THEIR WORKS DO FOLLOW THEM

A WORTHY TRIBUTE TO THE LATE MAJ. JOHN CHARLTON

A Successful Career—Started Life Under Difficulties—An Active Worker in the Baptist Church—Named the Village in Which He Resided.

The subject of this sketch was born January 23rd, 1833, at what is now called Outram. At that time there were no churches on Wilmot Mountain, nor school houses, and the opportunities for the youth of that day were very few as far as improvement of the intellectual life was concerned. There were no oil lamps, no friction matches, no iron stoves, besides other conveniences which are enjoyed even in the humblest homes. Families were large; the girls were employed at an early age in carding wool, in spinning wool and flax and weaving flannels and linen, making straw hats and also cheese, etc. The young men felled the trees, cleared the land, worked in the shipyard or marketing cord wood, as the case might be.

John Charlton, at the age of sixteen, with ambition to do something different from the ordinary life of the village, sought employment as an apprentice, and was bound out with the late Samuel FitzRandolph, of Valley West, and at 21 graduated as cabinet maker and wheelwright, the only remuneration during those five years of labor was board and clothes. (The writer has heard him state more than once that the only cash received during those years was one shilling given him on one occasion for some extra duty performed. What would the young men of today think of that?) Well he did not go there to earn money, but to learn something, and he learned to do it well. Employer was abundant in kindness and he was satisfied. Soon after this as the factory products of his trade came in the market, he turned to the 'builders' trade and in nearly every village in the eastern half of the county is found the work of his hands. By thoroughness, honesty and diligence, he never had to seek a job. In the early sixties he was appointed captain in the Nova Scotia Militia and continued as such in the volunteers after Confederation. Was awarded the Victoria long service medal, with rank as Major and retired in 1897. In 1856, married Eliza Clark, of Marshall's Cove, with whom he lived for 59 years. To them were born four sons and five daughters, five of whom survive, viz: Melbourne, on the homestead; Arthur and Frank, of Bridgetown; Alfred, of Torbrook, and Mrs. Eber Brinson, of St. Croix Cove.

When the Post Office was established at Port Williams, and a new name was called for, he suggested Port Lorne, which was accepted. In early life, Mr. and Mrs. Charlton became active workers in the Baptist church and the former was chosen a deacon, which office he filled until his health failed some ten years ago. He was ever interested in the welfare of the community, its public schools, the Sunday School, also the singing class, which in those days was regarded one of the essential things.

A few weeks ago gangrene of the feet developed and the end came peacefully on the 7th of March. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth:.... that they may rest from their labors; for their works do follow them."

Yarmouth Will Not Advertise

(Yarmouth Light)

Owing to present conditions and the uncertainty of the tourist travel during the present season, the Tourist and Town Improvement Committee of the Board of Trade, at a recent meeting, decided that it would not be advisable to do the usual summer advertising. This was felt to be a backward movement, as the committee have not lost sight of the fact that if Yarmouth is to get her share of the tourist travel she must advertise.

Many a man imagines that he is the glare of publicity, when the public isn't aware of his existence.

BRIDGETOWN'S ELECTRIC LIGHT

THE NOVA SCOTIA BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF PUBLIC UTILITIES

Harry S. Magee, Joseph I. Foster, J. Harry Hicks, Angus Ramey, Freeman Fitch, Petitioners, and The Bridgetown Electric Light Heat and Power Company, Ltd., Respondents.

The respondents in this case have been operating heretofore solely on a flat rate schedule. The petitioners apply for an order requiring the company to file a meter rate.

Hearings were had at Bridgetown, on December 13th, 1917; at Halifax, March 6th, 1918. At the former a number of the citizens were present and expressed widely divergent views and it may at least be said that no very strong consensus of opinion was apparent in support of the change.

The company did not oppose the application, but may be said rather to have deprecated it on the ground that it calls for an immediate capital outlay to a considerable amount without corresponding advantage and that there was no general demand for the change.

Before hearing, the company, at the suggestion of the Board, filed such a schedule of rates as it would deem equitable should metered service be ordered.

At the hearing in Halifax, it also presented a schedule and valuation of its plant and called Mr. C. H. Wright, electrical engineer, to verify the estimates of values which totalled $16799.52. While the Board recognizes the general accuracy of Mr. Wright's figures, it is quite unable to accept his valuation of the transmission system, which appears excessive.

The item of $1070 for accrued depreciation on the other hand is in the opinion of the Board entirely too low, notwithstanding that full credit is given to the fact that this plant has been well cared for, is in good working condition and appears to be giving efficient service ample for the needs of the town.

