SCHOOL SHOES.

SAY, POP! It seems as if all the Boys and Girls in our School are wearing Sage & Wallace's Shoes, so many of them have on their Shoes. Said they paid only $1.50 a pair for them. They are just dandies, and I am sure they will wear well, 'cause all of Sage & Wallace's Shoes do, and I heard some of the Boys and Girls telling each other about the splendid Stout Sole Shoes that they get at Sage & Wallace's, said they sold them at $1.25 and $1.35 per pair, and they're beauties too. This is the way the Children talk at home about our excellent School Shoes.

Which Was The Heir?

CHAPTER XVI.

MEANING that chum of yours who lived with you in the hut—yes, And a heavy score it was, for I was lame for a couple of weeks with the bullet wound he gave me—

'It was me!' said Cottie, eagerly.

'Was it? Well, I scored it up against him, and I was going, with a pal or two, to pay a visit to that sweet little but of yours and clear it off. And we'd have paid it off in full, youngster!'

He swore to the statement with an oath which made Cottie shudder, not because of the oath's force, but because of the malignancy which it expressed.

'And then, lo! and behold! as they say, you comes into Blue Pig with him. I was half tempted to drop him then and there,' he went on reflectively; 'but seeing how things have turned out, I'm almost glad I didn't, because, you see, you and I wouldn't be journeying together quite so comfortable. And we are comfortable, ain't we?'

Cottie nodded. She was pondering over what the man had said. She knew that the rascals clung together like bees, that such a vendetta as the man had hinted at was more than possible, and that if she attempted to escape, Geoffrey's life might pay the forfeit. For the present, at any rate, she must remain passive and pretend resignation to her capture. It was fortunate for her that her captor did not suspect her to be in possession of the notes which seemed to burn at her waist.

'Where are we going?' she asked, after a pause.

Sheehey regarded her ruminatively.

'Now, where would you like to go?'

'Back home to the hut,' said Cottie, with a sharp breath. 'If you'll take me there, I'll—my chum, who's gone on there—will pay you well—'

Sheehey shook his head.

THE BEST REMEDY

For Women—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Belleville, Ont.—'I was so weak and worn out from a female weakness that I concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took several bottles of it, and I gained strength so rapidly that it seemed to make a new woman of me. I can do as good a day's work as I ever did. I sincerely bless the day that I made up my mind to take your medicine for female weakness, and I am exceedingly grateful to you for them. I give you permission to publish this any time you wish.'

Mrs. ALBERT WICKERTY, Belleville, Ontario, Canada.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will cure female weakness and so successfully carry women through the Change of Life as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills—inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

'Sorry, but it can't be done. You said good-bye to him for a long day—forever, I should say—and don't you take on about it, my boy,' he went on, as Cottie's face grew pale and her lips quivered. 'You ain't going to lose anything. You've got a new friend—that's me!—he touched his heart with his forefinger and smiled ingratiatingly—'a friend as will prove a more valuable one than that digger chap—one as will stand by you through thick and thin, and will make your fortune—yes, your fortune! And all he asks is that you should stand by him in return, and treat him as he treats you. In short young 'un, you and I will strike a bargain. Give me your word to go along with me quietly and comfortably, and I'll pass mine that no harm shall come to you; try and give me the slip, and I'll put my pals on to your old chum out yonder—he jerked his finger over his shoulder—and they'll wipe him out. When you've got a grip of that fortune I'm going to help you to, why, then you can make it up to him as you like.'

Cottie was silent as he regarded her from the corner of his eyes. What did it mean? Why should he kidnap her? What was his object in detaining her, and was there any truth in this promise of a fortune? Suddenly she remembered that he had stolen the packet, the packet of whose contents she was ignorant. Had he learnt anything of her father's past history

'To England!' Her face blanched for a moment, for England was so far, so very far from Geoff, and she turned her face away.

'To England, to the dear old country,' he said, with a grotesque assumption of sentiment. 'To the home of the (bold and the free)! That's the place, young 'un, for the likes of you and me. It's just this way, you see: I struck out the other day on that that to you, and I've got an idea of sharing it with you. I took a fancy to you, and I'm prepared to take you to the old country and show you round, just as if you was a son of mine. I may have something up my sleeve, as I say, but I'll hold my tongue about it at present. Give me your word and I'm satisfied.'

