

SEPT.

CHILDREN TO POST.

Deserve Success and you shall Command it.

WILLIAM C. MILNER,
Proprietor.

VOL. 7.-NO. 18.

SACKVILLE, N. B., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1876.

Terms: $1.50 per Annum, Postage
prepaid. If paid in advance $1.25.

WHOLE NO. 320.

LITERATURE.

One Summer.

CONTINUED.

"A common, coarse country girl like me who dared venture out at all to-night, cannot be injured by walking an additional mile," she thought with much vexation.

She knew where the farm was. It was nearly a mile from Miss Philipp's mansion.

After leaving the village, sidewalk ceased, and their path lay through the muddy road. They walked on in silence and soon saw a light in a house they were approaching. It was the Holbrook Cottage. They reached the door. She turned to go. Then her warm heart conquered her pride and pique—"I am very sorry, I hope it will be better soon." He said: "I thank you, I imagine it will not be much. You have done me a great service. Don't think I offer this in payment, only perhaps you know of a little ribbon you may fancy, and if you will buy it you will make me still more indebted to you."

Putting her umbrella in her hand and a bank-note with a heavy "Good night," he opened the door, passed in and closed it again, before the girl had time to recover from her overpowering indignation.

Money! Had he dared to give her money? Insulting! Incredible! She turned from the hateful spot and started towards the village. Arrived at the house, she wearily ascended the stairs and shut herself in her room. She looked in the mirror with a smile that said, "Leigh Doane, you have not lived in vain. You have turned an honest penny. You have fairly earned two dollars." Her last thought as she closed her eyes, was: "Perhaps you may stumble against him somewhere"—"Of wise, prophetic Tom."

The umbrella affair secluded Mr. Ogden for a week. Served by Mrs. Holbrook and her very sentimental daughter "Sarah Maria," one morning when the latter enquired as usual if he wanted anything more, he surprised her by saying he would enjoy a call from her little brother Jim. Some time elapsed before he appeared. It was evident that the prospect of a tele-a-tete with the invalid in what he had a moment before called "that darned, poky old room," was not alluring to Jimmie. "Ah, Jimmie, is that you?" "Well enough." "Sit down won't you?" "Can't stop, ain't got time." His terse style of conversation was quite refreshing to Mr. Ogden, and he said, "Any candy shops in Edgecombe?" "Rather!" "Do you like taffy?" "You bet!" Here a little taffy occurred—Jimmie was mollified but not subdued.

Removing the cloth which he still wore upon his face, he said, "What do you think of that for a black eye, Jimmie?" "Who did you fight? Did you lick him?" "Jimmie, I always lick when I fight." "Do you think, honest? Let's feel yer muscle." Jimmie was won—he chatted about the impending circus, and Mr. Ogden finally asked if there were many strangers in the place.

"Well, there's you an' there's my Gid, an' I guess that's all." "And who might your Gid be?" "The one I take to you," said Jimmie with dignity. "Do you know her name?" "Once it was L. L. Doane, an' twice it was Miss Doane, and the last time it was Miss Laura Leigh Doane. She's to old Miss Philipp's, yer know. The folks was a coming but they ain't come yet. I showed her the old fort and she takes lots of things and goes over almost every day." "What do mean by lots of things, Jimmie?" "Well, a drawing-book, a basket for leaves and things, yer know; and a most generally an umbrella." "Ah, she carries an umbrella, does she, this Miss Doane, and what kind is it, my Jimmie?"

"It's got a shiny ball on top, and a pretty cross-piece on the handle. It's a real jolly, little umbrella."

"Very jolly," said Mr. Ogden, decisively. "Why, yer ain't seen it, have yer?" "I seen Jimmie in surprise."

"No, I cannot say that I have ever it. But I have a remembrance of holding in my hand once an umbrella similar, and I agree with you that it is jolly—very jolly, indeed; Jimmie, you are a fine boy, you shall go out in my wherry when you like." Jimmie withdrew and Mr. Ogden was left to his reflections.

The next day he received a note as follows:—

"My Dear Phil:—I have just learned that you were rusticated in Edgecombe, the very place I have left my fair sister, Miss Doane. Miss

Doane does not know a person in the place, and if you call occasionally upon her Mrs. Ods will be extremely pleased.

Harry Blake will bring his yacht round there during the summer and he expects you to join him. He'll have a magnificent time on the Idle Wild.

As ever, yours, etc.,
Tom G. Oris.

Saturday of the week following, Mr. Ogden ventured out. He was in a cheerful frame of mind, wearing only a black-and-blue spot of rather moderate size as a memento of Miss Doane's umbrella. In this state he drew near Miss Philipp's abode. Miss Doane was out. Leaving his card with the antique maiden, he lighted a cigar and passed down the hill that led to the bridge. Changing his mind, he suddenly turned in the direction of Rounney, when he saw before him something which he needed no glass to appreciate. Leaning against a rock was an umbrella. It was a small black one, having on one and a silver cross, and on its silver handle was engraved "L. L. Doane." He was extremely amused, he inferred she must be in the vicinity. He presumed she would be an agreeable girl. Ods' wife's sister ought to be. He turned suddenly and an open sketch-book arrested his attention. He was scrupulous in trifles, yet he took the book and examined it, then threw back his head and laughed long. "She's a genius; it's the richest thing I ever saw." At the top of the page were wickedly misapplied Shelley's lines:—

"We look before and after,
And sigh for what is not."
There were two pictures, the first in which a female figure was drawn with much spirit. Her draperies were flying in the wind, her umbrella grasped in both hands, and her resolute poise told of a contest with the storm. A man with his hat set very jauntily on the side of his head and who looked as if he had devoted an hour to his neck-tie walked carelessly towards her. In this picture collision was imminent and upon the next page its results were portrayed in "After"—a rough road with woods on both sides. Through wind and rain walked arm in arm the two figures described. The indignant smile on the girl's face was a study. The upper part of the man's face was bound by a handkerchief, and as he minced pompously along, he held an umbrella directly over his head in a position that would entail constant drippings over his companion. Below each sketch was written "Miss L. Doane." Thus had she revenged herself.

"When you have quite finished with your inspection, sir, I will trouble you for my sketch-book," said a voice behind him, dryly. In an instant he threw away his cigar, sprang to his feet, turned, took off his hat and saw what he never forgot in after years; a graceful figure, fair, wavy hair, great black eyes and a mouth set haughtily in a manner that boded no good. Politely he said, "Miss Doane?"—She was a truthful girl, but her good angel forsook her, and she told a white lie. "You have the advantage of me, sir." He said, "Pardon me, the advantage was yours before, is yours now and it must of necessity always remain with you." Without replying, without indeed glancing at him, she pushed by for her umbrella preparatory to departure. "It is my place—Miss Doane," not yours to withdraw." Lifting his hat with grace courtesy he walked rapidly away and disappeared among the trees.

So they met again, and so they parted.

EDGECOMBE, July 15, 18—

DEAR TOM AND DEAREST BESSIE:—

Let us play at "Consequences." I'll begin. Miss Doane and Mr. Ogden met in Edgecombe on a street corner a dark stormy night to the physical distress of one and the mental agony of the other.

He said:—

"My good woman, your umbrella has put out my majestic eye; shall I allow you the supreme honor of walking through a mile of mud with me?"

She said:—

"Yes, sir."

The world said she had only herself to blame.

The consequences were: Mr. Ogden retired from the world, and Miss Doane indulged in hatred and malice to him.

Dear Beattie, this is all true. I did hurt him, and he thought I was nobody, and asked me to tie a bandage over his eyes and take him home.

He was confined to his room for a week, so my little Jimmy boy reported. During that time my heart became quite softened. These long, quiet days here are lovely, but Jimmy boy is my only comfort. He is, I tell you, a rough diamond; and hereafter I shall spell his name with a G. He is not, perhaps of "purest ray serenity," but he is precious and sparkling. He has taken the greatest fancy to me. He left a handful of Columbian with Miss Philipp for me one morning before I was awake and he went over so many miles for a specimen of fern, which he heard me say I could not find here. He is bright, merry and amusing, has a loving, kind and appreciative heart. I wish Tom would let me go to you. It would be so much better than staying here. I'm afraid to stir for fear of meeting Mr. Ogden.

"Up the airy mountain,
Down the rushy glen,
We dare not go a hunting
For fear of 'F. Ogden.'"

Come and let me go to you in the earnest prayer of
Your loving
LEIGH.

To be continued.

Stories of Vanderbilt.

