New York, Oct. 6.—Dazzled by the most brilliant pitching they had been forced to contend with this year, and by a youngster's perfect command of the craft and cunning of a veteran and the power of a super-slugger, buffeted by the most varied assortment of curves, straight-aways, slips and fast balls, which the Yanks forced down their throats. And now world's series history challenges the Giants to perform a feat which has yet to be recorded in the baseball classic. Never has a club, which won the first two games, been defeated for the title.

It was a vengeful, virulent and virile young right hander whom the Giants had to face today—a youth who, for five years, has nursed a grievance and now found the great opportunity to even an old score.

ARTICLE 18 AGAIN BEFORE ASSEMBLY

Shadow of Woodrow Wilson Once More Falls Over Deliberations of League.

Geneva, Oct. 6.—The shadow of Woodrow Wilson has once more fallen over the League of Nations Assembly in its consideration of article eighteen, which the former American President had inserted in the League covenant, with the conviction that it would put an end to secret international treaties. The article provides no treaty shall be binding until it has been registered with the League for publication. The Commission's jurist has now reported that this article conflicts with certain State rights, since the constitutions of some nations provide that any treaty shall become effective from the moment of signing, and others that treaties take effect on ratification. The Assembly shelves the problem by postponing action pending the amending of article on motion of Arthur Balfour until 1922. In the meantime the article will remain technically in effect, requiring registration of treaties within three months.

And then young Hoyt began the construction of that revenge which was his today. He fought for recognition in the ninth and won it. He slipped his way back into the major league as a member of the Red Sox, but again came discouragement. Hoyt was then ill and was forced to undergo an operation. The Boston Club let him slip into the position of a fifth-tier pitcher almost lost. The outlook was dark but still this game led to a revival of hope for Hoyt. In time came a trade and Hoyt became a member of the Yankees. And today came the supreme moment for the Hoyt whom McGraw had sent away to Memphis in 1916. Today it was New York's very own—the only native of the Metropolis among the Yankees who debuted in the Giants. Today this son of Flatbush said proud of a mighty Matly of 1905—a flank and a batter rolled into one—and Ed Beuback of days gone by. Today, in allowing only two hits, Hoyt tied a World's series record which Beuback, pitching for the greatest Old Cub machine, set against a Detroit Club, managed by Hingey Jennings fourteen years ago.

New York, Oct. 6.—"He who pays bills must be boss," declared William P. Vandewater, wealthy and socially prominent, according to his wife who is suing for separation. Defendant has two wives before and third said he constantly belittled her. Besides: "I could not keep up with Vandewater's ideas of life. His idea of a good time was to make me go with him every afternoon to a number of dances about four o'clock, and keep dancing until I was tagged out. I was a mere slave to him."

San Francisco, Oct. 6.—Roscoe Arbuckle is not so apprehensive about the outcome of his trial on the charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappo, film actress, that he is willing to pay his Chief Attorney $50,000. It was learned here Thursday, Frank Dominguez, who defended Arbuckle at the murder hearing, is said to have demanded $25,000 for further participation in the case. Arbuckle only gave $5,000 according to reports and he figured that is all the lawyer is worth. Dominguez has left the case. The

FREE TRADE IN IMPLEMENTS MEANS SHIFTING OF MANUFACTURE OF WEST CANADA IMPLEMENTS TO STATES

Mr. Thomas Findley, President of the Massey-Harris Company, in a public statement which he gave to the press on September 7, said:—
"My opinion is that free trade in implements means the inevitable shifting of the manufacture of Western Canadian implements from Ontario and Quebec to the Western Middle States. If there is to be neither tariff nor sentimental preference to offset the geographical handicap, we shall be forced sooner or later to establish ourselves on equal terms with our competitors. So far as my company is concerned, we are not going to lose our Western Canadian trade, even if it means that we have to build another factory in the Western States, therefore, our workmen, other industries which furnish us with materials, and those generally dependent upon them, are much more vitally interested in this matter than we are."

CRERAR'S SPEECH OF LITTLE ACCOUNT

Opening the Campaign at Brandon He Had Little to Say of Importance.

