CAMPBELLTON LADY DIES IN KOREA

Wife of Rev. Luther Young, Presbyterian Missionary Has Passed Away.

Halifax, April 16.—A cable has been received announcing the death in Korea of Mrs. Luther Young, wife of a Presbyterian Missionary in that country. Mrs. Young's illness was of comparatively short duration. With her husband she went to Korea and five years ago she was home in Canada on furlough. Mrs. Young was Miss Catherine Mair, of Campbellton, N. B. She leaves besides her husband four children.

Friends of deceased here received a despatch from Halifax conveying the sad intelligence. Mrs. Young was a great favorite here and friends will regret to learn of her death.

GET YOUR HOUSE GARDENS READY

Food Supply Important This Year. The enthusiastic spirit which animated the movement for home garden and vacant lot cultivation last year, and which was an important factor in keeping down the cost of living, will be as necessary in the coming year of reconstruction, says an announcement from the Canada Food Board. All indications are that similar garden work will be required to normalize food conditions.

COURT MARTIAL OPENED THURSDAY

Canadian Rioters at Kinnel Camp on Trial.

Liverpool, April 17.—The general court martial by the commander-in-chief of the western command for the trial of a number of Canadian soldiers who are alleged to have been concerned in the rioting in Kinnel Park last month opened here to-day. Between seventy and eighty men were originally placed under arrest, but a considerable proportion of these have already been dealt with, about a dozen cases remaining to be tried. Major Gen. Bursall is presiding.

Six prisoners: Privates A. Dickson, R. Archer, V. Costoglia and J. Wallace, and Sappers English and McKenzie, were charged to-day with having joined in the mutiny in His Majesty's forces.

Alternative charges are that they were present when soldiers combined to resist authority and failed to use their utmost endeavor to suppress the attempt.

Dear Sir:—

I read your letter with regard to the rule of the road with a great deal of interest. I have been thinking of the matter for some time. I was in sympathy with you both. I have been riding and driving horses all my life, single, double, four and six in hand, tandem, in fact about everything but a spike team, and the only time I ventured to drive sitting on the left side, I dashed a beautiful brass hub hand which did not belong to me. The trouble is, that Automobiles are taking the place of horses on the road and as most autos (being made in the states or Upper Canada where they turn to the right) have the driver's seat on the left, the pressure to have the rule changed is very great.

Yours sincerely,
PETER LINCOLN.

WON COMMISSION ON BATTLEFIELD

Lieutenant Armstrong Home After Fine Record Overseas—Deceased to Rank in Order to Cross Channel.

Among the New Brunswick men who arrived on the Celtic at Halifax was Lieutenant H. M. Armstrong, of 4th Battalion. He returns after a fine record overseas. An engineer by profession he enlisted with the 11th Battalion under Lieut.-Colonel W. A. Johnston. When the battalion was broken up in England he was sent to the adjutant-general's branch in London, remaining there several months. He was assigned to go to France, however, and in order to do so reverted to the ranks and crossed to the firing line as a private with the Canadian Engineers. He won his commission on the field a few months later.

LIQUOR SECRETED IN CAR'S CEILING

The Mysterious "Lunenburg" Yielded 440 Quarts Overproof Spirits—Seizure in Moncton and Bouchette.

The C. N. R. police continue to aid the prohibition law officials in enforcing the act, both in this province and Nova Scotia. C. N. R. Officer Coates recently seized several gallons of spirits on a Moncton and Bouchette railroad train. C. N. R. Inspectors Power and Tracy on Sunday seized several thousand dollars' worth of liquor on the Maritime express train at Halifax. The liquor was carefully concealed in the ceiling of a sleeping car.

This particular sleeping car, the "Lunenburg," has been somewhat of a mystery for weeks, inasmuch as it was known to be a source of supply for thirty individuals. The car runs between Moncton and Halifax. When the inspectors searched the car on several occasions they found nothing, but at last they noticed the absence of the usual number of screws in a section of the panelling of the ceiling.

When the panel was removed the officers found 440 quarts of Montreal brandy of high proof, valued at more than $5,000 retail. The inspectors believe that the employees on the car knew nothing of the liquor, but that it was carried in the car and through an arrangement between yard employees in Moncton and Halifax.

THE RULE OF THE ROAD.

