THE radical increase by the railways in the rates for excursions will have the effect of largely doing away with the summer outings which afforded the majority of people the only trip they were enabled to take. The railways are killing the goose that laid the golden egg.

THE Government crop report for Lambton, dated July 16th, says:—Apple crop 40 per cent. above 1913, and 15 per cent. below 1912. Weather has been hot and dry for six weeks but well sprayed orchards will have a good commercial crop of clean fruit. Plums and pears fair to good, but much lighter than last year. Grapes promise a good crop.

THE attendance at the Canadian National Exhibition last year was one million and nine thousand. This year, with larger demand for exhibit space, better accommodation for live-stock, the best bands of two continents, and everything the amusement world affords, it is confidently expected the attendance will reach a million and a quarter.

He was engaged building a house in Enniskillen when he fell from the roof to the cellar, receiving very severe injuries. He was taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Milton, townline, and at last accounts was progressing as well as could be expected.

IN every city in Canada hundreds of men are out of work and unable to get enough to eat. In the country districts farmers and their families are overworked because they cannot get help. No sympathy should be wasted on these able-bodied men in the cities who refuse to go into the country to help gather the bountiful harvest.

CONSIDERABLE attraction is being centered on T. Dodds & Son's south window, the attraction being a guessing contest. The first person guessing nearest number of nails in the glass jar gets a $5.00 Chi-Namel graining outfit, absolutely free. The contest will close at 12 o'clock, Friday, July 31st. Have you guessed yet? The Rev. Mr. Robinson has kindly consented to count the nails.

THE Ontario Department of Education, is aiming to have agriculture taught in the schools. From August 3rd to 7th, a Rural Teachers' Conference will be held in the Agricultural College, Guelph. Two delegate teachers from each Teachers' Association in the Province will attend, and following their week's instruction they will report at length to their teachers' conventions in the fall, setting forth the whole scheme of agricultural instruction as proposed for the rural schools of Ontario by the Department of Education.

Two hundred and fifty examiners are engaged at desks and tables in the University of Toronto, passing judgment on the work of 4,000 provincial candidates for matriculation. By the system adopted there is in charge of the marking of each subject a chairman, to whom, in cases of doubt or difficulty, the answer is often read aloud. A decision is then arrived at as to the number of marks which should be awarded. The paper of any candidate whose marks are below the minimum but approximate to the line will be re-read by the chairman of the division before publication. It is expected that the results will be available shortly after August 1.

DR. D. B. BENTLEY, district medical officer of health, has the following in his report to the provincial board of health: "I have found that there has been great carelessness on the part of parents, teachers and physicians in the matter of reporting typhoid fever, tuberculosis, chicken pox, measles, mumps and some other diseases which should have been reported. In some cases this neglect is due to the local boards not providing the physicians with the proper forms, but in some places where this is done no reports are sent in, and I have urged the local boards to make a special effort to get these reports from some source early enough to be of value to the medical officer of health, pointing out to them that he cannot prevent the spread of disease unless he knows where the centres of infection are."

Presentation of Officers' Certificates

About one hundred people, the majority of them ladies, were present at the Army on Tuesday evening to see the presentation of certificates to the officers, non-commissioned officers and members of the signal corps of the 27th Regt. who passed the recent Militia Department examinations. The colonel of the regiment, Dr. R. G. C. Kelly, presided, and Lieut.-Col. Kenward presented the parchments to those whose names were published last week. After the presentation the Rev. S. F. Robinson, of Strathroy, Hon. Major and Chaplain of the 26th Regt., addressed the officers and the visitors, and in an excellent half-hour speech gave some timely hints regarding the benefits accruing from a military training and the responsibility resting upon all those who had been honored in receiving the King's commission. A vote of thanks to the speaker and the visiting Strathroy officers was responded to by Lieuts. McDougall, Jay, Robinson and Chessham. The Army orchestra gave several selections during the evening. A buffet lunch was served and a couple of hours spent in dancing.

Bowling

Two rinks of local bowlers went over to Alvinston Friday evening to play a friendly game with members of the club of that town. One rink, composed of J. McKeercher, J. H. Hume, S. Stapleton with Rev. S. P. Irwin as skip, was defeated by one point, the score being 19-18 in Alvinston's favor. The other rink, composed of P. E. Fuller, J. H. Mitchell, S. B. Howden, with J. W. McLaren skip, fared worse, making 9 points to Alvinston's 18.

BROOKE

Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Hunt, Thorold, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wilson Arkona, spent Sunday with R. McMillan and W. Rowland, tenth line.

The crops in this township look exceedingly fine. Wheat and barley cutting is in progress. Some fields of timothy are exceedingly good, considering the dry season. Hay in general is short. Oats and corn promise an excellent crop.

The one-year-old child of Mr. Ed. Ironside, of Satorville, Brooke Township, is dead as the result of a sad accident. The little child was toddling about the floor and fell into a tub of suds impregnated with ammonia powder. It was rescued immediately, but the effects of the pungent liquid entering the lungs proved fatal.

The voters' list for 1914 has been printed and copies can be had from the township clerk. From it we glean that there are 1073 names on the list, of whom 1035 are entitled to vote at municipal elections, and 907 at elections to the Legislative Assembly. There are 625 persons in the township qualified to serve as jurors.

WARWICK

Miss Marguerette Trier, Chicago, is visiting at her cousin's, Mrs. W. McLean, 4th line.

Mrs. W. H. Ludlow, of Alliston, and Miss Margaret Archer, of Wardsville, are the guests of Mrs. Fred Rogers.

Miss Hilda Bowie, of Brooke, and Miss Irene Gough, of Napier, spent a few days at Miss Margaret Bryson's, Main Road.

Miss Kate Saunders returned to Mount Clemens, Mich., Monday after spending a pleasant vacation with relatives here.

Misses Hilda, Jean and Ellen Laughed, Forest, are visiting at Mr. F. Birchard's, 4th line, and other friends in the district.

At the Zion Epworth League meeting next Sunday evening, the topic will be "Honesty," led by J. E. Collier and Alice Young.

Miss Sara Coughlin, nurse in training in St. Joseph's hospital, Mt. Clemens, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Walker spent Sunday at John Coughlin's.

A. E. Archer has sold his farm of 100 acres on the main road in Warwick Township to Peter Ferguson, for $6,300, and has purchased from his brother, T. J. Archer, the homestead farm of 200 acres in Plympton for $12,200. Mr. Ferguson has sold 50 acres of bush farm on the main road to Wilbur McRone.

A remarkable occurrence happened on the Main Road this week. Mr. George Bryson, Wisbeach, had a sick cow. On Tuesday he called J. McGillicuddy, V.S., of Watford, to see it. On examination the doctor found a slight lump on the shoulder. He made an incision and found an iron substance. Taking hold of this with an instrument he pulled out the rib of an umbrella, 25 inches long, with a shorter piece hinged thereto. An old umbrella had been thrown away and the animal had chewed off the cotton covering and in doing so swallowed one of the ribs. This had passed through the stomach and came out between two ribs. Dr. McGillicuddy has the steel umbrella ribs at his office to show any one interested in the matter.

East Lambton Election Appeal

The hearing of the appeal made on behalf of Dr. J. B. Martyn against the decision of Judge MacWatt, in the recount of the ballots cast in the East Lambton election will take place at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on Friday, July 24, before Chief Justice Meredith.

