NO HARD COAL FOR CITY

Utilities Commission Reports That It Cannot Be Bought by Civic Yard.

There was an interesting discussion at the meeting of the utilities commission yesterday afternoon over the purchase of office furniture for the new building. Tenders had been called for and several firms, including Hays Stationery Company and A. A. Langford, Limited, of the city, made offers. Mr. Langford tendered on a high class line of goods, and the Hays on a cheaper Manager Buchanan went back and asked Mr. Langford for a tender on the cheaper line. He sent in an alternative bid, and this was placed with that of the Hars Company.

"I don't like the alternative bid," said Commissioner Vining. "It looks as if Mr. Langford made it to get under the other fellow." The mayor did not take other felow." The mayor did not take kindly to either,"

Mr. Buchanan said that Mr. Langford had told him that if he got the whole order two and a half per cent would be allowed as discount.

The mayor replied that any of the bidders would give that. Several of the articles tendered on are mahogany. There was a wide divergence in prices. The mayor said that the staff could work just as well on the cheaper as the more costly desk. He did not like buying in the dark. Mr. Mitchell thought the articles should be looked over Mr. Buchanan and Secretary

Only Seven Remain.

The degree of master of arts was conferred in absentia on Capt. Edward Hudson Young, B.A., B.D., who is overseas on service. Reference was made to the fact that in one of the valedictories read at the graduates' banquet Wednesday evening the statement was made that of a class of 50 that had started the graduation course, only seven remained to receive degrees, owing in large measure to the numbers who had left for service of king and country.

blood in our men, the same grade of intellects. That is a dangerous, fallacious theory which Dr. Braithwaite quotes." A laugh was evoked at this point as the doctor declared that it is vitamins which made height, and not heredity at all.

Welcome Women Meds.

Dr. McCallum stated also that women will be welcome as students in the Medical College, to take the whole graduati 1 course. Dr. McCallum also presented the special awards in medicine.

The presentation to Edward Herbert

Apart from the conferring of degrees, the presentation of special awards and the administration of the Hippocratic oath to the graduates in medicine by Dr. R. Ferguson, eloquent and inspiring addresses were delivered by Chancellor Roche and President Braithwaite.

Call for Service.

Addressing himself especially to the graduating classes, Dr. Braithwaite emphasized the call of the age to service and the opportunity which is offered to young people of the character, training, ambition and possibilities of the graduates to serve the nation and the world. In connection with war and after-thewar problems, the president drew attention to the many important fields of services offered, in the realm of science and research work, scholarship, social welfare, statesmanship.

London's Opportunity.

Addressing the audience which had gathered for the graduation exercises, Dr. Braithwaite reminded it that any town can have factories, churches, hospitals, schools, but that it is given to very few cities to have a university with all that it represents. Only three Ontario cities have universities, several of the provinces of the Dominion only one. In view of the fact that a university is such a unique privilege and confers such benefits, the president of the Western bespoke for this institution the support of the community in Western Ontario, financial and otherwise.

"Don't go into the world with the idea that your student days are over. Let honor and integrity be your guiding principle. Be true and steadfast, and privileges conferred upon you tonight. Maintain a kindly feeling to and loyalty towards your alma mater," was the charge of Chancellor Roche to the graduates. Concerning the future of the university, has already given fine service, which has rendered it worthy of support. Reminding the members of the graduating class that they have not completed their education, but only attained the method of how to attain knowledge, he passed to the great problems which the young people going out as graduates of the university at this time are called upon to face—problems infinitely more perplexing and intricate than they would be obliged to face had there been no war.

Parade to Hall.

Shortly before 8 o'clock, an imposing procession left the Y. M. C. A. and marshalled by A. S. "Joan the Woman" is all the tragedy and beauty of life. So truly is it staged and so universally fascinating is the life of the "Maid of Orleans," that we live the picture as it passes before us. The plot has very cleverly been so constructed that it connects the story with the present times. The picture opens with a prologue A young British soldier. with a prologue. A young British soldier fighting on the western front discovers fighting on the western front discovers a strange sword of the 14th century type in one of the trenches. While he is examining it a call comes for a volunteer to blow up a certain enemy trench at midnight. The Briton falls asleep and before him passes the vision of Joan of Arc. In this vision he is Bric Trent, a gallant English captain, fighting with his king to conquer France from Charles VII. He is wounded and a strange peasant maid, Joan, France from Charles VII. He is woulded and a strange peasant maid, Joan, finds him and binds his wounds, saving his life. It is while she is examining his gauntiets that she sees the vision that takes her to the court as the destined saviour of France. In the first battle that she fights, Trent is captured. Following the victory her only requests are that Trent be released and that the people of her village never be taxed. He falls in love with the maid and pleads for a return of his love, and although her heart cries out for him she answers: "There is love in each neart for but one thing—mine is for France."

The cost of producing this great film story—the greatest photodrama of the age—was over $1,000,000.

Over 1,000 horses and more than 3,000 persons were utilized in the play.

