RUSSIANS CRUMBLE UP AUSTRIAN LINE; ITALIANS, FRENCH AND BRITISH ALL GAIN; FURTHER STRIKE IN BALKANS REPORTED

The Austrians Flee Before Czar's Troops; Sweep Continues

Offensive Against Enemy Continues on all Fronts With Germans and Austrians Losing Heavily—Good News From All Parts of Field

Petrograd, Aug. 14.—The Austrian lines along the Strips, which they have held since early in September, have crumbled in on his left. General Balthasar is in full retreat along the whole front, according to the latest information received by the Russian general staff.

General Von Botmer's position has been regarded as untenable for days, and the only wonder in military circles here is that he has had the courage to stand fast for so long.

Petrograd, Aug. 14.—Along the Gallian front the Russian sweep continues unchecked, says the official announcement today. Further gains have been made on the Upper Sereth. In the region of the Middle Strips, and the Kozopol, the Austrians are being pursued by the Russians who reached the northern bank of the Dniester before Mariampol.

Paris, Aug. 14.—The French troops captured some trenches on the left of the Fay-Desnoyers road in the Somme, says the official statement. There was brisk combat in the region of Maricpas. German attacks in the vicinity of Hill 304 and at Fleury, in the Verdun sector, were repulsed.

Aviator Killed.—Paris, Aug. 14.—Denis Dowd, an American aviator with the French army, was killed at the Buc aerodrome on Friday, by falling in his machine. The cause of the accident is unknown.

Copper for Germans.—The Hague, Aug. 14.—(Via London.)—The Frankfurter Zeitung learns from Vienna that the Arthur Krupp Metal Co. has acquired the Mitterberger Copper Mines Company. By this acquisition the Krupp's of Essen become independent of the copper market.

British Report.—London, Aug. 14.—The official British report says: "Last night, to the west of Pozieres, the enemy gained a temporary footing in a portion of the trenches captured by us yesterday. Otherwise there were no developments on the British front between the Somme and the Ancre."

Three Vessels Sunk.—London, Aug. 14.—Lloyd's reports the sinking of the Russian steamship Kovda, 1,225 tons gross, and of the small Italian sailing vessels Lorenzo Donato and San Antonio.

London, Aug. 14.—Attacking British positions near Pozieres, on the Somme front, the Germans last night gained a foothold temporarily in a portion of the trenches taken from them yesterday.

London, Aug. 14.—Lloyd's announces the sinking of the Italian steamship Nerusa, the Italian sailing vessel Dina and the French sailing vessel Saint Gaetan.

The Nerusa sailed from Newport News July 19, and passed Gibraltar on August 7. She was built in 1901, and was 840 feet long, of 3,980 tons gross.

See Signs of General Offensive Soon By The Allies In Balkans

New York, Aug. 14.—The correspondent of the Tribune, cabled from London last night: "Fresh indications that the long-awaited Balkan offensive of the allies is about to begin, comes in the news today from Vienna, that the Italians also have started active operations there. No mention is made of this in the official statements from any allied source, but the Vienna communique says that there was 'skirmishing along the lower Voyussa in Albania.'"

Military experts here attach the greatest importance to this news. The Voyussa, or Viossa, empties into the Adriatic a little north of Valona, where the Italians had an army of around 100,000 men at last accounts. This is, of course, the extreme left of the allied line across northern Greece and southern Albania.

All previous activity along this line has been at the eastern end near Salonika, where unofficial reports on August 11 said that the allied forces had gained important positions near Lake Duran. The important fact in today's news is the extension of activity all along the line.

While there is nothing to indicate that a general offensive has been begun, it is apparent that the entire allied force in the Balkans is feeling out the enemy's positions. It is possible that the operations so far reported are similar to the trials which were made by the British along the line in France, to find how greatly the enemy has been weakened by the withdrawal of men to other fronts.

KAISER BACK AGAIN TO WESTERN QUARTERS

London, Aug. 14.—Emperor William on his return to the western front reviewed portions of the field army and the navy in Flanders, says an official telegram received in Amsterdam from Berlin, and transmitted by Reuter's correspondent. The Emperor then visited the Somme district, expressed to the men and leaders fighting there his grateful appreciation and welcomed troops just returning from battle.

ANOTHER FRANK ADMISSION BY GERMAN WRITER

London, Aug. 14.—(New York World.)—The Rotterdam correspondent of the Daily News, quotes from the latest article by Major Morant, a noted German military critic, who, he says, comments with particular frankness on the latest Russian victories, as follows: "The Russian offensive has made a big hole in the German line. It is a strategic success. The Russian attack on the Somme front directly through the armies in front of Lensberg, can force them into retreat by pushing back the neighboring armies. North of Lensberg, this plan so far, has not been successful, while to the south of the Dniester, we are told that the regrouping of the armies had not been completed when the Russians obtained their successes."

It is quite wrong to ignore the Russian attack, to say that it is only a new event in a tone of superiority, that this attack will of course be beaten off also. It has an incalculable effect on the morale, when people assume they can perceive the plans of the most silent of all army leaders, and assure each other that these obstinate Russian attacks will not have the slightest influence on Hindenburg's operations.

That we shall be able finally to bring this Russian offensive to a standstill, and perhaps even throw it back, we all hope, but we have a very difficult task in meeting the clever leadership of Brusiloff, with his stupendous material in men and the help of artillery from Japan and America.

Ex-Mayor Hocken of Toronto addressed several Orange lodges on the island since his arrival here on Friday night.

THE ITALIANS ARE DOING WELL ALONG THE FRONT

Offensive Fiercer on Line From Tolmino to the Sea

MONTE SANTO IS DOOMED

Austrians Meet Fearful Losses—Italians in Outposts of Tolmino, Which Poenem Enemy is Trying Desperately to Save

London, Aug. 14.—(Toronto Globe cable.)—A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Rome says: "The Italian offensive is becoming more marked on the whole front, from Tolmino to the sea. Everywhere the Austrian line has been broken, and thrust back. The Austrians now hold no point on the line, and the Gorizia Railway is cut to the Sava River. Thus Monte Santo, the most important Austrian position, has fallen. It can no longer receive supplies and must fall. With the taking of this position, the Italians have broken the Austrian line in the mountains."

The Austrians have withdrawn reserves from Pola and sent them to the Italian front.

The Austrian losses were heavy again yesterday. The casualties are reported particularly great around Tolmino, which the Austrians are trying desperately to save, since it would make much easier a possible drive toward Vienna.

Another Account.—Rome, Aug. 14.—Although public attention is centred on the fighting along the Lower Isonzo, important encounters are in progress elsewhere along the front. The Italians are meeting with fierce resistance, and in several sectors the Austrians are launching heavy attacks, presumably in an attempt to divert the efforts of the Italians from the Isonzo.

In the vicinity of Tolmino, north of Gorizia, the fighting is particularly severe. According to reports reaching Rome, the number of Austrian dead or wounded is said to be very large. The Italians have taken prisoners in this area.

Tolmino Next.—London, Aug. 14.—(Toronto Globe cable.)—A Central News despatch from Rome quotes the Idea Nazionale, to the effect that the Italians have occupied the outermost suburbs of Tolmino.

More Gains.—Rome, Aug. 14.—Italian troops continued yesterday pressing the Austrians back on the Carso Plateau, and east of Hill 212, pierced another strong line of hostile entrenchments.

About 800 prisoners were captured by the Italians.