Special to The Standard
Ottawa, Oct. 6.—Further evidence of the inflammatory campaign which the King Liberals are carrying on in Quebec is found in a remarkable speech delivered by Joseph Archambault, member for Chambly-Verchères in Quebec, on Wednesday. Mr. Archambault was attacking Mr. Meighen for his stand at the imperial conference this summer, and the Press reports him as saying: "What is the position Mr. Meighen took there? We do not know, but we believe that Mr. Meighen engaged Canada to take part in a war between England and France in case of trouble over Silesia. Mr. Archambault, of course, was addressing an exclusively French-Canadian audience and his purpose was clear: to stir up hatred against Mr. Meighen on the ground that he plotted in London to bring Canada into a war against France."

Suit Filed in U. S. Supreme Court by Husband and Wife Against Administration.

Washington, Oct. 6.—One honeymoon dinner for a blushing bride may cost the United States Government $125,000. Mrs. Dora B. King and her husband, Dr. D. B. King of Greensboro North Carolina, have filed suits in Supreme Court District of Columbia, for damages totalling this amount against the United States Railroad administration. Mrs. King asks $75,000 for her injuries, received while on her honeymoon trip December 30, 1919. That was during the period of Federal control of roads. Mrs. King claims the injuries received then have left her almost helpless and in constant pain. ### GERMANY ABANDONS DESIGN TO RESTORE BROKEN ARMY

Ludendorff, Hoffman and Lotzinger See Folly in Dream of Facing Organized French Forces — Want Only Defence Organization.

Berlin, Oct. 6.—Germany is no longer attempting to keep fragments of her old army together, hoping by some miracle to face the world again, in the opinion of Allied military experts and observers. Stories that Germany is supporting 300,000 soldiers in secret garrisons for this purpose are contrary to fact.

That opinion was confirmed by conversations with German officers concerning their intentions. Gen. Ludendorff, Gen. Hoffman and Field Marshal Lotzinger told the New York Herald correspondent that it was folly for Germany to attempt to restore her army to a strength of a million fully organized and equipped soldiers. Undoubtedly there are still hidden arms in Germany, but the quantities are not supposed to be great. Without arms extensive military operations are impossible. That does not mean that Germany has renounced the idea of rebuilding her army despite the Allies' protests. Ludendorff said that Germany must have an army to meet her defensive needs. This means, according to German military circles, an army of some 300,000. Such an army would, according to the opinion here, suffice to face the Poles and to maintain German pretensions in the East, notably in Upper Silesia.

There is not enough artillery to equip an army of pre-war standards, but sufficient to meet the needs of a smaller force. The permission which the Allies gave the Germans to keep certain fortress guns in East Prussia and being used as a deterrent to place antiquated cannon with lighter modern pieces.

Under the circumstances could an army of this size face the Allies in the possible German military experts.

New York, Oct. 6.—In an open letter to Major Leonard Darwin, head of the Eugenics Society of Great Britain, Mike Mario of 209 Park row announces the marriage of Ludwig Vesuvius, an undefeated champion free style wrestler, and Olga Vesuvius, champion mid-weight lady wrestler. Mario is manager for both. He explains that his charges are champions of the world in their respective callings.

Mario, who is a professional "match-maker" having three Armenian wrestlers, Chinese pugilists and a motion picture theatre to look after in addition to Vesuvius and Olga Vesuvius, asks Major Darwin to give a thought or so to the possible progeny of the Vesuvius-Vesuvius union. Mr. Mario takes the stand that being the promoter of the match he should be recognized as the race's benefactor, inasmuch as, according to Mario's letter, "the children

Caruso Memorial Foundation Plan

To Provide Annual Scholarships and Develop Appreciation of Music.

New York, Oct. 4.—The names of about fifty singers, artists and other persons in public life who have accepted membership on the committee to create the Caruso American Memorial Foundation were announced today by Dr. Antonio Stella, who is the chairman. An office has been established in the Woolworth Building.

A meeting will be held in about two weeks to elect officers of the foundation and it is expected that many more names will have been admitted to the committee then.