In submitting its schedule of rates, the company offers comparison with the schedule sanctioned for the town of Digby. The Petitioners on the other hand contend that the conditions are vitally different in the two towns—steam power being used in Digby and water power in Bridgetown. There is often a danger in exaggerating the advantages of a water power over steam in plants of this size and character. The higher cost of installation with the resulting interest charges not infrequently outweighs the saving in fuel over a steam plant and it frequently becomes a debatable question, whether the water power plant possesses any economical advantage over the steam, especially, where as in the case before us the consumption of current falls far short of the capacity of the plant. There is, however, a distinct advantage if the original cost of installation be moderate and a liberal use be made of the service because of the fact that the cost of production does not bear the same proportion to the amount of energy used as in the case of the steam driven plant. In other words, after fixed charges are met, rates on additional consumption from water power may be lowered, but until that point is reached, rates must be higher than for the same use of steam generated energy due to the lower first cost of the steam plant.

In the case before us, neither the capital outlay nor the cost of operation appears to be excessive, but the consumption of energy falls considerably short of the capacity of the plant and the point where lower rates might be hoped for, has not yet been reached and the balance of advantage claimed for Bridgetown and Digby does not exist.

As regards the prayer of the petition, no valid argument can be offered against the principal of requiring customers to pay for what they use. The Electric Light Act declares a consumer entitled to have metered such current as he uses and while it may be no part of the duty of this Board to enforce a Federal Statute, the requiring of metered service is undoubtedly such a matter of practice as the Board is directed to deal with. In the result, the Board is of opinion that the prayer of the Petition should be granted and that metered service be applied and on the terms mentioned on the annexed schedule. Such rates will go into effect on May 1, 1918.

An order will be made amending the existing schedule accordingly. (Sgd.) JOHN W. ROSS, P. R. COLPITT, Halifax, March 21st, 1918.

"TEMPORARY BUSINESS"

Golden Eyed Wax Beans

Mr. Wm. A. Bacon, the popular and well known president of the Digby County Farmers' Association, has this to say in reference to golden eyed wax beans:

The advantages in planting this bean are these: Earliness; ripening up its crop early in September, when there is usually warm sun enough to thoroughly dry the beans in the field. It is a tremendous cropper, out yielding all other varieties. It is absolutely rust proof, and is a double purpose bean, making it an excellent snap bean, as well as a first class bean for baking.

D. A. R. Delayed by Wreck.

The Halifax Herald says: Eight cars of a D. A. R. freight train were derailed near Ellershouse on Saturday and passengers from the evening express had to be transferred to another train made up on this side of the wreck and did not reach Halifax until after midnight.

A SUCCESSFUL BAPTIST PREACHER

ANNAPOLIS COUNTY MAN THE NEW PASTOR OF THE MEDFORD BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Denton J. Neily Will Be Greatly Missed in Gloucester, Mass.—Receives a Lengthy Resolution from the Parsons' Club of Cape Ann.

(From the Medford Messenger)

For several months since the resignation and removal from this city of Rev. William Austin Hill, the First Baptist Church has been without a settled pastor. Rev. J. M. Currie, of Melrose, having had charge. The church has now called Rev. Denton J. Neily, formerly pastor of the First Baptist church, of Gloucester, and he will assume the pastorate next Sunday. Mr. Neily enters his new field, bringing with him the best wishes of his former parishioners. The Gloucester paper deprecates the fact that the Baptist church and community lose a sincere worker for good.

"The removal of Rev. Mr. Neily removes one of the most popular and able clergymen on Cape Ann. Coming from Danielson, Conn., in April, 1910, Rev. Mr. Neily not only won the hearts of his parishioners, but made many friends in the community, with whom he has endeared himself. Of a pleasing personality, a good preacher, firm and true in all his convictions, a champion of all that is good and noble, and always to the front in any movement tending to moral and civic improvement, his presence will be greatly missed.

"During his pastorate here, 221 persons have been received into membership in the church, of which 188 came on confession of faith, and 43 by letter. Many of those received on confession of faith were adults and have become prominent in the work of the church. Despite the removals and deaths, the membership at present is over 100 more than in the beginning, being 467 against 355 when he first came here.

"Improvements to the church edifice costing $7,000 have been made during Rev. Mr. Neily's stay here, besides a debt of $4,000, nearly all paid, with pledges sufficient to cover the balance."

Mr. Neily, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Neily, of Bridgetown, was born in Middleton, N. S., in 1880. In 1896 he became a school teacher, but after two years he entered Acadia University, from which he graduated with honors in 1902. He then entered Newton Theological Institute, receiving his degree in 1905. He was acting pastor of the Bellingham church during the latter part of his course and later received a call to Danielson, Conn., where he labored for four and one half years. Then followed his eight years of service in Gloucester.

