SOMETHING ABOUT THE MAN WHO'S NOW TACKLING HARDEST JOB IN CANADA

"Jim" Leonard, a Born Railway man, Has Risen in 35 Years From Telegraph Operator to Assistant Manager of Great C.P.R. System.

A splendid type of self-made man, broad of mind, large of heart, and strong of purpose, is the character given by a recent eulogist to James W. Leonard of the C.P.R.

Mr. Leonard is just now looming large in the eye, especially of industrial labor. To him has been given the task of "retrenching." That means reduced staffs or reduced wages—perhaps both.

It is a common saying among railway men that he has a genius for rail-roading. It is the description of genius that Anthony Trollope and others have recognized as the power of sticking at it, combined with natural faculties for organization and execution that has brought him to the front rank. A tireless worker is his reputation.

Away back in 1872, thirty-six years ago, he started as a telegraph operator at Peterboro in charge of the tape in the Midland Railway. In those days messages came in on the tape, as they now do in the brokers' offices.

While there may have been discouraging pauses, the upward climb was very steady in retrospect. From the Midland tape in 1878 he went to be station agent of the Victoria Railway. From December, 1878, till 1880, he was assistant manager of the same road. The next step was as assistant to the general superintendent of the Credit Valley Road, from January, 1880, till November, 1883. Then general passenger agent from Nov. 13, 1883, till May 1884, and at last, master of transportation of the Ontario & Quebec Railway from the latter date till March 17, 1888.

In the meantime, while superintending the Credit Valley road, he married Miss Maguire of Franklin, B.C. He celebrated his silver wedding a year or two ago, and has one son, aged 23 or so, who has been in the survey branch of the Suburban line.

Mr. Leonard has always been popular among his associates. An earlier presentation than that mentioned was made to him when he left the Victoria Railway, and only the rules of the service have prevented other tributes, spontaneous as good-fellowship could make them. He was banqueted at the National Club June 12, 1901, and presented with an album containing portraits of the staff, etc. "Tom" Sheppard writes an appreciation of him three years ago, which can scarcely be bettered.

Well-Liked.
"Perhaps there isn't another man in the world of his age who is so well loved by his subordinates as the unassuming and sweet-tempered fellow known by his friends as Jim Leonard. As gentle as the ever-lasting rock in his position, and only the rules of the service have prevented other tributes, spontaneous as good-fellowship could make them. ARBITRATION TO SETTLE C.P.R. DISPUTE

Men Name James Somerville as Their Arbitrator and Ask for Board as Act Provides.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 27.—(Special.)—The trouble between the C.P.R. and the company's workmen will be settled by a board of arbitration.

This was decided by the men Saturday, and an application was filed at Ottawa for a board to be appointed covering disputes of the different organizations under the Lemieux Act.

The mechanics have appointed James Somerville, second vice-president of the machinists, as their arbitrator, but the C.P.R. have not yet announced who is to be their representative. Somerville was in the city last week, but went away Saturday.

Since the application for an arbitration board has been filed it means that the new schedule, which has been filed by the company, will not have any effect, and the old schedule will be adhered to until the decision of the arbitration board is reached. In the meantime the C.P.R. has closed its shops until May 4, owing to lack of work, and about 8000 men are idle.

It will be a matter of not much less than two weeks before the board will sit, so the men will continue under the old rules until that time.

C.N.R. men were in conference with the officials of the company this morning, but no statement was made as to whether any agreement had been reached. It is stated that C.N.R. men will also apply for an arbitration board.

FORGES ART "TREASURES."

New York Dealer Said to Have Assisted in Swindle.

NEW YORK, April 27.—As the result of an enquiry which is being conducted by several of the leading art collectors of this city, together with their counsel, a story has been revealed that cannot fail to arouse the indignation of America and Europe.

These art collectors have reached the conclusion that "Mr. X," the most competent critic and the most discriminating buyer of paintings have been grossly imposed upon by a well known art dealer, who has systematically co-operated with a painter endowed with extraordinary ability not only to finish the uncompleted works of recognized masters, but to imitate their individual style so successfully as to suggest imitative powers amounting to genius.

So cultured a critic and so excellent a judge of art as Dr. Alexander C. Humphreys, president of the Stevens Institute, is one of many who are believed to have been imposed upon by this spurious work of art thru the collusion of this gifted mimetic artist, and the dealer in paintings who has handled many of the products of his brush.

Three great masters of American landscape painting—Homer, Martin, A. S. Wynant and George Inness the elder, all of whom are dead—have been among those whose works have been most persistently and most successfully imitated, according to the investigators, and these distinguished names are said to have been attached to spurious paintings, many of which have been sold at high prices to unsuspecting purchasers.

It has been estimated that counterfeit examples of paintings have been traced to the amount of not less than $130,000. Even the great Whistler is said to have been successfully imitated, his immortal name forged on spurious canvases.

CANADA'S NEW CITIZENS.

Two Thousand Arrive in Two Days at Quebec.

OTTAWA, April 27.—The department of immigration has been advised that the season of immigration has opened at Quebec with considerable animation. Between Saturday and Sunday mid-week, two steamers, the Corsican of the Allan Line, the Dominion of the Dominion Line, and the Montfort of the C.P.R. service, landed nearly 2000 immigrants at Quebec, all of prime quality, and all well supplied with funds.

Of these 1200 passed thru Montreal this morning in special trains bound for Winnipeg and points west. The remainder will be distributed between various points in Ontario and the maritime provinces.

OBJECTS TO HIGH MASS

Which is to be Feature of the Quebec Celebration.

MONTREAL, April 27.—(Special.)—Rev. Dr. Gordon, speaking before the Protestant Ministerial Association, today took objection to an item in the program of the Quebec celebration in connection with the celebration of high mass on the Plains of Abraham. He thought such a proposal was out of place in connection with a national celebration.

WORK OF FIRE FIEND.

Has Put Municipal Tramway Out of Business.

NELSON, April 27.—(Special.)—Fire this morning destroyed the car barn of the municipal tramway under circumstances which look much like incendiarism. The value of the property lost is $10,000 to $15,000, fully insured.

This comes on top of the fire on Saturday, which destroyed the power sub-station, completely putting the tramway system out of business for several months to come.

SURVIVORS TELL STORY OF SALETTE DISASTER

33 Lives Were Lost in Landslide Which Overwhelmed Little Hamlet in Quebec.

OTTAWA, April 27.—(Special.)—The village of Notre Dame de la Salette presented a scene of desolation and sadness today, where the comfortable homes stood in ruins, broken furniture, twisted iron, broken furniture, clothing, etc. In the school-house the scene is pathetically sad. In ten coffins side by side are the bodies of the twelve victims whose remains have been found; two coffins each containing a mother and her babe.

Three other bodies have been recovered, but they are not yet in the school-house. The dead and all the people who were in the village at the time of the disaster, are now being buried in the cemetery.

