

SIR SAM HUGHES RESIGNS FROM THE DOMINION CABINET

British Forces Record Great Success at the Ancre River

SURPRISE ATTACK OF BRITISH GAVE THEM OFFENSIVE ON ANCRE RIVER

German Prisoners Taken in Latest Advance Now Number 4000, and Numbers Increasing--British Losses Very Light in the Advance

London, Nov. 14.—Gen. Haig's troops have broken through the main German line west of Bapaume, held by the Kaiser's forces for two years, and converted into a series of bastions. Striking along a five-mile front on both sides of the Ancre yesterday the British advanced on the whole line, at points for more than a mile, and carried by storm the villages of Beaumont-Hamel and St. Pierre-Divion, both considered impregnable. More than 3,300 prisoners, including 70 officers, already have been captured and sent to the rear, and more are coming in.

Battle of the Ancre

"Thus the 'battle of the Ancre' has opened. Slowly the British forces have been forging northward toward their objective, Bapaume. But now they have delivered a blow from the west, taking the enemy completely by surprise. The vice that took Comblès and Thiépval has begun to move toward Bapaume. The task Haig's men carried through to success yesterday was attempted for the first time on July 1, when the first phase of the Somme offensive opened.

At the time the German defenses north of the Ancre proved too strong and the effort was abandoned.

With the British Armies in France, Nov. 13.—Via London, Nov. 14.—The Germans were apparently completely surprised by this morning's attack in the valley of the Ancre. An evidence of this was found in the fact that the garrison of the trenches around Beaumont-Hamel were preparing for breakfast at the very moment when the British infantry stormed the position. The British after partially clearing the underground galleries and rounding up 700 prisoners, proceeded to eat their prisoners' breakfast, telling the captives that they would be fed when they arrived within the British lines. A total of nearly 4,000 prisoners has so far been sent to the cages, including a regimental dugout with a major, an adjutant and a number of other officers. The majority of the prisoners are Silesians and, according to the British officers, very inferior fighting material. The German higher command depended apparently upon the supposedly impregnable character of the front line and its strongly fortified villages, rather than on the stamina of the troops. The British officers believe that the

ROUMANIAN COUNTER-ATTACK

By Courier Leased Wire.

Bucharest, Nov. 14.—via London.—After repulsing attacks developed without cessation since October 29 by Austro-German troops in the neighborhood of the Uzul valley, on the northern Transylvanian front, the Rumanians today made a successful counter-attack, the war office announces.

UNUSUALLY LIGHT

The British losses were unusually light, owing largely to the unexpectedly feeble character of the German machine gun fire at Beaumont-Hamel and St. Pierre-Divion. Large numbers of German dead were found strewn in the wrecked trenches of the original main line. This line consisted of four parallel roads of trenches, the last being flush with the western face of Beaumont-Hamel. For some days past the sector attacked to-day and the area behind have been subjected to successive bombardments which rose to a record pitch yesterday and resulted in the demolition of a large part of the defenses. The garrison accepted the morning's deluge of shells as part of the usual daily program and did not fully realize their danger until the British infantry was seen approaching in the darkness.

The British advance north of Beaumont-Hamel was held up on a front about 1,000 yards west of Serre. The first detachment captured some German trenches and passed eastward toward the village. Suddenly hidden machine guns and infantry snipers, scattered in great profusion in the craters and other shelters, began firing in the backs of the attacking troops and necessitated their withdrawal.

North of Serre, the intervening ground between Beaumont-Hamel and Beaumont-Sur-Lognon is a series of hills. The British are firmly established on the western outskirts of the latter hamlet. The remaining fragments of the old German line immediately south of the Ancre which were "pinched out" by the British flank pivoting to the northeast around the elbow of the line, had been partially isolated since the capture of Schwaben redoubt. Three hundred Germans, the only survivors of the bombardment, were captured in this extensive system of riverbeds and the German rear was by a causeway across the Ancre which could only be traversed at night.

Germany's will of Emperor William and Francis Joseph about the creation of a Polish state without a king and, without frontiers, yet Poland is not, as yet, a reality. A wish has been expressed which can only materialize through the triumphant victory of Germany's cause, after a victory allowing the two empires to dictate their peace. Many hearts will rejoice that the German victory last Sunday were because that victory is in sight and it is their right to express confidence in the German government. To sign any imperial decisions if they are to have any value.

"As to the Polish affair there is no decision, but merely an expression of the wish of the chancellor who has not signed the proclamation of the German government. The German government has nothing to do with it. Should one of the two empires wish to be fulfilled, the German people, parliament and press will easily find the means to exert their opinion and the exact power of co-operation in Poland."

Harden's remarks naturally caused consternation in Berlin. Meanwhile every possible Pole is to be forced into the army to fight against France, while on the other side it seems obvious that Germany is trying to get a million men out of Belgium, train them and send them against Russia. This appears to be Hindenburg's last move.

SIR SAM HUGHES RESIGNS HIS OFFICE AS MINISTER OF MILITIA

GERMAN ATTACK DID NOT SUCCEED

By Courier Leased Wire.