Mr. Neily's family consists of a wife, of very charming personality and a little daughter, a year and a half old.

Mrs. Neily is a daughter of Mrs. Carrie Cornwall, of Digby, and sister of Mr. G. B. Cornwall, of Brighton, Digby county.

The following resolution has been forwarded Rev. Mr. Neily from the Parsons' Club, of Cape Ann:

WHEREAS, our Brother, Rev. Denton J. Neily has been called from our city after nearly eight years of Christian ministry of unusual efficiency and consecration as pastor of the First Baptist church, and has responded favorably to a call to Christian service from the First Baptist church of Medford, where he is already at work, it is in our hearts to give expression to our appreciation of Mr. Neily's service to the Parsons' Club of Cape Ann, his devotion to the welfare of our city, and his gracious personality, which has made his friendship precious to us.

During the years of his life in Gloucester, Mr. Neily has never failed to exert his active leadership and to lend his loyal support to all the undertakings of the Parsons' Club, both in the sphere of interdenominational activities and in community welfare work. Since his co-operation was always hearty and cordial, his wisdom unflinching and his charity broad and deep we shall keenly miss him both in counsel and in service. Possessing a happy blending of progressive and conservative tendencies he has done much to increase the efficiency of all churches of Christ in our city without lessening his ardor and devotion to the well being of his own people.

The city of Gloucester always had a good friend in Mr. Neily. He was an active leader in all affairs for the common good, took a deep interest in the welfare of its children, especially in the public schools, was sacrificing of his labor in campaigns for no license and all other movements for moral uplift.

We, who have known him well in the intimacy of our own profession, are glad to take this opportunity to express our certain faith in his sincerity, integrity and loyal devotion to Jesus Christ. We are happy to have labored with him and wish him hearty success in his new field of labor.

While we are very reluctant to surrender him, we congratulate our ministerial brethren and the good people of Medford upon securing his services for he will surely prove to be to them a kind friend, a wise counselor and a helpful leader, beloved among them as he has been and will ever be among us.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That we give expression to our high estimation of the personal and professional worth of Mr. Neily's life and Christian service in our beloved city by inscribing this minute upon the records of the Parsons' Club of Cape Ann, by furnishing the Gloucester Daily Times with a copy for publication, and by sending copies to Mr. Neily and the official boards of the First Baptist church of Gloucester and the First Baptist Church of Medford, Mass.

Reception to Returned Heroes

On Monday evening, April first, the Paradise Literary Society held their last meeting of the year in the Baptist church. This was a patriotic meeting given to welcome our soldiers Pte. Joseph Woodworth and Sergeant Gladstone Starratt, who have just returned from overseas.

The church was very nicely decorated for the occasion. The choir furnished appropriate music. Mr. G. L. Pearson, president of the society, occupied the chair. Rev. I. A. Corbett gave an address of welcome to the returned soldiers. The outside speakers were Rev. M. S. Richardson, of Bridgetown; Rev. S. J. Boyce, and Dr. J. B. Hall, of Lawrencetown. Mrs. G. L. Pearson, in well chosen words, paid a fine tribute to our heroes. Special mention was made of our fallen hero, Pte. Herbert Lynch, who fell in action last October.
Lieut. Harold Longley, who returned from overseas several months ago, was also present and spoke of the Red Cross work overseas. The returned soldiers in a few words, expressed their appreciation of the welcome extended them. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

At the close the Red Cross held a social in the vestry of the church.

Play at Deep Brook

"How the Club was formed," by the Plus Ultra and the Golden Circle, the two organized classes of the Deep Brook Baptist Sunday School, was given in Union Hall in that village on Thursday evening, March 21st. There were eighteen young ladies taking part. The characters were all well taken. A very large and appreciative audience filled the hall so that many were standing. Many kind words were spoken by those present. The sum of $32.50 was realized. Special mention should be made of Miss Ruth Adams, President, of the Plus Ultra, who took the leading part in the play and worked very hard to make it a success.

CLEMENTSVALE

A Beautiful Village Four Miles From Clementsport Station

Clementsvalle, though not well known by everybody, is nevertheless a beautiful little village in Nova Scotia, about four miles from the station of Clementsport, from which a mail is faithfully carried daily by Mr. Albert Brown, who also conveys passengers.

Clementsvalle is connected with Annapolis Royal, twelve miles east, and Bear River, five miles west, by a highway so excellent, as in itself to be an inducement to motoring or driving parties.

