RUSSIANS CROSS CARPATHIANS ONE DAY'S MARCH IN HUNGARY

Austro-Hungarian Rear Threatened By Slav Armies—French Make Gains on Verdun Front—Hans Retake Part of Delville Woods and Obtain Foothold in Outskirts of Longueval—British Advance Endangers Town of Posieres—German Defences Reduced by Artillery.

HUNGARIAN REAR PART OF DELVILLE WOODS BUT POSIERES IS ENDANGERED.

LONDON, July 19.—The British War Office announced that the Germans have recaptured a portion of Delville Wood and obtained a footing in Benornen on the outskirts of Longueval. A report from headquarters says the British advance on both sides of the Bapaume-Albert highway has thrown the town of Posieres into a deep pocket and that the artillery is rapidly reducing the German defences of the town.

FRENCH PROGRESS AT SAINTE FINE ON VERDUN FRONT

PARIS, July 19.—The French War Office reports that on the Verdun front the French made progress at Sainte Fine at the intersection of the Vaux and Fleury roads.

The night was quiet on the remainder of the front.

RUSSIANS CROSS CARPATHIANS INTO HUNGARY.

PETROGRAD, July 19.—The Russian forces have crossed the Carpathians and penetrated a day's march into Hungary threatening the rear of the Hungarian-Austrian lines.

TEUTONS BEGIN RETIREMENT ON ENTIRE EASTERN FRONT.

LONDON, July 19.—A Petrograd despatch to The London Telegraph states that a general retreat of the Austro-German forces on the eastern front has commenced.

The German and Austro-Hungarian forces are leaving the country and burning villages as they fall back. This retirement follows the futile and extremely costly efforts of the Austrians to stem the Russian onrush in Volhynia. Today's official report from Petrograd says that judging from the amount of war material abandoned the Austrians retreated in great disorder.

The Russians are now pounding their new positions of Gen. von Linsingen, south of the Lipa, where the Germans stopped to make a stand after retreating across the river.

Cossacks are leading the advance of the Russian troops through the southern ranges of the Carpathian Mountains.

Northwest of Kimpolung Pass, in southern Bukovina, Russian cavalry is advancing along the road between Kiribaba and Maramaros Sziget, says a press despatch from the Russian front today.

This information indicates that the Russians have advanced about fifty miles since the capture of Radautz, pushing past the formidable mountain barriers which has been strongly fortified by the Austro-Hungarians.

ALLIES SUPREME ON EVERY FRONT.

ROME, July 19.—The Allies, exchanging reports on the real situation on the respective fronts, state that satisfactory conditions are now reigning everywhere, as the enemy is no longer able to check the advance of the allies either on the Russian or French fronts.

Therefore, it is said here, complete defeat of the Central Empires or their need to come to terms with the Quadruplice is no distant dream, but a mere reality.

FURIOUS BATTLE RAGING ALONG THE SOMME.

LONDON, July 19.—A furious battle is raging on a front of more than two miles around the ruined village of Longueval and in the shell-swept Delville Woods, north of the Somme. The Germans are striking heavy blows at the new British front in an effort to recapture the village and forest.

The first German attack was launched just as night was falling, after a day of wind and rain. The thick weather had interfered seriously with the British artillery and had cloaked the German preparations.

Late in the afternoon the heavy guns posted on the German third line, east of Longueval, opened fire on the British lines. High explosive shells rained down on the trenches, while tear-producing shells were hurled at the men who held them. In addition, the wind carrying toward the British trenches, the Germans loosed great clouds of noxious gas, and then under cover of the clouds, advanced to the attack. Hand-to-hand fighting developed early all along the front of the attack and is still being waged with great fury, according to a report sent to the War Office at a late hour by General Sir Douglas Haig.

FORMER CANADIAN M.P. SHOOTS DOCTOR.

BOSTON, July 19.—Dr. Wilfrid E. Harris, president of the Massachusetts College of Osteopathy was shot and fatally injured yesterday by Dr. Eldridge D. Abbott also an osteopath. Abbott is under arrest. He claims Harris wronged his fiancée Dr. Celia Adams an osteopath of Brooklyn who died yesterday of alleged drug poisoning. Harris who is 45 years of age and married, is a former member of the Canadian parliament.

NEW SUCCESSFUL ITALIAN ADVANCE.

ROME, July 19.—The War Office today announced a new Italian advance in the upper Poena valley where they succeeded in capturing positions in Corvo del Costaro.

NO CANADIAN NICKEL FOR GERMANY.

NEW YORK, July 19.—It is declared today emphatically that no Canadian nickel will go to Germany in the submarine Deutschland. Today there were persistent rumors that the arrival of a second merchant undersea boat presumably the Bremen was expected Sunday.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. James Royal Sheffield and family desire to express their sincere thanks to their numerous friends who were so kind in their expressions of sympathy in their bereavement they suffered in the death of husband and father.

C.M.R. PRISONERS.

Richard K. Haggerty of Crookston; Kenneth Merriam, Brighton; R. Lynard Post, Havelock; William Raselid, Pine Grove; Percy Swerman, Springbrook, all of the captured rifles, previously reported missing are now unofficially reported prisoners of war.

HEAVY FINES FOR FIGHTERS.

Judge DePinto handed out severe penalties for Alex. Wallinshaw and David Livingstone of Rawdon township the two principals in an assault case, as outlined in last night's Ontario.

After hearing the evidence Coveney was acquitted but Walkinshaw and Livingstone were each fined $100, or in default, four months in jail.

By agreement between counsel the evidence taken in the main charge was also used to determine the finding in the counter-charge.

Crown Attorney Carnew prosecuting with A. A. Abbott, Trenton private prosecution, W. D. M. Shorey and A. A. McDonald of Marmora for the defence.

FORMER BELLEVILLIAN WITH CIRCUS.

This morning The Ontario had a call from Mr. Harry Armstrong, a former Belleville boy who is traveling with the Coop and Lent circus. It is now forty-five years since Mr. Armstrong left his native home to engage in the musical profession. He was a son of James Armstrong, who will be remembered by old residents as a leader of the Fifteenth regimental band. Harry, his son, became an expert cornetist and after he went away to the United States his services were much sought after as band leader. He travelled for a number of years as leader of the leading circuses.

When Mr. Armstrong arrived in the city this morning he set about looking up old friends. Of all those whom he had known he could only find two—ex-Mayor Allan McPee and Mr. Wesley Bullen.

Mr. Armstrong's two daughters led the circus parade today. They are known as the Armstrong sisters and perform a double trapeze act that is one of the best features of the ring exhibition. They are known as "the eaties of the circus."

SOLDIER COLLAPSED.

Henry Patton, a bandsman of the 155th battalion was yesterday afternoon walking on Catherine Street near the corner of Everett when he fell to the sidewalk in a state of collapse. He was taken to the hospital and given treatment. He is much improved today.

CAR WAS DAMAGED.

A Ford car this afternoon at two fifteen in crossing the lower bridge ran into the iron work and had its lamp, steering gear, wind shield and other parts damaged. The machine was towed to a garage for repairs.

LT. E. E. ADAMS IS WOUNDED

Lt. Col. M. K. Adams, commanding 155th Battalion, received word yesterday that his son, Lt. E. E. Adams of the 14th Montreal Regiment, had been wounded. Lt. Adams had only been at the front for a couple of months. He left Belleville in June, 1915 with the 39th Base Battalion and had been engaged in instructional work for many months in England. The 14th Battalion (Queen's), which has been training at the front since has arrived in France. The battery was recently inspected by the King, who complimented the men on their fine appearance. Major L. W. Gill.

SHORT WEIGHT BREAD.

On Wednesday A. R. Schwindt, a local baker appeared in the police court charged with unlawfully selling bread under weight. Schwindt pleaded guilty and was fined $5.00 and $2.50 cost or 30 days in jail. The police entered Schwindt's shop on Monday and weighed 13 loaves of bread all of which were found to be under weight. On Friday James Hart was found guilty on a similar charge and fined $5.00 and $2.50 costs.—Cobourg Post.

CHINESE LAUNDRYMAN GOT VERY RICH.

Branches in shortly to lose one of its well known citizens in the person of Lee Sing, the laundryman. He has sold his laundry to one of his countrymen, and after a visit of a couple of months around Muskoka and in Toronto, will leave for Hong Kong. Lee says he is "heap too old" for the laundry business, and it would seem so, especially when we take into consideration that he owns a row of houses in Toronto, has a big interest in a Chinese steamship line, and has other Chinese property. Lee is a Chinaman, but he has been an exceptionally good citizen. We wish him a happy time in his own land with his own people.

LAD SHOT AS HE SAT IN CANOE.

Charles McMichael, a pupil at the Grove School (Lakefield), is in the Nicholls Hospital, Peterboro, suffering from the effects of a serious accident which befell him on Friday last when he was accidentally shot in the body just above the right hip. His condition is satisfactory.

McMichael, who was stopping over at Lakefield for a short time after the other pupils had gone home for the vacation, accompanied by Hugh Mackenzie, son of Rev. A. W. Mackenzie, had gone out in a canoe for a sail on the lake. They took with them a .22 calibre rifle. Young Mackenzie was seated in the stern of the boat and in picking up the rifle the hammer caught on something, causing the cartridge to explode, the bullet entering McMichael's body just above the right hip. The injured boy was taken to the Grove as quickly as possible and Dr. Smith summoned. It was decided to bring the patient to the hospital here. Dr. Cameron is in attendance and the lad's mother is here. The family live at Toronto.

DEATH OF INFANT.

About noon today Alexander Frederick the infant son of Pte. and Mrs. Sandell passed away at the family home, 79 S. Church St., after a few days' illness. The child was one year and seven months old.

Pte. Sandell is at present at Barriefield. The deceased was the youngest of seven children.

ATTEND GRAND LODGE.

Masonic Masters and Past Masters of Belleville and district are attending Grand Lodge meeting in Toronto.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE J. R. SHEFFIELD.

The funeral of the late James Royal Sheffield took place on Tuesday afternoon from his late residence Foster Avenue, many friends from city and country attending to pay their last tribute of respect. Many beautiful floral tributes had been received. The service was conducted by Rev. S. C. Moore, assisted by Rev. Frank Anderson. Interment was in the family plot in Victoria Cemetery, the bearers being Messrs. E. Naylor, Thos. Gardner, B. D. Hains, Albert Edmond, Thos. Bell and Frank White.

80th IS BRIGADE BAND

Lt.-Col. Wilson, D.A.A. and Q.M.G. received a letter from Lt.-Col. Ketcheson who left Belleville in command of the 89th battalion. The battalion has been broken up and divided among various units, only the band and a few of the officers being left together. The band of the 89th has been made brigade band in the English camp.

Lieut. Rogers of the 8th C.M.R. who was known in camp last year as an excellent comedian, and the author of the mythical mascot of the 8th, known as "Dave," is among the number reported killed in a recent battle on the western front. Lieut. Rogers was the life of the camp last summer. He was a good officer, full of fun, music and mischief, and the report of his death will be regretted by all who knew him. He spent some days in Belleville last summer recruiting for the Mounted Rifles.

Lieut. Godfrey, assistant adjutant of the 8th C.M.R. in camp last summer, transferred to the 39th battalion and reverted to the ranks so as to get an early chance to get to the front. He was made Sergt.-Major, and recently won the D.C.M. for acts of bravery on the field. Godfrey served in Egypt in 1896, and also served in South Africa.

Lt.-Col. Adams officer commanding the 155th Battalion, spent the weekend at his home in Picton.

The 155th battalion team intend putting up a great pull for the W. J. Fair trophy on Wednesday evening at five o'clock. They realise they are up against a great proposition in pulling against the 109th, but they will make a strenuous effort to keep the cup in Barriefield camp.

There is considerable talk about new battalions which are about to be organized, and the City of Kingston is anxiously waiting for the order to start a Highland Battalion in this part of the 3rd Military District. Everybody feels confident that a Highland battalion would catch the best material in city and county, and would be a comparatively easy undertaking for a commanding officer who was prepared to spend time, effort, and money in its organization. The officers from city and county, whose names are prominently mentioned in connection with the proposed new battalions, are men who would make a success of a kilted regiment as they have made a success of business and public office given them by the votes of the people. It is expected that within a few days the new unit will be authorized.

Canon Armstrong, Trenton, received a message from Ottawa on July 11th that his daughter, Nursing Sister Bea Armstrong, was seriously ill with pleurisy in France. The message came about 9.10 a.m., and ten minutes later a cable from Miss B. herself arrived saying "improving."

Pte. J. S. Hughes, of the 155th battalion underwent an X-ray examination at the General Hospital. Some time ago he suffered a bad fall.

There is rejoicing among the men of the 154th due to the fact that Sir Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, had decided to restore the kilts as the official and government issue uniforms of the Highland regiments in Canada, the more so as officers and men of the "Counties Own" have decided that granted the necessary authority, the battalion will proceed overseas as a kilted battalion. Actions speak louder than words and to back their decision the lads have pledged themselves to subscribe $4,000 towards the cost of the Highland garb.—Alexandria News.

The new 20,000 gallon water reservoir to be installed to increase the storage capacity of the camp to 65,000 gallons, has not yet arrived.

Five tons of bread a day is turned out by the camp bakers, all of whom are highly qualified. The bread is excellent.

Two deserters of the 155th battalion were put off the train at Fredricksburg, and lance-corporal Welsh of the military police was sent after the men. He was compelled to walk 14 miles from the railroad for his men, and unaided brought the two men back to camp. The Corporal is being complimented by the camp authorities for his good work.

DRESS TORN BY DOG.
Mrs. Taylor, 35 Myers Street, reports that her little girl's dress was torn by a dog owned by a Bettos Street resident. She desires the police to notify the owner that the canine is cross.

HAROLD GODWIN GAVE LIFE.
Bloomfield Soldier, Former Belleville Student Died of Wounds.
Pte. Harold A. Godwin of Bloomfield a graduate of the Ontario Business College, has died in Flanders of wounds received in action. The deceased soldier was a very brilliant student and after graduation a few years ago, lived in this city for some months. He was well known here.

LAD TO REST.
The obsequies of the late Mrs. Laura Ann Scott took place on Monday from her late residence, Donald Street, service being conducted by the Rev. S. C. Moore, assisted by Rev. J. Egan. The bearers were Messrs. G. S. Sharpe, C. B. Scantlebury, G. Bennett, J. Mather, Thos. Wills and Ambrose Dafeo. Interment was in Belleville Cemetery.

STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE.
The little daughter of Mrs. Brampton, 65 South Front Street, was the victim of an accident at 10.15 this morning at the corner of Victoria Avenue—Front Street. The girl was struck by an automobile, owned by Mr. Twiddle, and was picked up in a somewhat dazed condition. She was carried into Jennings & Sherry's store and thence to Dr. Dolan's office. It was found she was suffering more from shock than actual injury.

BABY ENTERS WORLD UNDER SAD AUSPICES.
The Kingston Standard says:—A four months' old baby, whose parents Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead, are serving terms in the Portsmouth Penitentiary was removed to a local institution and will be taken care of until such times as the parents have been liberated. The case is a pitiful one. The father and mother were sent to the penitentiary last February to serve long sentences for cruelty to one of their children and while in the

Canadians Refuse to Make Munitions

Prisoners in Germany Sentenced to Year in Jail
VIOLATION OF HAGUE LAW
Corporal Hogarth Among Men Who Say No to Tenton Order
Ottawa, July 15.—Canadian prisoners in Germany were sentenced to a year in jail by the Germans for refusing to make war munitions, according to a letter received here from Corporal Dan A. Simons, formerly a prisoner in Germany and now transferred to the internment camp in Switzerland.
He writes that Corporal Harry Hogarth, is one of those who refused to make munitions, and it is expected he will have to serve the year's sentence which has already been imposed upon him. Corporal Hogarth's people live in Ottawa although he enlisted in Fort Arthur and was captured at St. Julien. He is still in Germany and has appealed against the year's sentence.
This was the first intimation his friends here had of the trouble although the sentence was passed some time ago and has since been in appeal over there. Steps have been taken to bring it before the authorities so that it can be investigated, as according to the Hague tribunal, prisoners of war are not to be called upon to make munitions.

THE BRITISH LIBRARY

THE OUTLOOK.

The immediate aim of the British and French aggressive on the Somme is being revealed gradually. Its indirect purpose is, of course—in accordance with general Allied strategy—to keep the German forces as fully occupied as possible on all fronts, and to prevent their furnishing relief, as has heretofore been their practice, to specially threatened points. Had the attack on the West not been delivered at the opportune moment, the Germans would have been able to send assistance to their sorely beset allies, the Austrians. Now, they are tied hand and foot in the West; and the East must be left to its fate, whatever it may be. In short, the general German aggressive has been brought to a sudden and definite end. Henceforth they will have to defend themselves as best they can.

The primary French object on the Somme is not in doubt. It is the capture of Peronne which lies seven miles due east of the battle-front as constituted when the Allied advance began. The French are now within less than a mile of Peronne. They are in command of all its main approaches from the west and south. Through Peronne, runs a branch line of railway connecting with the trunk railway system between Cologne, on the Rhine, the great western German military base, and Cambrai, some twenty miles southeast of Arras, their chief depot and military centre, at the front. The railway through Peronne supplies the German military sector between the Somme and its little tributary the Ancre, into which the British are slowly forcing their way. With Peronne in French possession, the Somme-Ancre sector would have its nearest railway stations, in German hands at St. Quentin, fifteen miles southeast of Peronne, and at Cambrai, nearly twenty miles northeast of that town.

The immediate British objective is Bapaume, twelve miles almost due north of Peronne, through which passes another branch of the Cologne-Cambrai trunk line. This branch supplies the German front as far north as Arras. The capture of Bapaume by the British would leave the extensive German salient between Arras on the north and the Ancre River to the south, a line over twenty miles in length, without direct railway connection. Not only that, but the drawing of a straight, new Franco-British line from Peronne to Bapaume, along the western brow of the great plateau, would at once menace Cambrai and St. Quentin on the trunk railway line. It would, moreover, necessitate the retirement of the Germans not only from the prominent salient south of Arras, but probably from the greatest and most tenaciously held of all their Western salients, that of La Hassee, between Arras and Armentieres.

A new Allied battle-front between Peronne and Bapaume, would be within striking distance of the main German strongholds, in Northern France and the railway system connecting them with Cologne, upon which they are dependent for support and supplies. Moreover, it would open up a doorway to the valley of the Sambre, which flows westerly into and through Belgium, where it joins the Meuse and Namur. Such, in briefest outline, is a sketch of the main physical features of the Somme situation, of the probable aims of Allied strategy there, and of the possible developments in connection therewith.

But it is not profitable to count one's chickens prematurely, or to reckon without regard to one's opponents. The Germans in the West are contesting each inch of ground except in the small sector south of the Somme, where the French have had what may be called a "walk over." It remains to be seen whether they will find as little difficulty in passing the remaining mile which separates them from Peronne, as they have experienced in traversing the preceding five of their advance. Probably, they will not experiment until the British forces have made sufficient progress to afford their left wing adequate support, and ensure their being able to hold Peronne after capturing it. The thing of anxious interest for us, in the immediate future, must continue to be the "push" of the British forces towards Bapaume. When they have that centre in their firm grip we shall be amply justified in concluding that something of real importance has at last been accomplished.

In the meantime, to avoid disappointment in case of temporary failure, let us keep in mind that the Franco-British attack in the West has not yet had the effect of weakening materially the German assault upon Verdun. Not only are the Germans maintaining the aggressive there, in spite of all attempts to divert them, but they are steadily, if slowly, succeeding in it. They are "nibbling" only, but they are nibbling incessantly. Day by day, they are gaining a little. If they persist in their efforts, or if they cannot be diverted or checked, it is only a question of time when Verdun will fall into their hands. What the effect of its final capture might be, no one, at present, can say. It may not be highly important; but apparently, the Germans think otherwise. It would be unsafe to assume that they have no rational end in view—rational at least from their standpoint. There is no justification for saying or believing that they cannot safely, if they would, withdraw from Verdun. It is true that they dare not withdraw from their present positions around it. But there is good reason why they might not give up the offensive, and stand strictly on the defensive, if they so wished.

On the whole, while the present war situation is highly gratifying in many ways, and full of ultimate promise and encouragement for the Allies, there is no use in believing, or pretending to ourselves, that it presages an early end of the war, such as we desire or would accept. There may be unforeseen and unforeseeable happenings which will surprise and gratify all lovers of peace, with freedom. For the moment the successes won by the British troops in breaking into the Germans third line is highly encouraging, but there are still many lines to smash and there is hard fighting ahead. Let us guard, therefore, against expecting too much, at an early date. Let us rather set our teeth in the stern and unshakable determination to fight this thing out on this line, if it takes all summer, or another "summer," or still another "summer."

The Italians are not getting much notice these days, but they are pegging away, doing their part in the concerted Allied movement on all the fronts.

The apprenticeship system is being revived in Great Britain, so the boys they learn their trades properly and thereby complete their industrial education so that when the war is over the country will be in a position to supply the demands of Britain, her colonies and her allies.

Mr. Asquith announced the other day that, as the extended British Parliamentary term would expire in October next, it would be necessary to provide for another extension. This, of course, precludes the idea of a general election. An English writer recently stated: "We cannot well have an election without the soldiers, and yet you cannot devise a method of collecting their votes." This innocent gentleman can never have heard of the wonderful scheme evolved by the Borden government for polling the votes of the Canadian soldiers on the firing line. Of course, all that has been done so far has been to pass the Act, and ship the ballot boxes over to London, which was done when Hon. "Bob" Rogers was conspiring to spring a General Election in Canada in the autumn of 1915. How they were going to persuade the Hun to declare a truce and cease firing while the Canadian soldiers were polling their votes in the trenches, has never been disclosed.

I shall not ask too much beyond the grave; Just some dear, common things that living gave—

And time for them—ah, time to stay a while Where wind blows over grasses, mile on mile;

And time to watch when stars are gleaming through Some still and starless, dusk's deep drifted blue.

And I should like, one summer afternoon, To climb a hill and wait there for the moon,

That I could never wait for, and then go Unhurried back to certain friends I know.

I shall be glad if seasons come and pass, Bringing the same swift miracles of grass.

Of sun and rain, of berry, bud and bloom, And snow-filled midnights of wind-shaken bloom.

I shall want little paths and woods and walking, And those same friends at evening and their talking.

Under dull lamps in queer, quaint, smoky places— (I would not lose those voices and those faces.)

These I shall ask beyond the narrow grave, And time for them— which living never gave.

GOOD MILK FOR OUR CITIZENS

Milkmen For the Most Part, Supply Good Quality of Milk for Belleville Consumers—Report of Official Test.