"Promising young Americans of both sexes, regardless of race or creed, will be the beneficiaries of the proposed fund," said the announcement. "Scholarships and prizes also will be awarded to students in instrumental and other branches of music. All awards will be made by a board of recognized authorities, to be named as soon as the fund is established."

"As the outlet of our work in behalf of a permanent American memorial for Enrico Caruso," said Dr. Stella, "we were impressed with the fact that nothing would be more fitting with the interest Caruso himself manifested in the development of promising young singers than the establishment of a Foundation that will provide annual scholarships and prizes to a democratic base and that will develop a wider appreciation of music generally."

"We are receiving assurances of co-operation from organizations of music lovers, from artists, leading representatives of the music trades, selling machine manufacturers and dealers, and from patrons and lovers of music generally. Indeed the response from all quarters augurs well for the fund."

JURY FINDS THOS. SPELLMAN GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

An extraordinary feature in this case was that the prosecution did not produce in the trial against O'Brien, a witness they did spring against Thomas Spellman, the witness was unworthy of credence in the O'Brien case, why had she been produced to bolster up the case against Spellman? No explanation had been offered in evidence until he, Mullin, obtained from Detective Powers in the witness stand. It was because she had failed to verify the location of the crime. Was that even handed evidence such as should be adduced in a murder trial?

Why was Spellman not tried first? Was it by accident or design? The crown in the Spellman case was placed in the position of having its principal witnesses differing on material points. The chief difference was to O'Brien, "Did he do this, did you?" What would the jury expect O'Brien to answer to such a question? Mrs. Smith swore that the three went in together and but two came out. She said nothing of one coming out while two stayed in. She had no motive in casting the blame on another. If one had come out, he would have come into the rays of the street light, and she would have seen him. She discredited O'Brien's story. How could the jury accept his version of who hit the blow. O'Brien said the three went up to Mrs. Moore's. Mrs. Moore said she did not see or hear anyone but Spellman.

Spellman told a frank story, he denied nothing, because he remembered nothing. His story was a mere restorable one than O'Brien's—the latter had a motive. Who from the evidence had the only evil intent? O'Brien told who in his evidence. If the jury believed Spellman's evidence as to his condition, his mind was not in a condition that could render him guilty. The crime had not been fastened satisfactorily on the accused, and the law said, "It is better that ninety-nine guilty men should go unpunished, than that one innocent man suffer." The prisoner was entitled to every reasonable doubt, concluded Mr. Mullin, and he asked them to acquit him.

Dr. Wallace.

Dr. Wallace in opening his address said that Mr. Mullin had made statements that he had been held back by the doctor, was not so. The fact that O'Brien was discharged lay not with him but with the jury who tried the case.

As to Mrs. Truscotte, Dr. Wallace said he knew nothing of the woman until the trial was drawing to a close. Detective Power had him the witness look on an ostrich. The ostrich didn't know he was in a contest for an hour or so, but along about the end of the second hour he came in and refused the carpet tackle. My man swallows half a dozen and won. No soft food was used.

Miss Olga Vesuvius has thrown every woman she ever met. Our standing offer of $100 to any female whom Olga Vesuvius can't throw inside three minutes still goes.

Consul Sees Possible Friendly Settlement

Japanese Official Speaks at Bigelow Home.

New York, Oct. 4.—K. Kumasaki, Japanese Consul-General in New York, said in an address delivered yesterday before an annual farmers' gathering at the late John Bigelow, the birthplace of the late John Bigelow, that while there are problems that must be solved by the United States and Japan, "there is absolutely nothing which is not susceptible of amicable and peaceful settlement if we only manage to keep our heads level." Mr. Kumasaki, speaking at the invitation of Poutney Bigelow, who has just returned from his first visit to Japan, said:

"I can sum up Japan in a very few words. Japan is a land of human beings. She is not a part of the different from other nations in her human qualities. We are attracted by her motives and impulses as actuate the rest of the world. Without claiming any special virtue for my people, I can say that they are sensitive to kindness. Japan is happy to think that she is a friend of your country."

