BROKE A DOG'S LEG

John Begg Found Guilty on Charge of Cruelty.

John Begg was charged at police court this morning with cruelty to animals, the complainant being Frank Sage. The evidence showed that a lit-tle terrier belonging to Mr. Sage had run onto the concrete sidewalk being laid on Bathurst street. Begg, who was one of the workmen employed on the sidewalk, seized the dog, lifted it shoulder high, and flung it violently down on a pile of gravel, breaking its leg. The dog had to be destroyed Begg was found guilty and was bailed to appear on Tuesday next for sentence.

DETECTIVES KILLED!

On the N. J. Central-Had Been Watching for Car Thieves.

New York, July 4.-Three detectives employed by the Central Railroad of New Jersey were killed by a train between Claremont and Jersey City to-day. Their bodies were found alongside the rails by a track-walker. The men were Robert Smith, 25 years old; John Cosgrove, 25 years old, and Wm. J.

on, 27 years old. Freight cars of the company have been robbed repeatedly of late while on the siding between Jersey City and Claremont, and the three detectives had been keeping a sharp lookout for the thieves. It is supposed that the men were struck by the train about 3 o'clock in the morning.

James McNab Missing.

Arthur, Ont., July 4.-Jas. McNab, aged 24, wandered from his home at Kenilworth, near Mount Forest, on Thursday, June 26, and has not been heard of since. Most diligent search has been made through the woods in every direction, but no trace can be found of him. His mind has been a little affected, and his friends are anxious as to his whereabouts.

Bees Starving to Death.

New York, July 4.-Frost, rain, and prolonged cold have been disastrous to the industry of the honey bees at Warsaw, N. Y. Incessant rain has washed the flowers clean of nectar and pollen, and millions of bees have starved to death. The bees have killed all the drones and destroyed the queen cells, thereby preventing an increase Youngstown, Ohio, July 4.-Messrs. Park & Hamilton, of this city, have received a cablegram from their representatives in Havana announcing that franchises have been granted them authorizing them to construct and operate electric street railway lines throughout the city of Havana. The concessions are said to be worth fully $25,000,000, and include all the franchises in the city of Havana. The Canada Cycle Company.

Toronto, July 4.-Dissatisfied shareholders have again taken action against the directors of the Canada Cycle Company. The object is to establish the assertion that the pur chase of the National Cycle Company and its absorption into the trust was illegal, and that the directors of the Cycle Company are personally responsible for the loss that followed the acquisition of the National. .G. W. Bedwell, on behalf of himself and all other stockholders, sues J. W. Flavelle, Hon. G. A. Cox, A. E. Ames, W. Y. Soper, Mrs. Susie Massey, Chester Master and J. H. Housser for cancellation of agreement under which the National was taken over for the return to the Canada Cycle Company's treasury of $288,000, the purchase price of $150,000 paid out for National Cycle Company debts, and $775,000 in interest on Cycle preferred stock paid when it had not been

THE KING WRITES A LETTER TO JEANNE LANGTRY MALCOLM

All the Signs of Improvement in His Majesty's Condition Continue --- Fewer Bulletins Hereafter.

Up for Discussion.

Business People Will Be Glad When It Is Over and the Undue Ex-

London, July 4.-The King's medical advisers, while satisfied with the progress of the patient, are emphatic in warning him against overtaxing his strength in the near future. It is not known that they took a serious view of his condition before the Aldershot review, and advised surgical treatment immediately after the first breakdown in health. The King was determined to see the thing through, and court officials, who denied the alarming rumors about his health, took their cues from him and not from his medical advisers. TODAY'S BULLETIN. The bulletin regarding the King's condition, posted at Buckingham Palace at 10 o'clock this morning, says: "The King had a good night, and, indeed, slept better than at any time gives less trouble, and his majesty can move in bed with greater ease. His majesty's appetite has improved.

(Signed) Treves, Lakin, Barlow." A LETTER FROM THE KING.

Liverpool Post says the first letter the King has written since his illness was to Jeanne Langtry Malcolm on the occasion of her marriage, wishing her happiness. DATE OF THE CORONATION. There are persistent rumors that the coronation will be hurried on, and

While the coronation functions will be concluded this week, when the picturesque durbar is held at the India office and the King's dinners for the half-million working people are eaten, there is an artificial demand from the disappointed public for additional town shows. The half-penny press eagerly advocates a parade of the colonial and Indian troops over a long route, where they can be seen by the masses of East and South London,

Coronation Date Now Comes | THURSDAY EVENING'S BULLETINS Convalescence of the King Seems To Be Well Assured.

London, July 3 .- Everything points to a satisfactory, if not prolonged, convalescence of the King. It is understood that the bulletins regarding his condition will soon be reduced to one a day. Only small crowds now haunt the bulletin boards at Buckingham Palace, which is an indication that public confidence has been restored. Only one physician now remains at the palace throughout the night, and all of His Majesty's doctors are able to attend to the more pressing portion of their private practices. Sir Frederick Treves absented himself from the palace today to attend the wedding of his only daughter to Maj.

Delme Radcliffe. The following bulletin was posted at Buckingham Palace at 7 p.m.: "His Majesty had a comfortable day. His general condition is still further improved, and the wound now causes him comparatively little pain. -(Signed) Treves, Laking, Barlow." FIJIAN CURIOSITY. Crowds of the soldiers now in London make daily pilgrimages to Buckingham Palace to gaze at the window of His Majesty's apartment, while crowds gather to stare at the strange native soldiers from distant quarters since the operation. The wound now of the empire. A striking scene was witnessed today. A big brake loaded with Fijian soldiers drew up in front of the palace. The men were bare legged and bare headed, their frizzy hair was long and dyed. With their white cotton skirts and quaint tunics they presented a strange spectacle, even in cosmopolitan London. The Indian and colonial guests of the country are being feted and tained on all sides. Sir Henry Irving gave an elaborate reception in their honor on the stage of the Lyceum Theater tonight, after the performance of "Faust."

A number of coronation guests left London today, including the Crown Prince of Norway and Prince Komatsu of Japan. Both were seen off by gatherings of distinguished persons at the station, where everyone seemed to and other suggestions are offered for be in high spirits with regard to the

PEACE IN THE PHILIPPINES

Formally Declared by President Roosevelt-Venezuelan Rebels Capture a Town.

DAVITT'S CAUSTIC PEN. London, July 4. - Since he left parliament, says a telegram from Dublin to the Times, Michael Davitt has become a copious and violent letter writer in the Nationalist press. Yesterday he bitterly attacked the service in London last Saturday at which the loyalty of English Catholics to the throne and the person of the sovereign was expressed. ---

PEACE IN THE PHILIPPINES. President Roosevelt has formally declared the restoration of peace in the Philippine archipelago. He has placed the islands under complete civil control and has extended general amnesty to the Filipinos who have been in rebel-These three things, marking one the most important chapters in Philippine history, were accomplished through the issue of three separate orders and proclamations—one by the president over his own signature, extending general amnesty; one through Secretary Root, by the president's or-der, relieving Gen. Chaffee from his duties as military governor; and a third, which takes the shape of a general order addressed to the entire army of the United States, in which Secretary Root takes occasion to express the presi-dent's high appreciation of the work it has accomplished, both in Cuba and the Philippines.

Gen. Mendoza, who appeared in active operations, was assisted by Gens. Solangie, Pancho, Batalia and Aular. The government troops were nearly all captured. One hundred of them, however, escaped with Gonzales, Pacheco, governor of the State of Lara, in the direction of Trujillo. Four Venezuelan officers and Gen. Larela, the chief in command at Barquisimeto, escaped to the seaport of Tucacas. Gen. Jacinto Lara has been appointed governor of Barquisimeto by the Revolutionists.