Dr. H. A. Yeomans, Medical Health Officer, City. Dear Sir,

The following samples of milk results are as follows:

Table with columns: No., Name, Temp., Lact. Red., S.C. Fat, Remark on Condition. Lists samples 1-16 from various milkmen.

In order to have good milk during this hot weather, both the producer and the consumer must keep the product in a cool place with the exception of a few cases the producer in above samples must have taken proper care. We gathered the samples from the wagons from 6 to 8 o'clock this morning and placed them in a large open vessel with cold water, and, with the few exceptions mentioned, the milk was in excellent condition at 5 p.m. A large number of complaints have been coming in that the milk sours quickly after delivery. In my opinion the consumers allow it to spoil by keeping in warm storage. Milk must be kept below 45 F. either in a cool cellar or in a refrigerator or ice-box or it will spoil in a few hours during this hot weather. I would strongly advise the milkmen to stop mixing the night's and morning's milk until the warm milk is cooled at least to 65 F. Special care must be taken to bring all milk up to standard quality. We will test again in the near future.

CONSERVATIVES ALL READY TO MAKE "ANDY" BROWER SHERIFF.

"BANG" WENT NORTH PERTH.

The Suggest Words of Tongue or Pen Are These: "I Might Have Retired for Life, But We Dassen't Open East Eight Right Now, Boys."

The election in North Perth on Monday cost "Andy" Brower, M.P.P. for East Elgin a fine job, for the present at least, and there is sorrow among his friends. Some months ago Sheriff McCall, St. Thomas, died, and the Government at Toronto have been considering the appointment of a successor. Andy Brower has been a very faithful servant of the Government. His speeches in the Legislature have never made his fellow members tired, as they were conspicuous by their absence. However he could always be counted on to vote the party straight, and give no trouble.

When the vacancy occurred in the sheriff's office, it was decided that Mr. Brower should get the appointment. He had been faithful, was a very decent fellow personally and was desirous of quitting. The Government decided that he should be rewarded, and his appointment was agreed upon.

And then came the election. North Perth simply turned things upside down. A deputation from East Elgin hastened to Toronto, and informed the powers that be that East Elgin would follow the lead of North Perth, if there should be an election. Some Conservatives spoke right out in the meeting, and declared that they would assist in driving the Hearst Government into political limbo, if the appointment was made, and Brower given a life's job.

Not Easily Pleased. The result is that the job is still vacant, and will remain so for some time. In the meantime, Mr. Brower and others are not tickled to death with the results of the North Perth election.

DEATH "AWAITS" MEN WHO "GO OVER TOP." "Suicide Club" and "Anarchists" Lead a Most Adventurous Life "Somewhere in France."

War deeds and scenes that have thrilled a mighty Empire will be graphically re-created in the warfare waged at the Canadian National Exhibition in "Patriotic Year." The conspicuous gallantry and heroism of the "Suicide Club" or "Anarchists"—bomb and hand-grenade throwers—whom the "Go-over Top" know as the "Suicide Club," have paved the way to many a glorious victory for the British arms, will be depicted bringing home war trophies, the realities of war. A detachment from an Overseas Battalion will occupy the Model camp. They will be trained especially in bombing and hand-grenade work and will demonstrate such heroics of the Empire's heroes as have earned their awards clearing the trenches for the advancing infantry.

CHILD FELL FROM CAR. Yesterday afternoon a child fell out of an automobile on Front street at the corner of Victoria Ave. The youngster was not hurt.

MARINE NOTES. The "Ridwan Queen" which was announced to assume passenger service this week on the Bay of Quinte from Belleville, will not likely be engaged in passenger service this season, owing to the necessary improvements. It is assumed however that the boat will carry freight this summer.

GRAND TRUNK SERVICE UNEXCELLED.
A tourist party from Boston, who travelled over the Grand Trunk Railway System from Chicago eastbound to their homes, have written to an official of the Grand Trunk conveying their impressions as to the enjoyment they experienced en route. The following is an abstract from the letter: "Some of our party had never been out of New England and having passed over eleven different lines on this journey, and through twenty-seven States it may please you to know that all agreed your roadbed and equipment was equal to any we had seen, while the service was unexcelled."

Pills That Have Benefited Thousands.—Known far and near as a sure remedy in the treatment of indigestion and all derangements of the stomach, liver and kidneys, Parmentier's Vegetable Pills have brought relief to thousands when other specifics have failed. Innumerable testimonials can be produced to establish the truth of this assertion. Once tried they will be found superior to all other pills in the treatment of the ailments for which they are prescribed.

A WONDERFUL SPOT.
Algonquin Park is a wonderful spot in which to renew the energies of a tired body or wearied spirit. Its tonic air filters through millions of acres of pine, balsam and spruce. The days are unusually long with warm balmy sunshine and cool evenings. Two thousand feet above the sea, the air is pure and bracing. Good fishing, excellent hotel accommodation, canoeing, boating, bathing and tennis. Easy of access by Grand Trunk, 285 miles west of Montreal, 189 miles west of Ottawa and 205 miles north of Toronto. Write for handsomely illustrated free literature to H. C. Thompson, C. P. T. A., or C. E. Horning, D.F.A., Toronto, Ont.

Dread of Asthma makes countless thousands miserable. Night after night the attacks return, and even when brief respite is given the mind is still in torment from continual anticipation. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy changes all this. Relief comes, and at once, while future attacks are warded off, leaving the afflicted one in a state of peace and happiness he once believed he could never enjoy. Inexpensive and sold almost everywhere.

A rueful smile a story of his boyhood, when, like other boys, he occasionally mislaid some of his belongings. His gloves in particular had a strange way of disappearing one at a time. At last his mother, by way of assisting his memory, sent him one day with a red cotton glove on one hand and a white glove on the other. Even at this painful crisis, however, his wit helped him. "I held one hand in front of me and one behind my back," said Dr. Hale, "and it seemed to me that people coming toward me would think I had on a pair of white gloves, while those behind would think I wore a pair of bright red ones."

How the Butterfly is Protected.
The brilliant coloring on the wings of some kinds of butterflies is a bitter tasting pigment, which to a certain extent protects those species from being eaten by their foes. Frogs will try to eat sulphur butterflies and after tasting them will promptly reject them. The brilliant colors may be produced in order to advertise the poisonous taste as well as to aid the butterfly in attracting a mate of its own kind.

LET UP PROTEINS. SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Avoid "Spring Fever" by Cutting Down Fuel.

SUMMER DEMANDS LESS FOOD.

Warm Weather Means You Can Replace Hot Soups, Thick Gravies, Heavy Sweets and Rich Pastries With Greens, Salads, Fish and Fruits.

It will be only a few days now before some one will be heard to complain of "that tired feeling" so inseparably connected with springtime. But why not try a little modern therapeutics and see if you cannot escape that tired feeling this year? The tired feeling comes from one thing, and that is an overworked system. To use the hackneyed but nevertheless illustrating comparison, the body may be likened to a steam heating plant which has been going at a pretty high pressure all winter, but now when the weather becomes warmer, we must open the furnace door, shut down the drafts and keep the fire as low as possible if we do not want to be overheated. Similarly we must cut down the fuel supply of the body with the approach of the weather. It is foolish to keep on stoking our engines when the higher temperature about us does not require that the body work so hard to keep warm.

The only way to keep cool and thus not feel tired is by avoiding those foods which create heat or build tissue too generously. First of these are all the fats and then the starches or sweets. Let us therefore avoid the fattening doughnuts, the olive croquettes, the pastry tray and the meats with rich gravies, for foods that are fat or heavy should be shunned in the changing season, when the body most particularly cries out for foods that are cooling, refreshing and light. Avoid fat in their places, substitute salads, fish, fruits and the uncooked cereals. Give the body a chance to work off the clinkers of winter without choking it up with new fuel. Patronize nature's medicines and you won't need the doctor's. Drink plenty of water, lemon and fruit juice. Cut down your helping by a third and see if you don't feel as sprightly as a robin instead of foggy and weak. Your spring tonic is not the vegetable stand, and your spring prescription is to eat less and drink more.

The group of foods called proteins, of which meat is most important, are those which, science tells us, build up body tissues. Now, the spring is not the season to build up tissue unless we have been overworked during winter, and if we have, the protein of meat is particularly likely to leave a residue of uric acid in the body. For our aim now is to house clean the system, and we want to avoid complicating the house-cleaning by eating foods which will leave still more refuse. Elimination of meat almost entirely is one of the wisest plans for summer health. Cheese also is not an advisable diet for most.

SETTING HER CAP.

One of the New Bath Helms that Are Ever So Smart. Spanish modes influence even our bathing toms this spring. The cut shows an ultra cap of best quality rubber, daintily embossed and rigged with a back flap that may be tied up on to the band when not actually protecting the ears.

READY TO DYE.

The Vogue of Wicker. Many of the wicker materials—reed, rattan, cane and bamboo—are of Asiatic origin, Singapore being the world market for them. Reeds are used both whole and split.

Bamboo, while not strictly wicker, is often used with rattan or with grass matting. Its chief merit is its cheapness.

Grass, too, is hardly wicker, but is used as an outer textural covering rather than as a material for construction, the base being some light wood like willow.

Lesson V.—Third Quarter, For July 30, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, I Cor. 1, 18, to 11, 5. Memory Verses, 1, 22-24—Golden Text, Gal. vi, 14—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

It is not many weeks since we had a Whit Sunday study in I Cor. ii, and now we are to have three studies in the letters to the Corinthians, with another week later. The epistles tell us of the church in this age and how we should live to glorify God, and therefore these studies ought to be most helpful. May the Spirit speak to our hearts. Soethenes, who is associated with Paul in this epistle, was privileged to suffer shame publicly for Christ's sake (1: 1, Acts xviii, 17). The church of God at Corinth meant the company of sinners who had become saints by believing the good news concerning Jesus Christ and receiving Him as their Saviour.

How great sinners they had been is seen in chapter vi, 9, 10; but being purchased with precious blood, they were now in Christ Jesus, saints, washed, sanctified and justified, wholly by the grace of God, apart from any merit or works of theirs (1, 24; vi, 11; Acts xx, 26). They were saved by the cross of Christ, which is the power of God (1, 18). Christ Jesus was made unto them, as He is to all believers; wisdom and righteousness and sanctification and redemption (1, 2, 1, 30), for all that Christ is before God. He makes His redeemed to be. As He is so are we in this world (I John iv, 17), which so He makes His people to be even while we remain in these mortal bodies. There is another truth in this, and that is that as the world regards and treats Him we must expect the same, for we are here for Him, in His name, as His witnesses.

Although the standing before God in Christ of every saved sinner is so absolutely perfect, yet in these mortal bodies we are weakness itself, so that he had to reprove these believers as being carnal because of their envyings and strifes and factions, standing for this or that teacher instead of glorifying in the Lord alone (2, 28; iii, 17, 21-22; Isa. 11, 22). Because of their unworthy conduct some were weak and some were dying, forgetting that if we would judge ourselves we might escape the much chastening of the Lord (chapter 21, 26-29). We must expect trials, but we shall never have more than He will give us grace to bear (chapter x, 13), and we should be careful not to bring unnecessary trials upon ourselves. The wisdom of this world and every arm of flesh we must persistently turn away from, and though we may be foolish and weak and base and of no account in the eyes of the world, yet fully yielded to Christ He will be glorified in us. Apart from Him we are nothing and can do nothing, but we can do all things through Christ, who strengthens us (xv, 10; John v, 5; Phil. iv, 13).

Probably the greatest reason why our Christian experience does not measure up to our standing, why we are not as to our daily life what we ought to be, is because we fail to grasp by faith what we really are in Christ, and not seeing the fullness which is already ours in Him, we try to attain to it by our own efforts. If we only know by believing what is written what is the hope of His calling and what the riches of the glory of His inheritance in the saints and what is the exceeding greatness of His power toward us (Eph. 1, 18, 19), we would live better lives because of what we really are in Christ before God. Next to the assurance of what we are now because of His finished work there is nothing so purifying, separating, uplifting, as the knowledge of what we shall be at His coming (I John 1: 3). Note what is written in this epistle concerning it in chapters 1, 7; iv, 5; vi, 2; ix, 26; xv, 22-25; xlvii, 22, and may the thought of fellowship with Him in His kingdom and glory make us more gladly willing to have fellowship with Him now.

In humiliation and suffering (I John 1: 3; Phil. 11, 10). He is pleased to call us "laborers, together with Him," and yet He does it all, working in us both to will and to do of His good pleasure (chapter 11, 9; Phil. 11, 13; Heb. xii, 20, 21). We are bought with a price, even the precious blood of Christ, that we may be temples of the Holy Spirit, who worketh in each one as He will when He can have the right of way in us (chapter vi, 19, 20; xii, 7-11).

The one only foundation is Jesus Christ, the sure foundation (chapter 11, 11; Isa. xxviii, 16; 1 Pet. ii, 6), all else being as sand, a refuge of lies (Matt. vii, 26, 27; Isa. xxviii, 17). But we may be safely on this foundation and yet so build, so live, that the building, the daily life, not being acceptable to God, shall not be approved in that day, but rejected and the believer suffer irreparable loss and find himself just barely saved—saved as by fire (chapter 12, 12-15). This was evidently what Paul had in mind when he spoke of denying self, or rejected (chapter 12, 25-27; R. V.). We may not judge others till the evidence is all in, but we may and should judge ourselves always by the question: Will He approve? Is this the Lord's?

Lesson IV.—Third Quarter, For July 23, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts xviii, 1-22. Memory Verses, 9, 10—Golden Text, Acts xviii, 9—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

I do not know that we can tell how long Paul remained at Athens, but he gave a faithful testimony, and some believed (chapter xviii, 34). The messenger of the Lord is apt to be discouraged if he finds opposition to his message and seemingly few, if any, believing, or if after a faithful testimony there is neither a "thank you" nor a word of appreciation. It is true that we must never expect to please people nor covet their approval, but most of us are so awfully human that a word of gratitude from one who has been helped by the message is very cheering (1 Thess. ii, 4; 1 Tim. 4, 15). The devil will be sure to tell you that you have accomplished nothing and had better seek some other occupation, and messengers have been known to heed his suggestion, but I am thankful that some one said to me many years ago, as I wondered if any good was being done: "Do you recollect that when the devil sowed his tares he went his way, for he was sure that they would grow? And you do not seem to think that the Word of God is as good seed as the devil's tares." That helped me greatly, and since then I have gone my way after a service, saying: "Thank God; that will work; it will surely accomplish His pleasure" (Isa. 4, 11; Jer. 12, 10, R. V.).

Leaving Athens, Paul went to Corinth, a wicked, worldly, commercial center, notorious for its immorality, and the first thing we read of him is, not that he preached, but that he found employment with some one who were of the same craft with himself, that of tent making—and he abode with them (verses 1-9). He would rather work at his trade and thus earn his living than be a burden to any one. He afterward wrote to this people, asking them to forgive him if he had wronged them by not being a burden to them (11 Cor. xii, 13-16). It does sound a little like sarcasm. The Lord Jesus Himself was known as the carpenter (Mark vi, 3) and no doubt helped to make a living for the family till He began His public ministry.

When the Sabbath days came round Paul was ready to testify to the Jews in the synagogue that Jesus was the Christ, their Messiah (verses 4, 5 and margin). Silas and Timothy, whom he had left at Berea and for whom he had sent from Athens that they might come to him, reached him here at Corinth (xviii, 24, 15). The phrase "pressed in spirit" (verse 5) is translated in the R. V. "constrained by the Word." Weymouth says Paul was preaching fervently. We think of Jeremiah, who, when he was derided and reproached, was tempted to stop speaking the Word of the Lord, but it was such a burning fire within him that he had to speak (Jer. xx, 7-9). We think also of Elisha, who said that he was so constrained by the spirit within him that he was like a battle of wine ready to burst and he had to speak that he might be refreshed (Job. xxxiii, 18-20).

When the Jews opposed Paul and blasphemed he turned from them to the gentiles and found an open door in a house close by the synagogue, owned by a man named Justus, who worshiped God (verses 6, 7). When God wants His message proclaimed He will provide a place. He held a class in one town where all the churches were closed against me for the truth's sake, but a hotel proprietor invited us to meet in his parlors, and so we continued. Paul said concerning one place: "A great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries" (1 Cor. xvi, 9). Notwithstanding the opposition at Corinth there was much encouragement, for the chief ruler of the synagogue and all his household believed and also many of the Corinthians (verse 8). No doubt it was, as always, because of the manifest work of the Holy Spirit that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said: "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee; for I have much people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said: "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was one of those other appearances to him.

We have His completed word and can hear Him speak to us at any time if only we have ears to hear, for He is the same Lord who revealed Himself to Samuel by His word (1 Sam. iii, 21), and He loves to do it still. Being thus strengthened, he continued at Corinth a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them (verse 11). In due time he sailed thence, taking Priscilla and Aquila, and leaving them at Ephesus; he went on to Caesarea and Jerusalem and Antioch, and thus completed his second missionary journey (verses 12-23). We would like to know where he left Timothy and what became of Silas, but we shall meet Timothy again, and we can wait to know a lot of things. It seemed to Paul that he must be in Jerusalem in the near future, but note his "If God will" and see Isa. 49, 15.

Angus W. McLeod Tells of His Luck

FRIEND CALLED AND TOLD HIM OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

He Found a Cure for Rheumatism That Crippled Him, and Has Never Since Had a Twinge of Pain in Limbs or Body.

Barboursville, Victoria Co., N.S. July 17. (Special).—Cured of rheumatism that had crippled him, Angus W. McLeod, well known and highly respected here, feels it his duty to let everybody know that he found his cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"Last Fall," Mr. McLeod states, "I took sick with a severe attack of rheumatism. The rheumatic pains lodged in the small of my back and left hip. "I could feel darts of pain shooting through my loins like shocks from a galvanic battery, and in two days I was a cripple. I was obliged to limp around with a stick, and I looked slowed to the right side because I could not let my weight on my left foot.

"I suffered in this way for a week, when luckily a friend came to see me who recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills. Before I had finished the second box the pain was entirely gone. "I have since been exposed to cold and wet every day, but I haven't had a twinge of pain in my body or limbs."

Low Fares to Port Arthur

In conformance with its over Progressive Policy, The Canadian Northern Railway has inaugurated a low fare from all points east of Sudbury, to Port Arthur, Ont., which makes the trip practically as inexpensive as the Boat Service on the G. S. Lakes, and being quicker, is bound to meet with considerable favor among busy men.

Those who have already made the trip by water will find it a pleasant change, as this route is one of exceptional scenic charm, passing many beautiful lakes and streams, among the most notable being the Nipigon, famous the world over for the wonderful trout fishing to be had in its waters.

CAT TRIED TO CLIMB IRON POLE To Escape From Terrace on Front Street This Morning

Shortly before noon today a cat tried to climb an iron light standard on Front street just below Bridge street. A terrier had seen the feline creature and started after it. "Puss" saw only one way of escape—climb the pole. This she tried. Her nails scraped against the iron so loudly that the noise could be heard over one hundred feet away. Puss reached the first ridge of the pole and a not being able to secure a footing slipped down. The dog started in chase, but was met with such an avalanche of kicks from citizens who were in the vicinity that he desisted and "Kitty" escaped up a lane.

ALL HAVE BEEN HONORED.

The great honor that has come to Captain E. D. O'Flynn and Captain Roscoe Vanderwater, in receiving recommendations for the military cross, reflects honor upon every individual citizen in the district from which they came.

The magnificent reception to Captain O'Flynn on Saturday, unpremeditated and spontaneous though it was, did not represent altogether an expression of gratitude or a tribute to one returning soldier. But all who took part in the demonstration felt that in honoring one, who symbolized their idea of what true soldierly conduct and fealty to the Empire meant, they were through him honoring the other valiant sons from the Bay of Quinte section who still remain to fight and suffer and endure.

GERMANY'S DOOM.

It looks at present as if the Entente Allies had at last really begun to unfold their opponents in a definite clutch. The Germans have long been held within a close circle of land and water; remnants through which they could nowhere break, in spite of their mightiest efforts, and all their convulsive struggles, they dashed themselves headlong against Verdun during nearly four months, but in vain.

The Allies lost not an unnecessary hour thereafter. But they made no undue haste. They permitted the Germans to weaken themselves still further before Verdun, and allowed them ample time to do so until their own preparations were complete, and the ground ready for a general attack.

It is probable that, with her new armies, and abundant fresh supplies of artillery and ammunition, Russia would have beaten down the armies of Austria even had they been opposed to her with unabated strength. The ease and success of her advance against Austria, left Russia with abundant forces to deploy against the German armies to the north.

Austria's attempt to escape irretrievable disaster, in the East, by hastily withdrawing troops from the Italian front, gave Italy her chance, which she was prompt to seize. The situation was not saved for Austria in the East; it was not even ameliorated. Her expectations in Italy were forever blighted. Italy is advancing victoriously and irresistibly thrusting back the Austrian armies on her frontiers. The recovery of her stolen Provinces and the rectification of her Austrian border line in accordance with her national aspirations, so as to ensure her adequate defence and security for the future, are now within sight.

On top, and in co-ordination with the operations of Russia and Italy in the East, and South has come the pre-arranged, carefully-thought-out and long-prepared British and French advance in the West, which has not yet been seriously checked, and which, apparently is not to be denied. Most readers are familiar with the story of the torture chamber with folding walls, which closed inch by inch, hour by hour, day after day, on the victim enclosed within them to his final crushing in slow and horrible death.

Germany, in her desperation, is face to face with a fearful looking form of judgment and fiery indignation from the whole civilized world, and from the just God whom she has despised and flouted while endeavoring to crush and enslave her sister nations.

Saloniki is now the only idle front, but an offensive from that direction may be one of the new developments in the near future.

The Russians are bagging so many prisoners that they will soon have in their clutches more effectives than the Teutons have left at home.

Canadians who are living in England come under the compulsory service law. Announcement is now made that they must enlist or return to Canada.

"I have come through a bombardment," writes a Canadian soldier in a letter published in an Ontario paper, "that an insect could not have lived through, you would think." This tells the story of what our boys are facing.

As a result of a women's campaign in favor of the prohibition of drink during the war, petitions have been signed by about 40,000 women in Edinburgh district, appealing to the Government to pass a measure to that effect.

Railroads of the United States handled more traffic with less loss of life in the July-September quarter of 1915 than in any previous quarter since reports were first made in 1901.

IN TRAINING.

We've got our foreign service boots—we've 'ad 'em 'alf a day; If it wasn't for the Adjutant I'd sling the brutes away;

We've marched a 'undred miles today, we've 'undreds more to go, An' if you don't believe me, why, I'll tell you 'ow I know—

We've got our foreign-service boots—I wish that I were dead; I wish I'd got the Colonel's 'orse an' 'im my feet instead;

We're 'opping and we're 'obbling to a cock-eyed ragtime tune, Not a soul what isn't limpin' in the bloomin' 'ole balloon.