Various Reasons Given for His Retirement, Which Was Made at the Request of Premier Borden—Minister Had Many Foes to Face

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—Lieut.-General Sir Sam Hughes has resigned as Minister of Militia and Defence at the request of the Prime Minister. His resignation has been accepted. A brief official communication was issued this effect last night, as follows:

"It is announced that the Prime Minister has requested and has received the resignation of the Minister of Militia and Defence. The resignation of Sir Sam Hughes is in part due to the assumption by Sir Sam of powers which in the judgment of the Prime Minister can be exercised only by the Government as a whole. It is anticipated that the correspondence which brought about the request for the Minister's resignation will be made public immediately. It must first be submitted to the Governor-General."

Premier to Retain Office

A second memorandum gives an authoritative denial to the rumors which have been in circulation relative to the possibility of Sir Robert Borden's retirement from the Government. It says:

"With reference to the rumor that Sir Robert Borden intends to give up the Premiership and retire from public life, the announcement was made to-day that all such rumors are absolutely destitute of foundation. The Prime Minister deems it his duty to remain at his post until after the close of the war, and he will also remain so long as he has the mandate of the people. So far as he is concerned there has been no thought or suggestion of accepting any judicial or other position either here or in Great Britain. All such rumors are purely imaginative."

Unofficial information is to the effect that the resignation of Sir Sam Hughes was asked for by Sir Robert Borden on Friday, by letter.

The withdrawal of Sir Sam Hughes from the Government has been considered a possibility, if not a probability, ever since his return from England, particularly since the recent announcement by the Prime Minister that Sir George Perley had been appointed Minister of the Overseas Forces. With Sir George Perley's appointment the affairs of the routine here as Parliamentary Secretary handling the departmental army overseas and Mr. F. B. Mc-

PAPER COMMENTS

On the Resignation of Sir Sam Hughes

Practically all the Canadian papers to-day devote leading editorials to the resignation of Sir Sam Hughes. Most of the Liberal papers hail his retirement and so does the Toronto Telegram (Conservative).

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—The Free Press (Liberal) says: Sir Sam has many qualities that make for greatness, but he is lacking in one that is essential to political success, namely balance. Up to a certain point Sir Sam proved that he was the very best kind of a man that Canada could have in the position of Minister of Militia in such a crisis: beyond that point Sir Sam's personal weaknesses made his retention of that important office an irritation not only to his colleagues in the government, but to the people at large. We do not hesitate to say that Sir Sam has been the victim of a campaign of vilification as unfair as it was cruel, but we must admit that it was Sir Sam himself who piled faggots on the fire that ultimately consumed him. Sir Sam Hughes was his own worst enemy, the host of friends, whose loyalty he had won, were unable to save him from the cumulative effect of conduct and speech that was marked by a sheer disregard of consequences.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—Commenting on the resignation of Sir Sam Hughes as minister of militia, The Gazette, (Conservative) this morning says: Sir Sam Hughes has ceased to be a member of the cabinet. The announcement was not unexpected for a long time his enemies have been more than usually severe in their denunciation of his conduct. These enemies were found in the Conservative as well as in the Liberal camps. Indeed, the harshest condemnation has been made by some who have been considered supporters of the government. It was not at all discordant to its object. Unfortunately, Sir Sam Hughes has failings that lay him open to hostile attack. His brusque way of reporting of proposals that do not please him often makes enemies and his inclination to stick by those he thinks are his friends, even when they do not do him good, has subjected him to blame when so far as he was personally concerned no blame was justified. It is indicated also that in some things he has exceeded his powers as a minister. With his failings, however, he has other qualities that made him a useful public man.

PROBLEMS TO COME AFTER THE WAR

Instructive Lecture By Rev. A. T. MacNeill at Calvary Church.

A capable and comprehensive treatment of the universal problems that will be in evidence after the war was given last night in Calvary Baptist Church, by Principal A. T. MacNeill, of Woodstock College. The lecture, of which "After the War, Compensation and Reconstruction" was the topic, was a continuation of the special Rally Day Services, observed on the previous Sunday.

The chair was occupied by Mr. John F. Shultz, a prominent member and worker of the parent Baptist Church of Brantford, the First Baptist. In his opening address, the chairman took pains to convey to those present, the goodwill of the church of which he was a member. Many of the most dependable workers of Calvary Church had formerly been connected with the First Baptist, and hence the relationship was stronger between the two churches than would otherwise be the case.

Preceding the lecture two splendid musical offerings, in the form of a vocal duet, by Miss Pearl Sayles and Mr. Green, and a solo by Miss Phipps were rendered.

Previous to entering upon the subject proposed, Mr. MacNeill indulged in a description of Victor Hugo's account of the Battle of Waterloo. The famous French writer had declared that in such a prodigious game of chance, a victory by Napoleon would not have harmonized with the general scheme of the age. In the present world struggle, the instance above quoted, was equally applicable—a victory achieved by Germany would not fit in with the Divine purpose of effecting the evolution of the human race from evil to good. The world war embodies the eternal struggle of the spirit of the past conflicting with the spirit of the future, who thought that the result would be just as costly and far-reaching in Canada as in Flanders.