It is conceded by all his physicians, says the New York Times, that the ability to withstand the shocks of disease evinced by Commodore Vanderbilt is due to his strong constitution and unobscured physique, aided by the open air. As an instance of how active he was in his fifty-eighth year, it is related that in 1853 he was on board the steamer Prompess of the Nicaragua line, as she was being moored to her berth at pier No. 4, North River. A single hawser had been run from the ship to the pier, but owing to the strong current the ship could not be moored. The Commodore became impatient at the delay, and throwing his cane on the deck, swung himself hand over hand on the hawser from the ship to the pier. Then picking up his stick he said, "I was not going to stay there all day," and walked slowly up the dock.

Many stories showing his strong prejudices and peculiarities in those days, in regard to his business, are told of him. On one occasion, in 1852, a Mr. Loper of Philadelphia, who had built a number of propellers, and who was strongly in favor of that kind of vessel, called upon the Commodore to try to induce him to use propellers instead of side-wheels on the Nicaragua line. He exhibited a model to the Commodore and predicted that in ten years from that date not a single side-wheel steamer would be built, as the propellers were superior to them, and in speed and economy. After hearing all that Mr. Loper had to say, the Commodore said: "All you say, Mr. Loper, may be true, but I'll tell you what I'll do. You build a propeller, and I'll build one of my walking beam ships, and I'll run you a race from New York to Liverpool, ship for ship." Mr. Loper did not waver, and the Commodore never built a propeller.

One of his peculiarities is that he signs his name thus, "Van Derbilt," pronouncing it "Wanderbilt," as if written with a W, the old Dutch pronunciation of the name. Many years ago, when Wm. H. Vanderbilt was a boy, the old gentleman made arrangements to send him to a boarding school in Bedford, Westchester County. It being necessary to procure a trunk for the boy, the father and son, who lived in Madison street, went to the Bowery to purchase one. William had selected a trunk which he thought that it would be well to have it marked with his initials. The Commodore acquiesced, and turned to the storekeeper and said, "Put 'W. W.' on the ends," meaning Wm. H. Wm. W. said the storekeeper, inquiringly, "Yes," said the Commodore, "W. W." The man still not seeming to understand, the old gentleman said, "it, Bill, you tell him." William then explained what his father meant, and W. W. was put on the ends of the trunk in bright brass-letters, as was the custom in those days.

The title of Commodore was given him in the year 1834 by David Heywood, who was at that time captain of the steamboat "Champion," running between New York and Albany. The Commodore owned her as well as the steamship "Nimrod," with which he was running a day line to Albany in opposition to other lines.

Dismissing with a Revolver.

A HUSBAND ATTEMPTS TO SHOOT HIS WIFE FOR GOING TO A BAPTIST CHURCH.

DANVILLE, N. Y., Aug. 22, 1874.—A family by the name of Whitney lives near this place. A few weeks ago Mrs. Whitney was converted at a camp meeting and joined the Baptist Church. Her husband was opposed to her becoming a member of that church, and told her that if she persisted in attending he would shoot her. On Sunday she went to the house of a brother named Clarke in order to go to church with his family. Whitney followed her and forbade her going to the Baptist Church. A quarrel ensued and Clarke ordered his brother-in-law off the premises. Whitney went out of the yard and stood in the road near the gate and when the Clarke and Mr. Whitney came out on their way to Church he leveled a revolver at his wife's head, Clark knocked the weapon up and received the contents of one chamber in his arm. A son of Clark's seized Whitney and disarmed him before he could get into the house. He was followed by dogs and caught and badly beaten by the Clarke. He afterwards escaped arrest and cannot be found.

JEAN PAUL:—Every love believes in a double immortality, in its own and that of the other. When it is able to fear that it ever will cease it has already ceased. It is all the same to our hearts whether the loved one disappears or his love only.

GOETHE:—"We are only really alive when we enjoy the good will of others."

George Baker:—"A difference of taste in jokes is a great strain on the affection."

A Fearful Murder by an American.

HE THROWS HIS YOUNG WIFE DOWN AN ALPINE RAVINE.

Correspondence of the Cologne Gazette.

BORNO (Lombardy), July 17th.—The Vienna Gazette, Dr. Sigismund Fessler, made this morning the ascent of the Stelvio Pass from Eysach over Spoding and Trafal. An hour above Trafal, and at the height of about 6,700 feet, at the place where the Oder, Stelvio and Madatsch-Ferfer form that fearful impassable ravine in which the Adige has its source by the three sacred springs, Dr. Fessler perceived on the slope of the ravine a blue veil stained with blood. The Vienna tourist was a little horrified when he noticed that the traces of blood led down into the depth of the ravine. He suspected an accident or a crime, and although the descent into the bottom of the ravine was not free from danger, with the aid of two passing peasants he let himself down into it; and there he found the body of a young woman, about twenty-four years of age, elegantly dressed, dead, with three gaping wounds on the head. The wounds appeared to have been made with a sharp instrument. The body was lying at the bottom with the head downward. All the circumstances indicated a crime, and in particular the broken handle of a sun umbrella found by the dead body showed the struggle in defense that had taken place. Dr. Fessler left the two peasants to watch over the corpse, and crept back up the ravine on all fours, and soon after the District Magistrate of Girus appeared on the spot and made an examination. The report of the crime spread like wildfire through the neighboring hamlet, and the case about that its perpetrator was soon in the hands of justice. He is an American who lived in Springfield in regard to his business, are told of him. On one occasion, in 1852, a Mr. Loper of Philadelphia, who had built a number of propellers, and who was strongly in favor of that kind of vessel, called upon the Commodore to try to induce him to use propellers instead of side-wheels on the Nicaragua line. He exhibited a model to the Commodore and predicted that in ten years from that date not a single side-wheel steamer would be built, as the propellers were superior to them, and in speed and economy. After hearing all that Mr. Loper had to say, the Commodore said: "All you say, Mr. Loper, may be true, but I'll tell you what I'll do. You build a propeller, and I'll build one of my walking beam ships, and I'll run you a race from New York to Liverpool, ship for ship." Mr. Loper did not waver, and the Commodore never built a propeller.

One of his peculiarities is that he signs his name thus, "Van Derbilt," pronouncing it "Wanderbilt," as if written with a W, the old Dutch pronunciation of the name. Many years ago, when Wm. H. Vanderbilt was a boy, the old gentleman made arrangements to send him to a boarding school in Bedford, Westchester County. It being necessary to procure a trunk for the boy, the father and son, who lived in Madison street, went to the Bowery to purchase one. William had selected a trunk which he thought that it would be well to have it marked with his initials. The Commodore acquiesced, and turned to the storekeeper and said, "Put 'W. W.' on the ends," meaning Wm. H. Wm. W. said the storekeeper, inquiringly, "Yes," said the Commodore, "W. W." The man still not seeming to understand, the old gentleman said, "it, Bill, you tell him." William then explained what his father meant, and W. W. was put on the ends of the trunk in bright brass-letters, as was the custom in those days.

The title of Commodore was given him in the year 1834 by David Heywood, who was at that time captain of the steamboat "Champion," running between New York and Albany. The Commodore owned her as well as the steamship "Nimrod," with which he was running a day line to Albany in opposition to other lines.

Dismissing with a Revolver.

A HUSBAND ATTEMPTS TO SHOOT HIS WIFE FOR GOING TO A BAPTIST CHURCH.

DANVILLE, N. Y., Aug. 22, 1874.—A family by the name of Whitney lives near this place. A few weeks ago Mrs. Whitney was converted at a camp meeting and joined the Baptist Church. Her husband was opposed to her becoming a member of that church, and told her that if she persisted in attending he would shoot her. On Sunday she went to the house of a brother named Clarke in order to go to church with his family. Whitney followed her and forbade her going to the Baptist Church. A quarrel ensued and Clarke ordered his brother-in-law off the premises. Whitney went out of the yard and stood in the road near the gate and when the Clarke and Mr. Whitney came out on their way to Church he leveled a revolver at his wife's head, Clark knocked the weapon up and received the contents of one chamber in his arm. A son of Clark's seized Whitney and disarmed him before he could get into the house. He was followed by dogs and caught and badly beaten by the Clarke. He afterwards escaped arrest and cannot be found.

JEAN PAUL:—Every love believes in a double immortality, in its own and that of the other. When it is able to fear that it ever will cease it has already ceased. It is all the same to our hearts whether the loved one disappears or his love only.

GOETHE:—"We are only really alive when we enjoy the good will of others."

George Baker:—"A difference of taste in jokes is a great strain on the affection."

Getting Posted.

A colored man, hobbling along with the aid of a crutch, halted a policeman on Brush street yesterday and said:

"I hasn't bin in dis town long, an' I wants some advice."

"All right," was the ready reply. "Now, if I is walking along de street an' see a fire what mus' I do about it?" asked the newly-arrived citizen.

"Why, you must shout 'fire' as loud as you can to attract attention."

"Yes."

"And then go to the nearest box and sound the alarm."

"The steamers will speedily respond and the fire will be put out."

