Special Train For Americans Taking Departure Withdrawn; a Charge Made That Turk Students Were Detained in U.S.

By Courier Leased Wire. Paris, July 19.—The Germans made an attack last night on a front of 800 metres south of St. Quentin. The war office announces that the enemy gained a footing in the French first line but was expelled from the greater part of these positions by a counter-attack. A German attempt to regain ground captured by the French near Arras was repulsed, and the Verdun front was stabilized.

By Courier Leased Wire. Petrograd, Wednesday, July 18.—The government controls the city today as completely as the Bolsheviki appeared to control it yesterday. Petrograd, July 19.—An extraordinary cabinet council is discussing the proposal to transfer the seat of the Provisional Government to Moscow. Crisis Approaching Petrograd, July 18.—The general staff buildings and Winter Palace Square are headquarters for the government forces which are bivouacking there and have posted cannon. The general feeling is that the decisive stage between the forces of order and disorder is rapidly approaching. At a joint meeting of the Workmen and Soldiers' and Peasants' Councils resolution was adopted in reference to the ministerial crisis to the effect that the departure of the cadet ministers cannot be made the pretext for depriving the government of the support of the revolutionary democracy. On the other hand the resignation of the cadets makes it imperative for democracy to re-determine its attitude regarding the organization of power.

Appointment To Post Of Minister of Munitions Rouses Protests

By Courier Leased Wire. New York, July 19.—An Associated Press cable from London says: According to statements of lobby correspondents of all the morning newspapers, Winston Spencer Churchill's appointment to the cabinet as minister of munitions has aroused a storm of angry resentment among the Conservative members of the House of Commons, while some Liberals also regard it with disapproval. The Conservative parliamentary groups such as the Unionist war committee are holding a meeting to consider what action to take regarding the appointment. Some Unionists said they contemplate refusing further support to the government if it includes Churchill.

By Courier Leased Wire. Paris, July 19.—The Germans made an attack last night on a front of 800 metres south of St. Quentin. The war office announces that the enemy gained a footing in the French first line but was expelled from the greater part of these positions by a counter-attack. A German attempt to regain ground captured by the French near Arras was repulsed, and the Verdun front was stabilized.

Therefore general assembly councils of Workmen's and Soldiers' and Peasants must be convoked and such assembly will meet within a fortnight hence to discuss the organization which is to replace the cadet ministers. Meantime all power must be concentrated in the present government which must act in conformity with the decisions reached at the last general congress. M. Tsereteli, minister of posts and telegraphs and member of the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates, said yesterday the general assembly of Workmen and Soldiers' and Peasants would be held at Moscow in order to prevent the interference from an irresponsible section of the Petrograd garrison.

There is talk of presenting the premier with a signed protest against the appointment. Unconfirmed reports mention the likelihood of resignations among some of the Conservative members of the House of Commons. Colonial Secretary Walter Hume is said to be resentful because he was not consulted about Churchill's appointment. The Daily News' lobby reporter says if opposition against Churchill continues the Liberal war committee of which Churchill is a distinguished member, will retaliate. Similar action will be taken against the admission of the war cabinet of Sir Edward Carson. Winston Spencer Churchill must seek re-election. He will go to Dundee Saturday to address his constituents. There is thus far no sign of opposition to his election.

By Courier Leased Wire. Copenhagen, July 19.—Admiral von Tirpitz has telegraphed an appeal to Ernest Bassermann, the National Liberal leader, who is now an invalid, to leave the sickroom where he is under treatment, and assist in the fight against the bloc resolution in the reichstag, which will come up Friday. The von Tirpitz message says: "No passing food difficulties or war weariness must be allowed to soften the German people's determination, and render possible a peace which would threaten the future of Germany and its working classes. The bulk of the National Liberals will probably vote against the resolution."

By Courier Leased Wire. Berlin, via London, July 19.—Dr. Achmed Im-Bey, editor of the Constantinople Daily Sabah, one of a party of Turkish journalists who are at present guests of the German Government, told the Associated Press to-day that the Turkish Government withdrew the special train arranged for Americans who wished to depart from Turkey, as a result of a report made by the former Turkish consul-general at New York on his arrival at Constantinople that the American Government had refused to permit Turkish students to return to New York to return with the officials. "There is much feeling in Turkey as a result of the action of the United States," said he, "and reprisals are being urged in some quarters. When the break came our government offered to place at the disposal of American citizens a special train in which they might travel in comfort on their way to Switzerland. After we learned the attitude in America toward the Turkish students, the government withdrew the offer of travel accommodations. "When the war began our government closed the English, French and Russian schools and seized their property. Robert College at Constantinople (an American institution) was not molested, however, and is still open. There are about 400 Americans still in Turkey."

By Courier Leased Wire. Petrograd, Tuesday, July 17.—By an agreement between the Soldiers' and Workmen's deputies and the remaining members of the cabinet, the question of replacing the retiring ministers, as well as all questions of policy has been in abeyance pending the suppressing of the Bolsheviki element which for thirty-six hours has kept the city in a turmoil. Events since noon to-day serve somewhat to clear up the anomalous situation growing out of the apparent reluctance of the government to mobilize its forces to quell the turbulent minority and Radical elements. The government evidently considered it unwise for the safety of the city to oppose them with violent methods until it is absolutely necessary.

Owing to reports of an intended attack on the Tauride Palace for the purpose of arresting M. Skoboleff, minister of labor, M. Tsereteli, minister of posts and telegraphs and M. Tchernoff, minister of agriculture, the military authorities, sent two light guns thither which met en route a machine gun regiment. Shots were exchanged and some horses were killed. A party of infantry stationed at the Champ de Mars, scene of the military reviews, fired on the Cossacks from Pavlovsk.

Active Bolsheviki propaganda work is being conducted here especially among returning Russian emigrants by various agents of Socialist Lenin's faction including especially two women. One of them, accomplished Robert Grim, the Socialist internationalist and German agent, from Switzerland through Germany to Russia in May. He was expelled from Russia as a result of efforts on the part of the Federalists to conclude a peace with Russia.

By Courier Leased Wire. Washington, July 19.—A decrease of ten per cent in the consumption of flour in England in June is the claim made by the National War Savings Committee—as a result of the "eat less bread" campaign inaugurated to conserve food, according to a report received by Herbert Hoover to-day. This saving, it is stated, is in excess of all expectations.

By Courier Leased Wire. Montreal, July 19.—(Montreal Gazette.) Anti-conscription feeling has no effect on the fire fighters of Montreal when on their way to a fire. They proved that to a large crowd which was hearing the eloquence of speakers at the corner of Beaubien and St. Hubert streets last night. Both streets were completely blocked by people when, during one of the fiery outbursts of speech, the sound of the reels was heard and a hose wagon coming from the east dashed through the lane that was hastily made for them without slackening in speed. The lane was filled up again, the speaker was undergoing denunciation, once more when the sounds betokened another detachment of the brigade. "Don't let them pass, don't let them pass," was the cry, and no effort was made to open up. The apparatus came on. It was one of the large sized steamer engines, with four fast horses, and they were in a hurry. The crowd's first opinion on the advisability of making way quickly changed as the apparatus reached them, and a lane was made in such quick time as would have done credit to veteran soldiers at a manoeuvre.

By Courier Leased Wire. London, July 19.—"As a result of the recent fighting east of Mombay the British raiding parties were repulsed last night west of Chetsey before reaching our trenches. We made successful raids north and east of Ypres and secured prisoners. A few other prisoners were captured by us in an unsuccessful hostile attack upon one of our advanced posts east of Ostiaterna. "There was considerable artillery activity on both sides in the night."

