees of crown lands of the province the sum of $15 per square mile over and above the amount of the bonus paid by them as set forth in the annual report of the crown land department. There was not one word of truth in that or in any other charge contained in the resolution, and he would be prepared to show the people the absolute falsity of such charges when the proper tribunal should have been appointed."

Q—Did you make use of these words? A—I presume that is correct. Q—Were you authorized by Mr. Flemming to make this statement? A—I was. Mr. Carvell—Thank you, that is all. Mr. Clarke, to the commissioners—I desire to say that the reason why the attorney general has taken no action to secure the return of W. H. Berry is the belief by myself that I have no power to do anything that would be effective in bringing him back. Since he left he has not been considered a government servant and therefore the government has no control over him. As regards the law, I know of no legal means by which he could be forced to return.

Q—Could the premier had no questions to ask, and Mr. Clarke left the stand. The Accused on Stand. Keener interest was shown in the fact and attitude of every spectator when Mr. Teed arose and announced: "I call Hon. James Kidd Flemming." Every eye was turned towards the man whose high position has made the serious charges laid against him seem ever more serious, as he walked to the front of the court room to take the oath.

James Kidd Flemming, called and sworn, examined by Mr. Teed. Q—Mr. Flemming, you are the gentleman mentioned in these charges that we have been investigating? A—I am. Q—And you live? A—in Woodstock. Q—Speak up a little louder, it is difficult to hear. You are a native of the province and of the county? A—Yes, sir. Q—You have been in public life in the province as a member of the legislature? A—Yes, sir. Q—As a representative of what county? A—Carleton. Q—And you have been a member of the executive? A—Yes. Q—When did you become such, and in what capacity? A—in March, 1908, as provincial secretary.

Q—How long did you continue such? A—From that time until the 10th day of October, 1911, as my term in the month of October, 1911. Q—Then what portfolio did you assume? A—That known as surveyor-general at that time. Q—At what is it now known? A—As the Department of Lands and Mines. Q—Can you tell in what condition, so far as holdings were concerned, the crown lands were at that time—what principle were they held and administered? A—At the beginning of 1908 leases of the crown lands, that is the right to cut timber, were, upon application after being advertised in the Royal Gazette, sold at public auction to the highest bidder. The leases were issued in 1908 at twenty-five years, that is from 1908 to 1913.

Q—Were they twenty-five year leases or were they yearly leases with renewals? A—Really yearly leases, but with the condition in the leases that if the conditions were complied with they would be renewed up to 1913. Q—When you assumed charge of the department of the crown lands that was the basis upon which the crown lands were being administered. When the holder acquired his licenses, that is to cut timber, he paid the sum and how did he pay and if anything what in addition to that? A—He paid $18 a square mile lease year after year upon his holding.

Q—And did he pay anything in addition to that? A—Stumpage at the regular rate. Q—What was the rate when you assumed office? A—One and a quarter dollars a thousand for spruce pine and cedar, I think, eighty cents for hard woods, and my impression is that it was forty cents for hemlock. Q—I am not particular as to details. We have it in evidence already that the lumber industry of this province is one of large magnitude. On your assumption of the office of minister of lands and mines, surveyor-general then, I forgot to ask you before did you have any other governor-in-council and it was, I think only changed once in twenty years. From 1888 to 1911, only one change, I feel quite positive about it.

Q—Which were these representations made? A—Along about the same time as the bonus. Q—During the promotion of the timber legislation? A—Yes.

Q—What, if anything, was concluded upon that head? A—I think it was also pointed out that it was the principle followed in the province of Quebec—a continuing rate for ten years.

Q—What was the determination of the understanding about that when it was the intention to make it a continuing rate for ten years, but my impression is that I did say it then. But Mr. Carvell also said that when the committee was that it was being generally talked about, that there had only been one change in twenty years and if that or permanency it was a thing that ought to be put in.