IN MEMORIAM.

Our Heavenly Father, who is too wise to err, and too good to be unkind, has in His infinite wisdom, taken from this life into the eternal, one of our most worthy and esteemed loved ones, one of our most efficient workers, Mrs. James Dickens, who passed away after a few brief hours of illness on June 30th, 1916.

Mrs. Dickens, only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Denyes, was born in Thurlow fifty-three years ago. One brother Mr. Clayton Denyes of Thurlow survives; both parents and a brother Mr. Jay Denyes being deceased a few years.

She had been hours in the work, but all the field had still not been searched, and I insisted on joining a party of stretcher bearers who were just starting out.

The bearers moved quickly but shortly from body to body, some of the poor fellows were contorted into fantastic attitudes, others apparently asleep.

The loved one staunch and true, Who triumphed in the Saviour's love Is gone from mortal view. She nobly did her part, In all things great and small.

The Englishman is essentially an individual, and he remains so even in war, when he is making history. His tendency is to think that things English are badly managed, and he says so freely in unobtrusive terms.

As time passed rumors of impending danger came to our ears, and with them Von Schilling developed a queer exaltation, as though he felt the approach of the time when he should be in power.

The Bearers Moved Quickly, Silently, From Body to Body.

Officers are never put in wars with the men, and besides these were all ready full and overflowing. After a consultation the matron and Dr. Southon decided that he should be put on the cot in Captain Frazer's room, that being absolutely the only available spot.

"If he is pretty badly off I don't mind," he laughed.

A moment later Von Schilling was comfortably installed in the cot in the little room where Captain Frazer was gradually regaining his grip on life.

He was a Prussian, tall, slender and fair haired, with a certain youthful charm that might have made an attractive man of him, but for the insolence of his bearing.

However, the first few days proved that my hopes for the two men were not to be realized. Captain Frazer and Von Schilling, though they belonged to the same social class in their respective countries, were as far apart in thought as east and west.

GERMANY IS DEPRESSED.

Amazement at Success of Second Blow Gives Way to Anxiety. ROTTERDAM, July 18.—The British army's new blow has caused the deepest anxiety in German hearts when the forward movement, perhaps, is only in its first stages. It is fully realized that this success is not only of importance itself, but has infinitely a greater significance than the assault on the first line.

Whist German headquarters were prepared for the necessity of giving offensive was first launched they believed that the second line would be able to withstand all pressure.

The positions just captured were defended with great strength. After taking of the first line by the tremendous British attack, efforts were made to reinforce the second line with men and guns and troops brought up, not from other fronts, but large drafts of even fresh formations from depots behind the front and also in Germany.

The Germans reckoned on a repetition of the Neuve Chapelle-Loos-Champagne, when, by concentrating troops at the points threatened, they prevented any further advance.

That the second British blow succeeded is recognized as the most significant fact associated with any of the Allies' military operations since the beginning of the war. It is possible that the Germans did not realize in time the magnitude of the blow, and they did not abandon the offensive against Verdun.

Although a certain number of troops were hastened away to some districts, they were quickly replaced with drafts from depots.

The German Government, through the press, is represented the fighting on the Meuse as of real importance. On the successful British offensive the military critics are silent with unanimity which cannot be accidental, whilst all the newspapers give prominence to trivial German successes in the Verdun district.

A neutral trust from Berlin states when the report came that the English offensive had really commenced the people were amazed, and for two days did not believe it. The amazement now, however, has given way to dismay, the moral effect of the British success is even of greater importance than the results achieved on the field. The British effort is a military equivalent to an invasion of Germany.

George Storey, ten years old, crawled for a block through a London sewer to recover a twenty-five-cent piece.

PRESSING ON STEADILY

British Forces Go On Capturing Enemy Trenches. Unfavorable Weather is Causing Delay in Progress of Allied Forces, but General Haig Reports Important Gains—British Are Now Holding German Second Line; Have Pierced Third.

LONDON, July 18.—The successes of the Entente Allies are following each other with great rapidity. Monday brought news of further important gains for them on both the western and eastern fronts, arousing enthusiasm among the British public hardly less than that caused by the reception of the first news of the Allied offensive.

Comparative quiet on the British front is reported in Monday night's official communication from Sir Douglas Haig, unfavorable weather having imposed a temporary check on active operations.

The village of Longueval, which Friday night marked the apex of the British salient, has been left behind, while north of Basentin le Grand British troops broke through the German third line of defence and took part of the powerfully fortified Faurivault Wood.

To the north, pushing forward from the direction of Ovillers, the British are fighting in the outskirts of Pozieres, Junction point of two military roads and main obstacle to an advance on the Heights of Martinpuich, which commands the surrounding battleground.

In the Basentin le Petit sector, extending their gains of the previous day, the British have won control of the entire forest, which takes its name from the village. Here a Bavarian high officer with the whole of his staff fell prisoners.

The advance of the British is marked by fighting unlike anything before seen in western Europe during this war. The romance of other days is being renewed. For instance, against a position strongly held by the Germans armed with portable machine guns, there was a cavalry charge by the famous 1st Dragoon Guards. Not since the German legions first swept down through Belgium had the western front seen such a charge.

The charge was put to an end by the German machine guns, which were dashing over a terrain pocked with shell holes, swept through the German ranks and turning swept back. The Germans fled from the position they were organized to hold, and their losses were small.

And, while this picture brought to mind the picture of other days, scores of duels were being fought above earth by British and German soldiers. Low hanging clouds handicapped the fliers, and the battles were fought within easy sight of the foot soldiers beneath.

General Haig Sunday night announced that seven German machines had been captured, and that the War Office has given out a statement by the commanding general which shows that the British in the two weeks of fighting have advanced four miles from the German front line, and have captured a powerful organized position, including field works, redoubts, trench labyrinth, dugouts, underground mazes and supported by a number of fortified villages, have been carried.

Sir Douglas Haig says in his report: "All continues well on the British front, and at one point we forced the enemy back to his third system of defence, more than four miles to the rear of his original front trench at Pozieres and Mametz."

In the past 24 hours we have captured over 2,000 prisoners, including a regimental commander of the Third Guards Division, and the total number of prisoners taken by the British since the battle began now exceeds 10,000.

With the exception of heavy bombardments there were no events of importance on the Somme battle front Sunday. The British admit a withdrawal from the sections of the German third system of defence they penetrated yesterday.

A night attack against the French resulted in the recapture of Biaches and La Maissonette. The War Office says that the big guns are being used to bombard the German lines. The howitzers, which have enabled the British to batter their way through two systems of defence, have been brought up across the captured terrain and are now battering at the third line.

That the Germans in their retreat from their second line left behind great quantities of war stores, including some powerful guns, was made known Sunday night in the regular report from headquarters in France.

Deutschland Is Merchant Ship. WASHINGTON, July 18.—The State Department formally ruled Saturday that the German submarine Deutschland is a merchant vessel and entitled to treatment as such. In announcing the ruling, Acting Secretary Polk said it was not to be taken as a precedent and that any similar cases arising in the future would be dealt with on their own merits.

INTERNED AT HALIFAX

ALIEN ENEMIES THERE HAVE A GOOD TIME.

They are Sure, However, That Citizens of Allied Countries Interned in Germany Have a Much More Beautiful Life Than They Have, But Proofs of Statement Are Not Forthcoming.

THE Halifax Camp for alien enemies is in the "Citadel." It is dignified and comfortable but somewhat gloomy. High stone walls surround the fortress, and over them one looks down the steep hill to the crouching city and blue, blue waters, says a writer in The Toronto Sunday World. The view is very beautiful, though one German officer objected to it. He had been imprisoned at the beginning of the war at St. Lucia, and he liked the scenery better there. However, he allowed that the food was better in Halifax and that, as he liked the officials better, he longed to comfort him by quoting the ancient adage: "Heaven for climate, but hell for company!" but, manfully refrained.

Major Adams, the commandant of the camp, took me through the building and introduced me to a number of the prisoners. The first group whom I was introduced to looked rather unimpressive and suspicious. The men at Amherst regarded my visit and me as joyously as though I had been a traveling circus with real bears and elephants; and when I had proceeded to invite them to give me their views on immortality, sauerkraut, submarines, and the siege of the Dardanelles, their joy had suffered no diminishment. With these officers, however, it was different. The atmosphere was chilly.

Later on, the atmosphere was lurid, not chilly. The Germans and I exchanged a few polite banalities; then the commandant conducted me to another little group. Here again it was no better. I had a thousand questions on the tip of my tongue, but as I looked from the faces of the prisoners to the faces of the officers, I felt that it would be waste of time to put these questions. These officers evidently felt that they were being butchered to make a Canadian holiday, and resented the butchering. I, being their brother, naturally resented their resentment, and felt indignant with them for refusing to proceed as lambs to the slaughter.

I determined to get some information out of them "quick sticks," as an elderly relative of mine expressively remarks. "How do you think the war is going?" I briskly inquired of the nearest officer.

"I jumped." "I think it is going well," he answered, proudly. "Very good!" "Do you?" I replied. "I don't agree with you." "When do you think it will end?" he asked. Two or three of the others drew a trifle nearer and waited with interest for my answer.

"I think," I said at length, profoundly, "that it will end in about a year." To my surprise the Germans laughed. "You really think so?" asked one, looking more friendly. "Yes," said I, rather surprised. "What do you think?" "A month," he answered cheerfully. "Not more than a month." "What?" I exclaimed in amazement. "You really think that Germany will make terms in a month?" "Will dictate terms," he amended, smiling pleasantly at me. "She will have finished all in a month." "I got my breath," I laughed. "I opened my mouth to speak—"

The commandant looked at me anxiously. "There are some officers over there whom I think you would like to meet," he said firmly. "I knew it would happen. Always, always both in Halifax and in Amherst, just as I was getting into a really interesting conversation, I was solemnly trotted away to "fresh fields and pastures new." Now there is a great deal of the bully in my composition. As I walked meekly away with the commandant I silently registered a vow. I kept the vow. A little later on I shall tell what the vow was, and how I kept it; and if the commandant ever sees this I know that he will forgive me.

The Halifax prisoners seemed to be very comfortably housed. They had pianos, games of cards, and various other contrivances for killing time. Yet they did not seem nearly so contented as the men at Amherst. One can understand this, of course. Most of the Amherst prisoners are accustomed to a life of toil, and the ease, good food, warm clothing, and freedom for pleasure represented to them as very tolerable holiday. But to these officers, imprisonment was a bore.

"Have you everything you want here?" I asked one. "Yes, thank you," he replied, politely, but not enthusiastically. "Except that the rooms are pretty dark—and, as you see, eight officers are housed in one room. Now, in Germany—" "Yes!" I cried. "In Germany?" "Only three or four officers are put together in one room," he averred. "And then—although we have nothing to complain of—but in Germany the prisoners get a much better time."

accosted them as "English swine." I thought of hunger and cold and, suit endured by wounded men—ap— I looked at the officer. He jumped. "They do have a better time," he averred earnestly. "I see you do not believe me—but they do. In one place—I think he said it was the "Wurtz" mountains, but I am not quite sure—the prisoners are taken for long walks every day in the beautiful hills. Sometimes they are taken to a restaurant in the town for their mid-day meal. Sometimes—" "Do you realize," I interrupted him suddenly, "that this is the most interesting and most extraordinary thing that I have heard for many a long day? Where did you learn these things?"

"To letters from home," he answered. "Some of us have heard." "Won't you?" I asked. "Let me have a copy of these letters? If you can find them—if you can give me these extracts relating to the treatment of prisoners—I shall see that they are published in Canada, and I shall look up the exact reports which have been made by neutrals of these camps."

"I can do better," he stated positively. "Somewhere I am sure I have a picture of some of the German camps—a reproduced photograph, if I can find it you shall have it." I thanked him. Up to date I have received neither the extracts from letters nor the reproduced photos.

FOR NERVE-SHATTERED MEN. Ontario Provides a Hospital for Soldiers Suffering From Shock. Ontario has again come to the front in a most tangible way in connection with the present war. This time it is not with a gift of money, but with the equally practical and necessary way of caring for those who are suffering through the stress of battle. Recognizing that the war has produced special conditions among the disabled soldiers, the Canadian Hospitals Commission has arranged with the Ontario Government, through the Department of the Provincial Secretary, to establish a military hospital for the treatment of mental and shock cases.

For this purpose the present hospital for mental diseases at Cobourg is to be converted into a military hospital with a staff and equipment provided by the present organization of the Department. This means that soldiers from Ontario who are brought back suffering from shock will be received into an institution specially maintained to give them proper treatment. So far, but it is known, Ontario is the only Province where such an innovation has been attempted, and it is regarded by those who are familiar with the wastage produced by the present war as one of the most needed branches of the medical service.

The Cobourg hospital will be made immediately available by the transfer of some of the female patients to the new institution at Whitby. Special equipment such as continuous baths, vapor baths, electro-therapeutic baths and other apparatus will be installed at Cobourg, while detached buildings will be erected from time to time to provide for an increased accommodation up to 500 patients. The staff will be selected from the most competent in the various institutions of the Province, and should the demand warrant it, part of the new hospital at Whitby can also be used.

In making use of the facilities of the Province for this work the Canadian Hospitals Commission is not neglecting itself of any responsibility. The arrangement with the Ontario Government provides for a fixed allowance per day for each patient. In what would be a large capital expenditure is avoided on the one hand, and in commencing treatment for those men who are now on their way to Canada or will be immediately sent home.

Only Four Blinded Canadians. A statement issued by the Military Hospitals' Commission recently calls attention to the fact that an entirely unexpected prevalence regarding the number of the members of the Canadian expeditionary force who have lost their eyesight as a result of their war service. Various agencies have been started for the collection of money, order to provide homes and special training for blinded Canadian soldiers, and unauthorized persons are making collections for this purpose.

"It should be distinctly understood," said Secretary Seammell, "that these collections are quite unnecessary." The Military Hospitals' Commission is entirely competent to deal with all blinded soldiers who may come under its care. "Up to the present four blinded soldiers have returned to Canada, four only; not four hundred or four thousand, as some people imagine. Of these, one was trained at St. Dunstons, England, and is now earning his livelihood as an insurance agent in his home town; his typewritten letters are a model for many sighted typists; another, living on a farm with his friends, who are well to do, a third is suffering from shock blindness, and may regain his sight. This man returned from Liverpool on the Hibernian, and when thrown into the water after the ship was torpedoed he regained his sight temporarily, but has since had a relapse.

Ontario's Ed Fungl. Forty-five varieties of edible fungi from Toronto and vicinity were exhibited at the first meeting of the Mycological Society in the Botanical Building of the University of Toronto a few days ago. Longboat's Run. Tom Longboat, the famous Indian runner, ran sixty miles to Toronto in two days to join the Canadian Sportsmen's Battalion. In which his old trainer for the Marathon, Tom Flanagan, is a captain.

NATIONS BEFORE GOD'S JUDGMENT BAR

'Weighed in the Scales and Found Wanting.'

Great Judgment Day of the Nations Now Begun—Professing Christian Kingdoms Showing Their True Character—Responsibility Proportionate to Light and Opportunities Ignored—Vast Majority Christian Only in Name—The People Have Not Been Properly Taught—Empty Forms of Godliness—Selfishness Behind All the Trouble—True Christians Also Being Judged—Deliverance of the Faithful Near.

Newport, R.I., July 16.—Pastor Russell delivered a foretold address to-day before the I. B. S. A. Convention being held here. His text was, "The Lord your God proved you, to know whether you love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your mind." (Deuteronomy 10:12.) He said in part:

While this text is applicable to the Lord's people in a special way, yet as we look out over the world to-day we can realize that the Lord is surely judging the nations, especially those that have been greatly blessed with His favor. Consider Europe, for instance. How wonderfully Europe has been favored with opportunities for coming to a knowledge of the Lord! Ever since the days of Jesus and the Apostles Europe has had Gospel privileges, more or less. Of course we are not to hold the people of to-day responsible for everything in the past. To do so would be unfair. But we are to consider that in a general way the influences of Christianity have spread over the world, especially in Europe. After an era of blessings would follow persecutions, thus developing a loyalty of heart amongst the people; and in those early years seeds were sown that have had good opportunities for being watered and bringing forth good fruit.

Gradually the world has come to esteem it right to be Christian. The world's nations are getting to be styled "Christendom." Nevertheless the Bible declares that the world is not Christian, and has not the spirit of Christ in its activities. The world, therefore, is self-deceived, to the extent that the nations have had to permit to time to go only a little better than they are responsible. The Bible does not show, however, that the world has full responsibility. Only those have full responsibility, who have been given the step of consecration to God through Christ. Only those who have been begotten of the Holy Spirit. These have been illuminated and have come into the highest place of opportunities and blessings in the Lord. These have a deep insight into His Word that others possess. Accordingly these have had an amount of light that brings a life or death responsibility.

But so far as the world is concerned, we can readily see that in proportion as they have seen they should be required to do. We can feel quite sure that God would expect more of peoples of Europe than of those of Asia and Africa, who have little knowledge of Him. So just as this God's lease of power to the Gentile governments has expired, we see exactly what we should expect—that He is permitting these nations to pass judgment upon themselves, to speak. He is permitting them to show themselves, to manifest their real condition of mind and heart, to have made proper use of their opportunities and blessings in the way of development in righteousness.

The nations of Christendom have had much to say about the Lord. His name is to be found in all these countries. The nations have held aloft the cross of Christ in an outward way. They have many places for prayer and worship. They have abounded in forms of godliness. They have had much wealth and treasure. They have had hosts of priests and preachers of all denominations. With all the advantages and experiences of the past nineteen centuries, we might have expected Europe to be in a much better condition than it is—than that it would have learned much more than it has as to what is the spirit of the Lord and what is not.

The Apostle Paul tells how we may know the Lord's spirit. It is manifested in gentleness, meekness, patience, kindness, love. (Galatians 5:22, 23.) Wherever we find true Christianity we find these fruits of the Holy Spirit. With the sole exception of Turkey, these peoples of Europe claim to be Christian. The Lord would prove these nations, not that He might Himself know their condition, but that they might know it. Both the Father and the Lord Jesus will know the nations are Christian in name, not that the vast majority have not taken the steps necessary to bring them into the family of God. The Bible shows that no one has a right to approach God except in His appointed way—through Christ, Redeemer and Advocate. And Christ will be the Advocate of only those who come to God in His appointed way. God has arranged that whoever would come to Him must first accept by faith Christ's finished work on Calvary, and that they surrender themselves fully to God, to walk in the footsteps of Jesus. "If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself, take up his cross daily and follow Me." (Luke 9:23.) The Lord knows that the masses of the people have not done this, comparatively few have accepted these terms. When people are asked whether they have taken these steps, they admit that they have not. They say, "We have never heard it preached to us that we must be gotten of the Holy Spirit before we can become children of God."

Loosing the Four Winds. The people have not been taught how to approach God, in the right way. Therefore, the vast majority are not His children. They have never passed from darkness to light, from condemnation to justification, through faith in Christ Jesus, and consecration to God. Consequently they are not in His sins. They seem to have no objection as respects their privilege of presenting themselves living sacrifices to God, which is their reasonable service. (Romans 12:1, 2.) Judged by what the scriptures tell us, not many have taken the right steps here pointed out. The Bible says that only a "little flock" enter the strait gate and walk the narrow way. God forbid that we should be understood to say that there are no saints in Europe. We believe that in all these nations God has a true people, those who are fully trusting Him, and are fully consecrated to Him, and who are desirous of knowing Him and of doing His will even unto death. We are not speaking of these, but of the other class—the masses who are outwardly professing Christians and who compose the great majority.

The Bible speaks of these as having "a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof." They are walking contrary to godliness—contrary to what they would if they were true Christians, if they were living by their professions. (2 Timothy 3:1-5.) No God is bringing to their knowledge their true condition. In this death struggle of the nations, He will show them that they are not in the right way. He will demonstrate to both men and angels that the Christianity of the masses has been, largely an empty form, a meaningless ceremony.

Let us now let loose the winds of strife, and let the nations realize their own condition, and to prove to themselves and to others that they are not what they claim to be, and to humble them into the realization of their helplessness and their dire need of God.—Revelation 7:1-5.

As we look back over the past thousand years, we can see that there has been holding the peoples of earth from the Lord's restraint, permitting them to go only a little better than they are responsible. The hearts of fallen humanity are so perverted that, had mankind been permitted to the full length, the race would have been utterly lost long before now. But God's due time has come to let loose the winds of strife, with the result that the long-expected storm has burst in fury upon the world. The Jewish people is spreading from nation to nation; it looks as if ultimately every nation will become involved—surely every one which formed part of the old world's empire. (Daniel 2:44.) Whether the world is to be beyond the boundaries of the Roman rule we do not know—whether it will involve America.

Minds of the People Astray. These "United States have many advantages over other countries. One temporal blessing has been multiplied on their hand. Nevertheless, we must confess that there is much of mere outward forms of godliness here, much of ceremony, hypocrisy, dishonesty, and crime. God has been given and large gifts, and the masses of the people may become involved in turmoil. There is much of Christian profession here, an outward form of godliness, but the masses of the people are not in the right way. America will fall to have a full share in the judgment of the nations.

There is much restlessness amongst the people everywhere. Indeed, the whole world is becoming crazed as the angry passions of men are being stirred up against one another. In the countries at war, where the soldiers in the trenches are killing one another by the thousands—sometimes sixty thousand in one day—necessarily, the hardening influence goes with this course of action. The soldiers must become more or less numbened in their sensitivities, as a natural result. FIERCE FIGHTING NEAR PERONNE: BRITISH PROGRESS AT OVILLERS.

Hubs Gain Ground at Blancs Although Repulsed in all other Counter Attacks at La Maisonette—New French Positions Under Heavy Attack—British Gain on 1,000 Yard Front—Casement Appeal is Dismissed—British Workmen Forego Holidays.

BRITISH MAKE SUBSTANTIAL PROGRESS NORTH OF OVILLERS.

LONDON, July 18.—The British War Office announces substantial progress of the British on a front of one thousand yards north of Ovillers.

DESPERATE FIGHTING PROCEEDS ON WESTERN FRONT.

PARIS, July 18.—The War Office reports that the Germans have launched heavy counter attacks against the newly won French positions west of Peronne. Thus far, all German attacks south of the Somme have been repulsed, but heavy fighting is still going on.

The Germans repeatedly attacked La Maisonette, but were forced back each time with heavy losses.

The most violent battle is in progress near the village of Blancs, one mile from Peronne, where the Germans gained some ground.

Fighting continues along the Canal.

CASEMENT'S APPEAL DISMISSED.

LONDON, July 18.—The appeal of Sir Roger Casement against his death sentence was dismissed today. A further appeal may be made to the House of Lords.

