BLOOR ST. JUST FOLLOW STRAIGHT LINE

E. J. Lennox Shows Clearly That Crooked Plan Fails to Meet Needs of Situation—Straight Viaduct Will Enhance Beauty of Ravines—Time to Build is Now.

STANDS BEHIND CITY ENGINEER

That a straight line viaduct is the only one to be considered between Bloor-st. and Danforth-ave. and that, far from proving a detriment to the beauty of the Don Valley, it will add to its attractiveness, are points brought out in a letter written yesterday by E. J. Lennox, the well known city architect.

Dear Sir,—I notice that the viaduct committee, of which you are a member, meets to-morrow to decide what scheme shall be adopted for the Bloor-street viaduct.

The straight viaduct, which will make the quickest and most direct connection between Bloor-street and Danforth-avenue.

I write you in connection with this question because I know you are sincere in pushing forward a proper scheme that will connect the north, east, and outlying parts of the city with what might now be termed the centre part of the city.

There are, of course, arguments that might be advanced for several schemes, but in making these arguments, it should not be forgotten why the viaduct is being constructed.

I do not understand that the viaduct is being advanced as a mere convenience or driveway.

I have noticed in the press a great deal of controversy as to the effect this viaduct will have on the scenic point of view, stretching across the beautiful Don valley.

Will Enhance Beauty. Rather than mar the valley of the Don, this viaduct will enhance its beauty, inasmuch as it will introduce a feature that will harmoniously contrast with the surroundings.

FRANCE HASN'T SCARED ITALY

Searching Other Nations' Ships for Turks Will Go On—France Need Not Be Alarmed.

ROME, Jan. 24.—(Can. Press).—The subject of the detention of 29 Turks, said to be members of the Red Crescent Society, by the Italian authorities, who captured them on the French steamer Manouba, was fully discussed at conference to-day between Premier Giolitti, Foreign Minister Marquis di San Giuliano, and the French Ambassador to Italy, Camille Barrere.

Italy maintains her right to capture and search ships of neutral nations suspected of carrying contraband of war. This has been the course followed, not only in the case of French steamers, but also with British, German and Austrian.

Italy does not, however, admit any limitation of that right. It is her intention to protect her army before the enemy. So far as the Italian authorities will speak, the examination of the Turks in question seems to have proved that both doctors and nurses were included in the group of prisoners.

Italian officials call attention to the fact that another alleged Red Crescent expedition was once halted in Egypt by Gen. Kitchener and sent back as it was composed of belligerents.

Italy admits that France is exercising her duty admirably as a neutral power, but urges that France should not resent the wish on the part of Italy, even if a mistake is made, to exercise what she considers to be her right, as neither France nor any other nation can guarantee that, in applying all possible measures to observe strict neutrality, she may not be deceived.

The result of the conferences has been reported to the French Government, and, so far, the two countries have been animated by such a satisfactory spirit that it is expected a conciliatory solution will be found.

A DISAPPOINTMENT

WILF: I thought at first he'd got Borden.

Great Gathering to Demand Sunday Back

Indignation Mass Meeting Called for Saturday Evening, Feb. 3, City Hall—Outraged Feeling Becoming General Thruout City.

Indignation has rapidly spread from one end of the city to the other against the action of the council to abolish Sunday sabbath. The citizens have awakened to the fact that gradually they have been deprived of their week-end liberties, one by one, by the Lord's Day Alliance and its unprincipled and sentiment-driven followers.

A great mass meeting of citizens was yesterday decided upon. It will be held at 8 p.m. a week from Saturday, just previous to the next meeting of council, when the bylaw will again come up. The place will be in front of the city hall. There is no hall in Toronto large enough to look after the crowd who are sure to gather to show at least by their presence their indignation.

There will be speakers. The members of council who voted for Sunday to be abolished will, it is fully expected, be on hand, and also those who favor the prohibition—that is, if they will come. Bands will be hired and big banners will float aloft.

There may be a torchlight procession, but that has not yet been seriously thought of.

The mass meeting will, to judge from the widespread feeling, be the largest indignation gathering known in the city.

A committee, which in a few days will number a half hundred or more prominent men, is now in process of formation. J. Enoch Thompson, Edward Meek, K.C., W. H. Greenwood and a few others met yesterday to decide on a general line of action.

