CITY GOVERNMENT

The Standard offers several objections to the adoption of the commission plan of city government in St. John. One is that St. John has got along for 125 years with its present charter, and that this precious document should not be "ruthlessly torn up."

In reply it may be observed that men got along with wooden ploughs till they were able to get better ones, and fireplaces till they were able to get stoves, and horse-paths till they were able to get highways and railroads. It has been the habit of mankind always to abandon one device when a better one was discovered. St. John is now about to abandon an outgrown system of city government for a modern method.

The board of trade is right in doing to the Standard what it is doing to the Standard. The Standard's second objection is that a departure from the "British form of representative government" is threatened, and that we seem to be running after Yankee notions. A weaker objection could scarcely be imagined.

But the Standard says it is proposed to spend $12,000 a year in salaries for five men who will have little or nothing to do. Apparently the Standard does not understand that it is proposed to apply business principles to the government of the city under the commission, and that there would therefore be plenty to do. Under the present go-as-you-please system the city is continually wasting money that would be put to good use in the interests of the taxpayers by commissioners who were held personally responsible for their conduct of affairs. They would find plenty to do, and the city would profit by their doing it. Mayor Frink, after much experience with present methods, has declared his conviction that far better results would be obtained by having men meet every day to attend to the city's business; and men of business experience in the present council agree with him.

The Montreal Herald says:—"It is interesting to be told by the comptroller of the Department of Railways and Canals that in the past year the railways of Canada increased their earnings by 22.8 per cent." The figures give a pretty good indication of the economic condition of the Dominion, whose general prosperity, resulting from the development of the country's productive industry and commerce, is attested by many facts.

An exchange gives this interesting item of news concerning practical Christianity: "A Chicago Hebrew, the president of a great mail order house, has given $25,000 for the foundation of a negro Young Men's Christian association branch. He had already given money for a Y. M. C. A. branch in the neighborhood where reside the wage earners of his company. A professing Hebrew, he gives every time he gets a chance to the extension of the Y. M. C. A."

The salary of the commissioners is held up by the Standard as a large item of needless expenditure, but the city would save many times the salary in better service. With regard to the election of an auditor, there does not appear to be any danger that a good man would not be elected. He is one of the people's safeguards, and they might fairly be assumed to have sufficient intelligence to choose one who would be both able and independent. The Standard, however, in its whole article, appears to imply a doubt whether the people can be trusted. It admits that there is need of change, and says the number of aldermen should be reduced, and more systematic business methods prevail; but it is opposed to a radical change.

St. John has been trying long enough to patch up its city government so that business-like methods might be secured. All these efforts have failed. The mayor declares that this is true, and the alder members of the council agree with him. The time has come for a radical change. The commission plan of government has proved a success wherever tried. It should be adopted in St. John.

THE FARM PROBLEM

How to attach people to the soil, and prevent the drift to cities, was the subject of serious discussion at the annual convention of the Ontario Agricultural and Experimental Union, held in Guelph, this week. The Mail and Empire says that among the measures of prevention advocated at the meeting were better and more widely diffused teaching of agriculture to the young, road improvement, rural mail delivery, telephone service, and trolley lines. To this the Toronto news-

KIDNEY MISERY OR BLADDER TROUBLE SIMPLY VANISHES

No More Backache or Urinary Trouble for St. John Folks Who take This Splendid Kidney Regulator

No reader of this paper, whether man or woman, need be miserable because of Backache or kidney or bladder disorders. The time to cure kidney trouble is while it is only trouble—before it settles into Dropsy, Gravel, Diabetes or Bright's Disease.

Pape's Diuretic acts at once upon the kidneys, bladder and entire urinary system, cleanses, heals and regulates these organs, ducts and glands, and completes its cure within a few days. The moment you suspect any kidney or urinary derangement, or feel constant dull backache or notice that the urine is thick, cloudy or offensive, or a sensation of burning passage or stinging, or a frequent desire to urinate, you should take Pape's Diuretic as directed. It is a safe, reliable, and effective remedy, and its price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect a permanent cure.

Misery in the back, sides of joints, sick headache, inflamed or painful, nervousness, prostatic trouble, micturition and darting pains, heart palpitations, bilious stomach, dizziness, sleeplessness, listless, weak, worn-out feeling, or other symptoms caused by inactive, sluggish kidneys, simply vanish. Uncontrollable urination (especially at night), smarting, discolored water and all bladder misery ends.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker, or any mercantile agency will vouch for the responsibility of Pape, Thompson & Pape of Cincinnati, Ohio, who prepare Pape's Diuretic. It is the best treatment—sold by every druggist in the world.

THE ENTHUSIAST

(Edward Sydney Tyee, in the Spectator, London.)

His face is glorious with a beam Unborrowed from our earthly skies; The radiance of a heavenly dream Is on his brow and in his eyes; And in his breast the unconquered heart That fails not when we fail, or fail, That sees his earliest friends depart One after one, and doth not quail.

One after one they go, the bold, common ones, wind and hand; For under stormy skies and cold Their march is through a barren land. And some their earlier faith deride, (For man is man and seeks his own) Till the last soldier saves his soul, And the worn pilgrim walks alone.

Leopard and leopard-hearted men! About his perilous pathway prowling; At even from his mountain den Comes the grey wolf, resounding howl; The heavy hunter's shining mail Is on his wary shoulders laid, A helmet shields his forehead pale, Gleams in his hand the naked blade.

But o'er the desert's quivering lines He sees the city from afar. By day a polished pestle shines, By night it glitters like a star. He doth not feel his bleeding feet, And when his rightly-learned spread, The pavement of the golden street Resechoes to his dreaming tread.

