Obituary.
 Miss Mary A. Russell.
 The death of Miss Mary Anna Russell, occurred at her home at Lily Lake on Sept. 18th last after a lingering illness of many years.
 She leaves to mourn the loss of a devoted sister and three brothers Joseph, Albert and home, Frances of Atholville and Mrs. John Lemieux of Campbellton.
 A Blowing Chicken.
 Little Mary was visiting her grandmother in the country. Walking in the garden, she chanced to see a peacock, a bird that she had never seen before. After gazing in silent admiration she ran quickly into the house and cried out: "Oh, granny, come and see! One of your chickens is in bloom."

SAY GOOD BYE TO REV. AND MRS. MILLER

Large Gathering at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Thursday Evening.

After some seven years of fruitful labor here as pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church the Reverend Hugh Miller, accompanied by Mrs. Miller, left on Monday morning for St. John to take up the duties there as pastor of St. David's Presbyterian Church.
 During the past few weeks, the many and varied expressions of regret at the departure of these able Christian workers have been abundant evidence of their wide popularity here and the important place they have come to fill in the life of the community. One of these took form in a congregational meeting on Thursday evening last when the Rev. Hugh and Mrs. Miller were present with an address of appreciation and a purse of gold. The meeting took place in the hall of the church and the spacious room was crowded to the doors. The address which was read by Mr. Yegston follows:
 We the members of your present congregation feel that we cannot let you go without some expression of the appreciation which we have for you personally and of the work which you have done amongst us. Your affability and personal charm but more especially that "touch of kindness which makes the whole world kin" have endeared you to us all. Your dignified upholding of the sacred profession to which you have called has won the respect and esteem of all classes and creeds in our community. You have not only been the minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian congregation but a loved and honored citizen of our town.
 Of the work of yourself and your beloved consort it is hardly necessary to speak in this gathering. "By their fruits ye shall know them." The evidence of the fruits of consecrated devotion to duty and untiring effort for the upbuilding of The Master's Kingdom is revealed by increased membership. Financial progress and a higher spiritual life in our congregation. Your session have found in you a moderator of clear judgment and one with whom it was a pleasure to work.
 When we consider these things we are filled with regret at the thought of parting and have sought for some tangible means by which to express to you our feelings on this occasion and to this end would ask you to accept this purse, from the congregation of St. Andrew's with the prayer that in the wider sphere of labor to which you have been called, as the inevitable result of the talent having been used as The Master desired, you may be abundantly blessed by the giver of all good things. We assure you that

BIG WINDJAMMER NOW IN PORT

Largest Sailing Vessel to Dock Here For Many Years.

One of the largest sailing vessels that has docked here in recent years is now loading at this port. The vessel which is a four-masted barque of 2500 tons displacement named "Souverain" arrived here Monday 17th inst and is loading long lumber for Stearns Cutler, formerly known as the Shives Lumber Co.
 The Souverain which is twenty-nine years old having been built in Holland in 1888, was formerly a German vessel. During the recent war she was laid up on the west coast of America and after the armistice was taken over by the British government. She was later bought by the Bernsteens of Hovedstrand, Norway, and was fitted up and put into service. At present she is in command of Capt. Arnold Bernsten of Hovedstrand. In an interview with the Graphic Capt. Bernsten spoke enthusiastically of his wife and two bright children who accompany him on his long voyages.
 Besides being one of the largest vessels fitted with very modern equipment having patent anchors similar to large steamers and motors for hoisting her sails. It will take about three weeks more for her to complete loading as she will take on about two million feet of lumber. Leaving here she will sail for Australia touching at Adelaide and Melbourne.

MANY ACCOUNTS PASSED BY COUNCIL

Bills For Permanent Works Make Up Big Total—Department Reports.

The meeting of the Town Council held Tuesday evening was in respect to amount of accounts passed a record breaker, as nearly $30,000 was voted to pay outstanding accounts for the usual public services and for permanent work now under way.
 The meeting was called to order by His Worship Mayor McKay. There were present Councillors, Belle-Ile, Gilker, St. Onge, Graham, Matthews, Duncan, Moore and Marquis.
 C. B. Gray wrote asking for refund of poll tax for past three years as he was over the prescribed age. Referred to Assessment and Appeals Committee.
 L. S. Brown, Assistant General Manager of the C. N. R. wrote asking resolution, re gates at street railway crossings, and said the matter had been referred to the general manager.—Filed.
 Joseph Boudreau wrote asking town to sell or lease lot in rear of his store. Referred to Public Property and Streets Committee.
 Dr. H. A. Ferris of the St. John County Hospital wrote two lengthy letters in reference to that hospital's claim against the town for treatment to Miss Walker. It will be remembered that the above hospital admitted Miss Walker as a patient, and billed Campbellton. This town refused to entertain the account as Miss Walker had never been a resident of this town.
 Coun. Belle-Ile said that owing to circumstances in connection with this account, although the town was not legally bound to pay it, he felt that some settlement should be made. We were morally responsible for the cause of this patient.
 Coun. Duncan thought that in this particular case the Municipality should be responsible.
 His Worship said the town was self governing and was wholly responsible if at all responsible.
 Coun. Duncan said that he understood that a former mayor had known all about this case and had, in fact, written the hospital about same, and this influenced her taking in. But the town was not legally obliged to pay, and we would be committing an injustice to the town if we paid this claim.
 Coun. Belle-Ile said that the girl's father lived in town for years and it was possible that the former mayor and others thought this patient was a resident. The council was no doubt delirious in dealing with the matter and did not repudiate bill promptly.
 If council had repudiated account at once it would not have been so large.
 Coun. Graham—What is the amount of the bill.
 His Worship—Between five and six hundred dollars.
 Coun. Graham moved that the bill be paid up to time Council served formal notice that we were not responsible.—Carried.
 Wm. Taylor wrote asking to be appointed street commissioner if there was a vacancy.—Placed on file.
 Nap. LeBouffe asking for a chance to buy or lease L. N. R. right of way if same was for sale. Clerk instructed to write that same was not for sale.
 Edw. Mann asked for light extension to his residence just west of town line. Referred to Electric Light Committee.
 The priest at East Bathurst wrote offering $40. for the fire alarm bell.—Filed.
 Thos. W. Henry wrote re his assessment. Referred to Assessment and Appeals Committee.
 B. A. Mowat wrote re making crossing to their store, enclosing account of $6.00.
 His Worship said the Public Property and Streets Committee had never been notified to attend to this. Bill referred to this committee.
 The bill for repairs to Mr. P. M. Shannon's car damaged by town team, amounting to $288.96 was submitted. Account was handed to Public Property and Streets Committee for investigation.
 The bill for repairs to Mr. J. Bissett's car, damaged in avoiding collision with town truck, which was on wrong side of street, amounting to $89.47 was ordered paid.
 A petition from the residents of Ritchie Street and others asking that concrete sidewalk be laid at once and referred to the Public Property and Streets Committee with power to investigate.
 The following departmental accounts were passed:

REV. HUGH MILLER WAS INDUCTED

Large Congregation Witnesses Services in St. David's Church.

(St. John Telegraph).
 At once an occasion of solemnity and of rejoicing, the services in St. David's Presbyterian church last night, when Rev. Hugh Miller was inducted into his new charge, was attended by a large congregation. The members of the church were eager to welcome the new minister, and at the close of the service, when a reception was held in order that Mr. Miller might become better acquainted with his parishioners, felicitous addresses were given and Mrs. P. C. Johnston, president of the W. M. S., on behalf of the ladies, presented Mr. Miller with a handsome Geneva gown, in which he promptly arrayed himself.
 During the service the full choir of St. David's church led in the singing and rendered the anthem, "Send thy light," with fine effect.
 The reception was held in the school room following the induction service. Speeches were made by S. R. Jack, representing the session of the church; Atkinson Morrison, of the trustee board; Rev. W. W. Malcolm, of St. Stephen, a former member of St. David's congregation; Rev. F. S. Dowling, and Rev. W. Townsend who, as interim-moderator of the church, was the chairman for the reception. The women of the congregation served refreshments. The presentation of the Geneva gown was a happy incident.

CHARGE A POLICEMAN

Accused of Being Under Influence of Liquor While on Duty.

At the meeting of the Town Council held Tuesday evening, Coun. Graham reported as follows the investigation into charges laid against Policeman R. Byrnes.
 The Police and License Committee called to meet in the Town Hall, Thursday afternoon, Aug. 31st, following a special meeting of the council at 4.30 for the purpose of hearing charges against Policeman R. Byrnes laid by Chief Jas. Adams. Present: Couns. Graham, St. Onge, Gilker and His Worship.
 Charge—This is to notify you that Officer Byrnes duty staff was, on the twenty-ninth instant in Dalhousie. He returned to Campbellton about 6.30 under the influence of liquor, so much so that he was unable to be on duty after his return.
 Years very truly
 JAMES ADAMS,
 Statement of A. J. Smith, Policeman—"On the night of the 22nd July, whilst acting Chief of Police, I had occasion to send Policeman Byrnes home as he was not in a fit condition for duty, being under the influence of liquor."
 Policeman Byrnes stated that he was in Dalhousie on the stated date, and on his way home he had some liquor and it made him sick. He was unable to report for duty and informed the chief to that effect. He further stated that he had no knowledge of having been sent home on the 22nd of July by the acting chief.
 Your committee having considered all the evidence in the case very carefully find that Policeman Byrnes admits the charge on the 29th August.

