

General Business

WANTED!

Our Patrons, New and Old, to sit for their

PHOTOS Now.

NEW BACKGROUNDS NEW MOUNTS.

Style and Workmanship up-to-date at

MERSEREAU'S STUDIO

DENTISTRY!

Henry G. Vaughan, D. D. S.

GAS ADMINISTERED.

GO TO PORTLAND, BOSTON, ETC.

Canada Eastern Railway and Fredericton.

PULLMAN SLEEPER runs through from Fredericton Junction to Boston.

PULP WOOD!

THE DOMINION PULP COY LTD.

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

PULP WOOD!

Miramichi Advance.

CHATHAM, N. B., JUNE 6, 1901.

That Crown Land Sale.

The Monoton Transcript gives a top-syrry rendition of what the ADVANCE stated last week in reference to the Crown Land sale, in which "the combine" failed in its object, and adds: "If the timely criticism by the press has induced the administration to withhold the official closing of the sale of the lumber licenses, and to virtually annul it, then the incident has been beneficial. The above intimation which may be accepted as inspired, is most gratifying, and will be warranted by subsequent intimations, which for the administration prove instead of ominous."

It may be observed that the Transcript, which, like the St. John Globe, is over-anxious at times to ensure the local government, published an article on the subject of the sale which it ought to be ashamed of, in view of the fact. In reference to the ADVANCE's article being "inspired" is consistent with its characteristic methods of letting itself down and suggestive of its realization of the fact that it might, itself, had it been fair-minded, become "inspired" also, and avoided the blunder it made over the matter. The "inspiration" of the ADVANCE was that it made enquiry as to whether the alleged facts, as given by the Transcript, and other papers, which are either partially or wholly opposed to the government, and are particularly after Premier Tweedie's scalp, had any proper foundation. It is a habit we have—and which is, we think acquired by all clean newspapers—to make enquiry in the most reliable quarters before making statements calculated to damage any individual or reputable institution. The ADVANCE does not think it right to give currency to every rumor or supposition which may be set afoot by designing people. It is not good journalism to condemn public men for the mere purpose—to put it in the most charitable form—of having something to say. Do-as-yours-would-be-done-by is a policy which editors as well as others should follow. Following this only rightful policy, the ADVANCE simply asked a few plain questions of those who knew all about the Crown Land sale referred to, and it found that the Transcript and World were quite wrong and had not made the least effort to be right. Our enquiry elicited the facts. There was no "inspiration" about it. It was only the result of the exercise of common sense applied to journalistic duty. It is time the Transcript adopted the same method in its treatment of such subjects. If it doesn't it will continue to be unreliable.

In this day of telephonic service, when newspaper offices are in communication with many sources of information; and, in such cases as this, where there would be no difficulty in learning the truth, there is no good excuse for such misrepresentations as that in which the Transcript and World indulged over the alleged Crown Land sale in the interest of a combine. It is a case in which "the wish was," no doubts, "father to the thought."

"The timely criticism of the press," which is the Transcript's designation of its uninforming vapors and the World's slanderous comments, could have had no influence on non-existing conditions. Only silly vanity could suggest the idea that what either of these might say could have had any influence whatever in the premises.

It is still fresh in the public recollection that a similar course to that of the Transcript and World in this Crown Land matter, was taken by the option papers after an application was made about a year ago by the Restigouche and Western Railway for a local government loan. These papers intimated that it was a scheme in which certain members of the government were interested for exploiting the public treasury, and they made a blatant outcry over it, on those lines. It is not before a week on the subject had appeared in the papers, the proposition had been laid before the government and very promptly rejected. If the Transcript had not been one of these post-mortem critics on that occasion, who has no doubt it would have "shook up severely" and claimed that the government's course was shaped by its "timely criticism."

It would have fitted—Monday's Monoton Transcript had an editorial headed, "A weak effort to create a grievance." What an admirably appropriate one it would have been in its recent article on that Crown Land sale.

"This, That and the Other."

The St. John Freeman's chronic trouble over Northumberland politics returned to it last Saturday. It appears to think that Mr. Tweedie and some others hereabouts are to blame for the ill success of Mr. Morrissey and his entourage in not being now in the enjoyment of their highest political joy—the county Dominion patronage.

