Curious Calculation.—Presenting at one view the number of books, chapters verses, words and letters, contained in the Old Testament, with other information connected with the Sacred Writings:—Books, 89—chapter 929—verses 23,314—words 592, 439—letters 2, 728, 100. The middle chapter of the old Testament is Job 29—the middle verse would be 2d Chron. xxix. 17. The word Jehovah occurs 6,855 times—And 35,543 times. The shortest verse is I Chron. i. 25. The twenty-first verse of the seventh chapter of Extra contains all the letters in the alphabet—the nineteenth of 2d Kings and 89th chapter of Isaiah, are nearly alike, in substance fully.

DESCRIPTION OF ICE BY A MOOR.
An ambassador of the Emperor of Morocco, at the Hague, desirous of giving his master some idea of the amusement of skating, wrote to him, that during a certain season, all the rivers of the Netherlands were covered with a kind of cake, which looked like sugar candy, and was capable of bearing carriages and horses; that at such times, multitudes of men and women took infinite pleasure in running so swiftly as an ostrich upon these cakes, with the help of a couple of very smooth irons fastened to their feet. The Emperor looked upon this account of the ambassador as incredible.

A farmer in Connecticut, who has occupied the same farm on lease for about thirty years past, was complaining that he had been able to lay up nothing from his thirty years' labour. A neighboring storekeeper offered to explain to him the reason, and proceeded as follows:—"During the last thirty years that you have been on the farm, I have been trading in this store; and the distilled spirits I have sold you, with the interest of the money, would have made you the owner of the farm you hire—Journal of Humanity."

HIGH TONED BEGGING.—"You isn't got any cold wittles here today, is you?" asked a ragged little urchin, the other day, of a house-keeper.

"Yes—here are some pieces of bread, and some cold fried liver."
"I don't like liver—common folks eats liver. I want you to give me something slick, cause mammy's gowin to gin a party to-night, and its suspected the company'll be numerous and fashionable."

TAKING A TRIP TO NEW YORK.
A dog belonging to a gentleman at Ovestry was lost at Liverpool some time ago. Its master offered a reward for its recovery, without success. Some time after he received a letter from a friend in New York (who knew the dog well in England) that the dog had arrived at his house, immediately recognized him, and had become exceedingly comfortable in the society of his old master's friend.

GINGER. The ginger plant is a native of the East Indies, and rises in round stalks, about four feet high; it withers about the close of the year; and the roots, which are the only valuable part, are then dug up, scraped, and dried with great care and packed in bags for exportation. It is raised in the West Indies.

A COUSIN.—There is nothing like a cousin; it is the sweetest relation in human nature. There is no excitement in loving your sister; and courting a lady in the face of a stranger, requires the nerve of a martyr; but your dear family cousin, with her provoking maidenly reserve, with her bewitching freedoms, and removing frolics, and the stolen tenderness over the skein of silk that will get entangled, and then the long rides which nobody talks about, and then the long tete-tetes, which are nobody's business, and the long letter on which nobody pays the postage; no, there is nothing like a cousin, a young, gay, and beautiful witch of a cousin.

If this should meet the eye of Emma D—, who absented herself last Wednesday from her father's house, she is implored to return, when she will be received with undiminished affection by her almost heart-broken parents. If nothing can persuade her to listen to their joint appeal—should she be determined to bring their grey hairs with sorrow to the grave—should she never mean to revisit a home where she has passed so many years—it is at least expected, if she be not totally lost to all sense of propriety, that she will without a moment's further delay—send back the key of the tea-caddy."

FORGIVENESS.—The brave only know how to forgive; it is the most refined and generous pitch of virtue human nature can arrive at. Cowards have done good and kind actions,—cowards have even fought, nay, sometimes even conquered; but a coward never forgave; it is not in his nature; the power of doing it flows only from a strength and greatness of soul, conscious of its own force and security, and above the little temptation of presenting every fruitless attempt to interrupt its happiness.

BAD MEMORY.—A village pedagogue in despair with a stupid boy, pointed at the letter A, and asked him if he knew it. "Yes, sir," "Well what is it?" "I know him very well by sight, but not me if I can remember his name."

A young school miss, whose teacher had taught her that two negatives were equivalent to an affirmative, on being asked by a suitor for her assent to marry him, replied, "No, no." The swain looked astonished and bewildered—she referred him to Murray, when for that first time, learned that no meant yes!

