McNulty, two civilians are held as witnesses and another is in hos- pital with a broken head.

A party of six soldiers, including the dead man and those arrested, drove up to the place, which is a no- torious road house, shortly before midnight. A row followed and all the soldiers were put out, except Law- rence. There was a shot in the house and the men broke in to find their comrade unconscious on the floor.

Another shot was fired while they were breaking in. Those arrested were remanded on technical charges this morning until tomorrow.

He adds: "The Germans are doing all they can to incite the Polish inhabitants of Upper Silesia and Eastern Prussia. TO PREVENT APPENDICITIS

Here is the Experience of a Man Who Escaped the Surgeon's Knife.

You hear almost daily of some one going to the hospital for an operation for appendicitis. Do you know of any one who was ever really well afterwards?

Besides the risk and expense of the operation, the results are usually disappointing. For this reason alone it is well worth while to try to avoid appendicitis by keeping the digestive system in healthful condition.

Many have written us about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a preventive and cure for appendicitis. This letter is a fair sample of the cases described.

Mr. John Poole, R. R. No. 5, Dresden, Ont., writes: "I was taken very sick with severe pains and cramps in my stomach. I called in a doctor, who said I had appendicitis in the worst form, and my case was very serious. He gave me medicine, which relieved me at that time, but I was far from being cured. He said I would have to go through an operation before I would be well, but this I did not wish to do. One day I look- ing through Dr. Chase's Almanac I saw that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were recommended for appendicitis if taken in time, so I thought I would try them. I took them regularly for two years, and now I am perfectly cured. I can do all kind of hard work without any trouble. I would not be without Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house under any consideration, for I can truly say that they will do just what is claimed for them."

Perhaps the one greatest rule of health is that which calls for daily movement of the bowels. With this program in effect there is no danger from appendicitis or similar dangerous diseases.

Chronic constipation of the bowels is cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills because they get the liver in healthful working order. In other words, they get at the cause of the trouble and remove it, thereby effect- ing thorough and lasting benefit.

ACTION IN THE WEST.

For the past week or more, leaders of the revolutionary strike in Winnipeg have been having low. They, without doubt, have feared the action of the Federal Government which developed early yesterday morning and has resulted in the arrests of agitators in several western cities. In so far as conditions in Winnipeg are concerned, a strike may now be considered to have come to an end, for, although some points of difference between the strikers and their employers, which differences were used by the laborist element as the alleged foundation for a general strike, have not been settled, the determination of these is a matter for adjustment between the parties directly concerned and has actually no bearing whatever on the general situation as it has existed for some weeks. Before this disturbance occurred the Federal Government and the Civic Government of Winnipeg were in possession of information tending to show that outbreaks might be expected as a result of activities of the I. W. W. Organization, as represented by socialistic revolutionaries at work in that city. It was recognized that the better element in labor circles was being overcome by the activities of these agitators and that unless a definite stand was taken in opposition to the revolutionary movement, which had as its declared intention the overthrow of constituted government and the establishment of Soviet rule, the contagion would spread into the whole west and possibly all Canada. This realization was followed by the organization of a citizens' committee in Winnipeg of approximately ten thousand persons, banded together to maintain order and to carry on public services necessary in the social and business lives of the people. There has been hardship. There was bound to be hardship with the cessation of any lines of activity, and there has been on the part of the strikers a display of utter heartlessness and disregard not only for the well-being of the city, but for the lives of those who in the natural course of events became the innocent victims of the conditions created. Thousands of men have been under arms in Winnipeg, drilling day after day in anticipation of outbreaks of violence which fortunately have not come. Thousands of others, giving up their accustomed positions, have devoted themselves to carrying on public services in place of misguided workers who have been influenced by those self-seeking agitators. Business has been disturbed, great inconvenience has been caused in homes, but if this confusion will result in a lesson to all Canada it will not have been too high a price to pay. The attitude of the Federal Government in the whole matter has been commendable. Premier Borden and several of his ministers have on different occasions clearly stated the attitude of the Government towards this revolutionary element, as well as the policy to be enforced with respect to those public servants who violated their oaths of office and endeavored for illegitimate means to obtain redress for grievances, real or imaginary, complained of by workers in an entirely different sphere. It has secured sufficient evidence to justify the step which has now been taken, and in the arrest of the large number of criminal offenders against public order it has struck a blow at Bolshevism which will be a damper on the aspirations of any who may be inclined to follow the lead of the Winnipeg gang. It is gratifying to note that Canada has refused to permit itself to be led astray by these soap-box orators and that sympathetic strikes which certain I. W. W. workers and Bolshevists have attempted to arrange have fallen flat because of the common-sense of responsible labor leaders in those other cities who recognize that good can be accomplished only by legitimate methods.

Among those placed under arrest in Winnipeg are the following: R. B. Russell, who participated in the Red Convention at Calgary which passed resolutions for the release of German agents, for the establishment of Soviet Government, and for minority dictatorship of labor by manipulated votes. R. E. Bray, who poses as a returned fighter but who never saw the firing line. On June 2 this man told Premier Borden that he was a Bolshevist and intended to work for the establishment of Soviet Government in Winnipeg. George W. Armstrong, another notorious Red, drew down upon himself the wrath of returned men over the conscription issue. Later he denounced returned soldiers who broke up a Bolshevist meeting which had passed resolutions of greeting and support to the Soviet Government of Russia and the Spartans of Germany. His wife, Mrs. Helen Armstrong, is another agitator, who has spent some years of her life in an insane asylum. Alderman John Queen, a Socialist, participated in a meeting held in Winnipeg Market Square in 1917, counselling everybody to burn their registration cards and to resist conscription. He had to run for his life from the enraged soldiers, who became enraged at his conduct. Rev. William Ivens is editor of the Western Labor News and pastor of the Labor Church. Alderman A. A. Heaps is an upholder by trade and has been active in inflaming the workers of Winnipeg to revolt. Other arrests which may be expected will include Victor Midgley, of Vancouver, the leader of the one day general strike in that city in August last in honor of a military defaulter who was shot while resisting arrest. Midgley was expelled from Vancouver on demand of returned soldiers. W. A. Pritchard, another Vancouver man, participated in the same general strike. Joseph Knight, of Edmonton, is described as one of the most notorious of Western agitators in the mining districts, a man who has demanded the immediate release of traitors who were actively working in Canada for the German Government during the war. Joseph Maylor, of Winnipeg, frankly admits himself a Bolshevist, who is out to overturn the present system of government. R. J. Johns, one of the worst of the gang, is a Winnipeg man who endeavored to promote a general strike against conscription and national registration. He went to Toronto and was instrumental in bringing about the unsuccessful general strike there. F. J. Dixon, a member of the Manitoba Legislature, was knocked about by returned soldiers after counselling everybody to burn their registration cards and resist conscription. Andrew Scobie is another prime agitator who favors the release of German spies, the establishment of Soviet rule and proletarian dictatorship.