The details will be arranged later. H. Gagnier, who is treasurer, has already been promised subscriptions running into thousands of dollars. One manufacturer yesterday offered $500 to fight the proposal.

There will be no lack of funds. All that is needed is the endorsement of the great, unprejudiced majority of the people, and that will be given by the indignation meeting to be held at 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 3, in front of the city hall.

COMMISSION RE HINDUS. OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—(Special).—It was announced by the minister of the Interior, Hon. Robert Rogers, to-day, that the question of the wives of Hindus who were not allowed to land in Canada last week, will not be considered until a special commission goes to Vancouver to consider the matter.

First the Blade Then the Ear. OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—(Special).—Dr. Sprout's studies in the language of La Belle France, which put forth a tender bud last week, blossomed forth boldly this afternoon and bore ripe fruit.

It almost took away the breath of the members of the house of commons when a rumor spread that the speaker would read prayers in French, and the result was an unusually large attendance at the devotional exercises.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and E. D. Monk congratulated the speaker on his performance.

While the press was carefully excluded, in the judgment of Mr. Monk, it was an unnecessary precaution.

"His pronunciation remarked the minister of public works, 'was perfect. He might have been mistaken for a pure Frenchman.'

Sir Wilfrid told the speaker that, if he were sure of the soundness of his doctrine, he would invite him to address an audience in the province of Quebec.

MR. LENNOX AND THE VIADUCT. Edward J. Lennox has established himself in a foremost place as an architect of commanding ability and classic taste, while his reputation for substantial and enduring construction is second to none.

The viaduct is not part of a driveway scheme but is being built for utilitarian reasons. The shorter the route the better. He can conceive of no objection from a scenic point of view.

Mr. Lennox approves of the engineer's plan for "waterproof" the form of construction and good lines are introduced it never fails to lend charm.

Mr. Lennox thinks the viaduct might be made the most beautiful ornament of the city and he finds fault with the Civic Council for not attempting to board the obviously proper plan, but obstructing its adoption.

FREE PHONES AT END OF 10 YEARS

Municipal Operation by Township Proves Highly Profitable—Hydro-Commission Tells of Success.

The successful workings of the Municipal Telephone Act as carried out by the Township of Rochester and County of Essex, is the subject of an interesting pamphlet just issued by the hydro-electric commission.

Numerous enquiries have been made from time to time as to how this act, enabling municipalities to install a telephone system of their own was working, and the commission decided to give out all information possible for the various municipal authorities contemplating a similar project for their municipality, as well as to provide the best service at the least possible cost.

The pamphlet shows that after two years of successful operation, 155 subscribers paid off one-fifth of the debt, and the system is now being operated free from debt.

The present annual revenue is taking care of the fixed charges and cost of operation, thus giving the prospect that in seven years more the annual charge of $1 per line will maintain the system.

In other words, the present subscribers will have practically free telephones at the end of the tenth year. The success and efficiency which has been obtained by that municipality has attracted wide attention, and has established the fact that the rural telephone is not only contributing its share in making country life more pleasant, but it has proved of great value as a commercial undertaking.

There are now fifteen municipal telephone systems in operation, the largest being that of Brussels, with 600 telephones, and Rochester has now 225 subscribers. The institution of such a system as there was attended with some difficulties, many of which have been removed by legislation enacted at a recent session of the legislature.

The Municipal Telephone Act of Ontario was introduced in 1907 by the Hon. Adam Beck, chairman of the hydro-electric power commission.

HOUSE RENEWS DEBATE ON PENSIONS

Annuities Do Not Reach the Class of Deserving, Aged Poor, Declares Pictou Member in Strong Argument for Old Age Pensions—Lemieux Disagrees.

OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—(Special).—E. M. MacDonald, Liberal member for Pictou, this afternoon resumed the debate on the resolution of J. H. Burnham (Peterboro) for a committee of enquiry into old age pensions, and made out a strong case.

The annuity system, he pointed out, did not reach the class of poor but honest men who were unable to accumulate enough to purchase an annuity. The assistance of children, urged against old age pensions, raised the point that in industrial centres the problem was one which the son or daughter had to solve equally with their parents.