"There is music in my sole," as the nice young man said to his noisy new boot.

"Master aint I smart?" said an urchin, shewing a great horse drawn on his slate.

"Yes but here's a smarter," said pedagogue with a whack.
Criminals not According to Law.—All old bachelors, of a reasonable income, above forty; all young men who have married old women; all old men who have got young wives; all those who have helped to make the national debt what it is.

The Arch Young Wag Finn is a very constant visitor at Quincey Hall, where he is, as he ever has been, a great favourite with the fair. He is full of jokes puns, and bon mots. Indeed, as the comely rogue approaches to the years of discretion, his punning propensity, seems to grow upon him most astonishingly. While admiring some ingenious specimens of a young lady's skill one morning, his eyes assumed their restless pun-twinkle and then he forthwith quieted them by perpetrating the following: Why are you (addressing the daughter of Eve) like a churn-dasher? Well wiss said the iverrate juvenile punster, it is because you make the butter fly!—(butterfly.)

Why are you pouring water into my hat, said a countryman to a young wag; oh I like to hear it, it sounds so rural.

Poetry.

OH BLAME HER NOT.

Oh blame her not, her love was deep,
And if her heart was lightly won,
Her memory will the vigil keep,
And let her be the only one.

In vain would we control the heart,
The farthest river seeks the sea—
And thus though they be far apart,
Her fancy is longer free.

If joyless in the busy dance,
And careless of the flatterer's tone,
Remember, that indifferent glance
Is but the wish to be alone.

There is no cure within the crowd,
It but renews the deep regret;
For there where the false-hearted vowed,
She remained true to the end.

And though but one that promise heard,
And though that promise be forgot;
The faithful maiden kept her word,
Oh blame her not! Oh blame her not!

A BRIDAL SONG.

The golden gates of sleep unbar,
Where strength and beauty met together,
Kindle their image like a star
In a sea of glassy weather.
Night with all thy stars look down,
Darkness, weep thy holiest dew,
Never smiled the inconstant moon
On a pair so true.
Let eyes not see their own delight;
Haste, swift hour, and thy flight
Oit renew.

Woman, is trained so early to concealment of feeling, that she slips on an outward appearance of peace, as easily as a glove.

Phrenology. A young lady who still adheres to the custom of braiding the hair, requested a phrenologist to examine her cranium, and report to her the result. He did so, and communicated his discoveries in the following laconic terms; "Miss, I find the bump of upbraiding, the most prominent of any one on your head."

In a neighboring village, a few days since, a fellow was tried for stealing a wood saw, the culprit said he only took it for a joke.—The justice asked how far he carried it, and was answered, about 2 miles. This was carrying a joke too far, said the magistrate, and committed the prisoner.

My dear, what shall we have for dinner to-day? One of your smiles my love, replied the husband; I can dine on that any day. But I can't, said Mrs. —. Then take this, said he, giving her a kiss as he departed to his office. He returned to his dinner; this steak is excellent said he, what did you pay for it. What you gave me this morning, said she. You did, said he; then you shall have market money from me whenever you require it.

The following is a defence made by a Dutchman on an indictment for bigamy.

"You say," said the judge, "that the parson who married you to the first wife, authorised you to take sixteen. What do you mean by that?"

"Well," said Hans, "that I should have four petter, four vorse, four richer, four poorer—and in my coundry four dimes four always makes sixteen."

Fun, is fun; but opening oysters with my razor is no fun at all.

MRS. SIDDONS.—As an instance of the great power which this unequalled actress held over the minds of her auditory, we need only mention the following circumstance:—when she performed the part of Agnes in Fatal Curiosity, and when during the scene where Agnes goes up to Wilmot, and produces the jewels of their unknown son, giving a remote hint at the idea of murdering him, she threw such an expression into her countenance as made the flesh of every spectator creep. A Mr. Crabbe Robinson, a gentleman of literature who was sitting in the pit declared afterwards, that from this moment his respiration grew difficult, and in a second he lost all command of himself, when the murder scene approached, he laughed aloud, and there was a general cry in the pit Oh! oh! the process of ejection was even begun and he had received some harsh treatment, when a humane woman interposed, who saw and explained his real condition. He was in strong hysterics.—Campbell's Life of Mrs. Siddons.

