AUGUSTE BOLTE IS DEAD WAS SUDDENLY STRICKEN

Toronto Business Man Succumbs to Stroke of Apoplexy at Cobourg.

Auguste Bolte of 43 Cecil-street, who was stricken with apoplexy at the Cobourg Golf clubhouse Saturday noon, died at the Arlington Hotel, Cobourg, at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

He, together with Mrs. Bolte and his two sons, Auguste and Felix, had just arrived at the Cobourg clubhouses, having walked there from the train from Toronto.

On Wednesday Mr. Bolte, in conversation with ex-Ald. E. Strachan Cox, complained that his cheek felt paralyzed, but otherwise he felt very well.

His sudden death has cast gloom over the entire town, where he has been known for many years, having been married in Cobourg to a daughter of the late Chief Justice Armour.

On Wednesday Mr. Bolte, in conversation with ex-Ald. E. Strachan Cox, complained that his cheek felt paralyzed, but otherwise he felt very well.

He has just returned three weeks ago with Robert Davies from a trip abroad and had not complained of ill-health since he arrived home.

Auguste Bolte was engaged in the manufacture of brewers' supplies, and was connected with the most prominent clubs in the city.

He was 61 years old in Montreal and came to Toronto about 25 years ago. Mr. Bolte had been French consul in Toronto for several years.

His clubs were: The Royal Canadian Yacht Club, the Toronto Club, the Toronto Golf Club, the Ontario Jockey Club, the Albany Club and the Toronto Hunt Club.

Besides the widow, Mrs. Elsie Armour Bolte, and two sons, Auguste and Felix, he is survived by a sister, Miss Sophia Bolte of Toronto, and two brothers and sisters in Montreal.

The remains will be taken to Montreal to-day for interment Tuesday. Services will be held in Cobourg this morning.

BELIEVE IT MURDER. Canie's Son, Found Dead, Was in Kneeling Position.

MANIWAKI, Que., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—The family of Evangeliste Canie, aged 19 years, who was pronounced to have died of inflammation of the lungs, claim that he was murdered. The young man was found near his home, in a kneeling position, with his face on the ground.

There was blood on his face and back of his neck and his hat was several yards away, also with blood upon it.

Dr. Decret states that although a few bruises were visible on the head, hands and lower body, none was sufficient to cause death.

THE FISHERIES DISPUTE. Anti-Government London Newspapers Take Advantage of It.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The conclusion to submit the Newfoundland fisheries dispute to arbitration at The Hague, and the negotiations pending with the view of a renewal of the modus vivendi to cover this year's fishing season, have called forth little comment here, except in the newspapers opposed to the government, which attempt to make political capital out of the question.

On Wednesday the government is prepared to sacrifice the interests of the colony to maintain the goodwill of the United States.

Even these papers, however, admit that the submission of the question to The Hague is the best solution available of the "wartime controversy," and that some temporary arrangement must be made until the arbitrators render a decision.

The other papers apparently are awaiting some announcement from Foreign Secretary Grey, who thus far has declined to be drawn out by the members of parliament, confining himself to the same reply to all questions on the subject, namely, "the negotiations are in progress."

The officials of the foreign office are confident that an arrangement, covering the present season and acceptable to all parties, shortly will be concluded. The Newfoundland premier, Sir Robert Bond, already has shown a more conciliatory attitude toward the proposal to renew the "modus vivendi," with modifications, which, the Association

FOLLOWED HER MOTHER'S EXAMPLE. AND KEPT DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY IN THE HOUSE.

Mrs. W. J. Wilson, Tessier, Sask., tells of her experience in the following words: "I wish to tell you of the good I have found in Dr. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY. Last summer my little girl, aged two years, was taken ill with Summer Complaint, and as my mother always kept Dr. FOWLER'S in the house, when I was a child, I seemed to follow her example, as I always have it also. I at once gave it to my baby as directed and she was at once relieved, and after a couple of doses were taken was completely cured."