"After the great war America and Japan have added responsibilities as great powers of the world because they are the only two which came out comparatively unscathed from Armageddon. It is our sacred obligation to cooperate in the reconstruction of the world. It would be an unseemable calamity not only to ourselves but to humanity if we were by any chance to fall out."

Poutney Bigelow warmly defended the high civilization of the Japanese people and denounced persons that would utterly exclude the Japanese from the United States. He said: "Every American who knows Japan welcomes her people. They are our peers in most matters that we call civilization and our superiors in many."

Boston Navy Yard tonight. The Hayden had been for 23 hours in tow of the steamer Wichita, according to her message, but broke adrift during the day. No other ships are known to be in the vicinity, and fear is held for her safety. Sailing from Genoa for Norfolk, August 27, the Hayden encountered pump trouble and was reported to have put into Porto Delgado, September 8. This trouble is believed to have occurred.

Judge Charges Jury

Judge Barry in his charge to the jury said the crown had seen fit to try O'Brien and Spellman separately, and it was their right to do so. The duty of the jury, as was his own, was an unpleasant duty, but one which the country expected them to perform. If they saw a man was guilty, it was their duty to say so.

Request To Make Visitors Welcome

Instruction Given at Meeting for Religious Canvassers of City to be Made Today.

A packed house describes last evening's meeting at the Knights of Pythias Hall at which instruction was given visitors for the religious canvass to be taken today. The auditorium was crowded to its capacity many remaining standing in the lobby throughout the address.

L. W. Simms was chairman and on the platform were Dr. Broderick, A. C. Skelton, E. J. Honneberry, J. N. Rogers, R. E. Armstrong, A. J. Mulcahy, L. H. Thorne, C. R. Watson and a number of local pastors.

After a few moments, silent prayer J. Shreve Durham gave instructions to the visitors telling them to deliver the card of general invitation and get a short report by having the questions on the printed card answered at the home. The fact that the appeal is to all trends of religions thought was pointed out. Two visitors of different denominations are asked to go together. People are requested if possible to remain at home between the hours of two and four today and to make the visitors welcome. Visitors will wear a badge.

The division of the city into eight different districts was explained by the chairman of that committee E. J. Honneberry.

SORRY WOMEN HAD THE VOTE.
It is not surprising that Hon. W. L. M. King regards the War Time Elections Act as inequitable.

Our esteemed contemporary The Globe, quotes with evident approval a paragraph from its Toronto name-sake which charges that while Mr. Meighen has been Premier for more than a year and a member of the Government for several years before, he has done nothing to help the country out of railway deficits, revenue shrinkages, unreasonable taxes, trade burdens and unemployment.

MR. ARCHAMBAULT'S FOLLY.
Appeals are being constantly made for a better understanding between the two great branches of Canadian people, but what degree of success towards the attainment of this end is likely to be made when we read of the cowardly attack made on Premier Meighen by Joseph Archambault, as ardent King supporter from Chamblay-Vercherres.

ZACCAHEA FAMILY OF 18 HAPPY WITH $20 A WEEK

President's Interest in Their Welfare Caused One Annoyance, Which Subside When Facts Upset Theory Propounded by Woman Visitor.

New York, Oct. 6.—One of the most cheerful places in New York city yesterday was on the second floor of 417 East Nineteenth street. Nothing in particular had come to pass to give rise to special rejoicing. Things were going along in the same old way. It was just the same old cheerfulness that had been there ever since Domenico Zaccahea, his wife and their sixteen children have lived there.

But as Mrs. Zaccahea explained, the nothing untoward had happened. The entire family was eating three meals a day, sleeping eight hours every night and laughing heartily every time they saw anything to laugh at. They weren't worrying about Mayor Hylan's chances of re-election, nor was the matter of the cable station at Yap depressing them. It was a lovely Sunday, the family was full again and President Harding's letter was still hanging over the mantelpiece in the front room.

This letter, it will be remembered, was written by the President to Mrs. Zaccahea after her plea, supported by her sixteen children, was printed in a New York newspaper. The President congratulated Mrs. Zaccahea. Mrs. Zaccahea replied to this President's letter asking him if he would speak a word to John Wanamaker in behalf of her husband, who is a porter in the Wanamaker store. She told the President that her husband's wage was $20 a week.