Other things being equal a woman of the highest mental endowments will always be the best house-keeper, for domestic economy is a science that brings into action the qualities of mind as well as the graces of the heart. A quick perception, judgment, discrimination and order, are high attributes of mind, and are all in daily exercise in the well ordering of a family. If a sensible woman, an intellectual woman, a woman of genius, is not a good housewife, it is not because she is either or all of them, but because there is some deficiency in her character or some omission of duty, that should make her very humble, instead of her indulging in any secret self complacency, on account of a certain superiority which only aggravates her fault.—Miss Sedgwick.

One of the Texas papers says that there is no water in the vicinity of Austin nearer than two miles and they are obliged to swim their horses across the river to get at it.

ANOMALIES. It is said that more than half of the Inniskillen dragoons are Englishmen and that more than half of the Scots Greys are Irishmen.

The Spanish Government by a formal decree has prohibited the Methodist Missionaries from exercising their function in any part of the kingdom.

SNUFFERS.—A gentleman travelling in the interior of Brazil put up for a night at a farm-house, furnished in the primitive style of country; but on the table, in company with a long tallow candle, were placed a pair of plated snuff-boxes and their stand, which he had received as a present from Rio de Janeiro. What conveniences you invent in Europe! said the Brazilian to his guest; before I received this pretty present, I used after taking off the candle-snuff, to throw it about the floor, or, perchance, on the bench where I was sitting, or even on my clothes—but now mark the difference. So saying, he pinched off the long snuff between his thumb and finger, put it carefully into the snuff-box, and closed them with a look of triumph at his highly-amused spectator!

A tall Johnathan, from Vermont, was patrolling the streets of Boston, a short time since, with a sheet of gingerbread under his arm and gazing at the signs when one which was labelled, General Finding Store, attracted his attention. He entered, chewing at his ginger bread, and after a severe effort at swallowing, I ke a hen eating dough, he exclaimed—"I do swear! you must be darn'd lucky chaps to find all these here things—I 'spose you ha'n't found my rumberreller nor nothin', are you."

The duke of —, while entertaining a party at one of his seats in the country, lately, wished to show to M. — a superb barometre, which he had purchased from London, and for which he had paid a large sum. The servant, who presented it to him, was so awkward that he let it fall whereby the instrument was broken to atoms. Mr. — expected a storm of anger, but the goodnatured duke, laughing heartily, exclaimed, "What think you my friend? We shall certainly have rain; for upon my word, I never in all my life saw the barometre so low!"

A War caused by a change of Wind.—I inquired of the chief cause of the present war in which he was engaged. He replied, that the enemy had set fire to some land for the purpose of burning off the brush and fern, preparatory to planting, as is invariably the custom of the people; that unfortunately a change of wind took place which caused the fire to turn in a contrary direction, whereby a wai tapu, or sacred place had been destroyed, and every thing within had been destroyed. It was admitted the fire was accidental, but the laws of the New Zealanders must be enforced; and continued the chief pointing to the decapitated heads "yonder is part payment."

MORAL BEAUTY.—What is the beauty of nature, but a beauty clothed with moral associations? What is the highest beauty of literature, poetry, fiction, and the fine arts, but a moral beauty which genius has bodied forth for the admiration of the world!

TIN PLATE & SHEET IRON MANUFACTORY.

WILLIAM GIBB would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Saint Andrews and its vicinity, that he has purchased the entire Stock of Tin Ware, Tools &c. belonging to the late Mr. N. Ames, and intends carrying on the same business in all its branches.
W. G. would further beg to intimate that having been instructed in his business in the first Establishment of the kind in this Province, (that of Mr. E. Stephen,) he trusts that his promptness in executing orders, and his attention to the quality of his work, will give every satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call.

CANADA.

From the Quebec Gazette. By His Excellency the Right Honourable Charles Poulin Thomson, Esq. A PROCLAMATION.