To the Editor of The Telegraph:
Sir,—I notice in section 15 of the highway act of 1918, that, subject to the approval of the lieutenant-governor-in-council, we are to have or may have change in public traffic. At the present all teams draw to the left. This for convenience and common sense is the proper way. Here I shall give the following reasons:—Now, sir, as regards horse teamsters the bulk of men, and women too, are right-handed, and when driving a horse sit on the right side of the wagon, or whatever it may be. In a word, the driver is the responsible party and is to a certain extent responsible for the safety of all in the carriage. If the driver haul or turn to the left and the night is somewhat dark, each driver can easily see if they are giving sufficient room to pass. "Reverse that and you are putting the driver where he has no chance whatever to see what he is doing. Some will say change sides. Well, sir, as I have already said most people are right-handed or should be. All drivers use a whip or should; no driver should go on any public road without a whip. If I should sit on the opposite side to what is the custom now every time I attempted to whip my horse I would be very likely to get foul of my wife's nose. In that case, there would be civil war, and just so, sir, I lived twenty years on the Quebec side and over fifty years in New Brunswick, and know whereof I speak. In due respect to the lieutenant-governor, I know whereof I speak. It is required that he does, for the reason that our calling has been entirely different. There are some cases, when an order-in-council would be permissible, but not so in this case. The people of New Brunswick should be consulted. If they by their vote say there should be a change of left to

C.N.R. ENGINEER BADLY INJURED

Stanley Mann Thrown from Cab of Locomotive and Probably Fatally Injured.

Engineer Stanley Mann, one of the most efficient of C. N. R. engineers, running out of Campbellton was severely injured Tuesday morning near Routherville, Quebec, when he was either knocked or fell from the engine cab. He is now at the Hotel Dieu Hospital where he is in a very serious condition with little hope for his recovery.

Just how the accident happened will probably never be known as the unfortunate man was not even until after the accident, when the train was immediately stopped. It is thought that he went to the side of the cab, and perhaps got down on the steps to see if everything about the wheels was all right when he was knocked off by some object, or lost his hold and fell. He was only slightly bruised about the head, but was unconscious when picked up, and has remained in this condition ever since.

The unfortunate man was rushed to the Hotel Dieu Hospital here where everything possible is being done for him.

Stanley Mann died.

Shortly before going to press we learned that Engineer Stanley Mann had died at the Hotel Dieu Hospital.

THE CHANGE AS FICTION ALMOST WILLING TO GIVE UP

By Mr. Con. Johnson to Beginning to Fear
He Never Will Really Understand Women.

A little more than ten years ago an Englishman, dead in the streets, was given reason by being taken to hospital.
His illness, though not fatal, was ordinary. The doctor made of his convalescence a distinguished him.
Dressed up in bed, William De Morgan was the first man to be seen in the hospital. He was entirely recovered, to write another, which was destined to carry on the line about the coming world.
The book told the story of an engineer returned to London after many years abroad. There, a ship in the middle of the sea, he had lost his memory.
In the dead state he lived a new life.
For when he met his former wife, fell in love with her and married her again.
Strange as was De Morgan's tale, it seemed only he could make it convincing—London itself has duplicated it from life.

John Arthur Lewis, a returned soldier, was lately haled into court for stealing with intent. He had collected for his employers.
His innocence was easily proved. On the collecting trip he had been struck by a train and injured. Before of his memory he wandered over England, arrived at his old home, and was induced by his mother to a young woman, said to be his wife.

He refused to accept his post until one night the German airman dropped bomb, and the shock of the explosion restored his memory. Then all came back, even the uncompleted work of his last August.

History here modifies the ancient observation as to truth and fiction. Truth is not stranger than good writing.
Halter the artist, however, probably ahead of the facts and later reality celebrates him. Who knows, not at least one knows Arden? Tennyson guessed them all.

EASY MONEY FOR YOUNGSTERS

And incidentally Druggist Knows
More About United States Currency, So It's Even Easier.

The druggist at the corner was passing some spare money in change for a broken dime, the big part of which he was to get in change early, to an eleven-year-old boy.
"There's your three pennies change,"
said the druggist.
"Watch it, will you?" said the small boy.
"Your change, three pennies?"
"No, it's not. There's five pennies.
You didn't get no pennies in the house."

It was a case of a hundred of ten in the cash register.
"I'll let you get one, if you want a hundred," said the boy. "I'll let you in five cents."

