Canal Deputation Think They Made Good Impression—Revetment Wall Extension.

The possibility of the Dominion Government building the new Erie-Ontario canal close to Hamilton depends on the city's success in demonstrating to the Minister of Railways and Canals the feasibility of the route suggested.

Such was the announcement made to-day by Mayor McLaren, who, with City Engineer Macallum, Chairman Peregrine, of the Finance Committee, and Chairman Guy, of the Harbor Committee, returned from Ottawa this morning, where they went to interview Hon. George P. Graham and other Cabinet Ministers about Hamilton's prospects for securing the canal.

After Sir Wilfrid and Hon. Mr. Graham heard the general deputation, representing different cities, the Minister of Railways and Canals gave the Hamilton deputation a special audience and listened attentively to the arguments advanced.

The Mayor explained to-day that he gathered from what was said that the Government engineers already had a route planned by which part of the old canal from Port Colborne would be used and then branch off westerly. He does not think the Government will deepen the old canal.

The Mayor sees difficulties in bringing the canal down by way of Chedoke and into the Desjardins Canal, as was first suggested, on account of the congestion of railway traffic at that point. There are two routes that might be used. One would bring the canal out in the dip in the mountain near Bartonville and the other near Grimsby. The Mayor thinks that the fact that Selkirk would be twenty-five miles nearer than Port Colborne for boats bound down Lake Erie should be a big factor in landing the canal for Hamilton.

ANSWERED HIS LETTER.

Buxom English Girl Came Over to Marry Canadian Farmer.

Now She Has Him In Court For Assault.

Rolley Gets Six Months and Walsh Promise of Same.

When Magistrate Jelfs makes a promise it is a safe bet he will keep it.

Last week Martin Rolley was sup for vagrancy; he was then promised that if he came up again on the same charge he would get six months. He got it this morning in Police Court. Rolley is a Brantford young man, and a cripple.

For a long time the constables say, he has annoyed citizens by soliciting money from them, and he has also been a frequenter of questionable haunts. When he was up last week the Magistrate gave Rolley the choice between jail or back to Brantford, and not come back here.

Rolley chose the latter and his worship told Chief Smith at that time to detail two detectives to escort him to the Brantford car. He went to Brantford but came back again on Saturday. Constables Cameron and Barrett this morning said he had visited the same disreputable hang-outs since his return.

When the Magistrate imposed the sentence, he said it would be the best thing that could befall Rolley, as he had been drinking heavily lately.

If Edward Walsh, of no address, comes up again before his worship, the same Edward will be accommodated with six months. Walsh was up for vagrancy this morning. All the qualifications of a vagrant were affirmed by Constables Cameron and Barrett, with several other unsavory features besides.

Walsh is a good looking young man about 30 years old, fairly well dressed, but he shook visibly from excessive drinking.

Walsh pleaded for another chance. "What do you mean by another chance?" asked the Magistrate.

"To go to work and keep straight," said Walsh.

He was allowed to go on the understanding that if he comes up in court again the aforesaid promise of the Magistrate will be kept.

The brand of profanity that John Lacey, Queen street north, and Michael Cottor, Plamboro Hotel, let loose at Constables Cameron and Barrett was decidedly picturesque. A little of it was given to the court, but was quickly stopped by the bench.

The officers said that the two defendants swore at them while they were performing their duty in arresting a man. The charge laid against defendants was using profane language. They were each fined $10 and costs.

David Johnston, Beach road, carried an excessive load of spirituous libations last night when he entered the Terminal Station. The sight of shiny buttons on Station Constable Walker's coat stirred him, and forthwith, said the officer, David sought to inflict corporal punishment on him when the wagon was called, and down David went. This morning he paid $5 for his outbreak.

Pat Lynch, Ray street, for the seventh time within a month was up on his beloved charge, namely, being drunk. Last night Pat went into the rotunda of the Commercial Hotel, denounced the place and craved for a bottle. P. C. Holland intervened. This morning Pat paid $2.

The case of Myers and Wood was up again, and goes up for trial. Harry Myers is charged with stealing some fancy cushion covers from Nelson Wood, a deaf mute. The case is a complicated one, as Wood has nothing to show that he sold or left the cushion covers with Myers, though Wood contends he left them to be sold on commission. Myers claims he bought the goods outright. Wood, however, says he has had no money, nor has any effort been made to return the goods. Truancy Officer Hunter said he was at an auction sale at 146 James street north a few weeks ago, and he saw some cushion tops sold by auction by Mr. Haslewood, who said he sold them for Myers.

An unusual incident was seen in connection with the case. It was an interpreter for Wood, the deaf mute, and the conversation carried through the fingers was an interesting sight. Mr. McPherson acted as interpreter, and interpreted as fast as a man can talk.

Fred Barnard was brought in from Watford this morning by County Constable Smiley, and charged with assaulting his wife.

Mrs. Barnard said her hubby had beaten her, made her get up in the night and see to the furnace, etc. Fredrick said it was her duty to see to the fire. He avouched she could not be beaten for slovenliness, and she affirmed he was a candidate for Dr. English's institution. He replied that she should have been there long ago.

It transpired that he had never courted her, for he said that when he was out in British Columbia he heard of a buxom girl in merrie England, and forthwith said, "That is the girl for me," and the little paper traveller—a letter—was sent across the sea inviting her to become the legal wife of Frederick Barnard, tiller of the soil.

She accepted the invitation, to the evident sorrow of both. They both argued and argued until finally the Magistrate dismissed the case and told them to settle their troubles between themselves.

Interesting Case in Division Court About Steamboat Ticket.

One Issued in 1908 Presented and Refused in 1909.

And a Jury Gives Verdict for the Passenger.

An interesting case was tried at the jury sitting of the First Division Court before Judge Monck this morning which determined the right of an individual buying a ticket from a corporation to use it during the time specified, despite the fact that the company had issued tickets of a later date and refused to accept the former, but offered a rebate.

The action was brought by G. F. Armstrong, a Collegiate teacher, against the Turbine Steamship Company, for $100 damages for breach of contract.

The plaintiff when giving evidence said that he purchased special tickets from the company on August 24, 1908, on the understanding, from the agent, that they would be good for the following season. When he presented the ticket this year he was informed that they were no good, and that he would have to pay his fare and secure a rebate on the tickets from the company. He refused, and the purse on the boat had a policeman put him off. Two ladies were with him, and they were also asked to get off.

Mr. J. G. Goodearle, general manager of the Turbine Steamship Company, said that every year the color of the tickets was changed so as to distinguish them from other years, and the rules of the company, as well as the rules printed on the back of the ticket, did not provide for them being used in any year except the one in which they were issued. The agent could not have informed Mr. Armstrong that the tickets would be good for the following year as he had no authority to do so, and he knew it. As for the date on the back of the ticket, that was put on by a stamp, and was no doubt due to a wrong number being used, as such things sometimes occurred.

Thomas Hobson, counsel for the defendants, in addressing the jury, endeavored to point out that while the tickets were stamped for the year 1909, it had been a mistake the plaintiff could have secured a rebate by merely applying at the office.

George S. Kerr, counsel for the defendant, said he did not see why a corporation should do such freaks, and then throw a man down and trample on him.

His honor, in addressing the jury, said it had been clearly proven that the contract was good, and that the plaintiff was entitled to damages, probably to the extent of $60.

The jury after being out for about five minutes returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, fixing the extent of the damages at $75.

His honor explained that the first application was for $60 damages, but the second application for $100 had not been acted upon, and the jury changed the amount to $60.

SUING MAN IN PRISON.

Writ Issued Against Morris Levy This Morning.

The Goldberg Iron Company have issued a writ through their solicitor, S. F. Washington, against Morris Levy, in connection with a note. The action should be an interesting one, as the defendant at present is in Kingston Penitentiary on a three-year sentence. The note is for $150 and the plaintiffs are desirous of securing the amount as the time has already expired. The charge upon which the defendant was sentenced to prison was fraud in connection with the weight of iron sold to the Steel and Iron Company.

A writ has been issued by S. F. Washington, acting for R. C. Fowler, against the Duff Stores Company for unpaid damages for injuries. The plaintiff's claim is that he was working for the defendants, operating a sausage machine, and on account of the machine not being properly protected had four fingers of his right hand cut off.

ONLY A DOG

And It Was Neglected and Nigh Unto Death.

It was just a little dog—a well-bred cocker, but breeding is no proof against neglect or carelessness. It had reached that stage bordering on fits when a gentleman walking down Hughson street saw it and remarked what a pity it was some one did not give it a simple remedy which he mentioned.

Five minutes later he sent a boy to get the dog and the remedy, but the suffering animal was gone—off to die, the man supposed.

Passing the same spot again, George Findlay, working on the Watkins building, remarked, "Well, I fixed the dog up. It's a pity people wouldn't look after their pets."

The workman had heard the remark and, although he had never seen the dog before, he had at once "knocked off" long enough to look after it.

ARCHIE McLAUGHLIN GUILTY OF MURDER.

Verdict of Coroner's Jury—Miss Nix and Miss Charter Tell Their Story.

Uxbridge, Ont., Nov. 24.—That the said Mary McLaughlin came to her death from poisoning by strychnine administered by her husband, Archibald McLaughlin, and that Harold McLaughlin and Gordon McLaughlin came to their deaths from poisoning by strychnine or gas fumes and smoke from the fire in the residence in which they then were at the said town of Uxbridge. And we hereby charge the said Archibald McLaughlin with murdering his wife, the said Mary McLaughlin, and his sons, Gordon McLaughlin and Harold McLaughlin, and setting fire to the said dwelling house.

This was the unequivocal verdict returned by the coroner's jury shortly after 9 o'clock this evening, after less than one hour's deliberation. It was after midnight on Oct. 29 that the tragedy in which this young mother and her two little boys lost their lives occurred, and the inquest under Coroner Bascom has extended over three weeks and occupied six sessions.

The proceedings to-day were of peculiar interest, as the young lady upon whom McLaughlin was supposed to have bestowed his affection, Miss Alma Nix, was called to the stand. Young, pretty and self-possessed, she gave the lie direct to the stories that had been circulated as to her intimacy with McLaughlin.

She admitted having written two letters to the prisoner, and that on two occasions she had gone out driving with him in the village of Sunderland. Apart from what little conversation she may have had with the prisoner while she was a clerk at the store in which McLaughlin was employed, she affirmed this was the extent of her relations with him. Miss Nix stated positively that McLaughlin had never given her reason to believe that he liked her better than anyone else. She had learned of the rumors regarding herself and the prisoner, and she had discussed this matter with her sister, Miss McLaughlin in Sunderland. Her last letter to him was an intimation to him that she must desist from paying her any attention whatever. She met him in Sunderland subsequent to writing this letter. The story respecting the champagne supper at her home she characterized as a myth. McLaughlin had never been at her home in his life. The dead woman's cousin, Mr. Dennis, had been there on the night in question to see her friend, Miss Charters, but McLaughlin had not been there. Her mother was out of town at the time, but her father was at home, and her brother Arthur was also in the house.

