SIX NEW CARDINALS GET THE RED HAT AT PUBLIC COISSORY IN ROME

ROME, April 18--A public coissory was held at the Vatican this morning with great ceremony. This being the season in which Rome is crowded with tourists, the demand for tickets was phenomenal. At an early hour all the streets leading to St. Peter's were black with sable clad figures hurrying to get good places at the Vatican, and soon the hall of beatification and the corridors through which the papal processions passed were crowded with priests, monks, men in evening dress, and ladies in black veils. The tribunes erected for the occasion, the hierarchy and the members of the diplomatic corps.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

NOVA SCOTIA'S FRIEND. Our esteemed fellow citizen Mr. Jamesey Jones is running around town today in a state of great excitement. He heard last night that the Liberal party had elected a candidate for a portfolio with Emmerson out and Hyman out and Borden going out. What do we want of a Liberal party? He said to himself, "I'll rather vote for you than for Pugsley, and if the Globe says so, I'll have you nominated." The new reporter humbly expressed his thanks, and Jamesey, seeing a group of three men on the next corner, flew in their direction with the agility of a man half his years.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

SHES A BIRD. The Times new reporter received from Hampton this morning a large egg weighing nearly four ounces. It was accompanied by a note saying that a copy of the Times containing the young man's picture had somehow got into the henery, and his somewhat delicate appearance as revealed in the picture appealed to the sympathy of the poultry yard. This egg is the first hen fruit of that sympathy. Jealous members of the staff profess to be sorry for the hen, and assert that she is a goose--but these fussy geese are unable to destroy the joyous anticipation with which the new reporter looks forward to tomorrow's breakfast. The Hampton hen is a bird.

KING EDWARD'S VISIT TO ITALY

Great Britain's King and Queen Arrived at Gaeta, Italy, This Morning---Received by King Victor Emmanuel---Imposing Gathering of Warships.

GAETA, Italy, April 18--The British royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with King Edward and Queen Alexandra on board, arrived here at about 9:30 o'clock this morning from Malta, escorted by the British armored cruisers Suffolk and Lancaster. King Edward was received by King Victor Emmanuel, who was on board the Italian royal yacht Trinacria, surrounded by twelve Italian warships and twelve torpedo boats. The usual salutes were exchanged and hearty cheers greeted the British King from the people ashore and the sailors on board the warships. Notwithstanding the fact that the weather was not so fine as hoped for, the shore of the beautiful Gulf of Gaeta, stretching from here to Formia, presented a most attractive appearance, being one of the high bastions of the fort, gave vent to their patriotism by singing "God Save the King," which was acknowledged by the British royal yacht dipping her ensign.

CAR CLEANER MURDERED WHEN HE REFUSED TO JOIN A STRIKE

Edward Fago Killed With a Brick Because He Would Not Quit Work. CHICAGO, Ill., April 18--Because he refused to join in a strike, Edward Fago, a car cleaner employed by the Chicago and Northwestern railway, was hit on the head with a brick last night and then jumped on and kicked by three men. He died a short time later. The police arrested Paul Majka, and are searching for Henry Worka and Joseph Majka, who, they assert, were the killers of Fago. Fago had been employed by the company for five years. Last night the three men, it is alleged, tried to persuade Fago to join the strike. He refused to listen to them. Majka, it is alleged, picked up a brick and struck Fago on the head. The other two jumped on him and left him unconscious on the floor. His death occurred soon afterwards.

MAY DANCE HER LIFE OUT

Pretty Philadelphia Girl Victim of Strange Mania for Dancing Which May Kill Her. PHILADELPHIA, April 18--After nearly three days of almost continuous dancing, Theresa Horn, a housemaid for John Kelly, a wealthy resident of Ardmore, was placed under opiates at Norristown Hospital to prevent her from dancing her life away. Even while under the influence of morphine her feet kept twitching as though she were as active as ever. The physicians told this action of the girl begged piteously to be delivered from the strange mania that has possessed her. Her face, which had been well rounded, has lost its curves and is like that of a withered old woman. Her eyes are as those of a man finishing a six-day bicycle race. Her heart action is tremendously excited at times, and then almost imperceptible.