GERMANS REPULSED AT HILL 304.

PARIS, July 18.—A German attack against Hill 304 on the east bank of the Meuse at Verdun last night was checked. German grenadiers attacked on the east bank in the region of Fleury and were also repulsed.

HEAT-CRAZED NEGRO KILLS MANY IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Harry McIntyre, a negro becoming suddenly crazed by the heat, shot and killed Mrs. Josephine Obermeyer a white woman and her baby this morning, and then shot Harry Knott, another negro who attempted to oppose him. McIntyre then took refuge in his house, where he and his wife both armed with guns and revolvers kept practically the entire city police force at bay for an hour before McIntyre was finally fatally wounded. One policeman was killed and a number of others were wounded.

WORKMEN TO POSTPONE SUMMER HOLIDAYS.

LONDON, July 18.—A conference of Labor representatives held today decided unanimously to recommend acceptance of the government's suggestion for the postponement of the August holidays.

DEEPEST GLOOM RULES AMONG GERMAN PEOPLE.

ROTTERDAM, July 18.—To say there is a panic in Germany would be an exaggeration, but it is well within the truth to describe the present feeling as one of deepest gloom.

I am assured that a few days ago there was hardly a man in Berlin who believed that a serious military effort was to be made by Britain.

The present attitude of the German people is as if a new enemy had entered the field against them. Their most trusted commentators talked for months about Britain's paper army. Events have now shown the German public that the paper army has materialized into a great host of trained soldiers, who are driving their own best troops from positions they believed impregnable.

The result is that there is manifestation of public dismay that is giving the government the gravest concern. In Berlin they are talking for the first time, of the possibility of their iron wall in the west being broken. The vast majority of the German people long ago gave up any hope of conquest and any desire for anything further than a speedy peace. They believed in the termination of the war on the ground that the allies would exert their maximum strength in an attempt to break their lines; that the attempt would fail and that they then would be prepared to negotiate a compromise peace. The possibility of the allies' efforts succeeding had never been contemplated until last week, when the British captured the second line positions.

FLEEING TURKS FIRE BAIBURT.

PETROGRAD, July 18.—Today's official statement follows: "The offensive on the right flank of our Caucasus front is developing. A great success was obtained on July 16 by the Plastunov Division of Kuban Cossacks belonging to the column of General Gornastoff. The Turks set fire to the village of Baiburt during their hasty retreat thence."

ONE FRENCHMAN IN THIRTY VILLAGES.

PARIS, July 18.—Only one French inhabitant was found in thirty villages retaken by the French and British in their offensive in the Somme region. He was a farmer who had hid in a cellar at Belfoy when the Germans, on June 25, ordered every French civilian into the interior in anticipation of an allied attack.

RUSSIANS SMASH AUSTRIAN ARMY.

LONDON, July 18.—The Russian commander, General Kuropatkin, has launched an offensive against Field Marshal von Hindenburg on the Dyina River, and General von Linsingen's troops southwest of Lutsk have been compelled to retire behind the Lipa river, while in the course of Sunday's fighting in Volynia the Russians captured an additional 13,000 prisoners and thirty guns. General von Linsingen's retirement, according to the Petrograd circles, represents a great Russian tactical success. It was preceded by heavy fighting, in which the Russians smashed the Teuton front on a width of a mile, and penetrated several miles into their positions.

That rapid progress is being made through the Carpathian Mountains is indicated in the official report from Petrograd, which says that "We have advanced near Kirlibaba on the Transylvania frontier." Kirlibaba is forty miles southwest of Radants.

Profoundly impressed by the steady Russian advance, which massing enormous forces before Kovel. They are bringing up every available reserve in the hope of stalling the new Russian mowing machine.

BRITISH HAVE COMPLETE CONTROL OF GERMANS' SECOND LINE.

LONDON, July 18.—In a driving storm, which is still sweeping across the battlefield, the British have driven their Albert salient deeper into the German front, and last night were battering against the crest of the great plateau across which the two weeks' battle has been fought. On this high ground stretch the German third system of defences, which are immensely strong. The British heavy batteries, brought up with tremendous difficulty across the marshy terrain, have opened a powerful fire against the Teuton positions.

During the stormy night the British brought a sharp halt to the counter-offensive, which the Germans were developing, by a strong blow in the sector northwest of Bazentin-le-Petit Forest. After an artillery bombardment, which cut the wire before the rain-filled trenches of the Germans, the British advanced to the attack on a mile front. Across the storm-swept terrain, which in places was little more than a bog, the British troops moved forward at the double quick, and on practically the whole front of attack seized the positions which were the objective. The German trenches were carried for a distance of 1,500 yards. This success gave the British complete control of the German second line in this region.

General Sir Douglas Haig announces that since July 1 a total of 189 German officers and 10,779 men have been made prisoners. A large number of guns have also been captured.

The steamer Old Age Pension arrived at the park with forty passengers.

Two large picnics from Napanee spent Tuesday at Massassaga Park and all enjoyed themselves. As the Fleming and son were called to the dock and thanked for the courteous treatment they had given the picnickers and were given three hearty cheers.

Mr. G. W. Baynes of Toronto spent Sunday at the park.

The Belleville Hardware held their picnic at the park on Saturday and about three hundred were in attendance. Mr. H. Saunders was the life of the crowd and is to be congratulated on the success of the picnic.

CONDITION OF PANTER'S PARK

Ex-Mayor Panter Draws Attention to West Side Resort.

To Editor "The Ontario"—
Would like to enquire through your columns why the park on the west side of the river is receiving no attention this year. The grass has not been cut, no seats have been placed there and the stones from the sewer have not been removed. Surely the council is displaying negligence and indifference in allowing this beauty spot which former councils worked so hard to bring to perfection to be neglected in this manner.

W. H. Panter.

ASSAULT CASES FROM RAWDEN.

Being Tried Before Judge Deroche Today.

A case of unusual interest is being tried before Judge Deroche today. Alex. Walkenshaw of Rawden tp. and a man named Coney, from Campbellford, are charged with assaulting David Livingston of Rawden on June the 8th.

It is alleged that the defendants chased the plaintiff with a car against a fence, injuring him. He thereupon threw a stone at the car as it departed, and defendants stopped, ran back and knocked him down and inflicted bodily harm. In defence he stabbed at one of them with a jack knife.

Walkenshaw has made a counter charge against Livingston, claiming that the latter became angry when splashed with some mud as the car passed, and threw three stones, two of them striking Mr. Walkenshaw. It is alleged that he meant by this, and Livingston struck him in the side with a jack knife, making three cuts. In self defence Walkenshaw claims to have knocked Livingston down.

Crown Attorney Carrow prosecuting with A. A. Abbott, Trenton private prosecution, W. D. M. Shorey and A. A. McDonald of Marmora for the defence.

BATHERS CAUSE ANNOYANCE.

Many young men and boys who are in the habit of bathing in the river near Lett's dam on both sides of the river in afternoons and evenings have caused a great deal of annoyance to residents of that vicinity, by their failure to wash the proper bathing apparatus in such a public place. The neighborhood does not desire to take away any of the pleasures of these young fellows, but if the latter do not clothe themselves decently, some action may have to be taken for the public's protection. Some evenings it is estimated that over one hundred enjoy the water at this place.

HOSKINS' DOWNY.

On July the 15th the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Downey was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their youngest daughter, Laura, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Arthur Hoskins of Halloway. The ceremony was performed at high noon by the Rev. Mr. Huffman of Plainfield, in the presence of about fifty relatives and friends, of the contracting parties. As the wedding march was being played by Mrs. W. Parks, the bride entered the drawing room leaning on the arm of her father and took her place under a bell hung in an arch of evergreens and roses. The bride wore a white embroidered voile and wore a bridal veil fastened with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white carnations, while Miss Mary Colden acted as bridesmaid and carried pink carnations and Mr. Percy Hoskins, brother of the groom, performed honors for the groom. After the nuptial knot had been tied the bridal party marched to a tent on the lawn where they partook of a sumptuous dinner, at which the health of the happy young couple was toasted by the guests. The interior of the home had been beautifully decorated for the event with flags and flowers. The bride is a popular young lady who has a host of friends who wish her every wedded felicity. The large number of beautiful gifts which she received gave evidence of this. The bride's travelling suit was navy blue silk with white lace hat. In the afternoon they started for a trip West and upon their return they will reside near Halloway where Mr. Hoskins is a prosperous young farmer.

CLEMENT'S ANNUAL.

At the home of the bride's parents, Victoria Ave., Belleville, at high noon on Tuesday, July 18th, 1916, Miss Annie Mae Ashley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Ashley, to Mr. Charles Clement, of Deseronto, the Rev. S. O. Moore, officiating.

MARRIED.

On July 17 in Emmanuel Rectory, by Rev. A. M. Hubby, James G. Oser of Kingston and Pearl Lett of Belleville.

Mrs. Eva Potter and Miss Potter visited friends in this neighborhood last week. Miss Lottie and Master Walter Post have gone to spend a month in Belleville. Mr. Clarence Cunningham's little child who has been very ill was better on Sunday.

MARMORA.

A memorial service was held in St. Marks church, Bell View, on Sunday, July 16th, 1916, at 8 p. m., in memory of the late Pte. Wilbur D. Cronkright, who was reported killed in action on June 27th. The message was received only on July 8th.

Wilbur was a regular attendant at St. Marks church and Sunday school before he enlisted for overseas service. He won a diploma for a perfect record at Sunday school and invariably won the class prize on review Sunday. He enlisted in the 39th Battalion and was the only one from this vicinity to go at the time. He was a member of the Organized Bible Class "The Argonauts" of St. Marks S. S., and was the first to enlist. Fourteen others have since followed his lead. Ten of whom were accepted and are now in khaki. One of these ten is his brother, Pte. Ross Cronkright. Wilbur was of a quiet though cheerful disposition, and a general favorite with all who knew him. He was especially beloved by his eldest, who grew to love him when they knew him well. He will be mourned by one and all as one of the very best and bravest boys from this township. The bereaved family have the deepest sympathy of everyone in the vicinity. It was with sincere regret that the people of Marmora and vicinity learned that Mrs. Sarah Foley had passed away on Sunday morning, July 9th. Deceased was born in Marmora Township in December, 1857, and was a daughter of the late Hugh Shannon and Mrs. Margaret Shannon, the latter still surviving. Besides her mother she is also survived by one brother, Edward, of Calgary and two sisters, Misses Margaret and Susan, who reside with their mother in Marmora, township.—The Herald.

STIRLING.

Mr. Turner, who has been accountant at the Bank of Montreal here for some time has been transferred to a new branch of the bank which was opened at Camp Borden on Monday last. His successor in the bank is Mr. Von Berg from Grande Mere, Que. Rev. A. J. and Mrs. Terrill, and daughter Catherine, left on Monday for a few weeks' holidays "somewhere in North Hastings." Rev. Mr. Terrill has not been well for the past few weeks and we hope this much needed rest will restore him to his usual health and strength. Mr. C. W. Dracup held the lucky ticket making him the winner of the 155th quilt. Ticket sales brought $62. A party of farmers from Victoria County, under the guidance of A. A. Knight, B.S.A., district representative and W. G. Orvis, of "Farm and Dairy", motored down and are visiting Hastings and Prince Edward counties today and tomorrow and will inspect some of the best herds of cattle in these counties. Mr. A. D. McIntosh will go with them through Hastings County. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ketcheson of Belleville, spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Green. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Young of Belleville, were in town on Wednesday. Miss Pearl Belshaw has returned home after a two weeks visit in Belleville. Miss Stella Mitz of Ivanhoe, successfully passed the Junior piano examination of the Toronto Conservatory of Music. Miss Mitz is a pupil of Cleve E. Heath, A.T.C.M., A.O.C.M. The twelfth of July, 1916, will long be remembered by all who took part in the proceedings as one of the hottest days of the summer. The sun shone out of a clear sky, and as there was but little breeze everyone sweated in the intense heat. However, nothing can dampen the ardor of the Orangemen, and they came to Stirling in large numbers as also many visitors from the surrounding country. The Orangemen went to the Agricultural Grounds, where dinner was served, and afterwards they marched in procession, headed by the Foxboro Band down Front street, up North street to Gore street, then to Mill street, and up Front street back to the Agricultural grounds. The following lodges were in the procession: Foxboro, Plainfield, Wellman's, Corners, West Huntingdon, Holloway, Downey, Tanner, Beulah (Ivanhoe), Stirling. Addresses were given by James Berney, P.G.M., E. Gus Porter, K. C., Rev. E. F. Byers, Rev. J. T. Hall and Rev. Porter Bennett. The gathering dispersed soon after four o'clock, the different lodges marching through the town on their way home. The concert in the evening was well attended, considering the great heat, and the entertainers gave a good program. The total proceeds of the day is said to be in the neighborhood of $1000.—News Argus.

WALLBRIDGE NOTES.

Mrs. (Prof.) Doxsee and Master Francis of Regina, Sask., took tea on Monday evening at her uncle's home Mr. C. F. Chisholm. The Misses Kathleen and Marlon Massey of Moosejaw, Sask., arrived in town on Tuesday evening and are at their aunts, Mrs. S. E. Lane. Miss Louise Wright is spending a couple of weeks at her uncle's in Toronto.

REDNERSVILLE AND ALBURY.

Many from this vicinity attended the Ice Cream and Strawberry Social at Albany. All report a good time. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weese and family of Trenton, visited at E. W. Brickman's on Sunday. Mr. Earl Weese is gaining and we hope he will soon be able to return home. Mrs. Arthur Alyea and family of Woodstock has returned to her home. Mr. George Weese and Edna and Irene motored to Belleville Friday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Vandusen, and Mr. and Mrs. Bart. Russell motored to Pictou on Monday evening.

MADOC.

After suffering from heart trouble for some time, Mr. Roy Clark died suddenly on Monday evening at the age of 38 years. Mr. Clark has been in business in Madoc for some time and was popular with his customers. He is survived by a wife and seven children. The funeral took place yesterday forenoon. After an absence of three years Mr. and Mrs. Alex Milne have returned to visit friends and renew acquaintances. During the past three years Mr. and Mrs. Milne have seen much of the West particularly in the Peace River country where they have devoted themselves to farming. Mr. Milne is already a very enthusiastic Westerner, and can talk climate and wheat with as much zeal as the old-timers. Mr. Alex. Morrice, of Belleville, spent a few days in town this week renewing acquaintances. A quiet wedding was solemnized on Friday last at the home of the bride's parents, when Margaret Harrison Alcombrae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Alcombrae, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony with Elmer Grant Wakelin, of Cobocook. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Campbell, of Toronto, only the family and a few intimate friends being present. Both young people are deservedly popular and their many friends unite in wishing them health and prosperity. They will reside in Lindsay.—The Review.

TRENTON.

It is immensely gratifying to see very considerable improvement in the homes of Trenton—this summer over previous seasons—some seem to have been a little handicapped in the earlier months that apparently are coming on nicely now. Added to Trenton's natural advantages these places set as occasional Beauty Spots. Why not get into the humor of happy surroundings. Chas. E. Sutcliffe of Lindsay, nephew of Mr. J. A. Sutcliffe, has recently been promoted to Major of the 7th Battalion now overseas. Prior to his connection with the 4th of Lindsay district he was while attending Toronto University connected with the Queens Own Rifles and took part in the English manoeuvres with this unit, several years ago under Colonel Pellet. His only brother, Mervin C., is training at Valcartier and about to take his departure for the front. Major Sutcliffe has assisted his uncle on several occasions in Trenton. We wish them good luck. A very successful Ice Cream and Strawberry Festival under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of King St. Methodist church was held on the spacious lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Sutcliffe, on the afternoon and evening of July 8th. The lawn was beautifully decorated with flowers, lanterns and bunting and the gaily decorated booths were very attractive and well patronized. Many pleasing selections from an Edison phonograph were greatly enjoyed by all present. The Society wishes to thank the young ladies who kindly assisted in serving refreshments, also Mr. and Mrs. Sutcliffe for their generous offer of their home and lawn. Proceeds amounted to $85.00.—The Courier.

TWEED.

Judge Wills, the newly appointed Junior Judge of the County of Hastings, recently presided for the first time in the capacity of Judge at Division Court here. He was complimented on his elevation to the bench by the representatives of the Bay present, Barristers Collins and Carnew. A Spear of Timothy hay measuring 4 feet 1 inch, which we are told is an average sample of the crop this year was left at our office on Friday. Crops of all kinds are said to be the best for years.—The Advocate.

WESTERN AMELIASBURG.

Mrs. Bontar is spending a few days with Mrs. C. Snider. Mrs. Eckert and Mr. J. Turney spent Friday at Mr. J. W. Marvin's. Mr. Jacob Rathbun and family of Trenton spent Sunday at Mr. Thomas Ayrbart's. Mr. and Mrs. Blake Rowe spent Sunday at Mr. Alfred Brown's. Mr. J. J. Young is spending a few days visiting friends in this vicinity. Mr. Delbert Snider spent Sunday evening at Mr. Henry Rathbun's. Mr. and Mrs. M. Trimpour spent Sunday at Mr. J. H. Brown's. Mr. W. Parks has been spending a few days visiting his mother, Mrs. Thomas Ayrbart. Mr. J. V. Denike spent the week-end with his sister, Mrs. J. W. Marvin. Mrs. Heron, of Chicago spent a few days the guest of Mrs. D. H. Rowe. Miss E. Chase spent a few days in Trenton. Sergt-Major Charles Marvin spent a few days at his home.

FOXBORO.

Quite a number from here celebrated the Twelfth in Stirling. Miss Tena Conley, of Stirling is visiting her aunt Mrs. Melzar Homans. Mr. and Mrs. Will Davis of Rochester, spent last week at their nephews, Mr. C. O. Davis. Pte. Will Shaw, of Barfield is spending a few days in his home here. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sills and children spent Sunday at her brother's, Mr. Reuben Wait. Miss Florence Cooke of Belleville, is visiting her aunt, Miss Amelia Clarke. Mr. Beh Faulkner returned home on Monday from Madoc after visiting his daughter, Mrs. Leslie Ashley. Sergeant and Mrs. J. P. MacInnes and daughter Marie of Barfield is renewing old acquaintances before Mr. MacInnes leaves for the front. He leaves on Thursday with the 109th battalion. Quite a number of friends and relatives attended the picnic given by Mr. and Mrs. Will Gowsell at their grove. A number from here motored to the Sand Banks on Saturday last. WOMAN HAD NERVOUS TROUBLE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

West Danby, N. Y.—"I have had nervous trouble all my life until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nerve and female troubles and it straightened me out in good shape. I work nearly all the time, as we live on a farm and I have four girls. I do all my sewing and other work with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten year old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I have also had my oldest girl take it and it did her lots of good. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it."—Mrs. DAWNEY GROSSBAUGH, West Danby, N. Y. Sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, headache, backache, dragging sensations, all point to female derangements which may be overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mr. and Mrs. Kemp and sons of Ottawa took tea with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Binedis on Thursday evening. Miss Mary Higgs, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Higgs of Millbrook is holidaying with her grandmother and aunt Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Wm. Latta. Our canning factory has started the season's work. The farmers are bringing in their peas. Mrs. Ashley and daughter Miss Beesie of Belleville spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Frankford. Mass was held in St. Francis' church at 9 a.m. by Rev. Father O'Reilly on Sunday.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS OVERCOME BY SAFE METHOD

Suggestions Given Whereby Insomnia can be Safely and Quickly Cured. Worry, overwork, overstudy and indigestion cause insomnia. Healthy, natural sleep can't be produced by drugs. First, the blood circulation must be improved; Congestion of blood in the head must be removed. Irritation in the brain must be relieved. It's because Perzone equalizes circulation, because it soothes the irritation, because it removes congestion that it does cure insomnia. For building blood and nerve, for instilling force and life into overworked organs, for establishing strength and vitality, where can you find anything so efficient as Perzone? Remember, sleep is just as important as food. You must sleep, or break down, but if you'll use Perzone and thereby remove the conditions which now keep you from sleeping, you'll get well quickly. Perzone is not a narcotic, not a dope; it is a health-giving tonic that any child or delicate woman can use. Absolutely safe is Perzone. Take it for a month, take it for a year—no harm, but immeasurable good will result. To sleep well, look well, feel well, to be free from depression, nervousness or blues—use Perzone. It's a food tonic, a healer to the weak and wretched, a boon to the sleepless—sold in 50c. boxes, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct from The Cattaraugus Co., Kingston, Ont.

CONCERT OF THE 155th BATT.

Last night the 155th Battalion had one of the best concerts that has ever been held in Barriefield camp. After the football and baseball games were over, about 800 men gathered in the large tent of the 155th to enjoy the program. Captain Dodds acted as chairman, and made an excellent official. The program opened with the singing of "The King," followed by a selection from the excellent band of the battalion. Miss Frances Devlin was the accompanist and Miss Phyllis Devlin got the boys in the best of humor with one of her charming songs. Twice Miss Devlin was forced to respond to an encore. Mrs. Teilmann, whom the 155th claim as a part of the battalion because she comes from Prince Edward county, gave two khaki recitations which sent the men in ruck into ecstasies. Miss Norma Teilmann with the violin had every-body pleased, and Mrs. Dodds, wife of Captain Dodds, proved a vocalist of the highest order. DENIES LIVING IN BELLEVILLE Alleged Bigamist at London, T. W. M. J. O'Hara, Powney, a Baker.

Pte. George William Barrett of the 155th Battalion appeared for trial on Tuesday afternoon in London police court on a charge of bigamy preferred by Miss Rosanna A. Pinkham of 217 St. James Street, who claims that when Barrett married her, he was already married to Miss Ada Walker of Guelph, whom he had wed under the name of William J. B. Powney.

Miss Ada Walker, whom it is alleged Barrett married on January 24, 1914, was not present in court. She left her home about six weeks ago and has not been heard of since by her family.

Rev. H. H. Bingham testified that he had married defendant to Miss Pinkham on Dec. 4th, 1915.

Rev. A. J. MacGillivray, Guelph, testified that he had married Wm. J. B. Powney to Miss Ada Walker, of Guelph, Jan. 24, 1914, but could not identify Barrett as Powney.

Walkers Identify Prisoner

W. R. Walker, brother of Miss Ada Walker, recognized Barrett as the man who had married his sister, Miss Maud Thorogood of Guelph, bride-maid at the Powney-Walker wedding, recognized the prisoner as the groom on the occasion.

William Walker, father of Miss Walker identified Barrett as Powney, his son-in-law. He stated that he had worked with Powney who was a journeyman baker, in a bakery shop in Guelph, for about four months before the marriage. After the marriage Powney and his wife had resided with him for nine weeks and had then gone to Toronto.

Miss Pinkham, who said the charge ascertained that her suspicions were first aroused when she found papers bearing the name "Powney" in an old pair of trousers belonging to Barrett.