HER TESTIMONY CORROBORATED.
There was a striking similarity between the evidence given by Miss Nix and her friend from Sunderland, Miss Bernice Charters. This witness is also young and pretty, and markedly self-possessed. There was decided emphasis in her reply, "Certainly not," when asked respecting the alleged champagne supper and other matters pertaining to McLaughlin. Both girls admitted that they introduced McLaughlin to several people in Sunderland, including Miss Charters' mother, as Arthur Anderson.

McLAUGHLIN DELAYED RESCUE.
Evidence of an important nature was given by Rev. A. Bedford, pastor of the Methodist church. His residence is in proximity to the McLaughlin house, and from his bedroom window he could look down into the dining room of the McLaughlin home. His attention was attracted to the fire in the McLaughlin home shortly after it broke out. When he saw it first the flames were confined to the floor in the dining-room. Mr. Bedford hurried over to the scene of the fire and he declared that had the prisoner informed him, and the others who were there where his wife and children slept they could have gotten them out. There was no fire in the upper part of the house and it would have been an easy matter to have reached from the window of a small room to the bed, as it was quite a small room.

To repeated queries as to where his wife and children were, McLaughlin would give no satisfactory reply.

Charles Tunstall was able to fix about the time at which McLaughlin had gone home on the night of the tragedy. The prisoner had come down town about 7:30 and he and Tunstall were playing bowls at 10 o'clock. Shortly after this they both left for home.

HOW VERDICT WAS REACHED.
Starting with McLaughlin's professed love for Miss Nix, and his statement that he would get her yet, as a possible motive, he studied neglect of his wife and the fact that he had purchased strychnine on the Friday preceding the tragedy, explains in a measure the nature of the verdict. It was the opinion of the medical witness that the bed clothes had been placed around the woman after her death, and that the two little boys, who were found under the bed, had not been in the bed with their mother.

Throughout the proceedings, at which McLaughlin was present, the prisoner sat with his face in his hands, the very picture of dejection. He obtains his meals at the Bascom House, but his resting place at night and during a good part of the day is the hard board shelf in the narrow cell in the fire hall. Arrangements are being perfected whereby his little daughter Monta, who is still at the Bascom House, will be looked after by a kindly couple in western Ontario.

MISS CHARTERS' STORY.
Miss Bernice Charters, the intimate friend of Miss Alma Nix, gave her testimony in a very positive manner. She had met McLaughlin first in Alexander & McPhail's store here, while on a visit to Miss Nix. She was at Mr. Nix's on the night of the last dance, but McLaughlin had certainly not been at the house. There she met a traveler named Dennis, whom she understood was a cousin of Mrs. McLaughlin. She had never ally the line of conversation, he said: "Did he say to you that the suspense was killing him?" asked the coroner. "That was the impression he made upon me."

"Did you think he would commit suicide?" "I never thought of that."

Bert Lott, whose sister testified yesterday, stated that he knew McLaughlin pretty well, and was in his company considerable during the past month.

"Did he tell you anything about Miss Alma Nix?" asked the Crown Attorney. "Yes."

"What did he say?" "One night he told me that, she had been talking a lot to him. I asked him why he did not take her for a wife, and he said he did not want the people to start talking about them and did not want to cause any hard feelings between himself and his wife."

"Did he say anything that led you to believe that he had affection or admiration for her?" "That was the impression I gained."

"Did he say anything further?" One day later he spoke about the talk going on about himself and Miss Nix, and added something about going away with her and making talk. I told him I did not think she was worth while going away with."

"What did he say?" "That she was not a bad little girl, or something like that."

"Did you go for a drive with him to Sunderland?" "Yes; to see Miss Nix."

"Do you know if he saw her that day at Sunderland?" "He told me so."

"Did he tell you why he wanted to see her?" "No particular reason."

"You know Miss Charters. Did you see her there that day?" "No."

"What did he tell you about the drive? Did he say he had a nice time?" "No; he said it rained all day."

"Did he tell you that he had been free with her?" "He just did not say he did, but he led me to believe he had."

"Did he ever speak disrespectfully of his wife?" "No."

"Since the fire did he ever say anything to you as to how it started?" "I never talked to him about it."

"Were you curious enough to know how it happened?" "I heard enough."

"But weren't you curious?" "Not enough to ask him."

"Did anybody ask you if you were called to give evidence to let certain parties down easy?" asked a jurymen. "Yes."

"Was that told to you by McLaughlin or anybody sent by him?" asked the Crown Attorney. "No, not that I know about."

"Who said it?" asked the coroner. "Arthur Nix."

"What did you tell him?" "I told him that I did not know if I would be called or not, and that if I was I didn't know much."

"What did he say about letting some one down easy?" "He asked me to do the best I could for his sister Alma."

"There is nothing wrong in that," opined the coroner.

THE PRELIMINARY HEARING.
At the preliminary investigation before the Magistrate to-night, Mrs. Mary Beal, who was one of the first at the fire, told of her efforts to get McLaughlin to tell where his wife and children were. He repeatedly said he did not know. Mrs. Beal finally shook him, and asked him what he was doing so late, and he replied that he was sitting up with Monta. Asked why he did not know about the fire, he said he must have been asleep. The prisoner was asked repeatedly, "Is your wife in the house?" and his invariable reply was "I don't know."

"If you don't tell me where she is she will be burned," said Mrs. Beal. McLaughlin simply wrung his hands.

After the fire had been in progress some time Mr. Lee said to McLaughlin: "Your wife is not suffering now." He replied: "Yes, she is, poor Mary."

Mr. Beal thought she heard a child cry when she first entered the house. She was positive the woman and children could have been gotten out of the house easily if they had known where they were.

C. E. Harman, a friend of McLaughlin's, was shown a letter by the prisoner, signed Alma. He had told witness that he was willing to elope with Miss Nix.

The investigation will resume at 9 o'clock this morning.

ROSEBERY ON BUDGET.

He Cannot Support Lord Lansdowne's Motion.

Warns the Lords That They Are Making a Mistake.

Better Let the Country Have a Taste of the Budget.

London, Nov. 24.—On the resumption of the debate on the Finance Bill in the House of Lords this evening Lord Rosebery, who was Liberal Prime Minister in 1894-5, but who has recently declined to support the budget introduced by his party, arose and spoke from the cross benches, which are reserved for neutrals. He said the situation was the gravest since 1832. He was faced with difficulties personal to himself and also connected with the line of policy proposed by the Opposition.

Lord Rosebery said he had given utterance to opinions about the House of Lords, more especially in regard to its relation to financial questions, that in his opinion prevented him from giving a vote for the amendment of Lord Lansdowne or even from giving an opinion favorable to the policy urged by the leader of the Opposition.

The budget, Lord Rosebery continued, would poison the sources of Great Britain's national supremacy, and it was vital. But, in view of the immediate and even remote future there was something which was more vital to this country, and that was the strength and security of the Second Chamber.

The budget had the aspect of being crude and vindictive, he added. Never had such a mass of raw material been dumped down at one time upon the country. It had already done incalculable mischief in destroying confidence. It had spread over the country like one great prevailing miasma of fog-breeding diseases, want of confidence, want of credit, disquiet in the commercial count, and this too, at a time when Europe was hurrying headlong to bankruptcy by the insane competition of armaments.

Lord Rosebery said he would rejoice if there was any constitutional means of getting the opinion of the country on the budget, and the right of the Second Chamber without its being mixed up with other issues. They would never arrive at a final adjustment of the differences between the two Houses without some form of referendum. If that existed he, Lord Rosebery, would gladly vote for the amendment of Lord Lansdowne, but they had no referendum in going to a general election.

General elections, Lord Rosebery declared, were not conducted in a palace of truth. He looked with considerable apprehension to the result of an appeal to the country on an unreformed Second Chamber, mixed up with such other issues as would be raised. He doubted whether they were choosing the best battlefield on which to risk the existence of the House. He suggested that the Opposition should elect 150 peers specially qualified and depute to them the right of voting on the amendment. The result of that vote would, he said, carry much greater weight than mere numerical forces.

The peers, Lord Rosebery declared, were playing too heavy a stake. They were risking the very existence of the Chamber. A winning policy would be, in his opinion, to allow the budget to pass and give the country six months' experience of its onerous imposition of bureaucracy and loss of capital and employment. They would then achieve, when next they approached the polls, a victory that would surprise themselves.

Lord Rosebery admitted that by the letter of the law the House of Lords was competent to reject financial bills, but since 1832, to which time the Lords had no practical control of the House, it was not possible that the Commons should send up a budget which the House of Lords should to the length of rejecting. He considered that the only possible circumstances justifying the Lords in exercising such a dormant power would be the direct authority and condemnation of the nation itself. Such a circumstance might arise if a budget were presented which lowered the defenses of the country to a point which the nation considered dangerous.

"I do not speak of menaces," he added. "The House of Lords have lived on menaces ever since I can remember, and it is still thriving. But the menaces now used by the men bent on having a single chamber. Their efforts are revolutionary in essence, if not in fact."

"Disregard that maxim," he said, "lost us the United States of America, and we are not likely to offend against it again."

Lord Rosebery contended that the budget would be the Lords' freely and abundantly, without their having a word to say or a vote in the matter.

Mr. Duncan C. Ross Introduced to the House.

Mr. Maclean Complains of Inadequate Train Service.

his speech, that the House of Lords should delegate 150 of the most distinguished peers to vote on Lansdowne's motion, as being a method more likely to impress the country than a large vote of a heterogeneous gathering of peers, many of whom have no claim to distinction, and but seldom attend the debates, is commented upon almost with ridicule.

The prolongation of the debate in the House of Lords deranged the Government's plans and no decision has been reached as to what course shall be followed regarding the prorogation and dissolution of Parliament. A movement has been started in favor of a great peaceful demonstration of Londoners outside the Parliament on the night the House of Lords rejects the budget, as a protest against this action.

The debate on the second reading of the finance bill in the House of Lords will be adjourned from November 25 to November 30.

New Publications.
The December Century is a magazine of promise of notable artistic and literary features in the first paper of "The Holy Land" series by Robert Hichens and Jules Guerin, in the beginning of Helena Modjeska's Memoirs, and in the second instalment of May Sinclair's "The Creators: A Comedy"—in color reproductions of Guerin's marvellous paintings of "The Temple of Bacchus, Baalbec," and "The Columns of the Sun, Baalbec," and of two notable paintings by American artists, Mrs. J. Francis Murphy's "Eleanor" and Ernest Blumenmich's portrait of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Parker Butler and child.

Widely varying interests are aroused by Charles Johnson Post's story of "A Little Paradise in the Dutch West Indies" (Curacao), Caroline Thurber's entertaining narrative of "A Motor Invasion of Norway," and Agnes Deans Cameron's stirring "Sentinels of the Silence." Canada's Royal Northwest Mounted Police. The other good things of this beautiful Christmas issue are many and varied.

In the Red Book Magazine for December Rupert Hughes has a story that for utter irresponsibility on the part of its characters, a quartette of college club members, surpasses any college story one recalls ever before having read. Its title is "The Lady and the Quinine Quartette."

TINY PATIENT.

Appendix Removed From Babe Six Months Old in Detroit.

