DAWSON'S DONATION TO THE FAIR.

Kinetoscope Pictures of Chief Allen's Brigade of Fire Fighters.

Prancing Chargers and Yelling Malamutes Lend an Air of Originality to the Successful Exhibition.

Dawson's contribution to the world's fair at Gay Paree will be a series of moving pictures depicting her new fire brigade in a correct imitation of chasing to and extinguishing a conflagration. Coincidental will appear

IN HIS GLORY

An extract from Chief Allen's collection of badges and trophies, a good likeness of Mr. Beals in the act of driving a four-in-hand team of malamutes, a few hundred specimens of the genus "rubberneck" and other interesting features which can not be duplicated outside the icy borders of the Klondike. The whole thing will be picturesque in the extreme, thoroughly typical, and cannot fail to prove a strong attraction at the great show. People have seen fire apparatus elsewhere, but not under the conditions nor with the environments which will surround that of Dawson as shown in the pictures taken Sunday by one of Tom Edison's latest and best kinetoscopes.

The exhibition took place on Front street, before Tom Chisholm's "Aurora" and every adult resident of the city and such of the boys as happened to be in from the creeks to spend a quiet day. The kinetoscope first occupied a position in a wagon standing just north and commanded a view of the street looking south. Right in front of it, but half a block distant, Chief Allen lined up his forces and prepared for a gallant charge upon the machine. The chief bestowed a chafing black charger and occupied a position at the head of the column; Assistant Chief Stewart was also astride a horse and had a position a short distance in the rear. Next in order came chemical engine No. 1 drawn by a team of dogs, with Mr. Beals as driver; then the other chemical, the hose truck, hook and ladder truck, and lastly the fire steamer, drawn by two horses, with smoke belching from the smoke-stack, and Engineer Busch standing proudly in his position.

When the machine and the cavalcade were all in readiness the fire bell sounded the signal to start, and then the show was on. Chief Allen and Assistant Chief Stewart dug their spurs into the flanks of their willing steeds and charged gallantly upon the machine; Mr. Beals' trained quadrupeds caught the spirit of the occasion and nearly leaped through their collars in an attempt to make a good showing before the camera. The men with the other apparatus did their proudest and the fire steamer dashed through the atmosphere like a streak of sunlight. As the last piece went by the kinetoscope, the populace fell in behind and ran in a surging mass before the faithful eye of the machine, completing a picture that cannot fail to make the excitable Parisians stand up on their chairs in excitement when they see it, besides illustrating the way in which Dawson people turn out to a fire or the arrival of a steamboat.

The picture will also exhibit a likeness of the commissioner of the Yukon territory, which alone is expected to be worth the price of admission. He will be shown standing in a familiar attitude engaged in conversation with Judge Davis, one of the fire commissioners. Other special objects will be Chief Allen's charger vainly attempting to unseat his rider; one of the malamute dogs taking a chunk out of the leader's left hind hip because he wouldn't go fast enough to keep out of the way of the more ambitious one; Casey Moran, "Old" Botts and Nat Lyons, members of the old brigade, standing on the walk and looking on, besides many other features which the Nugget will leave the reader to discover when he goes to the fair.

With the "run" taken successfully, the kinetoscope was removed to a position on the wharf and faced toward the Aurora, on the roof of which was a choice selection of newspaper men and the decorations left over from the Queen's birthday. After Chief Allen had mustered his forces again he sent them flying down the street to the corner, drew the apparatus into position for action, sent a ladder and a line of hose to the roof of the Aurora, and in a half minute more had a good stream flowing from the steamer. It may appear in the pictures as if the newspaper men are in deadly peril from their position on the assaulted building and that the firemen are engaged in a thrilling attempt at rescue; if so, we will hasten to inform an anxious world that everything was all right and that there was never any danger.

After this exhibition, which was a creditable one to the brigade, Chief Allen showed the fire steamer alone in the act of throwing water, in which it acquitted itself handsomely, a stream of water being sent skyward like a geyser and making the prettiest and most effective of pictures. As heretofore explained, the pictures are intended for exhibition at the world's fair and elsewhere by the Klondike Exposition Co., represented here at present by the manager, Mr. Thomas Crahan. Both he and Mr. R. K. Bonine, who operated the machine Sunday, are pleased with the exhibition and speak in praises of Dawson's fire department. They believe the pictures will encourage insurance companies to grant insurance to our citizens. The machine used employs a film six times as large as Edison's standard and the pictures will be correspondingly large.

The pictures to be exhibited will show the old and new style of leaving Skagway for the interior—railroad train vs. pack train—steamboats on the lakes and rivers, the passage of the White Horse rapids, carrying of freight over the tramway, 140 police dogs being fed at Dog Island on Marsh lake, passage of the Rink and Five Finger rapids, panoramic view of Dawson, mining on the creeks, lower river objects, etc. They will show the people of the world how the trip to the Klondike has been robbed of its terrors and made one of pleasure. In addition to the moving pictures there will be many stereopticon views. Messrs. Crahan and Bonine are at work on the erecks this week. The films upon which the pictures are taken can only be developed at Mr. Edison's laboratory at Orange, New Jersey, hence they will not be shown at Dawson, as many people had hoped.

They Are Thankful.

The passengers of the steamer Ora on her last trip down from White Horse evidenced their appreciation of the kindnesses shown them by the officers and crew by presenting them with a testimonial setting forth the same, together with their admiration of the skill and judgment shown by the captain in the conduct of the boat.

More Water Front Removals.

The shrewdly have been engaged for some days in effecting the removal of buildings located on the water front near the Klondike river bridge. There were about 20 buildings included in the interdiction, and all of them were removed or otherwise provided for, except three, which were seized and will be sold.

Banquetted By the Bar.

Judge Johnson and the so-called American party were given a complimentary banquet at the Fairview hotel on Saturday night by the members of the Dawson bar. The guests also included a few Dawson people not connected with the bar. At the conclusion of the supper, a series of toasts were proposed by Mr. F. C. Wade, the crown prosecutor, and responded to very happily by Judge Johnson, Leroy Tozier, Mr. McGowan, Mr. Joslin, Mr. Miller, Captain Carroll, Mr. Gorham, Mr. Fulda and others. At about midnight Judge Johnson and party were escorted to the steamer Monarch, on which they embarked for down-river points, and were given a most cordial send-off by the friends on shore.

Those present at the banquet were: Colonel

PERSONAL MENTION.

Rev. Fr. Whalen, who came to Dawson to solicit aid in the construction of a new church, left for home on the Victorian Sunday. He informed a Nugget man that he had been the recipient of many kindnesses from our people, the memory of which would always be cherished by him.

L. H. Gray, general traffic manager of the White Pass railway, arrived in the city Monday in the interests of his enterprising company. While conversing with a Nugget man Mr. Gray said that any one having valid claims for overcharges against his company will have the same paid by applying through the steamboat company which brought their goods in.