Recommendations.
 The majority of the committee would recommend that Policeman R. Byrnes be given another chance and be severely reprimanded.
 G. ST. ONGE,
 J. GILKER.

The minority of the committee would recommend that according to the admittance of the charge of the 29th August and in consideration the charge on the 22nd July, that it would be to the best interests of the good order and discipline of the police force that the services of Policeman R. Byrnes be dispensed with, effective at once. I would strongly appeal to the members present to support this finding.
 D. K. GRAHAM,
 Chairman of Com.
 Coun. Graham moved that the report be received and that the report of the minority be carried out.
 There was no seconder to this.
 Coun. Duncan moved that the report of the majority be adopted and that Policeman Byrnes be given another chance.—Carried.
 Coun. Graham said that as chairman of the committee he should be backed up by the Council. The only thing left for him was to resign the chairmanship of the committee. It was a reflection on him.
 His Worship did not think that the adoption of the majority report was a reflection on the chairman, and did not think a resignation was necessary.
 Coun. Belle-Ile said that so far as he could see the whole police force needed a shake up. Policeman Smith should be reprimanded for not reporting Byrnes at once instead of waiting a month.
 Coun. Gilker said that Policeman Byrnes was in a disgraceful condition on the day mentioned. He was in favor of giving him another chance for the sake of his family. If he should be intoxicated again he should be immediately dismissed.
 His Worship said that it was undoubtedly the wish of the Council to give Byrnes another chance.

Railway News

Montreal.—The Canadian Pacific announces several appointments to positions in the British Isles and Europe. They are as follows: William Stewart, to be Glasgow passenger agent, with his office at 25 Northwell Street, Glasgow; J. H. Hebb, destined for the post of passenger agent at Southampton, and A. L. Wilkinson, slated for Antwerp, where he will take charge of the passenger office.

Sudbury.—Tuesday, August 8th, was the dawn of a new day in Northern Ontario railroading, when between seventy-five and eighty officers and employees of the C. P. R. gathered in Sudbury and organized what will be known as the Algoma District Employees' Association of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Every branch of the service, from general superintendent down, was represented. The object of the new association is to meet at regular intervals to discuss all subjects vital to the better serving of the public, and thereby be of greater service to Canada, and naturally the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Buff.—The American Bar Association, travelling east from its recent convention in San Francisco, spent two days in the Canadian Rockies. The party travelled in two special trains, one by the Canadian Pacific and one by the Chicago, where it dissolved.

Several notable citizens of the United States were among the party, there being Vice-President Coolidge, his wife and two sons; John W. Davis, former ambassador to Great Britain; and John W. Whitman, former governor of New York State. The party expressed delight at the wonderful grandeur of Banff and Lake Louise, where two days were spent.

Montreal.—Despite warnings and the efforts of the railways to prevent it, accidents are occurring at railway crossings. If automobile drivers were a little more cautious they would save themselves a great deal of trouble and save their cars from a great deal of damage. Of course there are some cases where it is difficult to avoid accidents, but most accidents that happen are avoidable. Particulars have just come to hand of an occurrence in New Brunswick.

An Overland automobile, license 12121, N. B., owned by F. B. Jones, of Perth Junction, and driven by R. Anderson, also of Perth Junction, ran into the C. P. R. train No. 162 at the crossing just north of Amherst, N. B. The engine had already passed over the crossing and the auto struck the side of the tender. Mr. Anderson claimed that he did not see or hear the train in time to stop, although his car was going very slowly. The car was considerably damaged, but happily nobody was hurt.

Quebec.—All records were broken at the Chateau Frontenac, the hotel being filled to capacity and not a single room being vacant. Many of the passengers who came from New York, had to remain on board the steamer for the night at the hotel. Tourists from all parts of the States and Canada arrived by motor and the parking space in front of the Chateau was lined with rows and rows of cars. The lobby of the hotel was crowded with people anxiously waiting for accommodation and in the evening the crowd was greater than ever. The new wing of the Chateau when completed, will undoubtedly accommodate to the city as the additional accommodation thus obtained will satisfy the large demand made on the hotel.

With the advent of the August tourists traffic conditions in Quebec have taken on a new aspect, which has necessitated an extension in the service of the traffic policemen.

Pembroke.—The Canadian Forestry Association's Forest Protection Exhibit Car came to Pembroke on the civic holiday, under the management of Mr. Gerald Slight, assistant secretary of the association, and was visited by the various stages of the Canadian Pacific Railway station yard by a large number of interested citizens. The exhibit car contains many novel and interesting models calculated to demonstrate the correct and incorrect method of logging, the result of deforesting the hills, and what happens when camp fires are neglected or carelessly thrown away in the dry woods.

One exhibit showing ladies' blouses, stockings and other silk wear made from sulphite pulp is attracting considerable attention, and another which interested the visitors greatly showed the various stages in the making of matches. A sign over the latter exhibit pointed out that one tree will make a million matches, but that one match can destroy a million trees. Perhaps the most interesting and attractive model on the car is a large model of a heavily timbered country and a small town close by. When a lever is turned there is a complete transformation. The light goes out and by an arrangement of screens the forest and town are seen to be on fire. This model cost about $1,000 to construct. Another model shows how deforestation causes rivers to flood in spring and dry up in the summer. There is a sprinkler arrangement attached to this.

NOVEMBER ROD AND GUN. There are several different features in the November issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, which combine to make it a particularly attractive number. The well known writer, Harry M. Moore, is at his best in "Star" Ann," an interesting gripping tale, and there are other stories that are of a high quality. The article, "Logs," descriptive of the logging and lumbering industry and of the uses and incidents in the lives of the brave men who labor in it, is one of outstanding quality. The department, "Along the Trap Line," resumes in this issue, with Mr. M. U. Bates as editor, and this should be a guarantee that the department will enjoy all its old success, and will be of the same high standard that it has been in the past. The other departments are of their usual excellence. "Guns and Ammunition" includes splendid articles by E. T. Martin and E. T. D. Francis, as well as detailed accounts of the D.R.A. and the O.R.A. males, and the other regular features of the magazine are of similar quality.

A Nova Scotia Vessel That Never Returned

Strange Story of the "City of Boston" That Disappeared So Mysteriously After Leaving Halifax With 200 Souls on Board.

The moonbeam dancing o'er the waves, Is all that marks dear George's grave. "Hump," I ejaculated satirically, as I read the epitaph on a gleaming marble column in Camp Hill Cemetery, Halifax.

"Widow's monument to her husband," replied my companion, the peculiar part of the thing lies in the fact, that no one ever knew where "dear George" went; to unless it was the bottom of the Atlantic, none of his bones lie beneath that stone, it is like a number of others in this place erected only to a memory.

"What happened?" I asked curiously, scenting a story. "The City of Boston" disappeared with quite a number of well known Nova Scotians in 1870, and was never heard of after. If you like to hear the story, I'll give you the facts. I remember the consternation the disaster caused in the city, although I was only a youth at the time. I remember it very plainly.

In the year 1865, a ship was built in Glasgow, Scotland that was destined to be one of the mystery ships of the world. Her builders were Messrs. Todd and MacGregor. She was owned by "The Inman Line" was an iron screw steamer, with seven water-tight compartments. Her engines worked normally three hundred and sixty (360) horse power, but at pressure they could run as high as one thousand seven hundred and seventy-two (1772). Her gross tonnage was two thousand six hundred and thirteen (2613) and she was ship-rigged. She cost her owners $4,000,000 pounds and was valued at $5,000,000 pounds worth about $20,000,000 pounds insurance on the amount. She was a splendid type of the ocean-greyhound of the period, the last vessel sailing the Atlantic to become a mystery ship, but mystery ship she became and as such she will always be remembered.

On the 27th of January 1870, a clear cold snow-encrusted Nova Scotian winter's day, she stole quietly into Halifax Harbor and dropped anchor after having stopped at New York on her way across the Atlantic from Liverpool.

She remained at her moorings until noon of the following day, took on board the mails, a quantity of cargo, fifty-seven in measurement, and twenty tons in weight, and a number of passengers. Crew and passengers altogether amounted to over two hundred souls.

Among her passengers from Halifax on this ill-fated voyage out, were several of the city's wealthiest, best known, and widely influential business men. Notable among them being A. K. Doull of the large wholesale dry goods firm of Doull & Miller, Edward Billings, of the firm of Anderson & Billing, John Barron of P. Power & Co., G. A. Knox of Knox and Jordan, perhaps the dear George of the widow's tombstone mentioned above, G. S. Silver of the firm of W. & C. Silver, E. J. Kenny of the firm of T. & E. Kenny; John Thomson of Thomson & Co.; and several Halifax ladies, their maids, and their children. There were nearly one hundred others but the above mentioned comprise perhaps the best known in Halifax society life.

These business men were on the way to purchase spring merchandise for their respective firms, and for the majority of those on board it was either a purely business trip or else a case of homeward bound for the Motherland.

Given fair winds and steady weather there was not the slightest reason why "The City of Boston" should not have reached her first port of call around between February fifteen and twentieth, perhaps a little earlier. Meanwhile Halifax waited patiently. The winter was well advanced, ice was prevalent, there might arise a hundred things to detain a passenger ship at that time of the year. Everyone was hopeful, every day relatives and friends of those on board watched eagerly for the bulletin that should announce the vessel's safe arrival. The end of February, fears began to be entertained by the over-anxious and the faces of the citizens became to assume a gravity they could not conceal.