The Queen having been graciously pleased to appoint me to be Governor General of British North America, I have this day assumed the administration of that office. In the exercise of the high trust, it will be my desire, no less than my duty to promote to the utmost of my power the welfare of all classes of Her Majesty's subjects. To reconcile existing differences—to apply a resource of the Colonies entrusted to my charge,—above all, to permit whatever may bind them to the Mother Country, by increased ties of interest and affection, will be my first and most anxious endeavour. In the pursuit of these objects I shall ever be ready to listen to the representations of all, whilst I shall unhesitatingly exercise the power confided to me to repress disorder—to uphold the law—and maintain tranquillity.

The Suspension of the Constitution in Lower Canada places in the hands of the Executive Government, powers of an extraordinary nature, the necessity for which is deeply deplored, and which can be justified only by the circumstances of the Province. One principal object of my mission will be to determine in what manner, and at what time, this state of things may most safely be brought to a close, and the full benefits of British Institutions be restored to Her Majesty's Lower Canadian subjects.

In Upper Canada the loyalty and courage of the Inhabitants preserved her Constitution, and maintained the powers of the Law through difficulties of the most trying nature. Their exertions during the last two years have been viewed by Her Majesty with the highest satisfaction and have commanded the applause and admiration of all classes in the Mother Country. It would appear, however, that in that Province causes of embarrassment are not wanting.—Her finances deranged, and the development of Her resources impeded. To devise measures by which these evils may be removed, in a manner satisfactory to the Inhabitants, will be one of the objects to engage my earliest attention, and I shall rely upon the patriotism of the people and the wisdom of the Legislature to aid me in the effort.

Animated by the most anxious desire to promote the welfare of these important Provinces—to uphold the rights of the Crown, by whose confidence I have been honored, and to advance the true interests of the people to whom I am sent, I confidently call on all those to whom the prosperity of British North America is dear, to unite with me in the work which I have undertaken, and, laying aside all minor considerations, to afford me that assistance and co-operation which can alone enable me to bring my task to a successful issue.

Given under my Hand and Seal at Arms, at the Castle of St. Lewis in the City of Quebec, in the said Province of Lower Canada, the Nineteenth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty nine, and the third year of Her Majesty's reign.

By His Excellency's Command, T. W. C. MURDOCH, Chief Secretary.

His Excellency the Governor-General has been pleased to make the following appointments;—To be Secretary to the General—T. W. Clinton Murdoch Esq.; to be Military Secretary, and Principal Aide de Camp—Major George D. Hall.

THE QUEBEC ADDRESS. The following is His Excellency's answer to the Address of the Magistrates, presented immediately after His Excellency had been sworn in.

"I thank you for your Address of congratulation on my arrival in this Province.

The preservation of the public peace, and the firm administration of justice are the first wants of a State, and the first duty of a Governor. You may rely with confidence upon receiving from me the most active support in the discharge of your Magisterial functions.

"I fully appreciate the political and commercial importance of the City of Quebec. It will afford me sincere satisfaction, at all times, to contribute to its prosperity, and when circumstances permit, by residing within its walls, to cultivate the good feelings and regard of its inhabitants.

"I receive with confidence the assurance of your co-operation, and that of the inhabitants of your city in aiding me to promote the peace and happiness of Her Majesty's subjects in this Province, by cementing its permanent connection with the other Dominions of the Crown; all my efforts will be directed to that end, and it is with that object alone that I have accepted the trust with which our Sovereign has honoured me."

We have been highly gratified with an account of the reconciliation of Col. Pattee, and his late opponents, sundry gentlemen of Windsor and Sandwich. We have no doubt the quarrel arose out of the excitement, caused by the attack of the Yankees on the 4th December last,—the passionate whirl of the fight, and the sharp and bitter regret, caused by the escape of one division of the invading ruffians, is attributable, in a degree, to Col. Prince. He drew back to Sandwich, and, as commander, on whom rested the responsibility of the steps taken, he considered himself justified. Sandwich was unprotected,—it was the depot of the arms and ammunition;—word was brought to Col. Prince, that some of the plunderers had been observed, on the skirts of the woods, near it, and he, unfortunately as it turned out, moved back to Sandwich, instead of moving after the retreating ruffians. The people of Windsor, who knew the true state of affairs, was highly exasperated at seeing the safe retreat of the villains; out of this exasperation, sprang the personal attack on Prince. Irritation led to exaggeration, and tales were told about the doings of Col. Prince, originating in excitement, and passion, rather than fact. They have, however, made it up, have shaken hands, and will no doubt, act as old and vigorously the coming winter, should there be renewed attacks, as they did the last.—Montreal Courier.

