Help to Keep Your Town Tidy

A Good Example for Our Town to Follow.

(Windsor Tribune.)

A short time ago, a city not very far from us, awoke to the fact that they might become a much nicer, neater-looking town, if every one would combine in doing something to make it so. Even the little children as well as the larger ones and the grown-ups, became enthusiastic in the work. Some of them could not help in any positive way, but they made some very nice promises to their parents and teachers of things they would not do. "I will not tear up paper and scatter it on the street." "I will not throw orange or banana peel on the street." "I will not scribble on loose seats." "I will not scribble on loose seats that are placed by the town in resting places." Many more promises of this nature they can make, and they will keep them. Windsor children do not scribble on fences, nor do their attention has been called to the fact that such things make a town untidy and give it a bad name. Nothing looks worse than paper floating around, and horses are often frightened thereby. Those who carve their names on seats and fences injure themselves as well. This city before alluded to offered prizes for the best essays written by the little people, setting forth the best methods for beautifying and keeping clean their town. We heard of a lady that the result was most gratifying, and that it was the best kept town she was ever in. "Union is strength." Let it unite in carrying out the idea that nothing is better than clean. And this habit of neatness will react on the young people and will be of invaluable service to them through life.

BALKED AT BABY KISSING.

General Booth Thought 3,500 Too Many, So He Just Waved His Hand.

LONDON, July 23.—How to kiss a baby was the problem facing General Booth, head of the Salvation Army on arriving at Rusden in the course of an automobile tour of England. He had a few days previously done a lot of baby kissing at the Crystal Palace. The fame of it spread abroad and mothers with their babies from a large area around Rusden flocked thither to intercept him. It is estimated that 3,500 lined up. General Booth, however, balked, and dreading the result of invidious distinction, kissed none, saying smilingly that he would wave hands instead. The disappointed mothers took their unloved progeny home, unaccompanied by General Booth's cheery congratulation that there was no race suicide problem in Northamptonshire.

PREDICTS RUSSO-CHINESE WAR.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 22.—The newspaper Retch has been confiscated for printing an article from its war correspondent, Klimoff, predicting war between Russia and China. Klimoff wrote that the relations between the Russians and Chinese in Manchuria were extremely hostile, that China was organizing an army and a fleet and improving the roads and railways, evidently in preparation for war. He added that China would soon be as strong as Japan.

DISASTERS BY LAND AND SEA.

In a marine horror on the California coast over 100 lives were lost by the collision of the steamer Columbia and the lumber laden schooner San Pedro. The passengers were asleep when the crash came and the steamer sank in five minutes. The Captain of the steamer went down with his ship. By the head-on collision of a fast excursion train with a freight, near Salem, Mich., thirty-one people are dead and more than seventy injured. The crew of the freight are held responsible.

Says the Toronto Globe—"A farm has been bought near Montreal to be used in connection with a reform school for boys. This is in accordance with the best modern ideas in dealing with those who have failed to conform to society's many necessary restraints."

St Mary's Church Guild

The annual meeting of St. Mary's Church Guild, Belleisle, took place at the close of the evening service last Thursday. The officers elected for the ensuing year were—President, Miss M. Wade; Vice-President, Mrs. M. O. Wade; Sec'y-Treas., Mrs. William E. Bent. After a short discussion it was decided to hold an ice cream social in Belleisle Hall on Friday evening, August 2nd, following evening if Friday be wet, proceeds to go toward insuring the Church and improvements. The question of forming a branch of the "Women's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Nova Scotia," was also discussed but the matter was left to a meeting called specially for that purpose to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon at three o'clock, in the Church, to which lady members of the congregation of all ages are invited.

Worked on Snow Shoes

Norman Wade, of the Transcontinental Survey Party, is spending about six weeks at his home in Granville, Centre. Mr. Wade informs us that his party has been in the bush for eighteen months. They worked on snow shoes from November last until June, covering from three to four miles a day, and carrying all their supplies with them, including tents. Each district is fifty miles in length and the surveying party working on each district consists of from twenty to twenty-five men including an engineer.

A party after covering their own district have to re-survey the work of the party on the next district to insure correctness of work. Mr. Wade says that the work of construction will probably begin next year.

Norseman Replaces Senlac

St. John, July 17.—William Thomson and company have chartered the steamer Norseman to replace the Senlac on the south shore route. The Norseman is now at Leith, Scotland, and will leave for St. John this week, and will be in commission in about three weeks. She is steel, of about 600 tons and a speed of about twelve knots, and owned by a firm in the Shetland Islands. Captain McKinnon of the Senlac will be in command, and the Senlac's crew will man the Norseman. It is said the Norseman is chartered until the Senlac can resume her place.

BERWICK CAMP MEETING.

The annual Methodist camp meeting and summer school for Sunday school workers will be held at Berwick, N. S. on August 6th to 15th. The meetings will be in charge of Rev. J. S. Coffin, president; James E. Hennigar, secretary; Rev. W. E. Turner, superintendent of public worship, and Rev. W. J. Dean, director of music. The lines taken up this year are Bible study and methods of Sunday School work. The summer school has secured the services of Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner, one of the international field secretaries, who is a specialist in Sunday School organization, especially in primary and junior work. Rev. Mr. Bartlett, associate secretary of Epworth League, will be present and a number of missionaries from China and Japan. The camp grounds are only a few minutes' walk from the D. A. R. station, the tents and cottages being placed in a very pretty grove of hemlock and pine. The programme is practically the same for every day, and includes the summer school for Sunday school workers, social services and sermons. Others who will take part besides those whose names have been already mentioned are: Revs. John Craig, F. E. Barrett, Joseph Sellar, H. J. Indow, J. N. Fisher, W. C. Parry, J. Phalen, D. Norman, W. H. Langille, A. Daniel, L. Daniel and R. W. Weddall.

The sailboat, without wind, is like unto the man who buys a stock of goods and rents a store and hires clerks, etc., and then reigns on buying the last, but most important item, viz: the advertising to make it go. Like the sailboat, he will "drift" along, but unless the side of circumstances are in his favor the "drift" will be backward rather than forward, and it is merely a matter of time, before he is wrecked in the shoal water of failure.

Why the Banks Have Increased Rate of Discount.

Canada Growing Faster than the Floating Capital Which is Being Absorbed by New Industries.

A St. John Times' reporter interviewed the several Bank Managers of that city regarding the stringency of the money market and the increased rate of discount. The result of the interviews was about the same in each case, the cause for the increase being attributed to the industrial development being ahead of the available supply of capital.

One manager said that his bank had not yet increased their rate, but he had heard some talk of it, and understood that several of the banks had already made an advance to 7 per cent. Asked as to the cause for this course being taken, he said it was a stringency in the money market that was world-wide. In Canada, it was a case of the country growing faster than the floating capital. New industries were absorbing a great deal of capital. In another bank it was stated that they had already increased the rate on some lines of business to 7 per cent. Their regular customers, business firms of standing, were still being given the 6 per cent rate, but for casual business, people who were not regular customers, the increased rate was being charged. In reply to a query as to whether there would be further increase, the response was that it was unlikely unless there was an increase in the rate of interest paid to depositors.