Knock the Pitchers Out Hesterfer and McCloskey

Baltimore: Ahead in Fifth, 4 to 0

Baltimore's last game of the season with Toronto at Diamond Park will long live in the minds of the some 6000 fans present. McCloskey, who beat Toronto on Wednesday, was in the box for the Orioles, and up to the fifth was invincible, but in the fifth, well it is a shame to tell the story. Suffice to say, Moffitt, Wiedy and Schafly batted twice, and aided by regressors, etc., along with hits, eight runs were required.

THE INSURANCE CONVENTION.

The unexpected has not happened with regard to the insurance conventions that have just concluded their arduous labors and pleasures in this city. The time at the disposal of the delegates was pretty fairly divided between attendance at the meetings and visits to places of amusement—not to speak of outings, receptions and banquets, well garnished with post-prandial oratory, whose highest theme was "the company's" success and whose sharpest stimulus was "the company's" favor. They all, we hope, have had "a good time," and enjoyed their sojourn in our city. They, no doubt, will return home more than ever convinced of the value of their asset—the widow and orphan—and of the large part insurance plays in modern finance, but it is very doubtful if, as a body, they are any the more ready to welcome insurance reform or to assist in its progress.

As for the actual results, measured by the resolutions adopted, they are surprisingly small. In the case of the Canadian Association, for some unexplained reason which we can only conjecture, the executive, on the eve of the convention, decided not to formulate any resolution regarding the report of the insurance commission. They left no doubt, however, upon the mind of the convention that their attitude towards it was one of intense dissatisfaction; and this feeling was voiced by the president in his opening address and re-echoed by many speakers during the convention. The programs of both associations were evidently framed with a view to "smashing" such legislation, existing or prospective, as was supposed to be inimical to the personal interests of the agents. It had been adroitly arranged that Canadian underwriters of known hostility to the measures of insurance reform proposed by our commission, had a large place on the American program, and that the various opportunities to the utmost to damn the report.

Another prominent feature of the gatherings was the lamentations of some managers and agents over reduced commissions in consequence of recent legislation in New York State and elsewhere. Dreadful things were prophesied as to what would happen in Canada if the spirit of the Armstrong Insurance law were infused into our Insurance Act.

It was not, however, without protest against such tactics that several American delegates—men of large experience and wide outlook—endeavored to recall the convention to the true source and cure of their professional ills. Hon. E. E. Rittenhouse, insurance commissioner of Colorado, said: "We cannot get away from the fact that most of the difficulties encountered in soliciting insurance today are due to the wrongs committed by those who thought they could fool the public without paying the penalty. And what is worse, this method of securing business was sanctioned and encouraged by some of the largest and best-known companies. I shall not attempt to do anything that was known to be utterly impossible of fulfillment, and of other forms of false pretence.

Another delegate, Major F. A. Kendall of Cleveland, advised the convention to let the Armstrong law alone: "It is time, he said, for the life insurance business to cool off. It is time that they had quit. Do you want to be Harrimans and Rockefellers? Get down to business as I have, on your little life commission. Do your business right and work faithfully, and you will succeed. I glory in the low commission law.

ISLAND AQUATIC ASSN. 20TH ANNUAL REGATTA

Miss Norma Armstrong Wins Season's Championship—Full List of Events.

Saturday, the occasion of the twentieth annual regatta of the Island Aquatic Association, was full of interest and enjoyment for the visitors to the club headquarters at Centre Island.

The day was beautifully fine and cool, but unfortunately a somewhat high wind interfered a little with some of the canoe races. However, even this drawback was not without an offset and the brisk breeze gave the competitors what Miss Armstrong, the season's champion, described as "a hell-ho!"

The clubhouse was lavishly decorated and the gaily flaunting bunting with the dash of color in the costumes of the many lake spectators on balcony and floats made up an especially attractive picture. A distinguished spectator of the various events was Sir Daniel Morris, K.C.M.G., commissioner of agriculture for the British West Indies, who, with Lady Morris, is here to attend the exhibition and will probably spend a fortnight in the city.