THE CHOLERA AT MANILA. In Manila today, 49 fresh cases and 33 deaths from cholera were reported. In the provinces the records show that 190 cases and 147 deaths have occurred. The health office is trying to check the spread of the disease, and have ask ed for large appropriations. General disappointment is expressed here at failure of the congress to deal with the currency question.

THE UNITED STATES NOTE. Judge William H. Taft, civil governor of the Philippine Islands, has received a long cablegram from Secretary Root, containing the department's final instructions concerning the note relating to the disposition of the friars' lands in the islands, which was drawn up Tuesday, and this afternoon Major Porter, of the office of the judge ad-vocate-general of the army, delivered the note to Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state.

NOTHING IN IT. A Vienna dispatch says: There is absolutely no truth in the report cir-culated by a news agency in the United States yesterday that 6,000 persons, led by students, attempted yesterday to storm the German consulate at Lemberg, Galicia, as a demonstration against Emperor William's recent address at Marienburg, and it is equally untrue that the crowd afterward turned against the homes of the Polish leaders in reichsrath, because they failed pub-licly to protest against the speech, which was delivered on June 5 last.

THE BANANA BUSINESS. Kingston, Jamaica, July 2. — An agreement has been entered into by Elder, Dempster & Co., and the United Fruit Company of Boston, under the terms of which the fruit company is to find fruit with which to load the majority of the steamers belong-ing to Elder, Dempster & Co., ply-ing between here and England. This agreement will put the bulk of the banana business of Jamaica into the hands of the American company, which it was controlled prior to advent of Elder, Dempster & Co. It is hinted here that a combination with the idea of keeping Americans out the English fruit markets may follow the present agreement. . CABLE NOTES.

CANADIAN METHODS

Copied by Steel Makers Across the Border.

Sydney, N. S., July 4.—It is a matter of pride to Canadians and to the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, that their process of steel making is becoming gradually adopted by United States Steel Corporation, in their several plants, and especially those at Pittsburg. This corporation at first discredited the possibility of steel being made in Cape Breton, and a few months ago sent a representative one of their best steel exsentative, one of their best steel experts, to inquire into the facilities for producing steel at Sydney. His report led to the Steel Corporation adopting the process employed by the Dominion Iron and Steel Company for the manufacture of steel. Shipments of steel to the United States continue to increase, and will before long constitute one of the largest items of exportations

THE FAILURES IN CANADA

Review of July 5,

Show a Marked Decrease Compared With the Past Two Years.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Review of July 5,

1902, says: In the Dominion of Canada there was a gratifying decrease in the number of bankruptcies in comparison with the first half of 1901 and also 1900. Yet the amount of indebtedness was larger than in either of the preceding years. This must be attributed to a few abnormally heavy failures which occurred in the trading class. Examination of the record by prov-inces discloses the fact that British Columbia is responsible for the ex-cess over last year's defaulted liabilities, the increase in that section alone amounting to $878,500. On the other hand, there appears a contraction of $254,823 in Ontario liabilities and $310,-520 for Quebec. Changes were smaller in the less densely populated provinces, but as a rule returns give evidence of improvement. Manufacturing liabilities were greatly reduced from last year's figures, chiefly because of a loss of $654,185 in Ontario, while the trading defaults were generally heavier, led by an expansion of $775,450 in British Columbia. This increase is almost wholly due to two large failures in hardware and liquors. a capitalist in Ottawa, no organized The only banking insolvency was of

OLD MAN MEETS DEATH

His Alleged Assailant Lodged in Barrie Jail-The Inquest.

Barrie, Ont., July 4.—Thomas Mahar is in jail here as a result of a fatal fracas which occurred on night at Brentwood, a village fifteen miles from here, and resulted yester-day in the death of Daniel Smith, a man over 70 years of age. At the inquest before Coroner Wells, of Barrie, Samuel Smith, son of deceased, testifled that on Sunday evening about 9 o'clock he was outside his father's house with five other young men. Mahar was dancing on a plank crossing a ditch. His father came out and told Mahar to stop, and after some words threw a stone at him. Mahar turned back and seized his father by the shoulders, hitting him with his knee. Mahar then shoved the deceased into the ditch, falling with him. The witness thought he was choking his father. The men separated in a few minutes, Mahar going up the road. Daniel Smith went into the house, and in a few minutes asked his son to go for a doctor.

J. S. Funston, who boarded with the deceased, swore that at 12 o'clock that day deceased had been o'clock that day deceased had been hearty and well. He was present when the doctor was sent for, and found deceased was ruptured. Mahar gave himself up to the authprities at New Lowell and was brought to the county jail. A post-mortem examination has been ordered.

Concerted Robbery, Quebec, July 3.-Charles Peterson, shed foreman of the Leyland Steam-ship Company, and Danie Macpherson, George Green and Edward Hodgins, members of the crew of the steamship Kingstonian, now loading in the outer Louis basin, are prisoners in Quebec jail, charged with stealing a 3½ wire hawser off the steamer. The detection of this robbery has brought to light several depredations, covering a period of over a year, and showing that the Leyland Line must have been victimized out of several thousands of dollars by the dishonesty of its shed in collusion with the crews of the different ships.

Sir Charles Dilke (Advanced Radical) said he wanted to know if there had been any real negotiations with According to R. G. Dun & Co.'s France looking to the settlement of the French shore (Newfoundland) dispute, and he further declared that British recognition of foreign rights to the Hinterland of Tripoli endangered the traditional friendship of Great Britain and Italy. The new arrange-ments between France and Italy, he further asserted, had entirely upset the British situation in the Mediterranean and Eastern Europe. They had been made in order to put the screws on Great Britain. The feebleness of the government's policy in China showed the absence of a presiding mind. Sir Charles also referred to the hostility to Russia involved in the Japanese alliance, and he advocates that a clear definition of the respective interests of Great Britain and Russia could possibly be secured by some sort of an arrangement with the czar himself.

Continuing, Sir Charles asked if there was any secret understanding with Germany regarding her access to the Persian Gulf, and urged the fostering of friendship with France. Sir Charles concluded with moving a reduction of the salary of the foreign secretary, Lord Lansdowne.
Thomas Gibson Bowles seconded the motion. He said he regretted the subserviency of the foreign office towards Germany, declaring that she was the disturbing influence in China, and that Emperor William's telegram to Mr. Kruger was largely responsible for the feeling which produced the Boer war.

Henry Norman (Liberal) wanted to know if the government realized that Germany had practically secured exclusive rights in the Shan Tung pen-insula, and that Russia had a complete monopoly of the evaluable mines of Mongolia. enormously LORD CRANBORNE'S DEFENSE.

During the course of a general reply, the under secretary for the foreign office, Lord Cranborne, declared that the great questions affecting New-foundland were not being allowed to sleep. They were perpetually before the foreign office of both countries. The government would be exceedingly

It was based on something stronger than treaties, namely, identity of interests and sympathies. There had been a passing coldness on such sub-jects as Tripoli and Malta, but Great Britain had given Italy assurances on both, and the soreness was healed. As to the Chinese indemnity ing a good debt, the government, Lord Cranborne declared, could not recede from its position, but sympathized with China, and some ameliorations might be granted. It was hopeless to expect the total abolition of the "likin" stations in China, but it was confidently hoped to be able, by the fiscal arrangement, to relieve foreign trade of this enormous burden.

The government would be exceedingly glad to settle the Newfoundland question, but it was very difficult because of a complexity of interests over which the British Government had no control.

Regarding Russia, Lord Cranborne said it was not the fault of Great Britain that an understanding belone Britain that an understanding belone Britain that an understanding belone for his recovery. hope for his recovery.

