Grove's O-Pen-Trate Salve
Opens the Pores and Penetrates

A Remedy for Chest Colds, Head Colds, Sore Throat, Stiff Neck, Earache, Spasmodic Croup and kindred ailments. Apply freely to the skin just over the affected parts and rub it in.

GROVE'S O-PEN-TRATE SALVE

is also an Excellent Germicide for the Nose and Throat.

It should be applied to the nostrils so that you will be continually inhaling the vapors while in the presence of patients who are sick with contagious diseases, or when you are entering crowded cars or other public places during an epidemic of Grip or Influenza. Any Grip or Influenza germs breathed through the nose are destroyed by this germicide salve before the germs can reach the throat.

FOR THE SICK

Place One Level Teaspoonful of GROVE'S O-PEN-TRATE SALVE in a hot saucer in the sick room. The Antiseptic Vapor rising from the heated salve makes breathing easy for the patient. It induces sleep and is a great comfort to anyone suffering with Spasmodic Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Diphtheria or Pneumonia. The Healing Effect of the Vapor relieves the patient and is very comforting. Price 35c per box. If your Druggist hasn't any, send 35c in postage stamps to Paris Medicine Company, 193 Spadina Ave., Toronto, and a full-size box will be mailed to you promptly.

The day was to be celebrated by a large garden party, to be followed by a ball, to which all the people of distinction in the county had been invited.

The Duke and Duchess of Stone had promised to be down at Stonedale for a few days, in order to be present at the fête. No trouble or expense had been spared to promote the enjoyment of the guests. For those for whom tennis and archery had no attractions, two military bands supplied in succession ceaseless flow of charming music. There was nothing wanting that taste and luxury could suggest, that money could buy, or that ingenuity could invent.

The house was filled with guests, and the day promised to be a perfect success.

Lord Clanronald for once woke in a good temper. He had made up his mind for a day's pleasure.

At breakfast-time every one brought some offering to Lady Cameron. There were innumerable necklaces and bracelets, rings and lockets, elegantly bound books, and flowers. As the family gathered round her, congratulations and kind wishes passing from one and another, with birthday greetings from husband and children, it would have been difficult for a stranger to realize what a skeleton stood in their midst, or how dark a shadow hung over them.

Of Lady Cameron, as the heroine of the day, the master of Ferness was naturally proud. Mrs. Marche looked very distinguished and elegant, the Marchioness de Vere exquisitely lovely, but Diana was the queen—as she always was—beautiful, stately, charming.

The visitors were delighted with the fairy-like scene; the music was entrancing, the dresses were exquisite, and, with glorious weather, the fête was eminently successful. The ladies looked radiantly smiling and happy.

By mutual consent Diana and Sir Lisle kept far apart from each other. It was understood that he was to leave Ferness on the morrow, that he was staying only for Lady Cameron's fête. Diana was wise enough to keep away from Lord Clanronald, who was carrying on a vigorous flirtation with the marchioness. So she hoped and believed the day would pass over without any scandal. On the morrow Sir Lisle would depart, and then she would fall back into the old life of misery and wretchedness, finding it all the darker for the one transient gleam of light.

Sir Royal was there, and Lady Clanronald thought him looking better that day than he had looked for some time.

"Come and sit under the trees with me Diana," he said. "It will be like olden times. Do you remember our strawberry parties—Lady Colwyn and you, Rich and myself?"

"What quantities we ate!" she said, laughingly, as she left the terrace with Sir Royal for the shelter of the ample branches of the chestnut-trees. She was almost surprised at the sound of her own laughter; but, thanks to the bright day, the happy faces, the fact of being with Sir Royal, she was for a few minutes in better spirits than she had been for some time. Her troubles were forgotten for the moment in the gaiety of the scene, and the respite, brief as it was, was welcome to a mind so racked with anguish.

Sir Royal found a seat for her under the trees.

"I will bring you some strawberries," he said, "and we will enjoy them together in memory of the happy past." He came back with a glass dish filled with the luscious fruit, and sat down by her side. "These are very fine fruit," he continued; "but, Diana, they are not so sweet as the strawberries we used to gather ourselves."

Still it was a pleasant half hour, and both enjoyed it heartily. The music came floating to them across the lawn; they could see the gay dresses of the ladies between the trees; the voices of the players, the sound of laughter, reached them; and Diana's face was brighter than Sir Royal had seen it since she came home. He thought how beautiful and how young she looked, despite her troubles.

"Diana, you look more like your old self," he said. "How I wish that, if by the sacrifice of my life I could secure your happiness, I would give it freely!"

"I believe it," she said, gently. "You have always loved me, and you have been so good to me!"

While they were talking they observed Mr. Cameron walking toward them with a very distressed expression.

"Here is papa," cried Lady Calronald.

"And very unhappy he looks," added Sir Royal.

Diana glanced at him, and saw at once there was something the matter.

"Come and join us, papa; we have some delicious strawberries."

Mr. Cameron sat down by her side; but he did not touch the fruit, nor did he return his daughter's smiles.

"Are you ill or tired, papa?" she said, becoming anxious and puzzled at his strange silence.

"No, my dear, I am distressed. I am grieved to interrupt this pleasant little tete-a-tete, but I am compelled to do so."

"It is something about Clanronald," she cried instinctively—"something wrong."

"Do not be alarmed, my dear," he said; "do not distress yourself. It is merely this—that, as a matter of course, you have more influence over Clanronald than any one else, and I want you to speak to him. There is really nothing the matter; but he has had a little more champagne than is good for him, and I thought that perhaps if you spoke to him—said a word or two, just gave him a little hint—he might be more careful. The Duke mentioned the matter to me. I—I should not like to be disgraced, you know."

Diana rose at once. Sir Royal saw the light die from her eyes and the color from her cheeks, while a quiver of pain passed over her face.

Owing to shipping delays we have only lately received a large shipment of Ladies', Young Ladies' and Children's Winter Coats.

Despite the fact that these are in the very newest and smartest American styles—owing to the lateness of the season—we are offering them at very special prices to make up for lost time.

You may have been putting off getting a Coat this season and doing with your old one, as you think prices are high. You will be agreeably disappointed regarding high prices if you look over our stock and wonder how our prices can be so low.

We have also received a shipment of INFANTS' COATS.
These are good value and range from $4.50 each only.

 GENTLEMEN—We received your bill and the 59 Suits O.K. and let me congratulate you and the working people on the workmanship of the clothes.
 I inspected the Suits and they were done to the "point." You can show this letter to your workmen as they deserve it. I just came from the States and I consider the style and fit wonderful, and we can assure you that as long as we receive work as good as these you can be assured of our trade.
 Hoping you will do all of our work like this, and thanking you very much,
 I am, respectfully yours,

THE COAL STRIKE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The battle-ground of the conflict over the new wage scale in the bituminous coal industry which was continued here during two weeks of fruitless negotiations to-day shifted to various fields in all sections of the country. The situation is said to be alarming for the dynasty.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28.—Compulsory training is bound to come in Canada, according to a statement of General Sir Arthur Currie, Inspector General of Canadian forces, who is here on his way to Ottawa to assume his new duties.

FRANCE TO GET SUBMARINES.

PARIS, Nov. 29.—France is to get ten of the German submarines, the Supreme Council decided to-day in continuing its consideration of the allotment of German naval tonnage among the Allies. France is allowed this number of submarines; it is explained, because during the war she was unable to build to the extent of the others of the Allies, her plants being devoted to making munitions for the use of all. The present understanding is that the remainder of the submarines will be broken up.

SCHOONER PICKED UP.

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—A London cable to the Gazette that the schooner Marion G. Douglas has been towed into port after being found with boats intact and sails furled off Shipmen Head, Sicily Island. The crew were taken off by a Botwood lumber boat and landed at Botwood. Capt. Corkum advised that the schooner was abandoned in a sinking condition, with steering gear gone.

VICTIMS OF FOOTBALL.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 28.—Football claimed five victims during the 1919 season, which practically closed with the Thanksgiving Day games, according to reports to the Associated Press to-day. The number of deaths is the lowest in years.

METHODIST MINISTER UP ON FORGERY CHARGE.

GALGARY, Nov. 28.—To preach a sermon at Ardrossan on Sunday, forge cheques totalling seven thousand dollars at Calgary on Wednesday, make a sensational getaway by the use of clever subterfuges on Thursday, be arrested at Edmonton and brought back to Calgary on Friday, is the chapter of sensational incidents which was crowded into the past week of the life of Duncan P. Cameron, former Methodist Minister, who reached the city last night to face forgery charges.

CONDEMNED MURDERER RUN AMUCK.

HAMILTON, Nov. 28.—Running amuck in the corridor of Barton Street jail Paul Kowatski, condemned to hang for the murder of Annot Tremblak, slew his death-watch, County Constable J. C. Springstead, and seriously injured four turnkeys shortly after ten o'clock this morning. The condemned man has been allowed to walk in the corridor near the death cell for exercise, and this morning when he was alone with Does Fritz Still Scheme?

