STARTLING ANNOUNCEMENT.

ASIATIC CHOLERA IN NEW YORK CITY. NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The Board of Health announced this morning that a bacteriological examination made by Prof. Herman Biggs on bodies of several suspected cholera patients, there have been five deaths from Asiatic cholera in the city of New York.

The names of those who died from cholera are: Mrs. McAvoy, who died Sept. 6, address not known; Mrs. Sophia Wigan, died Sept. 10, at 718 Eleventh avenue; William Wigan, husband of Sophia Wigan, who died at same address on the following day; Minnie Levinger, a child, who died Sept. 11, at 111 East Twenty-sixth street; Charlotte Beck, 30 years old, who died at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at No. 1,764 Second avenue. All of these cases were originally reported to the health department as suspected cholera, and have been under the investigation of physicians connected with the department of health.

Prof. Herman Biggs, who is in charge of the division of pathology and bacteriology of the department, has been at work making bacteriological examinations of the intestinal fluids taken from the bodies of these suspected cases. Prof. Biggs reported to the health department this afternoon the result of his examination, and announced unhesitatingly that the cause of death was Asiatic cholera beyond a doubt.

William Wigan was 52 years old and his wife 63 years. He had been sick for eight days, and his wife had been ill for about the same length of time. Charlotte Beck, who lived at 1,764 Second avenue, was found sick in her apartments yesterday morning. She was attended by Dr. Vandergilt, who saw her at 9:30 o'clock. Her death occurred at 11:30 the same day.

Charles McAvoy, 35 years, a plasterer's assistant, died at 879 Tenth street.

Minnie Levinger was a year and 8 months old. She died at 411 East Forty-sixth street, where her parents lived.

THE PHYSICIANS of the health department have been unable to find out how cholera was contracted in each of these cases. So far as they have been able to learn none of the dead persons came in contact with cholera germs. Every precaution has been taken to prevent spread of cholera in the different houses. The bedding of each of these patients has been burned and the houses have been placed under observation.

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

The health department issued the following bulletin to-day:

"NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—2 p.m.—Appended to this bulletin are the reports of the bacteriologist with his biological examinations of all cases of suspected cholera in this city. The cases referred to in the reports have been treated with the same precautionary measures as would have been taken if they had been immediately and positively recognized. Thus far no secondary cases have occurred on the premises occupied by the sick persons, nor have any cases arisen from them. The board has under examination the body of a woman who died with symptoms of cholera on Sept. 13. All suspected or reported cases of cholera since Sept. 1 have been carefully investigated and kept under observation. No suspected cases have been reported to this board since 5:30 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 13.

CHARLES G. WILSON, president.

RAMON CLARK, secretary.

Here follow the reports of the experts declaring the cases to be unmistakably those of Asiatic cholera.

THE NEWS of five deaths had occurred in this city from cholera became known on the Stock Exchange during the last hour of business. It resulted at once in a stampede by the traders, and prices fell to 24 per cent, and the trading being very heavy. The selling was generally looked upon as unreasonable, and it was thought after the exchange closed that the traders would be anxious to get their stocks back to-morrow.

TWO DEATHS ON THE HELIGOLAND. NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The tank steamer Heligoland, which arrived last night from Altona on the Elbe, had two deaths on board among her crew from cholera.

Dr. Voigt reports that the passengers of the steamer Normannia, which sailed for New York, are all well. He denies the statement that some of the quarantined passengers escaped to the mainland.

THE FATAL CASES WERE IN TENEMENTS. NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Wigan, who died at her home No. 708 Eleventh avenue, had been ill for eight days. His wife was sick 36 hours. Wigan's death took place Saturday and his wife's on Sunday. The latter's death is regarded as a secondary case, she having contracted the disease from her husband. In the case of J. Chas. McAvoy, who died at No. 879 Tenth avenue, the autopsy did not reveal the fact that he died from Asiatic cholera, but a biological examination of the germs of cholera were discovered. The Board of Health has taken prompt measures to prevent a spread of the infection. Two houses in which the fatal cases occurred are all tenements, and the fact that no other sickness has broken out convinces the physicians that they may be able to hold the plague in check.

THE NEWS AT QUARANTINE, NEW YORK.

QUARANTINE, N. Y., Sept. 14.—The greatest excitement in the station down here to-night was caused by the report of five cases of cholera which had taken place in New York. Intense surprise was expressed at the news by the officials, and Dr. Jenkins expressed himself as confident that it had not passed quarantine. He said the best authorities in the world stated that a stringent and complete quarantine could only claim to prevent 70 per cent. of the possibilities of the introduction of cholera into a place. The other 30 per cent. were open to other means, over which quarantine had no control.

