NO PEACE WITHOUT DIGNITY PEACE WAR MUST CONTINUE

Russia Decides that Prestige Abroad and Situation at Home Necessitates Fighting it Out With Japs.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 12.—The government seemingly is about to make the irrevocable decision that the war against Japan must continue, and that the continuation of the war is the only way in which the prestige of the empire, and the situation at home, can be maintained.

Supreme Nicholas is still apparently vacillating as to whether he should allow the war to continue, or whether he should permit Prince Sviatopolk-Mirski to retire, although the latter insists in the view that the confidence of the people in the manner in which the reform manifesto is to be worked out is vital, and that this is impossible if he is to be left completely in the hands of the bureaucrats.

It has now been definitely established that the third section of the manifesto as it was originally drafted by Prince Sviatopolk-Mirski, provided for the representation of Zemstvos in the constitution of the empire, and that it was stricken out against his protest.

Socialists, revolutionists and extreme Liberals, as well as the subject races on the borders of Russia, all have different objectives, with which the Conservative Liberals, whom the government really hopes to appease, have little in common, and above all Russia's unnumbered millions of peasants have given almost no sign of being stirred by the prevailing political agitation.

Suez Egypt, Jan. 12.—The division of the Russian second Pacific squadron, commanded by Rear Admiral Botvinkov, arrived here to-day from Port Said.

Tokio, Jan. 12.—Gen. Nogai reports that the Japanese captured at Port Arthur 18 guns, 12,670 shells, 20,000 kilos of powder, and 2,267,000 rounds of rifle ammunition.

Balfour Finds Pretext to Head Retals to Opposition.

London, Jan. 12.—King Edward at today's meeting of the Privy Council signed a proclamation convening parliament for Feb. 14. The session will be opened by the King personally with full state ceremony.

Recent speeches of ministers confirm the belief in an early dissolution of parliament, and it seems likely that, unless previously defeated, possibly through the intended abstentions of the Chamberlainites, the government will find a pretext for voluntarily dissolving parliament towards the end of March, and so hand over to the opposition the seemingly thankless task of formulating the budget.

It is expected that the company will begin building the line early in the spring.

KING EDWARD AND QUEEN MAY VISIT THE COLONIES SAYS MONTREAL'S MAYOR

From Letters He Has Received From Prominent Men in London He Comes to This Gratifying Con- clusion.

Montreal, Que., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—There was a rumor on the street today that the mayor had been notified semi-officially that there was a prospect of the King and Queen coming to Canada next summer. A representative of the press called upon his worship and inquired whether he had heard anything of the matter.

"I had intended to remain silent on the matter," said Mr. Laporte, "but I do not hesitate to state, since you have asked me, that recently I received letters from prominent men in England, in which it was intimated that there was every probability of King Edward and Queen Alexandra coming to Canada some time this year."

"Then, Mr. Mayor, you really believe that their majesties may come to Canada?"
"That I cannot say, but from what I know indications point in that direction." Continuing, his worship said: "I think it would be a grand thing for the Dominion to receive a visit from our beloved sovereign and his consort, as it would certainly tend to raise the Canadians to the very height of enthusiasm, and besides that it would prove beneficial for the whole empire. I sincerely trust their majesties may decide to pay this country a visit; they would receive a welcome from all those that would live through the ages."

RUMORED ROYAL VISIT

Mayor Laporte of Montreal is responsible for a statement to the effect that from private information in his possession there is every probability Canada will this year be honored by a visit from King Edward and Queen Alexandra. Perhaps the visit is more probable in itself than that an authoritative announcement of it should first come in the manner explained by the mayor. Nothing indeed is known against it other than the old conventional notion that distant travel on the part of the sovereign involved hidden dangers to the stability of the state. The rule is now more honored in the breach than the observance.

Both their late and present majesties have made lengthy sojourns on the continent of Europe without any serious dislocation to the mechanism of the empire, and in these days of swift and safe ocean transit and deep sea cables the antipodes are no further away than Eastern Europe in earlier days.

With the changed circumstances of the empire and the rise of the self-governing colonies the position of the King towards them has materially changed. The members of the federal cabinets of Canada and Australasia and of the cabinets of New Zealand and Newfoundland are quite as much "His Majesty's Ministers" as the members of the cabinet of the United Kingdom are. And as all are parts of one empire, it is not surprising that the King, as truly in Britain as he is in England, Scotland or Ireland.

Mayor Laporte said that a visit of the King and Queen to the Dominion, and beneficial to the whole empire. So say all loyal Canadians, and they are not likely to be less so in the future, although possibly not so sanguine on the subject.

Mr. Maclean to Introduce Bill Similar to One of Last Session.