FIRST TRIP UP RIVER

Captain Porter will be the first to leave Indiantown this season, and if he can procure a mate today, the steamer Spring-Cedar will leave for Carter's Point tomorrow morning. The captain did intend going to the point today, but not having a mate, he will wait until tomorrow. There are half a dozen residents of Long Reach in the city who are waiting for the steamer as they have several hundred pounds of feed to take home with them. The ice is still solid in the reach, and it is the opinion that the steamer will not be able to make Fredericton before May 1.

A ROMANCE OF LOMBARDY. BY MARJORIE BOWEN.

(Continued.) "Aye, leave after the Duke has entered, but now, clear yourself away; my lord comes again, some allies with him— and with a wave of his hand he sweeps them back. Valentine flushed at his tone, yet drew back, her hand on the page's shoulder. But Isotta struggled free and again rushed forward. "I will pass," she cried wildly. "I will have not got so far to be stopped now!" "Oh! thy madness!" murmured Valentine. "But Isotta had rushed to the very gate itself, and was only forced back by the pikemen at her breast. The officer looked at the group with mistrust. "What is this?" he said. "What means this passion?" "She is half distraught," said Valentine. "Beggary is not my lot, messenger. We will be quiet, though I promise you, until the Duke is past— And to Isotta at her side she whispered, holding her hand tight, "Thou wilt ruin all; control thyself."

"Ah, my sister," he said between his teeth; and Valentine, scarce knowing what she did, fled after Isotta, the page behind, closing the door upon Visconti. In the pleasant courtyard was a girl, dressed in scarlet, who rose, surprised at their disorderly aspect. "The only a moment gained," cried Valentine, hoarsely. "He will follow!" "For the love of Heaven hide us for the love of Heaven, from Visconti!" "Hide us!" said Valentine bitterly. "Hide us from Visconti!" And Graziosa thought of the secret passage. "I will help you," she said. "I and my father do not love Visconti. "Quick, maiden," cried the page. "I see the spears are motionless outside. I will guard the door." "They will kill thee," cried Isotta. "Thou art too young." But Valentine turned to the boy and gave him her beautiful hand. "Guard the door, gain us a moment, Adrian—for me," she said, and hurried across the sunny courtyard, followed by Graziosa and Isotta. "For me!" repeated Adrian, and set himself before the door very proudly, with flashing eyes and dagger drawn. He was only a boy, a page, she a princess, but he could set his life against her smile, and think himself well paid. "Graziosa, pointing with excitement, hurried them into the hall, and into the lower room from which the secret passage opened. The pleasant home was still half dismantled from the recent attack of the Germans, the neat trimness of the cool chambers was gone. At their entrance Angelo came forward in alarm, but at his daughter's hurried explanation, turned willingly to the secret door he kept well concealed. For the moment he took no thought of what it must mean to shelter any from Visconti's wrath. "Quick!" cried Valentine imperiously. "How long can one page keep that door?" "The poor boy!" moaned Isotta, hanging half lifeless upon Valentine's arm. Valentine looked at her with scorn. "Canst thou think of a page now?" she cried. "Think of Della Scala, Quick!" But the door would not yield, and while Angelo struggled with the spring, a crash was heard, a cry, the ring of armor and the tramp of feet. "The door is down," said Valentine. "We are lost." "I cannot move the spring," cried Angelo. "Quick! quick!" shrieked Graziosa, but even as she spoke, the chamber door burst open and a man stepped in; there were others at his heels, but he entered alone. Angelo starting back, dropped his concealments into place and trembled for his secret and these poor folk, who had not escaped Visconti. The man who entered was in black, it was all that could be seen in the dark, no light to tell her who it was. Isotta sank to the ground, shrieking wildly. "Oh, father, father!" cried Graziosa, agonized, "save them!" The newcomer laid his hand on Valentine's shoulder, she standing calm and erect, and turned his face to Graziosa. "From me?" he said, and his voice was very sweet. "From me, Graziosa?" "Ambrogio! Ambrogio!" cried the girl. "What do you here?" Valentine would have spoken scornfully, but Visconti turned his eyes on her, and she dared not. The courtyard was full of armed men. "Ambrogio!" repeated the painter in dismay. "What does this mean?" Visconti laughed pleasantly, but his hand tightened on his sister's shoulder. "It means, thy daughter hath found a lover worthy of her in Visconti." Visconti! As in a flash the little painter saw explained a thousand things that had perplexed him. Visconti! His quickly working brain had grasped it and summed it up before Graziosa could even realize with a piteous look upon her face. Visconti turned to her in an agony. "At last!" said Visconti, in her ear, "at last thy calm falls!" "At last thy calm falls!" while she implied in turn Valentine and Angelo to save her, in incoherent words of anguish. "I cannot bear it!" she cried. "I have borne it too long! O God, have pity on me! Have pity on me, I have not the courage to face it again. I have not the courage!" Visconti turned to her in savage triumph of hate he scarcely troubled to conceal. "Find thy courage again, where thou found'st it before," he said. "Thy husband is not dead, although he leaves thee to pine in prison. He may remember thee even yet." Isotta sprang up at the taunt, wild-eyed. "Keep thy face away from me!" she shrieked. "Ye have slain him! Kill me too!"