Paul E. Greer, representing the Dupont Chromatograph Co., of Chicago and New York, arrived in the city Monday, and this afternoon will take a panoramic view of Dawson from the deck of the Canadian with one of the machines manufactured by his company.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Busch, the aerial performer, is said to be a brother of the LaMores sisters. Mr. Swanson of No. 33 below on Sulphur is putting in a fine steam thawing plant on Lis claim.

Mrs. Fannie Tilton of Seattle is very anxious to learn the whereabouts of her husband, Theodore Tilton.

Martin Cole, Michael Kane and Frank Johnson, three insane men, were taken to the outside by friends this week.

Mrs. Rothweiler has sold her roadhouse on Bonanza, the Magnet lunch house, to Culbertson Bros., and will return to the outside.

Mr. Cautley, a Dominion surveyor, began operations this week in the surveying of Gold Bottom, Sulphur and that portion of Dominion which had remained unsurveyed.

Dr. Borden, minister of the militia, stated in parliament a few days ago that half the membership of the Yukon field force will be withdrawn at once.

M. A. Hammell, manager for the N. A. T. & T. Co. for the past twenty months, has resigned his position and will engage in the mercantile business for himself. He has been succeeded by Mr. Thomas Mahoney.

Charles Gleason and L. Burwash performed a difficult achievement on Sunday. Getting into the Yukon at Klondike City, they swam down to West Dawson, a distance of one mile. A comrade followed in a canoe with their clothes.

Another attempt to an up-river stream was inaugurated Sunday, when a dozen men left on the Victorian. They were very reticent about their destination, but are believed to have gone to Selwyn river.

The remains of Stephen Drew, who died on September 3 last, were exhumed last week, and are now en route to Butte, Montana, for permanent interment. The body left Sunday on the steamer Monarch, accompanied by Patrick Kelly.

Colonel Davis is proudly wearing a handsome emblem of Thirty-second degree Masonry these days. It was presented to him by a brother named Cunningham, who is grateful for kindnesses extended him by the colonel during a period of illness.

Al. Bartlett led all his friends to believe that he was leaving the country on Sunday. He was among the passengers on the Victorian when it pulled out and he waved an adieu in the soberest of fashions. He got off at Klondike City and returned to town, however.

E. E. Barry, who has been representing on No. 28 below on Sulphur for Abe McDonald, accomplished the feat on Monday of making the trip from the claim named to Dawson by boat, his route being by Sulphur, Dominion, Indian and the Yukon. So far as known, the feat is the first one of the kind. The boat was built at the claim.

Frank Simons was arraigned before Colonel Steele Tuesday on a charge of striking Carrie Lavalle, one of the women of the building, but as no complaint appeared the case was dismissed. Another complaint, charging him with resisting arrest, will be issued. Constable Harris being the complainant.

Ramps Peterson has sold his third interest in the opera house building and site to Oscar W. Ashby, and expects to take a trip to the outside. Ramps has been a hard worker and earned a vacation during the past two years; but he is too good a man for Dawson to lose, and his Klondike friends hope he will not get so far away that he can't find the trail back. Mr. Ashby is himself on the outside, and his newly purchased interest has been transferred to Mr. Gus Bakke. The new firm name will be Bakke & Wilson.

Popular prices prevail at the Cafe Royal. The Cafe Royal is the most respectable and the most reasonable resort in Dawson.

Governor Brady in the Klondike.

Says High License Is Killing Off the Smuggling Business.

The General License Regulation Not Strictly Popular—Governor Admits the N. W. M. P.—The Boundary Question.

Governor John Brady, the chief executive for the past two years of the territory of Alaska, is making a brief sojourn in Dawson. He arrived Tuesday morning on the steamer Eldorado, and will leave at the first opportunity for lower Yukon points. The jaunt is purely official, and is taken at the request of the Washington government, who wish him to report on several matters of importance, including the mineral, forestry, agricultural and fishery resources of Alaska, the adaptability of reindeer for the climate and needs of the country, the necessity for a separate judicial district for the Yukon, the demand for school facilities, etc., etc. Few men are better adapted, apparently, for such a mission, as he is a man of deep discernment and keen, cool judgment, besides being wholly in sympathy with any movement tending to the development of the territory.

The governor is a pleasing talker, with a habit of saying what he thinks and thinking honestly. During a conversation with the pencil-pusher, he said he had heard of and seen the Nugget and set it down for a hustler. Asked about the operation of the new high license law in Alaska, he said it was proving very satisfactory, besides practically killing off the smuggling business. One result is a great decrease in the number of saloons; Sitka, for instance, now has but two saloons, instead of ten, as formerly, while Juneau has but sixteen out of its forty. The occupation license is much less popular, and while the people show a uniform spirit of submission to it, they expect to see it greatly modified or repealed.

Asked about the American sentiment on the boundary question, the governor said: "There is but one feeling—we will never consent to giving away a foot of our territory. We are too much English. We like the British and want to be on good terms with them, and personally I am in favor of affording them every facility for getting their goods into the country, but our people will not give up any of their territory. I believe, however, our people will agree to a permanent line being established on the summit of the passes in order to effect a settlement of the question."

The governor spoke of the late visit to Alaska of the congressional party, and expressed the belief that if the Ottawa government were to send a number of representatives to the northwest and the Klondike it would result in much good to the country. Among the prominent people to whom the governor paid his respects Tuesday was Colonel Steele, whom he spoke of in terms of eulogy. He also complimented the N. W. M. P., and said the system was one worth studying by the people of America.

The steamer Canadian brought the news Monday of the drowning at Five Fingers of the second mate of the steamer Columbian. The man was engaged at the time in picking up the cable with which the rapids are passed, when the canoe in which he was captured and he was carried under by the treacherous waters. His name could not be learned.

NOTICE.

When a newspaper offers its advertising space at a nominal figure, it is a practical admission of "no circulation." THE KLONDIKE NUGGET asks a good figure for its space and in justification thereof guarantees to its advertisers a paid circulation five times that of any other paper published between Juneau and the North Pole.

FOR REPRESENTATION.

It cannot be expected that the Yukon territory will receive at the hands of parliament that recognition to which it is entitled until it is represented by a delegate in the federal parliament. The personal and selfish ambitions which to a greater or less extent animate every member of the house will always stand in the way of their giving any measure of justice to the Yukon until we have a man of our own choice who can stand up in the halls of parliament and demand in no uncertain language such legislation as his constituents may direct.

The Yukon territory is not a thing for a day. It is a country with resources already demonstrated to be of immense value and with the most marvelous possibilities ahead which every day are becoming probabilities.

But in order to grow the country must be given encouragement. Thus far it has been looked upon as a milch cow soon to go dry and from which every drop possible should be squeezed. The results of last winter's work and the preparations now being made for next season prove the folly of this thing. But the other fact has also been demonstrated that it is only a question of time when the country will be killed if the government's attitude toward it is not changed.

