CONVOCATION TOMORROW

Chem. Building to be started this Fall

Drama Official here

On October 31, Richard MacDonald, Executive Director of the Dominion Drama Festival will visit Fredericton. He will confer with Drama League officials here before attending the production of two one-act plays in UNB's Art Centre that night. One play will be "The Voice of the People", a comedy by the Canadian writer Robertson Davies, presented by the UNB Drama Society and directed by Rocky Knight; and a play on the theme of United Nations presented by the Fredericton Players Guild. All are welcome to attend.

Mr. MacDonald is on a one-week tour of New Brunswick, during which time he will visit interested groups within the province and confer with Drama leaders here. He will continue to Saint John, Moncton and Sackville later in the week. Mr. MacDonald brings with him a large fund of knowledge concerning drama derived from long experience in that field, and he will undoubtedly be of much help to the various drama groups here.

In addition to the one-act play, the Drama Society announced the intention of producing a three-act comedy as a major production and as a possible entry in the New Brunswick Regional Drama Festival. It is to be "The Happy Time", an adaptation of a Canadian playwright Samuel Taylor. Set in the Ottawa of the "roaring 20's", it is the delightful and charming story of the trials and triumphs of a French-Canadian family—a family which includes such interesting members as one uncle who collects ladies' garters, and another who drinks wine from a portable water cooler.

Business Club Meeting

The Business Administration Club held its second meeting of the college year on Thursday evening, October 20. Keen interest in the Club and its activities was shown by the encouraging turnout of students.

Business of the evening included a report by Roland Lutes, chairman of the constitution committee. Notice of motion to amend the constitution in two sections was given by the chairman. A motion was also passed whereby action to purchase the first rings was given. Rus Heaton was appointed to supervise the necessary arrangements.

The Club was fortunate in having Dr. Snodgrass, Psychology Department, U.N.B., as guest speaker. Dr. Snodgrass presented an informative talk on psychological testing, giving particular emphasis to testing in its relationship to present day business. The advantages and disadvantages of testing were enumerated. The students thus carried an awareness of the many tests which are available today.

The results of these tests have proven to lead to a more fruitful and happy life, and one's rightful place in society is designated. Dr. Snodgrass's talk was followed by a question period, after which the meeting was adjourned.

Coming events: Trip to Saint John, Thursday, November 3. All members interested are asked to sign the sheet on the Bus. Admin. bulletin board, Arts Building.

FLASH!

It was learned today that Premier Fleming will turn the first sod on the site of the new Chemistry Building, following Convocation Ceremonies. Construction of the million dollar addition to the UNB campus is expected to start this fall.

College Students to get discount

TORONTO (CP) — Identification cards will be issued soon to 40,000 Canadian university students enabling them to obtain discounts on purchases at many stores.

The cards are the outcome of the recent annual conference in Edmonton of the National Federation of Canadian University students. Discounts will apply to certain items used by students such as books, theatre tickets and clothing.

Discount cards used now by students at McMaster University will be replaced by those issued by the NFCUS.

Mission on Campus

A Christian Mission will be conducted on the campus of the provincial university, beginning Oct. 30, and terminating Nov. 10. The 10 day affair will be under the direction of the Rev. Dick Rees, noted English Missionary. Meetings will be conducted Monday through Saturday from 5 to 5:20 p.m. A youth rally will also be held Sunday, October 30 at 8:30 p.m. in the Cathedral Parish Hall. Rev. Rees is in Fredericton under the auspices of Christ Church Cathedral. All students are cordially invited to attend any of the functions.

GRADUATES!

Members of the Graduating class are urged to make an appointment at Harvey's Studio to have their Yearbook photos taken as soon as possible. Nov. 30 is the deadline and photos taken after this date will not be accepted. Girls are asked to wear white blouses.

Film of Exhibit

A television film, depicting the Beaverbrook Art Exhibit is being made at the University of New Brunswick. The fifteen minute short is being prepared under the direction of Mr. R. Smith, well-known Maritime photographer from Sackville and Amherst.

Because of the cultural importance to New Brunswick of this unique exhibit, it is felt that it should be brought to the attention of a wider audience than will be able to actually attend the showing. The film will be presented on the Tuesday afternoon following the exhibit over St. John and Moncton TV stations.

During the filming, which took place in the Bonar Law-Bennett Library, students were used for the occasional acting necessary in the feature. Shots were made showing the unloading of pictures and prints from the station and airport. Much of the work entailed in setting up an exhibit such as this will also be shown. This film will undoubtedly be instrumental in impressing upon New Brunswick the vast importance attached to an event of this calibre.

RINK FINISHED

The Lady Beaverbrook Rink built in record time, was completed early in October. The installation of the ice-making equipment, for which a separate contract was let, is now in progress and is expected to be done by November 1.

It is not an exaggeration to say that Lord Beaverbrook's latest gift is a dream rink and that UNB students and Fredericton school children will have hockey, skating and other facilities second to none.

The striking design and the high-grade building materials of the rink are both evident in the picture of the exterior. The front is faced with porcelain enamel which is blue-green in color and three brick panels; building-length windows underneath overhanging eaves catch the eye. An imposing brick tower bears the illustrious name of the structure. The tower gives definite emphasis to the wide modern entrance and it also effectively conceals the flues and vents.

The interior is equally impressive. The ice surface will measure 190' x 83' and 1,650 people will be able to sit on comfortable, curved benches to watch games. The vision of spectators will be perfect as a result of the rigid steel frames of the rink. These frames have been painted in gay colors ranging from dark at the ends to light in the center.