Dr. Jenkins has telegraphed that he will probably release the Normannia's passengers to-morrow. The steamer Majestic, Rhynland and Amalfi were released from quarantine this afternoon, and the steamer La Champagne was released from quarantine to-day and arrived at her dock.

TO STAMP IT OUT. The doctors will examine the tenants every day and night and keep sharp watch for cases of sickness. They will also disinfect and fumigate the premises daily and take all measures necessary to prevent infection. Health Commissioner Brant said that while cholera existed in this city it did not originate there. How the dead did not originate the plague is not known as yet, but no pains will be spared in the endeavor to trace it to its source.

One thing is certain, Dr. Brant added, that it came from some outside source, whether through quarantine or some other direction is a mystery.

THE MORTALITY RECORD.

HAMBURG, Sept. 14.—One hundred and ninety-eight new cases of cholera were reported here yesterday—a decrease of 29 cases, compared with Monday's returns. The deaths numbered 56, against 97 on Monday.

HAVRE, Sept. 14.—Eleven new cases of cholera were reported here yesterday and seven deaths.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 14.—Owing to the Government decision to hereafter issue only one weekly cholera return for the whole empire no figures are obtainable. In St. Petersburg yesterday 61 new cases and 15 deaths were reported. Its suburbs there were reported yesterday 59 new cases of cholera and 44 deaths, including 14 new cases and 13 deaths in St. Quen.

PARIS, Sept. 14.—The epidemic which showed a slight decline to-day (Wednesday), the new cases numbering 689, deaths 203 and interments 313. There are now under treatment 3,191 cases.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The Standard's Vienna correspondent says 59 cases of cholera and fourteen deaths were reported at Lublin, Russian Poland, on Saturday.

BADLY TREATED ON SHIP AND SHORE. HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 14.—C. J. Duncan Smith, barrister, arrived from England to-day, Labrador, on which Mr. Smith was a passenger, arrived off Quebec, ordered to give to have the vessel detained at the quarantine. Mr. Smith was one of the many who were intermingled with stowaways and intermeddled with the night.

Some of them refused to remain in quarantine quarters during the night, preferring the woods—Mr. Smith was one of the latter. So thoroughly sick did he become of the stowaways that he took the boat for the night, and he was badly treated both on ship and shore and intends bringing action against the owners for damage.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 14.—The daily average of new cholera cases and deaths in the provinces of Voronezh, Kazan, Samara, Saratoff and Orenburg and the Don territory is 400 new cases and 200 deaths each. In the Lieutenantcy of Caucasus the daily average is 1,550 new cases and 750 deaths. It will be seen from these figures that there has been no diminution in the rate of mortality, the deaths still reaching 50 per cent. of the number of persons attacked in the provinces and almost the same percentage in the lieutenantcy.

PARIS, Sept. 14.—The figures telegraphed last night giving 45 new cases of cholera and 26 deaths were the returns for Paris and its suburbs for Monday, and there were no up to 10 o'clock last night, but there were new cases reported in Paris, but there were 10 deaths among the persons previously stricken with the disease.

ACTION OF THE QUEBEC HEALTH BOARD. MONTREAL, Sept. 14.—When the news of the outbreak of cholera was received here to-night by the health authorities, a conference of the members of Central Board of Health was held, and it was decided to send a message to the New York health officials asking for positive information regarding the extent of the outbreak.

On receipt of the information, if the Central Board of Health believes it is justified, it will at once declare a quarantine against the States of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

HAMBURG'S SANITATION TO BE INVESTIGATED. GATE. HAMBURG, Sept. 15.—At the meeting of the House of Burgesses yesterday Bürgermeister Moenckbecker emphatically refused the charge made against the authorities of secrecy in the matter of the outbreak of cholera. A motion was adopted to appoint a commission, to consist of three senators and six burgesses, to investigate the sanitation of the city and the question of a new water supply.