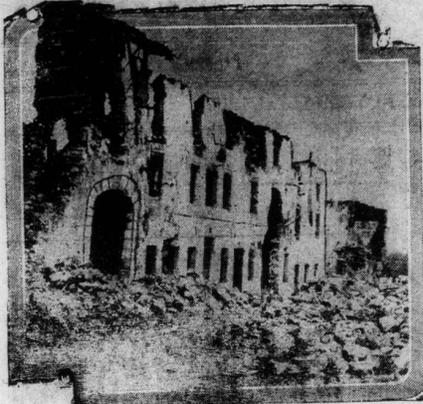

In support of his contention that physical force could not overcome a people or a nation, Mr. MacNeill quoted the over-winning of Belgium, Serbia, Armenia and Poland, by the Teutonic forces, who were nevertheless unable to actually conquer or subdue the people whom they oppressed, while Britain here had secured the co-operation and loyalty of South Africa by introducing into that country the best English institutions, following upon the successful culmination of the war.

An interesting review of the various and interesting manifestations of the eternal struggle between right and wrong throughout history was given by the lecturer who selected the most important accomplishments of Babylon, Persia, Charlemagne, the Spanish Armada, and Napoleon Bonaparte, to emphasize the recurrence of the struggle in the past in which the present world conflict was merely an instance.

The speaker then dealt with the political aspect of the contest. Had Germany gained political independence and constitutional rights for her people, militarism would not have dominated the minds of the masses and the world calamity now being experienced would have been avoided. In the social realm there had also been unrest, and this conflict between the good and evil had taken the form of the establishment and maintenance of class distinctions.

Religion had not been immune from the effects of evil. "Too often has the church allied itself with the interests of tyranny, oppression and retrogression," declared Mr. MacNeill. This exploitation of spiritual resources to serve the greed of powerful states and individuals had delayed the advancement of the world.

In concluding this preliminary resume Mr. MacNeill declared emphatically that "the fundamental idea was that the war was a spiritual contest operated by natural resources." The question was therefore: "Is there any adequate compensation for the enormous sacrifices being made at the present time. Undoubtedly Germany must be forced to supply a substantial indemnity to demonstrate to nations and individuals that the rules of society were not to be encroached upon unless the offender is willing to pay the price. The actual amount of the material compensation secured by the victors would be insignificant to the comparative immensity of the spiritual benefit which would be received if the nations involved would seize their opportunity and take advantage of this great event to raise their spiritual characters to the standard of christianity as the character of the war was primarily of a spiritual nature, so must the compensation derived therefrom be pre-eminently spiritual.

The prevalent materialistic attitude of the age, consisting of the lust for power and greed for financial advancement would have to be eliminated, thought the speaker, if the desired compensation was to be experienced. The present European conflict was the direct outcome of a successful attempt of capitalists to foster by the exertion of corrupt influence, the war spirit among the masses, and the deceptive and lying methods employed by the diplomats of the courts involved.

Unless at the conclusion of the war the right poise was obtained by the people of this country, the after the war period would be worse for Canada than Prussian domination, was the opinion of Mr. MacNeill. With the greater opportunities afforded to the unscrupulous, the count of the expansion of industrial, commercial and financial interests, the battle against materialism would be more relentless than before the war, and if we are to receive the desired compensation for the many sacrifices now being made, the people of Canada together with those of other lands, would have to cease to worship at the feet of the "Golden Calf."

Before international trust and confidence could be established, there would have to be a reorganization of the diplomatic system now in vogue. At this juncture the speaker took a blow at the party system and the many evils of patronage, which were involved in it. "The slogan, 'my party right or wrong' is a relic of the Dark Ages," declared the lecturer, who thought that a reform was necessary in this direction.

The social life and the moral character of the Canadian people would also have to be purified, said Mr. MacNeill if recompenses were to be experienced.

In reconstructing after the war, it should be borne in mind that the spirit of Christ was the only permanent constructive force in the world to-day. Unless this spirit was the motive, no satisfactory compensation or reconstruction could come to Canada.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED GRAY HAIR

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about fifty cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair. The well-known down town druggist says everybody uses Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell that it has been applied—it's so easy to use too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

"WHITBY NIGHT" AT WESLEY CHURCH

Large Attendance at Wesley Epworth League Last Evening.

Last night was a very important and interesting one with the Wesley Epworth League, when "Whitby Night" was put on. Two members of Wesley League, Miss Mae Wood, the president, and Miss Edna Graham, 1st vice-president, visited the Whitby Summer School, at Whitby, last summer, and as a result a "Whitby Night" was observed by the League. The school at Whitby is a school for the purpose of training young men and women in Missionary work, and is held during the summer months.

The program consisted of the daily routine of the school, from the rising bell to the retiring one.

Miss Mae Wood gave a very interesting address on "Emergency in China." The speaker outlined the missionary conditions as they are at present in China, and what we are going to do to better them.

Miss Edna Graham dealt with the subject of "Missions in Education" in the Sunday School, and the League. This is an important feature of the Whitby Summer School.

Mrs. (Dr.) Pearce was the speaker on the Bible Hour at Whitby, and gave a number of the studies of the Bible that are taught there.

Miss Nellie Bedford spoke on Home Mission, and the work that with the city of Toronto, and the work in missions that can be done in that city. The address was very interesting, and showed that there is need for improvement in the foreign population of Toronto.

A number of lantern slides were shown, illustrating the Whitby Summer School, both at work and recreation, also the magnificent grounds where open air twilight services are held. The slides were a great help in making a "Whitby Night" a good success.