By Courier Leased Wire. Chicago, July 19.—That many men, principally foreign born, have been swindled by persons claiming to be lawyers, who offered to obtain for them exemption from the draft law, was the charge made to-day by a representative of the Immigrants Protective League, of which Federal Judge Julian W. Mack is president. It is declared that many of the men approached have paid various sums of money on the representation that they would present their claims for exemption to the boards and secure them relief from war service. The Immigrants Protective League has issued a warning against all persons who promise to obtain exemptions and offers aid to all foreign born who do desire information about the draft law.

It was officially explained at the state department that while this course was followed at present, it was not to be taken as indication of a permanent policy.

By Courier Leased Wire. Berlin, Monday, July 16, via London, July 19 (Delayed).—The imperial family, accompanied by Field Marshal von Hindenburg and his wife, General von Ludendorff, first quarter-master-general and Count von vonnau-senonien, accompanied to Emperor William, and who was commander of the German commerce raider, Moewe, attended Sunday's services at the cathedral here. The service is said to have been one of the most impressive held in the cathedral during the war. The text of the sermon was taken from the ninety-third Psalm, fourth verse, "The Lord on high is mighty, than the noise of many waters, yea, than the mighty waves of the sea." The officiating court chaplain invoked the divine blessing on Emperor William and Field Marshal von Hindenburg, "the man into whose hands the Lord has laid the German sword," and on the newly appointed imperial chancellor, Dr. Michaelis.

JUSTICE IN THE BRITISH EMPIRE

(By Dr. P. Charles Mitchell, F.R.S., F.Z.S.)

The Germans, trying to justify their wide ambitions, proclaim that they, as the highest race in the world, can understand the spirit of all other races. It is at least certain that they succeed in getting themselves heartily disliked by all the peoples, civilized or uncivilized, with whom they come in contact, and it is probable that their desire to impose German kultur wherever they can reach, is the chief secret of their failure to win confidence. The English, on the other hand, in dealing with the widest and most varied Empire that the world has ever seen have learned that Imperial Justice must interpret impartially all the laws and customs of the peoples subject to it.

These notes are confined to the subject races of the British Empire as it is in dealing with these that the varied functions of the Court are best exhibited, and the sympathetic understanding of different religious creeds and customs, for which British rule has been famous among colonizing nations is displayed in its most interesting manner.

India provides nearly half the appeals that are disposed of by the tribunal in any one year, and these cases deal with every phase of native social life and involve the examination of religious laws and customs extending back to the dawn of history. Some years ago the Court was called on to decide between two rival incarnations of the same God, whose portrait of very ancient date was sent from India for their lordship's inspection. The whole matter was considered at great length, and the judgment delivered occupied several pages of the Indian Law Reports.

The cases touch every side of family and social life. A few months ago the rights of a tribe in Southern India were adjusted, and in the Current List of Appeals appears a "claim by a wandering fakir to share in an estate alleged to have been divided in his absence."

WOMAN HAD NERVOUS TROUBLE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

West Danby, N. Y.—"I have had nervous trouble all my life until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nerves and for female troubles and it straightened me out in good shape. I work nearly all the time, as we live on a farm and I have four girls. I do my sewing and other work with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten year old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I have also had my oldest girl take it and it did her lots of good. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it."—Mrs. DEWITT SIMONBAUGH, West Danby, N. Y.

Sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, backache, headaches, dragging sensations, all point to female derangements which may be overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MICHAELIS TO BE HUN SCAPE GOAT

Germany Will Make Chancellor Responsible For Her Own Faults

SAYS JULES CAMBON

Michaelis Type of Disciplined and Brutal Functionary

Paris, July 19.—"One thing is certain, and that is that Emperor William wanted to get rid of a man who trilled after him unpleasant recollections of the days preceding the war," said Jules Cambon, general secretary to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, to the Associated Press today.

"The Emperor doubtless thought," added Mr. Cambon, "that by sacrificing Chancellor von Bethman-Hollweg he would make easier the task of peace negotiators; but whatever happens, Germany will make its war Chancellor a scapegoat for its own faults and its own crimes."

"Herr Michaelis," continued Mr. Cambon, "seems to be of the type of disciplined, brutal, Prussian functionary, a Liberal so long as he is in power, but Conservative and reactionary as soon as he is charged with public functions. He will doubtless try, according to the method familiar to the Germans, to practice contradictory policies, supporting von Hindenburg and von Ludendorff on the one hand, and trying, on the other, to flatter the Socialists and pacifist elements in Germany and her allied countries."

Regarding the situation in Spain, Mr. Cambon declined to prophesy, but experience having taught him how deceptive indications in that country frequently are, he expressed great esteem for President Dato, who, he said, possessed a brilliant and liberal mind with a plenteous energy and will-power. He thought the allies would be unable to find a more honorable and impartial neutral than he to deal with.

WAR IS DRAIN ON MAN-POWER Sixty Million Workers Withdraw From Productive Pursuits

Sixty million workers have been drawn from productive pursuits by the terrible struggle going on in Europe. Ten nations of the world are on nations. The strain of the war is being felt everywhere. If the Allied powers are to overcome the enemy they must bear that strain bravely. The mobilization of the human resources of every allied country is essential. Great Britain is spending over $35,000,000 a day. The United States is voting billions for war purposes. Expenditures in the Dominion have steadily risen until now it is estimated that $600,000,000 will be required this year.

THE SITUATION.

The Austro-German armies in Galicia have been greatly reinforced, but the Russians continue to successfully hold them off. Berlin claims minor successes, but nothing of a complete nature and the Muscovites are clearly battling with vigor and determination. There have been disorders in Petrograd. Some regiments at the front were disbanded for refusing to obey orders, and this fact seems to have been largely at the bottom of the trouble. The authorities apparently are handling matters in a calm manner.

In the Verdun sector the French, despite many fierce counter-attacks, have held ground recently gained, and the foe has for the present slackened with regard to his endeavors.

The official report for last week with reference to the submarine toll of British vessels, shows a slight increase in the total. The figures read at fourteen over 1,600 tons, and four under that figure. Arrivals at British ports were 2,828 and sailings, 2,920. Charles H. Grasty, in a special cable despatch states that the people in the Old Land had an idea that the United States would invent some solution of the problem, but none having been forthcoming, the fact has to be faced that "at the present rate of construction and destruction, there can't possibly at the end of a few months, be shipping enough unless British commitments elsewhere are considerably curtailed." He thinks that keeping destroyers on the Atlantic seaboard is a sheer waste of material, when they are needed closer home to help in the abatement of a critical situation.

A FORCED ELECTION

Premier Borden pursued a dignified course when he announced in the Dominion House yesterday afternoon that although the vote for an extension of the life of Parliament had carried, it was not intended under the circumstances to proceed any further with that proposal.

Sir Robert had previously told the members that consent would practically have to be unanimous and the margin of twenty, adequate enough in ordinary circumstances, could certainly not be regarded as that in this instance.

Under the extension of a year ago the existence of the House as at present constituted ceases on October 7th of this year so that there will be an election prior to that time. The lamentable forcing of an appeal during a war crisis, is directly chargeable to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Quebec influence for which he stands, and has always stood, regardless of the best interests of the rest of the Dominion.

The amendment proposed by Hon. Mr. Graham was nothing but a political dodge and the Premier took the proper course when he insisted that matters should be dealt with on the basis of one thing at a time. In fact the pledge had already been uttered that wealth would be further assessed by the introduction later in the session of an income tax.

In the fight which has thus been wily precipitated by the Liberal chief the main issue, to the practical exclusion of all others, will of course be conscription versus non-conscription. The traitorous French element will be a unit for Sir Wilfrid so will the foreigners and the wanton slackers and their class. Suppose Laurier should win, what then?

