TWENTY-SEVENTH YEAR

OPPOSE TREATY WITH U.S.

THAT WILL LIMIT AMOUNT GENERATED REGARDING FALLS POWER

Question is Debated in House of Commons—No Action Will Be Taken By Government Until Provinces Are Consulted—Should Be No Restriction in Supplying Domestic Requirements.

Ottawa, May 29.—(Special).—A full dress debate was expected this afternoon, but the leaders agreed to permit the house to go into supply. While the subject will be the motion by R. L. Borden for a select committee to investigate abuses in the land department, yet, no doubt, all the issues before the country will be thoroughly discussed. It is anticipated by many that charges and counter charges of a highly sensational character will be flying across the floor.

Hon. George E. Foster, in the course of debate, will doubtless pay his respects to the sphinx-like Preston, and the Liberals claim that Hon. Clifford Sifton is promoted with dynamite for one or two prominent members of the opposition.

The reported resignation of Mr. Burrows (Dauphin) has added acute to the popular interest. In addition to other matters, it is said that Mr. Foster to-morrow will formally move for action by the house respecting "La Presse." At this afternoon's session he read an article reflecting upon him and gave notice that he would invoke the authority of the house against the paper.

The article accuses Mr. Foster of hating the French-Canadians and Catholics of Canada, and tends to unfairly misrepresent Messrs. Monk (Jacques Cartier), and Bergeron (Beaubarnois), with their constituents by stating that they support him.

Niagara power occupied the attention of the house all afternoon, although the discussion was confined to the Ontario power and the output of the United States limiting the output of power. Nothing, however, is to be done until after the provincial conference. The export bill with its amendment exempting the power company at Niagara Falls, was withdrawn by Mr. Fitzpatrick upon the representations of Premier Whitney.

The debate developed a strong sentiment in the house against limiting the output at Niagara Falls until all the wants and needs of the people were satisfied.

W. F. Maclean (South York) foresaw an unlimited demand for electric power if the government were able to furnish it at cost to the people.

W. F. Cookshut (Brimford) was of the opinion that the Province of Ontario had entire jurisdiction over the Niagara River as a power output. He asked the minister of justice to state what jurisdiction was claimed in the matter by the Dominion government. In the United States, there was great uncertainty as to the respective rights of the state and the federal governments.

He cited Professors Pessenden, Ross and Holgate of Montreal, and John Mackay of Toronto as putting the financial value of the falls at $20,000,000. One-half of this great treasure belonged to the people of Ontario.

The report of the international commission estimated that when all the power plants now erected were running at full capacity one-fourth of the river would be diverted. He thought this estimate was high.

At any rate, were the scenic effects of the falls worth $20,000,000.

Opposed to Negotiations.

He opposed any negotiations with the United States looking to any agreement to limit the generation of power. He approved of the principle of Mr. Fitzpatrick's bill. We should keep this power in Canada.

Steam power 10 hours a day costs from $25 to $100 per horsepower. Gas depending on the size of the plant, development would cost from $15 to $100. Electric power could be produced at the point of generation for $5 per horsepower.

Not only this, the province could sell power at this price, $5 per horsepower, and have enough profit for a sinking fund, which, in forty years, would entirely pay for the plant.

The province could bring the power to the switchboard at Toronto for $10 per horsepower, instead of charging $40 there, the present cost of steam power.

Mr. Hyman regretted that so important a debate should be brought up when the pending bill was to be withdrawn. He declined to give any final judgment on the question of jurisdiction. It was, in his opinion, a vexed and difficult question. He hoped that the Dominion government would come to some agreement with the various provinces. The matter would be dealt with at the provincial conference this summer. Until then the government was not prepared to announce any definite policy.

The Danger.

Mr. Hyman insisted that the Dominion government could always protect the interests of Ontario by its power to tax or prohibit export. What harm could be done by a treaty with the United States?

TO BRING TELEPHONE COS. UNDER THE RAILWAY ACT

Hon. Mr. Emmerson Introduces His Legislation, Which Goes Before Special Committee.

Ottawa, May 29.—(Special).—The municipalities who were gold-bricked respecting the Bell Telephone Company bill will have another chance to be heard.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson to-day introduced his telephone legislation, and the entire subject goes to the following special committee: Sir Frederick Borden and Messrs. Emmerson, Geoffroy, Johnson, Ross (Yale-Cariboo), Bureau, Zimmerman, Monk, Maclean (South York), Alcorn and Ingram.

The sub-sections are embraced in section 29 of Mr. Emmerson's bill to amend the Railway Act of 1908, and are as follows:

(1) In this section "municipality" means the municipal council or other authority having jurisdiction over the highways, squares or public places of the highway, square or public place concerned.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in any act of the parliament of Canada, or of the legislature of any province, no such company, hereafter or hereafter incorporated, which is not a "company" within the meaning of the Railway Act, 1908, shall, except as hereinafter provided, construct, maintain or operate its lines or telephones upon, along, across or under any highway, square or other public place within the limits of any city, town or corporation, without the consent of the municipality.

(3) If in any such case the company cannot obtain the consent of the municipality, the company may apply to the board of appeal or other authority having jurisdiction over such highway, square or public place, and all the provisions of sub-section 2 of section 195 of the said act shall apply to the application and to the proceedings thereon.

As to Trunk Lines.