The school at Whitby is a great thing for the advancement of missions. A collection was taken to defray expenses of the meeting. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Martin, made the remark that 25 or 30 years ago if the people of Wesley Church could have dropped in at Wesley League at such a meeting, they would have thought it wonderful the work the young people are doing. The meeting was one of the best ever held by the League. There were a number of new members out last night and the leadership of the contest was taken by the greens, as a result of the energetic captain, Mr. Murray Luck.

Wonderful Values in REAL IRISH LINEN!

The Situation of the Linen Market

Ireland, which is capable of producing flax of excellent quality and high tensile strength, has for years been dropping back, until now the Irish crop is almost a negligible quantity on the flax markets of the world. Belgium we depend on for contrai flax (the finest imported flax). That source completely cut off we have only the Russian flax, and that only at enormous cost of transportation, owing to the long railway journey to the port of Archangel, which is only free from ice a very few months during the summer. The difficulty of chartering boats is often responsible for tremendous losses. Through lack of buildings for storage, the flax is often thrown out of the cars, exposed to the weather for months and rendered useless. Ships carrying flax are singularly unfortunate in encountering submarines, and quite a number have been sunk.

Materials made from flax are essential in military equipment, tent duck (for which one contract alone called for three million yards), aeroplane cloth, butcher linen, hospital equipment, linings for uniforms, etc.; last, but not least, linen thread for tents, boots and uniforms.

The demands of the war office have been enormous and cotton substitutes the reverse of satisfactory. In the Irish market flax that could have been purchased for $125.00 per ton, in 1913, is now costing $485.00 per ton. Cost of bleachings, mill furnishings, coal, freight, in fact everything has enormously advanced, in some cases as much as 300 per cent.

Under such circumstances, and taking into consideration the demands of the war office, which come first, it is not so surprising that the linen offered to the public is so expensive as that it is so cheap. Pure linen goods are now very scarce and prices are still going higher. This week we learn of an advance in table damask of 75 per cent. on wet yarns and 50 per cent. on warp, which will make a difference of 25 to 30 per cent. on the finished article. Advances to date amount to from 75 to 125 per cent. over 1913 prices. When war ends there cannot be a sudden slump in prices for the all-sufficient reason that stocks do not exist, and the trade in high class linens could not assume the normal for years to come, owing to the system of production.

THE COURIER

Published by The Brantford Courier Limited, every afternoon, at Dalhousie Street, Brantford, Canada. Subscription rates: By carrier, $4 a year; by mail to British possessions and the United States, $5 per annum.

Tuesday, November 14th, 1916

THE SITUATION

To the British arms the last great success on the Somme has fallen. Striking a tremendous blow along a five mile front on both banks of the Ancre, Haig's forces advanced along the whole line, at points for more than a mile, took two villages and nearly four thousand prisoners.

The marked success of the Serbians in their renewed drive towards Monastir continues. The third day of their new offensive went on triumphantly to the extent of two miles, and they manifestly have the Bulgarians in full retreat.

Fighting of an exceptionally fierce nature is still proceeding on all the Romanian fronts. In the Dobruja the Teuton forces are being pressed back while on the Transylvania front they are meeting with success. It is therefore just now a case of half and half.

THE RESIGNATION OF SIR SAM

The Courier regrets the resignation of Sir Sam Hughes, as Minister of Militia, and believes that a vast number of Canadians will also entertain a like feeling.

The man has done things. There can be no doubt about that. It is equally true that his energetic impetuosity has led him into positions which his own friends have regretted. However, taken all in all, the account, as far as he is concerned, is more than square in the matter of what he has accomplished.

U.S. ELECTION ANACHRONISMS

Since the recent Presidential election a number of United States papers have been exceedingly outspoken with regard to the "clumsy" nature of their electoral college system. The idea of voting for Jones, Brown and Johnson and a good many more in order to elect Smith is, of course, a ridiculous plan on the face of it.

But to return to our neighbors. They have in addition to the Electoral College a number of other election anomalies which ought to go into the national waste paper basket. Take the fact for instance that no one in the District of Columbia, in which Washington is situated has a vote for any office holder, not even in Washington for Mayor and Aldermen, for they don't have any—the place is run by a national commission.

Just imagine, if you can, the residents of any British Empire disenfranchised! Why there would be a rebellion or something very much akin to it.

Buttons and Dress Trimmings at sacrifice prices at 21 George St. A delegation waited upon the Premier in North Sydney, requesting enforcement of the Temperance Act in Cape Breton County.

THE ORDER IN COUNCIL REGARDING NECESSITIES OF LIFE

The Courier has already made reference to the fact of the Dominion Government having passed an order in Council with regard to any combination, or agreement, to raise the prices of food, clothing, or fuel.

The term "necessaries of life" is defined as any staple or ordinary article of food, whether fresh, preserved, or otherwise treated; clothing and fuel, including the products, materials and ingredients from or of which any thereof are in whole or in part manufactured, composed, derived or made.

Section 3, which is one of the vital clauses, provides as follows: "No person shall accumulate or shall withhold from sale any necessary of life beyond an amount thereof reasonably required for the use or consumption of his household or for the ordinary purposes of his business."

Every person who shall at any time hold any necessary of life beyond an amount thereof reasonably required, and every person who shall hold for purposes of sale, whether as manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, retailer or otherwise, any stocks in trade of any necessary of life shall offer for sale the said excess amount or the said stock-in-trade, as the case may be, at prices not higher than are reasonable and just.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The comments of various papers upon the resignation of Hughes vary in their hues.