It was the second time she had been asked to pledge herself; she had done so the first time willing enough, but her heart sank as she gave the required undertaking to this sleek, hatchet-faced man with the soft, toneless voice and the cunning eyes.

'I won't try and get away; I'll go to England with you, if you promise to let me go free when I've got to England.'

'You shall go as free as air when we've shared that fortune I spoke of, as sure as my name's Sheehey,' he

Nerves Were Exhausted

Wants others to know of her remarkable cure by use of DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

Mrs. Martin's condition as described in her letter below gives some idea of the extraordinary reconstructive power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Such Nerve Food where it stands today as the most popular and most effective nerve restorative that money will buy. Mrs. Edwin Martin, Ayer's Cliff, Que., writes:—'Before I began using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food I was in a terrible condition. Dizzy spells would come over me and I would fall to the floor in a faint. I could not sweep the floor without fainting and my nervous system seemed to be entirely exhausted.'

'The use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food has built up my system wonderfully so that I can do my housework and washing without any trouble. I want others to know about it.'

I assist on getting the genuine Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cts. a box, boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or L. Mansson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

morning. As they neared the town, Cottie noticed, even in the excitement of her wonder and admiration for the big city, that the man beside her appeared anxious and preoccupied. He drew his soft felt hat over his brows, and looked from under its brim from side to side with a watchful and alert expression, and once as they passed a police patrol who was cantering on his beat, Sheehey's hand went to the revolver concealed under his jumper, and after he had answered the patrol's sharp questions, 'Who are you and whither bound?' and received the policeman's nod of permission to pass, Cottie heard him draw a heavy breath of relief.

He led the way to a small hotel in the centre of the town, where he was evidently known, for the hostler raised his eyebrows significantly at sight of him, and as he took the horses to the stables, jerked his head towards a door at the back of the house.

Sheehey opened it, though no handle was visible, and pushed Cottie—but not roughly—before him into the dark passage. Another door opened mysteriously, and she found herself guided into a small sitting-room. An enormously fat woman was counting money at the table, and she sprang up with an oath at her intrusion; but as she recognized Sheehey she nodded and sank down again as if reassured.

'I don't know anything about it. I have never been there,' she replied. 'That's all right,' Sheehey remarked, with a smile of satisfaction. 'Ah, well, you'll be safe and sound under the man checked her by a sign of warning.

'Yes, it's me, Mrs. Brown,' he said, with his cunning leer. 'Can you put us up for a night or two?'

'Who's the boy?' she asked, staring at Cottie's pale face, which threatened to become crimson; for the girl naturally dreaded the scrutiny of one of her own sex.

'A young nevy of mine,' replied Sheehey, smoothly. 'My sister Polly's child. I've come across him by chance, and have had a bit of luck. I've adopted him.'

The woman shrugged her shoulders with a mixture of indifference and incredulity, which plainly indicated her estimate of Sheehey's veracity.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Do you want to avoid that tired feeling that's due long about this time. Do you want to feel as if you could house-clean the world, instead of shrinking before the thought of six or eight or ten rooms to clean?

Do you want to feel as if you wished the working day wouldn't end so soon, instead of watching the clock all the afternoon?

If you do, I can give you a spring-time recipe that's better than sulphur and molasses, and much nicer to take.

And this is the way my prescription reads:

Fresh air.—Take twenty lungfuls at an open door or window every hour or so. Also take several thousand lungfuls at least once, and preferably two or three times, a day, on a walk.

Professor Sargent, the physical director of the greatest university in the country, has recently made the statement that women are in a fair way to overtake men in the attainment of perfect physical development.

And the chief thing to which the professor ascribes this state of affairs is the fact that women are out in the fresh air much more than they used to be.

The other day mother and I took one of her friends to drive, and when we brought her back, as she climbed out of the carriage, she said "You don't know how I have enjoyed this. Why, except to stand on my back steps and shake my table cloth, this is the first time I've been outside my door for three weeks next Tuesday. I wish there could be a law making it a legal offense for any woman, unless she is confined to the house by illness, to stay indoors for a whole week.