(From the Boston News Bureau.)
 Germany's losses in man power were considerably less than the combined losses of the Allies. Noske, the Minister of Defense, is maintaining all the standing army he dares, and is changing the personnel as often as possible, so as to form in Germany a body of trained men who have some service in the army. Bismarck did the same thing in the last days of the German federation, and gave Austria a trouncing within six weeks with veterans of a year's service in a tiny standing army. Close observers long ago said that the war would be won in the East. The East is the single trade area open unrestrictedly to Germany. Russia is at her side, and permeated with Germanism. If Germany can whip Russia into line, draw from her huge stores of raw materials and use the manufactured product to capture the eastern trade, she will be as formidable as she ever was. But the "large professional soldier" element in Germany would go, gladly (to war). And the rest of her manhood would follow, for she has everything to win and nothing to lose and a small, picked army might make excellent headway against weary, rebellious troops. Observers say that Germany never will pay any appreciable part of her indemnity, but will eventually refuse to do so. If she has by that time been able to tap the Russian food and raw material stores, the naval blockade would be ineffective. And, as they state, the Allies would probably not be able to take the field against them. Now is the time for a few clear-minded men to determine on such guarantees and precautions as will insure Germany's paying all she is able.

S. O. S. CALLES.

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Distress calls from the Trans-Atlantic steamer President Grant to-day announced there had been a boiler explosion aboard. No details were given nor was any statement made as to injuries.

EARTHQUAKE FELT.

PARIS, Nov. 28.—A slight earthquake shock lasting seven seconds was felt at 9.40 o'clock last night at Cannes, in Riviera. It was announced in messages received here this morning. A heavier shock was experienced a half hour after midnight at Foec at the foot of the Pyrenees. Only slight damage was done at either place.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE.

ROME, Nov. 28.—Vittorio Scialoja, Italian Minister for Foreign Affairs has left Rome for Paris, whence he will go to London to see Premier Lloyd George. On his way to Paris Signor Scialoja will stop off at Turin to meet the Greek Premier Eleftherios Venizelos, and Nicholas Politis, Greek Foreign Minister, who are on their way to Rome to confer with Premier Nitti.

ALLENBY'S PROCLAMATION.

CAIRO, EGYPT, Nov. 24.—Field Marshal Viscount Allenby, British High Commissioner in Egypt, to-day issued a proclamation forbidding inflammatory speeches, and the circulation of documents, which have recently appeared threatening a general strike in the railroads throughout the country. The penalty is arrest and prosecution by the Military Court. The four prominent Egyptian nationalists, who were arrested for refusing to leave the city on the order of Field Marshal Allenby, have been released and have proceeded to nearby villages.

Canada Compliments Tyrwhitt.

(From the Toronto Globe.)
 Canadians have a vivid and admiring recollection of the dashing exploits of Commander (now Admiral) Tyrwhitt during the war. Tyrwhitt was in the thick of several engagements as the Commander of destroyer flotillas. His flagship which earned the name of the "Saucy Arethusa," was the focus of German gunfire in the battle near Heligoland in August, 1914, and continued to fight with the only gun not disabled until the enemy fled. In 1915 the Arethusa torpedoed and sank the German armored cruiser Blucher, which had raided the English coast. Tyrwhitt's gallant ship was mined and torpedoed on February 14th, 1916, with the loss of eleven men. But she will live in the annals of the British navy, and Canada also has commemorated her and her brilliant Commander by conferring their names on two 9,000 foot peaks on either side of a pass in the Rocky Mountains in about latitude 50 degrees 36 minutes, and longitude 144 degrees 58 minutes. Acknowledging the tribute, Admiral Tyrwhitt wrote to the Secretary of the Geographic Board of Canada saying: "It is an honor I never expected, and shall never forget." Tyrwhitt and Arethusa are names that for all time will stand in Canada high indeed!

Points for the Cake-Maker.

A good cake should be light, fine grained, tender, and moist without being sticky.
 If a cake is sticky, it is because it has not been sufficiently baked or too much sugar is used.
 Bread flour may be used in place of pastry flour for cake making, provided two tablespoonsful of cornstarch are substituted for two tablespoonsful of flour in each cup.
 Fine-grained sugar makes better cake than coarse-grained.
 It takes one and one-third cups of powdered sugar to equal a cup of granulated sugar, and one and one-half cups of brown sugar to equal one of granulated sugar.
 Eggs preserved in water glass or by other reliable method may be used in cake making in place of fresh eggs.
 Egg-powders are successful in cakes containing fats, but in sponge cakes fresh eggs should be used.
 One half of a cupful of chicken fat is equal to one half-cup of butter.
 One fourth of a cup of butter, plus three tablespoonsful of lard equals one half-cup of butter.
 Water in which potatoes have been boiled may be used as a suitable substitute for sweet milk in making cake.
 Cake containing fruit must be baked very slowly because part of the fruit will be at the surface and if this is scorched, the flavor is spoiled.
 When nuts are used in a cake a little less shortening is necessary.
 If hot melted fat is added to cake batter, it makes it coarse in grain, rather tough in texture, and less light than it would be otherwise.
 The object of beating egg-white is to entangle as much air as possible.
 If egg-whites are beaten too long, they liquify and do not hold as much air.

Fads and Fashions.

All the frilly forms of neckwear are in high flavor.
 Artificial flowers are seen on millinery and dress.
 Fringe appears on the more novel coat sweaters.
 Square necks and short sleeves put in an appearance.
 Louis styles are adopted by young and slender girls.
 Middy blouses of velvet are worn with plaid pleated skirts.
 Copper, in metal threads, and tinsels are in great vogue.

Origin of "Gone West."

The following is given as the origin of the phrase "Gone West." More than 3,000 years ago the ancient Egyptian spoke of the dead as "the Westerners," or those who had "gone west." For the abode of the dead was believed to be in the realm of the setting sun, in that Ament where Osiris reigned. This belief by the ancients in the soul going west has at least a reflection in the customs of some of our own North American Indians, who cherished the belief that their "happy hunting grounds" lay in the West, and who practised the custom of laying their dead away on well-provisioned scaffolds facing the west. The belief of the ancients died long, long ago with the religion of that far-distant time—died only to return to earth again during the Great War.
 So, quickly did the phrase become a part of the vocabulary of the soldier in the trenches that to-day it would be difficult to find a reading person in all the earth that does not instantly perceive its affectionate pathos.

Origin of Indian Summer

The following explanation of the origin of the term "Indian summer" is sent in by a correspondent:
 When the Pilgrim Fathers landed in New England they naturally knew little of the climatic conditions of their new home. With October came the first flurries of snow. The frost nipped the woods, and the chill of the air foretold the coming of winter. "We will now have winter," it is related that one of the band remarked. But the friendly Indians pointed to the skies and to the west and told the Pilgrims that summer would come again before the winter. And they were right. In the last days of October it grew warm again. The air was filled with slanting sunshine. The world seemed wrapped in an atmosphere of sleepy warmth. The Pilgrims looked forward and remarked, "Lo, the Indian's summer."

CABLE NEWS.

ABORTIVE STRIKE.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 1. The strike of Railway Switchmen here, which began Saturday, was called off by the strikers early to-day. The calling off of the strike, it was announced, followed a vote taken at a mass meeting of the strikers, which lasted until far into the night. The strikers will return to work this morning.

OVATION TO ROYALTY.

ROME, Dec. 1. King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena were given an enthusiastic reception, while proceeding from the Quirinal Palace to Parliament buildings this morning to participate in the opening session of the Italian Parliament. Bells were rung, there were salutes from many guns, and vigorous cheers from crowds. The houses along the streets were decorated with flags.

COAL RATIONING IN CANADA.

OTTAWA, Dec. 1. There is still the greatest need for economy in the use of coal, according to fuel controller McGrath, in view of the situation across the border. Canada is getting an emergency supply of soft coal, which will be available for distribution during the next two or three days, but this will only mean enough for the most essential public industries.

SAFELY HOME.

PORTSMOUTH, Dec. 1. The Prince of Wales arrived here on board H. M. S. Renown at nine o'clock this morning from his visit to Canada and the United States. The Renown left this port on July fifth. Upon entering the harbor the customary twenty one guns of the Royal salute from flag ships, which were to-day decorated in honor of the birthday of the Queen-Mother, Alexandra. Earlier in the morning it was feared that rain might interfere with the reception which had been planned for the Prince.

Crown That Has Had Many Vicissitudes.

The Hungarian crown, which is reported to have been stolen lately by revolutionists, has suffered many vicissitudes. A King of Bohemia once stole it, but Otto of Bavaria subsequently recovered it. He is sending it back to Hungary, packed in a cask, but it was nearly lost on the journey, because the jolting of the wagon threw it into a ditch at a later period. Elizabeth, widow of King Albert, appears to have thought it rather a good thing to have with her when she fled to Germany, in case she should ever be financially embarrassed—a piece of foresight which stood her in good stead, since she eventually pawned it to the Emperor Frederick. During the revolution, 200 years later, the unfortunate crown was again in danger of being unlawfully appropriated, and so it was buried in a forest. After remaining in this dim security for 50 years it was subsequently removed to Budapest.

Accident Leads to Discovery.

An odd accident led to the discovery of lithography.

In 1786 a ticket-stamper, employed at a Munich theatre, carelessly left his salary cheque on a table in the room where he worked. A gust of wind suddenly blew the cheque off the table into a basin of water on the floor. He uried the cheque as best he could, and to straighten the paper out, he placed it underneath the whetstone, which had been resting on his printing-stamp, and left it lying there throughout the night.