At the ice level the following facilities will be found: drying, dressing and shower rooms for U.N.B.; a dressing room and shower room for the visiting team; two dressing rooms for school teams; a continuous corridor room for skaters; referee's room which will double as a first aid room; six store rooms; a canteen; and the ice-making plant and boiler room.

At the entrance level will be found: a lounge, manager's office, control center, press and radio enclosure, ticket office and canteen.

A sectional stage has been provided by His Lordship in order that the Lady Beaverbrook Rink can be used for public functions. In conjunction with the stage, a sounding board which hangs from the roof and both border

British Politician At Ceremony

The Rt. Hon. Viscount Bracken, P.C., wartime British Minister of Information and one-time First Lord of the Admiralty will deliver the convocation address. Viscount Bracken, a personal friend of Sir Winston Churchill, accompanied by Lord Beaverbrook on his visit to the provincial university.

Two Canadian university presidents will also be honoured by the University of New Brunswick at its autumn convocation here on Thursday, Dr. Colin Mackay, UNB president, announced today.

Dr. Andrew Stewart, president of the University of Alberta, and Dr. Raymond Cushue, president of Memorial University of Newfoundland, will receive the honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws. Dr. Stewart and Dr. Cushue are members of the Royal Commission on Canada's Economic Prospects, which is visiting New Brunswick this month.

SRC MEETING

Retiring president, Jack Ernst, suggested to the SRC meeting, held in the Students' Centre, Oct. 19, that stricter control of dependent organizations would result in greater efficiency with respect to finances. He added that there was much apathy evident on the campus, and this would decrease, if the students were more aware of the council.

The council passed all budgets submitted with little or no comment. Questions were raised however, concerning the drama society and Brunswickan budgets. Discussion issued as to whether the Drama grant shouldn't be termed a budget, thus insuring the council's scrutiny of the items. This recommendation was approved by the members.

The Brunswickan budget was then brought under fire, and Fred Drummie explained to the council the reasons for the increase. Prof. McAllister was chosen as faculty adviser. He will be formally asked this week.

CIC Meeting

An organizational meeting of the UNB branch, Chemical Institute of Canada, was held Tuesday evening, Oct. 11, in the Chemistry Annex. Bob Wightman was elected president, Pat Miller, Sec. Treasurer; Bryan Lutz-Wallace, program director and Jean O'Brien, Publicity Editor.

It was decided that meetings will be held every two weeks, Tuesday evening, at 7 P.M.

The program for the coming year will include such things as films, discussions and addresses by prominent chemists in various fields. A two dollar fee is charged which enables the member to receive a year's subscription to "Chemistry in Canada". The remaining funds will be deposited in the club's treasury.

The organization is designed to excite interest in Chemistry, and to enable students to learn something of the subject outside their regular courses. Further information about the C.I.C. may be obtained from Prof. Toole.

PROFS RATE T.V.

Professor Lovell Clark of the history department of the university of New Brunswick and Al Tunis, Public Relations, have broken into that hallowed medium of television. These gentlemen appeared on "That's the Question" from Saint John. It is not known if this constitutes a trend at the Provincial University, but if so, could possibly clear the way in this province for a television College. Could an institution of this type be called "Tele U"?

A number of UNB students will be awarded their bachelors, masters, and Doctors of Philosophy degrees in course at the convocation, which is scheduled for 3 p.m. in the Lady Beaverbrook Gymnasium.

The university's chancellor, Lord Beaverbrook, will attend the ceremonies.

For the first time since receiving his appointment, New Brunswick's new Chief Justice, the Hon. J. B. McNair will take the chair on behalf of the Hon. D. L. MarLaren, P.C., lieutenant-governor and visitor to the university on behalf of Her Majesty.

Invocation will be pronounced by the Very Reverend S. C. Gray, Dean of Fredericton.

The Rt. Hon. Viscount Bracken is chairman of the Union Corporation and the Financial Times, and is managing director of The Economist. In 1940, he was appointed to the Privy Council and from 1940-41 he was parliamentary secretary to Winston Churchill, then Prime Minister. He was Minister of Information from 1940-41, and in 1945 he was named First Lord of the Admiralty. He was MP for Bournemouth from 1945-50 and after 1950 for East Bournemouth and Christchurch. He was created Viscount in 1952. He is also a trustee of the National Gallery in London and is chairman of the Board of Governors of Sedburgh.

Dr. Stewart, a native of Scotland, has had an extensive academic background. He has held teaching posts in the University of Alberta's department of political economy, was director of that university's school of commerce from 1948-53, and was Dean of Business Affairs from 1949-50, when he was appointed president.

Dr. Cushue, a graduate of Dalhousie Law School, was appointed chairman of the Newfoundland Fisheries Board in 1936, and from 1943-45 he served as chairman into the Fisheries Products Committee of the Combined Food Board representing in the Second World War, and the allied and friendly countries thereafter, until 1947, he was chairman of the Fisheries Division of the International Emergency Food Council.

Little Red and Black Tonight!

This evening, in honour of Lord Beaverbrook, the SRC will sponsor a little Red 'N Black. The show, produced by Bill Barwick, and directed by Ian Kennedy and Jim King, will start at 7:30 in the Memorial Hall. At this performance Lord Beaverbrook will be able to get a glimpse of the entertainment for which the annual Red 'N Black Revue is famous.

Here is a chance for Freshmen to get a preview of this annual Spring event, and for all to see a show which never fails to entertain.