Till his thin, shadowed temples tell His living journey well-nigh done, And 'neath the rock-wood citadel He drags himself at set of sun. There, while he lingers, half in doubt, He feels a just man begin to speak, And lo! three shining ones come out, And lead the weary traveller in.

"The price of meat has fallen," said my neighbor unto me, And I took him for a fellow, who was happy as could be; A man upon the street car whom I never saw before, Said: "The price of meat is dropping, we can have a steak one more."

I replied, in the paper, and I heard it on the street, Everybody paused to tell me of the cheaper price of meat; But the butcher "om" with, when to him I had referred it, Said: "My friend, I do not doubt you, but somehow I haven't heard it."

The grocer on the corner knows that meat is cheaper now, The plumber and the baker have discovered it somehow; My tailor tells me porteriouse is quite within his reach, The parson says upon the cheaper prices soon he'll preach.

The mail man and the gas man, and the man who brings our ice, The coal man and the druggist know that meat is down in price, But when I asked my butcher if he'd heard that meat was down, He simply said he hadn't and dismissed me with a frown.

In the corner she's left the mechanical toy. On a chair is her Teddy Bear fine, The things that I thought she would really enjoy.

Don't seem to be quite in her line. There's the flaxen haired doll that is lovely to see.

And really expensively dressed, Left alone, all unshared for, and, strange though it be, She likes her rag dolly the best.

Oh, the money we spent, and the plans that we laid And the wonderful things that we bought!

There are toys that are cunningly, skillfully made But she seems not to give them a thought.

She was pleased when she woke and discovered them there, But never a one of us guessed, That it isn't the splendor that makes a gift rare— She likes her rag dolly the best.

There's the flaxen-haired doll, with the real human hair. There's the Teddy Bear left all alone; There's the automobile at the foot of the stair.

And there is her top telephone. We thought they were fine, but a little child's eyes Look deeper than ours to find charm. And now she's in bed, and the rag dolly lies Snuggled close on her little white arm.

MARKET BUILDING; CITY HALL

Committee Had in Mind Project to Add Another Story and Place City Offices and Council Room There

In connection with the project for a new city hall, in Market Square, which the municipal council will consider on Tuesday next, in a recommendation from the buildings committee, it is interesting to learn that the market committee, which is soon to go out of existence, had been giving some thought to the question of adding another story to that structure, and providing for city offices and council chamber, etc., there.

In the report of the committee submitted to the common council at its last meeting, it was suggested that the market building be enlarged to include the whole building from Charlotte to Germain street. If this was done it was claimed that there would be room enough for all the city under one roof.

Some of the aldermen are known to be opposed to the erection of a building on the Market Square, as it is claimed the city has too few squares and open places as it is, and a building on the Market square would utterly destroy it, as it now exists. The matter is likely to create a lively discussion in the council on Tuesday.

At a meeting of the buildings committee of the municipal council last evening plans were submitted by Architect H. H. Mott, for a seven story building, estimated to cost about $225,000 to $250,000, to be used as a city and county building. The location in view is the Market square. The proposal is to sell the present city hall and court house and possibly other buildings. The county secretary, Councilors Macdonald, White and Donovan were appointed to prepare an estimate of the value of the city and county assets in the way of buildings and report to the council on Tuesday.

BEAR BITES OFF LITTLE ONE'S FINGER

She Was Feeding Peanuts to Big Polar in Central Park Menagerie, New York

New York, Jan. 13.—"Don't blame the nice bear; it was all my fault," said ten-year-old Lauretta Potts, whose little brother Jim, the polar bear, in the Central park menagerie, bit off the end of one of her fingers.

"I'm so afraid they will blame the bear," continued the child, "and, really, I had no right inside the railing, and in the next place I find that I should have kept my fingers flat while trying to feed him."

Lauretta is the great-granddaughter of the founder of Potomac, Pa. Her father is Geo. E. Potts, of Potomac, and while visiting in New York she was the guest of her father's brother-in-law, A. G. Paine, Jr., who lives at No. 18 West Forty-ninth street.

Lauretta was taken to Central park by her mother, a maid employed by Mr. Paine. The girl said the park was "nearly as nice as in Philadelphia," but she became frightened when the menagerie was reached.

Mr. Paine in telling of the accident, said: "Lauretta had been buying peanuts and feeding them to the squirrels, and when she reached the bears she wished to keep on feeding the animals."

"Before anyone could stop her she slipped under the iron railing and offered a peanut to one of the polar bears. I do not believe that the animal was vicious, but Lauretta, instead of holding the peanut in her hand, extended it in her fingers through the bars of the cage."

"In the most friendly fashion the bear grabbed at the peanut, but in doing so slipped the end of the middle finger of my little niece. The finger nail was destroyed and possibly one-fourth of an inch of the finger was taken off."

"The child was brought home at once in an automobile and several physicians were summoned. The girl's grandfather was president of the National Park bank."

CRIMINAL OFFENSE TO SELL BAD EGGS

Montreal and Toronto Boards of Trade Will Seek Legislation

Montreal, Jan. 14.—As the result of united efforts on the part of the Montreal Produce Merchants' Association, the Montreal Board of Trade and the Toronto Board of Trade, an attempt will be made to secure legislation making it criminal to offer for sale bad eggs.

At a meeting of the Montreal Produce Merchants' Association the matter was brought up and President Gunn said that figures prepared by the association showed that during last year 1,000,000 dozen of eggs in Canada were rendered unfit for consumption by late marketing. The loss by this was estimated at $3,600,000. Out of a total production of 120,000,000 dozen of eggs a year in Canada, it was estimated that fully seventeen per cent were spoiled by delay in marketing. President Gunn announced that efforts were being made to secure a system of standardizing eggs and also to have it made a criminal offense to sell bad eggs.