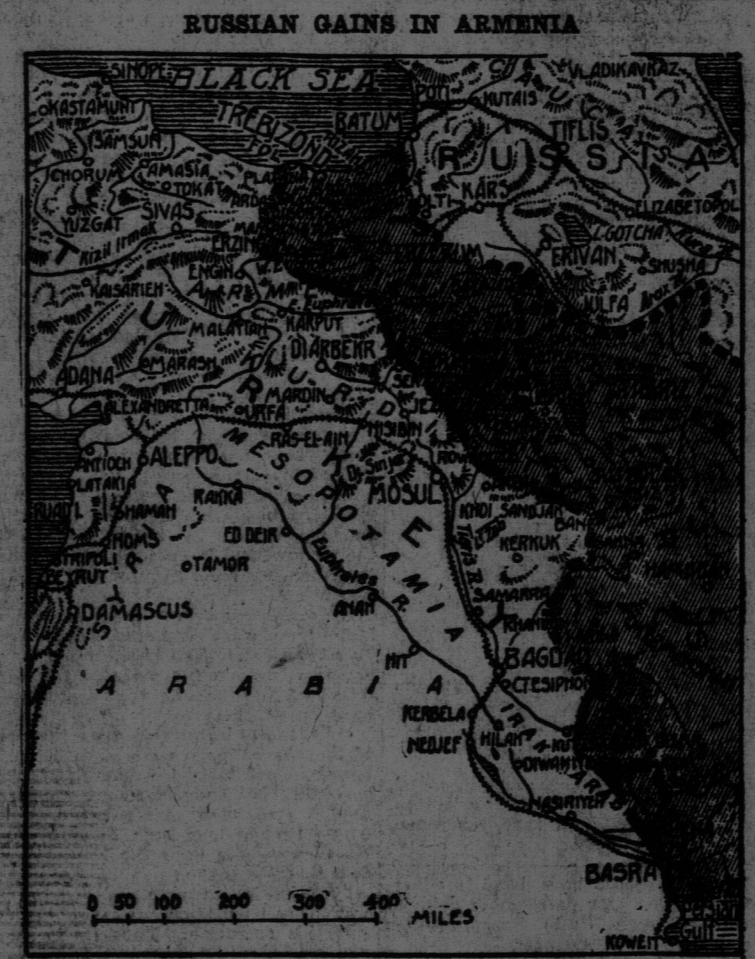

Important Conference.—Rome, Aug. 14.—(Toronto Globe cable.)—Premier Boselli and Walter Runciman will confer at Turin on Tuesday. Great importance is attached to the meeting. The Anglo-Italian agreement is expected to be ratified and signed.

Pseudonym of "The Weather Report" is "The Weather Report" issued by the Department of Marine and Fisheries, R. F. Sturges, director of meteorological service.

Synopsis.—Fine weather prevails in all portions of the dominion, while in the western provinces warmer conditions have set in.

Fine and Cool.—Maritime—Fresh northwest to west winds; fine and cool today and on Tuesday.

WILSON HEARS RAILWAY MEN AND MANAGERS

President Gets Both Sides of Story in Pending Crisis in United States

Washington, Aug. 14.—The railroad managers and the heads of the four great brotherhoods brought their wage dispute to Washington today to be laid before President Wilson.

The managers went to one hotel, and the brotherhood leaders went to another to await a call from the White House, while the federal mediators set about arranging the conference. It was decided that the president should see the contestants not together but one side at a time, to get a clearer view of their respective positions.

The first development of the day was a declaration by A. B. Garretson, speaking for the brotherhoods, that the men were through with the proposition of arbitrating under the Newlands Act.

Previous arbitrations under that law have demonstrated that the neutral arbitrators held the balance of power. He declared that any special arbitration into which the men might agree to enter, would have to make provision for an extension of those arbitrators to give the men what they consider a fair chance.

President Wilson called the representatives of the brotherhoods to the White House at 10 o'clock and arranged to see the committee of managers, immediately afterwards.

STEAMER SERVICE; ROTTERDAM TO AMERICA

The Hague, Aug. 14.—(Via London.)—A new steamship line will be put in between Rotterdam to America, according to an Amsterdam newspaper. A Rotterdam company is negotiating for the purchase of the former Greek steamer Macedonia, which can accommodate 2,000 passengers and has a freight capacity of 5,000 tons. It is proposed to open the new service with this ship.

CANADIAN OFFICERS ON THE WAY HOME

London, Aug. 13.—(Montreal Gazette cable.)—Among the officers who sailed for Canada a few days ago were Captain Rene Redmond, who is accompanied by his wife, Captains Donnelly, Creighton, Chevalier, Major Coristine, accompanied by Mrs. Coristine; also the widow of Captain G. McElmorn, Rev. G. Gilmore, of Ropley, Ont., sailed on the Mississauga.

More than 800 Canadians from the hospitals at Storrville were entertained by the Mayor of Hythe, a neighboring borough, on Friday. The lord mayor of London, in apologizing for his inability to be present, sent a message of sympathy and appreciation for the Canadians.

Captain Clegg Mars, King's Printer, of Quebec, is in a west end hospital suffering from anthrax of the right arm.

NO LET UP TO THE OFFENSIVE OF BRITISH ON WESTERN FRONT

German Prisoners Say Fire Worse Than Anything They Experienced at Verdun—Two Battalions Cut to Pieces

With the British Armies in France, Aug. 13, via London, Aug. 13.—Anyone who might think from reading the British official reports that the British offensive was over, would conclude after a visit to the field that a terrific battle was still in progress, judging from the unceasing and enormous volume of gunfire. No one the Associated Press correspondent meets at the front thinks that the offensive is over. Though no village or considerable frontage of trenches has been stormed in the last few days, every day has found some strong point taken and some new spur of trenches thrown out in the course of the same day.

NURSES SENT BACK

Ottawa, Aug. 14.—Seven Ottawa nurses sent to New York following the request of the New York city board of health to Canadian hospitals for aid in fighting the infantile paralysis plague, returned to Ottawa last night, having been turned back at Alburg, Vermont, by an immigration inspector, who said they could not enter the United States, without having passports. An appeal was made to Washington, but an official of the department there said no action could be taken.

NEW CASES BELOW HUNDRED MARK FOR FIRST TIME IN WEEKS

New York, Aug. 14.—The epidemic of infantile paralysis took a turn for the better today. The number of new cases reported went under the hundred mark for the first time in several weeks. During the twenty-four hours ended at ten o'clock this morning, the plague killed thirty-one children in the five boroughs of New York city and ninety-five new cases were reported, forty-three of them in Manhattan and thirty-one in Brooklyn. This compares favorably with yesterday's figures when there were 141 new cases discovered and twenty-two fatalities. The falling off in cases was attributed to the cooler weather recently.

NOW AT COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 14.—With the Columbus driving park track beaten into perfect condition by the recent rain, and the prediction of ideal atmospheric conditions, the fifth meeting of the 1916 grand circuit pace and trotting races will open here today.

Austrians Hang Prisoners

This is Testimony of Lord Northcliffe, Writing From the Isonzo Front; Wounded Killed

On the Isonzo front, Aug. 13.—(By Lord Northcliffe)—The Austrians are not running, but they are clearly retreating with some speed. The Italian advance is steady; steady also is the inflow of prisoners. Two thousand were brought in yesterday. Opinions differ as to where the retreat will end, but the matter emphatically is not one for public discussion.

The Austrians' bitterness of soul may be judged by their behavior. At Dolomieu Russian prisoners of war who had been brought in to make roads for the Austrians, were found hanged, possibly as a revenge for the escape of other Russian prisoners, who swam the Isonzo the other day, and reached the Italian lines after hiding four nights among the rocks. Italian wounded were found mutilated.

