NO PROTECTION FOR SEALS OFF NEWFOUNDLAND

Government Removes All Hunting Restrictions There for the Coming Season.

HUNTERS HAD PLANNED TO REDUCE CREWS

Now They Are Advised to Ship Full Crews to Employ Idle Men.

St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 23.—Seal herds on the ice floes off the Labrador coast and in the mouth of the St. Lawrence River, will have "no" protection from the animals and will be hunted by a fleet of vessels from this port. The Newfoundland government announces suspension for one season of all restrictions on the killing of the animals and suggested to owners of sealing ships that they carry the same number of hunters as usual.

Had Planned Reduction. The owners had arranged previously because of the high cost of outfit and the low prices obtainable for seal products, to reduce their crews by one-third. In view of the comparative failure of the fleets in the last three seasons it was thought this policy would give owners and crews a better prospect of remunerative returns.

The owners have not yet decided whether they will agree to the government's suggestion which was made largely in the hope of providing employment for many men now idle.

The seals obtained in this region are not of the fur-bearing variety. Oil is extracted from the fat adhering to their pelts and the skins are used for the manufacture of gloves and other leather products.

WILSON OPPOSES SENDING ARMIES AGAINST RUSSIA

Suggests Cutting Off All Military Aid to Smaller Fighting Bolsheviki.

ADVISES TREATY TO GAURANTEE RUSSIA'S

Problem of Central Russia and Surrounding Nations, He Says.

Washington, Jan. 23.—"A public and solemn" engagement among the great powers not to violate or to permit the violation of the territorial integrity of Russia is regarded by President Wilson as the sine qua non of an attempt at the pacification of Armenia and other states bordering on the once great empire.

The president's views are set forth in a note transmitted to Paul Hymans, president of the League of Nations assembly, by Acting Secretary Davis under date of January 18.

Armenia Only One Issue. The "distasteful situation" of Armenia, which has been invaded by both the Turkish Nationalists and the Soviets, is only one detail of the vast Russian problem, the President says and he "most earnestly urges" his conviction that it is only by a general and comprehensive treatment of the whole problem, "only by full and generous cooperation of the principal powers," that a hopeful approach to the pacification and independence of Armenia can be found. The President says he never has believed that the problems raised by the Bolshevik coup d'etat could be solved by military actions from the outside and he expresses the hope "that the recent tragic events on the Polish front and in the Crimea have convinced all the world that armed invasion is not the way to bring peace to the people of Russia." ### SICK VETERAN FORCED TO BEG

When New York Magistrate Heard His Story He Gave Him Money.

New York, Jan. 23.—Just as Magistrate George W. Simpson in night court was about to impose sentence on Daniel P. Sullivan, forty years old, homeless and overcoatless, arraigned on a charge of soliciting alms, Sullivan who is six feet tall and frail, asked in a whisper if he might say a few words. His request was granted.

"I have never begged or been arrested before. I begged for a few cents, so I could have a bite to eat and a place to sleep before going over to Staten Island in the morning. I had been promised a job here."

The matter with your voice" the magistrate asked him. "I was in the Canadian army in the war and was gassed and wounded. I was treated in several hospitals in Canada, but never got any better. I came here looking for work, but in my condition nobody would employ me. I have starved many times, because I wouldn't beg."

Magistrate Was Kind. At the end of his recital Sullivan broke down and sobbed. The magistrate suspended sentence and as the prisoner was leaving the dock the magistrate handed some bills to take court attendant asking him to take the money to Sullivan. The latter broke down again when the money was offered to him, but refused to accept it and he also declined offers of help from several persons in the court room. He was finally persuaded to take the magistrate's donation "as a loan."

IRISH POLICE FOUND KILLED NEAR STATION

Two Discovered in Road in County Monaghan Each Riddled with Bullets.

MURDERED AFTER BEING SHOT DOWN

Third Member of Tragic Trio Now in Hospital with Six Bullets in Body.

Belfast, Jan. 23.—Two constables who had been shot dead, and another who had been wounded, were found lying Saturday night on the road at Stranocree, County Monaghan. The constables, Hegarty, Taylor and Clark, went for a walk in the country Saturday night. Upon their failure to return, a searching party was sent out for them.

Riddled With Bullets. The bodies of Constables Hegarty and Taylor were found lying in the road about a quarter of a mile from the barracks. They were riddled with bullets, having apparently been fired into as they lay on the ground.

Constable Clark was not found until this morning, when he was discovered in an unconscious condition in a building near the spot where the bodies were found.

Shot Six Times. It is supposed that after being wounded he managed to crawl into the building for shelter. He was removed to a hospital, where he was found to be suffering from six dangerous bullet wounds, and little hope is held for his recovery. All three of the constables were former service men and had been stationed at Stranocree for only a month. Sergeant Kemp, who was wounded in a bomb attack at Armagh, about a week ago, died today. His was the eleventh death from violence during the week-end.

FOR WAR YEARS ONLY ELECTION BATTLE OF 1917

Declares Hon. Robert Rogers in Answer to Question Concerning Last Contest.

QUOTES MINISTER TO PROVE CONVICTION

"Understood It Was for Period of the War Run on a War-Time Franchise."

Winnipeg, Manitoba, Jan. 23.—The following is the answer made by the Hon. Robert Rogers to a denunciation of Conservatives who called upon him yesterday and asked for his view respecting the common understanding as to whether the 1917 election was for the period of the war or for the life of a natural parliament.

Undoubtedly it was the common understanding, not alone among Ministers forming Union Government, but among the Canadian people everywhere as well, that the 1917 election was for the period of the war, run on a war time franchise act, an act that is no longer in existence.

Conservatives in a part of Canada sacrificed their party organizations during the war, not because they were not proud of the traditional record of the party that has made Canada what it is today, but because Conservatives stood in 1917 where they have ever stood, and where I trust, as I believe, they will ever continue to stand, prepared at any time to place the best interests of their country before that of anything else.

What Ministers Said. Ministers of Union Government in 1917, in their official address to the electorate of Canada, made it abundantly clear themselves that the 1917 election was only for the period of the war. For example, Mr. Carvell was very definite. His words were as follows:

"We men who have disagreed with Sir Wilfrid Laurier are Liberals yet, and when the war is over we will start again where we were last week. We have lost none of our Liberal principles."

Mr. Calder, then, as now, the master mechanic of the government machine, was quite as definite as Mr. Carvell. He apparently regarded the chief danger for Union Government in the 1917 election to be that the people would not clearly understand that that election was only for the period of the war.

Hon. Mr. Calder. The exact words used by Mr. Calder in his official statement of Nov. 25 and Dec. 13, 1917, were as follows:

"The day for polling is fixed for Monday, December 17th next. On that date our people from coast to coast will be given the opportunity to determine by their ballots whether or not during the period of the war and until demobilization takes place if we are to have a non-partisan Union Government to administer the nation's affairs."

FOR WAR YEARS ONLY ELECTION BATTLE OF 1917

Declares Hon. Robert Rogers in Answer to Question Concerning Last Contest.

QUOTES MINISTER TO PROVE CONTENTION

"Understood it Was for Period of the War Run on a War-Time Franchise."

(Continued from page one.) "One of the chief dangers of the present election is that many people are liable to lose sight of the one great issue at stake. The Union Government was not created to deal with tariff, banking and other domestic problems. Mr. J. A. Maharg, president of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, who was elected by acclamation as a Union Government supporter; Hon. T. A. Crerar, general manager of the Grain Growers' Grain Company and minister of agriculture in the new government; Mr. Hardisty and Mr. Rod Mackenzie, both officials of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, as well as scores of others prominent in our grain growers' movements, and who support the Union Government, do not expect it to deal with these problems."

"Divide When War Ends"

"When the war is over and times are again normal we will divide once more on our local and domestic issues. Nothing can prevent this. Many people are liable to lose sight of the one great issue at stake. The Union Government was not created to deal with tariff, banking and other domestic problems. Mr. J. A. Maharg, president of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, who was elected by acclamation as a Union Government supporter; Hon. T. A. ### FRANCE READY TO PUT PLANS BEFORE BOARD

Nation Will Insist That Germans Proceed at Once to Complete Disarmament.