The following morning, on taking the stone off the cheque, he was surprised to see that the imprint from the stone was transferred to the cheque, and the thought struck him that by means of a larger stone he could "print" programmes and songs. He made experiments, and finally discovered—through this accident—the art of printing from stone.

Thus was he the first lithographer.

Thought the Professor Was Joking.

(From London Opinion.) Sir Walter Raleigh, who in searching for the missing records of several squadrons of the Royal Flying Corps, has a famous name to live up to. When he went to Philadelphia, he was to be met at the station by a professor from the University of Pennsylvania. This U. of P. Professor had never seen the English scholar, but had obtained a lively good description of him. The first man to get off the train seemed to tally with it—so this is the conversation that ensued:—"Excuse me, sir, are you Sir Walter Raleigh?" "No, you fool, 'Tm Christopher Columbus. Sir Walter Raleigh is in the smoking-car playing checkers with Queen Elizabeth."

PYORRHEA.

Of all the poisons taken into the blood, the germs and pus contributed by diseased gums (Pyorrhoea) are the most destructive to the human system. If every red blood cell is forced to fight against numbers of germs to the call, the blood cannot attend to the building up of the body, and it allowed to continue the system is bound to break down and eventually you are an invalid. Kidney, stomach, heart trouble, rheumatism and many other diseases are brought on by diseased gums and teeth.

December First! KEARNEY FIRST!

Bringing up the First Line in My Great "Victory Xmas" CAMPAIGN.

Into the swirl and rush of my memorable "to the front" effort for this my "Victory Xmas," I go, backed by my Neckwear line. From England, from America, from Switzerland, from Japan—I have gathered these products from the world's greatest looms, woven and coloured for your Xmas needs.

"Get the goods!" was my cry when I bought. "Forget the price!" urged me to buy without stint. I rushed in where others feared to tread—while others were T-H-I-N-K-I-N-G. I didn't have time to think—I bought! Others are still thinking; now, I've got the goods.

Into my Neckwear line went all my buying experience; all my knowledge of the best in colour combinations; all that I knew in an appraisal of quality.

This is the line from which to choose your Xmas Gifts. Boxed and tagged in my store, "His Gift" will go to him in the true Xmas way, without any extra charge to you. That's my service! Beat it—who can!

Next announcement—"Bringing Up the Lines."

Watch for "Springing the Bomb-Shell." A great scheme for my "Victory Xmas."

REMEMBER!—Kearney First—First in the field—First to you with Xmas Gift Hints.

How many ways there are in which people seem to blind themselves about perfectly obvious things! It happened, the second girl was waiting on the table at the time, and she was a fifth cousin to the cook in question and of course promptly conveyed the criticism to her.

Could Cook With One Egg? "Cook?" said the fifth cousin, "I'll, no, I don't suppose I can, here in this place. But I'd like to see any one who could cook with one egg."

THE MYSTERY.

We know not where the journey ends. Nor what our mission here on earth; The fates provide our foes and friends The days are filled with grief and mirth. Wise men have sought to solve the plan Which holds and keeps us all in bound And shapes the destiny of man. But none the key to it has found.

No gray philosopher or sage Can truly tell what waits in store Or guess the purpose of the age; They only know what's gone before. Fools follow fathers' ways, and then Great souls are nurtured in the slums.

And none can say what gift for men With every little baby comes.

We choose the tasks we'd like to do. And shape our lives around a whim; We train the boy as if we knew Just what God had in mind for him. And joy or misery depend On this blind choice in every case. But none can know until the end That he is in his proper place.

How many men have gone astray? How many men have missed the mark And blindly groped along the way, Living completely in the dark Because they never found the toll Which God had sent them here to do? Good seed flung on a barren soil, Wasted because it never grew.

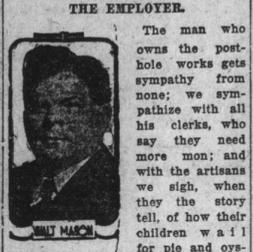

Who knows but what the failure, sad, In different circumstances here Or changed a trifle would have had His course to fame and victory clear? And since no man can truly say What makes or mars our little lives We should rejoice from day to day That so much that is good survives.

THE EMPLOYER.

The man who owns the post-hole works gets sympathy from none; we sympathize with all his clerks, who say they need more money; and with the artisans we sigh, when they tell the story of how they toil for pie and oysters on the shell. But for the owner of the place no pity can we spare, though furrowed is his weary face, and graying is his hair. His grievances inspire no ode, his troubles are a bore, though he's the man who bears the load, the man who walks the floor. He is the man who stands the graft, who wrestles with despair, and while his merry workmen laugh, he tears his scanty hair. The toilers work eight hours a day, and leave the factory door, and slosh around and sing and play, but he works twenty-four. Oh, with the janitors we weep, when he his woes has traced, whose limousine is poor and cheap, his diamonds mostly paste. And to the man who keeps the books we all in pity draw, and hear his tale, and say, "Gadzooks! There ought to be a law!" But pity seldom is bestowed on him who needs it more, upon the man who bears the load, the man who walks the floor.

A MATTER OF SPELLING.

A capital story in "The Dover Patrol," Admiral Bacon's much-talked-of book, concerns a sailor who was taken ill with a bad attack of rheumatism while mine-sweeping on a trawler.

The sick man was promptly ordered to hospital, but later on the doctor found out, quite by accident, that he was still on board ship.

Angrily he asked why his order had not been obeyed.

"Well," replied the captain, "we tried to send him ashore, but a sergeant of police halted us and said that on no account was he to be landed or we'd be fined £100, so we just kept him on board."

"But did you not signal to the despatch, as I said?"

"Yes, we did; but neither me nor the signalman knew how to spell rheumatism, so we called it small-pox."

GIVE.

This week the motto for all will be give, and in giving to the furtherance of the cause for which contributions are being solicited, the donors will have the pleasure of participating in the blessings which come to those who give cheerfully, and not grudgingly or of necessity. The object for which donations are being asked is a worthy one—none more worthy in the point of fact. The care of the child is a liability on all, and St. John's is being asked to bear its share of this liability and by the erection of the proposed Maternity Hospital, make such provision as will have the effect of bringing to its portals all who wish to take advantage of the scientific facilities and skilled treatment which it can offer during the most critical periods in women's life.

Some of the reasons why a Maternity Hospital is an imperative necessity in this city have already been given, but there are many others which all go to show how vital it is to the future that provision be made to obviate the appalling loss of infant life in this Dominion. The recent infant death rate in Newfoundland is 135 per thousand annually, being in excess of England's infant mortality by 33 per thousand. The number of births in Newfoundland per year is estimated at an average of 7,500. Out of these there is an excess loss of about 250 infants per year, whose lives would have been saved, doubtless, given proper conditions and a fighting chance. Who can calculate accurately the loss suffered by the State because these two hundred and fifty infants were not saved each year to grow up into men and women?

Are we going to permit such deplorable loss of infant life in the future? The answer is and can be given in a straight negative, backed up by financial support in such volume as will place the seal of success upon the campaign now in progress. Assuming that the value of each of those lost infantile lives is worth to the State one thousand dollars, the total loss to Newfoundland in ten years has been the enormous sum of two million, five hundred thousand dollars, and dependent, as the Dominion is upon its natural increase of population for prosperity, the excessive volume of child mortality, noted above, is the greatest factor against that prosperity which should be ours. Therefore the life of the child is the first consideration. The child, being the greatest asset, demands all the care that science, skill and special training can give it. The hope of this Dominion is in its children.

The opportunity to help and foster the prosperity of Newfoundland is being offered. The unborn children of to-morrow need your help. They want a chance to live after being brought into the world. Your duty to your country, the children and yourself is clear. The country that increases its birth rate and saves its babies is on the high road to future prosperity. Money and sympathy will aid Newfoundland to protect the child, as well as the mother. Directed through the proper channels the institution which St. John's is going to build will be for all time a sanctuary, within the walls of which, new life will be cared for and fostered, and the saving of the children will be the great reward of those whose lives will be devoted to this grand work. And so, let the response of all upon whom the burden of this responsibility falls, be generous and prompt, bearing in mind "that he (or she) who gives quickly, gives twice."

Queen-Mother's Birthday.

This is the birthday of Her Majesty, Alexandra Caroline Mary Charlotte Louisa Julia, the Queen-Mother. The eldest daughter of the late King Christian IX of Denmark, Queen Alexandra was born on the first of December, 1848, making her to-day 75 years of age. It was on March the tenth, 1863, when she was nineteen, that she married his late Majesty, King Edward VII. The latter died in 1910 at the age of sixty eight, so that his widow has survived him for nine years. The residences of the Queen-Mother are at Marlborough House, Pall Mall; and Sandringham Hall, Norfolk. The devout wish of every Britisher is that the venerable queen may be permitted by the King of Kings to live for many years to come, and enjoy the health and happiness that a good woman should.

Another Anniversary.

FOR OUR TROOPS, DEC. 4th.

Thursday Dec. 4th, is the first Anniversary of the crossing of the Rhine by our gallant Newfoundland Regiment, under the command of Lt-Col. Bernard, M.C., C. de G. This is a day of triumph and should be celebrated as such, the day when as conquerors our men crossed that much-vaunted German barrier, the Rhine, and forced the Huns to realize their defeat. Surely this great day deserves some recognition at our hands. Let the flags fly and the bells ring, and let our gallant soldiers who marched two hundred miles into Germany see that we appreciate their great deeds and that we do not forget. Is there any way in which the G.W.V.A. can help us to a suitable celebration of this day?