I have seen terrible spiked masks that are habitually used by the Austrians to break the skulls of the wounded; also stonks, with leaden balls attached to sticks, which the Austrians use to coerce fugitives.

Owing to the fact that so many Italian and Austrian soldiers have worked in the United States and Canada, it often happens that English is the only language in which they can converse mutually. Yesterday I saw a small band of prisoners being brought in by the Bersaglieri, who answered my remarks upon the stout physical appearance of the prisoners by saying in good American that "they can hold all right, Mister" at which the prisoners grinned with evident understanding.

MURDER IN NOVA SCOTIA
Digby, N. S., Aug. 13—Digby has another murder case. There is, however, but little excitement as no mystery surrounds the guilty one. From the evidence brought out at the coroner's inquest, it appears that Charles Roberts, colored, a fireman on the steamer Prince Georges, running between Boston and Yarmouth, came up on yesterday's Blue Nose, hired an automobile and was driven to the home of Luke Frances, at Westville, a village near Digby, where his wife, also colored, had been staying since Wednesday. Without any special warning he drew a 38-calibre revolver and shot her through the shoulder, killing her almost instantly. He then came out to the road and returned to Digby in the same automobile. At the post office he gave himself up to Chief of Police Peck, at the same time handing him the revolver.

He said: "She has fooled me long enough; she broke up my home, sold my stuff, and I made up my mind she would never do it again. I have tried her, I think, and I am willing to take the consequences."

The affair took place at about 11:30. An inquest was held yesterday afternoon at which the following verdict was returned.

"We, the jury empanelled to enquire into the death of Kitty Roberts, after viewing the body and hearing the evidence, concluded she came to her death as the result of wounds from a revolver fired by the hand of her husband, Charles Roberts, on this 12th day of August, 1916, in Westville, Digby county."

Roberts is now locked up in the Digby jail awaiting his preliminary examination. Charles Roberts and Kitty Keelan were married in Arrola, Yarmouth county, October 26, 1910, by the Rev. Ben Hill, a Methodist clergyman now stationed in Bermuda. Both Roberts and his wife are natives of Yarmouth county, one of Lower Salmon River, and the other of Hardwicke. At the time of the shooting there was only one woman in the house besides the victim of the tragedy, and that was Kate Frances, wife of Luke Frances. The house is a little distance from the automobile driver not knowing that a murder had been committed.

YOUNG MAN DROWNED
Herb Hoover, a young man, married about six months, was drowned on Friday at Back Bay. He was in a dingy going to Ferry Island near his home. It is supposed he was taken ill and fell from the boat and was drowned.

How a Mouse Sold a Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet

A well known doctor in a neighboring town had an occasion to go out into the kitchen one morning, and just as he did not see it, the girl was getting ready to make a cake. So as she put the bowl down in the sack to take out some flour, out jumped a mouse and ran across the floor. He made believe that he did not see it, just to see what the girl would do, and she went right on and was going to make the cake out of the flour just as if nothing happened. The doctor said to her: My Lord! Are you going to use that out? Did you not see that mouse jump out of that sack? You throw every bit of that flour away. Who knows where that mouse has been, what disease germs he might have on his body. Why, we might all have died from that pecky little mouse. I am going to put a Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet in now.

Britain the Enemy
Our firm opinion is that there is in this war no room for a compromise with England. England is the enemy who has raised up and is still keeping against us a world of enemies. We can expect from England's good will nothing for our national future. We must for the sake of a reconciliation with England abandon none of the war-aims which we have achieved by conquest and which we deem it necessary to retain in the interests of our country. The only important thing is to weaken England's power and to strengthen our own to an extent that would allow us to impose peace upon England, willy-nilly, and to make her recognize our right to existence, our right to the future, our right to access to the world and to the world's oceans.—Vossische Zeitung.

NINETY-SEVEN DAYS

This is the ninety-seventh day since Hon. P. G. Mahoney was appointed Minister of Public Works. He is still Minister of Public Works—the big spending department—though rejected by the people. How much longer will Lieut.-Gov. Wood permit this gross violation of the principles of responsible government to continue?

THE WAR NEWS

Another week begins with news of gains by the Allies on all fronts during Saturday and Sunday. The Russian advance continues, and the enemy defenses from the Pripiet Marshes to the Roumanian frontier, held by them since last winter, have been broken down. The town of Mariampol, seven miles from Halicz, which is the key to Lemberg, has been taken, along with half a dozen fortified villages before Tamopol. Whether the Austro-German armies are planning a counter stroke, as some observers believe, in order to check the Russian advance, remains to be seen; but that they have the men and the guns to do it, when the Italians, British and French are also making gains seems very doubtful.

The Italians are pursuing the great advantage already gained and continue to drive the Austrians from fortified positions. On the western front both French and British appear to have made breaches in the German third line, and have successfully resisted every counter-attack. Thus on every front the enemy is giving ground, and the moral effect of continued Allied success, even though it is slow at times, is an element in the case the full effect of which it is impossible to gauge. Up to the present time the German soldiers and people have been nursed on assurances of final triumph. Whether the growing consciousness of defeat will weaken their resistance, and to what extent, cannot be foreseen. Of the final result there can be no doubt, but when the collapse of the Central Powers will occur is still a question none may answer. We would expect a great effort on some front if the men and munitions were available, but it really does not seem possible after two years of war, and with the Allies pressing with such deadly force on all sides, that Germany could afford to risk another great offensive in any direction.

News comes also of continued British success over the Dardanelles, and there is no cause for disquiet in that direction. Sir Ashmead Bartlett believes the time is at hand for Roumania to strike, and if she does, with the aid of the Allied forces at Saloniki, both Turkey and Bulgaria would soon be eliminated and the situation of Austria and Germany made more desperate.

ON THE RIVER

From a verandah on the hill at Public Landing last evening observers saw a perfect double rainbow of such brilliance and beauty as is seldom seen in this latitude. One foot of the arch rested on the hills and the other on the river. Between the inner and outer circles a broad belt of mauve color was clearly marked for the whole half circle. There were three distinct lines of pink in the inner circle of the rainbow, one above the other, and all the colors appeared with a distinctness rarely witnessed. So wonderful was the phenomenon that one gazed in delight until the colors faded and the rainbow disappeared. There had been a dense black cloud to the northward, out of which presently came a shower of rain, much heavier up river, and as it swept across the valley the rainbow formed. Then on the hill was seen also the phenomenon of sunshine and falling rain. The hills beyond the river were still in shadow, but soon after the bow had faded the sunlight burst upon them, and they stood out in vivid green, a picture of indescribable beauty. Across the southern sky two great banks of clouds were united by a narrow bridge, and the effect was presented of giant cloud towers and peaks on either side with a slender span across which one might imagine traffic passing to and fro.

The brief storm passed, the river, whose surface had been black and ruffled by wind and rain, became placid again, and down by the shore one saw small fish leaping, flashing silver for a moment, and farther out a salmon leaping its full length into the air, making a splash whose widening circles were visible from the beach. Across the river, flying high, came a long and trailing flock of crows, winging their way to the deep woods. There must have been nearly a hundred in the flock. And then, still later, when the last warm tint of sunset had faded in the west, above a thin shimmer of white cloud rose the full moon, throwing a great path of silver across the waters and shedding a soft but glorious radiance over the summer landscape. On such an evening one is thankful to be with Nature, and to respond to such an appeal to the senses and the feelings as comes not where brick and mortar mark the skyline and the noises of the street disturb the spirit.

The harvest excursions will be doing something for the Empire, but a lot of them would look well in khaki.