The Toronto Globe takes advantage of the resignation of Sir Sam Hughes to throw some more jibes at him. Characteristic.

A Mrs. Gates of Hamilton, has offered to publicly demonstrate that bread can be made for a little over four cents a loaf.

That lone woman who has been elected to the U. S. Congress will not even have one member of the fair sex among her confederates to say, with experienced eyes, if her hat is on straight.

CHRISTMAS EFFICIENCY

Christmas efficiency—that's a queer phrase, isn't it? One associates the idea of efficiency with cut and dried things, and it seems almost an insult to apply it to things of the heart like Christmas.

Have You Done Your Shopping Yet? Of course, the first principle of Christmas efficiency is to do your shopping early.

When Bought Another neighbor contributed her efficiency scheme, which is to tie up each gift in its Christmas regalia as soon as she buys it and thus do away with that "bugbear" the tie-up day.

Marriageable at Nine. The Turkish woman is marriageable at the age of nine years, and by Turkish law, at that age, if married, she is competent to manage her property and dispose of one-third of her fortune.

Resultful. "Who is that chap riding on the horse with the driver?" "That's Smiley, the professional humorist. He's on his vacation."

Now Is The Time Continued from Page One to approach people, learning the effectiveness of intensive work.

A New Field. The new efficiency offer opens up a very wide field for activity among the candidates and offers them such satisfactory rewards for their efforts that they feel that they are getting something worth while for their work.

NEWS OF NORFOLK

133rd Battalion Has Landed Safely In England, Other Items.

(From our own Correspondent) Simcoe, Nov. 14.—The first fall of snow for the season began here about 4 o'clock, and a light fall continues this evening.

Mr. R. H. Crapper, formerly electrician here under the Hydro, and later the utilities commission, who resigned his position last spring to enlist in the 133rd, was in town looking after some personal business. He was rejected on the last medical examination a few weeks ago and has succeeded at Milton a position similar to that which he held here. Mr. Crapper has charge of the inspection at Norwich, Otterville, Hagersville and other adjacent towns.

Brother Dead
Principal H. S. Macpherson received news of the death of his brother, W. S. Macpherson, of Smithville, and accompanied by Mrs. Macpherson, leaves to attend the funeral.

Voters' Lists
The revision of the voters' lists for Simcoe, the last revision in the county will be held at 10 o'clock. There were 370 appeals entered, but only a small number will be contested.

Landed Safely
Relatives of the members of the 133rd have been re-assured by cables stating that the unit landed safely in England, and by letters released from Halifax. Probably one half of the people of Simcoe were directly interested in one or more of the members of Norfolk battalion.

Horses
Purchasers of horses for army purposes will be in town on Saturday in an endeavor to pick up a carload of suitable animals.

Potatoes
Shipments of potatoes from Alberta apparently grown on very dark soil and gathered in damp weather, are being delivered in town. The sample is good. They are not so large as the B. C. potatoes.

Inspection of Water Supply

Mr. Wilson, the inspector of the Canadian Underwriter's Association was in the city this morning for the purpose of inspecting the water-work's system. In the company with Chairman S. P. Pitcher of the Fire council, he turned in an alarm from box 61, calling out the entire force from both the Central and East End Departments. Fourteen lines of hose were laid in the central section of the city, six being in operation on the Market Square. The water was liberated from nozzles ranging from one to one and a quarter inches in width and was allowed to run for the major portion of an hour. The pressure was taken at the nozzle and definite results were given out. It is understood that the test was perfectly satisfactory in every respect. Throughout the test there was not a break in any of the many lines of hose, and none of the connections between the various sections sprung a leak, thus demonstrating the efficiency and dependability of the fire department.

This afternoon Mr. Wilson will examine the pumping station and the new pumps at the waterworks, which is really the main object of his visit.

Week of Prayer at the Y.M.C.A.

Interest in all circles throughout the city continues to grow daily in the week of prayer being conducted by the local Y.M.C.A., in keeping with the world-wide movement now in vogue for that purpose. The attendance so far this week has been gratifyingly large, although it is expected that more will attend daily as the nature of the services becomes better and more widely known throughout the city. To-night, the meeting at 8 p.m. will be led by Mr. T. L. Wood; tomorrow at noon, Rev. Dr. Henderson will have charge of the service, while the speakers for the rest of the week will be Dr. Stanley on Thursday evening and Dr. Gandier Friday morning.

Constantine Lucky.
The difference between British and German "kultur" is well exemplified in the cases of Greece and Belgium. Germany trod roughshod over Belgium because the latter happened to lie in her chosen path to Paris. When Belgium refused she was ground under the German heel without compunction or pity.

In the case of Greece, Britain and her allies have shown every consideration. King Constantine has been secretly and treacherously hostile from the start. He has been a thorn in the side of the Allies' Balkan campaign.

With her long coast line Greece could have been speedily pounded into submission by the warships of the allied fleet. Yet King Constantine has been so virtuous with till reason has ceased to be a virtue. It is almost time he was given a taste of the argument peculiar to those Teutons he loves so dearly.