"Dat seems sensible an' all right," mused the man, "but dere's one deebahn."

"Go ahead."

"'Go ahead' does dey pay me an' when does de cash begin to come in?" The officer made a further explanation, and the old man shook his head and responded:

"'Cooldn't do it—cooldn't think of it. While I was gwine from all dose motions I could make two shillings sawing wood. Ize born into dis world on a cash basis!"

EUGENIE.—A correspondent who lately saw the Empress Eugenie says she has broken sadly in the last year or two, and has lost nearly every vestige of her beauty. She has grown very stout, dyes her hair and covers her face with powder, while the slight lameness which she used to dissimulate so skillfully has become very apparent in her gait. Her state of bearing and the noble carriage of her head and shoulders are still very remarkable. She looks like one accustomed to wear a crown. It is a significant fact that all the photographs of her now offered for sale in the Parisian shops were taken two or three years ago, so apparently she has not cared to sit for any later ones.

His MISTAKE.—After two men had shaken in front of a Woolward Av. store yesterday one of them remarked, "well I heard that your case of assault and battery fell through." "So it did," was the reply; the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty, and the sounder thing on him." "So I would have had but for my own foolishness: Do you believe that I was just fool enough to own up that I struck first? But for that little technical error the jury would have convicted him and he'd been fined at least twenty dollars."

THE London Times estimates the cost of building and restoring churches in England estimated in a large substantial log canoe or "dog-out." When they overtook him he seemed much obliged for their attention, and quietly putting his paw on the side of the canoe, drew him into it, noted and announced that they were about to be hit by their paddles. As he came in on one side two of the men went into the water on the other side. The third, who may be called Fisher, could not swim, and naturally enough fell overboard. Much to his relief the rascal deliberately sat down in the bow of the canoe facing him. As the noise of the rapids and roar of the Falls reminded him that they were ominously near, Fisher resolved to take advantage of the canoe and pull vigorously for this shore. But when he began to paddle, the bear began to growl his objections, enforcing them at the same time with an objection, enforcing them at the same time with an objection. Fisher desisted for a while, but feeling their constant and insidious approach to the rapids, he tried again to use his paddle. Bruin then raised his note of disapprobation an octave higher, and made a motion as if he intended to get down and "go for" him. The men who swim ashore, soothed however, reappeared in another canoe, with a loaded musket, shot the bear and ended Fisher's terrible suspense. Bruin weighed over three hundred pounds.

ENGLISH MAGAZINE.—"Scattered about the earth, there are supposed to be 10,000,000 or 11,000,000 Jews alive. Thousands of these people are rich, some of them own colossal fortunes. Rothschild could buy the fee simple of Palestine. Goldsmid might rebuild the temple of Herod. Montefiore has money enough to cast a golden statue of King Solomon. But of these wealthy Hebrews, none are willing to go back."

Mr. BOWLES has got the patent for his new tin hen. He fills the thing with oyster shells, boiled starch and extract of onion, and sets it up, puts her on a nest, and she will lay an egg every day for a week. He has a way for keeping her from working Sundays.

JEAN PAUL:—Every love believes in a double immortality, in its own and that of the other. When it is able to fear that it ever will cease it has already ceased. It is all the same to our hearts whether the loved one disappears or his love only.

GOETHE:—"We are only really alive when we enjoy the good will of others."

George Baker:—"A difference of taste in jokes is a great strain on the affection."

Business Cards.

L. B. BOTSFORD, M. D.

Office: In the Store lately occupied by M. Wood & Sons.

Residence: - - - - - at Mr. Robert Bell's, Sackville, July 20, 1876.—6m

H. S. & T. W. BELL,

Soap Manufacturers, - - - - - Sackville, N. B.

The best and cheapest Soap in the Market.

JOB. HOWE DICKSON,

Attorney-at-Law,

CONVEYANCER, &c.

Office:—Over the Sackville Drug Store, SACKVILLE, N. B.

CHRIS. W. COLE,

AUCTIONEER,

SACKVILLE, - - - - - N. B.

A. E. OULTON,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, SOLICITOR,

Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c.

Office: - - - - - A. L. Palmer's Building, Dorchester, N. B.

REMOVAL NOTICE.

W. D. KNAPP, M. D.

Physician & Acoucheur.

May be consulted at the residence situated opposite the store of Mr. John Bell, Sackville.

T. W. KNAPP, M. D.

Graduate at the University of Edinburgh.

THANKS his friends and the public for the patronage they have given him during the last twenty-five years. He may be consulted at his residence, near Bridge Street, Sackville. dec17

COLONIAL BOOK STORE,

ST. JOHN, N. B.

Musical Instruments,

Paper Hangings, School Books, Stationery, Periodicals.

THOMAS H. HALL.

G. F. THOMPSON & SONS,

White Lead, Zinc, Paint and Color Works.

OFFICE AND SAMPLE ROOMS

73 Prince St., St. John, N. B.

Oils, Turpentine, &c., &c.

POSSLEY, CRAWFORD & POSSLEY,

Barristers and Attorneys-at-Law,

80 PRINCE WM. ST., ST. JOHN, N. B.

G. R. PUGLEY, E. H. CRAWFORD, W. PUGLEY, Jr.

SHIP AGENTS & SHIP BROKERS.

(Consulate of the Netherlands, (Consulate of Austria and Hungary.)

No. 127 WATLING STREET,

L. WESTERGAARD, } Philadelphia.

CHARLES R. SMITH,

BARRISTER AND ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,

Solicitor, Conveyancer, Notary Public, &c.

AMHERST, - - - - - N. S.

Prompt attention paid to the collection of debts and transaction of business generally.

George Nixon,

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

PAPER HANGING,

Brunnes and Window Glass.

KING ST. - - - - - ST. JOHN, N. B.

Marble & Freestone Works.

P. HAGAN,

(Successor to H. J. MacGowan)

DORCHESTER, N. B.

All kinds of Monumental Work,

Executed at the most reasonable prices.

VICTORIA

STEAM COFFEYONERY WORKS.

Waterloo st. St. John, N. B.

WE call the attention of Wholesale dealers and others to our Stock of Pans Conveyances. Wholesale only.

J. E. WOODBURN & Co.,

Victoria Steam Confectionery Works.

J. E. WOODBURN, H. P. KEER.

PETITODIAC

Furniture Factory!

F. J. MURPHY, Proprietor.

The Subscriber is prepared to furnish Doors, Sashes, & Flooring, House, Office & School Furniture.

As he has fine Facilities for making up all descriptions of Wood-Work, he believes he can give SATISFACTION both in the QUALITY of the Work and in Prices!

Orders solicited!

Oct. 15. T. J. MURPHY

SEND 25c. to G. P. BOWELL & CO., New York, for Pamphlet of 100 pages, containing lists of 5000 newspapers, and estimates showing cost of advertising.

$12 a day at home. Agents wanted. $100 a day at home. Agents wanted. $100 a day at home. Agents wanted.

$5 to $20 worth $1 free. Successor & Co., Portland, Maine.

Business Cards.

MACLELLAN & Co.,

BANKERS & BROKERS,

ST. JOHN, N. B.

EVERY kind of legitimate Banking done, and all the facilities of an Incorporated Bank afforded to Depositors and Customers. June 12, '76.

ALEX. NEAL,

Merchant Tailor,

MUNTON, N. B.

A CHOICE SELECTION OF

Fashionable Cloths,

ON HAND.

PERFECT FIT in every case guaranteed.

C. H. VENNING,

Clock and Watch Maker.

I BEG respectfully to inform the inhabitants of Sackville and vicinity that I have taken the shop opposite Mr. Robert Bell's, where I will be happy to attend to any customers in my line of business, and can promise strict attention and reasonable despatch. Jewellery neatly repaired. ap28 G. H. V.

Chignecto Post.

SACKVILLE, N. B., SEPT. 7, 1876.

Crime and its Remedies.

On Monday last four convicted prisoners were sent from the Dorchester Gaol to serve out the term for which they were sentenced in the Penitentiary. One feature in connection with these prisoners is deserving of notice and thoughtful consideration, viz: their extreme youth. They were all in appearance from 16 to 22 years, and were all evidently novices in crime. One of them, when being sentenced treated being branded as a criminal in the lightest possible manner, evidencing a want of appreciation of his situation that could only result from a mind unevenly balanced, and perhaps to the others, the formalities of the Court-room partook more of a mysterious show than a terrible reality.