Death came with alarming suddenness to one of East Oxford's most popular young men on Tuesday—James McConell, jun., son of James McConell, sen., farmer, of Trimbles' Corners. The young man arose in the morning in his usual good health and spirits, and after partaking of a hearty breakfast, proceeded to the gravel pit, intending to begin road work. He had no more than begun active work than he fell in a swoon, and life was extinct in a few minutes.

The death took place at his home in agreement with Japan, Lord Cranborne asserted, was founded on mutual interests. Therefore it had a strong foundation.

Regarding the complaint as to the lateness of the treaty, Lord Cranborne said it was not for Great Britain to offer treaties. She granted them, and was delighted to grant this treaty to Japan. Lord Cranborne further remarked that he did not believe China was likely to e mislead by the advances of var spowers. She knew it was the true policy of Great Britain to maintain the integrity of China, and increase her resources. He was not in the elighbets of the complete of China, and increase her resources. He was not in the slightest afraid therefore of the small advances which it was thought had been gained by other powers. Lord Cranborne quoted the denial of the German imperial chancellor. Count von Buelow, that Germany had exclusive rights in Shan Tung, and claimed, therefore, that the door remained open. As to a Russian concession to the Pei Ho Valley, the government, said Lord Cranborne, was not in a position to say. Russia was not entitled to a concession, but when it came to the question of the site and the area thereof. Great Britain had a deal to say, and said it with considerable effect. THE BARRIER IDEA OVERDONE

Had the Ceremony Taken Place Official Negligence Might Have Caused Terrible Disaster.

London, July 1 .- No one can appreciate the magnitude of the disaster which, possibly, has been averted by the failure of the coronation parade to eventuate. It may be that before the coronation is held at last those responsible for the erection of barriers here and there on the public streets may see the error of their ways and do things differently.

Barriers were, of course, necessary for the handling of so large a crowd as that which flocked to London to attend the coronation, but the thing, it is now generally admitted, was considerably overdone. Someone in official circles went barrier mad.

At immense expense and labor barriers as stout as lock gates built to resist a thousand-ton pressure of water were placed at every available place along the route of the procession.

Navvies were engaged to quarry holes in the roads verging from the abbey, planting therein square-cut posts a foot each way and fastening to them hinges of monster size. Gaps were considerately left for traffic, but gaps so small that a 'bus driver required the skill of a charioteer in "Ben Hur" or an artillery driver in the military tournament to get between without damage to his vehicle and passengers.

At the jubilee barriers were found very useful in the case of one end of St. Paul's churchyard and some of the small streets near the route, but the builders wisely constructed special pits into which the posts could be slipped at the last minute and taken out again, thus leaving the streets unimpeded for the crowds at night. What would have happened when crowd met crowd at one of these narrow openings may be imagined. They were a nuisance days before the time for the ceremony. On the day of the coronation they would have been a menace to life. Equally to blame with those responsible for the barriers were the officials who built the Temple Bar arch on the narrowest footway in the narrowest main thoroughfare in the city. The ed above. Then Dr. Irvine brought arch was a flimsy structure, liable to charges against the bishop, alleging keel over under the pressure of a great | that he formed a conspiracy with Mrs.

Another obstruction was presented in the stand which took up half the footway in front of the law courts, and yet another in the stand which the officials of the Middlesex Guildhall were allowed to erect over the footpath. Both were flagrant violations of the rights of foot passengers; both Saves a Coaching Party From Disaster were a menace to life.

Cash Girl Found $1,500.

New York, July 3.-Little Catharine F. McCord, of 402 West Fifty-sixth street, a cash girl in Stern Bros., has gained the admiring envy of her fellow-employes, the commendation her employers and the friendship of a New York woman, to say nothing of a cash reward, through her honesty. On Friday a hansomely dressed woman lost a purse containing $1,500 in greenbacks. The little cash girl found and restored it. The delighted shopper gave her $10 and took her name and

San Francisco, July 3.-The Alaska Commercial Company's steamer St. Paul, has arrived from Cape Nome. with news of the steamers Portland and Jeanie, that does not agree with the report that reached here through the steamer Centennial at Port Townsend two days ago. The word now is that the revenue cutter Thetis was spoken in Bering Strait on June 18; that she had then been out ten days and had seen nothing of the ice-imprisoned vessels. Everything that the St. Paul tells of the ships is at variance with the Centennial advices. The fact that the former left Nome on June 22, two days after the Centennial eft, would make her report seem more reliable, and, besides, she belongs to the same people who own the Port-

Revenue for Fiscal Year Larger Than Ever Before.

That the Coronation Parade St. John's, Nfld., July 3.—The colonial revenue for the financial year ended June 30 is the largest in the history of the colony. It amounts to almost $2,200,000, and is $120,000 in excess of the revenue for the preceding fiscal

A large surplus is certain, but the exact amount cannot be ascertained.

The financial condition of the colony was never better than it is today. The custom house receipts at the port of St. John for the last quarter reached $550,000, a sum largely in excess of pre-

which was floated Monday, was subscribed four times over, and the offers went above par.

UNBECOMING TO A BISHOP

Charges Against a Presbyterian Minister Investigated.

A Thrice-Divorced Influential Woman the Cause of Trouble.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 3 .- The examination into the charges of conduct unbecoming a bishop, preferred against Bishop Talbot, of the Central Presbyterian diocese, Protestant Episcopal Church, by Rev. Dr. Ingram N. W. Irvine, of Philadelphia, was conducted in executive session by the board of inquiry recently appointed by Bishop Dudley, of Kentucky, and after hearing the testimony of are known. Dr. Irvine, whom the accused bishop unfrocked while serving as rector at St. John's parish, Huntington, Pa., and other witnesses, the board adjourned without making public its ver-

Bishop Talbot was not present at the investigation, which was held to determine whether or not there was sufficient evidence for holding the sufficient evidence for holding the bishop for trial, which, according to 000,000, as compared with $111,067,195 last the episcopal canons, would be before a committee of bishops. Two ministers and two laymen from the diocese of Central Pennsylvania, Maryland and Central New York, constitute the membership of the board. Rev. J. B. S. Hodgins, Baltimore, acted as chairman of the board, and Rev. Dr. F. C. Foley, of Williamsport, was secretary; Charles B. Mc-Conkey, of Harrisburg, was church advocate, the duty of which is to act as advisory council to the board.

Rev. Dr. N. W. Irvine, formerly rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Huntingdon, Pa., was unfrocked by Bishop Talbot because of his refusal to give communion to Mrs. Emma D. Elliott, an influential member of the parish, on account of her having been three times divorced, and married after the last divorce to her present husband, who had himself been divorced on the uncanonical ground of desertion. The matter was referred to Bishop Talbot, with the result not-

Elliott against him (Irvine). Irvine charged that he referred the matter of refusing communion to Mrs. Elliott to the bishop, and the latter said that, of course, she must be re-fused. Then, it is charged, the bishop and Mrs. Elliott entered into com-munication, and the prelate soon shifted his ground. The affair involves many vital questions affecting the welfare of the church and bids fair to become a national scandal. Bishop Talbot and Dr. Irvine were college mates.

STEEL COMBINE'S BIG BUSINESS!

Earnings This Year Were Over $150,000,000

PROFITS WERE VERY LARGE

Net Earnings for the Last Six Months $64,407,153, Says the Official Report.