AT CHUBB'S CORNER.
At Chubb's corner this morning Auctioneer Potts sold two houses belonging to the estate of the late Sgt. J. G. B. 82 and 84 Elmwood street. The purchaser was William J. Alexander, who bid the two houses in for $27,000.

On the Market Square Auctioneer Webster sold seven sleighs, a gladiator for $45, kang, $45, sleigh, $10, also one for $13, a set of harness for $9.50 and a robe for $7.50.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

The newly elected officers of Pioneer Lodge, I.O.O.F., were installed last evening by Grand Master A. D. Smith, assisted by officers of Peerless Lodge. There was a large attendance. It is expected that a new lodge will be opened next week in Fairville.

DIED IN THE WEST

The body of Harold J. Burgard was brought here by noon from Alberta accompanied by Mrs. Sloan. The funeral will be held from the Church of England at Belleville tomorrow at 2.30. I. C. B. no. 10, J. C. Smith and his daughter went out today to attend the funeral.

Drangmen of Hampton, Norton and Saxe will also attend.

THE SPIRIT OF WINTER

The Spirit of Winter is with us, making its presence known in many different ways—sometimes by heavy snows and driving winds and blinding storms. To many people it seems to take a delight in making bad things worse, for rheumatism twinges harder, twinges sharper, starks become more annoying, and many symptoms of sore throats are developed and aggravated. There is not much to be done in this, but there is a truth, and it is a wonder that more people don't get rid of these ailments. The medicine that cures them—Hood's Sarsaparilla—is easily obtained and there is abundant proof that its cures are radical and permanent.

BURIAL AT BELLSIDE.
The body of Miss Laura B. Wetmore was taken to Belleville this morning and the funeral is to take place there this afternoon. Service was conducted at her home, 272 Gertrude street, last evening by Rev. Miles Trafton.

ROLL-OFF TONIGHT.
The fortnightly roll-off of St. Peter's Y. M. C. A. bowlers will take place this evening. The prize is a box of cigars and it is expected that the contest will be lively.

THE EVENING CHIT-CHAT

By RUTH CAMERON

I N a book of essays that I was reading the other day this sentence smote me into thoughtfulness:

"How many, many homes there are from which gaiety has been banished not by sorrow but by grievances and complaints."

If I were a minister I think I should preach on that thought just about once a year.

I was talking with a young girl the other day who had just lost her sister. It was the first death in a family of six.

"Do you know what one of the saddest thoughts is to me?" she said. "It's the thought that while we had each other before that terrible thing happened we weren't half so happy as we should have been. We let the most foolish little quarrels and grievances and troubles make us unhappy. Just think of it! When we had each other and ought to have been perfectly happy. It makes me fairly wild to think of it."

I wonder if there is anyone who after a loss does not think something like that. "Why wasn't I happier when I had so much to make me happy? Why did I let little things keep me from being happy?"

You people who have all your dear ones with you, who have one of those hearts where there is no "vacant chair" are you making the most of that great blessing?

Are you being as happy as you ought to be?

Or are you letting "grievances and complaints" and other little troubles and annoyances mar that precious happiness?

Did this Christmas which has just passed you have a litter, sweet memory of the "big brother" used to bring his presents down Christmas eve for mother to help him wrap them up, or "how little sister did scream last year when she found it was actually a real live gold ring?" to add to your day?

But are you as absolutely entirely happy as you should have been? Or did you let some little misunderstanding, some foolish dissatisfaction taint that happiness?

Some day when there is a vacant chair will you have to say, "Oh, if I had only been happier when I could have!"

And then you people who have one or two vacant chairs, who can't be as cheerfully happy as you used to be, are you being as happy as you can be with what you have left? You look back on "the day before" with longing. Do you realize that you may sometime look back on "the present days" with equal longing? Are you making the most of them?

You don't like to be reminded of such dismal possibilities, you say, "Fugate me, I know it is time enough to feel sorrow when it comes. Don't you think my suggestion is a wise one?"

WEEKLY COTTON LETTER

(J. M. Robinson & Sons, Bankers and New York, Jan 14—The census report issued today showing 11,887,442 gained to January 1st, indicates a gaining for the last period of 288,960 bales, compared with 280,842 bales for the same period last year or 22,880 bales per working day against 16,978 bales for the period last year. This report is to be followed by two additional statements the first of which will be issued on January 23, and show the gain to January 16th, while the final report will be published after a margin of 300,000 bales to bring the total gain for the season up to the Government's estimate of 11,820,000 bales and as the actual gain after January 16th last year was only 425,000 bales today's statement may mean a total gain of 300,000 bales in excess of the government's forecast. We understand that the National Cotton Producers' Association claims that the gain for this period includes 250,000 bales of threshed cotton, which has not been allowed for in its December estimates placing the total gain at 11,120,000 bales.

Domestic dry goods reports are showing a little improvement, sales at Fall River for the past week being the largest for some time past, but there is still every prospect of a further gain by the mills of this country, and owing to the recently noted feeling that because of poor trade on this side, and the prospect of a somewhat larger crop than formed the original basis of extreme bullish predictions, the discrepancy between supplies and demand may not be so marked as anticipated earlier in the winter, attention is naturally turning to the prospects for the next crop, as likely to be a most important factor during the spring and summer in determining the valuation placed by holders upon the present crop remnant.