Detroit, Nov. 24.—For the first time in local surgical history, and possibly in this country, a baby six months old was operated on for appendicitis here to-day. The operation was performed by one of the leading surgeons in the city at (Garce Hospital, with the result that the infant's life was saved. The wee patient was Ralph Thorne. The case was diagnosed last night as appendicitis, and when the tiny abdomen was opened this afternoon the wisdom of the hasty operation was demonstrated. The appendix was found to be greatly inflamed and abnormally large, being six inches in length, the size of an adult's. The doctors say the babe will undoubtedly recover.

WANTS FACTORY.

Berlin to Bonus New Furniture Industry.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—Mayor Hahn and Mr. Edward Smythe, President of the Board of Trade, headed a Berlin deputation which waited on Sir James Whitney yesterday and asked to be relieved of the regulation in the Municipal Act under which it is necessary to secure the consent of existing manufacturers before granting a bonus to a new industry. Dr. Laekner, M. P., introduced the visitors.

Berlin is anxious to secure a new furniture factory and in order to do so is prepared to grant a bonus. The town, however, is unable to secure the consent of existing furniture factory owners to the proposed factory.

The Premier told the visitors that the proper course to pursue would be to secure the introduction of a legislative bill to cover their requirements, in which case it would get the consideration of the House. He would make them no promises.

THE PEOPLE FEARED.

To the Editor of the Times:
Sir,—It is surprising to see how the Hydro-Electric agents swing around from right to left. A year ago they were very anxious for the ratepayers to decide the power question. It is as you say, they have put their ear to the ground and what they hear is not pleasing. It is my humble opinion the City Council should not sign a 30-year contract until it is endorsed by the people. The ratepayers have voted on things of less importance. The Hydro hirelings are bound to keep up the fight until they are properly beaten, and the sooner it comes the better for the city. They won't get another chance to stuff the ballot box. There was a special meeting of the City Council a month or so since and a final effort was to be made to draw up a contract that would suit the Hydro-Electric concern and the city, and there was only three citizens in attendance. So much for the Hydro. Yours respectfully, John Mitchell.

COLD BROUGHT ON KIDNEY DISEASE

Brantford Lady Suffered Till Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. A. H. Thomson Had Heart Disease, Lumbago and Rheumatism, and Tells How She Was Restored to Health.

Brantford, Ont., Nov. 24.—How Colds, LaGrippe and other minor ills settle on the Kidneys and develop Rheumatism, Heart Disease, Bright's Disease and other terribly dangerous ailments, and how any and all of them are cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills is fully shown in the case of Mrs. A. H. Thomson, whose home is at 48 Albion street, this city.

Mrs. Thomson was, some years ago, taken with Cold and La Grippe, and Straining, which affected her Kidneys, and the result was Backache, Lumbago, Rheumatism and Heart Disease, which caused both her and her friends grave anxiety.

She had suffered some years when she heard of cures effected by Dodd's Kidney Pills, and bought a box, which she used with such splendid results that she continued to take them till she was cured. Since then she has used Dodd's Kidney Pills in her own family and recommended them widely to her friends, all of whom have warm words of praise for the standard Canadian Kidney remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Lumbago and Bright's Disease are all Kidney Diseases or are caused by diseased kidneys. You can't have any of them if you keep your Kidneys sound and your blood pure. Dodd's Kidney Pills make the Kidneys sound. Sound Kidneys strain all the impurities out of the blood.

By its antiseptic influence Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment prevents all danger from blood poisoning when applied to scalds, burns, sores and wounds.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is best known because of its wonderful record in curing eczema, piles and all sorts of itching skin diseases.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

THURSDAY, NOV. 25, 1909.

THAT CANAL SCHEME.

The Hamilton deputation which presented to Hon. Mr. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, the scheme to connect Lake Erie with Lake Ontario by a canal which would utilize the Grand River and open into Burlington Bay, this furnishing a much shorter and more convenient route than the present Welland Canal, has been given the assurance that the matter will be referred to the department engineers to be reported upon. Until we are informed as to the cost and feasibility of the route, and the relative balance of advantages between the schemes, judgment must be suspended.

THE TIGERS.

It is pleasant to read in our exchanges the many nice things being said about the Hamilton Tigers. It is also pleasant to know that they deserve them all. As stated elsewhere, they seem to have won a greater victory in their defeat than they would have won had they been victorious. They won a victory for true sportsmanship, and placed football upon a higher plane than ever it was before. They played Saturday's game to win, but they lost, and they lost like gentlemen—like the true sportsmen they are. Had they won the game, it would have been only one more laurel to the many to the credit of the team. But in losing they won something far better—the esteem and goodwill of all lovers of true, manly sport. The mere fact of losing was, of course, no credit to them. But their deportment after the game, and the generous manner in which they treated their conquerors, showed that they had the good of the game more at heart than the mere desire to win. The attention of the whole Province has been attracted to the game, and while criticism now and then appears of rowdiness, and betting in connection with football, the action of the Hamilton Tigers show that it is still a gentleman's game.

A NEEDED REFORM.

Now that the public knows the worst about the terrible disaster at the Cherry, Ill., coal mine, it will probably give some thought to the future of the miner. And this is a matter which demands attention, irrespective of conditions prevailing at that particular mine, or whether they were ideal or otherwise. Something may, perhaps, be due in the direction of further safeguards against explosions and other accidents; whatever can be done to avert such calamities should be given prompt attention. It has been suggested that all mine galleries should contain emergency stores of food, water, signalling devices, etc. Perhaps something should be done in that direction also.

But, beyond all that, it must be evident that the occupation is one of constant peril. Its importance to the community, and the fact that the community permits the mine-owners to exploit the stores of national wealth which are the heritage of the race, give the community the right to insist on a voice in the management of the business. The Canadian Government wisely vests the regulation of railways, telegraphs and telephones in a commission which exercises large powers. It seeks to avert labor troubles in mines by requiring the parties to submit differences to a board of conciliation before disorganizing the industry by strikes or lockouts. All these regulations work to the advantage of the public, and to the good of employer and employed, as long as they seek but justice.

Why should we not take a further step, and place the mining industry under the regulation of a Government Commission, with full power to protect the employees in every proper manner; to stand between the mine-owners and the public, as the Railway Commission stands between the railways and the people, and hold evenly the scales of justice?

The argument that the public should not so interfere in a private business cannot apply to coal-mining. It is essentially a business which owes its being to a concession obtained from the public. It is a natural monopoly; and the grant of such to any man or company carries with it the assumption of duties and responsibilities which the people should enforce.

possibilities which the people should enforce. Regulated as we have suggested, all proper care would be taken to render the work as safe as possible; conditions of labor would be made better than we can hope for under the present system, and quarrels between employers and employed would become rare. There ought to be some provision made whereby every mine-worker would be insured against accident, and the mine-owner should be made responsible for insuring him. The cost of such an insurance is no argument against it. The fund would come out of the price of the coal, and be as much a part of the expense of operation as the wages, machinery and material necessary. Moreover, such a responsibility placed on the mining employers would have a tendency to improve conditions and lessen the risk to which the men are subjected. The public would not object to the trifling increase in price necessary to thus insure the men's safety and provide, in case of accident, for the injured, the widows and children.

In many ways a commission to regulate mining would be able to give valuable service to the community. It would help to render such disasters as that at Cherry rare; it would make provision for the sufferers when accidents do occur, and it would establish confidence in mine-owners, workmen and the public by administering justice without regard to whom its decisions affected.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There's trouble at Athens, and King George seems to be in a sort of Greecy predicament.

How happy the Herald would be if the British Liberals would be "smashed"! It would suit it next best to defeating Laurier!

In thirty-six years the United Kingdom has mined £2,361,701,000 worth of coal, a sum three times the amount of the national debt.

But if all those new municipal offices are created next year the salaries for the occupants of the berths will take a slice out of the taxes. Are we in need of a host of new officials?

The United States deficit for the fiscal year is $58,734,954. The recent very large increase in imports and customs duties will help to place Uncle Sam's finances in a better position.

Hamilton-on-the-Mountain is to have fire protection next year. The district is one that is rapidly increasing in population and property value. With city taxes it is entitled to all the city services.

The activity of the clique which seeks to make an office at the expense of the city for a plumbing inspector is evidenced by an apparently inspired article in the Plumber and Steamfitter. Who is the candidate for this new city salary?

Now, look out for hard times in some of the Pittsburgh industries if the campaign planned by the A. F. of L. against the United States steel corporation is carried out. Whether Gompers or the steel kings get glory out of it, the workers will pay and suffer.

The Herald boasts that it has Ald. Lees broken in so thoroughly that he will almost eat crow out of its Hydro-Electric hand. But why does it think it necessary to so advertise his alleged humiliation? Does it think by so doing to terrify the other aldermen?

And now the New York Herald advocates free trade between Canada and the United States. Why did not leading United States papers influence Congress to decent treatment of Canada years ago when we were seeking for neighborly treatment? The situation has become vastly more difficult since then.

Sir John Knill, Lord Mayor of London, is trying to help on the campaign for the revival of the apprenticeship system on something like the old lines. This campaign is already having good results. Feeling is very general that to the decline in the apprenticeship system is to be traced much to the industrial evil of the time.

It should interest local Liberals to note the eager efforts of the Hamilton Herald to put the Laurier Government in the wrong in the matter of its defence policy. Anything to damage the Liberals. And all the time it mouths independence (to paraphrase "Little Red Riding Hood"), "the better to injure them."

There are not lacking indications that the earth is undergoing some internal disturbance. Tenerife is pouring out prodigious quantities of lava from four craters. Messina reports an earthquake shock, and there are signs of volcanic disturbances in the Japan Sea. Canadians are happy to be placed in a part of the world where things below appear to have cooled down.

At Kewanee, Ill., eight hazers had a jolly time with a defenceless youth, ending by trying him to a tombstone, which fell on him, breaking his leg and causing other injuries. The parents of the boy have recovered judgment against them for $14,000. That sort of thing is not calculated to popularize the manly (?) sport of hazing.

The Toronto "tube" railway scheme appears to be a kind of Halloween pumpkin terror devised by Controller Hoeken and his associates with the purpose of terrifying the Toronto Street Railway Co., and obscuring from the people the persistent refusal of the council to permit the laying of tracks necessary to relieve the down town congestion. Even the Globe, which squints favorably at it, appeals to the people not to regard the proposer, Hoeken, as "a wild-eyed enthusiast."

Judge Leet, of Montreal, in a police court case has decided that the Dominion Government has no right to regulate insurance, it not being, in his opinion, "one of the trades of the country." What is the use of Parliament considering the Insurance Bill, then? But maybe it thinks it comes under "trade and commerce." Why does not Judge Leet enlighten Parliament's ignorance?

A syndicate headed by Cornelius Vanderbilt has been organized "to control aviation," by manufacturing as a close corporation the Wright aeroplane. We shall not worry about that, as long as they do not become possessed by Hydro-Electric notions and set about trying to monopolize the air. But how many of the incorporators will risk their own precious carcasses on an airship?

The legislative committee of the Dominion Grange in its report condemned the proposal to create a Canadian navy. This created a lively debate and the report was sent back for further consideration. Fault was found with the Ontario Education Department in connection with the publication of the new readers, especially the motto, but no action was taken.

The Minnesota Women's Clubs are conducting a campaign for "germless bread." They might be engaged in worse business. They want every loaf of bread wrapped in paper as it leaves the oven, and delivered without being touched by human hands or being exposed to contamination in a dirty wagon. The St. Paul bakers have beaten the women, the council of that city, at the request of the bakers, throwing out the proposed ordinance.