FRANCE IS PEACEFUL IF GERMANY ACTS

Allies Will Ureg That Tepton Pay Over Some More Gold at Once.

(Continued from page 1.) The questions to be discussed will come up in the following order, unless, after an exchange of views, the delegates find it advantageous to adopt a different programme. Disarmament of Germany; reparations; Turkey and Greece and the Treaty of Sevres; war debts between Allies and Austria; exchange and relations between the Allies and the United States. The disarmament discussion is expected to turn mostly upon measures to be employed to bring Germany to comply with the Peace Treaty. As the Allies are supposed to be agreed that Germany must finally disarm effectively, it is understood that France does not want to apply the penalty of occupation of further German territory, provided the Treaty of Spa is confirmed. What Germans Must Pay. The reparations question will come up on the report of the Allied experts who met the Germans at Brussels, in which they recommend that pending final determination of the total of Germany's debt, Germany shall pay five annual installments of three billions of francs in gold of which the minimum in cash is to be fixed by the Allies. The experts will recommend that Germany be allowed to retain 200,000 tons of shipping, which remains to be turned over to the Allies, and that the expense of the occupation of the Rhineland be reduced. No Plebiscite Voted. They will reject the demands of the German experts for the suppression of the plebiscite in Upper Silesia for an indefinite period; the postponement of payments in cash; the restitution of sequestered German property abroad and which has not yet been liquidated in order that Germany may use it as security for credits, and a reduction in Germany's coal deliveries. They also will propose the suspension of cash advances by the Allies on the price of coal delivered.

Wilson Opposes Sending Armies Against Russia

Exports Decline But Imports Are Arriving in Steadily Increasing Stream.

Suggests Cutting Off All Military Aid To Smaller Fighting Nations

Advices Treaty to Guarantee Russia Problem of Central Russia and Surrounding Nations, He Says.

(Continued from page 1.) Mr. Wilson adds that those events have only strengthened his conviction that the Russian revolution beneficent in its main purposes, must be developed to a satisfactory conclusion by the Russians themselves, with such help from the outside as may be "voluntarily received." Mr. Wilson says, in one of his relations between central Russia and the surrounding smaller national groups. Better and mutual distrust, he states, is the cause of the unrest and instability along the border; the struggling new nationalities formerly part of the Russian Empire, are afraid to disarm and return to the work of peace, because they distrust the Bolsheviks, and the Bolsheviks, because they are afraid to demobilize, because they fear new attacks. Present Moment Opportune. Mr. Wilson expresses the opinion that the present moment offers a "peculiarly pressing challenge" to an attempt at general pacification on the Russian borders along the lines of a clear distinction between offense and defense. "Such an attempt," the note continues, "seems to the president to be the logical development of the only logical development of the requirements to mediate in the Armenian conflict. It is obvious to all that these small struggling border states will not attack Great Russia unless encouraged by promise of support from the powers." Out Of All Aid. The president then suggests a "public and solemn" declaration among the powers to refrain from extending such aid, declaring that in this way responsibility for any new war which might break out on the Russian border would then be "clearly placed." "If the principal powers represented on the Council of the League," Mr. Wilson says in conclusion, "will express in accord with the president in their moral and diplomatic support, he will instruct his personal representatives, Mr. Morgenthau, to proceed at once on his mission."

Doing Away With Lighthouse Keepers

New Apparatus Which is Self-Lighting and Self-Extinguishing Comes Into Use.

Halifax, Jan. 24.—Lighthouse keepers will soon be as extinct as the dodo if science has its way. Last week two light-keepers were removed from duty after many years service and their positions will remain vacant for all time owing to the fact that a new lighthouse apparatus, which is self-lighting and self-extinguishing, has been introduced. Hobson's Island and Westward's Island, the latter at the mouth of Malone Harbor, have now what is called "non-attending lights," that is, lights requiring no keeper. In the case of the two lights in question the old apparatus, lighted and tended by a keeper, have been replaced by the new system. This will prove a big saving to the government, doing away not only with the salaries of the keepers, but with the incidental supplies so necessary under the old system.

Former Inspectors In Shooting Case

Victim in Hospital and May Not Recover—Two Brothers Held in Jail.

Toronto, Jan. 23.—Stanley and William Hallam, brothers, Windsor, Ont., who for some time were agents of Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin in the prosecution of gun-runners on the Essex border, were arrested here this afternoon on a charge of criminal negligence. The alleged criminal negligence was the shooting of Mrs. Ruby Cross, 21 years of age at 12 Wood street. Mrs. Cross was removed to St. Michael's Hospital in a critical condition. May Not Recover. According to the police the Hallam brothers were quarrelling in a room at 12 Wood street and a revolver was discharged during the quarrel. The bullet crashed through a partition in the house and hit Mrs. Cross, who was in the next room to the Hallams. She was shot in the abdomen. Doctors at the hospital stated that she could not recover. It is said that Stanley Hallam admitted to the police that he did the shooting, but said the discharging of the revolver was accidental.

Marlenburg, Prussia, Jan. 23.—A hard-bitten railroad company has just refused to meet a remarkable bill, presented by relatives of a bridegroom killed in a train wreck near here. Along with a claim for damages measured high because the couple just starting out in life and therefore had high prospective earnings before them, the relatives submitted a long bill for the funeral banquet held in accordance with ancient custom at the "wake" of the deceased. Included in the detailed list of foods and luxuries consumed at the feast, the total cost of which amounted to many thousands of marks, were three-quarters of a ton of beer, 1500 cigars, 15 bottles of cognac and rum, 15 pounds of butter, 200 pounds of white flour, 400 pounds of meat, 50 pounds of fish and 300 pounds of coffee, together with an item for the cost of renting dishes and silverware for the occasion.

(Continued from page 1.) Mr. Wilson adds that those events have only strengthened his conviction that the Russian revolution beneficent in its main purposes, must be developed to a satisfactory conclusion by the Russians themselves, with such help from the outside as may be "voluntarily received." Mr. Wilson says, in one of his relations between central Russia and the surrounding smaller national groups. Better and mutual distrust, he states, is the cause of the unrest and instability along the border; the struggling new nationalities formerly part of the Russian Empire, are afraid to disarm and return to the work of peace, because they distrust the Bolsheviks, and the Bolsheviks, because they are afraid to demobilize, because they fear new attacks. Present Moment Opportune. Mr. Wilson expresses the opinion that the present moment offers a "peculiarly pressing challenge" to an attempt at general pacification on the Russian borders along the lines of a clear distinction between offense and defense. "Such an attempt," the note continues, "seems to the president to be the logical development of the only logical development of the requirements to mediate in the Armenian conflict. It is obvious to all that these small struggling border states will not attack Great Russia unless encouraged by promise of support from the powers." Out Of All Aid. The president then suggests a "public and solemn" declaration among the powers to refrain from extending such aid, declaring that in this way responsibility for any new war which might break out on the Russian border would then be "clearly placed." "If the principal powers represented on the Council of the League," Mr. Wilson says in conclusion, "will express in accord with the president in their moral and diplomatic support, he will instruct his personal representatives, Mr. Morgenthau, to proceed at once on his mission."

(Continued from page 1.) The questions to be discussed will come up in the following order, unless, after an exchange of views, the delegates find it advantageous to adopt a different programme. Disarmament of Germany; reparations; Turkey and Greece and the Treaty of Sevres; war debts between Allies and Austria; exchange and relations between the Allies and the United States. The disarmament discussion is expected to turn mostly upon measures to be employed to bring Germany to comply with the Peace Treaty. As the Allies are supposed to be agreed that Germany must finally disarm effectively, it is understood that France does not want to apply the penalty of occupation of further German territory, provided the Treaty of Spa is confirmed. What Germans Must Pay. The reparations question will come up on the report of the Allied experts who met the Germans at Brussels, in which they recommend that pending final determination of the total of Germany's debt, Germany shall pay five annual installments of three billions of francs in gold of which the minimum in cash is to be fixed by the Allies. The experts will recommend that Germany be allowed to retain 200,000 tons of shipping, which remains to be turned over to the Allies, and that the expense of the occupation of the Rhineland be reduced. No Plebiscite Voted. They will reject the demands of the German experts for the suppression of the plebiscite in Upper Silesia for an indefinite period; the postponement of payments in cash; the restitution of sequestered German property abroad and which has not yet been liquidated in order that Germany may use it as security for credits, and a reduction in Germany's coal deliveries. They also will propose the suspension of cash advances by the Allies on the price of coal delivered.