The point in question is the validity of ballots found in the box, the counterfoil attached to them.

Judge MacWatt's decision, against which this appeal is taken, was, that such ballots were not valid. This decision threw out 122 ballots cast in the Village of Thedford with the counterfoil attached.

Mr. F. W. Wilson, K. C., of Petrolia, will represent Dr. Martyn in the appeal and Mr. John Cowan, K. C., will appear for Mr. R. J. McCormick.

The point involved is a very interesting one and the result of the coming decision somewhat far reaching.

A meeting of the executive of the Liberal-Conservative Association of East Lambton, was held at Alvinston on Monday afternoon at which the decision was reached to fight the case to the last. The meeting was representative of the Conservative party in all parts of the riding.

SUFFERED EVERYTHING

For Years, Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Canadian women are continually writing us such letters as the two following, which are heartfelt expressions of gratitude for restored health:

Glanford Station, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never found any medicine to compare with it. I had ulcers and falling of womb and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully for years until I began taking your medicine. I also recommend it for nervousness and indigestion."

HENRY CLARK, Glanford Station, Ont.

Chesterville, Ont.—"I heard your medicines highly praised, and a year ago I began taking them for falling of womb and ovarian trouble."

"My left side pained me all the time and just before my periods which were irregular and painful it would be worse. To sit down caused me pain and suffering and I would be so nervous sometimes that I could not bear to see any one or hear any one speak. Little specks would float before my eyes and I was always constipated."

"I cannot say too much for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, for there are no medicines like them. I have taken them and I recommend them to all women. You may publish this testimonial."

STEPHEN J. MARTIN, Chesterville, Ontario, Canada.

Guide-Advocate WATFORD, JULY 24, 1914.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Further indication of the continued growth of the complexity of life is afforded in a current story from across the border. A wife installed a dictograph in her husband's office.

Another physician has looked down Mr. Roosevelt's throat and has announced that in six weeks the colonel can talk all he wants to. And that means considerable conversation.

They are having trouble with a so-called transatlantic aeroplane because it does not rise easily enough. For a considerable time past aeroplanes have been rising easily but coming down too hard.

Mr. Marconi contemplates being able to telephone by wireless from Carnarvon, Wales, to New York before the end of this year. He also anticipates increasing the speed of the wireless telegraph to 300 words a minute.

The Arkansas man who was given a ten-year sentence in a Texas court on a charge of having sixteen wives probably thinks his punishment severe. He may consider himself lucky, however. Suppose the judge had handed him over to his victims to do as they liked with him?

The alleged serving of intoxicating drinks to girls under the age of 18 years in Detroit riverfront road-houses on the Canadian side is to be stopped, according to orders received by county officials from the Ontario Government. Information is said to have reached the ears of the heads of the government that young girls have been permitted to frequent many hotels along the river front, and that in some instances extreme cases of intoxication have resulted. Proprietors of roadhouses will be warned, it is said, and thereafter both young women and hotel proprietors are liable to prosecution.

When its breech-loading device has been perfected at Watervliet Arsenal, the great sixteen-inch gun, the biggest piece of ordnance in the world, which has just been shipped from Sandy Hook proving grounds, will be practically ready for service on the Panama Canal fortifications. Some idea may be gotten of the tremendous power of this gun, destined to protect the Pacific entrance to the Panama Canal, by the fact that it is 50 feet long, weighs 142 tons, and fires a projectile about 6 feet long. The projectile itself weighs a ton, and is discharged by 665 pounds of powder. It requires eight men to carry the powder charge. This gun has a maximum range of from 22 to 23 miles.

It is said that during the last eight years saloons have been put out of business at the rate of forty a day. Of course in many places there have been some new ones established, but for all that the fact remains that temperance is growing rapidly among the people in every section of the country and that it promises to spread with equal rapidity in the coming years. This accounts for so many places and States going "dry."

The growth in temperance is partly moral and partly economic. More and more employers of labor are demanding total abstinence on the part of their workers, and labor unions, alert to the welfare of their members, are taking the same position. No wonder that more than one leading brewer says that it is only a question of time when they, the brewers, will have to cease operations.—Ex.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Menace to Humanity

We are in our present methods unconsciously sowing seeds of future national conditions of the sort sane people avoid in time. Too many people in this country are bent on getting the best of everything with the least possible expenditure of time or effort; many have as an ideal the getting of something for nothing. The influence of such a spirit on the coming generation must prove disastrous in the long run. Only by industry, manual or mental, is true happiness or national greatness attained. We have need for intelligent workers who love their tasks because they themselves have chosen them.

Employment For The Unemployed

Canada is not alone in having to deal with the problem of unemployment. From a paragraph in The Ottago Witness, it appears that a general slackness is being experienced all over New Zealand and the local offices of the labor department are being visited daily by large numbers in search of work. Just as in Canada, appeals have been made to the Dominion and municipal authorities to put public works in hand and thus afford some measure of relief. This is happening notwithstanding the great advance made in agricultural production, and again offers proof that the land is the only solvent of the problem in developing countries.

Much the same conditions exist in Australia, where the growth of cities in proportion to rural districts has been much greater than has happened in Canada. But in the commonwealth an opening is available for sober and willing men, which has not yet arrived in this Dominion. As it seems, they are ready to accept positions in the home, and their services as general servants are greatly appreciated. One household in Sydney, New South Wales, is quoted as saying that she finds men more conscientious than girls and also more thorough. Navy men especially are in demand and are appreciated not only as excellent house servants, but as good cooks and scrupulously clean. Perhaps this line of relief from unemployment is hardly possible meantime in Canada.

Moses and the Ten Commandments

Strand: A simple cross marks the spot which investigators of Sinai have decided is the place where Moses read out to the children of Israel the laws of God. The mountain itself must stand for the monument. Rus Sufafah, the elevation on which the cross stand is wild, barren and rocky.

About 300 yards from the base of the mountain there runs across the plain a low semi-circular mound which forms a kind of natural theatre, while farther distant, on either side of the plain, the slopes of the inclosing mountains would afford seats to an almost unlimited number of spectators. Not far off there is an extensive recess which was probably used as a camping ground. No spot on the whole peninsula is so well supplied with water and pasturage.

To Telephone Users

Some complaints have been received by the local manager regarding the enforcement of the "call by number" rule of the Bell Telephone Co., that he wrote to the District Superintendent, asking if he could suspend the rule. Following is the reply:—

Dear Sir: Reply to yours of the 2nd inst. Calling by number is absolutely necessary to the furnishing of good and prompt service. The Company go to the expense of over $100,000 a year furnishing subscribers with Directories and we expect them to be used. In the case of an exchange like Watford, it should not be a difficult matter for any subscriber who does not care to open the Directory each time, to note on a card the name and number of a few subscribers called most frequently. You will continue enforcing the rule, as it is a reasonable one, and the chances are the particular subscribers you refer to, who complain of being called upon to look up their numbers, will be the very first ones to complain of slow service should they call when your Operator happened to be looking up the number for some other subscriber.

Yours truly, J. L. Richmond, District Superintendent. It will be seen by the above that the local manager can do nothing but enforce the rule in all cases especially as it is for the benefit of the service.

A Western Fish Story

The hero of the following story is well known in Watford and vicinity. His reputation as a fisherman has never been impugned but one is at a loss to know how he found out about the fishing of the froth on a tankard of beer. (From the Albertan, Calgary.)