New York, July 3.—The semi-annual report of the United States Steel Corporation has been made public. The poration has been made public. The earnings for the last quarter not only exceed the most sanguine estimates of the directors, but are far in excess of the published quarterly earnings of any company or trust in the history of finance or business. The earnings for the last three months reach the stupendous sum of $37,691,696, with the earnings of June estimated at $12,250,000. It is wholly probable that this estimate is a conservative one, and that the earnings for June will amount to more than $12,-

The reason for believing that the estimate will fall short of the reality is that the statement issued last quarter gave the estimated earnings for March at $9,500,000, whereas the actual figures given now show that they were $10,-135,858, or $635,858 in excess of the estimate.

It is therefore possible, and even probable that the real earnings for

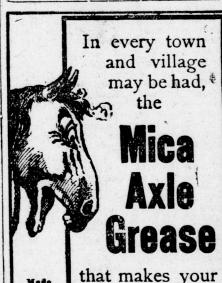

The total earnings for the last six months are given as $64,407,153, a sum very much larger than the capital of nearly any one of the big trusts, with the exception, of course, of the very great ones, such as the Standard Oil, American Sugar, etc. If the present rate of earnings is maintained the net earnings for the fiscal year ending

Deductions from the net earnings for the six months are as follows: Sinking funds on bonds and subsidiary companies, depreciation and reserve funds, $6,796,456. Interest on United States Steel bonds for six months, $7,600,000. Sinking fund for United States Steel bonds for six months, $1,520,000. Dividends on preferred and common stocks and outstanding stocks of subsidiary companies, $28,027,074, leaving undivided profits for the six months, $20,463,-

These undivided profits are applicable to increase the depreciation and reserve fund accounts, new construction or surplus. The 31/2 per cent dividend on preferred stock amounts $17,860 and the 2 per cent dividend on common stock amounts to $10,166,633. The dividends on outstanding stocks of subsidiary companies amount to only

The net profits for the six months amount to $48,490,657, after all the deduction for sinking funds, interest on bonds, etc., are made, or about $25,000,-000 for each quarter. This is how the items look in tabular form: Net earnings for three

The West and Its Froblems.

The peopling of the Canadian Northwest will bring problems calling for wise, far-seeing treatment. At the present rate of immigration from the United States, the American-born population will before many years preponderate in the Territories. There are political reasons why these settlers should be contented and prosperous in their new home. There is no use chutting our eyes to the fact that if they have any grievances which will foster a spirit of discontent, the situation may become dangerous, as rightly or wrongly they will hold the institutions of the country responsible. If they are to become thorough Canadians, and loyal British subjects, they must be convinced that our laws are just and that the Government is careful of their rights and responsive to their needs. In this connection, the first and foremost question is transportation. The position is serious enough already. Last season the C. P. R. was unable to carry off the wheat crops of Manitoba and the Territories. Since then the company has greatly augmented its rolling stock, and the Canadian Northern road will furnish a new outlet, but the acreage under the plow has immensely increased, and there are fears of another congestion of traffic this year. Every new settler is a producer. and if the railways cannot keep pace with the production there will be an outcry from the west. The question of rates is equally vital. Fortunately, a railway commission has been created, with power to regulate the rates and deal with shippers' grievances. It should be able to do effective work in the West, and the existence of such a body will give the settlers an assurance of protection. They have a sufficiently hard struggle with nature-such is life in any new country-and it is the Government's plain duty to see that they are not artificially burdened if legislation can must de their share in molding the West.

The Canadians Coming Home.

The Canadian contingent failed to see the coronation, but the men carry home & vivid impression of that great British institution, the circumlocution office. Though mere visitors, and colonials, they were brought into very intimate relations with it. It was with them from start to finish. They could not lose it. It met them on the arrival of the steamer, and they were immediately aware of it when they found no train had been provided to take them from Liverpool to London. When they reached London it dumped them into a bog. Then it tried to separate the officers from the rank and file, and for once it failed. The contingent expected to march as a unit in the coronation procession, as Canada's contribution to the event, but the circumlocution office had other plans. It decreed that the contingent, excepting a small fraction, should do police duty by guarding the route. Is it any wonder the Canadians were anxious to get away from it, and took the first chance of sailing for home? Having had this practical experience of British War Office methods they can better understand some of the phases of the campaign in South Africa. Lally Bernard, the special correspondent of the Toronto Globe, describes a saunter through the various Government offices, in which she found the desks strewn with five o'clock tea sets. This aptly illustrates the leisurely and unbusinesslike spirit of British officialdom.

No doubt the Canadians got some pleasure out of their experience. The British people treated them well, even If the circumlocution office did not. Besides, they saw the Queen at close range, and that is a privilege in itself.

Manitoba's Crop Prospects.

The latest crop bulletin issued by the Agriculture Department of Manitoba istimates the total area under wheat at 1.039.940 acres, as compared with 2,-111,835 acres last year, and 1,457,396 cres in 1900. Oats, which is the crop the second in importance, has a total area of 725,060 acres, against 689,951 keres in 1901 and 429,108 acres in 1900. There has been an increase in the barley area from 155,111 acres in 1900 and 191,000 last year to 329,790 acres, while flax has increased from 20,978 acres last year to 41,200 acres. The only decrease recorded is in the potato crop, which is 22,005 acres, as compared with 24,429 acres two years ago. The total crop area of the province is now 3,189,015. a gain of over a million acres in two years. Seeding was greatly retarded in all parts of the prevince by the heavy rainfall throughout the month of May. Operations commenced in some parts as early as the first of April, but were not general until after the 15th. Wheat seeding was not finished

10. There was too much rain during the seeding season, but, although this entailed considerable work for the farmers, it did not prevent the perfect germination of the seed in all parts of the province, nor the subsequent rapid growth of the crops. In a few localities the heavy rains of March lessened the wheat area. Grass has made splendid progress, and pastures are in good condition. The abundance of fodder is now of marked advantage for dairy cattle, and although the early rains delayed the opening of the creameries, it is estimated that the output will be as large as last year. The outlook in the Prairie Province is specially favorable, and general business is feeling already the stimulus of the coming harvest.

United States Senator Elkins has moved a resolution for the annexation of Cuba to the United States. He assumes that by denying them reciprocity the Cubans will beg for admission into the Union. The Chicago Tribune very aptly points out that the United States tried the same game with Canada and it did not work.

The President of the United States is visiting Pittsburg today, guarded as carefully as a Russian Czar. There is no braver man than Roosevelt, but these precautions are a duty he owes to the nation. Apparently the King of England is the only ruler who may safely venture out in a crowd.

> John H. Ames, a market gardener near Nairn, writes to The Advertiser complaining strongly of his treatment at Victoria Hospital. No doubt the Hospital Trust will look into the case, as an accusation of this kind by a responsible party should not go unchallenged. Complaints about food are common enough, but Ames' charge that the doctor's orders were not obeyed, and that he received improper attention, are more serious, as they reflect on the discipline of the staff.

[New York Herald.] This land of liberty,
To which a king
Seemed formerly to be An evil thing, Has in these later days Broadened its view, And finds a man to praise As king in you.

Its hands across the sea To Britain's shores Stretch out in sympathy To you and yours.
Happily it knows today
The better thing,
And with sincerity can say,
God Save the King.

The Prohibition Campaign.

[Hamilton Times.] The Prohibitionists in convention at London decided unanimously that "the proposed liquor act is an excellent measure of provincial prohibition. * A measure which, if administered by a government in sympathy with and responsible for effective enforcement, is certain to greatly duce the evils of intemperance in the Province. Then why did those same Prohibitionists do their worst to defeat the Government which introduced the liquor act, and with great ficulty carried it through the Legislature, subject to an appeal to the popular vote? Why did they give aid and comfort to Mr. Whitney, who is not in sympathy with the act, and would not try to enforce it? Why did they forsake their friends and cleave to Under the circumtheir enemies? stances, they have a good deal of faith if they look for help from Lib-erals next December. And they never could have had any expectation of Tory help. The prohibition cam-paign has been idiotically managed

AN END TO BILIOUS HEADACHE.— Biliousness, which is caused by excessive bile in the stomach, has a marked effect upon the nerves, and often manifests itself by severe headache. This is the most distressing headache one can have. There are headaches from cold, from fever, and from other causes, but the most excruciating of all is the bilious headache.

eruclating of all is the bilious headache. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will cure it—cure it almost immediately. It will disappear as soon as the pills operate.