HIGHER SALARY FOR REGISTRAR MAKES TROUBLE

Westmorland Councillors Object to Paying New Official $1,400 Increase Annually. ASKS GOVERNMENT TO REDUCE THE SALARY Claim Registrar's Work Was Done Efficiently by Deputy at Much Less.

Special to The Standard. Dorchester, N. B., Jan. 23.—At the closing session of the Westmorland municipal council yesterday, a resolution was passed deprecating the action of the Government in increasing the salary of the registrar to $4,000, in view of the fact that the work was being efficiently done at the former salary by the deputy registrar and could easily have been continued on that basis.

Debate Was Keen. The resolution was passed after quite a spirited debate, in which those who supported the resolution claimed that this was not the time to increase salaries, and that the Government was not justified in increasing the salary of the registrar of deeds without consulting the representatives of the municipality affected.

On the other hand, members of the council who spoke in support of the increase in salary for the registrar claimed that $4,000 was not too much for the office, and that the salary would have been increased before, as other salaries had been, had the registrar been appointed on the basis of the work being done by a deputy.

Charges Political Act. The discussion became somewhat acrimonious as the result of one of the defenders of the Government intimating that politics actuated those behind the resolution, and closing session for a time saved of the old-time debaters. The resolution was more than a question of the registrar's salary, however, showing that the majority of the councillors still adhere to the principle of no increase in salary, viz.: That the interests of the municipality are best served when party politics are kept out of municipal affairs.

In regard to the registry office it may be explained that the increase of salary from $2,600 to $4,000 was made by the local Government since the appointment of C. M. Leeger, C.M.P., as registrar two months ago. The office of registrar was vacated by the death of Hon. R. D. Richard, about four years ago and was never filled until recently, the duties of the office having been performed by the interim by the deputy, J. A. Bourgeois.

The Resolution. Councillor Fawcett moved, seconded by Councillor Murray, the following resolution:—

Whereas, the local Government has increased the salary of the registrar $1,400 per year, making the salary $4,000; and, whereas, the work was being done in an efficient manner for $2,500 by the deputy registrar and could easily have been continued on that basis, and as the increase is being paid by the county and salary has been increased without any consultation with the county council; therefore resolved, that the county council deprecates that action of the local Government in the matter and would ask the Government to reconsider the question and have the salary restored to the former basis.

Principle is Wrong. Councillor Fawcett said the matter in which the salary of the registrar has been increased was a wrong principle to follow. We were entering a period of hard times, he said, and he thought this move was very unfortunate. If this increase of salary had been passed by the legislature just entered, they would have nothing to say, but he didn't think the mass of the people would sustain the action of the Government in this matter.

Councillor Melanson said it wasn't fair to try and censure the Government in this matter. If there had been a registrar appointed before the resolution would have been $4,000 last year, but the deputy was doing the work and that was why there had not been an increase for the office. It looked to him as if there was politics in this move.

Councillor Fawcett.—"There is no party politics, as far as I am concerned. It is just the interests of the country."

Looking for Reason. Councillor Murray said it looked to him as if there was "A Nigger in the Wood-PILE" somewhere. He didn't think it right for the Government to pass such things as this by its own council.

Councillor Carter (Swisbury) said he was going to vote for the motion on the ground that the Government had passed an act to put a whip over this council. They might just as easily have made this salary $10,000.

Councillor Campbell said Councillor Melanson was wrong in saying there was politics in this. The people have to pay this salary in increased taxes.

Ring And Necklace For Miss Gallupe

East Florenceville Lady Coming to St. John to Take Position With Phone Co.

Special to The Standard. East Florenceville, N. B., Jan. 23.—Miss Mabel Gallupe, who has been for a number of years chief operator and bookkeeper for New Brunswick Telephone Co. here, but has removed to St. John, to take a position in the head office of the company, was the guest at two gatherings during the week, at each of which she was the recipient of tangible expressions of the good will of her friends of the village.

The local staff of the company presented Miss Gallupe with a beautiful cross ring and Rev. F. E. Bishop of the Baptist Church, on behalf of the congregation, presented her with a pearl and emerald necklace. The ladies in charge of the event, which took place in the Baptist Church, were Mrs. F. FOUND BODY OF MRS. HALL FAST ON RIVER SANDS

Tragedy of Mrs. Tilley Hall, Missing St. Stephen Woman, Solved on Sunday. MISSING FROM HOME SINCE JANUARY 14TH

Probable That Body Had Drifted Four Miles From Place Where Coat Was. Special to The Standard. St. Stephen, Jan. 23.—The body of Mrs. Tilley Hall, who disappeared from her home on Friday night, January 14th, was found today at the Lodge, four miles below this town by a young man named Holmes, who is a resident of that village.

Holmes was strolling along the beach this afternoon when he discovered the body about fifty yards below Birch Glen, a summer colony. It was face down and frozen into the sand and rocks, it being necessary to dig around the body and raise about six inches square of the beach.

Found Coat On Shore. Mrs. Hall's coat was found on Sunday last at the Cove just a short way from the international bridge, and it is thought that she had jumped in the river at that point and the body had either floated down then or that on Monday when dynamiting at that point the body had been raised and floated down with the tide and had drifted to the beach at this point as it appears the body had been lying there for the last few days. The coroner was immediately notified and the body was removed to the undertaking rooms of J. R. Sederquist.

Besides her husband Mrs. Hall leaves three children: also her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Axelson, two sisters and two brothers.

ARRIVES AT OTTAWA

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—Hon. E. K. Spence, minister without portfolio in the present administration, arrived in Ottawa last night from his home at Yarmouth. He expects to remain here until after the opening of the session.

He was opposed to the increase on principle and would support the motion. Councillor Fawcett said Councillor Melanson had put up to them that this was a matter of party politics, he (Fawcett) did not take that kindly.

He contended that when the Government did such things as this without consulting the representatives, it was a downright insult to the people, and it was time somebody took a hand in it. If Councillor Melanson was satisfied with this method of doing the people's business, he (Fawcett) was not. The deputy registrar could have done the work in this office at the present salary, and he could not see how the Government could justify the increase in the face of all the facts.

Against the Government. Mayor Doncaster said he was proud of the stand taken by Councillor Fawcett. His attitude on this question showed him to be a true representative of the people. He (Doncaster) was a lifelong Liberal and a supporter of the Foster Government, yet he felt that it was in the interests of the people to take this stand.

Councillor Melanson said he believed there was politics in this move. "This council the last few years has been run as much on party political lines as the Government at Fredericton or Ottawa."

Some councillors—"No!"

How They Voted. After some further remarks, the vote was taken, and resulted in the resolution being carried by a vote of 11 to 4, as follows: Yes—Councillors Fawcett, Campbell, Doncaster, Sherrard, Carter; (Swisbury), King, Murray, Carter; (Westmorland), Richard, Aiken, McInnes—11.

No—Councillors Melanson, Farrow, Gould, McInnes, Wells and Bourgeois—4. Council adjourned.

OVER 800 CASES OF LIQUOR SALE WERE CONVICTED

Report for Past Year Shows About 900 Cases Heard During Last Year. REVENUE IN FINES IS ABOUT $45,000

Nearly $21,000 Collected in Excess of What Law Administration Cost. Special to The Standard. Fredericton, Jan. 23.—Approximately $45,000 is said to have been collected in fines in New Brunswick under the Prohibition Act during the fiscal year, which ended on October 31st.

The information is contained in the final annual report of Rev. W. D. Wilson, as chief inspector, which has been presented to the provincial government.