Any home-keeping woman ought to be out in the air at least an hour, morning and afternoon.

"Such a bother to get all dressed twice," I know some women are answering.

Well, then, why not bundle up and take your work or your morning paper out on the sunny spot on the back porch in the morning, and then take a walk in the afternoon?

And then another thing: How much are you inviting out of doors indoors?

I know one very healthy woman who goes about her housework the year round with windows flung wide open.

In the winter time, of course, that would be pretty harsh treatment, but I don't think it would be a bad plan to put into practice just now.

If you are afraid of so much air, at least try the milder plan of opening the window and airing out every hour or two.

And suppose, also, you be sure to take those occasional lungfuls of fresh air at the open window or door.

Ask your children to teach you the breathing exercises they do at school, and administer them to yourself occasionally.

Do you think all this bother too big a price to pay for feeling better?

Then listen to the other boon the professor promises, and I'm sure you'll be won over.

"Women," says the professor, "have begun to realize that the surest way to obtain both health AND GOOD LOOKS is through air.

Ruth Cameron

Despair and Despondency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The tortures so bravely endured completely up to the nerves if long continued.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing to urge upon you as "just as good."

It is non-secret, non-alcoholic and has a record of forty years of cures. Ask Your Neighbors. They probably know of some of its many cures.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 31 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Shannahan's Suggestions on the Guy Controversy.

Remember, all you learned men that we are well up in March, bear in mind that the steamers will be arriving from the ice in a few days and 'twill soon be the talk of the town; also that it will be getting very dusty in and around the city.

A good healthy controversy on the Guy racket was all right in the good old winter season. People could put up with it then, especially in the Lenten season when there wasn't much else to take up their attention, but now we are approaching the busy season, the sporting time, the baby-carriage time, and for goodness sake let you all, every one of you, meet in some dark room and decide, once and for all this Guy business. The longer 'tis allowed to remain in the slings the more tangled 'twill become. New men are coming out every night and their wives and their wives and daughters all take a great interest in their letters, and if this affair goes on much longer we'll have writers coming to the front who will contend that there never was a man by the name of Guy.

I was present at a lecture the other night delivered by one of the greatest historians in the country, if serious looks count for anything, and after that man had finished his very interesting treat, the other man who got up to propose a vote of thanks to him actually told him he was wrong about Mosquito being the correct colonization point, he contending that St. John's was inhabited 50 years before anywhere else on the Island.

Every paper is full of the arguments and there is no sign of coming to a decision. This is a serious business, for there are many people who would like to have this matter settled up. Then they would know how to act in taking up their work for the summer.

How can a man make up his mind on any business matter? How can a fisherman decide whether he will g pogie-fishing or, go to the Strath while this controversy is allowed to spread like it is spreading? There are lots of people who intend to build but they can't start in until their minds are relieved and they are mad aware once and for all where the celebration is going to be held.

We had a lecturer lecturing to us the other night, and he dug up a man as old as Buckley's goat, and he told us this man came here in the year c 1499, two years after the Island was discovered, and that he brought with him a lot of hens, and certainly the called hens, heads of cattle at the time; and if we don't soon put on our gait we'll wake up some fine-morning to find that this place was not discovered at all, but that our fore fathers lived here since the time o Adam and Eve. Therefore I make suggestion to all our historians, no matter what their personal opinion may be, that they meet, say one night next week, and discuss the matter on its merits. You can do more at a meeting than you can do by prating in the papers, discuss the thing to a finish, even if it comes to blows, for there are lots of the old historians beginning to look a kind of shaky on the legs, and we want the thing finished by a grand wind-up, and we are anxious to have it decided one way or another before these men pass in their checks.

Shannahan will act as chairman and you can bet your bottom dollar that every man will get a show. What do ye say?

TIM SHANNAHAN.

LADY'S STRENGTH RESTORED

TERRIBLE WEAKNESS CAUSED BY SHOCK.

"My baby was only two months old, and I was not very strong, when a telegram reached me that my husband in leaving one car in a Western City had been run down by another. It was, after all, not so serious—even the telegram if carefully read would have told me so. But in my weakened condition, the shock just sent me to bed, and a very useless person I was. Nervous and hysterical, I had a dull aching along part of the spine, and numb feelings in my arms and hands.