Another distinguished visitor was Col. J. P. Grant of Berlin, Germany. Among the many other spectators were Mrs. Dyas, sr., Mrs. A. R. Denison, Controller Hocken, City Engineer Rust, Mr. J. Weaver (Esq.), Mr. J. S. Hester, Mrs. Hester, Mrs. Holmes (London, Eng.), Mrs. Constamith, Miss Goad, Mrs. Lee, Miss Hart (Esq.), Mrs. MacIntyre, Miss Matthews, Miss Collins (Pepper), Miss Thompson, Mrs. Ernest Towers, Mrs. Austin, Mrs. Mrs. J. Ardagh, Mrs. Harston, Mrs. Madder, Col. and Mrs. Harston, Mrs. Tate, Mr. and Mrs. Cooke, Mr. Bert Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. George Cook, and Mrs. J. Much interest centred around the ladies' fours, a half-mile battle royal. Spectators were made by the winners, who were Miss Norma Armstrong, Mrs. J. E. Clark and H. M. Ireland and A. Meredith, their canoe coming in almost two lengths ahead of the other competitors.

The aquatic imitators of Diogenes in their tubs provided plenty of fun, as they made haste slowly towards the finish. G. Clark and Mrs. Hester, who were in the lead, were overtaken by the clumsy vessel in ahead of his rivals.

When the ladies again took a hand in the rowing, three ladies' fours, Miss Norma Armstrong and Miss M. Horrocks led, Miss E. Swain, Mr. and Mrs. J. Langley got second place.

The I. A. A. regular team, I. A. A. Old Boys and T. C. C. team of the I. A. A. regulars were to make a splash in a half-mile rowing race, and the I. A. A. regulars were to make a splash in a half-mile rowing race, and the I. A. A. regulars were to make a splash in a half-mile rowing race.

Political Intelligence

MIDDLETON, N.S., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—This town was enfeebled to-day in honor of the visit of R. L. Borden, M.P. Middleton is situated in Annapolis County, near the Annapolis County boundary. There are no industrial centres, but the surrounding country is a scattered farming district, where the Liberals are in a large majority; yet the farmers pointed into the town in hundreds. Decorations and bunting were in evidence on all sides.

Headed by a band of speakers and many prominent Conservatives were driven to a big fruit house, which had been secured and decorated for the occasion. Across the front of the building, in big letters, was "Hall to the Chief." Inside were such mottoes as "Cleaner Future Lies in Our Leader," "In 1878 Macdonald Restored Canada's Prosperity; in 1908 Borden Will Restore Canada's Prosperity," "Canada Owe Much to Her Eloquent Tribune, Foster," "Greetings to Quebec's Barbarous Boy," "The Graters Would Destroy Foster, But the People Understand," "Borden's Preference Policy Means Our Applique of the Radical Element in the Government," "Canada's Resources for the People of Canada."

When the speakers reached the platform they found about 2000 people inside the building, and fully as many outside unable to gain admission. Mr. Borden, therefore, put it to rest, and the audience unanimously decided to adjourn to the athletic grounds.

Dr. C. Marshall presided, and the first speaker was Mr. F. W. Harpwith of Halifax. Mr. Borden spoke of the gratifying significance of the fact that the audience was twice what the committee had expected. The Liberals present who had suggested that he would loan the Liberal platform of 1892 for the speaker to stand upon in delivering their addresses evidently thought this platform had never been used. It is still in use, and the Halifax Morning Chronicle, which to-day published a cartoon of this meeting, would explain how the newspaper's office manufactured the wheelbarrows and other articles it supplied the government at a profit of 25 per cent. It would be most interesting to the ratepayers of Canada.