In one of the banks, the newspaper man was informed that they didn't discuss business with outsiders. If there was an increase it was a matter between their customers and themselves.

"We haven't increased our deposit rate yet," this gentleman volunteered as the reporter was leaving.

"Are you likely to?" he was asked. "Well, it is within the range of possibility and I should not be surprised if it should be done in the near future," he replied.

The next sanctum of the man whose initials on your slip of paper decide whether you are to get your money or not, to which the scribe paid a visit, made him almost gasp, for spread out on both sides of the desk were more nice new or up ten dollar notes than he had ever dreamt of possessing. "That's the kind of a job I'd like to have," remarked the scribe, as he watched the manager signing his name to these bits of paper that mean so much to a newspaper man especially. "Well, you'd soon tire of it. It's a tedious job and I don't like it."

Tearing his mind away from this heap of wealth, the news-getter asked about the increased rates.

"Yes, we have increased our rates on some lines of business," replied the manager. "We are charging 6, 6 1/2 and 7 per cent, the latter rate for casual business."

"The idea is to curtail somewhat on certain lines," accommodation paper especially. "The stringency of the money market is such that a step has been considered necessary and if all the banks have not yet come in on it, they will very soon."

"In Canada," he said, "the scarcity is felt more in Montreal and Toronto, than in this section, but it's a case of the country growing too fast for the floating capital."

"In the other banks the answer was practically the same, and it is expected that the increase will have the effect of curtailing considerable of the business whereby temporary loans are negotiated by 'accommodation notes.'"

W. W. CHESLEY

Presentation to a York Sergeant-Major.

Active and Notable Career

(York, Eng., Paper.)

Sergeant-Major C. G. Pincombe, Depot West Yorks Regiment, York who is retiring from the service on the 1st June next, after nearly 29 years of honorable service, was last evening presented with a handsome timepiece, bearing the following inscription—"Presented by the members of the Depot (P. W. O.) West Yorkshire Regiment to Sergeant-Major C. G. Pincombe, on his retirement from the service, 31st May, 1907."

Sergeant-Major H. Cass, in making the presentation, said he "wished to present the timepiece before them to Sergeant-Major Pincombe on behalf of sergeants' mess as a memento of the many kindnesses they had received from him, also of the esteem and respect in which he was held by his old comrades, and he trusted that both Mr. and Mrs. Pincombe would long be spared to look at the clock, which he believed would bring back to their memory some of the most happy days of their lives. They all wished them long life and happiness in their retirement."

Sergeant-Major Pincombe, in accepting the handsome timepiece, said in his 29 years' service he had experienced many kindnesses, and the best of good feeling had always prevailed. He reciprocated all these kindnesses and trusted they would have a very pleasant drill season. In years to come when he looked at the clock he and his wife would always think of the kind feeling which had prompted the handsome gift.

Sergeant-Major Pincombe served in the Egyptian War of 1882, receiving the medal with clasp for Tel-el-Kebir, and the Khedive's bronze star, also with the Suakim Field Force in the operations in the Sudan in 1885, receiving the clasp, Suakim 1885. He also possesses the medal for long service and good conduct, Mediterranean medal, and the Coronation medal, and has been honored with the meritorious service medal, for which he is noted.

Not only has the gallant sergeant-major been well known as a smart and capable soldier, with an enthusiastic nature, but has devoted the whole of his spare time to useful objects, which has made him a well known and respected citizen. In 1894 he obtained the permission of Colonel Harrington, then commanding 14th R. D. to form a branch of the Royal Army Temperance Association, and presented with the "award of merit" by H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught at the annual meeting in London, and remained secretary of the depot branch for five years. In 1900 he was selected to speak at the annual meeting at the Royal United Service Institution, London, his speech so commending itself to the meeting as to draw forth from Sir George White, V. C., who presided, a warm tribute. He also took a deep interest in the Soldiers' Institute, and helping on its good work. He believes that soldiers' homes are as necessary for the troops as the Y. M. C. A. are for the men in civil life, and should alike commend themselves to the support of all right thinking people. He strongly advocates the Soldiers' Christian Association which has for its object the banding together of all Christian men in each unit. And, being connected with the Y. M. C. A., it enables men on discharge to be passed on to the Y. M. C. A. in the place where the man intends to reside, so that he may not be lost sight of, and so, if necessary, be helped to find suitable employment.

The Army Scripture Readers' Association has in Mr. Pincombe a warm friend, and he has frequently spoken at meetings held in York and elsewhere to commend it and urge its claims. But perhaps he has been more known in connection with his Boys' Brigade work, for he gave his services both as organizer and instructor, and materially helped to bring to a successful issue the review which was held by Major-General N. T. Thynne, C. B., now K. C. B., commanding the North Eastern District, at the Exhibition, some years ago. So pleased was the gallant General with all that he saw that he specially called Sergeant-Major Pincombe out and publicly thanked him for his services.

For many years Sergeant-Major Pincombe has been connected with the "Press" boys' pleasant winter evenings, held on Mondays, at the Merchants' Hall, and recently gave a lecture on the campaigns he had served in, before the boys, and, by request, repeated the same before the members of the Boys' Brigade at Bright-street Schools.

Last, but not least, Mr. Pincombe is a fully accredited local preacher on the York Wesleyan Centenary Plan and as a worker in many good causes for more than 25 years, he has many most interesting experiences to relate, his services being much in request, frequently travelling long distances on Saturday evenings to fulfill Sunday appointments, and on Monday morning being found in barracks at work just as though he had never left York.

Asked if he ever was slighted anywhere because he was a soldier, Mr. Pincombe at once replied, "I have never been insulted, but, on the contrary, whether in or out of uniform, have always been treated by civilians with kindness and courtesy, in fact, I have often been requested to speak both on Sundays and week days in uniform, and have not the slightest hesitation in saying that so long as a soldier keeps good company and behaves as a gentleman should, he will command the respect and esteem of the civil element."

Mr. Pincombe has recently become a resident of Bridgetown—Ed.

Fruit Cures Constipation

"Fruit-a-lives" cure Constipation because they are Fruit Juices in Tablet form.

Constipation means a disordered liver. When the liver is weak, bile is lacking. And it is the bile—which the liver excretes—that flows into the intestines and moves the bowels.

Fruit is the great liver tonic. It invigorates the liver and causes more bile to flow into the bowels.

Purgatives, powders and purging mineral waters, never reach the liver. They irritate the bowels and FORCE them to move. They generally do harm. They NEVER do any PERMANENT good.

"Fruit-a-lives" are fruit juices—in which the medicinal action is many times intensified by the wonderful change which takes place when the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes are combined.