There are only a few public buildings, but they are as fine as you will find in any similar village. A beautiful river also adds to the beauty of the place.

The first public building to describe, is the Methodist church. On the left on your way to Bear River, you see this church, built very plain to those who only see the outside, but the interior is beautiful indeed. This is one of the out stations from Bear River and service is held here on the fourth Sunday of every month at 3 p. m. The pastor is Rev. John W. O'Brien, who has filled his four years here. Organist is Miss Lydia Trimper, a much loved member of the church. To the right of the church, stands a dry goods and grocery store, owned by Mr. and Mrs. B. Dukeshire. Over this store is a nice hall that can be rented by the week or evening, at a reasonable price from the owner of the store.

Just across the street is the public school. It is a large two-department school. The principal is Miss Iva Tosh, a resident of Belleisle. The other teacher is Miss Alice Potter, a resident of Clementsvalle.

A few rods from this stands the Baptist church. This from the outside, looks more stylish than its sister church, but is not so beautiful inside. It has a nice tower and bell. Service here every Sunday, a. m. at 11 and the evenings of the 1st, 3rd and 5th Sundays at 7.30. Friday night, prayer meetings at 7.30. Pastor Rev. O. P. Brown. The organist is the pastor's wife.

We will not forget the Baptist parsonage, a few minutes' walk from the church. It is a nice large comfortable home for the minister and his family.

The post office is not at all large, but holds the mails alright. The post master is Mr. Charles W. Trimper, assisted by Mrs. R. J. Baird. The mails leave every day at 11 a. m., returning at 2.30 p. m.

There are no hotels here, but two nice boarding houses. Pleasant View Cottage is owned by a widow, Mrs. Margaret Trimper, is about ten minutes' walk from the churches or post office. It is on a hill which affords it its name. The other is owned by Mr. A. Chute and is not named. These are two nice places for spending a vacation at all seasons.

There is not a doctor within five miles, but the telephone makes your troubles less, as the doctors own cars and are with you in a few minutes. The nearest doctors are L. J. Lovett and J. D. Dinsmore, of Bear River. Both have a large practice and are very popular.

Clementsvalle is a busy place for so small a village. Almost every one is a farmer and not afraid of work. Some of the young folks are teachers. There is a stove mill owned by Ramsay and Beeler, which gives work to a few men for months at a time; also a shingle mill, two miles from the village, owned by Mr. Ivan C. Trimper, besides the cooper shop, two blacksmiths and undertaking establishment.

Very few in the place own cars, but what is nicer than a good horse and carriage?

LIFT EMBARGO ON LOBSTER SHIPMENT

Express Companies Accede to Boston Request

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Assurances that the embargo on the shipment of lobsters, west of New York, recently imposed by the express companies, would be immediately lifted, was given Friday to a delegation of Boston business men by representatives of the express companies.

The delegation was composed of P. J. Connolly, chairman; A. C. McLoon, H. I. Hicks, John J. Cox and Albert Johns who were accompanied by ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald.

A hearing before express company officials was held in New York recently and then delegates proceeded to Washington, where they got in touch with representatives of the director general of railroads and officials of the express companies.

Cincinnati Man Discovers Drug That Loosens Corns So That They Lift Out

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezeme, the recent discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

A quarter of an ounce costs very little at any store which handles drugs, but this is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn or toughened callus and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn or callus is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance, which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

LIME AS A FERTILIZER

The agricultural value of Ground Limestone has been thoroughly proven at Kentville and other Experimental Farms. LIME is one of the essential elements in plant structure. Each year's crop removes a certain amount of Lime from the soil, and this has been going on for years. As a result most land is deficient in Lime, and unless it is supplied from time to time best results cannot be hoped for.

We have taken the agency for a high grade of New Brunswick Ground Limestone and will have a quantity arriving by first trip of the steamer.

We also sell the National Fertilizer Company's Fish and Potash, Grain and Potato Fertilizers, etc.

All orders should be booked NOW as the supply is limited.

RIVERSIDE CEMETERY

In another column will be seen the notice of the annual meeting of the Riverside Cemetery, Bridgetown, on April 16th...

The Riverside Cemetery is a splendid example of what a community can accomplish by a united and earnest effort in one direction.

A few years ago this cemetery was nothing more than a neglected country burying ground, where vines and shrubs and wild wood grew freely untouched, save here and there by a lot holder...

We learn from the report to be presented to the annual meeting that the past year has shown the interest well maintained and the lawns and floral decorations under the superintendence of Mr. Stanwhite...