A NEW CUT OF COAT.

In the new auto apparel shown at an exclusive Broadway shop this coat is displayed as one of the most modish of the new models. It is made of a waterproof material in the new tan shade and trimmed with brown suede. The body or waist of the coat is fashioned separate from the skirt, the skirt being cut in seven rows and fitting smoothly around the hips like the dress skirt. The body of the coat blouses slightly into the circular collar, joining it with the skirt. There is a high military collar, and this, with the high cavalier cuffs and belt, is inset with brown suede. Brown suede gamut gloves and a natty turban of tan straw, with self color braid trimmings, completes this toilette.

Call to Pastor

At a largely attended meeting of the members of the Tabernacle Baptist church, Haymarket square, last evening, it was decided to extend a call to Rev. J. W. Kierstead, of Oxford (N. S.). It is generally understood that he will accept. Rev. Perry J. Stackhouse, the present pastor, who will go to Campbellton May 1, has been in charge of the work for more than five years. He first went there in June, 1899, and left in October, 1903. He returned Jan. 1, 1904, and has remained up to the present. His pastorates have been highly successful and the congregation has grown rapidly under his ministrations. Many improvements have been made in the building and since 1904 pews have been installed in the auditorium of the church. A vestry has also been built and furnished with an acetylene gas plant has been installed.

SITUATION IN DAIRY MARKET

New Season Opens With Exceptionally High Prices Prevailing.

(Montreal Gazette, Monday.)

With the opening of the new season the dairy produce markets are beginning to display more activity, and from now on widespread interest will be taken in the progress of the season. The season is opening up somewhat earlier than usual, a large number of the cheese and butter factories having already begun operations, and the first meetings of several of the boards being held today. In some of the principal sections, such as the Brockville section, the season is cold and backward, and the make of fodder comparatively small, but the high prices prevailing are giving an incentive to the factory men to produce as much as possible. Prices both for cheese and butter, and especially for the latter, are opening up high. At Brockville, today 11 1/2 cents was reported to have been paid for new made. At this date last year, at Brockville, 12c was paid for colored, while white sold for a fraction lower. At the first meeting of the Belleville board, which was held today, 11 1/8c was bid without any sales being made, the factorymen holding out for 12c. At the opening meeting of the Belleville board last year the price obtained was 12 1/4c. One factory in the Belleville district is reported to have sold its April make for 13c. At Cowansville today 11 1/4c was obtained for a small lot of new cheese. It is in the butter market, however, that the season, owing to unusual circumstances, is opening up with exceptionally high prices. At Cowansville today as high as 31 7/8c—the highest price obtained in many years—was paid for new milk creamery, and at the opening meeting of the St. Hyacinthe board the range was 30c to 31 1/2c. These exceptional prices for butter are due entirely to the comparatively small make so far as a consequence the farmers owing to bad roads being unable to get their milk to the factories, recent prices are away above those paid at this date last year, in fact, they are almost unprecedented. At this date last year new milk creamery was selling on the spot at 26c to 26 1/2c, and at the first meeting of the St. Hyacinthe board, which was not held last year until April 23rd, new milk creamery sold at 28c. The exceptional prices at present ruling are not likely to continue very long after supplies show any material increase, but at present receipts are very light, which naturally makes holders very firm in their views. The local butter market continues quiet, receipts of new make so far being small, quotations for which are 12 1/4c to 12 1/2c, while old cheese is quoted nominally at 13 1/4c to 14c.