Of course no definite view of the new crop can be formulated at this time but there are certain features in the situation which are worthy of close attention, as manufacturers can hardly view with equanimity anything short of perfect early conditions until they have accumulated a reserve, or until the South has again produced an adequate supply, which in view of the two seasons, should not be considered much less than 13,500,000 bales. These features are: first, the progress of the boll weevil; second, the decreased production of Texas because of gradually exhausted soil; and second, with more particular reference to the coming season, the deficiency of rainfall in the south west.

Considering the unfavorable features from a future supply standpoint, the rapid reduction of unused supplies in the south and the inadequacy of the present crop to meet normal requirements, we see little prospect in the situation to warrant optimism, or anything of the nature of a general buying interest.

THE WIDOW FIANDER

Mr. Terry and His Company in Pleasing English Comedy in Farewell Today

A comedy never before seen here was the offering of Edward Terry and his company in the Opera House last evening and it was greatly enjoyed by a very large audience. Flander's Widow is the name of the comedy, as well as the name of the Dorset life is woven. Simple in its construction, it was a masterpiece of every line, and played in masterly fashion, by the company, it left good memories as the audience as well as all about her in the life she and her associates portrayed. Mr. Terry gave a grand character sketch of Isaac Sharpe and time and time again had the house in an uproar of merriment. Mr. Powell played Isaac's Nephew consistently, and won a full share of the honors, while excellent character work was done by Christopher Steele and Miss Aymer. Miss Tristan and Miss Pine, and Messrs. Bell, Dexter, Byrne and Stanfield played the minor roles well. The closing scene was a remarkably pretty one.

The very successful engagement of Mr. Terry and his talented company will be thought with a presentation of Sweet Lavender. At the matinee The Toy-maker of Neuremberg will be played.

IS THERE A CHANGE OF FRONT?

Hazen Bending to Force of Public Opinion On Valley Road?

IT LOOKS LIKE IT

Fredericton Mail Draws Attention to Some Recent Utterances Within the Ranks of the Premier's Supporters—The Matter of Cost

(Fredericton Mail.)

The Hazen government's electric trolley line scheme for the St. John Valley appears to be gradually petering out and many are enquiring the reason for this change of front on the part of the administration.

A few months ago we were told by members of the government and their press that a railway in the valley operated by electricity would fully meet the requirements of the people. It was pointed out that there was sufficient water power along the route for the operation of the proposed line and that a company with ample capital behind it was prepared to build the road and operate it.

With the object of boosting the electric railway project, and removing any prejudice that might exist in the minds of the people of New Brunswick, a proposal, a free excursion to Presque Isle to allow an opportunity to inspect an electric road in operation there was organized and carried out during the fall of 1910. A large number of people availed themselves of the excursion and were given a trip over some twenty miles of electric road between Presque Isle and Westport. On that occasion Solicitor General McLeod, a member of the Hazen administration, who was active in promoting the excursion, publicly declared that an electric railway would in his opinion fulfill the requirements of the people of the St. John Valley. In taking this course he was merely following in the footsteps of his leader, who speaking on the Valley Railway bill in the legislature last session, expressed himself in the following terms:

"He (Hazen) wished it to be clearly understood that the government was not tied up to any electric proposition, but he was convinced a road would be operated much more cheaply with electric power than with steam; and if the other conditions were suitable an electric road would be more likely to become a paying proposition and pay the interest on the bonds which the province guaranteed and give a profit to those who had the energy and ability to undertake it."

Views Changed?

It is quite evident that the premier has modified his views since then, for we have Mr. Sloop, M. P., one of the members of the government, telling the Fredericton Board of Trade that "work on the Valley Railway will commence in the near future, but that it will be part of a trunk line." It is altogether likely that in Mr. Sloop's case the wish to take the thought for us we are correctly informed he has not been very strongly impressed with the feasibility of the electric proposition. It is to be noted that the electric proposition is now a letter so far as the proposed Valley Railway is concerned.

The Fredericton Gleaner, which has been a staunch advocate of the Gould and Sloop line from the outset, is beginning to pave the way for a retreat on the subject, as the following passage from an editorial which recently appeared in their columns clearly indicates:

"The electric proposition is one that was included so far as possible in the construction of a line that would better meet the needs of the people and be of greater service to the general public than a steam road. But the people would prefer a steam road to the electric, they must visit their communities upon the electric line, they would prefer the electric and gas. If they would prefer no road at all to an electric, well and good. But accepting the political tariff of the day, there is nothing to show that the people along the valley of the St. John river do not prefer a modern and well equipped electric system with a two-lane road to a steam road."

If the remarks of Mr. Sloop and the observations of the Gleaner mean anything, they mean that the government has arrived at the conclusion that the people of the St. John valley want a first-class steam railway, operated as part of a trunk line system and will accept nothing else. If this is the decision arrived at by the government they are to be commended for being able for once to correctly gauge public opinion.

Whence Has Knowledge?

As will be seen by the extract from his speech in the legislature, as quoted above, Premier Hazen on record as having stated that "he was convinced a road would be operated much more cheaply with electric power than with steam. It would be interesting to know where the premier obtained the information on which he based this strong statement. He is not a railway man, he never operated a railway and he has no personal knowledge absolutely nothing about it. Then what was it that convinced him that an electric railway would be operated much more cheaply than a steam railway?

Did he obtain the information from officials of the New York Central and Hudson River Railway or was it supplied by officials of the New York, New Haven & Hartford. These companies operate both steam and electric railways, but they do not thus far seem fit to make public any information with respect to the relative cost of the two methods of operation. Our inquiry for this statement is the Science American, an authority which we do not think even Premier Hazen will call in question. Here is what it says in a recent issue:

"The long silence of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Electric Railway regarding the cost of operation of its electric system between Stamford and New York has given to the public a false impression, it has been realized that, if the economies which it was hoped electrification would show, as compared with the results ob-

Her Face and Body Were Litterly Covered With "BOILS."