"Fruit-a-lives" are free from calomel, cascara, senna and other bowel irritants. They are concentrated fruit juices with valuable tonics and internal antiseptics added.

"Fruit-a-lives" move the bowels regularly and easily every day—and thus cure Constipation.

Messrs. Clarke Brothers and Miller purchased a fine large draft horse from H. T. Worne, Digby, this week. The horse weighs 1650 pounds and is a fine specimen of the breed.

Last Saturday while little Frank Miller, son of Avar Miller, Yarmouth who is visiting his grand-parents here was playing in the barn, he fell from the big beam into the hay, a distance of thirteen feet, breaking one of the bones in his wrist and otherwise bruising him quite badly.

While J. Atwood Miller was returning home from Lansdowne, Sunday evening, he got out of the wagon at the watering trough in front of W. E. Dunn's place to let the check down when his colts took fright and got away from him and ran for home, a distance of over two miles, the miraculous part of it being that not a thing was broken or displaced.

There was a large number from here attended the strawberry festival at Clementsvale on Wednesday. They went in buck-boards, hay racks, and various other kinds of conveyances. The festival was well patronized from all points, quite a number being there from Annapolis, and considering the small quarters and large crowd they were very well handled.

The most man being well attended to. We were unable to get the amount of the proceeds but it is variously estimated from two to three hundred dollars.

White Leigh Marice, one of the popular drivers in Purdy's express line, was returning from the station on Monday evening, near the Victoria Bridge, his horse ran into a ladder which had been placed in the road. He started the horse on a sharp trot and had just got clear of the ladder when he ran into a gate which had been placed across the road. He whipped the horse up, and jumped him over this obstacle, when a large stone was thrown, striking the back of the wagon with great force. If this was intended as a joke, it might have been a very serious one and the perpetrators, if caught, should be severely dealt with, as having a kind horse is all that saved an accident which might have resulted very seriously.

Bear River Rifle Club

The Bear River Rifle Club held their regular practice on last Saturday, and although the wind blew very strong some very good scores were made. There was a very good attendance, some new members having lately joined the club, and it is hoped the older members will take more interest in the future than they have in the past. So far the Club have no medal or cup for which to shoot, and as something of this sort would be liable to create more interest, no doubt it would please all the members if the merchants would present them with a cup, to be known as the "Merchant's Cup." COALS FROM A FORGE.

Just as long as society makes it to our interest to pretend to be what we are not, that long will we court an hypocrisy that kills.

The very moment you put your soul into your work, that moment you dignify it, whether it be to carry a hod or to paint a picture of the rarest beauty.

Appoint yourself as a pioneer in independent thought. Try intellectual scouting for a while. It is like breathing the tonic of an upper zone. Try it just once. You will feel the bounding of the rich, red blood.

By the east window of every life god thorns.

God makes the sunshine; we make the shadows.

There is a peace that rests on points of bayonets.

No one is great until he feels the pangs of a crucifixion.

Overtopping the hills of conscious self-abasement, his the summer land of life.

The majesty of man cannot be measured until he is seen standing in a magnificent minority.

The fact that some men espouse a cause at once raises a suspicion against the cause itself.

Many a storm could be so easily averted if we only watched the barometer that hangs on the wall of the human heart.

OUR FARMER BOY.

We are not given to boasting but we are proud of the farmer boys of this vicinity. They are, with rare exceptions, a healthy, intelligent and happy class of young men. We feel like taking our hat clear off when we meet them upon our streets, and no class is more welcomed to our office. Too many boys leave the farm, where they would have made substantial and good citizens and go to the city, where only one in a thousand succeed in life's battle. There are farmers who fairly drive their boys away. There is no excuse for this. The farmer boy is entitled to his vacations, his visits to the city, good books, magazines and his home paper. To the observing one, it is plain to be seen that the old farm is the best place in the world for the average young man and never fails to bring a happier and more useful life than the city. Young men, you who till the soil and earn your bread by the sweat of your brow, we are proud of you; our latch-string is always out to you and you will always have a friend in this paper. Come and see us and give us the news of your neighborhood.

CHARLIE REMEMBERED HER.

A young woman of social prominence and respectability was to unite with the church in her home town, and desired the ordinance of baptism by immersion in the river, desiring the primitive custom of going to the river. Among the number that gathered to witness the baptism was a nice little boy friend, Charlie, about four years old. The proceedings were entirely new to the child, and he looked on with strange curiosity as the candidate was led into the river. The spring freshets had made the river somewhat turbulent, and it was with difficulty that the minister maintained his footing. During the following week the young woman called at the home of his family, and after the usual greetings said to the little boy as she extended her hand:

"Come here, Charlie, and see me. You do not know who I am, do you?" she continued.

"Yes, indeed, I do," said the boy.

"You is that woman that went in swimmin' with the minister on Sunday?"

IT BALANCED.

A certain peasant supplied a baker with three pounds of butter daily, and after some time the baker noticed that the butter never weighed three pounds. At last he summoned him.

"Have you no scales at home?" the Judge asked.

"Yes," said the peasant.

"Have you weights?"

"Yes, but I never weigh the butter with them."

"Why?"

"Because since the baker buys my butter, I buy his bread, and as I always buy three pounds at a time I weigh the butter with the bread."

He was acquitted.

THE WAY IT LOOKED.

The proprietor of a large business house bought a number of signs reading, "Do it Now," and had them hang around the office, hoping to inspire his people with promptness and energy in their work. In his private office one day soon afterwards a friend asked him how the scheme affected the staff.

"Well, not just the way I thought it would," answered the proprietor.

"The cashier skipped with thirty thousand dollars, the head bookkeeper eloped, with the private secretary, and three clerks asked for an increase of salary and the office boy let out to become a highwayman."

HE WAS BUSY.

The justice, as the trial of a certain case was about to begin, started and said suddenly:

"But there are only eleven jurors in the box. Where is the twelfth?"

"The foreman rose and held up his hand with a soothing gesture.

"It's all right, your honor," he said respectfully. "The twelfth jurymen had to go away on business, but he has left his verdict with me."

Mistress—How is it, Sarah, that when ever I come into the kitchen I find you gossiping with the baker or the butcher?

Maid—Well, ma'am, if you really ask for the truth, I should say as it was them navy soft-soled shoes you come creeping about in.

Rosenberg, the Clothier—Little Abie found a big roll of bills on der sidewalk!

Rosenberg—Yell, I'll put der money in new stock an' advertise der goods!

RECENTLY PURCHASED BY THE PERCHERON STALLION SINDICATE.

Will make the season's route as follows—

GOING WEST.

Will stand at Bridgetown, "Grand Central," Monday evening May 20th.

Round Hill, Isaac Whitman's, Tuesday evening, May 21st.

Annapolis, Edward's Stable, Wednesday evening, May 22nd.

Lawrencetown, Stoddart Stable, Saturday evening, May 25th.

GOING EAST.

Aylesford, Brunon Stable, Tuesday evening, May 28th.

Torbroke, John Bartaux's, Thursday evening, May 30th.