Ottawa, Jan. 12.—(Special.)—W. F. Maclean has given notice of a bill to amend the Railway Act. The bill is similar to the one which was so energetically contested in the house last session.

It provides for maximum passenger rates based on the Mile and ton system of graded rates. It also gives the railway commission jurisdiction over express companies, requires the admission of independent telephone companies into railway stations on reasonable terms, and deprives the chairman of the railway commission of the right to determine his own jurisdiction in all questions involving points of law.

Corporal of M. U. Police in Northwest Territories Drops Man Strapped to Sled Thru Blinding Snowstorms.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 12.—Corporal Field of the N. W. Mounted Police has just arrived at Edmonton, the most northern railroad station in the Northwest Territory, bringing with him a maniac missionary. Corporal Field was stationed at Fort Chippewyan. He was directed to proceed to another station in the Arctic circle and escort a mad man to Edmonton. He travelled by dog sled, using seven dogs, and travelled light. He was fourteen days reaching the station, where he was to meet his charge.

Here he found a missionary named Buckman, who had become raving mad in the lonely solitude. Then began his Premier Balfour Speaks at a Banquet at Glasgow, Giving But Brief Reference to the Fiscal Question.

London, Jan. 12.—Premier Balfour, speaking at a banquet given in his honor at Glasgow to-night, avoided the fiscal question, except to say that he had nothing to add to or retract from his Edinburgh speech. He hoped conferences with the colonies soon would be quite as essentially a working part of the empire as the house of commons.

The two great problems with which the government had to deal, Mr. Balfour said, were the defence of Afghanistan, and the re-arming of the British army which would be a cost as much as any colonial nation was able to bear. When this was completed, he said that if those great and important questions were not in advance of that of any other nation.

Continuing, Mr. Balfour said that the British empire was not that it was too small, but that it was too great and powerful, and that it was too vast to be governed by the British government alone. One of the greatest problems before the country was that of development, and that the British empire was not in advance of that of any other nation.

Mr. Balfour briefly alluded to the "Dogger Bank affair." He said that the British empire was not that it was too small, but that it was too great and powerful, and that it was too vast to be governed by the British government alone. One of the greatest problems before the country was that of development, and that the British empire was not in advance of that of any other nation.

CONFERENCES OF COLONIES TO BE PART OF A MACHINE

Premier Balfour Predicts They Will Be as Much of an Institution as the Commons.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)
London, Jan. 12.—Premier Balfour entertained at dinner at Glasgow devoted much of his speech to recent army and navy reform, but he made no mention of the abolition of the dockyards. Referring to the subject of colonial conferences he said these were at first sporadic, but he hoped were soon to be systematic and as much a part of the ordinary working machinery of the empire as the house of commons itself. He would be ashamed to give his audience the impression that all difficulties had been surmounted, and had no wish to undervalue the task the country has to perform. He hoped that the conferences would be as much of an institution as the commons.

FOR IMPERIAL FEDERATION COL. HUGHES TO THE FORE

Proposes to Introduce a Resolution to Parliament Precipitating a Wide Discussion.

Ottawa, Jan. 12.—(Staff Special.)—Several of the familiar measures were apparent on the order paper of the commonwealth on Monday. These include Mr. Laurier's bill to amend the Railway Act, and Mr. Fisher's twice slaughtered seed grain bill.

Col. Sam Hughes will introduce an imperial federation resolution as follows:

"That the best interests of Canada and the empire at large would be advanced and the peace, progress and prosperity of humanity be assured by a full partnership union of Great Britain and her colonies, commercial, financial and other national problems, but leaving to the existing parliaments their present powers, functions, control of laws and other matters necessary for their own purposes."

Mr. Fisher will introduce a bill to establish a permanent census department.

It is gratifying to learn that the more act of signing a mail carrier's bond will not deprive the member for West Huron of his seat in the house of commons. The aim of the Election Act should be to penalize the violation of principle, not to emphasize the gravity of purely technical breaches of the law.

mercially, nor even to the consciousness of independent nationhood. The present situation and aims of the United States are very different from what they were two generations ago.

Unfortunately for the realization of this pleasant dream, a formidable obstacle presents itself in the shape of Canada's national aspirations. Canada to-day stands practically where the United States did when they entered upon the task of upbuilding their national industries.

As one time might have tempted Canada into the primrose path leading to absorption and extinction. It is too late now.

its place, but as the French newspapers say when they try to write English, "business as usual." It seems more practical to administer Canadian affairs from Ottawa than from London.

The Dominion is already more like a sovereign state than a dependency of the British crown. The victory has been political power, but it is completely in the hands of the Canadian ministry.

