

EXCITING INCIDENT IN HAU MURDER TRIAL

One Witness Refuses to Testify Without Permission From the Accused.

KARLSRUHE, Germany, July 21.—Four days of legal battling over the life of Karl Hau, formerly professor of Roman law at George Washington University, Washington, D.C., who is charged with the murder of Frau Molitor, his mother-in-law, at Baden, Baden, on Nov. 8 last, leaves the fate of the man still hanging in the balance.

The German public is showing an absorbing interest in the case, and the newspapers are running off greatly enlarged editions. The streets outside the court room are filled continuously by a large crowd, among which are many well-dressed women.

It develops that Herr Dietz, counsel for Hau, has sent his representatives to Dr. Bleicher, the state attorney, in connection with remarks made by the attorney at the sitting Friday. Herr Dietz declared that he intended this as a preliminary step to a duel.

A sensation Saturday was the sudden summoning of two witnesses from Karlsruhe. One is a young artist named Dr. Voegelé. The latter swore his client had had an interview with Hau, upon a charge of which he has since been acquitted, and the other his name is Lenck.

The judge decided to impose a fine on Lenck for refusing to testify. Thereupon Hau arose and said that he would make an explanation. He had returned to the continent, he said, to see Olga, for whom he conceived a violent passion. He wanted to meet her before he returned to the United States. She knew nothing of his intention, and he had assumed a disguise in order to carry out his purpose unrecognized.

President Neilford then mentioned by name the individuals received by him personally for the presentation of petitions. He added that such manifestations show the confidence of the world, and he expressed the hope that some other generous donor might imitate Andrew Carnegie, would give the means to found an institute of international law.

When he had spoken nearly six hours, Mr. Hawley reached a Caldwell where, in December, 1905, a trial was responsible for the imposition of a bomb were afoot. His voice now found a sympathetic note, and as he told of the last moments of the former governor, the crowd leaned forward to catch the speaker's every word.

BRYAN WOULD RAILROAD DEMOCRATS TO SUCCESS

Make Them Issue in Next Campaign—Regulation vs. Public Ownership.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 21.—William Jennings Bryan has issued a statement in which he says government ownership is not an immediate issue. A large majority of the people still hope for effective regulation. While they so hope, they will not consider government ownership.

While many Democrats believe, and Mr. Bryan is one of them, that public ownership of railroads is the ultimate solution of the problem, still those who believe that the public will finally, in self-defense, be driven to ownership, recognize that regulation must be tried under the most favorable circumstances before the masses will be ready to try a more radical remedy.

Regulation cannot be sufficiently tried within the next few years. There is no desire anywhere to make government ownership an issue in 1908. To inject the government ownership question into the next campaign would simply give representatives of railroads a chance to dodge the issues of regulation and deceive the public.

"If the Democratic party will clearly and unequivocally demand, first the ascertaining of the value of all the railroads; second, the preventing of over-capitalization, and, third, the reduction of rates to a point where they will yield only a reasonable return on the real value of the roads, it will command itself not only to Democrats but to those Republicans who have been brought to the railroad question. The railroad situation presents a vital issue, and the issue should be so stated that everyone can understand the party's position," he concludes.

BOISE, Idaho, July 21.—James Hawley, leading counsel for the State of Idaho, presenting the first argument to the jury in the case against William D. Haywood, charged with the murder of former Governor Steunenberg, spoke for nearly eight hours, distributed over three sessions of the court. Even when the session Saturday had extended beyond the customary limit every seat in the court room was occupied and remained so till the last word was spoken.

None listened more attentively to the argument than Haywood. From time to time he took copious notes in a small book and frequently made suggestions to one or the other of his lawyers, seven of whom were in court. Through the day Mr. Hawley assumed an almost conversational tone. The analysis of testimony in contradiction of Orchard's story concluded frequently with the denunciation of the jury in the case against a witness perjured or intentional falsifier.

Mr. Hawley, in speaking of Orchard's alleged dealings with the mine operators' detectives, said: "Orchard undoubtedly was trying to secure money from all the sources he could, and I am not going to defend him for his double dealing in taking money from both the Western Federation of Miners and the railroad company. I am not here to pain Harry Orchard in anything but his true colors. There is but one claim we make for him, and that is that he told you the truth."

SKELETON OF POCAHONTAS MAY HAVE BEEN UNEARTHED

Bones Found in Ruins of Old English Church Revive the Romantic Story of Virginia.

GRAVESEND, Eng., July 21.—While excavating yesterday on the site of the old parish church where Pocahontas was buried, and which was destroyed by fire in 1777, workmen unearthed a human skeleton. Much interest was evoked by the find, for it was suggested that the bones might be those of Pocahontas. The skeleton was submitted to experts, who, however, were unable to arrive at any definite conclusion.

The skeleton when the workmen came upon it, facing downward within two feet of the surface, suggests a more recent burial than that of Pocahontas. Pocahontas was the Indian woman celebrated in the colonial history of Virginia. She was the daughter of Chief Powhatan, and was about 12 years of age when John Smith was brought a captive before her father in 1607. Then she saved his life by interposing her body between him and the war clubs of his executioners, and by interceding for him with her father. At least, this incident is recorded by Smith in his history of Virginia, published in 1624, after her appearance in England, the omitted from earlier accounts of her captivity. Pocahontas had married one Samuel Argall, in 1612, by intimidation or bribery, secured possession of her, demanding a ransom from her father. Pocahontas was detained, however, in spite of the chief's compliance with demands, and in 1613 married John Rolfe, a settler at Jamestown. Together, in 1616, sailed with others of her race, they went for England.