Q—Was the principle of that understood to be adopted? A—Yes, the main provisions of the bill, and I discussed it of course with my colleagues in the council and later on when the legislature was presented the substance of what was to be the bill when prepared to a caucus of the cabinet.

Q—I don't want details, but you worked out the principle introduced the bill into the legislature in 1913. Q—You might tell us that we may have it in our heads the main features of the bill, the law as it now stands, as compared with the legislation when you assumed the portfolio. A—If no legislation had been passed prior to 1913 the position would be that on August 1, 1913, all the crown lands of the province would be vacant and would be put up for public sale, either for a period of 25 years or for some period determined upon. The act I introduced as minister of lands and mines and which was adopted by the legislature provided, first for pulp and paper licenses. These licenses which were to be granted under the act would be for a period of thirty years and might be renewed for a further period of twenty years. It also provided for sawmill licenses to be given for twenty years from August 1, 1913, or fifteen years from the expiration of the licenses in 1918. They might be renewed for a period of ten years. The provisions in the first section with regard to the pulp and paper licenses provided for a thirty year lease and the bonus fixed which would be in lieu of the lands being put up for public auction would be paid in three instalments, one-third on the limit of taking the license, one-third in ten years and one-third in twenty years.

Mr. Flemming then outlined the provisions of the act and said that when it was being considered the government heard representations of the lumbermen. Q—And you live? A—in Woodstock. Q—Speak up a little louder, it is difficult to hear. You are a native of the province and of the county? A—Yes, sir. Q—You have been in public life in the province as a member of the legislature? A—Yes, sir. Q—As a representative of what county? A—Carleton. Q—And you have been a member of the executive? A—Yes. Q—When did you become such, and in what capacity? A—in March, 1908, as provincial secretary.

Q—How long did you continue such? A—From that time until the 10th day of October, 1911, as my term in the month of October, 1911. Q—Then what portfolio did you assume? A—That known as surveyor-general at that time. Q—At what is it now known? A—As the Department of Lands and Mines. The leases were issued in 1908 at twenty-five years, that is from 1908 to 1913.

Q—When you assumed charge of the department of the crown lands that was the basis upon which the crown lands were being administered. When the holder acquired his licenses, that is to cut timber, he paid the sum and how did he pay and if anything what in addition to that? A—He paid $18 a square mile lease year after year upon his holding.

A—One and a quarter dollars a thousand for spruce pine and cedar, I think, eighty cents for hard woods, and my impression is that it was forty cents for hemlock. Q—I am not particular as to details. We have it in evidence already that the lumber industry of this province is one of large magnitude. On your assumption of the office of minister of lands and mines, surveyor-general then, I forgot to ask you before did you have any other any of them to contribute in any way or ask them or have anything to do with their contributions? A—None whatever. Q—None whatever. Have you ever had any conversation with any of these lumbermen before or since these charges came up? A—No, sir.

Q—Did you know by hint, knowledge or intimation that these payments were other than voluntary payments? A—No, sir, or I would not have permitted it. Q—Did Mr. McLean, Mr. Rundle or Mr. Fenerson or any other lumberman who have been said to have contributed to the fund, did they in any way communicate with you or give you a hint that anything more was being pressed or extorted from them over the schedule rate prescribed by the order in council? A—Never.

Q—Did you ever have any notice from any lumberman or from Mr. Berry that he had told them they had to pay the $18 a mile? A—No, sir. Q—Did you ever know from Mr. Berry that he had told them they had to pay $18 a mile in addition to the schedule rate? A—No, sir.

Q—Did you ever instruct Mr. Berry in any way directly or indirectly to represent to the lumbermen or to Mr. Rundle that he was to go there to collect from them $18 a mile? A—No, sir. Q—Mr. Rundle has also stated that Mr. Berry had represented to him that the government had sent him over to collect $18 a mile and he supposed he had to pay it to the province as part of the renewal. Did the government or any member of it so instruct Mr. Berry to go to represent to Mr. Rundle or any other lumberman? A—Not so far as I am aware. Q—You never did nor any other member? A—Not so far as I am aware.