UNREST IN GERMANY.

Although the majority of the German Socialists support the government, there is a minority which denounces the war in insupportable terms. The following is a copy of a manifesto distributed by this minority, to stir up a feeling of discontent among the people:

"The inevitable has arrived—famine in Leipzig, Berlin, Charlottenburg, Brunschwic, Mecklenburg, Osnabruck, and many other places. Riots have taken place in front of the provision shops, and the only solution the government is able to find is re-enforcing the state of siege and an appeal to the sabres of the police and of armed force! The government ought to have known that the consequence of a war against France, England and Russia would have been the blockade of Germany. The responsible authors of the war whine that 'wicked enemies encircle us.' But why did they themselves pursue a policy which led to this encirclement? The whole imperialist policy of conquest is a crime, and the German government has entered on a conflict with all the other states, and has had to humiliate itself to an alliance with that political corpse, Austria, and with that miserable Turkey which nothing can save from bankruptcy."

"One would have thought that the government would take measures against famine, but the government does nothing and for the mass of the people the gravity of the situation is apparent. It is said, 'We must hold out.' . . . 'We were fed on fairy tales about the effect of the submarine war, whereas it is impossible to arrest the commerce of England, even if Germany possessed the times as many submarines as she has. Our eyes were dazzled by the tale that an attack in the Balkans would give us air, and that Turkey would supply us with food. That vision has been dispelled. Now we are told about the next crop, which is to put an end to all our woes. It is one lie the more. The crop can not give us what we need."

"We have a food dictator. Too late! It is no longer a question of sharing out, because there is nothing to share. What is to happen? We must continue the war another six months, and perhaps a year, but the future generations will be sacrificed. To the dead and mutilated of the battle-fields will be added the sacrifice of the women and children. With its victims, German militarism is driven into an impasse. Women and children of the people, make your voices heard at last, and from words pass to acts. Down with the war!"

That St. John needs an abattoir has been known by some people for thirty years, and the need has grown. Halifax has set the pace. St. John should have led, but having failed to do so it should not be too far behind.

Sir Sam Hughes announces that Canada will produce that 500,000 men. Why does not Sir Sam come home and help to get them? The war has lasted a long time and it takes a long time to train soldiers. Anybody can talk. The war minister should do more.

The British, the French, the Italians and Russians have all demonstrated their ability to drive through the enemy's lines, which were fortified by months of most careful and scientific labor. It follows that they will continue to drive through until the enemy is finally beaten.

The opposition primaries in St. John are to be held on Thursday evening of this week. The places of meeting are announced in this issue of the Times. It is important that all who desire a change of government at Fredericton take an interest in these meetings, which will elect the delegates to the nominating convention. The opposition candidates in St. John should be strong men, such as will command public confidence and support. The business of the convention will be to choose such men, and the primaries should send delegates who are eager to bring about that result.

The Rotary Club and the people of Westfield are throughout exceeded their hopes on Saturday. The day was delightful, the crowd enormous, the whole affair organized to a nicety, and money was gathered in at an amazing rate. It was worth a lot to see grave and hard-headed business men throwing up their arms and doing anything from buttering bread to filling ice cream cones, or selling soft drinks, or "barking" for the special attractions in a manner to rouse the bitter envy of professionals. The like has not been seen in these parts, and a merrier crowd of people never got more enjoyment out of helping a good cause.

An enigmatic fish taken up his own bidding, but, although he worked hard, he found little to reward him for his labors. One day when he was very much depressed by the situation, a stranger accosted him and asked: "Why is it that nobody fishes in the river anymore?" "Ain't no fish," the farmer grunted. "How is it that there is no fish in such a fine river?" asked the other. "Stranger, if you could get out of this barren country as easy as a fish, kin, do ye reckon ye'd stay?"

Are You For "Preparedness"?

The best preparedness for man or woman is the preparedness that comes from living in harmony with law. In Summer cut out the heavy foods that tax bodily strength and vigor. Eat Shredded Wheat Biscuit, the food that contains all the body-building material in the whole wheat grain in a digestible form. For breakfast or luncheon with berries or other fruits.

AWAY

I cannot say, and I will not say that he is dead—he is just away.

With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand.

He has wandered into an unknown land

And left us dreaming now very fair

It needs must be since he lingers there

And you—O you who the wildest years

For the old-time step and the glad return—

Think of him faring on, so dear

In the love of There as the love of Here.

And loyal still, as he gave the blows

Of his warrior strength to his country's foes.

Mild and gentle, as he was brave—

When the sweetest love of his life he gave

To simple things; where the violets

Pure as the eyes they were likened to

The touches of his hand have strayed

As reverently as his lips have prayed.

When the little town thrush that harshly chirred—

Was dear to him as the mocking bird,

And he pitied as much as a man in pain

A writing honey bee wet with rain—

Think of him still as the same, I say!

He is not dead—he is just away!

—James Whitcomb Riley.

LIGHTER VEIN.

Murphy was in the hospital and had undergone an operation. As he was recovering he remarked to the patient on his right: "I am thankful that's over."

"O," exclaimed the patient, "at my operation the doctor left the scissors inside and I had to undergo the same again."

The patient on his left remarked that at his operation the sponge had been left and had to be gone over again.

Just as they had finished talking the doctor appeared at the door and asked: "Has any one seen my hat?"

It was then that Murphy faintly said: "There come the Gilmores. I always liked Mr. Gilmore. He is such a nice man."

He—So he is, but he is never satisfied. Before they married he said he wouldn't have an angel for a wife.

She—Well, she isn't one, is she?

He—No, but now he wishes she was. Judge.

She was from Boston; he from Oklahoma. "You have traveled a great deal in the west, have you not, Miss Bacon?"

"O, yes, indeed—in California, and Arizona and even in New Mexico."

"And did you ever see the Cherokee strip?"

There was a painful silence, but finally she looked over her glasses at him and said: "Sir, I deem your question exceedingly rude."

The Seen and the Unseen

A prisoner was arraigned before the criminal court. Present in court were Lawyers Smith, Brown and Green.

"Where is your lawyer?" inquired the judge.

"I have none," responded the prisoner, "haven't any money."

"Do you want a lawyer?" asked the judge.

"Yes, Your Honor."

"There is Mr. Smith, Mr. Brown and Mr. Green," said the judge, pointing to the young attorneys waiting briefly and breathless for something to turn up.

"and Mr. Alexander is in the corridor."

The prisoner eyed the budding attorneys, and after a critical survey said: "Well, I guess I'll take Mr. Alexander."

QUESTIONS FOR HUGHES.

(New York Sun.) The Amalgamated League of Chinese Laundry Sign Painters and Business Men's Lunch Men's Comptons decided at a meeting in Central Park yesterday to ask Charles E. Hughes ten questions so that the members may be better in-formed with President Wilson: 1. Do you think it is the humility rather than the heat of the moment that the members may be better in-formed with President Wilson: 2. Was John L. Sullivan ever cham- pion of the world? 3. Do you believe that spinach should be served with hard boiled eggs?

THREE BROTHERS IN KHAKI

Among those who signed on with the Canadian Engineers during the past few days was W. J. McDonald of the Royal Bank of Canada, Bridgetown, N. S., and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Macdonald of Moncton. He has two brothers al-ready in the service. One brother, Stanley, is a lieutenant with the 2nd High-landers, now in the trenches, and the other brother, Douglas, is a gunner with the 6th Field Battery at Woodstock. All three brothers worked in the bank before enlisting.

MASON ARRIVED AGAIN.