A Government would be established pledged to refrain from calling men to the front when the voluntary system has practically been exhausted. Will the voice of Canada say that this message shall be conveyed to the brave lads who are risking their lives in the trenches for all of us? The Courier cannot believe it.

Meanwhile the spectacle presented will be one of great comfort to the enemy and they will smack their lips over the circumstance that in the greatest of all the British Dominions there is division enough to force an election over conscripted help. Still further, that French-Canadians are quite willing to see their mother land crushed under the Prussian machine for all the help they care to give.

And as for the boys at the front, they will scarcely believe their ears when they know what has taken place. Under Borden's leadership, those men and women who believe that Canada should do her unrestricted share for the Empire and human liberty will rally without regard to political lines, and the answer should be such as to uphold the unsullied honor of this nation.

NOTES AND COMMENTS
Laurier wants an election. So he did on Reciprocity.

One of the funny things in connection with the present session of the Dominion House has been the scorn of Hon. Mr. Oliver, with reference to those Liberal members taking issue with Sir Wilfrid on a referendum, when the self-same Oliver last session voted against his chief when the latter tried to drag the Ontario School issue into the House.

No doubt Sir Wilfrid thinks he has played a very astute game. In Quebec the cry will be "He has saved us from Conscription." In Ontario the argument will be used that all he wanted was consultation of the people. Pretty foxy scheme, but it shouldn't fool anyone.

Is this country to be dominated by Quebec?

RUSSIANS MAKE FRESH PROGRESS

Petrograd, July 19.—Russian troops have again driven into the Galician village of Novica, south of Kalusz, and now occupy the eastern end of that place.

Two enemy attacks on the above mentioned detachments were repulsed by our fire.

Miss Eva Newstead Called By Death Soon After Brother

Paris, July 18.—(From our own correspondent)—There was a large representative gathering in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium last evening, the meeting being in connection with the organization of the Young Women's Christian Association. Rev. Dr. Armstrong, who has been acting as honorary secretary in the interests of the Y.W.C.A. work since the meeting of May 1916, at which a decision was reached and the offer made that shortly after coming to Paris, the management realized the necessity of a Y.W.C.A. and assured the meeting that no selfish motives had actuated the inception of the building, but rather in the interest and welfare of the young women of Paris. During the evening, Revs. Nicholson, Adamson and Langton as well as Messrs. T. S. Davidson, M.P.P., John Harold and Henry Rehder gave short addresses, while pleasing songs were rendered by Mrs. James Sinclair and Mr. Gorrie.

An instructive talk was given by Miss Lane, the travelling secretary of the Y.W.C.A., who explained the working of the institution. It transpired that for small fee the members of the association could do their own washing and ironing, as also dress-making, which would be a great help to the young women.

The building is a substantial three-story one of art brick, laid in English and Flemish bond, and is so constructed that as the need arises, it can be made to accommodate any number of students on the ground floor reception hall and room, office, reading room, dining room and board room, and on the upper floor eleven double bedrooms and eight single bedrooms. The cost of the building is upwards of $20,000, and in handing the same over to the National Council of the Y.W.C.A. the donors have certainly done a generous deed, and one that will fill a long felt want in Paris. It is estimated that to furnish and equip nearly $5,000 will be required, and it is proposed to carry the loan of July 26 and 27 for funds to furnish same. Every person who contributes $1.00 or more to this fund will be given a charter member of the institution.

CANADIAN SOLDIER'S LETTER

Says Dr. Cassell's Tablets Have Kept Him Fit Through Two Years

Sapper A. Harsley, of the A Company, Canadian Engineers, whose home address is 906, Trafalgar Street, London, Ontario, is one of many who have written in praise of Dr. Cassell's Tablets. He says: "As a constant user of Dr. Cassell's Tablets, I would like to say my testimony to their value. I used them when I was in the South African War, and, finding the benefit of them there, have taken them since whenever I felt rundown. I always recommend them, for I know that they do all that is claimed for them. In my opinion they are the best tonic anyone can take for loss of appetite, poorness of the blood, or general weakness of the system."

A free sample of Dr. Cassell's Tablets will be sent to you on receipt of 5 cents for mailing and packing. Address: Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Ltd., 10 McCaul St., Toronto.

VICTORIA CROSS

Without Details

Lt. Commander W. E. Sanders of Naval Reserve Receives High Honors

HAD RAPID ADVANCE

Conspicuous Gallantry And Consummate Coolness Brought V. C.

By Courier Leased Wire. London, July 19.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—For the second time during the war the Victoria Cross was awarded without any detailed account of the reason being published. The first instance was that of Commander Gordon Campbell, of the navy; the second instance is that of Commander W. E. Sanders, of the naval reserve. The official notice of the honor to Sanders merely says: "In recognition of his conspicuous gallantry, consummate coolness and skill in command of one of His Majesty's ships in action."

Commander Campbell was actually decorated by the King before the award of the Victoria Cross was published in the official gazette, and he also received the distinguished service order under similar circumstances a short time earlier, and was given special promotion over the heads of about 700 officers. Current rumor ascribed his remarkable performance to work against submarines. The advancement of Sanders has been even more remarkable. He was commissioned in the naval reserve as a sub-lieutenant a year ago. The rule is that an officer shall serve eight years as a lieutenant before getting a promotion, but he has risen by special dispensation from sub-lieutenant to lieutenant-commander in less than a year.

Sanders is a native of New Zealand, and is thirty years old. He was an officer of sailing ships from the age of 19, and came to England early in 1916 with the idea of entering the navy. He obtained a commission after a slight delay. "He is one of the most capable youngsters we have picked since the war began," said an officer at the Admiralty. "Of course we all know what he did in the Victoria Cross for, but it is of such a peculiar nature that nothing could possibly be published. You may say, however, that it was one of the most brilliant minor engagements of the war."

TORONTO SEEKS STREET CONTROL

House of Commons Decided City Has Power Over Own Thoroughfares

Ottawa, July 18.—The battle for the control of Toronto's streets will now be shifted to the Senate. In the Commons to-night in committee of the whole on the Railway Act the retroactive clause inserted to checkmate the Toronto and Niagara Power Company's claim that it had the right to erect poles and lines anywhere in the city without the consent of the municipality was adopted after an amendment of F. B. Carvell, of Carleton, N.B., aiming to strike the retroactive clause from the bill, was defeated by a vote of 32 to 13. In the vote only two Conservatives of all those in the House—R. F. Green, of Kootenay, and P. Barnard, of Victoria—favored the amendment, while practically the whole Liberal representation in the House at the time voted to throw out a clause that had been inserted at the request of the municipalities of Ontario, and not a few outside the province. Only two Toronto and York members were in the House to support the clause when the vote was taken, Mr. Macdonnell and Capt. Tom. Wallace.

APPEAL ASSESSMENT

Brantford Township has decided to appeal the equalized assessment system that was determined upon at the last meeting of the county council. A special meeting of the Brantford Township Council has therefore been called for this evening to discuss the situation as it affects this township.

POLICE COURT

On the promise to leave the city and never return, Hazel Lockrey, who was arrested on the streets yesterday morning and charged in the police court this morning with vagrancy, was allowed to go with a warning. William B. Burrell who has taken a number of weeks to comply with a simple clause of the Public Health Act, was given another week to complete the work.

NARROW ESCAPE

An automobile crashed into the railing on the Murray Street bridge over the canal yesterday afternoon shortly before six o'clock, and for a moment or two threatened to become a submarine. The railing was smashed and the front wheel of the car extended about two feet over the edge when it was finally brought to a stop.

BOUQUET FOR BRANTFORD.