"My husband came home and made me take 'Ferrozone.' He had used it himself for nervousness the year before. Ferrozone is a good medicine all right. I took six boxes in all. After using the first box I could eat and eat—that was a great change from not having any appetite at all. After a time my colour became fine and I began to forget all the fears and dreadings that had worn me so thin. Such feelings are awful and it's good to know there is a remedy like Ferrozone that will build you up and keep you strong and vigorous to worry about anything.

(Signed) EMMA P. DAVENPORT.
Bismark, P.O.

You'll find Ferrozone a tonic of wonderful potency—it's really surprising what nourishment, what strength-giving and nerve building qualities it contains. Ferrozone is good for children—women—men—the sick—the weak—good for us all; try it. 50c. per box, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or The Catarrozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

Household Hints.

A kitchen churn that holds but one quart is useful for turning cream into butter and also as a cake mixer and for beating eggs for angel cake.

Cold water should be poured on grease as soon as it is spilled on the floor, as it will harden the grease and prevent it soaking into the wood.

To destroy fleas in the house, wipe the furniture wherever possible with spirits of naphtha, but do not let the children go near it until it is dry.

Dishtowls should always be well washed in hot water after being used, or they will soon become not only sadly discolored, but full of bacteria.

To keep a parasol looking well, have a bag for it hung inside the closet door, where the dust will not get at it. Brushing a silk parasol soon wears it out.

A common horseshoe magnet, that costs but a few cents, should always be kept in the sewing machine, as it is useful to pick out needles from the machine drawers.

Camels hair and red sable brushes that have gotten out of shape or curled can be restored to their proper form by dipping first into hot and then into cold water.

To make individual chicken pies, line gem pans with pastry, leaving crust enough to fold over a tablespoonful of rich chicken hash, and bake it in a quick oven.

Overshoes that get muddy inside can be turned inside out and washed with then turned right side out. This will not rot them as washing them without turning does.

Fancy work laid away for the winter should be rinsed in a very blue water and dried, but not ironed. If he pieces are placed in black or blue wrapping paper they will not turn yellow.

It is very easy to make a new parasol of an old one by carefully ripping off the old cloth and using it as a pattern to cut a new one, which may be

Botany Rambles Round St. John's.

Mr. John Garriock, M.A., A.C.P., Principal of Presbyterian College, delivered a most instructive lecture on Botany, in the Presbyterian Hall last evening before a fair and representative gathering of citizens.

The lecturer was introduced by Mr. R. A. Templeton, and, for over an hour delighted his audience with a graphic description of the various forms of plant life found in his rambles round the suburbs during the past two years. Contrasting the specimens found here with similar types in other lands, particularly the "Land of the Heather."

Mr. Garriock illustrated the lecture with beautifully mounted specimens exhibited on stands which filled up the platform space at his disposal, the said specimens having been collected in nearby fields, woods, or marshes, as well as in lands beyond the seas, and they ranged from grasses up to the birch (tree of knowledge in scholastic life, as Mr. G. termed it) and the lordly oak.

The lecturer also touched on the plant life of the ocean, describing in a lucid manner the cause and effect of made either of cretome or English chintz.

After washing lace curtains, lay a blanket on the floor of an empty room, spread the curtains on the blanket, stretching them carefully, and they will keep in place without fastening until dry.

It is well when bleaching a piece of lace or linen to place it in soapy water and set it out of doors, where it may get strong sunlight. It should be covered with a piece of glass to keep the dust out of the bowl.

To fix a loose knife handle to the blade, fill the hole in the handle two-thirds full of mixed resin and brick dust. Then heat the shaft of the knife and while hot press into place. Hold it there until quite firmly set.

If it is desired to have a veil a little stiff after it is washed, it can be accomplished by having a tiny bit of sugar in the rinsing water. Then stretch the veil in a doorway where it can dry in a free current of air.

To remove kerosene from the carpet, apply buckwheat flour, let it remain for a few hours, and then make a second application, which, after a few hours more, should be brushed off. The spot will have disappeared.