Two Rich New Yorkers Charged With Stealing It.

Watertown, N. Y., July 4 .- Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Richman, of New York, charged with grand larceny in having stolen a $25,000 necklace of diamonds and pearls and $427, the property of W. E. Delabarre, also of New York, from the verandah of the Crossman House at Alexandra Bay Tuesday night, were arraigned before a justice in that village Tuesday night. They waived examination and were brought to this city today to appear before Supreme Court Justice Pardon C. Williams. Bail was fixed in the sum of $5,000 each.

The money and jewels were left by Mrs. Delabarre on the verandah of the hotel, and when their loss was discovered search was instituted. Detectives found the missing property in the rooms occupied by the Richmans. New York, July 4.-Louis L. Richman is one of the best known and most respected business men of the lower east side. He owns much real estate, and has been a prominent supporter of the local Hebrew charities. Dr. Delabarre is a practicing physician, with an office on West ninth street, this city. > ARE NUMEROUS REORDERS

The Outlook for Fall Trade Excellent-Bad Weather Has Hurt Trade in the States.

New York, July 4.—Bradstreet's will say July 5 of trade in Canada: Good crop prospects and more favorable weather have helped Canadian trade. Reorders of summer goods and fall orders are good at Montreal, where failures are few and collections good. Business is satisfactory at Toronto, and reorders are larger. Railway earnings show heavy increases and cars are in demand, despite large additions in rolling stock. Bremen, July 3.-Petroleum, 6 marks 35

Fall orders are increasing at British Columbia markets, but collections are only fair. A good outlook of the cereals, 100,000,000 bushels of wheat in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, is stimulating trade, helping fall business. Fully 75,000 new settlers are estimated to have come to the Canadian Northwest this spring. Failures in Canada for six months numbered 603, with liabilities of $5,-134,404-a decrease of 15 per cent in number, and of 20 per cent in lia-Six months' clearings were ness with jobbers. Touching the latter, however, it might be mentioned that the present weeks marks a between-season period, and rarely witnesses activity in wholesale distributive lines. Warmer dry weather is imperatively needed in the northern and western sections of the country if summer trade is to reach its full development. Eastern cities note the check given by the weather to retail rade, and the summer resort business, Pacific coast trade advices are rather Chicago, July 3.—Butter steady; creameries, 19c to 21½c; dairies, 18c to 19½c. Cheese easy, 9¾c to 10¾c. better. Grain markets have been considerably excited this week by the heavy and almost torrential rains reported in the central west. Winter wheat harvesting has been interfered with, the oats crop has been damaged, and the growth of the corn crop has been arrested. These facts are patent. just what extent injury has been done remains for warm, fine weather

Last week's favorable review of six months of trade is confirmed by the re-turns of bank clearings and failures for the half-year. The aggregate of the country's clearings is only 10 per cent less than a year ago, although stock speculation at New York was less than one-half as active, and outof New York there is a gain of practically 7 per cent shown.

Failures for June and the second quarter are among the smallest on record for those periods, and only twice in fourteen years has there been a better record for the six months' per-iod. It is evident that the business prosperity of this country no longer ninges upon favorable returns from one or two crops.

While trade in drygoods, boots and shoes and summer wear of all sorts is restricted, the dawn of better things is apparently seen in shoes and raw

The encouraging fall outlook renders it probable that a good business will be done at the west, and is firmer in tone at the east, where stocks are small, and manufacturers who have been out of the market for some time are reported in need of supplies. Lumber is rather quieter at the east, but stocks of all kinds are low, and prices are firmer there, and at the night.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, July 3.—About 500 head of butchers' cattle, 80 calves and 200 sheep and lambs were offered for sale at the east end abattoir today. The butchers were present in large numbers, and there was an active demand, with firm prices and pretty good cattle. There was no really prime cattle on the market, and only a few head of stall-fed animals, and these sold at 5½c to 5½c; good grass-fed cattle sold at 1½c to 5½c, and common at 3c to 4c, which he leaner beasts were bought by canners at 2½c to 3c. Calves sold at $250 to $10 each. Shippers paid 3½c for good large sheep, and the butchers paid 3½c to 4c; lambs sold at $250 to $10 each. Shippers paid at 6½c to 6¼c, weighed off cars.

The Toronto Globe today says: Mr. John Penman, of Paris, who provided the money which made the saving of the life of Joshua Sanford, the welldigger at Branchton, possible, while at the Queen's Hotel for a few hours, said that the reaction following the excitement of the release of the young man from the well had set in, and that he was in a serious condition. Sanford, he said, could not bear to be left alone, and was frequently under the delusion that he was still undergoing his terrible experience in the well. He would not allow the windows of his room to be closed, and obtained rest only when a cloth was placed over his eyes. Mr. Penman was exceedingly anxious lest the ordeal through which Sanford passed might yet result in mental col-

Hanratty, in his drunken condition, friends have always ignored, for Oakman was mouthy and ever put in his say even to the extent of calling others by offensive terms. Hanratty, who had been in the court room during the inquest, was taken back to his cell at police headquarters. He will be held till Saturday, pending the decision of Oakman's relatives.

Emancipation of the Horse.

Although the predictions made a few electric traction would quickly drive horses from the field of laber have not been fulfilled, yet the Electrical Review cites statistics to prove that the disappearance of the horse is actually taking place, although so slowly as not to attract much attention. In Paris the number of horses fell off about 6 per cent between 1901 and 1902. In London the decrease in the same time was 10 per cent. In Berlin, Vien-na and St. Petersburg a similar fall-ing off is shown by the census of ing off is shown by the census of horses. In New York it is estimated that the number of horses has decreas-ed 33 per cent in the last twenty years. But although horses may be relieved of the burden of hard labor, it is not likely that man will ever banish his ancient friend and servant wholly from the circle of his pleasures. ago, July 3.—Cattle—Receipts, 5,500, ling 1,000 Texans; good to prime

To Teach a Parrot. "There are two ways," said a bird dealer, "of teaching a parrot to talk. One way is to put him in a darkened room, to sit in a corner and repeat over and over again the word you want him to acquire. A clever parrot will learn a word or a phrase after some four or five hundred repetitions, while for some it takes a week or more. You must keep still in the No sounds from within or without the house, save your own voice monotonously repeating the phrase to be acquired, must reach the parrot's ear. Some people teach their birds in a well-lighted room, speaking from a place of concealment in a closet or behind a door. This method is not so good, because in the light the parrot's

The brandy came, and with it the antouncement that the carriages were at the door. Dipping a lump of sugar into a liqueur-glass of the spirit, Bravoura popped it into Gilbert's mouth.

popped it into Gilbert's mouth.

"Vous voyez que je suis femme galante moi!" said the lady, in her most brazen tones, and, indeed, there was no occasion to proclaim the fact; "et je vous dis que je vous trouve charmant," backing this unequivocal declaration by an offer of a lift back to London in "Olli-ead's" brougham, between herself and the deaf aunt.