We learn that this spring a fund is being raised to care for and decorate the graves of Pioneer missionaries and ministers who labored here at various times during the last 100 years...

The Oddfellows very appropriately and solemnly perpetuate the memory of their departed members by annually decorating their graves with flowers and a visitation.

Whether the larger boys work at home or away they should all enroll that they may receive due credit for their work.

There will be an organization meeting held in St. James Hotel this (Wednesday) afternoon at 2.30. Capt. Corey, the district director for Hants, Kings and Annapolis counties, will be present and address a public meeting in the Baptist church this evening at 8 o'clock...

Don't forget to reserve April 20th, when Mrs. Temple's Telegram will be presented by local talent. Arrangements have been made with Mrs. Wilson, of St. John, (who so successfully presented this play in the Imperial Theatre, St. John, a few weeks ago) to take charge of the production here.

Death of Reed L. Farnsworth

Reed L. Farnsworth, the popular proprietor of "The Sea Side House," a favorite summer resort on the Bay of Fundy shore, at Hampton, N. S., died Sunday noon after an illness of several years. He is survived by a widow, three sons, Shirley and Howard, at home, and Foy at the Deaf Institution at Wolfville; four daughters, Florence, Ruby, Ethel and Adriel, all at home. He also leaves one brother, Hugh, in California, and one sister, Mrs. Alfred Tolson, at Hampton, where also his aged mother, Phoebe, widow of the late John E. Farnsworth, still resides. Funeral took place from his late home yesterday afternoon, with interment in the Baptist cemetery. The services were conducted by the Rev. R. B. Kingley, pastor of the Baptist churches in that district.

This is enrollment week for the "Soldiers of the Soil." Every boy 15 to 19 years of age who desires to assist in winning the war by helping to increase the production of food stuff necessary to our own needs...

Whether the larger boys work at home or away they should all enroll that they may receive due credit for their work.

Lost Her Way in the Woods

On the way home from Hampton, where she had been shopping, on the North Mountain, Mrs. Lavonia Cuff, aged nearly eighty years, took a short cut through the woods, lost her way and for a day and two nights wandered back and forth in a lost condition. Her cries for help during Wednesday were heard by people on the roadway, but no particular attention was paid to that as it was not known that she was missing. On Thursday she was found in a helpless and semi-conscious state by a Mitchell boy, and assisted to her home. She says she walked both nights steadily, fearing to sit down that she should get the sleep of death. She made no fire and had nothing to eat for nearly sixty hours.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting

There will be an organization meeting held in St. James Hotel this (Wednesday) afternoon at 2.30. Capt. Corey, the district director for Hants, Kings and Annapolis counties, will be present and address a public meeting in the Baptist church this evening at 8 o'clock, outlining the plan and need for the present call. Capt. Corey is a very interesting speaker and we trust will be greeted with a big audience as this is certainly a very important work which should receive the hearty support of every resident of the town and surrounding villages.

British Tank Plays Part In Recruiting In U. S. A.

BRITISH CANADIAN HUSTLE IN U.S.A.

During one recent week in March the British and Canadian Recruiting Mission dispatched to Canada 1,083 volunteers for the British and Canadian armies. During the absence of Brigadier-General W. A. White, C.M.G., Col. J. S. Dennis, of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, is in command of the recruiting programme in the United States. Brigadier-General White is making a tour through the south in an effort to stimulate interest in recruiting.

The pictures accompanying this article illustrate the campaign that is being carried on in New York by the Mission. Brigadier-General White and Colonel Dennis have started a whirlwind campaign for recruiting Britishers and Canadians in the United States covering the next two months

(1) Mrs. Wheelock, "champion recruiter," asking for British and Canadian volunteers, from the deck of the tank "Britannia." Joe Taylor at the right. (2) Sgt.-Major Bramhall, in charge of recruits of the Jewish Battalion, leaving British and Canadian Recruiting Depot, 220 W. Forty-second St., New York, Feb. 28th, to board the Fall River Line steamer for Yarmouth, N.S. This event bears evidence of the desire of the Jews to join England's forces to maintain control of Palestine. (3) Col. J. S. Dennis, C.E.F., in charge of the Canadian contingent, British Canadian Recruiting Mission. (4) The kind of picture that fascinates recruits. (5) Brig.-Gen. W. A. White, C.M.G., Officer Commanding the British and Canadian Recruiting Mission in the United States. (6) Standing: C. Brooman White, Officer Commanding New York Depot of the British and Canadian Recruiting Mission. Seated (left to right): Mrs. Gordon Auchinclose, Mrs. James Auchinclose, daughters of Mrs. E. M. House, and Captain Richard Halset, of the "Britannia." (7) Capt. F. F. Sise, in charge of the Intelligence Section.