Wednesday morning, March 6th, telegrams were received saying "The City of Boston" had arrived safely at Queenston at one a.m. after a somewhat tempestuous voyage across. Halifax rang with jubilation, the citizens of those on board.

The gloom of the past week disappeared from all faces, the men went about their tasks with lighter hearts. Mr. Thomas Kenny (brother-in-law of the late Sir, M. B. Daly, former Lieutenant-Governor) received a congratulatory message from Sir John Rose, London, telling him his brother Mr. E. J. Kenny had arrived safely, Sir Edward Kenny of Halifax also received one. As I said before the news created intense excitement in the city, excitement which was shortly afterward turned to utter dismay when the good report was contradicted. Day after day, night after night, for the following fortnight and even later, men and haggard-faced women haunted the wharves and officers of the ship's company, hungry for news either good or bad of the ship which carried their loved ones. The tension in the city extended to all classes of society, nothing was talked about or thought of but the missing steamer with its precious cargo of human freight, but "What happened?" I asked curiously, scenting a story.

LADY SHOT MOOSE WITH A 22 RIFLE
King of Forest Walked Out Camp While Men Were Out Looking for Him.
Quebec, Sept. 23.—While most of the moose hunters have been disappointed one party at least got its moose, and under very peculiar circumstances. The party was staying at one of the camps in the North and the men had gone out to look for big game leaving the ladies of the party at the camp. The men had been gone for some time when much to the surprise of the ladies a moose walked into the camp. It requires great presence of mind to act quickly in an emergency of this kind but one of the ladies promptly seized a gun, which happened to be of only 22 calibre, and shot the moose through the eye killing it instantly. This is an unusual feat when one considers the difference in size between a 22 calibre in size between a 22 calibre in size between a 22 calibre rifle and a 308, which is the usual size used for hunting moose. The 22 is ten times smaller than the 308. This is the second case of the kind which has occurred around Quebec, as two years ago another moose was shot under much the same circumstances. Disappointment has been the lot of the hunter this year so far. He has gone into the woods expecting to find plenty of birds and moose and has come out with only a few birds. And only in one or two cases has a moose been shot.

Suitable printed tags with name and place for printing can be procured at the Graphic Office for $2.50 for 100; $3.00 for 250; $3.50 for 500; $4.50 for 1000.

Only One Ship
An American doughboy captive to a Boche officer, was questioned: "How many of you American soldiers are there on this side of the Atlantic?" queried the German. "Oh! About three million of us." HEAVY RAIN IN THE WEST
Make Harvesting Difficult in Some Sections—Some Wheat Sprouted.
WINNIPEG, Sept. 19.—(Canadian Press.)—Harvesting over the three Prairie Provinces has been interfered with to some extent by wet cool weather according to the weekly crop report issued yesterday by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Recent wet spells have insured a good supply of winter feed in many districts where a month ago, a shortage seemed inevitable. Although the livestock markets have been fairly active during the past two weeks, prices are not encouraging. Threshing operations in Manitoba have been almost at a standstill on account of wet weather. One farmer in the Carman district states that there are three sheaves on every stock on his farm sprouted. Owing to the condition of the roads there has been some difficulty in hauling grain to cars and elevators, but what wheat is moving however, continues to show satisfactory grade. Thirty-five to forty per cent of wheat cutting is completed and coarse grains from twenty to thirty per cent.

NEW PARLIAMENT TO COST $15,000,000
The Buildings Have Already Cost More Than Double the Original Estimate.
Ottawa, Sept. 25.—Although there are many stone cutters out of work in Ottawa, and there has been unemployment in this line for months past, and although funds have been voted for the prosecution of work on the parliament buildings, not a sound of a hammer has been heard on them all summer. There is still work enough to be done to occupy a big force of men for several years, including a great amount of interior carving and the completion of the tower. All this is delay in providing work when it is needed and having the long drawn out job completed is said to be due to the fact that although Mr. John Pearson is not supposed to be any longer architect engaged as architect of the building, he is able to exercise a powerful influence over its destinies. Mr. Pearson, it will be recalled, has a considerable time when claiming additional fees to those provided for in his contract, but was not able to make the late Government see eye to eye with him in the matter. When the new administration came in he was on a sort of one-man strike and work was not proceeding on the buildings. The Public Works Department was then instructed to take over the matter and men were again put to work. A committee of three, representing each party in the House, was appointed to look into Mr. Pearson's claims and report to the Government. That report has been made but not published. Last session a considerable appropriation was made for going on with the work on the building, but the work has not been done and it is understood that while no longer engaged on the building the late architect has been able to exercise an influence which has prevented progress on the plea that his plans were not being carried out, although this is declared not to be the case. The buildings have already cost more than double the original estimate and may easily run to three times the amount, or nearly $15,000,000, before they are finished. The reconstruction of the building will be in the Commons and Senate chambers, where the most of the mechanical plant is situated, is almost non-existent. A large consignment of stones, chosen from thirty-four battefelds in France and Flanders, has arrived here and is awaiting disposal. Their final destination will be in the plaster in strips, and the work in walls of the memorial chamber when this part of the chamber cost $33,000, the tower is completed.

DRUG SMUGGLING IN BURMA HAS BECOME AN ART
Rangoon, Burma.—The drug smugglers of India and Burma, through long years of experience, have developed a finished system of operations which has little resemblance to the more or less crude and hit or miss methods of rum runners in the United States. The men who finance the smuggling of drugs, says R. Anderson, superintendent of the Burmese excise department, are to all appearance respectable, well-to-do merchants, with flourishing businesses in piece goods, rice or timber which hide their real occupation as traffickers in opium, opium, morphine and hemp drugs. These men do not handle the drugs, but leave the details to hosts of underlings. If an underling is arrested, fined, and sent to jail, his principal pays his fine, gives him his salary, and supports his family while he is in prison. "That a certain man is a smuggler" is well known to the authorities," reports Mr. Anderson. "In fact the suspect will cheerfully admit it. He knows that he cannot be touched unless the contraband is found in his possession." The chief source of protection to smugglers is the accessibility to bribery of those who are charged with the duty of preventing smuggling. They can make more money by failing to suppress smuggling than by suppressing it.

Officials Receive Promotion
Official announcement was made at the C.P.R. head office of the promotion of two of the Company's higher-up passenger officials. Mr. C. B. Foster is created general passenger traffic manager and Mr. C. E. Usher is created general passenger traffic manager, eastern lines, becomes passenger traffic manager rail lines.
The new office of general passenger traffic manager created for Mr. Usher is indicative of the world-wide activities of the Canadian Pacific organization which stretches from Europe to the Orient and Australasia, covering steamship services on both Atlantic and Pacific oceans as well as the rail lines. The Canadian Pacific fleet is now one of the largest mercantile organizations in the world, and involves traffic considerations almost as great as those of the railway itself. In addition, Mr. Usher has charge of the extensive chain of hotels operated by the Canadian Pacific, the capacity of which is constantly being increased and which contributes largely to the passenger traffic of the railway.
A native of Niagara Falls, Ont., business career as clerk in the auditor's office of the Great Western Railway in 1874. In 1880 he joined the Western, St. Louis and Pacific Railway as chief ticket clerk and the Chicago & Atlantic Railroad as rate clerk in 1883.
In November, 1888, when the Canadian Pacific inaugurated the transcontinental services he was transferred to a similar position at Toronto, and in 1898 was appointed assistant general passenger agent at Winnipeg. In 1910 he became General Passenger Agent at Winnipeg, and in 1911 was promoted to the position of Assistant Passenger Traffic Manager, Eastern Lines, with office at Montreal.

Dull in Saskatchewan.
There has been little sunshine in Saskatchewan during the past seven days, according to the report, so that grain was hard to thrash, but farmers took every opportunity to keep machines moving. Conditions are satisfactory between Weyburn and Assiniboia where practically every district claims a "thrashing output of thirty to forty-five bushels of wheat per acre."

EMBROIDERY IS TO BE USED ON NEW FALL FROCKS

By ELOISE.
Peasant embroidery has established itself on white summer frocks for sports and afternoon wear and it was become so much a favorite that many of the new fall and winter modes are trying to find a place where it may be used. This American designed dress has succeeded in making excellent use of bands of cross stitch embroidery. The frock of navy blue point tulle is trimmed with embroidery in three shades of blue. Bands reaching from the neck to the waist, from the shoulders and a square collar of the same relieve the plain lines of the dress. The sleeves which are loose from elbow to wrist have a band of the embroidery above the elbow instead of at the edge of the sleeve as is most usual. The frock is suitable for day-time wear at home or on the street.

Campbellton's Fourth Annual Fair Now in Full Swing

Auspiciously Opened By His Worship Mayor Mackay at 10.30 Wednesday Morning—Exhibits Better than Ever.

Campbellton's Fourth Annual Fair held under the auspices of the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital Aid was officially opened in the Skating Rink building yesterday at 10.30 a.m. and is now in full swing. His Honor Judge McLatchey presided at the opening ceremony and delivered an appropriate address. A large gathering was present and a good representation of local business men together with women fair executives occupied the platform.

The interior of the fair building this year is a harmonizing riot of color. Greater care has evidently been taken by those in charge of the decorating and greater skill acquired by repeated efforts has continued to make the result one that all visitors will be highly pleased with. The walls are hung with masses of evergreen boughs dotted with bunches of mountain ash berries and the flaming color of these against the rich green background presents a pleasing color scheme. The upper wall above the front entrance is draped with a Union Jack and this historic emblem of liberty and justice faces another prominent feature of the decorations. At the main entrance the words "Welcome" which has been ingeniously worked into a border curtain over the door, offers its greetings to all. And right here it is in order to confirm that greeting. All are welcome, Campbellton and all those who have participated in any way in preparing for the occasion welcome all those interested and solicit their patronage to insure its success. Representatives of the people of the North Shore dis-

A New Feature.