The question naturally arises, for what purpose are these lads sent to the Penitentiary? The object of punishment is not considered a retribution or atonement or expiation for the wrong done, but to serve as a precaution against future offenses. This precaution is taken in several ways, either by reforming the criminal or by confining him where he will be incapable of doing further mischief, or it serves as an example and warning to others. Now the great object, namely, the amendment of the criminal, it is scarcely to be hoped will be served by confining these lads to the Penitentiary, for it is a lamentable fact, that as a rule criminals on being relieved from the restraint of the Penitentiary immediately re-enter upon a course of crime, which frequently results in sending them back to confinement. In too many cases the Penitentiary affords no deterring influence on old criminals; too often they grow to look upon man as their enemy and their natural prey. Influences that might awaken dormant moral energies and gladden their hearts are denied them, and day after day their stunted minds become corroded with a deep settled dislike of their fellow man, and all better impulses die within them. These lads go to the Penitentiary probably for their first offense. What influences will be exerted there to make them reformed and enable them when free to worthily commence the business of life? What sort of training—of education do they get there to enable them to discharge their duties as citizens and men? Will they learn lessons of honesty and virtue from the hardened and depraved class with whom they day after day associate? Does experience show that such contact is wholesome? So far from reforming and elevating the criminal, do not such associations tend to confirm the original bent of the mind; do they not strengthen and stimulate whatever is bad—in short is not the Penitentiary in many cases a school where the worst criminals in the country graduate? Habits of depravity grow there; lessons in villainy are learned there; never in some cases to be forgotten except at the foot of the gallows.

The question is, ought there not to be a reformatory to take care of these youthful offenders? There are other reasons why these lads should not be placed in a fair position to become permanent members of the hopelessly criminal class. To constitute a crime there must be a vicious will and an unlawful act consequent upon such vicious will. The intention has all to do with constituting an act, a crime. No crime can be committed unless done with malicious intent. How are a man's motives to be discovered? The Law judges the motive from the act and says every man is a sane, responsible being until he is proved to the contrary. While these rules of criminal jurisprudence may be seventy-five per cent. of the cases on the criminal calendar further justice, cases occur every day that prove their fallacy. Criminal acts are committed every day that by the ordinary rules cannot be referred to any one of the heads, infancy, idocy, lunacy, intoxication, misfortune or ignorance compulsion or necessity, and for which the doers are not morally responsible. The boy Fred Tomeroy—who is described as bright and intelligent—said he could not help torturing and killing his companions; he was a born murderer; phrenologically speaking, his destructiveness was abnormally developed and completely beyond the control of his other faculties; he merely gratified an impulse of his being in murderously slaying children. A similar case is the boy Manship of this place, who, without any such motive as passion or revenge held a child under water until life was extinct. The criminal law in supposing every man's moral and mental faculties are normally developed, is in error as any proposition can be, and in making no calculation for the various mental phenomena and diseases, which control men's will and actions, is manifestly at fault. In the four cases in point, would it not have been wiser and avowed more of humanity, for these young lads to have been treated not as hardened ruffians, but as beings whose misfortune has given them a claim upon our sympathy, and for whose mental and moral welfare, society is in some sort responsible?

The New Sultan.

It is curious to note the regard paid to constitutional usage in the empire of Turkey even in such matters as scissoring Sultans and finding successors to them. Three months ago the Ministry determined to dethrone ABDUL AZIZ and put in his place the nephew MURAD. The formal deposition was done by the Grand Mufti, the head of the Mohammedan Law, in strict accordance with the Law of the Empire. On Thursday last MURAD was deposed and ABDUL MENDIP duly enthroned. The New Sultan is thirty four years old, and is said to be like the suicide of May, a valiant and religious devotee. If he has any regard for his head, he will not throw any obstacles in the way of a Ministry, whose bold designs are not to be impeded even at the expense of desolated provinces, murdered populations and a dozen or two Sultans.

Mr. Dow of the St. Stephen Journal endeavors to delude the farmers of Charlotte into the idea he possesses a profound knowledge of Agriculture. Mr. Dow unlike Mark Twain, (who as an Agricultural Editor informed farmers how to climb trees to pull off the turkeys), succeeded admirably until recently. According to the News some waggish farmers painted up a carboy over which they trailed squashes in natural fashion, and pained it off on brother Dow as a monster squash. And then brother Dow, with praised propriety "wrote up" the growing wretchedness of the squash of St. Stephen. Rev. J. L. of the News could not be taken in that way. Natural intuition sharpened by "able experience" would have led him to take a minute and careful examination of the bung hole.

YACHTING BROKE IN HALIFAX HARBOR.—On Saturday a "Petrel," "Psyche," "Kate," "Nymphia," "Circus," "Mystery," "Cygnus" and "Albatross" look part. The "Cygnus" when off North Grove was struck by a sudden squall of wind and rain. The yacht went over and down, leaving Fay, Tupper and Sadler afloat in the water. Mr. Fay was seen only for a moment, when he sank with a despairing cry. Mr. Tupper swam for an hour, but he, too, sank and no one heard him speak. The accident had been seen from the shore, as well as from some of the yachts, and assistance was at hand within a very short time. The yachts "Mystery" and "Psyche" the nearest to scene of the disaster, put about, and a life-buoy thrown from the "Mystery" was seized by Sadler. Another near to Mr. Tupper, but not near enough and he disappeared before another could be thrown. The others succeeded in swimming ashore. Mr. Tupper belonged to the Inland Revenue Department; Mr. Fay was a Halifax merchant. They were both young men and leave widows.

The yacht "Mystery" dropped anchor near Turtle Grove to avoid mishap, but she dragged and was in danger of being dashed on the rocks. Mr. Robert Noble volunteered to take a rope astern to drag her in the cove. He divested himself of his clothes and plunged in but within a few yards of the shore disappeared. He was taken with cramps. The whole affair has cast a gloom over the city.

THE PARIS CREW DEFEATED.—At the races at Philadelphia on Monday the Halifax crew beat the Paris crew by eight lengths—time 17.55. Said to be the best time on record for a three mile race with one crew. The news is received by many with indifference, and many more recollecting the loss of time and money and the dissipation and gambling fever engendered the past few years in St. John by the victories of the Paris crew, will not now regret their enforced retirement. The prestige and honor of St. John will not suffer by their defeat.

The Thames crew defeated the American crew, leaving the former crew to row against the Halifax boys. In the second race commenced on Tuesday, the first heat between Brayley of St. John and Ellis Ward, Brayley was taken in 22.06 1-2. The second heat Hanlon of Toronto, finished of New York and Southern of Pittsburgh, was taken by Hanlon in 21.54 1-4. In double sculls, the two of the London crew won and Falker and Regan of Boston defeated Ward Bros.

THE CUMBERLAND RIFLE ASSOCIATION met yesterday at River Philip, and complete their competition to day. Among the Prizes are the Tupper Gold Medal, and the Stewart Medal. There are between thirty and forty competitors. The Officers of the Association are:—President, Lt. Col. Stewart; Sec. and Treas., Capt. and Adjutant J. Alb. Black; and Umpire, Major Harrison.

THE ELGIN BRANCH is to be opened for traffic to-morrow. The people of that parish are to be congratulated upon the success that has crowned their efforts to secure a railway communication, a success largely due to the energy of the contractor, C. A. Hallett, Esq., C. E.

Monoton Items.

DEAR EDITOR:—Your correspondent visited the rising and important town of Monoton last week, and while there made a few notes and observations on the appearance of the town in general, which may be of interest to many of your readers. Travellers, as a general rule, have a prevailing love for good hotels. Such a luxury cannot be found in Monoton. There are numerous buildings professing to be hotels, but they are not. The Royal is soon to be given up by the present occupant and will be taken by the well-known hotel proprietor W. J. Weldon, of Shelburne. No doubt there will be a change for the better. Persons who patronize Mr. Weldon have comforts not attainable in Monoton now, true the Queen's has some pretensions, but they are meagre and scanty. A weary traveller does not like to be bored by a hotel proprietor soliciting inquiries about his house and family, neither does he like to be told to go to his meals, as he prefers to go when he pleases. The Queen's would be improved by a liberal use of carbolic acid or other disinfectant in the rear part of the building. The other hotels derive their support from the sale of intoxicating drinks, and are nothing but diggy dark rum holes, possessing no attractions for a traveller. Monoton is dirty. Everywhere one goes he meets filthy looking puddles and dirty ditches from many of which a noxious effluvia arises foul enough to permeate the air with the seeds of disease. Such things are to be seen on Main Street, the boulevard of Monoton, but on many of the back streets filthiness of the grossest nature is everywhere visible. It is much to be regretted that more circumspection is not studied on the part of the town authorities. The most important work in Monoton is a pecuniary point of view is the one in which "pay-day" falls. It is so called because the railway authorities receive their monthly pay for their services on that day. It is amusing to observe the number of schemes that are planned for a week or two previous to this day in order to take the earnings of those men. Concerts and theatrical performances come thick and fast, pic-nics and tea-meetings are put off until this week. Petty shopkeepers vend their spurious jewelry and other trash at a fraction. The town will be swarming with wheels of fortune and lotteries on a small scale.