DISCUSS ART EXHIBIT: Shown discussing the exhibition on opening day are Jack Murray, Lady Jeanne Campbell, Dr. Colin Mackay and Mrs. Murray.

Committees at Work

In his parting remarks to the Students' Representative Council meeting last Wednesday, Jack Ernst, Ex-Officio President, requested that the S.R.C. make an effort to put the committees operating under it to more effective use. The S.R.C. has lacked co-ordination in this respect for many years and it is heartening to hear words of action on the subject. The announcement was made shortly after the meeting convened that all S.R.C. committees will have to meet at least 24 hours before the Students' Representative Council does if any topic to be discussed is to be brought up at the parent body. If Dick Hale can enforce this then it will be a great step forward in speeding up the business of the Council.

With the committees meeting at prescribed times and making official reports there remains but one thing to be corrected. That is the business the committees are to discuss. Little use has been made at U.N.B. of the investigative committee. At the final fall budget meeting last Wednesday the financial committee presented its recommendations and requested, after some discussion, they be passed. The budgets which had been submitted by various campus organizations were voted on by the council on this recommendation.

The S.R.C. has been faced with, and most likely will continue to be faced with, yearly debts of campus organizations. It is high time the financial committee did some research into why these debts are continually cropping up and what can be done about them. Some intelligent work in this direction might be the answer to rising S.R.C. fees and the persistent lack of operating funds in the S.R.C. coffers.

Order out of Chaos

The apparent inefficiency of the much-ballyhooed NFCUS organization, as illustrated by the mismanagement of last year's debating final in Toronto, does much to substantiate the anti-federation sentiments which the Brunswickan has continually expressed.

Most of us will agree that this discouraging report does indicate a certain lack of initial order within that hallowed organization. The natural question arises then: Do we need a national student lobby of this sort? Have the universities in Canada reached the point where a student body on a national basis is unnecessary? The answer is obvious—NO! With the increase in the size of the individual schools in Canada, the need has become greater, not less. It is therefore a shame that, for all practical purposes, one does NOT exist. NFCUS, as it is constituted at present, does not fill the bill.

The greatest difficulties in NFCUS seem to arise at the executive level. This is born out by the fact that the examples of mismanagement occur through the channels of the general office, and not at the university level. Such things as the failure to live up to advertised obligations (the debating finals), the complete loss of a student art exhibit and the long months of silence which follow one of those unique short story competitions. These are all the responsibility of the permanent administration. One solution would be to establish regional offices, and in this way take some of the load off the head office. This will of necessity be more of an expense, but if the students have any assurance that their funds are being constructively used they will gladly comply. These regional outlets would also tend to bind the organization more closely than it is at present. This factor of loose organization is perhaps one of the chief reasons for NFCUS failure.

Another point for consideration is that of money mismanagement. It is obvious, in the case of the CUDA debating finals. Either they did not have sufficient funds, in which case no such offer should have been made, or, they had the monies but decided for various reasons not to allot them to debating. Clearly no effort was made to live up to advertised obligations.

On the basis of these findings an investigation of NFCUS spending is in order. It is up to the member universities to instigate one. Apparently no severe pang of conscience have smitten the officials themselves. We must decide whether to support a federation, which is grossly inefficient, or to support an organization that can effectively project student interests. The latter does not exist. It can only become reality when the students have acquired sufficient interest to completely re-vamp the present system.

Freshman Elections

The freshman elections for the positions of class representatives in the Students' Representative Council and the class executive are being held this coming Friday, October 28th. We need hardly say that it is the duty of every freshman to go to the polls and vote. This is a franchise that we possess in Canada and, sadly enough, it is too often neglected. Although the positions up for election may appear to be insignificant they are not. Each of the elected officers will have specific duties to perform and their actions will affect every freshman and sometimes every student on the campus.

In the past the elections on this campus have been regarded with little concern. The students who should have taken an interest are the first to complain when there is levy made for funds to pay off debts, or when the S.R.C. levy is raised. All these actions take place after the elections and it is then too late for the student to voice his or her opinion. The time for that is now. Your candidates have been nominated, Freshmen, it's up to you to see that the best of them are placed in office to represent you.

If you don't vote only YOU lose out.

NFCUS IN ACTION

Editor's Note: This is a resume of a report prepared for the annual meeting of the Maritime Intercollegiate Debating League. NFCUS, under its constitution, is responsible for any discrepancies resulting from mismanagement of CUDA funds.

Len St. Hill and Fulton (Mt. Allison) having won the M.I.D.L. finals in the Maritimes went on to Toronto to compete against the other league members for the national championship. They won. The award for the winners which has been nationally advertised was a debating tour of Europe, and $200.00 cash.

The debators from Mt. A were approached as to when they would be available to make the trip. They told the officials of C.U.D.A. (an affiliate of NFCUS) that the trip would be most conveniently made in May and June last summer. No dates were given because the debators did not anticipate their good fortune. (asked before the finals).

After they had won, they informed C.U.D.A. that they could go after May 15, and be back the end of June. Because absolutely no information whatsoever had been given as to the trip, they also sent in three questions to be answered before their departure.

1. Could Mr. St. Hill's return ticket be exchanged for two single passages, because he was planning to stay in England, and would like to bring along his wife?
2. Would the officials kindly the exact nature of the tour?
3. Who will assist them when overseas. That is, who will be their sponsors in Europe in case they require any assistance.

They got no answer for considerable time, and when it did arrive, their questions were answered thusly:—

1. NO.
2. NO REPORT.
3. NO REPORT.

CUDA then informed the winners that there were no reservations available at that time, that the $200.00 prize nominally awarded to the winners over and above the trip would be spent on securing tickets, and that the times submitted were too early.