The dead are: Mrs. Camille Lapointe, aged 71, and her five grandsons—Daniel, aged 19; Edward, 16; Arthur, 13; August, nine, and Henry seven; Mrs. Paul Desjardins, aged 38; Florina Desjardins, aged 19; and Alisa, five; Mrs. August Lapointe, aged 36, three boys and one girl, aged six to 12 years; Adelaide Murray, unmarried, aged 37; Mrs. Joseph Murray, aged 25, and her four children—Anida, aged nine; Wilfrid, eight; Flora seven and Annie six; Mrs. Napoleon Charbon, aged 21, and her three children—Amel, aged three; Adolphe, two, and Joseph William, one; Cleophas Desjardins, aged 34; his wife, aged 35, and their six children—Damiens, aged 11; Wilfrid, nine; Albert, eight; Lucienne, four; Albertine, two, and Allice, six months; George Morrisette, son of Louis Morrisette, aged 10.

There was a rumor that two commercial travelers were staying at the Desjardins Hotel, and that they were missing. Little Grace Desjardins, who had a miraculous escape, however, states that there were no strangers in the house on the night of the disaster. Her father was absent in Buckingham at the time and escaped.

There were eleven in the house of Mrs. Emmanuelle Lapointe. Of these eight were killed and three were rescued. As with all the other families which met death in this calamity, the family were asleep when the slide came. This house was on the west side of the Lievre River, on the same side as the village, and across the house was one of the very first to be crushed by the great rush of ice forced up by the mass of water. It was crushed into innumerable pieces and the inmates were thrown in every direction as the structure fell.

MAJOR HODGINS' ENQUIRY.

Mr. Borden Wants the Scope Enlarged—Sir Wilfrid Delays.

OTTAWA, April 27.—(Special.)—In the house of commons today Claude Macdonald was informed by the post-master-general that a one-cent postage letter rate for cities was under consideration.

The minister of militia, answering the charges of Major Hodgins contained in the memorandum of the chairman of the National Transcontinental Railway and papers accompanying the same.

R. L. Borden thought the resolution was hardly broad enough to cover all the charges made by Major Hodgins. What it was proposed to investigate was simply the charges specified by Chairman Parent, whereas the statements of Major Hodgins were set out in the British Columbia papers at great length.

Sir Wilfrid agreed to lay the resolution over until to-morrow. He said the intention was to deal with all the charges of Major Hodgins.

Mr. Brodeur introduced a bill to vest the harbor of Meaford in the town.

ANARCHIST RUN DOWN.

Steve Choles Was Traced all the Way From Hungary.

TRINIDAD, Colo., April 27.—Steve Choles, said to be an anarchist, wanted in Hungary on the charge of being a leader in the recent attempted assassination in that country, was arrested today at Cokeville by a secret service officer from Hungary and will be taken to Denver, from whence he will be removed to New York and deported to Suene, Hungary, for trial.

Choles had been followed to 9,000 miles by European secret service men.

Caused by the Thawing.

Prof. Coleman, geologist of the School of Practical Science, believes that the spring thaw caused the fatal landslide in Quebec.

The bed of the clay is Laurentian rock, made smooth in the glacial period, and the water which gets down to the bed of the clay tends to act like a lubricant, making the clay slide.

WILL HOLD CONFERENCE.

Shippers Asked to Appoint Their Delegates.

OTTAWA, April 27.—The board of railway commissioners announces that in order to meet the difficulty of reconciling the divergent opinions between the railway companies and the shippers, it has decided to ask the shippers to appoint delegates to a conference that in Montreal, the committee will be made to the representatives of the railway companies, as was done in the United States when the interstate commerce commission was called upon to grapple with a similar problem.

WANT STRAIGHT MAJORITY.

Saskatchewan Government Receives Temperance People.

REGINA, April 27.—(Special.)—Rev. J. G. Shearer of Toronto is in the city today, attending a conference of the Temperance and Moral Reform Association of the province. Representations will be made to the government this evening, asking for a straight majority on the local option law, and it is understood, the government will adopt this.

Argument for Appeal.

Ald. Keefer, in moving to refer back the controllers' adverse recommendation, declared that to desert from appealing would be to thwart the object aimed at in passing the by-law. He hotly retorted Ald. McBride's reference to an attempt at Saturday night's secret conference to switch the board of control.

Controller Spence urged the uncertainty of licenses being reduced should appeal be abandoned, whereas a favorable decision of the court of appeal would settle the whole matter, and end the agitation and unrest. A judgment given in October would leave more than seven months of the license year. Defeat would be attributable, not to a technologically nor liquor men, but to the reductionists themselves. The opinion of Justice Riddell that the by-law was sound was that of nearly every legal man consulted.

The future was all uncertainty. A majority of temperance aldermen might not be elected, the issue might be sidetracked on a technicality or legislators might take away council's power.

Controller Hocken spoke out. He had made to secret of his antagonism to the methods used in forcing the issue. Now with three judges to one against the by-law the matter should be dropped.

"The temperance element that has pressed us in this way has not carried the judges, and the public sentiment," he declared. There was applause from the gallery, but the controller made haste to declare that he was no friend to anyone interested in liquor selling.

Speaking of the contention that the judges were prejudiced, he said that if the city could not obtain their approval it was evident that the council had not acted according to public sentiment.

Referring to Controller Spence as the "man behind the by-law" the speaker declared that Mr. Spence wasn't a judge, but a politician, municipally. The controller had forced futile litigation against the Consumers' Gas Co., costing the city $3000, and thru him the city had refused to accept a judgment with the street railway and had been responsible for instituting an ill-fated suit costing the city $11,500 more.

"It is useless to try to put the by-law into effect unless we carry the public with us," he declared. "That is why a majority of the people of this city are dissatisfied with the tricky way in which the by-law was brought in. It would be like to ask when the temperance cause gets its strength. It is not sufficiently strong to elect a controller, with nobody to help. It gets its strength from this moderate man from the man who wants things conducted in an open, above-board fashion. That is the element we have antagonized."

Controller Spence's Past.
"Why had Controller Spence never raised the issue before? He had sat in council year after year doing nothing because it was not in his interest. But when the Whitney government came into power he had the question introduced. He was a candidate for the majority in the succeeding election. Was there no connection?" "No," interrupted Ald. Bengough. "I say yes," retorted the controller.

Controller Spence in the long years of his official connection with the cause, had always shown great care not to injure those with whom he was politically affiliated. It was his trade, and he was naturally discreet, but the temperance cause had never paid him anything like the amount he earned. He was devoted to the cause, but his friend William Mackenzie could pay him a higher salary he took it, and left the council with the statement that he would not return to public life. He worked for Mr. Mackenzie for a couple of years. He spent his time oscillating between the board of control and Mr. Mackenzie and perhaps might return to his employment next year. This sort of thing should not be allowed to go on.

Speaking of the influences brought to bear, the controller said: "I will not surrender to the bulldozing of the temperance party as they have tried to bull-doze me in the last few days."

Made a Report, That's All.
Controller Spence said he would not

AGAINST APPEAL DEBATE WAS BITTER

Controller Hocken Criticizes Controller Spence's Connection With Wm. Mackenzie.

A decision not to appeal further against the quashing of the license reduction by-law was reached by the city council yesterday, the vote of 15 to 7 indicating how strongly the sentiment ran.

Incidentally Controller Spence was subjected to a severe verbal castigation by Controller Hocken, who charged him with having used the temperance cause as a political machine and with having entered the service of William Mackenzie.

In his reply Controller Spence denied having perverted his official position in the temperance organization, and, while admitting having served Mr. Mackenzie, declared that the business connection had ceased.