I visited the sanctum sanctorum of the Editor of the Times. The Editor, a long, lanky, thin man, with his chest with his legs tangled under him, and suggests to the mind the idea of a Western man in a dine novel; he rises and you expect to hear, "How are you stranger?" He is a pleasant, obliging gentleman and if a history were written of his life it would no doubt be quite interesting. He does not look like a fighting man, but was informed that he was attacked once by a scurvy little merchant of this town, and the Editor exhibited some jewelry and other trash at a fraction. The town will be swarming with wheels of fortune and lotteries on a small scale.

SAD AND SINGULAR CASE OF DROWNING.—The Berwick Star has the following, which is a warning to seafaring persons:—Emerson Huntly, a young man, about twenty years of age, resident at Kingsport, Cornwallis, while on a pleasure cruise to Spencer Island with a small party, on board the schooner "Mary Grace," during Monday, 21st ult., accidentally fell overboard and was drowned. The circumstances, as near as we can learn, are these: The wind blew hard, the seas ran high and sharp, the man, Huntly, was very sea-sick and he lay upon the top of the cabin-house. He was cautioned by the Captain that his position was dangerous, as the vessel might take a lurch that would throw him overboard. No sooner had the caution been given, and before the young man had time to change his position, the vessel took such a roll as to throw him from the top of the house clear of the rail into the sea. Such things as were available for the purpose were thrown to save him, as he remained on the surface for about a minute—even the hatches were thrown over, leaving the vessel to slip a good deal of water and nearly swamping afterwards—but he caught nothing and finally went down to rise no more until "the sea shall give up her dead." He had very near relatives on board who must have felt keenly the sad event, as also the whole party.

DEATH OF DR. HODGSON, OF CUMBERLAND.—On Tuesday week Dr. Hodgson started in his two-wheeled sulky to visit a patient, when a heavy rain fell, driving him into the ground. He struck on his head, producing concussion of the brain, from the effects of which, he died on Sunday, aged thirty-eight years. His untimely death is greatly regretted throughout the county. He was a man of high character, personally and had attained a position in his profession that seemed to promise him a life full of usefulness and honors. The funeral ceremony took place on Tuesday and was attended by a large gathering of people desirous of paying their last tribute of respect to the deceased.

AMHERST WAREHOUSING COMPANY has been re-organized. Messrs. B. Douglas, W. D. Douglas, Chambers and Moran, retire from the firm, and Mr. Wm. Sleep, the only remaining partner associates with himself in the business Messrs. Jas. Purdy and Chas. A. Bent. This company has to a large degree enjoyed the confidence and patronage of the public, and we have no doubt it will enter upon a new lease of prosperity. The new firm certainly possesses every needed facility to induce an extensive country trade.

IN THIS CIVILIZED AGE, may well be the enquiry of those who read the story of the prize fight of last Thursday. The disgusting brutality displayed by the combatants and gloried with with horrible vast by the five hundred spectators, reveals the existence of a class whose utter depravity, whose disregard alike of the laws of God and the instincts of humanity is a thorough and constant menace to the comfort and peace of the American Centennial year should be fouled with such scenes.

WHO IS SITTING BELL?—the mighty Sioux Brave—the great commander agitating the quiet natives across the border. Public opinion seems divided, part leaning to the belief he is "Bison" McLean an old West Point Cadet, and the other part maintaining he is a brother of John Bull.

Perhaps, Mr. Editor, I am taking up too much space, but I give you a

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat Hogs, different sizes.
2 New Riding Wagons; 1 second-hand do.
1 New Express do.
1 Skeleton Trotting Wagon, new, weighs 90 lbs.
1 Superior Two-wheeled Sulky.
1 Coal-box Driving Carriage, nearly new.
6 Sleighs and Pungs, 2 sets silver-mounted Harnesses, new; 8 sets second-hand in good order; 2 tons of washed Wool, in good order.

TERMS.—Nine months, approved security, three months without interest. Sale positive. Bargains may be expected as the subscribers intend making a change in their business. ETTER, BUCKLEY & CO. J. S. DELANEY, Auctioneer.

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat Hogs, different sizes.
2 New Riding Wagons; 1 second-hand do.
1 New Express do.
1 Skeleton Trotting Wagon, new, weighs 90 lbs.
1 Superior Two-wheeled Sulky.
1 Coal-box Driving Carriage, nearly new.
6 Sleighs and Pungs, 2 sets silver-mounted Harnesses, new; 8 sets second-hand in good order; 2 tons of washed Wool, in good order.

TERMS.—Nine months, approved security, three months without interest. Sale positive. Bargains may be expected as the subscribers intend making a change in their business. ETTER, BUCKLEY & CO. J. S. DELANEY, Auctioneer.

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat Hogs, different sizes.
2 New Riding Wagons; 1 second-hand do.
1 New Express do.
1 Skeleton Trotting Wagon, new, weighs 90 lbs.
1 Superior Two-wheeled Sulky.
1 Coal-box Driving Carriage, nearly new.
6 Sleighs and Pungs, 2 sets silver-mounted Harnesses, new; 8 sets second-hand in good order; 2 tons of washed Wool, in good order.

TERMS.—Nine months, approved security, three months without interest. Sale positive. Bargains may be expected as the subscribers intend making a change in their business. ETTER, BUCKLEY & CO. J. S. DELANEY, Auctioneer.

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat Hogs, different sizes.
2 New Riding Wagons; 1 second-hand do.
1 New Express do.
1 Skeleton Trotting Wagon, new, weighs 90 lbs.
1 Superior Two-wheeled Sulky.
1 Coal-box Driving Carriage, nearly new.
6 Sleighs and Pungs, 2 sets silver-mounted Harnesses, new; 8 sets second-hand in good order; 2 tons of washed Wool, in good order.

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat Hogs, different sizes.
2 New Riding Wagons; 1 second-hand do.
1 New Express do.
1 Skeleton Trotting Wagon, new, weighs 90 lbs.
1 Superior Two-wheeled Sulky.
1 Coal-box Driving Carriage, nearly new.
6 Sleighs and Pungs, 2 sets silver-mounted Harnesses, new; 8 sets second-hand in good order; 2 tons of washed Wool, in good order.

TERMS.—Nine months, approved security, three months without interest. Sale positive. Bargains may be expected as the subscribers intend making a change in their business. ETTER, BUCKLEY & CO. J. S. DELANEY, Auctioneer.

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat Hogs, different sizes.
2 New Riding Wagons; 1 second-hand do.
1 New Express do.
1 Skeleton Trotting Wagon, new, weighs 90 lbs.
1 Superior Two-wheeled Sulky.
1 Coal-box Driving Carriage, nearly new.
6 Sleighs and Pungs, 2 sets silver-mounted Harnesses, new; 8 sets second-hand in good order; 2 tons of washed Wool, in good order.

TERMS.—Nine months, approved security, three months without interest. Sale positive. Bargains may be expected as the subscribers intend making a change in their business. ETTER, BUCKLEY & CO. J. S. DELANEY, Auctioneer.

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat Hogs, different sizes.
2 New Riding Wagons; 1 second-hand do.
1 New Express do.
1 Skeleton Trotting Wagon, new, weighs 90 lbs.
1 Superior Two-wheeled Sulky.
1 Coal-box Driving Carriage, nearly new.
6 Sleighs and Pungs, 2 sets silver-mounted Harnesses, new; 8 sets second-hand in good order; 2 tons of washed Wool, in good order.

TERMS.—Nine months, approved security, three months without interest. Sale positive. Bargains may be expected as the subscribers intend making a change in their business. ETTER, BUCKLEY & CO. J. S. DELANEY, Auctioneer.

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat Hogs, different sizes.
2 New Riding Wagons; 1 second-hand do.
1 New Express do.
1 Skeleton Trotting Wagon, new, weighs 90 lbs.
1 Superior Two-wheeled Sulky.
1 Coal-box Driving Carriage, nearly new.
6 Sleighs and Pungs, 2 sets silver-mounted Harnesses, new; 8 sets second-hand in good order; 2 tons of washed Wool, in good order.

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat Hogs, different sizes.
2 New Riding Wagons; 1 second-hand do.
1 New Express do.
1 Skeleton Trotting Wagon, new, weighs 90 lbs.
1 Superior Two-wheeled Sulky.
1 Coal-box Driving Carriage, nearly new.
6 Sleighs and Pungs, 2 sets silver-mounted Harnesses, new; 8 sets second-hand in good order; 2 tons of washed Wool, in good order.

TERMS.—Nine months, approved security, three months without interest. Sale positive. Bargains may be expected as the subscribers intend making a change in their business. ETTER, BUCKLEY & CO. J. S. DELANEY, Auctioneer.