The workmen of the United States have it constantly dinned in their ears that high tariffs are necessary to bring about high wages. There is undoubtably a half truth in the assertion. But what is the situation when the whole truth is stated? The cost of living is advanced by our tariff rates in far greater proportion than the rise of wages. A 10 per cent. lift in wages is no set-off against a 20 per cent. advance in the cost of food, clothing, tools, shelter, medicines, and other necessities. Sometimes, indeed, as tariffs go up wages go down. If labor is in oversupply at Fall River, Pittsburg, or any other of our great industrial centres, the employer does not hesitate to shape the wage accordingly.

A large deputation, including a number of prominent Hamiltonians, together with citizens of Galt and London, waited upon Sir Wilfrid yesterday, and urged the disallowance of the monstrous Hydro-Electric legislation which takes away the rights of the citizen to appeal to the courts, sets aside agreements, ignores the will of the people, and breaks faith with Canadian and British investors whose money has been used in the development of the country's industries. The matter is still under consideration by the Government.

Lord Rosebery has broken with the Liberals on the budget matter, but he cannot find his way clear to supporting Lord Lansdowne's motion for its rejection by the Lords. He delivered a solemn warning on the grave risks which the Lords would incur by passing the motion made by Lansdowne. The budget, he said, was due to the pressure of the cost of great armaments which are eating out the heart of Europe and hurrying it toward bankruptcy. Lord Rosebery's strong language has awakened among the Unionist peers doubts as to the wisdom of Lansdowne's motion; but there is little doubt that it will be carried, although many may abstain from voting.

The legislative assessment committee has already established a very bad precedent by regulating certain businesses in cities to the class taxed on 35 per cent. of their assessment, while the same businesses elsewhere are taxed on only 25 per cent. The manufacturers, too, have been denied a reduction from 60 per cent. to 50 per cent., although some other classes of business have been reduced to 35 per cent. Invidiousness of this kind is not to be justified by any rule of principle. There is also a cry for greatly increased taxation of railways. There may be some justification for this in certain cases; but in the final analysis it will be found that the new impost is a tax upon the people who use the railways.

Speaking of the conflict of the British Commons and Lords, the London Economist says: "It is hardly possible to meet a moderate Conservative who does not deplore the action of the extreme tariff reformers and their sensational supporters in the press in drawing the House of Lords into this fatal conflict with the House of Commons." It points out that even so strong a party paper as the Scotsman has been arguing that the first task of a Conservative administration should be to reform the constitution of the House of Lords. The Economist adds:

An authority which never rejects, and scarcely ever amends legislation when one party is in office, and rejects or amends almost all the bills which it receives from the House of Commons when the other party is in office, is doomed either to be short of its powers or reconstructed. The spectacle of several hundred hereditary legislators who have seldom or never listened to a debate or recorded a vote in the chamber in which the fortune of birth has assigned them seats, flocking up from all parts of the country to reject a budget upon which many months of arduous labor have been expended by the elected representatives of the nation, will probably evoke a tremendous popular outburst.

A German might be justified in calling it rabid transit without any attempt at dialect.

UNITE ON THAT. (Louisville Courier-Journal.) "There is a wide difference of opinion as to the desirability of a quiet wedding." "Well?" "But everybody wants an unostentatious divorce."

WHERE THEY PRACTICE. (London Advertiser.) Women like Mrs. Pankhurst who are interesting themselves in politics and public affairs frequently harangue thousands of people out of doors. In London alone there are hundreds of demonstrations yearly at Hyde Park or Trafalgar Square, in which women address vast crowds.

SOME OF THE WORRIES.

Editing a paper is a nice thing and no mistake. If we publish jokes people say we are rattle-brained. If we don't we are fools. If we publish original matter, they say we do not give them enough selections. If we give them selections, we are too lazy to write. If we don't go to church we are heathens. If we do we are hypocrites. If we remain in the office we ought to be out looking for news. If we go out, then we are not attending to business. If we wear old clothes they laugh at us, if we wear good clothes they say we are extravagant. Now, what are we to do? Just as likely as not someone will say that we purloined this from another paper. So we did.

UNCLE SAM TURNS COCKNEY. (London Mail.) The most pronounced Cockney I ever met lived in New York. He had left London when about twelve years old, and the accent of the back street in which he was brought up clung to him in middle manhood. His American friends regarded this as the ordinary tongue of the Londoner. But while the old Cockneyism has passed away, a modification survives. There is a certain lengthening of vowels unmistakable when once heard—when "go" becomes "gahoo," "room" "groom," "no," "naow," and "dance" "dahnce"—and an unmistakably Cockney twang. But how is this to be remedied? The teachings of the London schools are themselves mostly Londoners, talking with the same accent, more or less modified, as their pupils. The Education Committee has, however, drawn up a series of rules to check the London accent.

THE BRASS BAND. (Toronto Star.) Nothing enlivens a town like a brass band, and when it meets on the main square at dusk and sends striding music all over the village the cares of the day vanish. The leading citizens gather around and express regret that the present leader cannot play the cornet the way another man used to, while others, who know good music when they hear it, exchange winks when any player makes a trifling break. Small boys with lemons crowd around to see whether it is true that a man cannot "play his horn" if somebody stands in front of him sucking a lemon. A town, in fact, without a brass band isn't half a town. Without a band to criticise, to publicly make game of and secretly admire, villagers do not know what to do with themselves. So true is all this that it would not be a bad idea for the Provincial Government to make a small annual grant to every brass band in Ontario.

Every man to his trade. A farmer could set a hen.

THE POLICEMAN'S HAPPY LOT. (Grimsby Independent.) I wouldn't join the Hamilton police force if they paid me one dollar per minute, because nobody but a wooden man could conform to the rules and regulations now in force in that city. Under the new regulations three things are prohibited which would break my heart if I was a member of the force. First, no policeman is allowed to force. First, no policeman is allowed to take a glass of beer, and, third, no policeman is allowed to kiss a pretty girl or even talk to one. Now if I was on that police force my wife would be "Give me gum or give me death," and of course if they wouldn't let me chew gum it would be death for mine. And then beer. Just think of having to walk past a saloon forty or fifty times a night and never being able to put one's lips to a foaming glass of lager—before three hours I would be tempted to call out "A beer, a beer, my kingdom for a beer," and if the beer wasn't coming then skidoo for mine. But the last rule is the worst of all. Imagine a handsome, tall, athletic Lothario of a policeman being compelled to meet and pass innumerable pretty girls without as much as a smile from the lips or a nod of the head or a moment's chat on the corner—it would be better for a man to be banished to the plains of Timbuctoo than to be a policeman in Hamilton. Salmon's Rapid Growth. It is said that a twenty-pound salmon which was caught in Scotland not long ago had attached to one of its fins a small silver plate marked "935B." Upon inquiry it was found that this label had been put on the fish by the Loch Lomond Angling Improvement Association in December, 1907, in a river feeding the lake. The records show that it then weighed ten pounds, and thus in the space of eighteen months it had doubled its weight.—Forest and Stream.

IS AGAINST DEAD ENDS.

Water Mains Will Not be Laid on Blind Streets.

Fire Protection For the Mountain Residents.

Water Supplied to New Section Quickly as Possible.

The question of water rates in the new annex is puzzling the Fire and Water Committee. The matter was discussed last night. Before the people in the annex came into the city they had to pay 50 per cent. more than city people for the city water.

The committee decided to compensate Isaac Pickard for damages done to his rig on Tuesday night in a collision on Hughson street, near Gore street, with combination No. 3. Captain Glover and the crew stated that Mr. Pickard was on the right side of the road, and did all he could to avoid the accident.

Chairman Clark and the Chief will adjust the damages.

A six-inch water main will be laid on Poplar avenue, between Prospect and Blake streets, at an estimated cost of $1,400.

The City Engineer recommended that a six-inch main be laid on Garfield avenue as soon as it is opened through to Regent street. The City Engineer has decided to oppose the construction of mains on any streets that are not opened through.

The Engineer recommended that a six-inch main be laid across Barton street on Kensington and Glendale avenues at a cost of $300, and the committee ordered the work to be proceeded with. This main will supply water to the people in the new annex until the new waterworks system is laid out in the spring.

On the Engineer's advice it was decided to lay over a lot of applications for water mains and services until next year, on account of the season being so late.

If there is enough money in the construction account a six-inch main will be laid on Prospect avenue at an estimated cost of $600.

Chief Ten Eyck reported that it would cost $1,059 to install two fire alarm boxes on the east end mountain top, supply apparatus and some hose.

The committee cannot spare that amount of money this year. A sub-committee will try and make some provision for fire protection.

Amusements

There has been an unusually large sale of seats for "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," which is to be seen for the first time in Hamilton at the Grand to-morrow and Saturday matinee and night. This is the only company which Liebler & Company have produced this famous play, and is practically the original, many of the people being in the cast since the play was first produced. It is said that the locale of the Louisville cabbage patch, as described by Mrs. Alice Hegan Rice in her beautiful book, is reproduced with absolute fidelity.

ST. ANDREW'S CONCERT.

The St. Andrew's Society will furnish an unusually attractive programme for their annual concert at the Grand next Wednesday evening. Having secured the Imperial Scots Concert Company, a most delightful evening in Scottish song is assured. Among the artists is J. M. Hamilton, the great Scottish tenor. Miss Bethune Grigor, soprano, and "Fanny Cassels," who will furnish the humorous side of the programme. In this respect he is said to be very much like Harry Lauder.

MISS HAMM'S RECITAL.

An organ recital of unusual merit will be given on the afternoon of Saturday, Nov. 27th, in Centenary Church by Nettie M. Hamm, P. T. C. M. Miss Hamm's programme bespeaks a musical hour which will be made pleasurable as well as profitable. Miss Hamm, as organist of Wesley Methodist Church and later of St. Paul's, Presbyterian, and as accompanist to the Elgar Choir, is well known in Hamilton, both as an artist of ability and a musical authority of the first standing. Mrs. Geo. Allan will assist.

A DRAMATIC HIT.

The dramatic hit of the season in vaudeville, the Gaynor and Company, in a stirring western sketch entitled, "Lucky Jim," will be the headliner at Bennett's theatre next week. The scenic effects and accessories are said to be the most elaborate of any playlet yet produced on the variety stage. The sketch is presented in two acts. It unfolds an interesting story in which pathos and comedy is pleasingly blended. Miss Cornthorpe has a role which gives her splendid opportunity to display her dramatic ability, and she has surrounded herself with a capable company. Other attractions next week will include a lively farce entitled, "Bargain Day," presented by Hattie Delaro and company; Hugh Lloyd, the English equilibrist on the bounding rope; Hilda Hawthorne in a novel ventriloquist offering; Warren and Blanchard, black face singers and comedians; Dale and Boyle, in a bright light singing and dancing skit and Seebach, expert bag pumper.

"BILLY" AT GRAND.