One of the papers was a receipt from the Toronto General Hospital, which Barrett explained by saying that the clerk had made a mistake in the name when making it out and given him the name of the man in the next bed.

SOLDIER SAVES TWO FROM DEATH

Brave Act of Lance-Corpl. Tallon—Pte. Hall of 130th and Pte. Miller of 109th Were All In.

By act of heroism that is deserving of the highest praise and merits some kind of public recognition, Lance-Corpl. Tallon, C.A.S.C., Barriefield, saved two fellow soldiers from death by drowning.

On Monday evening between six and seven o'clock, a number of the members of the C.A.S.C. were swimming in the bay below Barriefield village. Nearly all of them were through swimming when some members of the 109th battalion went in bathing. Pte. George Hall, of "B" Company, 109th Battalion, got astride of a log, which was pushed well out into the bay.

The sudden overturning of the log threw Hall into the water and he was unable to swim he gradually sank. He had come to the top twice when Pte. W. J. Miller, of "C" company of the 109th, answered his cries for help and went to the rescue. Miller could not swim very much and in his efforts to save Hall, soon became exhausted.

The cries for help from the two men and from those on the shore attracted the attention of Lance-Corpl. Tallon of the C.A.S.C., who, after a swim, was dressing on the shore and had put on his riding pants, puttees, boots, spurs and undershirt. Without hesitation, Lance-Corpl. Tallon jumped from the cliff into the water and succeeded in getting hold of Private Hall and in bringing him to the surface. Twice he was compelled to let go, but with the third hold he brought Hall again to the surface and safely to the shore; just in time to save his life, his skin having turned purple, and few signs of life being apparent.

He then turned his attention to Pte. Miller, who was so completely exhausted that he could not come to shore, and he succeeded in landing him safely. The water where the accident happened was very deep, none of the soldiers being able to find the bottom. A dredge was at work there lately.

Lance-Corpl. Tallon's unassuming nature has prevented his brave deed from receiving attention sooner, but the officer of the camp will bring the matter to the attention of the officers of the Humane Society, feeling that such a valorous deed should be appropriately recognized.

Lance-Corpl. Tallon is twenty years of age. His home is in Cornwall.

The following probationers reported at the Infantry School on July 10th: S. A. Lepine, 155th; H. J. Latimer, 109th; G. E. Melkolejohn, 155th; A. C. Masters, 155th; W. P. Muirhead, 14th Regiment; E. A. Wallace, 155th, and E. R. Beckwith, 14th Regiment.

CAPTAIN F. C. CURRY.

After over a year's active service on the firing line with the 2nd Eastern Ontario Battalion, of the First Canadian Division, Captain Frederick Crawford Curry, son of F. R. Curry, Brockville has been wounded by a bullet in the forearm. He is in a hospital in England and doing well, according to a cablegram received this morning by Mr. Curry from Major R. A. Bowie, M.D., C.M., at Sandgate, England. An official notification stated Capt. Curry was wounded on July 10.

Captain Curry was at last word received from him in charge of a bombing party on the firing line. He left Brockville, on August 22, 1914, as Lieutenant under Lt.-Col. Buel. At Valcartier he was attached to the 2nd Battalion and crossed to England with that unit as signalling officer. Capt. Curry did not leave England until after the battle of St. Julien in April, 1915, when he drafted to France to serve with his old battalion, becoming a platoon commander. He has since remained almost continually on the firing line, but up to the present time remained unscathed. Showing special proficiency in bombing work, Captain Curry was detailed to take charge of this section of the battalion and won his captaincy last year for good work as an instructor.

Capt. Curry is a graduate of the Brockville Collegiate Institute and of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, Toronto. He has gained considerable reputation as a writer on historical and other subjects.

Four absentee soldiers from Barriefield were taken into custody by the sergeants here.

"DEAD" SOLDIER REVIVED.

Surgeon Massages Man's Heart and Restores Action.

A wonderful case of restoring the dead to life has just come to light in the case of Lance Corporal Mayes, of the Queen's Westminsters, who had part of his right arm blown off by a shell in the fighting at Ypres.

The injury was so bad that after the first aid dressings the limb had to be amputated. He went to England and was in a hospital in the Midlands for some time. A short time ago he recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital and went to London apparently quite well. But for some reason infection again appeared in the amputated arm and a further operation was deemed necessary to stop the danger of poisoning.

Corporal Mayes was put under an anaesthetic, but the heart collapsed and ceased to beat. The case seemed to be hopeless and the waiting relatives in a few minutes would have been informed of his death. But Dr. Lionel E. C. Norbury, the distinguished surgeon who handled the case, was not beaten. He made an incision in the side of the patient and, inserting his hand and lifting the diaphragm reached the heart and gently massaged the organ with his fingers. The heart responded to the action and began to beat again. The patient has been restored to life when all other means would have failed.

Lance Corporal Mayes is now on the highroad to complete recovery.

TERRIFIC HAILSTORM AT CO-BOURG.

Damaged Vegetable and Fruit Crops ... and Broke Many Windows.

This district was visited by the severest hailstorm, accompanied by lightning, thunder and rain, as has been seen for years. For about fifteen minutes a perfect deluge of hail, some of them an inch in diameter, fell, until the ground was fairly covered, and much resembled snow. All kinds of garden stuff was levelled to the ground, and in places cut off. Young fruit was knocked off the trees and glass broken in hundreds of buildings. The greenhouses in town suffered the worst in this respect. Messrs. George, Denton and Pillsbury's losses being heavy. The Baptist and Presbyterian churches also suffered severely, and many houses had glass broken by the hail. Sentinal Star, Othe Editors

LAI D TO REST.

The funeral of the late Miss Mary Catherine Lally took place on Friday afternoon from the family residence Queen Street to St. Michael's church where Rev. Father Kiggin conducted service. Requiem mass had been celebrated in the morning of Friday. The funeral was very largely attended.

Interment was in St. James' Cemetery.

AUTO STRUCK TRAIN.

At one thirty yesterday afternoon a local fruit motor-truck travelling northward along the Bay bridge road, struck the C.N.O.R. train at the bay bridge crossing. The car missed the engine and first coach but struck the second. Slight damage was done to the machine as it was bounded back. The driver apparently, had not seen the train until it was nearby although the electric bell was ringing.

THE POPE MAY TRY FOR PEACE

But Not if the Allies Continue Their Winning Offensive.

Rome, July 15—Pope Benedict, it is reported in church circles, here, is preparing to issue a second appeal for peace on the occasion of the second anniversary of the beginning of the war, now only two weeks away.

The issuance of the appeal depends upon the successes of the allies in their present offensive. If the Anglo-French forces, for example, have made a wide breach in the German lines and are steadily pushing back the enemy as the anniversary draws near, his Holiness will regard the time as inopportune and will have little or nothing to say regarding peace.

Clearing The Old "D.S.B.G."

Trees Have Been Cut Down in Ancient Cemetery—Other Improvement.

The Dundas St. Burying Ground, where sleep hundreds of the early settlers of Belleville, has after many years of neglect again started on the way to become a spot of respectability. For a long period vegetable growth in this cemetery has been allowed to run wild. Grasses and weeds flourished and seeds sprouted out of graves and had grown into trees of large proportions.

It has not been a rare thing to see a cow placidly eating the grass from the turf where the early Methodists of this city slumber.

The reputation of the spot has suffered from the visits of vagrants who has dishonored the mounds and hollows marking the rest of the departed.

Bridge Street Church has in the past done considerable to protect this cemetery by placing a fence around it. Recently the work has been resumed. Messrs. D. Price and J. H. P. Young were appointed a committee to look after the restoration of the grounds. They secured Mr. Burgess, who has cut down almost all the trees and bushes. It is likely the ground will be levelled and the tombstones which are lying about may be gathered together into one spot and placed in the plot which is now guarded by a stout iron fence.

Dundas street residents are pleased with the transfiguration in the ground.

DEATH OF MRS. W. RYAN

The death occurred yesterday of Catherine Amelia Hawley, wife of William Ryan, of this city. Mrs. Ryan had been in fairly good health and her death was not expected. She was 76 years old, having been born in North Fredericksburg, July 6th, 1840. Besides her husband, she leaves two sons, George of Belleville and William H. of Chicago.

LOCAL OFFICERS RECOMMENDED TO RECEIVE MILITARY CROSS

Signal Honors Won by Captain E. D. O'Flynn and Capt. Roscoe Vanderwater for Conspicuous Gallantry At Ypres on 26th of April.

The editor of The Ontario received this morning the following extremely gratifying note from Lt.-Col. A. E. Swift, commanding officer of the famous Second Battalion in France, also the following copies of documents recommending Capt. E. D. O'Flynn and Capt. Roscoe Vanderwater to receive the Military Cross for "devotion to duty," "coolness" and "special gallantry," "under the most trying circumstances."

A host of friends of these two gallant young officers will be quite as greatly delighted as the two recipients themselves on account of the distinguished honor to which they have been so worthily recommended.

Editor, Daily Ontario, Belleville, Ontario. Dear Sir,—

The two enclosed recommendations for honors are forwarded for your information. Yours truly, A. E. Swift.

Unit—2nd Canadian Battalion. Rank and Name—Edmund Duckitt O'Flynn, Captain. Date—26th April, 1916. Place—Ypres, Opposite Hill 60. Action—

This officer is strongly recommended for devotion to duty, on the afternoon of the 26th April 1916. During and after a very severe bombardment this officer carried out the distribution of ammunition and grenades to the front line, helped the M.O. and organized parties to look after the wounded.

His energy and the way he looked after details was of great assistance to his commanding officer. Reward—The Military Cross. Recommended by— A. E. Swift, Lt.-Colonel, Commanding 2nd Canadian Battalion.

Unit—2nd Battalion Canadians. Rank and Name—Captain Roscoe Vanderwater. Date—26th April, 1916. Place—Ypres, opposite Hill 60. Action—

This officer is recommended for special gallantry and coolness under the most trying circumstances. On the afternoon of the 26th April, 1916, when the mine was exploded in the trench held by the company under this officer's command, he at once took charge and directed his company.

He at once had rapid fire opened on the enemy and prevented them from crossing and occupying the crater, and by his example stimulated the men. His handling of this very difficult situation is worthy of the greatest praise. Recommended for—Military Cross. Recommended by— A. E. Swift, Lt.-Colonel, Commanding 2nd Canadian Battalion.

ANOTHER INVESTIGATION

Construction of Agricultural College to be Investigated

Winnipeg, July 15—Justice Galt has been appointed as commissioner to investigate all matters in connection with the erection of the Manitoba Agricultural College buildings. For several months investigators of the Department of Public Works have been preparing material for a commission, and when the sittings begin some sensational revelations are expected. Among the contractors who erected buildings for the Agricultural College were Thomas Kelly and Sons and Carter, Halls and Aldinger. Several other firms had contracts of varying size. Since the department investigators have been probing into the construction some of the contractors have re-fund amounts of considerable size. It is understood that the principal matters to be brought before the commission deal with alleged heavy over-payments made on some of the main buildings. The total cost of the Agricultural College buildings runs up into the millions.

Infantile Paralysis Arouses Province

Warning Bulletin Issued From One Town in Ontario, While Others Are Suspected.

Observing the legend that "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure," Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, Provincial Chief Officer of Health, yesterday issued a warning bulletin urging citizens throughout Ontario to guard against the possibility of an outbreak in Ontario of the epidemic of infantile paralysis which is raging in some cities in the United States. Major McCullough stated that in one town in Ontario—the name of which he did not care to disclose—several cases have been reported while others are suspected.

"While the cause of the disease is as yet unknown," said Major McCullough, "it is believed that infantile paralysis is spread from one child to another by means of the secretions of the nose and mouth by direct transfer. It is possible also that it is spread by flies which have been in contact with intestinal discharges. It may become widespread in country as well as in crowded city districts, and persons who have been in contact with cases of the disease may harbor the contagion and give it to others without contracting the disease themselves. That is, they are 'carriers'."

GOOD SENSE AMONG ORANGEMEN.

The Ontario desires to commend most sincerely Mr. R. J. Richardson, master of Trenton Orange Lodge, and those associated with him, for the good judgment they displayed in the arrangement of the program for the Twelfth of July celebration on Wednesday of this week.

The professional politician was entirely ignored and the speeches delivered by Dr. Jacques, Mayor Ireland, Rev. D. Nichols, grand master of Ontario east, (Capt.) Rev. W. G. Clarke, Mr. W. C. Reid, the grand treasurer, and the others, were characterised by fairness, moderation and good sense.

We do not for instance concur with the argument of one of the speakers that it is the duty of patriotic Canadians to maintain a cowardly silence until after the war so as to give the band of pirates behind Sir Sam Hughes an uninterrupted opportunity to steal the war treasury clean of all its contents.

We freely admit that General Hughes has been too harshly criticised for his foibles and eccentricities of character and has not been given sufficient credit for his amazing energy and efficiency. But it should be noted by Orangemen and others that practically the only harsh criticism of General Hughes has appeared in strong Conservative journals such as The Montreal Mail, The Winnipeg Telegram, The Toronto World, The Toronto Telegram and the independent Conservative weeklies, Toronto Saturday Night, Jack Canuck and The Canadian Courier.

As The Ontario endeavored to point out a few days ago the Orange order has allowed itself to become the camping-ground for a multitude of political adventurers and exploiters. These gamesters have in many cases manipulated the society to the carrying out of their own low devices and have well nigh destroyed its initiative and independence.

There have been a dozen different occasions in the past five years in which the values of Orangemen should have been heard in trumpet tones, but owing to their unfortunate entanglement with the Tory machine they had nothing better to give than feeble apologies.

For instance, what did they have to say about Bourassa, who is easily the most dangerous man in public life in Canada today? Henri Bourassa came into Ontario and proclaimed his mischievous doctrines from Conservative platforms in several constituencies in the campaign of 1911. Yet we heard no protests from The Orange Sentinel or from any Orange Lodge. Bourassa rushed to Ottawa by special train in October of that same year and dictated who should occupy three of the seats in the Borden cabinet. Still no Orange protests. Bourassa prevented the Borden administration from carrying out in an adequate manner the policy for a Canadian navy by which this Dominion would have possessed a cruiser squadron, equal to that of Australia, at the beginning of the war. And still The Sentinel and Orangemen were dumb. It was not until Bourassa showed a disposition to become critical of his former friends, at the time that Borden announced his "Emergency" program, that Orangemen found a voice. Yet all the time Bourassa was preaching identically the same, disloyal and anti-British doctrines.

Orangism failed to do its duty in that and many similar instances because it had allowed its independence to become submerged beneath the stupidest kind of Toryism.

And that is why we welcome a departure such as was witnessed at Trenton on Wednesday when men with some breadth of outlook, and not subservient to any political ideal, freely expressed their opinions.

An order characterised by non-partisanship, fearlessness, independence of thought and policy, the absence of bigotry, self-criticism, an intelligent and broad-minded view of national affairs, might become a great, a growing and a deserving power in the land.

To arrive at this elevated position it would be necessary for Orangemen, who profess to love freedom, to free themselves from the shackles of party, to discipline or change the management of The Orange Sentinel, to learn that patriotism and the principles of liberty are not Orange monopolies, to cultivate introspection, and, above all, the habit of thought.

In these and in foregoing observations The Ontario has spoken freely and somewhat frankly to Orangemen, who, we are pleased to state, constitute no small proportion of our readers.

No man who had at heart the best interests of the Order, and who realised its possibilities for real service and national uplift, could view without anything but the most serious misgivings the readiness with which this great society has loaned itself to the purposes of smooth politicians.

THE CARLISLE EXPERIMENT.

Although absolute prohibition of the liquor traffic in the Old Country has not made much headway as yet, an interesting experiment in State control which may have far-reaching consequences in the future is being made. The Government, through the Liquor Traffic Control Board, which is a war emergency organization, has taken over the whole of the breweries and public houses—the latter some 300 in number—in the City of Carlisle, and its immediate neighborhood, covering a large industrial and rural district. The State will thus become brewer as well as publican. The cost of the business, apart from claims for compensation, will, it is estimated, be somewhere about a quarter of a million pounds.

Under the change that has been made the Liquor Control Board has taken over all private interests in the sale and supply of liquor and in the brewing of beer. These include the breweries, the licensed establishments and the licenses which attach to them; the supply of liquor in clubs likewise comes under the absolute control of the Board. No liquor is to be imported into the area except under the authority of the Board, and no one is to have any financial interest in increasing the consumption of liquor in the area. The amount of compensation to be paid to those who are bought out of the trade will be decided by a Royal Commission, the owners of the breweries and licensed premises to have an opportunity of naming prices which, if found by expert advisers to be reasonable, will be supported by the purchasing body before the Commission.

Carlisle is the County town of Cumberland. It is in close proximity to Gretna, the site of a great government munition factory, and conditions there had become so bad that drastic and radical measures were deemed necessary for the public safety. A special correspondent of the Manchester Guardian tells of the "urgent need for reform."

These thousands of laborers, gathered from the big cities, from rural districts, from Ireland, and from the wandering life of the roads, are living in hutsments or in lodgings in the towns and villages of the area covered by the extended purchase scheme. Many live quietly, but others have been led by acquired habits to spend their money—which is larger than they have ever received before—in drink. Several thousands of these workers live in Carlisle, and hundreds more flock into the city on Saturday nights.

The public houses are so crowded that men literally struggle at the bars to get served, and as they mostly have the habit of mixing spirits and beer they quickly reach the condition of intoxication, with the result that in the words of a leading official in the city, "a shocking and disgraceful state of affairs" is to be witnessed in the streets and in the station after the closing hour. As far back as February, the Chief Constable reported strongly both on the excessive drunkenness and the disinclination of the publicans to provide facilities for the supply of food, and a similar complaint about the villages was made to the County Magistrates about the same time.

Since then matters have grown steadily worse. The city police are handicapped because half of a force of eighty, including the youngest and most vigorous constables, have joined the army. Nevertheless the number of convictions for drunkenness has rapidly increased. The following table shows the comparative convictions for this year and last:

Table with 2 columns: Month, 1915, 1916. Rows: January (51, 12), February (23, 13), March (39, 13), April (98, 12), May (114, 12).

The figures for June are already heavy. The restriction of the hours of sale, one learns from the last report of the Chief Constable, has led to drinking at top speed, and a correspondingly quick transition from sobriety to intoxication. No drink at all can be sold on Sunday in the Carlisle district, but the evil of secret drinking on that day has been intensified by the regulation which forbids the off-sale of a less quantity than a quart of spirits. The majority of the laborers earn as much as £2 a week and they yield to the temptation to spend 5s. or 6s. on a bottle of spirits for Sunday drinking. The opinion is expressed that the off-sale should be forbidden or that much smaller quantities should be obtainable. Many of the laborers, I was told, would not buy more than a shilling bottle. As it is, they take a quart or join with others in the purchase of several bottles, and soak themselves during the Sunday to such an extent that they are incapable of work until Tuesday or Wednesday.

It is the intention of the Liquor Control Board, to close almost immediately over one hundred houses as redundant. It is also proposed to build, as soon as convenient, two or three model refreshment houses, on the plan found successful elsewhere, and to adapt others not now equipped for the sale of food and non-intoxicants. In the taverns that will be permitted to remain open the present staff, if found to be efficient, will be retained; and the present tenants or managers, if desirable persons, will be invited to manage their houses under the supervision of the Board.

This application of State control over a wide urban and rural area is described as, not a measure to deal with the ordinary drink evil, but as "an emergency remedy for a rare disease, but if it succeeds under conditions of unparalleled difficulty, its value as a social experiment will be increased a hundredfold, and the experience gained will point the way to new methods of promoting temperance under normal circumstances in other parts of the Kingdom." It may indeed mark a turning point in the history of the drink traffic in the Old Country. It is an experiment which will be watched with great interest.

CLOSING IN.

The presence of the Russian forces on the Austrians' right wing, threatening their position at Lemberg, as revealed by the appearance of the Cossacks on the western slopes of the Carpathians, is the result of a steady and solid movement well prepared, well gunned, highly menacing to the Central Empires. It has been a movement of destruction of the Austrian army, not of swift raids or mere local demonstrations. At this moment the crossing of the Carpathians by Cossack parties is regarded as a demonstration on the fringes of the main attack. The real thing is the flanking movement on Lemberg, with its prospect of the gathering in of many thousands more of the diminishing Austrian armies. The Allied offensive in the West has the same destructive purpose; and the captures of Germans already made there, with enveloping movements on a comparatively small scale as a part of the wide general advance, indicate a disposition to wear away the Teutonic armies by every possible means. The most careful calculations show that the Germans cannot have in reserve, including the recruit class of 1917, more than 700,000 reserves, all told. That represents the end of their resources.

A PATIENT PEOPLE.

Belleisle people are models of patience. Drinking water, tintured with mud, weeds and sewage, is swallowed with gusto. They would not think of looking for relief from a reservoir of sparkling, pure water right at their doors. That is why, we presume, that another feature of our city life passes unnoted and apparently unnoticed.

For several weeks past observant citizens have ascertained that the water that is passing so abundantly down the beautiful Moira is laden with unaccustomed filth. Upon making inquiry we have been informed that this new mixture is extensively poured into the river from the large cattle-stables and hog-pens several miles up the stream. This we believe is good stuff to put on the land to promote the growth of vegetable life, but we have yet to learn that it is a wholesome decoction for human beings to drink. For those who profess to know have told us that when easterly winds prevail this hog-tea is wafted Trentonwards and finds its way into Belleisle taps via the intake pipe of the W.W.

This is a question that may finally be determined by the Ontario provincial government. Those who might take immediate cognisance are Capt. Hunter, Inspector of fisheries, and the Belleisle Board of Health. The quicker the matter is looked after, the sooner.

The Huns are resuming their submarine warfare. Probably they hope Woodrow Wilson is too busy watching Hughes to write "notes."

Kansas has set up a whipping post for wife-beaters, but what puzzles the Boston Transcript is, how can there be wife-beaters in a Prohibition State?

We are informed that there are no telephones at either fire station that may be reached by the public. When a fire occurs, as we have no signal boxes, it is necessary to hunt out a near-by telephone, call central, central then calls the police station and the police station finally notifies the firemen. This chain of four links constitutes a roundabout system that is at each successive stage subject to a certain amount of delay. Delays are dangerous when a fire is in progress. Would it not be well to install regular telephones at each fire hall and thus eliminate one step in this circuitous route? There are certain objections to having 'phones at the fire stations, but surely these are not as great as we suffer from under the present system. But if the long way round is to be retained as the safest road to the fire, then the city should notify everyone by advertising what is the proper method of sending in an alarm. As to this very necessary duty most citizens are resting in profound ignorance.