Between the Chatham World and the Freeman there appears to be a common purpose of giving Premier Tweedie a pretty hard time of it—that is, so far as they are able to do so, each in its own way. But the spectacle of the Freeman lashing itself into a phrensy because Mr. Tweedie does not do something for Mr. Morrissey in relation to Dominion politics is quite grotesque. Mr. Morrissey, with the assistance of some hangers-on upon the fringes of the so-called liberal party of the county, and against the protest of the members of the Northumberland Liberal Association, was put forward at last year's Dominion election as a candidate in the name of that party. Everybody knew that the intrusion of Mr. Morrissey's candidature upon the party was for the purpose of getting the Dominion patronage of the county under their control. Briefly stated, Truett Stewart says in effect that they were asked to do an unwise and unjust thing—to make themselves and, practically, the town parties to an equity suit, which of course must cost something, the purpose of which was the unjust one of keeping Mr. Kelly out of his rights. He intimated that they would not have done this injudicious and wrong thing, but for what? Because somebody said a domineering thing to one of the trustees. If the trustees were asked to have the $35,000 school building torn down and destroyed, they would not, we presume, on their own accord. But if anyone were to come along and "domineer" them—tell them they were not appointed for that purpose—would they "let mad" and destroy the only edifice? If they did so, however, the act would only be different in degree from that which Truett Stewart says they committed in a matter of excitement.

We cannot believe that Truett Stewart correctly states the matter. He, himself, might do foolish things and forget his duty to the ratifiers of the town for reasons purely personal, but notwithstanding the mistake which we believe the trustees made in this direction, we are inclined to think that they were over-ruled by Mr. Powell, a man whose weakness of Chatham people to be far too susceptible to the influence of outsiders, under their own guidance.

York Election Held.

At Fredericton on Monday last the York election was held. The programme for the tour of Lord Lytton, through the maritime provinces has been completed. Their Excellencies will leave Quebec on July 10 on board the Minto.

The Freeman also publishes, with its usually bold side-headings, some impertinences in reference to the editor of the ADVANCE, Hon. Messrs. Blair, Pugsley and Allan Ritchie, Messrs. Robert Murray, John O'Brien and others, and lets the cat out of the bag by saying that "For the sake of peace and harmony, the silvery-tongued and peace-loving Mr. Warren Winslow might be expected to smooth matters over with the Liberals and 'take Mr. O'Brien's place on the government tickets.' It is in the nature of a gleam of sunshine to learn that the Freeman would-be-dog-in-a-policy editor, who has found it in his heart to say a good word for anybody in Chatham in these articles written, ostensibly, in Mr. Morrissey's interest, and Mr. Winslow ought to be thankful, although he would, no doubt, not form a very high opinion of his champion's intellectual calibre after reading the following:—

"The sooner Mr. Tweedie changes 'his hand the letter for Mr. Tweedie 'I do not say this as a threat, I might go further and say that if he hopes to 'capture Mr. Winslow, or his support, 'he cannot do so by dangling this, 'and the other before him."

We hope that the stockholders of our St. John contemporary will understand that their paper is being informed upon. In the town of Chatham, where the proposed silvery-tongued supplanter of Mr. O'Brien, and the threatened Premier live, their fellow-citizens see their meeting daily, and there has not been any occasion on which the silvery one has been observed fixing his eagle eye on any dangling "this, that or the other" in the hypnotizing Premier's hand. At the same time, there may be some sort of suspensory or pendulous assurance of temptations in the process of manipulation before the eyes of the intended silvery-tongued victim of "this, that and the other," but we think Mr. Winslow may be relied upon to come harmless through it all, and to look out for number one.

Meanwhile, we hope the Freeman will pardon us for suggesting that some of its sympathizing friends hereabouts are consoled over the fact that accommodation for such mild types of subjects as Mr. Winslow's is contained in a private and highly authoritative source in Chatham.

A Remarkable Confession.

It has been stated, at times, in a local paper that the School Trustees of Chatham are a kind of close corporation, and that the directors of their formal sessions are of the steel chamber variety. We have always heretofore believed that Trustees might be safely trusted, notwithstanding the privacy of their meetings, but an article in the World, written by its editor, who is, himself, one of these Trustees, suggests grounds for reasonable doubt as to whether the Board is to deal with the important interests in its hands.