The Majestic Concert Orchestra provides special music during the presentation of this wonderful photoplay. The music tends to add realism to the many gripping and thrilling scenes.

It is an all-absorbing picture, telling a human interest story of the first degree, and is produced by an excellent cast, headed by such eminent players as Captain Robert Warwick and Elaine Hammerstein.

When the picture was shown at the Strand Theatre, New York, it drew some of the largest crowds ever assembled in that house, where it enjoyed a long run.

Captain Robert Warwick's popularity makes any picture in which he appears, one to be eagerly sought after, but never since he first began his career as a screen star, have so many inquiries about this production been received. UNITED STATES MUST FURNISH RESERVES TO WIN BATTLE

That the United States must furnish the reserves to win the final battle is a truth recognized not only in Allied countries, but in Germany also. "We must hurry to obtain a solid victory by arms before the full American forces arrive," admonishes one German paper, while others seek to reassure their readers by decrying American efforts. Meanwhile, Secretary Baker's statement that the United States already has more than half a million soldiers in France makes it certain that it is more than replacing the British and French losses in the battle on the western front. You will derive immense satisfaction from reading the summary of the war which comprises the leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week (May 18). It shows what is expected of the United States armies; how its soldiers are fighting, and how they have been decorated; what the Germans think of the American soldiers; how United States shipbuilding is progressing, etc. Other vital subjects covered in this week's Digest are:

National Crisis Brings Motor=Trucks to the Fore.

The story of how the motor-truck is solving the problems of freight congestion, of increasing farm production and conservation of farm labor, of facilitating food markets, and of transporting passengers, is one of the most constructive and important narratives that could be written. Those who are interested in the great national question will read with interest the latest developments of the national motor-truck era by Harry Wilkin Perry in this number of THE DIGEST. THE LITERARY DIGEST appeals to, and is carefully read by manufacturers, business executives, progressive retailers, everywhere throughout the nation, and this number will be of particular interest to them inasmuch as all varieties of commercial vehicles are pictured and described. Prospective buyers of motor-trucks are especially urged to buy THE DIGEST this week and read these interesting announcements.

HELPING PORK RAISING

Sale of Forty Brood Sows to Farmers Made On Government Advice.

In an effort to provide standard seed for the farmers of Ontario the department of agriculture has in co-operation with the provincial secretary's department, distributed quantities of seed grain, etc., among the provincial institutions to be planted. When harvested the grain will be turned over to the department of agriculture for distribution to the farmers.

Part of the farmers.

Part of the plan was to sow 22 acres of oats at the farm of the Provincial Hospital, London, but for some reason the standard seed was not sent to the local institution.

There will be 50 acres planted in corn here however, and it is expected.

EXISTERICE

The provincial men of outstanding administrative ability, and he thought a man possessing these qualifications could be found among returned soldiers.

Mr. Sinclair of Guysobro wanted the Government railways brought under the bill. Patronage was as rampant as ever in Nova Scotia.

Mr. Parent (Quebec West), seconded by Mr. McKenzie (Cape Breton), then moved that the bill be referred back to committee with instructions to restore clause 9 of the bill as first submitted to the House. This clause forbids any person to "solicit or endeavor to influence any minister of the crown or the head of any department with respect to the appointment of any person to the service."

EXISTERICE

Mr. Sinclair of Guysobro wanted the Government railways brought under the outstanding sharp advances in prices of some lines. While the fall wheat crop in this district has been pretty much of a failure, the prospects for spring wheat and other grains are good, as far as opinion can be formed at this early period. Trade at country points is active, and plentiful supperson to "solicit or endeavor to influence any minister of the crown or the head of any department with respect to the appointment of any person to the solicitons.

Hon. W. S. Fielding said he would not like to interfere with the right of anyone to approach a minister of the crown. The clause under discussion had not been much respected in the last bill, and it was not likely to be in the future.

Sir Sam Hughes also maintained that the privilege of individuals to approach a minister should be retained. "Why should people," he said, "be chloroformed for daring to look at a minister." he was seriously cut up. He was taken to the hospital, where his wounds were dressed, and later removed to his home at 589 Grey street. He will be able to resume his duties in the course of a

Local Civic Body Refuses to Indorse Toronto Move to Secure Abolition of Check On Actions of Present Dominion Government.

London's board of control is opposed to the abolition of the Canadian Senate. It's ground in the wordse of Mayor C. R. Somerville, are that the Senate is the only safeguard the people have left in the country today.

The question was introduced by a communication from City Clerk Little-john of Toronto. He asked that the city indorse a resolution passed by the

C. H. Merryfield Declares the Telegram Received at District Company's Proposals Seem Fair Ones.

According to Mayor C. R. Somerville, nothing may be done in regard to the Gas Company's proposal that it should be allowed to mix natural gas with its mains, as a war measure. The mayor did not offer any reason for the delay. The question was discussed at the board of control today. Controller C. H. Merryfield asked what was being done. Merryfield asked what was being done.