Burdock Blood Bitters Cured Them.

Mr. John H. King, Johnston, N.B., writes:—"Last summer I was very much troubled with boils, and my face and body were literally covered with them. I had tried many remedies, but they did not do me any good. I then tried Burdock Blood Bitters, and after a few doses out of the last one when they all disappeared. My husband has also used Burdock Blood Bitters with much benefit."

Boils in themselves are no danger, are very painful. They are caused entirely by bad blood, and to get rid of them it is necessary to put the blood in good condition, and for this purpose there is nothing so equal that old and tried remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters.

Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

tain under the old steam operation, had been obtained, the company would have been only too pleased to make an announcement to that effect. Both the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, which equipped its suburban and terminal lines with a direct-current system, and the New Haven, whose installation of the alternating-current type, have testified to the great benefits of an operative and general physical character which have resulted from the change; but until very recently, neither of these roads has made public the eagerly awaited figures on the relative costs of operation.

The legislature of Massachusetts some time ago directed the railroad companies operating within the metropolitan limits of Boston to make plans for the electrification of the Boston and Lowell district, and submit the results of their studies to a joint board on metropolitan transportation. The board, composed of the New Haven Company, the Boston & Maine railways within the Boston metropolitan district, amount to a total of $22,000,000.

It is pointed out that the proposed restriction of the electrical operation to the metropolitan district has little relation to the flow and volume of traffic, and that it would render necessary the establishment of costly intermediate terminals at some thirteen different points on the boundary of the metropolitan district for accommodating both steam and electric trains. All trains passing through these transfer points must be subjected to a delay of three or four minutes in both directions.

Increased Cost of Operation

"Then follows an interesting reference to the results obtained at New York, where it seems, in spite of the more favorable conditions, due to the greater density of traffic and the simpler track system, the records of the New Haven Company demonstrate that under present conditions, where a joint steam and electric service is being maintained, the electric train service not only fails to carry any interest upon the large amount of capital invested, but that it has also increased the cost of operation."

One cannot help being impressed with the idea, after a perusal of the above, that the "free oil advised" by the Gleaner, according to the Gleaner, "prefer a steam road to a modern and well equipped electric system on the St. John valley," is not so ill advised after all. It is the paragon of the Hazen government who have been the chief advocates of the electric railway for the St. John valley, and it is their important question. Those who agitate for an electric railway for the St. John valley had better take the trouble to ascertain the meaning of the term. For our part, we prefer to allow the New York Central and the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railways, with their enormous millions of capital, to do the experimenting with electric railways. The people of the St. John valley will be satisfied with a steam road.

AFTER DOCTOR'S FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Dear Sir:—I have had a very bad case of bearing-down pains, and usually before my monthly periods I suffered terribly and had to go to bed. I was not able to walk across the room for a long time, but the doctor's treatment did not do me any good. I gave up all hopes of ever getting well again until one day I saw your advertisement in the paper. He decided to get the Compound, and I took one bottle before I began to feel better, and I kept on taking it until I was cured. I am now a different woman. I have had no more bearing-down pains, and I feel like a new woman. I am now able to do all my household work, and I feel like a new woman. SPECIAL MEETING OF BOARD OF TRADE ON MONDAY, JANUARY 16

At a joint meeting of the advertising committee and the council of the board of trade, held last evening, to consider what steps should be taken for carrying on an educational campaign in connection with the proposed for civic government by an elective commission composed of a mayor and four commissioners, the following resolution was moved by W. E. Bédard, seconded by Harold C. Schofield, and adopted unanimously:

Resolved, that a special meeting of the full board be called for Monday, Jan. 16, at 8 p.m., for the purpose of considering the action and recommendations of the council looking toward the adoption of the commission form of government by the city of St. John and determining what further measures should be taken to accomplish that object. It is further recommended that the board of trade call a citizens' meeting of those favorable to civic government by commission for the purpose of organization and to approve a plan of civic government which shall embody the essential features of government by commission as adopted and in successful operation in many other cities.

ORANGE WEEK!

FORTY-FIVE Carloads Coming—Are California's Finest—The "SUNKIST" Kind—ON SALE ALL NEXT WEEK!

Attractive Prices and Special Displays of "SUNKISTS" At All Dealers

Forty-five carloads of fine Sunkist oranges—more than 18,000 cases—are speeding eastward by fast freight direct from the orange groves of California.

They will be here, on sale at every dealer's next Monday morning. The sale will continue through the week. It will be the biggest affair of its kind in history.

Last year's "Sunkist" Orange Sale was such a huge success, and every grove brought so liberally, that your local dealers were simply swamped with business. They were hardly able to supply the demand. We therefore suggest that you place your order for "Sunkist" oranges as early next week as possible. Then you will be certain of being supplied.

Every orange in every box is sound, tree-ripened and hand-picked—the most delicious, healthful fruit on the market. For "Sunkist" oranges are California's choicest crop.

Five thousand orange growers select their choicest and pack them under the name "Sunkist." Thus every "Sunkist" orange is perfect—solid, sweet and full flavored.

In "Sunkist" wrappers you get tree-ripened, hand-picked oranges of the most acceptable variety. Every orange is picked by a gloved hand. They are shipped by fast freight, and always reach your table in prime condition. Being seedless, fibrous and skin-removed, there is but very little waste. They are the most economical oranges you can buy. Each one is packed in a germ-proof tissue paper wrapper and bears the label "Sunkist."