"I'll take you," said the druggist.
"I'll take it, but I'll let you know it's not a hundred, it's only one."
"One cent? You don't get any cen-ties in our coins," said the boy.

The druggist shrugged his shoulders.
"Now," said the boy, "I'll let you know, you're a swindler, you're a

THE NEW COUNCIL.
An entire new council has been chosen, and apart from Mr. Worsley, Mayor Murray, not a man has had any previous experience at the Council board.
Citizens have mapped out an extensive program for our Council, but for them we bespeak patience as time is necessary even for small results.
Now surely, especially as the necessary bylaws have been passed, the democratizing of the town office work will be accomplished.
The new Council will have a free hand to redeem its pledges. Let them get to it.

CENTRAL STREET SUBWAY.
The matter of the building of a subway from Central street to Union St. is again receiving the attention of our citizens, and now that the war is over, the various organizations of our town should take up the matter in earnest.
That this subway is necessary is admitted by all, and the Graphic understands that the railway officials here have made the request for the placing in the estimates of a sum sufficient to complete this work.

THE HOUSING SCHEME.
At the last meeting of the Town Council a resolution was unanimously passed directing the Clerk to apply to the provincial government for $100,000 of the amount granted New Brunswick under the Dominion scheme for the erection of homes for the returned soldier and working man.

Fertilizer Prices.

became an active subject for discussion at the ending of the war. An immediate reduction was expected by many.

If prices had advanced immediately at the beginning of the war a like reduction might be expected at its close, but there was no actual advance in fertilizer prices until the spring of 1918, notwithstanding at that time the war had been on for over three years. This course did not apply to Potash fertilizers, the supply of Potash being cut off at once.

Late in the fall of 1917 on account of the high prices of fertilizer materials, the scarcity of shipping and the shortage of all fertilizer there was a general feeling that there would not be an adequate supply. This was called to the attention of the Government officials and the manager of the Colonial Fertilizer Company was asked to appear before the Committee on Increased Production of the Nova Scotia Legislature, and gave all possible assistance to relieve the fertilizer shortage.

In the summer of 1918 with the experience of that spring the Agricultural Department of New Brunswick called together the fertilizer manufacturers and recommended they put in a heavy stock of fertilizer materials. The Secretary of Agriculture for Nova Scotia also urged the Colonial Fertilizer Company to put in an extra supply of raw materials IRRESPECTIVE OF THEIR COST. He realized as did the manufacturers the importance of fertilizer to the food supply, and to get large crops fertilizer must be used.

At the close of the war all fertilizer manufacturers in Canada being urged by the government officials, had on hand a very large stock of fertilizer bought at the extreme outside prices quoted in the summer and fall of 1918.

The expected lower prices have not been realized but on the contrary there was a heavy demand for export and prices on some materials have actually advanced.

The sensational report appeared late in March as to heavy reduction in price of fertilizers in Aroostook County. This is traced back to one brokerage firm in New York which is attempting to dispose of undesirable fertilizer materials directly to the farmers. This material is such that no fertilizer manufacturer will buy it although it has been on the market for sometime and the holders of it are willing to sacrifice it at a cut price. An Aroostook County farmer writes: "Have been investigating the chemicals that the New York firm is offering and have found out that it is taking chances to use it. You may refer to me or any of our Aroostook County boys in reference to this stuff as we have made a close study of these goods and feel quite safe in denouncing its use for the Aroostook County appts." The amount of this material is but a drop in the bucket of the requirements of fertilizer and it is offered cheap because it is a cheap material.

The farmers must decide now, whether or not they are going to plant this season with a falling off of 50 per cent. in the acreage of potatoes and garden trucks in the Southern States and the immense demand for food in Europe, it appears the farmers of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick are in a position to put in a big acreage and get the advantage of the market conditions which must prevail in the fall.

TWO EX-PREMIERS IN CABINET

Situation in British Politics That Has Never Before Occurred is Among the Possibilities.

Herbert H. Asquith, former premier, is often mentioned as a possible addition to the present cabinet. The Manchester Guardian points out that if this happens Lloyd George will have two former prime ministers among his subordinates. There is no former instance of the case of see-saw which was played by Lord John Russell and Lord Palmerston. In the government of 1866-72 Lord John Russell was prime minister and Lord Palmerston foreign secretary, and in the government of 1870-74 their two positions were exactly reversed.