(4) The foregoing sub-sections of this section shall not apply to the construction, maintenance and operation by this company of any long-distance line or service, or any trunk line or service connecting two or more exchanges in any city, town or incorporated village, provided that the location of every such line in a direct and practicable route shall be subject to the direction and supervision of the municipality, or of such officer as it may appoint, unless the municipality or such officer, after one week's notice in writing, shall have another of other cities, towns or incorporated villages.

(5) All matters in dispute relating to the location and installing of long distance lines or services, or of such trunk lines or services as are mentioned in the next two preceding sub-sections shall be determined by the board of appeal or other authority having jurisdiction over such location and make such direction.

(6) A long-distance line, or service, connecting two or more exchanges in any city, town or incorporated village, or with central exchanges or offices in other cities, towns or incorporated villages.

(7) Nothing in this section shall affect the right of any company to operate, maintain, renew, or reconstruct underground or overhead system of lines heretofore constructed, except that upon application in writing the municipality board may order any extension or change in location of the line of the company in any city, town or incorporated village, or the removal of any poles and the carrying of the wires or cables carried thereon, underground, or the construction of any new line, such extension, change of location, removal or construction to be ordered upon such terms as to compensation or otherwise, and to be affected, within such time as the board may direct.

NESBITT ISN'T DEAD YET

STALWARTS HONOR HIM

ADDRESS AND CLOCK

Splendid Surprise at Popular Doctor's House on Grosvenor St. Elicited Response That Services Are at Hand If Necessary.

The cornerstone of a little political resurrection which may mean big things was laid in the laboratory adjoining Dr. Beattie Nesbitt's beautiful house on Grosvenor-street last night, when about fifty of Dr. Nesbitt's followers, who appreciate the gifts of a good general and who were all in themselves good officers, assembled to pay their respects to the ex-member for North Toronto and Mrs. Nesbitt, and incidentally to show appreciation in a tangible form. In the course of the evening's jollification ceremonies it was made apparent that in the event of the doctor regaining his health and the party needing the services of a fighter who asked no favors but saw all that he consistently could, Dr. Nesbitt would be the man who would conform to the specifications.

The whole thing was an arrangement made by ward three Conservatives. They got into the confidence of Mrs. Nesbitt as a necessity, and then showered down upon the household at 8 o'clock last night.

Owens Did It Well.

E. J. W. Owens, the president of the association, didn't feel any too comfortable when he faced the doctor and Mrs. Nesbitt, who had come quietly down the stairs about half a minute before they were expected. Frank Somers and other stalwarts were appropriately hiding the grandfather's clock, a present for Mrs. Nesbitt, which was a beauty.

President Owens spoke in a sort of praise-worthy, apologetic vein. He made it very plain that the doctor and the doctor's body guard, the men who would stick by him thru the thickest and the thinnest, showing the same loyalty and fealty they had already shown when, with the doctor as the general, they had led the man and surprised everybody, including themselves.

Mr. Owens, somewhere on the inside track predicted an early re-entrance into politics of the genial and popular doctor, who had the nerve to make a fight and the grit to see it to a finish.

Wm. Townley stood in front of the grandfather's clock and read the address which was on vellum in a thick Morocco cover. The address was unique in ornamentation. It showed where Dr. Nesbitt had got the nomination which culminated in glorious victory on the first page of St. Paul's Hallory. The next page of the parliament buildings where the doctor put the varnish on some of the legislation which it now framed, and the third showed the unflinching exterior of the registry office.

Doctor Was to the Bad.

It is a most unusual thing to see Dr. Nesbitt nonplussed by this surprise of him where the hair was short. He made a speech in reply, which was full of gratitude.

"You know where my heart is and you are rubbing it in," he said. "We had worked together for the success of the party and we got the party. They were however, reasonably and sufficiently clear to enable the contractor to determine the quality of the work required."

Essex County Young Man Has Made Fortune in Klondike.

Windsor, May 29.—(Special).—After an absence of seven years, in which time his family and friends had given him up as dead, Charles W. Best, a young Essex County man whose home is at Harrow, has turned up alive and well.

At the time the Klondike fever broke out, young Best was seized with it in an aggravated form and left for the Yukon. Shortly after his arrival there, his sister, Mrs. Wm. Toftemire of Essex, received a letter from him stating that he was sick unto death. No further word was ever received and he was finally given up for dead.

His sudden reappearance at his old home, Best explains by saying that he had resolved to run away and he had acquired a competence, and this he now claims to have thru a lucky mining venture.

CONTRACTOR AND ARCHITECT

BLAMED FOR THE COLLAPSE

Commission Reports on Laurier Tower Wreck—The Supervision Was Nil.

Ottawa, May 29.—(Special).—The report of the commission respecting the fall of the Laurier tower was brought down this afternoon. Among other things the report says:

"The supervision of the work by the department up to the level of the first floor was of the most formal character. Practically there was no supervision of the work, as it should have been supervised, from the time the tower reached the ground floor until the tower collapsed."

L. F. Taylor was placed in charge of the work and was responsible to the chief architect, but he did not make any reasonable attempt to fill his duties. He admitted that he paid no attention to the character of the masonry work of the tower, and that the upper portion of the tower was built without any supervision on his part whatever.

As to the causes of collapse of the tower, the commission says: (1) The tower as built by the contractor, were not according to the specifications, and that the bad quality of the work was sufficient cause for the collapse of the tower.

(2) The plans and specifications prepared for this work were not an explicit and clear as they might have been. They were, however, reasonably and sufficiently clear to enable the contractor to determine the quality of the work required.