We want the Yukon territory opened up. We want roads built wherever gold in paying quantities is discovered. We want bridges built by the government and taken out of the hands of toll-gatherers. We want some system of exchange arranged whereby a miner may secure the full value of his gold right in the city of Dawson. We want such laws as will give the government a fair return for the protection which it affords the miner, but will leave the latter to enjoy the fruits of his labor, which at the present time he does not. In short, we want a great many things—things we have absolutely got to have, and the presence in parliament of a representative from the Yukon, fully informed as to what we require, would be a long step toward attaining the desired end. At the present time the country is burdened with taxation with absolutely no representation, which is tyranny today just as it was 100 years ago.

McCOOK WILL GO.

U. S. Consul McCook seems to have been able to secure sufficient pull at Washington to force a whitewash for his disgraceful conduct in Dawson. A quiet tip is going round, however, that after being publicly exonerated, McCook will be privately kicked out of office, which is better treatment than he deserves. There is scarcely a newspaper of any prominence on the outside which has not published and commented upon the Nugget's account of McCook's escapades, and the only defender which the consul has been able to secure is the poor deluded government mouthpiece, the Yukon Sun. The editor of that sheet must hold to a standard of conduct on a par with that of McCook or he would not have the gall to defend the consul. Birds of a feather, etc.

HAD TO BUY A STEAMER.

Peculiar measures have to be resorted to in Dawson sometimes in order to obtain desired ends. An instance illustrative of this fact occurred in connection with the Nugget's new plant, which is now being set up in our own building on Third street. Upon the arrival of the machinery in Dawson an examination revealed the fact that the engine which had been ordered had failed to put in an appearance. No trace could be obtained of that most essential feature of the plant, so a search was immediately instituted for something that would answer the purpose. It happened that Mr. T. C. Healy's steamer "Wise Mike" was for sale, and it likewise developed that Mike's boiler and engines were just about suited to the Nugget's machinery. It required only a few minutes to make a satisfactory deal and the Nugget became the owner of the steamer in order to secure the engine and boiler, which are now being attached to our new cylinder press and typesetting machine. The Nugget now owns a steamer without an engine, which is of just about as much use to humanity as a tramway without a tram. But we shall be enabled to operate our machinery, which was the consummation at which we aimed.

BRING ONLY THE BEST.

The Yukon country in past years has been made the dumping ground for shelf-worn provisions that had passed the marketable period outside. Old and musty flour, bacon and other staples that had outlived any usefulness they might ever have possessed were shipped into the Yukon upon the theory that "anything was good enough for a Yukon miner." There is no reason nor justification for such a policy upon the part of outfitting concerns. The lot of a miner or prospector in the Yukon valley is sufficiently hard under any circumstances. He must undergo the hardest and most exhausting of physical labor, and the consequent drain upon his system is at best severe.

It is, therefore, a gross imposition that should at any time be forced to resort to stale provisions.

It should not be forgotten, also, that the original outside cost is under ordinary circumstances the smallest item in fixing the price of goods on the Yukon. When freight and duty, if the goods have been imported, are estimated they will often exceed the original purchase price. It costs just as much money to land a pound of poor flour in Dawson as it does to transport the same amount of the very best. The difference in the original cost of the two is so slight that it seems almost a crime that poor stuff should be brought here at all.

The Yukoner expects to pay a good price for his grub. But when he pays that price he is entitled to a guarantee that what he has bought is the best that money can procure.

THE BOUNDARY.

The negotiations concerning the Alaska boundary line bid fair to terminate as was pointed out would be the case some time ago. Senator Fairbanks, United States commissioner for the settlement of the boundary question, has been to Skaguay and examined the advantages of that town as holding the key to the Yukon situation. As a result of his visit to the Lynn canal port he has announced it as being his conviction that the claim of the United States to all the ports of that body of water shall be firmly maintained.

This will be his attitude when the negotiations are resumed, and it is altogether probable that a final settlement will be reached, leaving the boundary about as it is today, or a modus vivendi may be agreed upon continuing the present arrangements for a term of years. It is unfortunate for Victoria and Vancouver merchants that Canada has not as yet a through route to the Klondike. Were this the case they could command the trade almost without dispute. It is hardly to be expected, however, that the Sound cities on the other side of the line would allow their commerce to be thus taken from them without a hard struggle.

The retirement from the N. W. M. P. of a number of men whose terms of enlistment have expired or are about to do so, promises to cripple the service somewhat during the winter approaching. The boys have received compensation by no means commensurate with the work they were called upon to perform last winter and cannot be blamed for quitting the service. It is doubtful if the personnel of the rank and file of the force will ever again attain the excellence it has possessed during the past year.

Word has reached Dawson that the government intends constructing a free tramway around the White Horse rapids for the use of shippers. In the language of the street, "we are from Missouri" on this proposition. However, should it by a fortuitous circumstance proved to be true none will be more ready than we to accord the powers that be due and full credit.

It looks very much as though cold weather would arrive before the long-talked-of public buildings are constructed. A new postoffice is most urgently required. The site selected is central and well located for the purpose. It would be dollars, and a great many of them, in the government's pocket to build immediately.

D. W. SEMPLE, who for nearly a year was employed on the NUGGET as advertising solicitor, has started a newspaper venture of his own. It is called the Gleaner and seems to be a lusty infant.

Notice of Dissolution.

The firm of Furgeson & Cushman, of Grand Forks, was dissolved on July 25. All bills due said firm will be collected by A. B. Furgeson. Mr. Furgeson has formed a new partnership with Mr. R. S. Eskridge, and will continue business at the same stand, Grand Forks.

AN ITALIAN IN STRAITS.

He Recorded a Claim in the Name of Another Man.

Antonio Barburo, a native of sunny Italy, is a prisoner at the barracks, and if the several charges brought against him are proven before the courts it will be several years before he again luxuriates beneath the azure skies of his beloved country. Antonio is charged with having, in December last, recorded a bench in the fifth tier opposite No. 66 Eldorado, left limit, in the name of one Taranto using the latter's license, which Taranto had given him when he left the country last fall, and in a general way representing himself to the recorder as being said Taranto.

The complaining witness in the case is Concezio Lucet, a fellow countryman of the prisoner, who appears to have the facts down pat and knows the two other men named. Mr. Robinson is appearing for the prosecution, and he will prefer another charge of perjury against Barburo. The maximum penalty provided for the first offense is fourteen years imprisonment and seven years for the other, from which it would appear that Barburo is in sore straits.

Klondike a Pleasant Place.

Another distinguished traveler who has discovered that a trip to the Klondike from the outside is a good one for tourists is Sister Mary Prexedes, who has lately returned to Victoria from here. Concerning her and the Klondike, the Colonel of the 21st says:

Among the passengers down from Dawson on the last trip of the Dirigo were three Sisters of St. Anne, two of whom have been connected with the hospital at that place ever since its establishment two years ago. The party are Sister Mary Prexedes, Sister Mary of the Cross and Sister Mary of John. Sister Prexedes was formerly connected with the hospital at Montreal, and went to the North to inspect the hospital there about a month ago in company with the mother-general, also from Montreal, and two nuns who have been sent to Dawson to nurse the sick in the hospital there. The mother-general will not return until December, and Sister Prexedes will await her return in this city.