A Methodist class leader, and a Baptist clergyman, received most brutal treatment at the hands of a mob, in the vicinity of Vincennes, Indiana, on account of articles delivered by them in favour of abolition. They were first driven from Vincennes to their houses, six miles distant, whither they were pursued in the night by the mob, torn from their beds, and forced back to town. After reaching that place one of them was ridden on a rail till nearly dead, and then tarred and feathered; the other was placed in the Wabash river with the water up to his neck, and a piece of iron tied to his feet; in this situation he remained till morning, when he was taken out of the water and tarred and feathered.

Late advices from Canton represent the destruction of opium by the public authorities as going on at the rate of three hundred chests daily.

The British and American merchants have all retired from Canton. The Register says: "The Chinese are willing to dispose of their remaining teas and raw silks on more favourable terms to the foreign purchaser; of the latter, there are about two thousand bales of Tsetsee in the market. The prices of cotton have advanced but it is questionable whether our present quotations would be maintained in the event of an extensive importation. The price of rice notwithstanding the late unfavorable rainy weather, has rather fallen. The exchange transactions have been few, and there is not any freight to be had."

It is reported that Mexico has recognized the independence of Texas, which we very much doubt. The last accounts from Mexico made no mention of such an occurrence, and it was not even whispered in the city of Mexico. The Texan navy was rapidly augmenting, and now consists of one ship, one brig, three schooners, and one steamer, with Commodore Moore at their head. Perhaps when it is fully organized, the Texans will compel the Mexicans to acknowledge their independence.—New York Herald

QUEBEC, Oct. 23. At 10 o'clock, yesterday the troops in garrison, under the command of Major General James Macdonell, were inspected, in heavy marching order, in the parade ground in the citadel, by His Excellency the commander of the forces, accompanied by Major General Sir R. D. Jackson, and attended by their respective suits, and the officers of the General Staff; the troops under arms were the royal artillery, commanded by lieutenant Colonel Kirby; 2d Battalion, Col. Murray's guards, Colonel Boyle, and the 11th regiment, under Colonel Golthe. We understand that Sir John Colborne expressed himself much pleased with the fine appearance and steadiness of the several corps.

The 1st Battalion of Montreal Volunteers, commanded by lieutenant Colonel Bethune, are amongst these who have addressed Sir John Colborne.

An address from the loyal inhabitants of Beauharnois, with upwards of a 1000 signatures, was presented by Messrs. Bowron and Davidson.

This day, at noon, Lady Colborne and family, arrived from Montreal, in the steamerboat Canadian Eagle. Col. Rowan and Lady, and Dr. Skey, Inspector of Hospitals, were also passengers.

HALIFAX, Oct. 26. Jamaica papers to the 26th ult. received at the reading rooms, this morning, state that at Demerara a fearful sickness was lately prevailing, which has cut off Lieut. Col. Dunsay, Capt Bruce, Adjutant Hopkins, Lieut. Dieulouin, and Sign Phipps, and forty men of the 76th Regt.; accounts from several of the islands represent their condition as extremely depressed in consequence of the extortion and laziness of the emancipated laborers.

PROVINCIAL. The Fredericton Royal Gazette contains a Proclamation, cautioning Her Majesty's subjects against cutting timber on the Disputed Territory; and directing James A. McLaughlan, Esq. "the duly appointed Warden of said Territory to arrest, seize, take and destroy all timber which may be cut in violation of the Proclamation," and further calling upon "all Peace officers and other like subjects of Her Majesty" to aid and assist the Warden in the discharge of his duty.

The Gazette also contains a Militia General Order, with reference to recent proceedings in the County of Carleton; and directing Capt. McKenzie's name to be placed at the bottom of the list of Captains in the battalion to which he belongs; in consequence of the part which he took in the affair alluded to.

We are glad to perceive that the elegant and useful art of Drawing has been added to the course of study prescribed for the Elevés of the Institution recently founded under the patronage of the Mechanics Institute, and that the talents and accomplishments of Mr. George N. Smith, have been put in requisition to increase the utility of that Seminary.