Mr. St. Hill and Mr. Fulton then suggested that they go later on, sometime in July and August. Their answer to this, secured only after considerable expense for phone calls on the part of St. Hill, was that this was too late. What would be the point of going then when the European Universities would be closed? Furthermore, the trip had been restricted to England. By this time (late June), Fulton had dropped out.

St. Hill was told that in future debators would be CHOSEN who could be away the complete summer.

To summarize:
 NFCUS has violated their promise in that—
 1. The winners were given no prize.
 2. The European trip was denied them.
 3. The prize money was to be spent on tickets.
 4. There was no alternative offered.
 5. They did not arrange to have reservations for the trip (at the only time that would have been feasible, namely, May and June).
 6. The trip, if made, would be restricted to England.

The General Committee of MIDL has sent a strong protest to NFCUS (because CUDA is a special committee of NFCUS, and receives in funds from the parents body), in view of the treatment received by the winners of the CUDA finals. Furthermore MIDL has held back any funds payable to CUDA until something is done to fully compensate the persons concerned.

Letters to the Editor

(Editor's Note—A letter has been received signed "Disgusted Freshman". We cannot print a letter that is not signed or one for which we do not have the real name of the 'nomme de plume' on file.)
 Dear Mr. Editor:

The editorial which you have so carefully chosen from the "Toronto Varsity", truly expresses your feelings of NFCUS in doubt. I believe you have something there. NFCUS has fallen down in a few of their attempts in bettering the University student and any organization which isn't perfect must go.

McGill and Montreal, two of Canada's largest universities, have withdrawn from NFCUS and show no desire to return. We need more universities with this attitude, for NFCUS does not uphold everything they promise.

NFCUS stands for National Federation of Canadian University Students. It is the only tie of University Students in Canada. But let's be isolationists, let's be like Montreal and McGill, forget about the other university students in Canada. We are not interested in them. NFCUS sponsors music, debating and art competitions. But who's interested in these? If we want to debate, we'll debate amongst ourselves. The H--- with debating competitions with other universities. And who wants to see paintings? If I wish to see the Rockies, I'll catch the five o'clock train from Fredericton and go to Banff and see them the way they really are.

NFCUS also plays an international role, sending delegates from Canada to meet with delegates from countries around the world. The Canadian student delegation impressed the delegates from other countries with their leadership. But why should NFCUS go into international problems? There is no hope, for we are Canadians and Canadians were never leaders. Let the U.S. delegation worry about world problems. Let's be isolationists, quit NFCUS. To quit NFCUS would eventually make the Canadian university student one of the most disunited and backward in the world.

To support NFCUS would eventually make the Canadian University student the leaders in solving problems of both Canada and the world.

The cost to support NFCUS is just 50c per student. Just one admission to an evening performance at the theatre. That 50c is an investment. Like all investments, they don't turn out the way you always plan, but the theory behind that investment is good. For when you invest your 50c in NFCUS, you invest toward bettering the University student, by increasing understanding and uniting the students into one body.

At the present time NFCUS may have a few problems. The purpose of the National Convention is to solve such problems and these problems can only be solved by us, the Students of Canada, and not by the students of McGill and Montreal who chicken out at the slightest indication of error.

So I conclude Mr. Editor—by saying that no matter what happens, never turn your back to NFCUS, for we are NFCUS, and NFCUS is only as strong as we make it.

STUDENT WIVES' ORGANIZATION

The first meeting of this society was held on Oct. 18 in the Lounge of the Student Centre. Its purpose is to organize the wives of the sixty-six married students at UNB into a group which will participate in many campus activities, such as sports, dramatics, etc. The organization has the use of the Ladies Reading Room in the Arts Building every Tuesday evening. Wives are entitled to accompany their husbands to games and other campus functions if their husband's SRC card is stamped "married". A few local stores have promised discounts to married students.

This club should benefit and interest every student wife. Try to attend the next meeting which will be held on Nov. 15. A slate of officers will be chosen. In the meantime, enjoy the various activities which are available.

Badminton—Tuesday, 7-10 p.m.—Contact Mrs. W. L. Sears at 2793.

Swimming—Wed. & Fri., 8-9 p.m.—Contact Mrs. R. K. Clark at 5196. Mrs. Clark is also in charge of Basketball.

Bowling—Mrs. John Mathewson at 8589.

Bridge—Mrs. P. J. Collis at 6496.

Dramatics—Mrs. M. J. O'Connor at 2673.

A great deal of credit should be given to Mrs. A. L. McAllister, without whose help this organization would never have been formed.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Last Friday evening, the Co-Eds and their guests were entertained at a square dance given by the Alumnae Society in honour of Lady Jean Campbell. Although some of us were not so adept at the art of square dancing as others, nevertheless, we had soon learned the basic steps, and a fun-packed evening began. The party was very much enjoyed by all of us. Let's have another soon. Don't forget the Fall Formal on Nov. 4!!

SCHOOL SPIRIT

How about some enthusiasm at the Football Games? This campus has some nice-looking Cheerleaders who are working hard to perfect their routines to lead the students yelling encouragement to the Bombers. However, at the St. John-UNB game on Oct. 15, the students exhibited very little enthusiasm. Let's show our Varsity teams that we mean business. Let's ALL cheer!!