The President wrote to Mr. Wanamaker. Mr. Wanamaker said he would keep an eye on Domenico and do what he could to help the Zaccaheas along. When Domenico's command of English improved, Mr. Wanamaker hinted, he would be a much more valuable asset to the store.

"No, not yet," said Mrs. Zaccahea yesterday. "Maybe soon. He knows some English every day. We will get along. We have always got along. It could be so much worse."

Her shrug was eloquent.

Mrs. Zaccahea wrote to President Harding in the latter part of August. Yesterday she led the New York Herald reporter up the stairs to the third floor flat where she and her brood hold forth, and called upon her eldest daughter to explain that only one of the felt annoyed as a result of her correspondence with the President. It is a very clean, orderly flat they live in. "Just one," explained the daughter, "we were visited by the folks who want to show you how to live on $20 a week. She was a young woman with big, horn-rimmed spectacles and several books and papers in her arms. She wanted to come in, look over the place, interview the children one by one and then draw up a chart showing us how to live scientifically.

"I asked her if she was married. She said she wasn't. I asked her if she ever tried keeping a big family on $20 a week. She said she hadn't. Then I told her to go out and try both and when she had got away with them she might come back and we'd compare notes. That was the last we saw of her."

"Just say this for us, please. We have always got along and the chances are we always will. All we ask is to be let alone and given a fifty-fifty chance. We don't want anything that isn't ours. Say that for us, will you?"

Meanwhile a series of decrees, some recently issued and some about to go into effect, will further further the Soviet system. For example, the Bolshevik bureaucracy has been cut down by half and the commissars have been withdrawn from the army and factories. The factory Soviets have been abolished and the factory managers now have as much power as they ever had, without interference by the workmen. The workmen's broad rationing will be abolished soon and workers will have to buy their own bread with their earnings. Just as it was in America.

The extraordinary Commission is to be made an ordinary police department under a police commissioner to be appointed by the Government.

Kruschev thinks that these changes will react favorably on the foreign concession question, and entertains high hopes in connection with his present negotiations with foreign capitalists. Leslie Urquhart's English group, "October Deserve Month."

Apparently the Bolshevik wish to celebrate October, the anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution and of the Czar's overthrow and the Duma, by sweeping changes. The Pravda Soviet newspaper in Moscow, says:

"This is a decisive month. October means collapse or victory in our economic battle."

The Bolshevik think that even the famous me too done good by destroying the Nationalist movements among the Tartar Republics, the Khirgis, and the other peoples of the Volga, who have been moving towards complete independence.

CZARIST DEBTS REVIVED BY THE SOVIET PLEA

Offer to Assume Interest Held Out to French as Concession Fails to Develop.

Reval, via London, Oct. 6.—Before Gregory Kruschev of the Soviet Government left Moscow recently a conference of Bolshevik leaders there considered the Soviet position in connection with the old Czarist debts and foreign credits for the Soviet Government.

Kruschev said efforts to aid in developing Russia through the granting of foreign concessions still were the successful and proposed recognition of the Czarist debts on condition that French financiers would allow simple foreign credit to Russia.

Bolshevik leaders authorized him to negotiate with French capitalists and to promise to pay interest on the old debts owed by Russia to five to ten years. Kruschev is now negotiating with French financiers in this connection.

More Modifications.

Meanwhile a series of decrees, some recently issued and some about to go into effect, will further further the Soviet system. For example, the Bolshevik bureaucracy has been cut down by half and the commissars have been withdrawn from the army and factories. ### New Departure C. P. R. Baltic German Service

Following the lead of the Cunard and White Star Lines, the C. P. R. has decided to enter the Baltic German passenger trade by making Danzig a port of call for the eastward run of the liners Scandinavian and Corcoran, which hitherto have been calling at Southampton and Antwerp only. The first call at Danzig will be made by the Scandinavian, leaving Montreal on Oct. 15, and the second call will be made by the Corcoran, leaving Montreal on Oct. 15. The latest move of the C. P. R. has caused a big sensation in passenger steamship circles at Montreal.