A HUSTLER NEEDED.

If we had at City Hall in charge of the Public Works Department a man of energy and determination, this is what would happen. He would go for a ride around the town and pick out those streets which bear the heaviest end of the traffic and which are now in need of attention. In the possession of this information he would settle down to the preparation of an estimate of the cost of replacing those streets with permanent paving and in the light of past experience would decide to his own satisfaction whether the work could be done more economically by the city itself than by contract. Having reached his conclusion, he would in the ordinary course of his duty prepare a request for an appropriation to be covered by bond issue providing for the construction of the pavements decided upon as necessary during the present year, and even at the threat of his own resignation he would force that vote through Council and proceed at once to get busy. It is quite possible that there might be some objection from other commissioners, but this would speedily be overcome by the expressed wish of the people who will support to the finish any man with a definite policy and a desire to carry it out. The chances are that during his first season of activity some folks might complain that this commissioner was bringing the city to bankruptcy. There are all ways a few who are inclined to talk that way, but by the time the paving programme had been completed the whole town would be behind the commissioner and his resolution would be assured. Citizens who are either too lazy or too indifferent to do things for themselves are usually willing to endorse the activities of the person who will do things for them, and all are ready to admire enterprise in someone else when it is actuated by a desire to be of real service. In place of what condition, take a look at what we have. Our streets are disgraceful. We have no paving programme for the present season. Money is being frittered away on cheap repairs which scarcely carry traffic for a year. Douglas Avenue has been gone over time and again and at the present time it is simply an abomination. The Marsh Road as far as the One-Mile House was half done in a temporary way in the hope that the other side might be completed before the first portion played out. The expenditure of a year or so ago was literally thrown away, for the entire roadway will now have to be given attention. Prince William street, for the greater part of its length, is a mud hole. Union street is patch work. King street, which ought to be the best in town, would not be creditable to Sussex. In fact, apart from the few scattered bits of paving here and there throughout the city, we have had no definite plan or policy, and no man in the Council at present appears willing to take up the duty devolving upon our commissioners of creating the streets which we should have. Perhaps it is because these commissioners are afraid of defeat if they spend any money. So long as that fear is before them, just so long may they count on certain defeat, but even at this late date if any member of the present

Council will formulate and carry through a clear cut policy of street paving he can count on re-election by a practically unanimous vote. Getting down to brass tacks, the people don't care two straws about a few dollars' additional taxation so long as they can see that something is being done. It is not too late even now to undertake a worth while expenditure on permanent paving and to have several miles completed before the frost starts in. The work need not be confined to any one contractor. Tackle the job on a big scale and let us get somewhere.

WHAT THEY SAY

Hoping for More Hop.

Toronto Mail and Empire—From Winnipeg the Bolshevist trouble has hopped about 1,500 miles west to Vancouver. Here, it is hoped, the next hop will be about the distance further in the same direction.

What of Public Interest?

New York Evening Post: The one thing absolutely clear about the threatened strike of telephone and telegraph operators, under the call of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, is that the public interest in the matter must receive a consideration which neither of the parties to the dispute appears in the least disposed to give it.

The Citizen's Right.

New York Times: The right to recognition in collective bargaining has often been regarded as a right to exclude all other workers from their civil rights. The law cannot grant that, for if any union is recognized so must be all unions. The right of unions is undivided and indivisible from the rights of members and non-members alike, for it is a citizen's right which can be neither alienated or allowed to be invaded.

Save Good, Avoid Bad.

New York Tribune: The American people have no wish to surrender their independence, their liberty of action, when new questions arise. At the same time the evidence is that they are willing to associate peacefully with other nations for peace maintenance. The two claims are reconcilable—at least, it is possible to save the good in the covenant and at the same time avoid the bad. The periodic conference principle would seem to be worth saving, and may be that by use and wont the practice of acting in concert will develop.

Rocky Path to Prohibition.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: National prohibition is on the way. But so one need be surprised if it develops that it has traversed only an inconceivable portion of the distance in the direction of its destination. If the contentions of the able attorneys who are fighting John Barleycorn's battles may be taken at anything approximating their face value, national prohibition has still a long way to go. One need not be antagonistic to the cause to realize that its pathway is beset by legal pitfalls and constitutional snags.

Those Who Need Watching.

New York Herald: There is cause for joy in the announcement that the newly appointed head of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice intends to begin at once a comprehensive campaign "to destroy Bolshevism and anarchy in the United States." This meets the approval of all respectable and law-abiding citizens. It must now be evident to all close observers of current events that the only kind of a republic which is deserving long life is one that can and will stamp out all disintegrating forces, whether from below or above.

Removing Gold Restriction.

New York World: This is a matter of no great practical consequence for the present at home, but it is becoming of some consequence in our exterior trade relations. Thus the dollar has fallen to a discount in the South American markets because those markets on their excess of exports to the United States cannot collect their balances due in gold. Exchange on the United States is being pounded down all the time to the injury of our credit there, and to the ultimate injury of our trade, and to the extension of that artificial position in protection of war inflation in the United States which is at the bottom of high prices and cost of living. The step now taken has been well taken.