Their ambition is to secure 20,000 men from the United States, if possible, before the terms of the draft convention between the United States and Great Britain become effective. During the eight months the Mission has been at work in the United States it has secured 22,000 volunteers for the British and Canadian armies, and has examined about 16,000 more.

Brigadier-General White has made the point that if a Britisher or Canadian desires to aid the Allies he can do so by promptly volunteering, because the machinery of the British and Canadian armies for training men has been so well developed by three and a half years of experience that it can train a man and put him in the firing line in five months. This has actually been done in quite a number of cases. On the other hand, the United States Government, starting much later, has had its hands full in training the first contingent of the draft, numbering about 700,000 men, and the second draft will follow close upon the heels of the first.

LETTER FROM A BEAR RIVER BOY

He Visited London During One of the Recent Air Raids.

Dear Mother: I received your letter yesterday, dated January 17th and was pleased to hear that you were well and that Leslie is improving. This is Tuesday afternoon so will finish this letter that I started four days ago. The reason I did not get it finished last Friday was I got my pass for London to stay until Monday midnight, so with the hurry of getting ready I had to leave it. I could not get my service leave last week as I am not entitled to it until the last day of this month, but got three full days instead for the time being. As I said in another letter I went with Mr. Simkins, and although space and time will not allow me to tell you all about the exciting time I had, I will just mention a few things. We spent most, or practically all of our time in the South East end at Mr. Ed. Strong's, who is a great friend of Mr. Simkins. Saturday night Mr. Strong took us to see Carmenita, one of the best plays in London, and just towards the end of the last act, the police sounded the "take cover," meaning the first warning for an air raid, so all the people passing the theatre at that time were allowed to "take cover" inside. But still the play went on as though nothing had happened. When the play was over, Mr. Strong decided that we had better go home. He then made us run from Shaftsbury Ave., to Trafalgar Square, where we took the underground railway to Elephant and Castle Station, where we tried to get to the street, but no use the crowd was too thick, we could not budge, so we boarded the next train (one every two or three minutes) for London Bridge street, thinking this would be the only place the crowd would be small, it being a business centre. We did manage to get on here, and although not very safe, we watched the aerial police, and our guns pumping lead into the clouds. At 12:30 the "All Clear" was sounded and the searchlights signalled that danger was over. Our men had beaten their back home, bringing down one or two machines. We then caught a "bus" for home, arriving there about one o'clock, and believe me Mr. Strong was relieved to find his family safe. Sunday was a beautiful day and we took it easy to prepare for another attack Sunday night. Mrs. Strong had a lot of friends invited in for Sunday evening, some being very musical and the rest very talkative. We spent a very pleasant evening. At ten o'clock, the Cothas came as expected, so Mr. Simkins and I were on our toes to see it all, and believe me we did. They penetrated into the heart of the city, flying right over our house. Of course our guns were going at them for all they were worth, shrapnel bursting everywhere. It made quite a pretty spectacle and quite a dangerous one too. After awhile we went inside to cheer the women and girls up, which was easy, as they are so used to the raids now, they take it as a matter of course. Just as we got interested in one another, Crack, Or! Or! a large shell hit the next house just above the back door, broke the bricks, door and floor of the kitchen all to pieces, and the pieces of the shell hit our door step, one piece which I am sending you. We had a good day Monday, went to the Coliseum and spent the afternoon. Caught the 8.15 at Waterloo and arrived in Andover at eleven o'clock. Considering everything we enjoyed ourselves very much. I have a hearty invitation when I get my service leave in another month to spend it at Mr. Strong's home. Trusting you are all well and getting along fine. I remain your loving son,

Using Something Not Yours

Some employers have made a rule that no employee may talk on the telephone or receive mail in the office. These employers may have made the rule to conserve to themselves the things they pay for concentration and service of their workers, and they may have made the rule with the welfare of the employees at heart. True, there are certain lines of business, where it may sometimes be necessary for employees to have tele- phone calls, to receive letters, and to

Revolver Shots on First Street

[Yarmouth Times]
Mrs. Monde Saulnier, residing in the "Goudey house," on First street, was taken with an ill-turn, yesterday, which manifested itself in a temporary aberration of the mind. She had been much depressed by the war news, and it is thought this may have had something to do with her illness. She procured a large .38 calibre revolver and opened a fusillade through a pipe hole in the floor, opening to the apartments of Mrs. Charlie Roy, emptying twenty cartridges at the base-burner, etc., all the time crying out: "Here they come!"