When the service develops it will be in competition with the White Star liners Poland and Eddan, which are now maintaining the old Canada service, which were disrupted during the war. The Poland was the first liner since the war to run direct from Montreal to Germany, calling at Hamburg, Danzig and Liebau. The only other passenger connection with Germany is by the Cunard liner Saxonia, which makes Halifax a port of call when travelling from New York to the continent.

The German passenger trade and cargo connection with Montreal has now almost reached its pre-war importance, and, in respect, is superior, namely, in the case of liners which is running between the two countries. The present new service, it is claimed, shut out the Hamburg America Line more than ever from re-entry into Canadian trade.

Steamship Companies Cutting Down Expenses

Shipping Scale of American Ships has been reduced down to standard of British Merchant vessels as result of low freight rates.

American steamship companies operating in foreign trade, have succeeded in reducing the operating scale of their ships down to the standards of the British merchant vessels. Winthrop L. Marvin, general manager of the American Steamship Owners' Association, according to the New York "Macmillan Register," announced that the goal had actually been attained during the past few weeks and added that an effort was being made to reduce the number of the crew required to handle American freighters down to the level of the Norwegian. While it is hardly anticipated that this can be done, it was stated that the effort of the ship-owners to bring their operating costs down to a minimum had the approval of the Seaboard Inspection Service, and that the Shipping Board had followed the lead of the private owners. The cost of subsistence on American vessels, which ran as high as $1.25 per man during the period of inflation, have been reduced to an average of about 80 cents a day, Mr. Marvin said.

The low freight rates which are now in effect have forced ship-owners throughout the world to haul in sail in every way. From official figures of the American Steamship Owners' Association, it has been shown that a 3,800 deadweight ton cargo carrier under the Norwegian flag requires only 40 officers and men to man her. The British employ 45, while the Americans, before the drive to reduce the number of the crews was stated required 48.

Clemenceau Asks Arms Conference To Repair Wrongs

Ex-Premier Talks of Failure in Execution of Versailles Peace Treaty.

Paris, Oct. 5.—No political speech in years has been awaited in France with so much expectancy as the moving discourse pronounced today by former Premier Georges Clemenceau at the unveiling of his statue at St. Hermine in Vendee before a great multitude attracted there by the fact that the "Father of Victory" was about to break his long political silence.

In a measure, however, the exact effect of the speech on French politics cannot be measured for some days. The vigorous octogenarian did not designate his enemies as some had expected him to do, and the ideas that Clemenceau himself hoped by today's discourse to regain power had been long ago dismissed. By many it was regarded as his valedictory to active political life.

The suggestion which Clemenceau advanced that the Washington conference for the limitation of armament should repair what France had lost through the faulty execution of the Versailles Treaty and his reference to the making of the treaty, "I am not here to accuse any one. I will come from the fact that chiefs with the powers of subordinate wielded control that had to be controlled," are the cause of much comment.

Few Longshoremen Remaining Out in New York Strike

Strike Weakened Materially When Employers Decided to Continue Work.

New York, Oct. 6.—The longshoremen's strike which has been hampering work on the Chelsea and Hoboken steamship piers since Saturday was weakened materially yesterday when representatives of the leading steamship companies and employers of stevedores met at 69 Pearl street and agreed to keep work going at the affected piers regardless of the strike and to demand that the police of this city and Hoboken give all men working at the piers adequate protection.

Although it was denied at the close of the meeting that if such men as are out on strike do not return to work men who are not members of unions will be engaged to take their places, several persons concerned in the situation chose to read into the action taken a virtual notice that if the strike is not abandoned an attempt will be made to establish the open shop rules on the piers. Frederick C. Tompkins, vice-president of the International Mercantile Marine, who presided at the meeting, denied last night that the meeting had considered the question.