By procuring a radio-phonograph from Mr. J. L. Fenderson of Jacques River the committee has this year added a distinctive new and novel feature to the fair's various entertainments. The instrument is installed in the lobby to the left of the entrance and radio concert's will be given after 9 o'clock each evening during the fair.

The Booths.

Further down the building on the left side is the fancy goods booth which displays a remarkable collection of beautiful creations. Next is the Plain Sewing Booth which is copiously stocked with a wonderful variety of choice products of needlework. The wool goods booth comes next in line and here there is much to admire. In this booth as in all the other large collection of attractive articles are very tastefully arranged.

Next in order on the same side of the building is the booth of the Christmas Club presided over by six young girls. The stand is attractively decorated and displays a large variety of different articles. The proceeds of sales at this booth will go towards Christmas gifts for patients at the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital and other ways of making Yuletide a happy season for strangers despite their confinement to the hospital.

Next is a booth of school exhibits which is very attractive. The fortune-telling booth is next in line. This defines description as it is clothed more or less in mystery. The fish pond and booths of the entertainment committee comes next and this is followed by a miniature bookstore which is at-

SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL HOSPITAL. In Aid of which "The Fair" is being held.

The result speaks for itself but the speaker furnished a few statistics which illustrate more explicitly the remarkable progress made and the gratifying results that are being obtained. The Soldiers' Memorial Hospital has now been in operation for six months. The total number of patients admitted up to a few days ago is placed at 302, and out of this number only four deaths are recorded. Twenty-four births are also recorded and a total of 163 operations have been performed. For a therapeutic institution merely in its infancy this is indeed a most gratifying record.

The second speaker was the Rev. B. C. Salter of Tide Head who delivered a thoughtful and fitting speech. He reminded his hearers that four years ago today the Allied forces inflicted heavy losses upon the enemy, taking 4,000 prisoners and 100 heavy guns. This brief recital of history served as an illustration and the speaker proceeded to show how prone we all are to forget many of the things we ought to remember, and how fitting it is that a monument such as the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital should have been erected where it will through-

On the right hand side just inside the entrance is situated the large dining hall which is sufficiently spacious to accommodate at least two hundred people at once. The tables are tastefully arranged and beautifully decorated with a variety of flowers. We might also add that the food served at dinner and supper is of first class quality and the service prompt and efficient.

On the left of the building next to the entrance an arch of artistic design has been erected. This gives ingress to a space which is fitted with every side and is a permanent reminder of the spirit of true devotion with which tract stood side by side in the great struggle in the recent past and it is only a continuance of fidelity to a noble purpose to again unite in furthering the work of the splendid institution which commemorates the memory of those of our number who fought and died for liberty and right. If the people of the surrounding country view the event from this standpoint and think of the fair as their fair there need be no misgivings. Steady cooperation, patronage and support will be eagerly offered and Campbellton's fourth annual fair will be a genuine success.

On the opposite side of the building are booths displaying butter and eggs, large vegetables and those of a smaller variety, preserves and pickles and fruit. These different booths are very tastefully arranged and the numerous exhibits are up to a very high standard. Near at hand is the office of the vegetable department which is neatly furnished and presided over by competent executives.

The extreme east end of the building is devoted to the display of carrots, beets and potatoes. Here there is much to admire. The counter which supports the wonderful display of garden products is also most tastefully decorated.

Games and Amusements.

In front of this long vegetable counter, space has been set aside for various games and amusements. These features promise to excel anything of previous years in this line.

Hand in Attendance.

The speakers platform and band stand occupies a position about the (Continued on page 12).

STORAGE OF VEGETABLES.

Winter storage of vegetables is an old question often discussed, but apparently not yet well understood. To store the crop seems a comparatively easy task, but to guard against heavy loss while in storage is sometimes quite a problem even for the most experienced growers.

Some of the first and most important factors influencing the keeping of vegetables in storage are to see that the vegetables are free from disease, well grown, fully matured and free from injuries such as bruises caused by careless handling at harvest time. If these important points are kept in mind and carefully attended to at the time of selecting the material for storage, much worry and subsequent loss in dollars and cents will be avoided by the grower later on.

For the storage of such crops as beets, carrots, potatoes, cabbage, celery, parsnips and turnips, a properly constructed, frost proof cellar should be available, with adequate ventilation to keep the temperature as constant as possible around 35 degrees f at all times during the storage period. By no means should a storage cellar become excessively damp, because excessive moisture favours the development of many of the common diseases attacking vegetables in storage, and more especially when in warm, ill-ventilated cellars. Moderate-sized slatted bins or crates should be used for the storage of roots and potatoes, while cabbage can be stored on slatted shelves or in bins. Celery is usually stored in the root cellar. The plants are stripped of all rough leaves and placed in an upright position on moist sand, more sand being placed around the roots. However, where only small quantities of vegetables are to be stored for household use, and a basement is available, a compartment or room should be provided therein, of such construction as to exclude the heat from the furnace and with suitable vents in the wall to provide good ventilation. It is not advisable to store a great quantity of cabbage or turnips in the cellar of a dwelling house. A good earthen floor in the storage room is to be preferred to cement. Where an earthen floor can be had in a well constructed vegetable room, it is seldom necessary to store the carrots, beets, parsnips and potatoes in sand, because, as a rule, sufficient moisture will escape from the floor to keep the air moist enough to prevent the vegetables from withering up.

Onions require quite different conditions, while in storage, to the other varieties of vegetables. A dry, cool, dark room is best suited for this crop, where the temperature can be kept around 35 degree f. By no means should onions be stored in a cellar, except where it is possible to maintain a dry, cool atmosphere.

Squash and pumpkins should be stored in a dry, moderately warm room, where a temperature of 50 degrees F. can be maintained. Particularly careful handling is necessary at harvest time if this crop is to be kept for any length of time. Place the squash or pumpkins on shelves or on a table, in a single layer.

Cheerful at Wife's Funeral.

Wide-eyed mourners listened in amazement to Oberdada, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Order of Dadas, a literary society which believes the drama ought to be made more simple, when he recently preached a funeral sermon over the body of his wife.

Smilingly the Oberdada walked up to the coffin and in a bright and snappy little speech explained he had no occasion to grieve. "Death," he said, "was merely a matter of expansion, and he felt quiet confident his wife was in a 'wider life.'"

At the conclusion of his sermon the Oberdada made a cheerful exit.

Two charming sisters are engaged to two brothers, and their neighbors have been interested in this dual love affair.

The young girls live in the second flat of a house on the south side of the street, and the other day the elder sister was flapped in the street by the youngest of the family who occupy the second flat in the house just opposite.

"O, Miss Mings," said the boy, "my papa said last night that some one ought to tell you to pull down the blinds, 'cause if love is blind, the neighbors are not."

Wouldn't Think Of It.

The beggar wore a most pathetic expression and wept a crocodile tear. "Please, sir, won't you give me a loaf of bread for my wife and family?"

The kind man patted him on the shoulder. "No, no, my poor fellow," he said, sympathetically. "I would not deprive you of your wife and family."

Marriages may be made in heaven; but a comfortable perch swing often delivers the goods.

Absolutely.

AMAZING FEATS OF INDIAN JUGGLERS

Some Wonderful Things Done By These Clever Magicians Are Reported.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
We have noticed in some American newspapers lately a series of articles which aim to explain the famous tricks of Indian jugglers. Many of them are shown to be nothing but skillful jugglery, with prepared apparatus such as one may see effect on the vaudeville stage. When these explanations do not suffice, as, for instance, in the often witnessed feat of a juggler throwing a rope into the air, up which a small boy climbs until he disappears in the sky, the hypothesis of hypnotism is introduced. In May, 1921 C. L. Harcourt contributed an article to Chamber's Journal, in which he described some half dozen amazing tricks performed at his bungalow, by a first-class Indian juggler, and which he could not account for, except on the theory that he had been hypnotized. Another witness of the disappearing-boy trick said that he discovered by accident that the others of the spectators who would be prepared to swear that they saw the boy vanish in thin air were hypnotized. Instead of fixing his gaze on the juggler, as everyone else naturally did, he kept his eyes on the ground, and only raised them when exclamations of the others indicated that they were witnessing a marvel. Then he looked and saw his companions staring into the air, but himself saw neither rope nor boy.

Suspended Animation.
In another article in the current issue of Chambers, Mr. Harcourt says that the Indian jugglers are to be divided into classes—those whose work is nothing but clever sleight of hand, and those who either have the gift of mass hypnotism or perform some other wonders unknown to the Caucasian. The same issue contains a contribution from M. E. McGregor, who has lived in India for thirty years and tells of some tricks, which, as he says, take one into the mysterious ground of the fourth dimension. A short time ago an elderly Brahmin walked up to the verandah of a friend's house in Lucknow and asked if he might perform a few tricks, as he was collecting funds for the temple to which he was attached. Being given permission, he asked what the sahib would like him to do. Should he suspend his animation and sit where he was for two days?

Where They Hypnotized?