BY UNEXPECTED

Last week a committee formed by the Lady Beaverbrook Society presented the residence food problems to the president and business manager of the University. They were both extremely co-operative, and promised that the committee's reports would be put into effect as soon as possible. Let us hope then, that we have seen the end of food troubles for this year.

On behalf of the men's residence, "Unexpected" feels bound to reply to the scathing onslaught dealt out to all males by the ladies' society in last week's "Sugar 'n Spice" so...

"The Truth About Women" or "What Men Marry"

Women are what men marry. They have two feet, two arms, and in fact, very nearly two of everything. They only have one husband, (that people know about) and always many more than one idea at one time.

Like Turkish cigarettees, they are made of the same material; the only difference being that some smell more than others and some are more angular than others.

Generally speaking, they may be divided into two classes; wives, and those no one will marry. An eligible spinster is a woman of virtue entirely surrounded by several invincible rings of defence. Wives are of three varieties, faithful, unfaithful and impotent.

Making a wife out of a woman is one of the greatest plastic arts known to civilization. It requires art, perseverance, fantastic control of temper, endurance, and money, a great deal of money.

It is a psychological marvel that a rugged, strong, swashbuckling male should enjoy kissing a spidly-spotted painted corseted thing like a girl.

If you flatter a woman, she suspects you of ulterior motives and if you don't flatter her she will drop you like a hot brick. If you try to make love to her, all you get is a slapped face, and if you don't make love to her, she leaves you for someone else who will. If you agree with her in everything, she tells you you're too pliable and haven't got any personality; if you argue with her, she tells you it's a woman's privilege to change her mind and to have the last word. If you believe all she tells you she thinks you're a fool, and if you don't you're a cynic.

If your past is liberally sprinkled with wine, women and song and if you regularly indulge in all three to excess, "nice" girls hesitate to go out with you. If you're an ordinary genuine, quiet, studious, and down-to-earth guy, girls hesitate to go out with you because you're uninteresting, plain, dull and can't show them a good time.

Bye, now. Have to go down to the Maggie Jean to pick up my date.

The sports department of The Brunswickan isn't quite sure if the following falls into its category, but it is taking the liberty anyway of passing along a vote of thanks to Miss Susan Hayward for the priceless information she supplied us in "Soldier Of Fortune", the opus which played the Gaiety last week.

In the closing scene of said Cinemascope celluloid, she leaves her husband for the arms of Clark Gable. Mr. Gable, aged though he is, has not yet become senile and manages the obvious question, "Do you still love your husband?"

Gushes Susan, moving into contact with Clark's mustache, "Oh yes, but there is a difference between loving somebody and being IN LOVE!"

Movies are better than ever. —O'SULLIVAN.

Graduating as an engineer does not guarantee that we will end up as vice-president of a company or make a million dollars. Many of us will be successful in business, just the same as in every other profession. It's up to us to climb the ladder of success by our own efforts. But never has anyone blamed his lack of success on the fact that he had engineering training.

At the present time the average engineering graduate starts at a salary of from $300 to $400 a month. But disregarding starting salaries, past experience indicates that engineering training plus hard work may lead to real success later on.

To-day engineers are found in many top positions in technical jobs as well as sales and advertising. It is not only the technical knowledge that helps, it's the thinking habits and the methods of analyzing a problem that become an engineer. Few persons felt that their technical training was a waste of time.

Engineers, engineers and more engineers. Yes, no matter where you go on the U.N.B.I campus, these days, you see an engineer. It's survey time. The sophomore and junior engineers are hard at work, laying out a traverse of the campus, or attempting to lay it out.

The beginning of last week, following the rough weekend with Pep Rally, football game and all, I watched four bleary-eyed engineers working over a transit. The weekend was just too much for them. One of the fellows was taking a shot on one corner of the Library stairs across the road and into the Arts Building. Some blond.

Instructors tag along with every crew. You freshmen probably think they're around to show the sophomores how to operate the transit. You're wrong. The sophomores know only too well. The instructors are there to see that they get the right readings in the book. Why just yesterday some sophomore was tying a fire hydrant. His readings were—"Bust 38", waist 24" height 5'4". Now things like that can't go on and instructors try to straighten these chaps out.

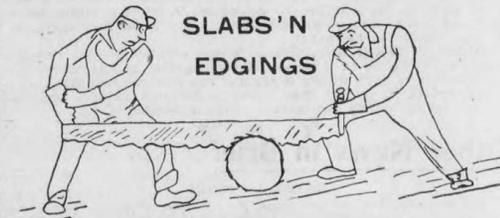

Now you think I'm fooling when I say sophomores know their instruments. Well here's proof—

"Ah—There's Sally... and Lucy... Bob McLaughlin... Bearing N43° 15' W.

SLABS 'N EDGINGS

THE WEEK IS COMING!

A full eight days of events have been planned for this year's Forestry Week. They are:

Sat. Oct. 29 Bushmen's Ball — Boxing Room

Tues. Nov. 1 — unprintable —

Wed. Nov. 2 Social Nite — Reading Room.

Thurs. Nov. 3 Tug-of-war — Artsmen's Doorstep.

Fri. Nov. 4 (Fall Formal) Preparations for . . .

Sat. Nov. 5 Hammerfest.

Many merchants in the City have been kind enough to donate valuable prizes for competition in the Field Nite events. A display of these may be seen on the second floor landing of the Forestry Building. These events are open to all, so come on down to College on the night of Oct. 31 to show your skill and have some fun.

We would like to nominate Prof. Louis Scheult for the position of Man of the Week for his valiant support of the Forester's Soccer team last week. Unfortunately his co-operation was offset by the efforts of a remarkably spry Faculty team.