Q—Did you instruct Mr. Berry to say to Mr. Fenerson or other lumbermen that the government expected him to pay $18 a mile in addition to the regular bonus? A—No, my whole intention was to make this contribution to party funds, and I had had. Q—What he would have done is a matter I think for argument later. The chairman—I think he is entitled to say that.

Witness—I would certainly put a stop to anything that savored of telling any man that he must do it. All he must do was to pay the bonus we had heard and the rate of stumpage and the department had no further dealing. Denies Specifically. Q—in regard to the payments of the Dominion Pulp & Paper Company of $4,000 which Mr. Teed asked me to check reached his hands, did that money or any part of it come to you? A—No, sir.

Q—When did it first, if ever, come to your notice that this $4,000 had been paid to the company? A—I heard it from Mr. Stevens' secretary. Q—in this investigation? A—Yes. Q—You have it so that $18,000 was paid to the Dominion Pulp & Paper Company which went into the hands of Mr. Teed and later $5,000 came to John E. Moore and that the proceeds were given to Mr. Berry and Mr. Carvell? A—That is correct. Q—When did you first know of that? A—I heard Mr. Moore's evidence. Q—It is the first I ever knew that the Dominion Pulp & Paper Company had sent $5,000 to Mr. Berry? A—I am speaking of that and not the other contributions at present. The money was also received by Mr. Berry, but it was paid by Stetson, Cutler & Company which reached Mr. Teed's hands and which Mr. Teed also said was $5,000. I had no knowledge about that $5,000 payment endorsed by Mr. Moore to the fund, but Mr. Berry, sometime in the month of May.

Q—This spring you were at Woodstock, told me that the Bathurst Lumber Company had sent some money through Mr. Moore, but he did not say how much. Q—Did he say he had it? A—I don't remember. I presume so, but the amount I never heard until I heard Mr. Moore give his evidence. Q—I was proceeding to ask about that money, but Mr. Berry said that he had heard Mr. Moore give it before. Q—We had it in evidence yesterday of another payment of $2,000 by Fenerson's company which he told us he paid to Mr. Berry in St. John in the summer of 1913; what knowledge had you of that? A—I had no knowledge of it. Q—When did you first hear of it? A—No, not at all. Q—You have already told us that you knew in June that the lumbermen were proposing to make a contribution to the party funds and that you had spoken to Mr. Teed about taking care of it; you heard Mr. Teed's evidence? A—A part of it. Q—I want to ask you about that part of his evidence of the money he paid for those stocks. Did any part of the funds of which Mr. Teed spoke as having been received by him come into your hands or for your benefit? I am not speaking of the stocks but of the money that had been received by him so far as you are concerned, did any of this money come to you or to your benefit or did you have anything to do with it at all? A—Never at all.

Q—Mr. Teed has told us that it was in the winter of 1914, February or March, that he had sent to you by his wife a key or keys of the safe deposit box wherein he had deposited money and securities being his fund; did you have those keys or key? A—Well, I had a key, one or two keys that came to me by the hand of Mrs. Teed, I am not clear, but I believe they were the keys of the place, of the box. Q—I want to ask you, as well, you had access to the use of any moneys or securities? A—What became of the key? All the time I had the key I never went near the box. Q—What became of the key? A—When Mr. Teed got the better I gave

London Comment on Carpenter's Victory Over Smith

FRENCHMAN WAS WINNING

He is Given an Ovation—Paris Papers Disappointed at Nature of Victory—"Best White Boxer in World Today"

London, July 15.—George Carpenter, the young French champion, and the only pugilist of premier rank France has ever contributed to the game, was awarded the decision tonight over "Gunboat" Smith, the American fighter, on a foul in the sixth round of the fastest heavy-weight fight Londoners have seen in many years.

The match between the two heavy-weights was fought at Olympia and was scheduled to go twenty rounds. To Smith and his supporters the finish was a tragedy, because the blow for which the American was disqualified was neither studied nor intentional. It was launched in the heat of a whirlwind fighting, when the Frenchman had slipped to his knees and the spectators saw the giant sailor-recoil attempt to draw back almost as his arms flew out.