Even Landless was startled.
"That's what they call at sea a stopper over all," said the old pleasure-seeker, finishing his tumbler at a gulp.
The gentleman excused himself on the plea that he must go back as he came down; "he wanted to smoke," he said, plea that he must go back as he came down; "he wanted to smoke," he said, and preferred an open carriage for that purpose; and Holyhead gave him an aftectionate squeeze of the arm that made him wince, as they emerged into the portico to ascend the phaeton.

"How do you fellows get back?" said his lordship, as the American horse reared straight on end when he felt the collar. Of course, neither of them knew, so it was settled that Landiess should return on the box of the brougham, and Charley in the narrow place that Bravoura had offered Gilbert inside. Pending this arrangement, however, the American horse would wait no longer, and the phaeton dashed off at the rate of sixteen miles an hour—a pace that was kept up without remark from either of the passengers for some miles. As they neared Kensington, Holyhead took a pull at his sington, Holyhead took a pull at his horses, and, looking down into his friend's face, broke the silence as follows:

more legend than fact after tomorrow's game. West will play his old position tomorrow, despite the howl ious creatures, women, Gilbert. I do with that one!"

They are curious creatures; that one in the brougham a couple of miles behind him was crying as if her heart would break; and although Charley Wing was a wary youth, who preserved on all topics in which the fair sex was concerned a discreet silence, it might be gathered, from his subsequent demeanor at his club, that he had made a good many pleasanter journeys than the drive home that night from Richmond.

CHAPTER XI.

Thursday came, and was ushered in by a lowering morning that gradually settled into a pouring wet day—an honest, straight-down summer's rain, that soaks not win this year they will next. The game has caught on with the populace, straight-down summer's rain, that soaks you to the skin in ten minutes, and makes the light-colored garmen; you have been rash enough to adopt in the metropolis look as if it had been dipped in ink. The cab-stands were empty as the great desert, save where an occasional arrival, with splashed panels and steaming horse, made its appearance for an instant to be beckened away again too. The small boys are playing it on an instant, to be beckoned away again by a fresh fare ere the driver had time to lay his whip athwart the roof of the conveyance and give his many capes a shake like that of a Newfoundland dog. Hapless pedestrians of both sexes floundered doggedly along, fording the deepest crossings with a defiant recklessness that had proved the worst; while those who were petricoats encumbered their that had proved the worst; while those who wore petticoats encumbered their limbs as little as possible with drapery, and displayed their bedraggled white stockings without reserve. The man who always looks over the first-floor blinds in wet weather, the man whose countenance is of a forbidding cast, and chiefly expressive of blank dismay, occupied his post as usual, retreating at intervals with more than common caution into the post as usual, retreating at intervals with more than common caution into the dusky recesses of his den. Everybody was dragged and weary and despending, save only the London urchin, a stoic whose philosophy is proof against all extraneous influences, and whose equan-imity, wet and cold, hunger and thirst, scorching skies and nipping froats, are equally newerless to overcome. Wrapped equally powerless to overcome. Wrapped in a scanty drapery, apparently formed from a discarded coal-sack, he stepped from a discarded coal-sack, he are the ped jauntily along; his whistle retained customary richness and volume, his customary richness and volume, his accompaniment against the area-railings its energy and precision. His sense of the ludicrous had lost nothing of its keenness, his wit nothing of its colloquial freedom, his remarkable demeanor none of its eccentricity and self-reliance.

Inside the r houses, at least, people ought to have been cheerful and good-humored, glad to have a roof over their heads and dry clothes on their backs. I doubt, however, if it was so. Bad weather with the unoccupied is apt to produce bad humor. The domestic barometer is not uninfluenced by the outward atmembers. When the material quicksilv stands at "much rain" at is well phere. When the material quick-stands at "much rain" at is well ovide a morel umbrella in the shape down to "stormy," it is advisable to sook out for sualls.

These right honorable dames, the Ladies Gertrude and Olivia, did not lose the opportunity. To do them justice, it was but on rare occasions—perhaps three or four times in a season—that they indulged in a grand passage of arms. Such encounters, I am bound to admit seldom dulged in a grand passage of arms. Such encounters, I am bound to admit, seldom originated with the younger lady, whose spirit, though easily roused against anything like injustice, was not of an aggressive kind. Today, however, she was unquestionably the invader. It would seem by her tactics that she had meditated an attack for some little time. Lady Olivia was in the habit of passing her mornings in a small apartment off her principal drawing-room, which she called her boudoir. In this retreat she cast up her accounts, wrangled with her butler, ordered dinner, worked in worsteds, and dozed over a good book. It was, in short, her ladysnip's own esworsteds, and dozed over a good book. It was, in short, her ladysnip's own especial sanctum, and the locality was avoided, not to say dreaded, by her intimates and relatives. Even John Gordon's stout heart seldom brought him voluntarily within its precincis; so she was a little surprised to receive an unasked visit from Lady Gertrude, who made her entrance with rather more sweep and rustle of her draperies than was consistent with pacific intentions, and did not forget to shut the door after her with considerable energy. The ter her with considerable enersy. The gonfalon was flung abroad—the first shot was fired. Lady Olivia, nothing touth, cleared for action forthwith.

"Aunt Olivia, can you match me this piece of yellow silk?" was the insidious question, under cover of which the younger lady made, so to speak, her first advance.

The frown deepened on Lady Olivia's dark forehead, into a dent between her eyebrows. "What do you want it for?" she asked. bruptly, and by no means with the courteous manner of one who is disposed to grant a favor.

d to grant a favor.

"For my cousin's slippers," answered the other innocently. "I want to get them done by the end of the month. Poor Cilbert will be so disappointed if he don't have them on his birthday!"

Now, these slippers had been a bone of contention ever since the first stitch had been put into their elaborate toes. Lady Olivia's unnatural dislike of her son had Olivia's unnatural dislike of her son had increased of late, to an unreasonable pitch. She was jealous of his position, of his fortune, of his popularity—above all, of his favor with his cousin. If she could be said to love anybody in the world it was Gertrude: and, strange to say, the misfortune which she dreaded more than anything on earth was the possibility of her only son and her favorite niece being united in marriage. "Sit down, Gertrude," she said, with much dignity; "I want to speak to you." Lady Gertrude sat down with the air of a princess Her heart beat a thought quicker, and her bright eye sparkled. She felt the contest coming on—the Berserfelt the contest coming on the Berser-ker's noble ecstasy, modified only by sex and situation. She sniffed the approach of battle, the little vixen, and enjoyed

Mr. Wood has visited the Stratford races for several years, but never before with a winner. He may be remembered at the last meeting as the driver of a mare called Black Maria. This horse was never up with the bunch, but that didn't bother Frank Wood so long as he got inside the banner. "I'm out for the fun that's In it," he would say, and when up behind the eld mare he wore a smile that was good to see, so eloquent was it of downright enjoyment. Mr. Wood is to be congratulated on having substituted Dandy Hal for Black Maria.

CRICKET.

OXFORD-CAMBRIDGE GAME. London, July 4.-The annual cricket match between Oxford and Cambridge began at Lords grounds yesterday. The crowd present was smaller than usual. Both elevens were admittedly below university form, and were especially weak in bowling. Oxford won the toss and vent to the wicket. At lunch time the score was 111 runs for mas-Nellswift, g. b., Morris, $3,500.

ARGOS ROWING FAST. Henley, July 4.-The Argonauts, who are all in fine condition, were out yesterday morning and went over half the course in 6:25. The weather is fine and pleasantly warm. Scholes is doing his daily louble practice and is in prime condition. The Argos were to have bod a trial spin at 5:30 o'clock last evening over the last half of the course with the Jesus College eight, but owing to a high wind it was decided to p stpone it until today. The Argonauts were out, but did only light work. The Toronto men are now about down to rowing weight and look healthy and trim. Scholes easily defeated his coach, Singer, in a spin yesterday, and it is Sullivan's opinion that if the Don Club's representative keeps up his present gait he will win. The Argos are the recipients of many special attentions and invitations to dinner parties.