Two weeks from today The Brunswickan will be published by the Foresters. All those interested in contributing to the success of this issue are asked to see the Editor, Eid Eddy. Jokes, articles, etc. should be left in the Suggestion Box in the Reading Room or turned in to Sid.

In the same vein we might add that the Suggestion Box is the place for any contributions to Slabs and Edgings you may have.

Our Closing Thought: Beer may have its faults, but at least it gives you a run for your money.

Was Never Like This

I was walking home from church one cold winter's day a few years ago, bravely slogging through heavy North Dakota snow drifts, which made walking well nigh impossible. Just as the first flakes of a coming storm promised to make my walk ten times more uncomfortable, a battered old ford pulled up beside me, and a kindly old man bade me get in.

I thanked the twinkling eyed old gentleman, and we soon struck a lively conversation. Presently, I asked, "How is it that an old gentleman like yourself is out in a raging snowstorm on such an inclement Sunday morning?"

"Shucks," he replied with a chuckle, "I've been doing this for eleven years. It's the biggest fun I get out of life". And with that he assaulted me, snatched my purse, and threw me into a snow drift, and with a merry laugh, drove off down the road.

When my son returned home from Korea to our small town in the Southwest, he was greeted by the town band, whose members were gathered at the railway station to welcome him home. As he stepped from the railroad car, his war bag in his hand, the band started a stirring rendition of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home". His wife ran to him with the child he'd never seen before, the mayor shook his hand, the Boy Scouts gave him three cheers, leading the people gathered there. He puked and died.

Old Ben who had been Postmaster in our small town of Three Forks, Louisiana since the Confederates were tricked out of Fort Sumpter, had made it a practise every Christmas to send a Christmas card to everyone in Three Forks. It was a great surprise, therefore, last Christmas to discover no cheery card in the mails. When we went to see what could have kept old Ben from his yearly habit, we found him sitting in his living room rocking in his favourite chair. "Ben, why didn't you send us a card this year," we asked. Feeble with age, old Ben paused in his rocking, laid aside his pipe, drew himself up like a soldier and said, "None of your goddamned business."

After careful consultation with a noted psychologist, my wife and I decided that we would cure our two children of their diametrically opposed outlook on life by the amount of toys we would put under the Christmas tree. Under Willie, the pessimist's tree, I put toy trains, a bicycle, Jane Russell, and a ten year's subscription to Esquire. Under the optimist's tree I put a bag of horse leavings. On Christmas morning, my wife and I came up to see how our sons were taking it. The pessimist was his usual self, grumbling because he hadn't got Bob Feller too. But the optimist was running happily around clutching his bag. "Daddy," he cried joyfully, "Look what Santa left me. I know I've got a pony, but I can't find it."

Out in Texas where men are men and women had better be, the story is making the rounds about the young Co-ed who displayed her inborn Texan cleverness. When out on a date with a university student, she was the object of some overly warm advances as they studied astronomy late one night. After fighting off the clutches of this young man for over two hours, she finally escaped by claiming a stomach cramp. She later said to her mother, explaining her flight, "A stitch in time saves nine."

A civil service worker, famous around the office for his long morning sessions in the mens' washroom, was found missing one morning as the employees gathered around the pool table for their lunchtime game. On searching for their fellow-worker, his compatriots found only a saddle-shoe clad foot projecting from the toilet bowl. Upon searching through his family records, his fellow-workers discovered that he was of kingly descent, on his mother's side. "Poor Sam", one remarked on hearing this. "He always was a poor poker player, you might have known his last play would be a royal flush — Bennet Serf."

SAINT JOHN WERE ON SATURDAY

TO MEET UNB IN SEMI-FINAL; BOMBERS STILL UNDEFEATED

By Jim McLedd

CHATHAM—UNB completed a undefeated regular schedule in New Brunswick Canadian Rugby Football Union, here Saturday, defeating St. Thomas Tommies 33-11.

Standout Bombers were lineman John Coombe and end Mike O'Connor. Other prominent members of the team included quarterback Butch Bouchard and halfback Guy (Tex) Doiron.

This occasion was the first time St. Thomas was defeated on its home field in four years.

UNB supporters at the game were sparse but spirited. The team managed to get ample moral support from its crowd which was led by the Red and Black cheerleaders. The absence of the band of the previous week was greatly noticed. We can only hope it will be possible to have the band on hand at all future games.

The victory gave the Red Bombers first place in the NBRFU race. They played three, won three. In their opener at Moncton, they counted 32-0 over Coverdale Navy-Trojans. A week later, Oct. 15, they outscored Saint John Wanderers 19-11 at College Field in Fredericton.

The St. Thomas aggregation finished second with 2-1. Previous to meeting the champion Bombers, Tommies had whipped Saint John 27-3 and Coverdale 22-17.

PLAY SATURDAY

The league playoffs open Saturday. The semi-final series will be sudden-death affairs. At College Field in Fredericton, Bombers face Saint John. Game time will be 2:30 p.m.

The other semi-final game will be played at Moncton between Navy-Trojans and Tommies.

Mike O'Connor, UNB's outstanding end, paced Bombers' scoring attack against Tommies with a pair of touchdowns, a field goal, a rouse and four converts. That performance netted him 18 points, over half the team output.

His season's mark now stands at 28 for the season. It's by the best of any Bomber.