"Billy," a farce comedy which was the talk of New York during the summer months, having delighted large audiences at Daly's Theatre, is coming to the Grand next Thursday and Friday with the original cast. Created for the one object of giving fun, the audience separated from the steamship only by the ship's rail, stretched over the footlights, can only find relief by laughing. All three of the act take place on the upper deck of the Florida on route from New York to Havana. "Billy," a football hero, has lost four front teeth in a recent game. His efforts, as well as those of his family, to keep the accident secret, cause most of the hilarity. "Billy" is said to be one of the most delightful comedies seen in New York in years.

KNOX MISSION. Ladies of the Church Gave a Successful Sale.

Gaiety, laughter and beauty were prominent characteristics of the sale held yesterday afternoon and evening in Knox Mission, under the auspices of the Beacon Band. The room in which it was held had been transformed into a veritable fairland. Everywhere there was a wealth of color and some of the booths were not only beautiful, but exceptionally unique. In the booths and other departments charming matrons and maids wearing dainty gowns, and pleasant smiles fitted about coaxing the shelds from the pockets of the visitors, and giving good value in return. Although the outlay this year was not as large as at last year's sale, there were excellent displays of candies, flowers, dolls, clothing and many other fancy and useful articles, all of which could be had at reasonable prices. The officers of the band and all who helped to make the sale the success it was deserve credit for the excellent taste shown in the decorations, and for their untiring efforts.

The officers in charge were: Miss MacIntosh, President; Miss Hawkins, Vice-President; Miss Marjorie Garvie, Secretary; Miss B. Young, Corresponding Secretary; Miss J. Young, Treasurer; Miss B. Robinson, Pioneer Secretary. The ladies in charge of the various booths were as follows:

- Doll booth—Miss Jeag MacIntosh, convener; Miss A. Young, convener. Fancy apron booth—Miss E. Hawkins, convener; Miss M. Murphy, convener. Candy booth—Miss Midwinter, convener; Miss Black, convener. Stationery booth—Miss J. Young, convener; Miss Robertson, convener. Fancy booth—Mrs. Thompson, convener; Miss Gibson, convener. Fish pond—Mrs. McMames, convener; Miss B. Young, convener. Pie booth—Miss Miller, convener; Miss Manary, Miss McDonald, convener. Home made booth—Mrs. Brown, convener; Mrs. Garvie, convener. Ice cream booth—Miss Marjorie Garvie, convener; Miss Howell and Miss Hill, convener. Apron booth—Mrs. Anderson, convener; Miss Anderson, convener. Tea table—Mrs. Stevens, convener; Mrs. Garvie, Miss Gibson, convener. Groceries—Mrs. Howell, convener. Miss Mamie MacIntosh was at the piano. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Cameron were on hand all afternoon and evening, and their courtesy and kindness added in no small way to the success of the sale. After paying all expenses the committee in charge reported that their net profit was $100, which will go to the treasury of the Beacon Band.

Society

An enjoyable affair took place yesterday afternoon, when a successful at-home was given at the residence of Mrs. (Dr.) T. H. Hubbard, 33 Jackson street, west under the auspices of St. Elizabeth's Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, in aid of the Christmas tree fund for the patients at the Sanatorium. The guests were received by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. R. B. Gardner, Regent, and Mrs. W. R. Davis, ex-Regent. A splendid musical programme was provided by Mrs. Chas. Gurney, in which selections were given by Mrs. J. M. Eastwood, Mrs. (Dr.) Heurner Mullin, Miss Stella Sntzel, Mrs. George MacKay, Mrs. George Allan, Miss Ida Bold, Miss Jeannette Lewis, Mrs. F. W. Brennan and A. L. Garthwaite. The tea-room, which was artistically decorated in red and white, the colors of the I. O. O. E., was in charge of Mrs. S. O. Greening and Mrs. E. F. Lazier, assisted by Miss Ellen Lazier, H. Geddes, Orville Gurney, Marjorie Evel Mamie Moodie, Lena Biggar, Jean Melbourne, Vera Millard and G. Mills. The affair was a success in every way, there being nearly three hundred guests present, and over $100 was received by the treasurer, Mrs. (Dr.) J. Irving Morris.

The Out-for-Fun Club held its first meeting last night at the home of the Vice-President, Miss Leta Hansel, 364 King street east. A good programme was given by several members, including a selection on the piano by Miss Alberta Hansel, and by George Cross on the mouth organ. After a merry time, which was followed by a supper, the party broke up in the wee small hours, with a hearty vote of thanks to Miss Leta and Mrs. Hansel. The house was decorated with the club colour—purple.

GOOD SHORT STORIES

THE PUNNING TRAVELER.

"How do you like Pittsburg?" "It suits me." "Do you think Boston is a great city?" "It has been." "Do you think Philadelphia the place of sleep they say it is?" "Not for me; everybody else snored so loud I couldn't." "Is Washington a good place to live in?" "Capital." "How did you find Chicago?" "Didn't have to; it was there when I arrived." "How were the mountains back of Denver?" "Rocky." "How did they treat you in New Orleans?" "All the time." "Well, I'm glad to see you're back." "How does it look?" "How does what look?" "My back; I've never seen it." It was then that the assault took place, but the court, on hearing the evidence, decided that it was justifiable. Judge.

A reporter once asked William Dean Howells why it was that his novels did not sell nearly as well as those of — and here the reporter mentioned a half dozen names. "Samuel Newby," said Howells, at the National last night, in telling this story: "Mr. Howells replied: 'A certain quack stood one afternoon before the door of his rich mansion, when a physician of great learning and talent passed. The two men fell into talk, and the physician, a plain spoken person, said, rather bitterly, to the quack: 'How comes it that you, without education, skill or the least knowledge of medicine, are able to live in the style you do? You keep your town house, your carriage, your motor and your country house, while I, allowed to possess some knowledge, have none of these things, and, indeed, can't live more than pick up a bare subsistence.' "The quack laughed good naturedly. "'Look here," said he, "how many Tombs of Abelard and Heloise.

Of the hundreds of thousands who make a pilgrimage to Pere Lachaise on All Saints' Day few doubt the authenticity of the most famous tombs. One in particular is never questioned—that of Heloise and Abelard, the story of whose unhappy lives is so grandly told by Pope. This monument is the work of Alexander Lenon, the sculptor, and dates toward the end of the Revolution. The tomb was built by Lenon with fragments of a chapel of the convent of the Paraclete at Nogent sur Marne, of which Heloise was the abbess. Lenon managed to bring some glass from the windows of the old chapel, and two medallions which adorn the tomb the sculptor purchased from a religious house in Paris. This is all that is genuine about the tomb.—London Globe. Many a man is such a liar that he wouldn't take his own word.

WHITE SLAVES.

President Taft Interested in Stopping Infamous Traffic.

Bill to be Introduced into Congress Dealing With It.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.-Foregoing a contemplated horseback ride because of a snowstorm, President Taft devoted the entire afternoon to-day to a series of important conferences covering the subject of proposed amendments to the interstate commerce laws, legislation looking to the suppression of the white slave traffic.

It was with Attorney Sims and Mr. Mann that the president also took up the white slave question. Mr. Mann is to introduce a bill on this subject at the coming session of Congress. He believes the Government can prevent this traffic through the exercise of its power to control interstate and foreign commerce.

The bill which Mr. Mann has drafted, and in which the president to-day expressed his deep interest, provides a heavy penalty for the enticement of a woman or girl from one place to another for immoral purposes, thereby causing her to go as a passenger over any transportation line engaged in interstate or foreign commerce.

"The investigations in Chicago under the direction of District Attorney Sims and elsewhere," said Mr. Mann to-day at the close of the conference, "have disclosed a situation startling in its nature as to the extent of the traffic in young girls, both within the United States and from France and other foreign countries. Most of these American girls are enticed away from their homes in the country to large cities. The police power exercised by the State and municipal governments is inadequate to prevent this-particularly when the girls are enticed from one State to another, or from a foreign country to the United States."

FILLED TOOTH.

Gunda Had to Undergo Dentistry Without Gas.

Used Mallet and Chisel in Cleaning Out the Cavity.

Toronto, Nov. 25.-When Gunda, the elephant at the Zoological Gardens in the Bronx, refused to eat hay and shied at the water Sunday her keepers knew there was something radically wrong, for she can stow away enough hay at a meal to stock a barn.

Gunda was suffering from racking toothache. The discovery was made yesterday by Walter Thumann, keeper, who detected a swelling on her jaw. Dr. W. Reed Blair, veterinarian, with the aid of "Dick" Richards and John Bayreuther, keepers, forced her jaws apart with crowbars and a searching dental examination was made.

One of the lower molars, four inches in diameter, was decayed. There was a cavity two inches wide and three inches long. It was decided to scrape out the cavity and fill it. Gunda was bound down to the floor with great chains and belts and her trunk was secured.

But Gunda was not in a fighting mood. She seemed to know her pain was to be relieved, and she courted dental attention rather than repelled it. So after an hour's hard work the cavity was treated with chisels and mallet, the jaws being held apart meanwhile with large wooden blocks. The cavity was sprayed with a cooling solution and filled with amalgam. The elephant was released and she trumpeted several times for very joy.

Dr. Blair visited his patient an hour later. She recognized him and showed her gratitude by raising him to her head with her trunk. When the two parted Gunda wept-at least so the keepers said.

NEEDED NURSE.

Two-Year-Old Husband Here With Seven-Year-Old Bride.

New York, Nov. 24.-Theodore Leslie is the youngest married man in the country. Theodore is two, and he has brought back from Portuguese Congo-land, where he was born, a dusky bride of seven, the daughter of a Congo chief.

Theodore's parents, Dr. and Mrs. William H. Leslie, who have just returned on a vacation from a missionary post, explained to-day that when he was four, the chief of his own village, who had 40 wives of his own, sent Theodore a spare granddaughter for a wife as a token of regard.

As Theodore was badly in need of a nurse, the present was accepted, and the royal African proprieties were satisfied at the same time.

THE WAR ON VIVISECTION. Are Men, Women, Children and Even Infants to be Experimented Upon With Knife For Scientific Purposes Alone?

MRS. DIANA BELAIS, PRESIDENT OF THE NEW YORK ANTI-VIVISECTION SOCIETY.

She is a wealthy woman, who, being touched by reports of cruelties imposed upon dumb animals to "advance science," five years ago founded the society which now makes sensational charges against medical men for alleged cruelties to helpless human beings.

New York, Nov. 23.-In its war upon medical men who experiment upon living creatures to "promote science," the New York Anti-Vivisection Society has just brought out a pamphlet which is having general circulation, and which makes sensational charges.

The pamphlet is labelled "Human Vivisection." This, it is stated, "is the practice of subjecting human beings, men, women and children, a great proportion of whom are patients in hospitals or asylums, to experiments involving pain, mutilation, disease or death for no object connected with their individual benefit, but entirely for scientific purposes."

Saying that the information was gained from various medical journals, from papers read by scientists and responsible newspapers, the anti-vivisectionists make the following charges:

A French physician named Gailleton was condemned in the courts for his treatment of an orphan boy, belonging to one of the charitable institutions. He inoculated the boy with a certain horrible disease, which the boy took and died. On trial Dr. Gailleton defended his conduct on the ground that what he had done was for the advancement of science.

In Germany a Dr. Schimmelschuck "inoculated two boys with the virus from a boil," and both died from a pustular disease.