AT THE NICKEL

The moving pictures and illustrated songs at the Nickel continue to prove excellent drawing cards, and yesterday was another good day both from the standpoint of attendance and enjoyment. The continuous performance idea seems to have caught the popular fancy, and it is accepted as an excellent thing that one can go in to the Nickel at any time and see the whole show. There will be new pictures and new illustrated songs today.

THE SQUAW MAN IN THE OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

The Lyceum Stock Company will present their biggest and most magnificent production of the Squaw Man for the first time in the Opera House this evening, continuing for the balance of the week and the presentation will be availed with interesting success. The Squaw Man is conceded to be the biggest success that New York has had in many years during the long and successful run in Wallace's Theatre, the critics declared it to be the most virile drama of the far west that was ever offered. William Faversham, who originated the leading character, scored his greatest success in this powerful play and it will be the first time that any stock company has essayed such a difficult task. scenic artist Aiken is painting a complete and massive scenic production for this play. Mr. Powell will be seen as Jack Dallas and Mr. Jelenko as "Stove Drayton". W. J. Baumann will enact the role of the defaulter and Mr. Stepping and Mr. Hockey will be seen in dual roles. Miss Hicks will be Alice Rodegah and every member of the cast will have a suitable role. The advance sale of seats has been heavy. On Saturday afternoon the second of the series of receptions will be held on the stage. Miss Eleanor Hicks will be the hostess and will be assisted by all the company. Last evening the company played The Squaw Man in Fredericton, where it made a big hit.

The victim was drowned and the murderer jumped into the water and made for the open sea. Small boats put out and the negro was captured. He became unmanageable and was taken aboard the Vinland and secured by the crew. The officers say that it was terrible to witness the grief and fear of the man.

THE EVENING TIMES, ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, APRIL 18, 1907.

THE EVENING TIMES.

The St. John Evening Times is published at 7 and 29 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd. A company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE GLOBE'S RENUNCIATION

Would you believe it?—the following are extracts from an editorial in last evening's St. John Globe: "For over ten years—during the whole period of the existence of the Laurier administration—the office of minister of railways has been in the hands of two New Brunswickers. . . . The next minister of railways is not likely to be from this province. . . . The common talk is that. . . the management of the railway department will go to Nova Scotia. . . . Indeed, rumor is quite busy with the name of the Nova Scotia member who is to be Mr. Emmerson's successor. . . . For ten years and eight months the ministers have been New Brunswickers. Our province, therefore, must feel that it has been well treated in regard to the office, and can raise no reasonable objection to the transfer of the office to another province, provided, of course, that a competent man is chosen."

As a matter of fact the Globe's statement that the next minister of railways is not likely to be from this province is based on the assumption that St. John will select as Dr. Stockton's successor in the house a man not of cabinet rank. Of course the city is not bound to do any course of the kind. It can choose a man quite competent to succeed Mr. Emmerson as minister of railways—if it is true, as the Globe seems to infer, that Mr. Emmerson will not return to the office. The cause of the Globe's pessimism and renunciation is perhaps not far to seek. It is afraid the St. John liberal convention will nominate Hon. Dr. Pugsley.