Mrs. Saulnier was under the impression she was defending her children against the Huns. Mrs. Roy, whose husband is overseas in the C. E. F., was somewhat upset by the sound of firearms and flying bullets, and sent for Chief of Police Babine, who executed a flank movement and proceeded under the circumstances. The Chief at once sent for Mr. Saulnier, who is a ship carpenter at Bellevue's Cove, and he arrived home the earliest opportunity. Mrs. Saulnier is recovering.

Editorial Questionnaire

Ever sit at a typewriter and try to see what matter of public interest you could write about, how you could say something nice about this one, and something nice about that one, give some ideas on a popular topic, make suggestions which might be carried out by some one in the community, who had the time and money to do so, smooth over someone's mistakes which had reached the public ear, try and explain why such and such things are not so, make a hero or heroine out of someone who had done something a little unusual, give the proper space to the life of a departed citizen, laud the beauty and grace of a bride, see that every organization that has met has its name mentioned, give the name of all the new officials of any order, announce the events which are planned, write up the programmes of entertainments, omit everything that should be omitted from publicity, write everything which everybody wants you to write about, and withal make no enemies? Then you're partly fitted to be an editor of a small town newspaper.

S. S. Gov. Cobb the Fourth U. S. Training Ship.

A fourth training ship has been added to the squadron now maintained at Boston by the United States Shipping Board for the preparation of American citizens, 21 to 30 years old, for sailors, firemen, coal, passers, cooks, and messmen in the new American merchant marine. The steamer Gov. Cobb, in the passenger service between Boston and Yarmouth, has been chartered by the Shipping Board recruiting service from the Eastern Steamship Lines, Incorporated, and was turned over April 1. The Cobb will have her base at East Boston, where the former Army transport Meade, once the famous liner City of Berlin, will soon be placed as a mother ship. The Gov. Cobb is of 2522 gross tons, 239 feet long and 54 feet beam. Several hundred apprentices will be able to train on her at once.

Minard's Liniment relieves Nerve Pain

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS
Gin Pills have attained astounding success in the rational treatment of Rheumatism, Pains in the Back, Swollen Joints, Urinary Troubles, etc. Here is one instance—

"I suffered from Kidney Trouble for several years, and tried numerous remedies and prescriptions without permanent relief, my case being chronic. I decided to try Gin Pills. One single pill gave me great relief. I have now taken four boxes of Gin Pills and find myself completely cured. My more had been—increased my weight, clear eyes—fresh colour—more strength and vigour. This is what Gin Pills have done for me."

Creative Canadian Literature

Although there are no books more sought after by collectors of other nations than "Canadiana," Canadians themselves have hitherto paid little attention to their own literature. When, therefore, Lord Shaugnessy of the C.P.R., who himself is a great reader of works by Canadian authors, and has an extensive library, was recently asked to present the nucleus of a library to the Canadian Club of New York, no available list could be found which could be considered representative of what was creative and original in Canadian literature. With the help of well informed booksellers and librarians such a list was compiled and the nucleus of this Canadian library in New York has as the intention was to emphasize the creative character of Canadian literature as well as to emphasize the creative character of Canadian literature as well as to emphasize the creative character of Canadian literature.

Proposes to Sell Eggs by Weight

If a bill, which Sir George Foster intends to introduce, goes through Parliament, householders in the future, when buying eggs, will be entitled to get a pound and a half avoirdupois, equivalent of one dozen. Heretofore, they have always been sold by the dozen, and among retailers there has been little or no regard to the fact of whether the eggs were large or small. The price was the same.

Soldier's View of a Sky Pilot

A young Canadian volunteer who earned a commission for bravery but is incapacitated for active service, writing his story as "Private Peat, mentions the chaplains' standing among the men in the army.

As the religion of the Gurka follows him to the battlefield, so in a different sense does the religion of the white man. We have our thoughts, our hopes, and our aspiration. Some of us have our bibles and our prayer-books, some of us have rosaries and crucifixes. All of us have deep in our hearts love, veneration, and respect for the sky pilot—chaplain, if you would rather call him so. To us sky-pilot, and very truly so, the man who not only points the way to higher things, but the man who travels with us over the rough road which leads to peace in our innermost selves.