(3) That the construction at and above the waterfalls and water tables, and the introduction of steel beams in the manner shown on the drawings was faulty and defective in that the steel beams were not properly secured at a point where the full strength of the steel beams was concentrated and the load upon the wall at its weakest point. The more serious defect of the two is the introduction of the steel beams.

(4) There was no proper and efficient supervision of the works by the department from the level of the ground floor upwards.

(5) The main building, owing to the fact that the wall at its weakest point was finally given up to the contractor.

(6) It was inadvisable to proceed with the erection of the upper portion of the tower in the months of November and December, especially as the wall at and below the water tables had been built late in the fall, and the lime mortar had not an opportunity to set.

(7) The contractor must be held responsible for the collapse, in that he did not carry out his work in a good and substantial manner, in accordance with the plans and specifications, or use any precaution to see that the work was thoroughly well built at all points where it should be self-evident to any intelligent or practical builder that the construction would require special care and attention.

(8) The department of public works is also responsible, in that it did not properly supervise the work and detect and correct faults of construction as the work progressed.

CHURCHILL ON CONFERENCE

'TIS FOR A LARGER UNITY

Looking Forward to the Occasion—Intercolonial Preference a Desirable Theme.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, May 29.—At the Australian banquet, Winston Churchill said he was looking forward to the colonial conference as an occasion which shall refresh and revise the expression of that strong and growing feeling of sympathy and agreement which prevails between the mother country and the colonies.

"I couldn't tell you," he said, "that the conference will be free and unfettered. It will have only one object in inception to separation, and that is to extend and develop everything that makes for larger unity of the empire, and eliminate everything which might cause division and dissatisfaction."

"I hear it suggested that the conference must necessarily in some respects be barren. That is not so. There are a dozen questions of law, strategy, trade, communication, education and science, any one well worth consideration by the collective intelligence of the representatives of the empire."

"One thing which I hope may receive some discussion is the question of what I will call intercolonial preference. It is a smaller thing for the states to make reciprocal adjustments with the mother country to alter a different system."

"It had been suggested that the colonies should not identify themselves with any English political party. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had said if the component parts of the empire did not come closer together they would drift further apart. They were coming closer together. It was the Liberal party's earnest desire to maintain friendly relations."

In the house of commons, the premier, answering a question, said the Indian government would be represented at the colonial conference, but it was not intended that Canada's radnor would be more than the Australian and Canadian provinces.

Outstanding Competitors in the Race.

The interesting struggle of horse against horse at the Woodbine Race track during the week has been witnessed by thousands of persons and the sport has proved excellent.

As keen competition as exists between the horses running goes on constantly between several mineral waters in this country, but it is now generally admitted that Canada's radnor is the best.

If you visit the track use a split radnor as a mixer with your favorite whiskey.

Radnor is a high-class natural mineral water bottled under the most careful supervision at its spring in the heart of the Laurentian Mountains.

REVOLUTION IN GUATEMALA

INVASION IS BEGUN FROM FOUR POINTS

One City Captured, But Rebels Forced to Retire—One Report Says Movement is Already Crushed

Mexico City, May 29.—Advices received this afternoon from Tapachula and Tonalá, in the Mexican State of Chiapas, show that a revolution against the existing administration of the present President Estrada Cabrera of Guatemala broke out yesterday, and Guatemala was invaded from four points by as many bodies of armed men all equipped with the best modern rifles.

Gen. Manuel Leandor Barillas, formerly president of Guatemala with 200 cavalry and a stock of 700 rifles, crossed the Mexican border at a point near Motozintla. Barillas has great coffee estates in that neighborhood, where he is popular, and whence he was driven four years ago by President Estrada Cabrera. Barillas successfully evaded the search of the authorities. He will recruit new men on his march across the mountains, the people being loyal to him, he says.

Gen. Jose Leon Castillo captured Ocos yesterday without much opposition. He took that point with 500 men, and was received with enthusiasm by the people. The steamer Empire State left San Francisco on May 14 with 200 desperate men into that city, and 400 fighters recruited in that city, and some 3000 rifles, and reached Ocos, thus enabling the disaffected citizens to be armed.

Gen. Castillo was a rival candidate for the presidency seven years ago against Cabrera, but alleges that he was counted out, and he has, he says, a long series of scores to settle with the Guatemalan president.

Gen. Castillo, commanding one detachment of Guatemalan revolutionists, after taking the City of Ocos, was forced to retire before a superior force. He is now reported to have taken a new base, and will be reinforced to-night by several hundred men from the men from the steamer Empire City. Gen. Barillas is in the mountains making his way to Quetzaltenango, a city of 40,000. Barillas has with him a number of picked men, and is reported to be steadily recruiting his force. No news has been received from Salvador since he well advanced into Guatemala. Resident Guatemalans here state that the whole country is ripe for the overthrow of Cabrera, and the roads are bad in Guatemala.

Telegraphic communication is difficult, owing to the cutting of the wires on the Guatemalan side.

Gen. Barillas and Gen. Castillo, on crossing the line Sunday night, issued a proclamation to the people of Guatemala. Among other things, the proclamation to the inhabitants recites that the standard of revolt has been raised at the extreme of the republic against Cabrera, "the most calamitous figure of our contemporaneous history, who, having possessed himself of the power by crime, has perpetuated himself therein by a chain of crimes."

SAYS IT'S QUELLED.