Gratifying News.

Yesterday news from the Gulf was a welcome addition to the budget of news which was received from the Florida on Saturday night.

The outlook at present is that the sealers will do well on both the front and back of the Island. Of the five steamers which fished in the Gulf, three, the Viking, the Southern Cross and the Harlaw struck "ice" and though the other two were not so lucky as the three former, there is plenty of time since they were reported for them to pick up a trip. It is a pleasing feature of the situation that the schooners from Channel are in the "fat" and have good chances of doing well. Such pleasing news has a buoyant effect on the whole community, and gives zest and spirit to the summer fishing voyage now soon to be prepared and supplied for. We congratulate Capt. Wm. Bartlett, Capt. Clarke and Capt. Farguhar on the success of their enterprise.

Smallpox on Harlaw.

When the Harlaw arrived at Codroy at 2.30 p.m. yesterday one of the crew, who was suffering from small pox, was landed and placed in a temporary hospital. Some 60 men of her crew were then landed there and went to their homes. She left for Channel and landed several men, natives of that place. The Government being made cognizant of this despatched Dr. Brehm by special train last night to look after the men. Dr. Grant and Dr. Paterson are at present at Codroy as well as Magistrate McDonnell. They have been given carte blanche by the Government and will do all possible to prevent the disease spreading both at Channel and Codroy. The Magistrate was wired by the Colonial Secretary's Department last night to collect the men landed at both places and have them vaccinated and their homes and clothing fumigated and disinfected.

Taming a Husband.

One of the big features of the Arker Vaudeville Company coming to John Burke's Star Theatre, on next Thursday night, are Eugene West and Miss Catherine Henry in their great New York and London hit, "Taming a Husband," a stunning, refined and extremely funny one-act comedy. Miss Henry is one of the most beautiful young actresses on the American stage, as well as one of its most brilliant and scholarly young ladies. By birth a Canadian, Miss Henry has spent most of her time in New York and London. She belongs to one of the oldest families in Western Ontario. After graduating from the University of Michigan, Miss Henry entered the dramatic world and at once made an immense hit, particularly in Shakespearean and classic plays of which she is an ardent lover. Eugene West is becoming one of the most popular young actors in the States. In London he acted with such celebrities as Sir H. Beerboom Tree and Mrs. Patrick Campbell. Mr. West and Miss Henry are at present making a sensational vaudeville tour under the management of Mr. Arker.

Portia Arrives.

The S. S. Portia, Capt. T. Fitzpatrick, arrived from the Westward at 2 p.m. On the run up to the Channel she had a succession of storms and head seas with snow, rain and sleet, and had to harbor at Trepansey Wednesday night, and Lawn, Friday night. She had splendid weather down. She brought a half cargo and three passengers.

Oxford defeated Cambridge in the annual scull racing race over the championship course from Putney to Mortlake in hollow fashion to-day by three lengths. The time was 20 minutes, 14 seconds. Last year Oxford won by three and a half lengths in 19 minutes and 50 seconds. For the first time the light blues put up a good fight and flattered their adherents for a few minutes, but thereafter the race was a procession. The only question was how far ahead the favorites would be at the winning post. The inter-Varsity race was never rowed under more favorable weather conditions. It was a perfect day, the sun shining brilliantly, while there was hardly a ripple on the Thames. There was practically no chance in the contest. Despite the hour of the start, and the fact that the contest was made on Wednesday instead of on Saturday, as has been usual, the crowd was settled down quite up to the usual standard. All places along the river from which even a glimpse of the passing boats could be obtained were lined with spectators, while as always a fleet of launches and pleasure craft followed in the wake of the shells.

With the decision of the state labor organizations not to declare a sympathetic strike and the return to work of many of these, the sympathetic strike in this city has settled down to a question of endurance between the striking carmen and the Rapid Transit Company. The company has now all its lines in operation, except the subway surface cars and a few other lines which are paralleled by cars in operation. Officials claim that one hundred and fifty cars are in operation. The Secretary of the Street Carmen's Union, however, insisted to-night that the greatest number of cars in operation in a single day since the beginning of the strike was six hundred and sixty. He says that there are only seven hundred members of the Kerston Union, the members of which remained loyal to the company, and that even with the imported strike breakers the company still needs four thousand four hundred men.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a tonic. It does not stimulate. It does not make you feel better one day, then as bad as ever the next. There is not a drop of alcohol in it. You have the steady, even gain that comes from a strong tonic. Ask your doctor all about this.