"The way the company placed things before the committee the other night struck me as being fair. It looks like a good bargain. We had 90-cent gas when prices were low, and now we want all the fuel we can get. There should be no objection to putting a certain percentage of natural with the artificial gas. It looks like a step in the right direction, especially as it asks it for the duration of the war. We want all the fuel we can get for the coming winter," said the controller.

Mayor Somerville said that he fancied that the company would be able to get the natural gas as the industries were being cut off in July.

Controller Moore said that the company would have to conform with the regulations. There was also the question of the company's franchise.

POSTAL OFFICIALS BEING BLAMED FOR EAST END DELAYS

Controllers Say Their Efforts Hold Up Branch.

$2,000 WAS OFFERED

Present $600 Allowance Too Small for Merchants to Consider.

The opinion held by members of the board of control is that the east end postoffice question would have been settled had it not been for the local postoffice officials. The name of Thos. C. Duncan, deputy postmaster, was mentioned during the discussion.

Controller C. H. Merryfield said that he had a huge pile of correspondence on the question. The department was only willing to pay $600 a year for someone to run the office, and the merchants could not afford to do it for that. There was a time, he said, when the department was willing to pay $2,000, department was willing to pay $2,000, but this had been blocked by the local Controller J. M. Moore said that it was impossible to buy a money order n the east end.

Mayor C. R. Somerville sad that there Mayor C. R. Somervile sad that there was a postoffice branch in the north end, one at Ealing, one at Pottersburg, and one on the Hamilton road.

The question of the postoffice is still in tre air. No one has agreed to accept the paltry $600 for the job, and it would seem that the local postoffice officials who are being blamed for blocking the other deals will have to use their powerful influence to have the department raise the ante.

Add. Chas. Moorhead declares that the residents of the east end are worse off today than they were 40 years ago. He is hoping action may be taken to settle the case in the near fluture.

GOVERNMENT'S IDEA OF ECONOMY. T IS A PITY, when the whole country is demanding thrift and economy on the part of the Government, that its first apparent effort in this direction must be criticized, but the fact is that the Government has failed to distingush beween economy and niggardliness. It is announced that the whole cost of national registration is expected to be kept well below the million-dollar mark. Good; but how is this to be accomplished? The answer comes from Ottawa.

District superintendents are to be paid at the rate of $8 a day for the time they are actually engaged in the work. Registrars for each constituency, selected by the registration board, are entitled to $6 a day. Deputy registrars, appointed by the registrars, for the polling sections are entitled to $4 a day, but all registrars and deputies are invited to give their services free of charge. It is added that hundreds of women will act as

It will have been noticed that school teachers are to be invited to take the humbler positions. Many of these are working hard for an annual salary of $600, $700 or $800, and some for less. These, members of the most poorly-paid of all professions, are asked to give their time and energy to the Government on the only occasion that the said Government has given them an opportunity to work under it in spare time. Women are specially mentioned for the work of deputy registrars; does the Government not consider them as fully entitled to remuneration as the port are not smoked here, but undergo that process in Britain after their trans-Atlantic trip. Each packing company cures Wiltshire bacon for local trade as well as for export, and that for local trade is finished here.

With these facts in mind, it appears that the appeals to people to eat less bacon and the orders to hotels and restaurants to serve it only on certain days and during set hours are unnecessarily clumsy ways to conserve the Wiltshire variety for export. Why should not the restrictions be placed on the packing companies where their enforcement would be so much simpler? A little calculation by the Government department would decide how much export Wiltshire was required from each company in the business each week or month, and this quantity could be contracted for in advance or commandeered if necessary. The balance would be available for home consumption on any days the people choose to eat it.

The present plan leaves too much to the individual who, although patriotic, may be careless and eat more than can be spared him; in addition to this, it is uncertain in its results. Since the food situation is so critical overseas, would it not be better to make certain that enough bacon is available when transportation is provided for it?

AN IMPORTANT MOVEMENT.

MOVEMENT has started in Quebec city which may have more influence in drawing men to the colors in that province than conscription has had up to date. It is announced that the girls of the city have caught the war fever and hundreds of them are besieging local military officers begging to be shown how to be of service to the empire in the present emergency. As a result, Lieut.-Col. Lebel, formerly of a Canadian war hospital in France, has started a class of French-Canadian society girls who will be taught first aid work and will continue through subsequent classes until they are qualified to serve in the war hospitals of Britain and France. The colonel says there are hundreds of girls eager to take up this work or any other which will aid the

Now that the girls have taken up patriotic work with enthusiasm, it will become decidedly uncomfortable for male slackers. There is nothing like activity in the cause to promote patriotism and those who are "inside looking out" have nothing but contempt for those who remain outside. The influence of women has been a strong factor in recruiting in other provinces, and Quebec may be led by the fair sex to pile up records which will compare favorably with those of the rest of the Dominion.

the friend advised him to get a hair cut, a shave, some decent clothes and to take a bath and maybe the girl would look with favor on his proposal. "Take a bath!" said the suitor. "And then maybe she'll turn me down after I take the bath! How do I know?"

