cial meeting this morning.

As anticipated, Mr. W. C. Ferguson English master of the Collegiate, and one of the best teachers in the Province, tendered his resignation to accept a position in Riverdale High School, There is absolutely no doubt that his decision was due to the action of the board of education in discriminating against the senior members of tyn, of Berlin. Both are said to the Collegiate Institute staff in favor of a relative of Trustee MacRobert.

The board accepted the resignation to take effect forthwith. There was school this year. Dr. Teasdall moved no discussion on the matter whatever. That the resignation was anticipated by Mr. McCutcheon, was shown by the fact that the principal has interviewed the Deputy Minister of Education regarding Mr. Ferguson's successor. They both recommended Mr. J. F. Vanevery, of Owen Sound Collegiate. The board instructed No. 1 commit-

The London Collegiate Institute has been dealt another hard blow by the resignation of Mr. W. C. Ferguson, B. A., English master, formerly teacher of modern languages.

Mr. Ferguson is a London boy and is admittedly one of the best teachers in Ontario. He has been virtually driven from his native city by the MacRobert clique of the school board. A Good Year For Railways

New York, Aug. 28 .- The gross earnings of the railroads of the United States during 1906, according to the fortieth annual number of Poor's Manual, just issued, made the enormous increase over 1905 of $234,442,516. The net earnings increased $104,728,224.

This was done in spite of a heavy increase in operating expenses, due to higher wages and increased cost of material. Over 71,000,000 more traveled by rail in 1906 than in the preceding year, while the railroads moved 1.610.099.829 tons as compared with 1,435,312,748 tons in the preceding year.

The total assets of all rail roads are reported as $17.534 -381.633, or more than six times the total money in circulation in the country.

The members of the House of Commons assembled at noon, and shortly afterwards they were summoned to the House of Lords, where the King's speech was read. The statements made were of the usual colorless character referring to the recent royal visits and the friendly relations existing between Great Britain and the other powers.

This latest woman manipulator of millions, Mrs. H. H. Leahy, although the wife of a salaried man, dresses and looks like the helpmeet of one of the richest men in Wall street. In beauty she rivals her patroness. Mrs. Reader. with whom, according to Mr. Reader, every good financier in New York is madly in love.

Has Figure of a Model.

Mrs. Leahy is about 5 feet 5 inches in height. Her figure would obtain for her a position as a model in any artist's studio. She dresses in good taste and has the carriage of a woman of refinement. She does not look to be more than 28.

In business she is regarded as shrewd and able, and an excellent lieutenant to Mrs. Reader in the promotion of companies and the sale of stock to speculators or investors. In addition to the development of these facts it is learned that Mrs. Reader on her arrival here is likely to be confronted with grave charges, growing out of her desire to reach Nevada before her competitors from Boston.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, AUG. 28 THE JAPANESE AND BRITISH COLUMBIA.

There can be no doubt that a serlous problem is being created in British Columbia by the influx of Japanese. TO GIVE PEOPLE MORE DAYLIGHT

An interesting pamphlet has recentby appeared in England in which is suggested a plan for lengthening the hours of daylight which man enjoys. William Willett is the name of the writer, and his arguments are so reasonable as to appeal to so sensible a journal as the London Spectator. The writer sets out by referring to the fact that for nearly half the year the sun shines upon the land, for several hours each day, while people are asleep, and that it is rapidly nearing the horizon, having already passed its western limit, when people reach home after the day's work is done. There then remains, under the most favorable cirnumstances, but a brief spell of declining daylight in which to spend the brief period of leisure left. The writer then proceeds to argue that if some of the hours of wasted sunlight could be withdrawn from the beginning and added to the end of the day, many advantages would be gained by all, and particularly by those who spend in the open air, when light permits them to and August, and an average of 45 minutes more every day during April and September." The expedient is thus