"Criton" 55,450, will sire horses that the farmer wants and can drive to market or work on their farms, and will sell for the highest price of any draft breeds, and keep on one half of the feed and always be fat and their feet and legs will always be right.

Farmers wishing to breed should inspect this grand young stallion before breeding, and the farmers of Annapolis County should be proud to think that they have men with the enterprise to buy a high priced horse and bring him for them to breed to. For as the saying goes "There is none too good." It is hoped that he will be well patronized.

Terms: $10.00 for the season. For particulars as to pedigree, etc., see large posters. Lawrencetown, May 20th, 1907.

For all kinds of Baking

—for Bread, Biscuits and Pan Cakes—for Pies, Cakes and Fancy Pastry—no flour, milled of a single kind of wheat, compares with a BLENDED FLOUR.

It bakes whiter and lighter—it contains more nutriment—and it yields MORE bread etc. to the barrel.

"Made in Ontario"

Use A Blended Flour
(of Ontario and Manitoba Wheat)

and you use the perfect flour.

BLENDED FLOUR combines the splendid food properties of Manitoba wheat—with the lightness and nutty flavor of Ontario wheat.

TRY A BLENDED FLOUR—the result of your first baking will PROVE its superiority.

This trademark is on all fine BLENDED FLOURS. It is the sign of quality. Look for it on every bag and barrel you buy.

F. G. Scott, Northwood, N. H. The west had been my home from boyhood, but I had always wanted to visit historic New England, and the opportunity came. Boston and vicinity proved interesting. Then back into Massachusetts, up through Vermont and New Hampshire I went. It was a revelation. Here were agricultural possibilities dormant, awaiting the industrious modern farmer and stock raiser. I resolved to become a Yankee at once.

Observation and a study of causes seemed to make it all plain to me. Horace Greely said, "Go west, young man." The young men went. They not only went west, but to the cities. Any place that offered glittering inducements caught the farm boys of New England. The great trans-continental railroads received immense grants of land from the government as a bonus for the construction of their lines. Buyers for these lands were next in order. Settlers along the various roads were also necessary to furnish them business in traffic. They came those lurid advertisements portraying in glowing colors the golden opportunities in the west. Numerous land companies also gave impetus to the movement by distributing broad-cast exaggerated reports and literature. Ridiculously low fares to the new clorados were offered and the rush was on in earnest. Thousands migrated. To be sure, there were millions of acres of fertile prairie lands to be had almost for the asking, and perhaps the settler was in a measure justified.

For years this western movement has been in progress. First, it was the pick of these lands at $1.25 an acre. In a decade it was $10, then $30. And now what? Those $1.25 lands are today selling for $100 to $200 per acre, and the day of good, cheap farms in the west is past. In the early day all western products had necessarily to seek a market in the east, and the New England farmer found it difficult to compete in the production of cereals and meats. But conditions have changed. The center of population is gradually travelling toward the Rockies. With each succeeding year the now populous west consumes more and more of her farm products, which means that competition in Boston and New York between home-grown and western stuff is decreasing. Then, too, the virgin fertility of the soil west is being exhausted. In some sections commercial fertilizer is already a necessity. This, of course, increases cost of production there, and so to that extent retards the producing New England farmer. Under this new order of things, farming and stock raising with him should now be profitable.

Nowhere in the United States can the home secker buy so much for his money as here in New England. In the town of Northwood, and it is only one of many, well improved farms can be had at less than value. In fact, they have already done so in localities whose recently organized boards of trade and improvement desire this new order of things, farming and stock raising with him should now be profitable.

Many of them will double in value in the next ten years. They are going to be in demand. These splendid, dignified old homesteads will be sought after by the western farmer who wishes to escape cyclones, droughts, the everlasting slavery of irrigation, manure, isolation, and the clutter of the stockyards and elevator combines. Here he may possibly have to do things on a smaller scale, but more of the dollars he actually produces will reach his pockets. And, too, he should need fewer dollars.

At the same time, he and his family will be living in the broadest sense of the word. An abundance of fruit, fine water, good roads, attractive lakes and streams, splendid schools, railroad facilities and markets generally good, for neighbors, a refined and hospitable people. Yes, the conditions of forty years ago have reversed. Then it was go west, buy cheap lands, endure hardships, and finally build a home. Now it is go east, buy cheap, well improved farms with good buildings, in the midst of modern civilization. The exodus to New England is just starting. Watch it grow.

BAD BURN QUICKLY HEALED.

"I am so delighted with what Chamberlain's Salve has done for me that I feel bound to write and tell you so," says Mrs. Robert Mytton, 467 John St., Hamilton, Ontario. "My little daughter had a bad burn on her knee. I applied Chamberlain's Salve and it healed beautifully." This salve allays the pain of a burn almost instantly. It is for sale by W. A. WARREN, Pharm. B.

At school I like history and geography, but I also like arithmetic and spellings. I am thirteen years old and am in the sixth grade. I enjoy playing marbles, ball leap frog, hoist the sail, hide and go seek and polio.

Yours truly,

Dear Puzzle Editor: I go to Paradise school. My school teacher's name is Miss Gertrude Osley. Our school was newly painted outside a year ago, and painted inside last summer. We have a very nice book-case and about fifty books and fifty magazines. We have a mineral cabinet with one hundred minerals. There is also a chemical cabinet with all the chemicals needed in a school. The trustees have just got us two nice maps, one of Nova Scotia and one of the Dominion of Canada. My favorite studies are—History, reading, drawing, arithmetic and spelling.

THE DIFFERENCE.

"Jane," said the good mistress, "I'm very pleased with you; you do the house a great credit." "Thank you, mum," said Jane; "I always do my best, and I'm glad you can't go a fault to find with me." "I don't say that, Jane; the only thing I find to say against you is that your washing bill is far too extravagant. Last week you sent six blouses to the wash. Why, Jane, my own daughter never sends more than two!" "Ah! that may be, mum," replied Jane, "but I've to! Your daughter's sweetheart is a bank clerk, while my young man is a chimney sweep. It makes a difference, mum."

The Miners Union Trial

The miners' trial at Boise, Idaho, has developed some very conflicting testimony. The direct testimony of the prosecution rests chiefly upon the story of Harry Orchard, the man who really committed the murder of ex-Gov. Stuenkelberg, for which Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the western federation of miners, is on trial as an accomplice. As we have before reported, Orchard's story was an alleged confession of many times in which he claimed to have committed the crime or that they were accomplices for the mine owners' association as a part of the latter's alleged plot to make trouble for the unions. Much testimony has been introduced tending to prove the innocence of Haywood and his accused associates.

Orchard told a strong story and was not broken up by cross-examination. The prosecution was weak in its attempt to connect Haywood, the defendant, with the Stuenkelberg murder. The defense has devoted considerable time to showing the alleged treachery of detectives of the dominion police, stated that off and on for the last two years the detectives of the dominion police had been engaged in ferreting out the men who were passing the spurious money.