Dr. K. Menge, of the University Hospital for Women in Leipzig, is quoted as follows: "My experiments on eight new born babies (girls) disproved the correctness of the professor's deductions. Unfortunately I could get only three babies to experiment on. These I took immediately after birth. They were not bathed, but at once wrapped up in sterile linen and carried to my laboratory. I inoculated these subjects with very considerable quantities of disease-producing germs."

Dr. Lund, of Samsø, Norway, is charged with feeding his infant son, for sixteen months, on milk from tuberculous cows, to learn whether the disease could thus be communicated to a human being. The child developed a tuberculous infection in consequence.

In Austria 80 cases are cited of children being inoculated with disease germs, and it is alleged the same thing was done in maternity cases, so that infants were born suffering with loathsome diseases. It is said these victims number into the hundreds.

Dr. Epstein, professor of children's diseases at Prague, is Hydro Act Illegal and Not In Public Interest.

Sir Wilfrid Admits the Force of Arguments.

Will be Considered From Every Standpoint.

Ottawa, Nov. 24.—A deputation of prominent citizens from Hamilton, Galt and London waited on Sir Wilfrid Laurier and other members of the Government this afternoon to urge the disallowance of the Hydro-Electric power legislation of the Ontario Government.

Mr. P. D. Crerar, of Hamilton, and other speakers strongly represented that the legislation was arbitrary, illegal and not in the best interests of the public as a whole.

The deputation, which was accompanied by Messrs. Lloyd Harris, German, Connee and Sealey, M. P.s., included Dr. J. Russell, Messrs. Stanley Mills, Geo. Hope, A. Hatch, J. M. Young, and John Patterson, of Hamilton; Mayor Patterson, Hugh Carr and Andrew Elliott, of Galt, and C. B. Hunt, J. C. Judd and R. Puddicombe, of London.

BOY POISONED.

Sad Death of Alonzo Lane at St. Catharines.

Two Little Fellows Had Eaten Cream Puffs and Were Taken Ill.

St. Catharines, Nov. 24.—The Crown authorities have a difficult task before them in figuring out how Alonzo Lane came to his death. The deceased, a little colored boy, fourteen years of age, had been engaged as messenger by a local store. Last Thursday he bought half a dozen cream puffs at Nasmit's bakery on Queen street.

Dr. Sheahan, who attended the boy, informed the coroner that the boy's tongue was badly burned, and had the appearance caused by corrosive sublimate or some other irritant poison.

Fishing Up His Son's Watch

Chester, Penn.—While fishing in Darby Creek, James Zell dropped his gold watch and chain overboard, and, after trying to recover them, gave them up for lost.

Recently, Mr. Zell's father went fishing at the same spot. When ready to go home, he felt a tug at his line and when the hook came into sight, there were the missing watch and chain.

APPRECIATE A GOOD MAN.

Salary of Superintendent Rutherford Increased to $1,500.

At the meeting of the Cemetery Board last night William Armstrong moved that Fred J. Rutherford be granted an increase in salary from $1,200 to $1,500 per year, commencing next January.

Mr. James Donald said he remembered when three men did the work which Mr. Rutherford does at the present time, and the duties were getting heavier.

Chairman Fearman said he wished to go on record as heartily in accord with the additional grant to Mr. Rutherford for his services. He was an official of the city might well be proud of the increase had not been solicited by Mr. Rutherford.

COULDN'T SPEAK.

Students Break Up Mrs. Pankhurst's Meeting.

Bristol, Eng., Nov. 24.—Since the attack ten days ago upon Winston Spencer Churchill, President of the Board of Trade, by a suffragette armed with a brick, strong feeling has grown up against the suffragettes, and an attempt by Miss Christabel Pankhurst to address a meeting at Colston-ham to-night was prevented by a crowd of students and others, who kept up a continuous series of yells and whistling.

ACID-THROWING SUFRAGETTES. London, Nov. 24.—Mrs. Alice Chaplin, the militant suffragette who injured a polling clerk at the Brompton by-election, when she smashed a bottle of corrosive acid upon a ballot box, was sentenced to-day to seven months' imprisonment.

BURNED TO DEATH. Woman Soaked Clothing in Oil and Ignited It. Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Mrs. Florence Bishop, 60 years old, committed suicide to-day at her home in Coomer's Road, a few miles from this city.

Her Bible lying open beside her, upon which were carefully placed her spectacles, Miss Jean Armstrong, a venerable maiden lady, upwards of eighty years of age, was found dead in bed at her residence in the western portion of Lyn, near Brockville, on Wednesday.

The steamer City of Paris, which arrived on Wednesday at San Francisco from Central American ports, brought a report that forty citizens of Corinto were shot to death recently by order of President Zelaya for having recovered with cheers the news of an insurgent victory.

OTTAWA'S WING LINE SHOULD BEAT 'VARSITY.

Gazette Writer Takes Line From McGill Game, But Admits Form Is Puzzling—Will Williams Use Those Low Bounding Pants?

All the football experts who had been doping out the relative merits of the Toronto University and Hamilton Tiger teams for many weeks must throw their sheets away this week and start out on fresh theories for the Dominion semi-final between Ottawa and Toronto in Toronto next Saturday. There was never, even in Ottawa, much said of how Rough Riders and Varsity compare. Conservatively, probably not one fan in a thousand looked on Ottawa as a Canadian champion possibility, says The Montreal Gazette.

And now it looks very much like Ottawa. The Hamilton line beat Toronto last year; this year Ottawa pounded Hamilton's line into submission. Although it must be admitted at the outset that Hamilton's line is weaker than last year's, the form given Ottawa a considerable advantage over the student team on the line.

In the back field, Toronto appears to have the advantage, but Hamilton had the advantage there last Saturday, and Hamilton was beaten by Ottawa. Ottawa backs made three muffs, Hamilton one, and still Ottawa won out. One reason for that was Williams' good judgment. A centre half-back who is working well can make up for a lot of poor work by the other back. The line in front of him gave Williams better protection than Simpson, and lastly, Ottawa's tackling was far superior to Hamilton's.

OUT ALL NIGHT TO GET TICKETS FOR GAME.

Minus the brass band, but cheered by a friendly nip now and again from a little black bottle, stored away down in the hip pocket, four hundred enthusiasts waited all last night out in the cold for the plan for the Varsity-Ottawa game to open this morning at 180 Young street, Toronto. Some of these fans or speculators, for both were on hand, ornamented the doorway since 8 o'clock yesterday morning, or just 24 hours before the plan opened. These enthusiasts were soon joined by many more, till at noon over 100 had gathered.

strong as Ottawa's. From every angle, therefore, it is hard to see how the student team will be able to hold Ottawa in the scrimmage. Toronto had probably the best back division playing the Canadian game, and a superiority can be conceded there at once, for Ottawa has a very shabby combination. The Toronto men tackle better than Tigers, and Ottawa's mistakes will be punished more severely than they were last Saturday. Granting Ottawa's superiority on the wing line inferiority in the back field, the team seems likely to win out by the style of play adopted against Tigers. Ottawa's plan of campaign was to make it as much as possible a battle of the forward lines and to keep the ball away from the backs. It was that style of game that, when adopted by McGill here, resulted in Toronto's only defeat this year. Then Williams seldom booted high and straight, which would have given Tigers a chance to open up punting duels with the fumbling Ottawa backs. He kept kicking low, bounding balls, hard to get at, and these gave the fast ends of the Ottawa team every chance to get up the field and smother Tiger backs before they could run or kick. There is no doubt that the success of that style of play against Hamilton will mean its repetition against Toronto Varsity, and it should be good enough to win.

But, after all, the form is puzzling. For Ottawa, despite the success of last Saturday, has been a most erratic team, and the back field is liable to go to pieces at any time and bring about a rout such as that administered to the team in Hamilton a few weeks ago.

WHY HAS NO ACTION BEEN TAKEN?

If There Was Crookedness in Herald Road Race, Proper Authorities Should Get Busy

Mr. John B. Allan, of St. Catharines, is Ready to Swear That He Saw Substitution Take Place on Road Between Valley Inn and Hendrie's Farm.

A couple of weeks ago an article was received from the Times St. Catharines correspondent and printed in these columns dealing with alleged crookedness in the Herald road race, which was held on Thanksgiving Day. As no ostensible effort was made then or since, either by the Herald people or the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union, to ferret out the truth of the matter, Mr. John B. Allan, of St. Catharines, who made the accusation, got busy and corresponded with Secretary Crow, of the C. A. A. U. Not satisfied with the attention given to the matter by that official, he wrote to the sporting editor of this paper, enclosing a duplicate of one of his letters to Mr. Crow, and two letters from the last named gentleman.

Mr. Allan says he stands prepared to swear that on the day of the race, while standing at a point of the course between the Valley Inn and the Hendrie Farm, in company with another gentleman, whose name he does not give, he saw one of the contestants in the race jump into a rig and another man with the same number on his back, and dressed the same in every particular, jump out and continue the race. He gives the number, and has mentioned the name in several of his letters.

So much has already been printed in the Times and as apparently no notice has been taken of this matter, we again hit the keys of our trusty typewriter for the sake of clean sport and those contestants who ran a straight race.

To the mind of the writer, such a charge should have been taken up by the proper authorities and cleaned up, and the culprit punished, or the author of the charge brought to book, if wrong. Such tricks are not to be tolerated in any sport, and as it is the game that suffers, every possible effort should be made to discover the facts. Although the man who is alleged to have practised the substitution did not win the race, he was well up, and if the accusation be true he should be barred from all athletics and branded as a crook, so that people could see him in his true light, and not consider him a young man of courage, stamina, and ability. On the other hand, should Mr. Allan be wrong, the matter should be cleared up, in justice to the runner, as his name is known to several persons, and he is now under a cloud.

On the 9th of November Mr. Allan received the following letter:

Dear Sir,—I have before me a clipping from the Hamilton Times of Saturday, Nov. 6, in which you are quoted in regard to substitution in the Herald road race, held on Thanksgiving Day. The Registration Committee is anxious to secure all information possible on this subject, and I would be pleased to hear from you further along the lines mentioned in the newspaper despatch. If you so desire our correspondence will be treated as confidential. Yours sincerely, (Signed) N. H. Crow.

On the 12th inst. Mr. Allan wrote to the Secretary of the C. A. A. U. giving a statement of the facts and asking that the Union take the matter in hand. On the 16th instant Mr. Crow replied, and referred Mr. Allan to Mr. William Burrell, the St. Catharines representative of the C. A. A. U. Mr. Allan did as requested, but says he got no satisfaction, and the following is a duplicate of the letter he sent to Mr. Crow on the 21st of this month:

Dear Sir,—Your letter of the 16th instant received, and, as requested, I called on Mr. Burrell. I would like you to let me have the following information: 1st. You are aware that Mr. H. W. Batters protested the race, claiming there was substitution; what action did your representative in Hamilton take in the matter; did he draw your attention to it, and what action did you take? Have you written to Batters for an information regarding his cause for protest? 2nd. Had you made any enquiry from your Hamilton representative regarding substitution previous to receiving the clipping from the Hamilton Times, and what have you done since you heard from me? 3rd. You received my letter giving you the name of a man who saw the substitution at another part of the course in the early part of the race, and why have you not written to him? If asked he is prepared to take an oath.