"At 2 a.m. on each of four Sunday mornings in April, standard time shall advance 20 minutes; and on each of four Sundays in September it. shall recede 20 minutes, or, in other words, that for eight Sundays of 24 hours each, we shall substitute four, each 20 minutes less than 24 hours and four, each 20 minutes more than 24 hours. Astonishing as It may seem, this is the whole cost of the scheme. We lose nothing and gain most substantially. Having made up our minds to be satisfied on four occasions with a Sunday 23 hours and 40 minutes long, or 23 hours and 30 minutes long on only three occasions the advantages aimed at follow automatically, without any trouble whatever; everything will go on just as it does now, except that as the later hours of the day come round they will bring more light with them. Those who have traveled by sea east or west will remember how easily

Put into operation, this plan would leave at the disposal of the man who there is "a panicky feeling" among left off work at 5 p.m. as much daylight as he who quits at 3:40 p.m. now has; or, if his day's work on Saturdays ended at 12 (noon), it would be equal preconcerted movement. FURY OF THE ELK. [Chicago Interocean 1

A remarkable example of the fury of thoroughly aroused elk took place outside this town yesterday. The animal, a magnificent bull, had been wounded, just enough to make him mad, and he let everyone know just how he felt.

Red Haney, a miner, was the first to notice that something unusual was going on in Bonsall's woods. Clouds of dust hung over the forest and frightened small animals could be seen scampering from it. Suddenly the miner, who had taken refuge on the top of his cabin, saw the elk emerge from the woods. It hesitated for a moment, and then made directly for Haney. Nobody knows what might have happened if the beast had not got

As they passed a low hanging tree the miner swung himself off, and the angry animal continued his mad race without realizing that his load had been lightened. P Do You Eat Bread?

If so, do you not think that you might as well eat only the best? The best bread is that which contains the most nutriment and the least waste matter, and is absolutely pure. You cannot have good bread, however, unless you have good flour.

contains more gluten and nutriment, in more easily digestible form, than any ordinary brands, whilst it contains practically no cellulose or waste matter. In addition, it is more economical, as, pound for pound, it will make more bread and better bread than the flours so-called "just as good."

Its purity is assured by the care with which it is made, and users of it can rely upon getting the best flour for bread which the world offers.

London, Aug. 26.—Zionism is by no means people still yearns for that historic ancestral land,

The sittings of the congress were interest ing in the extreme. When Max Nordau, who has aged considerably of late, but whose voice is as vibrant and whose per-sonality is as dominant as ever, demanded justice for the Jewish people, and foressemblage rose as one man and a scene ndescribable in enthusiasm took place.

Almost equally impressive was the recep-tion of aged Herr de Pinto, himself a Jew vice-president of the Netherlands high court of justice, who pointed out that love of Zion did not imply disloyalty to the land of one's birth or adoption, and that a man can be a good Jew and a loyal citien at one and the same time.

This same correspondent, who writes with knowledge of the inner councils of the congress, sums up the work of the meeting as one of preparation of the people for systematic work in Palestine itself, and adding to a deepening of Jewish consciousness. He admits it is more than doubtful who ther the movement has made much progress since the death of Herzl, but declares numerically Zionists have increased.

There scarcely is an important city in the two hemispheres which didn't send a repreentative to the congress, and the hopeful sign for the future discernible in its deiberations was the fact that Hebrew once again had become a living language. Hebrew took the place which the Russian tongue occupied in earlier congresses English still less.