Frederick Mall—James Mason and Frank Williams of St. John, who came here to enlist with the 28th Highlan-ders, had a clash with the police in York street which resulted in their arrest on a charge of disturbing the peace. Mason is charged with being drunk and resisting the police, and Williams is charged with disor-derly conduct. A charge of disturbing the peace was also laid by a Chinese who conducts a laundry in King street. The two were remanded until Monday.

RECOVERY OF NEW JERSEY WOMAN

Due To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Bridgetown, N. J.—"I cannot speak too highly of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegeta-ble Compound for Infammation and other weaknesses. I was very irregular and would have terri-ble pains so that I could hardly take a step. Sometimes I would be so miser-able that I could not sweep a room as I do now. I was a doctor's part of the time but felt no change. I later took Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound and felt a change for the better after the second day. I took it until I was in a good healthy condition. I recommend the Pinkham remedies to all women who have used them with good results."—Mrs. MILFORD T. CUMMINGS, 24 New Street, Bridgetown, N. J.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence of the excellence of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy for the distressing ills of women such as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, backache, painful periods, nervousness and kindred ailments.

Two St. John Men Killed

Gunner Clendon Cobham and Pte. Peter Gallagher Among Slain in Battle

Gunner Clendon Cobham, son of Mrs. George Cobham, of West St. John, has made the supreme sacrifice, falling in battle on July 30. Gunner Cobham was thirty-one years old and from his early youth was a member of the artillery volunteer company at West St. John. When the call came for men he enlisted with Major Magee's battery. He has two brothers now at the front, Harry with the Strathcona Horse, and Roy with the 4th Siege Battery. Prior to his enlistment he was employed with the Maritime Dredging Company.

Pte. Peter Gallagher

That Private Peter Gallagher, son of Mrs. Alice Gallagher of 43 Sheriff street, had died of wounds on July 15, was the word received by Mrs. Gallagher on Saturday. Private Gallagher was an active mem-ber of the St. Peter's Young Men's As-sociation and had a large circle of friends who will regret to learn of his death. He is survived by his parents, three brothers, Thomas, of No. 1 Construction Corps, Fred and Cecil, and two sisters, Helen and Sadie.

Leo Crawford Wounded

Word was received yesterday by Mrs. Crawford, proprietress of the Lancaster Hotel, Fairview, to the effect that her son, Leo Crawford, had been wounded on August 5, and admitted to a hospital in England. Private Crawford went overseas with the 55th and was trans-ferred to another unit.

Local Notes

Sergeant D. S. Hayden of Gagetown, a South African veteran, has enlisted in Calgary, Alberta, in the 138th battalion and expects to sail from Montreal soon for overseas. Sergeant Hayden went west about twelve years ago, took up a homestead and became an extensive farmer. Rev. A. P. Hodges, pastor of the Co-burg Christian church, who enlisted with the No. 8 Field Ambulance corps last week, preached last evening on the text "Go thou and do likewise," in which he gave the reason for his congregation for enlisting. Rev. Mr. Hodges did not tender his resignation as it is under-stood that the corps will be in the city for some weeks yet. The men of No. 8 Corps paraded to the service yesterday under command of Major S. Skinner.

SISTER SUSIE RETURNS THANKS

THE PIPERS OF THE 236TH.

The much heralded and anticipated Sister Susie picnic is now a matter of history, and has probably created a high water popularity mark. Sister Susie is delighted with the get-together spirit of the Rotary Club and Westfield residents, and wishes to thank every worker, all having been indefatigable in her ser-vice. She does not hesitate in saying that this has been the best organized and effective force she has ever worked with, and gives a similar combination again, she feels that nothing would be impossible.

COTTAGE INDUSTRIES.

St. Andrew's Beacon—The revival of cottage industries for women is being successfully carried on in this neigh-berhood under the direction of Miss Helen Mowatt. Already Miss Mowatt has thirty women employed in making braided, woven and hooked mats; knit-ting and embroidered garments and bags; and household ornaments. Besides the local products, Miss Mowatt has an ex-hibition in her show room at Beech Hill home in all shades, Indian baskets and quilt work, hand-woven quilts and slumber caps, and hand-made brass-ware. Beech Hill is situated on the right hand side of the St. John road going from St. Andrews, and commands a wonderful view of the town and the Passamaquoddy Bay.

RAFTING THE LOGS.

Frederick Mall—The final drive on the St. John river which will clean up all lumber and bring it into the booms, is now some miles below Woodstock. This drive is not large, almost all the lumber coming out on previous drives. Walter Jackson, boom manager for the St. John River Log Driving Co., stated today that about thirty million feet of lumber had been rafted already at the Douglas boom. In addition to this there have been smaller quantities rafted at Spring-hill and at the Mitchell boom, but the crews are not working at these places now. It has been estimated that about fifty million feet will be the total of the company's rafting operations this season.

GOLDEN WERRING.

F. F. Buck of Renovo, Penn., has a werring in his garden which is six feet high, and has 122 tomatoes in one cluster, ten other tomatoes on the same stem, and an abundance of blossoms, which will probably yield a good crop later.

MARRIED AT HAMPTON

Hampton, N. B., Aug. 12—A very pret- ty house wedding took place in the Methodist Parsonage here this afternoon, when Miss Beatrice Collier of Birmin- gham, England, was united in marriage with Donald Stuart Neilson of Frederic- ton, N. B. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. F. Rowley, in the pres- ence of immediate friends of the bride. The bride, who was beautifully gowned in white silk with georgette trimmings, wore a bridal veil with Juliet cap, and carried a shower bouquet of pink and white carnations. She was attended by Mrs. J. F. Rowley, while the groom was supported by Wm. Roberts of Birmin- gham. The little Misses Flora and Alma Roberts, dressed in white, were flower girls and carried baskets of white sweet peas.

The bridal party entered the parlor, which was tastefully decorated with cut flowers, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Dorothy L. Brewster. The bride received many beautiful and valuable gifts, including substantial checks, and valuable gifts from friends and relatives in England. The groom's present to the bride was a pearl and amethyst necklace, and to the flower girls, pearl and rose beads. The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with white hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Neilson will remain in Hampton over Sunday, and then they will leave on their wedding tour through Canadian and American cities. On their return they will reside in Dorchester street, St. John. Mr. and Mrs. Neilson have the best wishes of many friends for their future happiness and prosperity.

IT WASN'T ON ARARAT.

St. Andrew's Beacon—The Beacon has been honored by a visit from J. Ross Robertson, the veteran proprietor of the Evening Telegram, Toronto. Mr. Rob- ertson and his wife are guests at the Al-gonquin. When calling on us the other day Mr. Robertson inspected our print- ing office and paid us some compliments on the equipment and general arrange- ment. He was greatly interested in the old hand press, now only used for proof and for posters of limited editions, but formerly used for printing newspapers. Mr. Robertson recognized our cylinder press as one of the earliest made by Messrs. Hoe. It is of a pattern long ago superseded, and we hope soon to be able to relegate it to a museum of antiq- uity. It is a fact, as has been asserted, that it is the identical press used by Noah to print the first copies of the Beacon issued on Mount Ararat.