The latter seems the better way to practical matters. The fact of the fact that the present British admiralty plans intrust the defence of the coast to the Canadian navy is not out of the very serious work but is supposed to act somewhat as a safety valve.

R. J. REID HIMSELF IN CITY.

Big Man From Newfoundland Comes to Join Arbitration Tribunal.

R. J. Reid, president of the Reid Newfoundland Co., a director of the C.R.R. and of other financial institutions, arrived in the city yesterday, to the surprise of some of the commission sitting at the King Edward on the arbitration over the claim of $3,500,000 made by the Reid Newfoundland Co. as compensation for the telegraph system of the island which the Newfoundland government took over. Reid is a claim for compensation under what is known as the law of compensation, which allows great latitude to arbitrators in assessing the amount to be paid to a successful litigant, and not the law of damages, in which the amount is somewhat restricted. Reid's claim also includes special costs and value of supplies delivered over to the government in 1903 and 1904, also for the loss of the subsidy, the value of wire privileges and a general claim for taking to the business of the company, by the Reid Newfoundland Co. Reid says it is a contract made with the government, that the Reid Company had not the right of property in the telegraph in 1903 and 1904, and that the contract of 1901 was a mere modification of the 1898 contract. Reid says he would be allowed some compensation; but the amount would be a great deal less than the claim.

The R.C.Y.C. Ball.

The committees in charge of the arrangements for the Royal Canadian Yacht Club ball at the King Edward next month, have been working faithfully during the past couple of weeks, with the result that the plans for this important social event are assuming definite shape. The ball, which takes place on Wednesday, Feb. 22, will be honored by the patronage and presence of their excellencies the Earl and Countess Grey, who arrive in the city on Feb. 21. Their excellencies will receive in the banquet hall of the hotel, while the ballroom will be the American dining room, where a dais will be erected for the vice-regal party. The ballroom will be decorated with a profusion of flowers and flags, and the club's cups and trophies will be exhibited. Supper will be served in the European dining room, on the main floor of the hotel. Dr. Riordan, convener of the refreshment committee, has arranged with the hotel management for an attractive menu. The invitation committee, of which Mr. S. Bruce Harman is convener, has prepared the complimentary list and selected an artistic design for the invitation cards. The music committee has decided to have the program of dances similar to that of last year's ball. The outlook is that the ball will be easily the most profitable of the many successful functions held under the auspices of the club.

Herbert Clarke of Sarnia, a G. T. R. engineer, was taken to the Emergency Hospital yesterday, he had been jammed between his engine and a shed.

RISEN FROM THE ASHES.

Battle Creek Health Food Co. of London Supplying Trade Again.

About three months ago a disastrous fire visited the premises of the Battle Creek Health Food Company at London, Ontario, which destroyed the machinery and plant and left the building itself an almost complete ruin. Those of us who viewed the site of some of the exploded factories after our own big fire have some idea how speedily a fireproof building with its stout walls, its busy shafts and machines, and its pulsing engines can be reduced to bricks and mortar and heaps of mangled and twisted scrap iron, the charred end of a sign board or a piece of broken glass with its window announcement recalls the business pretensions of yesterday. When the fire had done its worst, with the Health Food factory the finished ruins looked to the writer to be worth about one-third of its value. Wheat elevators, big suction fans, rolling machines, cleaning mills and cooking cylinders and other machinery heeled upwards in the basement or half buried in the huge traveling oven that had been installed here and there before at a cost of over $5000. As evidence of the pluck and energy of this company, a time when the manufacturers of breakfast foods are withdrawing from the Canadian market, the Battle Creek Health Food factory, repaired the old machines, or installed new, and is looking forward with confidence to the most successful year in their history. The latest improved cleaning and cooling machinery has been acquired, and the equipment in every respect made thoroughly modern and up-to-date. In respect the general public are little aware of the vast expenditures necessary for the preparation of the modern "Breakfast Food."

Machinery is required in abundance.

Cleaning machines and machines for dusting-rolling machines with their large five ton rollers of highly polished and tempered steel—conveying machines and huge circular or traveling ovens, heated to a temperature of over 300 degrees, and all manner of devices and contrivances to convey the grain in process of manufacture through the various stages to the finished article, and all to avoid the necessity of handling the flour and meal in the mill. The machinery is required in abundance. The Battle Creek Health Food Co. at Battle Creek, Mich. All inquiries regarding the various terms and accommodations receive prompt attention. The sanitarium in Canada is the most extensive and best equipped institution of its kind in the world. The foods sold by the Canadian agency are the foods used daily in the head sanitarium at Battle Creek.

Vice-Royal Patronage.