Information similar to that contained in his annual report is in possession of the New Brunswick Temperance Alliance officials, and it is said the financial report showed receipts in fines, licenses, etc., amounting to $21,000 more than the disbursements during the fiscal year.

900 Liquor Prosecutions. It is further stated that the report shows approximately 900 prosecutions during the year by the prohibition department, there being more than 800 convictions and approximately 80 cases that were dismissed.

It is said that the report says that the repeal of the act in council, prohibiting the importation of liquor and the crime were which has swept over the entire continent have been factors in increasing the difficulty in enforcing the prohibitory law, while the ex-chief inspector also condemns increasing the number of licenses, for vendors in towns and cities which, he says, has made more difficult for the inspectors to properly carry out their duties.

The Case of Doctors. There is also reference to the issuing of prescriptions by doctors, it is claimed in the report. It is said, that one doctor issued 250 liquor prescriptions in one day, while another had issued fourteen prescriptions for liquor in one day, while a third had a different name upon each of the fourteen.

The entire report reflects the acute differences, which existed between the former chief inspector and the government at the time Rev. Mr. Wilson concluded his official duties. Included in the report is a recommendation in favor of the appointment of a commission to handle the importation and wholesale distribution of liquor in the province under the authority contained in an amendment to the Prohibition Act passed in 1919, which the government is now about to do.

The average wage of a skilled woman cook in London is about $250 a year.

St. Stephen Farmers Plan Bigger Year

Victor Poole Transferred to Montreal to be Auditor at the Head Office.

Special to The Standard. St. Stephen, N. B., Jan. 23.—A considerable change is in progress in connection with the business of the United Farmers Co-operative Co. here. A new board of directors has been elected composed of Edgar Blaney, Thomas R. Speedy, L. Stewart, Martin Wood and C. R. Pollard. Following the amalgamation of the New Brunswick branch with those of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, Victor Poole, recently manager of the St. Stephen store, is being transferred to the head office in Montreal to fill the position of auditor and a new manager is to be sent to take charge of the local store. Mr. Poole's experience with the Royal Bank of Canada, of which he was manager at Milltown when he resigned to enter the employ of the United Farmers Co., fits him for his new duties.

COTTON WORKERS PROTEST SLASH BUT WILL WORK

Marysville Union Discusses Wage Reduction But Decides to Continue Under Protest. ALL UNIONS WILL ACT IN ONE BODY

May Demand Probe of Mill Profits to Decide if Reduction is Necessary. Special to The Standard. Fredericton, Jan. 23.—The Textile Workers' Union of Marysville, of which most of the 450 employees at the Canadian Cottons, Ltd., Mill there are members, held a meeting on Saturday afternoon to consider the notification received by all employees of the Marysville Cotton mill of a reduction of 12 1/2 per cent. in wages effective tomorrow.

Lemuel Clegg, president of the union, declared after the meeting that it was decided to go to work tomorrow under the new conditions under protest and the wage reduction will be resisted to the limit.

He said communications had been received from the unions at St. John and Milltown, N. B., which were similarly affected, and that all would act jointly and formal resolutions would be passed by the Marysville union at a later date along the same line as those passed at St. John and Milltown.

It was further decided, he said, to demand an investigation of the Canadian Cottons, Ltd. profits in the past to determine whether the reduction in wages of employees was necessary. There had, he said, been no reduction in living costs and the mill was running on short time.

JOHN T. RUNDLE DEAD. Newcastle, N. B., Jan. 23.—John T. Rundle died in the Miramichi Hospital of pneumonia. He was 63 years of age, and was born in Newcastle. He was for many years manager of the Miramichi Lumber Company, retiring from business about eight years ago.

Dynamite Hurlled Rock Into House

Moncton Parlor Wrecked by Flying Boulder from Scene of Street Operations.

Dartmouth, N. S., Jan. 23.—A twenty pound stone, with a shrapnel accompaniment of slate rock fragments, were hurled from the front of Frank M. Tierney's house, Windmill road, Saturday afternoon and wrecked the parlor, causing total damage, estimated at $1,000. Toward workmen engaged in widening the road had set off a dynamite blast fifty feet away. They claim it was the usual charge of dynamite and were astonished at the damage done. There was nobody in the room at the time.

Continue Probe Into Province Roads

Assistant Chief Engineer Admits Friction Between Himself and Late Chief.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 23.—J. E. Belliveau, assistant chief engineer of the provincial highways board, was on the stand in Saturday afternoon's session of the royal commission inquiring into highway matters, and testified that there was friction between himself and Mr. Roland, the late chief engineer of the board, that he had made the photographs of vouchers described by D. Morris, the chief accountant of the morning's session and that he had done it to protect himself and preserve the identity of the vouchers. Asked by Hon. A. K. MacLean, counsel for the Government, what he feared, he said he had no particular thing.

Found Nothing Wrong. Mr. Studd, provincial auditor, who was also on the stand during the day, testified that he had found no irregularities in accounts, except those relating to duty and exchange, and that the amendments to the highways act passed in 1919 gave the highways board full control over their own expenditure, and he was only called upon to audit the accounts after the money had been spent.

May Deport Belgian Youth For Stealing

Adelard St Onge Pleads Guilty to Breaking Into House at Minto.

Special to The Standard. Gagetown, Jan. 23.—The trial of Adelard St. Onge, the Belgian youth, charged with breaking and entering the house of Lambert, Renard, at Minto, on the night of Jan. 7, held before His Honor, Judge Wilson at the Court House here, on Thursday afternoon last. When brought before Magistrate Scott McLeod at Minto on the Monday following his misdemeanor, he pleaded guilty and was committed to the county jail. On being committed to jail here, he elected to be tried before the judge without jury, under the provisions of the Speedy Trials Act.

On his last appearance on the indictment being read over to the accused, he again pleaded guilty. Before moving the court for sentence, F. M. Dwyer, who prosecuted on behalf of the Crown, asked the court to recommend that the accused be deported to Belgium. The court took the question under consideration and remanded the accused to the county jail until Jan. 31, when he will sentence the accused and at the same time give his opinion of the question of recommending the accused for deportation.

Farmer Fined For Killing Blue Heron

Specily to The Standard. Fort Kent, N. B., Jan. 23.—A farmer near this place was recently fined $10 and costs for killing a Great Blue Heron. This large bird, four feet in height, erroneously but locally known as a crane, whose outstretched neck, long dangling body and broad expanse of wing gives a picturesque animation to our marshes, have in the past been ruthlessly slaughtered. It belongs to the same family as the egret, which was so abundant about a generation ago, but now all that remains of them is the egrettes that, once worn as its wedding dress, today wave about the brows of women. These birds are permanently protected as non-game birds under the Migratory Bird Convention Act. The selling, taking, injuring, capturing or molesting of same subjects the violator to a maximum fine of one hundred dollars.

QUEENS COUNTY DOUBLES GRANT TO ITS SCHOOLS

Winter Session Was One of the Shortest Ever Held by Municipal Body.

THATCH ISLAND TO BE SURVEYED SOON

Increase in Teachers' Salaries Responsible for the Bigger Grant.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, Jan. 23.—The Queen's County Municipal Council has closed after one of the shortest meetings on record. S. C. Parry of Cody's, was warden, Donald A. Adamson reported on the finances, which showed the county beginning the year with a good surplus. It was decided to have Thatch Island, which is situated in the St. John River, about three miles above Gagetown surveyed, and the lots marked by permanent stakes. Considerable revenue comes to the county from the owning of this island.

Last season the sale of grass brought in $1500, the highest revenue in its history.

Appropriations Cut.

The estimates for the coming year were somewhat less than last year, $7,500 was voted for contingent fund; last year's amount being $10,000. The amount voted for the year was also less than usual. The amount voted for school purposes, however, jumped from $3,500, voted last year, to $7,500 this year. The increase is due to the well-deserved raise in teacher's salaries, some of which have nearly doubled. No amount was voted for the Board of Health, any expense in that connection is to be met out of the contingent fund.

At the Council.