Fire Destroyed Residence and Store.

The destruction of his residence and store was the result of a fire on the premises of Mr. James Sharpe, of Paradise, P.B., on Friday night past. Known as the finest property in the settlement, the place was wiped out, provisions, of which there was a large quantity, going also, along with all household effects. The property was only partly covered by insurance.

THE BLUE AND WHITE TO FLY OVER TWO MORE VESSELS.

Messrs. Munn and Co. have recently purchased two vessels in England which the firm purpose having employed in the general trade. These vessels are the 3-masted schooner O'Brien, 136 tons, built in Wales, and the schooner James O'Neill, 99 tons, built in England. Both are now at Cadiz loading salt for this port. It is a wholesome sign of trade development to see more vessels owned in the Colony, and there is ample field for their employment, the scarcity of vessels to freight cargoes to market has added not only to the cost but to the great inconvenience and hampering of fish-exporting. We wish the enterprising firm such returns from their recent purchases that more vessels will be added thereto year after year.—Harbor Grace Standard.

The Grand Jury were present and were addressed on a Bill of Indictment against Charles H. Bradbury and Martha Bradbury, and a Bill of Indictment against Thomas Hickey.

The bigamists Walsh were brought up from the Penitentiary and sent before the Grand Jury to be examined, re witnesses. At one thirty the Grand Jury filed into Court and through the foreman, Mr. R. Dowden, found true bills on 4 counts against Thomas Hickey, particulars of which have already been published. A true bill was also brought in against Charles and Martha Bradbury, for aiding and abetting in the bigamous marriages of Anna Walsh and her husband.

Judgment was entered for plaintiff in the sum of $870.00 by Mr. Justice Kent in the Supreme Court this morning.

Police Court.

Two young men were up before Court this morning charged with being drunk and disorderly on New Gower Street last week. According to the police these young men with some others were acting disorderly in the neighborhood of Deady's Lane. They were ordered to move on by two policemen, and they did so; going up a dark passage way where they challenged the police to an encounter. The police did not then interfere as a mob, intent on doing mischief, had collected. Eventually one of the men went to his home on Pleasant Street where he procured a revolver. A crowd which collected at the foot of the street was pelted with stones, and a witness testified that two shots were fired from a revolver. The revolver with 5 or 6 cartridges was afterwards handed over to a citizen. His honour read a lecture to the disturbers on their disorderly and reprehensible conduct. One was fined $20.00 or 30 days; the other was fined $5.00 or ten days. A case of assault was withdrawn.

Air Representative Here.

Major E. Clayton-Kennedy, the special representative of the Imperial Aircraft Company, of Great Britain arrived in the city on Friday last, leaving by to-day's express again for Montreal, Canada. He returns in a couple of weeks for the purpose of interesting the Government in aeroplane transportation in this country. This is the firm which, it will be remembered, had the Bill giving it the first right to Government contract in air mail and passenger carrying, put through both Houses at last session. There are now at Halifax a couple of DeHavilland aeroplanes, one of which will be sent to this country just as soon as required. The Airco Firm now has a regular aerial mail and passenger service running between London and Paris, wherein Airco machines have kept to time daily, parcels having been shipped in London in the morning and unloaded in Paris in the same afternoon. The Imperial Aircraft Co. is the biggest one of its kind in the world.

Use the Telephone Quietly.

(Toronto Star.)
Talk gently into the telephone. Do not talk across it, nor shout somewhere in the general vicinity of it. Too many people use the telephone as if they had no confidence in its carrying power.

A story, illustrating this, is told of the late Hon. James Duff and the late Sir James Whitney. Mr. Duff used to shout over the telephone, and one quiet summer day he was on the phone, and his shouting rang along the corridors and disturbed Sir James in his office. "What on earth is all the racket about?" demanded the Premier. "It is Mr. Duff, sir," replied a clerk. "He is talking to his wife up in Simcoe County." "He is, eh?" remarked Sir James. "Well, why doesn't he telephone her, instead of yelling across the province like that?"

Reports, reaching this city from Amoy, state that many Chinese have been arrested there by detachments of Japanese warships. The dispirited anti-Japanese and feeling is reported to be very bitter. Reports from inland are that the situation is even more serious.

LIPTON CONFIDENT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.
Thomas Lipton sailed for home today on the steamship Adriatic, via St. Louis and Southampton still smiling, predicting that his Shamrock IV will lift the America's cup next year. He will return here in April with his Shamrock, which has lifted the America's cup more than any yacht abroad. She is a challenging yacht "trial horse," he said.

FRANCE AND THE VATICAN.

ROME, Nov. 29.
Negotiations are in progress for the resumption of diplomatic relations between France and the Holy See, and prospects seem good for the restoration of friendly intercourse between the Vatican and the French, which was broken off when President Louverture visited the King of Italy in Rome in 1904, and Pope Pius X. protested against the recognition of France as a belligerent, because that country had received the Vatican of papal nomination.

LOTTERY SCHEME MEETS OPPOSITION.

LONDON, Nov. 30.
The question whether the Government shall embark on a policy of raising money by Lottery methods will come up before the House of Commons tomorrow, when the proposal for a new issue of premium bonds will be discussed. The proposal has a warm following, but is being strongly opposed by bankers, churchmen and others on the general ground that it would constitute gambling, lower the national financial prestige, and devalue the public supporters of the scheme. The House of Commons contend that the lure of big prizes would draw out almost £100,000,000, which the Treasury could not raise by ordinary means. The Cabinet has adopted an attitude of neutrality on the matter, and will simply put the question before the House of Commons to let the members decide it. David Lloyd George, the Premier, and Lord Curzon, the Foreign Secretary, and the Leader in the Commons, and other leaders are believed to disapprove of the scheme. The Archbishop of Canterbury has denounced the scheme, and many of the non-conformist churches throughout the country to-day.

EX. MONARCH ILL.

BERLIN, Nov. 30.
Former King Friedrich Auguste of Saxony is seriously ill at Sphylino, Silesia, according to the Reichs-Anzeiger. King with his family has been residing in Silesia since he quit the throne after the revolution.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.
The President's annual message to Congress will not be transmitted until today. It was said to-day at the White House. It is expected to cover a wide range of subjects, with particular attention to the industrial situation. President Wilson has been working on the message for two weeks, dictating to a stenographer in his room. Because of his illness the President will find it necessary to depart from his custom of delivering his message in person.

A. B. C. MEDIATION.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 30.
The Nicolson to-day says it has been informed from well informed diplomatic articles that there is a possibility of mediation by the Government of the A. B. C. group, Argentina, Brazil and Chile, with the object of adjusting the difficulties that have arisen between the United States and Chile over the case of Consul Nicolson.

HOPING FOR THE BEST.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.
Immediate results in increased production of bituminous coal were expected to-day to follow the Government announcement that it proposes to begin, and posting at the rate of 14 per cent. of the coal. Operators looked upon the steps on the mining industry with optimism, however, it is believed that on Monday morning working men would re-enter the mines. Saturday's and Sunday's general holidays in the coal fields, as usual, are expected to-day.

HOPING FOR THE BEST.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30. Immediate results in increased production of bituminous coal were not expected to-day to follow the Govt. announcement that it proposes to see mining begun, and posting of the orders by the operators of notices of the granting of a 14 per cent. wage increase. Operators looked upon the next steps on the miners' side with optimism, however, and believed that on Monday many working men would re-enter the mines. Saturday's and Sunday's, generally, have been regarded as at least quiet holidays in the coal fields, it is noted.

IRELAND'S DISQUIETING CONDITION.

LONDON, Nov. 30. Sir Horace Plunkett, who was chairman of the Dublin Convention, and who has generally kept aloof from Irish politics during his long career in public service, has issued a warning that the announcement that hunger strikers will not be released from the jails in Ireland hereafter, if it is intended to break the spirit of the Sinn Fein, will have the opposite effect. Advice from Dublin says that the conditions in Ireland are most disquieting. Lawlessness has not been discouraged by the recent proclamations, and crimes of violence are increasing in number.

ROYAL THANKS FOR WORKMEN.

OTTAWA, Nov. 30. The following despatch has been received by Sir Robert Borden from Lord Milner, Secretary of State for the Colonies: "Now that the repatriation of the Overseas workmen, who volunteered their services for the production of ships and munitions during the war, is contemplated, I am commanded by the King to request you to give publicity to His Majesty's appreciation of the value of the services rendered by the men who volunteered from Canada. He understands that the excellent behaviour of these volunteers and the sustained and steady application displayed by them in their work has earned the highest praise."

NEW RUSSIAN CABINET.

IRKUTSK, Nov. 30. Admiral Kolchak, head of the All-Russian Government, has appointed the Minister of Interior, M. Pelligron, Prime Minister, and charged him with the organization of a new Cabinet. It is expected that the Minister of Finance, M. DeGeyer, and the Acting Minister of Foreign Affairs, J. J. Soukine, will resign. The program of the new Cabinet is the organization of a new lawful administration, and the diminishing of military influence in civil life. Admiral Kolchak remains at the front.

OBJECT TO INCOME TAX.

LONDON, Nov. 30. The Welsh miners have taken a ballot, and have decided to strike to resist payment of Income Tax on incomes below 250 pounds sterling.