BOXING. San Francisco papers, containing reports of the Gans-McFadden fight last Monday, are at hand, and they agree that the battle was a grand fake. It was so raw that the promoters refused to pay the purse until the conditions surrounding the fight have been sifted to the bottom, and if there is anything suspicious connected with the arrange ments for the fight the money will not be paid at all. As a result of the fight Gans is very unpopular in San Fran-cisco, and is is doubtful if he can get another fight. He cannot fight in Chicago, in his own town of Raltimore they do not care to see and before through he will be a lightweight champion out of a job. According to the reports from San Francisco, McFadden just stood up there and let Gans punch him out of the business without making even a feeble attempt to fight. Besides roasting the fight, the critics are jumping all over fight. Gans and saying that he has not the style of a champion, and expressing regrets that some of the California men will not get a chance at him. But Gans is not half as much blamed for crooked acts in the ring as is Al Herford, his manager. Gans, the critics say, simply works under orders.

Ye Ancient Game of Bowles

[Toronto Globe.]

Some devotees of lawn bowling have been congratulating themselves that the exigencies of Mr. Kipling's meter required him to add "at the wicket"

in his condemnation of island sportsmen. In their view, had Mr. Kipling referred in "The Islanders" to unqualified "flannelled fools," some scofply his language to the annual congregation of lawn-bowiers on the Toronto Island, which is this year to begin on Tuesday afternoon next. The

Mr. Kipling's intention is that he designedly used the words "at the wicket" in order to avoid any implication that he disapproved of lawn bowling. Mr. Kipling is a careful observer, and has no doubt noted the growth of this game in popular favor, and at the same time has observed its tendency to develop the very qualities which he himself approves. His negative approval is actually a strong point in its favor, but there are many others. In its early history the game had to contend against much opposition. In the statutes of England of the fifteenth century it was prohibited as "alike dishonorable, useless and unprofitable," and, strange to say, this prohibition was based on much the same ground as Mr. Kipling's protest against other sports; the King was concerned lest the practice of archery, so much more important to the military spirit of the kingdom, should suffer by too great devotion time no actual punishment provided, but offenders were bound over to observe the law. And an exception was also made to permit playing as a sort of holiday amusement during Christmas time, when servants were permitted "to play in their masters' house and presence," but no one could at any time "play at any bowle or or orchard." Exception seems also to a year, obtain a license to play privthere are few other forms of amuse ment so entirely free from it. The game REACHED AMERICA THROUGH

THE DUTCH at New York, who, an old chronicler tells us, used to play on the Bowling Green, now the Battery, at the southern end of the city, and found that the gentle exercise it afforded promoted digestion after their customary fers might have been inclined to ap- heavy dinner at 2 p.m. Their interest in it was so great that their minds were entirely relieved from the almost constant fear of neighboring Indians. Some of the hints of this old chronicler may well more acceptable view, however, of be taken even by the young players He writes: of today. judgment about you to observe the risings and fallings and advantages of the place where you bowl," which would imply that greens were not perfect even in these days. Aithough the game was played in Toronto more than sixty years ago, and in other parts of the province, chiefly on private lawns, thirty years ago, it was not until the eighties that the idea of bringing players together for a tournament was put in practice. After three or four annual meetings at Niagara-on-the-Lake, at which from ax to ten rinks appeared, the Ontario Bowling Association formed in 1889, with seventeen rinks present at its first tournament, representing less than half a dozen clubs. From that time to the present the increasing popularity of the game in this province has been so great that in anticipation of next week's tourna-ment at the Yacht Club, Toronto Island, it has been necessary to extend and improve the lawn, making it the largest bowling green ever laid out in the province. There must be some merit, that the scoffer cannot see, in a game with such a history. True,

IT IS NOT A STRENUOUS GAME yet it is sufficiently energetic to be healthful. Like all Scottish games, it requires a steady nerve, an accurate aim, a delicate touch and an equable temper. The hasty man is not usually successful, and is even less so in this than in other sports. It has attractions for all ages, and few are too old bowles in open place out of his garden to enjoy it, nor do they find it stale even after years of constant play. Skaggs Springs, Cal., July 3 .- The training quarters of "Bob" Fitzsimmons, who is preparing here for his championship battle with Jeffries, which takes place at San Francisco game. He is a willing boxer, though, July 25, was the scene of much activity last week. George Dawson, who has trained Fitzsimmons for nearly all of his important battles, arrived at the quarters and immediately began to break up the monotony of training life which preceded him. Dawson probably knows Fitzsimmons better than any other man, and he is familiar with his capacity for work.

On seeing Fitzsimmons work Dawson expressed himself as being well pleased with the former champion's condition.
"He is a little down in weight, said Dawson, "but you can bet he will toe the mark fit to give Jefferies the battle of his life."

Fitzsinmmons and Dawson took sev eral long runs through the woods, and on their journeys they talked over the plan of battle to be used against the big boilermaker. No one knows just what the Cornishman intends to do when he faces the big boilermaker, but judging from the air of confidence around the camp, especially Jeffries' name is mentioned, it would appear that Fitzsimmons has discovered a way in which to lay his burly conquerer out before the limit of the bout.

Fitzsimmons evidently did not realize the force of the blow and expressed regret that he should have hurt his sparring partner.

"But he is a big, strong fellow, and I have to stop him sometimes," he added, by way of apology. Dawson will take up the boxing from now on and assist Wilson, who seems to have been up against some hard and game.

Fitzsimmons is giving much attention to throwing the medicine ball, as he believes the exercise is excellent for the arms and chest.

FITZ POSTPONES HIS SPEECH. "I am not saying much just now," said Fitzsimmons, after he had concluded a busy afternoon's work in the gymnasium, "but I will have something to say after I meet Jeffries. Of course I expect to win from Jeffries. If I did not, I would never have induced him to make the match. There is one thing I am after, and that's the championship.

"When I won the title from Corbett the latter was a much more active man than Jeffries ever dared to be, yet I managed to get next to him. Regarding my last battle with Jeffries, I have thrown that out altogether, just as though it never took place. Jeffries will fight the real Fitzsimmons when we meet at San Francisco, and unless I am very much mistaken there will be a different story to tell."

SIFTON APPLICATION WAS PUT OFF FOR ANOTHER WEEK

Mayor Favors Granting It, He would be compelled under such an Says—Delay Caused by Present Company.

The Sifton application was again put off for a week last night by the board of works. A week ago it was left over so that the committee might receive from the city solicitor his opinion upon some disputed points. It was then thought the moment this opinion was received the board would be able to reach a decision upon the question. It was in their hands last night, and proved conclusively the truth of the claims made at the previous meetings by the Sifton people. But when it was read Mr. C. B. Hunt presented another question which he wanted the city solicitor to answer, as he said that Mr. Meredith had simply answered the specific questions put to him, which did not include all that it was desirable to know. In deference, therefore, to his contention, the comwill present his question to the solicitor, and as more information was being obtained for the Hunt Company, Mr. Talbot Macbeth, K.C., took a hand at the questioning, too, and submitted a number to the committee for presentation to Mr. Meredith. The meeting last night was more noteworthy than previous ones. For the first time since this matter has come up the mayor attended the committee meeting. When he did speak regarding it, it was in favor of granting Mr. Sifton's request. The committee had asked Mr. Meredith whether or not, by the existing agreement, the General Electric Company is compelled to extend their lines forthwith, throughout the area mentioned in the agreement, and also whether Mr. Sifton, if granted an agreement similar to that referred to,

GOT TO GO.