Don't Forget the Date—Week Beginning Monday, Jan. 16

All Physicians Advise Oranges

Physicians and food experts advise people to eat more oranges. We are a nation of meat eaters. And in winter, especially, the system gets clogged, causing congestion, colds, fevers, etc. Those who eat fresh, wholesome fruit freely, seldom require medical treatment.

Serve Them for Breakfast and in Salads and Desserts

Oranges are the ideal breakfast fruit and "between meals" lunch. For salads, they are indispensable. Orange ices, sherbets, puddings, etc., are very popular and delicious desserts.

"Sunkist" by the Box

"Sunkist" oranges reach you in such perfect condition, fresh from the orange groves, they will keep for weeks. Your dealer can make you a handsome saving if you order a box or half box. They are cheaper than table apples, and the greatest health food.

Save Your "Sunkist" Wrappers

By saving your "Sunkist" orange wrappers you can easily secure a full set of genuine Rogers orange spoons, dessert spoons and fruit knives. The pattern shown here are our new 1911 style, designed exclusively for us. All are Rogers quality, standard A-No. 1 plate and are fully guaranteed by the maker. No advertising appears on any of our premiums.

DEFENCE OPENS; NEW YEAR'S EVE TROUBLE CASE OFF TILL MONDAY. The case against the eleven young men charged with being members of an unlawful assembly, was continued yesterday afternoon before Mr. Justice McKeown, and after several witnesses had been examined was postponed until Monday at 10 a.m. When the court resumed in the afternoon Mr. Mullin in opening the case for the defence, moved to have the defendants, May and O'Rourke, dismissed on the ground that they were mere spectators, and he cited several English cases to show that mere presence did not of itself render persons guilty of being members of an unlawful assembly. There was no evidence, he submitted, to show that Way and O'Rourke took an active part in the riot. There was evidence to the effect, however, that both Way and O'Rourke rendered valuable assistance to the St. John Street Railway employees. His Honor—"Going further than that Mr. Mullin, do you not think that the fact that Way and O'Rourke were seen in vicinity of Lower Cove with the crowd should be reckoned with? It seems to me that there is something in that fact for the jury to pass upon." Mr. Mullin—"Well, your honor, I concede that that is slight evidence. In addition, however, I submit that the crowd should show that the defendants assembled there that night with the intent of carrying out a common purpose. This has not been shown." Mr. Mullin was followed by A. A. Wilson, K. C., who, adopting the argument of Mr. Mullin, contended that defendant Hamilton should be dismissed. His Honor—"My views, Mr. Wilson, are that so long as the defendants were seen with the crowd the case should go to the jury for consideration. Whether the defendants had taken any active part in the assembly or whether they were there accidentally or otherwise are facts for the jury to decide." In reply to Mr. Mullin, Mr. Baxter said there was a wide distinction between a riot and an unlawful assembly. In a riot there must be both a common purpose and the execution of a common purpose. In an unlawful assembly mere presence was sufficient to render persons liable. In this latter case it was not necessary to show that a single harmful act had been committed. Mere presence, in his opinion, constituted participation. The counsel outlined their case for their respective defendants. They said they could produce evidence which would clear them with the jury. Frederick Way, one of the defendants, was called. He said he had been in King street on the night of the trouble. O'Rourke and Donald Gillespie were with him. He aided the street railway employees when the cars were held up. He offered to give Perry his name, if he wanted it. On Sunday night Lucas and Perry took him off his car and arrested him. Donald Gillespie, employed with Macaulay Bros & Co., corroborated Way's evidence. (The Garnett, a bell boy in the Royal hotel, told of seeing O'Rourke in Charlotte street, and of hearing him say, "they are carrying the joke too far.") Thos. McCarthy said he heard some of the crowd at the foot of King street shout "Come down, Charlie, here come the bull." When the crowd were shouting to the laborers' help he saw Charles Alcorn running down King street. Robert Evans said that Alcorn had asked him to aid in ringing in the fire alarm, but he refused. He then heard some one say, "I will, Charlie, and later he heard the alarm sound. Wm. J. O'Rourke repeated almost in detail what had been said by Way and Gillespie.

TO HOLD INQUIRY OVER FAILURE OF GRAND TRUNK TO REINSTATE STRIKERS. London, Ont., Jan. 13—Judge J. A. Barron, of Stratford, arbitrator between the G. T. R. and those of its employees who were not reinstated at the close of the recent strike, announced that he would be in this city on Wednesday next for the purpose of hearing the cases of all the men in this city who have not been put back on their jobs. "The proceedings will be of a private nature, no counsel being allowed on either side," said the judge. The arbitration proceedings will be opened at Stratford Monday and Tuesday. Among the many other places where the judge will hold court are St. Marys, Mount Royal, Palmerston, Niagara Falls, Fort Erie and Durand (Mich.).

DOWN TO DETAILS IN THE RECIPROcity CONFERENCE. (Staff Correspondence of Toronto Globe). Washington, Jan. 11—The outlook for a successful termination to the Canadian-American trade negotiations now pending is considerably brighter, tonight. Hon. Mr. Fielding and Hon. Mr. Paterson conferred with Secretary Knox for almost three hours this afternoon, and when they started the Canadian ministers called to the meeting their two departmental assistants—namely, John Macbougald, deputy minister of customs, who was accompanied by Ottawa, and James A. Russell, the tariff expert of the finance department. The presence of these men indicates that the negotiations have passed the initial stages, and are on a basis more likely to lead to something definite. It is stated in Washington circles tonight that the American proposals were found by the Canadians to be unexpectedly broad and comprehensive, giving substance to President Taft's seriousness in opening up the whole subject. In harmony with this the president has told recent callers at the White House that for the present the Americans are not worrying over what the personal or sectional opposition may be to their proposals. It is stated also in American circles that the American representatives had their case thoroughly prepared along these lines. The Canadian ministers by the aid of their assistants and by hard work between the sittings have their own brief well in hand, and hard work may bring about an early termination of the conference. It was affirmed today by a United States senator close to President Taft that another week should see the end. To clean bronze ornaments, first brush out the dust, then apply a very little sweet oil all over the article. Polish first with a soft duster, finally with a wash leather.