Transacted.

The W. C. T. U. met yesterday afternoon, the president, Mrs. David Hip-well in the chair. After the singing of a hymn the president read the first pasha and Mrs. James I. Davis led in prayer. The offering taken was for missions. The corresponding secretary, Mrs. Hanselpecker, reported having received a reply from Mrs. Dr.
Sara Detwiler, Dominion representative of the Travellers' Aid Department, thanking her for information furnished and requesting the organization to distribute leaflets dealing with travellers' aid work in as many homes of the city as possible. After some discussion it was decided to send for several hundreds of the leaflets and comply with the request in the communication.

The missionary superintendent, Mrs. Hennigar, submitted a report on the funds on hand, but it was decided to defer action until the next meeting as it was expected more money would come in.
The railway men's superintendent, Mrs. James I. Davis, reported having taken down to a man who had lost a leg in a recent accident and of his appreciation of the gift.
Mrs. Hanselpecker offered to take flowers to the military hospital this week.
The meeting adjourned with the

POLICE COURT CASES YESTERDAY

John Hayes Was Charged
With Punching Sheriff
Wilson on the Eye—Board of Health Cases Dealt With

The case of John Hayes, who is charged with striking Sheriff Wilson, was again up in the police court yesterday and postponed until Friday.
There were several Board of Health cases also.

In the Hayes case the prisoner is accused of assaulting High Sheriff Wilson in the court room in Masonic Hall on June 6.—Sheriff Wilson went on the stand and told of the assault.
According to the evidence the com-
table beckoned for Hayes to accompany them out of the court, after the jury in his case had disagreed. The Sheriff, himself, told the prisoner to accompany the constables. He took hold of accused who then used abusive language. The accused struck him in the face with his right fist, clenched knocking off his glasses and breaking one lens. The blow caused a lump over the eye and a discoloration under it.

C. H. Ferguson, clerk of the county court, was next called. He was present in the court room on the day in question and saw accused strike the sheriff somewhere about the head.
He saw Constable Crawford seize accused by the arm.

The case was set over for Friday morning. Daniel Mullin, K. C., appeared for the accused.
F. D. A. Boyle, N. C. Geldard, and George Anthony were each fined $10
for selling milk in the city without a license.
Alexander G. Day was fined $10 for keeping swine on his premises, Add-laine street.
Reports were made against James McBeavitt and James O'Connell for selling milk since May 1 without a license. Both cases were set over to that more witnesses could be secured.

No Sympathy For The Women

St. John Housewife Thinks Returned Soldiers Should Have Positions, But Hands
Out a Bump to the Women Who Will Not Hire as Servants.

Regarding an article which appeared in The Standard yesterday a housewife of St. John makes the following comments: "While I have every sympathy with the returned soldiers and think that they should, every one, have positions, I do not feel much sympathy for some women in this community. The time has come for women to help themselves but it is a fact that it is almost impossible to get either a maid or a woman to work for the day. Women willing to go out to earn their $1.00 are so much in demand that they promise to come and times without number disappoint those who have hired them. One housekeeper in St. John hired five women and not one came. In many families there are girls of sixteen and eighteen doing nothing while others, of shall we say, the middle class, are working hard for their daily bread."
"A case known to me of a woman who last year worked in the home of a city dweller and was treated with every kindness and given many useful presents. This year she promised to help in the work of moving to the country and after disappointing the housewife said in answer to an expo-sulation as to why she did not send word, 'I had something better to do than write letters.'"
"Another charwoman was asked to go to the country for part of the day and replied: 'I'll only go to the country if a car is sent for me!'"
"Some people can pay exorbitant wages and this fact makes it that much harder on those who are willing to give fair wages for a much smaller amount of work."

"There is a class of people with small incomes from rents or invested securities who are to be pitied. Their expenses have doubled and redoubled,
their taxes are greater, their pride
would not permit them to receive charity, they have a position to keep up and they can get very little help.
Some sisters or daughters of soldiers have to work to keep the home and it may be that these that the returned soldiers will take positions if girls are replaced by men. Where a girl does not have to work and merely spends her earnings for clothes she should instantly give up her position.
It should be realized that all work is dignified and that the girl who helps the household in the kitchen, if she is a faithful worker, is as much respected as any lady in the land. But there are two sides to the shield and it is not only the soldier's wife who is a faithful worker, it is a compact and it kept fairly on the one side should be honourably followed up on the other."

Y. W. C. A. MEETING HELD YESTERDAY

Decided to Call General Secretary to do Work Among Girls of the City—Interesting Report on Travellers' Aid Committee Work.

A meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held yesterday, the president, Mrs. J.
McAvity, in the chair. It was decided to call a general secretary to do work among the girls of the city. The report on membership showed that the association now has 692 members, of whom 116 are subscribing members, paying $5.
An interesting report was submitted on the work of the Travellers' Aid Committee. It is a very valuable work, and brings the committee
in contact with some interesting cases.
In one instance a mother with nine children was stranded at the station having lost her tickets. They would have been thrown on the streets if the committee had not taken care of them. In another instance a delicate woman with an infant child was found in a similar predicament, and looked after. The report contained a number of pathos stories illustrating the value of this branch of the association's activities.

they only relieved me for a short

Railway Shopmen May Strike Today

Forty Thousand Are Scheduled to Go Out - Won't Affect Running of Trains
—Some Men Will Be Affected in Moncton.

Unless there are some new developments which are not expected, the railway shopmen of Canada to the number of 40,000 are scheduled to go on strike today. A local railway official said the proposed strike would not affect the running of trains, at any rate for some time. Quite a number of men will be affected at Moncton,
but it is not certain what the roundhouse men in St. John will do.
Negotiations looking to a settlement have been going on for some time, but the Government Railways, as well as the C. P. R. and the Grand Trunk, say they are unable to meet the demands of the men for more pay. The C. P.
R. and Government Railways have their rolling stock in good condition,
and not one car is out of the yards for the strike. If it goes on, it will affect the traffic situation. If continued for any time there is bound, however, to be some effect on rolling stock which will interfere with passenger and freight traffic, and affect business generally.
What attitude the other railway organizations will take if the strike is prolonged is not known, but it is said that there is considerable dissatisfaction among railway men generally, particularly in the West, where various judges have voted for a general strike
to induce the government to take action on the high cost of living.