According to the statement of Truett Stewart, he and his associate trustees joined lands with the Royal Bank of Canada to improperly drag Mr. W. Kelly into an equity suit. Truett Stewart says, of the course taken by the Bank, the School Trustees et al.—"This is a mighty mean business."

It is alleged that one of the Trustees appointed by the Government was told by Hon. Mr. Truett Stewart that he was not approved for the purpose of having the Board interfere in such matters as this, and that he reported at a board meeting, which Mr. Tweedie had said. The effect is thus stated by Truett Stewart:—

"The Bank would no have obtained 'his privilege' using the name of the 'School Board' if Mr. Tweedie had not 'bidden his appointees on that day to 'gent it. His bullying had the effect of causing Chairman Snowball and other members to yield to the request of the 'B. K.'"

Truett Stewart, in his paper, apparently real, when told that the Board had got itself into litigation unnecessarily, besides giving its assistance to keep Mr. Kelly out of his just dues. Instead of however, of candidly confessing the error of his own judgment, and saying they were misled by the bludiment of Mr. H. A. Powell, attorney for the Bank, he has made a statement which, if really true, demonstrates that the School Trustees of Chatham are hardly the men to be entrusted with the management of a large and important interest as that under their control. Briefly stated, Truett Stewart says in effect that they were asked to do an unwise and unjust thing—to make themselves and, practically, the town parties to an equity suit, which of course must cost something, the purpose of which was the unjust one of keeping Mr. Kelly out of his rights. He intimated that they would not have done this injudicious and wrong thing, but for what? Because somebody said a domineering thing to one of the trustees. If the trustees were asked to have the $35,000 school building torn down and destroyed, they would not, we presume, on their own accord. But if anyone were to come along and "domineer" them—tell them they were not appointed for that purpose—would they "let mad" and destroy the only edifice? If they did so, however, the act would only be different in degree from that which Truett Stewart says they committed in a matter of excitement.

We cannot believe that Truett Stewart correctly states the matter. He, himself, might do foolish things and forget his duty to the ratifiers of the town for reasons purely personal, but notwithstanding the mistake which we believe the trustees made in this direction, we are inclined to think that they were over-ruled by Mr. Powell, a man whose weakness of Chatham people to be far too susceptible to the influence of outsiders, under their own guidance.

York Election Held.

At Fredericton on Monday last the York election was held. The programme for the tour of Lord Lytton, through the maritime provinces has been completed. Their Excellencies will leave Quebec on July 10 on board the Minto.

The Freeman also publishes, with its usually bold side-headings, some impertinences in reference to the editor of the ADVANCE, Hon. Messrs. Blair, Pugsley and Allan Ritchie, Messrs. Robert Murray, John O'Brien and others, and lets the cat out of the bag by saying that "For the sake of peace and harmony, the silvery-tongued and peace-loving Mr. Warren Winslow might be expected to smooth matters over with the Liberals and 'take Mr. O'Brien's place on the government tickets.' It is in the nature of a gleam of sunshine to learn that the Freeman would-be-dog-in-a-policy editor, who has found it in his heart to say a good word for anybody in Chatham in these articles written, ostensibly, in Mr. Morrissey's interest, and Mr. Winslow ought to be thankful, although he would, no doubt, not form a very high opinion of his champion's intellectual calibre after reading the following:—

"The sooner Mr. Tweedie changes 'his hand the letter for Mr. Tweedie 'I do not say this as a threat, I might go further and say that if he hopes to 'capture Mr. Winslow, or his support, 'he cannot do so by dangling this, 'and the other before him."

We hope that the stockholders of our St. John contemporary will understand that their paper is being informed upon. In the town of Chatham, where the proposed silvery-tongued supplanter of Mr. O'Brien, and the threatened Premier live, their fellow-citizens see their meeting daily, and there has not been any occasion on which the silvery one has been observed fixing his eagle eye on any dangling "this, that or the other" in the hypnotizing Premier's hand. At the same time, there may be some sort of suspensory or pendulous assurance of temptations in the process of manipulation before the eyes of the intended silvery-tongued victim of "this, that and the other," but we think Mr. Winslow may be relied upon to come harmless through it all, and to look out for number one.