"I am here today," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his speech at Brome, Quebec, "to ask all who can go to take their place amongst those who are contending for the cause of civilization on the fields of France and Flanders.

"I especially ask my French-Canadian friends to do their part. There are men amongst them who tell them they must not enlist because they claim we have grievances in Ontario. Let me tell them that the grievances will be settled by the law courts, and that there are duties and obligations as well as rights, and those who want their rights recognized as citizens of the Empire must be prepared to do their duty to the full."

Admiral Sir Cyprian Bridge, after reading Sir John Jellicoe's report of the Battle of Jutland, compares the engagement, in strategy and results, with Quiberon, the Nile and Trafalgar. And yet the Admiralty's first announcement of the battle made it look like a defeat! That unfortunate impression has been completely dispelled. Jutland will be one of the famous names in British naval history.

Argentina is running a race with Canada. The last census just published fixes the population of the Argentine Republic at 7,883,278. The census of 1895 gave the population as 3,954,911, so that the records show almost a doubling of the inhabitants in the past twenty years. Buenos Ayres is a large and beautiful city with a population of 1,375,814, about half as much as all of Argentina had 20 years ago. Argentina is a progressive country, with good laws, civil and religious liberty, and a fertile soil. Canada has a strong competitor in this Republic in the markets of Europe.

Swiss despatches indicate that German manufacturers are demanding payment for machinery supplied to Switzerland in French francs, instead of German marks. When the citizens of a nation of the pretensions of Germany lose confidence in their coinage the financial conditions must indeed be bad.

Sir Robert Borden, and Hon. Frank Cochrane have been in New York looking for experts to handle Canada's railway problem. Why go to all this trouble and expense searching for foreigners when Hon. Col. John Wesley Allison, the famous patriot, who "saves millions" could be "seen" and got for the asking?

AFTER MANY DAYS.

I really am obliged to you for bringing back my book, it moves me much to look whereon I thought no more to look. I find me of the early time wherein 'twas lent to you. When life was young, and hope was fair, and this old book was new.

How well does memory recall the gift this volume wore. The day it first attracted me at Fitch and Billing's store; And also I remember how I could not buy, unless I practiced some economy in articles of dress.

Nor have I yet forgotten how my foolish heart beat higher, At owing what my cultured friends must certainly admire, And vividly I recollect you called around that day. Admired it, and borrowed it, and carried it away.

And now it comes to me again across the lapse of time, Wearing the somewhat battered look of those beyond their prime; O man, O book! The years go by and leave you both, alike! With faded color, worn insides—a weakness of the back.

Excuse these foolish tears, they come unbidden as I find, The finger marks—a silent proof of service to mankind. Old book, you need a rest—but ere you're laid upon the shelf, Just try to hang together, till I read you through myself.

Other Editors' Opinions

STRATFORD WAS THE TRIAL GROUND FOR THE SIR SAM HUGHES ISSUE.

"Unto Caesar thou hast appealed, and unto Caesar thou shalt go." Stratford was the Caesar to which Hon. W. J. Hanna and Hon. I. B. Lucas appealed on behalf of Sir Sam Hughes, K.C.B.

Stratford has sent nearly two thousand men to the front. If Sir Sam Hughes were the idol of the Canadian soldiers and their defenders Stratford would be Sir Sam Hughes' stronghold. F. Wellington Hay went to Stratford and challenged his opponents to make Sir Sam Hughes the issue. Hon. I. B. Lucas and Hon. W. J. Hanna accepted the challenge. The result of the polling shows that the truce of Sir Sam Hughes changed a Conservative majority of 638 into a pro-liquor, pro-Rowell, pro anything else except a pro-Hughes majority of 166. Hon. W. J. Hanna and Hon. I. B. Lucas appealed to Stratford. They invoked the great name of Sir Sam Hughes, K.C.B. Stratford answered the Lucas-Hanna campaign for the vindication of Sir Sam Hughes, K.C.B., with a Conservative loss of 744 votes.

The Sir Sam Hughes issue was given a trial trip in Stratford. The results of that trip are written in the change of 744 votes against the Conservative candidate. This change was mainly wrought by W. H. Heart's liquor legislation. This change was not averted by attempts "to rouse the fighting blood of the Conservatives" on behalf of Sir Sam Hughes, K.C.B. Stratford was invited to supply an answer to the critics of Sir Sam Hughes, K.C.B. Stratford's response to that demand should be studied by Ontario representatives of Conservative constituencies. The meaning of Stratford's indifference to Sir Sam Hughes, K.C.B., is not to be mistaken. The attitude of Sir Sam Hughes, the procedure of the Shell Committee, the performance of Hon. Col. J. Wesley Allison are milestones round the neck of the Conservative cause in this province. Sir Robert Borden has allowed himself to be reduced to the proportions of a cipher and a figure-head in his own Government. It is no pleasure to recognize the party that threaten Conservative candidates in Ontario at the next election. Sir Robert Borden's own lack of strength and leadership has promoted the growth of these parties. The liquor issue may have prevented a full and fair trial of the Sir Sam Hughes issue in Stratford. There will be no liquor issue in other Ontario constituencies. In these constituencies the Sir Sam Hughes Shell Committee, J. Wesley Allison, Ross rifle candidates will have to carry the load that proved too much for the standard-bearer whom Hon. W. J. Hanna and Hon. I. B. Lucas exhibited as the Sir Sam Hughes candidate in Stratford. Toronto Telegram (Conservative).

LEARN TO SWIM.

Good swimmers are drowned now and then, but most of the victims lose their lives because they are not able to swim. As between the swimmer and the non-swimmer the chances for escape in an emergency and get ten to one. The point of the important lesson is driven home with emphasis every summer, and still it apparently needs urging as much as it did twenty years ago. Most people seem to regard swimming not as an important accomplishment, but merely as an optional recreation, like golf, tennis, or china-painting. And yet any of us may be confronted at any time with a crisis that makes swimming an art of more importance for the moment than that of walking. The folly of the common neglect is heightened by the fact that it is an art as easily acquired as the ability to walk. And once acquired it is never lost. Learn to swim. It is one of the most important items in the equipment of personal preparedness for summer. Providence Journal.

GOOD RICH BLOOD MEANS GOOD HEALTH.

Just a Little More Rich, Red Blood Cures Most Ailments.

The lack of sufficient rich, red blood does not end merely in a pale complexion. It is much more serious. Bloodless people are tired, languid, run-down folk who do not enjoy life. Food does not nourish; there's indigestion, heart palpitation, headache, backache and nearly always nervousness. If this bloodlessness is neglected too long, a decline is sure to follow. Just a little more rich, red blood cures all these troubles. Then you have new health, new vitality and pleasure in life. To get more rich, red blood the remedy is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. No other medicine increases and enriches the blood so quickly or so surely. This is not a mere claim. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done this over and over again throughout why thousands of people always have a good word to say for this medicine. Miss Gertrude Haflner, Kingston, Ont., says: "About two years ago I was suffering greatly with anaemia, so much so that I had to give up my situation. I became so weak that I could scarcely walk without help. I had no ambition, no color, no appetite and was constantly troubled with headaches and dizzy spells. I was taking medicine from the doctor, but it did not do me a particle of good. One day a friend asked me if I had tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Though as the result of my condition I was greatly discouraged, I began the use of the Pills, and thanks to that good friend's advice after using a few boxes I began to feel much better. Under the continued use of the pills I gained in weight, my color came back and I grew gradually stronger. I looked so much better that people would ask me what I was taking and I had no hesitation in giving the credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I am so grateful for what this medicine has done for me that I will do all I can to extend its use."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

France Fighting for Honor and Life Decorates Families of Fallen Soldiers.

Paris, July 15.—The Central Empires can be under no illusion as to the possibility of reducing the allies to a confession of defeat," said President Poincare in an address today, "and of winning from their weariness a peace which for Prussian militarism would be only a strategem for hiding preparations for fresh aggression."

"They know well that the seas are closed to them, that they have lost their colonies; and they know equally well that the allies rely less on the geographical positions of their troops and their reserves, their capacity for resistance and offensive, and the moral temperament of their peoples and their armies."

"We are fighting not for honor alone, but for honor and life. To be or not to be—that is the painful problem imposed on the conscience of the great European nations."

"We are seeking entire restitution of our invaded provinces and those seized forty-six years ago, for reparation, for the violation of rights at the expense of France or her allies, and for the guarantees necessary for a definite safeguard of our national independence."

President Poincare's address was delivered in connection with the celebration of the French national holiday. The President bestowed decorations on the families of soldiers who have fallen at the front. He said the holiday this year was the occasion of an expression of the nation's gratitude to its sons who had died to save it. Turning toward the families of the dead soldiers, he said:

"To you, ladies, especially, I address the deep and respectful thanks of the country. You have shown what a fire of moral exaltation burns within you. You have proved once again that you are the sure guardians of our traditions and the inspirers of our great national virtues."

EDITOR A WAR PRISONER.

Lieut. F. S. Hubbs, formerly editor of the Hastings Star, is officially reported a prisoner of war in Saturday's casualty list.

There is no more effective vermifuge on the market than Miller's Worm Powders. They will not only clear the stomach and bowels of worms, but will prove a very serviceable medicine for children in regulating the infantile system and maintaining it in a healthy condition. There is nothing in their composition that will injure the most delicate stomach when directions are followed, and they can be given to children in the full assurance that they will utterly destroy all worms.

RASPBERRIES ON THE MARKET

Green Peas Offered—Strawberries Still Numerous—Hay is Lower.

Today's market bore every trace of summer. New produce and fruits were offered for sale, and the weather was intensely hot.

Green peas have arrived in goodly quantities. They sold at 20c per box, some few salespeople asking 25c.

The delicious raspberry has also made its advent at 20c per box. Currants are in full swing at 10c per box for large ones and 7c per box or 3 boxes for 25c for smaller quantities.

Cherries sell at three boxes for 25c. The old favorite, the strawberry, was still offered in fair quantities at the rate of 12 1/2c per box.

Butter is firm at last week's prices 30c to 31c per pound. Eggs have risen to 30c per dozen.

Old hay is down to 13c per ton on the market. Buyers are offering about $15 for baled hay. Business in baled hay is lagging now.

Hogs today are quoted at $11.25 and $15.00.

Headquarters of beef bring $18.50 per cwt.

What is a little weaker, oats are quoted at 55c wholesale.

The wool decline is becoming marked. A representative of a wholesale house was in the city this week and said: "Every time the British take a German trench wool goes down a cent." This pointed statement emphasizes the strong tendency of allied success towards reduction of wool prices.

EMPIRE UNITY.

At a luncheon given the other day, in honor of the Empire Parliamentary Association, the principal speech of welcome to the overseas delegates was delivered by Mr. Arthur Balfour, the First Lord of the Admiralty, who made some observations which are noteworthy, especially at this juncture, when some people appear to be busying themselves more about the future of the Empire than they are about winning the war. Mr. Balfour stands in the front rank of Old Country statesmen; he brings to the consideration of Imperial questions matured judgment and one of the keenest intellects among British public men. We quote a cabled summary of his speech:

"In welcoming you this afternoon," said Mr. Balfour, "we do so in the spirit of kinsmen, and not as spectators in the great drama, but as those bearing an all-important share in the work that is going on on every front. Before the war all of us discussed the future of the British Empire and analyzed the bonds which held together this great political organization that is without a parallel in history, and perhaps each man had asked himself whether, when the moment of stress or danger occurred, these bonds of common sympathy and common ideals, rather than of tyranny or law, would stand the stress of a great struggle. All doubts, however, have been dispelled.

"The response of the Dominions forms one of the marvels of history, one which the Empire historian of the future will look back upon with pride that no familiarity can stale. Canada, Australia and New Zealand, without the calculations of ingenious theoretical and political writers, have sent us of their best in a great joint effort to maintain the ideal of freedom and liberty, which is the proud boast of our race, and they have come without persuasion or pressure."

Touching upon the future constitutional relations of the Empire, Mr. Balfour said: "I do not ask myself whether it would be wise or easy to modify the relations between the various parts of the Empire. I look forward to the problem, with absolute confidence, whether we change it or leave it. As it is, this fact always remains; that we are bound fundamentally and essentially, because we enjoy the same common ideal of liberty and freedom, and the same spirit of law and order, and we are determined that no nation shall break these bonds, however well organized they may be. After two years of terrific efforts, we shall go forward with indomitable will and confidence until we reach final triumph."

Mr. Balfour is by long odds the leading Unionist of the day, yet he has never lent countenance, much less support, to the little group of Unionists in the Old Country, who were constantly preaching blue ruin about the future of the Empire, and who were trying to persuade their fellow Britons, at home and overseas, that the Empire would go to smash unless it were bound together by protectionist tariffs, or were subject to some sort of central organization in London. Neither the one view nor the other has ever commanded much support overseas, and up to this time it has failed to win more than a minority support in the Old Country.

Mr. Balfour very truly says that Empire unity has stood the stress of the greatest struggle in the history of the world, and if there were any doubts as to what would happen in that contingency, all doubts have been dispelled. We have this magnificent spectacle of Imperial unity, as Mr. Balfour says, "without the calculations of ingenious, theoretical and political writers." All portions of the Empire have freely united in defence of the ideal of freedom and liberty without persuasion or pressure of any kind.

Mr. Balfour, we think, makes it clear in the speech which he made to the Overseas delegates that he, at all events, is not eager to modify or change the present relations, and this intimation from a statesman of such distinction and before such a gathering is, we believe, of the greatest significance. Undoubtedly, the question of the organization of the Empire will come up for discussion at the close of the war. But it is greatly to be doubted that any arrangement can be arrived at which will involve the surrender of any of the liberty of action which the great, free, self-governing Dominions now enjoy. The war has changed many things; it has not changed the basis of freedom upon which our Empire has been built up, and which has proved so marvellously successful during the present contest. But for the moment this is a question which must be left to the future. Our business now is to win the war. It will be time enough to debate the question of reorganization of the Empire when the war is over, and victory crowns our arms.

ELIMINATING THE DRUMMER.

The head of a big commercial house, who backs his theory by practice, says that the day of the travelling salesman is past. And he makes an impressive argument for the use of advertising, by wholesalers and retailers alike.

Advertising is more satisfactory than the old method of personal solicitation, he says, because it costs less and sells more goods. Much advertising goes to waste, no doubt; but the travelling salesman system is much more wasteful of money and time.

Moreover, the salesman's salary and expenses "add to the cost of the goods without adding to its value or selling qualities." Advertising, while it is making immediate sales, does far more to establish goods as standard articles and create permanent value.

Goods sold by advertising are sold on their merits, whereas goods sold by a drummer may be sold only through personal appeal, which is local and transient.

The salesman sometimes uses questionable methods to sell. The advertiser doesn't dare to. "Advertising is virtually a guarantee in bold, unchanging type."

The drummer is a middleman, and the evolution of business is eliminating middlemen.

"The economy and efficiency of the printed word," he says, "need no eulogy from me. Retailers recognize their need of the daily newspapers by their increasing use of them."

"Things were different once upon a time before the railroads turned farms into cities. Then the original retailers were traders, and carried their goods cross-country seeking out buyers one at a time. Now the retailer draws the customers to his store in crowds, and advertising is the magnet. Representative traders are very particular about the goods they advertise, very careful as to the exactness of their printed word. So are representative wholesalers. Buyers know this. That is why they are paying such careful attention to the advertisements they see in the papers."

THE COUNTRY HOTEL.

An association of small hotel keepers, recognizing that their business was not paying as it should asked a specialist to diagnose their trouble. And the specialist, after looking over the situation, laid down for them a set of rules of which this is the first:

"Do not try to copy the elaborate bill of fare of city hotels and restaurants. Simple food nicely prepared and served cleanly in an attractive place will be appreciated by everyone."

He hit the nail on the head. The chief reason for the lapse of popularity of the country hotel is that it has been aping the city hotel. It has been pretending to give patrons the same menus they would get in the first-class metropolitan hotels, although it lacks the necessary equipment, staff and materials. And every time it fails with an intelligent and experienced patron, it makes an enemy where it sought to make a friend.

It is all the more absurd because the patrons of the country hotels don't expect elaborate bills of fare and don't want them. What they expect in the country or the small town is plain, wholesome, old fashioned cooking, served neatly and pleasantly, without artificial pretension. And the landlord who will make up his mind to serve such meals, and will go about it intelligently, will not have any complaints to make about profits. His restaurant may be hidden in mountains or the woods or the desert, but the travelling public will find and patronize it.

"TINO'S" WINGS CLIPPED.

Evidently, the Entente Powers have silenced the Greek fire in the rear. They have compelled the Hellenic Government's submission to a rather drastic programme of correction of its recent hostile tendencies. The Greek army is to be sent home, and a really neutral Cabinet installed. Police functionaries who have been doing the Germans' work are to be dismissed. Above all, there is to be a new parliamentary election, when matters have become quiet after the demobilization; and when the new Parliament comes back it is to have sway, and not be dragged out of existence by the King. The acceptance of the plan has been enforced by the aid of the Allied fleet before the Piraeus.

What King Constantine thinks about this pressure upon him has not been disclosed, but we have the word of Agamemnon Schlemann, the Greek statesman who is the son of a German scientist, that it means the renunciation of Greek sovereignty. But, as the Boston Transcript suggests, was not Greek sovereignty really renounced when the nation permitted the leader of an overwhelming majority in Parliament to be kicked out by a King in uniform? The instrument of any constitutional country's sovereignty is its Parliament, and the Entente Powers may with much force maintain that, by providing for a new parliamentary election, they are really restoring Greek sovereignty. Moreover the permission accorded the Bulgarian commander to occupy Greek forts was a flat contradiction of sovereignty. "If they can compel the Greek King to respect his own people's rights the Entente Powers will do a good service to the proper national authority."

STRIPPING ENGLAND OF HER FORESTS.

Not even in the days of the Armada and the wooden walls of England was there such a tree felling in Great Britain as is now going on there. In every wood the sound of the axe and the saw can be heard, and lumber camps as picturesque as any on the Ottawa are to be found as far apart as the Scotch fir woods and the Windsor and New Forests, where Canadian lumbermen are working. In addition to the Canadians who were taken over for this work, Irish and Portuguese laborers were secured as well. By an Order-in-Council under the Defence of the Realm Act, the committee having charge of the work has been empowered to commandeer all the timber resources of the country, but so far their action has been limited to negotiation with the landowners, who have met them most fairly. The step was rendered necessary by the fact that the Government had no large supply under its own control.

In addition to the timber that is being supplied from the felling of British forces, six or seven million cubic feet of timber are being imported weekly. Had the German submarine campaign proved more successful, and timber imports been rendered impossible, there would have been necessary a wholesale destruction of British forests which would have laid England bare for a generation.

COALING PORTS OF THE WORLD.

According to an article in Harper's Magazine, there are about one hundred and forty coaling ports scattered over the seven seas, from Panama, lying in strategic position at the Canal entrance, to the remote South Sea Island port of Apia, but there are none so essential to shipping, and none so celebrated on all the water-fronts of the world as Gibraltar, Port Said, Colombo, Singapore, and Nagasaki, on the main trade routes to the Orient. For ships London bound on the long, eleven-thousand-mile voyage from the Far East, necessary stops are regularly made at these ports by both cross-sea liners and plodding cargo-carriers.

Port Said was unheard of, and Nagasaki was unvisited by the seafaring men of the full-siged age, for trade routes and ships have changed since the tea-clipper left Whampoa and made London without calling at a port. The present-day mail steamer, making eighteen knots an hour, is unable to carry sufficient coal for an eleven-thousand-mile passage without renewing the supply in way ports; and the modern tramp steamer, built to carry as much cargo as can be stowed, and enough coal to drive the engines from one coaling port to the next, is in the same predicament. Huge supplies of coal are kept in all these ports for the needs of arriving shipping. At Port Said, for instance, a million tons of coal are landed each year from colliers, which daily arrive from England to supply the shipping which passes through the Suez Canal.

At a time when it behooves us all to be saving, the announcement that we can obtain $3 per thousand for our champagne corks is important.

"Steady progress in the face of stubborn opposition," is the word from British Headquarters. That means that Sir Douglas Haig is pushing on through hard fighting.

It is time for Li Hung Chang to turn over in his grave. An organization of young Chinamen has selected an Irishman named O'Donnell for its political director.

And now the Prussian bullies find it necessary to mass their mightiest forces to stem the British attack. The "contemptible little army" has given the Huns the fright of their lives. And the worst is yet to come.

The tone of the German official reports and still more of the German press comments reveals how seriously the situation on the Western front is regarded in the Fatherland. If the Huns are not yet on the run the offensive has passed from them, and that is the first stage of defeat.

Since Germany refuses to inform the United States in what manner the submarine pirate who torpedoed the Sussex was "appropriately punished," a sense of obligation compels the Boston Transcript to announce that the scoundrel was publicly kissed on both cheeks, by Von Bethmann-Hollweg.

Premier Bowser has at last mustered courage to take the plunge in British Columbia. He has announced that the Provincial Elections will be held on September 14th. Nomination Day will be August 4th. According to recent legislation, six weeks must elapse between nomination and polling days.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will spend the summer months in promoting recruiting. He has planned tours in both Ontario and Quebec. The premier Canadian always leads the way.

The high water this season has played havoc with Victoria Park as a resort. Panter's Park, on the other hand is high and dry, but it is covered with an abundant hay crop that does not improve its appearance, and there are few seats for the wayfarer. Would suggest the harvesting of the hay while the weather is favorable and the borrowing of some benches from Victoria until the subsidence of the flood.

A feature of the recent fighting on the Somme has been the use of French cavalry for the first time in more than twenty months. Several detachments were used in short charges during the advance over the open ground, after the Germans had lost the second line. But the principal work of the cavalry, which was successfully carried out, was the cutting of the railway communications between Peronne and Chaulnes.

Religion has been bankrupted by the war in Europe, according to some pessimists; others say that the war has meant a great wave of mysticism that at times seems mere superstition. But Collier's Weekly says that the best religious war news it has seen is summed up in two sentences found in the Rev. W. W. Holdsworth's "Impressions of a Hospital Chaplain" in the "Contemporary Review":

A rabbi serving as a chaplain in Flanders was one day asked by a dying French soldier to unbuckle his tunic and to hold the crucifix he was wearing so that in his last moments his eyes might rest upon that symbol of love unto death. With a fine humanity the Jew held up for the comfort of the dying man that which stood for the condemnation of his own people. "We wish all our Know-Nothing friends," says Collier's "might note this paragraph!"

Boise, the capital of Idaho, is the only city in the world to use natural hot water to supply heat to houses, public buildings and business blocks. Water at a temperature of 171 degrees F. comes from wells in the low foothills of the Boise mountains just outside the city, and for twenty-five years it has all been used for heating purposes.