Then there was the case of old people on the farm in eastern Canada, where the son went away, and left them stranded with a little money, perhaps, but not enough to maintain them under their own roof tree.

Mr. F. Carroll (Cape Breton S.) pointed out that it was harder for an old man to earn a living in Canada than it was 20 or 25 years ago.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux thought the annuities system covered the case. "The colony of New Zealand," said Mr. MacDonald in introducing the question, "led the way among the different nations that go to make up the empire in dealing with this question. Their attitude and their legislation was favorably received in the mother country and was a potent factor in inducing public opinion to deal with the situation there.

The result of a legislation that has taken place in England has been of the most satisfactory character. Even those who at some stage doubted the wisdom of a system of old age pensions are to-day found its most willing advocates."

Canada, he continued, had been somewhat laggard in dealing with this question. We had been too busy with the material phases of our situation to deal with this important social problem.

Must Depend on Young. "It is when you are dealing with the men who do not belong to the rich class that you are dealing with conditions under which the old must of necessity depend upon the young. Where you have a head of a family who has devoted out of his hard earnings to industrial or agricultural life, or any other mode of life, where work and labor are essential, to the upkeep of the family—then it must be manifest that, except in rare circumstances where there are striking examples of the success of the young men who have struggled their way forward, primarily, almost, absolutely, in every case, the old man has to depend on the young.

"Continued ill-health in the family produces conditions that can only be met by the intervention of the state in some way, if you are going to preserve the latter days of such a person from penury, which, under the most favorable conditions, in the most favored country, is almost sure to follow.

Annuities No Solution. "It is said by some gentlemen who discuss this question that we have an annuity system in Canada, and that consequently we have solved the problem. I do not appreciate that proposition.

FAMILY FORCED BY FIRE JUMPED FROM WINDOWS. Fire which broke out in the basement of J. E. Hayes' bakery at 1087 East Gerrard-street yesterday afternoon, drove Mr. Hayes and his wife and child to jump for safety from a first-storey window. None was seriously hurt. Fireman Bancroft of the Bolton-avenue hall was overcome by smoke and had to be carried from the basement. The resultant damage was $3,000, fully covered by insurance.

"The Servant in the House." One of the potent appeals of "The Servant in the House," which will be seen here next week at the Princess, is its remarkable realism. Audiences lose themselves in the unfolding of the beautiful story and awake to the reality of life at the end of the play with a sigh of regret.

THE BUSINESS TIPSTER.

It is impossible for any one man, or group of men, to know everything in any of the big American cities, especially just who will buy next or who ought to buy. This is where the business tipster comes in. He wastes no time on any glittering generalities of trade. "Lewis & Macartney," for instance, are just closing a lease for a new factory. "They'll want he" has ready for that purpose, or by word of mouth to a responsible man who is always ready to buy information of their kind and will at once follow up this clue. This news would have reached the firm in the ordinary course of affairs, but now it is fresh and not a competitor has it. The time is just sufficient to enable the firm to put out a little selling campaign suited to Lewis & Macartney's future needs, pick out just the right man to send out to these a daily or weekly bulletin that covers nothing but trade opportunities and possibilities of possible business. Tipsters must be accurate, first of all, and equally first of all, immediately. In a business where who have not subscribed will find themselves completely handicapped and will practically be forced to take the service.—Harper's Weekly.

The Marriage Controversy

In the controversy over our marriage law the first thing to ascertain is whether there are any disabilities attendant on one class of the community, let us say Protestant, as compared with any other class in the community.

The Globe newspaper of yesterday, however, argues to the effect that if the ne temere decree is read into the civil code of Quebec, then there is a legal disability (that of invalidity) attendant on any Protestant who is a party to a mixed marriage solemnized by a Protestant minister.

We also print the question put by W. F. Maclean (South York) to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Wilfrid's answer; and when that answer is read carefully two conclusions are reached: First, that Sir Wilfrid's answer is limited because he speaks of Ontario and slides away from the wider question that was put to him.

It therefore becomes the duty of those who are dealing with this question first of all to ascertain what, if any, disability exists, or what, if any, denial of equality under the marriage law of the Province of Quebec has taken place.