Meanwhile, we hope the Freeman will pardon us for suggesting that some of its sympathizing friends hereabouts are consoled over the fact that accommodation for such mild types of subjects as Mr. Winslow's is contained in a private and highly authoritative source in Chatham.

A Remarkable Confession.

It has been stated, at times, in a local paper that the School Trustees of Chatham are a kind of close corporation, and that the directors of their formal sessions are of the steel chamber variety. We have always heretofore believed that Trustees might be safely trusted, notwithstanding the privacy of their meetings, but an article in the World, written by its editor, who is, himself, one of these Trustees, suggests grounds for reasonable doubt as to whether the Board is to deal with the important interests in its hands.

According to the statement of Truett Stewart, he and his associate trustees joined lands with the Royal Bank of Canada to improperly drag Mr. W. Kelly into an equity suit. Truett Stewart says, of the course taken by the Bank, the School Trustees et al.—"This is a mighty mean business."

It is alleged that one of the Trustees appointed by the Government was told by Hon. Mr. Truett Stewart that he was not approved for the purpose of having the Board interfere in such matters as this, and that he reported at a board meeting, which Mr. Tweedie had said. The effect is thus stated by Truett Stewart:—

"The Bank would no have obtained 'his privilege' using the name of the 'School Board' if Mr. Tweedie had not 'bidden his appointees on that day to 'gent it. His bullying had the effect of causing Chairman Snowball and other members to yield to the request of the 'B. K.'"

Truett Stewart, in his paper, apparently real, when told that the Board had got itself into litigation unnecessarily, besides giving its assistance to keep Mr. Kelly out of his just dues. Instead of however, of candidly confessing the error of his own judgment, and saying they were misled by the bludiment of Mr. H. A. Powell, attorney for the Bank, he has made a statement which, if really true, demonstrates that the School Trustees of Chatham are hardly the men to be entrusted with the management of a large and important interest as that under their control. Briefly stated, Truett Stewart says in effect that they were asked to do an unwise and unjust thing—to make themselves and, practically, the town parties to an equity suit, which of course must cost something, the purpose of which was the unjust one of keeping Mr. Kelly out of his rights. He intimated that they would not have done this injudicious and wrong thing, but for what? Because somebody said a domineering thing to one of the trustees. If the trustees were asked to have the $35,000 school building torn down and destroyed, they would not, we presume, on their own accord. But if anyone were to come along and "domineer" them—tell them they were not appointed for that purpose—would they "let mad" and destroy the only edifice? If they did so, however, the act would only be different in degree from that which Truett Stewart says they committed in a matter of excitement.

We cannot believe that Truett Stewart correctly states the matter. He, himself, might do foolish things and forget his duty to the ratifiers of the town for reasons purely personal, but notwithstanding the mistake which we believe the trustees made in this direction, we are inclined to think that they were over-ruled by Mr. Powell, a man whose weakness of Chatham people to be far too susceptible to the influence of outsiders, under their own guidance.

York Election Held.

At Fredericton on Monday last the York election was held. The programme for the tour of Lord Lytton, through the maritime provinces has been completed. Their Excellencies will leave Quebec on July 10 on board the Minto.

The Freeman also publishes, with its usually bold side-headings, some impertinences in reference to the editor of the ADVANCE, Hon. Messrs. Blair, Pugsley and Allan Ritchie, Messrs. Robert Murray, John O'Brien and others, and lets the cat out of the bag by saying that "For the sake of peace and harmony, the silvery-tongued and peace-loving Mr. Warren Winslow might be expected to smooth matters over with the Liberals and 'take Mr. O'Brien's place on the government tickets.' It is in the nature of a gleam of sunshine to learn that the Freeman would-be-dog-in-a-policy editor, who has found it in his heart to say a good word for anybody in Chatham in these articles written, ostensibly, in Mr. Morrissey's interest, and Mr. Winslow ought to be thankful, although he would, no doubt, not form a very high opinion of his champion's intellectual calibre after reading the following:—

"The sooner Mr. Tweedie changes 'his hand the letter for Mr. Tweedie 'I do not say this as a threat, I might go further and say that if he hopes to 'capture Mr. Winslow, or his support, 'he cannot do so by dangling this, 'and the other before him."