The Bow River is yielding queer fish this season, its latest delivery being a lake trout weighing 8 pounds and measuring 31 inches. How, why, when and where a lake trout, and particularly one of such dimensions, found its way into the Bow River is a question that is puzzling local Waltonians.

The catch was made by T. L. Swift, of Calgary, in the river near Morley, where he was fishing with a companion, J. F. McCorkell. He had a live minnow on his hook and was fishing with an eight-ounce rod. All of a sudden he felt the bait seized by what seemed to be a whale. The water fized like froth on a tankard of beer, and the gleaming whitish sides of a mammoth trout could be seen glistening in the water as he vainly tried to wrest himself free from the hook. His companion came to the aid of Swift and together they played the trout for three-quarters of an hour, momentarily expecting the slender rod to break before the big fellow was landed.

McCorkell, who was fishing further upstream, had him on his hook only a few minutes before, but the Herculean trout made short work of his rod.

So proud was Swift of his capture that he sent it to be exhibited at the store of Alex. Martin & Co., Eighth avenue east. Many surmises are around as to how a lake trout got into the Bow River. Expert fishermen say there is no question as to its identity.

WORLD'S GREATEST KIDNEY REMEDY "Fruit-a-tives" Have Proved Their Value In Thousands of Cases WONDERFUL RECORD OF A WONDERFUL CURE Only Remedy That Acts On All Three Of The Organs Responsible For The Formation Of Uric Acid In The Blood. Many people do not realize that the skin is one of the three great eliminators of waste matter from the body. As a matter of fact, the skin rids the system of more Urea (or waste matter) than the Kidneys. When there is Kidney Trouble, Pain In The Back and Acid Urine, it may not be the fault of the kidneys at all, but be due to faulty Skin Action, or Constipation of the bowels. "Fruit-a-tives" cures weak, sore aching Kidneys, not only because it strengthens these organs but also because "Fruit-a-tives" opens the bowels, sweetens the stomach and stimulates the action of the skin. "Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa. Canadian Engineers, Inspect Concrete Roads Party of fourteen visit Wayne County Michigan, and get first hand facts Last week a party of Canadian Highway Engineers and Municipal Officials interested in good roads, under guidance of Mr. L. S. Bruner, of Canada Cement Company Limited via Detroit and Wayne County, Mich., learn how this progressive American community is building a comprehensive concrete road system of which it is proud. The party included: J. F. Ure, Wayne County Engineer for Ox County; R. H. Spencer, Acting Mayor of Trenton, Ont.; A. Marston, City Engineer for Norfolk County; M. Rutherford, St. Catharines, Ont.; Engineer for Lincoln County; W. M. Manig, City Engineer; W. M. Manig, City Engineer; J. H. Jackson, B. Ford, Ont.; R. Clarke and W. E. Ne Merritt, Ont.; L. J. Woekey, C. Botsford and W. Cole, Toronto; J. Bruner and R. S. Muller, Montreal. Wayne County now has nearly hundred miles of the finest concrete roads in the world, one stretch of a distance of 21 miles passing through the villages of Wayne and Dearb and it is a noteworthy fact that much experimenting with every kind of road building material, the Board of Road Commissioners has adopted concrete as its standard. # WORLD'S GREATEST KIDNEY REMEDY

"Fruit-a-tives" Have Proved Their Value In Thousands of Cases

WONDERFUL RECORD OF A WONDERFUL CURE

Only Remedy That Acts On All Three Of The Organs Responsible For The Formation Of Uric Acid In The Blood.

Many people do not realize that the Skin is one of the three great eliminators of waste matter from the body. As a matter of fact, the Skin rids the system of more Urea (or waste matter) than the Kidneys. When there is Kidney Trouble, Pain In The Back and Acidic Urine, it may not be the fault of the Kidneys at all, but be due to faulty Skin Action, or Constipation of the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" cures weak, sore, aching Kidneys, not only because it strengthens these organs but also because "Fruit-a-tives" opens the bowels, sweetens the stomach, and stimulates the action of the skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Canadian Engineers Inspect Concrete Roads

Party of fourteen visit Wayne County, Michigan, and get first hand facts.

Last week a party of Canadian Highway Engineers and Municipal Officials interested in good roads, under the guidance of Mr. L. S. Bruner of the Canada Cement Company Limited visited Detroit and Wayne County, Mich., to learn how this progressive American community is building a comprehensive concrete road system of which it is justly proud.

The party included: J. F. Ure, Woodstock, Ont., Engineer for Oxford County; R. H. Spencer, Acting Mayor, Trenton Ont.; C. R. Marston, Simcoe, Ont., Engineer for Norfolk County; F. M. Rutherford, St. Catharines, Ont., Engineer for Lincoln County; W. J. Hollingsworth, Hamilton, Ont., Assistant City Engineer; W. M. Manigault, Stratroy, Ont.; J. H. Jackson, Brantford, Ont.; L. Clarke and W. E. Nesbitt, Merriton, Ont.; L. J. Wookey, C. P. Botsford and W. Coles, Toronto; L. S. Bruner and R. S. Muller, Montreal.

Wayne County now has nearly one hundred miles of the finest concrete roads in the world, one stretch of which extends in a smooth unbroken surface for a distance of 21 miles passing through the villages of Wayne and Dearbourne and it is a noteworthy fact that after much experimenting with every kind of road building material, the Board of County Road Commissioners has adopted concrete as its standard.

The party covered about eighty miles of highway of every description and in every condition from the worst to the best. The tour proved an exceptionally strong object lesson to everyone of the party and much gratification was expressed at the completeness of the building equipment and the excellent results obtained.

Wayne County began building concrete roads in 1909 and the first stretch laid in that year was carefully inspected by the party at close range and the consensus of opinion was that it is now as good as when put down and the maintenance cost has been practically nothing during the five years that it has been used. A striking contrast is shown when the condition of this concrete stretch is compared with other stretches of the same road, built at the same time of other materials and at approximately the same cost, but which now resembles the "Rocky Road to Dublin" and must be rebuilt in the near future.

One of the engineers expressed the opinion that if Wayne County, could afford to have such excellent roads, there is no excuse for Canadian communities to delay the building of systems that will be as good as the Wayne County roads, for there are few Canadian counties that are not infinitely richer in natural resources if not in actual capital, and we can greatly benefit by the experiences of the county across the line.

The individual and collective opinion voiced was unanimous for concrete as the logical and economical material for permanent good roads in Canada and one that will enable every community to invest its road money so that it will return a dividend instead of being spent to fill up the mud holes.

Unless worms be expelled from the system, no child can be healthy. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is the best medicine extant to destroy worms.

TALE OF A TOWER

There It Stood, Yet It Had Never Been "Erected."

CLEVER EVASION OF THE LAW

The Curious Place Where John K. Graves Turned Out His Shot and Bullets and the Contract the Courts Declared Had Not Been Broken.

The late Senator Allison, whose home was at Dubuque, Ia., thoroughly enjoyed humor and a good story. One day when in a reminiscent mood Mr. Allison narrated the following story, based upon facts, which is worth a place among tales extraordinary:

"Along about 1800, when the west was yet quite new, a number of business men in Dubuque conceived the idea of establishing a plant for the manufacture of shot and bullets. At the time there was no factory of that sort nearer than St. Louis, and, with a lively demand for ammunition, it was figured that a shot tower would pay like a California gold mine. The tower was built, the necessary machinery was put in at large expense and production began.