The counterfeiting was not steady, being done by fits and starts. The detectives were puzzled for a time, as to where the plant was situated, but an arrest in Montreal gave by local men the desired clue. Burke was watched for some time, and then arrested at his home. A search of the house revealed a complete plan for the making of $5 bills of the Montreal, Dominion and Traders Banks.

Detective James Partin, who made the capture, resides at 76 College avenue. He has been on the force for upwards of twenty years, and is one of its cleverest men.

Counterfeit Money

Ottawa, July 9.—In connection with the arrest of Charles Burke, for counterfeiting, Colonel Sherwood, commissioner of the dominion police, stated that off and on for the last two years the detectives of the dominion police had been engaged in ferreting out the men who were passing the spurious money.

Trade with Australia

The trade and commerce department has received reports from J. S. Larke, Canada's trade agent in Sydney, and H. H. Ross, agent at Melbourne. Mr. Larke says that trade in New Zealand is prosperous. In New South Wales and Australia generally the harvest will not be an average one. The early part of the year was too dry. The prospects for developing the leather trade are good. A firm to secure the trade must do its own business. The population of New Zealand increased from 714,102 in 1906 to 908,226 in 1906.

Mr. Ross gives figures to show that Canadian trade with Australia is increasing. In 1906 Canada exported $293,751, an increase of $72,179 over 1905. The imports to Canada from Australia were $72,688, an increase of $29,400.

THE DOCTOR AWAY FROM HOME WHEN MOST NEEDED.

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like cramp colic and cholera morbus require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape buy it now; it may save life. For much pain and suffering and all risk, sale by W. A. WARREN, Pharm. B.

The manager of a shipyard is reported to have assembled his men together in the time office and told them to vote in a municipal election as they pleased.

"In fact, I shan't tell you how I am going to vote," he said, "but after it is all over I shall have a barrel of beer brought into the yard." "Hear, hear!" shouted the men. "But I shan't tap it unless Mr. Blank gets in."

The movement to beautify town centres has not impressed itself upon our Nova Scotia towns to any great extent. That there are many pretty towns in the province "goes without saying" but their charms are chiefly the gifts of nature, though the thoughtfulness of our fore-fathers in planting our many now magnificent old shade trees should not be overlooked. In most places also there are numbers of beauty and order-loving citizens who devote especial pains and attention each to his own place of residence and grounds, so that the general effect is in the main good, but too often, almost without exception we might say—this effect is marred by dirty littered streets, careless business places, unwholesome windows, unsightly dump heaps, etc., with generous sprinkling of unclean for homes, which contrast unpleasantly with their neighbors.

There is no concerted effort to beautify any particular locality for the benefit of the whole, or to give general superintendence to the appearance of the town, though this is a movement that is making much progress in the upper provinces and across the border.

There is one town, however, not a hundred miles away, which is an exception to this general rule, and should be an object lesson to neighboring towns, where public land has been reclaimed from neglect and decay and made a beautiful and attractive spot, and where old historic associations are combined with the charms of civilized nature. This spot gives an air of refinement to the town which tourists and other visitors commend upon most favorably and in which the citizens of the town take a justifiable pride. Nor does this effort at town improvement end there. Much care is bestowed upon the streets, and there is no litter to offend the order-loving resident or visitor, nor to mar the effect of the neat well-kept places of the individual property owner. The streets are neatly gravelled and a watering cart makes its rounds in summer to keep down the dust. These improvements cost money but every thing costs that is worth while.

PITTSBURG, July 22.—John J. Wallace, a well known business man of this city, is dead with a broken neck, his wife is dying at her home with internal injuries, and J. S. Henner and wife, friends of the Wallace's are in a serious condition, as the result of an automobile accident, which plunged over 120 foot embankment on the road to Butler last night and landed in a big tree. Wallace was dead when picked up, the others were unconscious.

Mrs. Anderson, of Boston, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. O. T. Daniels. Considerable gravel is being distributed over the sidewalks this summer, which will be appreciated when the muddy days come again.

A torrid wave, which visited the Valley last week, was dispelled by cooling showers Sunday. The weather of the past month has been "great growing weather" and the crops are getting the benefit. Haying is now well begun.

CROSSKILL-HUBBARD. (Sandusky, Ohio, Register.)

At eleven o'clock yesterday morning a quiet home wedding took place at the residence of the bride's mother, when Millicent West Hubbard, eldest daughter of Mrs. Livingston Hubbard, was united in marriage to Mr. A. Harold Crosskill, of New York City, Rev. E. A. King officiating.

The announcement of the wedding will, no doubt, be a surprise to Miss Hubbard's many friends in the city for her marriage was set for the latter part of August, but, owing to her ill health, a quiet wedding now was considered best.

The groom will leave for Savannah Georgia, for six weeks, then goes to New Orleans, where he expects to make his future home.

As soon as Mrs. Crosskill's health permits she will join her husband in the south.

Obituary.

JAMES R. HILL.

The death of James R. Hill, of St. Croix, occurred at Boston on July 14. The deceased, who had been ailing for some time, went to the States two weeks ago, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Hattie Hill, thinking the change would benefit him, but he gradually grew weaker. Mr. Hill, who was 73 years of age, was a resident of St. Croix, Annapolis County, and leaves a wife, one son and four daughters, Mrs. George Hall, Miss Hattie Hill, of Yarmouth, a married daughter in Dorchester, Mass., and Miss Hannah, at home. The late Gilbert Hill of this town was a brother. The deceased always took a deep interest in church matters and during his long and useful life was always foremost in promoting the interest of the denomination with which he was connected. The remains arrived here last week and were forwarded to St. Croix for burial, the family accompanying them.

Accidents At Annapolis

(Spectator.) Reginald Roach met with a serious accident at Messrs. A. D. Mills & Sons store on Thursday from which he has not yet recovered. While at work in an upper story he accidentally stepped through an open trap door and fell to the floor below. The shock was sufficient to render him unconscious and up to the present has not been able to throw this off altogether. So far as known no bones are broken.

R. W. Hardwick met with another painful accident this week, having one of his hands caught in one of his mill machines and the flesh torn off the back of his hand. The bones were uninjured but they were completely laid bare.

Charles Harnish is recovering from two seriously wounded hands. While grinding a plane blade, the emery wheel burst and the knife was drawn into his hands.

NEW YORK, July 20. William Fife, the designer of Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock I. and Shamrock III, declared to-day upon his arrival from Europe that a British challenger for the American cup would likely be found in American waters next year. No intimation was given by Mr. Fife as to whom the challenge would come from, but he was asked if the report that he had accepted a commission to design a Shamrock IV. was true, he smilingly replied that he would have to decline to make an answer under the circumstances. Mr. Fife will remain in this country for three weeks. His purpose in coming here is to attend the races for the Canada's cup, which will be sailed in August in Lake Ontario, off Port Charlotte.