The vote on Ald. Keefer's motion to appeal was 15 to 7.

For—Controller Spence, Ald. Keefer, Foster, Bengough, Hales, Vaughan and J. J. Graham—7.

Against—The mayor, Controllers Hocken, Harrison and Ward, Ald. MacGhie, Chisholm, Adams, McMurric, Sanderson, Brodie, Churchill, Whytock, McBride and R. H. Graham—15.

Ald. Keefer, in moving to refer back the controllers' adverse recommendation, declared that to desert from appealing would be to thwart the object aimed at in passing the by-law. He hotly retorted Ald. McBride's reference to an attempt at Saturday night's secret conference to switch the board of control.

Controller Spence urged the uncertainty of licenses being reduced should appeal be abandoned, whereas a favorable decision of the court of appeal would settle the whole matter, and end the agitation and unrest. A judgment given in October would leave more than seven months of the license year. Defeat would be attributable, not to a technologically nor liquor men, but to the reductionists themselves. The opinion of Justice Riddell that the by-law was sound was that of nearly every legal man consulted.

The future was all uncertainty. A majority of temperance aldermen might not be elected, the issue might be sidetracked on a technicality or legislators might take away council's power.

Controller Hocken spoke out. He had made to secret of his antagonism to the methods used in forcing the issue. Now with three judges to one against the by-law the matter should be dropped.

"The temperance element that has pressed us in this way has not carried the judges, and the public sentiment," he declared. There was applause from the gallery, but the controller made haste to declare that he was no friend to anyone interested in liquor selling.

Speaking of the contention that the judges were prejudiced, he said that if the city could not obtain their approval it was evident that the council had not acted according to public sentiment.

Referring to Controller Spence as the "man behind the by-law" the speaker declared that Mr. Spence wasn't a judge, but a politician, municipally. The controller had forced futile litigation against the Consumers' Gas Co., costing the city $3000, and thru him the city had refused to accept a judgment with the street railway and had been responsible for instituting an ill-fated suit costing the city $11,500 more.

At the Gayety.

The special hit of Fred Irwin's Burlesque Company at the Gayety this week is the one-act melodramatic comedy named "Huckle's Run," put on by Billy Walsh, Frank Lynch and Francis Hooper. It is a little glimpse of village life, with a story of the postmaster, his adopted daughter and a young man sojourning with them from the city. The Watson Sisters are good singers and their clog dancing was liberally applauded. Brady and Mahoney, as the Hebray fireman and his foreman, had some good jokes. The operetta burlesque is entitled "The Great White Way," in which are introduced some fine musical numbers by the company, the female part of which is unusually large in point of numbers, and contains some good voices. The closing burlesque, "The Hot Club," introduces a number of specialties, including the

She has an attractive personality, which, with novel effects, set of a good vocal offering. Maymie Remington with her four countlets has new songs with the old eccentric dances. The Kitamura Japs put up the prettiest and most gorgeous production of its kind yet seen. Costumes and sets are a blaze of gold woven work. Arthur Whiteleaf, the Celtic humorist, is really funny with a good line of talk. Byron and Langdon have a clever comic sketch in "The Dude Detective," and it made a hit. The Barnolds' dog and monkey actors are very well trained, and pleased the little folk mightily, as well as interesting their elder ones.

At the Star

Everything is up to date with the New Century Girls, who provide this week's program at the Star. Large audiences were attracted to the entertainment. The burlesques are entitled "The Hotel Thespian" and "A Thief in the Night," and are well costumed. The chorus is very well costumed, the singing is good and the comedy is really amusing. The olio is above the average and includes Louis Blanche, William J. Scanlon and J. K. Emmett, introducing his latest composition, "Papa's Baby." John F. AMUSEMENTS. EXCELSIOR SKATING ACADEMY

All this week—BERTHA MACK—Skatorial Queen of America. Matinees—Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. To-night—Grand Fancy Dress Carnival.

Three Bennett Sisters, in a fencing, boxing and wrestling specialty, and Edna Roberts and her Buster Brown girls. The show all thru is entertaining and much above the average. Amateurs at the Royal. Every friend of the Toronto Rowing Club should see once at least for the success of the coming minstrel performances in the Royal Alexandra Theatre next Monday and Tuesday night. The boys promise a show better than any before given by amateurs in this city. They have been hard at work for the past three months and have achieved wonders. The big chorus is a splendid one, carefully chosen and trained to a nicety. The soloists will bring out some surprises. The ten end men are all capable comedians, who can sing and dance well, and the olio includes some very clever specialties. Every one deserves honors, for he is truly funny. He has a naive, confidential manner of telling his stories, and his loose-jointed gestures are particularly expressive. The first part concludes with a funny burlesque on the "kitties' tail."

Baseball Toronto Providence

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Toronto did not linger long in last position. At this stage of the season victory or defeat means a lot. Monday morning the champions were emphatically eighth, and now only two teams, Baltimore and Rochester, have a better percentage. That local fans are satisfied is evidenced from our coupon story. Their faith was shown by calling the Toronto's standing in yesterday's ballots rarely ever below 500 and often up to 750. One pessimistic voter guessed the champions' record on May 28 as .375. The last ballot will be printed on May 3.

Two one-hit games were pitched yesterday, Bobby Keefe for Montreal led Newark down with a loner, while Christy Mathewson of New York Giants allowed Joe Kelley's Bostoners a single. Mathewson's twisting is the sensation of the year, and his work will be watched with interest when McGraw's men tackle the Cubs.

Our Irish correspondent, says Sporting Life, paid a visit to Squires at his training quarters at Howth, near Dublin, and expresses himself well pleased with the condition in which he found the Australian. Squires is matched to box Jim Roche on April 30, in Dublin, for a stake of $3875.

In the $10,000 Excelsior Handicap, on one mile and a sixteenth, to be run on opening day at Jamaica, to-morrow, Jack Atkin, Barney Schreiber's great Salin colt, who won the Queen's County Handicap last Saturday in superb fashion, will go to the post. The horse won the Carter Handicap, as well as the Queen's County, the Salin colt does not pick up a penalty, so that he will be asked to shoulder 119 pounds. From all accounts there will be a dozen or more starters, the following being the ones in all probability: Dr. Gardner, 5, 120 lb. D. Sullivan (Shaw); Jack Atkin, 4, 119 lb. Schreiber (Mugrave); Brookdale Nymph, 5, 118 lb. P. Whitney (E. Dugan); Riffeman, 4, 111 lb. R. F. Carman (G. Burns); Red River, 4, 117 lb. T. Wilson, jr. (McCarthy); Champagne, 3, 116 lb. B. & O. Stable (McDonald); Don Enrie, 4, 116 (Pachogue Stable (E. Lynch); Spang, 3, 116 (Newcastle Stable (Garner); Coho, 3, 110 (Newcastle Stable (Shilling); Light Wood, 4, 118 lb. E. L. Thomas (Sunter); Berkeley, 4, 118, B. & O. Stable (Bergon); Hiram, 3, 118, J. J. Joyce (Horne); Rentgouche, 3, 115, J. R. Keene (McCarthy); Zienap, 5, 115, F. Squire (Clyde).