"For a time business was quite satisfactory; then demand slackened, and it soon became apparent that the enterprise would never develop any Standard Oil dividends. After a time some of the stockholders became disgusted with the whole business and practically offered to give away their holdings.

"Among them was John K. Graves, who afterward became a power in eastern Iowa politics. Graves quietly bought up the stock as it was offered, getting practically all of it eventually on the basis of 5 or 10 cents on the dollar. Just what Graves wanted this stock for his associates in the venture could not figure out, but they did not lose any sleep over that. They were tickled to death to get anything out of the dead enterprise. It had been losing money for some time.

"Soon after this the war broke out. Graves instantly saw his opportunity. War makes great quantities of bullets necessary, and he made preparations to supply them. He indulged in certain statements concerning his plans and purposes in the presence of persons he knew would flash the information to a St. Louis concern, and his scheme worked admirably. Inside of two weeks a man whom Graves knew to be a representative of the St. Louis shot tower company called upon him and in the course of the conversation brought up the subject of stock in the Dubuque company. After several days of dicker and bantering Graves unloaded his entire holdings of stock at over fifty cents on the dollar, realizing a small fortune.

"By the terms of the agreement, however, Graves legally bound himself not to erect a shot tower within a hundred miles of Dubuque within ten years. The representative of the St. Louis concern had scarcely got beyond sight of Dubuque, down the river, until Graves sent in an order for a complete equipment of machinery for a new shot making plant. While awaiting its arrival he indulged in a little surveying.

"Dubuque is situated partly upon a lofty hill or series of hills, and the inland country is extremely rough. When came upon the excavation of a deep well. Shortly afterward there was considerable activity in that vicinity. A force of men was employed to remove the debris, and the hole was enlarged and bricked up. A lateral incision was made into the side of the bluff, striking the main vertical shaft a hundred feet from the surface opening. Here a room was dug out and bricked up and prepared for the reception of machinery. By the time this work had been completed the outfit arrived and was quickly installed. Within two or three months of the time of disposing of the stock of the Dubuque concern Graves had the new suburban underground establishment in full blast, producing bullets and shot.

"Of course news of the new factory quickly reached the St. Louis concern, and they sent an attorney to Dubuque loaded with contracts and receipts and paraphernalia for making trouble. The lawyer called on Graves and plainly told him that if he did not shut up shop he would get the law on him quick. Graves replied that he did not understand he had violated any law or any pledge and that he would go right along making bullets, suggesting to the attorney that he start proceedings. The attorney invited Graves' attention to the bond given by the latter that he would not engage in the manufacture of shot or bullets within 100 miles of Dubuque for ten years. Graves contended that he had entered into no such covenant; he had pledged himself not to 'erect a shot tower,' and asked the attorney if he had erected a shot tower. The attorney said that was boy's talk; that such byplay would not go in a court of justice.

A Household Remedy

"The case was tried, and notwithstanding that every inch of ground was contested by the St. Louis concern, which had able counsel, Graves won. The St. Louis lawyers could not make the jury believe that Graves had 'erected' a shot tower. And so he went right on pouring metal lead into the hole in the top of the hill and gathering up shot and bullets in his brick room 100 feet below and became a wealthy man."—Frank I. Stillman in St. Louis Republic.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

The Old Time Custom of "Plowing at the Horse's Tail."

Animals seem to have no idea of exercising to keep warm. They just turn their backs to the wind and crouch, but perhaps if one had only a limited amount of fuel it would be better just to keep a spark alive till the snap was over than to burn it all out in a few hours.

The first legislation against cruelty to animals is said to have been an enactment passed in the days of Queen Elizabeth prohibiting "plowing at the horse's tail," as then practiced in Ireland.

This custom consisted in lashing the plow beam to the horse's tail with a bit of rope and then, while one man held the plow, another walked backward before the animal, guiding it with blows of a stick. It seems as though this plan must have cocked the plow so high into the air that the point would take no hold on the soil. It seems also as if only the most splittish of equines would have submitted to the treatment, but that it was frequently done the fact proves. The cruelty of the practice needs no demonstration; it could not have been profitable, but was perhaps preferable to starvation. Whether the English legislators were moved solely by pity of the miserable beast or whether they desired to make a market for English plows and harness does not appear.—From "A Farmer's Notebook," by C. E. D. Phelps.

JOHN LEGG'S PLAIN TALK.

Made in an Advertisement He Put in the Paper in 1837.

Advertising in the Sun three-quarters of a century ago was worded more picturesquely than it is now in some respects. No big type was used, but the advertisements hit the mark without its aid. It is to be doubted if some of the advertisements which appeared then could get into print now, for they were outspoken to a degree which would offend modern susceptibilities. For example, here is an advertisement which appeared in the Sun of May 26, 1837:

To Shoemakers—10 Kackmen Wanted.—The subscriber gives the highest wages for good work and begs those worthies who would fish him of his stuffs not to visit him. It would be an agreeable surprise to him if John Kemp, Thomas Pringle, Isaac Morgan and a few others would bring in the work they have so long "forgotten" to return.

JOHN LEGG, 164 8th avenue.

The trade supplied cheap and good.

"Kackmen" seems to have gone out of use completely. It is not given in any of the modern dictionaries, but one of them has "cack, a baby's shoe," which it calls shoemakers' cant.

In the same number of the Sun T. Baxter of 8 Fulton street advertised that he wanted broken bottles, but he did not state his use for them. There are several advertisements for men to go on whaling voyages.—New York Sun.

The Fog Peril.

One of the great conquests of science for human safety will be the discovery of some effectual means of disclosing to every ship at sea the approach and position of any other vessel which may come near in a fog. So far the fog peril remains as deadly as it ever was. In some respects the conditions change for the worse. The growth of commerce increases the number of ships which traverse the seas. Every year the water highways are more fully occupied, and the tendency is toward a higher average speed. Nothing can be seen through a dense fog. Nothing can be heard with sufficient distinctness and certainty as to distance and direction to meet the demands of safety. The best fog signals in use repeatedly fail to avert terrible disasters.—Cleveland Leader.

A HISTORIC BELL.

From the Guerriere to the Constitution, Then to a Mill.

One would hardly expect to find an object of historic interest in so prosaic a place as a New England mill—an object older than the oldest title of the English peerage, an object made before the English parliament was formed. Yet such an object is in daily use in a factory at Saylesville, R. I. It is a bell, whose history is a most interesting one. Around the bell, about four inches from the crown, is this inscription: "Peter Secest Amsterdam, Anno 1263, me fecit."

The date, together with other well authenticated facts, lends to the belief that the bell was long used in a convent belfry in England and was taken therefrom for public use during the reformation. But the connecting link between its life in the old world and its advent to America is the famous naval battle between the Guerriere and the Constitution.

The Guerriere, a helpless wreck, was rolling in the trough of the sea, while her brave but defeated commander, Captain Dacres of the royal navy, on the deck of the American frigate, the Constitution, was offering his sword to gallant Captain Hull.

The two officers had been friends in time of peace, having often exchanged hospitalities at the Mediterranean ports, and now Hull's magnanimity shone out.

"I'll not take your sword, Dacres," said he. "Keep it."

