A Disloyal Russian Division is Blown To Pieces With Own Guns Korniloff's Stern Measures Reported Being Employed With Vengeance Times' Petrograd Correspondent Says Russian Situation Grave and German Propoganda Markedly Impudent; Only Swift and Decisive Reintroduction of Death Penalty Can Save Situation

London, July 26.—A despatch to the Post from Petrograd says that under General Korniloff's drastic measures to restore order in the eleventh army, one whole division thereof was blown to pieces by its own artillery, "to avenge the insults which all loyal troops, especially the artillery, have been suffering during for the last four months from these traitorous rascals."

An Appalling Blow. London, July 26.—An appalling blow is the description of the Russian collapse given in a despatch from Petrograd to the Post. Never in the war has Russia put itself under such enormous strain. British and French guns and gunners, flying machines, aviators and British armored cars were added to the unprepared technical strength of the Russians themselves to make this particular front equal to anything. The artillery was planned where such admirably natural prepared positions amounted to the ideal. There were places where the artillery lay in absolutely dead ground not 300 yards from the enemy trenches. Big guns were ideally placed, thanks to the character of the terrain, to give the maximum effect of the information regarding the guns of the eleventh army almost staggered belief. It appears that the infantry shot down their own guns in order to get their horses or shot down the gun horses in revenge as they retreated, leaving practically all the artillery of the eleventh army in enemy hands. So far as the artillery and technical appliances of the seventh and eighth armies are concerned, there is also no hope of their being saved.

The Germans were already a couple of days ago across the best road on the shortest line of retreat. The rate of their advance on the western wing has accelerated and the gun positions are behind the line now occupied by the Germans. It is becoming an exceedingly anxious question whether the eighth army will succeed in getting away at all but it is making the best haste eastward.

Saved Light Artillery. London, July 26.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Copenhagen says German correspondents in the Baltic report that, although the German and Austrian troops captured great quantities of munitions, the Russians saved their light artillery. Many of the heavy guns captured by the Germans had previously been destroyed. The correspondent adds that the captured territory is of the greatest importance, the corn in most places being ready for harvesting.

Quick, Decisive Action. London, July 26.—The situation in Russia, according to a despatch to the Times, is declared to be gravely dangerous and is attributed to the indiscipline of the army and German propaganda, "the impudence of which is almost past belief." Petrograd, the writer says, is exhausted by the continued and swift advance of the people are craving a stable government. Decisive and political action necessary above everything else. Ties with German propaganda with immediate effect. The government's declaration of itself as a committee of relief has caused a feeling of relief and a strong handling of the outbreak and a strong handling of the outbreak and a strong handling of the outbreak.

Verdict in Murder Cases Growing Out of Bomb Explosion in San Francisco. San Francisco, July 26.—Mrs. Rena Mooney, one of the five defendants in a murder case growing out of a bomb explosion here last summer, and which have effected world wide interest, was acquitted yesterday. After a trial that had lasted nine and one-half weeks the jury deliberated fifty-one hours before reaching its verdict of "not guilty."

British Assist Gallitally. London, July 26.—Special despatches from Petrograd speak to British arms from a gallant part in covering the Russian retreat in Galicia. The infantry deserted them, hence their stand was unavailing, but the German advance was held up some time. The commander-in-chief personally congratulated the British commander, Locker Lampson, and presented twenty-six crosses of St. George to his men. The British casualties were only five wounded and the casualty co-operated with the Russian cavalry in front of Tarnopol.

Potatoes in City Today. There is a great scarcity of potatoes throughout the city and today many people had to go without them for dinner as they were unable to procure any. Merchants say that the scarcity is due to so many being shipped out of the country, but there is a belief that some farmers are holding back. Quantities of the potatoes are being sold in the place where the squeeze is felt.

NOT A SINGLE FRENCH VESSEL SUNK IN WEEK Germans Made Six Attacks But All Failed THE BRITISH SITUATION Enemy Had Two Days of Unusual Luck—Time is Aiding the Allies—Italian Losses in Week Were Only Two

Paris, July 26.—During the week ending midnight, July 22, not a single French vessel either over or under 1,600 tons was lost, according to an official statement issued yesterday. Six French merchantmen were attacked unsuccessfully by submarines during that time. Ships of all nationalities numbering 1,088, entered port and 987 departed.

British Situation. London, July 26.—The report of the week's sinkings of British merchantmen would have shown the low record, but for the current upward tendency in the current would not have been unexpected, in view of the vigorous offensive efforts which have been made on all fronts and which no doubt are reflected in the orders to the submarine commanders to support the land offensive by strenuous efforts on the submarine front.

On the whole the navy may be said to be fairly well satisfied with the progress being made against the underwater enemy, and the feeling that time is all on the side of the Allies, as every week sees anti-submarine methods developing and the co-ordination of the various parts of the anti-submarine campaign improving.

Two Italian Steamers. Rome, July 26.—Two Italian steamers were sunk and one small sailing vessel was damaged during the week ended at midnight of July 22, says an official announcement issued yesterday. Five hundred and ninety-three vessels, with a gross tonnage of 860,816 and 559,000 net tons, were registered in the port of Genoa.

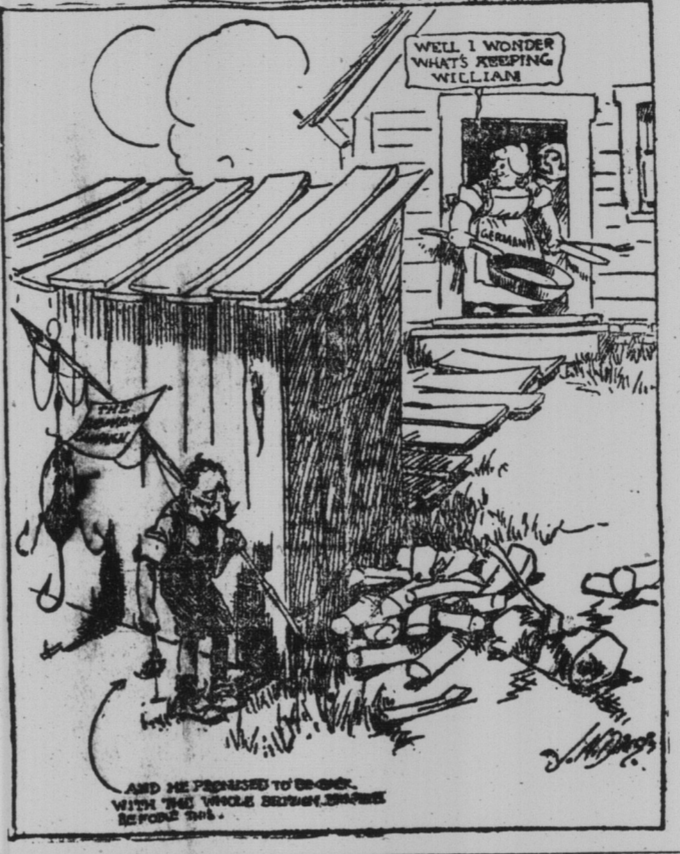

Maine Vessel Sunk. London, July 26.—The American sailing vessel Augustus Welt was sunk last Saturday. The crew were saved, but the vessel is reported to have been destroyed.

Randall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eben Randall, of Lakeville, New Brunswick, took place at the residence of Staff Sergeant R. W. Gregory, of the 28th Highlanders, King Street, last night.

DANGER IN PARIS TO DIE AS SPY. Paris, July 26.—A military court yesterday condemned to death for espionage a dancer known as Mata Hari, who, before her marriage, was Marguerite Zelle. She was born in the Dutch Indies and claims Dutch nationality.

Greek Chamber of Deputies. Athens, July 26.—The chamber of deputies convened yesterday, heard Premier Venizelos read the decree of conviction and then adjourned for a few days for the election of officers.

People Now Rule

Statement by Venizelos on Eve of Re-Assembling of Greek Parliament

Athens, July 24.—On the eve of the assembling of parliament, Premier Venizelos received a correspondent of the Associated Press and made the following statement: "The reassembling of parliament which was dismissed by the arbitrary action of Constantine, is the formal recognition of democratic government and the rule of the people, in line with the ideals and principles of which the United States gives a conspicuous example."

GERMANS ON RUN IN EAST AFRICA. British Win Two Victories and Main Body of Enemy is in Retreat South.

London, July 26.—British troops in German East Africa have won new victories over the remaining German forces there and the main body of the enemy is now in retreat toward Malenge in the south, having suffered heavy losses, says an official announcement issued today.

SITUATION IN SPAIN REPORTED BETTER. Madrid, July 26.—Quiet is gradually being restored throughout Spain, which has recently been in a state of unrest due to strikes and other causes.

USE THE WANT AD. WAY

WOODSMEN EARN $5 TO $10 A DAY CUTTING PULPWOOD

Munition Factories Not Only Places Where Big Wages are Paid, Maine Experts Earning Highest Wages Ever Known

(Bangor Commercial)

Munition factories are not only the places where big money is earned. Right here in the state of Maine, first class woodsmen who can cut two or more cords of pulpwood a day are receiving from $5 to $10 a day cutting by the cord for a big paper company, the Great Northern, which has put most of its pulpwood cutting on the piecework basis.