The Catholic church and hospital at Dawson City are in a very prosperous condition," said Sister Prexedes yesterday afternoon, when speaking to a reporter, "and the buildings are much better than I expected to find them. There are 145 patients in the hospital at one time last winter, mostly suffering from typhoid fever and a few cases of scurvy, which kept the nurses pretty busy.

The trip north was a very pleasant one, and I enjoyed it greatly. As soon as the railway between Skagway and Bennett is put in good condition a ride to the Klondike and back again will make an excellent excursion tour, as the scenery is something not seen in any other part of the world. There are no hardships to encounter on the trip, and everything is in first-class style. It will be an ideal trip for invalids to take as a tonic and health renewer."

Arrival of the Eldorado.

The Flyer line steamer Eldorado arrived from White Horse on Tuesday morning with a fine lot of freight and the following passengers: J. F. Kane, T. R. Linton, F. M. Jones, G. S. Allen, E. Keenecht, Mrs. Parnell, Mr. Fredericks, John Taylor, E. Quaitthen, E. Decrisene, Mrs. K. Barber, Mollie Rooney, Sophia Green, W. S. Miller, C. K. Grundy, M. R. Hill, I. T. Patton, C. L. Whitake, J. T. Chambers, F. M. James, W. L. Powell, J. L. Williams, Governor Brady, D. H. Pingree. Governor Brady was a guest of the Flyer, represented on the trip by Mr. Pingree, who met him at Bennett on his late trip out. The latter gentleman reports that while at Bennett he negotiated the purchase of the Clifford Sifton for his company.

THE KLONDIKE NUGGET--Supplement

DAWSON, Y. T., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 2, 1899

A TRAMWAY MONOPOLY IS MENAGED.

Government to Build a Public Highway at White Horse Rapids.

Steamer Canadian Makes a New Record to the Rapids—Monarch Takes Out the American Party—General River News.

The little steamer Ora arrived from White Horse rapids on Monday morning, heavily loaded with freight and with the following passengers from the outside: Miss Browning, M. Gardner, Charles Davis, J. Storkie, Mrs. Pricet, Mrs. Dorth, Mrs. W. M. Birthingright, Alfred Birthingright. The most important news brought down by the Ora is to the effect that Mr. Charlton, the government engineer in charge of the work along the river, has taken a crew of 100 men to White Horse rapids, and will at once commence the construction of a free government wagon road from the head of Miles Canyon to the foot of the White Horse rapids. It will run close to Norman McCawley's tramway, and is expected to be ready for use in a month. The project will do away with the monopoly of the tramway, and will doubtless prove of value to Dawson merchants in shoving down freight charges. Mr. Charlton is also expected to erect 1000 feet of government docks at the rapids.

The Flyer line management have made arrangements to transfer their office and boats from the Aurora to the N. A. T. & T. Co. wharf.

The steamer Tyrrell has been undergoing repairs at Klondike City, opposite the office of the B. A. Co.

Captain Carroll, receiver for the Boston-Alaska Company, who is himself a navigator of long and varied experience, paid a high compliment to the masters and pilots in commission on the Yukon while talking to a Nugget man the other day. It is a difficult and dangerous river to navigate, and the captain is surprised that so few serious accidents occur.

It is frequently suggested that the man who succeeds in getting a little steambot that can ply between Dawson and Hunker on the Klondike will have a gold mine.

The steamer Merwin left for White Horse rapids on Friday evening. Her passenger list was small.

A wide awake lady who recently arrived from the outside by way of the upper river, says she thinks that an untold number of people could be induced to visit Dawson if our business men made some effort that way. When she was in Skagway the streets were crowded with tourists and excursionists from Canada and the states, all of them well-to-do or substantial, and many of them would make the trip to Dawson if they knew how easily and cheaply it could be done.

The S. Y. T. Co. are installed in their new office, on the water front.

E. M. Sullivan concluded he didn't want a steambot with a mortgage on it, and the Reindeer is again in the hands of the sheriff.

The steamer Canadian, on her last trip up, made a new record for the run from Dawson to White Horse, her actual running time being 3 days 20 hours and 40 minutes, and thus wrests the broom from her fleet rival, the Victoriana, whose record was 4 days 2 hours and 20 minutes.

The steamer Victoriana, of the Canadian Development Co., left for White Horse rapids on Sunday-afternoon. On board was a large crowd of passengers, among whom the following were from the outside: Mark Bailey, Jr., J. Steinhoff, W. F. Daugherty, J. H. Houston, W. Richardson, B. J. Slater, E. J. Black, Mrs. T. J. Thomas, Mrs. Somerville, W. Anderson, S. Matson, Father Whalen, C. C. Phillip, W. W. Crocker, E. W. Hobus, Wm. McIntosh, C. Letarage, C. A. Moore, A. McComber, E. Simpson, Mrs. Case, Charles Martin, John Black, S. Dewey, H. Stearn, J. N. Davidson, Charles Johnson, Joe Kittleson, Martin Olson, R. N. Snodgrass, C. E. Rich, D. Epstein, George Corse.

The steamer Clara arrived from Cliff creek Monday with another barge load of coal for the N. A. T. & T. Co. She reports that the Healy is still fast on a bar and that it will be necessary to sluice her out, as she has but 15 inches of water and needs at least 20. The C. C. Power spent 35 hours trying to pull her off, but without success.

Foreman Fredericks has constructed a bridge to connect the new N. A. T. & T. wharf with the boats. It is so arranged that it can be raised and lowered to conform with the stage of water.

The steamer Monarch, of the Columbian Navigation, left for St. Michael at an early hour Sunday morning, having been held a few hours for Judge Johnson and party, who were being banquetted. The passenger list consisted of the following: J. R. Poland, M. A. Pollock, C. W. Swanson, Louis J. Hermanson, Frank Brown, W. Matheson, T. Boyle, T. J. Lynch, F. J. Uhmayer, Pat Kelley, G. S. Leslie, P. Herkemath, R. R. Robinson, W. H. Brown, Robert Boyle, H. P. Verner, Mrs. M. S. Noughton, James A. Howe, Harry Perry, J. G. Perry, Julius Stephenson, G. M. Moores, E. T. Moores, G. F. Hagnes, A. Fritz, Jos. Lord, J. A. Richards, R. A. Matthews, E. N. Litzy, J. A. Grindle, H. Putz, R. F. Nyma, Simo, Joannis, Max le Joannis, A. C. Gouff, T. E. O'Connell, A. L. O'Connell, J. E. O'Connell, A. Morgan, F. H. Wade, Alfred Abraham, W. Frank Miller, L. E. Shockley, Arthur O. Leary, G. G. Hall, J. Lamoreaux, D. Keyes, J. A. Thompson, George Goodrich, E. Richards, T. H. Wilson, John Green, L. Doris, August Duval, W. J. Gale, Peter Obbitening, P. H. Sankui, G. J. Lignoret, A. L. Moran, J. F. Buckman, N. C. Rosenfelt, Wm. E. Potter, Geo. S. Potter, Hod Taylor, S. S. Nelson, W. M. Chamberlain, Geo. Harting, Martin Gilmore, P. Gavin, Geo. W. Fowler, Wm. Rahe, Jerry Sullivan, Henry Hornhold, J. Rob. Auer, L. M. Yeaton.