Mayor Booker of Hamilton, is not satisfied with the manner in which the Hamilton market is being conducted and threatens to investigate conditions prevailing there in an attempt to discover whether there is a rise or combine among the farmers to "boost" prices. One official in discussing the situation recently stated, "I have always contended that the Hamilton market is not properly conducted. Over in Brantford their city market is much smaller than the one in this city, but the Brantford market is operated on strictly business principles."

BASEBALL

Two closely contested games are promised for Saturday at Agricultural Park, when the Motor Trucks will meet the Holmedale Cubs and the Cordage will endeavor to repeat their performance and again defeat the Dominion Steel Products, as they did in their last encounter. A meeting of the league executive was held in the Y.M.C.A. last evening, and it was definitely decided to hold all games in the future at Agricultural Park, and discontinue playing the home games for the Cubs in the Holmedale.

ASSESSMENT ROLLS

The city assessors, having completed their field or outside work, are now engaged in preparing the assessment rolls, which will occupy them for the next two months.

LAWN SOCIAL

A very successful lawn social was held on the grounds adjacent to the home of Mrs. Wagg, Dundas St., last evening by the Ladies' Aid of St. James, Anglican church. A pleasing programme was rendered, and ice cream, cake and coffee served. Substantial proceeds rewarded the ladies for their efforts.

ALLEN GOES UP

Pitcher Joe Allen, of Sarnia, who twirled his first game for the Steel Products on Saturday, has received instructions to report to the Toronto Internationals early next week. Scout Arthur Irwin, of the Leafs, is expected to arrive in the city on Saturday to give him the "once over."

RECRUITING DEAD

"Absolutely dead," was the reply of Sergt.-Major Plummer, who is in charge of the recruiting depot on the Market Square, when questioned this morning regarding the recruiting situation in the city. Two men were sent down to Hamilton early in the week, but neither was able to pass the medical examination, and both were rejected.

SENT TO ASYLUM

George Jellie, the Austrian, who has been in the cells at the jail until the doctors could determine on his sanity, was taken to the Hamilton asylum for the insane yesterday afternoon by Messrs. Louis Stander and John Belyea. Since his confinement in the jail, the unfortunate man has been rapidly growing worse, and yesterday while making the trip to the institution on the hill, he sang and screamed continually.

BRANDON SHOES

The man whose body was found in the Hamilton Bay, early this week, who had been shot and his body weighted down with a heavy weight and chain, was wearing a pair of shoes stamped "Brandon Manufacturing Company, of London."

How the name London got mixed up with the manufacturer is hard to explain from the dispatch, unless per chance the shoes were expressly made for some London retail firm and stamped in one place "Brandon Shoe Company," and in another place, as for example, "J. and S. London," supposing they were made for a firm named Jones and Smith. Several London firms carry the Brandon shoes, and part of the retailer's mark might have been worn off, leaving only the name London.

SPECIAL MENTION

Pte. W. Waghorn, of 21 Drummond street, has been recommended for special mention for his services at the front, according to a letter received this week by Mrs. Waghorn, from her husband. On the night of June 6th, Pte. Waghorn, proceeding with a supply wagon laden with lumber, took charge of the outfit when the driver was wounded by shrapnel, saw the wounded man to the dressing station and then proceeded with the wagon to its destination, at the support trench, unloading it and bringing it back in safety.

Together with the letter Pte. Waghorn sends an interesting souvenir of Vimy Ridge, in the form of a paper cutter, the handle formed of a German bullet and the blade of a fragment of a French shell.

Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas have returned from a trip to eastern points, and are taking up their residence in their new home, 218 Nelson street.

FIRST BAPTIST CHOR PICNIC
Enjoyable Outing Yesterday Afternoon Held at Mulloy Farm

The choir of the First Baptist church spent a most enjoyable afternoon at the Mulloy Farm by the river side yesterday. The day was fine and was sincerely appreciated by all. The attendance, too, was large, nearly all the choir being present. Fifteen autos conveyed the party to the picnic grounds. Soft base ball was the first order of the day, and was thoroughly enjoyed and heartily entered into by the ladies as well as the men. Many of the fair sex distinguished themselves in the field, but were a little weak at the bat before such batteries as Byers-Schofield and Drury and Cook. The umpire had many close decisions to render, and at times his close decisions were disputed rather hotly, yet he was able to conclude his work without suffering bodily injury or imposing fines or other penalties on the unruly.

A feast fit for the gods was served by the ladies and was heartily enjoyed by all. After supper a fast game of ball was played by the men and then followed the races, which were run off under the competent management of Messrs. F. W. Benedict and T. J. Schofield, the popular leader and organist. The prize winners were as follows:

Threading the needle and neat sewing, first prize, Mrs. J. F. Schultz and Mrs. Harold; 2nd prize, Mrs. Herb McIntyre and Mr. J. Pickering.

Hanging clothes pins on the line, ladies, Mrs. Herb McIntyre; gents, Mr. W. Byers.

Peanut race, ladies, Miss Faith Cooper; gents, Mr. C. Drury. Married members race, Mrs. Schofield, men, Mr. Tune. Single members race, ladies, Kelle Edmondson; men, Geo. Matthews.

Nuptial Notes

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, 131 West street, was the scene of a charming wedding yesterday afternoon, when their daughter, Marian Gladys was united in marriage to Curtis J. Nelson, of the high school staff of North Toronto. The bride, who was unattended, entered the room upon the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, as played by Miss Marjorie McAdam. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. A. Woodside, under a floral arch under which the bride's parents were wedded twenty-six years ago. A host of beautiful and costly presents were received. The bride was beautifully gowned in charmeuse satin and crepe de chene, trimmed with rose point lace, wearing a bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms, and carrying white and pink roses. The newly married couple after a dainty luncheon, left at six o'clock for a wedding trip up the St. Lawrence and Hudson rivers to New York and Washington, following which they will take up their residence in Toronto.

ST. THOMAS AND LONDON TEAM BEAT DOMINION STEEL

Exhibition Game Staged Yesterday Afternoon for Benefit of Children's Shelter; The Ex-Canadian Leaguers Were too Much For Munition Men

Out-hit, out-run, out-played in every department of the game, the Dominion Steel Products team in the city baseball league went down to decisive and crushing defeat yesterday afternoon at the hands of St. Thomas, in an exhibition game staged at Agricultural Park for the benefit of the Children's Shelter here. The visitors were not long in getting to the local men, who appeared to go completely to pieces before the big league calibre of their opponents, the majority of them veterans of the Canadian league in its glistering days. Gil Forgue, Ernie Dinsmore, Dusty Bullock, Danford and Gadsby, all of them old timers of the Canuck circuit, were on deck as large as life and twice as natural, and memories of the old days of the Red Sox and of many a historic encounter behind the dyke were stirred in the breasts of rabbit fans. The behavior of the munition men, too, was strongly reminiscent of the manner in which the late lamented Crimson Hose were wont to go to pieces at crucial moments.

To analyze the defeat administered the Dominion Steel is no easy matter; clear it was from the first that the local men were out-classed, and the visitors were not long in getting to Allen, who, though hit hard and frequently come back with admirable grit and perseverance, twirling on occasions a brand of ball which deserved better support than accorded him. Venning contributed largely to the melee, with no less than five errors to his credit, while Tilman uncorked a wild wild heaves to second base, and McKay was off his game at first.