WINESBORO, SEPT. 15.—The carload of emigrants who were stopped on the Canadian Pacific Railroad by the Detroit Board of Health are still here, and are being well fed and taken care of by the railroad. Dr. Coventry returned from Toronto yesterday, where he has been in communication with the Provincial Board of Health, the Attorney-General and Hon. John Carling, Minister of Agriculture, and had placed before them the facts concerning the inspection and detention of immigrants at Windsor. Asked what would be done with the carload of emigrants now here, the doctor said: "Michigan having taken an unimpaired stand against us, relieve us from all mutual sanitary obligations, and from all mutual sanitary obligations. All we must now do is accomplished so far as to harass passengers by our railroads, while passengers by United States lines are allowed to make unchallenged. The effect has been to make Windsor a dumping ground for emigrants who are at present in good health, but who, by living in crowded cars, eating badly cooked food, drinking bad water and exposed to all kinds of weather, will undoubtedly contract some dirt disease such as typhus or typhoid fever, dysentery or cholera, if not cholera. Detroit can do nothing to establish a breeding bed for disease so close to her borders. Windsor disease so close to her borders. Windsor will be the first victim, but Detroit can hardly be expected to escape. Dispatches had reached Toronto that the International Quarantine Commission, and it was to the effect that Boston was the only port properly equipped to deal with cholera. Quebec is now in a position to disinfect 80 per cent. of the baggage daily, and all Canadian ports will be in the same as United States ports."

THE GREAT WESTERN.

Preparatory Scenes at the Fair Grounds.

Fast Getting Ready for the Big Exhibition.

A Glance at the Various Departments Filling Up Speedily—A Grand Display in the Palace—Improvements on the Park—Notes of Interest.

The Great Western Fair of 1892 is about to commence, and soon London will become the objective point of thousands. The fair is now in the hands of the exhibitors, and already fair visitors are coming in, and tickets with "boarding" printed thereon are being shown in the residential windows.

This morning Secretary Brown transferred himself, his staff and office to the grounds, and is now up to the chin in business. Exhibitors' carts are pouring in through the King street gate, and every department is a beehive of industry.

The spacious main building resounds with the blow of the carpenter's hammer, the buzz of the hand saw, the clatter of voices and the hum of general industry. Every inch of the building has been taken, and it is fast filling up with things useful and ornamental.

It is the gallery on the west side and the ladies are at work arranging for the artistic display which the fair sex will make, while to the left the costly and beautiful art exhibit is being placed in position.

George M. Reid, of the main building committee, "This place will be a palace before many hours have passed. It will be clock like, high and low. The lights now illuminate the building nightly."

It is the same story everywhere. Machinery hall is already pretty well stocked and agricultural implements and other exhibits pertaining to this department are coming in by the cartload.

The big turnip and rolling into the agricultural hall, in which the display is rapidly assuming shape. The special and collective exhibits from Manitoba, the Guelph Agricultural College, the Ottawa Experimental Farm and the Indians of Ontario are expected to-day.

Indian hall is being transformed into a bower of beauty, and the botanist and lover of flowers will find everything in the floral department of the place. The farmer will be specially entertained and instructed in the dairy department, where processes of cheese and butter making will be exemplified with electricity as the motor power.

"I don't know where we will find room for all the carriages," said an official. "The display will be immense. The entries are so numerous that we have had to refuse applications because of lack of space. The live stock has already commenced, and there will be a grand menagerie. All exhibits in this line must be on the grounds by noon on Monday, and the stock will be admitted through the King, Campbell and Dundas street entrances until 10 a.m. Monday, after that by the King street entrance only."

A wonderful improvement has been made in the poultry shed. There are 600 coops, fresh painted, light and roomy, and provided with every convenience, and altogether the finest poultry building in the country. And the exhibit will be kept. The attractiveness here will be added to by a handsome floral display under the capable supervision of caretaker Grant of Victoria Park, and foliage deck the interior with flowers and foliage.

IMPROVEMENTS ON THE PARK. Visitors will note once the great improvement that has been made on the grounds since the last fair. Convenient driveways have been cut out and well graveled. Useless trees have been cut down and new ones planted, and the beauty of the park. The grass has been well kept—a fine carpet of green covering the sandy fields. Caretaker Purdie has not been idle. Evidences of his attention, care and taste are everywhere to be seen. A gang of men are at work getting the race track into shape.

NOTES. The first side show, under canvas, arrived to-day. Refreshment booths have started opening already. Street cars will be run every minute on Dundas street.

One hundred and twenty are lights are used to illumine the grounds, and about 30 horses, hunters and otherwise, entered. Fine weather is devoutly to be wished for. The consumption will then be at right.

The society members parading on Monday are requested to be in readiness to start at 1:15 p.m. sharp.

To-morrow will be opening day. Most of the exhibits will be in place and admission will be charged.

The lady aeromat, Miss Mandell, and her dog Aerio will give the first balloon ascent and parachute drop Monday.