WAGES IN THE WOODS THIS WINTER

will be higher than ever before, ranging from $1.40 a day for main road swamper to $2.75 a day for A1 cooks. This means that the lowest wage the woods will be $36.40 a month and board and the highest for men who are not wages will be $72.50. Never in the history of the woods of Maine have such wages been paid.

Men of no great industry or ability can get jobs in the woods at the lowest wages, as long as they are able to do anything at all.

The Great Northern is evidently planning to lay in a big supply of pulpwood in anticipation of a possible labor shortage, caused by the war, as it now has a considerable supply of wood.

The sensationally high wages paid to men cutting pulpwood has not been an unshared blessing.

The more pay woodsmen get as a general rule, the less time they care to spend in the woods. It does not take a man earning $5 a day long to pile up $100 to his credit, and as soon as a man has that amount coming to him he begins to stir uneasily and lose ambition. Then comes a trip to Bangor or Boston to enjoy life for a brief time, spending his money, and back to the woods again.

The men who are paid by the cord for cutting pulpwood pay the company for their board at 75 cents a week, but otherwise their working conditions are the same as if they were employed by the month. They have the identical comfortable camp accommodation and plenty of the best food.

FRENCH AND GERMANS IN HARD FIGHTING

Forces of Both Sides Succeed in Penetrating Opponents' Lines

Paris, July 26.—German assaults were renewed last night along a front of about two miles on the Alsace front from the village of Hurbette to La Bionville. The French official statement issued this afternoon states that at the cost of heavy losses the French were able to penetrate into certain elements of the French first line trenches.

TALE OF TWO CITIES IS GREAT PICTURE

Gem Presents Another Classic Feature—Dickens Readers Delighted With It

There is a treat at the Gem for readers of the Evening Times. Charles Dickens and many of them were in the galleries at the theatre last night to see "The Tale of Two Cities," which is not a new regard to the master work of the great English novelist. The picture, detailing the gripping tale of the French Revolt, was directed by a master hand, produced by Wm. Fox as one of his super deluxe offerings, and the characters are played by a host of company headed by no less a personage than Wm. Farnum in the dual role of Sidney Carton and Charles Darnay.

Anthrax Germs in Plaster

Search in Los Angeles for German Said To Have Sold It

Los Angeles, July 26.—Deadly anthrax germs have been discovered in a mass of cork plaster sold in Los Angeles on Wednesday by a one-armed German, who is suspected of having disposed of the plaster for the purpose of spreading disease and death throughout the city. This startling report was made at the Pacific Wassermann Laboratories following a preliminary examination of plaster furnished by the dealer.

Dr. Samuel Levin, director of the laboratories, incautiously severed and sealed with germs taken from the plaster. Several days must elapse before he can determine the results.

Police and federal agents, in searching for the peddler, who is supposed to have a large stock of the plaster hidden somewhere in Los Angeles, arrested several men corresponding to his description. Reports of the sale of the plaster have come from cities near Los Angeles, and some arrests have been made in those places, according to the chief of police.

RAILWAYS USING MUCH FEMALE HELP

Canadian Girls and Women Have Shown Skill and Ambition in Their Work

Montreal, July 26.—C.P.R. and Grand Trunk officials are looking forward to employing girls and women on a much larger scale than heretofore, owing to the more vigorous prosecution of the war, which will call for material unutilized by the voluntary system. So far as this employment has gone the women and girls have given unequalled skill and ambition to learn the work in which they have been engaged, and J. Coleman, Grand Trunk superintendent of car service, voiced the opinions of the railway executives in general, in recounting the forms of work in which the women and girls had excelled.

"We have been very fortunate in securing a good class of young and intelligent women who immediately showed skill and ambition to learn the work," said Mr. Coleman, "and who are already giving very good satisfaction at such work as staining, filling, varnishing and rubbing down ash window stops, facemouldings, dining car chairs, tables, and various other small work that is done in the varnishing room. We are also using the women for painting inside of baggage cars and bronzing fixtures and steam pipes inside passenger cars. We are also training them to rub down and polish inside of passenger cars, as we are very often hard pressed for doing this work when the painters are required for varnishing and other heavier work on the outside of cars. All our women are working on piece-work to our standard schedule prices and are doing fairly well, considering the short time they have been employed in this class of work.

"We did not advertise for the women; they have all been recommended by reliable working men in the car department; so that we are assured of a respectable class of young women who are desirous of earning an honest living.

"As these women were bodily handicapped at first getting in and out of cars and getting their skirts caught in the various obstacles in and around cars while wearing the ordinary female dress, we have secured, through our stores department, a quantity of the standard uniform overall suits for women which consists of a cap and jacket-coat with belt around the waist, and pantolon overalls laced at the ankles, which makes a very neat and smart looking outfit, and remove any handicap they would otherwise have been subjected to and enable them to go about their work with the same freedom and safety as our men. These uniforms are delivered to the women and the wholesale cost charged them and deducted from their wages.

"We have also been employing for some time women in an upholstery shop, who are occupied in sewing carpets, window blinds and seat coverings.

"We also have women in our time office and store room, where they are looking after the various duties assigned to them in a very satisfactory manner."

LAST NIGHT'S ACCIDENT

William Lynch, who was seriously injured last evening when a street car was derailed on the way from Seaside, is said to be resting comfortably in the St. John Infirmary this afternoon. Dr. Mahoney, who is the physician in attendance, said today that there was no evidence of internal injuries as yet. The arm, he said, was broken.

Quick Lunch Service

A correspondent sends the Times the following: "I lunched the other day," writes a correspondent, "at the Help Yourself Cafe, 82, Marsham street, Westminister, a little restaurant close to the Abbey, modelled on Canadian lines. It is intended for workers to whom economy of time is important, and is an enormous boon to them. Just by the door there are stacks of pretty trays, and following printed instructions, I took one. I chose my cutlery next, and then went behind a glass partition where the food was. A great gas cooker was there, and roast mutton was a shilling a portion, curried vegetables were seven-pence, savoury pie was eightpence, and various puddings were fourpence each. There were orderly rows of fish salad and mayonnaise at ninepence, vegetable salad at sixpence, and little dishes of jjam or of cheese were twopenny. Butter was a penny a portion, bread was from a half-penny upwards. The habitues took about a minute and a half to get their tray and food tools, select their lunch, show it to the cashier, and pay for it. Then they settled down in the restaurant to a leisurely meal, without waiting on either side, and had ample time for a cup of tea or coffee before leaving."

The Times correspondent adds: "Where in Canada is this done? As factories increase would not some such convenience aid the help needing a warm dinner or cool lunch in summer?"

Women in the Fight

The Russian young women's battalion raised by the twice-wounded girl of Iker, Vera Butchikoff, was in action for the first time yesterday. They are reported to have been successful, although the battalion suffered some loss—on a ninepence, vegetable salad at sixpence.

WE MUST KEEP FAITH.

There are more people in Canada today wishing that political animosities might be laid aside than at any moment in the past history of the country. If the party leaders do not know it, they are out of touch with public sentiment. The changed conditions are due to the fact that so many people have relatives at the front, and realize that Canada has not kept faith with them; and realize also that if democracy is worth the blood of men in France and Flanders it is worth more than considerations of party advantage. The situation is complicated, however, by divided counsels as to what is best to be done to bring the full strength of Canada into the war. At the moment most people are more or less at sea. There is still no authoritative assurance that the government means to enforce conscription. The game of politics has not yet been thrown out of the window. Liberals are naturally distrustful of the man who failed to consult their leader until he had declared the whole instead of going frankly into the whole. The situation is complicated, however, by divided counsels as to what is best to be done to bring the full strength of Canada into the war. At the moment most people are more or less at sea. There is still no authoritative assurance that the government means to enforce conscription. The game of politics has not yet been thrown out of the window. Liberals are naturally distrustful of the man who failed to consult their leader until he had declared the whole instead of going frankly into the whole.

THE INCOME TAX.

The Borden government has decided to levy a graduated income tax. This course has long been urged by Liberal members of the house, and there is no argument over the adoption of the principle of the bill. It should have been adopted as soon as possible after the war began, and now that the policy of conscription of men has been agreed to the government was compelled to do something toward the conscription of wealth. The tax as proposed will fall heavily upon anyone, but it will fall heaviest on those having the lowest income. For example, a man with $10,000 income can better afford to pay $400 than a man with $4,000 can afford to pay one-fifth of $400. The $10,000 man still has $9,600 with which to keep the wolf from the door; although he in turn may be somewhat envious of the $100,000 man, who will have $85,200 after paying his tax. The chief criticism of the tax will be that it does not take enough from the very rich man, who can well afford to forego some of his expensive luxuries until the war is over. Indeed the time is coming when society will place a limit upon individual wealth, at least until such time as the general level of individual prosperity has been raised to a point where comfort for all is assured. A rich man today should be ashamed to go on amassing riches when so many men are poor or better than he are giving their lives to ensure his safety and the safety of his wealth. Many men of wealth are glad to pay without stint, and will offer no objection to an income tax. Those who are unwilling should be taxed to the limit. There is no approach to equality of service while some refuse to serve, and some refuse to pay, and there is far less excuse for the latter than for the former. Mr. Bonar Law's remark that so long as there was money in the country and it was needed for war purposes it would be applied in Canada, and the income tax is a step in the right direction.