Allen was successful for the first three innings in holding his opponents scoreless, with but two safe bingles to their credit, but in the fourth the fireworks commenced in earnest. Dinsmore, the first man to bat, walked, and Delaney followed with a smashing double, the only extra base hit of the game. Bullock bunted and was safe upon a wild throw, and Danford singled, bringing Delaney across the pan with the second tally of the inning. Two more were added in the fifth inning, one in the sixth and four in the seventh, when the Munition Men's infield blew up completely. The locals, in the meantime, had succeeded in connecting with Billings' stunts for one tally in the third frame, and added one each in the fifth and seventh. The visitors annexed two more in the eighth, and the final score stood 11-3. The score:

Summary—Struck out by Allen, eight; by Billings three; Bases on balls—off Allen 1; off Billings, 1; Hit by pitcher—by Allen, Forgue; by Billings, Kaufman; Two base hits, Bullock; Sacrifice hits, Dinsmore, Bullock; Stolen bases, Delaney 2; Gadsby; Double play, Venning to Orcutt.

It was a combined team from London and St. Thomas which the locals had to face, and there were many old and familiar faces on the visitors' line-up.

Gil Forgue, the "Sunkest Kid," played his usual stellar game at short, and was responsible for two of the visitors' runs without obtaining a safe hit. Gil bears no longer any traces of the broken leg which caused his release from the Brant's of 1914.

Dusty Bullock, one time star third sacker of Berlin and Ottawa, captained the visitors as well as covering first to good effect.

Ernie Dinsmore of Berlin, Gadsby of St. Thomas and Danford of London, were other ex-performers from the Canadian circuit there in all their glory. Not to forget Del Orcutt, who put up a good game for the munition men at second.

Forgue kicked like a steer when Kaufman was given his base after being hit by the pitcher in the third. He claimed that Les had struck at the ball and trotted in from second to the plate to whisper sweet nothings in the umpire's ear. To no effect, save that Gil was panicked throughout the remainder of the game by the crowd.

With Danford on third and Gadsby on second in the ninth, with only one out, the visitors looked like adding their score, but Venning saved the situation when he caught Kenney's fly and doubled Gadsby off second. The visitors worked the double steal successfully in the seventh inning, Delaney coming home and Danford taking second on the play.

Doyle and McElvie collided in going after Delaney's Texas leaguer in the eighth and the shortstop had his right knee cut, time being called until recovered. The ball fell safe, and Delaney ultimately crossed the plate, with the last run of the game. Oh, well, the game was for a good cause anyway.

Umpire Lee called the balls and strikes with a majestic wave of the hand and a deep voice that rolled over the diamond and into the stands, in a way that would rival the famous Silk O'Loughlin.

Sporting Comment

Johnny Evers who played his first game for the Phillies Monday, still has a few more years of good baseball left in his system. This extreme optimism is not based on inside dope or anything like that, but on past performances of the scrappy Trojan, who has been chased by the umpires more often than any two players in the league. Johnny has the nerve. He will not admit defeat. Every time he appears to be downed, and out he fights harder than ever and climbs to the top.

We call Evers the "Human Crab." He deserves the title, for he won't fairly and squarely in his fourteen years under the Big Top. It's the cold-truth that we think of Johnny most as a crabbed, scrappy ball player—a grand player but an awful grouchy. But this should not be held against him. All of us would be grouchy and crabbed if we faced the hard luck that has fallen to Johnny in the past. Without doubt he is the most unfortunate player in the game.

No player ever has undergone the mental and physical sufferings of the Trojan and perhaps no one else will—and remain in the game. The tough luck started in 1909 when Johnny invested his money in a shoe store. He had some left, so he purchased an automobile. While he was learning to drive he saw Jimmy Sheekard standing on the street corner and asked him to take a ride.

"Not me," said Jimmy. "I want to live a while."

"I'll take a chance," said George McDonald, a Chicago baseball writer and he climbed in.

There was an accident—and McDonald was killed. Evers was heart-broken, and it was thought for weeks that he would crack under the strain. Many say that Johnny has not been the same since. The next year his shoe business failed, and again his friends predicted he would suffer a nervous breakdown. However, ever he came back strong in the spring of 1910 and was Maying his best game when he broke his leg sliding home. That put him out for the season. In 1912, more thin and drawn, quiet off the field, but more crabbed on it, he came back again. He was the same little fighter of old and played good baseball. In December, 1914, he was seriously ill with pneumonia, but battled the disease and won out. Then came this attack of neuritis from which he is said to be suffering at present. He'll come back from that too—the gamest, scrappiest little fellow who ever played out a string of tough luck to the bitter end—and never quit.

Among those who have dropped out, then returned—come-backs they are called—one who has done so successfully but escaped the encumbrance therefore which are thrust upon others is George Gibson. Gibson's catching for the Giants these days is first class. Nobody is any better at handling pitching, as witness the excellent work he has got out of Schupp and Sallee. Mentally he's as keen as he ever was. He is throwing out as many base runners as the next catcher, and he lands on the ball as hard as he ever did. He has been of incalculable value to the Giants since McCarthy was hurt.

Manager Egan of the Providence Grays, announced last night, that Catcher Mayer, who is at home on the injured list, had wired that he was still unable to report. With Allen out of the game with a split thumb, the Grays are in a bad way for catchers, as Brainard, who quibbled yesterday, simply stepped in to fill the gap. The Grays have wired Manager Stallings of the Boston Braves, to let them have Catcher McGraw, who is now with Utica. At a late hour last night no word had been received from him and unless McGraw can come Brainard will have to do the catching.

New York, July 18.—New York made it three straight from Chicago here today, winning 4 to 2. The Giants won in the fifth inning, when they scored three runs on singles by Hariden, Burns, Kilduff and Kauff and a fumble by Williams. Brooklyn bunched four hits and two passes with Ames pitching today, scoring all their runs and winning by a score of 5 to 1. Jake Daubert, was back in the game after several weeks' lay-off, but retired in the seventh inning. St. Louis used four pitchers. The score:—

Although out-hit nearly two to one, Philadelphia defeated Cincinnati today by 3 to 1. The visitors failed to take advantage of their opportunities to score. Philadelphia secured one run in the second inning on three bases on balls and Killifer's single and won the game by scoring twice in the seventh on singles by Ludrus and Killifer. Pittsburg stopped Boston's winning streak today by taking both games of a double-header, the first 8 to 6 and the second 3 to 2 in the first game Tyler did well until the eighth, when Pittsburg made five runs on four hits, two errors, a base on balls and two steals by Carey. Rudolph was hit hard in the second game and only good outfielding held down the visitors to three runs. The score:—

Chicago Takes Second Double-Header in Two Days From Washington

YANKS BEAT INDIANS Tigers and Athletics Break Even White Red Sox Blank Browns

Chicago, July 18.—Chicago won its second straight double-header from Washington to-day, 4 to 0 and 7 to 4. In the first game Benz allowed the visitors but three hits, while the locals bunched his off Harper and won easily. In the second game Gallia's wildness in walking three men and hitting another, coupled with a fielder's choice, sacrifice fly and a single by Schalk, netted four runs, and Jackson's home run in the sixth inning, with Ayres on the mound, scored the winning run. The scores:—

First game:—
Chicago	0 0 0 1 0 2 1 0 x—4 8 0

Batteries—Harper, Shaw and Henry, Ainsmith; Benz and Schalk. Second game:—

Batteries—Gallia, Ayres, Shaw and Ainsmith; Danforth, Russell and Schalk. AT DETROIT

Detroit and Philadelphia again broke even in two games to-day. The home club took the first game, 4 to 3. There was not much batting in either contest, most of the runs being due to errors, bases on balls or bad judgment by the fielders. The scores:—

First game:—
Philadelphia	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1 5 1
Detroit	0 0 0 0 0 0 2 x—4 7 1

Detroit	0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1—3 6 1

Batteries—R. Johnson, J. Bush and Haley, Meyer; James, Cunningham, Mitchell and Stanage. AT CLEVELAND

New York took the odd game from Cleveland, 12 to 7, in ten innings. Cleveland drove Caldwell and Fisher from the box, but Russell put an end to the locals' scoring. Poor fielding by Morton and Covaleski gave New York nine of its twelve runs. Baker's batting and Chapman's fielding featured. The score:—

Cleveland	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—7 11 4

A double and wild throw by Severoid in the second inning were responsible for St. Louis' loss of today's game to Boston, 1 to 0. In this inning Scott singled, Agnew tapped in front of the plate and was safe on Severoid's fumble. Severoid then threw the ball to right and Scott scored. Mays allowed but four hits. The score:—

R. H. E.
St. Louis	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 4 2

BRITISH WARSHIP QUELLED TROUBLE

Disturbance in Streets of Greece By Supporters of Constantine

(Associated Press) Volo, Greece, July 19.—A searchlight of a British cruiser recently disrupted a street meeting of the supporters of King Constantine who were loudly declaiming protests against the rule of the Entente Allies.