DOVER, England, July 22.—Jabez Wolfe, the amateur swimmer, of London, inaugurated the Channel swimming season this morning. He entered the sea at the South Foreland at half past ten o'clock and struck out for France.
Wolfe swam to within five miles of Cape Gris Nez, France, in 1906. At this point he sprained a tendon and was forced to give up the effort.

LOCAL AND SPECIAL

The appointment of tax collector of town rates has not yet been made.

The preacher next Sunday in St. James' Church, Bridgetown, and in St. Mary's Church, Belvedere, will be the Rev. J. C. Boulton, D. D., President of Kings College, Windsor.

The Rev. George E. Johnson preached to a large and appreciative audience last Sabbath evening, who were charmed with the personality and amenity of the new pastor.

The demonstrations of the Traveling Dairy School, advertised for Centrex, will be held instead at Bridgetown, July 31st and August 1st, in Division Hall.

A young son of James Goldsmith was tossed several feet in the air last night by a vicious cow belonging to Warford Lodge. Fortunately the boy was not seriously hurt, except for some bruises. A cow of that disposition should not be allowed to graze on a public street of the town.

The Church of England grounds have been enclosed by a neat fence of iron piping with wooden posts, the lot having for some time been open and used as a short cut across the corner, somewhat to the detriment of its appearance.

The members of Providence Methodist Church and outside friends held a reception at the Parsonage Saturday evening to greet their new Pastor, Rev. George F. Johnson, and family. A very enjoyable social evening was spent with music and games.

Although Bridgetown is a Scott Act town, residents of the town were treated Saturday night to the novelty of seeing a woman of the town being assisted home at about half past ten in the last stage of drunkenness. This will probably furnish food for thought to many.

H. H. Marshall, representing the Halifax Chronicle, was in town last week. He is travelling in the interests of the circulation department of which he is manager. The Chronicle is offering free trips to Halifax and Toronto Exhibitions.

The many friends of Mrs. Harry Lester, of Carlisle's Corner, will be sorry to hear of her being confined to a house for some weeks as the result of an accident. Mrs. Lester, while sitting down stairs, tripped and fell to the bottom, fracturing a rib and injuring the spine. Dr. Armstrong is in attendance.

Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company played here last week. As usual crowds attended, and as usual were rewarded with a fine performance by a fifth-class travelling troupe. Had press reports from other towns reached us earlier, their advertisement would not have been given place in the Monitor.

Our early gardeners are bringing in green peas, new potatoes and beans. A few cabbage are also seen. Cherries have made their appearance and are a fair crop. Strawberries are down to the cellings but are still in demand at 10 cents a box. The local supply of this most delicious fruit does not half equal the demand. Our farmers should give small fruits more attention.

Capt. Angus Burns, manager of the Empire Liniment Company, is in this province, says the Summerside, P. E. I. Journal, in the interest of his company. This celebrated liniment is having a deservedly large use by the people of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia and since its introduction in this province is being very extensively used to great advantage by many sufferers. Captain Burns was in Summerside on Friday on his way west and reports excellent business.

C. Blackie, of the firm of Blackie Bros., Halifax, paid the Monitor a call yesterday. Mr. Blackie is covering the agricultural districts of the Province in the interests of Neco Soap round insecticide in the market. His claims are corroborated by many testimonials from noted agriculturists. Mr. Blackie made an unsuccessful effort to have Neco Soap tested by the government officials in combating the brown-tail moth to which, he asserts, it is sure death.

The St. James' Church Sunday School picnic is being arranged for Friday next, at Hall's Island, Lawrencetown. The children are requested to meet in the schoolroom at 1.30 sharp, and will be conveyed by 2.12 train to Lawrencetown, returning at 8 p. m. Arrangements have been made for the issue of excursion return tickets to adults at one first class fare. These are to be procured at the Station. If Friday is stormy, the picnic will take place on Saturday.

The machine was thrown a considerable distance and turned over upon its occupants. A moment later the gasolene tank exploded, and shot the burning gasoline over the half stunned autoists.

Just Our Own

We make room in our Corner this week for a new contributor, whose verses appear below.

Anastasia's request for the recipe of Out Crips is answered. These are said to be very delicious for serving with ice cream.

Will not some of our readers contribute some favorite recipes? Any hints in regard to children's clothing or the care of children would also be welcomed.

THE HOSTESS.

Out Crips—Cream, tablespoonful of butter, add cup granulated sugar, two eggs, two teaspoonfuls vanilla, one-half teaspoonful salt, two and one-half cupfuls rolled oats, two teaspoonfuls baking powder. Drop on greased tins and bake in moderate oven. Remove from pan while hot or they will break.

A RUSTIC LIFE.

Ah, to feel the soft wind blowing From lone hills as you meet! Oh, to see the high peak growing Whiter as it climbs to God!

Where the silver brooklet rushes I would follow—follow on The lily heard the happy thrushes Piping music to the dawn.

I would hear the wild rejoicing Of the wind-tossed maple trees, Hear the sturdy hemlock voicing Ancient ditties of the sea.

Forest aisles would I be winding Out beyond the gates of Care; And in green cathedral finding Silence at the shrine of Prayer.

When the magic night comes stealing Never King had richer ceiling— B bled bough and yellow star.

Oh, to hark the sacred preaching Of the forest's faithful fir, With h's branches upward reaching— A mighty, trustful worshiper.

Come and feel the joy of living Come and you will understand How the sun his gold is giving With a fire and lavish hand!

How the patient pine is climbing Year by year toward the sky; How the brook makes sweetest rhyming Where the thickest shadows lie.

Not for me the city's riot, Not for me the scenes of trade, I prefer the house of quiet That the Master Workman made.

THE RUBY WINE.

A Bavarian wine dealer named Korn has been sentenced in the Frauental criminal court to two months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $2,500 for systematic adulteration of his wine.

It was shown that in one year he manufactured by means of chemicals 55,000 gallons of wine without a single drop of grape juice.

Dr. Roselcke, the Agrarian leader, has made some startling revelations of the poisonous concoctions which are being sold as Rhine and Moselle wine.

One chemical manufacturer, whose name is made public by Dr. Roselcke, is proved to have supplied no less than 267 wine merchants with injurious chemical preparations used to adulterate wines.

An annual average of 100 wine merchants are convicted for illegally doctoring wines in Germany, and during 1905 70,000 gallons of wine were condemned by State inspectors to be poured down the drain as unfit for public consumption.

In one case the inspector found ten per cent of pure wine and ninety per cent of chemical concoctions. One wine merchant was proved to have used within a period of seven years no less than 300 tons of glycerine, 120 tons of tartaric acid, 16 tons of potash and 11 tons of citric acid.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

NOVA SCOTIA MINERAL EXHIBIT AT JAMESTOWN

The Nova Scotia government is to send an exhibit of the mineral resources of Nova Scotia to the Jamestown exhibition, where a space of 300 square feet will be occupied.