GOVERNMENT AND ADVERTISING

Success of War System Organized in Britain It Raised Mighty Army

Billboard and Newspaper Ads Brought $500,000,000 to Nation's Coffers From the Working Classes

London, July 30.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—When the British government at the beginning of the war covered the billboards of the country with its now famous appeal for recruits, "Your King and Country Need You," it embarked on an advertising campaign of such a nature and extent as has never before been undertaken by any nation.

work and get his new business on a "paying" basis he encountered much opposition from many sources, not excluding members of parliament. It was hard to bring the conservative British mind to accept such a radical departure, said Sir Hedley in discussing this point. "Many declared that it was undignified for a government to advertise, and others who were willing to see some advertising done held that the displays should be couched in the most dignified and stereotyped form. The idea of a government telling a woman that she was buying too many hats and expensive clothes—something which we have been doing recently—shocked them, but gradually more leeway was given to us, and the results have justified the course followed. My idea is to put out advertisements that have in them what you Americans call 'punch.' Successful business men conduct their concerns that way. Why shouldn't a government do the same?"

who "have nobly helped the war in a thousand ways," have been asked to aid further by lending their money. One advertisement which has attracted great attention is in the form of the following imaginary conversation between a civilian and a soldier, under the heading: "What is the Price of One of Your Arms?"

Billboards. After nearly two years of experiment officials emphatically declare that it pays for a government to advertise. It is estimated by some that millions of dollars have been raised in this way, and that nearly 5,000,000 recruits have been drawn to the colors by the printed appeal.

To one man is said to belong the credit of originating and carrying out this novel and elaborate campaign. He is Sir Hedley Le Bas, head of a large publishing house in London, who received his title recently as a mark of honor for the services which he had rendered his country.

During an interview with a representative of The Associated Press Sir Hedley was asked how large a staff was required to conduct such a great business for the government. He smiled and replied:

A Busy Young Man. "In getting subject matter for the advertisements I have called on various journalists and others for assistance. As to my regular staff, he is in the next room, and I assure you he is a very busy young man."

It was Sir Hedley's way of confirming what had already been said by others—that the bulk of the work had fallen on his own shoulders. His personal business has to a large extent been turned over to other hands, and he has been devoting almost his whole time to putting before the public the telling advertisements which his training as a publisher has enabled him to produce.

It was some two years before the war began that Sir Hedley conceived the idea of advertising extensively for recruits. During a conversation with Colonel (now General) Seely, who was then secretary of state for war, the Colonel asked how Sir Hedley, as a former soldier and business man, would go about to raise 80,000 recruits needed for the army. Sir Hedley instantly replied that he should advertise. The proposition was novel, but it interested the Colonel, and ultimately the recruits were advertised for with amazingly good results. The War Office was so pleased with this campaign that when the war broke out it was decided to advertise again, and Sir Hedley was called upon to engineer the work.

At first the advertisements were very conservative in tone, and before Sir Hedley was able to broaden the scope of his for the army was the same. "Your King and Country Needs You" took with instant success, and gradually there followed a long line of more elaborate advertisements. Lists of questions were propounded to men who had not enlisted, such as:

What will you say in years to come when people ask you "where did you serve in the great war?" What will you answer when your children grow up and say, "father, why weren't you a soldier, too?"

A unique advertisement was displayed in Manchester. A map showing comparative distances from London to Ostend, Belgium, and some English towns was printed, and accompanying this map was the following:

If the German army were in Manchester, every fit man in the country would enlist without a moment's delay. Do you realize that the German army is now at Ostend, only 125 miles away, or forty miles nearer to London than is Manchester? How much nearer must the Germans come before you do something to stop them? The German army must be beaten in Belgium. The time to do that is now. Will you help? Yes! Then enlist today. God save the King!

Still another advertisement contained the following appeal to those who employed male servants:

Have you a butler, groom, chauffeur, gardener or gamekeeper serving you who at this moment should be serving your King and country? Have you a man serving your table who should be serving your garden who should be digging trenches? Have you a man driving your car who should be driving a transport wagon? Have you a man preserving your game who should be helping to preserve your country? Have you a man whose responsibility rests upon you. Will you sacrifice your personal convenience for the best recruiting advertisements of the war? Is your "best boy" wearing khaki? If not, don't you think he should be? If he does not think that you and your country are worth fighting for, do you think he is worthy of you? Don't pity the girl who is alone—her young man probably is a soldier, fighting for her and her country—and for you, if your young man neglects his duty to Ireland, the time may come when he will neglect you. Think it over, then ask your young man to join an Irish regiment today. Ireland will appreciate your help.

This appeal met with great success, said Sir Hedley. "The young women flouted these advertisements at the young men on the streets until in self defence a stream of volunteers began to pour into the recruiting offices. It was a plea which by its very simplicity and truth reached home."

War Loan Appeals. From the campaign for raising recruits Sir Hedley turned to treasury advertising for the war loans. He submitted to Mr. McKenna, Chancellor of the Exchequer, a plan for a campaign. It was a radical venture for the conservative Treasury Department, but Mr. McKenna believed that it would pay and had the courage to approve Sir Hedley's scheme. "Last sums have been needed, and the advertisements have been made strong to meet the occasion. Business men have been appealed to with such crisp hits as "Use your money to save the lives of the men who are fighting your battles," and "Turn your sovereigns into soldiers." Even the women, but his ads with us. "I have been a decided turn in favor of economy throughout the country."

"To dress extravagantly in war time is worse than bad form—it is unpatriotic," is one of the sharp exhortations which have been turned at the British public. Another poster reads: "New clothes should only be bought when and where necessary, and these should be durable and suitable for all occasions. Luxurious forms, for example, of hats, boots, shoes, stockings, gloves and handkerchiefs should be avoided." Many other advertisements have been put out along this line, but the gist of them is given in the following:

You are helping the Germans when you use a motor car for your own use. You employ more servants than you need, when you waste coal, electric light, or gas, when you eat and drink more than is necessary to your health and efficiency. Set the right example, free labor for more useful purposes, save money and lend it to the nation and so help your country."

Sir Hedley stated that the working classes have turned over for government use nearly 2,000,000,000 from their savings bank. Sir Hedley believes that the advertisements have been responsible for the deposit of a large proportion of this amount.

THE APPETITE OF YOUTH QUICKLY RESTORED

Appetite is useless unless digestion is good. Dr. Hamilton's Pills make tremendous appetite and keep digestion up to the mark as well. The liver, bowels and kidneys are stimulated, the stomach strengthened, and robust health quickly follows. Dr. Hamilton's Pills instill vigor and snap into the system, make folk feel youthful and happy. Little Johnnie Williams was crying hard when he walked into school the other morning, accompanied by his mother.

"Toothache, I suppose, Mrs. Williams," observed the master, as he noticed the team running down Johnnie's bulging cheeks.

"No, it ain't toothache," snapped the lady; "that's what of food and vulgar fractions, that is. You ought to be ashamed of yourself, that you do, settin' in child such things to do. Up before six this mornin', the boy was tryin' to find out before 'e 'ad 'is breakfast, that, s'posin' 'e 'ad forty-nine apples and 'e give 'is Uncle George two-sevenths, 'is Aunt Rachel one-seventh, 'is brother Bob three-sevenths, and kept the rest 'isself, 'ow many they'd each 'ave."

"Well, it ain't well," continued the lady, "cos 'e tried to do the sum with marbles 'stead of apples. Uncle George's lot is in 'is right 'and, and 'e's got 'is Aunt Rachel's in 'is left—she's got seven, and 'e's got seven left for 'isself in 'is coat pocket; but 'ow many Brother Bob 'ad 'even only knows, 'cos Johnnie put them in 'is mouth an' they've got wedged in."

At the last survey there were 417 ocean cables in the world, representing 283,462 miles.

Circulation Prestidigitators

The sole object of the "A. B. C." Audit Bureau of Circulations is to protect honest advertisers and honest publishers, by doing away with circulation errors and the mis-statements of circulation prestidigitators.