It was Lord John Russell's exceptional fate to be prime minister from the age of fifty-four till that of sixty-two, and out of his subordinate offices, under Lord Aberdeen and then under Lord Palmerston, from sixty to seventy-three, and at that age to be prime minister again.
If Lloyd George gets Mr. Asquith as well as Mr. Balfour he will have all the living former premiers except one, the exception being Lord Rosebery, whose period of office—15 months—was as short as to compare with the meteoric premiership of the age of Cameron.

FLASH LIGHTS IN URBAN
Fireflies seem to have an understanding as to when to begin an illumination.

Various observers testify to the fact that myriads of glow worms very occasionally indulge in synchronous flashing with very beautiful effect. It is thought by some that this phenomenon is accidental, although in this light some cases would seem incredible.

John V. Purcell of Washington, D. C. records that in the town of Colchester, in the state of Maine, a few years ago there were two trees about the size of apple trees and perhaps a hundred yards apart, and every evening these were filled with fireflies which flashed in unison, first one tree lighting up and then the other. There must have been several thousand insects in each tree, yet the synchronism was so perfect that rarely or never did a single firefly flash at the wrong time.

"To the best of my recollection the illumination period lasted about two or three seconds and the dark period perhaps twice that long. I can positively vouch for the accuracy of the foregoing, for it seemed to me that I produced so beautiful an effect that I thought it one of the most remarkable things in the Philippines, and it made a deep impression on me."

War Brings Peace to New York.

All is peace in New York's toughest district since the war. A year or so ago any person who wandered through the "Gus House" district on First Avenue from Seventeenth to Twenty-second street, at night usually came away with a watch and roll and with a battered countenance. Many were the actual and alleged breaches of the peace laid to the young manhood of this section of the city. It ran the gamut of everything from riot to murder. Today all this is changed. Since the "Gus House" district has been cleared there is an air of refinement and culture in the district. Men and women meet on friendly terms and clothes-line fights and feuds between the women are only memories. Gone is the old order of things material. Rights have given way to celebrations in honor of the late from the district now fighting in France. There are 171 of them from this section and the other night a service flag was unfurled. It showed five gold stars. Two thousand men, women and children, many of them mothers and fathers, lifted their voices in a pean of conservation.

Twice Cited for Bravery.

To have been cited by the French for bravery twice since his arrival in France in January is the record of Professor Stephen H. Bush of the University of Iowa. In the wake of the first official announcement came a lengthy cablegram with the details of his second citation. "Courage and tenacity in bringing in wounded over exposed places" were conspicuous on the part of Professor Bush, who is working for the Y. M. C. A. with the Moroccan divisions.

The cablegram further declares that the "French are devoted to Professor Bush and the other Y. M. C. A. workers in his division and are gaining a high opinion of Americans through contact with them." Professor Bush is head of the department of romance languages at the university—Iowa University News Letter.

Marked Out.
The appearance of letter B on oats coming up this season, which is astonishing people in the rural regions of Wisconsin, is less mysterious than what is said to have happened at Zanzibar, where, so report says, a fish was caught with two inscriptions in Arabic characters on its tail. These, as deciphered by scholars, were respectively "The work of God" and "Honor be to him." The Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.

CONVENTION HAS BEEN POSTPONED

Provincial Opposition Will Not Meet in May.

Fredericton, April 17.—It was announced, this afternoon, that the general convention of the Provincial Opposition Party, which had been called for St. John, on May 7th, has been again postponed, this time indefinitely. It is understood that the members of the opposition party in the Legislature will meet at St. John some time in June, and then decide as to the date for a convention and other plans of action. The charge is due to the understanding that the government plans for an immediate election have been altered.

MORE PAY FOR LOCAL LEGISLATORS?

Fredericton, April 17.—There is a very persistent movement under way to increase the sessional indemnity of members of the Legislature from $500, the present amount, to $800, or even $1,000, and it may be that it will take definite form before the House is prorogued.

ALWAYS HUNGRY AT NIGHT

Kansas City Man Beginning to Fear He is Afflicted With an Unpatriotic Stomach.