There are two wells, each eighteen inches in diameter and four hundred feet deep. The natural flow was only 800,000 gallons a day. Centrifugal pumps have increased the supply to 1,250,000 gallons every day. The water is pumped into a tank or reservoir, and thence distributed to the users in the city. One hundred and thirty-nine buildings use it for all purposes, including heat, and one hundred other buildings use it for bathing, washing and cooking purposes.

Engineers have tried to increase the flow of water, and they think that if they could tap the main subterranean stream they would get enough hot water to supply all the needs of the city. The heat is so intense that men can work only eighteen feet below the surface, and then only in ten-minute shifts.

These hot springs were well known by the Indians, and they made the spot where Boise now stands a sort of winter resort for the Snake and Bannock tribes. That explains the great Indian burying grounds that are found in the hills near Boise.

THE LONG DAY'S CLOSE.

"The long day draweth to a close,"
Yet ere its end
We still have time to pluck a rose
To give a friend.

There yet is time, ere drops the sun
Below the west,
To speak a cheering word to one
By fear oppress:—

Time yet for many a little deed
Of kindness,
To help our brothers in their need;
Or soothe and bless.

'Twill seem perhaps we cannot spare
From our own woe
Time to relieve another's care:
Believe not so!

We who have suffered should be strong
To rise above
Our pain and grief; to sing a song,
To work, to love;—
That whose falters on Life's road
May see and hear,
And bear his seeming load
With freshened cheer.

So may our day draw to its close;
Life's sunset gun
Calling us to well earned repose.
And God's "well done!"
—Willis E. Bloomfield, in "Verses and Parables."

NORTH PERTH AND ITS LESSON FOR THE ONTARIO AND OTTAWA GOVERNMENTS.

It is idle to disguise the fact that the result of the election in North Perth is decidedly disappointing or to escape the conclusion that it is a distinct blow to the Government. To be sure we may be told by the hide-bound party newspapers that there is no significance in the result, but following upon other reversals we are sorry to say we cannot agree with this complacent and self-satisfied attitude. The real facts are that whatever the reason, things are going against the Government and it may be just as well for the Government, therefore, to sit up and take notice and proceed to examine itself from within. So far as The Standard is concerned it does not profess to be able to explain why the tide seems to be running against the Government, but that it is running in that direction is very clear.

Why the Government was so short-sighted as to permit the exportation of nickle and tin in a measure contribute to the discomfort of the Allies and to the comfort of the Germans it is difficult to understand. This was a most short-sighted policy, as best proof of which may be cited the fact that the German submarine boat which has just been landed in the States is to carry back home a part of her cargo a generous supply of nickle, which, to quote a despatch, is "Sorely needed by the German army." In view of the fact that Ontario practically controls the nickle output of the world, it is clear that this very nickle will be coming from Ontario—as it should not have come.

Perhaps, too, if the Government had not been so insistent in backing up the discredited Falls in Peel the cumulative effect at the present time would not have been so great.

However, all these things can of themselves not explain the tremendous overthrow in North Perth. There is something deeper and beyond, and, as we say, it will be well, therefore, for the Provincial Government to take the advice of its real friends instead of its smug, kowtowing friends, and to make more than a casual examination of itself and of its own inner condition. Perhaps if a strong man or two extra were injected into the Cabinet in the stead of one or two of the men now there, there might be a different story. Premier Hearst is a very able and very clean and a very honorable man and deserves all the support of the Government, and if he will shake up his Cabinet and replace weak men like Hon. Dr. Frye and Hon. Mr. Duff by strong men he would find his position decidedly strengthened. We, in Eastern Ontario, for example, have not forgotten Dr. Frye's spineless position on bi-lingualism when first that question was brought up, which itself was enough to damn him; while as for Mr. Duff he is too colorless a character to add strength to any administration.

And The Standard says all this because of its profound respect and admiration for Premier Hearst and for his Government generally and in the belief that candid criticism at this time will be much better than post mortems held when the Government is out of power, as it certainly will be if the tide keeps running so strongly against it as it now is doing.

Which leads parenthetically to this final remark that perhaps if the Ottawa Government were to listen to some of the candid friends instead of bending the ear so willingly to the sycophants and toadies who use governments only in the end to misuse them, the Ottawa administration also would be in a stronger position than it is today. There is no Conservative who is really and honestly a Conservative, but must admit that the Ottawa Government also needs strengthening, and at the moment is rather weaker than stronger than it was some months ago in the public esteem. The whitened sepulchres in the party will of course shudder at this reasonable declaration; but it is the cold truth nevertheless.

Despite the belief of some Conservative leaders it was not anti-reciprocity that put the Conservative party in power in the last election—and if it is to stay in power it will not be anti-reciprocity that will keep it there. Perhaps this truth were allowed to sink home to the hearts and the minds of some of the leaders it might in due season bear good fruit.—Kingston Standard (Conservative.)

APTAIN E. D. O'FLYNN WELCOMED HOME FROM FRONT SATURDAY

Citizens of Belleville Greeted Returned Officer Saturday Afternoon—Same at Depot—Procession of Automobiles—Captain Thanks the Public.

No more fitting honor could have been paid a returned hero of the great war than which was tendered by the citizens of Belleville to Captain Edmund O'Flynn, adjutant of the famous Second Battalion, which has fought in every engagement in which the First Canadian Contingent has been engaged since February, 1915. The time of his arrival was not known until late on Saturday morning as no one knew until Friday night that he had left Halifax. When the news was secured from Montreal that the officer would reach Belleville at three o'clock in the afternoon by the Grand Trunk, the information was spread throughout the city by means of handbills, and by word of mouth, until at noon almost every one knew that the Captain would be in his native city in the afternoon. Merchants put up flags in front of their shops and automobiles by the score were decorated with flags. By two-thirty the streets bore a festive appearance with the colors of the flags, the crush of motor vehicles and the crowds on the walks.

Throng in Station Yard. The G.T.R. yard was a scene when the 'International' pulled in from the east. It was crowded with soldiers returning from Barriefield camp on leave and with men home on furlough from the front. With Captain O'Flynn was his father, Mr. F. E. O'Flynn who had got on the train at Napanee and there had the pleasure of meeting his gallant son. As the Captain stepped from the platform of his coach, he was met by scores of willing hands who raised him aloft and carried him shoulder high through the dense throng of people all anxious to grasp his hand and say a word to the young soldier who had lived unscathed in the zone of fire for nearly eighteen months until he suffered shell shock in the early part of June. War had not wrought the ravages upon his countenance one would have expected for his face was still the genial smile for every body which marked him as a boy in Belleville, as a young lawyer and as an alderman. He was embraced by his closest relatives and cheered by friends, who were so numerous that the triumph to the car of Mr. E. Guss Fortier, K.C.M.P., which had been selected for him to ride in and decorated with a Canadian flag, was a slow march. As soon as the returned officer had taken his seat beside his mother and Mrs. Porter, and near his father, a procession was formed. The I.O.O.F. band which had struck up patriotic airs and the parade started off. Hundreds of automobiles were lined up and proceeded along Station, Mill, Front and Bridge streets. The entire route was crowded with cheering citizens, whose greetings and plaudits the Captain acknowledged in his graceful manner.

Scene at the Home. The procession proceeded directly to Mr. F. E. O'Flynn's residence, 148 Bridge Street. The old home which had seen the soldier son leave in August, 1914, for the battle line, bore a festive appearance, and was rich in gala attire of bunting and flags. When Captain O'Flynn stepped from the car he was met by a berry of young lady friends who only allowed him to pass after he had as a soldier, greeted them in the approved military fashion of Europe. The citizens who crowded the street before the house, the lawns and the verandah, cheered as he stepped into his paternal home and awaited with eagerness some message from the "Captain." The band played "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and "We won't go home until Morning." Captain O'Flynn, his father, Mayor Ketcheson and Mrs. Porter and a few others went up stairs and appeared on the balcony. The reappearance of the soldier was the occasion of fresh cheering.

Captain Appreciates Reception. "Friends, I cannot tell you how much I appreciate your kindness today," said the Captain. "I won't say it was unlooked for, because any one who knows Belleville, is aware of the kindly feelings her citizens entertain for one another. This welcome is very much appreciated." He hoped his friends would not ask him to make a speech as he was tired after his long journey.

"Hurrah for Ed" somebody shouted and everybody cheered. "I want to thank you all for the way in which you have welcomed home one of our Belleville boys," declared Mayor Ketcheson. "If we have quiet homes, it is just because of the heroism of such men as Capt. O'Flynn. There is nothing that is too good in Belleville for him."

Mr. F. E. O'Flynn Speaks. With deep feeling, Mr. F. E. O'Flynn, father of Captain O'Flynn expressed his appreciation of the welcome and the kindness of the citizens of Belleville to him and his family while his son had been away. The Captain was weary after his long journey. He had gained 16 pounds in coming across. It had been his intention to slip into town without notice but Mayor Ketcheson had insisted upon knowing when he would arrive. Mr. O'Flynn paid his tribute to the townsfolk for their loving expressions for the Captain and Mrs. O'Flynn and himself in the days gone by. "It has touched my Irish heart. This will never be forgotten. I only hope that in days to come we shall find that the work done by the boys shall not have been in vain. Let us not forget those who had loved ones who have given their lives." Several of the bereaved had taken part in the welcome to his son. They should have the public's deepest sympathy. In closing Mr. O'Flynn hoped the bond between his family and the citizens of Belleville would continue until the last knell is sounded.

Three cheers for the boy's mother and the crowd applauded. The gathering then dispersed. A bouquet of flowers was presented to the Captain by the young ladies of the Rainbow Club. Miss Ida Parker, granddaughter of Mrs. C. J. Powell, also presented a magnificent bouquet. A large number of others also gave Captain O'Flynn flowers.

Captain O'Flynn is on leave until September. He is the last officer of the Second Battalion. He is looking well, although he is not so fleshy as he was when he left Belleville two years ago. He says he is feeling excellent. He has not much to say of the war, so much having been already written and said about it. The captain has brought good tidings to many Belleville parents of the noble service and good health of their sons on the firing line.

The past two days have been very busy to him, as he has so many friends, all of whom are glad to shake his hand again. Captain O'Flynn left at ten o'clock this morning for Picton, driving his motor himself. He has doffed his uniform and appears in mufti. By the way it might be noted that little Miss Ida Parker, who presented Captain O'Flynn with a bouquet of flowers, has a large number of relatives at the front, her father and three uncles, and on her grandmother's side about twenty-seven relatives from the highest to the lowest.

Communication. Barriefield Camp, July 15, 1916. Editor, Ontario: I see by Kingston "Standard" that someone signing themselves "Reader" wrote a letter to the "Ontario" against the 155th Battalion coming up to Belleville for presentation of colors. I just wish sir, that "Reader" could have heard the indignant exclamations of the men of the 155th when they read the article. As Kingston people are anything but partial to soldiers, I am inclined to think it emanated from there, and it is a great pity the camp was not situated in a locality where it would be better appreciated, if for nothing else than the vast sum of money expended by the soldiers.

As far as the expense of coming up is concerned, I don't believe there is a man in the regiment who would not be heartily willing to contribute towards it and I have heard several express themselves to that effect. The 109th go to Lindsay, the 93rd to Peterboro, and I suppose Kingston will have the 146th up from Valcartier. Anyway Mr. Editor, we want to come to beautiful dear old Belleville for this event and nowhere else. The men will all spend more or less while here and it will be a boost instead of a knock. Thanking you for space in your greatly valued paper.

Sincerely yours, Private 155th. P.S.—Just a word of appreciation on behalf of the officers of 155th. The men are unanimous in the opinion that from Col. Adams down, there are none better in any regiment.

A Prime Dressing for Wounds.—In some factories and work-shops carbolic acid is kept for use in suturing wounds and cuts sustained by the workmen. Far better to keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It is just as quick in action and does not scar the skin or burn the flesh. There is no other Oil that has its curative qualities.

With deep feeling, Mr. F. E. O'Flynn, father of Captain O'Flynn expressed his appreciation of the welcome and the kindness of the citizens of Belleville to him and his family while his son had been away. The Captain was weary after his long journey. He had gained 16 pounds in coming across. It had been his intention to slip into town without notice but Mayor Ketcheson had insisted upon knowing when he would arrive. Mr. O'Flynn paid his tribute to the townsfolk for their loving expressions for the Captain and Mrs. O'Flynn and himself in the days gone by. "It has touched my Irish heart. This will never be forgotten. I only hope that in days to come we shall find that the work done by the boys shall not have been in vain. Let us not forget those who had loved ones who have given their lives." Several of the bereaved had taken part in the welcome to his son. They should have the public's deepest sympathy. In closing Mr. O'Flynn hoped the bond between his family and the citizens of Belleville would continue until the last knell is sounded.

London, Ont., July 17.—William J. B. Powney, a baker, formerly of Belleville, Toronto, Guelph and London, who enlisted under the name of Edward Barlett in the 185th (Middlesex) battalion, was convicted of bigamy by Police Magistrate Judd on Friday. Powney protested that he was not the man. He married Ada Walker in Guelph in his own name, and, deserting her, came to London, where after a brief acquaintance, he wedded Miss Rosanna Pinkham. Both weddings were in 1915. The second wife found receipts from the Toronto General Hospital and a Powney-Walker wedding certificate in his pants pockets, and laid the complaint which brought about his conviction. He is to be sentenced this week.

MAN WANTED IN PICTON UNDER ARREST. Alleged That Russell Davis Neglected to Support Wife and Family. At the request of the Picton police, Constable Samuel Arnold early on Friday night placed under arrest Russell Davis, about fifty years of age, at Kingston. It is alleged that he has neglected to support his wife and family. He is being held here, pending the arrival of a police constable from Picton. Davis has been residing in Kingston for several weeks, and had been boarding at Beestack Jack's restaurant on Brook street—Kingston Whig.

THE OIL ON OUR STREETS. Two lonely akunks by the wayside sat as the oiling cart went by. It made an odor far from good. And a tear came in one's eye. "Oh why do you weep?" asked his anxious friend. "Why do you cry and quake?" "Because that smell," said the other skunk, "is like what mother used to make." —Foster Ave.

KAISER AT SOMME BATTLE FRONT. AMSTERDAM, July 17.—An official telegram from Berlin says Emperor William of Germany is now in the Somme battle sector.

There is no more effective vermifuge on the market than Miller's Worm Powders. They will not only clear the stomach and bowels of worms, but will prove a very serviceable medicine for children in regulating the infantile system and maintaining it in a healthy condition. There is nothing in their composition that will injure the most delicate stomach when directions are followed, and they can be given to children in the full assurance that they will utterly destroy all worms.

RUSSIAN OFFENSIVE CAUSES SHAKE-UP IN EASTERN COMMANDS. NEW YORK, July 17.—A Berlin cable to the World says: "Private advices from Vienna report that as a result of the Russian offensive, something akin to a shake-up in the Austro-Hungarian army commands. Von Hindenburg is placed in command of the entire eastern front."

TERRIBLE FLOODS IN CAROLINA. WASHINGTON, July 17.—The Southern Railroad today practically suspended traffic south of Washington because of floods in North and South Carolina. The loss so far is ten millions in property, five persons dead and hundreds injured.

Molybdenum Industry Coming to Renfrew

Concentrator is Already under Construction of 100 Tons Daily Capacity.

Renfrew, July 18.—Work has been begun upon the construction of a molybdenum concentrator in Renfrew by the International Molybdenum Company, Limited, whose President is J. L. Murray, and Secretary-Treasurer Herbert A. Jordan, both of Renfrew. One of the shareholders is M. J. O'Brien, the well-known contractor and capitalist. The concentrator will have a capacity of 100 tons per day, and draw its supply of ore from mines at Mount St. Patrick, Enterprise, Wakefield and Sudbury. The concentrator product will be sent to a refinery at Orillia, but a refinery will be established here as soon as Renfrew can furnish the company with sufficient electrical energy. The Town Council is to ask the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board for permission to borrow money for the development of power at Castleford and for the purchase of a second power site a few miles farther up the Bonnechere River.

Convicted of Bigamy. W. J. B. Powney Married Guelph and London Young Women. London, Ont., July 17.—William J. B. Powney, a baker, formerly of Belleville, Toronto, Guelph and London, who enlisted under the name of Edward Barlett in the 185th (Middlesex) battalion, was convicted of bigamy by Police Magistrate Judd on Friday. Powney protested that he was not the man. He married Ada Walker in Guelph in his own name, and, deserting her, came to London, where after a brief acquaintance, he wedded Miss Rosanna Pinkham. ROBERT WARWICK AT GRIFFIN'S TOMORROW

By popular request of an appreciative public, the management of Griffin's opera house, announce the appearance here tomorrow and Thursday evening of the popular dramatic star, Robert Warwick in a stirring 5 part Shubert photodrama entitled,—"The Flash of an Emerald," the story is as follows: Lucius Waldeck (Robert Warwick) is a social vulture, preying on his friends and diverting suspicion by his gentlemanly graciousness. In a New York hotel lobby, he is attracted by the porter carrying in a sickly child. While thus engrossed, he sees a magnificent emerald pinned in the dress of the child's grandmother. He determines to possess the jewel. Mrs. Weston has gone to St. Ann de Beauspre, near Quebec, Canada, in order to appeal to St. Ann for the recovery of her granddaughter, at the time of the visit of pilgrims. Waldeck follows Waldeck locates Mrs. Weston who is still wearing her emerald. That night he crawls up over the roof of the stable and gained admission to Mrs. Weston's rooms. He chloroforms Mrs. Weston and repeats the same operation with the child and the maid. Then he secures the emerald. Later he passes himself off as a secret agent of the Russian revolutionists. He insinuates himself into the good graces of two ladies, to one of whom he presents the emerald. The lady is the daughter of the woman from whom he stole the jewel. Indirectly this leads to his undoing, and he commits suicide.

The part is a great one and Mr. Warwick does it the fullest justice. Besides the above special 5 part offering, 3 other selected comedies and dramas will also be exhibited.

Wedding Bells

DILLEN--DONOGHUE

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Michael's church at 8.30 this morning by the Rev. Father Hyland assisted by Jesuit Father Lally, when Nellie Helen, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donoghue was united in marriage to J. M. Dillen of Toronto. The bride looked charming in a gown of white silk crepe de chine trimmed with nixon and baby Irish lace, with picture hat to match, carrying pink and white roses. She was assisted by Miss Maggie Latchford, who wore white georgette crepe with black lace hat. The groom was assisted by his brother, Joseph Dillen, of Toronto. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the bride's residence, Octavia street, where a tasty repast was partaken of. The happy couple left on the flyer for Toronto, Hamilton, Niagara Falls and Buffalo. On their return they will take up their residence in Toronto. Their many friends wish for them a long and happy wedded life. There were many relatives present from Toronto, Northampton, Mass., Trenton, and Read, Ont.

A WOMAN'S PROBLEM AT PALACE TONIGHT

The celebrated Universal emotional star, Cleo Madison, is featured in "Her Bitter Cup," a 5 part Red Feather photoplay which will be shown at the Palace Theater tonight and Tuesday, matinee and night. "Her Bitter Cup" is the story of a woman's sacrifice for her people—the poor and lowly. It contains thrilling and intensely gripping scenes, shows a rescue from a burning factory and the realistic dream of a dope fiend wherein he sacrifices the woman he loves. This last is one of the most daring scenes ever filmed. It has been handled in a big reverential way. The picture was directed by Cleo Madison who also plays the leading role, and is an unusually distinctive sort of photoplay. In addition to the above a part offering three new and sparkling comedies will also be exhibited.

Subscribers to the WOMEN'S MAGAZINE can obtain them at GREEN'S where you can subscribe for any Magazine or Paper published and save trouble and expense of writing.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING
During the severe electrical storm on Sunday morning last a building on the farm of Mr. Geo. F. Purdy, about a mile north of Colborne, was struck by lightning and burned, together with the contents which included eight pure bred Tamworth pigs, a quantity of hay, three cutters and a number of farm implements.

Mr. Purdy has sustained a serious loss as there was only a limited amount of insurance.—Enterprise.

HOTEL MANAGERS MOVE.
Renfrew, July 17.—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Colson left here today for Peterborough where they are to jointly manage the Oriental Hotel. They have been here for the past two years, and much of the good reputation which Renfrew's fine temperance house enjoys is due to their excellent management. Before leaving they were presented with gifts by the hotel staff and by the directors of the Renfrew Hotel Company.

NEWS ITEM
Mr. T. H. Race, the Field Secretary of the National Sanitarium Association, will give a lecture in the Y.M.C.A., Belleville, on Sunday evening, the 18th instant, at 8.30 p.m. (after church services) on the subject of Tuberculosis, its nature, treatment and prevention, illustrated with instructive lantern views.

Mr. Race is an old journalist, a traveller of world-wide experience, and a speaker of unusual ability. It is worth while hearing him on this score, known as the "Great White Plague," besides side lights on the present war situation.

Only a collection taken for the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives.

SOLDIER LOOKED AFTER TWO DRUNKS.
In a bar-room brawl at Cobourg on Wednesday in which two civilian drunks attempted to beat up a husky looking soldier, the latter gave both drunks a beating up. One he trimmed with his fists, and the other was hit over the head by the butt-end of a bayonet, inflicting a nasty scalp wound.

MILITARY NOTES.

The 155th Battalion had a fourteen-mile parade on Saturday at Barriefield.

The 155th brass band are in Belleville on leave until Thursday of this week.

Lieut.-Col. Adams of the 155th Battalion knows how to deal with the question of "farm furloughs". The Colonel tries to recruit the farmer whomsoever into the lines for the 155th, and he soon makes himself scarce.

The 155th battalion paraded for pay Friday morning, and came up to the camp bank from their lines with band and bugle band playing, and the men marching behind with erect heads and strong, steady steps. It was the first time any in camp had seen a battalion come up to the pay office in such splendid style. There is some class to the Belleville battalion.

Lieut.-Col. Putman of the 155th battalion returned to camp Friday after an absence of a month in British Columbia.

Farmers who are seeking help to harvest the hay are unwilling to take men who are being discharged each day for minor physical defects. They want the pick of the camp.

Capt. Dodds, chaplain of the 155th Battalion, has returned to camp, after attending a very grand wedding in the north country.

The band of the 155th gave the concert program in Macdonald-park Friday evening.

The School of Signalling tried out a large kite which they built yesterday morning. It is intended to use this kite for carrying an aerial high into the air so as to try and keep in touch with the camp wireless station on each of the weekly routes marches.

The 155th battalion and the 156th battalion had their pull in the tug-of-war contest for the finals in the W. J. Fair trophy. The test of strength between the two battalions resulted in the 155th battalion winning two pulls out of three, and the 156th battalion winning one pull. The 155th battalion has a good team but they were beaten by a better team.