Milk In the Hog Ration

In order to raise and finish all

In order to raise and finish all the extra pigs that will be farrowed in Canada this year as a result of the campaign for increased production, it will be necessary to exercise the utmost economy in the use of concentrated foods. Pig raisers who have access to dairy by-products have a great advantage over others. Experiments have proven that when meal is worth $40 a ton, milk is worth more than $8 for an equal weight; that is, provided it is fed economically. Experiments carried on at the Dominion Experimental Farms and Stations show that for growing hogs, 60 pounds and over, 400 pounds of skim milk produced results equal to 100 pounds of mixed meal. Buttermilk fed fresh is equal to skim milk. Whey is not so valuable. One hundred pounds of whey was proved equal to 19.2 pounds of milk; that is, provided it is fed in not too large quantities and before it has soured.

A study of experiments with skim milk show that for young A study of experiments with skim milk show that for young pigs, one pound of milk fed with 2½ or 3 pounds of meal gives best results. For larger hogs less milk may be used. For hogs over 100 pounds in weight not more than 5 pounds of skim milk daily should be fed in order to get the greatest value from the milk. At the Nova Scotia Agricul-tural College it was shown that tural College it was shown that the best gains were made by feeding a lot of pig ration com-posed 148 pounds of grain, 900 pounds of skim milk and 110 pounds of mangels. At the On-tario Agricultural College the best results were obtained where the proportion of milk to meal the proportion of milk to meal was 2.5 to 1. In one trial in which this proportion was used, 365 pounds of skim milk were equal to 100 pounds of meal. This agrees fairly closely with the re-sults obtained at the Ottawa and Branch Farms.

In a series of articles that appear in the May number of the Agricultural Gazette, both the Ottawa and Guelph authorities agree that it does not do to change the diet from sweet to sour milk. For young pigs the sweet milk is much to be preferred. For larger pigs it seems to make little difference whether or not it is fed sweet or moder-ately sour, provided whatever condition favored is uniformly kept up; that is to say, if the milk cannot be obtained always sweet, then it should be fed sour Cousin Bruin spoke up in his big bass voice, "Well, Jimmy, my feet are awfully sore; but seeing it's awfully empty down in my big stomach, I'll make a try." And Cousin Bruin got up and stretched himself several times, and said in his big gruff voice. "Now, Cousin Jimmy, you come and stand here beside me, and place your toes along this root of this beech tree; and when I count "Three" and say "Go," we'll both start together; now, no cheating, you little rascal. "And it was a funny sight to see those two Cousins toeing the line, and to hear Mr. Black Bear count in a very slow and solemn voice, which you could hear half a mile away, "One, two, three—go!"

ED WITH DIVINITY.

All who come under Christ's banner of love, and accept of his sway over their affairs and their lives, have taken on Christ's divine nature and are like him in a great many respects. Christians, with the divine nature, are more than a match for all opposition; they have power given unto them to fight and overcome all the forces of evil: the devil, the flesh and the world are vanquished by them. The power of God dwells in the heart of every man who is attached to Jesus Christ. Not only are his sins forgiven, but his old, weak, vascillating human nature is a thing of the past; he fights no longer with weapons of flesh and blood, but wields the sword of the spirit, and goes forth to his daily work a conqueror over all the force that are against him.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

When the heart begins to beat irregularly or intermittently, palpitate and throb, skip beats, beat fast for a time, then so slow as to seem almost to stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm, and the least excitement or exertion seems to affect it.

Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak worn and miserable through this unnatural action of the heart.

To all sufferers from heart troubles we would advise the use of Milburn's Heart and regulating the beat, remove all the distriction in strengthening the heart and regulating the beat, remove all the distriction in strengthening the heart and regulating the beat, remove all the distriction in strengthening the heart and regulating the beat, remove all the distriction in strengthening the heart and regulating the beat, remove all the distriction in strengthening the heart and regulating the beat, remove all the distriction in strengthening the heart.

The managers of most International League clubs are sore that Binghamton was included in the league. But it is their own fault. They did not believe in the work of Providence.

A fan beat up an umpire in a west-ern coast league and was given six months. If the ump' was one of the variety which used to haunt the Cana-dian League, the erring fan should have been awarded an iron cross.

There is no doubt about it. Ball-players are eccentric cusses. They say that Tris Speaker cannot sleep at nights unless the tap in the basin of his bedroom is turned on, because it reminds him of the dear old "falls" back home.

I am making no definite statement about retiring, but that seems the probable outcome of the present situation."

FORFEIT MONEY RETURNED. Kansas City, Mo., May 17.—On telegraphic information from Mike Collins, manager of Fred Fulton, that he recognized public sentiment was against holding the proposed Willard-Fulton match planned for July 4, and would make no claim of forfeit money, Edward Cochrane today returned $1,000 each to Collins and to Willard's manager, Col. In addition to this aggressive movement the war office reports a successful patrol action by the British at Canove, in which prisoners were also taken. Enemy raiding parties were repulsed. The artiMery activity grew stronger in the Lagarina and Arsa valleys and on the Asiago plateau.