Deeply interested in the prosperity of New-Brunswick we shall behold Mr. Watson and Mr. Smith commence their operations with no small satisfaction. By their efforts, aided by the liberality of our fellow citizens, we hope, that the impediments hitherto interposed by poverty and labour to the acquisition of knowledge will be removed, and if the mists of ignorance prejudice cannot be altogether dispelled, that the baneful effects of their influence will be diminished, that the minds of our artisans will be imbued with a taste for intellectual exertion and furnished with the knowledge requisite for the exercise of their respective vocations. At the same time we must express our conviction, that the efforts of these Gentlemen, however strenuous and well directed, must in order to produce all the results contemplated by the founders of this Academy, be supported and encouraged by the wealthy and powerful of our community. Among the members of this class, however, we anticipate no want of ardour in the promotion of a scheme likely to confer on the most useful classes of society benefits so permanent and so important, and we hope soon to number the most exalted of our citizens among the most efficient patrons of the Institution.—Courier.

The Right Hon. C. Poulett Thompson, the new Governor General of British America, Sir Richard Jackson, the new commander of the forces of Canada, and their respective suites, arrived at Quebec, in H. M. ship pique, on the 17th ult. On learning that the frigate had reached the capital, the gallant and much beloved Sir John Colborne, hastened thither to resign his own authority and to install the new Governor, which ceremony took place on the 19th. After the installation, the magistrates of Quebec presented Mr. Thompson with an address, congratulating him on his arrival, to which his excellency made a suitable reply.

A Commission of Oyer and Terminer, and General Gaol Delivery, was opened here on Tuesday last, Judge Borsford presiding. After the Grand Jury were sworn in, His Honor delivered a most explicit and instructive Charge, which we will give in our next number.

Shipwreck—Capt. Clements and crew of the British brigantine Two Partners of Yarmouth, N. S. arrived at Norfolk Saturday, in the schr. The Two Partners was capsized in the gale Sept. 12, in lat. 38, lon. 64, and had one man washed overboard.

The above mentioned vessel sailed from this port for Barbados on the 30th of August last.

There has been immense meetings of merchants in New York on the subject of money matters, and answers to their resolutions have been given by many of the Banks. The scarcity of money in that city, never equalled the present moment. The exorbitant rate of interest paid ought not to be tolerated.

The season has been highly favorable for fall ploughing, and if the opportunity is improved, it will materially lessen the labours of the farmer the ensuing spring.

The alteration of the American Mail which has lately gone into operation, by which letters and papers are detained in Eastport two days, will be productive of the most serious inconvenience to all who have communications with these Provinces. We trust that when the matter is laid before the Postmaster General of the United States, he will order the previous arrangement to be resumed.

It is said that Miss Martineau is about to revisit the United States. "Thursday the 28th inst appointed 'I thanksgiving Day,' by Gov. Fairfield, for the citizens of Maine.

The Quebec papers state that His Excellency C. P. Thomson, took and subscribed the usual Oath &c. as Governor General of British North America.

We have been presented by Mr. Duncan Stewart, with two very large heads of Cabbage, the production of his garden, which are equal in every respect to the best we have seen from Boston.—Why such large quantities are imported here from the U. S., when we can raise as good in our gardens, we cannot answer.

The portrait for which Lord GLENELG sat at the solicitation of the Delegates from this Province, has arrived, and is deposited at Government House, until the repairs and additions to the Province building are completed.

If things continue going on in the United States as they exist at present, they will become a mass of confusion and destruction. We have not space to chronicle a tithe of the numerous burnings, 'Swartwoutings,' and other disasters that are daily taking place, and therefore are obliged to confine our attention to those of more serious magnitude, such as the awful state of the money market, the new and flourishing town of Aiken in Carolina being nearly reduced to ashes by fire and the large factory at Worcester also destroyed by that destructive element.

It is stated in a New York paper, that an attempt was made to murder the Canadian rebel W. L. McKenzie, who is confined in Jail at Rochester. He was looking out of the window of his apartment, when a bullet fired from the opposite side, whistled through one of the panes of glass, just grazing his head, and lodging in the wall opposite.

We regret to learn that the Pictou Mines had taken fire, and that the loss of the Mining Association was great. None of them were

TO OUR SUBS.—We would feel much obliged to those who are in arrears for Paper and Advertising to settle their respective accounts, as we are anxious to have a winter supply of print which is a cash article.