Panama, May 29.—The Associated Press has received the following: Guatemala, May 29.—(3.15 a.m.)—Revolution started, but already crushed. (Signed) Estrada Cabrera, President of Guatemala.

WOMAN'S WORLD

The Weston Women's Institute last Saturday entertained the government delegation of lady lecturers, and listened to a couple of practical and interesting addresses. Mrs. Andrew Kinney of Grandview spoke on "The Fabrics we wear and hints to home sewers," and Miss Laura Rose of Guelph took the place of Miss Maddock, who had been called away by illness in the family. Mrs. LeMaire, president of the institute, introduced the speakers. Mrs. Kinney opened her address by a few general remarks on woman's work or rather combination of works, for she said a woman is expected to be a wonderful being. She is expected to be cook, laundress, housemaid, seamstress, nursemaid, everything all at once, and to do everything well now women did not usually attain the same degree of proficiency in everything; one might be a good seamstress, but a poor cook, another vice versa, and it was particularly to the latter that her hints were addressed. She dwelt briefly upon profitable materials to be used, for instance, for instance, which was very durable and reversible, and therefore could be remodelled. Lustrous was also durable and light, and she was very pretty in the light shades and particularly in white. She gave a word of warning against heavy tweed for skirts, tweed being too heavy to warrant the carrying so great a weight. These heavy skirts, too, were very injurious, unless supported from the shoulders by means of braces. Surah silk she had found the best medium-priced silk from an all-around view.

Peau de soie, is not so durable as it cuts and gets shiny. Tannin is pretty in white and pale shades, and is said to be very good to wear, but is not so desirable in black as in colors. In selecting working pants Mrs. Kinney gave a hint for the men folk. That is instead of buying the cheap, poorly made, half sewn articles usually sold for "working" pants, rather get good ones which may be a little out of date in style and cut, and on that account may be procured at a reduced price.

Mrs. Kinney then gave some hints regarding skirt making, and advised that in sewing together bias seams a brace of tape should be sewn in, however, the seam—not a twill tape, however, but a sheer one. If the skirt were to be belted, in basting place the goods on top of the lining rather than the reverse. This ensures the skirt being flat and unwrinkled. In stitching do not stretch the goods, but let it pucker, as, if so, in pressing the stitches will break. To evening the seams carefully together at the top, planning it firmly to the table; then draw them together, pinning evenly at the bottom; mark with chalk and baste evenly. Mrs. Kinney advised patterns of serviceable skirt, working waist and garden hat, and after making the necessary explanation, left them with the president for the use of the members.

Miss Laura Rose, whose subject was "The Head, The Heart, The Feet," prefaced her address by a few hints in using rhubarb and on the prevention of consumption. Rhubarb, she thought, was not properly appreciated. Some do not like it because of its acidity, but a little used with it neutralizes the acid and economizes in sugar. In stewing over it a teaspoonful of baking soda, and throw boiling water over it. Stand ten minutes, then drain through a colander, sprinkle over with sugar and cook as usual. For pies, sprinkle a teaspoonful of sage, as well as the soda, over the rhubarb. The sage will be found better than flour. In joining blueberries for pies, use 1-3 to 1-2 of rhubarb. Stew the rhubarb, then add the berries, and cook as usual. Rhubarb juice from the green stalks may be used in making pinapples, ice or sherbets, for plain rhubarb.

In calling, a card is never presented to the hostess. It is handed to the maid before proceeding to the drawing room, or else left upon the tray upon retiring. In the evening, card and one or her husbands, and in calling on a married lady she adds another of her husband's cards for the man of the house. A woman never leaves any of her own cards for the masculine members of the household on which she calls. A woman doesn't send her card when paying a business call on a man. It is sufficient to give the servant her name. When paying a business call on a woman she sends up one card.

Ignoramus.—For a garden party a lady usually wears a light dress, with a white blouse, and a light hat, with light fancy hat, and fluffy sunshade. Gentlemen may either wear a suit, or a straw hat, or frock coat and high hat.

There will be an exhibition of Chinese curios by Dr. Anna Henny. These meetings will continue on Thursday and Friday, concluding with the Friday afternoon session.

McCall Mission. A drawing-room meeting of the Toronto McCall Auxiliary will be held on Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. G. M. Wrong, 467 Jarvis-st.

A pleasing event took place at the Home for Incurables, when all patients were invited to a social gathering, and assembled in the large dining room to express their regret at the departure of two of the officers, Miss Moore and Miss Bremner, who have been with us for almost two years they have each filled most important offices in the home. Miss Moore as housekeeper and Miss Bremner as secretary. Miss Moore was presented with a handsome case of dessert cutlery, while Miss Bremner was the recipient of a pearl crescent.

An interesting event in temperance circles took place at the meeting of Toronto St. John's Lodge, No. 100, Temple, being the celebration of the jubilee (50 years) of Sister Cummer in the order. The lodge presented with a handsome case of dessert cutlery, and many kind references were made to the untiring interest of Mrs. Cummer in the work.

ROGERS IS STILL POSITIVE SO, CONTRARY, IS LENNOX

And While the Architect Won't Absolutely Contradict, He Pleads Ignorance as to Event.

Architect E. J. Lennox had the air of scoring a point at the civic investigation proceedings of yesterday, when he displayed to view the "chime of bells" referred to in the evidence of Monday. There were 13 little brass bells in a row, and the apparent value was a few dollars only. This exhibit was declared by Mr. Lennox to represent the sum total of the considerations he had received from contractors for city hall furnishings.