Joey George, Mickey Lalor and Hugh Auger registered a touchdown each. Tough-luck George was injured for the second time in two games. Not noticeably affected by his injured cartilage of a week earlier, Joey sprained his left ankle early in the first quarter after opening the scoring. He left the field and appeared only once more, briefly in the third quarter, intercepting a pass and leaving the field again with an aggravated hurt.

TOMMY POINTS

UNB drew first blood early in the initial quarter after recovering a Tommy fumble. UNB's George lugged the leather across five players later for five points. O'Connor converted. Minutes later Butch Bouchard threw a 30-yard pass to O'Connor who carted the ball into the end zone. The try for the extra point was unsuccessful.

Later in the first quarter, Tommies came back with O'Brien's touchdown, complete with conversion by Boyle, to cut the gap to 11-6. That's the way the first chapter closed.

Play was fairly even during the second quarter with a hard-charging Tommy defensive line stopping UNB's attack. The Bomber line

Hoop Practices

UNB, winner of the N.B.-P.E.I. intercollegiate title last spring, opens varsity basketball workouts for men next Monday night. The sweat session, to be conducted by coach Gerard (Moose) Flemming, will get under way at 7:30 on the Lady Beaverbrook gym wood.

Manager of the squad is Jim Robinson. His phone number is 5391. First game of the season will be here November 14 when the USAF team of Dover-Foxcroft Base near Bangor pays a visit for an exhibition tilt. Then UNB will inaugurate its Northeast College Conference schedule here November 19 against Arnostook State Teachers' College.

This Saturday, a UNB delegation will be off for Houton, Me., for a NECC meeting which has been booked to lay final plans for the 1955-1956 season. Heading the Red and Black delegation will be athletic director P. C. Kelly, who holds down the presidency of the conference. Coach Flemming will be unable to attend due to his football activity. Making the trip with Kelly will be team manager Jim Robinson and 1954-1955 co-coach Doug Rogers.

Fifteen Rounds To a Finish?

Boing—LOOK SHARP

Boing—FEEL SHARP

Boing—BE SHARP

Chop it clean with a GUILLOTINE.

Good day, folks. This is your sportscaster, TERRY INGHAM, bringing you a round-by-round description of the fight which is accompanying the UNB-St. Thomas football game at Chatham. Participants in the fracas are supporters of both teams.

The principals, I see, have taken their places and we're ready to get under way . . . and there's the bell.

ROUND ONE: UNB fans are gathering at the Tommy end of the field. All of a sudden, St. Thomas fans are beginning to gather along the sidelines. (I wonder why!) There is a rumor that the goal posts are about to be moved.

ROUND TWO: The whistle signified the end of the game and the beginning of the actual fight. The UNB fans all make a mad rush toward the goalpost. There is going to be a race to see who gets there first. The UNB supporters or the St. Thomas fans. Someone trips but the mad race goes on.

ROUND THREE: The goal posts are moving, now they're not, there they go, woops—not pushed far enough. Now there is an illustration by St. Thomas men.

ROUND FOUR: Due to reasons beyond our control, the UNB fans are pushed back. But this does not daunt them. There are many lefts and rights thrown—but the writer can not see if they are landing or not, but several black eyes are now being sported by members of both teams of supporters.

ROUND FIVE: The first line of UNB supporters are bearing the brunt of the Tommies' players rush to defend their goalposts.

ROUND SIX: Several helmets are flying through the air along with the bodies hit by the defenders. People are now being kicked. And after getting up, they are being hit from all angles.

ROUND SEVEN: There goes a member of the UNB football team. The piston from Minto is in there driving as hard as he can.

ROUND EIGHT: Members of the St. Thomas faculty are seen amongst the crowd acting as referees, but, like all referees, they are partial toward the home crowd. In fact, they are now helping the home team.

ROUND NINE: A referee is seen pushing a guy down. (I presume he did not stay down long enough because another referee is hitting him.) Like all good sportsmen, the UNB fans are now getting back at the referees.

ROUND TEN: Unfortunately overwhelming odds are beginning to tell of the UNB fans and they are slowly being driven away from the goals.

ROUND ELEVEN: There is a commotion at the other end of the field. Some of the weaker sex are on the move. The goal posts are moving. There is a general rush towards that end of the field and before the plucky fans are able to do any damage to posts they are driven away by the bold Tommie defenders. A bit of wrestling takes place and due to lack of strength of the Jaggy Jeans they came out on the short end of the battle.

ROUND FIFTEEN: Both sides go weary, a nurse is seen running around gathering the UNB football players together as they, after the first battle, are quite willing to try and win a second one also.

THE FIGHT IS OVER: Here comes the referee's decision, but due to a swollen lip nobody understands what the decision is . . .

COACH FLEMMING PLEASED WITH 33-11 WIN OVER "TOMMIES"

"Gee whiz, they were terrific out there!" — that's the way Coach Gerard (Moose) Flemming described the performance of his UNB Red Bombers Saturday.

"They didn't let down for one of those 60 minutes and that's why we won. Defensively we were tremendous. The whole line sizzled, especially John McCoombe. He just showed everybody just how a defensive line position should be played.

"But let us not forget the rest of those guys up front. Mike O'Connor, Stan Trzop, Stan Williams, Hugh Walford, Gord Campbell and all the rest were just great.

"Offensively we spluttered about a few times but we always came right back. The boys were trying hard and that is what counts.

"It's the first time a St. Thomas team has been beaten at home by a UNB squad. You might say we overcame a jinx, but that wouldn't be completely right because those guys didn't even think about losing.

"Practices all week had been fine and it had me worried. It's a bad omen if you are hot in practices. It sometimes means you'll fall down in the game.