Maternity Hospital Drive.

The Maternity Hospital drive started this morning, and we are informed the collectors were very kindly received by the people. The prospects of realizing the objective are particularly good as the public are keenly interested and have determined to erect the Home. There is need of such an institution in our city. For twenty years the Salvation Army has operated a Maternity Home in this city, caring for five hundred babies and seven hundred and fifty mothers. During these years seventy-five thousand beds have been given and nearly a quarter million meals provided. Only 5 per cent. of the patients were Salvationists.

In addition to mothers and babies, many other children—orphans or stranded, because of illness or accident to parents—have been cared for. Six mothers had to be turned away last winter for want of accommodation. Three mothers applied for admission from the outports in one week—two of them homeless. All had to be refused admission for want of accommodation.

Two babies died before the mothers could reach the Home. Many needy children have had to be turned away for lack of accommodation.

Creed, nationality and color make no difference in admission—the need is the only qualification for admission. Newfoundland has to depend for prosperity upon natural increase of population, rather than upon immigration. Children are the hope of the Dominion.

The Institution is not for the Salvation Army, but for the citizens of Newfoundland, through the sacrifice and service of The Salvation Army.

Not only will mothers and babies benefit by this institution, but husbands and fathers will know that their loved ones are being properly cared for, and friends, too, will find comfort in the knowledge that loving hearts and kind hands are acting as ministering angels to the sick when they need care and attention most.

Everything can be said in favor of the Hospital, and it is because the Home is a necessity that citizens to-day and during the balance of the week will contribute generously and gladly to the cause. Doctors, clergy, social workers and everyone in fact, are firmly convinced that a Maternity Hospital, such as proposed, will do much good. If St. John's takes up this matter with its old-time enthusiasm, the required sum will be forthcoming before the end of the week. In many of our churches yesterday, reference was made to the work, and the congregations were asked to assist the workers, not alone with their finances, but with words of cheer. Let the drive start well to-day. It is not an impossible sum that is asked for. Citizens can do it, and it is believed will. At 9 to-night the teams will make their first report at the Methodist College Hall. An interesting programme has been prepared, and the proceedings are certain to go with a swing. The team workers are

How Times Have Changed

The Toronto Star says: "Sunday school decorum was forgotten for a time last night when the young men of Mr. Livingston's Bible class, to the number of forty-five, nearly all of whom are returned men, gave a eucure dance in the Sunday-school of the Holy Trinity. It is the first time such an event has been held within the precincts of Holy Trinity Church, and as an experiment it must be put down as an unqualified success." The "Orilla Packet," the most influential of the town papers in Ontario, makes the following comment:—In saying so, we have no doubt the Star is echoing the sentiments of the Prince of Evil himself. The experiment will meet with the entire approval of his Satanic majesty, who more and more in these days finds such means the most effective in driving almost the last presence of "pure religion and undefiled" out of the churches. It is well to note that this entertainment was not the work of the young people alone. The Star further says: "The former curate (Mr. Hodgkinson), Mr. Hudson (the present curate) and Mr. Livingston, who conducts the Bible class, were present, as were also a number of other leaders. Better a thousand times that the doors of Holy Trinity should be closed forever."

Child Dislocated Hip.

Returning home from the Casino, where she had taken part in the operetta of that night, Rose, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Kenny, fell to the street and dislocated her hip. At the time she was being carried by her brother, who, also slipping, let go his hold on Rose and fell himself. A doctor was called, and the little girl is improving as rapidly as can be expected.

Italian Letter.

The following communication, addressed to the Editor of the "Trade Review," has been handed us by that gentleman for publication. In order that it may be in possession of the public at an earlier date than the "Trade Review" issues. The tone of the letter is a warning to Newfoundland to "make haste slowly" in the export of fish to Italy under the new regulations:

Genoa, 10th November, 1919.
To the Editor of the "Trade Review,"
St. John's, Newfoundland.

Dear Sir,—We beg reference to our letter of the 20th October, ulto, containing a copy of the "Genoa Bank guarantee clause," as agreed with Messrs. Holmwood & Holmwood, Ltd., of London, after the interview we had with Hon. Coaker last March. Contrary to all our expectations, we received from Messrs. Holmwood & Holmwood, Ltd., on the 22nd October, the following message: "Coaker not agreed Bank guarantee conditions."

We have, fortunately, all documents at our hands, and any denial whatsoever cannot change matters; it can but prove that one party does not intend to hold his word good.

Hon. Coaker's denial is, however, fully accountable; because such a denial is strictly in connection with the steps taken by the Newfoundland Government through the British Embassy against our Consorzio. This is not the first attempt of Newfoundland shippers to get the upper hand in Italy; but they are entirely wrong, because we are acting on a mere commercial point of view.

We are covering our needs of cod-fish and stock-fish in Newfoundland, Iceland, France, Norway, England, Denmark, U. S. A., Sweden, Japan, wherever we can find the best possible prices on our commercial behalf.

Newfoundland shippers are wrong when they are led to ask for too stringent selling terms and too high prices by arguing that Labrador, Shore and Gaspe fish enjoy the preference of some Italian markets. Under the present circumstances "FOOD IS FOOD," and there is no necessity of accepting prices too high and selling terms too stringent in order to comply with the hobbies of some of our consumers. (Query—Shippers).

Every one would consider it funny, our taking steps with the Newfoundland Government through the Italian Embassy, London, in order to get the preference of Newfoundland shippers for the Italian market, even when Italy can but pay lower prices than those offered by Greece, Spain and other markets.

The steps taken by Newfoundland shippers, as above reported, are of the very same nature, and only prove that they have not realized how matters stand in Italy.

We are, dear Sir,
Sincerely yours,
(Signed) GUSTAVO RAGNOLI,
Il Presidente Del Consiglio Di Amministrazione.

MORGAN—MORGAN.

The marriage of Miss Ethel Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Morgan, of Seal Cove, to Heber Morgan, son of Joseph Morgan, of the same place, was solemnized at Hopewell Church on Wednesday last by the Rev. H. Facey. The bride was given away by Mr. Wm. Mercer. The bridesmaid was Miss Phoebe Morgan, sister of the bride, and the best man was Mr. B. Morgan, the bride's brother. The bride was dressed in crepe de chene, with bridal veil and orange blossoms. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan will reside at Seal Cove. The presents were numerous and costly testifying to the esteem in which the bride and groom are held. The groom is an ex-Naval Reservist.

Prohibitionists, Get Busy!

Day after day two or three drunks are arrested by the police. This is a pretty good showing for a small city with a (supposed) rigid prohibition law. Legally liquor is sold under control of the Government for medicinal use and can be procured only with a script. Are scripts issued according to law? Many do not think so. It is current belief that the law of supply and demand regulate their issuance in too many instances. Is moonshine manufactured and sold? Well rather, and not in the outports only. Then there is "Dope" the hoodoo of the prohibition law, the stuff that beats all the rum, whisky, wine or moonshine to a frazzle for making a man worse than the brute beast. This is openly manufactured and sold to men, women and children. Anything from rubber shoes boiled in tobacco juice, to apples steeped in hay water is said to make dope—of course there are other grades of dope, for the more fastidious. Amongst them are, extract of Vanilla, Beef-cod-oil-and-Hyphosphites and other proprietary drugs largely advertised and said to sell better than Hot Dogs on Revere Beach. Residents of New Gower St. know that there is more drunkenness and rowdiness to be seen there, than was witnessed in the days of the open saloon. Young men in a crazed condition may be seen there any time, day or night, Sunday's included. Small stores on this street traffic in Vanilla and essence of Ginger. It may be seen in some windows, with the labels on the bottles turned inward. "Vanil" is put up in bottles containing as much as a half pint (half pint of stimulant and one or two atoms of extract of vanilla bean). Men have been seen at 7 o'clock in the morning, waiting to get this poison to drink. Barrels of empty Vanilla, Ginger and Beef-and-Cod-oil bottles, have accumulated back of these dope stores. These facts are not unknown to the police authorities. They are powerless in the matter. With the liquor control Board or the Vigilance Committee the responsibility rests. Will its members get busy?—Com.

Obituary.

MARY RYAN.

The death of Miss Mary Dolores Ryan, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Ryan, of Placentia, occurred at the General Hospital at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. Miss Ryan, who had attained her 20th birthday, came to the city on Monday last for the purpose of entering the hospital, and on Saturday underwent a serious operation. This proving insufficient, she passed away yesterday as stated. Besides her parents, who were fortunately with her to the end, there are left to mourn four sisters, Misses Rita, Kathleen, Anna and Angela, all at home; and three brothers, William, assistant station agent at Placentia, Thomas, purser on the Argyle, and Joseph, with the Imperial Life Assurance Co. to be one of whom the Telegram expresses sincere sympathy. The remains being taken to Placentia, and will be laid in their last earthly resting place to-morrow.

Highlanders' Church Parade

The Newfoundland Highlanders paraded yesterday morning to the divine service at the Presbyterian Church. Though the weather was favorable, a large number from the newly formed association turned out. Rev. Gordon Dickie, who preached appropriate sermon on "The Law of Discipline." The proposed route was not held owing to the rain. Battalion proceeding direct to the armoury from the church where they were addressed by their Chaplain, who complimented them on their turnout and promised them that if they stick together it would not be long ere a new armoury would be erected.