TESTIMONIALS.

A medicated booze which contains 15 per cent of alcohol is being sold in Ontario, and in an advertisement in the Toronto papers testimonials of its value as a medicine from ten ministers in the southern states are printed. The proprietors have not yet accepted as part of their publicity matter the free advertisement in a Massachusetts paper which printed in one column a testimonial and in the next column the text notice of the man who professed to have been cured. One wonders whether those ten southern ministers were like alcohol, or under what circumstances the testimonials were given. The analysis of the particular decoction which they praise shows that it is specially adapted for prohibition territory. It could not be sold, however, under the New Brunswick prohibition law. Possibly the ministers in question interpret their action as a proper care of the spiritual needs of their flock, but a proper regard for their bodies is also worthy of some consideration. Moreover, the minister who lends his influence to the enrichment of a manufacturer of medicated booze is in some danger of losing that influence among people who have any sense of the fitness of things, even if he becomes scriptural and insists that he is laboring in the interest of "every one that thirsteth."

Halifax Chronicle—Sir Clifford Sifton has done that which those who know the cold, calculating nature of the man, would expect him to do. He has issued a manifesto, the purpose of which obviously is to draw away from Sir Wilfrid Laurier the support of the English-speaking Liberals, and to divide the Dominion on racial and religious lines. This is no new enterprise on the part of Sir Clifford Sifton. His activities in that direction are well known. It was from him that came the inspiration for the kind of campaign which was waged against Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the back concessions of Ontario, and in other sections of the Dominion, which were peculiarly susceptible to the Sifton canvass, in the general election of 1911.

The Toronto Globe says—"There has been a just demand that the conscription of men be accompanied by measures which will require real service or sacrifice from others who remain in the country, sheltered behind their comrades at the front. Those who urge the conscription of wealth and the organization of the national resources and of the material power of the country cannot consistently oppose the selective draft, which is the organization of man-power for fighting purposes. All these proposals are integral parts of the one policy, which seeks to co-ordinate all the energies of the nation so that it may exert its full strength."

The submarine toll was heavier last week and will serve to cheer the drooping spirits of the Germans. Their success against the Russians will have a like effect. It is up to the Allies to make a counter demonstration. The Roumanians are reported to have broken the enemy's line in the south Carpathians, which is good news as far as it goes; but we would like to hear that Premier Kerensky had brought the Russians to a halt and turned the German back on the Gallician front; or that a decided gain had been made by the British or French on the western front.

Moncton Transcript—"The government has discovered that there are 1750 civil service employees with whose services it might dispense. It makes this announcement under the plea of economy. The fact that the government claims that this is so, shows that for three years at least, it has not been practicing economy at Ottawa. While it has been preaching to the masses of the people to stint, and scrape, and save, it has been wasting their money in reckless prodigality. It is evidently time to turn out such an incompetent government."

Apparently there are profiteers in the United States. The Bangor Commercial says—"Charlotte, N. C., the location of Camp Greene, is reported to be having trouble with rapacious land owners who are demanding more than fair prices for some of the land needed for the camp site, and it is even said that the location of the camp may be changed because of this difficulty. It is probable that public opinion will soon bring the land sharks to their senses and that drastic steps will not be necessary."

The terrible mining disaster at New Waterford, the worst in the history of Cape Breton, has shocked the whole country. We have become accustomed and perhaps a little hardened to reports of casualties in war, but there is something that is particularly heart-rending in that picture of the weeping women and children around the pit mouth, waiting in horrible suspense for the recovery of the bodies of their loved ones. Any appeal made in their behalf should find a genuine response.

If the German people read carefully the speech of Premier Lloyd George, which a Berlin newspaper has had the courage to publish, they will find in it food for much reflection. We observe also that the Kaiser has personally recognized the Socialists. A change has come over the spirit of the German dream of world-dominion.

The Russians must be fairly familiar with the territory in Galicia. They have travelled back and forth several times since the war began. Let us hope they are not now bidding it a last good-bye. They should follow the Germans next time, and keep them going.

The Prince Edward Island Liberals failed to win either of the by-elections yesterday, and the government is therefore safe for the present. The new premier will have an opportunity to show his quality, though his majority in the house is very narrow.

There are some Conservatives who mean conscription when they say it, and who want the government to mean it, too. Will Sir Robert Borden accept the hint?

A schoolmaster who happened to have red hair was giving an object-lesson to his class on a nut. In his endeavor to draw a distinction between a hazel-nut and other nuts he held it up to view, asking, "What kind of nut is this?" at the same time, without a thought, putting his pencil to his head while waiting for an answer. Suddenly a young fellow who was noted for his witty answers replied, "A ginger-nut, sir."

Major Lloyd George's Story.

An excellent story is told in "Experiences on Active Service" by Major R. Lloyd George in the Magazine of the 4th London General Hospital, Denmark Hill. Major Lloyd George states that he was called on to censor some letters, in one of which a private wrote: "Our company commander is a son of Lloyd George, but the other officers are perfect gentlemen." The private is now a corporal.

Major Mitchell said at a dinner in New York: "Insurance rates, now that we're at war, will naturally go up. I heard the other day about a young fellow who went to an insurance agent and said: 'I'd like to take out a policy, please.' 'Very good, sir,' said the agent. 'Sit down and have a cigar. Now, then, what kind of policy do you want to take out—life, fire, burglary, accident, murder, drowning, assassination or marriage?'"

Victory Only In New Fast Ships

Commerce Chamber Experts Warn of Menace in Slow Work of Fleet

Only by the rapid construction of ships with a speed of not less than sixteen knots, and the full co-operation of our industrial efforts can we hope to emerge victorious from the war.

Such was the statement made by E. H. Outerbridge, president of the New York Chamber of Commerce, who presided at a conference held there to discuss the critical situation that exists in the problem of providing adequate merchant shipping to carry on the war.

Mr. Outerbridge took care to point out that the Chamber of Commerce has no concern with the friction between General Goethals and William Demman. That situation, he declared, would mean the winning of the war.

"There is a human element besides the military element," Mr. Outerbridge continued, "and that is that every father and mother who is contributing or will contribute one or more sons to the United States army, has a vital interest not only that those men shall be safely transported, but that, after being transported, they shall be fully supplied with food, munitions and all other things needed for their safety and comfort, every particle of which has got to be sent from this side of the ocean.

"The naval authorities agree it is impracticable to build destroyers enough to cover the vast area of slow-going merchant ships that must carry munitions and supplies to Europe. The only possible way, therefore, to avert disaster is that every ship built by this country and England and France and Italy shall be of the average man's speed, and that every ship will be able to reserve power of speed that will enable her without convoy to get away from a U-boat.

"The present rate of sinkings by U-boats is maintained and this country has not the full co-operation of her industrial efforts there is only one conclusion—we shall lose the war!"

"When unrestricted submarine warfare began the publication of the sinkings was changed from tonnage to number of vessels. But when a few ships of 20,000 tons will be more than seven or ten ships of 2,000 tons the publishing of tonnage is merely a deception for the purpose of deception.

"The time has come when facts have got to be stripped of deception and have got to be given to the people of this country because there is no other way of arousing public sentiment to the conception of the vital necessities of the situation.

"Great Britain transported her troops with practically no loss of life and it was accomplished largely because they used vessels of sixteen knots and upward speed. Speed has been proved to be the greatest factor of safety.

"The programme of the Federal Shipping Board has been mainly a wooden ship programme. You cannot get speed on a ship without length. It does not make any difference how much power you put into a ship of certain dimensions, you can rack her to pieces but you cannot drive her loaded beyond a certain speed, and you cannot build a wooden ship to give her the speed necessary for this cause and hold her together with the power in her."

Mr. Outerbridge showed by a chart that the greatest percentage of ship loss by submarine was in the classes of vessels with a speed of from seven to ten knots. The percentage decreased as the speed of the vessels increased, until at the sixteen-knot class the percentage of loss was only 25 per cent and at eighteen knots the loss was nothing.

Captain J. W. Proctor, head of the American Record of Shipping and for years president of the Marine Society of New York, stated that he had gone carefully over the government's wooden ship programme and compared it with the steel construction proposed.

"The wooden ships that are proposed to build," he declared, "are at least 30 per cent deficient in design. They are 80 per cent below any minimum standard of efficiency for transatlantic service. I fully believe some of them will get across the Atlantic, but I don't believe any of them will ever get back in the winter time."

"They are using scuttlings in those ships that are commonly used in our coastwise schooners of 400 and 500 tons, and they are going to build 3,000 ton ships; they are going to put powerful engines into those ships and drive them 10 1/2 knots. They are a greater menace to their personnel than all the German U-boats put together."

Irving T. Bush, president of the Bush Terminal Company; William B. Potter, consulting engineer for the General Electric Company; J. S. Doyl, of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, and Captain Williams, whose vessel, the Hibernian, was torpedoed in the Mediterranean, two months ago, also addressed the meeting.