Nevertheless, the ending of tonight's fight adds another to the unfortunate chapter of international sport, because it has kindled bad feeling and is likely to be followed by long drawn-out arguments.

The popular judgment awarded Carpenter the better of the fight on its merits. Pitted against such a powerful antagonist as Smith, it was evident that the Frenchman's marvellous quickness had not been exaggerated. He showed a left lead like a flash of lightning and a powerful and accurate right. His footwork was wonderful and although Smith was remarkably quick for a big man, he was noticeably slower than his younger opponent.

The Men

Of the two boxers Carpenter offers the most interesting personality. Born at Lez, France, on January 18, 1884, he is in his twenty-third year. Although he did not begin to box until he was thirteen, his rise has been both rapid and spectacular. Beginning as a bantam he worked through class after class until today he is considered by many experts as the best light-heavyweight in the world. Weighing in the neighborhood of 170 lbs. he has a seventy-three inch reach, forty-one inch chest and is 5 ft. 10 in. in height. He is very muscular and a terrific hitter, boxing with a slight crouch and with a style that resembles in many ways the best American pugilists. His ability to withstand hard punishment is one of his strong points, and he has shown any disposition to avoid hard mix-ups.

Edward (Gunboat) Smith is an Irish-American, born in Philadelphia, on May 8, 1888. He began fighting in the west six years ago but did not become prominent among the white heavy-weight pugilists until he came east in 1912. With the exception of a decision given in favor of Jim Stewart in 1912, Smith has a clear record, never having lost a battle since that time. He is of a lanky build, like Bob Fitzsimmons, with a powerful pair of arms and shoulders and possesses a punching power unlooked for from a man of his physique. Two of his most effective blows are an overhead right swing and a right-hand uppercut, either of which, when it lands on a vulnerable spot, is a fight finisher.

Carpenter's ring record dates back to 1907, but it was not until 1912 that he began to gain fame. His record for the last two years follows:

- Their Records
1912—Knockouts Lacroix, 4 rounds; Jim Sullivan, 2; Hubert Roe, 5; Won—George Hunter, 20; Willie Lewis, 20; Lost—Frank Klaus, four; Billy Papke 18.
1913—Knockouts—Maven, 8; Banderman Bice, 8; Cyclone Smith, 8; Bombardier Wells, 4; Laurie, 8; Jack Lancaster, 8; Bombardier Wells, 1; Won—George Gauthier, 1; Jeff Smith, 20.
1914—Knockouts—Pat O'Keefe, 2; George Mitchell, 1. Lost—Joe Jeannette, 20.
Smith's record since 1912 follows—
1912—Knockouts—Battling Brooks, 8 rounds; Jack Smith, 2; Jack McFarland, 6; Hugh McGinn, 2; Andy Morris, 2; George Godfrey, 2; Jim Finn, 5; Jim Stewart, 7; Won—Frank Moran, 20. No decision—Sailor White, 10; Porky Flynn, 10; Tom McMahon, 10; Al Kubiak, 6; Jack (Twin) Sullivan, 10; Jim Stewart, 10.
1913—Knockouts—Bombardier Wells, 2; Fred McKay, 2; Charley Miller, 8; Won—Al McCluskey, 8; Jess Williams, 20; George Hodel, 8; Jim Flynn, 5; Tony Ross, 10; Sam Langford, 12; Carl Morris on foul. No decision—George Hodel, 10.
1914—Knockouts—Arthur Pelky, 15.
London, July 17.—A majority of the papers commenting on the Carpenter-Smith fight, last night, agree that Smith's foul was wholly unintentional. Several of them say that Referee Corri for some time was of a mind to continue the fight.