A NOTABLE EXAMPLE

The Times prints today the report of Dr. Laberge, on the medical inspection of pupils in the schools of Montreal, and commends it to the attention of St. John parents. The astounding statement is made that last year the percentage of children found suffering from some disease was 47.99 of the total number attending school. It was found for example that 1,343 pupils were affected with diseases of the eye, 417 with diseases of the ear, 3,029 with adenoid tumors or hypertrophy of the tonsils. There were 9,478 cases of decayed teeth. No less than 875 children required spectacles, whose parents were too poor to purchase them. Great benefit has resulted from regular medical inspection, and it is now suggested that nurses be engaged to attend to children neglected by their families. It is found that since medical inspection was begun, there has been an increase of 50 per cent in the cleanliness of children at school, parents have been encouraged to take action for the benefit of the little ones, schools have been better lighted and ventilated, and great good, therefore, has been accomplished.

BYRAN AND HEART

The fear of Heart makes the welcome of Bryan by Democratic assemblies in the United States all the more enthusiastic. In Brooklyn on Tuesday night he was hailed as the man of democratic candidate for the presidency, as the Telegraph's New York correspondent puts it: "As the hope of the party against another radical, more sinister in his aspect." The sinister gentleman is Heart, who, as the Times noted a few days ago, is expected to launch himself as the Independence League candidate and try to capture the regular Democratic contest in New York state last year. Meanwhile a section of the Republican party are looming Taft for their presidential candidate, although there are many who still hold that Roosevelt should be persuaded to withdraw his objections and consent to try for another term. At this distance and at this time the chances seem to be decidedly in favor of the Republicans.

THE MERE MEN

The woman suffragists in England have received a rude jolt from Mr. Justice Plowden, of the Marylebone police court, London, and the Rev. Father Vaughan, whose denunciation of present conditions in high society have attracted world-wide attention. We quote from recent London cables: "Mr. Justice Plowden, the Marylebone police court magistrate, whose obiter dicta has acquired general fame, delivered in court on Friday the following reflections on the modern woman: 'It would seem that woman's nature is undergoing very considerable modifications in the twentieth century. The gentleness, spirit of dependence and sweet reasonableness that used to distinguish the sex is giving place to love of advertisement and a taste for unseemly scenes of rowdiness and violence. The doves are changing into eagles. These changes in the nature of women have been forced on my attention by what is constantly occurring in the police court.'" "Father B. the character of the sins of society, discussing Justice Plowden's statement that women's nature is undergoing very considerable modifications, and not for the better, said one thing was certain—women were daily becoming not only less religious, but more unreligious. The danger was that, owing to the entente cordiale, they may become like some of their French sisters, irreligious."

Still another critic has braved the threatened storm, and we are told that "Archdeacon Sinclair, of London, ascribed the degeneracy of women chiefly to drinking, especially secret drinking."

A quarter of a century hence these degeneracies will be regarded as rather amusing than otherwise, and we fancy there are those who even today will be tempted to smile at the fervid zeal of these advocates of man's supremacy. In Finland, for example, a considerable number of women are members of the legislature. Query: Would the campaign in Stanley and Duffin wards of Fairville have been any less impressive yesterday had women taken an active part?"

The recent remark of Mr. Stead that newspapers are much to blame for war-talk is emphasized by the fact that the German foreign office has just repudiated an article in the Cologne Gazette, which charged King Edward, in his visit to the King of Italy, with seeking to disturb the friendly relations between Italy and Germany. The Gazette warned England that "war with Germany would be dangerous for any opponent or any coalition of opponents." The German foreign office hastens to say that had the government known of it they would have had the article suppressed, as it is not justified and does not express their views.

Perhaps no recent newspaper utterance in St. John has aroused as much general condemnation from men of all parties as that in the Globe last evening which took it for granted that New Brunswick must lose to Nova Scotia the portfolio of minister of railways, and further asserted that the province should not complain at the loss. Such an abrupt throwing up of the sponge amazed alike the Liberals and Conservatives, and right and left the article was denounced, even by those who knew the motive prompting its publication.

It is reported that in Ontario an ultra-Protestant political organization, secret in its character, is being formed. Needless to observe, since its purpose is purely sectional, it will not make for peace in politics.

It is announced that 159 members of the Canadian parliament have joined the inter-parliamentary union for peace. Peace is in the air this week, but general disarmament is yet a long way off.