HOUSEKEEPING IS A BUSINESS. ECONOMICAL COOKING IS A SCIENCE.

Our Consumers' League

Would you give a five-cent piece to help save the life of a starving child? Would you do still more in these days of high prices? Would you divide a loaf of bread with the little one who but for your bounty woult perish?

To be sure you would, no matter how you are obliged to count the pennies "The trouble is you have never heard the cry of a starying child or looked into its eyes in this prosperous Canada," is what Hon. Everett Colby of the United States Food Commission told an audience in London some weeks ago.. "I have," he said, "during the famine in India, and it will haunt me to my dying day. It bored into my brain like an auger."

Across the Atlantic the echoes of the cries of starving children in Belgium, neglected, forlorn, sick little children in Belgium, have reached London. Oh, such a pitiful wail it is, the wail of little children in many, many cases bereft of parents and guardians through the cruel deportations and wholesale removals rom one place to another of whole populations. Helpless, the children have ecome public charges. So far back as last fall, in addition to shrinkage in onnage of shipments to Belgium of food, the country's stock of milk cattle, which had been reserved to maintain fresh milk for the children, were being slaughtered. The children, in whom lies Belgium's hope for the future, are ecoming afflicted in rapidly increasing numbers with rickets, tuberculosis and or Belgian children in the midst of conditions at present infinitely worse, it is officially stated, than have been even imagined up to the present.

A fund has been established to send ailing, half-starving Belgian children to Holland, France or Switzerland to be cared for, fed, clothed and given medical attention. Another fund, known as the "Belgian Orphan Fund," feeds, clothes and educates the children left alone, in many cases not knowing whether their

Through the headquarters in Montreal for relief work for the victims of the war in Belgium, the piercing, haunting wail has come for help from 'he orphaned, starving Belgian children. These are the children of the gallant little nation whose noble king stood out alone against the greatest military power in the world at the beginning of the war, and who, during all the tragic events of world at the beginning of the war, and who, during all the tragic events of nearly four years of German occupation, when millions of his people have been facing starvation, never once has weakened in his loyalty to his allies.

So urgent is the appeal for help for the Belgian children that the secretary-treasurer of the local Belgian relief committee, Mrs. A. T. Edwards, is making arrangements to secure headquarters down town, where machines can be installed and sewing done during the summer months in order that generous shipments of clothing and other necessaries may be forwarded from London, and, i is hoped, Western Ontario, in time for protection against the cold next autumn What about raising money?

FIVE CENTS TO SAVE A LIFE.

Raising money! That's the rub! \ People who never really go hungry to bed, not-Haising money! That's the rub! People who never really go hungry to bed, notwithstanding high prices, food control and much discomfort, feel they have been asked for money until it makes them sore to think about subscriptions. WHAT ABOUT THAT HALF LOAF OF BREAD, OR EVEN A LITTLE FIVE-CENT PIECE, OR THE PRICE OF A CAR FARE? WHAT ABOUT SACRIFICING ONE "ALL-DAY SUCKER" IF YOU HAPPEN TO BE A VERY SMALL BOY OR GIRL? WHAT ABOUT A ONE-CENT POSTAGE STAMP IF YOU ARE STILL A GIRL OR BOY UNDER THE AGE OF SIXTEEN YEARS, YET HAVE NOW don't turn your years of them indicates the state of the state

Now, don't turn up your nose at these insignificant suggestions, until you ave heard a plan that has popped into the head of the editor of this department for raising a substantial amount of money for helping those Belgian children without taxing anyone.

Registration day is coming in London within a few weeks. In 1917 the population of London, according to figures obtained by the assessment commissioner, was 55.887. It is estimated that there will be at least 40,000 people over sixteen years of age who must register on registration day. That will leave in round numbers say 15,880 young people under sixteen years Supposing every single citizen eligible to register—that is, over sixteen years of age, would contribute less than the cost of half a loaf of bread at present retail prices, the small sum of 5 cents to the fund to help the Belgian children, THIS

WOULD IMMEDIATELY GIVE A REVENUE OF $2,000. posing each boy, girl or infant under sixteen years of age were to give ONE CENT apiece, that would bring in $158.80. Add the two totals together, $2,000 and $158.80. That gives a grand total of $2,158.80, and practically nobody feeling it at all.

If anyone in all the city were not able to give FIVE CENTS, while over sixteen years of age, surely there are numbers of others who would give up a street car ride to substitute, or even a sundae or soda to pay two shares in order to save little Belgian children from hunger, exposure, neglect and suffering Twenty-six thousand was estimated the other day by the registrar appointed for East Middlesex as the probable number in his district eligible for registration.

Supposing the five cents for adults (over sixteen), and one cent for young people idea were taken up in East Middlesex, and all over Western Ontario for that matter, just think of all the help those Belgian children would receive, and with no special tax on anyone! JUST $3.70 A MONTH.