All the members of the council were present this year: Solomon C. Perry, warden and Robert J. Stewart, councillors from Johnston; Henry Cooper, George Thorne, Peterwinie; A. F. Barton, Thomas A. Ferris, Waterbury; A. D. Cass, Robert M. Akersley, Wickham; Morris Webb, J. Arthur VanWart, Hampstead; Duncan Estabrook, Call Spyster, Canning; St. Clair Fraser, W. H. H. Burges, Chipman; J. S. Robinson, A. L. Genter, Cambridge; Joseph S. Beach, Weldon Kierstead, Brunswick; R. Harvey Weston, Charles Cooper, Gagetown. The auditor of the county accounts, Ingelwood Flower, was also present.

ST. JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, JANUARY 24, 1921

THE NATIONAL RAILWAYS.

The Intercolonial Railway was one of the most important items in the terms under which these eastern provinces entered the Canadian Confederation. It was the understanding of the men who brought about the consummation of that great scheme that in these little provinces should, in the development of Canada, enjoy within reasonable limits, all the transportation benefits that could be extended, to compensate for the sacrifices which we made. We had no public lands, we had no great natural resources which at a later date might be exploited for the good of the country as a whole. We went into the Union simply with what appeared on the surface, we gave everything, and trusted to the future for our well-being. In the past fifty years we have had promises—and nothing else. The time is coming for a showdown, and when that time arrives—as it will very shortly if the present policy of railroad administration is persisted in—these three provinces will want to know just where they stand in respect to the terms upon which they entered the partnership.

Fifty years ago it certainly was not our intention that today we would be asked to divert to other sources fifty per cent. of the amounts which we pay for freight and passenger charges to swell the money bags of McKenzie and Mann, to enable the grain growers of Western Canada to purchase bungalows in California, or to provide fat salaries for all and sundry political appointees from other provinces who are doing their best to destroy a road which we have fondly regarded as one of our greatest assets.

Only a few years ago the Intercolonial did not actually make money, and half the men along the line between Montreal and Halifax, when their accounts were separated from others, was found to be in a satisfactory condition. How much more satisfactory would these accounts have been had the promises of Confederation been carried out? Macdonald, MacKenzie, Tupper, Laurier and Borden time and again declared themselves unreservedly committed to the policy of Canadian goods via Canadian ports. But not one of them ever moved a finger to bring about this very desirable condition. Today's result is that St. John harbor is almost idle, and half the men along the line are leading. Another condition is this: It is possible today to hire a sleeping car in Montreal, load it with passengers with fully paid fares, pay for their berths, their meals and even their tips to porters, and bring them to St. John in less than a day for less money than is demanded for a full car of freight from the same point, which takes from a week to a month on the road. This is not because the cost of freight haulage on these eastern lines has so greatly increased, but because we are compelled to pay heavily for the demerit of former governments in allowing a group of promoters to bring western municipalities to the verge of bankruptcy through the guarantee of semi-worthless bonds on railroads which were quite as expensive as they were unnecessary. We are, on every point of freight hauled over the I. C. R., handing out fifty per cent. of our money to the utterly selfish West, and at the same time endorsing a manipulation of the Government Railways which is steadily and surely bringing them into disrepute with the people of these eastern provinces.

The Intercolonial is money making institution. It was never intended to be anything of the kind. But the government system as a whole is losing nearly a quarter of a million dollars every day. And we are not only paying through the nose on our passenger and freight rates but are being bled by federal taxation to make up the deficits which the western provinces are accumulating while still in the enjoyment of those revenues from lands, resources, and otherwise which are denied to us.

HARBOR MATTERS.

It is estimated that efforts are being made to overcome the opposition which certain members of the City Council have displayed toward the proposed public works at Harbor Commission. If there are any good reasons why such opposition should not be withdrawn, the people of St. John will be very pleased indeed to learn of them, and certainly if there is an attractive proposition looking to Harbor Commission this city will vote unanimously in favor of it. But if on the other hand we refuse to swallow the bait which has been offered, to accept the one handed out by a departmental head who, judging from his policy of the past few years, has not the faintest idea of this port at heart, if we are unwilling to admit ourselves bankrupt and eager to take whatever dose may be offered to us, then Harbor Commission has no place in our civic programme.

The man would be more than foolish who would attempt to argue that under energetic federal administration and with a competent Board of Control this harbor could not be developed in a manner at once in consonance with the desires of our people and advantageous to the commerce of Canada. But fortunately—or unfortunately as the case might be—St. John owns this harbor just at present. We as a community have taxed ourselves very heavily for its upkeep, we have expended millions of dollars for the development of a port of benefit to the country as a whole. We are proud of what we have done. Our people have no regrets for the generous and unappreciated contributions which they have in the past twenty years made to the trade of this nation. This is all very well so far as sentiment goes. But when it comes to the actual fact of buying and selling, when sentiment is brushed aside, we expect, not generosity—or no government ever was generous in such a matter—but ordinary honesty and fair play. And this is not a part of the offer which our City Council has been asked to consider and which the objecting commissioners are now urged to accept for reference to the people.

This harbor cost so much money. It is all down in black and white. Our civic accountants have deducted from those costs all items on which the city has enjoyed a return. They have omitted from their calculations all reference to the many valuable features of this port on which no expenditure has been made, the potential development areas which some day will be covered with wharves and warehouses. And these figures have been checked by officials sent here by the Federal Government. The actual net cost of the harbor to date has been reported to Ottawa, and the authorities, believing that St. John is on the verge of bankruptcy in so far as harbor development is concerned, have offered us, not our expenditure with interest as should have been done, but a slaughter sale price to be done, or left. Evidently the expectation is that if we fail to accept it we will be unable to maintain our harbor or to provide for the increasing business which the future is expected to bring. Perhaps the offer which has been made is a good offer. Maybe we are so sorely pressed that we will jump at any such proposal, forgetting the smallness of it in our eagerness to get our hands on some ready cash or to reduce our bonded indebtedness. If this is our attitude, bring on the plebiscite without delay, and let us sink forever our self-respect in our anxiety to grab the money which is offered. If it is not our attitude, then let Ottawa know without further delay that the cut-price offer is not worthy of our consideration.

THE STREET RAILWAY.

Fifteen or twenty years ago the Street Railway Company provided a service for its patrons, which if not exactly a matter for civic pride, was at least one which produced satisfaction. Not only was the service good, but the officials were obliging and attentive, the fare was only five cents, and the Company's general method of conducting its business was to operate their system in such a way as would be most conducive to the comfort and convenience of its patrons. That the cost of operation has increased during the last few years everyone is ready to admit, and the public has been willing enough to shoulder its share of the burden of such increased cost. But as the cost of operation has gone up, the degree of efficiency of the service has gone down, notwithstanding the additions to the fares which have taken place from time to time. The additional revenue has been applied not to keep up the efficiency of the service, but to pay dividends on watered stock. The public wants an efficient service, it wants light and power, it wants gas for heat, and is willing to pay all that can be reasonably asked for these things. But it has a strong objection to being asked to pay through the nose for service which by no stretch of the imagination can be called efficient.

Whether the fault lies with the management or not, we are unable to say, but such management—or lack of it—as there is, would certainly seem to be an inducing factor in the present condition of affairs. Managers who come from a distance and have received their training under different conditions than are to be found here, while well enough in their way are not always satisfactory. Would it not be possible to find some one as manager, who besides being versed in the technicalities of the business, would have some knowledge of local conditions and requirements? People are willing enough to be patient and forbearing in regard to matters which cannot well be avoided, but there is a limit to their endurance. Poor management must always mean an inefficient and costly service, and this is certainly what is being given at the present time.

MUNICIPALITIES AND BOARD OF HEALTH EXPENDITURES.

During the past week various municipal councils have met in annual session, and among the other matters with which they have had to deal has been the appropriation of funds for carrying out the Public Health Act within their respective jurisdictions. New-days the amount called for is anywhere from twice to five times as much as was necessary under the old regime, and the new requirements have caused many heated discussions and much dissatisfaction. Last year some of the municipal councils flatly refused to appropriate the amounts asked for, and the same practice has been followed again this year. In other counties the councils have voted a portion of the amount, and let it go at that.