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat Hogs, different sizes.
2 New Riding Wagons; 1 second-hand do.
1 New Express do.
1 Skeleton Trotting Wagon, new, weighs 90 lbs.
1 Superior Two-wheeled Sulky.
1 Coal-box Driving Carriage, nearly new.
6 Sleighs and Pungs, 2 sets silver-mounted Harnesses, new; 8 sets second-hand in good order; 2 tons of washed Wool, in good order.

TERMS.—Nine months, approved security, three months without interest. Sale positive. Bargains may be expected as the subscribers intend making a change in their business. ETTER, BUCKLEY & CO. J. S. DELANEY, Auctioneer.

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat Hogs, different sizes.
2 New Riding Wagons; 1 second-hand do.
1 New Express do.
1 Skeleton Trotting Wagon, new, weighs 90 lbs.
1 Superior Two-wheeled Sulky.
1 Coal-box Driving Carriage, nearly new.
6 Sleighs and Pungs, 2 sets silver-mounted Harnesses, new; 8 sets second-hand in good order; 2 tons of washed Wool, in good order.

TERMS.—Nine months, approved security, three months without interest. Sale positive. Bargains may be expected as the subscribers intend making a change in their business. ETTER, BUCKLEY & CO. J. S. DELANEY, Auctioneer.

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat Hogs, different sizes.
2 New Riding Wagons; 1 second-hand do.
1 New Express do.
1 Skeleton Trotting Wagon, new, weighs 90 lbs.
1 Superior Two-wheeled Sulky.
1 Coal-box Driving Carriage, nearly new.
6 Sleighs and Pungs, 2 sets silver-mounted Harnesses, new; 8 sets second-hand in good order; 2 tons of washed Wool, in good order.

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat Hogs, different sizes.
2 New Riding Wagons; 1 second-hand do.
1 New Express do.
1 Skeleton Trotting Wagon, new, weighs 90 lbs.
1 Superior Two-wheeled Sulky.
1 Coal-box Driving Carriage, nearly new.
6 Sleighs and Pungs, 2 sets silver-mounted Harnesses, new; 8 sets second-hand in good order; 2 tons of washed Wool, in good order.

TERMS.—Nine months, approved security, three months without interest. Sale positive. Bargains may be expected as the subscribers intend making a change in their business. ETTER, BUCKLEY & CO. J. S. DELANEY, Auctioneer.

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat Hogs, different sizes.
2 New Riding Wagons; 1 second-hand do.
1 New Express do.
1 Skeleton Trotting Wagon, new, weighs 90 lbs.
1 Superior Two-wheeled Sulky.
1 Coal-box Driving Carriage, nearly new.
6 Sleighs and Pungs, 2 sets silver-mounted Harnesses, new; 8 sets second-hand in good order; 2 tons of washed Wool, in good order.

TERMS.—Nine months, approved security, three months without interest. Sale positive. Bargains may be expected as the subscribers intend making a change in their business. ETTER, BUCKLEY & CO. J. S. DELANEY, Auctioneer.

Advertisements This Day.

HENRY OLDRICHT, BARRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Office formerly occupied by Judge W. A. D. Morse, AMHERST, N. S.

AUCTION.

THE Subscribers will sell at Auction at the residence of William Buckley, at Amherst, on Saturday, 16th September, 1876, At 1 p. m., the following STOCK, &c.:

- 1 Black Entire Horse, imported from the United States, known as "Maine Sycamore" (See Foliores).
1 Bay Horse, stands 16 hands high, 5 years old, handsome, and a good driver.
1 Black Horse, 4 years old, good style, and first-class Roadster.
1 pair of fine Cattle; 15 fat

IMPROVED Home Shuttle Sewing Machines! THIS Machine, for family use and light manufacturing purposes, is SUPERIOR TO ANY OTHER MACHINE.

NEW GOODS. 3 packages English PRINTS. These Goods are wider and heavier than the American Prints.

EVERITT & BUTLER, 55 and 57 King Street, ST. JOHN, N. B.

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY. Cheap Excursions to the Principal Places in QUEBEC and ONTARIO.

ON the 14th, 16th and 18th of August, 1876. Excursion Tickets WILL BE ISSUED.

C. J. BRIDGES, Gen. Sup't. Gov. Railways, Moncton, 27th July, 1876.

SAINT JOHN Slate Mantel MARBLEIZING WORKS.

THE Subscribers have entered into partnership under the name, style and firm of WILSON, GILMOUR & CO.

Medallion Portable Range, It is unsurpassed by any in the trade.

TIME IS MONEY.

Persons indebted to me WILL PLEASE Call & Pay!

ABNER SMITH, Sackville, June 12, 1876.

P. S.—My name is on the soles of all my Boots and Shoes.

New Felt Hats, D. MAGEE & CO.

HAVE received—Nine cases, to complete assortment of Medium and Fine FELT HATS.

HAT WAREHOUSE: 51 King St. - St. John, N. B. June 14th, 1876.

SPRING HILL COAL! A SUPERIOR ARTICLE for house or steam purposes.

W. E. VROOM, St. John, N. B., Sec'y and Treas. July 20, 1876.

Barbados Molasses, JOGAN, LINDSAY & CO.

MIRRORS, (In carved Walnut or Gilt Frames.) From $5 to $150.

Framing of Pictures, Is done by the Subscriber at Hard Time Prices.

Bargains! Bargains! The subscriber has in store a bankrupt Stock of Books, Chromos, Lamps, Frames, &c., &c.

Agents Wanted—Liberal inducements offered.

PICTURES Framed to Order AT THE Sackville Picture Frame Factory.

A Large Stock of PICTURE FRAME MOULDINGS IN WALNUT & GILT, New Style.

A Splendid Stock of READY MADE FRAMES In Black Walnut, Imitation Vandyke, &c.

A Beautiful Rustic with Ebony Lines an Corners, suitable for the perforated Mottos now so popular.

Having had large experience in the business and importing my Stock direct from the manufacturer, I am prepared to work not only with neatness but cheaper than any other frame makers in the Low-Price Province.

R. C. BARNES, Sackville, June 1st, 1876.

WANTED—A few live Agents. The Isolated Risk and Farmers FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

Capital, $600,000. Deposited with Govt., 100,904.

Attention of Insurers directed to the following advantages offered by this Company.

1. It has a large cash capital, giving undoubted security to all holding its policies.

2. It devotes special attention to the Insurance of Farm Property and of Detached Residences, with contents.

3. It will adjust all losses without delay, and pay in cash at once.

4. Its Stockholders, Directors & Agents being all residents in Canada, and its headquarters, agents and operations being exclusively confined to Canada, those who insure in it will have knowledge of all its transactions.

W. C. PERLEY, Canterbury St., St. John, General Agent for New Brunswick.

W. C. MILNEB, Agent for Sackville.

SACKVILLE STEAM TANNERY! THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the public generally that he is now doing business on his own account at the old stand, and is manufacturing and has now on hand

A Superior Article In sole Leather, Pebble and Upper Leather, Calfskins, sheepskins, Split, &c.

Oil Tan'd Moccasins & Larakins, Much Superior to those Imported.

Large Discount made to Wholesale Buyers.

I want all the HIDES I can get and will pay CASH for them.

J. R. AYER, Sackville, Jan. 18, 1876.

SPRING HILL COAL. THE SPRING HILL MINING COMPANY having now fully developed their Mines at Spring Hill, and having reached a depth where Coal of a superior quality and purity is obtained, can now offer to customers along the Intercolonial Railway a fuel unsurpassed in quality, and which, in consequence of the late reduction in freight, must take the place of all other fuel along the line of Railway between Truro and St. John, and at least on the Moncton end of the line, between that town and Riviere du Loup.

The coal is mined in the most approved manner to insure its freedom from stone and fire-clay; the round coal is then put over screens, which separates from it all the dust and small coal; the latter is then put through an elaborate steam rotary screen, which produces two sizes of coal, known as "Stove" and "Nuts," which are perfectly pure coals and entirely free from dust.

The Intercolonial Railway uses this coal exclusively for all locomotives and stations west of Truro.

The coal is mined in the most approved manner to insure its freedom from stone and fire-clay; the round coal is then put over screens, which separates from it all the dust and small coal; the latter is then put through an elaborate steam rotary screen, which produces two sizes of coal, known as "Stove" and "Nuts," which are perfectly pure coals and entirely free from dust.

The Intercolonial Railway uses this coal exclusively for all locomotives and stations west of Truro.

The coal is mined in the most approved manner to insure its freedom from stone and fire-clay; the round coal is then put over screens, which separates from it all the dust and small coal; the latter is then put through an elaborate steam rotary screen, which produces two sizes of coal, known as "Stove" and "Nuts," which are perfectly pure coals and entirely free from dust.