The sitting, which lasted an hour and a half, in the morning, lacked other special features outside of the evidence of W. B. Rogers, which was a reiteration of previous testimony as to Mr. Lyrd having been sent to him by Mr. Lennox to receive a consideration. Mr. Lennox denied knowledge of the alleged understanding with Mr. Rogers. The inquiry resumes today at 10 a.m. and will probably be wound up this week, says Judge Winchester, who expects to make his report to the city council by the middle of June. His honor said last night that he was considering the making in his report of a recommendation that the investigation be not closed, but that at any time on the return of absentees, whose evidence is required, they might be subpoenaed and made to testify, in the box.

"It is my private view," remarked the judge, who was not prepared to declare finally that he would make such a report.

Mr. Riddell, counsel for Mr. Lennox, will submit Mr. Rogers to cross-examination this morning, and Mr. Lennox will again appear in the box.

Score One for Lennox. Mr. Lennox exhibited the accounts for city hall building apparatus, and this was taken into the court's custody, as well as the figures for the glass contract.

Mr. Lennox declared that the bells were not about 25 cents each, and that the late Ald. Halam had kept the original set supplied as a sample by the Johnson Company, who later furnished the architect with a duplicate set. Mr. Drayton intimated that advice received pointed to the bells being worth $700, and that there were 20 Mr. Lennox replied that there were only 13, and exhibited a string of miniature brass bells, the value being apparently trifling. The matter was then dismissed.

Mr. Riddell elicited from witness that 40 clock dials had been certified to the city hall, and he doubted the charge that there had been 36. City Hall Engineer James Beaton was called upon to testify on this point.

Re-examined by Judge Winchester as to the reasonableness of allowing contractors 20 per cent. profit on work not finished, witness said such was his practice.

Herbert Luke of Ambrose Kent & Co., said the firm had acted as agents for the Johnson Pneumatic Tire Company of New York, the contract being obtained through Mr. Wright of Benoit & Co. to add $775 to their contract of $1161 for tubing, the former sum going to the Johnson Company, and the latter to the contractor, or $113.50. Judge Winchester thought the original contract meant to cover tubing and all.

Harking Back. The investigation went back to its starting point in the questioning of W. B. Rogers by Chas. Rogers & Sons, as to his dealings with Dr. Lynd. He testified that, as he recalled it, Mr. Lennox had told him that Dr. Lynd had taken a bicycle, and had made another request of Mr. Dennis. He knew nothing of any other dealings of Dr. Lynd with contractors, but recalled by Mr. Riddell and asked about Mr. Rogers' statement, replied: "I know nothing about it whatever." He had sent no one to call on Mr. Dr. Lynd's behalf. The bicycle story he had heard "on the street."

"Is there a word of truth in what Mr. Rogers has been saying?" "Well, I don't know anything about it."

"Well, you know whether it is true or not, who made up the story, if I say it is not true," retorted Mr. Lennox.

Re Turnbill. Witness, with some heat, denied that he had in previous evidence reflected on the veracity of Mr. Rogers, Mr. Wright and others. He added: "The man I wished to call a liar is Dr. Turnbull of Hamilton, and I do not wish to retract that. The other is a case of misrepresentation in the press. I did not mean to make any reflection on the other gentlemen."

Asked how Mr. Rogers could have confused him with someone else, Mr. Lennox replied that it was, he thought, "mere street talk." Mr. Drayton persisted.

"In regard how would it be possible for him to confuse you with another man? You had no idea as to that?" "But you contradict Mr. Rogers?" "Well, what I said was that I don't remember the matter at all."

"You have explicitly contradicted Mr. Rogers in this matter?" "I don't wish to say that Mr. Rogers is not telling the truth, but I know nothing about it."

The sitting was adjourned till 10 a.m. to-day to allow examination of Mr. Lennox's bank books.

Grandfather's Cure for Constipation

They don't flush out your Bowels and Intestines with a costly waste of Digestive Juice, as Salts, Castor Oil, Calomel, Jalap, or Aperient Waters, always do. No.—Cascarets strengthen and stimulate the Bowel Muscles instead. These are the Muscles that line the Food passages and that tighten up when Food touches them, thus driving that Food on to its Finish. They are the Muscles that turn Food into Strength through Nutrition. Well.—A Cascaret acts on your Bowel-Muscles as if you had just Sawn a cord of wood, or walked ten miles. That's why Cascarets are safe to take continuously in health; and out of health. Because they move the Food Naturally, digesting it without waste of tomorrow's Gastric Juice. They thus take the Nutrition out of it before it decays. The thin, flat, Ten Cent box is made to fit your Vest Pocket, or "My Lady's" Purse. Carry it constantly with you and take a Cascaret whenever you suspect you need one. Thus you will ward off Appendicitis, Constipation, Indigestion, and other things besides. Druggists—10 Cents a Box. Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company, and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "G.C.C." A sample and the famous booklet, "Course of Constipation," Free for the asking. Address Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York.

But, if you will take your Exercise in an Easy Chair, there's only one way to do that, and make a Success of it. Because, —there's only one kind of Artificial Exercise for the Bowels and its name is "CASGARETS." Cascarets are the only means to exercise the Bowel Muscles, without work. They don't Purge, Grip, nor upset your Stomach," because they don't act like Cathartics.