"Down with the dogs of Allies," shouted one royalist adherent. "Curse Venizelos." "Long live King Constantine," were among the cries of the speakers. The meeting had reached the zenith of enthusiasm when suddenly every Royalist started as if he had been shot. Through the sultry blackness of the June night had struck a brilliant beam of illumination. It came from the searchlight of the English ship and it had fallen and rested upon them. It never wavered. It seemed to be looking in to the face of every man of them as if to see who would speak next. The words died away on their lips. The searchlight simply stared them into silence. They fled and whispered to each other for a few minutes and then slipped away into the grateful obscurity of the surrounding darkness. After that the searchlight was master of the situation.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
He grinned maliciously as he finished. The station officer calmly put down his pen.

"Done?" he queried.
"That's all I've got to say just now. My lawyer'll do the talking if you go on with this."

"Take him below," ordered the inspector, and began to gather up his papers.

Jimmie eagerly turned to Menzies. "What do you make of it?" he asked.

"How did you know about Gwennie? I've been with you ever since, and—"

The chief inspector smoothed his sparse hair. "Didn't know," he said shortly. "I guessed, as Ling said. We were too pushed to judge except by appearances, and he's probably right about it being a fake. No good worrying till we hear from Royal. He may have tumbled to it, but you see he'd go to the hospital, and then to the local station, and then perhaps on to the opium joint. We don't know what sort of a rumpus he may have had. We came straight on here to Kensington to charge Ling. If she's got away he'll have done everything necessary to head her off. We can only wait in patience."

"But he won't know where you are," remonstrated Jimmie.

Menzies smiled. "He knows that I'd have brought Ling here, and if he didn't he could find out in ten minutes by putting in an all station call from wherever he happened to be."

"There's the tape machine and the telephone to every police station in London, and you can't lose an officer unless he wants to be lost. No, the question of Gwennie isn't going to upset me yet. In our business you can't often run a one-man show. You've got to trust your colleagues. Royal's keen enough, and if she should blink him the wires would be slight mighty quick."

He pulled out his watch. "I shall give him another five minutes and then go home," he said. "I'm fairly worn out."

"Do you think there's anything in that guff of Ling's? Whether he's bluffing or not, it seems to me you've got your work cut out to prove any murder against him if she does get away. She had as much motive as he did."

"Yes. It sounded plausible, didn't it?" said the chief inspector serenely. "There's only one little legal point that he as well as you missed. I'm dead sure that Ling killed Greye-Stratton, but it wouldn't make the slightest difference to him if I couldn't prove it—which I think I can. It doesn't matter a button who fired the shot—those in the conspiracy are equally guilty of murder—even if they were a million miles away at the time. There's the motive, there's the fact that Ling (or the same material, which would be an extraordinary coincidence) was in the house, there is Greye-Stratton's pistol, which you will have to swear you took from him, and—oh, there's a dozen things more."

The swing doors of the charge room clattered noisily open, and Jimmie wheeled to confront Royal. The detective sergeant's clothes were torn and smothered in mud, and there was an ugly black bruise on his stained face. Deep encrimsoned scratches were on both cheeks and his eyes were blood-shot. He laughed unsteadily as he saw them.

"What a night we're having!" he said. "What a night we're having! You got Ling?"

CHAPTER XXXIII.
Royal Earns Promotion.
Menzies was at his side in an instant and had slipped a supporting arm round him.

"Got him tight," he answered. "You look to have been in something old chap. Much hurt? All right, don't trouble to talk now." He raised his voice. "One of you people call that doctor up again."

"I got Gwennie," muttered Royal feebly. "Slippery Jezebel she is, too, but I got her. She wasn't dead at all, Mr. Menzies. She's the chief myself like that, sir," he said.

"That's all right," said the chief inspector soothingly. "You shall tell us all about that later." But he drew a long breath of relief.

It was half an hour later that Royal, pulled together by the skilled ministrations of the divisional surgeon, was able to tell his story. He grinned apologetically at Menzies.

"Sorry to have made an ass of myself like that, sir," he said. "I wanted to come right on and tell you all about it, so I didn't stay to be patched up. I never thought I'd get the worst doing I've ever had from an old woman."

"She seems to have mucked you up and that's a fact," agreed Menzies. "She did that," explained Royal. "I was so busy cursing my luck at being left to look after a dead-end while you were on the warpath with Ling that I never stopped to consider she might be dead after all."

"I made the same mistake," said Menzies. "You aren't to blame there."

"Maybe I was in a bit of a hurry," confessed Royal. "I didn't think a cop's required much watching. I was thinking of the driver. He might have been all right, and again he mightn't. So when he patched the engine up I took my seat alongside of him, and we started off for the hospital at quite a respectable speed. We'd just turned into the main road when I heard a click behind me, and it flashed across my mind that I'd been careless in taking the old girl so much on trust."

"I bent round the side of the cab to take a look through the window, and there was a hand fumbling with the door handle. I'd had to twist like an acrobat to get a fair look, and I suppose I was a little off my guard. First thing I knew the cab gave a lurch and I was rolling over and over in the mud of the roadway. It was a mercy I didn't break my neck, but I wasn't thinking of that. I just picked myself up and there was the cab a hundred yards ahead putting on steam for all it was worth."

"It came to me then what a fool I'd been. If you'll believe me, sir, I hadn't even taken the number of that rotten cab, and it was too far away to see it. "This about puts the finish to your career in the C.I.D., Royal, my man, I think to myself, and pulled out my whistle. Of course I knew there wasn't a chance in a million of the doing any good. She'd got too big a start."

"I'm not much of a believer in miracles, but I'm blest if one didn't happen then. As I'm alive, a great big touring car came sliding along towards me. The chauffeur was bringing it back from Southend or somewhere. I jumped to it and pulled him up."

"You noticed a taxicab that you've just passed?" I says.

"He looks me up and down, and you can guess I was in a pretty pickle of mud from head to foot. If he seat alongside of him and took possession I reckon he'd have gone on without me."

"You've got a cold nerve," he says. "Get off this cab, or I'll fling you off and call a policeman."

"I was getting over my shakeup a bit then, but there wasn't time for argument. "For God's sake don't chew the rag with me," I says. "Turn back round and get after that cab before it gets a chance to dodge me."

"Well, that chauffeur was a sport. I will say that for him. He jerked that big car about in double quick time and we began sliding after Gwennie. I felt my luck was of."

"Now what's it all about?" he says as soon as we got going. "If you're having a game with me, my lad, you've got the biggest sort of hiding you ever got in your life coming to you." He looked it, too.

"I'm a detective officer," I says, "and in that cab there's a woman wanted for murder. Now bust your car or catch her."