Men of Family Must Work. Sick or

Well. Good food and the right kind will carry a man through almost anything. Commenting on the power of Grape-Nuts, an Oakland wife writes of the experience of her husband. "Two years ago my husband had the pneumonia, which left him in a sad condition, unable to work for several months. The doctor said he would have to be very careful or it would turn into consumption. "We have a large family, and he must work sick or well. Hearing that Grape-Nuts was the strongest nour-ishing food we could find, he began on the food with one egg, which would be all he would eat for breakfast.

"He left home at 4:30 every morning seven days in the week, and after two years continued use of the food he is a well man. Even the cough left him that troubled him so long after his sickness.
"Our youngest child, a boy of four and a half, was a very delicate baby.

As soon as he could eat anything we started him on Grape-Nuts, and he has grown to be a large child, taking a suit for a boy six years old. He is a very bright, strong, intelligent bey."

agreement, to extend his wires forth-with all through that area. Mr. Meredith replied: "I am of the opinion that clause 2 of the agreement did not compel the Canadian General Electric Company to extend their wires forthwith, after the making of the agreement, throughout the area, but only on application, as therein provided. I am also of the opinion that if Mr. Sifton were to execute an agreement similar to that compelled, under such an agreement, to extend his electric wires forthwith all through the area." Mr. Hunt deprecated haste in dealtric Companies within the area named in the bylaw. That being the case, he asked were the company to understand that under the bylaw they had to extend 1,400 feet from any wire, includin; those formerly owned by the Ball and Forest City Companies, which were at the passage of the by-law the property of the Canadian If a new franchise was granted today upon the same conditions and wording to Mr. Sifton, would the new company be bound to extend throughout the area named, unless it paid them to do so, and when they found it convenient, as they have no wire there now to extend from, as in the case of the general electric at the time their agreement and bylaw were signed. He asked that these questions be answered by the city solicitor, and his request was granted. When answering these, the city solicitor will answer also the following questions, submitted by Mr. Macbeth: 1. Are the London Electric Company by the agreement bound city? 2. Are they to supply it at any to supplying electricity for power?

As will be seen by Mr. Hunt's questions, the contentions of his company now are that, notwithstanding the city solicitor's opinion respecting extensions within the area, they had to extend 1,400 feet from all the wires they then controlled-those of the Ball and only from the wires he now has, not road. more than in four blocks.

The most important development in last night's session of the Ninham inquest, held before Coroner Ferguson, was the evidence given by Wm. Mc-Bride, of Johnston street, South London. Mr. McBride testified that he saw John McArthur, the prisoner, held on a charge of murder, leave the Woodbine Hotel at 10:30 p.m., over an hour before the killing of Ninham took place. McArthur went along the Pipe Line road toward the city, and McBride believed him to be going home. Two other witnesses gave unimportant evidence corroborative of stories already told, and the inquest was further adjourned till Monday next. Last night's session was held in the interim sessions room downstairs. The change proved a commendable one. On the previous nights of the inquest, the smaller room was so crowded and stuffy that the proceedings were conducted under most uncomfortable circumstances. A good-sized crowd of spectators was in atendance last night. The prisoner, John McArthur, was present, seated by his counsel, Mr. J. F. Faulds. He seemed in good spirits, and maintained the same unconcerned demeanor as at previous sessions of the INDIAN WHO FELL ASLEEP. The first witness called was Augustus Doxstater, an Oneida Indian. He said he was at Springbank on the night of Saturday, June 21, and left there about 11 o'clock. He was with the Indians who claim to have stopped at Sharkey's and procured liquor. All had bicycles. Witness saw three men at the hotel, one of whom had come cut and taken one of the bicycles. Another man, who came out first, spoke to Jacob Ireland, one of the Indians, for about five minutes. Five minutes after the first man came out, another man came over to where the first who had come out was talking with Ireland. A third man came out of the hotel and jumped on Joshua Nichol's wheel. Ireland told the man not to break the wheel. The man answered, "Who in h— wants to break your wheel?" and went for a ride, which occupied ten minutes. When the man came back he told the Indians they had better go hered better go home. At this the two men that witness had seen come out of the hotel before, came up and told the who had taken the wheel not to touch the boys, that they would go home. Witness did not know if the man was going to touch them. Witness had seen the man who came out of the hotel first give one of the Indians a parcel. He had no knowledge of the contents. Witness and his companions had met the four Indians, who found Ninham's body, north of Brick street, when on their way home. On reaching the crossing of Brick street and the sidea talk among themselves.

Cross-examined by Mr. Faulds, the witness said that he was given drink at the Brick street crossing by Jacob Ireland, but was not drunk. Witness ing with the matter. There was no lead of rushing it through. He asked the committee to remember that at the time the bylaw was passed the that night. He had taken two drinks, Canadian General Company were and all his companions had taken the owners of all the wires and poles of the late Ball and Forest City Elecened by John Charles. He was taken which witness did not pay. Witness described the drinking of the whisky to some barn by the roadside, and slept there till morning. He knew nothing of Ninham's death until morn-Witness had not heard the redhaired man at Sharkey's say he was going to kill anyone.

The witness contradicted himself several times, and generally muddled his evidence regarding how long he was at the Brick street crossing before he fell asleep. SAW MCARTHUR LEAVE. William McBride, of Johnston street, South London, was the next witness called. He said he was at Sharkey's hotel on the night of June 21 about 10 o'clock. He was with Albert Abel and William Quick. They left the hotel together, and witness was accompanied partly home by Abel and Quick. Witness had seen the prisoner at Sharkey's hotel about 10:25. He judged the time by the fact that he looked at his watch when he got off the car coming from Springbank. It was then shortly after 10. He saw McArthur coming electricity to any individual in the out of the hotel. He saw no Indians around the hotel, and left there about 11 o'clock. It was ta Does such existing agreement apply ken from the shed and turned west to ken from the shed and turned west to the west side of the hotel by a man whom witness said was McArthur. Witness again saw the prisoner in the hall of the hotel as McArthur was coming out. Witness was in the barroom for about 15 minutes. He could not say positively that he had seen McArthur again, although he saw Forest City Company, while on the person whom he thought was the priother hand, Mr. Sifton need extend soner going eastward on the Pipe Line road. Witness did not see the prison-er again until Monday night last. No one was with the prisoner when he was just as they had to extend from the going eastward. It was not in the hotel and noticed no bicycles in the hotel and noticed no bicycles in the vicinity. To Mr. Faulds, Mr. McBride said that he judged it would be about 10:30 when he saw McArthur heading eastward on the Pipe Line road. Witness and McArthur had said "Good night" to each other. Immediately after this witness had seen McArthur leave hotel. Witness had seen two men drive from the west along the Pipe Line road, and when they came to McArthur witness heard them say "Good night, Jack; will you have a ride?" Witness judged that McArthur got in the rig. This would be around half-past ten. The top of the rig in question was down, and the horse was dark one. Witness had gone down to Springbank alone and had met Abel and Quick at Sharkey's. Mr. Mages put witness through se-

The last witness called was Jacob Ireland, an Oneida Indian, whose knowledge of English appeared to be limited. He said he had been at Spring. bank on the evening of June 21. After the show he wheeled to Sharkey's hotel, with several Indian companions. Half a dozen white men were on Sharkey's verandah. He heard the voices of men singing inside, but no woman's voice. A big white man, with a moustache, came out, took the wheel of one of the Indians and went for a ride. The witness passed among the spectators in the court room but was unable to pick out the "big white man." Ireland said one of the white men gave him a bottle of whisky, for