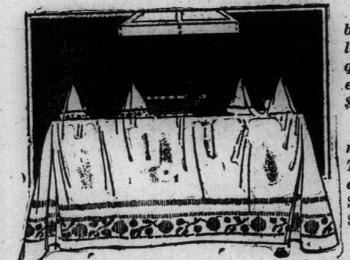

It is exceedingly fortunate for that deluded monarch that he is showing his German leanings to the Allies instead of showing allied leanings to the Germans. Had the latter been the case he would even now be hunting among the shell holes for his crown.

THEY ARE PAYING THE PRICE TO-DAY

Less Than a Dollar a Month Per Person Is Money Now Available To Feed Belgium.

"They are paying the price," says Eleanor Egan, writing of the Belgian people in the Saturday Evening Post of a recent issue. "Their resources are diminishing day by day, the world's benevolence is dwindling almost to the vanishing point, and they are facing an immediate future wherein life's necessities will have to be defined in terms equivalent to an irreducible minimum. The figures of the Commission for the Relief of Belgium sound large, but its only fixed income for the seven million Belgians is five million dollars a month, and dividing the dividend from this is really a process of dealing in heart-breaking minutiae."

Five million dollars a month to feed seven million starving people. Less per month per person than the average man spends on his lunch and tobacco each day. It is what the Belgian Relief Committee has to contend with. It has to see these people who are paying the price; listen to their cries for food and say "We have only so much, after that you must starve."

"They are paying the price," and the worst of it is that it is the women and children who are paying the price. Picture mothers—mothers of babies they have watched fade and grow under the scourge of starvation—who urged their husbands to fight for the cause they believed just, now forced to watch their children go down to graves dug by hunger and want because their allies do not give them enough to eat.

These are the terrible conditions facing the Belgians and these are the conditions the Belgian Relief Committee asks you to help alleviate. Your contribution, no matter how small, may save the life of some wee Belgian tot, just as dear to you. They are hungry—these Belgian kiddies—and we must feed them.

There are all over Canada local Committees who are giving their services to this, the greatest and most deserving cause humanity has ever known. Give them your subscription or it can be sent to The Belgian Relief Committee, Headquarters for Canada, 69 St. Peter Street, Montreal.

SEVEN

Less Than a Dollar a Month Per Person Is Money Now Available To Feed Belgium.

"They are paying the price," says Eleanor Egan, writing of the Belgian people in the Saturday Evening Post of a recent issue. "Their resources are diminishing day by day, the world's benevolence is dwindling almost to the vanishing point, and they are facing an immediate future wherein life's necessities will have to be defined in terms equivalent to an irreducible minimum. The figures of the Commission for the Relief of Belgium sound large, but its only fixed income for the seven million Belgians is five million dollars a month, and dividing the dividend from this is really a process of dealing in heart-breaking minutiae."

"Five million dollars a month to feed seven million starving people less per month per person than the average man spends on his lunch and tobacco each day. It is what the Belgian Relief Committee has to contend with. It has to face these people who are paying the price; listen to their cries for food and say 'We have only so much, after that you must starve.'"

"They are paying the price," and the worst of it is that it is the women and children who are paying the price. Picture mothers—mothers of babies they have watched fade and grow wan under the scourge of starvation—who urged their husbands to fight for the cause they believed just now forced to watch their children go down to graves dug by hunger and want because their allies do not give them enough to eat.

These are the terrible conditions facing the Belgians and these are the conditions the Belgian Relief Committee asks you to help alleviate.

Your contribution, no matter how small, may save the life of some we Belgian tot, just as dear to the mother as your child is to you. They are hungry—these Belgian kiddies—and we must feed them.

There are all over Canada local Committees who are giving their services to this, the greatest and most deserving cause humanity has ever known. Give them your subscription.

It can be sent to The Belgian Relief Committee, Headquarters for Canada, 69 St. Peter Street, Montreal.

Routine Session of City Council Last Evening

Hydro Economy is Suggested By Ald. Dowling, As a Preventive Against Shortage—The Gas Question Once More Mooted.

The city council held a two hour routine session last evening, transacting considerable business of uneventful character.

Communications. The minutes of the previous meeting were taken as read. The usual time lists and other reports were submitted to the council.

Mr. Alex. Howarth of the New American Hotel asked for a reduction upon his income and business tax, owing to the cutting off of his liquor license. His request was referred to the finance committee.

Damages. Claims for damages for accidents upon the city streets, resulting in the death of two horses, were made by Jas. Eccles and Thos. Britton. Their requests were referred to the Board of Works.

Reconstruct Platform. Permission was given the Dominion Flour Mills, Ltd., to reconstruct in concrete the present plank platform in front of their mill on Wharf Street, to be of the same width as the present platform.

Permission was given the firm of John Hall and Sons to use for three months the northerly side of Centre Street for the piling of their lumber.

Storm Sewer. The drainage for the lower end of Stratheona Ave. will be provided by a storm sewer to be run from the Grand River across the River Road to a manhole gully to be placed on Stratheona Avenue and the outlet of the sewer from the manhole to be provided with a valve.

An Agreement. A by-law was introduced by Ald. Ward providing for an agreement between the city and the township of Brantford for the maintenance of roads in the city and township. Receiving its three readings, the by-law carried.

By-law Amended. An amendment to the Building By-law was provided by by-law stipulating that the walks and footings of all buildings be inspected and approved before the further progress of the work.