This is the result of representations made to the government by a lady largely interested in one of Nova Scotia's gold mines. The lady is Mrs. C. M. Coleman, of Richmond, Va., and New York.

In conversation last evening with a representative of The Halifax Herald, who met her at a Halifax Hotel, Mrs. Coleman said she had faith in Nova Scotia, not from mere hearsay, but because of careful investigation by herself and mining experts who had been engaged to report on the matter. She believes that what is needed to fully develop the mining interests of this province and prove their great value is, first, capital, and, secondly, scientific and thorough methods. The first of these she thinks may be attracted, in one way, by a display of our minerals at the Jamestown exhibition, and she has been able to convince the government that her view is correct.

Accordingly, an exhibit will at once be made, Harry Piers, curator of the government museum, having been commissioned to look after the work. Mrs. Coleman is a lady who apparently travels with her eyes open, and who has mining interests besides those with which she is identified in this province and she says, after examining mining property in other parts of Canada with a view to investment and development, that Nova Scotia puts them far in the shade. She believes that there is a great future for the mining interests of this province, and that their development on intelligent lines will prove a splendid thing for the industrial life of Nova Scotia. A Nova Scotia show, some time in October, will be arranged at Jamestown.

Agricultural

Growing Fancy Fruit.

One of the leading speakers at the recent meeting of the Connecticut pomological society was U. T. Cox, president of the Ohio horticultural society. He is known as the Rome Beauty man, because he has very fine orchards of this variety in Washington county, O. They are located on very steep hillsides where it is impossible to cultivate because of the danger of the soil being washed away by rains. Mr. Cox has, therefore, developed a system of mulch culture which produces very fine results. In his address he said he spreads around the trees all the stable manure he makes, then buys straw, drawing it 8 miles. A 25-pound bale is spread around each tree; more would be better. The mulch keeps the soil moist and loose. He sows orchard grass and clover, cuts it when knee high and leaves it for a mulch. In the fall he protects the trees from mice by pulling away the mulch one foot from tree and tramping the soil down hard.

Frequent and persistent spraying is practiced. The trees are sprayed five times, once before they bloom and four times after. Arsenate of lead and arsenate of soda are used with bordeaux. In making the latter but three pounds sulphate of copper is used with 50 gallons water and five pounds lime. This doesn't burn the foliage nor rust the apples. Tests of spraying with different poisons for colling moth have been in favor of disparene and arsenate of soda, but all have given good results and practically annihilated the moth, there being not over six wormy apples on any tree and less than an average of one to a tree in some tests. He spoke of a neighbor who had not sprayed, and who lost his entire crop by worms and scab.

Mr. Cox uses two outfits of power sprayers with a gasoline engine for pumping. He maintains a pressure of 100 to 125 pounds, uses three or four nozzles in a cluster and 50-foot length of hose. As the ground is so steep that elevated platforms cannot be used, it is necessary for the men to spray from the ground, therefore, a medium coarse nozzle, with a gasoline engine to do pumping, gives the best results.

THINNING THE APPLES.

Thinning is practiced, largely. So many apples set that they would all have to be picked in fall when help is scarce, so in June when help is plenty the men go in and pull off half the fruit. The apples can be picked as cheaply in the fall and it don't cost half as much to thin as it would suppose. The thinning results in giving much larger and finer fruit. All scabby, wormy and deformed apples are taken off. Then Mr. Cox recommends taking off all you have courage to thin and pull off a lot more besides.

Two pickings are made from all trees. The larger, good colored ones are taken, leaving the small green apples which may be half the crop, much the same as you would in picking peaches. In two weeks or so the small green apples will be nearly as good as the first picked. The pickers pour their apples on padded tables. The sorters mark the barrels, face them with nice apples, then fill with good stock. No 1 runs 2 1/2 inches or above in diameter and No 2 1/2 down to 2 inches, with no wormy or scabby fruit in either grade. The next picking is graded in the same way.

San Jose has caused some trouble in one part of the orchard but is no worse now than eight or ten years ago. The lime-sulphur mixture holds it in check. All trees in newer plantings are headed 1 1/2 to 2 feet from the ground. The low heads make picking easier, shade the trunk and keep the ground moist.

Most hens show a liking for a clean, comfortable nest. It is an advantage that they should do so, as the eggs are always more readily collected from the regular nests than when they lay in out-of-the-way corners. As a preventative, the nests should be well kept. Insects are very prevalent in the hot weather. Everything should be cleaned out of the nests once a month, and a handful of fine lime or carbolic powder shaken over the bottom. Then put the straw or hay in. It is best to use both, placing straw two inches thick in the bottom, and then lining the nest with hay.

THE STORY OF $1.

(A Story With a Moral)

Ten years ago a farmer put his initials on a dollar bill. The next day he went to the nearest town and spent it with a merchant. Before the year was out he got the dollar back. Four times in six years the dollar came to him for produce and three times he heard of it in the pocket of his neighbors. The last time he got it back was four years ago. He sent it to a small order house. He has never seen that dollar since and never will. That dollar will never pay any more school or road tax for him, spell never build or brighten any of the homes of the community. He sent it entirely out of the circle of usefulness to himself and his neighbors. Patronize your local merchant who helps you to pay your taxes, supports your schools and churches, and lends a helping hand in time of sickness and trouble.

Makes the Bread That Makes Us Strong

There's nothing like good homemade bread for children. Made of the right kind of flour—baked right—a loaf of bread contains all the food qualities of wheat, in their most appetizing and digestible form. Spring wheat flour is rich in nutriment—makes wonderfully wholesome bread, but not inviting in appearance. Fall wheat flour lacks nutrition, but makes bread that is white, light and tasteful.

Beaver Flour

is a blend of Manitoba Spring Wheat and Ontario Fall Wheat. It makes the whitest, lightest, most delicious bread, biscuits, cake and pastry—it makes the most nourishing and healthful bread—and it yields MORE bread to the barrel.

Rescue of Victims of London Disaster.

London, Ont., July 17.—All day in the broiling July sun the rescue party working on the ruins caused by yesterday's disaster, has toiled and still heaps of debris remain on the ground. It is hoped no more bodies will be drawn from the wreck of bricks and plaster and splintered timber. Eight bodies have been taken from the ruins, and twelve persons more or less seriously injured were rescued by heroic workers who labored all night long tunnelling through the wreckage.

Out of the three stores that went down in the crash, the remains of Reid's Crystal Hall and of Brewster's ten cent store have been fairly well searched, but there may be more victims buried in the heap of flour and timber which cover the spot where Hamilton and Long's clothing store stood yesterday. If anyone is in the building, life is certainly extinct, as the weight of debris is overwhelming. The disaster took place about four o'clock in the afternoon, when there was the usual crowd of shoppers in the store. The building which first collapsed is thought to have been Reid's Crystal Hall, a three story structure, somewhat old and undergoing alterations for the construction of a bowling alley.

PILLARS REMOVAL MAY HAVE DONE IT.