Killed at Tilt Cove.

Last week a serious accident occurred at Tilt Cove by which a minor named Warren lost his life. He was working at the stock pile when several tons of copper ore fell on him and he was terribly mutilated. Both arms and legs were broken, his head was crushed and body terribly bruised and lacerated. Dr. Smith, who attended him, said it was the most gruesome sight he ever witnessed. The man, who was of the physique and weighed 220 lbs., only lived 25 hours after the accident. He was a native of Herring Head and leaves a widow and several children.

CONSTIPATION AND HEADACHE.

Mrs. R. Morrow, Bracebridge, Ont., writes: "For years I was troubled almost constantly with constipation and never got anything to do me the lasting good that has been obtained from Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Not only have they cured constipation but have also entirely cured the headache from which I used to suffer terribly and have improved my health in every way."

Pansy Nickel Theatre.

There is also an up to date orchestra with up to date new music. Mr. P. Murphy will be the soloist and Miss Wadden will play the piano. We wish the Pansy boys every success.

A Narrow Escape.

As Michael Slaney, of Ferryland, was crossing Merrymeeting Pond with his horse Tuesday last man and beast went through the ice. Slaney was a long while in the water and would have drowned but that P. Chesk and Jas. Chowe heard his cries about a half mile away in the woods. They went quickly to him, found the horse, worth $80, drowned, and the man unconscious but holding to the edge of the ice. They extricated him but he was so far gone that he had to be rolled and vomited a good deal of water.

A Close Call.

While the banker Cayuga of Ross Blanche was out fishing a couple of days ago one of the crew after shooting some birds threw his gun with seven fingers of powder in it in his hand in the cabin. Later another man took it and putting a cap on the nipple, not knowing it was loaded and pointing the weapon up the companionway pulled the trigger. The shot cut through the clothing of some of the men standing on deck and tore the mainmast badly. Some were hurt but all were badly frightened.

An Exciting Race.

Yesterday a rather exciting race took place between the two coastal steamers Portia and Glencoe from Barin to Placentia, the former ship outrunning the latter about one mile. The Glencoe left Barin about the same time the Portia left Marystown, when the latter ship shaped her course for Placentia from Croncy Island, the Glencoe was bearing S. by E. distant three miles, running on a bee line for Point Verde. Arriving in Placentia Roads the Glencoe was leading by about 100 yards.

M.C.I. Debate.

At the M. C. I. last night an interesting debate was held. The subject discussed was "Is amalgamation desirable or feasible?" Messrs. I. C. Morris and S. Whiteway were selected to introduce the question, and the former dealt with it from an economic standpoint, showing that there was a deal of energy wasted in the five branch associations at present. Mr. Whiteway demonstrated in an eloquent speech the value of unity. There was an unanimous vote in favor of amalgamation.

R. C. CATHEDRAL.

The solemn Office of Tenebrae was sung at the Cathedral last night, His Grace the Archbishop being present. The church was filled to the doors, even the ambulatories being crowded. Rev. Fr. Ashley sang the first Lamentation from Jeremiah the Prophet; Mr. C. Hutton, in the choir, the second, and the college boys in the Sanctuary, the third which was rendered in beautiful harmony by trebles, basses, tenor and alto. The Benedictus (Canticle of Zachary) was rendered alternately by the choir and Sanctuary. The singing of the Miserere Me in almost total darkness of the Church, representing the desolation that overshadowed the earth at the death of Our Divine Lord, was most solemn and suggestive.

After the Tenebrae service was over hundreds remained in the Church to approach the Tribunal of Penance. This morning upwards of a thousand people attended the Church as early as seven o'clock to receive Holy Communion, and between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock a regular stream of people might be seen going in and out of the Cathedral.