The C. D. Co.'s champion steamer, Canadian, arrived in port Monday afternoon with a new broom sticking up conspicuously at the front in token of her new record. On board, besides a fine line of freight, were the following passengers: M. W. Greer, T. W. Williams, W. B. Clive, A. F. Wines, Mrs. W. Crawford, J. H. Moore, F. M. Roberts, Mrs. R. E. Pickett, Mrs. A. Crocker, Mrs. A. Heron, Mrs. A. L. Kent, Miss Higgins, Mrs. Higgins, J. S. Hunter, A. McMichael, H. McLean, Mrs. Knox, O. Galt, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell, Mrs. Gordon, M. Belmont, O. E. Downie, Lt. Col. Evans, Mrs. L. Lotta, Mrs. S. A. Bishop and daughter, Mrs. H. A. Remuldt, E. W. Sandison, F. P. Freeman, J. Bennett, J. A. Fraser, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Spencer, C. W. Wenneck, C. S. Tourtelott, Mr. Hope, C. H. Blackburn, S. Hildyard, W. L. Purser, L. H. Gray, Mr. Greer, Capt. Harper, T. Pyke, Wm. Eastlett.

The officers of the Eldorado say that the Bonanza King, on her last trip to White Horse, covered the distance in 3 days and 18 hours actual running time.

Canadian line and thence to Europe. The show people have let slip an intention to drop them after their present run there, and Secretary Hay, upon learning this from Mr. Jackson, our charge at Berlin, instructed him to provide for their return here if left helpless.

ENLISTING COLORED MEN. BOSTON, July 15.—The Post will say tomorrow: An uprising of the colored race against the administration at Washington is being organized in Boston. This is the seat of the movement that is proposed to be spread wherever the colored people are populous. The instigators as-that his intended departure is not of his choice and volition; that, in fact, he has been given a friendly trip from home that his late doings in Dawson are not to be condoned or unlooked by his government, and that he will avoid a public dismissal by quietly dropping out.

The American citizens who are cognizant of the consul's intentions have not shed any tears over it as yet, and it is not expected that there will be a great deal of emotion exhibited by anybody.

tion with the Nugget's new plant, which is now being set up in our own building on Third street. Upon the arrival of the machinery in Dawson an examination revealed the fact that the engine which had been ordered had failed to put in an appearance. No trace could be obtained of that most essential feature of the plant, so a search was immediately instituted for something that would answer the purpose. It happened that Mr. T. C. Healy's steamlistment have expired or are about to do so, promises to cripple the service somewhat during the winter approaching. The boys have received compensation by no means commensurate with the work they were called upon to perform last winter and cannot be blamed for quitting the service. It is doubtful if the personnel of the rank and file of the force will ever again attain the excellence it has possessed during the past year.

Nothing New From Nome.

The Robert Kerr, of the British American Steamship company, arrived on Tuesday from St. Michael, which place she left on July 11th. She had a large number of passengers, most of whom were from intermediate points. Among these were, Mrs. Watrous and son, Martin, Watrous and Jim Ellivill, who had been to Eagle; Sergeant Corniel, who conveyed a shipment of gold to St. Michael; Constable Browning, who accompanied a cargo of liquor to Eagle; J. P. McLennan, brother of the firm of McLennan, & Co., who comes from the outside; Mr. Marston, of the A. E. Co., and Surveyor Gibson, who had been below a short distance.

One of the officers reported concerning other boats as follows: The Linda and barge are hung up on a bar near Minook; the Healy, as heretofore described, is hung up about 30 miles below Dawson, with prospects good for getting her off without further loss of time; the Hamilton was got off the ways at St. Michael on July 10; the Seattle No. 11s at Rampart; people are working hard on the Pilgrim and will soon be able to float her; the Argo, a steam schooner, is aground below Minook, the new six-screw boat of the E. T. Co., is still at St. Michael.

Nothing in the way of news to Nugget readers concerning Cape Nome could be learned, the bulk of the passengers to whom the reporter talked proving to be "knockers." One man, J. G. Riedl, of Chicago, was found, who claimed to know definitely of gold having been taken from the district. He says that a friend of his named Jack Winters, also of Chicago, took out six hundred dollars during the winter, but Mr. Riedl could not tell from what creek. He also stated that the people at St. Michael and Nome are fast losing faith in the country and that there is a steady stream outward. No gold whatever, he says, is being taken out of the Golovin bay country. Mr. Riedl was also of the Koryukuk, but failed to find gold in paying quantities.

The "Ex"-Police Boys.

Tuesday saw the ranks of the N. W. M. P. lose several valuable and well known members, owing to the expiration of enlistments and the fact that the Sifton style of government does not know how to appreciate the services of good men. These men represent a force of pioneer police who came in with Captain Scarth in 1897, and who have since then labored hard, faithfully and creditably. Of this force, seven will re-enlist, while the others will retire. The latter include Corporal Green, who has been stationed at Stewart; Corporal Carter, who has been postmaster, deputy sheriff, deputy registrar and several other deputies that kept him one of the busiest men in the Yukon; Constable Healy, who has been attached to the police and territorial courts; Constable Snell, who has been a well known and popular member of the down-town squad; Constables Aspenall, Saunders, Stuart and Dabourin. Corporal Belcher, of Sektirk, will re-enlist in the territorial service. Fifteen more men will take their discharges September 1 and eight others in October. The N. W. M. P. has earned the respect and good will of the people in the Yukon by a long series of kindly acts, by the maintenance of good order and by an unselfish devotion to duty that has few parallels. Their loss will be felt by the people as well as by the government.

Farewell to Rev. Turner.

Rev. James Turner, founder of the Methodist church at Dawson, bade farewell to his friends on Monday night at a reception held at the church and will leave this week for the outside. Although notice of the affair was short, the church was fairly crowded with friends, which is the strongest testimonial to the high esteem in which the reverend gentleman is held. A programme of merit afforded much entertainment, consisting of an address by the chairman, Mr. Shepard; instrumental duet by Mrs. Strong and Mr. Vaughan, recitation by W. W. Scott, vocal solo by Mrs. Hetherington, piano solo by Mr. Vaughan, recitation by Capt. Jack Crawford, vocal solo by Major Cunningham, instrumental duet by Mrs. Strong and Mr. Vaughan, and remarks by Rev. Dr. Grant.