Progressive Halifax grants a free site for a technical college. That city continues its forward movement.

England's welcome to Botha will have a salutary influence on public sentiment throughout South Africa.

MODERN SUBURBAN ROAD The Fastest Electric Railway in Canada.

WINNIPEG, April 17—When the Winnipeg, Selkirk & Lake Winnipeg Railway is completed, and in operation between this city and Selkirk, it will bear the distinction of being one of the fastest electrical lines in Canada. The current will be derived from the Lac du Bonnet power plant, and carried at 60,000 volts, which is reduced or stepped down to 2,300 volts to carry it through the town of Selkirk, after which it is stepped up to 13,000 volts and conveyed to the two substations, where it is utilized to drive the machines, which supply energy to the cars. The new line will be 22 miles in length, and will have running rights over the city tracks. In the building of this railway great attention has been paid to every detail. The equipment is being furnished by the Canadian General Electric Company. Each car will have four C. G. E. 75 motors, complete, with master control, and air brakes. This allows of any number of cars being connected, which admits of all the motors being operated simultaneously by one man in the front car. The advantages of this are at once apparent, as during the busy hours the cars may be coupled in trains and good time made, while during the slack hours the cars can be run separately.

This railway is among the first of the benefits which Winnipeg and the district surrounding are destined to reap from the power development on the Winnipeg river near Lac du Bonnet station. WHAT MONTREAL ACCOMPLISHED THROUGH MEDICAL INSPECTION OF THE SCHOOLS OF THAT CITY

Inspection of Schools by Competent Physicians Tends to Greatly Diminish the Dissemination of Contagious Diseases—Cleanliness of Children Has Increased Since Inspection Commenced.

(Montreal Herald.) At a special meeting of the Hygiene and Statistical committee, held this afternoon, Dr. J. E. Laberge, civic bacteriologist, who is in charge of the civic medical inspection of schools, submitted a report on the work done by the inspectors up to April 1, at which date the inspection was discontinued, as the funds appropriated for this service were exhausted.

One of the most important duties of the health department is to prevent the dissemination of contagious diseases. This report shows that the school is one of the places where contagion is spread most surely. By the medical inspection of schools we have in a great measure, decreased this source of infection. The number of cases reported by our inspectors is considerable, and without the inspection such children would have continued to go to school and spread the contagion everywhere.

The result of this inspection is very evident, especially since the second general inspection in March. The reports received from medical inspectors establish the fact that the cleanliness of the children has increased 50 per cent., and that the schools are now better ventilated and lighted.

PREVALENT DISEASES. The number of children affected with diphtheria of the throat was 1,343; of the tonsils, 3,029. These figures show to what an extent disease was prevalent in the schools. Many of those affected were suitably treated, so that by this inspection you have prevented infirmities that would have become chronic.

BACKACHE

Pains in the back come from a weak spinal column, which is the direct result of unwholesome food. And this important organ of the body is diseased you should "be sure and do it."

CURED BY WARNER'S SAFE CURE

"Ever since the war I have suffered intensely with kidney and bladder trouble in its worst form, and despaired of ever finding permanent relief. My back troubled me most of the time and it was impossible to rest and I took a couple of bottles and then discontinued using it, as I obtained some relief. About six months ago I caught cold and my old trouble returned, but many times I was able to get on my feet, and slowly but surely paved the way for a light disease, diabetes, blood poisoning and a horrible death in convulsions. Ask your doctor if this is not good solid, common sense."

By continuing this inspection another year, the work could be done more completely, on account of the varied experience acquired. In most cases it suffices to draw the attention of parents to any disease with which the children may be afflicted, when they at once take the measures necessary to effect a cure.

Queens of England Henrietta Maria, queen consort of Charles I. of Great Britain and Ireland, was the youngest child of Henry the Great, King of France, and Marie de Medicis. She was born at the Louvre, November 25, 1626.

Henrietta Maria, Queen Consort of Charles I. became most devoted husband and wife their first years were untroubled by frequent quarrels over religion. Charles being a Protestant and Henrietta Maria a most devout Catholic.