One of the features of the meetings was the brilliant speech in Hebrew of Kleerekoper, edit r of an Amsterdam paper.

everything else is favorable, especially the margin of profit over cost of production, it is not at all likely that shareholders will object to the sale of the ore. It has been suggested on the street that the profits on the sale of ore should be paid to preferred stockholders, thus somewhat relieving the tension in that direction. To what extent would the preferred stockholders benefit by the transaction? In the first place $1 a ton is a rather low price for the high-grade there has been no retrogression, and that ore which the mines of the company are credited with. Taking that price however, for the purpose of this deduction, there would be, estimating the cost of production at 50 cents a ton, and 10 cents a ton for miscellaneous expenditure, such as loading, etc., a net profit of about $400,000 on the transaction. The amount of Yiddish was scarcely spoken at all, and deferred payments now totals $1,400,-000, but while the $400,000 would not entirely meet that obligation, it would at least pay a year's deferred so much importance. If, however, everything else is favorable, especially the margin of profit over cost of production, it is not at all likely that shareholders will object to the sale of the ore. It has been suggested on the street that the profits on the sale of ore should be paid to preferred stockholders, thus somewhat

To what extent would the preferred stockholders benefit by the transaction? In the first place $1 a ton is a rather low price for the high-grade ore which the mines. of the company are credited with. Taking that price however, for the purpose of this deduction, there would be, estimating the cost of production at 50 cents a ton, and 10 cents a ton for miscellaneous expenditure, such as loading, etc., a net profit of about $400,000 tongue occupied in earlier congresses on the transaction. The Duss Band played an inaugural hymn, and Archbishop Sweatman gave the invocation. Then he pushed the electrical button, and the whistles all over the grounds tooted and the machinery at the machinery hall and implement building started on their two-weeks' exhibition trip.

Tomorrow will be children's day. Leading educationists will be the guests at the directors' luncheon at noon, and Earl Grey, on a visit of inspecganist, Mr. H. A. Wheddon.

The approaching visit of His Lordleading ecclesiastics of this century, to visit his brother, Mr. Frank Win- and B. Sc. of Cambridge, England. nington Ingram, who lives on a farm near Aylmer, about 30 miles from Lon-years, as many of his poor parishioners of London have come to this counthrough the advice of Mr. Frank Ingther worships.

The Ingram Family. The Ingrams come from a long line of clergy. Their father was for a lifetime rector of a splendid parish in England, and two of the sons, besides the bishop, have parishes. Another of the boys went to sea, and became captain of a man-of-war. Another went to India. Frank thought he would come to Canada. He was an Eton boy, educated under the celebrated Dean Farrar, but decided to follow farming. He came to Aylmer, and settled on a farm on the shores of Lake Erie, at the spot called "Grovesend." Here he married, and has no desire to return to the old country to live. He owns a very beautiful farm, one of the most pleasant spots along the lake shore. It Is here the bishop will spend most of his time while in Canada.

The Bishop's Brother.

Mr. Frank Ingram is a splendid character. Quiet, unassuming, modest, he pursues the even tenor of his way. "far from the madding crowd's ignoble strife." The busy haunts of men have not appealed to him, and the simple life of a country gentleman has been his ideal. A scholar and a thinker, he is a most entertaining converman, and one well beloved by his neighbors. Had he seen fit to devote might have made a great name himself, but he cose otherwise.

He is anticipating his brother's visit with great pleasure.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

There was a good, brisk demand for sverything offered at the markets held ere the past week, and prices were steady to firmer in nearly every line. Grain-Oats, like hay, have not been in large supply, and prices as a result have advanced; sales are made at $1 45 to $1 50 cwt for new oats and $1 55 to $1 56 for old. Wheat is selling at 85c per bu. Hay and Straw-There has been almost a famine in this line, as the dealers are mable to get any quantity of baled hay, and there were only a few loads offered each day on the market; the farmers have een busy harvesting their cats, and much of the hay in the barns is buried under 1 the oats; these are some of the reasons the light delivery; prices at present $15 to $16 per ton. Straw is selling at I

$6 to $6 50 per ton. Butter and Eggs-Butter is none too plentiful and the market is a shade firmer, at 20c and 21e for crocks and 21c to 22c for pound rolls; the above figures are for large lots. Eggs are 1/2c per dozen higher than a week ago; sales are made at 16c to 17c per dozen for crate and basket lots. Potatoes-There is a good demand, at full cream, small colored, fine, 13c to 131/8c. LIVERPOOL DAIRY REPORT, WEEK ENDING AUG. 16.