"He nodded and let the car out. You know the Whitechapel Road, fairly straight in stretches, and we had a view of the cab before it took one of the bends. There'll be some summonses out against that car this morning for exceeding the speed limit unless we put in a word. That chauffeur was quick to take a hint, and you can bet we shifted. The road was fairly clear at that hour, and we came up to the cab as if it was standing still."

"What do you want me to do?" asks the chauffeur.

"Get alongside and yell to the driver to stop," I says. I hadn't any plan very clear in my own mind and that was the best I could do at the moment. It was just silly, too, because if he'd stop for a demand like that he'd have stopped when I tumbled off."

"Anyway we tried it, and then I got an idea of what was happening. The driver's face was like dirty white paper and he was banging on to the steering wheel like grim death. Inside Gwennie had opened one of the windows—you know some taxicabs have got windows that open straight on to the driver's seat—and was leaning forward with a little ivory-mounted pistol in her hand. He told me later on that when up at tumbled off he started to pull up, and the feel of the pistol muzzle in his ribs was the first thing that woke him up to the fact that Gwennie was going to have a say-see. He thought she was a ghost at first."

SIDE TALKS

HOW MUCH TO DRESS.

How much does it cost you a year to dress?

Some day this summer when the reader friends have some vacation time that they don't know what to do with, I wish they'd write me some letters on this subject. Then we'll have a symposium on it the same as we did on the subject of how much people give for charity.

Tell me what your income is and how much of it you spend on clothes.

Charge Up Your Own Time—And if you have time to spare, like to know about how you apportion that money, how much for underwear, suits, blouses, etc. If you put a great deal of time into them, charge that up at the rate of a dress-maker's or seamstress' time.

Presumably the letters will be anonymous. If you want to sign your name, of course the confidence will be respected.

If I became interested in the subject was this: A group of us were talking about what we spent for clothes. One woman spent $600 a year; another $150 (plus considerable of her own time); a third $200 flat.

A Moderate Proportion—The third is an unmarried business woman with an income of about two thousand dollars and that seemed to me a very moderate allotment.

What do you think? Incidentally, when we expressed our surprise that she could do so well on that she gave us some of her rules.

I think they are interesting enough to repeat:

Be careful that your clothes are well spaced—that is that each garment serves some sufficiently different purpose. One needs a different kind of gown for so many occasions that no woman of limited income can afford to double up by buying two or three gowns that serve the same usage.

If you can make a summer coat really warm enough for winter by putting an interlining in it, do so and finish it up while it is in style. Don't let your clothes "sour" in the closet.

Don't have the trick of wearing some favorite dress all the time and permitting other perfectly good dresses to "sour" in your closet.

Use all the assistants that keep clothes in good shape, hangers, shears, the tailor, etc. Keep an umbrella and rubbers at both ends of the route and always have an adequate raincoat.

These are some of her suggestions. Maybe you'll have some that you'll incorporate in that letter, you are going to write me.

WINNIPEG MAN CURED

Says Dr. Cassell's Tablets Saved Him From Nervous Breakdown.

Mr. G. C. Inman, 330 Harcourt street, Sturgeon Creek, Winnipeg, for many years a well-known man in the business life of Canada, says:

"I was terribly run down and weak. I had no appetite, and I suffered if I forced myself to eat. My nerves were in a bad way, and my sleep very disturbed. Everything pointed to a nervous breakdown. Then I got Dr. Cassell's Tablets. The first result was that I could sleep, and then my health rapidly improved. It was really astonishing how my strength and fitness came back."

Mr. Inman is now in England, managing the well-known firm of A. W. Inman and Son, Printers and Publishers, Leeds, Eng., and letters will reach him there.

A free sample of Dr. Cassell's Tablets will be sent to you on receipt of 5 cents for mailing and packing. Address: Harold F. Ritchie and Co., Ltd., 10 McCaul St., Toronto.

But I don't want my hair combed!" replied Marjorie and she went on saying. Her Mamma went into the house shouting her head sadly.

"But, dear, if you don't have your tangles brushed out often, some day your Mamma won't be able to get them out. And besides, didn't you ever hear that rat build nests in tangled hair?" asked Good Fairy.

Marjorie said she had heard her Mamma say so.

"But I don't believe it," she added. That night when Marjorie went to supper Mamma never said a word about her hair. But when Daddy came in he asked why she was not cleaned up.

"She won't let me comb her hair," Mamma explained.

"But, my goodness! don't you know you will have nests there if the tangles aren't combed out?" asked Daddy.

Marjorie laughed. She wasn't afraid of rats building in her hair. But when she was tucked into her little white bed she had a hard time to get to sleep. Something made a funny noise in the corner and before her very eyes a great rat jumped out of the hole and beckoned to a crowd of little mice that ran along the floor and they ran up the bed posts on to the cover. Some had little cans of glue in their paws, others had little white bags, and several carried tiny ladders which they leaned on Marjorie's head.

She tried to cry out, but the sound stuck in her throat. The big rat seemed to understand the job and ordered the others around. Marjorie lay very still just to see what they would do.

One by one the mice ran up the ladders and into her tangled hair. They were quite busy, tying the curls and gluing them so as to form little nests. Soon they were finished and the big fellow came up to look at the work. He picked up his teeth with his toe nail and called some of them back.

It's pretty good work, but her hair isn't quite tangled enough. By tomorrow night it will be just right," said the big rat.

Just then the Good Fairy leaned over Marjorie and kissed her cheek. Marjorie opened her eyes. She had been asleep and the Good Fairy had sent the dream to show her what might happen if she let the tangles stay in her hair. Marjorie jumped out of bed and ran down stairs.

"Mamma, it is too late to comb my hair? I had the strangest dream!" she cried.

Daddy went for the brush and comb and Mamma soon had all the tangles out and Marjorie ran back to bed.

From that time on Mamma never had to coax Marjorie to have her hair combed, for every afternoon when Marjorie saw the good fairy smiling at her from the rose bush, she laughed and ran in to be cleaned up.

"Of course I know it was only a dream the Good Fairy sent to show me how perfectly dreadful it is to let my hair get all tangled," said Marjorie.

Mamma had never seen the Good Fairy as Marjorie called her, but she was glad that something had changed her little girl's idea about having her hair combed.

Vote Lacking In Unanimity And Parliament Will Not Be Extended

Ottawa, July 19.—Immediately on the opening of the House of Commons yesterday, the Prime Minister made a definite statement that it was the intention of the government not to proceed with the resolution regarding the extension of the term of Parliament in view of the opposition expressed from the other side of the House.

Sir Robert said it might have been noticed that he had not made any motion to have the resolution sent with a message to the Senate for the purpose of having concurrent action there.

"My failure to do this," said Sir Robert, "was due to the reason I set forth in moving the resolution. It then declared that I did not think it should be acted upon unless there was unanimity, or practical unanimity, in the House with regard to it."

"The result in the House showed something very much short of unanimity, or practical unanimity, as the vote stood 82 in favor of it with 62 against it. In the circumstances, therefore, having regard to the course which I laid down in moving the resolution, I merely desire to announce what must already be apparent to every hon. gentleman in the House, that the government do not propose to take any further action on the resolution, although it was carried by a majority in the House."

This statement was greeted with Opposition cheers, speedily answered by cheers from the Government side.

BACK TO THE FARM

Since I'm too fat to do much harm with sword or gun or sabre, methinks I'll go back to the farm and do some useful labor. In carnage I would like to slosh, but as I've too much tallow, I'll raise the large and shapely squash, the artichoke and melon. Then, maybe, when the war is done, and Kaiser Bill's a goner, with him who plied the dead-gun they'll let me share the honor. When I'm declared too fat to fight, I do not sulk or grumble; I say, "Whatever is right—I'll choose a task, more humble, there surely is some useful sphere in which a portly duffer may do as much as though, with spear, he made a Prussian suffer. So I shall hum some martial chants while spading, raking, hoeing; I'll cultivate my nutmeg plants, and keep my string beans growing." Most men are glad to bear the flag to any warstruck region, if they can ride on prancing nag, and boss a fighting legion. We cannot all wear stripes of gold and train with captains courtly, for some of us have grown too old, and others are too portly. But there are places for us all, whatever our age or station, to hang a banner on the wall and do things for the nation.