They said that fifteen minutes would be long enough, whereupon he immediately closed his eyes and relaxed his muscles. A mirror was produced and held to his lips. It remained unclouded. The white men tried to feel the beating of a pulse in any artery. There was no sign of it, nor any other sign of life. At the end of fifteen minutes Mr. McGregor spoke to him, and he awoke as from a sleep. When told that what he did was wonderful, he answered in an apathetic manner. "I was not here. It is quite easy." Then he asked for a heavy iron chain to be produced, and one was brought that was used to tie a tree on a coast. He put it across his chest, under his arms, and had it tied behind him. Then he merely extended his arms, and the chain snapped like a bit of cotton—clean break just over his chest. He then asked for something that no human being could digest, and, with apparently no discomfort, swallowed a lot of broken glass, two packets of darning needles and some mercury.

The Fourth Dimension.
He asked that a walking cane be produced. It was brought, and a jeweled ring, that the white men could recognize, was slipped on it, and dangled in the middle. Mr. McGregor held the cane firmly on each side, a few inches away from the ring. The priest then stretched out his finger and pulled the ring off through the cane, not with a quick jerk, but just a casual pull. The dumb-founded spectators asked him to repeat the trick, but he said: "Why repeat what you have seen? Let one of our servant girls give me one of her metal anklets; one without a joint and very heavy." One was produced, and this the juggler pushed up his arm until it stuck and could go no further. Then, as if he were measuring a span, he put his thumb on one side of it and his little finger on the other, and lightly pulled it through his arm and handed it back. Of course, the appropriate comment is that he didn't pull it through his arm, but if he didn't it is obvious that Mr. McGregor and the other white spectators were hypnotized.

Walking on Fire.

The writer tells further of having many times witnessed the walking-on-fire trick, which no one can explain. Not only do the jugglers use blazing charcoal, but they can make white men do it without feeling any pain. It is plain that, while the jugglers might have some secret method of

BATHURST YOUTH ACCUSED OF THEFT

Alleged to Have Robbed Brothers From St. John During Last Night at Hotel.

A long distance telephone call was received by Chief of Police Jones this morning from Pokok asking for the detention here, if located of a young man named William Lavigne, suspected of theft of a sum of money from two brothers, Charles and George Lavigne, with whom he roomed last night at a hotel in Pokok.
Lavigne was supposed to have left Pokok on this morning's Valley train for Fredericton and St. John with the intention of proceeding to Bathurst via Moncton. Efforts to locate him here failed, however, owing to the fact that the information was not received until shortly after the Valley train had arrived.
Fifteen dollars in cash is the amount which the two brothers are short. They were enroute to St. John, where they reside, and had put up last evening at the same hotel with Lavigne, who also shared their room. The description given to the police of Lavigne was that he is 17 years of age and was wearing a green cap, grey coat, mackinaw shirt, shoe packs or moccasins and white striped socks.

Bright Girl.
Granny (who doesn't like modern manners)—You girls are so useless nowadays. Why, I believe you don't know what needles are for!
The Youngest—What a dear old granny you are! Why, they are to make the gramophone play, of course.

hardening their feet, the white spectators would not, and that they either walked on fire or that a hundred of them at one time could be hypnotized into the notion that they were witnessing the feat, while another half dozen were hypnotized into the belief that they were doing it. Mr. McGregor says that at Harcourt he saw a man hanging head downward from the branch of a tree, and was told that he lived always in that position. Certainly, he was always there at any hour of the day or night that Mr. McGregor passed, and he did this several times in the three days his camp was in the neighborhood. The very fact that it is impossible to have these adepts of the occult visit Europe or America to demonstrate their powers, is in itself an indication that they have discovered some secret which makes them indifferent to what the rest of us accept as the great truths and objects of life.

TWO TELEPHONE LINEMEN INJURED

Fell When Men Were Re-mov-ing Crossarm—Badly Injured.

Bathurst, Sept. 22.—Lewis Ward and Reginald Burbridge, who are well known linemen employed by the New Brunswick Telephone Company, were severely hurt recently when a telephone pole on which they were working in the neighborhood of Black Lands, suddenly fell to the ground. The fall of the pole came without the slightest warning. It seemed as solid as other poles of the same kind when the two men started to ascend it and had removed one cross arm and were working at the second when the pole toppled over. No one was near them at the time and both were knocked unconscious. Burbridge recovered first some half an hour later, and although suffering intense pain from a broken wrist, a dislocated knee cap and scores of cuts and bruises about the head and body, he pluckily started to crawl to a house about half a mile distance for assistance. There he fortunately found a trained nurse who attended to his wounds and gave first aid to Ward, who was found to be suffering from a fractured leg, as well as cuts and bruises. Medical aid was immediately summoned from Dalhousie, and the two injured men prepared for removal to the J. H. Dunn Hospital, to which they were conveyed by the suburban train the same evening. Both men are now resting fairly comfortably at the hospital, but it will be some time before they are able to be about again.

ARCHITECT IN MONTREAL COURT

Charge of Appropriating $91,300. Property of Sisters of the Precious Blood.

Montreal, Sept. 21.—Alphonse Constant an architect of Montreal, appeared in the police court this morning before Judge Cusson on a charge of appropriating to his own use the sum of $91,300, the property of the Sisters of the Precious Blood of Ottawa. The alleged theft is said to have been committed between June, 1915 and Sept. 1922. The accused was remanded for three days and bail was set at $10,000.

KING GEORGE IN THE HIGHLANDS

Enjoying Life in the Open at Balmoral—The Great Braemar Gathering.

London.—King George is enjoying himself these autumn days at Balmoral in the Highlands. More than anywhere else he is able to get away from ceremonies and formalities and pass his days as an ordinary citizen. He is never without a few guests at Balmoral but never entertains there on a large scale. He does not have to.

He is always an early riser in the Highlands, and almost as soon as the sun has dispersed the mists from the lowering hills, the royal pipe is serenading below the king's bedroom window, "skirling" some favorite pi-pi-och.

Every day at Balmoral a certain routine is followed for the king makes a point of being in the open as much as possible. One day there is a grouse shoot on the royal estates or some of the neighboring moors and the next sees a deer drive in Balmoral Forest or a deer stalking expedition around Lochgair.

Another day the king may prefer to go fishing on the "Silver Doe" one of the best salmon rivers in Scotland; or against the day may be spent in walking within the extensive royal estate or climbing some of the surrounding hills.

Days are set apart too for trout fishing on Loch Muick and for picnics and lunches with the royal household and guests at one or the other of the numerous picturesque bungalows which stand in some of the lonely glens within a few miles of the castle.

The great social event on Balmoral during the king's holiday at Balmoral is the Braemar gathering. As this day comes round the purple heather and yellow gorse of Deeside are again alive with highlanders. The king's men from Balmoral are there in the red tartan of the Stuarts with the king's factor to command them. They carry the great Lochaber axe while the Duff men who followed them are armed with the pike and the Farquharsons with the claymore. Highland games, the dancing of the sword dance and the skirling of the pibrochs fill the Braemar day. Such a scene remanded for three days and nights, colored with all the hues of early autumn in the Highlands, draws spectators from all quarters and all nationalities.

Quality and Workmanship Should Count

For years we have been doing the printing for a local lumber firm.

Recently a persuasive traveller induced this firm to give them an order for letter paper and envelopes, quoting a much lower price than we were doing the work for.

A month later we were asked to duplicate our last order. Their letter stated, written on such poor paper that they were ashamed to send it out, that they had been fooled once, but never again.

We do not carry the very cheap grades of paper, but give you a good article at a standard price. The price is the same to all.

News Notes of Town and Country Happenings Gathered by Graphic Reporters.

GIRL WANTED—For general housework. Small family, no children. Apply to Box 133, Campbellton, N. B.—Sept. 23-1-pd.

ROOMS TO LET—Two comfortable bed-rooms and one sitting room to rent. Central locality. Apply to GRAPHIC OFFICE, Town. Sept. 1-pd.

PARTRIDGE SCARCE—Auto owners and others who have been over the country woods and in the woods adjacent say that the partridge are not to be seen, but think they are keeping to the planes where the berries are plentiful.

ILL IN DAKOTA.—The Rev. Joseph Turgeon, C.J.M., son of O. Turgeon, M.P. for Gloucester, who is a priest in a parish in Dakota, United States, is reported ill and may be obliged to undergo an operation.

CARD OF THANKS.—The administrative body of the Hotel Dieu Hospital wish to thank the members of the C. N. R. organization for their generous contribution in favor of the hospital. Also the members in charge of same.

DEMAND FOR LATHS ACTIVE.—The demand for laths continues very active. There is a strong objection by the fire prevention boards of many cities in the United States to the use of steel lathing on account of the difficulty of breaking through in case of fire, which no doubt is responsible for the growing demand for the product of our mills.

NEW HOUSE BURNED.—Fire which broke out about 2:30 Saturday in the residence of Elias Ingravelle practically ruined the building which is situated on the south side of the main road just beyond the western town limits. In addition to the house some furniture was also lost as a tenant moved some household effects into the building only last evening. The house is a new one having been completed only recently. There is some insurance covering the loss but the exact amount is not known. The cause of the fire is more or less a mystery as there had not been any fire in the house.

FLAPPER PREACHER HAS BOBBED HAIR.

Mary Agnes Vitchevstain, Pittsburg, fourteen-year-old mixture of Billy Sunday and the old-time Methodist evangelist, took her New York congregation by storm when she preached in the Gospel Tabernacle, denouncing evolution. She's a buxom miss, straight as an arrow, with bobbed hair and a keen sense of the dramatic.