Our Navy.

For the first time, an official announcement has just been made showing the British naval casualties, in vessels, during the war. The loss of the Navy proper was 264 vessels, while the auxiliary fleet lost 815 vessels. Included in the losses were 13 battleships, 3 battle cruisers, 13 cruisers, 12 light cruisers, 13 sloops, 64 torpedo boat destroyers, 11 torpedo boats, 54 submarines, 17 armed merchant steamers, and 13 coastal motor boats.

Six of the light cruisers were sunk as blockships at Zeebrugge and Ostend. Of the 64 submarines lost, seven were destroyed at Helzingfors to avoid capture.

Only 42 warships were lost in action; 43 were sunk owing to submarine attacks and 44 by mines. Eleven were destroyed to avoid capture, 25 were lost in collisions, 22 were wrecked, 5 were lost by internal explosions, and 7 by accident, while in 28 cases the cause of the loss was unknown.

Among the 815 auxiliary vessels in the list of losses, 246 were hired trawlers, 244 were colliers, and 130 were hired drifters. There were 18 minesweepers, 2 mine carriers, 2 hospital ships (the Robilla, which was wrecked off Whitby in October, 1919, and the Rewa, which was sunk by a submarine at the beginning of 1918), 44 "ollers," 29 special service ships, 14 tugs, 13 yachts, 18 Admiralty trawlers, 24 motor launches, 6 motor boats and 9 Fleet messengers.

A large proportion of these boats were lost as the result of attacks by U-boats, the number being 289; while 225 were destroyed by mines, and 43 went down as the result of actions.

Prospero Arrives.

The S.S. Prospero, Capt. Wes. Kean, reached port at 8 o'clock last night after experiencing the worse trip for the season. She went as far north as Flower's Cove. The weather at that end was terrific, very cold, and blowing a gale. Coming south the full force of the storm was met with, consequently many places of call had to be left out. She brought a quantity of cargo, and the following passengers—Mesdames Pond, Howlett, Barbour, Kean, Davis, Capt. Kean, Simms, Boyde, Norris and maid, Fitzgerald and child, Wiseman, Barbour, Hill, Stratton, Misses Dewick, Simms (2), Long, Penney, Fennanour, Burton, Jones, Rev. Wood, Pearce, Adams, Jacobs, Hewitt, Winsor, Baird, Walton, Phillip, Noble, (2), Jackman, Grant, Pilgrim, Capt. Sweetapple, S.A., Small, Facey, Young, Miles, Kearley, Farthing, Blake, Blandford, Howlett, Boyde, Earle, Hiscock, Rowell, Blandford, Mullett, Way, Hill, Capt. Winsor, Tiller, Capt. A. Barbour, Capt. Kean, Dr. Kean, Gillespie, Wright, Brown (2), Oakley, Howlett, Brown, Curtis, and 35 steerage.

A Novel Window Display

Possibly some thousands of people stopped on Saturday night to look into the display window of Ayre & Sons' New Building, where as novel a display as has been seen here for some time had been made up. This was comprised of three cages containing two hens each. The latter, which were owned by Mr. W. R. Butler, of Leslie Street, were winners in the recent poultry exhibition, and were undoubtedly splendid looking birds. The Ayre firm has always been noted for its novel window displays, but the latest may safely be said to equal either previously shown.

C. L. B. Old Comrades' Dance.

The C.L.B. Old Comrades, are holding a dance at the Armoury to-night. The affair promises to be very successful as the Committee in charge have all arrangements finalized. A special programme of music has been prepared for the occasion, and all who attend are promised an enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Strickland Recovered.

The woman Strickland, who was the victim of the unfortunate happening of a fortnight ago, has progressed so favorably that she has been removed from hospital, and in a few days will be as well as ever. The husband, who was the most severely injured, is getting better, and will be able to leave hospital in the course of next week.

Artificial Limb Study.

A large number of friends were at the station yesterday to see Mr. Richard Tilley, of "Ours," who left by express for Chicago, where he will make a study of artificial limbs and how to fit them. After taking this course, which will occupy about one year, Mr. Tilley will return to St. John's to engage in that business.

Highlanders' Church Parade

The Newfoundland Highlanders paraded yesterday morning to attend divine service at the Presbyterian Church. Though the weather was unfavorable a large number from the newly formed association turned out. Service at the Kirk was conducted by Rev. Gordon Dickie, who preached an appropriate sermon on "The Life of Discipline." The proposed route was not held owing to the rain. The Battalion proceeding direct to the armoury from the church where they were addressed by their Chaplain, who complimented them on their turnout and promised them that if they stick together it would not be long ere a new armoury would be erected.

The Prince at Old Trinity.

As his machine drew up before the old church the chimes began to sound "God Save the King," but the voices of the bells scarcely could be heard above the racket of the crowd.

The Rev. Dr. William T. Manning and the vestrymen of Trinity met the royal visitor in the vestibule. Preceded by a sexton with a mace, they walked up the aisle toward the first pew on the left hand side where the Prince's grandfather had sat.

The congregation rose as the visitors entered. Some were so filled with a desire to see the Prince they climbed onto the pews. Some one was overcome with enthusiasm and began to applaud loudly, but was hushed into silence by his neighbors.

The Prince gazed soberly ahead of him toward where the purple-stained glass windows reared themselves behind the altar that gleamed like ivory in the soft light of the candles. American and British flags were draped about the pulpit, and on either side of the chancel were similar standards.

Between these Dr. Manning in his robes of office stood and bade the Prince welcome.

"Your Royal Highness," he said, "this ancient parish of Trinity, the mother church of our city, to which we now have the honor of welcoming you, received its charter from King William III of Great Britain in 1697. The first rector of this parish was the Bishop of London, the Right Rev. Henry Compton.

"On October 14th, the nineteenth Sunday after Trinity, in 1860, Your Royal Grandfather, King Edward VII, at that time Prince of Wales, attended the service in this church and occupied the pew in which you are now sitting. That visit was recognized as one of great historic importance. Your visit to us at this time has a still greater significance.

"We welcome you among us with deep honor, and, if I may say so, with affection in us for your own sake. We welcome you as the representative of the great free Empire of Britain, which has borne so glorious a part in the world war, and with whose sons our own have fought side by side for right and freedom.

"We welcome you as the representative of that whole nation to which we are bound by ties which can never be broken. We ask God's richest blessing upon you, and we pray that your coming among us may still further strengthen that fellowship of the English-speaking people upon which rests the hope and future of mankind."

Dr. Manning then read the following prayer:

"Oh, God, our Father, we ask Thy blessing upon all Christian rulers, and especially upon the President of the United States, upon the King of Great Britain, and upon this Thy servant, Edward Albert, Prince of Wales, whom we welcome here among us." "May the Church of our fathers, planted in Britain and coming down to us with life unbroken through centuries, stand firm and fearless for faith of Christ.

"And grant, we pray Thee, that America and Great Britain, and all the peoples of English speech may live ever in close fellowship, not for their own selfish advantage, but for the maintenance of justice, liberty and peace in all the earth, through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen."

The Prince knelt during the prayer. The organ then played a verse of the British national hymn, and Dr. Manning pronounced benediction. He then handed the Prince the visitor's book, which he signed and left the church, accompanied to the door by Dr. Manning and the vestry, while the organ played "God Bless the Prince of Wales."—New York Tribune.

Wonders of the Sea.

The sea covers three-quarters of the earth's surface. Its average depth is half a mile. Within the confines of the land less than 1 per cent. of the area is occupied by fresh water. In other words, less than one-quarter of 1 per cent. of the earth's surface is fresh water, while 75 per cent. of it is salt. The ratio is about 300 to 1 in favor of the sea. That is why the sea is the greatest fish pond of all.

Within the present generation a pioneer from Philadelphia, Samuel H. Jones, took a tarpon of 170 pounds with rod and reel and was hailed as a hero. At the close of the last century another hero, Professor Holder, brought a tuna of 183 pounds to gaff and founded a cult. A few years before the war a Canadian hero, Mr. Ross, bent his rod successfully on an Atlantic tuna of 680 pounds in Nova Scotia waters, and during the following year the record was raised to 710 pounds by Lauris D. Mitchell. Mr. Ross was fairly beaten by several fish before he had the luck to get his hook into one small enough to bring to gaff. Since then the swordfish has been put on the map at Catalina, and thus the merry battle swings back and forth from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

Fifty-pound striped bass are more common in the surf than ten-pound trout in the streams and lakes, while as for other big game fish the sea can give the fresh-water cards and spades and win hands down. Long after the fresh water shall have yielded their last day's sport the great sea will hold forth its ever growing allurements, to enjoy which the angler is not compelled in fairness to reduce his tackle to feather-weight proportions. There is room in the wonderful deep for all. From the humble beginner who puts a few pennies into tomcod bait to the man who charged out $11,000 against his first tuna there is room for all and to spare. With records rising in such leaps and bounds as they have made in the present generation what may we not expect from the great waters? The immediate past is but a feeble promise of what the future holds in store for us. Let us not repine if the wild trout are disappearing. The sea holds more wonders than our wildest dreams have pictured.

Meantime what is there that is new in the little waters? I do not forget the lordly salmon nor the wild blooded muskellunge of the roaring rivers. They never grow old. Neither will the same dear companionships and associations that man always has cherished and ever will cherish. Ah, but these fine flowers flourish by the sea too. Men as manly, friendships as true, inspirations as great are to be found as surely within the magic circle of the sea rods' cast as are nurtured under the spell of the sky rod.