"The meeting was very fully attended," he said, "and every large employer of longshoremen at the harbor was represented. It was decided that the agreement now in force between us and the longshoremen would be kept absolutely by the employers and that such police assistance as may be necessary will be requested. None of the longshoremen's associations were represented at the meeting, but Mr. Cholpey, president of the International association, is expected in New York tomorrow, and we hope that he may be able to end the strike, such as it is."

At the headquarters of the International Longshoremen's Association yesterday it was declared that less than 3,000 men in all had quit work and that the association was urging all who had to return. It is considered improbable by the association that the strike will spread.

The strike, as far as it has gone, is the result of discontent on the part of the strikers with an agreement recently made, by which pier workers receive 55 cents an hour instead of 80. The agreement was ratified by the longshoremen's annual convention of the fifteen local unions of which it is composed had affirmed it by a vote of 10 to 3. Joseph Ryan, vice-president of the association, said yesterday had walked out would be back at work by today or tomorrow. The absence from the piers of such men as have struck will not interfere with passenger steamship schedules.

WIRTH SEEKING TO EXTEND THE COALITION

To Embrace the Principal Industrial and Financial Industries of Germany.

Repln, Sept. 29.—Preparatory to the reopening of the Reichstag, Chancellor Wirth held conferences with the Communist, who were known as the second set of conferences with the Coalition party leaders which held yesterday afternoon at which details of the new enlarged Coalition were discussed.

Particular political importance is attached to Dr. Wirth's conference with Stresemann, leader of the German People's Party. This party makes as a condition of its entry into the Government the setting up of a carrying through of a strong business-like programme for solving the most pressing problems besetting Germany particularly financial problems. The Stresemann party, embracing the principal industrial and financial interests, views the financial situation of Germany with unfeigned alarm and has served notice on the Chancellor and the Coalition Party, that if it will come in and co-operate only if "energetic measures are taken to eliminate the misery of the national finances."

The Reichstag session this afternoon was purely a formal exercise for mostly for memorial exercises for Erberger and other members who died during the recess. But tomorrow politics will begin to sizzle when the German National Party in embattled reactionary opposition, launched an interpretation regarding its recent exceptional ordinances promulgated by speech of Ebert limiting freedom of press and the interpellation the Chancellor is expected to deliver the customary so-called "big speech" thoroughly thrashing out the inner political situation in Germany as he sees it, but not overlooking chance to drag in a reference to Upper Silesia and the difficult and dangers of further cash reparations payments.

The ensuing political debate is expected to consume the rest of the week. But next week a debate is scheduled over the treaty with America, and it is expected that ratification will be railroaded through. Then the Reichstag will settle down to the real business of meeting the new tax programme.

The formal negotiations for the formation of the new Coalition Government are likely to drag to the middle of October, but early in the Reichstag session, the Social Democrats will accord a special vote of confidence to Wirth and make known that they will not buy the entry of the German People's Party into the movement at the price of dropping the present Chancellor.

Indictments To Be Voted Against Chicago Police

Big Shake-up in Department Implicated in Sale of "Booze."

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Federal Grand Jury indictments for violation of liquor laws may be voted against eight police officials and twelve subordinates in the investigation of Federal authorities into alleged complicity of the Department in booze sales, it was announced by dry officials tonight. Shortly after the Grand Jury probe was under way, Chief Fitzmorris announced the transfer to other districts of four lieutenants, thirty-three sergeants and seventy-two patrolmen. Thirteen detective sergeants are replaced by uniformed sergeants and lieutenants by Fitzmorris. One transfer is said to be directly traceable to the Federal liquor investigation.

Man of New Era Suggested.

The Liberts, while giving him credit for victory, says that France now must look "for a man, the new era whose heart and spirit will not be carried away by London any more than by Berlin."

The Temps sees in the speech a great contradiction, saying that if France has not secured what she expected it was because of concessions she was obliged to make to the Allies and the Entente, while Clemenceau says was an absolutely essential condition. If Clemenceau had remained in power, the Temps says, he would have found himself in same dilemma as the succeeding French Governments, because it is obvious that preservation of allied accord is more imperative for France than a strict application of the treaty.

President Harding has nominated Harry O'Neal, a practicing lawyer in Washington, to be judge of the District Court in the District of Columbia.