In the meanwhile the boats of the Constitution were busily engaged in transporting the crew of the defeated ship to the deck of the victor. A midshipman reported to the first lieutenant that the ship's bell had been carried away by a grapeshot from the Guerriere and that there was no way of announcing the time to the ship's company.

At that moment the Guerriere gave a succession of heavy plunges, and the clear tones of a fine bell rang over the water.

"Go get the Englishman's bell," said the lieutenant to the midshipman. "There will be no further use for it on board that craft."

The Guerriere surrendered at 7 o'clock in the evening of Aug. 19, 1812, and at 8 o'clock the same evening Peter Secest's bell in sonorous tones rang out the hour on board "Old Ironsides."

With the lapse of time the bell, amid the confusion and debris common to a great navy yard, became misplaced, lost its identity and was thrust carelessly to one side. It found its way to the scrap heap, was afterward sold by the United States and finally came to rest in its present quarters.—Boston Post.

AN ANIMAL IN PAIN.

It Suffers Less Than Man on Account of its Low Intelligence.

It is a platitude that "pain is as one feels it." But that statement falls a considerable way short of the truth. The measure of pain undoubtedly depends as much upon realization, comparison and constructive memory as upon sensation. In other words, the individual with the most highly developed imagination enjoys and suffers most intensely, though not perhaps most violently. Pain and death are terrible in proportion as one is capable of relating them to experience. To children they are not terrible in this sense, because children have small experience and even smaller powers of imagining relations.

In the case of animals the power of constructing a memory picture and relating the same to present conditions is probably exceedingly low, if not entirely absent. Pain to an animal represents an unpleasant experience begun and ended sharply. It is unrelated. It has no social or moral significance. It is not terrible in the wide sense. An animal lives from moment to moment. At any given moment its happiness is a question in the main of physical comfort. The caged skylark (though it must not be supposed that this is any defense of an objectionable practice) experiences none of the misery of the caged man. It does not know that its liberty is hopelessly lost. It cannot relate its present position to past experience in the way in which a prisoner can and must do. The cage is merely an accidental obstruction which may at any moment disappear. Should the bird stop struggling it does so because struggling is unpleasant, not because it is hopeless.—London Chronicle.

Wise and experienced mothers know when their children are troubled with worms and lose no time in applying Miller's Worm Powders, the most effective vermifuge that can be used. It is absolute in clearing the system of worms and restoring those healthy conditions without which there can be no comfort for the child, or hope of robust growth. It is the most trustworthy of worm exterminators.

He (at the end of a fishing story)—"My word, it was a monster. 'Pon my soul, I never saw such a fish in my life!' She—"No, I don't believe you ever did."

Drops $5,000 in Get-Rich-Quick Game

A young Blenheim farmer who a few months ago sold out his property, was done out of about five thousand dollars some ten days ago in Toledo, Ohio, according to a current story. It is said the young man was drawn into a scheme by some parties in Toledo, who proposed that he should buy a farm there, banking with some primary scheme in which a get-rich-quick method was used.

They succeeded in getting him to draw, it is said, some five thousand from a bank, of which about three thousand five hundred was his own, and over a thousand an advance by the bank.

With the draft he proceeded to Toledo with bright prospects. On his arrival he was taken care of, and it was not long, he claims before he was completely undernourished, and before coming to himself, found he was away in St. Paul, Minn., and his money gone.

He is not a drinking man, and has always borne a good character, and it is believed he was drugged. The facts of the matter are just coming to light, and what will be done in the matter remains to be seen.

A great deal of what passes for dignity is nothing but genuine laziness.

Mr. Jehle Outhouse, of Zone, met with a painful accident on Friday last. He was repairing the roof when he slipped and fell to the ground about 10 feet, striking his head on a box, inflicting a painful scalp wound and otherwise badly shaken up. Dr. Graham was summoned and found it necessary to use several stitches to close the wound. He had a remarkable escape from death.

John Whitlock, of Dunwich, met with a painful accident while pruning trees on Wednesday. He fell from a tree and fractured two ribs besides being otherwise injured. The accident occurred in the morning on a farm some distance from his home and not returning at noon search was made for him, and he was found where he had fallen, having lain in a drizzling rain for six hours.

The remains of the late Frederick Cuyler Hastings, of New York, were cremated in that city after his death. His brother, George W. Hastings, of Toronto, arrived in Parkhill Sunday afternoon with the remains contained in an urn encased in a beautiful oak box, about a foot square. Several friends were at the station. The remains were placed in Forster and McPhee's hearse and conveyed to the Parkhill Cemetery where it was interred beside those of his mother, thus carrying out his requests as stated in a note he left at the time of his death.

Lambton Farms Wanted

A fifth list of farms for sale in Lambton County will be published by the Lambton Publicity Association on the 15th of August, 1914. Farms that appeared on the last list will reappear in the forthcoming list if request be sent to the Secretary before above date and present price of farm stated. These lists will have wide circulation at Canadian National Exposition, Toronto, and other places of concourse.

Those who have farms for sale will please send a full description, the price and post office address of owner to the undersigned, in order that the parties inquiring may be brought into personal touch with those who have land to sell.

There will be no charge at commission of any kind, and the parties furnishing descriptions are not bound in any way. Give details as to situation, acreage, roads, improvements, soil, distance from churches, schools, towns, railways, telephone service, etc., etc., that would be of interest to prospective purchasers from a distance. When sale of farm takes place please notify secretary so that it may be struck off the list. Parties offering large farms, suitable for fruit growing would do well to offer them in lots of 15 to 50 acres. The Publicity Association exists for the purpose of advertising Lambton County and for no other purpose. It consists largely of the members of the County Council and the expense of the advertising is paid by the county.

The information is wanted for the purpose of placing a list of farms in the hands of those who wish to buy and who have written to the Secretary in answer to general advertisements and descriptions of Lambton which have been published in various newspapers in Canada, the United States and Britain.

The description may be sent by mail to R. Sturtevant, Petrolia, secretary of the association, not later than Saturday, August 15th, 1914.

Thousands of Cattle Lost in the West

Thousands of cattle have died in Saskatchewan and Alberta during the present year, the result of the dread disease, black leg. This was the statement issued today by the Health of Animals Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture located in this city. Quantities of vaccine, which will, if applied in time, prevent the disease, have been sent to different parts of the Province, and it is hoped by this means to secure a foothold in fighting the ravages of this most serious cattle disease. The exact number of cattle which have been lost, could not be ascertained by the department.