We hope that the stockholders of our St. John contemporary will understand that their paper is being informed upon. In the town of Chatham, where the proposed silvery-tongued supplanter of Mr. O'Brien, and the threatened Premier live, their fellow-citizens see their meeting daily, and there has not been any occasion on which the silvery one has been observed fixing his eagle eye on any dangling "this, that or the other" in the hypnotizing Premier's hand. At the same time, there may be some sort of suspensory or pendulous assurance of temptations in the process of manipulation before the eyes of the intended silvery-tongued victim of "this, that and the other," but we think Mr. Winslow may be relied upon to come harmless through it all, and to look out for number one.

Meanwhile, we hope the Freeman will pardon us for suggesting that some of its sympathizing friends hereabouts are consoled over the fact that accommodation for such mild types of subjects as Mr. Winslow's is contained in a private and highly authoritative source in Chatham.

A Remarkable Confession.

It has been stated, at times, in a local paper that the School Trustees of Chatham are a kind of close corporation, and that the directors of their formal sessions are of the steel chamber variety. We have always heretofore believed that Trustees might be safely trusted, notwithstanding the privacy of their meetings, but an article in the World, written by its editor, who is, himself, one of these Trustees, suggests grounds for reasonable doubt as to whether the Board is to deal with the important interests in its hands.

According to the statement of Truett Stewart, he and his associate trustees joined lands with the Royal Bank of Canada to improperly drag Mr. W. Kelly into an equity suit. Truett Stewart says, of the course taken by the Bank, the School Trustees et al.—"This is a mighty mean business."

It is alleged that one of the Trustees appointed by the Government was told by Hon. Mr. Truett Stewart that he was not approved for the purpose of having the Board interfere in such matters as this, and that he reported at a board meeting, which Mr. Tweedie had said. The effect is thus stated by Truett Stewart:—

"The Bank would no have obtained 'his privilege' using the name of the 'School Board' if Mr. Tweedie had not 'bidden his appointees on that day to 'gent it. His bullying had the effect of causing Chairman Snowball and other members to yield to the request of the 'B. K.'"

Truett Stewart, in his paper, apparently real, when told that the Board had got itself into litigation unnecessarily, besides giving its assistance to keep Mr. Kelly out of his just dues. Instead of however, of candidly confessing the error of his own judgment, and saying they were misled by the bludiment of Mr. H. A. Powell, attorney for the Bank, he has made a statement which, if really true, demonstrates that the School Trustees of Chatham are hardly the men to be entrusted with the management of a large and important interest as that under their control. Briefly stated, Truett Stewart says in effect that they were asked to do an unwise and unjust thing—to make themselves and, practically, the town parties to an equity suit, which of course must cost something, the purpose of which was the unjust one of keeping Mr. Kelly out of his rights. He intimated that they would not have done this injudicious and wrong thing, but for what? Because somebody said a domineering thing to one of the trustees. If the trustees were asked to have the $35,000 school building torn down and destroyed, they would not, we presume, on their own accord. But if anyone were to come along and "domineer" them—tell them they were not appointed for that purpose—would they "let mad" and destroy the only edifice? If they did so, however, the act would only be different in degree from that which Truett Stewart says they committed in a matter of excitement.

We cannot believe that Truett Stewart correctly states the matter. He, himself, might do foolish things and forget his duty to the ratifiers of the town for reasons purely personal, but notwithstanding the mistake which we believe the trustees made in this direction, we are inclined to think that they were over-ruled by Mr. Powell, a man whose weakness of Chatham people to be far too susceptible to the influence of outsiders, under their own guidance.

York Election Held.

At Fredericton on Monday last the York election was held. The programme for the tour of Lord Lytton, through the maritime provinces has been completed. Their Excellencies will leave Quebec on July 10 on board the Minto.