The Daily Telegraph's expert says: "Descamps, by breaking into the ring, violated the rules, and the verdict must have gone to Smith, if Corri had not decided that the American had already forfeited the fight."
The Daily Mail says that the entirely unintentional blow was left not the slightest stain on Smith's honor as a boxer.

The Daily Chronicle says: "Never was a foul less intentional or more surprising to the man who dealt it."
Observations in the same effect are made in virtually all the morning papers, and although it is generally agreed that the fight appeared to be Carpenter's, much sympathy is expressed for Smith and regret at the unfortunate ending.

The Morning Post considers that the combat lasted scarcely long enough to measure the men's merits adequately. Lord Londale, seen after the fight, expressed the opinion that the blow, which resulted in Smith's disqualification, was due to the fact that Carpenter fights low.

Carpenter was greeted with an ovation on returning to his hotel. He was smiling and apparently not much the worse for the fight. He had to bow his thanks from an upper window before the admiring crowd was willing to disperse.

The Times says: "Carpenter owed nothing to luck, and would probably have won, decisively, within ten rounds. But it is absurd to accuse Smith of being a foul fighter. He never made an unprofitable mistake, for which a sufficiently high penalty had been paid."
The Times' expert, in describing Carpenter's acquisition of a punch and his all round improvement says: "He will become a Fitzsimmons, but is perhaps the equal of Corbett and is now, we should say, the best white boxer in the world." He has the pace, intelligence and lissom compact necessary that all American big men lack and is perhaps destined to expose the inadequacy of the current American idea as to the best type of glove to wear in the heavier divisions—the idea that a Jeffries can be imposed out of every gigantic person by the referee's decision is generally approved by the newspapers.

Paris, July 17.—Carpenter's barren victory over Gunboat Smith last night caused considerable disappointment here. The referee's decision is generally approved by the newspapers.

placed on the pay roll of the police department and he paid the same wages of a regular police officer on the regular pay days, so long as she lives.

This resolution was also unanimously adopted.

The Streets

Commissioner Potts submitted a plan for the formation of a trunk system of the city. The council seemed to favor the idea and the following streets will form the system—North side of Haymarket square; City road from Haymarket square to Pond street; Pond street to King street, from Charlotte to Market square; Market square, Dock street to Indian town, via Mill and Market street, from King street, from Rodney street extending past the Haymarket square to the Marsh bridge; Douglas avenue, Union street west, from Rodney to King street, and King street west to the City Line.

A recommendation to pave the North side of Queen square, at a cost of $5,997, provided for by bond issue, was carried. Commissioner Potts presented a petition from some of the residents of the north side of Queen square for a permanent concrete sidewalk. There were some who would not sign but Commissioner Potts thought the city should go ahead with the work. Commissioner McLellan objected to such a course and as the matter involved a bond issue, was carried. The matter of a sidewalk on the south side of King square was brought up and Commissioner McLellan moved that the work be done immediately. As there are other streets on which there is a great need for sidewalks, the commissioner of public works was asked to submit an estimate of the cost of the whole work.

Commissioner Russell recommended that renewal leases be issued to the following persons, the recommendations being carried:
Lot No. 1042, Brooks ward, to Ella M. Clark for seven years from May 1, 1914, at $12 per annum. Present rental $4.
Lot No. 1048, Brooks ward, to Ella M. Clark for seven years from May 1, 1914, at $8 per annum. Present rental $4.
Lot No. 288, Prince ward, to Horace H. Cole for seven years from May 1, 1914, at $5 per annum. Present rental $3.40.
Lot No. 846, Brooks ward, to Elizabeth Gregg for seven years from May 1, 1914, at $15 per annum. Present rental $2.
Lot No. 1046, Brooks ward, to E. H. Fullinmore for seven years from May 1, last at $2.00 per annum; increase 20 per cent. Also that lease issue to Mrs. Margaret Mary Connor of lot No. 648, Brooks ward, for seven years from May 1, last at $20 per annum; also to D. James Somersville of lot 28, block 7, Lancaster, for seven years from May 1 last at $20 per annum.