The course taken by these dissenting councils is not to be wondered at. They cannot understand why so much more money should be needed nowadays than was the case before, when at the same time other conditions remain the same. The general health of the province is just as good, or no better, than it ever was. The fact that there has not been any serious epidemic during the last year is not due to improved sanitary or other conditions. Health matters may perhaps be more systematically looked after than was formerly the case, but they are not any better looked after. The money which is asked to be voted is simply paid away in salaries and other incidentals to—more or less—unreliable officials who do no better or more satisfactory work than was done under the old regime.

No one but a fool will attempt to deny that the matter of maintenance of the general health of the people is one of the most vital importance, but the present extravagant method of administering the Act is little short of a scandal. The Northumberland County Council flatly refused to vote a single cent towards the expense of carrying out the Act. Other counties have voted portions of the amounts asked for. Others again meekly "came up to the scratch" and passed the amounts without demur. But taking the province all through, there is a degree of dissatisfaction at the levy for health purposes which cannot be smoothed away. And it is not to be wondered at. People want to know what value they are getting for these heavy expenditures, and where the improvement in conditions is, to show for them.

All these amounts which the municipalities are asked to supply are in addition to the $30,000 which the province pays for the maintenance of the Department of Health, which prior to 1918 was satisfactorily conducted for $2,000 to $2,500 a year. Our esteemed friend, Dr. Roberts, is a general soul, but his offering is proving very expensive to rear.

CIVIC TAXES AND GOVERNMENT.

As will be seen from a communication which we publish in another column, Mayor Schofield invites the ratepayers of the city to meet the Council and discuss the contents of this year's Budget. In order that those who have any objections or suggestions to make may have the opportunity to make their views known. There can be no question that there is wide spread dissatisfaction with regard to the way in which many matters have been dealt with at the City Hall during the past year or so, and the opinion is freely expressed that government by Commission is pretty much of a failure. Substantial salaries are paid to the Commissioners, but the results achieved are little, if any, better than was the case under the old Aldermanic system, when the Council was more in touch with the taxpayers. Undoubtedly the cost of maintaining efficiency and making improvements is greater now than it was a few years ago, but the manner in which the civic Budget has mounted lately has been much too swift to meet with public approval. However, His Worship's invitation to the taxpayers to come forward and air their views will doubtless be readily accepted. If it is not, there should be no more complaints heard.

Saturday morning me and Lorester Mincee was standing talking about different things in particular, such as who has the best times, boys or girls, and Mary Watkins went past on her way to the store with a new hat on, being a red tommy shanier over one ear but not the other, looking all rite, and Lorester Mincee sed, My swashes-outch a looking hat, it looks like a munksy hat, my hat is ever so much more prettier than hers, dont you think so, Benny?

I dont know, I guess so, maybe, sure, I sed, Jest saying it to sound polite, and Lorester Mincee sed, Hee hee, you certeny are a funny boy saying her hat looks like a munksy hat, hee hee.

Hay, I didnt say that, you sed that, I sed, and she sed, Well you admitted it, didnt you? and I sed, Yes, no, I didnt admit anything about a munksy, goah, wat the heck.

O, Benny Potts, you know you did, hee hee, sed Lorester Mincee. And Saturday afternoon Mary Watkins was standing on her front steps and I started to axidently wawk past to talk to her, saying, Hello Mary, and she sed, Dont you dare to talk to me?

O, wy not, gosh? I sed, and she sed, I herd all about how you sed my hat looks like a munksy hat and Lorester Mincee sed, hat is much more prettier.

Wy I did not, thats a big story and a farse lie, I never sed a word about a munksy, I sed,

O then you admit you sed her hat was much more prettier, do you? sed Mary Watkins.

Aw, I didnt say a word, I mean I didnt hardly say anything, I mean wat the heck, I didnt mean it, I mean I didnt say it, holey G, thats farse, I sed.

I should say it is, sed Mari Watkins. And she wawked in the house mad and proud and I went home thinking, Holey smooks, darn it, heck, wats you know about that.

Proving the ony safe way to talk to girls is to jest Mincee.

Not a Modern Story.
 "No, Mr. Scrawl," regretted the editor of the "Fortnightly Flipper," "your story is fairly good in construction, but it would tax the credulity of my readers. You write such impossible things."
 "I was not aware that anything in my story savoured of the impossible," ventured the fountain-pen wielder.
 "Oh, but it does!" asserted the editor. "Listen to your own words in Chapter Three."
 "Our hero, rich at last, strode blighly down the sweet-scented lane towards the home of his parents."
 "He caught sight of the rose-decked cottage at last, and broke into a run."
 The author nodded complacently. "He dashed madly to the wicket-gate," continued reading the editor, "and then to his great sorrow, found that the dear old place was to let!"
 "That, sir," snapped the editor, "is ridiculously impossible!"

Limitation and Output.
 By all accounts, the volume of unemployment in Great Britain has been rising rapidly and present indications are that it will be greater still. In England, as here, the limitation of output has long been believed by many if not a majority, of labor unionists to be a legitimate weapon, but during the war many cherished labor usages had to be relinquished in face of imminent national peril. Some of these the sanest leaders and friends of labor recognize had better never return. Speaking of the unemployment difficulty recently, Mr. J. H. Thomas, the well-known British railway men's leader, said:
 "Nothing is so fatal as the doctrine of doing as little as possible in order to find work for others. I think we shall recover from our present difficulties if for six months we have the spirit of 1914 again. Let us frankly recognize that both have to be together."—Quebec Herald.

Ladies! Secret To Darken Gray Hair

Bring Back its Color and Lustre with Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients in a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wreth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not desired, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wreth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger.

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL

To the Editor:—You will confer a favor if you will kindly publish the following in the interest of every taxpayer:—

Previous to the last election I made the statement that I thought the people should come to the fountain-head for any information required re civic affairs, before criticizing too severely.

Might I say now that the estimates for 1921 are about all made up. There are at present laid on the table and I propose they shall be open for discussion by any association or organization of club—any letter writers, editors, or any individual taxpayer.

The council will meet in committee on Monday at 11.30 a.m., and may continue in the afternoon, and I propose to ask them to offer Wednesday, from 11 o'clock forward, including an evening session for the benefit of any labor organization or workers who cannot get in through the day, so that all may have an opportunity of putting their views before the present council who will welcome any constructive criticism. After Wednesday it will be necessary for us to pass the estimates, either as they are or amended.

I would especially welcome any interest for or against vocational training, that we may be enabled to decide on an application to the Vocational School Board. I will also be glad if you will allow me to state just here, that I was not correctly reported in the Times on Saturday last when they said "I stated I was opposed to technical training," because, on the other hand, I am very much in favor of it, but I said it should be a whole-hearted effort, requiring a considerable outlay and hardly at the expense of the taxpayer.

Already resolutions are beginning to come in to us and I think every member of the council would prefer that the various organizations should appear and ask for particulars before passing resolution for or against.

I am writing this with the best intention so that the council may view it for the benefit of the taxpayers' view if they are not satisfied with our budget as now prepared, with a view to more co-operation and faith in one another.

Yours faithfully,
E. A. SCHOFIELD, Mayor.

GERMANS TURN EYES TOWARD HOHENZOLLERNS

Imperialistic Spirit is Rapidly Reviving Among Them.

GREATER EMPIRE UNDER THE KAISER

is the Rallying Cry of the Monarchists at Celebration of Semi-Centennial.

By S. B. CONGER. (Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger.) Berlin, Jan. 23.—Celebration of the semi-centennial of the proclamation of the German empire at Versailles, January 18, is developing steadily, as the German Republicans feared, into a glorification of the old order and the Hohenzollerns, and a demonstration in favor of re-establishing the monarchy when the proper time arrives.

The creation of a greater Germany extending far beyond the 1918 frontiers, re-establishment of a united empire under a Hohenzollern kaiser and turning the clock back from the socialist experiments of today to the glorious leadership of kings and junkers were demands voiced at meetings held yesterday. Many demonstrations throughout Germany were staged yesterday, since the federal government refrained from making the actual anniversary, Tuesday, a national holiday, fearing collisions between monarchists and radicals.