Aggregate Was in Great Form Only Three Hits to Outfield

Grays Made it Close in Ninth, but Umpire Moran Saved the Day—Montreal, Baltimore and Rochester Win.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., April 27.—(Special.) Aggregate pitched a magnificent game against Providence to-day, holding the home hitters to four singles, two of them being of the scratchiest order possible. Toronto won by a score of 1 to 0. From first man in the opening inning, who hit clean, he went to the ninth before another made a clean hit. He had a car of speed, mixing a snappy overhand throw with a side-arm movement that had the Greys all at sea. Abstein, who has been hitting like a fiend, was powerless as he of his four times on the bat, struck out twice and hit weakly to infold the other twice.

The hit credited to Schwartz was the product of pure luck. The drive was an easy one and Frick was set to take it when it hit something and bounded over his head just out of reach. The tall twirler was splendidly supported, the only mislay being a wide throw by Frick that drew Grimshaw off the bag in the fourth inning. Fast plays were made in the way thru, the Toronto infield holding up some hot drives, and in addition Moran made a great catch of the famous "red family," the boy certainly made good and should have won his name had the men behind him done anything at all with the bat. He is a little below, but has great speed and a very deceptive change of pace. Like his opponent he was well backed up in the field, Rock's fumble being the only slip made by the home team.

Umpire in Hot Water

The contest was one of the best played here for so early in the season for a long time. It was marked by the last inning by a wretched decision by Umpire Moran, which he probably had little or no effect on the result, so exasperated the crowd of 1600 that the arbitrator was all but driven from the ground. The fact, in all the games here in which he has officiated, Moran has shown bad judgment in his decisions and strikes. He is especially on balls and strikes, and he is especially on balls and strikes, and he is especially on balls and strikes.

Only One Hit Off Keefe

Boat House Burns

WALKERVILLE, April 27.—The building of the Peconic Boat Club was burned to the ground during the prevalence of a severe thunderstorm last night. Four racing shells, six rowboats, three canoes and two launchers were lost in the fire, but the severest loss to the club is that of the ten-year-old "Elli," which was sent to the club by Mr. Frank Water of Walker & Sons, and valued at $1000. The total loss approximates $500, with only $1200 insurance.

Trials at the Rack

TRICKING AT THE RACK WORK OUTFITS

The Usual Going Wrong of Winter Probabilities in Progress—Pop's Track Notes.

A cold raw wind, blowing at the rate of 30 to 40 miles an hour, may be a good driving wind, but it certainly is not adapted for training purposes. However, its effect on the track at the Woodbine club has been beneficial, and even the wind was accomplishing, as a matter of fact the track is in better condition at this time than it has been for some years and affords a little way for the inside horses generally are quite a bit more lively than they were prior to the first of May. Yesterday morning's wind and shower prevented any work being done, but for all that there was quite a little breathing at intervals. Nat Ray was a snail, early in the forenoon.

Allie Gates had out Merry Shore and Charles L. Stone, the latter a three-year-old half brother to English Lady, being by Sir Dixon, out of English Lady. Allie gave this horse a useful half mile in 62 seconds.

John Dixon had his big string out in three sections, first came Aywater, Keirle, Cascade, Charlie Gilbert, Denham and Gilmour. These were scattered round the track and they gave a smart breeze of three furlongs in 40 seconds. Charlie Gilbert, Gilmour, Aywater and Denham were so far apart in excellent fettle this year. Aywater in particular shows improvement. The quietest but well ready to go to the races in another two or three weeks. Nixon's second string comprised the King's Flatters, Shimonese, Whittie and the Little. This trio were sent five furlongs in 1:30 and stopped that far appear in excellent fettle. They were considered, up to a few days ago, the weakest of the Valley Farm's entry for the Commodore and Belmont. But much of what was expected, has joined his stable companion, Kingfield, in the general list, but hardly like to say it, the chances of the stable pulling off the big stake in the Commodore and Belmont.

Burns and Johnson

Jack Johnson Arrives in London And Burns Repeats His Terms

Champion Posts $5000 Forfeit and Expresses Opinion that Fight is Bound to Occur.

LONDON, April 27.—Jack Johnson, the colored heavyweight pugilist, accompanied by his manager, Fitzpatrick, arrived here from New York this evening. They immediately visited the National Sporting Club and the sporting newspapers, and issued a challenge to Tommy Burns, the heavyweight champion, to fight anywhere for any purse acceptable to Burns. Johnson went further than this and offered to bet Burns $5000 that he would win in 20 rounds. In addition, he will concede to Burns two-thirds of any purse that is put up for the contest.

These terms cannot be published in England, as the law of the country prohibits anything but practice contests, limited to 20 rounds. Burns has been holding out in the negotiations for the Johnson fight, but he has not yet accepted the offer. Johnson appears anxious to induce Burns to go into the ring with the colored heavyweight.

Burns also visited the National Sporting Club this evening, but did not meet Johnson. Burns foretold the latter by depositing $5000 with The Daily Sporting Life for meeting with the negro.

Burns insists that he must have $50,000 as his share of the purse, but Johnson can arrange the side bet to suit himself. In the opinion of Burns, as expressed to-night, a fight between him and Johnson is now bound to occur, but whether in England or in America depends on the purse.

MR. ASQUITH AND HOME RULE.

Considerable curiosity and comment has been evoked over the omission on the part of Mr. Asquith to furnish Mr. Churchill with the letter of recommendation and good wishes usually forwarded by the leader of the party in aid of the candidate at a by-election. His absence in the case of North-West Manchester is all the more provocative of speculation since Mr. Runciman, who a few days earlier had been returned for Dewsbury, enjoyed the benefit of the attention.

Some press commentators go so far as to attribute Mr. Churchill's defeat to the lack of the accustomed certificate, but this is perhaps attaching an exaggerated importance to a document of the kind. Nevertheless, looking to the manner in which this particular contest fixed the attention of the whole country, it is, to say the least, surprising that the premier issued no personal appeal to the Liberal electors in opposition to that made by Mr. Balfour on behalf of the successful Conservative.

Rumor attributes Mr. Asquith's failure to intervene to a speech made by Mr. Churchill early in his electoral campaign, and addressed particularly to the Irish Nationalists. Upon this address depended the disposition of their vote, and the president of the board of trade announced that he had the premier's concurrence in saying that at the close of the present parliament the Liberal party would claim full authority and a free hand to deal with the problem of Irish self-government without being restricted by mere measures of devolution like the abandoned Irish council bill. On the strength of this assurance the Irish vote was instructed to be cast in his favor, and it is suggested that the premier was not quite satisfied with the terms of his young minister's deliverance. Whether there is truth in this surmise or not, the position of Irish home rule is not at all clear just now, and cannot be really satisfactory to Mr. Redmond and his parliamentary colleagues.

Mr. Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, speaking in the house of commons some little time ago, declared that after the rejection of the Irish council bill it was up to the Nationalist party to explain what kind of measure it was prepared to accept. This manner of talking was not to the mind of the Irishmen, and there are obvious difficulties in the way of their undertaking the task. For any home rule scheme appealing to the Irish-American would certainly be unacceptable to the English mind, while on the other hand a proposal that conceivably might be approved in Britain would promptly be rejected by the expatriated sons of Erin. Mr. Asquith's own position here made perfectly clear during the same debate. While prepared to support a measure of devolutionary self-government, subject to the supremacy of the Imperial parliament, he repeated and endorsed Lord Rosebery's declaration, that until the predominant partner in the United Kingdom partnership had found salvation a home rule bill of any kind was impossible. So far as can be seen at present, home rule will not be the issue at the next general election, and if fiscal reform remains a practical issue it is inconceivable that as a mere matter of policy the premier will complicate matters by the introduction of so highly controversial a question into the electoral campaign.