Why, it just takes $3.70 a month to feed, clothe and educate a Belgian child. Think of all the lives that could be saved among the children in the country of the brave King Albert if only the people of London and Western Ontario would take up this idea of a cent apiece from children under sixteen, five cents apiece from adults over sixteen. If only the schools would take it up and collect the coppers from the children, and if only the people over sixteen would turn in their five-cent pieces to the Belgian Relief headquarters to be opened here, ust as much as a matter of course as they will go to register!

And if only the idea could be taken up all over Western Ontario!

Such a small thing that it is a nuisance? But think how these little amounts piled up are going to make a substantial whole. THE AMOUNT RAISED IN LONDON ALONE, $2,158.50, WOULD SAVE FROM STARVATION, FEED, AND EDUCATE FOR ONE WHOLE YEAR FORTY-EIGHT

Not much to give up half a loaf of bread, a street car ride, an "all day sucker" or a one-cent stamp to help to do a thing like that, is it? Perhaps, if little Belgium hadn't been so brave., Canadian children today wouldn't be having a much happier time than those in Belgium.

THAT FOOD CONTROLLER

In view of the importance of food in winning the war, apart from other considerations, it was passing strange that the mass meeting addressed by Food Controller H. B. Thomson in Wesley Hall on Tuesday evening was not in reality a "mass meeting," a crowding of people into the building until there was not room to squeeze in one more. Those who did go, for the most part expected such a rush that they got there betimes in order to obtain seats There wasn't the slightest need for panic on this account. Where were all the people that have been railing at food control, talking about the food controllem behind his back, orating about the unfairness of having their flour and sugar bins emptied of their contents to be carted back to the dealers? Where were the people who have been writing scathing letters to the press concerning the sins of omission and commission of the food control board?

It very much looked as if a whole lot of people are really not taking the food business very seriously, at least to the extent of getting first hand information in regard to what is expected by Britain and her Allies of the Candle food bearing the state of the Candle food bearing the candle food bear ada food board, and what the Canada food board is asking of Canadians in the way of co-operation.

One point the big Irish-Scotch-Canadian food controller was very phatic about and made entirely plain, and that was that the business of food ontrol in Canada isn't just a matter of regulating the town pump, or legislating for the home town. It is ordering in the best interests of the whole of the Dominion of Canada. And, having traveled up and down the length and breadth of this Dominion, as a whole lot of his critics have not, and, knowing he different conditions arising in widely separated sections of the country, the food controller has the advantage of having seen and knowing all of Canada. This naturally gives a breadth of vision impossible to people who have lived practically all their lives, in say even such a favored corner of the globe as

A "FOLLOW-UP CONFERENCE DESIRABLE. So far as time allowed, the food controller made plain the methods adopted in Mcensing dealers in foodstuffs and the recent food regulations. Many people present were disappointed that provision was not made for questions to be asked at the close of the address. The food controller, in his simple, straightforward, unvarnished statement of facts concerning the food situation, Canada's obligations to save the Allies from starvation, and feed the fighting men, the manner in which Canada in the past has failed to develop her own resources and be self-supporting, and also in regard to the food legislation, made clear that the Canada food board is composed of reasonable beings, intelligently endeavoring to meet the situation overseas, and, as far as possible, in so doing to dislocate business and household arrangements as little as possible, and to serve the best interests of the country both for the present and after

But people would really have liked to ask questions. Having grasped the general principles, they wanted to get at the exact interpretation of features of food regulation as it affected themselves.

If it could be so arranged, a food conservation conference for London and district, conducted by some lesser light of the Canada food board, would prove illuminating, provided the lesser light had as comprehensive a knowledge of all the details as Mr. Thomson and the chairman of the publicity conservation section of the food board, Mr. Stewart, who accompanied the controller from Ottawa. Those who heard Mr. Thomson and Mr. Stewart have doubtless had their confidence in the Canada food board greatly reinforced. But a conference, if it could be arranged, would give the opportunity for clearing up of points in connection with regulations which are puzzling people. Such a conference wouldn't require to be long. Two sessions or even one would do, provided the time was given for asking and answering questions. Not only would it prove enlightening to those asking for information, but it might also of decided advantage to the food board in the way of establishing relationships of thorough understanding between it and the people of this part of Ontario. Further, Mr. Thomson on Tuesday evening stated that constructive criticism is always welcomed by the food board. No doubt really constructive suggestions would be offered at a conference, especially from the practical housewives.

It is raining today in many parts of the prairie, and indications are that the precipitation area will cover Southern Manitoba, where it is badly needed.

With all the wheat in and a good start on seeding of coarse grains, nething could be more propitious than a general heavy rainfall. Owing to the very early spring and the dry March, the land needed moisture to an extent unusual at this time, for although there is plenty in the ground, the top soil was very dry, and on light land there has been considerable drifting. Any anxiety on that score is now relieved.

When little Doris reached home she told her mamma all about it. Chewing gum and candy money was pretty scarce in Doris' home, and Doris and her mamma wondered how she was ever going to get money for the Red Cross.