COMMERCIAL ALCOHOL.
A vast scope of possibilities is ahead of the agriculturist. New uses for the products of the farm are continuously coming to light and none bid to outclass that of recent research, the manufacture of energy from many of the farm products hitherto unthought of. Potatoes, corn, the stalks as well as the grain, the waste products of sugar factories will run our engines, cook our meals, heat and light our homes if turned into commercial alcohol. It has been estimated that this can be made at less than 10 cents a gallon. At this rate it can supplant both gasoline and kerosene, than which it is much safer and cleaner. Thus can the product of the soil be made to turn the wheels of the factory, farm and conveyance, and banish from the home the chill of winter and the blackness of the night. Chemists have demonstrated that sugar and starch when fermenting yield half their weight in absolute alcohol. About one-fifth the weight of potatoes, nearly three-fourths the weight of corn and almost one-sixth the weight of the sugar beet are these fermentable sugars and starches. The average acre of potatoes (300 bushels) will produce 250 gallons of such fuel for the running of automobiles, farm motors and other engines, or for heating, cooking and lighting. An acre of corn will produce 130 gallons and an acre of sugar beets 234 gallons. These molasses, which is a by-product of the sugar beet factories, is an excellent groundwork from which to manufacture alcohol. We mean the decreasing supply and increasing cost of coal and wood, and wonder which way we shall turn for future power, heat and light, yet our farmers have it in their hands to find substitutes, both profitable to the grower and to the user. In many of the European countries denatured alcohol is already regarded as one of the necessities of agriculture, manufacture and general industry. In these countries there are being used many varieties of alcohol engines, automobiles, motor-boats, farm motors, lamps and alcohol stoves.

by the city authorities than have marked their career in the past. The matter is commended to the new market commissioner. One institution such as the Fowler's establishment would be of more use to Toronto than all the benefits that will eventuate by way of the St. Lawrence Market; yet how assiduous has this official worked to acquire the attendance of an extra farmer or two at this market, and apparently without much avail, and ignored the most important opportunities that are now and again presenting themselves.

HAY CURING.

Professor Spillman Tells How This Should Be Done.

W. J. Spillman, agronomist of the department of agriculture, gives a careful account of a very useful method of curing hay. "Harvesting on this farm is a very interesting process," says Mr. Spillman. "The method of curing is as follows: The grass is cut in the afternoon. The first night's dew never hurts it. It is then put into curing cocks which are set in rows. These cocks are spread the next morning and in the afternoon they are made into one weather-proofed stack. It stands thus for one day, then haul to the barn or rick and there are many persons who doubt whether the curing process is worth the trouble. The explicit directions given by Mr. Spillman will, however, prove most valuable, altho, of course, they may require some modification, in view of the conditions of weather and quality of hay.

Time to Kill Weeds.
The definition of a weed is a plant out of place and one which hinders the proper growth of valuable crops. A plant that is considered a weed is found to have a value and can be cultivated to very great advantage. Some weeds are very persistent and are hard to kill and the fight against them is a main work of the farmer throughout the growing season. The best time to fight weeds is before the crops are planted, for then tools can be used which the growing crops make it impossible to use. If young weeds are killed just when they are starting it is less work than to wait until the weeds have developed a long root and probably flower and formed seed.

There are three classes of weeds that the farmer has to fight: annuals, biennials, or one-year weeds; perennials, or those which grow from year to year from the same root. The kind of weed will determine to a great extent the method to be used in trying to kill it. If it is an annual, preventing it from going to seed is the best way. If it is a biennial, it is best to kill it when it is in the ground it will grow again next year. The perennial will grow as long as the root is left in the ground. It is not the one-year weeds that cause the most trouble for the farmer. By good cultivation they are easily kept out and not allowing them to go to seed these weeds can be kept in check. It is the perennial weeds that cause the worry and the treatment and still survive. They are usually propagated by underground stems and roots, but some are also spread by seeds. The farmer must think of when he is trying to get rid of these weeds.

It should always be remembered that weeds do not die when they are young, but they must be killed, not just turned over and put into a new position, which really cures them. The best time to kill them is at their early in the season and give crops good cultivation throughout the growing season, so seeds are free from weeds, and now the weeds are allowed to go to seed to sow the rest of the farm. Do not allow any to seed or to go to seed, but if you do, chop and use as manure. The weeds are usually a great many weeds of this kind of farming will do a great deal of good for the farm of weeds. Of course, if neighbors have plenty of weeds and do not fight them it will be a serious problem for the farmer, as the seeds of the weeds which his neighbor is growing in profusion. That is another side to the weed problem.

Cattle to Get Higher.
Chicago Live Stock World: Pure-bred beef cattle were very cheap recently; they're cheap now, but they will remain cheap long, is, however, improbable. In fact, higher prices are assured. You cannot get away from the fact that there is an obvious and growing scarcity of well-bred cattle in the United States. Go to any stock yard in the country and try to buy a load of good feeders. If you get them at a reasonable price you will be lucky. Everybody is after them. They're scarce and they're going to get scarcer. Note the superabundance of crooked ones. Legs and necks are as conspicuous as cornucopia, and it is a trinity of undesirable qualities the buyer takes seriously into consideration. When bidding, the scrub bull has been a destroying agency on the breeding grounds of the North American continent for years and his career of pernicious activity must soon be stopped. When that happens the value of the pure-bred bull will go skyward. There never was a better time to start a herd of Shorthorn, Angus, Hereford or Galloway cattle. Pick the best you can get and then go ahead. Millions of acres peculiarly suited for the breeding of beef cattle are available at prices consistent with production. A minimum of $1000 a head could carry a small herd profitably. The Live Stock World knows Iowa men who are raising beef calves and marketing them as fat yearlings on the land. Theoretically may say it can't be done, but practice administrators a knockout to theory every time. Get into the band wagon before it is too late. The Live Stock World rests its prophetic reputation on the assertion that this year hence pure-bred beef cattle will be selling at a materially higher range of prices.