RETURNED MEN WERE WELCOMED

About One Hundred Soldiers
Who Arrived on S.S. Royal
George at Halifax Monday
Reached Here Yesterday Morning.

About one hundred men, who came across on the Royal George, reached the city yesterday morning at six o'clock. They were met at the depot by Charles Robinson, secretary of the Returned Soldiers' Commission and members of the citizens' reception committee and the K. O. committee.
The usual treat was passed around after which the men marched to the armory. Those for outside points left last evening for their homes.
Among the men who returned was Capt. (Dr.) J. A. McCarthy, who went overseas in 1916 and served for fourteen months in France as a member of the 2nd Field Ambulance with the 5th Battalion. Capt. McCarthy was given a very hearty welcome home
by his many friends.

TIN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

A Tin Wedding was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. Shane on the evening of June 8th. It being the 10th anniversary of their marriage, and about 20 couples participated in the evening and enjoying themselves. The home was very artistically decorated and illuminated
for the occasion. Plenty of fruits, sweets and eatables were in evidence,
the tables fairly groaning with such delicacies enough to satisfy the most fastidious taste. It was very noticeable that everyone enjoyed themselves to the utmost. Some very classical music and singing was on the programme. The girls were arrayed in beautiful costumes of satins and silks with neat trimmings. The gifts were very numerous, among them being out glass and tinware of every description. After a happy evening the company dispersed, all joining in singing God Save the King—Yarmouth Light.

Common Council Regular Meeting

Delegation Objected to Clause
in Electrical Work By-law
Without Result - Protest
from Teamsters—Cemetery
Co. Ask Damages—Other Business.

The City Council yesterday passed the electrical work by-law as it was reported by the committee of the whole, though a delegation of journeymen electricians, accompanied by President F. Campbell of the Trades and Labor Council, suggested some amendments.
The spokesman of the delegation objected to the clause stating that no permit for work should be issued to anybody except master electricians and employing electricians, as they thought this would deprive a journeymen man out of employment from taking a contract on his own account. He also wanted the examination for license conducted verbally or in writing
at the option of the candidate.
The spokesman said electricians in St. John were the lowest paid in Canada. If they adopted the by-law as it stood wages of journeymen would have to go up. If a man only worked six months he had to live.
Mayor Hayes—is that a threat?
Spokesman—"Oh no, I'm only saying what is bound to happen."
The Mayor—"Well, what do men do
now if they only get six months work?
A.—They can go in business on their
own account, and nobody can say anything now."
Com. Fisher suggested that citizens should be given an opportunity
to petition against the by-law.
The journeymen said the master
electricians wanted the by-law stringent as possible so they could put up
prices to the public. They said wages
of electricians here were never more
than 45 cents, while the masters charged
the public from 60 to 70 cents. Except in one shop the journeymen provided their own tools.
After the delegation withdrew the
council took up the committee's report
on the by-law.
Com. Thornton said he did not agree with the clause set forth, though he
had every sympathy with journeymen.
The by-law would not work any hardships. A master might be paying a journeymen good wages during the day, and the journeymen might go and
do night work on his own account.
In that case the journeymen should
pay the same license as the master.
Com. Bullock suggested the matter should go back to committee; the objections might be overcome.
Com. Thornton—"No by-law will satisfy the journeymen."
The Mayor—"A by-law can be amended if it does not work out satisfactorily."
The by-law provides that all masters
and journeymen must pass an examination, and that the journeymen shall pay $1 for a license and masters and employing electricians $5. It was adopted. Commissioners Fisher and Bullock dissenting.
A letter was received from J. C.
Chesley, commodore of the St. John
Power Boat Club, suggesting some
civil recognition of an act of heroism
performed by Nathaniel A. Palmer, a retired soldier, in rescuing a young man named Birmingham from drowning in Marble Cove.
Com. Thornton said this was the second time Palmer had saved life,
and if it had not been for his heroism
Birmingham would have been drowned. They were twenty minutes bringing him around. While in the water
Palmer had ruined a valuable watch
presented him before he went overboard. Some recognition was due to him.
The matter was referred to the Mayor to report.

The delegation objected to the clause stating that no permit for work should be issued to anybody except master
electricians and employing electricians,
as they thought this would deprive a journeymen man out of employment
from taking a contract on his own account. He also wanted the examination for license conducted verbally or in writing at the option of the candidate.

Spokesman—"Oh no, I'm only say-
ing what is bound to happen."
The Mayor—"Well, what do men do
now if they only get six months work?
A.—They can go in business on their
own account, and nobody can say anything now."

Com. Fisher suggested that citizens should be given an opportunity
to petition against the by-law.
The journeymen said the master
electricians wanted the by-law string-
ent as possible so they could put up
prices to the public. They said wages
of electricians here were never more
than 45 cents, while the masters charged
the public from 60 to 70 cents. Except in one shop the journeymen provided their own tools.

After the delegation withdrew the
council took up the committee's report
on the by-law.
Com. Thornton said he did not agree
with the clause set forth, though he
had every sympathy with journeymen.
The by-law would not work any hardships. A master might be paying a journeymen good wages during the
day, and the journeymen might go and
do night work on his own account.
In that case the journeymen should
pay the same license as the master.
Com. Bullock suggested the matter
should go back to committee; the
objections might be overcome.

Com. Thornton—"No by-law will satisfy the journeymen."
The Mayor—"A by-law can be amended if it does not work out satisfactorily."
The by-law provides that all masters
and journeymen must pass an examination, and that the journeymen shall
pay $1 for a license and masters and
employing electricians $5. It was adopted. Commissioners Fisher and Bullock dissenting.