"Where there's a will there's a way."

Lid mamma. "Something will turn up so we can get the money, for it's for the greatest cause in all the world."

"But I want it to be my very own money," replied Doris. Then as her mamma was busy she went out to sit in the front porch to think.

The sun was just sinking behind a hill of purple clouds and Doris breathed a happy sigh.

"It's fairy time at twilight hour," she mused. "How I wish I could see the fairies at their merry dance."

Her eyes were tired, and her head nodded. Something moved under the trees, and Doris sat very still.

The fairy forms glided from behind each flower and blade of grass in the yard. Hundreds of them were thereseach with a tiny basket on her arm and a darning needle in her hand. a darning needle in her hand.

Heart-disease may be briefly summed up to be a disturbance or altered adustment of the driving power of the heart muscle. Attention is no longer to be directed mainly to the valves, but to the effect which non-normal conditions or diseases have upon the lower part of the heart, not the upper chambers or auricles, are affected. In disease it is found that the action of the auricles can be dispensed with and yet the flow of blood through the arteries and veins will not fail to any extent.

As to the right lower half of the heart, the right ventricle, any trouble or irregularity which the doctors' instruments may find there is only important in its influence upon the action of the left ventricle.

The amount of the Interference with the complete action of the left ventricle will be found valuable as an index to all forms of heart-disease. It will be found useful in all irregularities associated with muscular heart changes with all excessive changes in the rate of the heart beat, be they much decreased or increased, and also with any feelings or signs of heart weakness on the part of the sufferer.

It is the precision of knowledge gained through such instruments as the polygraph and electro-cardiograph which has made possible the recognition of many influences hitherto unsuspected, which act upon and interefere with the contractions of the lower part of the heart, the ventricular beat.

"She's doped all right," affirmed the same voice that had advised the needle test I had no reason for my conjecture, but was sure that the voice belonged to the ferret-faced youth who had shown his notebook containing my description—as I believed—to his neighbor after I entered the dining-room.

"What shall we do with her?" It was a woman's voice that put the question. A deep voice rolled out a guttural sentence, which I gathered to be a German version of the old proverb, "Dead men tell no tales."

"You are a milksop, Sophle," another woman said contemptuously. "What is the life of a baby-face like this when it interferes with what we are doing for the fatherland?"

"I may be a milksop, but I am not a schweine butcher," Mme. Hofer answered angrily, mixing German and Engitsn in her excitement, "and I tell you I will have no murder."

"Who's talking about murder?" snarled the voice which I was sure belonged to the ferret-faced man. "We know this dame's in the secret service, and the man who wrote out the description which put me wise to her is mighty anxious to have a little interview with her again. I don't know what the row is, but he's been watching for her for some time, says he has a nice little score to settle with her."

I turned faint with horror, almost forgetting my heavy breathing in the terror of knowing that my fears were true, that the man with the scarred hand was still nursing his vengeance against me. But the ferret-faced man was talking again, and I put down my terror with the grim determination to act my part as worthily as I could. How I kept up my pretence of stupor, and at the same time missed no necessary word of the dialogue, is a mystery to me. Fortunately, the ferret-faced youth—or the voice which I believed to be his—after his first sentence or two, used English, and as he appeared to be the leader and principal speaker, my task was not so hard as if all the conversation had been in German."

"Te Her Up Well."

"Tie Her Up Well." "We don't have to hurt her at all," ent on the voice, speaking, or rather urdering, English. "Just toss her into ne of your upstairs rooms. Sophie, and at her wait there until we all get afely away. I'll tip off the guy that's o interested in her just where she is, and after that we don't know nothin'. he does."

"You forget," the deep voice which had advocated my death said slowly, "that we cannot all get safely away so quickly. There are messages that must be soot toxicht from here.

be sent tonight from here, otherwise you know what fails. No matter what happens, the wireless must work to hight. It means a thousand swine in the butcher shop."

His tone was pregnant with a monstrous menace, all the more horrible to me because I couldn't fathom his meaning—I who was helpless in the face of this awful hidden peril to my country! "What's eating you, Grandpa?" the ferret-faced youth replied impudently. "I happen to be the guy that has to operate that wireless, and I don't want Physiologists have of late been struck by the wonderful mechanism by means of which any irregularity of the heart beat, induced experimentally, is more or less corrected before the irregularity spreads to the bottom or ventricles of the heart.

Applied practically, it may be said that the effects of heart-disease is to be estimated by the extent to which the lower part of the heart, not the upper chambers or auricles, are affected. In think anybody knew where this dame was, didn't you, Sophie, a while ago?"
"She said her husband was out of town," Mme. Hofer replied, and with a vague glimmering of hope I thought I detected distinct sulkiness in her voice.

detected distinct sulkiness in her voice. "She probably won't be missed before rising time tomorrow morning."

"And by morning we'll all be far, far away," said the ferret-faced youth. "Grab her up, Otto; you're the strongest. Carry her up to the room Sophie shows you and lock her in. And remember, Sophie, no chicken-hearted stunts now. Tie her up well."