The prizes this year will be found just east of the horticultural hall. This is a more convenient location than of years past. Saturday will be admitted for 15 the young ones will be in the horse ring.

The close of the Toronto Fair this week will be followed by a rush of exhibitors to the Western, including a good deal of live stock.

The concentration of the grand stand ticket offices into one is an improvement. The entrances to the stands have been enlarged in order to prevent the crowding of those with tickets of any kind.

Those with admission tickets of any kind will enter through a gate adjoining the ticket offices. Carriages and vehicles of all kinds with their occupants must enter through the King street gate.

No persons but the officers and directors of the association, the press, judges on horses, necessary attendants on horses on exhibition, and guests officially connected with other fairs, will be allowed within the horse ring.

The Bell Telephone Company has quarters in the southwest corner of the agricultural grounds, in connection with the postoffice and clockroom. Subscribers in the city can get anyone on the grounds, and a messenger will be on hand for that purpose.

The eating accommodation will be unsurpassed. The ladies of the East London Methodist Church have secured the main dining hall. Those of the W. C. T. U. will be found at the old stand. There are also a couple of lunch rooms under the grand stand.

The directors in charge of the various departments are as follows: Grounds and buildings, George Taylor; gates and tickets, J. W. Little; special attractions, W. E. Reid; horses, Col. F. B. Ley; cattle, sheep and hogs, R. Venning; poultry, Allen Bogue; main building, Geo. M. Reid; agricultural, horticultural and dairy products, J. S. A STRONG PULL! Interesting Athletic Sports at the Asylum.

A Day of Recreation for Patients and Spectators—The Asylum Men Do the "De" in a Tag-of-War.

The occasion of the annual athletic sports of the London Asylum is always one of rare enjoyment for the patients and for the thousands of the city who always attend. The fifth of these events was held yesterday on the beautiful Asylum grounds and was undoubtedly the most successful of them all, and everything went off right merrily. A good crowd from the city was present and entered heartily into the spirit of the affair.

The athletic programme, under the management, was pushed through with neatness and dispatch. Competition between keen and competitors numerous, and there were over 30 events, many hearts were made happy by useful and valuable prizes.

The most interesting and remarkable feature of the tag-of-war between teams from the Asylum and "D" School of Infantry, eight men of muscle on each side. The first pull lasted twenty minutes, and the team from the Asylum won. The team changed sides the tug for life.

And for 47 minutes—just think of it!—sixteen men of bone and sinew tugged and strained like modern Samsons, and so equal was the division of strength that the handkerchief in the center of the rope hovered all the time about the mark in the middle. The excitement was intense, and the opposing sides were cheered on by their respective backers, who mopped the perspiring faces of the men who were competing.

At last death to the Asylum! The team from the Asylum began to flicker in the Asylum's direction, and by a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether the soldiers were dragged over the line and defeated. The vanquished, as well as the victors, were congratulated for their pluck and endurance.

Following is a list of the events and winners: Boys' race, 16 and under—J. J. Angus, 2 A. Beemer, 3 H. Bucke, 4 W. Gray, 5 W. Flynn. Boys' race, 14 and under—J. J. Angus, 2 A. Beemer, 3 H. THE DOMINION ALLIANCE.

Important Propositions Discussed and Dealt With.

Recommendations of the Executive and Local Option Committees—A Plan of Political Action Approved—The Officers.

TORONTO, Sept. 14.—The report of the executive committee of the Dominion Alliance submitted yesterday summed up the results of local option in the Provinces and detailed the progress made. It was said that the results of the royal commission showed that where Local Option Acts were in force there had been nearly an absolute prohibition of the liquor traffic. The following were the recommendations of the committee: That continued efforts be made to secure prohibitory bylaws in municipalities where there was a reasonable hope of their being carried; that the Ontario Legislature be requested to take action to secure a vote of the Provincial electorate on the direct issue of prohibition; that the organization of the prohibitionists be urged in every municipality on the lines already laid down, in view of the probable plebiscite work ahead of the Alliance.

Mr. Howland delivered the president's address. He said that although the Alliance still there certainly was an advance as the result of the steady work done. He referred to the present Government commission, and said that the commission had been appointed, probably, with the intention of giving the Legislature a rest on this question.

Mr. W. W. Buchanan gave a sketch of the establishment of the advanced prohibitionists and an outline of the objects of the new organization. They wished to found clubs in the different municipalities for the purpose of perfecting measures, which though adopted by the Alliance had never been put into effect. The members of the clubs are supposed to pledge themselves to the support of the political party which has prohibition for a plank in its platform.