PRESENTATION.—Before leaving for St. John, Mrs. Miller was presented with a silver cake plate by the members of the Campbellton Musical Club.

PAPERS ENLARGED.—The Daily Telegraph and The Evening Times of St. John have been enlarged and now appear as eight-column papers. A steady and somewhat remarkable growth in advertising patronage has made the enlargement necessary. The Telegraph and Times are generally looked upon as the leading dailies of Eastern Canada.

CHANGED TIME.—The I. N. R. express which runs between Campbellton and Edmundton leaves Campbellton Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 12:30 instead of 8 o'clock as formerly. This permits residents along the line to come into Campbellton, transact their business and get home the next day.

WEATHER CHANGES.—After a week of exceptionally warm weather for September a cold north-west wind prevailed Monday and Tuesday, which was a decided change, and made fall coats necessary. No rain fell here over the week-end, while down country a heavy rain fell Sunday afternoon. Rain is badly needed here as the fire risk is great and a considerable forest fire is burning back of the Sugarloaf.

NEW GRAMMAR FOR HIGH SCHOOL.—The board of education has approved the adoption of Jones, Hewing and Morrow's high school English grammar as text book for New Brunswick high schools. It replaces McKechnie's English grammar. The cost of the new books will be sixty cents each as compared with $2.40 for the present text book. The change will be effective with the next school year opening July 1, 1923.

AGAIN AT PAR.—The Canadian dollar was at par on the New York market again on Saturday. This news was received with considerable satisfaction by business and financial people, as it indicated a satisfactory condition of trade between the two countries. A few weeks ago the dollar was quoted at par for the first time in seven years, but fluctuated slightly and gradually strengthened again until the 100 mark was again reached on Saturday.—Telegraph.

JEWISH NEW YEAR.—Saturday was the Jewish New Year and by their calendar the year is reckoned as 5683 instead of 1922. The celebration of the New Year took place on Saturday and Sunday and the Jewish stores in town were closed Saturday. Next Monday is another important day in Jewish history, the day of Atonement.

PLEASANT TIME.—A very pleasant time was spent at the Nurses' Home of the Hotel Dieu Hospital on Wednesday evening last, where an entertainment was given by the graduate and student nurses of the Training School in honor of their superintendent. The following day the nurses were given an outing by Dr. and Madame Pinault at their summer cottage and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent.

BEAR ON SUGARLOAF.—Excitement held sway on Sugarloaf Street Friday afternoon when pedestrians sighted a huge animal, presumably a bear, upon a large tree on the eastern ridge of Mt. Sugarloaf. Traffic and business were both at a stand still for some minutes. Clerks and shoppers forgot alike their individual errands as they gazed in wonderment at the unusual sight. The tree on which the animal was perched was much taller than those surrounding it thus causing the object to be closely silhouetted against the azure background of the sky. The animal was obviously much worried as he kept turning and twisting in repeated attempts to get back to earth. A considerable brush is burning to the south of the mountain it is likely poor bruin was trying to get a line on some safer place of residence.

CAMPBELLTON'S FOURTH ANNUAL FAIR IN FULL SWING. (Continued from page 9). The centre of the building. The local band is now an aggregation of first class players and the fact that it will be in attendance on different occasions during the fair promises a musical treat for visitors.

The Flower Booth.—The flower booth which is situated to the rear of the band stand is a feature which will please all lovers of beauty. In it can be found one or more representatives of almost every indigenous flower and plant. The flowers are artistically arranged and each bloom contributes its own individual loveliness to what constitutes a gorgeous mound of ineffable beauty and color.

What with its record of past years and its excellent features this season Campbellton's Fourth Annual Fair should result in an unprecedented success. Those in charge have obviously spared no effort to assure this result and the exhibits that have been received from all over the surrounding

SIKI'S TERRIFIC

PUNCHING POWER

Rugged Fighting Qualities of Senegalese Who Defeated George Carpenter.

Paris, Sept. 25.—The sporting world of France today is acclaiming a new hero, Batling Siki, the Senegalese fighter, who yesterday won the heavyweight championship of France by defeating Georges Carpentier. Siki knocked out the former hero of the French prize ring in the sixth round of what was to have been a twenty round bout.

This morning's newspapers agree that Carpentier was completely outthit by the Senegalese and the latter is given great credit for his rugged fighting qualities and aggressive ring tactics.

The physical make-up of Batling Siki has been likened to that of the leopard. In action his great muscles play fascinatingly under a dark skin. He is extremely fast of foot and is wont to make great leaps when evading the punches of an opponent. This form is striking in contrast to the graceful Carpentier, whose foot movement is that of the aesthetic dancer. Siki is typical of the brigades of picked Senegalese soldiers brought to the western front during the war. Stalwart, possessed of great strength and endurance, and an irresistible foe when excited, he crouches and bundles together his massive muscled shoulders, much after the fashion of Jack Dempsey.

A broad grin, exposing the perfect white teeth, lights up his face as he goes into fistic combat. At times this grin narrows until it becomes somewhat of a leer, perilous intended to frighten an adversary.

In all of his ring engagements in France Siki has been successful. But in none of them prior to his bout with Carpentier did he display any terrific punching power. He knocked out Harry Reeve, a former light heavyweight champion of England, in the second round of a match in Marseilles, and received the decision over Marcel Nilles, in 15 rounds in Paris. After the latter bout Carpentier's manager, Francois Descamps, who is credited with being a shrewd judge of fighting ability, asserted that Siki was such a poor fighter that he would not permit of Carpentier meeting him. Siki also outpointed Paul Journe, the lumbering French heavyweight.

The success of the Senegalese has started talk of a match between him and Harry Wills, the United States negro heavyweight, who is being groomed as a prospect for a championship bout with Dempsey.

SPORTING NOTES.

Mr. Leo Dandurand, owner of the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League, may have stepped in to a heap of trouble when he sold "Neway" Lalonde to Saska'oon. It will be remembered that some time ago, at a meeting of the league, Percy Thompson, of Hamilton, put his foot down firmly when Leo said he would like to sell Lalonde out of the league. It was Mr. Thompson's stip to get back at certain clubs when they opposed his selling George Carey to a western club last season. There is a waiver clause in the National League to the effect that no player must be sold out of the league until other clubs have had a chance at him for $500. That part has been overlooked by Dandurand—either that or he was acted knowingly and is willing to accept the responsibility of an argument.

Forty rounds of boxing, the full limit allowed under Commission rule, is programmed for the inaugural venture into Montreal fistic fields of Tax Richard at Mount Royal Arena next Monday night. There will be four ten-round bouts as follows: Andy Cheney, Baltimore featherweight, vs. Eddie James of California; Redcap Wilson, New York, vs. Johnny Williams, Brooklyn; Hughey Hutchinson, the "Fighting Scot" vs. Young Lewis of Lehigh; Jimmy Hutchinson, the former American amateur champion, vs. Johnny Price.

Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight boxing champion, accompanied by his brother, Joseph, of Los Angeles, Cal., his trainer, Jerry Levaros; Robert Edgren, former sporting editor of the New York World; Al Currier, Dr. H. F. Pierce and Walter D. Hinds, of Portland, Maine, arrived in St. John Friday last and motored to Havelock where they entered the woods in search of big game. Prior to coming to St. John, the party spent a couple of days in the woods near Oxbow, Maine.

At Yarmouth on Friday Springhill won the second game of the N. S. ball championship of 1922 by a 3-1 score. The spectacular work of Alban, Springhill's sixteen year old pitcher, was the outstanding feature of the fourteen inning game. Alban held the Yarmouth batters to six hits while his team got eleven safeties off forward. The latter fanned seventeen men and Alban twelve. Thirty-five hundred people saw the game which, although a pitchers' duel from start to finish, produced gilt-edged ball.

The untimely death of Jimmie Brennan by accident in Ontario a few days before being expected to return to college, cast a gloom over the U. N. B. football team as it was expected that he would have made the team.

EFFORT TO SWIM

BY FIVE MILES
Dover, Sept. 24.—Charles Toth, the Boston swimmer, who started out in another attempt to swim the English channel, abandoned the effort today when five miles from the French coast. He had been in the water fifteen hours and fifty minutes, having swum thirty-seven miles, counting his drift with the tide.

At Grand Rapids recently a ball game was almost broken up in the sixth inning when nine of the Ludington and Grand Rapids players engaged in a fight over an umpire's decision. Grand Rapids continued the contest under protest and won in 11 innings, 4 to 3.

Walter Pipp of the New York Yankees, is now playing the best game of his career. His work during the last half of the season has been a feature of the Yankees' play.

Geo. Kelly of the New York Giants, is the style first catcher that makes a hit with the rest of the infield, standing well over six feet, he is a great target for the other players on a hurried throw. He bats and throws right-handed.

Jimmy Wilde's decision to come to America to defend his flyweight title against Pancho Villa will be music to the ears of the innocents. Fans on this side of the big waters have a deep regard for the greatest fighter England has turned out since Charley Mitchell's day.

Babe Ruth will not lead the home run hitters in the big leagues this season, but no one will deny that he is the greatest slugger of them all. Despite the fact that he was out of the game for almost two months of the playing season, brought by his own mistakes, Ruth is but a few runs behind Ken Williams, the year's leader.

As a result of an agreement reached this fall between the management of the National Hockey League and the Pacific Coast League, the former organization will have first claim to any of the amateurs in the Maritime Provinces whose services are being sought by N. H. L. Clubs for the coming season.