INDEPENDENT REPRESENTATIVES ARE NEEDED.

Movements in favor of independent candidates are always peculiarly objectionable to party machines and their obedient organs. For the victory of independent men determined to fulfill their duty to the people by protecting public rights and advancing the public interest, is a knell of doom to that large class of professional politicians who are out not to serve the people but to serve themselves and the interests on whose behalf they find it personally profitable to work. Considerations of this kind ought not to influence men who hold a position of trust, but only thus it is possible to explain the ease with which legislation prejudicially affecting public rights and resources can be smuggled thru parliament and the legislatures.

Publicity is one of the best and most effective safeguards, and only thoroly loyal and independent representatives can secure it. That state of affairs is entirely wrong when men who are sent up to be vigilant guardians of the common good unite to assist in carrying thru encroachments upon it. Yet no session passes without examples of this kind of private exploitation. Canada and her provinces are suffering to-day from the betrayal of their trust by the members of public bodies who have their own axes to grind or who are prepared to keep their party in power irrespective of the nature of the policies they are asked and expected to support. Hence governments make no scruple about sacrificing principles they professed while in opposition, and resorting to methods and devices they previously condemned. What the time needs is men who place fidelity to principle above party loyalty and who judge the acts and measures of their friends by the same high standard they apply to their opponents.

ROMANIA'S LIQUOR LAW.

That vigorous and progressively inclined Balkan state, Roumania, has also been passing a bill regulating the liquor traffic. From an explanatory article that recently appeared in The London, England, Daily Chronicle, it seems that the act passed thru both houses of parliament at railroad speed and "voted interests" do not seem to have had much consideration. The act, which meantime only applies to country districts, but is pretty certain to be extended to the cities, provides that all licenses shall terminate on May 1, and every liquor seller who is allowed to continue in business after that date must get rid of his stock by September 1, on pain of a heavy fine and confiscation of all forbidden drink found on his premises.

The act virtually creates a state monopoly. After the first day of May there will be one licensed house for every 100 householders, and the voters in each commune will decide which house is to remain open and will choose the manager, who is thereafter to be the commune's agent. All profits on drink belong to the commune. There is to be no more credit, no exchange of drink for farm produce, no more playing cards or other games for money and no drink is to be sold to any one under 16 years of age, or to any one who has already had too much, even if he threatens the agent with violence.

ARE THERE TWO STANDARDS?

Much time and space is being occupied by The Globe in an attempt to vindicate its supposed change of attitude towards Premier Whitney and the provincial government. Without entering into the merits or demerits of its side of the controversy, it may be permissible to suggest that the official Liberal organ might do the further service of explaining why it sets up one standard of public duty wherewith to measure Mr. Whitney, and applies another to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Every mistake and misdeed it alleges the provincial government has committed can easily be paralleled, not to say overtopped, out of the record of the federal government. The Dominion expenditure has largely increased, the Dominion debt is growing, railway bonds have been guaranteed, the civil service misused, and eleven-hour legislation carried. More than that, the federal government is spending millions of public money in the construction of a road which, on completion, is to be leased to a private company at little more than a nominal rate of interest. And there have been electoral, administrative and personal scandals innumerable associated with Ottawa, from all of which the provincial government is entirely free. Yet The Globe ardently supports the one and decries the other. It might for the sake of public information, and to satisfy legitimate public curiosity, justify this palpable and much more serious inconsistency—that is, if it is able and willing.

DEPORTING DEGENERATES.

Editor World: The following brief summary of a tragic story, related at one of our hospital clinics, challenges our system of dealing with the diseased and degenerate immigrants. The asylum officials in examining one of these found that he was insane and recommended his deportation. The steamboat company refused to allow an attendant to accompany the patient, as both would have to be taken at the expense of the company. This helpless creature was handed over to the tender mercy of the crew. The war, alone out of those present at the clinic, protested against such treatment, as being both cruel and unjust. This protest elicited a spirited discussion of our immigration policy. The consensus of opinion was that there should be a very strict supervision of all immigrants coming in, if we are to preserve the present physical stamina of our people. Great Britain or no other country would have any reason to object to our government admitting only such immigrants as could pass a strict medical examination by physicians appointed by itself. Every government in the world is perfectly justified in putting any restrictions on immigration necessary to preserve the physical status of its own people. But thru lax immigration restrictions a number of diseased and degenerate people have been allowed to come in with the flood of real immigrants. Many of these unfortunate are from the British Isles, and are, therefore, fellow-subjects. These degenerate are here because no objection was taken to their coming. Some of them may have been invited to come by agents.

Should these be deported or not? It would be a barbaric act to send any back who were unable to take care of themselves, unless capable and kind attendants were sent to take care of them. Is it patriotic for Canada to deport British subjects who may be diseased or insane, when these have been allowed to come in unopposed? Should we raise such a howl about the expense the care of these degenerates is putting us to? Should we go on howling oblivious of the following facts? These unfortunates we have now thru our carelessness, they are subjects of our common country. We are without contributing very much directly well protected by the British army and navy as the British Isles themselves. Every intelligent Canadian knows that Canada had been solely dependent on its own strength within two months after that anti-Japanese riot in Victoria, the Japanese fleet would have been in Canadian waters, demanding exorbitant compensation, a humiliating apology from our government, and the protection of Japan citizen, and anywhere in Canada a nation that made imperial Russia "lick the dust" would not have stood any less from a sparsely populated country like ours. If we made a mistake in letting a number of degenerate come in, why should we not be patriotic enough to bear our burden? John Hunter. 8 O'Hara-avenue.

Political Gossip

Rev. D. C. Hosack, whose criticisms of the Ross government were one feature of the campaign of 1904, has issued a long statement condemnatory of the Whitney government. In part, he says: "Rather more than three years ago, when the last provincial campaign was in progress, I addressed thru the press some remarks to the independent electors. It is gratifying to think that, in the interval, the number of independent electors has increased. The tide is running that way. It means better days to come. We are now in the midst of another campaign, and it may be well to recall some of the independent electors, what is the duty of independent electors at the present time.

"On Nov. 14, 1904, Mr. Whitney called a conference to be held in Toronto on Nov. 24. The invitation was general, and was sent to all independent Liberal electors. It was his privilege to do so. No one complained. But it is forgotten that he did it. After the election, Mr. Whitney admitted his debt to the Liberals. "Under the circumstances it was supposed that the new government would be peculiarly free from party bias, and be a government for the whole people. For a time the government did well. But a time came when it was heard. It was charged that, forgetting appeals for Liberal support and the acknowledgment of generous treatment by Liberals, the spoils system was being introduced. It began to appear that the government had obtained office by false pretences and did not differ from the ordinary government of party prejudice.