After becoming queen of Great Britain and Ireland Henrietta was called Queen Mary, the English not liking the French name she bore.

As queen consort of the ill-fated Charles I. Henrietta Maria's life was most checked one, beset by warfare and peril. Had she not made her escape to France during Charles' last trouble she would have gone to the block with him.

But she lived to see her eldest son, Charles II, made King of Great Britain and Ireland. She died in her sixtieth year, after many years of great physical sufferings. MARY GRAHAM.

HOUSEKEEPERS who are wise will not be persuaded into purchasing the unreliable baking powders which some dealers wish to sell for the sake of the additional profit derived therefrom. Crudely mixed from low-grade, impure ingredients, such powders cost but half as much to make as the highly refined, absolutely pure Royal Baking Powder, although retailed at the same price. They are unwholesome and lacking in leavening strength.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER gives the greatest value for its cost, and there is no other baking powder or leavening preparation that will give such satisfaction, or make such pure, wholesome and delicious food, or which in practical use will be found so economical.

THE TURF
Selling First One.
Cleveland, April 15—As an aftermath of the gold cup case, C. K. G. Billings has consigned all of his light harness horses, excepting Lou Dillon and her three-week-old filly by John A. McKerron, to the sale which will take place at Glenville track next month. Included is Major Delmar, the world's champion trotting gelding, which defeated Lou Dillon at Memphis and made the gold cup the property of E. E. Smathers. The brood mares are Marlette, 2:04 1/2; Lucette, 2:10; Innes, 2:13 1/2; Eagle, 2:14 1/2; Fanny Foley, 2:18 1/2; and Glad News, 2:14.

The star of the big racing stallion blacked 2:04 1/2, which has a matinee on the card of 2:04, and which on two occasions has beaten 2:12 in his work.

ABOUT SADIE MAC AND TODD.
Lovers of light harness trotting and pacing who took in the Grand Circuit meeting at Redville two years ago have not forgotten the excellent impression made by Sadie Mac and Katherine L., the two great trotters of Mrs. Katherine Wilcox, of Galt, Ont.

This season they will have a chance to see more of this Canadian woman's horses. Her stable is now at Lexington, Ky., training for the coming campaign.

The star of the string, the 3-year-old Kentucky Todd, 2:14 3/4, winner of the big Futurity last year, looks in fine shape to start for the hardest kind of training work. He appears strong and seems to possess all the speed which made him a winner last season. The youngsters in Stinson's stable are rather high in flesh just at present and he is going right along with them, and all look a most promising lot of stake and Futurity prospects.

CONSTITIION CLOGS THE BOWELS
No other cause produces so much sickness as constipation, and therefore it is dangerous to allow the bowels to become clogged. Bad blood, dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, boils, pimples, and piles, are all caused by constipation.

Avoid all of those troubles by the use of BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS, nature's remedy for all diseases of the stomach, bowels and blood. It acts on the bowels and promotes their free and regular action, curing constipation and all troubles which arise from it. It has been on the market for over thirty years so you are not using a new and untried remedy. B.B.B. has cured thousands of others and will cure you. Mr. B. Woodcock, Nashua, N.H., writes: "For over two years my wife was troubled with constipation. She tried several physicians but could get no relief, but after taking three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters she was completely cured and is to-day in good health. My wife and I cannot speak too highly of B.B.B."

The Jamaica earthquake that leveled the town of Port Royal, buried with it but one person, a widow, who had three children to support. On Monday the steamer Admiral Sampson brought with her to Boston the three children, Alfred Walker, aged 16 years; Cassie, aged 14, and Harry, aged 11. Their nearest relatives resided in Wyoming, and they had no money to get there from Boston. Fred S. Jorg, general passenger agent of the United Fruit Co., heard their pitiable story and made arrangements whereby the children reached Australia by George Towns for the cham-

CANADA HAS FOUR MEMBERS AT COLONIAL CONFERENCE

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Has Messrs. Fielding, Brodeur and Borden Admitted to Full Membership—Botha Lionized.