A Kansas City man who is trying to be very patriotic is beginning to wonder if he is not cursed with a pro-German stomach. During the daytime, when he is up on his feet, he has no trouble observing the food regulations, but just as soon as he lies down at night to go to sleep, his stomach takes advantage of the fact that he is fat on his back and refuses to give way to Morpheus until he eats again.

"Sometimes I manage to get to sleep without taking on an extra cargo of food," he says. "But when I do I usually wake up in the middle of the night with a mad craving for food, and the only way I can get back to sleep is to get up, go out to the kitchen and cook myself some hot food."

The man says he has tried his best to overcome this hunger habit, but is unable to do so. Several times a week he will go to the kitchen in the middle of the night, put on a skillet and fry a piece of ham, or bacon and eggs, and, after eating an ordinary size meal, will go back to bed and sleep. He says he has tried eating fruits and light food, but his stomach will have none of these and insists upon meats. Often when he is standing over a skillet dressed only in his pajamas in the dead of night he says he feels like a thief stealing food, while others who patriotically observe all of Mr. Hoover's regulations are asleep.

"Maybe you have a tapeworm with Teutonic leanings," a friend suggested. "Maybe I have," the man replied, sadly, "but I think it is an inherited habit that is just getting a grip on me. I remember when my folks lived on a farm near Pomfret. When I was just a kid my father used to have to get up in the night and eat as I do. But it is only recently that I have become addicted to the habit, and it is only since the food regulations became so strict that I have worried about it."

Maybe your wife's cooking is not as good as it used to be," was the next logical suggestion. "Don't you ever think I ain't, young men?" the glutton of the darkness replied indignantly. "My wife, sir, is the best cook in Kansas City! You may accuse me of having German tapeworm or of having an unpatriotic stomach, but you must not reflect upon my wife's culinary art. Good evening, sir!"—Kansas City Star.

Deceased was seventy-eight years of age and was a well known and respected resident of Newcastle, having carried on a tailoring business for a period of years. The remains were interred in the Presbyterian cemetery Thursday afternoon.

Eels Are Eels.

John Treadwell Nichols, assistant curator of the department of ichthyology of the American Museum of Natural History, has done his bit for the eel. He has written a book on the eel, and has been successful in his efforts to bring about a change in the prejudice against eels.

The chapter of the cookbook devoted to eels should begin: "First catch your eel; then forget how it looks." The trouble with eating eels is at the start. After the first plate of eels the reluctant customer is ready for more.

Mr. Nichols assures us that eels have, in fact, no relationship with snakes. They have developed their form and sinuosity by their habit of poking into cracks and crannies of waterbeds. "They are true eels and should not be victims of the prejudice against snakes."

The easiest way to cook eels is to skin them, clean them, cut them into lengths and fry in butter. "Many persons," says Mr. Nichols, "find them delicious." That's no lie—Buffalo Enquirer.

Unfortunate Expression.

Although our new war secretary, Lord Milner, cannot exactly be said to be a humorist, he can enjoy a good story against himself, as witness the following, which he is fond of relating.

Some years ago, fresh from his South African triumphs, he addressed an audience of undergraduates at his old university.

"We must remember not merely the beauty of the individual colleges, but the beauty of Oxford as a whole. And what a whole it is."

"Hear, hear!" yelled the variety men. "Yes, what a hole!" they groaned. "What a beastly hole!"

Then it dawned upon Lord Milner that this was a sentiment he would rather have expressed differently.—Pearson's Weekly.

Poland's Long-Lost Crown.

When the Prussians took possession of Cracow, in 1794, the Polish kingdom ceased to exist. The king of Prussia coveted the traditional diadem of Poland's kings for his own adornment. It had, however, disappeared mysteriously, and the Prussian king was baffled of his wish. In January, 1914, seven months before the world war broke out, during a severe storm, lightning struck a stately chateau close to the city and brought to light a secret treasure which had lain buried at its roots for 123 years, the long-lost crown of Poland.

Scenery on the Way.

Writing home from France a St. Louis soldier says:

"The first days out I was seasick, later I was homesick, but before the end of the trip I was feeling fine."

"There was a negro battalion in the fore part of the ship and a white one aft. I think I saw every kind of a fish on the way across."

Marcellus Peanut Center.

Marcellus, France is the great central market for peanuts, more than 120,000 metric tons of peanuts in the shell and 200,000 tons of shelled nuts being crushed there in a single year.