"But not these guys. They drove it all the way. And as a result I got my first good sleep of the week on Saturday night.

"The only bad point was those injuries. They hit us again. Both Joey George and Guy Doiron hurt their left ankles. George's bad knee didn't bother him and he was going great when he ran into the ankle trouble. Doiron, of course, played his usually tremendous effort before he got hurt.

"But it may not be too serious. The x-rays weren't bad and I think we will have both George and Doiron back before long. Maybe even for the game with Saint John at College Field Saturday.

"Our other injured star, Butch Bouchard, who was hurt along with George against Saint John a week before, also came back with a sound performance. It was the toughest opposition he has faced so far but he played well and always came up with what was needed in the clutch.

"About the future? Well, All I can say is that, if the boys give all they have every minute as they have in the past and don't become overconfident, we'll be awfully tough and I think we will keep that Senator Burchill Trophy here.

"But win, lose or draw, if the boys give their all, I'll be satisfied. Who wouldn't be?"

MOUNTIES WIN TITLE

FLASH

There is a possibility that the 1955 Soccer season will not end with the defeat by Mount Allison. There are plans for a competition between UNB, St. John Drydocks and a Moncton team, either the Rovers of the '31' Club.

No definite plans have been made but it would be a fine opportunity for the UNB soccer team to reinstate themselves in the eyes of their supporters.

Mount Allison won the New Brunswick Intercollegiate Title with a 2-1 win over UNB at College Field Saturday. The win gave the Mount A the two-game, total-goal series 3-2. The opener had been a 1-1 deadlock at Sackville.

It was the first loss for UNB in the Canon Clarke Trophy competition in eight years.

All luck was with Mount A. In the second half, many UNB chances going astray. The forward line got to the penalty area with ease but could get no further. And these were long periods of frustration when it seemed certain that UNB would score but they never did.

Post-mortems are unpleasant, but when a team loses a college game for the first time in eight years they are bound to come. The defence was slow to settle down, but had two outstanding players in Willard Morrell and goalie Leon Taylor who played well in all three games this season. It means a lot to a team when they have a goalkeeper like Leon between the posts. The forward line was potentially very strong but they never combined and were probably the biggest disappointment of the season. Dick Fitzmaurice tried valiantly to get the line working together but unfortunately for UNB it never did.

Perhaps one of the most pleasant things which came out of these games was the friendships which resulted from the two games. A friendship which sprang up because the play was clean and hard-fought nearly all the time. Let us hope this will continue in the years to come. For if the soccer is clean, the soccer will improve.

ash hadlitaoin etaoi metooi

By STEVE FAY

No one would have guessed that this was to be all the scoring. UNB came back quickly and the ten minutes before half time were without doubt the forward line's best period. Attack after attack resulted in corner after corner but while the opposing defence was frustrated, the line could not force home their opportunity.

Other News in Brief

SOFTBALL FINALS

Sophomore Engineers will go against the combined efforts of Science and third-and-four-year Business Administration in the finals of the intramural softball league as a result of the combined efforts of Science and Business Administration in the semifinals. The opener is booked Saturday for Queen Square Diamond. Dates of the other game—or games—will be decided later.

Science-Bus-Admin got into the finals by shading Junior Civils 6-5 in a sudden-death semi-final. The decisive clout was a home run by Bill Paterson in the bottom of the seventh inning with one out. Earlier in the week-end action, they were defeated by a default triumph over Intermediate Engineers and a 6-2 nod over Senior Engineers.

Science-Bus-Admin got into the finals the easy way. The opposition in the other semi bracket, Intermediate Engineers, failed to put in an appearance and were beaten by default. Science-Bus-Admin earlier edged Junior Civils 6-5 in their last game of the regular season.

The only other game scheduled on the week-end was not played. Junior Civils won over Senior Engineers by default.

SWIMMING

A turnout that can be described by no less a word than spectacular, 84 by actual count, was the organization meeting for the campus' 1955-1956 swim season at Lady Beaverbrook Gym.

An estimated 95% of those men and co-eds in attendance signed up for the revitalized swim club. Ron Parrsall, sophomore arts student, was elected president. Vice-president is Peggy Jones, sophomore science. The club's secretary-treasurer is Judy McLean, fresheste science. A meeting will be called at an early date to discuss the club's plans which are expected to include social splash parties.

Items discussed in addition to the club, at the highly successful meeting were Royal Life Saving, Red Cross Tests, classes for non-swimmers, Men's varsity and junior water polo, diving and water survival.

Amby Legere, assistant athletic director for UNB in charge of swimming, was of greatly pleased by the response and predicts a bumper season for the university, both on varsity and intramural levels.

BOWLING

There's still time to enter teams in both the intramural bowling leagues which are operating on the campus this season. The Candepin and 5-pin, but you'll have to hurry. No entries will be accepted after tomorrow.

Five teams are already set in the candlepin circuit. This league will bowl on Mondays and Thursdays. League secretary is Ted Stephen. Entered are: Sophomore Engineers: Stewart Levell, Captain.

Definite starters in the 5-pin fold number six. These types will work Tuesday evenings. Ken Allebone is loop secretary. Team ready are: Senior Foresters: Doug Lacate, captain.

RINK FINISHED

A year from now it is understood that a concrete floor with a hard topping will be laid and that this floor will make possible such activities as dancing and roller skating.

The Lady Beaverbrook Rink is a gift to the city of Fredericton for the use of the school children and UNB students. It was designed by Stewart and Howell and built by M. F. Schurman and Company, Ltd.