Men Picked For Overseas Draft

Fifty From Field Ambulance to go Soon—Rev. E. B. Hooper Now a Major

Captain W. B. McVey, of No. 8 Field Ambulance, who has received instruction to get ready a draft consisting of fifty men from his unit for overseas, has already selected the men.

One Recruit.
W. R. McLean, of Chatham, signed on yesterday at the recruiting office in Prince William street for overseas service with No. 2 Forestry Company, the only recruit in two days.

Wins Medal.
Word has been received that Sergeant E. A. Dickie, of Gagetown, a member of a unit in the Canadian Siege Battery, has been awarded the military medal for devotion to duty during the attack on Vimy Ridge. Sergeant Dickie, prior to going overseas, was a member of the office staff of the St. John Street Railway Company.

Now Major Hooper.
Chaplain E. B. Hooper, of the Granville Canadian Special Hospital, at Ramsgate, England, has been promoted and is now a major. This promotion, in recognition of his work as chaplain, was announced on Dominion Day. Major Hooper will receive many congratulations.

Give Up Stripes.
Sergeant Arthur Hickson, son of the late A. W. Hickson, and a former traveler for W. F. Hatheway, together with some twenty other non-commissioned officers on detached duty in England, have given up their stripes in order that they may be sent to the front. Another of these self-sacrificing heroes is Sergeant Herbert Creed, a grandson of the late Dr. Creed, of the Provincial Normal school. He went overseas as pay sergeant with the 64th.

Suffering From Strain.
Authentic information has been received in the city that Major A. McMillan, D. S. O., was in hospital, not wounded, but suffering from the strain of the Vimy Ridge battle. A speedy recovery was looked for, as his condition was not serious.

Hearty Send-Off.
Non-commissioned officers and men of the 7th A. S. C. gave Lieut. W. G. Smith a hearty send-off at the Halifax train at 11.30. Just as the train was pulling out of the depot they sang "And He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and then gave three ringing cheers and a tiger for their former officer.

SIR ERIC GOES BACK WITHOUT OPPOSITION

London, July 25—Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the admiralty was elected without opposition today a member of the house of commons for Cambridgeborough. Almeric Paget resigned this seat to make a place in the house for Sir Eric.

We are making lots of disturbance in the shoe trade. Can't help it. We must close out our summer goods.—Wrexham Cash Store, 248-247 Union street.

The Northumberland county court met Tuesday afternoon, Judge McClellan presiding. In his charge the judge referred feelingly to the death of the late Hon. L. J. Tweedle. The grand jury brought in the following verdicts: King vs. Williams, no bill; King vs.

Campbell, true bill. In the trial of Mr. Campbell the jury afterwards disagreed.

If you'll watch our doors these days you'll see many happy and satisfied faces going out with shoes.—Wrexham Cash Store, 248-247 Union street.

RECENT WEDDINGS

The wedding of Robert M. Smythe of Cumberland Bay, N. B., to Miss Mary Louise, daughter of S. Warren Cody, of Cody's, took place at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Nodding, 181 Bridge street.

The wedding of Joseph Dolan of Nelson and Mrs. Mary Alice Peterson was solemnized on Monday in St. Mary's church, Newcastle, by Rev. P. W. Dixon.

E. Elmer Burpee, of Jacksonville, and Miss Gwynell, daughter of Charles A. and Mrs. Long, of Centerville, were united in marriage on Wednesday, July 4, by Rev. W. J. Hurlow, at the home of the bride's parents.

The wedding of Arthur Blair Card of Dorchester to Miss Marguerite McKinnon took place at the home of the bride's mother in Moncton yesterday, Rev. T. Porter Drumm officiating.

Jack Lait tells in the American Magazine what he thinks will happen in 32 years, and he also tells how it feels to be 32. He says: "There will not be a king, emperor, czar or kaiser in Europe. "Ireland will be an independent republic; so will Poland. "Liquor will be taboo the world over—barred at its source. "Women will have full suffrage everywhere. "Socialism will not have displaced republican government. "There will be an aerial route across the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, with stations or controls at intervals. "There will be telephone connections with oceans and with principal cities will have double-decked streets, the lower strata for traffic by vehicles exclusively. "Immigration from one country to another will be rare. "Firearms of all kinds will be obsolete, forbidden everywhere. "Huge artificial lights will make the world as bright at night as by day. "Physicians, lawyers, dentists, will be public officials and will not work for individual fees. "Love will guide matrimonial selection, but government will refuse to license the union, the mismatched, the immature, the senile, the damaged. "New York city will have 10,000,000 inhabitants and its own legislature."

YOUNG VANDERBILT, LIKE HIS DAD, ENLISTS

Cornelius, Jr., 19, Joins Field Artillery Section of Ammunition Train

A tall, slender, blue-eyed lad of 19 stood before a recruiting sergeant of the newly organized Field Artillery section of the Ammunition Train, New York Division, the other morning. The sergeant looked him over with a sweep of his eyes, granted his approval and then returned to the quarter-master's blank paper and when the slender lad with the dotted lines had all been filled out and the score of questions answered, he handed the sergeant a blank paper and repeated the name, "Some fancy name," he allowed; and then added half to himself, "but ain't your fault."

At the next desk sat Lieut. Percival E. Nagle—who resigned a lieutenant-colonel in the quarter-master's corps on July 6 to enlist as a private in the ammunition train and is now a private with the shining blue eyes stepped up to him with the enlistment paper, he figured on the spot that Co. 12, heavy artillery section, had made a catch.

"Vanderbilt, well, well," he mused. "Cornelius, Jr. at that relation to the colonel, young fellow?" he asked. "The boy blushed and then answered: 'He's my father, sir.'"

So it was that young Vanderbilt—and it's a certainty that this will be his name for the rest of his life—enlisted in the colors. In a jiffy he had passed the military examination and was ordered to report after lunch. An hour later he was stepped up to Lieut. Frederick E. Cruger, in command of Co. 12, and was assigned to the heavy artillery section, today men behind the Big Bertha and the Seventy-fives and the Jack Johnsons roll and curse at the big grunting, gray five-ton trucks that come rumbling up from the bases to the front with their precious load of gun fodder. It's a man's work to guide one of these snorting gasoline steeds, and it's man's work to start with shot cases and ammunition boxes—but young Vanderbilt will do it.

This ammunition train is a newly organized department of the third division, commanded by Maj. Gen. O'Rourke, and consists of two sections, the field artillery section and the small arms section. The field artillery section comprises six companies of 55 men and one officer each, under command of Lieut.-Col. C. C. Lansing.

Each company will have 81 trucks, one motor car and two motorcycles. With but 55 men to take care of all this equipment young Vanderbilt will either be a driver or a helper. The trucks and most of the equipment will not be received until the command is settled in the training camp in South Carolina. Officers of the section announced that efforts would be made to have U. S. Grant 4th, who enlisted in the seventh some time ago, transferred from his regiment to Co. 12 with Vanderbilt.

A Graduated Income Tax

Government Plan To Raise War Revenue

WILL REPLACE THE BUSINESS PROFITS TAX

Expected to Yield $15,000,000 to $20,000,000—Graduated Scale But Harder on Men of Small Incomes

Ottawa, July 26—A graduated income tax, long advocated by the Liberals in the house of commons and long refused by the government, was announced in the commons this afternoon by Sir Thomas White, minister of finance, bowing to the insistent public demand that those who do not fight should be made to pay. The government proposals, though they hardly be called a real "conscription of wealth" are a long step in advance towards equalizing the financial burden and sacrifices of the war.

Sir Thomas White gave a rough estimate of the probable revenue at from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 per year, although earlier in the session when he refused the demand for an income tax, he had maintained that only some $8,000,000 or $4,000,000 per year could be expected from it. The minister, however, turned a sharp corner by pleading that conditions had changed and that his previous estimate was made on the basis of the then existing United States income tax.

To the principle of the tax no objection was raised by the opposition. The details of the finance minister's legislation, some preliminary objections were promptly given. The chief objection was noted by E. M. MacDonald. The tax bears comparatively heavily upon men of moderate means now feeling the pinch of the high cost of living. But the men of high incomes are still left to struggle along with far more than they need. The man with an income of $20,000 has $18,740 still "unconquered." The married man with an income of $40,000 pays $40,000 tax under conditions which make that $40 a real pinch. The man with an income of $10,000 pays $360 but he will not, as Mr. MacDonald says, stop the luxuries or the extravagance of the rich, and consequently he will not pay public opinion as to the reinforcements of universal war time sacrifices.

The other main objection offered to the bill was that there was not a sufficient differentiation between the unmarried and the married man in regard to the respective amounts they would have to contribute. The only differentiation is that the tax with the unmarried man starts with incomes of $2,000 a year while with the married man it starts with $3,000 a year.

Working of Tax.

In brief, the bill provides for exemptions of all incomes up to $2,000 per year in the case of unmarried men or widows; $3,000 per year in the case of married men. After that up to $6,000 per year, the tax is four per cent. per annum; between $6,000 and $10,000 per year, six per cent.; between $10,000 and $20,000 per year, nine per cent.; twelve per cent.; between $20,000 and $30,000, fourteen per cent.; between $30,000 and $100,000, sixteen per cent.; and over $100,000, twenty-nine per cent.