At 9 a.m. High Mass was celebrated and the Procession to the Altar of Repose took place. The church bells which rang out at the "Gloria in Excelsis" in honor and thanksgiving to Our Divine Lord for the institution of the Blessed Eucharist, will not be heard any more till during the Mass on Holy Saturday, the silence in the interval being expressive of the mourning of the Church for the death of her Spouse.

This evening at 7.30 the Office of Tenebrae will be sung again, after which Rev. Father Pippy will preach the sermon on the Blessed Eucharist.

GOOD FRIDAY.

To-morrow morning at 10 Mass of the Presanctified will be celebrated. The Church will be open three hours before to allow the hundreds that generally attend thus early to make the devotions of the Way of the Cross. The Church bells will not ring for Mass.

At 3 p.m. public Stations of the Cross will be conducted by one of the priests.

At 7.30 p.m. there will again be held the service of Tenebrae and a sermon on the Passion of Our Divine Lord will be preached by Rev. Fr. Gough.

Stops a Cough In One Night

The Story of Sufferers from Bronchitis, Asthma and Catarrh Proves the Value of Catarrhzone.

A cough may be Catarrhal with a dry tickling in the throat, it may be accompanied by partial stoppage of the nostrils and shortage of breath. Often there is a gagging in the throat, and every cough tears and hurts.

Coughs have a hundred different causes, your's may be due to any of the following:—

- Asthma
- Exposure
- Enlarged Tonsils
- Inflammation
- Stomach Disorders
- Inflamed Throat
- Bronchitis
- Pneumonia
- Croup
- Pleurisy

The one remedy upon which physicians are relying to-day is Catarrhzone. It removes the cause of the cough, doesn't smother it. Catarrhzone is a soothing, healing, "direct cure" and cures the conditions that cause the cough.

Catarrhzone is infinitely superior to cough medicines, tablets, sprays and emulsions, which for the most part are of no practical value except to ease the cough for the time being. Often liquid cough remedies contain opium, morphine and cocaine. With Catarrhzone you take no drugs—you employ Nature's way—just inhale Catarrhzone's soothing, healing vapor and relief and cure follow promptly.

It's simply wonderful to think how quickly a bad throat or catarrh can be cured with Catarrhzone. Its rich balsamic vapor is carried along with the breath to the innermost recesses of the lungs, bronchial tubes and chest, making it impossible for the germ of any disease to live. Thus soreness in the chest is at once alleviated—phlegm is loosened and ejected from the throat, old standing coughs are removed.

REMEMBER THIS, you breathe Catarrhzone and it will cure any Winter Ill. Large size, guaranteed, costs $1.00, and lasts two months; smaller sizes, 25c. and 50c. Beware of Imitations and insist on "CATARRHZONE" only. By mail from the Catarrhzone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Notes From Harbor Grace.

No further development in the report from smallpox circles. All the people under quarantine are doing well, and no other cases are expected. Of course it is too soon yet to "holler," but our citizens are beginning to breathe easy. The man Bray is improving splendidly, and some people passing his home yesterday heard him singing "to beat the band."

The weather is real spring like, and farmers are thinking of putting out their manure and picking up their farming implements.

Negro's Adventure With Fire Turns His Hair White.

Richmond, Va., March 16.—By a harrowing adventure with fire and cold, Stephen Green, a negro's hair turned in a night from coal black to snow white. More than that, Green's locks, once kinky as is characteristic of his race, is straight as any white man's. Green and a companion while hunting in the woods lay down and slept before their camp fire. Green awakened with his clothing in flames. He ran for four miles through the snow for help, tearing off his burning garments as he ran; when he reached help he was almost nude.

Personal.

Mrs. A. A. Parsons left by train this morning to spend Easter with her brother, Magistrate Thompson of Brigus.

HOW CAN WE COUNTER-ACT

THE INCREASED COST OF LIVING?

A second's reasoning will supply the answer. Beef and pork are dear and getting dearer all the time and the cost is out of proportion with their food-value.

EAT MORE BREAD.

There is more nourishment in a shilling's worth of bread than a shilling's worth of beef or pork. But the problem is not done with yet. The shilling's worth of bread is not always the same value. Breadmade from contains more nourishment than any other, because it contains the greatest amount of gluten, the health-giving nutriment of wheat.