Dr. Grant spoke very feelingly and represented the views of all his hearers when he eulogized the departing one for his piety, his kindness of heart, his industry and self-sacrifice. Rev. Turner was then presented with a purse containing $150 on behalf of his parishioners, after which everybody was served with refreshments.

Rev. Turner is one of the best known and most highly esteemed clergymen in Canada. During a busy career of thirty years he has continually been at the front of civilization. He practically followed the building of the Canadian Pacific railroad across the continent, establishing churches and carrying into the wilderness the principle of love.

He came to Dawson something over a year ago from British Columbia, and has seen this farthest Christian outpost grow to large and substantial proportions. His health has become feeble through continued arduous work, and he will probably enjoy a needed rest before renewing his work on the outside.

The work at Dawson is left in the care of Rev. Hetherington, who was lately installed as pastor.

Two Medics Fall Out.

The Fairview bar was the scene of a sensational episode, in which two well known medical men were the principal figures, one day last week. As an eye-witness describes the affair, Dr. Merryman and Dr. Simpson were standing before the hotel, when they were joined by Dr. Good. The last named is a good deal of a "josh" in his own style, and he accosted his brother medics by saying something distasteful about Dr. Merryman. The other reminded him that he had several times used offensive language to or about him, and demanded to know if he was attempting to be funny or if he intended to deliberately insult him. Dr. Good said he meant what he said, and intimated that humor would be wasted on the other. Dr. Merryman retorted by telling the other all he thought of him—and his expressions were quite cutting, "his said—and then invited Dr. Simpson to accompany him to the bar for a drink.

As he gave his order, Dr. Merryman procured a glass of water, which he was idly dallying with when Dr. Good entered and joined the two at the bar. He was evidently intent on continuing the conversation had on the walk, but Dr. Merryman cut it short by suddenly dashing the glass of water full into Dr. Good's face, saying, "That's for you to drink."

Of course, there was a scene of confusion, but no blood was spilled, and it is not learned that either gentleman has sent the other an invitation to "pistols and coffee."

Gandolfo's Fruit Store.

J. R. Gandolfo, Dawson's enterprising and bustling fruit and confectionery merchant will leave in a few days for the outside where he will procure the largest and most complete outfit of goods yet brought into the country in his particular line. Gandolfo was the pioneer in the fruit business in Dawson, having been among the first to arrive with the breaking of the ice a year ago. He procured a small stand next to the Monte Carlo and immediately started in business. He holds the distinction of having received the highest prices ever paid in Dawson for certain classes of goods. For instance water melons last summer brought him $25 a piece, cucumbers $5, tomatoes $5 per pound; peaches, apples, pears and other fruits $5 per pound and one bunch of 150 bananas brought the energetic fruit man the same number of dollars. During the past winter Gandolfo had a large stock stored in four different places around the city to insure against fire, and was able to keep his store well supplied until the opening of navigation this spring. He had a practical monopoly of the business with results accordingly. But Mr. Gandolfo says the days for such big profits are over. Competition has come—his lines as well as others and he sees that business must come down to a basis of less profits and larger volume. With this idea in view he has taken the site until lately occupied by the Horse Shoe, and has stocked it full of the finest lines of fruit, confectionery, cigars, tobacco, pipe and other goods and in fact everything which the Klondike is considered a luxury. He has plenty of room to display his goods and few or no doughs are able to pass the door without purchasing. Mr. Gandolfo's wife arrived in Dawson recently and will remain in the city during his absence on the outside. When Gandolfo returns he will be able to supply the Dawson market with dairies for 12 months. Gandolfo has had 25 years experience in his business in all the great mining camps including Leadville, Cripple Creek and the Cour d'Alene. He is quite heavily interested in Dawson real estate as well as in many mining properties. His success in business has been achieved by good hard hustling and square treatment of patrons.

Legal Notice.

A writ of summons has been issued in the Territorial Court by William Cummings, as plaintiff, against T. Z. Krizner, as defendant, and the plaintiff under his statement of claim asks for judgment for $245 and costs. An order has this day been made by Mr. Justice Dugas allowing service of process upon the defendant, by publication. In default of appearance by the defendant on or before the 15th day of September, 1899, a judgment will be signed against him for the above amount, with costs. Will Not Give In an Inch on the Boundary Question.

Secretary Alger Resigns His Position—War Balloons Are Tabooed by the Peace Congress—Liberals After Election Returns.

New York, July 20.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald says:

As a result of a conference between Secretary Hay and Senator Fairbanks, Wednesday afternoon, the United States will not withdraw one foot from the line it has fixed in the negotiations with Great Britain as to the boundary line between Alaska and Canada. Much depended upon the character of the report which Senator Fairbanks made to the secretary of state. As a senator, and as a member of the joint high commission, his conclusions after his investigations in Alaska are of a highly important character. The senator reported the situation with respect to the miners as satisfactory, but he has changed his views totally with respect to the disputed territory, and now holds that it is to the interest of his government, as well as to the inhabitants of the territory, to maintain its position. It is understood a meeting of the American members of the commission who are in Washington will be held tomorrow, when the late negotiations will be gone over and the final decision of the United States reached, not only with respect to the Alaskan question, but with reference to the various other matters in dispute between the United States and Canada. Just what will be the result of the dispute cannot be said, but an official who talked remarked that it was well for the friendly relations between the two governments that a solid framework of amicable negotiations commenced.

Following the conference between Senator Fairbanks and Secretary Hay, as well as with the president, dispatches have been exchanged between the British and Canadian authorities and those in Washington. Already it is assured, practically beyond a doubt, that the commission will not resume its sessions at Quebec on the 2d of next month, to which time it was adjourned, but that its reassembling will be in the fall, if the negotiations reach a stage that a continual commission seems desirable.

Thus far the boundary question appears to be the great stumbling block. This lack of agreement has continued so long that those in a position to judge of the situation intelligently, while they have not despaired of an adjustment, frankly admit that the negotiations continue to be in a critical state. When seen today, Mr. Fairbanks would not discuss the future of the commission or any of the internal phases of the subject. The senator had another conference with Secretary Hay this morning, and also called at the war department. Notwithstanding a rapid change of telegrams during the day, between Senator Fairbanks in this city and Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Ottawa, at the close of office hours no arrangement had been reached as to the program of the joint high commission. Some interest attaches to this apparent transfer of the negotiations from the hands of Messrs. Choate and Lord Salisbury in London to Senator Fairbanks and Sir Wilfrid Laurier on this side, and perhaps it is this change in the personality of the negotiations that have given rise to the renewed hope of a resumption of the commission.

GREEN'S DOWNFALL.