DEFENCE SCHEME OF NEW ZEALAND PROVING POPULAR. Wellington, N. Z., Jan. 14—It is generally felt that the defence scheme proposed by Lord Kitchener and adopted by the New Zealand government is popular throughout the Dominion. The prime minister, Sir Joseph Ward, is convinced of the efficacy of the scheme, and he declares that in his opinion New Zealand possesses the most advanced and practical defence scheme in the whole empire. By 1916, he points out, the country will possess a force of no less than 100,000 trained and partially trained men.

YARMOUTH MAN FOUND UNCONSCIOUS. Yarmouth, N. S., Jan. 13—(Special)—George Amisault was picked up on Regent street Wednesday night lying across a stone wall and in an unconscious condition. Up till today he had not recovered consciousness and his appearance is judged he is the victim of "kiddie" drops, as his system is evidently thoroughly poisoned. His money and ring are gone, but as he is unable to give an account of his movements that night it is not known whether he was robbed or not.

IN PARLIAMENT. A Bill With the Object of Doing Away With The Tipping Nuisance. Ottawa, Jan. 13—The commons had a day of detail work, devoted chiefly to the Quebec estimates. The net result of some four hours of desultory discussion in committee was the passing of votes aggregating $200,000. On one item—for a post office at Marieville in Hon. Mr. Brodeur's constituency, where no harm could be done to a hopelessly conservative cause, a motion to reduce a vote of $17,000 was negatived after an hour's debate in a listless house by 43 yeas to 10 nays.

Travers Pleads Guilty. Toronto, Jan. 13—William R. Travers, former general manager of the wrecked Farmers' Bank, pleaded guilty today to three separate charges, and was remanded until Monday next for sentence without bail. The charges were: Making false returns to the government, theft of $40,000 from the bank, and the making of a false document.

U. N. B. ALUMNI. A meeting of the U. N. B. Alumni Society took place in the Pugsley building, last evening. The business transacted was mostly of an executive nature. It was decided to have the annual alumni dinner in Fredericton next June. Deans Schofield, Charles M. Lawson and A. S. McFarlane were appointed examiners of the alumni gold medal essay.

THE HISTORY OF H. P. Every popular commodity has a history of paramount interest to somebody. Here is the history of H. P. Sauce—we think it will interest you. At Birmingham, England, there is a very large malt vinegar brewery, in fact, the largest in the world, and as malt vinegar is the essential foundation of all high class sauces, the proprietors of the vinegar brewery are constantly in touch with all kinds of sauces.

It is easier to flatter women than it is to keep them flattered.

Regulate the Bowels. "I have been troubled with constipation for several years, and have tried a great many kinds of pills, as well as medicine from the doctor. Nothing seemed to help me until I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills. I found the little pills very effective, and I am thankful that at last I have a reliable remedy." DR. F. M. MCKINLEY, Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills simply cause the bowels to move in a normal manner, and without the gripping effects of cathartics and purgatives. That's why they are so universally used by women and children. The longer they are taken the less are needed. Natural conditions gradually being restored. Price 25c at your druggist. He should supply you. If he does not, send price to us, we forward prepaid. DR. MILES MEDICAL CO.

THE HISTORY OF H. P. Now some time ago, it occurred to them that nearly all the sauces on the market were far too thin and pungent, and too imperfectly blended to be worthy of the name of relishes and that a rich sauce, of super-excellent fruit flavor, and thick, creamy consistency were produced, and placed on the market at a very moderate price. Both, in success would be assured. They both began to experiment very carefully in their great vinegar brewery. They combined Oriental fruits and spices, and judiciously blended together and skilfully blended with pure malt vinegar, a small amount of new production of the famous "H. P." (an abbreviation of the name of the "H. P. of Parliament") and set out to make their own way in the world. H. P. does not separate in the bottle, there is no sediment and it therefore requires no shaking. It is poured on the edge of the plate and taken with the next like mustard. It possesses a delicious flavor, quite distinct from any other, and always leaves a clean, fruity taste in the mouth, instead of the burning and stinging sensation left behind by old-fashioned relishes.

Dr. A. Bostock Hill, M. D., D. P. H., F. R. C. S., consultant in diet in the history of H. P. is a tale of unqualified success.

The first lecture was enjoyed by a very large audience and it is assured that this lecture is equally instructive and interesting. Admission free, and all interested are invited.

THE PERKINS BUILDING IS TAKEN OVER

Hall & Fairweather Secured Transfer Yesterday—Third Property Sale in This Block in Few Months

The Perkins building in Prince William street, which has been owned by Hall & Fairweather, Ltd., will be occupied by that firm after May 1, 1911, as their wholesale grocery business. Negotiations for the purchase of the building have been under way for some months, but were completed only yesterday, when the money was paid over and the transfer made.

The Perkins building adjoins the Chubb building, near the corner of Prince William and Princess street, and extends from Prince William to Water street. It is four stories in height in Water street, D. J. Seely & Son occupy a part of the lower floor in Water street. The S. J. McGowan Manufacturing Co. have quarters in the upper part of the building. The ground floor in Prince William street has been vacant for several months.