To be frank and speak as I think, I am of the opinion that if you wanted information you could get plenty of it in Hamilton. It was all a bluff having me to see Mr. Burrell last night, and I told him so. It won't be any fault of mine if you are not compelled to act in this matter.

I am sending a copy of this letter to the Hamilton Times, and they can use it as they see fit. At the same time I would like you to answer the questions given above. I won't give you any more information until I am convinced you are acting in the interest of clean sport and in good faith, and then I am prepared to tell all I know, and before a properly appointed person. Respectfully, (Signed) John B. Allan.

THE ALERTS HAVE GOOD CAUSE TO KICK.

Intermediates Should Not be Allowed to Play in Junior Company After Competing in Three Games—Alerts May Refuse to Play.

Walter Howell, manager of the first Alerts of the junior Inter-Provincial series, was at the Times office this morning with a large sized kick about the way his pets are being treated. He says that the Tigers claim that as two out of the three games they played this year were thrown out their intermediates players are still eligible to play with the juniors and intend to play about half the intermediates against the Alerts in the junior championship game at the Cricket grounds next Saturday. In such an event the Alerts will refuse to play, and from here it looks as though they were in the right.

A special train will be run to Toronto by the G.T.R. for the Ottawa-Varsity game, leaving the King street station at 1 o'clock and the Stuart street depot five minutes later. The Tigers' Football Club is taking the train down to see the game.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—The executive of the Ottawa Football Club held a special meeting yesterday afternoon and decided to abide by the decision of the Canadian Rugby Union and play Parkdale should Ottawa emerge victorious from next Saturday's match against the Toronto Varsity team. The club was notified yesterday by Hal. McGivern, M.P., that the Ontario Rugby Football Union had been recognized by the Grey Cup trustees as a senior organization and that neither the Varsity nor Ottawa team could claim the Grey Cup without first defeating the Parkdale team. This means that on Dec. 4 the winners of the Ottawa-Varsity match will play the paddlers on their own grounds to decide the Canadian championship. If the Ottawa win out Saturday, they will not have Stronach for the Parkdale match, as he intends going on a hunting trip, and notified the officers of the club yesterday that he would play against Varsity only. Hickey will replace Stronach should Ottawa be called upon to meet Parkdale. The executive is being smothered with requests for tickets for the Ottawa-Varsity match. Nine hundred were received, and applications are in for twice that number. Tickets consequently will be sold to those who really intend to take the trip, the object being to prevent speculators and outsiders from cornering the seat market. The executive also decided to take the team to Toronto via the C. P. R. Friday night. They will again go by a special train, with bands, banners and backers. Ottawa money is plentiful, and the battle cry of Tom Clancy's speed boys for the Varsity match will be "Remember 1905."

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 24.—Captain Roald Amundsen, arctic and antarctic explorer, arrived in the city yesterday to buy pemmican and canned goods at the Chicago packing-houses for a trip across the Arctic Ocean. With him came his classmate of the Christiania University, F. Herman Gade, Norwegian consul at Chicago, who, with his wife, went to New York to meet Captain Amundsen.

The three attended the Yale-Harvard game last Saturday and it was the captain's first sight, he said, of a really dangerous situation. Polar exploration was no comparison. "Still," he said, "it was not so bad as I had been led to believe. I thought it would be much worse."

Washington, Nov. 24.—Favoring the careful regulation of football or the abolition of the game at the national capital, Commissioner McFarland, executive head of the district government, to-day heard suggestions upon the subject of representatives of all the institutions of learning in which the sport is followed here. At the conclusion of the conference Mr. McFarland said he would suspend action looking toward regulation either by the commissioners or by congress to restrict or abolish football here until action had been taken on the rules at the meeting to be held in New York by the intercollegiate com-

No one is paying any attention to the final Canadian championship match to be played a week from Saturday between Parkdale and either Varsity or Ottawa.

Champion Back to Meet Champs.

GEO. BOTHER.

There was a time when Geo. Bother was regarded as the best lightweight wrestler in the United States. This was when he held the catch-as-catch-can title. Then he resigned to Eugene Tremblay, the Canadian, and dropped from sight. Now he has re-entered the game, and will meet Will Bingham, the English lightweight champion, and Eddie Carroll, who holds the title in Ireland. Now, if someone would make it worth while for Johnny Billeter and Tremblay to get into this game, what a nice five-handed little draw it would make!

Basketball.

Last night in the east end Y. M. C. A. the second game of the series was played between the "Sudden Happens" and the famous "Blow Hards." The game was full of features from the first blow of the whistle. "Dodo" Summerfield and "Dutch" Bayley worked well together on the forward line, although Dutch was a little staid and afraid of his man, "Balloon" Venator, who was checking him to the close. "Sheriff" Middleton was master of the situation at centre at all times, while Priclipp and Livingston, at defence, were like a stone wall, only two baskets being scored in the last two minutes of the game. For the losers, Curry and Peace played about the best game. Curry scored the two baskets. Venator got a bump in the nose which affected his playing considerably. Plunger, Cox and Piker McCarthy forgot their manners and invariably got in some rough work when the referee was not looking.

The teams are now tied, and a third game will be played in the near future to settle the championship. The teams lined up as follows: Blow Hards (20)—Defence, H. Priclipp, C. H. Livingston, centre, J. Middleton; forwards, C. Summerfield, Harold Bayley, Ted Bevis (space). Sudden Happens (6)—Defence, F. McCarthy, W. Venator; centre, Less. Cox; forwards, G. Peace, Boy Curry. Referee—G. Clark.

After Venator and McCarthy both went after a man to get the ball they wondered where the foul was committed. Cox appeared in a baseball suit, "Nelson's Thistles," while Venator appeared in a swimming costume. Bayley claimed he was roughly and cruelly handled by both Venator and McCarthy. Curry's long shot was a peach, while Livingston's was a pippin. With two minutes to play McCarthy's wind gave out and at the same time his shoe lace came undone. This was only one of the serious accidents that happened during the game. Leslie Cox, captain of the Sudden Happens, was as light on his feet as a sportive elephant. Both teams have a bundle of thanks for Dutch Myers for the wonderful way he handled the big crowd.

RUGBY CRITICS ARE ON THE FENCE.

Not So Sure What Team Will Win the Big Football Game at Rosedale on Saturday—May be Another Upset.

The sole topic in local sporting circles these days is: "Who'll win the Rugby game on Saturday?"

And the answer comes "from the mouth out," according to the location of the person speaking.

Near the University the reply comes quickly and decisively: "Why, Varsity, of course."

From the C.P.R. going east comes a strong and vigorous "Ottawa."

On the G.T.R. going west, first stop beyond Burlington Junction, the answer is indicative: "Well, Rough Riders should win."

In the downtown district the fans argue out all the pros and cons, and also reach conclusions according to location, viz., King Edward habitues, "Varsity"; Prince George patrons, "Ottawa."

The critics are on the fence. They received such a jolt from the Ottawa victory over Hamilton that they care not to make any more predictions, without hedging them in with all sorts of restrictions. Here is a sample: "Yes, Varsity will win, if the expected does not happen. If Lawson does not break a leg or Hughie Gall does not kick the ball into the clubhouse instead of into the ravine, as Ben Simpson, Varsity will win away off—well, by at least five points. That is, of course, if there is no wind blowing, or if the wind doesn't shift. You know Rosedale is such an unreliable field on a gusty day. However, Ottawa has a good chance, with Jack Williams bounding those low ones over the scrimmage, and Stronach embracing the Varsity back division every time he goes down under a punt. Queer thing about that fellow Stronach is his method of tackling; doesn't get off his feet at all, merely to return a kick. If Stronach doesn't knock him down; get an awful reach, too; can grab a whole back division at one time and smother any attempt to return a kick. If Stronach doesn't step on his foot before the time is over it will be some comfort."

Here is another equally as lucid: "Say, wouldn't Varsity have walloped Hamilton, eh? Well, Ottawa will be easier than the Tigers. They beat Hamilton, but how did they do it? The Tigers couldn't get out of their own way, and at that Ottawa was lucky, dead lucky—I don't care what anybody says. What's that? McGill beat Varsity and Queen's nearly trimmed them? Yes, that's true. Forgot about that. But Lawson and Gale weren't in shape, and they will be on Saturday. Still, I guess Ottawa must be as good as McGill, and has a better chance than some people think. Some of these fellows up to it, Varsity think there's nothing to it. I'll just go up and get some of their money before they pass that anti-gambling law at Ottawa."

The Varsity team had a fine workout last night, and will be in grand condition on Saturday. The team has benefited by its rest. There is snap and vim in plenty, and this is expected to carry the Ottawa team off its feet. The Collegians look for quite a respectable score in their favor.—Toronto Star.

"It isn't generally known that for every first-class trotter and pacer there is a special keeper. He doesn't have to look after a whole lot of flyers—just one—a Hamburg Belle, a Ulian, a Penisia Maid, or some other fast one.

"This trainer is in complete charge of the horse. At night, on the road, he rolls himself up in a blanket and lies down to sleep beside the horse. The horse understands, and in 30 or 40 years of track history there has never been an instance of a fast one, occupying a "berth" in a palace car, rolling over and hurting his or her attendant."

"The care these $25,000 and $50,000 racers get is remarkable. Each horse has its own medicine chest; its own doctor, so to speak. There is also a general plan adopted for the workout of a high priced horse, but it is a flexible plan and subject to many alterations to suit the horse's moods.

"In the stall of every fast trotter or pacer are three suits of clothes, and three sets of harness. It is within the truth to say that a horse knows when a race is 'on.' If the light harness is brought out the horse understands at once that it means business. So, too, does he know what it means to put on his ordinary stable garments, his best clothes or his cooling-off rags.

"The modern 'parlor car' for a horse is more comfortable than the average sleeping car for a man. There are shower baths, hot and cold water, separate compartments for each horse, and all that sort of thing. I only wish that when I started on a journey I was as sure of all the comforts as is the high class trotter or pacer when it is sent from one grand circuit city to another.

"If the horse has a chill there is somebody to give it a dose of hot medicine. If its ears, ears, head or feet are not right, there is always a man to supply the remedy. The way the modern trotting or pacing horse is cared for is the wonder of the world."

NO ENGLISH TEAM FOR 1910 OLYMPIAD.

London Newspaper Explains Why Britons Will Not Participate in the Next Athens Classic.

There will be no team of athletes sent from England by the A. A. A. to Athens next spring to compete in the international games. The reason for such a stand is set forth in the following from a London newspaper: "In common with other governing bodies the A. A. A. looks upon the 1912 games as their next international struggle, and, as circumstances will not permit of Great Britain being adequately represented in the world's championships every alternate year, they have no alternative but to regretfully decline any invitation to gather a team together. If this may appear an unfortunate decision from the standpoint of international sport, it is a thoroughly sound position that the A. A. A. takes up. They cannot ask an athlete to neglect his business year after year for the purpose of participating in sport.

"The average runner cannot sacrifice himself to sport and at the same time maintain in its integrity his amateur status. There are doubtless some athletes who could spare the time to go, but there is very little to be said in favor of sending any unrepresentative team, or even one of two athletes of exceptional ability for such events as the Marathon. Last year's Olympic showed us the strength of international rivalry, and if any particularly brilliant performers reveal themselves next year it would be more fitting to let them visit, say, Canada or Sweden for the championships there, where they may compete as individual units, than send a mere shadow of a team to Athens."