The Intercolonial Railway uses this coal exclusively for all locomotives and stations west of Truro.

The coal is mined in the most approved manner to insure its freedom from stone and fire-clay; the round coal is then put over screens, which separates from it all the dust and small coal; the latter is then put through an elaborate steam rotary screen, which produces two sizes of coal, known as "Stove" and "Nuts," which are perfectly pure coals and entirely free from dust.

The Intercolonial Railway uses this coal exclusively for all locomotives and stations west of Truro.

The coal is mined in the most approved manner to insure its freedom from stone and fire-clay; the round coal is then put over screens, which separates from it all the dust and small coal; the latter is then put through an elaborate steam rotary screen, which produces two sizes of coal, known as "Stove" and "Nuts," which are perfectly pure coals and entirely free from dust.

The Intercolonial Railway uses this coal exclusively for all locomotives and stations west of Truro.

The coal is mined in the most approved manner to insure its freedom from stone and fire-clay; the round coal is then put over screens, which separates from it all the dust and small coal; the latter is then put through an elaborate steam rotary screen, which produces two sizes of coal, known as "Stove" and "Nuts," which are perfectly pure coals and entirely free from dust.

The Intercolonial Railway uses this coal exclusively for all locomotives and stations west of Truro.

The coal is mined in the most approved manner to insure its freedom from stone and fire-clay; the round coal is then put over screens, which separates from it all the dust and small coal; the latter is then put through an elaborate steam rotary screen, which produces two sizes of coal, known as "Stove" and "Nuts," which are perfectly pure coals and entirely free from dust.

The Intercolonial Railway uses this coal exclusively for all locomotives and stations west of Truro.

The coal is mined in the most approved manner to insure its freedom from stone and fire-clay; the round coal is then put over screens, which separates from it all the dust and small coal; the latter is then put through an elaborate steam rotary screen, which produces two sizes of coal, known as "Stove" and "Nuts," which are perfectly pure coals and entirely free from dust.

The Intercolonial Railway uses this coal exclusively for all locomotives and stations west of Truro.

The coal is mined in the most approved manner to insure its freedom from stone and fire-clay; the round coal is then put over screens, which separates from it all the dust and small coal; the latter is then put through an elaborate steam rotary screen, which produces two sizes of coal, known as "Stove" and "Nuts," which are perfectly pure coals and entirely free from dust.

The Intercolonial Railway uses this coal exclusively for all locomotives and stations west of Truro.

The coal is mined in the most approved manner to insure its freedom from stone and fire-clay; the round coal is then put over screens, which separates from it all the dust and small coal; the latter is then put through an elaborate steam rotary screen, which produces two sizes of coal, known as "Stove" and "Nuts," which are perfectly pure coals and entirely free from dust.

The Intercolonial Railway uses this coal exclusively for all locomotives and stations west of Truro.

The coal is mined in the most approved manner to insure its freedom from stone and fire-clay; the round coal is then put over screens, which separates from it all the dust and small coal; the latter is then put through an elaborate steam rotary screen, which produces two sizes of coal, known as "Stove" and "Nuts," which are perfectly pure coals and entirely free from dust.

The Intercolonial Railway uses this coal exclusively for all locomotives and stations west of Truro.

The coal is mined in the most approved manner to insure its freedom from stone and fire-clay; the round coal is then put over screens, which separates from it all the dust and small coal; the latter is then put through an elaborate steam rotary screen, which produces two sizes of coal, known as "Stove" and "Nuts," which are perfectly pure coals and entirely free from dust.

The Intercolonial Railway uses this coal exclusively for all locomotives and stations west of Truro.

The coal is mined in the most approved manner to insure its freedom from stone and fire-clay; the round coal is then put over screens, which separates from it all the dust and small coal; the latter is then put through an elaborate steam rotary screen, which produces two sizes of coal, known as "Stove" and "Nuts," which are perfectly pure coals and entirely free from dust.

POETRY. SUPPOSE. BY T. M. ROBERTSON.

Suppose, Faded, that I, instead of keeping my eyes on you, had stayed away to doze, Or call upon Miss Brant, or play at whist.

Suppose, You had? Think I should have cared? Indeed, Ain't you a bit conceited—don't take my rose— A gift to me. From whom? Well— From Miss Brant, Suppose?

Suppose, It is? Then I'm to understand, Faded— your words as plainest prose— My presence matters not to you— an eye, Suppose?

Suppose, You are— understand me no? You're free; Do, if you wish! And—oh! the "Round" coal being finally established, attention is particularly drawn to the "Stove" and "Nuts," the former may be used in grates alone or mixed with the "Round," many prefer it alone; the latter is unsurpassed for cooking stoves, or for small engines.

Suppose, Be hanged! It seems to me, Miss Brant, you are acting rather lightly; rumor goes That he—just since I seem to bore, adieu.

Suppose, We say good-night, Good-night, sir, and good-bye! He—What does this mean, Faded? Are you— We'll close This scene at once. My words are plain, sir, I suppose?

Suppose, My name, sir, is Miss Lowe! He—Come, come, Faded, do look beyond your nose, And— Here's your ring, sir! He— I receive it, though I suppose?

Suppose, You do, sir? He— Enough, Miss Lowe. Farewell! "Tis best, I've been deceived in you, my dear, than to be deceived in me. God bless! He—heartless flirt! a haughty belle! Who choose— Suppose?

Suppose, Oh!—oh! let's part as friends! I hate you—there! He—Faded! why, yet, in tears! This surely shows You'll pardon me, a brute! He— Suppose.

Suppose, He— Suppose. He— Suppose. He— Suppose.

Courtesy, Kissing and Carriage-Riding. From the New York World.

We have great respect for the opinions of our able contemporary, the Sun, and are always grieved when we see it fall into an error on any important subject.

The leading three or four of our readers on a great issue is a fearful responsibility. And yet there was much in a leading and able editorial article of the Sun yesterday upon kissing, to make the judicious griever.

We shall confine ourselves to a single blunder in the most serious of the many questions discussed in that article.

It seems that a Connecticut girl has written to the editor of the Sun to ask, among some trivial inquiries touching upon etiquette and religion this important question: "Is it proper for a lady to kiss a gentleman good night when she has been carriage riding with him?"

As the discussion of this point comes home to the business and bosoms of thousands of both sexes throughout the country, it should not be lightly nor flippantly carried on.

In this respect the Sun has not erred, we think. During the summer months, it is not the result of a gradually growing intimacy in which men and women learn to understand, by carriage riding and otherwise, and confide in one another.

The Sun, to be consistent, must extend its doctrine a little farther, and maintain that a girl should not go out "carriage riding" except with a near relative of the man to whom she is engaged.

This is the principle adopted for the government of the young ladies at Mount Holyoke, and we recommend to the consideration of our contemporary the answer of a lively pupil to the preceptor who undertook to enforce the rule against her.

The young lady asked for permission to drive out with a gentleman. "You know the rule of the institution," was the answer. "Is he your brother?" "No," "Are you engaged to him?" "No, but I expect to be before I get back."

That answer carried the day, and there is much philosophy in it touching the whole subject of carriage kissing and "carriage riding."

Why He Didn't.—There was a recent reason why a 10-year-old boy living on Duffield street didn't have a stick of gum in his mouth when he arrived at the 2nd Avenue drinking fountain yesterday morning.

One of the boys had gum to chew on, and when they expressed their surprise at his gross neglect of a boy's plainest duty, he replied:

"Spoken a cow got into your father got up this morning and saw all the onions kicked over among the beds, the peas mixed up with the lettuce, and the horse-radish all chewed up into strings?"

Spoken he said, "if your own husband was delicious with fever?" "Madam," said he, "I know no more than you. I can only cure horses and other brutes."

"Well, Doctor," she replied, "my husband's as strong as a horse. What would you do for a horse?"

"For heaven's sake tell me quick," "If I should open his mouth, pull his tongue out on one side, prevent his biting me, and give him this fever powder, paper, string and all."

Blinded with tears of gratitude, the poor woman paid for the fever powder and departed. History says that the man got well, but he had a hole in his tongue, and his wife has only three fingers on one hand.

INCIDENTALLY.—An Arkansas coroner, having occasion to investigate the cause of a man's death lately charged the jury to ascertain whether the "man came to his death by accident, by negligence or by the incurrence of his duty."

The jury returned that "he came to his death by negligence, the bowie knife having incidentally touched on a vital part."

INCIDENTALLY.—An Arkansas coroner, having occasion to investigate the cause of a man's death lately charged the jury to ascertain whether the "man came to his death by accident, by negligence or by the incurrence of his duty."

The jury returned that "he came to his death by negligence, the bowie knife having incidentally touched on a vital part."