MIXED FARMING LANDS IN SOUTH SASKATCHEWAN

Kellier, Sask., July 7th, 1914.
 I beg to advise all subscribers of that valuable little paper called the Watford Guide-Advocate, that I have sold within the last two months 3041 acres of mixed farming prairie lands located south of Kellier, Saskatchewan, along the new survey the C. N. Rly., which is now building between Wroxton and Crave and about eight miles south of the main line of the G. T. P. Rly., one of the best equipped railways of America. I note that I have sold on my selling list about twenty thousand (21,000) acres for a ranging from $12.00 to $25.00 an acre on very easy terms. Gentlemen, I do not invite you out here to see all level open prairie lands for steam plow only, but this is genuine mixed farming district. The land is slightly rolling but not at all hilly, with plenty of good water stock raising, though there is a fair amount of grain raised here, there being four hundred thousand bushels shipped out of Kellier last season, over one hundred car loads of hogs and cattle. These are facts, as I prove it by the G. T. P. agent in the soil in this district a deep black loam from 10 to 12 inches, with a clay subsoil. I am the exclusive agency for twenty sections, also the agency for sections, all south, and south and south-west of Kellier. For particulars write to

The Princess Aline

She Had Remarkable Diplomatic Talent

By MILLARD MALTBIE

The Princess Aline of Crakovia was an object of great concern to her father, King Ludwig. His majesty had five sons and one daughter. The succession being therefore established beyond a reasonable doubt by her brothers, the princess was of no importance whatever on that account. But she was of great value in another direction. A province, Guadix, had been wrested in war from Crakovia by King Philip of Ancovia, an adjoining power. A proposition had come from Philip for the hand of the Princess Aline for Ferdinand, crown prince of Ancovia. It had been declined. A deputation was then sent by King Philip offering,

It was understood she lived a secluded life. One day Prince Ferdinand happened to go through the room where his sisters were studying their lessons under their governess. His attention was attracted by the young woman, and under pretence of inquiring what the children were studying he fell into conversation with their teacher. So pleased was he with her intelligence that he made frequent visits to the school-room and asked his mother, the queen, if the governess might not be admitted to the social functions of the court. The queen assented, and the prince announced the fact to the recipient of the royal favour. To his surprise, the latter declined the honor, saying that her mind was concentrated on the education of her pupils and she would not like to have it diverted.

There was in her something so superior to other women with whom the prince came in daily contact that his admiration for the governess grew rapidly. Whenever he found it possible to get away from the governing associates who surrounded him he would seek his untitled friend and refresh himself by her engaging though independent personality. One day the prince awoke to the fact that he loved one whom as a prince of the blood he could not marry. He kept his secret from her for some time, but at last yielded to the pressure within him and avowed his love. She did not reproach him for so doing, but the next day handed in her resignation as teacher for the royal children, and when the prince sought her again he found that she had left the palace. He endeavored to learn where she had gone, but failed to gain any trace of her.

From this time a marked change was noticed in Prince Ferdinand. In public he had caught the popular heart by a happy manner that was natural to him, but now he seldom appeared to the people and when he did looked gloomy and morose. It became known that there was no woman living whom the laws of his country would permit him to marry, and those who attributed the change in him to this cause sympathized with him instead of blaming him. Nevertheless, in the main the prince was an example of the adage, "Laugh and the world laughs with you; weep and you weep alone." He fulfilled this almost literally, for princes are dependent on friends the same as other persons, and Ferdinand's intimate friends ceased to find pleasure in his society. He was therefore left much to himself. However, he was very indifferent to all associates.

One day a messenger arrived at the court of Ancovia announcing that King Philip desired King Ludwig would be pleased to reopen negotiations for the hand of the Princess Aline. King Philip at once sent for his son and announced the glad tidings. "Something must have occurred to change the conditions," he said to the prince. "I shall withdraw the offer to restore the province of Guadix. We may get the princess without losing this valuable territory." "Do what you like in the matter," replied Ferdinand. "I shall be obedient to your wishes."

In truth, the prince secretly hoped that the withdrawal of the previous offer would break off the negotiations. The idea of marriage except with the girl he loved was repulsive to him. So King Philip replied to King Ludwig that he would be pleased to renew his request for the hand of the princess, but he could not now consent to give up Guadix. King Ludwig replied that the matter was in the hands of his daughter and if the crown prince wished for her hand he would have to make the request in person. Philip was delighted. "I told you so," he said to his son. "Something has occurred to change the situation. Go to the princess, but not as a beggar. We'll get her and keep Guadix."

a point with the Crakovians as the surrender of Alsace and Lorraine with the French. A century and a half before the cession of Guadix, Crakovia had been obliged to cede one-half its territory to Ancovia, and when Guadix was lost to them they were broken hearted. For these reasons, when it became known that Aline had refused to give herself in exchange for Guadix, popular favor turned against her, and she became as much hated as she had before been beloved. She appeared as usual in public places till her treatment by the people became markedly disrespectful; then she retired to one of her father's country palaces, where

His attention was attracted by the young woman, and under pretence of inquiring what the children were studying he fell into conversation with their teacher. He fulfilled this almost literally, for princes are dependent on friends the same as other persons, and Ferdinand's intimate friends ceased to find pleasure in his society. He was therefore left much to himself. However, he was very indifferent to all associates.

One day a messenger arrived at the court of Ancovia announcing that King Philip desired King Ludwig would be pleased to reopen negotiations for the hand of the Princess Aline. King Philip at once sent for his son and announced the glad tidings. "Something must have occurred to change the conditions," he said to the prince. "I shall withdraw the offer to restore the province of Guadix. We may get the princess without losing this valuable territory." "Do what you like in the matter," replied Ferdinand. In truth, the prince secretly hoped that the withdrawal of the previous offer would break off the negotiations. The idea of marriage except with the girl he loved was repulsive to him. King Ludwig replied that the matter was in the hands of his daughter and if the crown prince wished for her hand he would have to make the request in person. Philip was delighted. "I told you so," he said to his son. "Something has occurred to change the situation. Go to the princess, but not as a beggar. We'll get her and keep Guadix."

The prince departed at the head of a splendid retinue and with handsome presents to seek a wife simply that he might give an heir to the throne. There was no method of traveling in those days except on or behind horses and not much communication between the different countries. King Philip waited impatiently to hear of the prince's success, hoping that no cessation of territory would be necessary. Finally a message came from his son stating that the Princess Aline would marry him, demanding not only the restoration of Guadix, but that much larger territory which had been ceded to Ancovia a century and a half before. What was more astonishing than this was that the prince urged that the conditions be accepted.

The shock was more than King Philip could bear. He was an old man and in poor health. He fell on the floor in a faint, was carried to his bed and died the next day. Immediately after the king's demise the chancellor of the realm made haste to Crakovia to announce to the crown prince his accession to the throne. He found Ferdinand basking in the princess' smiles, but just as the chancellor was about to kneel with the words, "The king is dead—long live the king!" he stopped, paralyzed. In the Princess Aline he recognized the governess of the royal children of Ancovia. But, recovering himself, he found voice to make the announcement.

Before King Ferdinand left Crakovia he had a consultation with King Ludwig wherein a new distribution of all the territory that had been ceded to Crakovia was made, Crakovia getting the larger share. After the documents had been signed the wedding took place amid such rejoicings as had never before occurred in Crakovia. The lost popularity of the princess was not only restored to her, but she could not appear in public without receiving a storm of acclamation.

Concrete Adopted as Road Standard

WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN, WHERE nearly one hundred miles of Concrete Roads have been built in the past six years, during which time nearly every method of road construction has been tested, now comes out flat-footed and adopts concrete as the road standard.

The story is best told in the following paragraph which has been taken from the latest report of the Board of County Road Commissioners of Wayne County, Michigan.

"With the completion of Plymouth Road, we have abandoned every other form of construction and have adopted concrete as our standard. We feel that our experience of the past six years warrants us in arriving at this determination, based on its general satisfactoryness and its annual cost as compared with other forms of construction. In addition to the economy in hauling, the pleasure in driving and touring, and the increase in land valuation, the concrete roads of Wayne County have been the means of bringing tens of thousands of dollars to this locality."

Concrete roads will benefit any locality proportionately as they have benefited Wayne County, Michigan.