That renewal lease issue to John Collins of part of school lot in the parish of Lancaster for seven years from May 1 last at $20 per annum.

A complaint from W. E. Scully that the street car line was trespassing on his property at West St. John was referred to the recorder and Commissioner Russell as the street car company had advised that the track was laid according to the direction of the city engineers.

Tenders from A. R. Williams Machinery Company, W. H. Thorne & Company, T. McAvity & Sons and Estey & Company for galvanized iron pipe for the water supply in the west side sheds, were referred to Commissioner Russell and the common clerk.

A request of the C. P. R. Telegraph Company to lay conduits in Market square, Prince William and King streets was referred to the recorder and commissioner of public works.

The St. John Railway Company asked for permission to extend their line from Haymarket square by Erin street to connect with the I. C. R. tracks, on condition that they pave between the rails and eighteen inches on each side. Commissioner Wigmore moved that the company be asked to pave the whole street.

Commissioner McLellan and the recorder were authorized to support the charges against the chief of police at the W. B. Chandler inquiry.

Clarence P. Nixon was appointed a member of No. 1 Salvage Corps.

B. Mooney & Sons were authorized to construct an overhead platform over the sidewalk in Main street at Fort Howe for the mixing of concrete. A request from Commissioner Potts for two policemen to control traffic in Main street while the paving work was being done was presented but no action was taken.

Dan Littlejohn wrote for permission to hold a boxing exhibition. After some comments the letter was filed.

ST. LOUIS TEAMS DOUBLE SENSATION OF YEAR IN BASEBALL, BUT KEEP UP IN THE RACE

Earl Hamilton, J. Miller, Miller Higgins

By Hugh S. Fullerton
St. Louis is furnishing the double sensation of the baseball season: spilling the stock of the jokersmiths, and spreading large over the western baseball map. With the season almost half over the Browns and Cardinals so long hopeless teams, are up there, close behind the leaders and fighting every inch of the way, refusing to slip back to where the critics declared they belong, and growing stronger.

major league strength, into a good man. He made a ball player of Howard, a young brother of Del Howard, manager of San Francisco. But his most surprising success has been with Clarence Walker. This boy was with Washington when only an immature youth. He had speed and little else—and now he is up there with Cobb in batting and is fielding better than ever.

Fairville League
The Cubs retaliated last evening by turning the tables on the Athletics with a score of 7-4. Mullin and Murphy opened as battery for the winners, but Mark was not up to the usual and twice in succession the sphere found a human mark. Hanlon and Dale, both being struck. In the fourth inning Mayner, manager of the Cubs, went to the twirlers mound and pitched the ball as well as having two snappy stops to his credit.
For the Athletics Dale and Joyce performed satisfactorily. The chief feature from the spectators' point of view was a running catch made by Manager Wm. Pink in right field. The game throughout was a creditable exhibition. Generally speaking the fielding was good. The very fair weather was not very clear at times, but the game was not interrupted for second place and the catcher's mitt as prize would be a close one.

MOTOR MAID WEARS DAINITY HEADRESS

Motor bonnets which cover the hair are almost a necessity for the woman who does much country riding. This year the designers have relegated the ugly oblong ones to the rear and are sending out dainty affairs made of lighorn and Panama straw. The bonnets are trimmed with chiffon and little bunches of roses or other flowers and strings of chiffon veiling are used that can be tied under the chin or thrown over the face.
Was Important.
In a small town in Scotland the town clerk, who was a bit of a "character," had the misfortune to lose his leg in a railway accident. As a mark of appreciation and esteem for his long services the council agreed to replace his loss with an artificial limb, which they did as soon as he was sufficiently recovered. A few months afterwards the same official, who was generally known by his Christian name, Paul, was unfortunate enough to have his other leg fractured in a trap accident. Naturally the mishap was the subject of much town gossip, and one old wife, in discussing the matter with a neighbor, was overheard to say, "It's a gay bad business for Paul, poor man; but it is his sin leg or the leg that belongs to the town that's broken!"