We therefore ask our readers to go carefully into this point and to read these two statements of The Globe and Sir Wilfrid, and we further call on anyone who can to supply evidence showing that mixed marriages are invalid or evidence of any one setting up such a claim, especially by a churchman.

THE MARRIAGE LAWS OF CANADA.

The ne temere decree promulgated by the Roman Catholic Church in 1908 goes a step farther, and arrogates to the Church of Rome powers that, if declared to be legally exercised in Quebec under clause 127 of the civil code, must be curbed either by an amendment to the code or by a constitutional amendment that will transfer to the Dominion Government control over the solemnization of marriage.

So long as the claim made is merely put forward in an ecclesiastical sense, however, it is none of the state's business. All churches have a right to prescribe the conditions of membership. The natural and inevitable penalty for failure to comply with the rules of the church is expulsion from membership.

We do not believe clause 127 of the civil code of Quebec can be wrested to the support of a contention so inequitable. If legal proceedings indicate this to be the law of Quebec the legislature of that province will no doubt at once provide an adequate remedy.

SUN'S LIFE BIG YEAR.

Income in 1911 Was $10,557,335, an Increase of $981,881. Substantial increases in the amount of business done, in income, assets and surplus are shown in a report just completed of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada for the year 1911.

SIR WILFRID'S INCOMPLETE VIEW.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER: There has been an impression that the ne temere decree was intended to override the authority of His Majesty the King and the Parliament. As a Catholic, I protest against any such interpretation.

THE DAWN OF A NEW ERA.

W. D. Mitchell has published a new volume, "The Dawn of a New Era." His object, he states, is to appeal to minds altogether open and unbiased. The appeal alone is almost sufficient to scare away the average reader, for which of us can truly say he is unbiased? But, says Mr. Mitchell, "I be- lieve all who may read to believe above the nothing written herein, but to seek rather to know and truly understand the meaning and spirit of the thoughts conveyed, that they may be of true service to you as well as to others."

of the German Empire—wherefore very many and difficult questions have sprung up which have frequently caused perplexity in the minds of judges, a certain reverence for law among the faithful, and perpetual quarrels and incriminations among non-Catholics.

And the decree then goes on to declare the validity of mixed marriages contracted under the Tridentine form in Germany. In a word, then, it will be seen that the ne temere was not promulgated in Germany because it was a mixed community and there was there a lamentable and widespread division in religion and a daily increasing intercourse between Catholics and heretics.

There is another apparent disability—and it ought to be considered one of the main disabilities these days—and that is that persons can not marry other than thru the agency of a church, and this is a larger disability than most people consider. In other words, the great disability is this (and it prevails in most of the provinces but does not obtain in England): lack of provision for civil marriage solemnized by a contract that is valid all over the country without being in any way implemented by any religious approval or ceremonial whatever.

And now we come back to the real thing that is rankling in the minds of the Protestants of Canada and it is this: that there is a more or less well-founded belief in the minds of Protestants that a number of Catholic men who have married Protestant women have after a time come to think that their marriage if solemnized by a Protestant minister was more or less sinful in the eyes of the church, and therefore more or less invalid; and coming gradually to hold this view they have ill-treated the wife and sometimes the children of that marriage, and specific cases have been quoted in some of the provinces.

It would therefore appear that two things remain to be done: First, to have a federal marriage law which is universal and which provides for a strictly civil marriage which may be implemented by any religious ritual or ceremony that the parties to it may desire, but this ritual to have nothing to do with the validity of the marriage or the rights of the parties under it, which are and ought to be defined under the civil law.

DID BACON REWRITE BIBLE?

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(Can. Press.)—The latest sensation in literary circles here and in London is the claim which has been suddenly brought forward by English Baconians that Bacon rewrote the Bible as it was translated for King James, and that the King James version, as that term is now understood, is largely the work of Bacon.

A Bit of Ancient History.