The fullest detailed information about concrete roads will be sent to anyone interested, without cost or obligation. Address:

SILAGE ALONE NOT A BALANCED RATION

The only use for ensilage I have ever had has been with dairy cattle. I always aimed to balance my ration, writes W. I. Raymond in the Iowa Homestead. While ensilage is an excellent food, it is not profitable to feed it alone, as it does not contain enough protein or bone, hair, milk and muscle building material. In fact, it runs high in only one of the several essential elements which go to nourish and build up the animal structure, and that is fat. Corn is a fat forming food, and ensiling it does not change its nature in the least.

In order to balance silage or get the entire benefit to be derived therefrom

In nearly all cases the beginner in dairying should start with grade cows, says Professor Nichols of the Kentucky Agricultural college. On the whole, large, rangy, deep bodied, deep chested, big bellied cows, carrying good, capacious udders, give best results. When fresh such cows ought to give from three to five gallons of milk a day testing 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 per cent fat. Cows of Holstein blood are more persistent milkers and do not fatten so rapidly as do Short-horns. The Holstein cow here pictured is Arelia De Kol, a pure bred Holstein. She produced 23,000 pounds of milk in one year.

It must be fed with food which runs high in protein or the element in which silage is most deficient. With my dry cows and young stock I found clover hay, which may be raised successfully on the same farm which raises the corn, with perhaps a little grain, to give very good results, as this runs high in protein. Alfalfa is still better, as it runs as high in protein as bran, ton for ton. I found alfalfa hay and silage to be all that was needed, with no grain, to make fast and good growth on young stock. With large producing cows or cows giving over twenty pounds of milk a day some grain, being balanced as to protein and fat the same as roughage, was required to keep up the milk flow and body weight of the animal.

Silage may be balanced with bran, oilmeal, cottonseed meal, oats, peas or any grain which runs high in protein, but any of the legumes, such as clover, alfalfa, pea hay, etc., are better for the mechanical effect. Silage, like grass, is loosening, and while this is very beneficial to a certain extent, the effect is controlled by feeding a little dry matter, and this we get in the hays I have mentioned as well as the elements in which the silage is short.

CARE OF SICK ANIMALS.

Medical Equipment Should Be Kept on Every Farm.

Every dairyman who keeps even a small herd will find it convenient to have the following medical equipment: A clinical thermometer should always be at hand, and the herdman should know how to use it. It can be got through any drug store or from any firm dealing in veterinary instruments. The normal temperature of mature cows are from 99 to 102 and may reach as high as 103 F. Two or three milk tubes of different lengths, a trocar and canula, a long neck pint or quart bottle for drenching, a milk fever outfit or a bicycle pump, a large syringe or funnel and three feet of small, rubber hose, and one graduate or measuring glass should be provided. Remember, milk tubes should always be sterilized by heat or a disinfectant before using.

The following medicines should be kept on hand. One pound bottle crystallized carbolic acid, five pounds epsom or glauber salts, one pint castor oil, one gallon linseed oil, creolin, vaseline, carbolized vaseline, acetate of lead (sugar of lead), flowers of sulphur, hydrogen peroxide, one pint tincture of gentian. Dissolve the carbolic acid by placing the bottle in warm water and add a very small amount of water to keep it in solution. Make the carbolized vaseline by adding to a pound of vaseline less than one-half ounce of the dissolved carbolic acid; then warm and stir thoroughly while cooling. Other medicines may be added and even needed, but these should always be available.—Iowa Homestead.

Indigestion in Pigs.
Little pigs sometimes suffer from indigestion, and worms may be present. Physic them with castor oil in milk, and then feed milk with an additional one ounce of lime water per pint. When they can hold that down gradually thicken with middlings and cornmeal. If worms pass in the droppings give the pigs two dram doses of fluid extract of pink root and senna in a little water every three hours until scouring is caused. It seldom pays to fussy with a thriftless, stunted pig.

Feeding For Pork.
The best hams and bacon, the sweetest and best of all meats, must contain a streak of lean and a streak of fat from pigs fed upon milk, wheat feeds and grass with a little corn. Increase the corn as the pigs grow, and the last six weeks before killing feed all the corn they will eat up clean twice a day.

Cut His Visit Short.
The Duke of Wellington once wrote to Dr. Hutton for information as to the scientific acquirements of a young officer who had been under his instruction. The doctor thought he could not do less than answer the question verbally and made an appointment accordingly.

Directly Wellington saw him he said: "I am obliged to you, doctor, for the trouble you are taking. Is — fit for the post?"

Clearing his throat, Dr. Hutton began: "No man more so, my lord. I can—"

"That's quite sufficient," said Wellington. "I know how valuable your time is. Mine just now is equally so. I will not detain you any longer. Good morning."

Test For Hydrochloric Acid.
A curious mishap gave us a very delicate test for hydrochloric acid in the atmosphere. In a north of England locality many houses have curtains of the cream color produced by metanil yellow, popularly known as "dolly" cream dye and to science as "the sodium salt of meta-amido-benzene sulphonic acid-azo-diphenyl-amine." Some of these cream colored curtains suddenly changed to heliotrope. Investigation showed that an accidental escape of hydrochloric acid from a neighboring alkali plant had discolored the curtains, and the dye became a most useful test.—London Globe.

Political Influence.
"What do you understand by the term political influence?"
"Political influence," replied Senator Sorghum, "is usually something that a lot of people come around and tell you they brought to bear after you have succeeded in landing a job."—Washington Star.

"Beg pardon, sir," observed the tough looking waiter suggestively. "Gentlemen who dine at this table usually—er—remember me, sir."
"I don't wonder," said the customer cordially. "That mug of yours would be hard to forget."—Dallas News.

Too much is worse than want.—German Proverb.

It is a Liver Pill.—Many of the ailments that man has to contend with have their origin in a disordered liver, which is a delicate organ, peculiarly susceptible to the disturbances that come from irregular habits or lack of care in eating and drinking. This accounts for the great many liver regulators now pressed on the attention of sufferers. Of these there is none superior to Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Their operation though gentle is effective, and the most delicate can use them.

The human race is divided into two classes—those who go ahead and do something, and those who sit still and inquire, "Why wasn't it done the other way?"

The funeral of the late Elizabeth Henry aged 99 years, of Kettle Point, took place last Thursday afternoon from St. John's Church. The deceased leaves four daughters and two sons—Sarah Pewash, Mrs. Eliz. Ashquabe, Mrs. John Elijah, Mrs. Sam. Brissette and Mr. Joe Pewash and Gifford Henry. Two children, a boy and a girl, died in childhood.

Wm. Burley, a former resident of this township, died at Watford, on July 4th, for some time he also resided at Theford. About twenty-five years ago he left for Hepworth, from there he went to Stoke's Bay, and later to Watford. He died very suddenly. Besides his family he is survived by five brothers and one sister. They are Samuel, of Port Frank; Wesley and Stephen, of Sarnia; John, of Flint, Mich.; Nelson, of Pt. Edward, and Mrs. C. Northwick, of the 2nd con, Bosanquet. Messrs. Wesley and Stephen Burley, of Sarnia, attended the funeral at Watford, which was held on Wednesday, July 8th.

THE ARMY WORM

On account of the crops in some districts being badly attacked by this pest, it is advisable for every farmer to be on the lookout and ready to combat it if it comes his way.