Those publishers of Newspapers, magazines, farm journals and trade publications, all over America who form the great bulk of the membership of the "A. B. C." believe that the man who buys advertising space is entitled to an honest and unbiased circulation count—a count as dependable as a certified check.

These publishers, together with advertisers and advertising agencies, are spending their money to support the "A. B. C.", to pay for the services of trained auditors, and they ask the support and patronage of every man who buys advertising space and wants to buy it WISELY.

When you place your advertising with a publisher who is a member of the "A. B. C.", you are protecting your own interests and helping to place the entire business of advertising on a cleaner, safer, and more efficient basis.

Evening Times and Star newspapers in New Brunswick—and are therefore the only newspapers prepared to furnish advertisers with complete and accurate information concerning their circulations. A fact to be considered by careful advertisers who buy advertising as they would their raw material or stock of goods!

NOVA SCOTIA RED CROSS SUMMARY OF YEAR'S WORK IN THE SISTER PROVINCE

The annual official report of the Nova Scotia Red Cross provides ample evidence of the generosity with which the maritime province has contributed to the cause of the wounded. The total cash contributions during the year amounted to $84,170, of which $7,228 was contributed by Halifax. The sum of $11,804 was turned over to the head office as a contribution to the general funds of the Canadian society. Throughout the province there are fifty-five branches and subsidiary branches with more than 8,000 members paying annual fees. The Halifax Society has 971 members, there are 177 in Windsor, seventy-nine in Wolfville, eighty-five in Truro and 100 in Sydney.

A large quantity of supplies has been made up and sent to the front. The grand total amounts to 416,902 knitted, sewed and manufactured articles, such as mouth wipes, soaps, chocolate, tobacco, etc. The total number of surgical articles was 304,000.

This is an exceedingly creditable record for Nova Scotia. The province has admirably discharged its Red Cross duty.

Margaret is a three-year-old whose parents are fond of bacon and eggs, and Margaret has her share. One day in the country she heard for the first time a hen cackle. "O, mamma," she exclaimed, "what does the hen say?" "Well," her mother smiled, "I suppose she says she has laid an egg."

Margaret did not understand the smile, and after a moment's profound thought she came back again. "And what does she say, mamma," she inquired, more seriously "than before?" "What does she say when she lays bacon?"

GERMANS QUAFF OWN MEDICINE

British Sending Gas Fumes Into Enemy Trenches

Effects Soon Fatal

Manner in Which the Tanks Are Operated Against Trenches

London, Aug. 14—Before the "big squeeze" began discussion of British gas attacks was strictly prohibited, but a British "gasmaster" has been allowed to write a graphic account of the work of his own special corps, whose business it is, he says, "to doctor the Germans with their own medicine." "Behind our lines," he writes, "the sun set in a blaze of glory. A glance over the parapet shows the green and russet of the poppled No Man's Land already merging into the grey mists of twilight, but 150 yards away, like a broken earth shadow among the greys, hangs the rusty barbed wire of the enemy, and just beyond a white, chalky spit of earth marks his front-line trench. The gasmen stare across the silent shadows at that white line, and for a moment they think of the choky, gurgling cough of the men who die by gas. It is not pleasant to die by gas.

know that as soon as the greenish-gray clouds appear outside their parapet there will be running messengers and hurried telephoning to the German lines. They know that within a few minutes the word will have reached the German big guns of the back, and that every piece capable of flattening a parapet and burying them, mangled and broken, among their own cylinders will be concentrated upon the front line trench in which they stand. "Time! Over the top the jet-pipes are flung, and then, simultaneously along almost two miles of trench, there arises a silent hiss, as of some monstrous and venomous snake suddenly aroused from slumber. Now the gasmen are working frantically with wheel and spanner and key, and the hiss increases in shrillness and volume. Outside the parapet the green poison fog is already spreading like a foul blanket over No Man's Land. Carried ceaselessly forward its outer edge is rapidly approaching the German trenches, into which it will presently sink, spreading agony and death among those who cannot escape. "No rifle or machine gun fire has been ordered this time, and from either line scarcely a sound is heard, except the hiss on the left. A 'chuck' rattles past in tense, ominous quiet. Nature herself seems to rise aghast to watch this devilry over her children upon one another. "Behind their masks the gasmen begin to breathe more freely, and then suddenly on the left 'chuck' again, and yet again. This time on the right, somewhere close at hand. The men crouch lower over their cylinders, the explosions follow one another almost too rapidly to count, and in any case their minds are no longer fitted to count—or care. Only the valves must be turned, and the pipes must be watched, and the sudden spurt of vapor which marks a leak must be checked by the application of a handful of mud, which the gasmen immediately freeze into an iron-hard and impenetrable mass. "In one of the bays the parapet rocks suddenly and falls forward, burying the men and their cylinders. Almost immediately the men scramble out unhurt, and the sudden spurt of vapor which is filling the trench, and the gas is again directed outside, what is left of the trench. But one of the men has had the mouthpiece of his respirator broken and already he is coughing and choking painfully. 'I've got it!' he gasps starkly, and goes behind the traverse to suck an ammonia ampule and die slowly. "Closing up time! Rapidly the valves are shut down, the jet pipes withdrawn and plugged and stacked away. Feverishly the men work at bagging up their cylinders again. Imperceptibly a sergeant stalks down the ruined and battered trench, shepherding his flock toward the dug-out. He is an old-time transfer from the infantry—and he scarcely quivers as a shell bursts behind a trench he has long left. He directs two of the men to carry an unconscious case to the nearest point of communication, where stretcher-bearers may be found. "In the dug-out, with the shells still pounding overhead, the sentry's roll is called. Most of the men answer by their names. Some are answered by comrades, and some by others no one answers at all. "But over in the German trenches hundreds of men are choking and gasping in agony for an hour before they can die. They have been made to quaff their own medicine."

POOR MEMORY TROUBLESOME

It May be Strengthened

The brain is a great nerve battery that presides over all the powers and impulses of the human body. Very frequently as a result of poor blood it becomes enfeebled and a general weakness of the entire system follows. No remedy possesses the marvelous brain strengthening power that Ferrone's has demonstrated in thousands of cases. It contains an abundance of phosphorus and iron which are essential in the formation of red vitalizing blood, and in this way supplies the brain with extra power to perform its numerous and important duties. Ferrone's is the best preparation for brain workers, and those inclined to a sedentary life. It improves the appetite, insures good digestion, regulates the bowels, and helps the stomach to do its work. Lawyers, ministers, and those whose occupation entails much thinking and brain labor, will find Ferrone's of immense value, because of its power to stimulate mental activity. Students who take Ferrone's regularly, find it not only gives the brain, and makes it more receptive, but makes them strong in body as well as mind. A medical student of Toronto University, who has proved the good qualities of Ferrone's, says: "On my study table there is always a place for Ferrone's. I find by keeping my digestion in perfect order, and maintaining a splendid appetite, it enables me to accomplish a good deal of hard work. I consider Ferrone's at the same time food for the brain, the blood and the nerves, and can highly recommend it." Very few are so strong and healthy that a course of Ferrone's would not benefit them. It is good for the young and old alike, and is prepared in convenient tablet form, price per box 50 cents, sold by all druggists.