In addition, all business firms and corporations where the profits are in excess of $5,000 per year, are liable to a tax of four per cent. per annum. If the net business tax now in force exceeds the amount which would be taken under the income tax, the higher amount only is levied. By several persons were injured by bombs there.

By this time British raiders were coming from all directions to repel the invaders, and the anti-aircraft guns on the tall buildings near the Bank of England were also in action. Apparently the raiders were trying to hit the bank, as they had attempted on previous raids, but did not succeed. One of the bombs struck the Swiss Bank, which was full of men and boys, and several were injured.

Five or six of the bombs that fell in Cheapside as the German machines continued their flight toward St. Paul's Churchyard, were dropped in the street, but did not explode. One struck the general office and set part of the building on fire.

Another bomb fell into St. Paul's Churchyard and destroyed the iron railings on the north side and broke several of the stone monuments. One was dropped on the west side of the cathedral in front of the main entrance, but did not explode. From there the air raiders flew down Lodge Hill and over Fleet street, and then made a swing to the northwest as far as Oxford Circus, where more bombs were dropped, without doing much harm. Then they changed their course and turned back to the southeast over St. Giles-in-the-Fields, down to Marconi House, in the Strand, and over Somerset House and the River Thames toward the Kentish coast, flying at great speed and followed by squadrons of British aircraft.

Raiders of July 7 Dropped Bombs Near Bank of England

—Swiss Bank Hit

Details of the German air raid over London on July 7 were brought to our attention on last Sunday by passengers who were there at the time. They said the machines were sighted about ten o'clock, flying fairly low, so that they could be easily distinguished by the crowds in the streets. Twenty-four were counted as they passed over the Bank Road toward the city of London proper.

Bombs were dropped in Whitechapel, the passengers said, and killed several persons. A bomb was dropped in Aldgate near where hay wagons were standing, but it did not explode. From Aldgate the raiders flew over Fenchurch street, and Mincing Lane, where the tea, coffee, and spice merchants have their headquarters. Several persons were injured by bombs there.

By this time British raiders were coming from all directions to repel the invaders, and the anti-aircraft guns on the tall buildings near the Bank of England were also in action. Apparently the raiders were trying to hit the bank, as they had attempted on previous raids, but did not succeed. One of the bombs struck the Swiss Bank, which was full of men and boys, and several were injured.

Five or six of the bombs that fell in Cheapside as the German machines continued their flight toward St. Paul's Churchyard, were dropped in the street, but did not explode. One struck the general office and set part of the building on fire.

Another bomb fell into St. Paul's Churchyard and destroyed the iron railings on the north side and broke several of the stone monuments. One was dropped on the west side of the cathedral in front of the main entrance, but did not explode. From there the air raiders flew down Lodge Hill and over Fleet street, and then made a swing to the northwest as far as Oxford Circus, where more bombs were dropped, without doing much harm. Then they changed their course and turned back to the southeast over St. Giles-in-the-Fields, down to Marconi House, in the Strand, and over Somerset House and the River Thames toward the Kentish coast, flying at great speed and followed by squadrons of British aircraft.

DEAD RESCUERS NUMBER SEVENTY OR EIGHTY

Rescue Party Working Frantically in Hope of Saving Some; Two of Rescuers Give Their Lives

Sydney, July 25.—The worst explosion in the history of the Cape Breton coal fields occurred at 7:30 this morning in No. 12 colliery of the New Waterford district. An official estimate places the number of dead at sixty-two. These include thirty native miners, twenty-two Newfoundlanders and ten foreigners.

About 270 men were in the mine at the time and colliery officials express surprise that the loss of life was not greater. Up to a late hour this afternoon only a small number of bodies had been taken up. The greater number will lie where they are till tomorrow.

Great crowds of people, including weeping women and children still surrounded the pit mouth. General Superintendent Tongue and a group of officials who were early on the scene went through the colliery this afternoon and report the workings and ventilations are in normal condition.

May Reach Eighty

There was no sign of fire and it is inferred from their report that the damage to the pit is small. Work is expected to be resumed within a short time. Hiram Donkin, chief inspector of mines, is expected at the scene of the disaster tomorrow. The explosion occurred between No. 6 and 7 landings about 2:10 feet down the slope but how it happened officials are reticent or profess to be unable to say. Forty or fifty men were working at No. 6 landing when the explosion took place and though there is fear that all will have been killed either by the explosion itself, or by the deadly gas fumes the rescue parties are making superhuman efforts to see if any can yet be saved. Men working at No. 7 when the disaster occurred are among the badly injured and some are believed to be among the killed. Some of the men from this landing, however, are known to be among the saved but with those believed dead at No. 6 and those killed or suffocated in other parts of the colliery the death list is expected to run close to eighty. Rescued miners were driven temporarily insane by the explosion and the gas which swept through the mine. In some cases they had to be put under restraint in order to protect themselves from their own violence. St. Anthony's schoolroom and the parish hall have been fitted up as temporary emergency hospitals and scores of the injured and gassed men are now being treated there by doctors from Glace Bay, Dominion and other places.

Officials Gassed

Angus R. McDonald, manager of the colliery with Superintendent Alex. McEachern, led the rescue work and his supervision and Manager McDonald was himself overcome by the gas on one of his trips down the pit and was brought to the surface in a semi-conscious condition. He is now partially recovered. Superintendent Alex. McNeill, No. 2 colliery, who hastened to take part in the rescue efforts was also overcome and at the time of telephoning he is unconscious. Deputy Mine Inspector McIntosh is also among the many on hand helping to get the situation under control. Down in the mine shaft some bodies are reported to have been discovered with heads and limbs blown off and others mutilated in various ways. A rescue party which reached No. 6 landing where the explosion took place found the bodies of twenty-two men and another party reaching No. 7 found seven more. Among the English-speaking miners who are known to have been working at No. 7 are: John D. McKay, Thomas Durham, George Delaney, Michael Curry, Joseph Steel, Thomas Murphy, Archie Cameron. It is not yet known whether these men are living or dead but there are grave fears that the worst has happened. Mr. McKay, one of the best known miners of the district, was treasurer of the local branch of the Amalgamated Mine Workers.

Two Rescuers Suffocated

Heroic work is being done by scores of volunteers and two of the young men who went down into the pit this morning on rescue work have been suffocated and now lie dead, Jack McKenzie of New Waterford, a son of Daniel McKenzie, and Philip Nicholson. Dr. D. J. Hartigan has been among those working to save any of the pit who might still be living. Dr. Hartigan was down in the mine with a rescue party this morning and was partly overcome by the gas but

Wm. Lynch Injured In Street Car Accident

A very serious accident occurred at Fairville last night at about 10:30 o'clock. An open car, packed with passengers, was returning from Seaside when, in attempting to come around the curve at the provincial hospital, it jumped the rails. Several people were thrown out of the car and many of them were very badly shaken up by their fall. One of the passengers, William Lynch, was picked up unconscious. He was quickly conveyed to the city in a street car. He was taken to the office of Dr. Mahoney, Main street, and was found that Mr. Lynch's arm was fractured and Dr. Mahoney put it up in splints. The city ambulance was summoned and the injured man was taken to the St. John Infirmary. On an examination at that place it was found that besides his arm being fractured he was seriously injured internally.

The New Commission

At its meeting on Tuesday the common council decided to name a new assessment commission to carry out the provisions of an act adopted at the last session of the legislature. When the assessment bill failed to pass the act adopted stated that a new commission of seven should be named within three months, two of which should represent the board of trade. A special meeting of the board of trade is called for Friday afternoon at 8:30 o'clock for the purpose of naming their representatives. It is stated upon good authority that the city appointees will be exactly the personnel of the last commission—Dr. W. C. Kierstead, Dr. J. Roy Campbell, W. E. Scully, George Maxwell and Mayor R. Hays, with M. D. Sweeney as secretary. It is said that A. H. Welton, W. Frank Hatheway or W. F. Boudit are likely to be nominated to represent the board of trade. It is the belief that the work of the new commission will not be protracted. The purpose, it is said, is not to compile a new act but to modify contentious sections in the rejected bill to represent the wishes of all classes. These sections are very few and it is the belief that it will not be a difficult task to compromise. It is the purpose to have the amended bill before the next session of the legislature. To clean lamp burners and wicks, boil in soda water, then wash and dry—they will be nice and new.

PLAYED TWO ROLES, SPY AND ANARCHIST

Former Head of Russia's Fighting Socialists is Prisoner in Germany

Betrayed Colleagues—Was Hunted by Revolutionists and Reported as Assassinated

Copenhagen, July 26.—Berlin newspapers received here report that Eugene Azeff, who eight years ago was the head of the Russian fighting socialists, is among the Russian civilians interned in Berlin. Azeff fled from Paris after Vladimir Bourzoeff, a Russian revolutionist, had charged him with being a police spy in order to escape the vengeance of the revolutionists and became a wanderer, traveling under various names. When the war broke out Azeff was in Germany and was interned, according to the report. Later he fell sick, and was removed to a hospital and finally appealed to the Russian prisoners-of-war committee for assistance.