Montreal, April 17—A special London cable says:
The colonial premiers discussed today behind closed doors the future gathering of the conference. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's refusal to accept any scheme for a permanent imperial council is most emphatic. Moreover the belief is growing in well informed circles that whatever the conference may now resolve, the conference of 1907 will probably be the last full formal gathering of this kind to grope vaguely over the whole field of inter-imperial relations. It is felt to be much more consistent with British methods and certainly with Liberal tendencies here and in Canada that this periodical fare of the imperial interchanges be taken to strengthen and expand the existing channels of confidential diplomatic intercourse between government and government. The high commissioners of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa should be made departments of the respective colonial governments and the commissioners themselves, where possible, made members of their respective colonial cabinets.
The British government has furthered this development by acquiescence in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's claim that his colleagues, Messrs. Borden, Brodeur and Fielding, be given full status as members of the conference, thus lifting the consultations out of mere departmental affairs into authoritative interchanges between government and government.
New York, April 17—(Special)—An interesting feature of the gathering of the colonial premiers in London is the lionizing of General Botha, the Boer leader, who is now prime minister of the Cape Colony, as preeminent popular hero.
At a banquet given by the Eighty Club to the prime ministers, General Botha made a brief speech, in which he said: "The many confidences shown by the British in the people of the Transvaal is best seen now in South Africa. We will prove by our acts that we are worthy of this confidence. Our government is as jealous of the honor of the British flag as any other colony of the empire. The message from the Transvaal is that she wants to strengthen the bonds of co-operation and love and pity of the empire."
"Sir Wilfrid Laurier, prime minister of Canada, and Dr. Jameson, prime minister of the Cape Colony, are preeminent popular heroes."

LIBEL TRIAL DRAWS CROWDS

Suit of Mayor Macleith Against Halifax Herald Packs the Court Room.
Halifax, N. S., April 17—The second day of the trial of Mayor R. T. Macleith's libel suit against the Halifax Herald for damages of $20,000 drew an even larger crowd to the court house than on the opening. All the seating accommodation in the court house was quickly taken up by a vast number of people.
The first witness was C. R. Hobe, who was the last on the stand the day before and who came on for cross-examination by Mr. Lovett.
R. W. Hewson, barrister, of Moncton, followed. Mr. Hewson was the solicitor who secured options on the lands in Moncton for Mr. Lodge which were in turn sold by that gentleman to the government.
Alexander Stephen, who was interested in the Reeves property taken in connection with the round house site, testified that he would have been willing to take $20,000 for his property, but in the desire to get all the money he could he had held out for $40,000, and he had known of that was going on he might have written to have obtained still more. It was sold to the government for about $7,000.
At this stage an adjournment was taken till 10 o'clock tomorrow.
In reply to a question from Justice Russell, Mr. Ritchie stated that he would probably have four or five more witnesses, the examination of two of whom would likely occupy considerable time.
The necessary conclusion is that, as far as the figures are correct, the "foreign credit balance," accumulated by the American market since June 30, has been $119,200,000 smaller than that accumulated in the same time months of the fiscal year 1906. If this wide disparity has been extinguished, it must have been through foreign credits created by means of bankers' notes or sale of securities in Europe.

WANTS SECURITIES RETURNED TO HER

Mrs. John Stuart Wife of Former President of Chatham Company Sues Bank of Montreal for $200,000.
Toronto, April 17—An action involving $200,000 has been brought against the Bank of Montreal by Mrs. John Stuart, wife of a former president of the Bank of Hamilton. Mrs. Stuart, as president of the Maritime Submarine Company of Chatham (N. B.), gave notes securing the indebtedness of the company and as additional security Mrs. Stuart parted with securities to the amount of her claim. The supreme court has held that notes signed by a woman at the instance of her husband are void and it is on this decision that the plaintiff relies. It is claimed that Mrs. Stuart had no independent advice at the time she was induced to part with the securities.
HE WAS EXCUSSED.
Council (waxing eloquent)—Yes, and furthermore your poor wife said you have not spoken to her for three years.
Defendant—Well, you see, I didn't want to interrupt her—Ally Sloper's Half-Holiday.