A letter was received from J. C.
Chesley, commodore of the St. John
Power Boat Club, suggesting some
civil recognition of an act of heroism
performed by Nathaniel A. Palmer, a
retired soldier, in rescuing a young
man named Birmingham from drowning in Marble Cove.
Com. Thornton said this was the second time Palmer had saved life,
and if it had not been for his heroism
Birmingham would have been drown-
ed. They were twenty minutes bringing him around. While in the water
Palmer had ruined a valuable watch
presented him before he went over-
board. Some recognition was due to
him.

The matter was referred to the Mayor to report.
A letter approving of this contract was received from the Teamsters' Union protesting against employment of drivers under 16 years,
and asking that the police be ordered to enforce the by-law.
Com. Fisher—"Teamsters should be registered."
Com. Thornton—"That's so. It's difficult for police to tell age of drivers
now."
The matter was referred to the commissioner of safety.

A communication from the Fernhill
Cemetery Company sent a bill for $50
on account of damage done by flushing of water mains, and it was referred to the commissioner of water and sewerage.
Com. Thornton moved that W. H.
Gorham and R. S. Black be given permission to establish a lunch wagon on South Market street at a rental of $15 per month. Carried.

A bill of $284.50 by J. H. Deedy's advanced a further sum of $1,000 out of the amount held back under their contract, the city engineer having reported favorably thereto.

The Commissioner of Harbors, Ferries
and Public Lands was authorized to purchase piling to the extent of $5, 000 for use at the face piling construction to the West Side ferry approaches amount of $2,000 being in addition to the Robert Robertson's contract but coming within the estimated cost of $2,500.00 approved by this council on the 25th day of March last.

The tender of Phoenix Foundry and

WHEN I ROB, I ROB; WHEN I KILL THEY STAY DEAD, SAYS G. F. HAMBY WHO HELD UP, BROOKLYN BANK

Man Brought from West Sneers When Called "Burglar" and Tells Amazing Story of Theft and Murder—De- clares He Has Stolen $490,000 in Last Four Years.

(New York Herald.)
The Gordon Fawcett Hamby, brought from Tacoma, Wash., to Brooklyn, to be questioned regarding the robbery and murder at the East Brooklyn Savings Bank in December last, yesterday confessed every detail of the robbery and murders. His confession, though complete in every detail, was made in the most flippant and strident manner possible and his indifference to the police and other authorities so impressed District Attorney Lewis that a special guard has been ordered to watch him day and night at the local Raymond Street Jail.

In the opinion of the District Attorney, Hamby, or Allen, as he calls himself, is the most nimble person physically and mentally he has ever seen. He is declared after hearing the man's amazing confession, and has that it was convinced of a determination on the part of the prisoner to fight his escape or commit suicide before he is tried.

Hamby explained that the name Hamby and his other aliases, J. Allen, Finney and Browning Bird, are in no way similar to his genuine name. He told that of bank robberies and train thefts extending over a period of eight years and admitted that of the $490,000 which he declares he obtained in that time he has not a penny left. He stated that money crossed the Atlantic and after a robbery in this country always spent in the money in Europe, and vice versa.

"Just Hard-Workin' Robber."
"I'll do the best I can," answered Hamby. "But, as I told you, I'm just a hard-working robber, not a chatter-box or speaker. If you want some oratory, go hire William Jennings Bryan. I'm trying to tell you something and the best I can do is merely the best I can do. Don't expect everything."
"Go on," said the District Attorney. "I picked this bank as a neat place to rob and saw that it was equipped with the job in fine style for me. We got away, but it was lucky—just lucky."
"Who was your companion?" asked the District Attorney.
"Just see how quiet you can keep," answered Hamby. "The guy I had with me was an awful selection, but he was shot dead within a month after that robbery and about the same time got to the West with about $17,000 picked up here in Brooklyn and on one other job halfway to the coast. He's dead and I'm about as bad as you now, but boy, I've been picking them off easy for a long, long time, and this is the first month I ever knew the feel of a handout in my life."
"About the robbery, I just shot the fellow Peale because I gave him an order and he refused to obey it. That is no way to act when your belt is robbed and time is short."

"When the other man was shot I told some women who had been cleaning up the bank and who were crying and yelling that it was a moving picture stunt and if they shut up they'd be all right. Then we beat it for the open and after a lot of excitement got into the taxicab and away. We divided up right there."
"That was Friday the Thirtieth and today is Friday the Thirtieth again. Rotten day, what?"
After Hamby had signed his confession he was taken to Police Headquarters in Manhattan to be photographed and finger printed. He was then taken before Judge Mitchell May in the County Court where he pleaded not guilty through counsel provided for him. The date of his trial was set for June 23.

For and About Women

LONDON WOMEN ASK BUTCHER FOR MUTTON, GET FROZEN BEEF

London housewives are grumbling because they can get a great deal of frozen beef, which they don't want, and cannot get mutton, which they do want, says the London correspondent of "The Manchester Guardian." He says:
They grumble a great deal to the butchers, and indeed worry them about it. I suppose that the grievance is not confined to London. My own butcher has dropped into poetry on the subject—has, in fact, posted up his replies in verse in his shop. As he blithely confessed to me, the poetry is of his own composition. Here are the lyrics:
Who is it tries to keep you fit?
The Butcher.
Who sells you beef, and plenty of it?
The Butcher.
Who would sooner sell you lamb,
And send-back the beef to Uncle Sam?
Who'd please his clients all he can?
The Butcher.

Since mutton is the trouble, Little Bo-Peep would naturally occur to the poet. It does, and this is the result:
Little Bo-Peep,
I'd love those sheep
If only I knew where to find them.
My customers sure
Would grumble no more,
If in this shop they'd find them.

I am afraid "sure" and "more" make a "Cockney rhyme," but after all, has not Keats been accused of Cockney rhymes?
Apparently pork is also scarce and in demand, as the following lines show:
Mutton is scarce, and so is veal,
And as for pork, I haven't a seal.
Though mutton is scarce, I've plenty of beef.