"On Jan. 24, 1906, Mr. Whitney made a public appeal for aid, and declared that he would resign if the Liberal party approved the measure. He withdrew his confidence. Does Mr. Whitney feel that he has lost public confidence? He has arranged many times to resign, but has never done so. The withdrawal of Liberal confidence will not affect the standing of the parties in the legislature.

"The first term of the government has passed. They have been in office nearly two years, and nothing has been done for law reform. "When the government passed the three-fifths clause of the Local Option Act they were guilty of reactionary legislation. Having been returned to power by a large popular vote composed of both parties, this, of all governments, should have trusted the people. This country is democratic, and one man's vote should be as good as his neighbor's, and no better. The present state of the Union in which local option prevails, the majority vote is considered a disgrace. Under the government of Mr. Ross, local option could be carried by a majority. This was British fair play. The majority vote is sufficient, because the enforcement of local option does not depend upon a three-fifths majority, but upon the sincerity and efficiency of the officials appointed for the enforcement of the act, and upon the ability of the whole department from the minister down.

"Experience is against the continuation of the government, that a three-fifths majority is necessary to ensure the enforcement of the act, and upon the ability of the whole department from the minister down. "Experience is against the continuation of the government, that a three-fifths majority is necessary to ensure the enforcement of the act, and upon the ability of the whole department from the minister down.

"The La Rose mining interests received during the closing hours of the session of $130,000. The explanation is that the recipients of this money were furnished valuable information to the government. What was the information? The people who paid for it and the ministers are to act as judges their transactions should be public as are courts of law.

"When Mr. St. Aubyn came to the door of the cabinet virtually looking for a purchaser for the plan of the Electrical Development Co. why was not Mr. Beck consulted? Did Mr. Whitney fear that Mr. Beck would insist on the province availing itself of this unrivaled opportunity? Or, if Mr. Whitney felt that the province was under an obligation not to compete with the people to whom it had granted concessions, the City of Toronto was under no such obligation, and the premier should have called the attention of the mayor and council to the occasion that so fortunately presented itself. But no; the minister figure whose lobbyists have been seen leading members into committees to vote up what he wants up and vote down what he wants down, the same compelling personage to whose need of $2,500,000 the legislature so readily accedes—appears at this juncture and snaps up what Mr. Whitney would not take for the province, nor give the city the chance of acquiring. These incidents are not in harmony with the man, the cabinet and the legislature, which the people clothed with such ample power for good, less than four years ago.

"Perhaps the most conspicuous act of the recent session was the guarantee of $2,500,000 securities for Mackenzie and Mann. What is the situation with the flood of real immigrants is said that an election called by prayers. What is to be done? A fine chance to control the Niagara situation by obtaining control of the Electrical Development Company's rights and plant offers. Mr. Whitney shut his eyes. Mr. Mackenzie acts, Mr. Mackenzie profits. The railway bonds are guaranteed. Again Mr. Mackenzie profits. What is the relation between the government and Mr. Mackenzie? It is a hopey and worthy of notice that some of the Conservative members were opposed to this transaction.

"In some respects the government has gone far towards socialist radicalism and on some occasions has rendered to privileged corporations. The tendency to appoint members of parliament to office seems to still prevail. "The money for the university should be voted openly and directly, and the board of regents should be representative of the province. Sixteen of the twenty regents are resident in Toronto, the teaching profession, the farming community should have representation on the board.

"The lobbying system has developed rapidly and is now pernicious and dangerous. The government alone can provide the remedy. The favorites of the government lawyers and others who are on their ability to manipulate the members of the cabinet and their supporters are the potent forces of the lobby. The government is aware of this and should give redress.

"There has been a tendency to shrink responsibility and to conceal what should be public. Work for which the departments should be responsible has been handed over to commissions. By special statutes salaries of ministers, increased as they have been, and other expenditures have been somewhat concealed. In this way the passing of appropriations is avoided.

"When criticized the government appeals to the record of the former government and the defence is that they are no worse than the former Liberal government. The sins of the Ross government relate to electoral methods. Their majority was small, and their condition desperate. Mr. Whitney has, with the pigeon-holes in his interest, his years, not discovered any scandal relating to the departments. There was no occasion for him to yield to political exigencies for on account of non-partisan and Liberal support he had been made independent of any unfair political or corporate influence.

"What is the present duty? It seems clear that the opposition be stronger, and the support of the government in the house more independent, the government would not have been automatic and some things would not have occurred which have brought discredit upon the province. It is the duty of all Liberals and Conservatives to elect independent representatives and to return a really strong and capable opposition. Mr. Whitney appealed during the last campaign for Liberal aid and received it. There is a good reason now to appeal to independent Conservatives to strengthen the opposition. To do so will be in the true interest of the Conservative party and of all the people."

R. R. Gamey, M.L.A., will speak at Chatham to-night, at Thorncliffe, East Middlesex, to-morrow, at Walkerton, South Bruce, on Wednesday, and at Burlington, Halton County, Thursday, May 1. Mr. Gamey was in the city yesterday after his return from Cobalt. Mr. Gamey was eloquent over the reception accorded to Hon. Get a Dressy Raincoat for the Horse Show

There's far more in judging a coat than by the materials and general appearance. Yet this is what men must go by. We say: Come take a closer look—we want to point out the points of excellence that make our coats so thoroughly dressy and reliable that every man in Toronto should have one if he needs it. They are:

- A Good Fit. Best Workmanship. Best of Materials. Low Prices.

Here are a few sample values—seeing will convince you—come and examine:

- For 10.00—Showerproof Coat of dark grey cravenette; full length; good linings; sizes 34 to 44. For 12.50 to 13.50—Raincoats in very dark olive shade with narrow stripe, or plain grey cravenette cloth; good wide bodies; half lined. For 15.00—Imported cravenettes in very dark greys of olive shades; long, broad lapels; good sound trimmings. For 18.00—Priestly's cravenette in very dark steel grey; sleeves and body half lined with black satin.

A GOOD FIT is, of course, important—you may depend upon that. Years of experience and study have resolved it to a science here. Utmost care is taken by our cutters and tailors in carrying out the intentions of the designer to the letter. Every bit of work is performed in our own workrooms under the eyes of careful examiners, who do not hesitate to have work done over again that happens to fall short of our high standard.

GOOD SOUND MATERIALS are to the garment what a solid foundation is to the building. When you see that Priestly label on your coat make up your mind your coat is going to be a long and faithful wearer.

HIGH CLASS WORKMANSHIP is what gives our raincoats their strikingly neat and smart appearance. Nicety of fitting and sewing is evident in all the parts—a great deal of hand work that could be done by machine gives evidence of the thoroughness that characterizes every coat we make. It takes an expert to make such an apparently simple part as the lapel. Ours are correct—note how thin they are at the edges, how straight the sewing, how neatly they lie on the coat! Those snug-fitting collars and well formed shoulders mean a lot of careful hand work and it's done THOROUGHLY. First-class canvas and haircloth give form. The parts are carefully moulded before being sewn in and are bound to keep shape. Everything that should be done to give permanency has had our attention.

WE SAVE YOU MONEY! Don't allow all these evidences of reliability, correctness and thoroughness to lead you to associate our coats with high prices. Far from it—WE SAVE YOU MONEY. You simply pay for the materials and making, and the maker's is a small profit. Besides, there are the big savings in materials by our buying them direct.