It does not matter of what sect or of what denomination these men may be. Out on the battlefield there are Anglican clergy, there are Roman Catholic priests, there are ministers of the Presbyterian, the Methodist, and the Baptist, and the other non-conformist faiths. Creed and doctrine play no part when men are gasping out a dying breath and the last message home. The chaplain carries in his heart his comfort for the man who is facing eternity. We do not want to die. We are all strong and full of life and hope and power of doing. Suddenly we are stricken beyond mortal aid. The chaplain comes and in a few phrases gives us the password, the sign which admits us to the peaceful Masonry of Christianity. Rough men pass away, hard men go "west" with a smile of peace upon his pain-tortured lips if the padre can get to them in time for the parting word, the cheerful colloquial "best o' luck."

Does the padre come to us and sanctimoniously announce our eternal doom should he hear us swear? The clergyman, the minister of old time, is down and out when he reaches the battlefields of France. No stupid tracts are handed to us, no whimpering and groaning, no morbid comments on the possibility of eternal damnation. No, the chaplain of today is a real man, maybe he always was, I don't know. A man who risks his life as do we who are in the fighting line. He has services, talks, addresses, but he never preaches. He practices all the time.

Out of this war there will come a new religion. It won't be a sin any more to sing rag-time on Sunday, as it was in the days of my childhood. It won't be a sin to play a game on Sunday. After church parade in France we rush to the playing field behind the lines, and many a time I've seen the chaplain umpire the ball game. Many a time I've seen him take a hand in a friendly game of poker. The man who goes to France to-day will come back with a broadened mind, be he chaplain or be he a fighter. There is no room for narrowness, for dogma, or for tenets of old-time theology. This is a manzize business, and in every department men are meeting the situation as real men should.

Care of Horse With the Mange

Mange is so prevalent among horses in Boston and elsewhere, in New England, affecting not only horses but cattle, that it is fast becoming a scourge, says a Boston paper. A good and cheap remedy is vinegar. This should be sopped on thoroughly every day, covering not only the mangy spots, but the whole horse, legs and all. The horse should then be rubbed vigorously, including his legs, walked about inside the stable to prevent him catching cold, and blanketed with blankets, that have not been used on a mangy horse. The harness, halter, brushes, curry comb, etc., should be dipped in vinegar, or in gasoline which is cheaper. A blanket or surcingle that has been used on a mangy horse, should not be used again until it has been well soaked in gasoline, vinegar, a strong solution of ammonia and water, or in boiling water.

luxuries for the boys. Here are concerts—the best and best known artists come out and give their services to cheer up Tommy. Here the padres will hold five or six services in an evening for the benefit of five or six relays of men who can attend. Here are checkers, chess sets, cards, games of all sorts. Here is a miniature departmental store where footballs, mouth organs, pins, needles, buttons, cotton, everything can be bought. "What's the place wid the red triangle?" asked the Irish soldier, lately joined up and only out, from a Scotch-Canadian who stood near by. "You? D'ye mean to say ye dinna know the meaning o' thon? Why, mon, yon's the place whaur ye get a packet o' fags, a bar or six-inch chocolate, a soft drink and salvation for 25 cents.

Yes; we get all that in the Y. M. C. A. huts where the padre toils and the layman sweats day and night for the well-being of the soldier men. In some of the huts it is actually possible to get a bath. It is always possible to get dry. Can folks wonder why we love the padres, why we reverence the Y. M. C. A.? Can folk wonder why men who used to look on such men as sissy-boys have changed their opinions? Can folks wonder that the religion which is Christian is making an impression on the soldier? Can folk deny the fact that this war will make better men? Possibly all men may be born free and equal, but it is impossible to keep some of them in that condition. Sometimes a man's enemies with bad designs do him less harm than his friends with good intentions.

The Easter service held in the Methodist church here, on Sabbath, 31st, was in keeping with the ideal Easter day, an eloquent sermon by the Rev. In the evening, special music had been arranged by the choir, in the Baptist church, followed by a service of song, a very sweet solo by the minister's wife, Mrs. Roop, being much appreciated.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make This Beauty Lotion for a Few Cents and See for Yourself.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any drugist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

New Switchboard at Digby.

A new switchboard has been put in to service at Digby. This is a No. 1240 magneto switchboard of three sections. The present equipment is for 175 subscribers' lines. The Telephone Bulletin says: In our issue of February last year we gave an account of the new office at Digby, and mentioned that a new switchboard was expected. Smallpox in Digby County.

Smallpox has made its appearance in Digby county and Miss Katherine D'Entremont, Principal of the Comeauville school, is quarantined. The disease appears to have been brought to that village by a traveller, whose whereabouts are at present unknown. It is very unfortunate that this case has made its appearance in Clare, a French district, very thickly populated, in which there are twenty-four vessels under construction, all the ship-yards employing large numbers of men. The case appears to be a light one, and it is hoped by strict quarantine to keep it within the house in which it appeared.