Critics were saying he (Mr. Borden) was not fitted for leader of the Conservative party, because he resembled the late Sir John Thompson. He felt he could receive no higher compliment than to be compared to a great parliament and imprisoned those who were found robbing the people.

Mr. Borden gave example after example of how Laurier and his followers in and out of parliament had protected the men proven to have robbed the public treasury. He said the Conservatives had proved this, as he believed they would, he would extend the people's railways to the great lakes and enter into the western provinces.

J. G. H. Bergeron, M.P., by his unique wit, kept his hearers convulsed with laughter. He presented the group of the Laurier Government in 1892 and in 1907 one by one to the audience in a hilarious and humorous manner, as to amuse, yet impress his audience. Mr. Bergeron was delighted with the splendid meetings Mr. Borden and his followers had given in Nova Scotia. This was a rich and beautiful province, with intelligent and prosperous people. The only fault he had to find with the Conservatives was that they had not done more to improve the record of his party in power. The only reply he got was that the Liberals were ruling and the country is prospering.

A young man in the audience attempted to interrupt Mr. Foster, which gave him the occasion to introduce him to the audience as the "new Liberal." Mr. Foster spoke for nearly an hour.

The South Renfrew Conservative Association chose Egan as the place of the regatta. Mr. Borden will choose the date.

The Winnipeg Tribune (Ind.) submits Mr. Borden's platform to a very severe yet not unfair analysis, verily an independent man in Canada who reads Mr. R. L. Borden's platform, as outlined at Halifax, last night, that will not read it with disappointment and regret.

The four has now been started. Mr. Borden has delivered his opening address—an address that will be repeated, with minor variations, on what he has to say to the other—and what have the people been given to fulfill their expectations.

Let us take up Mr. Borden's platform, clause by clause, and see what is promised in the place of what we now have.

Then follows each plank in the platform with some comment thereon usually to the effect that it is too good to be true, or too indisputable. Mr. Borden, the Tribune thinks, is too much inclined to demand more laws instead of seeing to it, so far as he can, that existing laws are enforced and obeyed.

Plank No. 11 is quoted and comment follows thus: "The establishment, after due investigation, of a system of national telegraphs and telephones under conditions which shall be just to capital already invested in those enterprises."

This would be an excellent plank if it were not for that suspicious clause, "after due investigation." That is too big a loop-hole to be overlooked. If Mr. Borden is sincere in his advocacy of public ownership, why did he so carefully insert that clause in this plank? "After due investigation" might call "DUE" consideration might take two, five or twenty years. That clause is very suspicious, and detracts to a great degree from the value of the plank.

In conclusion and to sum up The Tribune says: "There is Mr. Borden's complete platform on which to make his appeal to the electorate at the next Dominion campaign."

"Perhaps it is unjust to call it complete, for it is not complete, and that may be deemed necessary between now and the elections—but it is substantially the platform on which Mr. Borden will stand when he faces the electors."

"Undoubtedly it is 'Conservative' in a degree. Only the most distant overtures are made to the radical element in the opposition party—and those overtures are not unlikely to be regarded as insincere."

"The platform, as it stands at present, is so vague as to be almost without meaning."

The Tribune is right in picking upon plank No. 11 as the important plank in the platform. Indeed the present comment on the Halifax keynote is shimmering down and setting itself upon the one issue of government ownership of telegraphs and telephones.

So far two big facts stand out: (1) The Laurier government may announce this plank if it threatens to become popular; (2) Some Conservatives are opposed to the plank as being too radical.

For example, The Brantford Expositor (Lb.) does not hesitate to accept the principle, and indeed to intimate that it was discovered, if not invented, by the Laurier government. The Expositor says: "Mr. Borden professes—how seriously it is difficult to tell—to nationalize the telegraph and telephone systems of Canada. The proposal is a good one, but in making it the Conservative leader is but stealing from his political opponents. Sir William Mulock, when a member of the Laurier government, interested himself in this subject, and secured the appointment of a special committee of investigation, which committee took a great deal of evidence. It is not to be supposed for a moment that the idea of nationalizing telegraphs and telephones in this matter has been abandoned, but the government has a number of other very important projects in hand, and when large expenditures are involved cannot make undue haste. Mr. Borden probably thinks himself a pathfinder, but he is, in most things, only a camp follower."