FLITTING WAS PLANNED CREDITORS BELIEVE

Messrs. Teller and Wolfe Would Both Be Welcomed Home by Several Parties.

Theodore Teller's disappearance was not unpremeditated. He seems to have planned quitting Toronto for a month back. It has also developed that in getting out he has left several local firms in an uneasy state of mind, for they are his creditors in divers amounts, aggregating into the thousands.

Teller before leaving Toronto disposed of most of his valuable household effects wherever he could and his automobile, telling the purchasers he was going to live in Winnipeg. He collected all the money for the bulk contract of erecting the Frankel Bros. Building on George-street and stood off a number of the sub-contractors and supply men, with his personal promissory notes. It may be said that he was worth thousands of dollars in this way.

The train remained at Illidellwaet, where a C.P.R. train is located, from about noon until shortly after daylight the next morning, when it was enabled to resume its route westward without further mishap, until Parry, a place of minor importance, was reached some 140 miles east of Winnipeg, where it was again very little of the 18 hours of last time was overcome. It had been hoped to make up three hours and 35 minutes on the long prairie stretches between Calgary and Winnipeg, but even this modest program failed of complete accomplishment.

Union Pacific Continues the Centre of Attention at New York—Toronto Market Dull.

World Office, Monday Evening, April 27. Prices hardened in a few local securities to-day, but this was offset by an equal weakness in others. Mackay common was the only speculative issue which attracted the attention of traders, but the market for the shares was not broad enough to encourage transactions from the room trading element. In the investment department a rise of three points occurred in Imperial Bank and orders at the advanced price were not able to be filled. The foreign securities were not strong and considerable juggling is going on to keep Sao Paulo well to the front in the daily trading. Orders for Twin City are in the market, but this issue is closely held at the moment and market orders would necessitate an advance in the price. The market closed partially dull, but firm for the better class of stocks.

Pittsburgh dispatches state that W. P. Snyder & Co. and Bessemer Association, formerly acting in harmony with U. S. Steel Corporation, have cut prices.

It is understood that the $5,000,000 convertible 4 per cent. bonds of Brooklyn Rapid Transit, recently sold and now officially announced, were taken by J. P. Morgan & Co.

All grades of copper to-day were quoted 1/2 in the bidding figure, bringing Lake down to $12.62 1/2 to $12.87 1/2, Electrolytic to $12.50 to $12.75 and Castings to $12.12 1/2 to $12.50.

Borland to R. R. Bongard: There is a lot of steel coming into the market and it does not seem stronger. This is an important account to a large extent. The fact that a large business was done yesterday is being used, as predicted, while the further fact that the needs of the company in financing have been provided for, shows strongly in the arguments given to buy the stock for a turn.—Town Topics.

There is a tip on the board to-day that Brooklyn Rapid Transit is to be put up across 50 to the present movement. The buying of the stock is on political account to a large extent. The fact that a large business was done yesterday is being used, as predicted, while the further fact that the needs of the company in financing have been provided for, shows strongly in the arguments given to buy the stock for a turn.—Town Topics.

Joseph says: Important events are to transpire immediately. Subscriptions to the Pennsylvania Consolidated mortgage bond issue will be stupendous. The steel statement to-morrow will be negatively good. Gold exports are not bear arguments at this juncture. There is a fairly large short interest in Amalgamated. Buy conservatively. This is the season; do not be afraid to buy and carry R. R. T. Specialties: Take on some Canadian Pacific, hold Northern Pacific, hold Pennsylvania for 125.

Purchases on little reactions will give the best results as a rule. Our information still indicates that Union Pacific is destined for higher prices; also Southern Pacific, which should sympathize with Union Pacific. A strong pool is working Archison upward in an effort to make it cross 80. Northern Pacific is being confidentially recommended as an excellent purchase. Our reports on Reading continue to look for higher prices, which should be taken on little recessions. Bear stop orders are being caught in Pennsylvania. Reports on steel are conflicting.—Financial News.

the public than for over a year past. Ennis & Stoppard wired to J. L. Mitchell. The market ruled consistently strong, with substantial advances in important directions after London offerings of 16,000 shares, and considerable local profit-taking had been absorbed. Copper metal was lower here and in London. Traders were circulating rumors of reduction in the American Smelting dividend at the next meeting and of cuts in rail prices in consideration of orders received. Probably this talk was due to the expected poor showing of the Steel Corporation at the quarterly meeting to-morrow. Orders on hand will probably be below four million tons. The situation is constructive and very encouraging. J. R. Heintz & Co. wired R. B. Holden: It cannot be denied that the realizing sales were very well absorbed to-day and we would not be surprised to see the market work still higher. We would take profits on any further bulge Tuesday morning and await a good Tuesday before again buying.

Chas. Head & Co. to R. R. Bongard: The stock market to-day displayed a good deal of irregularity, but the underlying confidence and strong and active records for the present movement were established in leading issues. A vast amount of realizing was conducted in the early dealings, but the demand was equally good and altho the trading element was inclined to oppose a further extension of the rise, there was very readily absorbed a novel development of the day was the pronounced scarcity of stocks in the loan crowd, due to withdrawals from the loan market by timid lenders, which forced a considerable amount of short covering by houses who were unable to make deliveries. Union Pacific was the leading feature, with a further advance of two points, broken with Standard Oil affiliations being buyers of this and St. Paul. The principal incentive for the movement in Union Pacific appeared to be the general understanding that the forthcoming bond issue would be handled by the same group of bankers who had absorbed such a big success of the Pennsylvania issue. The industrial list was inclined to be listless, in sympathy with the backwardness of United States stocks, which reflected heavy realizing, accompanied by a report that President Roosevelt was about to issue a message would attack one of the leading companies for making false bids. In the afternoon the continued strength and activity in Union Pacific was the main feature, but the balance of the list held firm. In the final dealings the tone approached buoyancy and the closing was about best prices.

SCARCITY OF STOCK IN SOME ISSUES.

World Office, Monday Evening, April 27. Trading was quite apathetic at the Toronto Stock Exchange again to-day. Enthusiasm was an invisible quantity if it was present at all, and the only indication of firmness was the scarcity of stock on offer. This was not general, but in specific instances, of which Twin City and Imperial Bank were the most prominent. This was an undoubted fact. There were also weak spots, General Electric and Mexicans being conspicuous in this regard. Insiders in Mackay common put these shares up another notch, and facilitated the movement by keeping a New York quotation slightly in advance of here. Indications point to a gradual advance in such issues as are amenable to this movement, without disturbing present outside holdings, but the outside buying power is still very small.

The Horse Show Program

List of Events Which Will Be Run Off on Different Days, Starting on Wednesday.

COUNTY COUNCIL HOPE FOR LITTLE FROM CITY

Property Commissioner Says St. Lawrence Market Doesn't Pay—Co. and Suburban News.