Two Petitions. Petitions were received from residents of the street concerned both for and against the construction of a storm sewer upon Port Street between Huron and Superior Streets. Mr. E. J. Lavery addressed the council, urging that residents of adjacent streets which would be benefited by the sewer, be compelled to pay their share of the cost of construction.

He was supported by Mr. A. Buck and the matter was referred to the suggested the extinguishing of the street lights at midnight. Mayor Bowley recommended cutting down the number of lights in the outlying parts of the city. Ald. Pitcher queried whether the use of a smaller amount by the city would not mean the paying of a higher price. He was assured that such would not be the case. An appeal for better lighting conditions upon Victoria Bridge was made by Ald. Ward.

St. Paul's Subway. Ald. Ward enquired as to the outlook for the St. Paul's avenue subway, and was informed by the mayor that the matter was at present receiving the attention of the Dominion Railway Commissioners at Ottawa. The only question to be decided now was the amount to be paid by each of the two parties concerned and judgment was expected within a week now, at the latest.

The council adjourned at 9.45. All the members were in attendance during the evening.

JUST THE THING FOR LITTLE ONES

Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine a mother can give her little ones. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, banish constipation and indigestion; relieve colds and simple fevers and make teething easy. Concerning them Mrs. Herbert Johnston, Maymont, Sask., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past four years and find them just the thing for babies and young children." They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co.,

Insanity is to be the defence of Capt. J. E. Merrill, charged with murdering John F. Rogers of Moncton.

Two important meetings were held in St. John of the New Brunswick Advisory Committee for boys' work. Louis McCarthy of St. John had his ankle fractured when an automobile ran into the team he was driving.

John McCormack, of Missisquoi, a suspected thief, broke his leg and was captured. He is now in New-castle jail.

"What about the gas question?" demanded Ald. Bragg, who demanded action before the cold weather actually set in. Ald. Wiley considered that the gas committee might have some suggestion to offer.

Hydro Economy. The question of economy in the use of hydro-electric power in view of the shortage said to be impending was broached by Ald. Dowling, who

SIR SAM HUGHES RESIGNS HIS OFFICE

(Continued from page 1) immediate causes of the final rupture. Sir Sam took this action during his last visit to England. It has never been ratified, and is regarded as one of the most outstanding examples of this usurpation of authority, referred to in the official announcement to-day.

"A Great Load Off My Back." Sir Sam Hughes, in discussing his resignation last night, said: "It is true I have resigned, but not for the reasons assigned in the report given out this afternoon." Accompanying my resignation was a request to the Prime Minister that all the correspondence in connection with the affair might be published promptly. I would like to say that I feel quite happy. A great load is off my back. (Canada's citizens soldiers have a record that is second to none. They have proved themselves to be gentlemen, yet fearless and self-sacrificing. Canada regards her forces with pride.)

"In leaving the department I feel I have nothing special to regret in regard to its work or management. My officers, so far as I am aware, have been loyal and self-sacrificing to the limit. They have been true. In Britain, in the first year of the war, Canada had practically no control of her forces. The British system was followed. We have, however, reorganized the pay and medical departments, and, of course, have improved the training to meet the changed conditions of the war."

"Last year for nine straight months our soldiers had no rest from the trenches. This year I have planned extra divisions that fully one-quarter of our troops could be rested at a time, but perhaps the most important accomplishment of all has been the perfect harmony with the War Office, with General Robertson, General Whigham, indeed, with all the senior officers there. They could not be more obliging and helpful. British statesmen, including Premier Asquith, Lloyd George, Bonar Law, Sir P. E. Smith, Viscount Grey, Lord Lansdowne, Walter Long, Lord Selborne, Lord Derby and others have been ever ready and desirous of advancing the best interests of Canada and the Canadians. To Sir Max Aitken Canada owes a deep debt of gratitude for his great work in the war."

To Continue Recruiting. Concluding, Sir Sam said: "I conceive it my duty to give every assistance I can still to help the cause. I do not know who my successor may be, but whoever it is can count on my assistance in every legitimate way to help in the great cause. It is my intention to go ahead precisely as I intended, and to go on and on, recruiting. I part with my colleagues with more or less regret, but in the future if they pursue proper lines I will be ready to give them or any one else my cordial support."

Later last night Sir Sam Hughes made an addition to his statement. It was this: "The correspondence will show that Sir Robert Borden asked for the resignation of the Minister of Militia on account of the tone of a letter written on November 1 by the Minister of Militia showing that the Prime Minister had made misstatements which the Minister of Militia promptly showed to be incorrect, and criticisms which were unwarranted when the facts were considered."

Music and Drama

"WHEN DREAMS COME TRUE" the delightful musical comedy of romance and youth, is announced as one of the forthcoming attractions at the Grand Opera House. This musical comedy has met with unqualified success in all parts of the country. The following is clipped from one of the Portland, Oregon papers:

If you hear some folks whistling an insinuating little tune, with a smooth drag followed by a skipping lilt you know he was one of the lucky ones who saw and heard "When Dreams Come True" yesterday afternoon or evening. Much

BAD COLD? TAKE "CASCARETS" FOR BOWELS TO-NIGHT

Get a 10 cent box. Colds—whether in the head or part of the body are quickly overcome by urging the liver to action and keeping the bowels free of poison. Take Cascarets to-night and you will wake up with a clear head and your cold will be gone. Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember the quickest way to get rid of colds is one or two Cascarets at night to cleanse the system. Get a 10-cent box at any drug store. Don't forget the children. They relish this Candy Cathartic and it is often all that is needed to drive a cold from their little systems.

is said nowadays about the "tired business man" and his need for light entertainment for evening recreation and care for brain lag. After hearing the dross of the past few seasons, which lived for a day and expired, it is a wonder that the "tired business man" didn't become exhausted. "When Dreams Come True" is a first class musical show with a high class company and needs not the customary press notices of "100 days in New York" etc. The performance as seen last night is sufficient in itself—in company, story, costumes and scenery.