The Freeman also publishes, with its usually bold side-headings, some impertinences in reference to the editor of the ADVANCE, Hon. Messrs. Blair, Pugsley and Allan Ritchie, Messrs. Robert Murray, John O'Brien and others, and lets the cat out of the bag by saying that "For the sake of peace and harmony, the silvery-tongued and peace-loving Mr. Warren Winslow might be expected to smooth matters over with the Liberals and 'take Mr. O'Brien's place on the government tickets.' It is in the nature of a gleam of sunshine to learn that the Freeman would-be-dog-in-a-policy editor, who has found it in his heart to say a good word for anybody in Chatham in these articles written, ostensibly, in Mr. Morrissey's interest, and Mr. Winslow ought to be thankful, although he would, no doubt, not form a very high opinion of his champion's intellectual calibre after reading the following:—

"The sooner Mr. Tweedie changes 'his hand the letter for Mr. Tweedie 'I do not say this as a threat, I might go further and say that if he hopes to 'capture Mr. Winslow, or his support, 'he cannot do so by dangling this, 'and the other before him."

We hope that the stockholders of our St. John contemporary will understand that their paper is being informed upon. In the town of Chatham, where the proposed silvery-tongued supplanter of Mr. O'Brien, and the threatened Premier live, their fellow-citizens see their meeting daily, and there has not been any occasion on which the silvery one has been observed fixing his eagle eye on any dangling "this, that or the other" in the hypnotizing Premier's hand. At the same time, there may be some sort of suspensory or pendulous assurance of temptations in the process of manipulation before the eyes of the intended silvery-tongued victim of "this, that and the other," but we think Mr. Winslow may be relied upon to come harmless through it all, and to look out for number one.

Meanwhile, we hope the Freeman will pardon us for suggesting that some of its sympathizing friends hereabouts are consoled over the fact that accommodation for such mild types of subjects as Mr. Winslow's is contained in a private and highly authoritative source in Chatham.

A Remarkable Confession.

It has been stated, at times, in a local paper that the School Trustees of Chatham are a kind of close corporation, and that the directors of their formal sessions are of the steel chamber variety. We have always heretofore believed that Trustees might be safely trusted, notwithstanding the privacy of their meetings, but an article in the World, written by its editor, who is, himself, one of these Trustees, suggests grounds for reasonable doubt as to whether the Board is to deal with the important interests in its hands.

According to the statement of Truett Stewart, he and his associate trustees joined lands with the Royal Bank of Canada to improperly drag Mr. W. Kelly into an equity suit. Truett Stewart says, of the course taken by the Bank, the School Trustees et al.—"This is a mighty mean business."

It is alleged that one of the Trustees appointed by the Government was told by Hon. Mr. Truett Stewart that he was not approved for the purpose of having the Board interfere in such matters as this, and that he reported at a board meeting, which Mr. Tweedie had said. The effect is thus stated by Truett Stewart:—

"The Bank would no have obtained 'his privilege' using the name of the 'School Board' if Mr. Tweedie had not 'bidden his appointees on that day to 'gent it. His bullying had the effect of causing Chairman Snowball and other members to yield to the request of the 'B. K.'"

Truett Stewart, in his paper, apparently real, when told that the Board had got itself into litigation unnecessarily, besides giving its assistance to keep Mr. Kelly out of his just dues. Instead of however, of candidly confessing the error of his own judgment, and saying they were misled by the bludiment of Mr. H. A. Powell, attorney for the Bank, he has made a statement which, if really true, demonstrates that the School Trustees of Chatham are hardly the men to be entrusted with the management of a large and important interest as that

CANADA EASTERN RAILWAY.

WINTER 1900-1.

USUAL further notice, trains will run on the above Railway, daily (Sundays excepted) as follows:

Between Fredericton, Chatham and Loggieville.

FOR CHATHAM (read up).

FOR FREDERICTON (read up).

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:30 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 5:30 p.m. 7:30 p.m. 9:30 p.m.

Express. Morning. 9:30 p.m. 1:

A Farmer's Trials.

A SUFFERER FOR YEARS, THE RESULT OF A FALL.

In His Weakness Condition He Gripped His Back Upon Him, and Brought Him Down the Stairs.

Mr. William Silver is a well known farmer living near Hamford, N. S. During his life he has passed through much sickness, but now, thanks to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, he is again enjoying vigorous health.

CHAPTER XXXVII.—Continued.

"You will not let me—Do you know until I am far away," she cried, piteously, as she put her marriage certificate in Mr. Hurst's hand.

"I am going to send for Rex to come here at once," he made answer.