The local option committee strongly recommended that every effort be used to bring the question before the different municipalities and that the council refused the submission of the question that he made a leading issue in the next election.

The legislation committee's report elicited considerable discussion. Amended, its recommendations read as follows: "That the Ontario Legislature be requested to take action to secure a vote of our Provincial electorate on the direct issue of prohibition. That in the meantime steps be taken to secure the amendment of the present License Act so that a majority of municipalities electors in a polling subdivision shall have the right to prevent the re-issuance of a license. That we petition the Provincial Legislature in favor of woman's suffrage."

The report of the committee on political action recommended:

1. That the policy of endeavoring to elect only prohibitionists to all public positions be consistently followed not only in general, but also in bye-elections.
2. That the policy of endeavoring to elect only prohibitionists to the Provincial Legislature be followed.
3. That the Provincial Legislature independent prohibitionists be charged with the duty of advocating our cause on the floor of Parliament be reaffirmed, and that the executive be instructed to keep this desirable end in view.
4. That the policy of endeavoring to elect only prohibitionists to the Provincial Legislature be followed.

After a warm discussion the first clause was amended to read as follows: "We resolve to persistently adhere to the policy of electing to public positions only such pronounced prohibitionists as will by voice and vote place prohibition above party."

The fourth clause was also amended by adding the words "as soon as the money can be provided."

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. H. Howland; vice-presidents, Hon. J. C. Atkins, Hon. A. Vidal, Hon. G. W. Ross, J. J. MacLaren, C. C. Geo. A. Cox; secretary, S. Spence; treasurer, R. J. Fleming; executive committee, above named officers and Rev. W. A. Hunter, H. O'Hara, Mrs. McDonnell, Rev. G. J. Bishop, Jas. Thomson, Rev. R. H. Abraham, J. Tait, M.P.P., W. H. Orr, Rev. A. M. Phillips, James Dobson, Rev. W. Frizell, J. B. Hay, E. Falconer, W. W. Buchanan, J. J. Davis, M.P.P., president Toronto District, W. C. T. U.; J. T. Middleton, J. H. Lund, Miss E. Wells, Mrs. Vance, Mrs. Wm. Carlyle, E. Shoff, Rev. C. Duff, Rev. G. Washington, and the Provincial heads of the W. C. T. U., S. O. T. A. O. G. T., and R. T. of T. Associations.

The delegates to the Dominion council of the Alliance, which meets in Montreal next week, will be appointed by the executive committee.

Adam Graeme, of Mossgray.

By Mrs. Oliphant.

Lightly up the stairs came the elastic footstep, and Mossgray opened the door gently, and stood before them in the grace of his age, the moonbeams mingling with his white hair.

"Where are you?" said the old man, looking into the dark shadows of the room. "Helen, is she strong?" can she bear joy?"

"Mossgray!"

"My good child, there are others in the world to guard your strength for. He is not strong himself, poor fellow! He has had wounds and a sickness, but he lives to thank God, Lillias, as we do."

The room was reeling round her, with its heavy shadows, and bars of broad white light. She held firmly by the firm of the door, and laying down her dizzy head upon her friend's shoulder, closed her eyes.

She resigned her strained faculties willingly —at present she did not care more, the quietness—the peace—fell over her like the moonlight—it was enough.

"Has she fainted, Helen?" asked Moss-gray, anxiously, after a couple of minutes of silence. "No, she is not fainted, but she is very weak, and she is sick and dizzy, but with a sickness so different from that of grief."

"No, Mossgray, I am strong."

And so she went, and she wavered and staggered in the moonlight, and scarcely could stand without support as yet. The winds had spent themselves and passed the moment, and in her quietness she was herself again. Already the quick, wild pulse

had fallen into its usual quiet beating; the quivering of the nerves—still sick and dizzy,

but more than the passionate might of grief; but in the great peace of her gladness Lillias

was strong.

And then the old man told them the things that had happened; how very much had brought home the certain news; how he did not survive alone, but various others, officers and men, and his friends, and on the field had been cut to pieces, were left to the tender mercies of an Afghan tribe, whose fierce chief had passed and passed

the moment, and in her quietness she was

herself again. Already the quick, wild pulse

had fallen into its usual quiet beating; the

quivering of the nerves—still sick and dizzy,

but more than the passionate might of grief; but

in the great peace of her gladness Lillias

was strong.

was strong.