Civilization is taking its toll from the wilderness and is driving its wild life to the wall. But the myriad upon myriad of the wild people of the sea are beyond man's comprehension, and long after land sport has vanished the sea will yield its game. Then here's to the sea, the greatest of all fish ponds, and to the angler's rod, which will probably be the last tool of the chase to be wielded by man—Switch Reel, in New York "Sun."

Visits Prince.

New York, Nov. 25.—Jimmy Wales, England's sensational sportsman, who is scheduled to make his first American appearance in a match with Jack Sharkey of this city at Milwaukee, December 6, was one of the visitors to H. M. S. Renown, headquarters of Prince Edward of Wales, yesterday. Wilde, accompanied by his wife and Captain Thupper, seaman's leader of the British, boarded the Renown at 10 o'clock and subsequently had a talk of about fifteen minutes with the Prince. Wilde is a wide enthusiast, and it is understood, is keenly interested in British boxing's ring career. Leaving Mrs. Wilde secured the prince's signature to an autograph book.

Christian Bros. Collection.

The annual collection for the Christian Brothers, was taken up yesterday at all the masses at the Cathedral, St. Patrick's, St. Joseph's, Mount Cashel and Kilbride. This year's collection is a record, being over $1,400 more than was collected last year. The figures are:

Last Year.
Cathedral	$4,991.91
St. Patrick's	1,964.18
St. Joseph's	162.85
Mount Cashel	55.30
Yesterday.
Cathedral	$5,851.77
St. Patrick's	2,548.00
St. Joseph's	154.40
Mount Cashel	75.00

A deputation of the collectors assembled at Mt. St. Francis, and the Hon. J. D. Ryan, on behalf of the Catholic people as well as many non-Catholic friends, who generously contributed, presented the total of all the collection to the Rev. Superior of the Order. In receiving the amount, Superior Ryan acknowledged on the part of himself and all the Brothers, most heartfelt appreciation of the generosity which made the collection reach such a large total.

Burned Child Dies of Injuries.

The intervention of death brought to an end the sufferings resultant from injuries received in a severe burning on Saturday morning, and at two o'clock this morning Helen, the seven-year-old daughter of Health Inspector Lawlor, passed away at the General Hospital. Well known as a lovable little girl, Helen had lots of friends, every one of whom will be exceedingly sorry to hear of her passing. "Death loves a shining mark."

Light Wires Down.

An old tree fell against the electric wires, near Smithville last night, and caused a short circuit. For a time it looked as if the tree would blaze up, but the wires, unable to stand the strain broke and the tree fell across the road.

Laugh Makers.

NO TAIL FOR HIM.
 A countryman, landing in New York for the first time, was met at the landing-stage by a cousin, who had resided in America for some years.

The two compatriots proceeded to a small saloon to get "damp," and the Irish-American ordered a cocktail.

The young barman then asked the latest arrival: "What's yours, please?"
 Pat replied: "Oh, give me a bit of the breast, sonny, I don't like feathers!"

SPOILT THEIR TRIP.

An old sexton who had been digging a grave heard that a certain sect were always buried with money in their hands, so he went to the churchyard at night, opened a coffin, and took out the money.

The next time one of the persuasion was buried, he again removed the money. Then he asked the parson why money was put into the hands of their dead, and he was told that it was to pay their passage over the River Jordan.

The sexton looked very grave, and said: "Then I know two poor devils who will have to swim for it!"

DIDN'T TAKE THE HOUSE.

Ghosts and weird apparitions were said to appear in the empty house, and they were not an inducement to possible tenants, so the agent had it elaborately done up and decorated, and by way of a tempting bait he had some expensive gas-fittings put up in all the rooms.

The next week he heard that some bold man had been after the house. His heart leapt with hope and expectation, and he rushed off in frantic excitement to the house-keeper of the haunted mansion.
 "This is splendid!" he gasped.

"Reg'lar Fellers"

British Seamen's Pluck.

An example of the enduring courage of the British seamen of the seventeenth century is supplied by the story of the "Antelope," a tiny Admiralty packet boat, built for speed, not fighting, mounting only six guns—three-pounders, about the size of a blunderbuss—and having a crew of 21 men fit for service. The "Antelope," on December 1, 1783, was three days out with mails from Port Royal, Jamaica, when two French privateers sighted her, and at once bore up in pursuit. For two days the "Antelope" ran before her pursuers. She outlasted one completely, but the wind falling, the remaining privateer—the "Atalanta"—crept up by the aid of sweeps and opened fire. The courageous little "Antelope" made such venomous use of her pocket battery that her big antagonist drew off, but after a night's reflection, the Frenchmen in the early morning, came resolutely on again, boarded the "Antelope," and a desperate fight raged on its narrow decks. All the officers of the packet boat fell, but the boatswain—Mr. Pasco—took command; a midshipman—one of the "Antelope's" passengers—stood at the helm armed with a pike and musket, and alternately steered the ship and joined in furious assaults on the French boarders. The stubborn fight had lasted more than two hours, when the privateer finally tried to sheer off, cutting the grapnels by which it held the packet boat. Out of the 65 men who composed the crew of the privateer, 32, including the captain and first lieutenant, lay slain, and 17 were wounded. The 21 men of the "Antelope" had thus slain or wounded more than double their own number of the enemy. When the privateer attempted to sheer off, the boatswain, the midshipman passengers, and the scanty survivors of the packet, tumbled furiously over the Frenchman's bulwarks, fought their way across its deck, encumbered with slain and mangled down to its flag in triumph. The "Antelope" carried off its prize—an ant escorting a beetle—to Jamaica. The delighted House of Assembly there immediately directed that five hundred guineas should be divided among her crew. The Frenchmen had fought till two out of every three of their whole number had fallen; but the cool, obstinate, long-enduring pluck of the "Antelope's" crew represents the quality which makes intelligible the naval triumphs won by the British seamen of that day and handed down to their successors of the present day.

Concrete Ships a Huge Success.

The Faith Has Sailed the Atlantic and Pacific Without a Mishap. Unmindful of war or peace, strikes or storms, the reinforced concrete ship "Faith" continues on her even way, plying the waves of every ocean. No sea too rough, no gale too high, for this sturdy 20th century marvel.

For her maiden voyage Faith took a taste of the Pacific, going from San Francisco, the city of her birth, to Vancouver; thence back home and to the Panama Canal. Forty and sixty-mile Pacific gales failed to ruffle her seams. Having thus convinced all doubters of her seaworthiness Faith slid up to New York where she blushing received the homage of innumerable admirers.

Getting back into her element she betook herself to South American waters and upon her return set sail for England. While there she was again minutely examined for lines of care and distress but in vain. Her captain said that in all his thirty-five years' experience of life on the ocean waves, he has not met with any boat to equal this one. And her owners said "It is needless for us to say that the boat took not an inch of water as she is one of the staunchest sea-boats afloat."

Now the Faith has returned home in quest of new glories. It is said she will soon be on her way to a new distant continent. Wherever she goes, the "Faith" delivers the goods.

H. A. McKinnon

Hasn't Felt So Well in 30 Years.

Provincial Constable is Full of Life and Energy Since Taking Tanlac.

Most everybody in Nova Scotia has either known or has heard of M. A. McKinnon of 50 Falkland street, Halifax county for thirty years or more, was one time Chief of Police of Lunenburg and has been Provincial Constable for the past twelve years.

Mr. McKinnon called at Kinley's drug store in Halifax recently and made a statement regarding the benefits he has derived from the use of Tanlac, that will be of interest throughout the province. Here is what he said:

"Well, I have been taking your Tanlac now for about four weeks, and have just finished my third bottle, and I don't believe I have felt so well in thirty years. I have not only gotten rid of a case of stomach trouble that made life miserable for me for a long time, but I have already gained ten pounds in weight. Tanlac is the only medicine I have found that does what they say it will and I am glad to make a statement to be used in letting others know about it."

"I lost my appetite two years ago and even a little piece of toast and a cup of tea, which was all I could eat for breakfast, disagreed with me. In fact I could not eat anything at any time, no matter how light, without suffering from indigestion. There was a feeling in the pit of my stomach like a heavy lump. I would bloat up with sour gas until I would simply have to fight for breath and was drawn almost double at times with cramping pains. I was simply in misery for hours after every meal. I was also habitually constipated and had the worst kind of headaches most every day, especially in the mornings. I could never sleep well at night on account of the gas and pain in my stomach and would get up in the morning feeling tired and sluggish and with no energy. Well, it just seemed that I suffered with nearly everything a man with a bad stomach could have."

"I was losing weight continually. Why just before I began taking Tanlac I had one of my suits altered because I had fallen off until it was too large for me, but I guess I made a mistake for at the rate I'm now gaining I'll soon get all my lost weight back. I had read and heard enough about Tanlac to convince me that it was good, but I had no idea it was so fine until I began taking it. There's not a doubt in my mind now but what it is the greatest medicine ever sold in a drug store for any sort of stomach trouble. My appetite is so good now that I can hardly get enough to eat, and my stomach is in such a good condition that I can eat just anything put on the table and never feel a sign of indigestion. All that sourness, gas, pain, and shortness of breath is entirely gone. I sleep soundly at night and get up mornings feeling thoroughly rested and as full of life and energy as a two year old. There is no getting away from the fact that Tanlac is what brought about this wonderful change and I can't recommend it too highly."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative; in Harter Buffett, Thos. Walsby & Sons; in Placentia by James Murray & Son; and in Topsail, by J. K. Bursell.