On the other hand, The Kingston News (Con.) says: "The proposal to nationalize telegraphs and telephones is the most doubtful and occasion the greatest discussion are those relative to the remotest conditions and on which we are not competent to give an opinion, our own telegraphic service has become demoralized, and the operators are out of sympathy with the government. The whole Canadian body politic is exposed to loss and injury. The government has not only failed to take any steps to intervene, it has taken no steps to improve it. It has a telegraph system of its own we should not now be in so humiliating and damaging a position."

Political Intelligence

MIDDLETON, N.S., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—This town was enfeebled to-day in honor of the visit of R. L. Borden, M.P. Middleton is situated in Annapolis County, near the Annapolis County boundary. There are no industrial centres, but the surrounding country is a scattered farming district, where the Liberals are in a large majority; yet the farmers pointed into the town in hundreds. Decorations and bunting were in evidence on all sides.

Headed by a band of speakers and many prominent Conservatives were driven to a big fruit house, which had been secured and decorated for the occasion. Across the front of the building, in big letters, was "Hall to the Chief." Inside were such mottoes as "Cleaner Future Lies in Our Leader," "In 1878 Macdonald Restored Canada's Prosperity; in 1908 Borden Will Restore Canada's Prosperity," "Canada Owe Much to Her Eloquent Tribune, Foster," "Greetings to Quebec's Barbarous Boy," "The Graters Would Destroy Foster, But the People Understand," "Borden's Preference Policy Means Our Applique of the Radical Element in the Government," "Canada's Resources for the People of Canada."

When the speakers reached the platform they found about 2000 people inside the building, and fully as many outside unable to gain admission. Mr. Borden, therefore, put it to rest, and the audience unanimously decided to adjourn to the athletic grounds.

Dr. C. Marshall presided, and the first speaker was Mr. F. W. Harpwith of Halifax. Mr. Borden spoke of the gratifying significance of the fact that the audience was twice what the committee had expected. The Liberals present who had suggested that he would loan the Liberal platform of 1892 for the speaker to stand upon in delivering their addresses evidently thought this platform had never been used. It is still in use, and the Halifax Morning Chronicle, which to-day published a cartoon of this meeting, would explain how the newspaper's office manufactured the wheelbarrows and other articles it supplied the government at a profit of 25 per cent. It would be most interesting to the ratepayers of Canada.

Critics were saying he (Mr. Borden) was not fitted for leader of the Conservative party, because he resembled the late Sir John Thompson. He felt he could receive no higher compliment than to be compared to a great parliament and imprisoned those who were found robbing the people.

Mr. Borden gave example after example of how Laurier and his followers in and out of parliament had protected the men proven to have robbed the public treasury. He said the Conservatives had proved this, as he believed they would, he would extend the people's railways to the great lakes and enter into the western provinces.

J. G. H. Bergeron, M.P., by his unique wit, kept his hearers convulsed with laughter. He presented the group of the Laurier Government in 1892 and in 1907 one by one to the audience in a hilarious and humorous manner, as to amuse, yet impress his audience. Mr. Bergeron was delighted with the splendid meetings Mr. Borden and his followers had given in Nova Scotia. This was a rich and beautiful province, with intelligent and prosperous people. The only fault he had to find with the Conservatives was that they had not done more to improve the record of his party in power. The only reply he got was that the Liberals were ruling and the country is prospering.

A young man in the audience attempted to interrupt Mr. Foster, which gave him the occasion to introduce him to the audience as the "new Liberal." Mr. Foster spoke for nearly an hour.

The South Renfrew Conservative Association chose Egan as the place of the regatta. Mr. Borden will choose the date.