It is probable that Hall & Fairweather will rent the store in Prince William street and possibly other portions of the building. There have been many applications for space in the building, and several very flattering offers to buy were received since the firm secured their option. Only recently a banking institution endeavored to secure an office in the building.

This is the third building in the block between King and Princess, in Prince William street, to change hands within a few months. The Merchant's Bank secured the Pugsley building at the corner of Church street, the Chubb building was secured by a syndicate only last week, and now the Perkins building has new owners.

WOMAN MISSING ALL WEEK

Mrs. Douglas Robertson of Norton Last Seen in Union Depot

WAS WITH NIECE

Here on Business and Missed Train—Was Waiting for the Next One Home When Last Seen—Widespread Search Unavailing

Mrs. Douglas Robertson, wife of a well known storekeeper at Norton, disappeared from the St. John depot on Saturday evening last, between 5:30 and 6:30 o'clock, and has not since been heard from. The circumstances are such that it is feared she became deranged and wandered away perhaps to her death. Her husband and her family are in a state of terrible grief, and every effort is being made to find some trace of her movements after her disappearance. Mrs. Robertson is about five feet six or seven in height, and thin, with pale face and black curling hair. She is forty-four years of age. She wore a long black hat with willow trim, a dark blue skirt and reddish colored waist. Any news of her would be gratefully received by her husband, Douglas Robertson, or her sister, Mrs. James Clark, Victoria street, Carleton Place.

Mrs. Robertson came to St. John on Wednesday last week, with some produce, as had been her custom at frequent intervals for some years past. She went at once to her sister, Mrs. James Clark, in Carleton. That day and the next she spent attending to business, disposing of the stuff she brought down and paying bills at some wholesale houses who supply her husband's store.

Was ill on Friday

On Friday she complained of being ill, and talked of going home. Her sister prevailed on her to remain until Saturday. On Saturday she still complained of illness, and set out to go home on the 5 o'clock train. Her niece, Miss Annie Clark, went with her to the depot, but they arrived there just a little too late for the train which had departed.

When Niece Returned

Mrs. Robertson decided to go out on the 6:30 train, and suggested that her niece go home and get her supper. For herself, she said she was not at all hungry. Miss Clark went away, leaving her sitting in the waiting room. She was seen there later, with her head leaning her hand as if she were tired. Miss Clark came back again before the 6:30 train went out, but Mrs. Robertson was not there, nor has she since been seen or heard of. Her husband came to the city. Her relatives have presented a search in every direction, but without solving the mystery.

Mrs. Robertson was in the most cheerful mood when she left home, and when she arrived in St. John, and up to the moment of her disappearance there was not the least suggestion of any cause for her illness, unless the theory that her illness of Friday and Saturday led to mental derangement be accepted.

She was devoted to her family, and her husband and children are sorely stricken with grief. The police have been told of the case, but all search has thus far proved fruitless.

It is a curious fact that while Mrs. Robertson checked some parcels to Norton, including toys for her children, she also checked some for Suez, with no apparent reason.

DIED IN CHICAGO

James Alfred Cullen of St. John Passed Away There Yesterday

A telegram was received today announcing the death of James Alfred Cullen, in Chicago. He passed away in a private hospital after a brief illness from pneumonia. He was thirty-nine years of age and is survived by his wife and two children. Mr. Cullen left St. John about four years ago and had since then been following his calling as a painter. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Wm. McKee, of City Line, west side, and Mrs. George Fleet, of 31 Broad street; and two brothers, Fred, of St. John, and John, of Newburyport.

Mr. Cullen was very well known here and many will hear with regret of his death. He will be buried in Chicago.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

The special evangelistic service in Waterloo street U. B. church last evening was attended by many and there was good interest manifested. A feature was the presence of several who were personal workers in the recent Torrey meetings, and some who had taken a stand during that time. One business man said he had been converted during the campaign, and if any other man had visited his home before that took place would have been present at Christmas he would have seen what a great change had been effected by his taking on the new life. The pastor, Rev. F. N. Wentworth, gave an interesting sermon on "Spiritual Illumination," and after the close, in response to an appeal to the audience, some present decided for Christ. The service will be continued every night next week, except Saturday. Tomorrow at 4 o'clock there will be a special meeting for men and boys over fourteen years of age. All men are cordially invited to attend and bring their friends.

MEETING TOMORROW.

Evangelist Knight will be the speaker at 8:15 tomorrow evening at a meeting in the Unique Theatre to be conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. Y. His subject will be "Son, Remember." He will address men only.

Store open till 11 p. m. St. John, Jan. 14, 1911.

OAK HALL'S Annual Mid-Winter Sale HAS AN AUSPICIOUS OPENING

Among the Clothing Sales—which, with one excuse and another, have been thrust upon your attention lately—this one stands out like a giant among dwarfs.

Yesterday the opening day of our Sale the store was thronged with eager buyers all day, resulting in the greatest volume of business ever done in any one day during the month of January—and we've held very successful Sales during January in the past few years—but this one promises to surpass them all. Today—Saturday—we expect to do one of the greatest day's business we have ever done, and all next week while the Sale lasts we expect to surpass all previous Sales' records—the interest taken at the opening promises that. And the values! The greatest ever offered in the clothing business in St. John. Make comparisons, and prove this statement to your own satisfaction. Prices in themselves mean nothing—any store can advertise worth so much and reduced to so and so but—its what you get for what you pay that counts.

You cannot afford to miss this extraordinary event. Come every day while the Sale lasts. Get your share of the truly remarkable values.