I beg your attention to the second line. I may add, as an irrelevant detail, that while I was reading the poems a connection of mine was buying a shoulder of mutton.

He Turned Back.
Farmer Crab's brook is noted for the number and size of its eels. Fishing therein is "strictly prohibited," which in itself is attraction enough for the small boy.
One evening an urban was leaving the neighborhood rather hurriedly when a youthful friend inquired:
"Caught anything, Bob?"
"Yes," replied Bob.
"Eel?"
"No, tee!"
The friend understood, and decided to turn back with Bob.

A FEW RECIPES
Savory Eggs.
6 eggs.
4 tablespoons chopped cooked chicken, man or tongue.
2 tablespoons chopped parsley.
Salt and pepper to taste.
6 rounds of fried toast.
Method. Butter six small moulds. Mix ham, parsley and seasonings together, throw a little into each mould, shake well, remove sides. Break one egg into each mould, taking care not to break the yolk. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dot with butter. Steam four or five minutes, or until set. Turn out on rounds of fried toast and serve at once. This recipe has been tested and found excellent.
Eggs a La Martine.
4 hard boiled eggs.
1 cup white sauce.
4 tablespoons grated cheese.
Method. Grate the cheese to the sauce, stir until the cheese is melted, then add the chopped hard boiled eggs; serve on rounds of toast, garnish with sprigs of parsley, dust with paprika.

Curried Eggs.
Put into an enameled saucepan one tablespoon of butter, one small onion cut fine and a small apple cut up. Cook a few minutes, but do not let it brown. Then add two tablespoons of flour and one teaspoon curry powder; one-quarter teaspoon of salt. Mix well together, then add about one-half pint of milk gradually. Let cook slowly for about ten minutes, then pass all through a strainer. Add a teaspoon of chutney and three or four hard-boiled eggs cut into quarters. Put back on stove till thoroughly heated. Serve with a little chutney.

WISDOM IN THE HOUSEHOLD.
Pumpkin chips can be made just as orange peel, but do not let it brown in the winter time.
Dried strawberries can be made into jam in the winter time.
Fleece-lined cotton underwear is a good substitute for woolen.
In kneading bread, use as little flour as possible on the board.
Perfectly good apple-sauce cake can be made from dried apples.
Gloves of skin or leather are better mended with cotton than silk.
Newspapers may be used as chamois in finishing window glass.
Newspapers can be used instead of a damp cloth in pressing clothes.
See that all doors and windows are well fitted, if you would have heat.
The more burning coal there is in a furnace the more economical it is.
Prunes, jellied with gelatin, are an agreeable change from usual things.
Apples, stuffed with raisins and chopped nuts, then baked are delicious.
Silk shirts, when worn too much for any other use, make excellent dust-ers.
Fastening clothes on the line by the corners is the surest way of tearing them.
Zinc may be cleaned with lemon.
Black beans are excellent for soup.
Bluing whites should be very clear.
The one fat not to use in frying is butter.
Eggs may be poached and served on rice.
Vaseline stains should be sponged with ether.
Cinnamon and cloves are both antiseptics.
Dates stuffed with marshmallows are delicious.
Meat should never be placed directly on fire.
Meat should be salted after, not before, cooking.
All dry cheese can be saved and used for grating.
Beef drippings are good shortening for pie crust.
Impregiate apple sauce is the better for a little cinnamon.
Prunes are most wholesome cooked without sugar.
Table linen is best darned with a raveling of the goods.
A good potato, if cut across, will easily fit together again.
A drop of vanilla improves the flavor of a cup of coffee.
Bread that stands too long as dough will surely be sour.
Prunes are much improved by the addition of lemon peel.

WOMAN HOSPITAL DRUGGIST RESIGNS.
After having filled more than 375,000 prescriptions during her term of office as pharmacist of Bellevue Hospital, Mrs. Frances Freedman, who enjoys the distinction of being the only woman in the history of New York to hold such a position, has resigned, says the New York Tribune.
Mrs. Freedman is known to thousands of the city's poor. It was to her they went when they had sought free medical advice to get their prescriptions filled. Six months ago she forgot her arduous duties long enough to marry, and she will leave New York to join her husband within a few days.
In 1916 Mrs. Freedman was graduated from the Brooklyn College of Pharmacy at the head of her class and was awarded a prize for efficiency in pharmacy. Her duties at Bellevue Hospital began in February, 1917.

LILY WHITE
Corn Syrup
Thousands of the best house-keepers have discovered that using half sugar and half Lily White Corn Syrup makes preserving more uniformly successful.
To start with, the consistency is bound to be just right from the very nature of the syrup; there is no danger of the preserves crystallizing; the syrup brings out the natural flavour of the fruit; the keeping quality is excellent; and the preserves do not have the cloying sweetness of all sugar.
For better preserves, use Lily White Corn Syrup.

Calgary Woman Gains 25 Pounds By Taking Tanlac

Was So Weak She Could Hardly Walk, Says Wife of Canadian Pacific Railroad Man—"It is Wonderful."

"It certainly has paid me well to stick to Tanlac, for it has really and truly made me feel like a new person," said Mrs. H. Waggon, wife of a well known Canadian Pacific railroad man, residing at 1924 Eighth avenue, East Calgary, recently, in a statement which is both interesting and remarkable.

"For several years," Mrs. Waggon continued, "I had been in a badly run-down condition and was extremely nervous. I also suffered from indigestion and my food seemed to give me very little nourishment. In this weakened condition I fell an easy victim to influenza, last Fall, which left me much weaker than ever, and not until six months later, when I got Tanlac, was I able to find anything to help me. My nerves were so shattered that the least noise would wake me at night and I would go to bed tired and get up the same way in the mornings. I had no appetite and not nearly enough strength to do my work."