Costs and Tenors, managers and owners, have assembled a clever cast and a hard working, excellent singing chorus. If it doesn't make good, and a few dollars, then the public doesn't want merit. The music is all good, but there is one melody, "When Dreams Come True," which pops up throughout the show and sets everyone in the audience humming or swaying in time. "When Dreams Come True" is a dancing show, everybody dances, chorus and principals. The program specifies that all the dances are copyrighted, and from the number of encores demanded, dance lovers in the audience might easily have mastered many of the steps. "When Dreams Come True" deserves a successful season. That is more than can be said of many a "tired business man" production.

The Grand "September Morn" comes to the Grand Opera House this week, matinee and night, with nearly half a hundred talented artists, including a chorus of remarkably pretty girls, composing one of the best singing and dancing ensembles ever offered in musical comedy. Fun runs rampant in "September Morn" from the rise of the curtain and entrance of that splendid funmaker, William Moore, who has the part of his life, and who is ably assisted by a cast of representative musical comedy purveyors. This is LeCompte and Fleisher's biggest production and they have fairly outdone themselves in casting and mounting this popular merry affair.

Ruth Wilkins, chief and charming, imbues "September Morn" with an airy freshness that is charming. Leslie Jones, James Baber, J. J. Patton and Billy Murphy are also members of this comedy along with the other favorites who were recently seen in the various parts in "September Morn" at the La Salle Opera House, Chicago.

He was just a little butterfly, but like many a boy and many a girl he was clumsy. He would fly into thorny things and tear his wings. And the worst of it was—even when he did tear them badly he didn't seem to care. He just went on flying with his yellow rags fluttering in the wind.

I doubt if he ever would have had them fixed if he hadn't tumbled into a thistle and tore them so badly on the spikes that he could hardly get out and when he did get out he could hardly fly. That was when he began to feel a little frightened.

"Well!" said an old grandfather butterfly. "You are a sight and no mistake. I've never seen such a butterfly. And I've been in the world more butterfly years than most. The thing for you to do is to hunt up little old Granny Grundel in the fairy forest. She mends the leaves on the trees and maybe—maybe, I don't say she will—but maybe she will mend you up a bit with her pine needles. Dear knows you need it."

So the yellow butterfly flew off to hunt old Granny Grundel, and believe it or not as you choose, he flew with a limp! He was just a bundle of rags, and when he lighted on the fence of Granny's cottage in the fairy forest, Granny could hardly believe her eyes.

However, she was grandmotherly and kind, and when the butterfly told her his errand she bustled off to her workbasket and came back with her pine needle and some fairy silk.

"Never in my life," said Granny Grundel, staring over her spectacles, "have I mended a butterfly, but I'm willing to try."

And she set to work. She worked and worked and worked. Why, the foolish fellow was in shreds. "No use talking," said Granny. "You've gone and done it this time. Your wings are ruined. I can't pretend to mend 'em."

And then that foolish, clumsy butterfly was really frightened. "But I can't fly!" he said. "You should have thought of that before you went tumbling around into spiky things," said Granny severely, but for all that she looked at him with a grandmother pucker on her forehead. She was sorry in her heart for him. He did look so ragged and forlorn. And presently Granny laughed. She laughed again and then she hurried around the cottage to her garden and came back with a fairy buttercup.

What did Granny do? She took two buttercup petals, tacked them neatly over his ragged wings and off he went, beautifully mended and flying finely. And after that he was perfectly careful.

GIRLS' DRESS.

By Anabel Worthington.

This illustration shows a little dress of simple loveliness for a child up to 10 years of age. It is just the thing for wear at home or school.

The body part is in long waisted effect, with side front closing to denote smartness and with the lower edges gathered where a wide belt of contrasting goods covers the joining of the skirt, with seven plaits in each half and a neat panel front.

The always fashionable contrasting goods for the collar and cuffs makes other trimming unnecessary, but adding a bow tie takes nothing from the excellent lines of such frock. A pocket may be inserted if you like or a patch pocket placed in the left or right front above the belt.

Linen, St. Nicholas cloth, cotton poplin and the like make satisfactory tub frocks. Plaids, checks, serge and wool mixtures are fine for school dresses. The development of this dress is easily possible in a couple of hours at most. The dress pattern, No. 8,034, cuts in sizes 4 to 10 years. To make in size 6 requires 2 1/2 yards 36 inch material, 3/4 yard 36 inch contrasting goods. Or 2 1/2 yards all one material. To obtain the pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

Glasses

Are Not A LUXURY

They are a necessity. Nobody wears them unless they have to. But if they have to, it is the duty to get the best. You cannot trifle with your eyes. Poor glasses will injure them. If you think you need glasses come here and get them examined. We will fit you with the kind that will positively benefit you at a small cost.