DETROIT, Mich., July 16.—The political enemies of Governor Pingree are jubilant over the present state of affairs. They consider that the action of the supreme court in declaring unconstitutional the governor's pet hobby of the municipal ownership of street railways has sealed his political doom. Pingree, on the other hand, is still hopeful, and says he will renew the fight as mayor of Detroit.

HOW THE Czar's HEIR DIED.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 15.—The following details of the death of the czarowitz appear in the Official Messenger: The czarowitz went for a ride on a benzine motor at 9 o'clock on the morning of July 10 from Abbas Tuman. He went very fast for two weeks and then turned. A peasant woman, passing, said that as he turned the machine he slackened its pace and he was spitting blood. He stopped and alighted, swaying as he did so. The woman ran up, supported him and asked what was the matter. The prince replied, "Nothing." The woman offered him water and the prince made an affirmative gesture. She bathed his temples and mouth. Death then supervened, peacefully and painlessly.

SIoux INDIANS STRANDED.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—A party of twelve Sioux Indians, traveling with a wild west show in foreign lands, is expected to be left stranded in Germany, and through official representations to the state department funds have been ordered advanced to them by the American embassy in case the expected happens. The party was employed by the show, unknown to this government, and taken quietly over the Canadian line and thence to Europe. The show people have let slip an intention to drop them after their present run there, and Secretary Hay, upon learning this from Mr. Jackson, our charge at Berlin, instructed him to provide for their return here if left helpless.

ENLISTING COLORED MEN.

BOSTON, July 15.—The Post will say tomorrow: An uprising of the colored race against the administration at Washington is being organized in Boston. This is the seat of the movement that is proposed to be spread wherever the colored people are populous. The instigators assert that it will mean the downfall of McKinley, imperialism and the Republican party. The object of this organization is a revolt at the ballot box. But there are those among its supporters who would willingly take part in an armed uprising and who, were it possible, would offer their strength to aid the Filipinos in their struggle for independence. On Monday evening the first meeting of the Boston colored auxiliary of the National Anti-Imperialist League will be held in St. Paul Baptist Church, Tremont and Camden streets. Dr. Jerome Wiley, of Washington, D. C., a writer on negro sufferings and president of the auxiliary movement, came from the seat of government last week and had several conferences with Edward Atkinson and Irving Winslow, preparatory to the work of organization. It has now been decided to establish these branches all over the land.

ALTERED ELECTION RETURNS.

OTTAWA, July 20.—The revelations in the West Huron election case are of a most scandalous character. At the committee today it was clearly shown that in poll 4, Township Colborne, official ballots marked for Maclean, the Conservative candidate, were abstracted and fourteen bogus ballots marked for the government candidate substituted. Even Liberal members present had to admit that the fourteen were bogus, as they were produced to the committee, and the difference in printing and paper clearly shown.

THE SENATE THREW OUT THE GERRYMANDER BILL.

By 36 to 14.

SPANISH LAWYERS SHUT OUT.

MANILA, July 20.—An order has been issued regulating practice before the court, and substituting the American for the Spanish regulations in many important respects. Members of the bar must be residents of the island. Members of the American bar are eligible. The order gives the court sole power to determine the qualifications of attorney, which heretofore has been a function of the bar association, and the church schools have controlled admissions to the bar. The changes outlined have been made in accordance with the wishes of the Filipinos, and disappoint the Spaniards, who petitioned to be admitted to the bar without renouncing allegiance to Spain.

DEWEY WANTS HIS OWN.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Admiral Dewey today filed in the court of claims, through his attorneys, his claim for naval bounty growing out of the battle in Manila bay, May 1, 1898. This is the first of this class of claims filed in this court, and it is anticipated that there will be between 4,000,000 and 5,000 of them altogether.

TOLD IN BRIEF.

The peace conference has decided to prohibit the use of war balloons.

London suffered from an unprecedented degree of heat on the 20th, the temperature reaching 87.

Secretary of war Alger resigned his position in President McKinley's cabinet on the 20th, and it was accepted by the president without any expressions of regret. It took effect August 1st.

The people of the United States are suffering from the attacks of kissing bugs, so called. It usually attacks the lips and the sting is followed by intense pain and swelling.

King of the Water Front.

An incident which illustrates the position of eminence to which Mr. Brown, the King of the Water Front, had climbed before Col. Steele knocked the pedestal from under him, transpired on Saturday morning. A Nugget man had stopped Constable Skirving to bid him the time of day, when Mr. Beals, the canine bogie man, accompanied by a stranger, came up. "Constable," said the dark man, courteously—over grandly, as is his style, "can you tell me where I can find Inspector Brown this morning?"

"Inspector Brown? Who is he?" queried the tall member of the N. W. M. P.

"Why, Inspector Brown—the meat inspector," returned Mr. Beals, and he seemed to unconsciously exhibit a sense of pity for the other's evident ignorance.

"Dr. Good is the only man I know of who is empowered to inspect meat," said the officer. "Well, Mr. Brown has been inspecting meat for some time, and this man here has some bad meat that I wanted Mr. Brown to inspect so he couldn't sell it."

The constable continued to evidence that he was dense on the subject of "Inspector Brown's powers and duties, besides which he had not seen him that morning, so the bogie man continued on his way.

Consul McCook Going Home.

Consul J. C. McCook is going home, if his statements to several friends prove to be true. The reason for this action—depending upon the same statements again—is that the consul is not making money enough to suit him. "There is more money in making candy," he said to one friend, and he handed him a card bearing a picture of a candy factory at Philadelphia, which he says is his. The consul did not fix a definite date for his departure, but said it would be sometime in September.

Notwithstanding the consul's statements to the contrary, there are others who contend that his intended departure is not of his choice and volition; that, in fact, he has been given a friendly trip from home that his late doings in Dawson are not to be condoned or overlooked by his government, and that he will avoid a public dismissal by quietly dropping out.

The American citizens who are cognizant of the consul's intentions have not shed any tears over it as yet, and it is not expected that there will be a great deal of emotion exhibited by anybody.

ALGER IS FINALLY CUT ADRIFT.

President McKinley Wouldn't Carry the Load Longer.

Didn't Have the Nerve to Do It Himself, But Had the News Broken By Vice-President Hobart—Story of the Incident.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Gen. Russell A. Alger this morning called upon the president and handed in his resignation, to take effect at the pleasure of the president. There was no comment, except that the president asked if he wished to go at once, and the reply of the secretary that he would remain until the assistant secretary returned, if the successor should not be chosen at once.

Politicians have for some weeks been anxious to get Alger out. The Pingree alliance was the excuse. They urged the president to get rid of Alger, but McKinley said he could not ask for Alger's resignation with such an excuse. President McKinley found himself in a very embarrassing position. He did not know what to do. He felt that he could not ask Alger to retire, and did not want to oppose other members of the cabinet and the political leaders urging the step.