DIARY OF A FASHION MODEL

Bright Colored Linings Favored for Summer Evening Wraps.

I was trying on blouses when Madame appeared in the doorway of the fitting-room.

"Come upstairs with me, Claire, while I design an evening wrap for Miss Arnold," she said, handing me a sample of red fabric silk. It was of that soft tone of Oriental red which is between a rose and a magenta.

"Miss Arnold asked me to let her have "Miss Arnold asked me to let her have "I know exactly what I want for Miss Arnold—a full, cape-like wrap with a huge monk's collar. I'll show you in a minute what I mean."

Taking a pencil, Madame made a sketch on a piece of cardboard and proceeded to explain it to me in detail.

"You see, it's to be cut very full, so that deep ripples form about the hem. The sides will be a trifle shorter than 20000000 shoulders, and stands well away from the neck. Much of the smartness of the wrap will depend upon the collar. Miss Arnold is tall enough to wear a collar of its exaggerated proportions, and I may make it an inch or so wider.

"I intend that the slashes, through which the arms are slipped, shall be cut very long and then laced together with heavy red silk cords to match the lining, and large eyelets buttonholed with heavy red silk thread. The ends of the cords will be finished with tassels of the same color.

"How does the idea strike your fancy? Do you think it will be a summery looking wrap?"

I replied that there was nothing nicer than a cape of white satin for summer evenings, and that red and white was a most charming color combination for the summer girl. I also added that no matter where the Arnolds spent he summer—at the seashore, at a mountain resort or in the country—the wrap would be appropriate for any place.

"T'm glad the wrap gives you that impression," Madame smiled. "I want it to be elegant enough to wear to formal parties, and yet not look out of place at gatherings of the simples character.

"Now since everything about the wrap satisfies us, we'll take the sketch and the materials to Miss Wesley and tell her to go ahead with it."

So, with the long roll of white satispointed over my shoulder, I followed Madame to the workroom.

Miss Arnold will love her cape. Most girls are partial to bright-colored limitings in summer evening wraps.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SUMNER.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL HOME-GROWN SPUDS HOME-GROWN SPUDS COME DOWN TO $1.70 New York, May 17—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Normal conditions prevailed at the opening of today's stock market, in striking contract with yesterday's lar, however, suggesting a recurrence of yesterday's late selling, but changes were evening distributed. Shippings were the strongest features, Marine preferred soon advancing 3 points. United States Steel reacted a point, and Baldwin Locomotive soon forfeited the Market.

States Steel reacted a point, and Baldwin Locomotive soon forfeited the greater part of its initial advance of 2 points. Coppers, oils and motors showed some hesitation. Among rails, Union Pacific was appreciably stronger. Liberty bonds were steady.

Noon.—Trading in the first hour resolved itself into a contest between opposing interests, as indicated by United States Steel, which fluctuated over and under yesterday's final price. Offerings were readily taken, however, and early losses were fully retrieved. Marines monthinued to lead, the common advancing 3 points and the preferred 5½, while the 6 per cent bonds rose 4½ points. Dealings leter ran largely to motors.

MARTIAL LAW AT ODESSA.

Daily Chronicle in commenting upon admirably sympathed thetic reference to Russia" in the House of Commons yesterday.

The board of control, with Ald. F. E. Harley, chairman of the finance committee, will arrange a meeting with the London Railway Commission to discuss the question of purchasing the London and Lake Eric Transportation Company line. This was decided after considerable discussion at the meeting of the board of control today.

Sard to the situation. Others favored going into the case solely as a city proposal.

Controller J. M. Moore thought that it would be a good idea to get the representatives of other centres together.

Controller Little said that the resilient of the county were anxious to purchase the line from St. Thomas to Port Stanley, and connect it with its city service.

Controller Merryfield said that the county put up a certain amount of the purchase price and the city the balance. Controller Moore added that it could be a pity to have the section of the line out of the city done away with. Controller Merryfield said that it the city took the line over at $300,000 it would be liable for the interest. The company would put it in proper shape on a guarantee of $11,000 interest. A portion of this could be secured from the counties interested.

Mayor Somerville's reply was that it to segs, baset lots, doz. 371, to 371, to 371, and the city have the section of the line out of the city done away with. Segs, baset lots, doz. 371, to Mayor Somerville's reply was that it would have to be a straight purchase or nothing.

Chicago, May 17.—Selling on the part of leading commission houses induced fresh weakness today in the corn market. The bearish effects of peace discussions in the British Hays of Peace ket. The bearish effects of peace discussions in the British House of Commons appeared to have grown rather than diminished over-night. In addition the bulls were hadicapped by assertions that present stocks of corn and the current movement would be more than sufficient to meet all domestic requirements. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to %c higher, were followed by a decided break which carried July well below yesterday's finish.

Reports of welcome rains in Nebraska and Kansas gave an advantage to the bears in oats. The weakness in corn, however, was the main depressing influence. After sagging ½c to ½c lower, the market railied a little, but then again sagged.