Azeff at the time the disclosures were made against him was reported to have played the double role of Russian socialist and spy for the Russian secret police for eight years. He is said to have facilitated the arrest of hundreds of revolutionists, disclosed dozens of plots against high officials and even to have been the organizer of assassinations. Among the high personages whom Bourzoeff charged met death as a result of his machinations were Grand Duke Sergius and M. von Plehve, Russian minister of the interior. After the revelations of Bourzoeff it was asserted that Azeff was being hunted by the revolutionists, who had sworn vengeance on him. In 1910 Azeff was reported to have been assassinated in Wiesbaden.

Concluded "Separate Peace"

Russian Regiments Actually Made Terms With Hindenburg

Russian newspapers which arrived on Sunday in New York indicate that the offensive begun recently on the Russian front was undermined by an insidious German influence operating right in the Russian ranks, and actually causing several of the regiments to conclude a separate peace with von Hindenburg. These conditions, reported by Kerensky himself to the Council of Workmen and Soldiers' delegates, explain the events of the last few days when certain Russian units in Galicia, among them the 607th Mynov Regiment, situated between Batkov and Manajov, voluntarily quit the trenches and gave the Germans an opportunity to develop a successful attack.

It was to prevent such occurrences that Kerensky, according to the accounts contained in the Reich, had to remain at the front almost constantly during the last month. Despite his popularity with the great mass of the Russian soldiers, and the eagerness of most of the soldiers to follow him into battle, Kerensky appears to have been unable to eliminate entirely the disaffection in certain quarters of the front where the "Bolshevik" extremists, were agitating separate peace.

With the exception of those isolated sections of the front, Kerensky found the Russian army loyal to the revolutionary government and eager to fight the war to a victorious end. On returning after his tour of the front, where he worked hard to re-establish discipline and organization, the war minister, now premier, announced to the council of workmen and soldiers' delegates that he had great faith in the offensive possibilities of the Russian army and in the loyalty of the soldiers.

He did not close his eyes, however, to the fact that in certain quarters of the front the soldiers were irresponsible and rebellious to authority. He reported that he encountered a regiment on the Galician front that, despite his urgings and appeals, deliberately laid down its arms because it had already concluded a written peace with von Hindenburg on the basis of no annexations or indemnities. "When I asked the soldiers what was to be done about it," the war minister declared, "they replied 'That's your own business. So far as we are concerned, we are through. We have concluded peace with the enemy.'"

"I have frequently been asked," continued Kerensky, "what steps should be taken with such demoralizing elements in the army, and my reply has always been that I am minister of war of the Revolutionary government and that liberty of speech and thought was sacred to me from whatever source it emanated. But I shall not permit any undertaking hostile and destructive to the security of the government, such as may be compared to the present attacks upon me. Strength lies in justice and in a free respect of the will of the nation, and the army and navy will do their duty and render themselves obedient to the will of the majority."

Kerensky denied that Lenin was responsible for the separate peace negotiations which were undertaken with the enemy by some regiments. Lenin, he admitted, was stirring up a lot of political ferment in the ranks, but he was not a party to the peace negotiations. Kerensky declared that the source of the negotiations had not been definitely located, excepting that it was generally identified with German agents who attacked themselves assiduously to the more radical and extremist factions in the ranks.

DYSENTERY IS DANGEROUS

DYSENTERY IS DANGEROUS. Dysentery is one of the worst forms of bowel complaint. It comes on so suddenly, the pains in the bowels become so intense, the discharges occur with great rapidity, and are very often accompanied by blood, and the action on the system so weakening that its termination often proves fatal. When the bowels get loosened up in this way, and you wish to check the unnatural discharge without bringing on constipation, there is only one remedy to use, and that is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. This remedy is not an experiment as it has been used in thousands of Canadian homes during the past 72 years. Mrs. Albert Fearon, of the Corner N.B., writes: "I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for the past ten years, and I would not be without it in the house. Last fall my little boy, three years old, took very bad with dysentery. After taking 3 or 4 doses of 'Dr. Fowler's' he began to improve, and before he had used all the bottle he was entirely cured. I sincerely recommend it to all." There are many cheap imitations of this sterling remedy on the market. Ask for Dr. Fowler's and see that you get the genuine when you ask for it. Price 35c. CARLAND AND O'BRIEN
FACE MURDER CHARGE

Evidence in Preliminary Hearing Largely Repetition of That Given at Inquest—
Prisoner Says He is Not Interested in The Case

Everett Carland was visibly nervous and John O'Brien maintained an attitude of absolute indifference during the first session of the preliminary hearing of the two men, yesterday afternoon, charged with the murder of Robert Harris, Jr., on the evening of June 14.

"Can you hear the witness?" enquired the magistrate of the prisoner O'Brien, at one point in the proceedings. "It doesn't matter," quickly returned the man in the box, "I'm not interested in the case at all."

"Who got you to lay the information?" was the first question put to Robert Harris, Sr., in his cross-examination by D. Mullin, K.C.

Dr. Baxter was on his feet objecting immediately, while the witness replied: "I decline to answer."

Mr. Mullin pointed out that in the information Harris had sworn that he had learned that Carland and John O'Brien were in the habit of following his son. The witness said that he did not in his information mean the prisoner John O'Brien, but another O'Brien named Joseph.

"I have no information against John O'Brien," he concluded.

"As a matter of fact you are not responsible for the institution of these proceedings against the prisoners?" asked the counsel for the defence.

"No, no, I am not," replied the witness. "I am not a doctor, I am a coroner."

Re-examined by Dr. Baxter the witness said that the day previous to his swearing out the information against the prisoners he had had a consultation with Attorney General Byrne, who advised him to take the course which he had pursued.

Dr. G. O. Baxter, who was the physician in attendance on young Harris, said that he was called to the Harris residence on the morning of June 15. He found the deceased with a wound in the back of the head, slightly below the prominence of the head. He was bleeding some but not unconscious.

Rheims a Wreck Of German Vengeance

Famous Cathedral City of Champagne District Looks Like Hollow Shell

French Front, July 4.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Rheims is a wreck. The big cathedral city of the Champagne district has the appearance of a hollow shell which has collapsed in parts and is rapidly subsiding into a mass of ruins.

Not only the Cathedral, but all the public buildings and private dwelling houses have suffered severely. In the half year from the raging vengeance of the German gunners, who have turned a rain of shells on the stricken city whenever their arms have been directed at any point of the front.

The extent of the undeserved punishment may be gathered from the figures relating to the number of shells of all calibres poured into the streets and onto the cathedrale during the day of the bombardment from June 15 to June 28. The total between these two dates was no fewer than 16,892.

There are only 5,000 persons left out of a pre-war population of about 115,000. Among them are a good proportion of women and children. Some of the young women have continued their work throughout, many of them being employed in the champagne cellars where during the day they are comparatively safe from the German fire.

Schools still are being carried on, the classes being held far below the street surface and the municipal government also is being conducted in the bowels of the earth.

Shipping Losses Slightly Heavier

London, July 25.—Twenty-one British vessels of more than 1,600 tons each and three or less than 1,600 tons, were sunk last week by mines or submarines, according to the weekly admiralty report on shipping losses.

The announcement of the admiralty shows an increase of seven vessels of more than 1,600 tons sent to the bottom, in the previous week, for the loss of one less than that given in the report of the previous week, while there was a falling off by seven in the number of fishing vessels sunk.

On Roumanian Front

Petrograd, July 25.—A report of the general staff of the Roumanian army received here today says: "In the south Carpathian troops under General Rofoza Averco assumed the offensive and occupied the villages of Maresed and Volobate and captured several hundred prisoners and 19 guns, including some heavy ones. We owe this success to the skilful manoeuvring and close co-operation of the Roumanian and Russian forces, and also to the rigorous activity of our allied artillery."

"The powerfully organized enemy line has been broken on an extensive front. The bravery and devotion of our troops was incomparable. Among other incidents one battery lost its entire personnel, except seven men, who continued firing without cessation, and finally succeeded in silencing the enemy's fire. Lieutenant Stobratschik (commander of the Russian forces in Roumania), decorated all these men with the St. George's Cross."

"Milford station, four miles from Shelburne, was the scene of a sad fatality shortly before 9 o'clock this morning when the Ocean Limited from Halifax at 7.46 o'clock struck an automobile at the crossing near the station, killing a ten-year-old boy named Innot, of Milford, and injuring Harold Field, who was driving the automobile. Neither saw the approaching train and the automobile was across the tracks when it was struck smashing it to pieces and throwing the occupants out."

The automobile was owned by A. S. Reid, stockkeeper, of Milford, and was being driven by his son from the store to a warehouse some distance away.

Liberals Make Gains in P. E. I.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., July 25.—Both Conservatives were elected by reduced majorities in the by-elections in the third district of Prince and the fifth of Kings today. In the former Premier Arsenault was returned again for his old seat, defeating Dr. Delaney, Liberal, by ninety-nine votes, the total being 684 and 585.