The U.N.B. Freshmen are to have a rugby team. Paul Fraser, of St. John, is the captain.

DEMPSEY NOW IN WOODS.
Jack Dempsey, champion heavyweight boxer of the world, and party left St. John on the C. N. R. Saturday afternoon for Havelock, N. B., where they will enter the woods for a two weeks' hunting trip. The party has secured the services of Guide Kierstead and under his direction hope to land several moose and deer. In addition to the champion there are in the party his brother, Joseph, of Los Angeles, Cal., Jerry Levaros, his trainer; Robert Edgren, formerly sporting editor of the New York World and now with the Bell Syndicate; A. Currier, Dr. H. F. Pierce and Walter Hinds.

PASSING OF THE WIND-JAMMER

The continued onward march in the development of mechanically driven ocean transports, and the corresponding decline in the popularity of the old type of sailing vessel, is graphically depicted from year to year in the pages of registry books issued by the department of Marine and Fisheries. While the preponderance of sailing vessels over those propelled by steam was marked in years gone by, the list issued for the year ended December 31, 1921, shows that steam vessels have a large margin over the slower craft.

The Maritime Provinces at one time was the cradle of the ship-building industry of Canada and hundreds of ships, sails and tackle, hunched from these yards carried a great share of the commerce of the world. But that day is gone forever. With the passing of the old wooden vessel there has gone also a great deal of the romance of the sea. Tales of ships sailing from the Maritime Province ports to South America, the West Indies or even Europe and returning within a year or so after earning enough to pay the cost of construction, are seldom heard now. Those were the days of real sailors, when under the present order of things will never return. As the years go by, the old time craft disappear one by one, and the not far distant future will know nothing of the romantic days of the wind jammers except their record in history.—E.X.

QUEBEC HONORS CANADIAN HEROES

Two Statues Erected at Parliament Buildings to Honor Canadians.

In Quebec city Tuesday took place the unveiling of two statues which the Provincial Government is placing among others at the Parliament buildings. One is of Pierre Gauthier de la Verendrye, who was the first white man to explore the Canadian west and part of the Rocky Mountains.

The other statue is to commemorate the memory of another Canadian who played an important part in Canada between the years 1645 and 1667, Pierre Boucher de Grosbois. In recognition of his services to the colony the King of France in 1661 rose to nobility Pierre Boucher and all his children present and future.

Mrs. Dr. L. G. Pinault of Campbellton is a descendant of one of the famous priests whose memory has been honored by the erection of a statue, as her father was a direct descendant of Pierre de Grosbois.

the great aims, beliefs and desires of their former leader in political life. Giving expression to hopes always close to the heart of Sir Wilfrid, the Hon. Dr. H. S. Lafamme, Hon. J. E. Poirault, N. K. Leflamme, K. C., Hon. Jacob Nicol, and other speakers made stirring appeals for cordial relations between the races for harmony between the provinces of Canada, and for moderation in criticism of those who differ in convictions.

MOST OPTIMISTIC REPORT MADE

New Beds of Coal Discovered—Enormous Deposits of Oil Shales.

Ottawa, Sept. 23—Surveying the mineral industry in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia on his return from a three weeks' visit to the various fields parties at work there, Dr. W. H. Collins, director of the geological survey, department of mines, is most optimistic. He reports new coal beds, the existence of which was unsuspected, and enormous deposits of oil shale in both provinces, associated with coal measures. These are not yet being mined, he said, but they constitute the basis of an important future mining industry.

"There was relief on all sides at the coal mines that the strike was over," he said. "Normal production has been resumed. During and since the war a considerable share of the coal which formerly was shipped to Quebec and Ontario went to the U. S. As a result of the strike a good deal of consideration is being given to recovering the Canadian market."

"The mining of rock salt promises to become an important industry in both provinces. Salt springs at various places indicate a widespread existence of the mineral.

"Gypsum mining is an established industry at Hillsboro, N. B., for over a century and enormous deposits are known at many other points in both provinces.

"Gas wells supply gas to Moncton, N. B., for five cents a thousand cubic feet, and a small amount of petroleum is obtained from the same wells."

EXTRAORDINARY RECOVERY IN CAN.

First of War-Countries to Get Back to Normal—The Reasons.

When the Canadian dollar reached parity with the dollar of the United States the statement and business men in the Dominion publicly exchanged congratulations over the event. In the words of one Canadian banker, "Canada is the first of the countries that fought in the far and suffered currency depreciation to get back to normal."

However, the Canadian phenomenon requires definite explanations, and those advanced in the Dominion are of great interest to all—and particularly to the United States. For it is generally agreed that American capital and American tourist travel have contributed largely to the astonishing recovery of the Canadian dollar.

Americans, it is known, have been investing liberally in Dominion enterprises. American motor companies have built plants in Canada. Other American manufacturers have established mills and factories in the Dominion and are making it a centre of distribution for the British Empire in order to escape heavy duties. Heavy purchases of Canadian newspaper paper are made by American publishers. There has been a very exceptional sale of Canadian securities—municipal, provincial and corporate.

American bond-dry prohibition, according to a Canadian banker, has helped the Dominion dollar. Quebec draws thousands of Americans to itself because the province permits the manufacture and sale of intoxicants in bottles under very mild restrictions. Bootleggers, of course, are doing a profitable business in Canada in the interest of thirsty Americans.

Some estimate that the influx of American money to Canada is proceeding at the rate of $20,000,000 a month.

Canada is predominantly agricultural, and agricultural nations, as economists have long been aware, recover more quickly from the effects of war than do industrial nations. But the factor of American financial aid, direct and indirect, doubtless is next in importance in accounting for the gratifying feat of the Canadian dollar in "coming back."

The Chinese have a proverb; "It is not the wine that makes a man drunk; it is the man himself." This reminds us of the story of the old fellow who came to Sam Jones after a hard sea to wit, John Barleycorn, and said plaintively: "Brother Jones, I've been overtaken in a fault again."

"You're an old liar!" cried Sam. "You overtook the fault—a jug has no legs."

Why She Needed Glasses. "I want to look at a pair of eyeglasses," said the young woman with a determined air. "Yes, madam," said the optician. "While visiting in the country, I made a very painful blunder which I never want to repeat."

"Indeed! Mistook a stranger for an acquaintance, perhaps?"

"No, not exactly that. I mistook a bumble bee for a blackberry."

PULPWOOD IN U.S. NEARLY EXHAUSTED

U. S. and Canada Consume More News Print Than Rest of World Combined.

More news print is produced and consumed in the United States and Canada than in all the rest of the world. The centre of production, formerly in Europe, has shifted within recent years to North America, the largest consuming centre, and the source of abundant raw material. Although the United States produces more news print than any other country, during the past decade the expansion in the news print manufacturing industry on this continent has been in Canada. Within this period the production capacity in that country has been more than trebled while only two new mills have been established in the United States. Moreover, supplies of pulp wood in Canada are being largely retained for the development of the news print industry.

The future of the mill already established in the United States in good measure depends on replenishing depleted pulp wood areas near the mills. In the east where the principal mills are located, it has been estimated that present supplies of pulp wood will be exhausted within twenty or thirty years, although by the extensive practice of reforestation the cut-over areas near the mills would within 30 or 40 years be made to yield more than the present consumption requirements of the United States. However, approximately 85 per cent of the forest areas of Canada are under public supervision and control and the Canadian provinces, in order to conserve the supply of wood for domestic industrial and commercial development, prohibit the exportation of pulp wood cut from crown lands. There is no restriction on shipments of pulp and paper to the United States but the potential supplies of 1,033,700,000 cords of pulp wood are reserved largely as raw material for the development of the pulp and paper industry in Canada. No pulp wood is exported from Canada which is not sent to the United States. The inexperience of shipping pulp wood from Canada to distant American mills and the restrictions imposed by the Canadian provinces on exports of pulp wood from crown lands have caused the major portion of new capital invested in news print paper and pulp to flow into Canadian mills near the source of supplies of raw material. The gravity of the position of the news print industry in the United States in relation to pulp wood supplies is emphasized by the fact that the production of news print in the United States for some years has been practically at a standstill while production in Canada has trebled. Only two news print plants have been established in the United States since 1909.

An Improved Gasoline at the Same Price

Starts even more quickly than Gasolines which cost more and is a better all round Motor Fuel

Many gasoline users in the Maritime Provinces have been paying much more than they should for gasoline due to the fact that they have bought it on the basis of quick starting ability regardless of price or the loss of power and mileage which invariably attend the use of such a gasoline.

Realizing this, our experts have been working for years to produce a motor fuel which would at least equal higher priced gasolines in quick-starting ability and at the same time embody the other qualities of a perfect motor fuel which these gasolines have lacked.

The new Imperial Premier Gasoline, now being made at our Imperial Refinery, is the result of this research and experiment. It starts even more quickly than Queen Gasoline which some engine owners have been using in spite of the fact that Queen Gasoline was a special lighting plant fuel and never entirely suited to motor use.

The new Imperial Premier Gasoline is a properly balanced motor fuel. It is full of "pep" and power. Every fuel charge burns clean in the combustion chambers. There are no heavy ends which might remain behind to cause pre-ignition or hasten carbon formation. Every drop of the new Imperial Premier Gasoline vaporizes completely and is easily converted into power and mileage.

The new Imperial Premier Gasoline is now available throughout the Maritime Provinces. Believing as we do that this is the best gasoline we can possibly make for motor use we have discontinued the manufacture and sale of all other grades. Stop at the Red Ball sign and fill with this new improved gasoline. You will find it even more satisfactory than other gasolines which may cost up to 5 cents more per gallon.