The army worm is about one and one-half inches long when full grown and is striped with black, yellow and green, of a dingy appearance and much resembling the cutworm. When detected, all efforts should be centred on keeping the worms out of crops not yet attacked. A deep furrow, (several furrows are better) ploughed around the fields with the vertical or steep side of the furrow next to the crop to be protected, serves as a barrier to prevent the march of the worms, as they will not be able to crawl up the straight side of the furrow. Holes or pits should be dug in the bottom of the furrow every ten or twelve feet to catch the worms as they crawl along looking for a place to get out. They can then be destroyed with a blunt stick or by burning straw over them.

By thoroughly spraying or dusting a small strip of the crop in advance of the worms with Paris green, and liberally distributing poisoned bran (mixed at the rate of fifty pounds bran and one pound Paris green with enough molasses and water to sweeten it) large numbers may be destroyed. A field so poisoned must not be pastured until rain has thoroughly washed it. Whatever is done must be done quickly and at once, for a single day's delay may often mean the ruin of a valuable crop. F. C. N., Commission of Conservation.

Army Worm Stall Spreading

The army worm pest is spreading with alarming rapidity throughout Waterloo County and to-day large numbers of farmers have been engaged following the instructions sent out by Ontario Department of Agriculture to exterminate the destructive caterpillar.

On Sunday George Hahn, living on the Breslau road, one and a half miles from the city, discovered a large field of oats practically destroyed by the worms because he even realized that his farm had been invaded. Trenches were dug and everything possible was done to prevent the worms from getting to near-by farms, but the efforts were futile, and nearly every farm on both sides on Breslau road is invaded by the pests. Samuel Brubacher found fields that were covered with marching worms, and has a body of men assisting him to extinguish the worms.

Woodstock, July 20.—Very little change is noted in the army worm situation in Oxford County to-day, although several new cases were reported at the office of the district agricultural representative.

Latest reports seem to indicate that the plague is spreading to all parts of the county, nearly every township now having one or more cases. On some farms the worms are discovered in thousands and the damage is accordingly very extensive, but on a great number of the farms the worms are few in number and the situation is being easily handled.

G. R. Green, district agricultural representative for Oxford, and his assistant, Mr. Sutton, are spending practically all of their time in the country these days and their advice and assistance is being gratefully received by the troubled and somewhat discouraged farmers. The office of the agricultural men is without doubt the busiest place in Oxford County these days.

Petrolia, July 20.—No sign of army worm has yet been seen in Lambton. The farmers and fruit men are on the alert for the first evidence, but as far as can be ascertained from the agricultural department no trace of the pest has been seen in this county.

Kingsville, July 20.—Army worms have invaded South Essex. Only a few days ago they began their ravages in the township of Gosfield North. This week they have shown up in Gosfield South Township, about two miles from this town.

Thamesford, July 20.—Two of the largest men in the district, those of George Fures and Dr. McMillan, at Kintore, six miles north of here, have been invaded by the army worm. The insects were noticed first on Saturday night.

GUARD AGAINST CHOLERA INFANTUM

Cholera infantum is one of the most fatal ailments of childhood and during the hot summer months thousands of little lives are lost by its ravages. The best way to guard against it is to give the baby an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets never fail to regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, thus preventing cholera, infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery and all other stomach and bowel complaints. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Grade 1—1st class honors—G. English, M. Bishop.

Lambton County is Well Represented at O. A. C.

The report of the Ontario Agricultural College and Experimental farm for 1913, which has just been sent out, contains many interesting papers and a great deal of information valuable to farmers, horticulturists, beekeepers, fruitgrowers, stockraisers, dairymen and others of agricultural occupation or interest.

Out of a total of 449 students from the province of Ontario in attendance at O. A. C. in 1913, 22 were from Middlesex county, 20 from Lambton, 8 from Perth, 12 from Waterloo, 16 from Norfolk, 20 from Brant, 7 from Bruce, 12 from Elgin, 6 from Essex, 5 from Grey, 10 from Huron, 8 from Kent, and 13 from Oxford. The other provinces of the Dominion sent 83 and foreign countries 75. England sent 28 students and the United States 21. Other countries represented were: Argentina, Belgium, British West Indies, Germany, Iceland, India, Japan, Mexico, Newfoundland, Russia, Scotland, South Africa, Panama and Spain.

Creatore's Band

Giuseppe Creatore, who with his band comes to the Canadian National Exhibition for two concerts daily during the entire Exhibition, is unquestionably the most interesting personality before the musical world to-day.

He has set Boston and New York music mad. He is not only the most picturesque of conductors, but is, besides, a masterly musician who has his music under perfect control. To the spectators the irresistible impression is that they are performing involuntarily entirely at the will of their fiery, volatile conductor.

To Study Traffic on Roads

Provincial officers will take a traffic census on roads in the vicinity of cities in Ontario during the last weeks of July and the first weeks of August. They will obtain statistics which will enable them to decide what shall be considered "sub-urban areas" and what the cities shall pay for the construction of roads in those areas.

Reports are being received daily by the Highways Department from the five motor parties engaged in making an examination of roads in counties which have not yet adopted county roads systems. These parties are preparing plans for county systems and are doing much to remove misunderstandings as to the highways policy of the Government.

One piece of road is being constructed by the Provincial Government this year as a model for local bodies. It is located in Malahide township, Elgin county. It is 4,000 feet long, and is partly paved and partly macadam construction. It is located on the outskirts of Aylmer, Ont.

Accidentally Shot

Wyoming, July 20.—While the Robinson boys, of the second line, were engaged in shooting practice, one boy, throwing articles into the air, while others tried to strike them, the shot carried farther than they had any idea, and Mrs. Luckins, living on the adjoining farm, being out in her garden at that time, had several lodge in her arm. On Saturday the arm was so swollen and painful that medical assistance was required to remove the shot and dress the wounds.

Gustin—Crossley

A pretty home wedding took place on Tuesday afternoon of last week at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Crossley, Plympton, when their eldest daughter Leila May was married to Mr. C. F. E. Gustin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gustin of Bosanquet, by the Rev. Anson Moorhouse, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Reid. The charming bride who was given away by her father was gowne in silk crepe with shadlow lace and pearl trimmings, her veil being very becoming. The ceremony was conducted beneath an arch of evergreens and sweet peas from which was suspended a beautiful flower basket. Miss Ethel McCordie, aunt of the bride, played the wedding music. After the congratulations more than fifty guests partook of a dainty wedding supper. The happy couple left on an extended trip to Western Canada and western United States, the bride wearing a suit of navy blue and panama hat with roses. Many beautiful presents are a token of the bride's popularity. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful pearl necklace and to the pianist a pearl brooch.

Motion Pictures Worthy of the Name

Is the verdict of all that visited the opera house on Tuesday evening. Mr. Ward who is conducting the picture show is using first used films. First used films cost double for rent than 100 day film. 100 day films cost double what 200 day film, which is the average length of time a film is used, so the films that Mr. Ward uses are of the best. He has a circuit of towns, viz:—Glencoe, Alvington, Bothwell, Dutton, West Lorne and Watford. Each of these towns he gives a show one night each week so the public can depend on seeing a first class show once a week. His motto is a low price and packed house so the price will always be 10cts. Two shows will be given each evening for the opera house won't hold all the crowds that flock to see those first used films.—Adv.

Rev. W. M. Kannwin, of Stratford, has received a unanimous call to the North Broadway Presbyterian Church, Toronto. The stipend offered is $2,000 a year and a month's vacation.