RHOODY WALLACE BACK WITH CARDS

Old Timer Returns to St. Louis After 15 Years' Absence

ERA OF COME-BACKS

Signing Old Time Veterans Becomes Latest Fads in Majors

(By Frederick G. Lieb)

New York, July 19.—Will some one kindly page Amos Rusie and Cy Young. I signing the old birds in baseball has become the latest fad. The Pirates started the latest fad by coining 43-year-old Hans Wagner out of retirement, and the old boy is hitting around .325. Old Nap Lajoie is tearing the International league apart and is hitting close to .500. Pittsburgh wanted him for the Pirates, but Toronto is so well pleased with Larry as manager that the Leafs' owner declined to let Larry go. Then Ed Walsh and Joe Birmingham are working out on the Polo grounds with the Giants. The old spittal monarch of the White Sox hopes to do a come-back with the McGraw team.

Branch Rickey, the new Cardinal president, trying to show that the Cards are an up-to-date team, announced to the world yesterday that he had engaged Rhoddy Wallace as highly infelder for the St. Louis National League team. Wallace, who was 43 years old before he was called to the National League after an absence of fifteen years. He jumped the Cardinals in 1902 to throw his lot with the Browns, then making his start in St. Louis. Wallace pitched the Cardinals' first game in 1902. Wallace Daddy of 'Em All.

In point of big league service Wallace is the daddy of them all; he pitched in the National League in 1895, one year before Lajoie broke in, two years before the name Wagner first appeared in a National League box score, five years before Mathewson's big league debut, and eleven years before Coombs pitched his first game for Connie Mack. Wallace, however, is a few months younger than Hans Wagner. Honus was 43 years old before he was called to the St. Louis Browns, is 42. Roderick started his baseball career in 1894 with the Clarion, Pa., team as a pitcher, and in 1895 he joined Pat Tebeau's Cleveland National league team. Wallace pitched for Cleveland two seasons until an accident to Chippy McGarr, the old Cleveland third baseman, gave Rhoddy a chance to show his ability as an infelder. Tebeau at first only played Wallace at third because he had no one else, but overnight the young pitcher became a star infelder. Shifted to Cards in 1900.

Wallace, with many of the other Cleveland stars, was shifted to the Browns, and his salary, and those of Willie Keeler and Nap Lajoie were reported to be the biggest of that era. Wallace was supposed to have received a five-year contract, calling for $10,000, for jumping to the Browns.

In 1911 Wallace was promoted to manager of the Browns and held the post until midseason of 1912, when Geo. Stovall, his rankless job over for $10,000, in 1915 Wallace tried his luck as umpire in the American league, but didn't find it congenial and last season he was back with the Browns as utility infelder. Until a few days ago Wallace was playing manager of the Wichita Western league team.

Perhaps if the Yankees are unable to get a hitting outfielder they might draft Dan Brothers from the Polk grounds emergency squad.

LEAFS DROPPED DOUBLE HEADER

Providence Takes Three Straight, Toronto Loses Four Consecutively

INFIELD BROKEN UP

Graham Replaced by Lajoie At First—Errors Responsible

Toronto, July 19.—Providence again put the skids under the Leafs yesterday and the going was so good for the Grays that they took both ends of the double header, making it three straight on the series and Toronto's fourth straight loss. The games were decided by majorities of 6 to 3 and 8 to 1, and were the direct result of ragged ball and poor hitting by the locals, while fine fielding at times backed up the Gray's twirlers when they showed signs of feasting up. These decisive defeats have put the Leafs in the position the Leafs held on Saturday, namely, runners-up to the league leaders, and judging from their present form should overhaul Newark, making it present the Leafs will have other things than league leadership to worry them.

The Leafs were a badly disorganized team yesterday, and their play showed only too well what something is to be done to keep them in the running. Graham was absent from first and Lajoie went to that corner, putting Warhop in at second base, but the latter failed to combine with Blackburne, and many mistakes resulted through too much anxiety. Altenbergs' White man were back in the game, but they seemed to lack the ginger which delighted the fans earlier in the month. Added to all this Al Leake was sent to the mound in the second game to see if he could wipe the smear from his record resulting from Monday's game. His efforts were fruitless, for although he did better than on Monday, still not good enough to warrant his retention. It is hardly likely that he will be carried, although three errors behind him, in a way, account for the ten hits off him as against seven from Reulbach. Thompson pitched the first game for the Leafs, but he never had a chance for errors, and bases on balls were put him in a hole from which he never got back, though in the eighth the Leafs had crawled to within one run of the Grays, only to throw away a chance of overthrowing them in the ninth by another boot in their last inning.

At Buffalo

Buffalo won two games from Richmond yesterday by scores of 6 to 3 and 2 to 1. The Bisons won the second in eleven innings on three singles. Richmond outbit Buffalo in both games. Scores:—

First game—R. H. E. Buffalo . . . 00020004—6 11 3 Richmond . . . 00020001—3 11 3 Batteries—Engel and Daly; Ethel and Kohler.

Second game—R. H. E. Buffalo . . . 00010000001—2 7 2 Richmond . . . 00000010000—1 11 2 Batteries—Tyson and Onslow; Adams and Kohler.

At Montreal

Montreal shut out Baltimore here yesterday by the score of 7 to 0. Hoyt, who pitched for the locals, was virtually unhittable, allowing only two hits, while his team-mates battered their way to an easy victory, gathering twelve bingles. Score:—

Baltimore . . . 000000000—0 2 1 Montreal . . . 30022000—7 13 1 Batteries—Parham, McClellan and McEvoy; Hoyt and Madden, Lafluer.

Lieut.-Col. H. C. Sparling, who went overseas with a Highlanders battalion from Montreal, and has been awarded the D.S.O. is a son of Rev. Sparling, of Cobourg.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is the only medicine in the world that is made from the juices of fresh ripe fruits. Thus, it is manifestly unfair to say, "I won't take Fruit-a-tives because I have tried other remedies and they did me no good". It Works! Try It Tells how to loosen a sore, tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the ether discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of freezone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

Resolution Declares man People Driven No Lust of Conque

AFTER WAR POLI

By Courier Leased Wire.

Copenhagen, July 20.—The stag yesterday adopted the peace resolution by a vote of 116 with 17 not voting.

The peace-resolution of the city bloc in the reichstag, as the Tagblatt of Berlin last is as follows:

"As on August 4, 1914, so threshold of the fourth year, the German people stand the assurance of territory and economic peace are driven by no conquest."

"Germany took up arms in defense of its liberty and in dependence of the integrity of its territory, reichstag labors for peace, a mutual understanding and last, conciliation among the nations, economic and financial conditions are incompatible with peace."

The reichstag rejects all aiming at an economic blockade, the stirring up of enmity among peoples after the war. The freedom of the seas must be assured. Economic peace can be prepared ground for the friendly association of the peoples.

"The reichstag will engage promote the creation of international organizations. So long, ever, as the enemy government, not accept such a peace; so long they threaten Germany and her with conquest and starvation, the man people will stand together, one man, holdout unshaken and until the rights of itself and allies to life and development are secured. The German nation will unconquerable."

"The reichstag knows that the announcement is at one with the who are defending the fatherland, the heroic struggles, they are of the undying thanks of the people."

Attempt on Kaiser.