Cookfighter was undoubtedly a good horse, and it may be of interest to state that the first and second in the St. Ledger occupied the same places in the Cup. We saw this also in 1887, with Achievement and Hermit. Sir Harry Vane, however, in all probability, owned a much greater horse than Cookfighter in Hambletonian, a horse whose reputation lives in trotting history, who was the champion of his time and winner of the great match for £1000 a-side at Newmarket against Diamond at the York Summer Meeting 1875. Sir Charles Turner won the Hambletonian, Hambletonian, and Oberon for 3000 guineas. A week or two later at Doncaster, when he upset the odds of 1 to 4 that were laid on Hambletonian in a four miles match for £500, and on the same day Hambletonian won the St. Ledger. The following day Benningbrough won the Doncaster Stakes and Hambletonian the Cup and the day after that Benningbrough won the Subscription Plate. There were only seven races at the Doncaster Cup, and the seventh he had nothing running. This is almost equal to "Ned" Smith at Seccles in 1857, when he won every race during a two days' meeting with the exception of one in which he had nothing engaged. The Doncaster Cup, Benningbrough, and Oberon for 3000 guineas seems almost appalling in these days of £50,000 for one horse. Hambletonian was the only one which he bolted out of the course. What Sir Harry Vane, in whose colors the first ran in 1791, when he won the Doncaster Cup, was not a scapular Indian. The figures are very crude, the drawing no, but these those a four-year-old child makes on his slate. Each grouping, and each sketch in a way, a key to the changing tales which in time become history.

HISTORY RECORDED ON STEER HIDES.

Within twelve miles of Calgary, a city of 50,000 people, and with telephone communication with that city, the Sarcee Indians pursue their lives and observe exactly as their forefathers the ancient habits and customs of their tribe. Two years ago there was a great festival, at which seven of the oldest chiefs related the stories of their exploits, which the painter of the steer hides at the office of the agent on the Sarcee reservation has recorded. The Indian lad relates for his history on camptire stories and a well-tanned steer hide covered with a sort of ink, traces, painted crudely with queer characters, the history of the tribe. These are not altogether regular, but they are chiefs and medicine men of the tribe are growing old, an assembly is arranged, where a famous Indian interpreter and painter meets the agent.

THE BIGGEST BUFFALO OWNER.

If I am not mistaken the ownership of the biggest herd of buffalo in the world is vested in Charley Goodnight, a millionaire, but he is now in only fair of Kansas City. I took Hotel Rennett, when I saw Mr. Goodnight last spring. He told me that his herd of bison in Armstrong County, in the Texas Panhandle, numbered 120 and that he expected 40 buffalo calves this year. Everybody for the labor and skill of a few men of the Goodnight sort, the practice of the bison family would now be extinct. This veteran of the plains is almost nearly as great in the line of camptire animals as is the wizard Burleigh with his stags and prairie dogs. His patience and cleverness that demonstrated the practicability of crossing the buffalo and our ordinary domestic cattle. From this alliance he has been able to breed a new sort of beast, partling the looks of both parents, which is styled "buffalo," and which is more curious than valuable.

RICHESON'S AIDE CONFESSES
Negro Companion of Condemned Man Alters "Not Guilty" Plea.

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—(Can. Press.)—Harry H. Butts, a colored prisoner, who for the past month has shared the cell of Rev. C. V. T. Richeson in the Charles-street Jail, appeared in the superior court today and retracted a former plea of not guilty to murder in the second degree and pleaded guilty to manslaughter.

Butts was placed as a guard in Richeson's cell following the minister's act of self-mutilation on Dec. 20, and has apparently been regarded by the Virginia as a sort of body servant.

After the sage-brush treatment was abandoned, other methods equally stupid and unscientific were introduced. Alum, saltpetre, borax, potash, all the acids, and even tobacco-juice were pressed into service to extract the silver and gold from the ores. With such methods, one can realize the millions that were wasted at Virginia City in the early days.

COMMANDER'S DEATH BRINGS REFORM.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(Can. Press.)—The death from yellow fever today at Guayaquil, Ecuador, of Commander Levi C. Bortolotto, in command of the American gunboat Yorktown, guarding American interests there, will result in the American government insisting upon the sanitation of that port.

The death of the commander and of an enlisted man, together with the illness of three other enlisted men, has impressed the government with the necessity for prompt action.

Should Ecuador temporize, it is said that the United States may issue a quarantine against Guayaquil in the interests particularly of the Panama Canal.