INCIDENTALLY.—An Arkansas coroner, having occasion to investigate the cause of a man's death lately charged the jury to ascertain whether the "man came to his death by accident, by negligence or by the incurrence of his duty."

The jury returned that "he came to his death by negligence, the bowie knife having incidentally touched on a vital part."

INCIDENTALLY.—An Arkansas coroner, having occasion to investigate the cause of a man's death lately charged the jury to ascertain whether the "man came to his death by accident, by negligence or by the incurrence of his duty."

The jury returned that "he came to his death by negligence, the bowie knife having incidentally touched on a vital part."

NEW GOODS. Just Received per Steamer from Glasgow: LUSTRES. White & Grey Cottons. Dark & Light Prints.

Bleached & Unbleached Sheetings. BRILLIANTS. Bed Tickings. HOLLANDS. GRASS CLOTH. Table Linens, Towels, &c.

DICKSON & PATTERSON. Carpetings. TAPISTRY, all wool Union Carpets, &c.

The above Goods will be disposed of at exceedingly low prices for cash.

DICKSON & PATTERSON. We would call Special Attention to our SUPERIOR STOCK OF READY-MADE CLOTHING.

Which we are selling at prices to suit the times.

DICKSON & PATTERSON. Sawed Shingles, For Sale by DICKSON & PATTERSON. Sackville, May 12, 1876.

MASON & HAMLIN. D. R. McELMUN, Watchmaker & Jeweler.

Ladies' Gold Watches, Gent's Gold Watches, Ladies' Gold Rings, Ladies' Gold Chains, Ladies' Gold Lockets, Gent's Gold Lockets.

Waltham Watches, Elgin Watches, Straight Line Lever Watch, English Lever Watches, Swiss Lever Watches, Hunting Case Watches, Open Face Watches.

Jewelry of Every Description, Work Boxes, Writing Desks, Dressing Cases, Jewel Cases, Portfolios, Portmanteaux, Ornamental Goods!

All at exceedingly low prices.— D. R. McELMUN, Amherst, July 1, 1876.

ORGANS! MASON & HAMLIN. G. C. FAWCETT, Gen. Agent, Sackville, N. B.

Prices from $75 to $1,500. The subscriber undertakes to supply the above Organ on the very best possible terms.

These Organs cost no more than the inferior and untried ones with which the market is deluged.

Orders solicited. Prompt attention and satisfaction guaranteed.

Organs Constantly on Hand. G. C. FAWCETT, Sackville, Aug. 1st, 1876.

C. GATES & CO'S Celebrated Medicine!

Compound Invigorating Syrup, Life of Man Bitters, Certain Cough, Acedin Liniment, Certain Cough, Nerve Tonic, Eye Ointment.

THESE Remedies are Vegetable in their composition, pleasant and healing in their nature, effectual in their curative properties. Can be had at J. FORD'S, Lower Sackville.

Call and get a pamphlet. H. BENTON ALLISON, Gen. Agent for Canada.

THE PROPRIETOR OF THE AMHERST IRON FOUNDRY WISHES to call the attention of MILL MEN in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia to the fact that he is now prepared to supply

All Kinds of Mill Machinery, Rollers—Gangs, Balance-Cranks, Saw-Arrows, &c.

Of all kinds in iron and steel fitted with self-oiling boxes. Also: Shaftings, Hangers, Pulleys, Gears of all description.

All Classes of Machinery repaired at short notice, and all work thoroughly executed.

The following sizes of Ships Wreckers made from good designs and well fitted, can be supplied, viz.—14, 16, 18 and 20 inches.

THE PROPRIETOR OF THE AMHERST IRON FOUNDRY WISHES to call the attention of MILL MEN in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia to the fact that he is now prepared to supply

All Kinds of Mill Machinery, Rollers—Gangs, Balance-Cranks, Saw-Arrows, &c.

Of all kinds in iron and steel fitted with self-oiling boxes. Also: Shaftings, Hangers, Pulleys, Gears of all description.

All Classes of Machinery repaired at short notice, and all work thoroughly executed.

The following sizes of Ships Wreckers made from good designs and well fitted, can be supplied, viz.—14, 16, 18 and 20 inches.

(An agency for Saws, Belting, Shingle Machines, &c., has been established on the premises.)

A Large Stock of Saws, Planes, Tinware, Stone-Pipe, &c. Kept constantly on hand.

All prices have been much reduced. ALEX. ROBB, Amherst, N. S., April, 1876.

D. R. McELMUN & CO., Watchmakers & Jewellers, MONCTON, N. B.

HAVING commenced business in the Shop lately occupied by B. J. Lewis, Esq., we are now prepared to execute

ALL KINDS OF REPAIRS ON Watches & Jewellery!

On hand, the Finest Stock of JEWELRY ever offered in Moncton, comprising: Gold and Silver Watches; Elgin Watches; English Watches; Waltham Watches; Silver Watches of every description; Clocks; Timepieces; a very large assortment.

Fine Gold Jewellery of Every Description. Spectacles and Eye-Glasses, all kinds and prices.

AGENTS FOR Lazarus & Morris' Spectacles. June 7. D. R. McE. & CO.

RUBBER & LEATHER BELTING, IRON, BRASS, AND COPPER TUBING, Steam Gaps and Water Valves of every Description.

Including Steam Pumps, Boiler Traps, Gauge Glasses, Steam Cocks, Globe Valves, Angle Valves, Cross Valves, Check Valves, Safety Valves, Post Valves, and a full assortment of articles used in the application of Steam to Machinery.

Articles of this nature, of the best quality, and at the lowest prices, at the works of R. T. KENNEDY & CO., 37 Prince William Street, St. John, N. B.

Cut Nails! Cut Tacks! SHOE NAILS. S. R. FOSTER & SON'S STANDARD Nail, Shoe Nail and Tack Works.

ST. JOHN, N. B. ESTABLISHED 1845. Formerly W. H. ADAMS' CITY MANUFACTURING CO.

Orders solicited. Prompt attention and satisfaction guaranteed.

Mail Contract. SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the Postmaster General, and marked "Tender for Mail Service," will be received at Ottawa, until 12 o'clock, noon, on FRIDAY, the 12th August next, for the conveyance of Her Majesty's Mails twice-twice per week each way, between SACKVILLE and POST OFFICE.

RAILWAY STATION, for a term of four years on and from the 1st October next.

Printed notices containing further information as to conditions of the proposed contract may be seen, and blank forms of Tender may be obtained at the Post Office at Sackville or at the office of the subscriber.

JOHN McMILLAN, Post Office Inspector, P. O. Inspector's Office, Sackville, N. B., June 14th, 1876.

Boots & Shoes. I AM prepared to repair Boots and Shoes with neatness and dispatch.

165 H. H. SUGAR: 30 lbs. Barbados Sugar; 400 lbs. Cinnamon Molasses; 100 lbs. Barbados Molasses; 150 lbs. Trinidad Molasses.

Notice of Sale. NOTICE is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in an Indenture of Mortgage dated the 31st day of October in the year of our Lord on the third day of August and seventy-three, and made between John Anderson and Millie Anderson of Westmorland, in the County of Westmorland, yeomen of the one part, and Valentine Wilkinson, yeoman of the other part, registered in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Westmorland in Libro K. 5, folio 832 and No. 23,286, there will, for the purpose of satisfying the monies secured by the said Mortgage, default having been made in the payments thereof, be sold at Public Auction on the premises on SATURDAY the sixteenth day of SEPTEMBER next at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, the premises mentioned in the said Indenture of Mortgage, that is to say—All that certain piece or parcel of LAND situate lying and being at Point Millie, in Westmorland aforesaid, bounded as follows: westwardly by the parish line, northwardly by lands owned by the late Edward Bowser, southwardly by lands owned by William Wheaton, and easterly by other lands, and containing one hundred and five acres more or less, together with all and singular the appurtenances to the same belonging or in any way appertaining thereto, as mentioned in the said Indenture of Mortgage, dated the 31st day of October, A. D. 1875.

VALENTINE WILKINSON, Mortgagee. C. MILNER, Sol. for Mortgagee.

Teas, Sugars, Fruits, Etc., Etc. LOGAN, LINDSAY & CO. Are receiving per "Scotia," from Glasgow and Liverpool, &c.

203 H. E. CHESTS FINE CON- 10 casks Scotch Sugar; 25 barrels Currants; 50 boxes fine DeLima Raisins; 200 boxes New Layer Raisins; 1 cask Cream Tartar Crystals; 100 barrels Whylow's Pickles; 15 barrels Crushed and G'd Sugar.

Per Steamer from Boston: 30 barrels No. 1 Apples; 10 boxes Lemon; 12 boxes Oranges.

And from Ontario: 100 barrels Oatmeal.