The final pull for the Fair trophy will now be between the 155th battalion and the winning team of the

"12TH OF JULY" AT TRENTON MANY LODGES IN GRAND WALK

Thousands of Visitors in Town—Parade to Firemen's Park— Address by Orangemen—Recruiting Appeal By Capt. (Rev) W. G. Clarke—Notes of the Day.

(From Thursday's Daily)

Ideal weather with the sun pouring down his brightest rays, a riot of colors, dear to the hearts of Orangemen, a large concourse of the "Protestant Boys" of this district, a grand Orange walk, which was witnessed by thousands of Trentonians and visitors, and a short program of speeches at Firemen's park, were all features of the grand Orange demonstration which was held in Trenton yesterday. The town put on its gayest apparel, banners were flung across the street, all of patriotic significance with words such as "Canada with the Empire," and "We Remember Britons in the Trenches." The Trenton Orangemen had made every possible arrangement for the reception and accommodation of the visiting lodges. Every train brought in its quota of Orangemen, Black Knights, "Protestant Boys" and True Blues with their friends. By noon the town was alive with colors, white and scarlet shirts were everywhere in evidence, badges and sashes were proudly worn; shrill pipes were turning out Protestant airs and the air was deafening with the beating of drums; the thousands of people swayed along the walks in the main portion of the town; dining halls, restaurants, and hotel parlors experienced the crushing effects of a big crowd as the people sought lunch. Everybody was happy, although handkerchiefs were eyed with a slight popping of perspiration. Catholics and Protestants were in the throng. Belleville Orangemen were present in very large numbers. Every train from Belleville had taken out a good sized crowd of celebrants, and among the Orangemen were many of their good natured happy Roman Catholic friends, who were out to enjoy the proceedings.

"The Orange Walk"

About one-thirty o'clock the Orange parade was formed by the three marshals of the day, on the west side of the river. The Protestant Boys had a long march ahead of them. Their route lay over the new steel bridge to East Trenton. After a detour they came back up Dundas street and proceeded to Firemen's Park. The route was lined with thousands of cheering spectators. First came the marshals and the Pipe Band of Belleville led by Pipe Major Johnstone. Some thirty lodges were represented, the following carrying banners:—

Banners in the "Procession"

It is estimated that there were about fifteen or eighteen hundred men in the "walk."

Speaking at the Park

W. Bro. R. J. Richardson, Master of Trenton L.O.L. 240, called the County Masters and Masters in the room of the Park and introduced Ex-Mayor Bro. Dr. Jacques of Trenton as the chairman. It is a fact that there was an entire lack of political speakers on the platform, there being no members of parliament in evidence. Mr. E. Guss Porter, K.C., M.P., it was announced was prevented from attending by a sprain of his ankle and Mr. J. W. Johnson, M.P.P. was not present.

Dr. Jacques was shown in his remarks, calling upon Mayor Ireland to address the gathering. The chief magistrate of Trenton handed out the freedom of the town and welcomed "the boys" and their friends. He was glad to come of the same class of the men of the Boyne, Derry, Armagh, Antrim and Enniskillen.

The Grand Chaplain of Ontario East, Rev. D. Nichols, spoke on the principles of the order. These foundations of Orange reach to Eternal God, he said, we are free men in this—that God has planted His own spirit in our hearts and no one has any right or power to stand between us and God and our release from the powers of evil. Orangemen in the past have said they would fight to the last ditch and fire and drum were not stingy of their music. The former played patriotic music, and the fire knowing Orange airs only, kept to them.

Johnstone's pipe band of Belleville led of the parade following the marshals. Their Scottish music was a break in the shrill life airs.

Where would one find lustier drummers than in the fire and drum bands? Though the sun boiled their faces, they beat away at the "Protestant drums" as if dear life depended on the operation.

L.O.L. 2519, Belleville's new organization had about 45 men in line. This lodge has a great many members on active service, over forty being in the 155th battalion alone.

One hundred and twenty-five Orangemen and Knights marched with Benjamin L.O.L. 274. This is some record.

Benjamin L.O.L. 274, Belleville has the finest banner for many a mile. It is supported by one pole only and who carried it but Private Norman Price, a soldier of the Empire who has been invalided home from Europe. He enlisted in Winnipeg. He carried the great banner in the sweltering sun and never faltered. He won the men's admiration.

Benjamin Lodge has an enviable record of war service. One of its members, Private John Coburn sleeps his last sleep in France, Corporal Eric Carr, another member has lost both his legs. Another member Pte. Carr has been wounded and so on runs the list of heroic members of L.O.L. 274.

Many men were in khaki in the "Orange Walk" Marmora L.O.L. 319 had two soldiers in the parade.

There were a good many Knights in the Wooler Orange delegation.

Frankford "boys" wore their white uniforms.

Hamburg L.O.L. 1211, Silville, had khaki coats and caps, something up-to-date in a military and summer outfit.

The dusky Indian warriors from the Mohawk Reserve in Tyndinaga were resplendent in their colors, scarlet shirt waists. They wore orange stars on their collars and white straw hats. The appeal was powerful.

Belleville lodges and band were honored in the lead, Trenton band and Orangemen courteously brought up the rear.

The "pale face" brothers from Tyndinaga had about 75 men in line.

Members had donned white vests and straw hats.

The Deseronto boys of Albert L.O.L. had white uniforms with blue facings.

W. Bro. R. J. Richardson, Master of L.O.L. 240, Trenton, and a past district master of District No. 3 South Hastings, has been a busy man for some time in preparing for the demonstration. The result speaks volumes for his organizing ability.

W. Bro. W. C. Reid, Belleville, grand treasurer of Ontario East, was in the walk. He has been an Orangeman for "only" forty-three years.

Bro. Merritt, was the only Belleville man in the saddle in the walk. He was dressed in all the fashionable colors of the Twelfth, his hat be decked.

The marshals of the Orange walk were W. Bro. Frank Jeffries, W. Bro. Nicholas Hart and District Master James Donald.

Trenton police force was kept busy in handling the crowd on the lower part of Dundas street. The traffic became congested at times on the walks and people had to take to the roads.

Many automobile parties were in town from outside points and made the streets lively.

There was no sign of disorder and no drunkenness about the town. This was remarkable and creditable for the last walk under "wet" conditions. Dr. Jacques, ex-mayor of Trenton said laughingly that the day was too hot for drinking fire-water and no one could tell what might have happened if the sun had not been blistering hot.

Soft drinks, and ice cream cones were in great demand. Many Belleville vendors were in town for business.

The celebration was very successful in spite of rival demonstrations at Stirling and Wellington.

Dusky Indian bells with their peaceful warriors from the Indian reservation in Tyndinaga enjoyed the outing to the full.

TRAGIC EVENT RECALLED

This month of July will bring to the minds of many old friends the tragic accident by which W. J. McCamon, one of the most brilliant lawyers of this district came to his death one night at the Robertson block, just ten years ago this month, or, to be exact, on July 20, 1906.

The following report of the sad occurrence which deprived Belleville of a leading citizen and the legal profession of one of its brightest luminaries we copy from a clipping taken at the time from The Utica Globe.

W. J. McCAMON

Prominent Residents of Belleville, Whose Tragic Death is Remembered

Ottawa, July 19.—The tragic death of W. J. McCamon, of Belleville, was a great shock to his many friends throughout the province. Mr. McCamon had been chatting with a number of friends in the restaurant of the Hotel Quatre and shortly before 11 o'clock started for home. That was the last seen of him. Early the following morning his body was found at the foot of the stairs in the back yard of the Robertson block. It is thought that on his way home he went into the Robertson building to see a friend and by mistake walked through the wrong door at the end of the corridor and, as the stairs had no landing, fell to the bottom, breaking his neck. Deceased was one of the most prominent citizens of Belleville and on account of his amiable disposition was popular with all classes.

Mr. McCamon was born in Tweed, Ont., about 45 years ago and was the son of J. McCamon, of that place. He went to Belleville when a young man and entered the law office of the late George E. Henderson. On completing his law course he went into partnership with J. B. Flint, the firm being known as Flint & McCamon. Later he branched out for himself and was very successful. He took a prominent part in civic affairs, having been a member of the City Council, a member of the West Hastings, Loans Commissioners and at the time of his death was a member of the Board of Education and secretary of the Board of Trade.

In fraternal circles, Mr. McCamon was very prominent. He was a past grand, councillor of the Chosen Friends as well as past chief councillor of the local lodge and at the time of his death was their esteemed treasurer. He was also a member of the Masonic order, Knights Templar, Independent Foresters, the A. O. U. W., Canadian Fraternal Association. He was an enthusiastic worker for the Liberal party and for a time was president of the West Hastings Reform Association.

Personally our subject was a gentleman of many fine qualities and was esteemed by all who knew him. The funeral was very largely attended by the members of the different fraternal organizations to which he belonged as well as by members of the bar and many personal friends. Interment was made in Tweed.

FIRE DAMAGED RESIDENCE.

Fire this morning at 7.30 o'clock broke out in the residence of Mr. Albert Savage, Wellington Street, originating from the kitchen stove. Within a very short time the interior had been rather badly gutted and a great deal of the contents destroyed. The loss is partly covered by insurance. The firemen had quenched the flames by a few minutes after eight o'clock.

Mr. Savage recently purchased this brick dwelling, which was formerly owned by the late Mrs. Roblin.

APPLE CROP IS DISAPPOINTING.

OTTAWA, July 12.—The following information has been received by telegram at the office of the Fruit Commissioner this morning, relative to the apple situation in Ontario: "East of Toronto the crop is very disappointing and will not exceed that of 1915. There has been very serious development of scab, and a heavy dropping of fruit in all sections. Unsprayed orchards are practically worthless on account of poor quality. There has also been some damage by hail in the Cobourg district. In western and northern parts of the province there is a medium crop, but the quality, particularly in western Ontario, is good only in well sprayed orchards.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. John A. Russell and Mr. Robt. Wilson wish to express thanks to their friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy in their recent sad bereavement they have sustained in the loss of wife and daughter.

MALLOYWAY

A large number from here spent the 12th in Stirling. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hough, Mr. and Mrs. Andrews spent Sunday at Marmora and Cozy Lake. Sunday Mrs. Bagley from Stirling has been spending a few days with her niece, Mrs. Leonard Priest.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Bird entertained guests from Odesa on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Ross from the Evergreen Factory spent Sunday with the former's mother.

Mr. Wm. Smith is improving his place by erecting a new drive house.

Mr. Clinton Townsend has arrived home after spending a few months in the North West.

Mr. Frank Smith from Madoc was down this way the first of the week, repairing a broken axle on a Ford car.

CATHOLIC PLOG IN PROCESSION.

"This little story is only given as a joke which is absolutely true," Mr. Dave Ketcheson, formerly of this city but now official ballist at Belleville, on the 12th wore a plug hat that did not bear the insignia of 1219 as its some of the plugs worn. When asked yesterday by The Times, "Where did you get that hat?" (Radio time music) Mr. Ketcheson replied: "I borrowed it from a Catholic barber in Belleville named Sullivan. On July 11th I went into Sullivan's shop and in a joking way said: 'I want a Protestant hair cut as I'm going to walk tomorrow in Peterboro.' Sullivan remarked, 'Are you going to wear the regular plug hat?' 'No' replied Ketcheson. "Well here's one I can lend you" and the plug was worn all day on the 12th—Peterboro Times

ARE COMING BACK

The 165th battalion baseball team defeated the headquarters pay staff by an unmentionable score, but the pay staff are coming back in another game as soon as arrangements can be made.

FACTOR RUSSELL DEPARTED.

Factor Russell, who is a Brooklynite, who was supposed to speak at Grains, Man. last week, was taken off the train at that place at the request of the immigration authorities at Ottawa, and sent back across the border. In eastern Canada, he had been making speeches harmful to the part of the Government.

DEATH OF T. R. SHEFFIELD

At Age of 79 Years—Had Lived Past Eight Years in Belleville

J. Royal Sheffield, died last evening at his home, 223 Foster Avenue. He had been in ill-health for some five years and for several months had been in a serious condition. A native of the fifth concession of Thurlow, where he was born in June 1837, he came to Belleville in the year 1868 on his retirement. He was a member of Bridge Street Church. Mourning his loss are his widow, three daughters and three sons, Mrs. Ida Martin Michigan; Mrs. Fred Burkard; Miss Keitha Sheffield, Belleville; Clayton Sheffield, Delbert Sheffield, both of Calgary and Altan of Alberta. Funeral notice will appear later.

FLYING SCHOOL FOR DESERONTO

Col. Merritt Suggests Establishment of Schools on Bay of Quinte.

A deputation of aviation students from the Royal Canadian Flying Corps School of Aviation, headed by Col. Hamilton Merritt, Mayor Church, and Controller Cameron, waited upon the Provincial Cabinet yesterday with a request for financial assistance for the school and the students during their course of training. The matter will be discussed by the Cabinet in Council.

Col. Merritt urged that the Ontario Government take the lead in the matter of establishing a Canadian aviation training school at Deseronto, the maintenance of which should be jointly shared by the various Provinces. He expressed the belief that each province should donate a battle flying plane, to be manned exclusively by Canadian aviators. It was also pointed out by several members of the deputation that the present Curtiss Training School was not able to provide as many aviators for the army and navy corps as were urgently required in the old country.

In case the Government cannot see its way clear to carry out the above scheme it was proposed that the Provincial Government make a financial grant of $100 to each student. At present the Dominion and Imperial Governments each give $200 to students upon the completion of their course. Several students emphasized the fact that the present contributions did not cover half the expense of the training, which averaged from $3,000 to $1,400, and some of them were not in a position to spend that amount.

FIRE IN CHARCOAL IRON

The firemen had a run at 7.30 last evening to the residence of Mr. Mann, Front street, where it was said a fire had started. It appears that a charcoal iron was in use and some one who saw the glow sent in the alarm. The only fire was in the iron.

MARRIED ABROAD.

Miss Ida G. Denmark, formerly of the C.A.M.C. (daughter of Mrs. M. A. Denmark) to Capt. L. W. Macdonald, C.A.M.C., Montreal, Vancouver and Charlottetown papers please copy.

CAPT. O'FLYNN SAILS

Capt. E. D. O'Flynn has sailed from England for Canada and is expected here shortly. He is on furlough.

PUNERAL OF MRS. RUSSELL

The funeral of the late Mrs. Archibald Russell who died in Sault Ste. Marie, was held yesterday morning from the residence of her son, Mrs. Stevenson, Wharf Street, to St. Michael's church, where a solemn requiem mass was celebrated. The obsequies were very largely attended. Interment was in St. James' Cemetery. The bearers were J. Scott, J. Murphy, James St. Charles, Fred Moagher, James Dougherty, and W. Lynch.

LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIERS

Pte. M. Frost Writes to His Mother of Experiences in France.

France, June 16, 1916.

Dear Mother: I am well at present and hope this will find you all the same. We are having pretty rotten weather here now. Best Post was wounded the last time we were in the trenches. He came from Belleville. I haven't had any mail for about a month. I don't think you have been getting much mail lately for when I was in the hospital, I didn't write while I was sick. I am a stretcher-bearer now. I am back for a rest now. I don't know how long we will be here. We got out up pretty bad the last time we were in the trenches. There was only a few of us come out. We went into action with about 780 men. I was pretty lucky. How is everybody around there? I will be glad when this war is over. Well I can't think of much to tell you, so I think I will close for this time. answer soon.

From your son,
Merle.

8TH CON. OF SIDNEY.

About 75 friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mrs. F. Foster on Friday evening to spend the evening with her daughter Miss Leone, who is about to leave our midst. The following address was read by Mr. Wilmot Rose:— Dear Leone,—In view of the fact that in a few days you are to sever your connections with us, we meet tonight in order to convey to you the esteem and good will that has grown up for you in this locality. Each year sees some one of our bright young girls leaving us to brighten other hearts and other homes, and although each one is sadly missed we are sensible that such is life; that homes must be broken up and friends separated so long as this world rolls on its course. Our regret is not unmingled with satisfaction, for we believe there is no greater honor in this world for a woman than to become a home-maker in our fair Canadian land. Knowing you, as we do, we believe you will ably fulfil this mission in life. In order that you may have a permanent reminder of our deep regard we present to you this cutlery, assuring you that it can never outwear our affections. As you pass from us our hearts go with you, and we trust that in the years to come you may possess that happy faculty of seeing the silver lining in that your married life may be as fair as a day in June. Signed on behalf of— Scott's Neighborhood After the reply to the address, lunch was served, and a very enjoyable evening was spent. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jose of Prince Edward County, also Mr. Murles and Miss Eva Kierman of Wallbridge were guests on Sunday at Mr. J. J.

A LETTER OF CONDOLENCE

Cannifton, June 19th, 1916. Dear Mrs. Bradshaw,—I am directed by the Quarterly Board of the Cannifton Circuit to convey to you and family the condolence of the Board in the sad bereavement which has removed from our midst your beloved husband. We all miss him, so diligent and interested as he ever was in the welfare of the cause of religion amongst us. Very seldom indeed was his new recant on the Lord's Day, and in the Fellowship and Class meeting he was seldom absent. His counsels as a class teacher were always earnest and well calculated to encourage the hope of a better life. His passing was so sudden and unexpected that it shocked his brothers, as it brought sorrow to his family. We beg to assure you of our prayerful and earnest sympathy, and we think we may speak likewise of the entire circuit, for our brother, belonged to the whole circuit. We will not dwell upon the thought of a blessed rest, but assure you of the hope and reward of a better and more blessed life and of the reunion some day which knows no tears nor parting.

Sincerely yours, J. H. BRENTON, Recording Steward.

EVERY WOMAN'S AMBITION FOR ROSY CHEEKS NOW EASILY SATISFIED

Hollow cheeks with dark lines under the eyes, how a woman hates them! But rosy cheeks, clear skin, and bright eyes, give them to a woman and she is happy.

The woman who attracts, whose fresh, dainty complexion compels admiration, is always careful of her health, particularly of her blood condition. Bad complexion always means bad blood.

Girls, don't let your blood grow thin or watery. To do so brings on haggard looks and declining strength. Many a woman who has allowed herself to run-down, to develop that tired, worried look has built up again in this simple way. Why don't you try it?

At the close of every meal, just take two small chocolate-coated erozone Tablets—any person can do this in a minute. The action of Ferrozone is apparent at once. It starts you up, makes you feel good, starts up your appetite, aids digestion, brings that old-time feeling of youth into the system again.

Ferrozone puts you on the right road—the one leading to health. Not a man, woman or child needing blood, vigor, endurance—not a person who is weak, nervous or sickly, not a person in ill-health who won't receive immediate help from Ferrozone.

As a tonic and restorative, as a health-bringer and body-builder, Ferrozone is unrivalled. It cures because it feeds and nourishes, because it contains the elements that build up and strengthen. For better looks and better health try Ferrozone yourself, sold everywhere, 50c per box, 6 boxes for $2.50, or by mail from The Carrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

BURRS. Intended for last week. Mr. and Mrs. T. Milton Pyne and family, Toronto, are visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. Wm. Almsworth and little Mildred were guests for the week-end of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Moon. Mr. and Mrs. Basil Almsworth and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Moon on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fox went to Hillier on Sunday to attend the Orange service at Christ church and dined at Mr. S. Wright's. Owing to the very heavy showers the attendance was small. Rev. Dr. Cobb delivered an eloquent address but the most conspicuous thing about the Orangemen was their absence.

School closed on Thursday afternoon and before closing the teacher Miss Brinkman was asked to take the chair and Gladys Hough read the following poem "Our Teacher":

Our Teacher, Who is the best of all her race, And every morning takes her place, With a pleasant smile upon her face? Our Teacher, Who should our best attention have When she instruction tries to give? And may no pupil e'er deceive?

But now alas! we have to part, And sorrow fills each aching heart, And all unbidden, tears will start. Dear Teacher, We're sorry that you have to go, And oh! we all will miss you so, How much you'll really never know.

Dear Teacher, May Squire then read the following address and Mildred Fox, on behalf of the school, presented Miss Brinkman with a beautifully bound copy of the Methodist Hymn Book and a book of travels in Switzerland. Miss Brinkman made a fitting reply thanking her pupils. The following is the address:— Dear Teacher,—We, your pupils of Burrs school, take this opportunity of expressing to you our sincere appreciation of your efforts in our behalf during the two years you have been our teacher. You have patiently borne with us, when many times we have been disobedient and tried you, and at all times your kindly good nature has been manifest. We feel we could not let you go from us without some small token of our esteem, and we ask you to accept these books with our kindest regards, and we sincerely hope that in the future, where'er your lot is cast, you may always have health, happiness and prosperity. May you have a kind remembrance of your pupils at Burrs school.

Signed on behalf of your pupils, Mildred E. Fox, May Squire, Gladys Hough.

FRANKFORD. Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Byers were in town on Tuesday afternoon. A garden party is to be held on the lawn of Trinity church. Come and enjoy the evening with them. A good time is in store for one and all.

Mr. W. V. Pettit had the misfortune to fall from a scaffold while working on a building at the Canning Factory on Thursday, but fortunately there were no bones broken.

Rev. J. D. P. Knox spent the week-end at his former appointment near Colborne.

The W. A. of Trinity church held their meeting at the home of Mrs. C. Clarke on Thursday afternoon. After the regular business was through Mrs. Dennon, the delegate to the W. A. Convention held in Kingston in June, gave a very interesting and instructive report of that convention, all of which was listened to by a large number of the members and also a number of ladies who were present from the Methodist church. At the close a dainty lunch was served and all who were present spent a very pleasant as well as a profitable afternoon together.

Mr. Harry Potter, who was the lucky one in receiving the trip to St. Anne's at the contest in the E. C. church has gone on the trip. Mr. Potter accompanied him as far as Smith's Falls.

Mr. Richardson book-keeper for the Trent River Paper Co., is at his home through illness. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Crow of Trenton spent Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parry.

Mrs. G. E. Sine is visiting her brothers Messrs. Alf. and Jack Willbom of Peterborough and Lakefield. Mr. and Mrs. Vandervoort of Trenton spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Meyers.

Mr. G. E. Sine, also Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien motored to Tweed on Sunday spending the day there. Keep in mind the garden party to be held on the Trinity church lawn on Friday evening, July 21st.

Mrs. Charlie Smith spent the week-end with friends in Belleville. We are pleased to report Master Max Malone improving. Sergt. Will Rose and Pte. MacCaulley and Pte. Smith of Barriefield, spent a few days with the parents.

Mr. Alva Meyers, Miss Hazel Meyers also Miss Lottie Jackson of Trenton, were the guests of Lela Meyers on Sunday.

A Pill That is Priced.—There have been many pills put upon the market and pressed upon the public attention but none has endured so long or met with so much favor as Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Widespread use of them has attested their great value, and they need no further advertisement than this. Having already established themselves in public esteem, they now rank without a peer in the list of standard vegetable preparations.