In the general election of 1915 they were 720 and 598. In the fifth district of Kings, which has been Conservative since Confederation, J. D. Stewart was elected over W. W. Jenkins by eighty-seven votes, the totals being 663 and 576.

In 1915 ex-Premier Mathison had 312 majority, his opponent losing his deposit, the totals then being Mathison 423, Nelson 211.

With the influence of two governments against them the Liberals need not be ashamed of the result. The Conservatives, knowing that the loss of even one seat would reduce their majority in the house to one clear of the speaker, and knowing that Dewar, though elected Conservative, could not be depended upon always to support them, left nothing undone to save the government.

There was little change in the third district, Premier Arsenault holding his large majorities made in 1915 in the French polls. The cry that the first Acadian premier which the island has ever had should not be defeated no doubt had its effect. In the fifth district of Kings, Jenkins gained in every poll at least one.

These two seats, with one exception, were the strongest Conservative seats in the province, and had the campaign been of longer duration the Liberals would have had a better showing of winning at least one.

The granting of an extension to lobster fishermen by the federal government aided the Conservatives in the fishing sections. The parties now remain seven-to-thirteen in the legislature.

At the meeting of the New Brunswick Public Utilities Commission here yesterday afternoon applications were received from the St. Stephen Electric Company and the St. Stephen Gas Company, organizations conducted under the one management, for increased schedules of rates. An order was made returnable the fourth Wednesday in August. In the meantime the proposed schedules will be published and in August argument will be heard.

The commissions will sit today, beginning at 10.30 a. m., on the application of the Sackville Electric & Development Co. for a new schedule of rates. Legal representatives of the town and of the companies are expected to take part in the hearing.

G. O. D. Oddy is presiding and Commissioners A. B. Connell and Felix Macdonald, and F. J. Robinson, secretary, constitute the body.

Collins Is Slow Starting This Season

Is Fielding Brilliantly and is Not Slowing on the Bases, But Has Fallen Off in His Hitting. New York, July 24.—Eddie Collins undoubtedly is feeling his age just a little bit. Always a slow starter, he is lagging more than ever this season in finding the pitching. His average is lower now than is his custom at this time of year. Collins is fielding just as brilliantly, thinking just as rapidly, and is not slowing perceptibly in his base-running. His appearances on first base, however, have been too few to allow much base stealing or run-scoring. Even when Collins was with the Mack machine and enjoying the height of his ability, it always required a few weeks or more than a month for him to reach the zenith of his hitting stride. Usually the end of a season found him disputing batting premiership with Ty Cobb and Joe Jackson, although his average never reached the top notches set by those batting stars. If Collins were to swing into his old-time batting form at this stage of the season his assistance would be sufficient in itself, it is believed by most critics, to carry the Sox to a championship. And, if he should suddenly receive the assistance of Joe Jackson's old-time Cleveland form, the American League race probably would be over just about as suddenly. Strangely, neither Jackson nor Collins has been able to hit the season's opening with batting strength since becoming members of the White Sox. Jackson's average never was so low as it is now, and he seems totally incapable of throwing off the slump. The drop of this pair in batting is one thing the dope overlooked in picking the White Sox as favorites in the Johnson scramble. They are the players who make the Sox or wreck them. Even with their batting low their efforts are sufficient inspiration to other members of the team to count a great deal.

Stomach Troubles Due To Acidity

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST. So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, and stomach-ache are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, but may involve serious consequences if not corrected. The food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach trouble, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acid in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper quantity of acid, such as bisulphate of magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. F. Munro Now a Lieutenant. Camp Borden, Ont., July 24.—Pte. Jack A. Munro of the Princess Pats, P.

Urges Motorists To Save Gasoline

A. C. Bedford of the Standard Oil Would Stop Pleasure Rides to Win the War. Washington, July 25.—In an effort to bring about the greatest possible conservation of gasoline stocks now on hand, and stimulate producers of oil to increase their output of petroleum, A. C. Bedford, president of the Standard Oil Company, tonight issued an authorized statement of warning to the nation. Pointing out that while more new wells are being drilled, there has been no increase in production over the year before and that the nation is using 35,000,000 more barrels of oil than it is producing, Mr. Bedford asserts that if the United States government is to obtain the oil that is necessary to a successful prosecution of the war it will be necessary for users of automobiles to eliminate pleasure riding and for the public to economize in every possible way in the use of gasoline. EXCITING TIME AT CONEY ISLAND SUNDAY

Fifty Persons Injured on Beach By Runaway Horse

Bathers' Clothes Stolen—Men and Women Had to Telephone for Fresh Apparel Before They Could Get Home

It ran toward the beach, about 250 feet away. As it neared the beach another automobile, also coming north, struck the buggy and smashed it, throwing Mrs. Reich to the ground, fracturing her skull, and inflicting internal injuries.

Free of the buggy, the horse galloped into the midst of a crowd of about 5,000 persons, sitting and lying about on the sand. A majority of these were women and girls, who had no time to get out of the animal's way.

The beach at this point is a big, open expanse surrounding the Children's Home. The first to be struck down was Mrs. Rose Appelbaum, twenty-three years old, a dressmaker of Brooklyn. She saw the horse coming and started to run but the next instant had been knocked unconscious by the animal's hoofs.

Wild excitement developed. Screaming women and children tried to scramble to safety, but were sent flying by the animal, some of them only bruised, but many of them painfully injured. The flying horse struck Dorothy Dublin, six years old, of 228 West 146th street, on the left arm, breaking it and injuring the child's side. Abraham Barick, seven years old, of Stanton street, was struck a glancing blow on the head which laid open the scalp. In a few seconds there were injured persons everywhere, some of them unconscious and others crawling frantically over the sand to safety.

Several men tried to catch the horse's head, but stumbled in the deep sand and were bowled over. Some one sent a flat errand. An automobile bound north called to the police station and the reserve on Surf avenue fringed the horse and came up a few minutes after. Policemen

Fast Game In St. Peter's League

Thistles and Shamrocks Play Five Inning Tie Match—3 to 3

In St. Peter's league last evening the Thistles and Shamrocks battled for five innings to a tie, the score ending three to three. The game was one of the hardest fought this season and was witnessed by a record crowd of fans.

The Shamrocks presented a formidable line-up when they took the field in the first inning and the way they started in it was called at the end of the fifth.

The last inning was a thriller and was brim full of excitement from start to finish. The first man up for the Shamrocks landed safely on first as the result of an error. The second struck out and the third drove a fly into left field, but it was quite dark and the fielder did not locate the sphere until it was too late to get under it. Another one of them was fanned and the following batter walked. At this stage of the game excitement was running high.

Three men were on bases and two down. Kelly started towards the plate to bunt, but the fielder caught the ball and a pinch hitter, Frank Elliott, was sent in to try to end hostilities. After allowing two balls to pass, Dever whipped the ball to third and caught McMurray napping. He started back for the bag, but was caught off by second baseman and declared out by Umpire Leo McGuigan. This caused a howl of protest from the Shamrock bench and their rooters, but despite their kicking the decision of the umpire was unchanged.

The box score of the game follows:—

Thistles	A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E.

Summary—Struck out, by Hansen 6; Elliott 5; two base hit, McNulty; McMurray was caught off third in the last inning.

After the Game.

The Shamrocks, apparently realizing that their hold on the championship was broken and that unless they could stop the Thistles, they might as well give up, placed their strongest line-up on the field. They played a good game, but with the breaks coming their way they should have had an easy task winning.

Darby Doyle, leading slugger of the league, was robbed of two sure looking hits. One line drive was wending its way towards the Cove when Frank Howard appeared it. Had it been an inch higher the game would have presented a different aspect.

The Thistles were trying out new bats and as a result many pop flies went into the air.

A feature of the game was the stab Johnny McIntyre made at that fast one that was slipping by him. He punched it out into the field where there were no custodians and as a result landed on second. Johnny may be a kicker, but he is a good sport and nobody grudged him the hit.

The Shamrocks and their friends should learn that there is one thing to coach an opposing player and another to yell out personalities. No clean sport indulges in such tactics even to win a ball game.

Wrecked On The Nile Among The Crocodiles

A dramatic story told through Reutberg's Agency recounts the adventures of Sir A. Sharpe, late governor of Nyasaland, who has arrived in England after a six months' journey in Central Africa.

At the end of May, while passing down the Nile at a point north of Fashoda, a steamer belonging to the Sudan government, by which he was a passenger, was wrecked and sunk during a violent storm. The vessel, the Amara, was caught broadside on and completely blown over, those on board being thrown into the river, which was about a mile and a half wide, with many crocodiles.

There were ten passengers, and of these Major Twissell, D. S. O., Captain Smith, and Sergeant Williams, of the Sudan Service were drowned. Sir A. Sharpe sank with the ship, and was rescued by clinging to a piece of wreckage. All his belongings, including maps and photographs, were lost. His personal attendant was drowned. Specially noteworthy was the pluck displayed by the wife of Colonel Mott, postmaster general of the Sudan, and the last successful expedition against the Nueras showed that, even in a time of war, the administration is perfectly able to maintain local order.

Resourceful.