GERMANS FIRED ON WOUNDED CANADIAN

Narrow Escape of Major Lafèche, of Sorel

RESCUERS ARE REWARDED

Wounded Officer Relates How Germans Give Themself Up, They Are So Sick of War

London, July 28—To be severely wounded, lie several hours in the black darkness unattended in the trenches, and then to be fired at by machine guns and snipers while being removed by brave stretcher-bearers over the lines—this was the experience of Major L. A. Lafèche, of Montreal, who was wounded in the middle of June and now lies in the Empire Hospital at Westminster. Five of the men who volunteered and succeeded in removing their officer have just been awarded the Military Cross for their valor on this occasion. Major Lafèche mentioned two of them, viz., Ernest Gagne, of Rimouski, and Wilfrid Grimard of Montreal. Their plucky action was also recognized by their companions in the 22nd Battalion, who subscribed $100 and distributed the amount among the five. Major Lafèche comes from Sorel, Que., but when he enlisted he was living in Montreal, where he was manager of a west end branch of the Molsons Bank. He came over with the 41st Battalion, and when that unit was split up he was posted to the 22nd at the front in April, and within a very short time was given command of "C" Company. He was pleased to find that some of his men who had been in the 41st were also in the 22nd. In the mid-June action his battalion was sent up to the front line trenches, and though it was a tough ordeal, they managed to crawl through the awful barrage without such heavy losses as certain other battalions suffered. Once in, they had a still hotter time. The trenches were in a horribly battered condition, and there were no deep dugouts to afford protection from the hail of high explosive shells. Moreover, owing to the barrage it was exceedingly difficult to get supplies through, so that food was very scant, though happily water was not. Had A Wonderful Escape. It was high explosives which put Major Lafèche out of action, and it was wonderful that he escaped with his life. About midnight on the 16th June the parapet of the trench was hit by one of those high explosive shells, the trench was practically demolished, and Major Lafèche was in the wreckage, unconscious, with injuries to limbs and face. There he lay until six o'clock next day, when it was decided to make a try to remove him. There was no communication trench, and the only chance lay in lifting him over on to the top ground. As the stretcher was carried over, it was "spotted" by the enemy, who deliberately turned their machine guns on to it, while two or three snipers also aimed. One man was wounded, but the remaining bearers succeeded in getting away with their burden. Major Lafèche, in fact, only recovered consciousness through this incident. He declared that there was no doubt as to the intent of the enemy; they could see and aimed at the red Cross, knowing full well what they were firing at. Major Lafèche was very cheery when seen at the Empire Hospital, though one arm was in a sling, the other hand was bandaged, and his face bore marks of what he had passed through. He asserted that the end of the war could not be far off, that he had seen German soldiers sneak in and beg to be taken prisoners, as they were sick of it all. French-Canadian Bravery. This attitude he contrasted with that of our troops, especially referring to the French-Canadian battalion with which he was associated. Was there any difficult and dangerous work to be done, then a dozen men would volunteer at once for it. Whatever the weather and other circumstances, might be, he found his men were cheerful and disposed to make the best of things. Major Lafèche spoke with gratitude of the kindness shown him since reaching London, where, although he had no relatives, he had received numerous visits from other officers and Canadian Red Cross workers. Capt. George Vanier, of Montreal, one of his fellow-officers, who was wounded at a building in Exeter, N.H., fled, leaving an automobile behind him.

Bull Hospital for officers at Putney Heath, and is greatly improved in health.

MRS. BLACKADAR'S FUNERAL

(Friday's Recorder)

The funeral of Carrie E., wife of C. C. Blackadar, was held yesterday afternoon from her late residence, 501 Pleasant street, and the cortege, which was very large, was attended by many prominent citizens, including Lieutenant-Governor MacKenzie and Premier Murray. The funeral services at the house were most impressive, being taken part in by Ven. Archdeacon Armitage, Rector of St. Paul's church, Rev. V. S. Harris, Canon of All Saints' Cathedral, and Rev. J. A. Winfield, Vicar of All Saints' church, Bedford. In his address, Archdeacon Armitage eulogized upon the Christian character and good works performed by Mrs. Blackadar during her life long membership of St. Paul's, which will long be remembered.

Washington, Aug. 13—The Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America was on record Friday in opposition to the growing use of intoxicants by women and girls. Resolutions to that effect were adopted and officers elected, headed by the Rev. John G. Bean of Pittsburgh at the closing session of the Union Thursday night.

SUNDAY LIQUOR CASES; FINES IN POLICE COURT

On Saturday afternoon Detectives Barrett and Briggs, visited all the saloons in the North End in an attempt to do away with so much Sunday drinking by picking out the "hang-ers-on." It could not be ascertained for certain just what their report was, but it is understood that they saw some things which will, in the course of time, call for action from the police. Sunday drinking and the number of Sunday arrests are becoming too noticeable and it is declared that, in no small measure, to pocket peddling. This is the root of the Sunday evil and the detectives and the entire police department are bent upon finding out the guilty ones and bring them to justice.

As a result of the activities of the detectives they arrested three drunks on Sunday and arrested Henry McDonald in charge of selling liquor without a license. He was found in the act of selling a bottle for $1.50 to another person at the foot of St. David street. McDonald was fined the full penalty of $100 for selling liquor without a license. He pleaded guilty.

Frank Gallagher, for supplying liquor to a soldier in uniform pleaded guilty and was fined $50 or three months in jail.

Six drunks were fined $8 or two months in jail.

The magistrate said that he would call the attention of the license inspector and detectives to the fact that only sober men were to be sold liquor and in the case of any one else being supplied the one who supplied the spirits was liable to a big penalty.

Double Downing At Salmon River

Charles Carroll and Moses' Brown Lose Lives

A double drowning accident occurred at Brown's Landing, Salmon River, on Saturday, when Charles Carroll, aged twenty-two, of Scotchtown, and Moses B. Brown, of Coal Mines, aged fifty, were drowned in the waters of Salmon River under very sad circumstances.

From what is known of the accident it seems that Carroll had boarded the steamer May Queen at Scotchtown and was on his way to visit the Brown home in Coal Mines. As the boat did not pull into the wharf at Brown's Landing, Mr. Brown came out in a small boat to take Carroll ashore. One story is that Carroll, in stepping into the small boat from the steamer, stumbled and fell into the water. Mr. Brown made an attempt to save him and he reached out his hand upon the row boat he was occupying. Carroll came up only once and was not seen again. Mr. Brown being thrown into the water also went down before help could reach him from the steamer or wharf.

There also has arisen the matter of the starting signal on the steamer, with report that the vessel hit the row boat. An inquest is being held.

It was understood that young Carroll was to be married to one of Mr. Brown's daughters in the near future. Mr. Brown leaves a wife and a large family. He was well known in the North End, where he did business with the merchants for years.

The May Queen is expected at Indian-town this evening, and with her coming the full particulars of the occurrence will be available.

Immediately after the accident grappling began, but it was not until about 9 o'clock on Saturday night that the two bodies were recovered. The sad tidings spread a gloom over the entire community about the Grand Lake. It is understood that Carroll has relatives in St. John.

The funeral of Mr. Brown took place this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

TWO CHILDREN DIE AT ROCKLAND, MAINE

Infantile Paralysis Fatal in Two Cases; Three Other Children Stricken.

Rockland, Aug. 14.—The dread scourge of infantile paralysis has made its appearance in Rockland. The deaths of Beverly Clayton, child of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Karl, Granite street, and a child of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Shute of Willow street, are attributed to that cause.

The local health officers are responsible for the statement that there are three other cases, two in the family of Roy Sartelle in Rockland street, and another in the Shute family.

The Karl child was in its third year. The disease worked rapidly, and although there were five physicians on the case it was apparent almost from the start that the little one was doomed.

Dr. A. C. Young, secretary of the State Board of Health, after pronouncing the suspected cases infantile paralysis, ordered the local board to establish quarantine.