The dominant note at virtually all of these meetings, according to reports so far received, was strongly nationalistic and imperialistic. The proud days under the Bismarckian empire were contrasted with the humble position of the German republic. The collapse under the monarchistic regime being conveniently ignored.

Old Idea Revived.

The Pan-German idea of a greater Germany embracing all the German-speaking populations of Europe was dragged from the obscurity in which it has rested for some time by an orator at a Berlin meeting of monarchist officers and soldiers, who declared the day was dawning for the Germans to establish a great national state which could only be an empire and its ruler a Hohenzollern kaiser. The speaker asked them to offer Wednesday, from 11 o'clock forward, including an evening session for the benefit of any labor organization or workers who cannot get in through the day, so that all may have an opportunity of putting their views before the present council who will welcome any constructive criticism. After Wednesday it will be necessary for us to pass the estimates, either as they are or amended.

Vocational School Asks $25,000 Grant

Question Will Not Be Decided Until Opponents of Scheme Have Innings.

The city council listened to the arguments of vocational training who appeared and urged the grant of $25,000 for that purpose at the meeting on Saturday afternoon. The city council Mayor Schofield announced that before any action was taken there would be an opportunity given for any who might object to object to come before the council and place their views of the matter before the commission.

Those present to support the grant to vocational training were Dr. Emery, Mrs. W. H. Raymond, Thomas Nagle, Alexander Wilson, W. K. Ganong, A. H. Wetmore, Dr. G. Leary, J. G. Leary, Fletcher Peacock and Major Lawson.

Major Lawson outlined the aims of the vocational board, which were to provide day schools for the boys and girls who did not take the present High School course and give them a commercial or mechanical training and to provide night schools for those who had already left school, but wanted more education. He took up the estimates and gave his opinion that no cut could be made if the service in any measure efficient was given.

Mrs. W. E. Raymond spoke for the home-making classes and contended that these had been a great success last year. She claimed there should be no class distinctions introduced, and all who come should be given the benefit of the training provided, as it meant better and happier homes where the woman knew how to make a home.

Which Plan is Best?

Commissioner Frink wanted to know whether they thought it would be better to spend $25,000 on vocational training or use it to provide work for some of the jobless. They thought both might be accomplished.

Fletcher Peacock, provincial director, gave a short address on what was being done in other places and claimed St. John was away behind the times in this branch of education.

Mayor Schofield stated that before any action was taken by the Council the taxpayers would be given an opportunity to express themselves on the matter, for it meant adding six or eight cents to their tax rate. Personally he was inclined to think some of this work should be done by the industrial concerns themselves.

The Japanese attitude toward Americans in Siberia and Manchuria, the Japanese assertion of the right to examine American passports in Manchuria is regarded as an insult to America. Business men fear the lack of protection from the State Department in Manchuria. They fear a repetition at Tientsin and Poochow of the Vladivostok incidents.

Play Waiting Game.

On the other hand, the monarchists also are playing a waiting game. All influential and thoughtful monarchists, not only in Prussia, but also in Bavaria, are disposed to follow the programme outlined by Stresemann, leader of the German People's party, to devote all their energies for the present to consolidating their position against radicalism and to leave the movement for the re-establishment of the monarchy until a later and more propitious time, or if possible to permit it to come spontaneously.

The formation of an out-and-out Prussian Royalist party, which was due to a realization that the regular conservative party, although at heart monarchistic, is committed to this cautious policy. The new party embraces only a few fanatics.

Suspect Pair Shot Woodstock Restauranter

London, Ont., Jan. 23.—Denton and Norman Gardfield Toronto men, arrested here Friday night in company with two women on charges of vagrancy, and who are under suspicion by the police as being connected with the hold-up and shooting of Ben Johnston, Woodstock, on January 20, pleaded not guilty in the police court yesterday and were remanded for a week at the request of J. B. MacIntosh, Crown attorney.

UNITED STATES ENVOYS NOT TO RESIGN POSTS

Ministers to Poland, Switzerland, Denmark, Holland to Aid Anti-Political Drive.

MORE RECRUITS ARE EXPECTED

Intend to Put Payment of Campaign Debts by Diplomatic Posts up to Harding.

By CARL W. ACKERMAN. (Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger.) London, Jan. 23.—There is every indication today that at least four United States ministers will not resign March 4 and that President Harding will be compelled to decide almost immediately after he takes office whether he will use foreign diplomatic posts to repay campaign debts or keep in office ministers who were appointed from the diplomatic and consular service. The men in Europe who in all probability will not resign are Hugh Gibson, American minister to Poland; Joseph Clark Grew, minister to Denmark; William Phillips, formerly assistant secretary of state and now minister to Holland; Evan E. Young, high commissioner to the Baltic states; and Hampton Gary, minister to Switzerland.

All Risen From Ranks.

All of these men have worked their way up in the United States foreign service, starting in minor positions in Washington and covering years of service as secretaries and counselors of legations and embassies. They are the representatives of the young men in the consular and diplomatic service out of American domestic politics. All of these men hold responsible positions today as a reward for service in their profession and they believe if they should resign March 4 the movement to remove the foreign service from the influence of political parties would be given a setback of a decade.

Daniels' Statement Denied In London

Great Britain Has About 250 Destroyers—Less Than United States.

London, Jan. 23.—The recent statement of Mr. Daniels, American Secretary of the Navy, comparing the light fleet strength of the British and American navies, has caused considerable comment here. The admiralty declares that instead of having 334 destroyers, as Mr. Daniels stated, Great Britain really has about 250, or less than the United States, and is disposing of more to be broken up. Aside from three or four destroyers sold to Chile some time ago, the destroyers are being broken up either by the government or by purchasers who take them over with the understanding that they are to be destroyed.

It is stated at the Admiralty that this is not any part of the navy reduction scheme, but simply business to prevent the number of destroyers out of all proportion to the fleet owing to the rapid building for submarine chasing. Should Great Britain adopt a formidable capital ship programme most of the destroyers now being broken up would be obsolete by the time the new ships were launched, hence Great Britain is riding herself of these useless craft and keeping the latest type destroyers. The Admiralty says the same conditions apply to submarines.

FRANCE STILL SOLVENT SAYS LOUIS KLOTZ

Criticism of the Economic Situation Not Warranted by Facts of Case.

EXCHANGE RATE NOT FAIR TEST

Does Not Reveal Assets Created by Reconstruction—Country Has Stout Heart.

By LOUIS L. KLOTZ, Finance Minister in Clemenceau's Cabinet and Representative of France at the Peace Conference.

(Copyright, 1921, By Cross-Atlantic)

Paris, Jan. 23.—It has become the fashion for the unthinking to speak of France only in terms of piteous criticism—only for the state in which she was left after the war, severe criticism for the weaknesses shown in her efforts to re-establish her economic and financial balance. Let us see if France deserves this criticism if she really is faced with the dire prospects which are pictured for her.

France is the debtor of several other nations for the reason that, during the war when her fields were despoiled, her factories in ruins or busy making war material, she had to buy her needs from foreign countries. With the war ended she had to occupy herself with the task of rebuilding her ruins and again she had to buy the necessary materials abroad. To have hesitated before making these purchases would have improved the exchange situation but it also would have meant delaying reconstruction work.

Exchange Rate Not Test.

The exchange rate between the dollar and franc bears witness to our indebtedness to the United States. It does not, however, indicate assets acquired by France in exchange for these debts abroad—it does not reveal any sign of the hundreds of rebuilt houses, factories, bridges, railroads, nor does it reflect the tonnage which later on will be derived from the thousands and hundreds of thousands of acres of new soil.

Miss Christabel Parkhurst (owing to victorious termination of her leadership in the cause of women's political enfranchisement) seeks remunerative non-political work.

Interviewed, Miss Parkhurst said most people entered politics before becoming interested in the work. She was into the work immediately on leaving college she had no means of support.

PIANOS AND COOKS CLASSED LUXURIES

(Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger)

Paris, Jan. 22.—The tax which has been extended to pianos and servants, has not caused a revolution among cooks and chambermaids, but has added the cry of "No more pianos" to the list of complaints. Last year pianos were scarce, but after the first day of the tax many family pianos were trundled into the government auction rooms to go to the highest bidder.