TORONTO HORSE MARKET

SUMMER TULL AT HAND

Supply Rather in Excess of Demand, With a Tendency to Somewhat Lower Prices.

A consignment of a dozen horses, selected from the extensive stable of Mr. J. E. Seagram, will be sold by Auctioneer C. A. Burns in the saddling paddock at the Woodbine at 11.30 a.m. on Friday next. These horses are not being sold for any other cause than to secure much-needed stable room. Among them are several winners and several of good promise. All are 3 or 4 years old, and consequently to a large extent have their future before them. Catalogues are obtainable at The Canadian Sportsman office, 105 York-street, at the Repository, Simcoe-street, or at the clubhouse at the track.

With the approach of summer it is advisable for those who have the management of horses, and particularly heavy ones in constant work, to see that their collars and saddles are well lined, and that the lining is dried and brushed after each day's work, other wise the stuffing gets soiled and galls and shoulders in work. This is a matter which is often neglected by a man who will spend hours in dressing and curbing a wound which much less time spent on the harness would prevent.

Prices lists are now being distributed for the Open-Air Horse Parade and Show, to be held in Queen's Park on the morning of Dominion Day (Monday, July 2), and can be had from the secretary, East King-street, or from the secretary, 11 Ann-street, telephone Main 2463. Entries for the parade are being accepted until June 19, and will not be accepted after that date. There are 12 harness classes and 7 saddle classes for horses and ponies, 2 special classes, 2 commercial classes and one old-horse class.

"The time is coming," said a well-known man about town at the other day, "when the automobile will have become so common that it will be fashionable, and the only thing, to ride or drive a horse."

Messrs. Jacques Bros. well known Alberta horsebreeders, have just imported a couple of Suffolk Punch stallions, King and nine choice registered mares of the same breed. It is thought that the pair will prove exceedingly well suited for the light, flat lands of the Northwest.

With three of his get of the same age selling one year for 75,000 guineas, or say, $390,000, who will care to say that flying fox, by Orme (the sire of Mr. Davies' Orme) is not a good sire? Val d'Or (conqueror last year of Lord Rosebery's third Derby winner, Clero) sold for $150,000. The first and last go to the Argentines and the second comes to America.

A curious method of traveling with loose horses was in vogue in this continent in former days. The plan was to attach the horses in pairs by their halters to a long rope stretched between two wagons. Each wagon was about half-loaded, and the chief driver was seated in the middle of the rope taut. For horses that are wild and liable to break away this system of conveying them was highly appreciated. The only precaution to observe was to fasten the horses at such distances on the rope that they could not kick each other, and for the driver of the rear wagon to be able to regulate his pace with the leading wagon lest the rope should fall slack.

Toronto exhibitors did exceptionally well at the Brantford horse show last week. To-morrow they start in at half with prospects of doing equally as well. The local market in high-class horses is somewhat quiet, altho Messrs. Crow & Murray, who took several of the best pair of high-stepping bay geldings to Mr. R. J. Christie. This is probably the best pair that has changed hands in this year, standing 15.5, splendidly matched and full of quality.

The Toronto market is palpably over-supplied at present, considering the evident over-estimating the demand at this season of the year. Up to a couple of weeks ago everything offering was eagerly snapped up, but just now there is a palpable slackening. At that nearly every one of the 180 horses offered at the Repository at the regular Tuesday's sale found a purchaser. Taken as a whole, altho there were a number of second-handers put up, the workers and delivery horses were of a good average sort and bought reasonably decent prices. Several well-known city firms were among the buyers, and the attendance from outside was considerable. A couple of construction agents were on hand with liberal commissions, and they bought between two or three carloads. One of which is designed for work on the Grand Trunk Pacific connections. Another is for the Ottawa district. H. M. Johnson, from the Ottawa Valley, also took a couple of teams of heavy draughters, for one of which he paid $3225.

at Belmont Park on Saturday last by price of the sale was $15,000, bid by Fred Burlew for Paumotok bay colt, 2, by Watercross—Braw Lass, Arsenal, a seven-year-old gelding, winner of the Metropolitan Handicap, etc., sold for $125. The leading prices follow: Miss Spooner, ch.f., 2, by Star Ruby—Flora Hurst; George Krauss, 1, by Watercross—Braw Lass; Fred Burlew, 15,000; Waterbury, blk.c., 2, by Watercross—Queen Bess; J. L. McKinnis, 5000; Waterfall, b.c., 2, by Watercross—Vernette; M. L. Hayman, 2500; Sir Toddington, ch.c., by Toddington—Oculacion; Frank Regan, 6000; Odd Trick, b.f., 2, by Griffon—Queen of Trumps; W. L. Powers, 500; Doc Kyle, b.c., 2, by Fotherless—Miss Rhodie; W. L. Powers, 700; Blue Coat, b.c., 4, by Belle—Blue Jacket; W. Porter, 700.