Turpentine and Other Products from Waste Wood.
The conservation of natural resources is twin sister to the economic use of present waste material, and in no case is this more obvious than in our forest products. In the waste wood of the south and northwest from the lumber industry, there is more than sufficient material to yield annually all the papers (except news) paper and box board, and building board required, for which wood is suitable. More methyl alcohol, acetate of lime and acetone can be produced from it than is now made in the country and large quantities of ethyl alcohol may also be recovered. There are millions of acres of cut-over land covered with stumps and dead and down timber, all of which, because of its resinous nature, decays slowly, enduring for years. The tops, stumps, slabs and sawdust, dead and down timber from fires and storms, furnish one of the great undeveloped resources of the country. From this waste wood the entire output of naval stores, embracing turpentine, resin, tar, pitch, turpentine, and resin in oils, having an annual value of at least $30,000,000, may be obtained without boxing or turpentine a single tree.

It was not Secretary Wilson's purpose to discuss the details of equipment or to bring of the various processes by which the utilization of the waste wood can be achieved, as it is a comparatively simple problem for the experienced chemical engineer, but to emphasize the importance of saving the waste, if we intend to conserve the growing timber without reducing the present tremendous use of our forest products.

"Our scientists," the secretary is quoted as saying, "have been doing experimental work and have collected information which leaves no doubt that wood turpentine can be so refined as to be made to correspond closely with genuine spirits in all those properties by which the suitability of turpentine, as a paint and varnish thinner, is judged. Wood turpentine, which has been refined so as to free it from heavy oils, can be used in well-ventilated places without serious inconvenience to workmen, and is a suitable paint and varnish material, except possibly for the highest grade varnishes; and it may be employed, even for these purposes, without detriment to the paint or varnish."

The secretary caused the interior woodwork of the new building of the bureau of chemistry to be painted with zinc oxide and linseed oil thinned with wood turpentine, and the workmen were not seriously inconvenienced, or made ill, although the odor was unpleasant. The turpentine behaved well under the brush, and after eighteen months there is no apparent defect in the paint.

Wood turpentine can be recovered from any of the coniferous woods, but the Norway yellow pine of the south, and Douglas fir of the northwest contain a sufficient resin to justify working them.

As far back as 1841, patents relating to this subject were issued, but the process was not developed until within recent years. The difficulty of supplying the increasing demand for turpen-

FRIDAY MAY SETTLE THE COUNTY CLERKSHIP

indications Now Are For Deadlock
on First Ballot—Keen Fight
For Commissioners.

Wednesday's meeting of the York County Council developed little sensational news, the members containing over the wardenship with joggling along in any easy fashion. The preparatory work that over the clerkship, which comes up on Friday afternoon.

By way, that clerkship is said to give every indication of another deadlock in the first three or four divisions. After that something unexpected will happen, and by 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon it is dollars to doughnuts that the deadlock will be all over.

Another big fight which nearly equals that of the clerkship is the appointment of county commissioners. Two are to be elected and there are three in the field. In this connection the names of Reeve Jonathan Nigh of Markham Township and Reeve Cameron of Aurora Township have been under discussion as being right in the line of succession to the present men, Reeve Murray of King and Reeve Knowles of Aurora. Within the last few days, however, a new candidate, Reeve Charles Hougham of North Willimbury, has come up, and nobody knows what is likely to occur.

The presentation of two or three reports regarding high schools was accepted and passed on, and later in the day Councillor W. H. Pugsley introduced a resolution to annual certain ways dealing with the appointment of the Industrial Home commissioners.

The custom has hitherto been to appoint one commissioner each year, allowing him to follow up the work of the year over by the end of the term. His term expired in June. It is now proposed to extend the term of Reeve John O'Connell, which naturally expired in June, to December, and at the present session appoint another one for a full year, to expire in June, 1913. It is proposed to be appointed in January of each year in future.

The big work of this session will be that of the equalization assessment. The following newly elected officers and conditions which attend the assessment law, compelling the assessor to get the best possible assessment, and the enormous increase in prospective values around the city, the work of the Equalization and York Township men is greatly increased. In these two municipalities the members are Griffith and Gardhouse.

There is little doubt but that this session will be naturally a busy one, indicated, and the chances are that the council will adjourn on Friday afternoon in meeting with the members.