This test will convince you—after your tank has been filled with the new Imperial Premier Gasoline have your carburetor adjusted to use this fuel properly. You will find you can run on a leaner mixture and avoid operating, trouble and get better results from your car in every way at a lower cost per mile than ever before.

CHAPTER I.—As Denver Webster receives a letter from Billy Geary, he closes the book on a voice known to him as the voice of the man who has made a deep impression on him, as he has on the way to Sobrante.

CHAPTER II.—Dolores Rusy, the young woman who has been waiting for the man who has made a deep impression on her, as he has on the way to Sobrante.

CHAPTER III.—Without the portal stood Don Juan Cafetero, of whom a word or two before proceeding. To begin, Don Juan Cafetero was not his real name, but rather a true Spanish translation of the Gaelic, John Caffery. Mr. Caffery was an exile of Erin with a hostile throat. He had first arrived in Sobrante some five years before, as section boss in the employ of the little foreign-owned narrow-gauge railway which ran from Buenaventura on the Caribbean coast to San Miguel de Padua, up-country where the nitrate beds were located. Prior to his advent the railroad people had tried many breeds of section boss without visible results, until a Chicago man, who had come to Sobrante to install an inter-communicating telephone system in the government buildings suggested to the superintendent of the road, who was a German, that the men made for bosses come from Erin's hills, wherever Mr. Caffery had been imported at a price of $5 a day gold. Result—a marked improvement in the road bed and consequently the train schedules, and the ultimate loss of the Caffery soul.

Something in the climate of Sobrante must have appealed to a touch of laissez faire in Don Juan's amiable nature, for in the course of time he had taken unto himself, without bell or book, after the fashion of the proletariat of Sobrante, the daughter of one Esteban Manuel Enrique Jose Maria Pasqual y Miramontes, an estimable person who was singularly glad to have his daughter off his hands and no questions asked. Following the fashion of the country, however, Esteban had forthwith moved the remainder of his numerous progeny under the name of Don Juan Cafetero's philanthropy, and resigned a position which for many years he had not enjoyed—te-wit: sailing and packing green hides at a local abattoir. This fortuitous economic move had so increased Don Juan that in a fit of pique he assumed his father-in-law (we must call Esteban something and so why split hairs?) under the tails of his canvas, with such vigor as to sever forever the friendly relations hitherto existing between the families. Mrs. Caffery (again we trespass, but what of it?) subsequently passed away in child birth, and no sooner had she been decently buried than Don Juan took a week off to drown his sorrows. In this condition he had encountered Esteban Manuel Enrique Jose Maria Pasqual y Miramontes, and called out on the spot, as Esteban, fully convinced that he had received the full end of the transaction from 1848 to 1849, cut Don Juan severely; Don Juan had thenupon slain Esteban concerning from the railroad company. month later had been tried by a Sobrantean magistrate and fined the sum of $20,000, legal tender of the republic of Sobrante. Of course, he had paid it off within six months from his wages as section boss, but the memory of the injustice always rankled him, and gradually he moved down the scale of society from section boss to chief laborer, then laborer, then manual team, and tropical tramp to beach comber, in which latter state he had Jenks in the matter of credit. He could not pay her cash, directly as he hoped to do some day, and he considered it of the most vital importance that in the interim he should somehow survive. Therefore, in lieu of cash he paid her compliments, which she snapped at greedily.

An inventive genius was Billy. He never employed the same defensive tactics two days in succession, and when personal fatality threatened to fall upon him, a large crayon reproduction of the late Henry Jenks, such being over the back bar, was a never-failing source of inspiration.

This was the "sainted Emery" previously referred to by Mother Jenks. He had been a sergeant in Her Britannic Majesty's Royal Horse Artillery, and upon retiring to the reserves had barked to a proposition to emigrate to Sobranite and accept a commission as colonel of artillery with the government forces then in the throes of a revolutionary attack. The rebels had triumphed, and as a result Emery had been sentenced by the military court to a term of imprisonment.

However, let us return to our sheep, as Mr. Emery would have expressed it. Seemingly the effect of Billy's compliment was instantly evident, for Mother Jenks set out two glasses and a bottle.

"I know you a trifle, Willy Geary," she stammered, "but if I do it as a shakedown, I will account myself some a humbug as you'd find in Bristol town. I've lost my good looks, what with grief and worry since I left my dear old home, but I was handsome once."

"I can well believe it, Mother Jenks," she answered, "for I have seen you in the picture of my father's friend, Mother, but I need it; I had the shakes again last night—for my part, I prefer the full-blown rose to the bud."

Mother Jenks flattered like a debutante as she poured her drink. They touched glasses, calmed words that they were.

He tossed off his drink. It warmed and strengthened him, after his night of chills and fever, and bravely he returned to the attack.

He was dealing with a special brew of coffee, with condensed milk in it, when the Jamaica negro entered from the cantina to announce Don Juan Cafetero with a cablegram.

Within the minute Bob returned with a long yellow envelope, which he handed Mother Jenks. Without so much as a glance at the superscription, she handed it to Billy Geary, who tore it open and read:

"The Least Sudden Noise or Loud Talking Would Startle Him."

"Up to the age of eight, my boy was a strong, healthy lad, full of life and energy. While playing leap frog one day with some boys of his own age, and while in a stooped position, a big boy jumped on his back and in falling my boy caught his foot in an iron grating and dislocated his hip. The pain was so great that he fainted and the other boys were so frightened they ran away. For hours he suffered terrible pain and when found brought home was very weak, with his high and leg swollen twice its size. The doctor said he was so weak that I took it upon myself to call and explain that as a result of your do- ing, a high fever set in and for weeks he lay between life and death raving for hours at a stretch. One day he opened his eyes and murmured, 'Mother, but this is the only word he could utter he was so weak! He knew the worst was over. He got stronger but for months was in a nervous condition. The least sudden noise or loud talking would startle him and he would begin trembling. He was quite lame and the swelling still remained. The doctor gave him a tonic and told me to rub the leg with olive oil. This reduced the swelling and took away the lameness, but the nervousness remained. The poor child would waken in the night screaming at the top of his voice. The doctor gave him several different tonics but they were no use. I found a circular about Carnol and it seemed a circular about Carnol and it seemed heard of, that I thought I would get a bottle. Three bottles were all that was needed to make my boy like his old self. The doctor said the change in him now is entirely due to Carnol. Of course I still have to watch him and give him Carnol occasionally but I know that he will soon be as strong again as ever he was."

Mrs. P., Montreal.

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund you the money.

TYPHOID RAVAGES KENT CO. FAMILY

Pitiable and Horrible Condition of Kelly Family Opposite Kouchibouguac Beach, N.B.

Chatham, Sept. 25.—Thirteen people comprising three generations living in a two story shack, 16x18, a single room below and a ladder connecting with the upper floor, also a single room without screens or partitions of any kind, two beds, two chairs, no food little clothing, eight of the inmates down with typhoid fever and the other five, children ranging in age from 2 years to 12 years, was the appalling condition of the John Kelly family at Kelly's beach opposite W. S. Loggie Co. freezer at Kouchibouguac beach, eight miles down river from Kouchibouguac village, as discovered by Miss Meiklejohn director of New Brunswick's Public Health Nurse service and Miss Maloney when they arrived there from the Nurses convention at Mon-

ton on Thursday last on receipt of the news of the outbreak of typhoid. Since then they have accomplished wonders. An appeal was made by Miss Meiklejohn to the workmen in the W. S. Loggie Co. sawmill across the river and they poor men as they are, donated a day's work to building a hospital, as it was out of the question to attempt to handle the cases in the vermin ridden, germ infested fly polluted little shack where five of the sick were lying on the floors without mattress or pillow and only a few rags to cover them. A structure 30 ft. covered with tar paper was erected by these good-hearted men at a place selected by Miss Meiklejohn safely removed from the poisonous area of the Kelly home. Three beds were donated and five bunks were built and an appeal made to Chatham and Newcastle to furnish supplies. These were rushed down by automobile the same day and on Saturday the sick were carried over to the temporary hospital, including a boy from the nearest neighbor who had in the meantime been taken ill with the same dread disease.

On Saturday two nurses were secured from Chatham and Moncton and reports on Sunday were to the effect that all had a chance to recover. Had not this prompt action been taken by the Public Health Nurse Service, the whole Kelly family would probably have been wiped out.

For some unexplained reason the Kent County authorities had done nothing, though two Richibucto doctors had been called in weeks ago. Even when the nurse got there they too would have fared pretty badly for the first few days had not neighbors brought milk and food supplies from Chatham through private individuals. The condition of the Kelly children is pitiable; no picture of starry Russian children is worse than a sight of the wasted forms, shriveled arms and pinched cheeks of some of these children who were literally starving to death on their sick beds. Kent County has refused to put the Public Health Act in force in district, hence there was no provision for the above case and as they are practically isolated from neighbors with means to relieve their distress they came very near being an everlasting disgrace on Kent County administration.

The immediate future of the little hospital and its nurses is now safe, as word has been received from Mrs. Johnson, secretary of the Board of Health, at Richibucto that she would have supplies forwarded. But as the treatment for typhoid covers several weeks, duration the county authorities must take action for the upkeep of the little hospital shack and its inmates.

Too much praise cannot be given the nurses who went and faced actually horrible conditions and who have wrought such a change.