With a low, agonized moan, Daisy grasped his outstretched hand, scarcely knowing what she did.

"Oh, please do not, Mr. Hurst," she sobbed. "Rex must not see me! I should die if you sent for him! I could not bear it—indeed I could not."

"She was looking at him, all her heart in her eyes, and as if he felt magnificently the power of her glance, he turned toward her, meeting the earnest gaze of the blue, up-lifted eyes.

Heiress and Wife.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.—Rex Lyon secretly marries Daisy Brooks. They are separated by force of circumstances on their wedding day. Daisy thinks that Rex has been killed.

"I have two errands here to-night," said the detective, pleasantly. "I hope I shall bring good news, in one sense or the other, to you and your mother."

The master of Whitestone Hall made no comment; still he wondered why the detective had used the words "in one sense or the other."

"I think we have the right clue," continued the detective, "but we have no actual proof to support our supposition; there is one part still cloudy."

There were a few low-murmured words between the two men. There was a moment of silence, broken by her uncle John's voice.

Every word John Brooks uttered pleased Daisy's ears. She thought she uttered a little, sharp cry, but no one heard her.

"What can that foolish old man mean?" she thought, as she clasped the diamond-studded bracelet on her perfect arm.

"How foolish I was to look at that man!" she thought, as she turned away from the man who had been her betrothed.

"He was looking at me, all her heart in her eyes, and as if he felt magnificently the power of her glance, he turned toward her, meeting the earnest gaze of the blue, up-lifted eyes.

"You are looking at me, all her heart in her eyes, and as if he felt magnificently the power of her glance, he turned toward her, meeting the earnest gaze of the blue, up-lifted eyes.

"You are looking at me, all her heart in her eyes, and as if he felt magnificently the power of her glance, he turned toward her, meeting the earnest gaze of the blue, up-lifted eyes.

FRAGRANT SOZODONT A perfect liquid dentifrice for the Teeth and Mouth

FRAGRANT SOZODONT A perfect liquid dentifrice for the Teeth and Mouth

FRAGRANT SOZODONT A perfect liquid dentifrice for the Teeth and Mouth

FRAGRANT SOZODONT A perfect liquid dentifrice for the Teeth and Mouth

FRAGRANT SOZODONT A perfect liquid dentifrice for the Teeth and Mouth

FRAGRANT SOZODONT A perfect liquid dentifrice for the Teeth and Mouth

FRAGRANT SOZODONT A perfect liquid dentifrice for the Teeth and Mouth

FRAGRANT SOZODONT A perfect liquid dentifrice for the Teeth and Mouth

FRAGRANT SOZODONT A perfect liquid dentifrice for the Teeth and Mouth

FRAGRANT SOZODONT A perfect liquid dentifrice for the Teeth and Mouth

FRAGRANT SOZODONT A perfect liquid dentifrice for the Teeth and Mouth

FRAGRANT SOZODONT A perfect liquid dentifrice for the Teeth and Mouth

RAIN-FIELD MANURE

RAIN-FIELD MANURE

RAIN-FIELD MANURE

RAIN-FIELD MANURE

RAIN-FIELD MANURE

RAIN-FIELD MANURE

RAIN-FIELD MANURE

RAIN-FIELD MANURE

RAIN-FIELD MANURE

RAIN-FIELD MANURE

RAIN-FIELD MANURE

RAIN-FIELD MANURE

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

NOTED PEOPLE

Interesting Cases from President's Men and Wives.

The Duchess of Me is an excellent singer.

The salary of the young King of Spain is $150,000 a year.

The German Emperor is said to receive more than 600 letters a day on an average.

The Duke of Devonshire is a member of the City of York, England.

The Duke of Devonshire is a member of the City of York, England.

The Duke of Devonshire is a member of the City of York, England.

The Duke of Devonshire is a member of the City of York, England.

The Duke of Devonshire is a member of the City of York, England.

The Duke of Devonshire is a member of the City of York, England.

The Duke of Devonshire is a member of the City of York, England.

The Duke of Devonshire is a member of the City of York, England.

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

THE BEST TEA you had ever tasted before trying LUDELLA CEYLON

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

SOZODONT Tooth Powder 25c

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

BEHLIN'S MODEL P. O. SYSTEM

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA