When the London Housing Comnission meets in regular session at the city hall Monday night, in all probability that body will appoint an arbitrator to act in conjunction with representative of Hayman & Willis, contractors, in determining what disposition will be made of roofs been condemned as leaky by provincial inspectors. Although City Clerk S. Baker delares that the housing commission as agreed to submit this problem to arbitration, J. W. Cunliffe, a member of the commission, avers that no such action has been decided. However, the subject will likely be included on

Monday's agenda. At a recent meeting of the com nission an ultimatum was ordered forwarded to the contractors, warning them that unless new roofs were laid on the Pine Lawn houses within specified time, the commission would proceed with the work and charge it to the contractor's outstanding account. Through their solicitors, the latter suggested that the whole subject of the roofs which has been a long-drawn-out controversy submitted to arbitration

The Battle of Arras, while taking a heavy toil from the ranks of the second and third Canadian Divisions, was the turning point of the war. Like the proverbial last straw the victorious advance of the sons of the Dominion, broke the enemy's morale, and paved the way for the final surrender on November 11, 1918.

Canadians who took part in this struggle, and there were many from Western Ontario, including the "Fighting Eighteenth Battalion," maintained the splendid record which saw its inception with the landing of the first colonial troops in France in 1914. They surpassed the objectives laid down by expert strategists, prior to the "Arras Show," which in itself is a wonderful tribute to their pluck and initi-

Much has been said of the heroic deeds performed by Canadians at Arras four years ago, and many Victoria crosses were justly earned in this fight, although they are not listed in official records. While recalling this famous victory, those citizens who stayed at home should not confine their appreciation to mere lauding of the survivors, but in every action should do their duty to these heroes; their dependents, and to the memories of those who did not come back, but earned a wooden cross as a reward for their valor.

Since the admiralty declines to stop building capital ships, any increase will inevitably mean more money on Britain's already swollen bill for armaments. But even if they save on ships and take to planes they assist in preparation for a war more appalling than the last. In this house there was one child with badly diseased tonsils. The child was attended to and returned to school in good health. One little 4-year-old girl was a cripple from knock-knees. She was taken to a specialist, and her legs were straightened by operations, and the mother at home is able to care for her and follow the directions of the doctors. Investigators of the commission find that in many cases there are diseases and ailments which the mothers were ignorant of, or did not know how to deal with. In all these cases care is taken to get proper treatment at once. Then FOUR YEARS ago Saturday-on the effect of the allowance on the the morning of August 26, 1918, mother herself is a great thing for one of the most significant battles in the children. The burden of having the great war was commenced, and to fight for a living is partly taken continued for one week until the from her back, and she has more German hordes were driven back to time to devote to the building up of a home, and giving proper care to Perhaps one of the most touching phases of the work is the reunion gently and well. Mothers in hundreds of cases are willing to bear testimony to the fact that if it were would be forced to part with their children. Almost every district shows numerous cases where homes were about to be broken up, when the payment of the allowance saved the situation. One mother writes, bringing out a point that may have been overlooked many times before. She says that she needed the children as badly as they needed her; that when the children were taken no anchorage, and, relieved of responsibility, she was in danger of drifting. One mother, after struggling for eight years to support herself and two very young children, collapsed. The children were placed in an orphanage. When the allowance was explained a burden was lifted from the mind of the woman, and her recovery was rapid. Friends looked around and found a small house. The mother now has work three days a week in a nearby hosnital and lives with her children-a happy little family. Another mother was advised to leave the city and take her children to a small town, where she is now living. She writes: "It is indeed a great blessing to have my little boys with me after being separated nearly four years, and God knows how grateful I am for it." The figures presented in the antraveling salesman sends this letter:

"I make hundreds of towns and cities, selling my goods, and it strikes me that each year I see fewer and fewer barefoot boys. Of course, there still are many, paddling about without shoes, particularly in the smaller towns. But I am wondering if the time is not far off when the barefoot boy will be a curiosity in the big cities. You can travel miles now without seeing a lad with a stubbed toe bound up in a wad of cloth. When I was a boy, a youngster wearing shoes and stockings in summer was so scarce that people when they saw one wondered what was wrong with him."

Many of the rest of us have noticed the gradual passing of the barefoot boy. City pavements are too hot for the unprotected foot. It is a big loss for youth. How big a loss, is known only to the grown-up who in memory has the delightful recollection of bare feet paddling through thick August dust of a country road or wiggling deliciously in mud puddles and ruts after a rain. Read both halves of the news

OOKING over all the normal activi-L ties of life which hold your interest -your city, your church, your school, your sport, your good works, there is not a single one that has not been promoted and fostered by having public attention focussed upon it in the Daily Newspapers of your community.

Facts about personal happenings of this kind have come to be called news; facts about retail business are spoken of as "advertising." There is no actual difference between the two. Read both.

As a consumer you have as much interest in the day's advertising news as any person has in civic, religious and recreational events. How else can you keep informed of what is newest and best to eat, to wear and to use; how can you know who is selling on the best terms and pledging his name and resources to back the quality and worth of his brand and trademark?

NURSE THINKS NOTHING BETTER

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Advised for all Women in Poor Health

Toronto, Ontario—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years and it is the only patent medicine I ever recommend. I am a nurse and if I find a woman is in poor health I always tell her to take it. Although you know that doctors and nurses do not use patent medi-cines I must say that I think there is nothing better than your Vege-table Compound. When I first took it I was so tired when I got up in the morning that I could not eat, and when I went to bed I was too tired to sleep. My mother-in-law told me that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was just what I wanted so I tried it and only took two bottles when I felt better. Since then I have found that there is nothing that makes me feel so well, for it seems to build my system right up. I don't know any other medicine that has done so much for women."-MRS. W. H. Dear Miss Grey,-I am a newcomer to the page, but have read it with interest for many moons. I am glad that so many have received help from the Boxites, but some seem so ungrateful. I wonder if anyone could help me out with some difficulties: Are jelly beans grown in this country, how are they pickled? Our cat has been killing the little chicks. I wonder if any of the writers are troubled in the same way and know how to prevent. How can I get rid of ants in the pantry? Should two young ladies be criticised for driving to Port Stanley with two married men who are their cousins? We have a fresh cow, and she is very nervous. Is there any way of tying a cow to prevent her kicking Have you good success with tomatoes? Cut off the later flowers and smaller tomatoes and the others will ripen earlier and be much larger. Do any of the Boxites belong to the U. F. W. O.? Would like some suggestions for amusements for our next meeting, to be held the last week August, and which will be in the form of a picnic. Will hope to see my letter in print very soon. Wishing the Boxites suc-

WHO HAS THE WILD COWBOY? Dear Cynthia, — I have been a constant reader of your most helpful corner. I am very sorry for those in need of help, and often wish I could help them. WILL WRITE SHAMROCK. Dear Miss Grey,—This is the first time I have written to the Mail-Box, but I have enjoyed the letters very much. I am only 12 years old, but I passed the entrance exams in June. I read Shamrock's letter and would like to correspond with her. Will you please send me her address? Good wishes to all the Boxites. What do you think of my POLLY.

PEPPER RELISH RECIPE. Dear Miss Grey,-I have been a constant reader of your column for some time; have always enjoyed the time spent in reading it very much. I have been successful also in obtaining many useful hints from the cosy corner, but until tonight I have never had the courage to write to you

I, as well as others, am seeking for help. I wonder if any of the Boxites have a song which contain the following lines:

I don't know the name of the song you refer to, but if any of the Box-ites have it I know they will be pleased to send it to you. Thanks for the timely recipe, which sounds one. Yours is among the first pickle recipes to be sent in this year. It was good of you to remember our hospital fund with a mite, but it must have either slipped out of the envelope or you forgot to inclose it, but it was not to be found in your letter.

Dear Miss Grey and Boxites,-I have not written to the page for two years, but seeing where Tetten was offering music, I thought I would write and see if I could get some. I am inclosing a quarter, so would like four. Of course, if Tetten hasn't that many to spare, I would be satisfied with two. I wonder if some kind reader could supply me with words and music of "Tuck Me to Sleep in My Old Virginia Home," as I am unable to get it here. I wish Calamity Ann were my neighbor. We'd have jolly fun visiting each other, while we were darning the family stockings, exchanging recipes, patterns, and perhaps, some choice gossip. I think her idea about the cook-book a splendid one. And if each Boxite would send in one or two favorite recipes with pen-names, we would not only have a book of choice recipes, but also all the pen-names of the whole Mail-Box. KROEHLER DAVEN-O

Seconds the Hostess' Invitation

A lady was telling us about a visit she made the other day and after she had explained the good time and how hospitable her host and hostess had been, she said:

"But you know I don't feel that I shall ever go there again. They gave up their comfortable bed to me and occupied a most uninviting make-shift of a bed themselves, that I couldn't go to sleep for two nights until after one o'clock, because I felt so badly about occupying their bed, and I didn't dare mention it to them, as I was afraid it might hurt their feelings.'

Make your guests feel that you really enjoy their company - and here's how. Many families are solving the problem of preparing for the occasional guest room by purchasing a Kroehler Daven-o. This takes up very little room, and both by day and night is a most useful

WANTS SIMPLE PATTERNS. Dear Miss Grey,-I have always been going to write, but never took time to. I enjoy reading your page and get quite, a bit of advice. I am a girl 18 years old. I have a pretty good time, but where I live it isn't a very lively place. It is a nice little place, but nothing doing at all. Isn't it dusty? I would like to get some easy crochet patterns, for I am not extra good at crocheting, and I want to start with something If anyone would care to write to me I would answer them with pleasure, for I think it is fun when you correspond with somebody you don't know. I have tried it, and you have lots of fun. We have a young people's meeting at our church, which quite a few attend. We often teen ripe tomatoes, 3 green peppers, 3 large onions, 2 cups brown sugar 3 cups vinegar, 3 tablespoons salt whole spices, three apples. Chop all together and boil one hour.

Small Cucumber Pickles-Three hundred cucumbers, 1 cup salt, 2 sticks cinnamon, water, cider vinegar, 2 cups sugar, 1 tablespoon cloves (whole), 3 bat leaves. Choose very small fresh green cucumbers. Wash them carefully and put into a deep dish. Cover with cold water and in the morning drain and dry them carefully with a towel. Put in a deep preserving kettle, and add alternately a cup of cider vinegar and a cup of water until cucumbers are just covered. Add sugar, spices and bay leaves and let all cook long enough to steam through. Keep turning them till taken off. Put in glass jars while hot and seal so they are airtight.

Milk in Its Safest Form

CARNATION Milk is just pure, rich, cows' milk with part of the water evaporated—sealed in air-tight containers—and sterilized.

It is doubly safe and completely safeguarded. In the can it stays sweet indefinitely. You can keep a month's supply ahead. Your children can have this nourishing milk to drink whenever they need it.

You simply dilute Carnation Milk with an equal part of water. It is ready for every ordinary milk use. Its rich quality adds richness to cocoa, bread-and-milk, puddings, soups, etc.

Or you can use it as cream direct from the can. Carnation is the only milk supply your home needs. Try this convenient milk supply one week and you will never go back to ordinary milk. Order several tall (16 oz.) cans or a case of 48 cans from your grocer.

Write for the new Carnation Cook Book. It is free and it contains over 100 valuable recipes. Try this recipe.

CARNATION BREAD PUDDING.

3 tablespoonfuls sugar, 2 2/3 cups water, 1 1/3 cups Carnation Milk, 2 cups stale bread crumbs, 2 eggs, ½ teaspoonful salt, 1 tablespoonful butter, ½ teaspoonful vanilla. Scald milk diluted with the water, pour over bread crumbs, add sugar and salt. Let cool, then add slightly beaten eggs and flavoring. Pour into a buttered pudding pan and bake in a slow oven. This recipe serves six people.

The teams will meet Wednesday afternoon at St. Thomas in the play-off, Orients having lost the toss. St. Thomas crossed up the dope somewhat by sending in McPhee, the strikeout king from West Lorne, and he south-pawed over thirteen more whifts to his long list at the expense of the Orients, and held the hefty-hitting London crew to two scattered hits. He was hardly in difficulty at any stage of the proceedings, despite the fact that his help piled up five errors behind him, two of which, coming in he second frame, accounted for the lone London tally.

Team Had Color.

Kolp played on what at the time was the most colorful minor league team in the country, even if the color was supplied by former majors.

The team was that of Akron in the International League two years ago.

When Kolp joined the team he wanted to try out for short. That was before Webb had been purchased from the Pirates. Hobby tried him in the box, and liked his work.

Smith, the catcher, was a hard worker and somewhat caustic in his talk when things did not go right. One day, in a spirit of fun, but in a serious tone, he asked Kolph where he learned to pitch. Oldham 4. Stokes 1.