Oldest Tune in the World.

"For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," is said to be the oldest tune in the world. The origin of the air is lost in antiquity but it is supposed to have been learned from the ancient Babylonians by the Egyptians, who popularized it in Africa, and Asia Minor. Arabs still sing it. The Crusaders caught the tune from their Saracen enemies, and sang it under the walls of Jerusalem. The air was ultimately carried into Europe where it survived, in various forms, among the folk songs of the different nations. In 1709, after the defeat at Malplaquet, the French, following a false rumor of the Duke of Marlborough's death in battle, composed a satiric lamen "Malbrook is Off to the War." Like most topical songs, this one was of short-lived popularity, but in 1781 it suddenly echoed from one end of France to the other. The young Marie Antoinette gave birth to an heir, and the baby Prince's nurse used to put her royal charge to sleep, with the old song of her village home, and as if by magic the song became the craze of the day.

Danced Six Times

WITH THE PRINCE AND SAT WITH HIM AT THE FOLLIES.

Prince of Wales on his return from West Point to-day had dinner on H. M. S. Renown, Brigadier-General and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Miss Grace Vanderbilt, Mr. Clarence H. MacKay, Miss Katherine MacKay, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rogers, Miss Millie Rogers and others were present. It became known late last night, after the name of Miss Rogers had been found in a partial list of those who were to attend the dinner, that the Prince had personally sent invitations to Miss Rogers and her parents in the morning. They had not been included in the list.

Miss Rogers is the young woman with whom the Prince danced six times on Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Whitlaw Reid, and in whose company he has been on several occasions since his visit to Washington and White Sulphur Spring, W. Va. Society was much interested yesterday in learning all of the details of the Prince's attention to Miss Rogers at the ball on Wednesday night.

The Prince attended the Follies in the evening. Those who had noticed that during the first part of the performance the woman in the Prince's box had been beckoning behind their fans to Miss Rogers, who sat across the house, saw Miss Rogers leave her place and make her way to the Prince's box. She was accompanied there by Miss Grace Vanderbilt, who then sat to the right of the Prince, with Miss Rogers to the left. During the performance the Prince showed all of the accepted signs of being a "regular fellow" having a "big time."

The King's Wish

A King, who lived long, long ago, wanted a clock that would keep good time, so he sent for the best clockmaker he knew, and his orders.

When the clockmaker brought work to the King, His Majesty said that the figures on the face were wrong. The clockmaker couldn't see the mistake but the king declared the four (IV) should be four (IIII). The clockmaker felt sure he was right, and started to argue with it. But the king got ever so angry and ordered the man to take the clock home and alter the mistake. Of course, the clockmaker had to do as the king told him; but the clock still continues.

training Telegram. Sir—I heartily endorse all that has been said by the various members of the House of Commons on the question of Soldiers' Gratuites; and consider it right and fair that an increase commensurate to the time and difficulties which we have lost should be made.

A maximum sum paid to a soldier at present is four hundred and twenty dollars (420.00). On a basis that would not be so different under existing conditions, it would be worth so very much after all. The left home, twenty-five dollars (25.00) would buy a very good pair of clothes or overcoat and four dollars (4.00) a pair of boots. Now, these articles are just about the same price as they were a few years ago. The purchase of a dollar has thus considerably diminished; so that, on a basis, our four hundred and twenty dollars is equivalent to about three hundred and fifty. And this is the position received from a gratuity by men who, in many cases, have given over four of the best years of their lives, and under the most possible conditions, to the humanity of the world.

The soldiers and sailors were the water doing their best to hold the flag flying and maintain the traditions of the race, there were in Newfoundland waxing in by reason of the protection of that line of khaki and sending from the Channel to home and alter the mistake.

Of course, the clockmaker had to do as the king told him; but the clock still continues.

Evening Telegram.
Sir—I heartily endorse all that has been said by the various papers on the question of Soldiers' Gratuities; and consider it right and fair that an increase commensurate to the times and conditions which we have lost should be made.

The maximum sum paid to a soldier at present is four hundred and twenty dollars (420.00). On a basis that would not be so great under existing conditions, it is worth so very much after all. We left home, twenty-five dollars (25.00) would buy a very good pair of clothes or overcoat and four (4.00) a pair of boots. Now, these articles are just about three times the price. The purchase of a dollar has thus considerably diminished; so that, on a basis, our four hundred and fifty dollars is equivalent to about hundred and fifty. And this is the situation received from a gratuity given by men who, in many instances, have given over four of the best years of their lives, and under the best possible conditions, to the service of humanity.

The soldiers and sailors were the water doing their best to the old flag flying and maintain the traditions of the race, there were here in Newfoundland waxing by reason of the protection afforded by that line of khaki and extending from the Channel, to the Alps, and those slight grey sentinels of the North Sea.

Knowing that there was an economic as well as a military side, to war we do not assert that these should have been in France. What we do assert is that the losses suffered during the war years by most of those who returned to sell are hardly commensurate with the standard of patriotism set up by those men who now in Gallipoli, France and Flandrone common knowledge that since the war the selling price of goods has not always been governed by its cost but rather by the price in the outside markets.

A piece of common serge, which originally landed at a figure of forty cents a yard, is now selling at a profit was eventually re-estimated at one dollar and ten cents a yard. And in this manner a large amount of war-time profits can be counted for. This is probably business, but we fail to see the sense in it.

Right here, Mr. Editor, lies the point from which the soldiers and sailors can and should be benefited.

It is led to believe that, because the money is turned down, there is not chance of our obtaining any. But Canada's reason was the necessary increase of tax-ation could not be borne by the people. There is, however, absolutely no reason why there should be any in public taxation; and the soldiers and sailors are the last of those to desire that there should be. It is not much use receiving money in hand and paying it out with other. The Profiteer can and should pay in brief: Tax the Profiteer, not the Soldier.

It is only right and just that those who have made the nation wealthy or increased its resources should be benefited.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir:—I have read with keen interest the letters of "Bob British," "Blank File" "Explosive Dud," and I endorse every word they say. I returned Soldiers and Sailors are not getting the show they should get. There is an old saying: "Every dog shall have his day." There are some people in Newfoundland who have had their day. They took it when we were over there, digging a hole in the mud to save our Cans. But now that we are home once more, at least some of us, are we going to allow the dependents of our pals who sleep over there to be neglected or have insults hurled at them—by any of these unpatriotic, war fattened individuals.

I have heard some people repeat the following: "They were silly to go over there." "They are getting too much money." "They are lazy D—" and these are only a few of the remarks one hears passed by supposed loyal British subjects.

Here are three questions for the people who are saying these to answer:
1.—If some one was not silly enough to go over there, where do you think you would be?
2.—If you lost an eye, one arm, and had sixteen shrapnel wounds in your body, would you be any more "silly" than the men who were over there?

(Glouce Bay Gazette.)
The origin of the report about several horses being found on the shore at Big Glace Bay after last week's storm which gave rise to rumors of a steamship disaster off the coast, and which was featured so farcely in the Sydney and Halifax papers, has been disclosed to the Gazette by a resident of the district.

He says that a local character on his way across the sand bar the day after the big gale, found a box containing four bottles of "white horses" whiskey. Three of the bottles were broken, but one (the live horse) was intact, although it did not survive to Elliston Wants Railway Extension.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—Please allow me space in your much circulated paper, to record an event which took place on Monday night, Nov. 24th, when 150 of Elliston voters met in the Orange Hall to discuss the railway problem. The inhabitants of Elliston are becoming cognizant of the fact that they are not treated fair as far as public facilities are concerned. It's true we have a postal telegraph line to Elliston. But that's not really our rightful part. So in the meeting referred to, the railway question was freely discussed, after which a citizens' welfare committee was organized under the superintendency of the Rev. W. W. Cotton, Methodist Minister, who is the organizer of this public movement. He is really a live wire in this community. Elliston has no Government department whatever, only the telegraph line, referred to. It's true the railway goes to Bonavista about five miles from here, and the so-called Elliston Station is about four miles from the place it takes its name from, so Mr. Editor you see that our chances are very poor when we look at it from a business standpoint. Be it known to everybody that we are going to agitate until we get a railroad extension to Elliston.

Thanking you in anticipation of space.

"My Victory Christmas."

I have the goods—I bought them myself—selected them myself. I have been to England's greatest markets—America's greatest manufacturers—men I know as well as I know my own customers. From these I have gotten a Xmas line that is remarkable in its completeness—in its quality.

One Man said to me—

"You have done what I could not do!"

Yes, I have done it, because I knew how. Because behind me are years of experience. Because I could rush in at the crisis; because I could evade the climax; because I am "KEARNEY FIRST!"

Next week my greatest effort begins. If you wish to get the advantage of my buying; if you want Xmas goods that English manufacturers can no longer produce—watch my announcements. Better still, come to see the goods.

I welcome competition—it will prove the effectiveness of my buying sense. I fear none. I look to the future—my "Victory Xmas."

I AM "KEARNEY FIRST."