"After seeing from the papers that so many Calgary people were being benefited by Tanlac I concluded to try the medicine myself. For some time I could not see much improvement and felt for a while I was going to be disappointed and thought of giving up the treatment. But, then I thought again that it must be good or so many people wouldn't be praising it. So I stuck to it and when I finished my fourth bottle I was improving rapidly. My appetite returned and I lost all signs of nervousness and indigestion. I could rest well at night, get up in the mornings feeling refreshed and noticed myself getting my seventh bottle I was feeling so good that I had actually gained twenty-five pounds in weight. I concluded to try Tanlac and I don't hesitate to recommend it."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co., 125 W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Advt.

WILSON'S FLY PADS

ATLANTIC FLIGHT OF DIRIGIBLE R-34 DELAYED A WEEK

British Admiralty Decides Not to Take Edge off Private Attempts.

London, June 16.—It has been decided that the Admiralty dirigible R-34 will not leave England on her trip to Atlantic City, N. J., until the end of next week—probably between June 21 and 24.

It appears to be the Admiralty's desire, although officials will not discuss it, not to take the edge off the carefully and extensively arranged private competition on which the motor manufacturers stake so much. It has learned to be the first to make a successful non-stop flight across the Atlantic, but rather to exploit to the fullest extent the possibilities of the dirigible. It is not the intention of Admiralty officials to make the flight in the shortest possible time, even, instead, the R-34 and is going to write the official version and technical and descriptive account of the trip. It is intended for the technical side will be reserved for that degree of publicity the Admiralty deems wise when the round trip is completed.

The story of how General John J. Pershing's name was erroneously connected with the flight seems to be one on an English newspaper man, who, when he heard of an unnamed great American was likely to go aboard the dirigible for the trip, at once began a watch on the preparations for the flight in order to learn who this American was. He asked an American officer who it might be, but he said he did not know. The Englishman persisted and queried whether it might be General Pershing, whereupon the American emphatically replied:—"You never can tell; he hasn't said he wouldn't."

Exit English newspaper man to the nearest telegraph office. Hence the story, which was soon denied.

"CHICK" EVANS LEADS GOLD STARS
Who Will Be Seen Here in Matches for the Canadian Red Cross.
Great Galaxy of Golfers from the United States, including Champion Evans, John G. Anderson, "Ned" Sawyer, Oswald Kirkby and Grandland Rice.
(By Earle Hooker Eaton.)
Five and possibly seven of the noted amateur golfers of the United States, who have won over amateur championship of the Canadian Red Cross, beginning at Hamilton on June 23, Toronto June 24, Ottawa June 25, Montreal June 26, and St. Andrews-by-the-Sea June 27 and 28.

Leading the party of notables is Charles (Chick) Evans, Jr., of Chicago, who is both over amateur championship of the United States, and who until a few days ago, was also hold over open champion of the United States. He won both in 1916, and this is a distinction unique in American golf. Jerome D. Travers and Francis Osmet have both been open and amateur champions; Evans captured both titles the same year. Evans, who has done splendid work for the Canadian Red Cross in years past, was also the winner of four western amateur championships and on four different occasions a member of the U. S. foursome that won the Olympic Golf Tournament. Evans is lead in his praise of Canadian golf courses and is anxious to see and play more of them.
John G. Anderson, of Sivanoy Golf Club, near New York, is a golfer of real class. In the national amateur championship he was runner-up to Jerome D. Travers in 1915 and in 1918 to Robert A. Gardner.
D. E. (Ned) Sawyer is another United States player, now playing in the east, who is at the top of his game. Sawyer is former western golf champion and was also runner-up one year. When H. Chandler Egan won the amateur championship of the United States, Sawyer was runner-up. On four occasions he has been a member of the U. S. foursome that won the Olympic Cup Tournament.
Oswald Kirkby, of Englewood, N. J., is a very low man on the handicap list of the United States Golf Association. He has won the Metropolitan Golf Association championship four times and the New Jersey State championship in 1912, 1914 and 1916. On June 15 he won the Metropolitan for the fourth time, retiring the championship trophy from competition.
Grandland Rice, famous as sporting writer and poet, is also a golfer of repute. He has figured prominently in various matches in the United States. Jerome D. Travers and Francis Osmet, who accepted invitations to participate in the tour, have been forced to cancel, but there is still a possibility that one or both of them may participate in some of the matches.

GERMAN PEOPLE FAVOR SIGNING PEACE TERMS

They Have No Delusions About Military Element Being Responsible for War
Commenting on the three notes sent to Clemenceau by the German peace delegation, the Berlin "Friedheit", organ of the Independent Socialist, wrote:
"The standpoint of the German peace delegation on the guilt question does not correspond with the views of a large part of the German people. The overwhelming majority of the German proletariat and numerous commonsense bourgeois elements attribute the principal guilt for the war to the German government, and the imperialistic parties support it. To deny this today is not only immoral but also stupid."
The above is quoted in "The London Daily Telegraph," which also prints the following from its Copenhagen correspondent:
"More and more people in Germany are beginning to raise their voices in favor of Germany's signing the Allies' peace terms, and this view is particularly strong among merchants and other practical men of affairs, who realize that it is the only way to make an end of the present situation of stultification and confusion and to get the people to work. Edward Bernstein, writing in "Vorwarts," says that Germany must sign peace whatever happens, and admits that most of the Allied demands are reasonable found in Germany, he declares, has caused many destructions and committed many mistakes which have now to be paid for."

THE HOSPITAL CASES.

The casualties and hospital cases for St. John and district which will arrive at Portland on the S. S. Essequibo tomorrow, will come through to this city instead of being relayed to Fredericton. This important break from the usual custom is due to the efforts of Charles Robinson, secretary of the N. B. Returned Soldiers' Commission.

A HELPFUL EXERCISE.

Rolling hoops have come into great favor with the small boys of the city recently. Yesterday youngsters were seen rolling carriage wheels and tires, bicycle wheels, and tires, and in fact any kind of a plaything that would roll. One citizen figured that if the energy used to roll these toys was expended with a view of creating power, that there would be enough to light the city and still have some to spare. Under present conditions, however, the pastime proves a much helpful exercise for the youngsters.