Pointed Paragraphs.

When a man loses his job he feels out of place. Only a hustler can get the key to the door of success. Usually a little white lie has a big black one behind it. Give the average man a little trouble and he will stir up more. Homeliness in a girl indicates that she is a great help to her mother. One side of almost any story is plausible until you hear the other side. At the time a man is writing a love letter he really thinks he means it. Don't bank on the veracity of any woman who tells a man he is handsome. In a good many cases a punch in the jaw is more effective than a soft answer. Every time a chronic kisser stuns his wife he imagines the world is against him. A woman never doubts the truth of a statement that she thinks ought to be true. It is the easiest thing in the world for a man to keep his troubles to himself if he has none. If a man asks you to have a drink it's a sure sign that he expects you to ask him to have another. It might be well for married people who quarrel to remember that no man is always wrong and no woman is always right.—Chicago News.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 25.—Mr. Allan Studholme entered a characteristically vigorous protest against one of Hon. W. J. Hanna's rulings in the Assessment Committee at the Parliament Buildings this morning.

ALLAN STUDHOLME.

days ago. It advocated practically the principles of single tax.

The committee with Mr. Hanna at its head was most unwilling to re-open the much vexed question.

"Have you any new arguments on the subject?" asked Mr. Hanna.

"I have made a long study of it," said Mr. Sale, "I shall be delighted to answer any questions."

"We have discussed this and it was closed," said the chairman.

"When?" demanded Mr. Studholme, getting to his feet.

"This question was never properly settled by this committee," retorted Mr. Studholme.

"Well, the question is settled."

"Then I protest against this method of procedure; that's all."

"Nonsense. Your objection is noted, however," said the chairman.

The amendment to increase the exemption in business assessments from $100 to $250 was lost. Other clauses relative to business taxation were thrown out as too radical.

By a vote of 13 to 9 the committee decided to retain the present system of separate assessment for buildings and real property.

A proposal to strike out the subsection which allows a husband's name to appear on the roll as owner of property which is really his wife's, was thrown out.

"Some women in this city would object to anything," said D. Reed, and got a general laugh.

"Why should any man use his wife's vote?" asked Mr. Studholme.

STUDENT'S SUICIDE

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Eluding his room mate and shouting a frantic "good-bye," William F. McCormick is believed to have been mentally deranged.

BLAMES IT ON STARVATION.

Pathetic Case of Henry T. Clute, an Old Man.

Unconscious to all the interest being manifested in him—and to everything else, Henry T. Clute, over 80 years of age, lies in one of the public wards at the City Hospital. Before another day dawns the curtain will probably fall, the doctors say, on his life and he will cross the bar to the Great Beyond.

On Monday morning he was found unconscious in his room at 134 John street north, by Mrs. Liberty, and she, assuming his condition was serious, hastily called Dr. McLoughlin, who found that the old man had had a stroke of apoplexy, and ordered his removal to the City Hospital, where he has since been unconscious.

The hospital authorities are desirous of obtaining some information concerning Mr. Clute.

Since Monday able doctors and tender hearted nurses have fought valiantly against the grim monster. Many people have called at the hospital asking to see the old man.

This morning a kind hearted woman called, and the tears welled up in her eyes as she tenderly pinned a dark blood red carnation on the pillow beside the sick man's head.

The story surrounding the old man seems almost incredible. Mrs. Liberty attributes his sickness to starvation. For some time he has roomed with her, and often she has suspected that he has had insufficient food. Repeatedly she has asked him to have something to eat, but each time he emphatically declared he was well fed, though she attributed his declarations to an innate spirit of independence and pride, for it is assumed that old Mr. Clute once was in better circumstances, judging by his refined speech and deportment. Everyone who knew him speaks highly of him. He has been in the city for about six years, coming here from Belleville or Napanee.

For about three years he lived with Mr. F. Howe, who kept a restaurant on Merrick street.

This morning Mr. Howe received a letter from the Mayor of Whitby, Ont., saying that the Clutes were well-known people in that district.

It has also been learned that there is a firm of lawyers in Belleville, Ont., known as Clute & Morden, and Clute, of that firm, is said to be related.

Mr. Peebles, Clerk of the Revision Court, is doing all he can to trace up the relatives.

Mrs. Liberty has written to Mrs. Jas. Howard, Amherst, Ireland, who is said to be a niece.

JOY CARNIVAL.

For the first time a "joy" carnival was held at the Britannia roller rink last evening, and proved enjoyable for one of the largest crowds of the season. Every skater was presented with a souvenir in the form of a noise-making instrument, and what happened can be better imagined than described. Lomas' orchestra was in attendance.

HOOKWORM DIVORCE

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—Judge Graham has divorced Anita Coover from David R. Coover. The hookworm was the cause. "My husband was dull, stupid, lazy, languid, slow," said Mrs. Coover. "He must have been a victim of the hookworm," said the court. Mrs. Coover expressed some doubt as to this diagnosis, but Judge Graham stuck to his opinion, and granted the decree.

DAVID BURN'S MILLIONS.

Letters of Contradictory Nature Received in Toronto.

Toronto Telegram: Mr. David Burn—who was David Kidd—with Mrs. Kidd and their son, have left Toronto for Australia, where they have gone to claim some $1,400,000, as their friends say.

"I understand that some one has made an advance of $2,000, or $3,000 to Mr. Burn, some friend of his here in the city," said a man this morning, who thinks that David Burn is going to be a millionaire.

David Kidd is the lame evangelist and tea merchant who announced a year ago that an Australian millionaire, W. G. Burn, had left him a huge sum of money with which to endow a home for unfortunate women here, in return for the Kidds having rescued Lucy Burn from a downward path in Chicago. Last July a letter was written from here to the chief of police of Melbourne, Australia, in an effort to ascertain how much was known there of this W. G. Burn. A reply was received to-day in which it was said that no millionaire of that name had died in Melbourne or in the state, and containing the information also that a street address given as that of the Burn's was incorrect.

"I am perfectly satisfied as to the genuineness of the legacy left to David Kidd," said a gentleman to-day. "I have seen a letter from the Attorney-General of Australia, in which he said that the estate is valued at some $8,000,000."

David Kidd changed his name to David Burn under the terms of the will he showed here. The gentleman above quoted said that Burn would receive in all for his own personal use about $1,400,000, with $125,000 to build the memorial spoken of.

CANADIAN ART.

Annual Exhibition of the R.C.A. Opens To-night.

At 8.15 this evening his Honor Lieutenant-Governor Gibson will formally open the 31st annual exhibition of the Royal Canadian Academy of Arts in the art gallery in the public library building. This will be the first time that the exhibition has been held in this city, and quite in charge of state that it will be the equal of its predecessors, which were held in Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, St. John and Halifax. Among the many paintings will be a number by well known Hamilton artists, including J. S. Gordon, John Russell and Albert Robinson. The president, William Brymer, and the judges were very exact this year, and none but paintings of the highest class will be shown.

The officers of the R. C. A. are: William Brymer, Montreal, President; A. F. Dunlop, Montreal, Vice-President; James Smith, Toronto, Secretary.

The exhibition will be held for two weeks, and all interested in art should visit and see the largest collection of Canadian paintings ever gathered together.

SIR ARTHUR

Is a Cousin of A. M. D. and Archdale Wilson.

Admiral Sir Arthur Wilson, who has just been appointed head of Britain's naval administration, succeeding Sir John Fisher, the first sea lord of the admiralty, has relatives in Hamilton who are very naturally quite proud of the distinction which he has won. Sir Arthur is a cousin of Mr. A. McDonald Wilson, and also of Mr. Archdale Wilson, of this city.

Sir Arthur, who is a man of sixty-six, has had practical experience of all phases of life in the royal navy. A little more than twelve years old he fought in the Crimea. He was one of the heroes of the naval brigade in the Egyptian war and Soudan campaign, and won there the Victoria Cross. In 1897 he became commander of the navy, holding that office till 1901. He has been at sea practically ever since, first in command of the Channel squadron, and later as commander-in-chief of the home and Channel fleets. He became admiral of the fleet in 1907.

INSANE, BUT HARMLESS.

James Christian, the old Ancaster farmer, who has been in Police Court twice on a charge of insanity, has been examined by doctors, who found that, though he is insane he is not dangerous, by so, and the Lunacy Commission will be recommended to send him to the House of Refuge, instead of the Asylum.

There is said to be some contention among the relatives about the application being made to commit him.

Races at Britannia.

Friday evening will be race night at the popular east end rink, and, judging by the time made in training, the race should prove a fast one. Al Weir, who has just returned from Collingwood, will be a contestant, and Young Clinton, who so handsly won a week ago, will have to step some to retain his laurels. De Vaudrey, paced by two of the fastest local men, will endeavor to lower the mark of 2:27.5 for the course. Dale, Raycroft, McKilvray and Boien will act as officials for the event.

BUDGET DEBATE.

Lord Ashborne Continues Debate in House of Lords.

London, Nov. 25.—Although this was the fourth day of the budget debate and the absence of Lord Curzon, who but for a sudden indisposition would have continued the Unionist attack upon the Liberal measure, detracted somewhat from the popular interest, there was little falling off in the attendance, when the House of Lords met this afternoon. The benches were again crowded with persons, members of the House of Commons were gathered about the throne, and peers, diplomats and other distinguished persons filled the galleries.

The extension of the time for debate will give an opportunity for more of the lords to be heard, and many maiden speeches will be made.

Lord Revelstoke, who has been a member of the lower chamber for twelve years, made his first speech in the House of Lords this week.

Lord Ashborne, who has been a member of several Unionist Cabinets, took Lord Curzon's place in reopening the debate so that the visitors heard an oration almost equally notable.

MARKET BANK.

The Traders Has Opened a Handy New Branch.

Time was when the farmer who came to market with his produce had to go some distance before he could bank his money. But things have changed and advantages are in keeping with the days of rapid business methods. The Traders Bank, which has recently increased the dividends to its shareholders, is anxious to serve the citizens even better and to facilitate the transaction of business for the farmer, as well, and has opened a branch office at the corner of MacNab and Market streets, a very central and handy site for those up town or who may be attending to market. This will relieve the pressure at the main office, 25 King street west, for there it is crowded very frequently. Within a few weeks permanent fixtures will take the place of the temporary ones, and the new quarters will be popular. Mr. W. C. Lammie, who was assistant accountant here for six years, and recently manager at Lynden, will be manager of the market branch. The Traders Bank studies public needs and its plans always seem to elicit the people's appreciation.

ON THE CAR.

Trouble on Buyers' Excursion and Police Court Case Follows.

Beamsville, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—While a full street car of people were proceeding to the Welland avenue station in St. Catharines last night, the special buyers' excursion train for Grimsby and Beamsville, E. P. Beatty, of Grimsby Park, was set upon and roughly used. Before Beatty knew what was what he was landed a couple of stiff uppercuts on the jaw. When seen here last night Beatty had a big face. Before leaving the county town the injured man laid a complaint against a Grimsby man named Knikle, and the trouble will likely be threshed out in Police Magistrate Campbell's court.