Life and Character Reading

AUGUST 28.

This is the last day in which the sign of Virgo-Leo holds absolute sway. This is the sign of the Fire and Earth together, but the fire in this instance seems naturally turned to productive issues rather than destructive.

These people are rarely satisfied with indoor life, and would wish to spend all their time out of doors with as few garments as possible. They are true children of nature. However, being unable to do this, they demand the best and the most tasteful in quality and style, and the finest adornments for the home. They are usually good, clean They are usually good, clean wholesome people, whom one likes to associate with, and they are always good and intelligent citizens.

Steel workers, mechanics, and engineers will be greatly helped by the Want Ads if they read them faithfully every night.

WILLS MADE BY NORTHCLIFFE TO BE CONTESTED

Ownership of London Times Is Question of Much Speculation.

BEAVERBROOK MENTIONED

Three Caveats Entered in Courts of British Capital.

LONDON, Aug. 27.-The ownership the London Times and the policy of Lord Northeliffe's leading newspaper were questions which dominated today's newspapers. Incidentaly it was learned that there is to be a contest over Lord Northcliffe's wil and three caveats have been entered against its probate.

It now develops that Lord North cliffe made two wills, one dated March 22, 1919, and another shortly before his death, of which Lady Northcliffe is the sole executrix. The admitting of the will to probate will put an end to speculation concerning its contents. There are those who believe that Lord Northliffe took steps perpetually to dominate the policies of the Times by some sort of organization similar to he Cecil Rhodes trust or the Rockefeller foundation. It is generally agreed that if Lord Northcliffe's shares in the London Times are disposed of in open market there be a scramble like that of 1908 when Harmworth by his strategy barely nosed out Arthur Pearson as a suc the Walter interests, who controlled the newspaper for a cen-James L. Garvin, in the Observer enumerates possible buyers of the Times and names Sir John Ellerman, the second largest shareholder in the paper and Lord Rothermere, Viscount Northcliffe's brother, who, if conditions permitted, would buy the Times for his heir, Esmond Harmsworth. Garvin also considers Sir William Berry, owner of the Sunday Times, as a prospective buyer. Among Garin's other guesses is Lord Beaverbrook, owner of the Express. Doctors to Testify.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 27.-The farmers of Oxford County in the sections where the rus has played havoc with the oat crop, place the blame for the presence of rust to the presence of buckthorn hedges.

Mixed grain, threshers say, is turning out a very good yield. but the oat crop in the districts affected is not more than half a normal crop.

So strong are the farmers in their belief that this particular species of hedge is a breeder of rust that the department of agriculture has taken samples and an analysis will be made Mixed grains are showing yield of from 40 to 80 bushels to the acre. The corn crop at present promises to be a

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Aug. 28—Wall Street, 1:30

p.m.—Depression of special issues caused a general sagging movement fafter midday, during which Consolidated Gas and some of the earlier strong stocks relinquished all of their rise. Oils were especially weak, Mexican Petroleum dropping 5 points from its best figure. Large inroads were also made in the prices of Baldwin, Studebaker, United States Steel and many of the investment railroad shares. (Reported by Jones, Easton, McCallum Company for The Advertiser.)

WILL FACE JURY IN ASSAULT CASE

St. Thomas Youth Alleged To Have Attacked Chinese

Special to London Advertiser. ST. THOMAS, Aug. 27 .- By coincidence two youths of about the same age, and both giving the name of White, appeared before Magistrate Maxwell on Saturday morning, both charged with assault.

Jackson White, a native of Indiana, pleaded guilty to being intoxicated and to assaulting Jake Rosen, during an altercation a week ago. He was remanded until Monday for sentence. Clarence White of this city, elected trial by jury at the fall assizes on a charge of assaulting John Hugh, a Chinaman, in the King Cafe, Talbot street, Wednesday night.

The court had much difficulty in learning the facts of the charge against Clarence White, as neither the complainant, John Hugh, who appeared wearing a broad smile and badly discolored left eye, nor his witness, Feng Hai, could speak English fluently.