A BEAUTIFUL SCHOONER.

The new tern schooner Quaco Queen, which was recently launched at St. Martins, arrived from that point about seven o'clock last evening and was greeted by persons along the waterfront. The Queen is fully rigged and was brought into port by Pilot Abbot. With fair wind and tide and using her two hundred horse power engines, at times, the Queen made the thirty mile run down from St. Martins in three and half hours. On entering the harbor her sails were lowered and she came up to the harbor and was docked under her own power.

PILE OF LUMBER WAS THREATENED.

Small Boys Formed Bucket Brigade and Assisted Firemen in Quenching Dump Fire in Gilbert's Lane Last Evening.

A volunteer brigade, assisted by members of the city fire department, did good service last evening in Gilbert's Lane, when a blaze in a dump threatened a pile of lumber. When the fire was first discovered the small boys of the neighborhood, to the number of about twelve, secured old tin cans and pails and carried water from the swamp on the north side of the lane and poured it on the flames. Word was sent to the fire department and a hose truck with the chief's auto responded. The men of the department took charge, and under their direction the efforts of the boys were concentrated and the fire put out. No damage was done.

CITY EMPLOYEES WHO WENT TO WAR CAN'T REGAIN THEIR POSITIONS

Two Men When Enlisting for Overseas Duty Were Promised Their Jobs Should They Return — Present City Council Not Fulfilling Promises Made by Former Commissioners—Matter Was Discussed Yesterday at City Hall.

What is the position of returned soldiers who volunteered for active service while in the employ of the city on the understanding that if they were fortunate enough to return to St. John their positions would be open to them? This is a question which is worrying the present powers that be at City Hall. Yesterday the matter came before the city council, but the commissioners apparently have not yet decided what their policy will be.

Towards the close of the regular meeting Mayor Hayes said Mr. Goodwin, who went away in the early days of the war expected to get his job back. He had been employed in the public works department, and apparently the then commissioner had promised him that he would be reinstated on his return.

Commissioner Thornton said a young man named McLean, who left the police force to volunteer in the early days of the war, also said he had been promised that his job would be kept open for him. The young man was a volunteer and had seen much service at the front, and he would like to do something for him. But unfortunately the police force was full up.

The Mayor—"These promises, to the men who volunteered and joined up, being made by individual commissioners, are not, I believe, legally binding on the council, but they should be given earnest consideration. Commissioner Jones said the city had a lot of work which would have to be done sooner or later, and there were a lot of returned soldiers in the city looking for work. He thought that before the Mayor went away they should consider whether or not they should start on a programme of work.

SUNK A GERMAN SUBMARINE OFF THE COAST OF IRELAND

Steamship Manchester Port Which Arrived Yesterday Afternoon Has Destruction of Hun Underwater Craft to Her Credit—Interesting Account of the Fight in 1917—Big Freighter Well Handled and British Gunner Turned the Trick.

She is not the fastest freighter which plies the Atlantic, nor yet does she boast of graceful lines, but the S. S. Manchester Port, which arrived here yesterday afternoon, has the record of running through the submarine blockade all through the war period, and.

It sunk a German "sub," with a crew of 35, on June 4th, 1917, just 170 miles off the west coast of Ireland. The crew and master of the vessel have changed since that day, but Second Officer Keadwell, who sighted the "sub" (thereby getting the admiralty reward of £20), and Chief Steward Edwards are still on board, and from them The Standard reporter managed to get the facts of the experience, which nearly cost the lives of forty-one men, a steamer valued at $500,000 and a cargo reaching nearly the same amount.

During Beautiful Weather. On June 4th, after being outward bound for two days the steamer was attacked by a submarine. The ocean was like a mill pond. It was in the evening at six o'clock, and the officers for the most part were at supper. The second officer was on the bridge, when Mrs. Leah of gunners was seen about three miles distance on the port side. Immediately orders were sent to the saloon and the captain rushed upon the bridge. A second shot "Man the gun," rang the captain's voice. No time was lost. This chief engineer, Duncan, was given instructions to "put the coal to her," and drive ahead at full steam. The first shot from the submarine fell short of the steamer. Had it travelled to its object it would have inflicted a mortal wound in the centre of the ship.

The Fight at Six. "Hard a port," was the next order. It was carried out on the instant. By doing this the submarine was placed at the stern of her prey. By keeping her in this position the ship's crew were able to play her defence gun on the enemy of destruction. The enemy continued to chase and kept her two guns going incessantly, and it looked as though one of the deadly missiles would inflict a deadly wound. The gunners at last found the range of the submarine, but the enemy kept changing its course and it was found difficult to keep the range. For forty minutes the fight continued. During this period it was learned from a reliable source the commander (Captain Groth) stood on the bridge smoking a cigar and giving the orders as though nothing outside of the usual was going on.

In the engine and boiler rooms the men were working as they never worked before. Some of the men employed in this section of the ship were members of another ship when she was torpedoed about 3 o'clock one morning. Among the party was Chief Engineer Duncan. Every member of the crew was in action.

From the stern of the steamer the roar of cannon was heard. Several members of the crew are suffering from deafness on account of not having time to put cotton wool in their ears. One member of the crew had a narrow escape from death. He was moving the flag staff at the stern of the steamer when the first shot was fired, and the explosion of the first shell was so terrific that it caused blood to flow from both of his ears. He was only a few feet from the gun, and it was only the cunning light at sea, which was under the water.

Former Members Were Entertained. Returned Soldiers of the Tabernacle Baptist Church Congregation Were Guests at Pleasant Reception Last Evening.

Returned men, who were formerly members of the Tabernacle Baptist Church congregation, were entertained at the church last evening by the members of the Brotherhood and Sunshine classes. A pleasant evening was spent and a fine programme was carried out. The Tabernacle congregation gave one hundred and twenty-three men to the army. Of these twelve made the supreme sacrifice.

There was an address of welcome by A. Beyer, superintendent of the Sabbath School. Rev. A. Lawrence Teiford, pastor of the church, presided.