While Lord and Lady Grey, the new occupants of Rideau Hall, have not yet visited Toronto, they have assured a very enthusiastic reception when they do come. Their excellencies will be received by the people of the capital, who have come in contact with them, are loud in their praise of the new governor-general and his estimable lady. Lady Grey, however, has already paid a compliment to Toronto, and Messrs. Gourlay, Winter & Leeming are proud to be one of the first Toronto firms to receive an order from her excellency. Lady Grey has decided to use in Rideau Hall a Gourlay piano. This is a high compliment to the fine quality of the instrument, for Lady Grey is a musician well qualified to judge. The Gourlay piano, while it has not been long on the market, has already won the unqualified approval of a large number of expert judges. They unite in praising its rich and lovely tone, its luscious pianissimo and its powerful forte and compass. The exquisite balance which obtains between the treble and the bass. While the piano is an admirable solo instrument, it has also the qualities of accompaniment developed to a remarkable extent. Messrs. Gourlay, Winter & Leeming began manufacturing with a wide knowledge of the shortcomings of other standard instruments now on the market, and they strove and strove successfully to overcome these defects. For that reason, the Gourlay piano has been considered as one of the best instruments ever produced in this country.

Horae's Legs Were Burned.

Chalkley & Son were used by George Horae, whose team he hired in residence at 1200 St. George street, in the fire at the Allan ruins in the confagration district. The horses sank in the smouldering stuff, and the horses had their legs so badly burned it had to be destroyed. He asked $100 damages. He gets nothing.

James St. Clair Claims He Was Mal-treated in His Shop Over a Year Ago.

In the civil assize court Chief Justice Falconbridge and a jury are hearing the action of James St. Clair against the police commissioners, Judge Winchester, Magistrate Denison, Mayor Duggan and Police Constable Reeves. St. Clair is a blacksmith, and at the time the action was commenced on July 31, 1903, lived at 304 Victoria-street and carried on business at 84 Lombard-street, where he had a shop valued at $25,000 damages for the following reasons:

That Reeves while on duty as a police constable did unlawfully trespass upon the premises of James St. Clair, 84 Lombard-street, on June 8, 1903, and did maliciously, unlawfully and without reasonable and probable cause, then and there, assault, beat, wound and otherwise ill-treat the said St. Clair, and the premises of the said St. Clair, both bodily and mentally, and the causing of great expense and loss to the said St. Clair, and the obtaining of medical aid and assistance, etc.

The commissioners are represented by City Council Fullerton and Nicholas Murphy, K.C., is conducting the case for the plaintiff.

The story is that on June 8, 1903, he had worked unusually hard and had been affected by a cold. He was sitting at his desk at 11 o'clock in a saloon and drank two glasses of brandy, and then returned to his shop. His wife came to see why he had not come home to supper. When she saw he was ill she remained with him until he was better. He had a severe cold and refused to leave when asked. He tried to push them out. There was a knock on the back of the house. The plaintiff says the officer struck him on the back of the head with a brick. While lying on the floor he was struck several times. He managed to get up, and his nose was broken, his chin split open, his front teeth were knocked out, and his head ran from one side to the other for two days. He has not yet recovered from the effects of the beating. The blood is still lying down some men entered the shop and he was hit with a brick. He is said the police will have a very different tale to tell, as to why Reeves entered the blacksmith shop, or how he got there, and then adjourned until 10 a.m. to-day.

There's a Girl Wants Him Here.

Horace Ernest Dunlop, who as a Varsity student last year fell in love with Santa Barosa of the Silver Slipper chorus and married here in last week in the United States court for a divorce, it is said. They met last September and were married the same week by P. W. Muehr. Then they went to New York, accompanied by a friend, who the next day gave her $50, and Dunlop would be back at 8 p.m. He never came back but she found him at the Vendome several days later. At 4:30 the jury visited the blacksmith shop, and then adjourned until 10 a.m. to-day.

Engine Tampered With.

Fire Department Unable to Cope With Bobcaygeon Blaze. Lindsay, Jan. 12.—(Special).—About 12 o'clock last night a fire broke out in Garner, Hunter, Hotel, Bobcaygeon, and completely destroyed the building and its contents. The former was worth $3000, and was insured for half that amount in the Liverpool and Globe, while the contents, valued at $2500, were uninsured. The fire spread so rapidly that a number of the guests had to jump from the windows without their clothing. A pair of trousers belonging to Mr. Hunter with $200 in the pockets were burned. A stove in the cellar is supposed to have been the source of the fire, but the fact that the village fire engine was found with a plug drawn that closed all the water to escape lends color to the incendiary theory. When about a year ago the Rockland House was burned the engine was found to have been tampered with in the same way. That has been only partially rebuilt so that since these were the only hotels in the place, accommodation is now at a premium.