WEST TORONTO, April 27.—The works committee this evening opened the applications for the position of works superintendent. Over twenty-nine applications were received and each was considered in detail. They had not all been read before midnight, so the committee adjourned before making an appointment. Many of the applicants were recent arrivals from the old country who stated to The World that the opinion prevailed in the old country that there were many openings here for first class engineers. A. M. Wilson applied for permission to place a seven foot sign in front of his store on Dundas-street. His application caused a lengthy discussion as to the manner in which the bylaw regulating projecting signs and awnings was observed. It was recalled that the street foreman at a previous meeting had said none of the signs on Dundas-street conformed to the regulation. This was debated. The engineer will report on the question. Generally the aldermen concurred in the opinion that unless the owners of signs observed the bylaw, they should be prosecuted in the police court.

Contractor Edl wrote complaining that his work of paving Dundas-street was interfered with by officials insisting on the digging of trenches and the pavement being sprinkled before it had set and before the frost was out of the ground.

"We should hold umbrellas over the road for him," facetiously commented Ald. Maier. The engineer will consult with Mr. Dill as to some method of proceeding with the work without the complained interruptions.

Mr. Enoch Ward, the sanitary inspector, complained that the sidewalk on St. Clair-avenue, removed by the C.P.R. a year ago, so as to lay tracks, had never been replaced.

"If they hadn't to refer to such matters to dignitaries as high as Sir Rivers, Wilson they might be occupying it," sarcastically put in the mayor. The solicitor said he would interview Mr. Graham of the railway board on the subject.

YORK COUNTY COUNCIL.

Members Make Strong Plea, But Mr. Harris Can't See the Point.

Reeve W. D. Annis, Scarborough; Reeve W. A. Grubbe, Etobicoke; Reeve Geo. S. Henry, and Deputy John Watson, York, and Reeve J. Depp of Markham were a deputation to the York County Council yesterday to Property Commissioner Harris with respect to the St. Lawrence Market building. It was represented to Harris that the frequency with which the market is being closed was ruinous to the interests of farmers, and alike in discouraging the attendance of both and was at variance with the spirit of the contract entered between the city and county to the abolition of the toll gates on the York roads.

For seven weeks the market has lately been closed, and this in winter the reverse of pleasant. A strong case was made out from the standpoint of the farmers, but Commissioner Harris declared that a deficit of $10,000 a year had resulted, and the present action of leasing to horse shows and kindred associations was highly means available to obtain revenue, which, after all, was what the city was after.

Mr. Harris further stated that the action taken by C. P. Godden with respect to an injunction restraining the city from closing the market had been dropped. This Mr. Godden last night indignantly denied. Mr. Harris had no authority to make that statement, declared Mr. Godden last night. The matter was simply postponed for two weeks to suit the convenience of the judge, and is not dropped.

COUNTY MAGISTRATES MEET.

High Constables Say Uniforms Are a Necessity.

In his report to the annual meeting of the York County magistrates and justices of the peace held yesterday, Judge Winchester presiding, High Constable Ramden drew attention to the fact that to the requests for special police protection frequently asked by fairs, games and picnics, he was unable to comply. This was due to a lack of proper uniforms, and was the chief recommendation ought to be remedied. He suggested that a dozen uniforms be secured, the count to pay half. The idea was approved and the county council will be asked to supply the money.

NORTH TORONTO.

Looks Now as Tho This Will Be Big Year in Building.

NORTH TORONTO, April 27.—Building operations are brisk already. Some good substantial buildings are in course of erection all over the town, and on the McEghivray farm in Bedford Park no less than six dwellings are under construction.

Owing to ill-health and having been two weeks in the hospital, Thos. Rochford has secured a pardon, and has been released from the Central Prison a month before the expiration of his sentence.

The town's public schools and St. Clement's private school re-opened.

WOODBRIDGE.

Vaughan Township Farmers are Well on Their Work.

WOODBRIDGE, April 27.—Miss Agnes E. Cameron has just returned from a three months' holiday, spent in Peterboro, where she was visiting with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McUmoye. Seeding in the neighborhood around Woodbridge fairly well advanced and a few fine days will see the work completed. Fall wheat and grass seeds are said to look splendid.

CIVIC EMPLOYEES SHOULD'NT BE CRITICS

Ald. Bredin Has Some Mild Censure Meted to Dr. Sheard for Making an Insinuation.

Dr. Sheard's remarks, wherein he intimated that Ald. Bredin was actuated by personal animus in his motion to have the street cleaning and scavenging departments placed under control of the city engineer, came in for reproof at yesterday's meeting of the city council. Ald. Bredin having asked, by letter, whether there was any cause or reason by which civic employees are governed in their conduct toward the members of council who are the people's representatives.

The mayor's letter in reply gave the opinion that "no civic official should comment on any action that may be taken by the city council as a body, nor should the right of the city council to enact any legislation it may see fit be questioned by any civic official." Ald. Bredin declared with warmth that his motion was not actuated by any personal hostility.

The city clerk reported on several questions raised by Ald. Hales in connection with police court fees. The police magistrate was entitled to collect 25c in each case where bail was taken, no statutory fee being provided, however, for attending at the police station or the jail for such purposes.

Ald. Keeler's complaint that application for legislation to prevent the chief coroner of any municipality from holding connection with a corporation had not been passed, was met by the mayor's statement that a memorial had been presented to the government, but it had taken no action. Ald. Sanderson was voted down on a motion to have the board of control report the names of all civic employees holding office, and the undertones of heads of departments when present salaries did not exceed $1200.

Without an dissenting voice James Wilson was given the appointment as park commissioner at $3500 a year.

SUNNYSIDE. SUNNYSIDE, April 27.—(Special)—The graduating class of the Royal Dental College held a delightful at home at Mrs. Meyers' refreshment parlors to-night. About 100 of the members of the class and their friends were present, and splendid music was furnished by Fraick's Orchestra.

DEERPARK. DEERPARK, April 27.—The people in Deer Park are fond in condemnation of the way in which the Metropolitan Railway Company have destroyed their shade trees along the line, and wonder if the York Township authorities could not have intervened, and if the Metropolitan alone have vested rights along Yonge-street, or if the property-owners have some rights left.

J. W. Bernet of Yonge-street has removed to his residence and will discontinue the school.

The schoolyard is the only spot in Deer Park where tulips are in bloom. This is rather early for outdoor plants.

A social gathering was held by the congregation of Christ Church in the schoolhouse last night. A large number of which was a presentation to Mr. and Mrs. James Barwell, who will remove to the north end of the city. Mr. Barwell is a rather early for outdoor plants.

Montreal Live Stock. MONTREAL, April 27.—(Special)—At the Montreal Stock Yards, west end of the market, the receipts of live stock for a week ending April 25 were: 221 cattle, 62 sheep and lambs, 237 hogs, 188 calves. The offerings for local consumption this week were: 150 hogs and 200 calves. Owing to the supply of cattle being much larger than a week ago an earlier favoring decline of fully 4c per lb. as compared with last week's market. The quality of local butchers was large and there were two good outside buyers and exporters present. The quality of the cattle was generally fairly good, including some 200 head of northwestern stock.

Trade during the early hours was rather slow, as buyers were under the impression that the market would be somewhat more than they did, but as drovers held high figures for them in the country they were not disposed to accept of a natural decline of the market. The quality of the market since last week, exporters also showed a decline of 1c per lb. A few very choice heaves sold as high as 6c, fair at 5c to 5 1/2c, good at 5 1/2c to 6c, and 6c to 6 1/2c, common at 5c to 5 1/2c.