A little boy had a pony and a dog, and his generosity was often tried by visitors asking him—just to see what he would say—to give them one or both of his pets. One day he told a gentleman present he might have his pony, reserving the dog, much to the surprise of his mother, who asked—"Why, Jacky, why didn't you give him the dog?"

THE POLICE COURT

San August Wedman, aged twenty, a Basque, was before the police magistrate this morning on charge of deserting from a vessel now in port, he being an artificial seaman. Captain Evans said that Wedman left the vessel in Halifax just before he sailed for this port. The prisoner was located upon the ship's arrival here. Wedman said he left the ship because there was nothing to eat aboard. The captain said that he would be willing to take him back but he asked the magistrate to keep him in jail until the vessel was ready to sail. The court suggested that there were not very good meals in there and that the captain send at least one meal a day to the prisoner. "It is only getting what he deserves" was the remark of the master of the ship. The court had the man remanded to jail to be released before the steamer sails.

In an assault case brought against Samuel K. Cohen by Arthur Deaton the court fined the defendant $5 and ordered a step ladder, over which a dispute arose, to be returned to Deaton.

James Donnell was placed under arrest this morning on charge of assaulting a young man named Drager, in view of the police.

LOCAL NEWS

SUGAR ADVANCED.
 After remaining steady for a considerable period of time, sugar prices changed today, an advance of fifteen cents a hundred for all grades being recorded.

WANT NEW WAREHOUSE.
 Commissioner Russell and the city engineer visited Indiantown this morning to look over the Public wharf site, where the S. Orchard has proposed the erection of a small warehouse. The matter will be dealt with in council later.

IN PRINCE WILLIAM STREET.
 The water and sewerage department has completed the renewal of the water main in Prince William street from Princess to a point in front of the post office and the S. Orchard has been filled in. The work is progressing today on the section between the post office and Duke street.

WILD STRAWBERRIES.
 Wild strawberries were rather plentiful in the local market today. Farmers were in early this morning and there was a good supply until about noon when they began to thin out. The price varied. The prevailing price was eighty cents a pall and fifteen cents a box, but some asked twenty.

URQUHART-MARRIAGE.
 A very pretty wedding was solemnized this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hannan, 10 Cannon street, when their eldest daughter, Mae Elizabeth, was united in marriage to Captain John A. Urquhart of Brooklyn, N. Y. Rev. F. E. Boothroyd performed the ceremony and Miss MacIvor Lane sang "Oh, Perfect Love." After the wedding feast Mr. and Mrs. Urquhart left on the I. C. R. on a short trip through the province.

REALIZER $200.
 The Lancaster Red Cross Society forwarded to Lady Tilley on Tuesday the sum of $200 for "France's Day." This sum was realized from entertainments put on by the manager of The Empress Theatre, Carleton, and the manager of the Gaiety Theatre, Fairbairn, augmented by a sale of home made candy. The society heartily thanks all who so generously assisted, as there were no expenses except the tickets and the advertising.

DIED IN FAR WEST.
 Mrs. Margaret Small of this city (referred to last night) died at her sister, Mrs. Sarah J. Smith, of Edmonds, British Columbia, widow of Captain John Smith, had died on July 17. She was a former resident of this city. Captain Smith was in the employ of E. D. Jewett and Company. Mrs. Small was about seventy years old and is survived by two daughters, one son and one sister, Mrs. Small.

DUNLOP-CLARK.
 At noon today in Trinity church, Rev. R. A. Armstrong united in marriage Miss Alice May Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Clark, of West St. John, and Watson R. Dunlop of this city. The ceremony was very quiet and there were no witnesses. Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop will reside in West St. John. The groom is a well known and popular druggist with W. Hawker & Son, Prince William street. Many friends will read with pleasure of today's interesting event.

FURTHER REPORT ON LOCAL OBSERVANCE OF WAR ANNIVERSARY.

A special committee appointed by the mayor to consider the matter of observance of the war on August 4, made the following recommendations, which were accepted by the general committee.

That Saturday, August 4, be observed as a day of intercession for the war.

That each denomination be asked to arrange special intercessory services to be held in at least one of their churches during the day, and that a similar request be made to the Right Reverend the Roman Catholic Bishop of St. John.

That as the mayor and commissioners have accepted an invitation to attend an intercessory service at Trinity Church, the war veterans be asked to attend this service in a body in uniform.

That His Worship the Mayor request all business houses to facilitate their employees in attending the services.

It was suggested also by the committee that the church services should be held in the afternoon at two or half-past-two o'clock, so that the soldiers and citizens could proceed directly from the churches to the public exercises in King Square, where entertainers will be presented to the returned men.

ANOTHER "EMILY" FIGURES IN RUNAWAY.

The Steerforth in This Case, However, is Named Pilot.

James Pilot, said to be a native of Italy, and Emily, a youthful New Brunswick girl, are held by the local police awaiting instructions from the police authorities in Bathurst as to what will be done with them.

On last Monday the father of the girl was a caller at Chief Simpson's office. He complained that his daughter had left her home in Bathurst on last Friday in company with Pilot and had come to this city. The police were supplied with a picture of the Italian and were on the look-out for him and his youthful companion. Information was received that they had located in a house in the eastern section of the city. Detective Briggs was given the case and with some information supplied by one of the court officials the Italian was rounded up and in the guard room a little before noon. The girl had been located earlier in the morning. It is said that she is only fifteen years of age but she looks older. When Pilot realized his plight he burst into tears and between sobs spoke his love for Emily and says he wants to marry her at once.

Chief Simpson said that the father had returned to Bathurst and he was holding the two pending further instructions. If a charge should be laid it will undoubtedly be in Bathurst and the two will be sent back there.

NOW A LIEUTENANT.
 Word was received by Mrs. Harry Smith of 12 St. Patrick street, that her son, Sgt. C. H. Smith, who went overseas with No. 8 Company C. A. S. C., has won his commission and is now a lieutenant in a New Brunswick infantry unit. He has been in the army since the outbreak of the war, and has been on active service during the last two years. Before going overseas he was doing garrison duty in Halifax. Previous to his enlistment he was engaged as a plumber with W. J. Crawford. His many relatives and friends will wish him much success and a safe return to his loved ones again.

HIS REASONS FOR REFUSING USE OF HORSES.

Commissioner McLellan Tells Council Why He Cannot Co-operate With Public Works Department in Street Watering Work.

Commissioner McLellan's explanation of why he would not allow the fire department horses to be used for street watering work was the only matter heard by the common council at a committee meeting this morning, when a brief session was held. Mayor Hayes presided and all the members were present when the meeting came to order. Commissioner McLellan asked to be heard with regard to the use of fire horses for which the use of the horses had been permitted and comparing it with the large areas on which the fire horses had never been used. He also said that the watering was required mostly on windy days and in such weather the fire horses are not permitted to leave the stations. He had heard complaints last season about lack of watering, but they were from areas in which the horses were not used. He was opposed to the principle, as he believed that the fire horses should be kept available for fire purposes.

Having given his explanation, Commissioner McLellan asked the council to wish to take any action on the matter. Commissioner Fisher said he had not intended to bring it up, and had no resolution prepared. The subject was dropped.

As Commissioner McLellan had another engagement and wished to leave, and as the only other matters to be dealt with were the sidewalks occupation act amendments, and the retaining walls, for which Commissioner Fisher had a full meeting, the committee adjourned.

JURY IN ARSON CASE COMPLETED.

Five More Secured This Morning and Mr. Crawford is Called to Stand.

At this morning's session of the supreme court before His Honor Chief Justice McKewen, the jury to try Joseph O'Brien and John Hughes, who are under arrest on suspicion of having set fire to a cottage owned by William A. Crawford, situated on the Loch Lomond road, was completed. The new jury, men sworn were Louis King, Howard Phinney, William Morrison, P. M. Cochrane and Benjamin Myers.

After the charge against the prisoners had been read by the clerk of the court, Attorney-General Byrne addressed the jury. He spoke of the charge against the prisoners and dwelt at some length on the evidence, which would be offered in behalf of the crown.

The first witness summoned. He gave a minute description of his cottage and said that he considered his loss from $1,000 to $1,200. He said he had only $200 in insurance on the building and furniture.

At the conclusion of his testimony he was cross-examined by Daniel Mullin, K.C., who is chief counsel for the defense, but nothing new was brought out. At the conclusion of the cross-examination of the witness, which had been very thorough, the court adjourned to meet again this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

SEVERELY INJURED.

Aged Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Douglas Thrown From Wagon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas, aged people of Loch Lomond, were in a serious accident on last Friday evening while driving from their home to visit a nearby neighbor. While they were proceeding along the road the seat of the wagon broke away and the old people were thrown out of the team into a ditch. The wagon in which they were driving was old and the seat was not fastened securely. Their new wagon had just been washed and was not desiring to soil it, they decided to take the older vehicle.

Mrs. Douglas received a fracture of the left elbow and broke her right arm. Her husband was injured in the spine. The injuries were thought at first to be of a minor nature but they have proven to be more serious than thought. Mrs. Douglas has since been brought to the city and is being cared for by relatives. Both Mr. and Mrs. Douglas are said to be more than seventy years of age.