The Winnipeg Tribune (Ind.) submits Mr. Borden's platform to a very severe yet not unfair analysis, verily an independent man in Canada who reads Mr. R. L. Borden's platform, as outlined at Halifax, last night, that will not read it with disappointment and regret.

The four has now been started. Mr. Borden has delivered his opening address—an address that will be repeated, with minor variations, on what he has to say to the other—and what have the people been given to fulfill their expectations.

Let us take up Mr. Borden's platform, clause by clause, and see what is promised in the place of what we now have.

Then follows each plank in the platform with some comment thereon usually to the effect that it is too good to be true, or too indisputable. Mr. Borden, the Tribune thinks, is too much inclined to demand more laws instead of seeing to it, so far as he can, that existing laws are enforced and obeyed.

Plank No. 11 is quoted and comment follows thus: "The establishment, after due investigation, of a system of national telegraphs and telephones under conditions which shall be just to capital already invested in those enterprises."

This would be an excellent plank if it were not for that suspicious clause, "after due investigation." That is too big a loop-hole to be overlooked. NO RINGS ON GIANNETTI

Detectives Find Woman Who Rode on Street Car and Who Saw No Ornaments.

What bothers the Toronto detectives in the Giannetti case is, "Did Giannetti have the diamond rings which he prisoner, Vetroville, says he gave the dead man in New York?"

Detective McArthur has found a woman who says that shortly after noon Wednesday she rode west on a Queen-street car with him.

He had no rings on his hands, but he noticed the tie pin. He had no valise. She identified the body at Norman Craig's undertaking rooms yesterday.

This would go to show that Giannetti had no baggage. The hotelkeeper says he had none and John B. A. Richards, 1213 West Queen-street, the colored barber who shaved Giannetti at 1:30 o'clock that afternoon, and from whom he purchased the fatal razor, noticed the pin, but says he had nothing to report.

It would now appear that Giannetti did not get off at the Parkdale station, but at the Union, else how would he be found in the neighborhood of Yonge-street on a westbound car on Queen-street?

It now further appears that if Giannetti ever had the rings as indicated by his letters, directing their disposition, he was not wearing them. The police believe that the missing Ezio Coraneo may have them, receiving them from Giannetti before he was seen on the car.

They were given him by Vetroville for use and not adornment, and he may have pawned them here, or in New York, but, if so, where are his tickets.

FEW BILLS IN KING'S SPEECH REACH BOOKS

Irish Council Bill Met With Early Defeat—Licensing Measure is Put Aside.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Of the many measures promised in the King's speech at the opening of the present session of parliament, which will be prorogued next Wednesday, but few have reached the statute books.

Like the education bill and the plural voting bill, the most prominent measure of the last session, and which were thrown out by the house of lords, the Irish council bill, which was to have been the most important piece of legislation for the session, met with early defeat, but in a different way.

The education and plural voting bills gave the Liberals an opening for a campaign against the house of lords, which, as indicated in the speeches of Herbert H. Asquith, former home secretary; Richard B. Haldane, secretary of state for war; Chief Secretary for Ireland Birrell, Winston Churchill, at various meetings through the country Saturday night, is to be carried on vigorously during the recess.

A licensing bill, the object of which was to have been to diminish the evils of drink, another question on which the two houses promised to clash and which the King's speech intimated would come up during the session, was put off on account of the pressure of work; but the government found in the Scotch small landholders bill, which Lord Rosebery made his re-appearance to attack a substitute which the house of commons passed by a large majority, but which was withdrawn by the government on account of the antagonistic attitude of the peers and the antagonism shown in Scotland and through the kingdom by the labor party.

The house of lords becomes a weapon for attack in the campaign for the reform of the upper chamber.

The Irish universities bill, which also was catalogued in the King's speech, was not introduced.

Among other bills which came up was the Irish evicted tenants bill, which the house of lords so radically amended that there is no likelihood of the house of commons finally accepting it in its allied condition.