At this stage it develops that Attorney General Griggs was sent as a messenger to Vice-President Hobart to ask the vice-president to advise Alger to resign. Hobart agreed to undertake the delicate mission of saying to Gen. Alger what the president and other members of the cabinet would not say to him. He telegraphed Alger inviting him to spend a few days at Long Branch. When the secretary arrived, and the two men had an opportunity to talk freely, Hobart advised Alger to resign, saying the country was against him and he might as well recognize that it must be satisfied.

Alger asked if the vice-president spoke only for himself or at the suggestion of others. Hobart told him the whole story, that the president wanted his resignation, but did not wish to ask for it; that Attorney-General Griggs had been a messenger of the president and the cabinet to him, and that he (Hobart) was merely the agent of the administration in inviting Alger to retire.

Alger remarked that the suggestion was somewhat roundabout, but that he would hand the president his resignation as soon as he returned to Washington. He had supposed that he and the president were on terms of friendship justifying frankness regarding the situation; but all he desired was to know the president's pleasure, even though it came by way of Long Branch and through the attorney-general as the president's messenger. He returned to Washington last night and handed his resignation to President McKinley at 9 o'clock this morning.

The suddenness with which Secretary Alger acted on the hint given him nonplussed McKinley and those of his advisers who had been clamoring for his resignation. They seemed to have thought that Alger would attempt to hold his place, and were not ready with his successor. Many names are being mentioned. It is thought quite likely that General James Wilson will be offered the place.

Contest Over a Claim.

The trial of the case of Mrs. Alena Bergstrand vs. Mrs. M. A. Hummel took place before Justice Starns this week, with the result that the defendant was discharged, with a recommendation to the complainant that she seek recourse in the civil courts. The story told at the trial brought out a series of facts which make an interesting tale. About two months ago Mrs. Hummel, Mrs. Bergstrand, Mr. Sparks and Mr. Whitley purchased the so-called Trevorrow claim, on Gold Hill, for $20,000, paying $5,000 in cash and Mrs. Bergstrand giving a check for the balance, the same being drawn upon a brother-in-law living in Dakota.

Not long after this contract was made Mrs. Hummel made out a bill of sale transferring Mrs. Bergstrand's interest to herself, and it was signed by Mrs. Bergstrand in the presence of two witnesses, after which Mrs. Hummel sold the property at a good profit.

Mrs. Bergstrand set up in the trial that she had not, to her knowledge, signed a bill of sale, but that she either signed a power of attorney to Mrs. Hummel or was induced by her to sign a bill of sale under the impression that it was a power of attorney.

Incidentally, it appeared in the testimony that Mrs. Bergstrand's brother-in-law did not honor the check drawn in his name; but the claim proved to be a good one and the $15,000 has already been taken out of it.

A Nervy Act.

A brave and nervy act was brought out Monday by the running away on Front street of the big black team belonging to the A. C. Co. The steamer Canadian had just arrived in, filling the street with people, and it appeared morally certain that somebody would be run over. When the danger was at its height and the runaways were tearing along at a 2:40 clip, trailing a big lumber wagon, Alex. Campbell ran out, grasped one of the horses by the bit and brought the two up short. His heroic act brought him a round of applause from the big crowd.

Positively Her Departure.

Miss Greta Robinson may be set down as no friend of the new capias ordinance lately passed by the Yukon council. To it is due her presence in the city today, as she intended to leave on the steamer Victorian last Sunday for the outside; indeed, the lady had her ticket purchased and was aboard the boat, when the horrid capias loomed up in the hands of Constable Owen, and she was obliged to disembark. It may be said further that Greta's name did not appear on the boat's passenger list, but that of Mrs. Reynolds did, and there is a suspicion that Greta and Mrs. Reynolds are one and the same.

The capias was employed in this instance by Hobbs & Smith, who represent that Miss Greta is indebted to them in the sum of several hundred dollars for furniture and that she proposed leaving the country with the intention of defrauding them of the same.

John Riley is another gentleman who probably has no love for the new ordinance, as it was the means of holding him in Dawson this week, when he desired to leave for the outside. The ordinance was employed by S. A. Ripstein, who claims that Riley owes him $2,600.

Notice.

To the Banking, Mercantile and Mining Companies of the Klondike.

At the request of Hon. F. W. Peck, commissioner general of the United States to the Paris Exposition of 1900, I ask the above companies if they will combine and send one million dollars in gold dust, through the banking houses of Dawson, to Mr. Peck, at Chicago. The dust, if sent, to be used in making a pyramid of pure gold, which Mr. Peck agrees to place in one of the principal squares of the Exposition grounds, to furnish a guard of soldiers for the same, and to place a large tablet of gold on top stating that it is the product of the Klondike.

In case the companies decide to furnish the gold I will wire Mr. Peck so that he can make arrangements to receive it.

The City Market.

Charles Schultz, proprietor of the City Market, has one of the best meat establishments in Dawson. The freshest and choicest cuts can always be secured there. The market itself is fitted up in a tasteful manner, nicely papered. A call at the City Market means continued patronage to the establishment.

A Revolution in Building.

It looks very much at this time as though the day of log cabins and frame buildings in Dawson is rapidly drawing to a close. Experiments have been made in the manufacture of brick so successfully that it now seems altogether likely that brick will soon begin to replace logs and lumber in the construction of buildings.

Messrs. Hobbs & Smith, the pioneer lumbermen of Dawson, are now out with an article in the brick line that will warrant the closest attention of prospective builders both as to quality and cost. The growth of the Hobbs & Smith plant has been something phenomenal. Their gentlemen began operations in Dawson in a very small way. They built the first work bench in Dawson in the spring of '97, and by making a circular saw from pieces of an old whipsaw and picking up a stray boiler and engine that had wandered into the country they were soon sawing lumber and manufacturing stores and office fixtures.

From this modest beginning a plant representing a cash investment of $100,000 stands today as proof of their enterprise and confidence in the stability of the town.

At the present time they are giving their attention to the production of brick and lime, in addition to their lumber mill interests. Their brick kiln is located a short distance from Dawson, up the Yukon. They have uncovered a splendid deposit of clay, from which they have already made over 150,000 of the fine building brick as can be seen anywhere. The brick are a solid, substantial article, taking no more than 15 per cent water, which is an exceedingly good average. The clay is there in unlimited quantities, and sufficient to supply Dawson for all time to come.

The present capacity of the kiln is 10,000 per day, which can be readily increased to an almost unlimited amount.

Realizing, however, that lime must be secured cheaply and in quantity, if brick were to become an available article in Dawson, Messrs. Smith & Hobbs have opened up a deposit of lime, located about 10 miles this side of Sixty-Mile. The lime, of which 12 tons are now lying in their warehouse at the mill, is of excellent quality and well adapted for building purposes. Mr. Hobbs states that he can take out and bring to Dawson 500 bushels of lime in 20 days.

The firm of Smith & Hobbs is among Dawson's most enterprising houses, and their success is well deserved.

Dr. Brown is now located in his old office in the A. C. block. New and complete equipment, moderate charges and work warranted.