Chicago advices state that congestion characterized the movement of trade the past week. Overconfidence of shippers on the early strong prices of the month stimulated rather than the general trade has been over-crowded with a surplus of all classes of horses that has forced liberal concessions to effect clearance. The excess largely represented common and medium grades that had been held back to finish putting in the corn crop, and the market declined on common and medium classes $5 to $20, and the better grades also dropped sympathetically $5 to $10 from the average prices of the previous week. One commission dealer regarded the manner in which good horses held up under the stress of heavy receipts as almost phenomenal, and neighbor: this spring, who classes, who to $10 lower, at no time was demoralized. The excessive receipts oversupplied the demand and transformed the market into a speculative rather than a legitimate clearance of the offerings for industrial use. In most instances shippers realized their mistake in increasing their consignments and submitted reluctantly to the decline, but a few refused to make concessions and are holding their offerings over, hoping that the market will rally under the arrival of the general market rules slow at the following prices:

The Bay Hen.
Better handle kerene now than lice late on. Chicago will stand any sort of abuse better than damp quarters. The first two weeks of the most critical period in the life of a chick. Excesses in feeding, over-crowding, boxes before refilling with new straw. An objection to Leghorns is their tendency to fly out of the yard. But this can be remedied by clipping a wing. Be sure and provide a dust bath for the sitting hen. It not only affords her great pleasure, but helps keep the lice away. If your hens are not laying now, you are to blame, probably, as the conditions surrounding them are defective in some particular.

The importance of pure water cannot be too strongly urged. At all times chicks should be allowed pure water. The floor of the coop should be covered with chaff about one inch deep. This will furnish work for cold or wet footings and rainy days. Scatter the food in the chaff and pull the chaff over the grain. As soon as the hatch comes off thoroughly dust the hen, and each chick must be dusted as they receive it. A dry pinch or shake of powder on the top of the head and under the wings. Avoid getting a chick wet and cold. If you have a hen that is broody, feed her, if ever, make a profitable one; if either catches cold or is starved in its growth. It is better to have four or five hens at the same time you can test out all infertile eggs and double up the good eggs under two or three of the hens. Don't be afraid to pay a little extra for a setting of eggs from good stock. If you never tried it, you don't know how good it is in your flock will increase when they all look alike, instead of all different. It will mark a new era in your poultry experience. If you miss a hen, or one-third of the chicks hatched in your incubator, to crowd too many of them into a brooder. Overcrowding is a prolific source of disease and death among young chicks as well as old ones. Because your first setting succeeded in bringing off only three or four chicks, it is a mistake to neglect them on the plea that they are not worth bothering with. Nurse them carefully, for early chicks are a scarce article and those that die are a heavy loss. Don't be afraid to pay a little extra for a setting of eggs from good stock. Putting Cattle on Grass.
The fattening of the cattle from the dry lot to the grass lot is one of the most critical points in the feeding operations. There are at least two methods of accomplishing this end without a set-back to the cattle. If the grass land was not closely grazed last fall or during the winter, and thus has a considerable amount of last year's growth on the ground in a good condition—a point which every good stock-

The Farm in General.
Replace that poor fence between you and neighbor: this spring. Good fences are cheap. Every farmer should sow some oats. They make too good a feed not to sow on the farm, and what will take the place of them for the work horses and growing colts? Sow some oats. Drying Up of Milk Cows.
There is a well-founded belief that the cow who is a persistent milker does not produce the best of calves. While this is so, the methods generally employed to overcome this trouble are far from the best. The usual plan is to cut off the feed, oftentimes to the point of starvation; surely a most unwise move, and one which in nine cases out of ten results in injury to the cow. The period of lactation depends more largely on the system of feeding than farmers are willing to admit, the ancestry must be back of it all, for the most intelligent feeding in the world will not make a long milker of a cow whose ancestors are in the habit of going dry for three or four months. Naturally if the breed is a good one, the desire is to keep up the period of lactation as long as possible, and yet have good calves. Particularly in this desirable if the calves are to be raised. The best plan for accomplishing this is to feed the cow the necessary food to keep up a fair flow of milk, selecting such food as will benefit the udder and the milk. While doing this keep on milking the cow until she naturally falls off in supply. With a heifer having the first calf, milking should be kept up as long as possible before the next calf is born, in order to establish the long period of lactation, for if the heifer cow goes dry early after the first calf it will be extremely difficult to carry her beyond that period afterward.

IN DEFENCE OF THE HAVEN.

S. H. Blake, K.C., Replies to Objections of Protesters Neighbors. S. H. Blake, K.C., in behalf of the Haven and Prison Gate Mission on Seaton-street, has replied to the property owners in the neighborhood, who recently appeared before the board of control, objecting to an extension of the work of the home and citing alleged instances of a derogatory nature concerning the mission.

Mr. Blake points out that it is not intended to increase the accommodation of the haven, as had been stated, but merely to carry out the government inspector's demands that present inmates be given more room. The nursery, 100, will be situated 100 feet further away than at present.

Mr. Blake also says: "Thirty years ago the late Sir Daniel Wilson, Senator Macdonald, W. H. Howland, with some others, who are still living, seeing the great need there was for helping the helpless, obtained from Glasgow and Edinburgh, full details of the prison case which was opened steadily in sympathy with the work, with business men in the lead, and the United States Steel and Reading, later the amount of the loan was a good one. New York advised and prices closed firm. Grand Trunk weak and the market in better demand than the more useful view of the labor situation. Japanese Imperial sales of 1904 were quoted at 10 1/2%.