The accused, John Hugh told the court, had been in the restaurant about midnight and had spilled the ketchup on the tablecloth. He, John Hugh, had remonstrated and the accused had struck him in the eye then hurriedly left the place. "He spill ketchup on table. I say he no business do that. He swear me and then stand up and hit me; then he lun out door and I calle police. explained Hugh, carefully caressing his damaged optic. "My eye sore but not hurt so much now.' White claimed that the Chinaman had provoked him by slapping him first. Hugh denied the accusation White asked permission to bring a witness.

The two Whites were arrested by Detective Joseph McCulley and Constable Charles Hawkins, early Fri-

MANITOBA CROPS WILL SHOW RECORD YIELD

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27 .- Manitoba's crop yield will average this year higher than any crop year in the last decade, according to estimates anounced Saturday by the provincial department of agriculture. This year wheat will average 20 bushels to the acre, against the ten-year average of 16.4; oats will run 40 to 45 bushels against 34.5, and barley 30 bushels against 24.5. The above estimates are based on reports from all dis-

Bolsheviks Gamble With 'Billions' in New Monte Carlo At Moscow.

MOSCOW, Aug. 27.—(Asso ciated Press) .- A gambling casino rivalling the fa-mous Monte Carlo in magnitude of play has been opened in Moscow. Crowds are con-tinually milling about the various tables during the hours of play, which are from 8 o'clock in the evening until 10 in the morning.

There is a scattering representation of foreigners, but those who spend the night at barracat, roulette and other games where the minimum play ranges from ten million to one hundred million rubles are mostly Muscovites. Millions of rubles change hands on each deal at baccarat.

Most of the profit taken by the house goes to the government in taxes or famine benefits. The house draw of 5 per cent is reported on one night to have totalled more than 50,-000,000,000 rubles, indicating that the play reached 1,000,-000,000,000 rubles, or the equivalent of $25,000.

Well-dressed men and wo-men rub elbows with the unshaven and poorly-garbed at tables where the croupiers speak French and money changers accept gold and foreign currency. Casinos also have been opened in Petrograd and other places under the re-cent government decree legal-izing dertain forms of samb-

American Lady and Madame -Lyra Corsets-

Interpreting the New Silhouette Even more important than the gown is the Mme. Lyra Corset, for it is the foundation of fashion itself. Thus the modish frock naturally assumes fashionable and graceful lines over the Mme. Lyra Corset. Every Mme. Lyra Corset is boned with Mightybone, the boning that insures one of enduring comfort and fashion. There is a magic in these slender strands of pliant Mightybone that artfully molds every figure into lovely lines of fashion. Every Mme. Lyra Model is designed scientifically for a special type of figure. For you, Madame, there is a model that will afford just the support necessary for correct poise and graceful posture. It will fit snugly, yet softly and comfortably, affording the utmost freedom. There are special Mme. Lyra models for sport, evening, or general wear. Fashioned of Brocade, Broche, Coutil, or Batiste, exquisitely trimmed, each model is irresistibly lovely. A corsetiere will aid in the selection of a model and will adjust it for the first wearing. Then will Madame experience the rare joy and comfort that come from being correctly corseted.

American Lady and Mme. Lyra Corsets Filled Throughout With Mightybone

This is a free hip corset, especially designed for the slender figure. It is low, with a narrow elastic top, has a medium-length skirt and is lightly "Mightyboned." Pink coutil. Sizes 21 to 26. Price $1.75.

American Lady, Model No. 312

The average figure will find comfort in this model; it is low and full at the top at front and has sufficient height at the back to control the flesh. The long skirt takes care of the figure below the waist line. Sizes 24 to 32.

This model is adapted to many types. The medium skirt, with elastic gores, holds the corset snugly to the figure. Sufficiently boned to support the abdomen. Neatly trimmed at top. Pink coutil. Sizes 22 to 28. Price $4.00.

Model No. 602, American Lady

Full of comfort for slender figures, it is a waist line corset with all around elastic top. Has a long flat back, made of pink brocade. Sizes 22 to 28. Price is ideal for the full figure. The low top is made with center front high enough to protect the diaphraym and to pre-vent clasps from cutting in; made of firm, pink coutil. Sizes 24 to 34. Price

American Lady, Model No. 212 American Lady, Model No. 724 Model No. 4281, Mme. Lyra

Model No. 4017, Mme. Lyra

A desirable model for the women who like a well-boned corset, with low bust, rather short skirt and free hip. It is made of two-tone silk brocade, daintily trimmed with ribbon at top. Sizes 24 to 28. Price $8.00.
