FOR THE COUNTRY.

Optimus est Respublica status, ubi nihit deest nisi licentia percundi. - SENECA.

MONTREAL, THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 17, 1836.

m. however integrated from private approximation from the company of the company to His Majesty's Government that such portion of the Military Resorves as are not required for defence, should, as early as possible, be offered to the public. I also hope to be authorised to adopt a quicker, more convenient, and more beneficial system in the Land Granting Department; and, I am happy to add, that have concluded negociations by which I have concluded negociations by which I have obtained from the Indians very extensive tracts of rich land, which, from feelings highly creditable to their race, they have cheerfully relinquished for the public good.

As the Constitution of Upper Ganada secures to British emigrants their own revered institutions—as this noble climate and luxuriant soil office them immediate independence and support, with a moral insurance that their land, whether it be cultivated well or ill, must in a few years annotably increase in value to a great attent—we may reasonably aspect that the redundant superprise, capital and population of the empire, will now flow towards this favoured Province, in which I conscientiously believe British capital to be as secure as in the Mother Country.

Gentlemen of the House of Assembly.

I trust you will take immediate measures for mileving the Generacument of the Province, from

Gentlemen of the House of Assembly.

I trust you will take immediate measures for relieving the Government of the Province, from the suburrassment it has laboured under, and is atill suffering, from the supplies for the public service having been withheld.

I shall direct the Fublic Assembly, together with estimates for the supplies for the support of Civil. Government, for the current and ensuing years, to be laid before you.

Honourable Gentlemen, and Dentlemen.

I feel confident that the distinguished and conspicuous station, which the people of Upper Canada have attained, in the estimation, not only of the Empire, but of the estimation, not only of the Empire, but of the estimation, be firmly upheld, by the dignity of your deliberations by the wisdom of your proceedings—by the purity of your legislation—and by your unceasing seal for the public good.

As regards the duties of my station in the Legislatire, it is my intention, so long as they may graciously be confided to me, to occupy myself to the best of my shifty, in the internal improvement of the country—in the impartial administration of justice—and maintaining uncellied, the commercial integrity of the Frevinces.

The condition of their passions, organizes the power of the people—and evolutally implants in the national character, jus tional character, justice, mercy, generosity and forbearance.

It has long been asserted, that these British sentiments which would regulate in the deserts of Arabia, are uncongenial to the soil of America; but the voice of Upper Canada has repudiated t is liber on the land—and both reason and truth are now daily demonstrating, that the asset description of setting vernment, the securest mode of protecting life, property and liberty, in that honorable submission and virtueus obedience to the laws, which the three branches of the Legislature, as well as the people of this Province, I trust will ever continue to be proud to acknowledge.

Fromines, I trust will ever coatinue to be proud to acknowledge.

The Legislature of Upper Canada, is not imputed with newer to alter the Constitution imparted to it by an Act of the Imperial Pariament. I, therefore, shortly after my arrival here, publicly declared, that if the inhabitants of the whole Province were simultaneously to peti-

The Herald, whose light has, for some time past, been under a bushel, has just fallen in with a very "prophetic correspondent," who, we dare say, could see a long way into a mill-stone. The wonderful letter of " John Bull," for that is the seer's name, was written on Saturday and received by us on Sunday." The news of M'Laar's election was quite current in town on Saturday; and yes, exclaims our one-eyed contemporary, in perfect amazement, "how prophetic our correspondent has been in anticipating the election of Mr. M*Lean to the Speakership of the House of Assembly of Upper Canada" 11:

How prophetic, truly !

The Mineres is in very had humour with the Professors of the Montreal College for proposing to open a class for instruction in the usual branches of a commercial education "exclusively" in "English." It says that this appropriate to a life of the commercial this announcement is a viftual proceription of the French language, and is "part of a system to degrade and insult the fixed population of the country." Notre langue, not insultations and not lots is the incommand and senseless cry of the lip-patriots, one and all.

"Jove hughs at lover' perjuries."

The old fellow must keep up a terrible giggling. I went home Melancholy, as may well be imagined; it is no slight thing to a sensitive man, like me, to be jilted, after a six weeks honest and faithful courtship. I doubted in what way to commit suicide. Arsenic is very disagreeable; hanging is so abominably vulgar; and as for stabbing and sticking; that is too much like the way they kill calves and sheep.

At ten o'clock, I stood with George F. Marianna's brother, and my most particular friend.

"George, I am going to kill myself."

"You had better not. Frank—take a glass of wine."