[Hodgson Bros.' Letter.]

Cheese-The market hardened at the beginning of the week on the stronger cables, but there has since been a slight reaction, as buyers hold off and cable quotations are a little reduced. There is a scarcity of under-grade cheese for a price. English cheese, while plentiful in make, is a little dearer. We quote today: Finest colored Canadians, 56s to 57s per cwt: do. white, 54s to 55s 6d; lower grades chiefly States, as to quality, 40s to 50s.

Butter-There has been quiet market all week, and continental and Irish are now pressed for sale. Canadians, although showing good quality, are somewhat neglected, Irish getting the preference. The medium butters meet with a fair demand and values are maintained. The Copen hagen quotation is again cabled unchanged for next week, leaving the price equal to 108s, f. o. b. We report today's values as follows: Choicest Canadian creamery, in 56-lb boxes, 103s to 106s per cwt: choicest Danish, in Kiel casks, 110s to 114s; choicest Russian and Siberian, 87s to 95s; secondary grades, do., 82s to 85s; choicest Australian and New Zealand, 92s to 103s; choicest Irish creamery, 102s to 107s; choicest States creamery, States process creamery, States ladles, imitation creameries and Canadian dairies, none. WOOL MARKET.

Toronto, Aug. 27.-Wool-While prices are down, the market is firmer than it was at the higher levels. A large amount of ool is offering, but buyers do not want it, for the reason that the scarcity of bank accommodation is beginning to restrict manufacturers. Washed wool is off a little. Quotations are: Unwashed, 12c to 2c per lb; washed wool, 22c to 23c per lb.

HIDES, SKINS AND TALLOW. TORONTO

Toronto, Aug. 27.-Hides are a little hard to sell at present, the New York market being very dull and heavy. Another decline in prices is forecasted for the end of the month. Very few buyers are on the Inspected steers and cows, No. 1, 9c; No. 2, &c; do, country hides, 7c; calfskins, city, 12c; do, country, 10c to 11c; lambskins, 50c to 60c; horsehides, No. 1,

Critics in the larger cities are sometimes assailed because they write things that hurt those criticised. But there are critics in some smaller communities that write more harshly, as witness this on a minstrel enterthainment from the Morning Appeal,

Last night a minstrel troupe drifted into

Carson and gave a show. It is not known of Carson City, Nevada:

whether they came in on the night train from Mina or drifted in with the Herrin private car. They were not advertised, and gave no street parade, that anyone could see, and had no band. When the troupe was massed on the stage there were ten in all, six men and four women. Two of the women were hog fat, and one was white. It is said that these people had never been on any stage before as large as the Carson Opera House (and never will again). People from Tonopah insist that two of the end men had their minstrel schooling in a saloon near the foot of Mount Oddie, and that one of the jokesmiths had done time The lady interlocutor is not identified, but she has a marvelously fine voice, with a good range and as sweet and clear as a bell. She sang "The Holy City" to a sort of jig time, but the audience did not notice any radical defects, as they were disposed to treat the performers with lenient hos-pitality. The octoroon lady dancer wore locked stockings, probably to enable her to keep time when she shuffled the pigeon wings, and her dress was evidently made for a shorter person. The performers changed off with the orchestra, and when the proper time came a performer would hop over the footlights and fall aboard of the piano, while the piano thumper would climb up and take the other fellow's place in the cork line. If an artist wanted to change a costume he merely took his coat off in sight of the audience and turned it wrong side out. To make another change he would turn it inside out. There was one artist who could change the expression of his face without leaving the stage. They announced, when the curtain fell on them, that they would play a return engagement in the near future if invited by a reasonable committee. Sheriff Kinney went to the depot with them, and advised them officially not to think of coming back until his term had expired.