It is thought the removal of the supports to permit two new iron pillars to be inserted weakened the structure. The walls buckled out, coming with terrific force against Hamilton and Long's clothing store, and completely overbalancing it. Just as the clothing store is a narrow lane and on the other side Brewster's ten cent store, just opened yesterday. The weight of the falling buildings crashed into this bearing it to the ground and leaving a number of girl clerks. The disaster came entirely without warning. There was a crash as of a mighty explosion and an avalanche of bricks and mortar poured down on the people within. Tons of masonry swept away the floors and woodwork bearing everything into the basement. Huge pieces of wreckage fell over into the street, seriously injuring passing pedestrians. It is a miracle that any in the buildings escaped, and those who did escape can scarcely tell how they accomplished the feat.

THE RESCUE PARTY GETS TO WORK.

A crowd gathered quickly and a rescue party was formed. Careless as to the weight of the wreckage and so tightly wedged were the timbers that it was two o'clock in the morning before the second body was taken from the ruins. Before that, however, a number of survivors had been taken out. The rescuers worked like trojans regardless of the timbers which hung above ready to drop on the heedless and devoted workmen. They worked on, guided in their toil by groans and cries of the suffering and dying which reached them from the ruins. Wherever a moan was heard, there a group of men gathered, toiling and lifting with heart and soul until the unfortunate could be lifted out. But the work was slow and the rescuers, though heedless for themselves, had to exercise care lest an inadvertent move on their part should bring a shower of death on those they were trying to save.

MOTHER AND BABY BURIED IN CELLAR.

In Brewster's store a number of girl employees were found crouched under a counter which had provisionally toppled over on them, sheltering them from tons of debris above. In the same haven a man named Eganter and his wife and babe were discovered. The three were in the store shopping and at the first warning crash from without the man hurried his wife and child beneath the counter. He followed himself, but one leg was still outside when the weight came down and it suffered a compound fracture.

In the cellar of Brewster's store Mrs. Pollock and baby were found. The woman was pinned down and refused to be taken out, till she too could be raised. All night work progressed by the light of two search lamps installed across the street and trained on the scene of the disaster. Men, old and young, vied with one another in risking their lives to save the injured, but heroism was not all on the side of the rescuers. Buried in the cellar of one of the stores, but saved from serious injury by arching timbers, May Hardingham faced death for three and a half hours and when aid finally reached her she had her rescuers go to others who were waiting. She begged for water, however, and when it was brought she could not reach it. A straw was supplied her and after another painful wait she was taken out.

One of the saddest incidents in the disaster was the death of Tatum Howitt and wife, who were both killed while shopping in Hamilton and Long's store. Husband and wife lay together near the door, the enormous weight of the second floor resting on them. Five small children survive them. The firm of Hamilton and Long fare badly, both members being killed. All employees of the firm escaped, although one of them, John Long, is suffering from a fractured skull.

The coroner has opened an inquest and declares that the investigation will be thorough. This is London's second building disaster, the other being on January 2nd, 1898, when the floor of the city hall collapsed, killing twenty-seven. The city engineer says he warned the contractor that he was weakening the building, but as the city has no building law he could let no action.

GOT RID OF HER CORNS.

Apparently there are many persons who do not know the deadly nature of corns. Ignorance on the part of St. John two toes. She had corns, and wanted to get rid of them. She got rid of the corns, and also lost two toes. It is stated that the young woman was recommended to try carbolic acid on her corns and was assured they would disappear. Not being aware of the nature of the acid, she applied it quite freely, with the result that it ate into the flesh of the toes treated, and in the end she was obliged to go to the hospital and have the toes amputated. No doubt the corns disappeared.

WIRE WOUNDS.

My mare, a very valuable one, was badly lacerated and cut by being caught in a wire fence. Some of the wounds would not heal, although I tried many different medicines. Dr. Bell advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT, then stronger as the sores began to look better, until after three weeks, the sores have healed and best of all the hair is growing well, and is NOT WHITE as is most always the case in horse wounds.

BOYS, TAKE A LOOK!

Boys with hats on the back of their heads and cigarettes and smutty words in their mouths are cheaper than old worn-out horses. Nobody wants them at any price. Men will not employ them; girls will not marry them. They are not worth their keeping to anybody, and they will not keep themselves. If any boy who happens to read this description, let him take a look at himself and do what his conscience says is best to do. Only a little while ago a business man thought of employing a certain young man in the city. He asked us about the fellow. After giving all the points possible in the young man's favor, the gentleman asked, "Doesn't he smoke cigarettes?" When informed that he did, some, he continued, "Would not have him at any price." Canada Loses Kolapore Cup.

(Canadian Associated Press Despatch.)

Bisley Camp, July 12.—Canada went down to third place to-day in the match for the Kolapore Cup, the winners being the team from the Island of Guernsey. The mother country secured second place. At the end of the second stage Canada was leading the race, but, as in the MacKinnon Cup match yesterday, they dropped behind when brought to the longer ranges. The best shooting was done by Private Mitchell of Toronto and Colonel-Sergeant Moscrop of Vancouver, both of whom made possible on the 200 yards range.

The Imperial Challenge Cup, presented by the Rajah of Kolapore, is one of the most prized trophies of Bisley Camp. It is open to teams of eight, one team from volunteers from Canada, Australia or any British colony, and one team from the members of the India staff-corps here on leave. A special silver bowl is given by the National Rifle Association to the captain, adjutant and each member of the victorious team. To the team, exclusive of the mother country, which makes the highest aggregate score in the competition, a special prize of £50, known as the "Colonial Prize," is given. The distances are 200, 500 and 600 yards, seven shots at each range. The time limit is one hour.

On the 600 yards range the Canadians made the following score:—

Caven	334654-28
Graham	455544-32
McVittie	534555-34
Moscrop	328555-31
Wetmore	454444-30
McFarq	354432-28
Mitchell	344555-31
Morris	533445-29
Total	219

The scores of the other teams at this range were:—

Guernsey	269
India	249
Mother Country	263
Australia	252
Southern Rhodesia	238
Aggregate for Canada	767
Aggregate for Guernsey	782
Aggregate for India	732
Aggregate for Mother Country	770
Aggregate for Australia	759
Aggregate for Southern Rhodesia	679

The Duke of Connaught to-day inspected the Canadians and the other colonial teams. The teams paraded before the Canadian pavilion. His Royal Highness had a brief chat with each of the officers, and when speaking to Adjutant J. Duff Stuart, of Vancouver, said he had not abandoned the hope that some day he would inspect Stuart's regiment, the Duke of Connaught's Own Rifles. The Duke desired the Adjutant to convey his good wishes to the regiment. The Duke also spoke to and shook hands with several members of the team, and inquired how often they had been at Bisley, where they came from, and what success they were meeting with. The Duke recognized Sergeant Deane, and shook hands with him. His Royal Highness complimented the Commandant, Colonel Sir Hon. J. M. Gibson, on the fine appearance of the team.