Others have taken sweet revenge by firing the cook.

When resuming his place in the workshop or in the fields, it is to France, fighting against the new world of blood spilled in war, that counsel comes from abroad—from lands of lighter hearts—bringing in bitter sweet tones, in the name of comfort, the counsel of prudence and exhortations to fiscal courage.

France is proud that she had the energy to raise by her taxation system (device devised during a period of crisis nearly a sixth part of the expense of the war. To give an exact figure, 31,973 million francs, or 16 per cent of the total French war cost, has been raised from August 1, 1914, to December 31, 1919, by taxation. For the rest, it has been necessary to resort to public borrowing in all its forms and the world knows how French men and women have responded.

What of the Future?

In view of these expenditures what resources has our country to count upon?

France often has been reproached for not having financed the war by taxing her people as certain of her allies are said to have done. But I ask: Can one reasonably compare countries which were able to wage war with their territories integrity unimpaired, with all of their national resources untouched by the enemy and with their people safe from the aggressor, with a country which, while bearing its share of the burden of the war, also served as the battlefield? Can one compare a country on which the enemy never trod with one in which ten departments were from the beginning under the enemy's heel? Can it be overlooked that these ten departments are the richest in France, yielding one-fifth of the national taxation resources? Can it be expected that France which had to mobilize 89 per cent of its male population of military age, could have responded to a tax receipts to wage its war? And even now can it be forgotten when talking of taxation that France's killed are more than 1,000,000; her wounded more than 2,000,000, of whom half are reduced to fifty per cent of their working capacity?

Will Come Out Alright.

Let Americans who feel impatient with the slow progress of France's post-war industrial activity and financial prosperity remember that the immense army of our dead and incapacitated is twenty-five per cent larger than the vastest army which the United States sent to help us win the war? One out of every three of our soldiers failed to return to his families after the war.

HE NEVER SAW HIS EQUAL, SAYS LONG

Wallace Men Restored by Tenth Year Ago is Still in Best of Health, He Declares

"I have seen anything I've ever seen, for it has made me feel just like a brand new man. Why, at the time I began taking it I had been in poor health for nearly four years. My appetite was gone, and what little food I did eat just would not digest properly, and I was hardly able to stand up, to say nothing of work."

"Well, I went down hill every day, and nothing helped me until I got Wallace. But now all my troubles are gone and I feel just as well in every way as I ever did in my life. Wallace certainly is the medicine to take all the aches and pains out of a fellow and make him feel like something."

The above statement was given by Thomas Joseph Long, 73 Mainland street, Halifax, N. S., early in January, 1920. A few days ago after a lapse of nearly twelve months, Wallace's special representative had the pleasure of an interview with Mr. Long, and found him enjoying the best of health and still praising Wallace, which is another link in the long chain of evidence regarding both the immediate and lasting results being obtained from the Wallace Medicine.

Mr. Long is a life long resident of Halifax, and is highly respected by all who know him.

Wallace is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co., E. W. Munro and by R. G. Wetmore, Perry's Point, N. B., under the personal direction of a special Wallace representative—Advt.

London, Jan. 22.—Christabel Parkhurst is looking for a job anything but exclusive of politics. She says she is without funds and living in a flat loaned her by Lady Rhonda so today she inserted in the "Situations wanted" column of a newspaper the following:

Miss Christabel Parkhurst (owing to victorious termination of her leadership in the cause of women's political enfranchisement) seeks remunerative non-political work.

Interviewed, Miss Parkhurst said most people entered politics before becoming interested in the work. She was into the work immediately on leaving college she had no means of support.

CANT HAVE WIFE, HORSES OR LAND SAYS EX-PRINCE

Former Crown Prince of Germany in Sore Plight in His Dutch Home.

WANTS TO GO HOME TO BREED RACERS

Declares His Sons Are Anxious to be Farmers in the Old German Territory.

Ex-Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany, in an interview given to the editor of a German weekly published in the Netherlands, gives the reasons why he does not return to Germany, why his wife does not join him in his sojourn at Wieringen, and why he does not join his father, the former Emperor, at Doorn.

Frederick William also sets forth his plans regarding the education of his sons.

Would Breed Horses.

"Naturally I would be glad to return to Germany, and I would be happy if I could devote myself to agriculture, particularly to horse breeding," the former Crown Prince is quoted as saying. "I would rejoice to associate with the learned men at Breslau University and again what I lost during the war and at Wieringen I would like to use what little power I have to help build up the Fatherland, but that cannot be."

"My many friends in the Fatherland and abroad would see my hand in every deed which others might begin, but of which I perhaps would know nothing at all. Unrest would follow, and our poor Fatherland needs rest."

"Why does not my wife come here? Believe me, she would gladly do so. But there is no chance of such happiness and good luck, as we are gripped in the vise of duty. She has the training of our children at heart and must direct it. Our sons must learn to make themselves useful commercially. Wilhelm and Lala (the latter a pet name for one of the sons) are now going to the gymnasium at Potsdam."

Sons Want To Farm.

The elder one wants to become an expert farmer and go later to an agricultural academy. Lala feels that he has the talent for a mercantile career and is planning a tour of the world in a German merchant ship, and hopes to learn the modern languages. I have nothing against their plans if they result in the boys becoming useful men. They are studying hard and have no time for amusements or sport. They need a father's care, too, but that cannot be. Doorn. Our opponents are continually Doorn. Our opponents are continually trying to put us in the position of being ready to set the world on fire, and if we were together, then, in the eyes of our opponents the overthrow of the world would be a question of but a short time."

"As for buying an estate in Holland, where would I get the money, particularly in view of the low rate of German exchange?"

Draft Evader Still Trying For Freedom

Applies for Habeas Corpus Proceedings in Kansas—War Dept. Will Oppose.

(Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger)

Washington, Jan. 22.—The War Department will take effective steps to combat the application of Erwin H. Burdick, the millionaire Philadelphia dentist, evader to gain his freedom from Leavenworth federal prison through habeas corpus proceedings instituted yesterday in a Kansas court. Secretary of War Baker said today.

All papers in the court jurisdiction of Burdick at Fort Leavenworth, N. Y., last August, when he was sentenced to five years imprisonment have been reviewed by the Judge Advocate General's department of the army. Secretary Baker said, and the findings of the trial court have been approved.

The approval of the reviewing authority in the Burdick case, Secretary Baker said, had taken into consideration all legal angles of the case, and he displayed no doubts of the propriety of the Philadelphia to gain his liberty on any jurisdictional ground would fail.

TROUBLE IN INDIA.

London, Jan. 22.—A serious outbreak involving the looting of country markets, has occurred in the Punjab district, British India. It was officially announced today. Sympathizers with the non-co-operation movement are believed to have been the principals or instigators.

TO BE DYSPETIC IS TO BE MISERABLE

The poor dyspeptic suffers untold agony after every meal, and any one who has dyspepsia knows what joy it would give to eat three square meals a day and not be punished for it after. Nearly everything that enters the weak stomach acts as an irritant, and even the little that is eaten causes such torture and is digested so imperfectly that it does little good.

Before you can eat heartily, and not sick and choose your food, you must put your stomach into such a condition that it will manufacture its own digestive ferments.

For over forty years Burdock Blood Bitters has been toning up and restoring weak stomachs to a normal healthy condition, so that the food no longer causes distress, but is thoroughly digested and assimilated, and enables one to partake of all the wholesome food required without fear of any unpleasant after effects.

Mr. Alice Beckwith, Passerton, Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from indigestion and dyspepsia for several years. I could not eat anything without almost dying from the pain in the pit of my stomach. Being Burdock Blood Bitters highly recommended, I tried a bottle, and can gladly say it relieved me. I can eat anything now, and feel in perfect health."

One of the worst things about it is that the fellows who are the farthest away from being Carous never burst into blood vessels.—Kansas City Star.

On a floor cast on the other evening the conductor called out: "Move up, please; give others a chance; sit close together, ladies; that's the idea. I know you can do it if you want to."