What legal steps can be taken to secure the repeal of this act, which taxes one while denying them the right to vote either for or against the makers of that law, thus penalizing honest labor, who do not work for it? Surely the women who are obliged to support themselves, and perhaps help support of their family, should be encouraged to do so, instead of penalizing them for their work, which is both a benefit to themselves, as well as to the community at large, while their wealthier sisters, who live in luxury, or vegetate in a boarding house, add nothing to the wealth and development of their country. I know many women will wait anxiously for your reply to these questions.

With regard to the above letter, we have this to say: The number of Toronto women who have recently been meeting at private houses to protest against the new taxation and engage into its extent and operation. They sent a delegation to wait on his worship the mayor and learn from him that the municipal legislation was responsible for the imposition of this tax. They further learnt that in 1905 a tax had been levied on incomes over $450 or thereabouts, and many girls in shops and other employments not particularly well paid, were aggrieved by it. Some are in arrears to the present time, and are just being compelled to pay now. This law, however, appears to have been amended for this year, and last year, the tax was on incomes over $600 or thereabouts, and householders are, of course, exempt.

A new delegation was elected to wait on Premier Whitney, Dr. Augusta Stowe-Guller, being the number one senator-general denied the responsibility of the tax and referred us again to the municipal authorities. In disgust the women gave it up. It would appear that one body of men imposed the tax and another pockets the proceeds, an excellent method, no doubt. Meanwhile, advice was given to one woman who went to complain, by the tax collector himself, that she should not pay her taxes, because she had no thing which could be seized. On this plan, let him (or her) escape who sees that he is living in a free country, where every man does as he chooses till he is caught, especially in legislatures.

Dresses—Plain and Elaborate.

Home-Made Frocks. One girl, who possessed the advantage of having in her own home a member of the family who was really talented in the making of clothes, was worrying about a street frock for summer. "I really haven't a cent," she said, "I don't know how to make a dress, but I've spent every penny I have on my muslin and organdie frocks for last summer. They were, too, made in princess style some of them, and especially becoming to the small but exquisitely rounded form of the wearer.

"It costs so much to buy a suit, and then they are so clumsy. It seems a shame too when I have my silk coat for chilly evenings or on the boats. I'd never get a ready-made to fit me, either. A bright idea came into my mind the other day. I'll make a really pretty English print, so fashionable just now for hot weather, made up in a tight-fitting style becoming to the round figure, and pin-striped to give a taller effect. For pattern, either the princess style of the other dresses might be used, or a corsage effect with a really neat, neatly-fitted print over a soft organdie blouse. The former mode was decided on, and was developed and completed by one blue and white stripes of white. No trimming but a few daisies. A cooler and more elegant than walking dress would be hard to find.

A Pink Boiero Suit. Among the pink frocks so popular in the streets, one particularly striking was noticed. It was of a much deeper shade than common, and was worked by a decided brunet. It had little trimming and was not so modified by white in patches as the more common ones. That is the blunder women make in attempting to tone down a pink linen suit. On the contrary, they should have a suit of the same shade, and a deep tailored garb of pink linen had a white cord along the upper and lower edges. An Evening Gown. Amethyst-tinted silk was charmingly employed with chiffon of a pale shade in an evening gown for a lady of advanced years. Elaborate tulletries of the silk with soutache braiding ended in a flowing oversleeve slashed up the middle, and accented with satin ribbon of a paler purple, finished with tiny bows. The under-blouse was of white with lace cuffs, bands and a ribbon with tiny bows finished the elbow. The skirt was slashed up each side as far as the hip, and pleated chiffon overset in. This gave great fullness, while at the same time the hip was neatly fitted. Into the silk of the skirt the dyed lace used in the bodice was also inset.

Personal. A quiet wedding took place in the presence of a few friends at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, the Rev. A. Most of the lady managers attended.

A CRIME THAT IS NOT PUNISHABLE. How many people reading this article have gone into a drug store and asked for some well known and highly tried medicine and some unscrupulous druggist has said, "Yes I have that, but it is just as good and costs less." Any druggist doing this has not the interest of your health at heart, but the interest of his pocket, as he can make more profit out of the cheap substitute.

STRIKE AT PAPER MILLS. Employees of the Imperial Co. at Sturgeon Falls Go Out.

NORTH BAY, July 21.—(Special.)—The Imperial Paper Mills at Sturgeon Falls are closed on account of labor troubles which have been brewing for some time. The paper-makers were discharged some time ago for refusing to do Sunday work unless paid time and one-half, which they claim was part of the Paper-makers' Union agreement with the mill. The mill management sent Superintendent Bellinger to the United States to engage non-union paper-makers, and were successful in securing enough to start up one machine. The introduction of non-union labor in the paper mill caused the union pulp workers to walk out and the entire plant is shut down. The mill management have made no statement of their position, beyond saying in the local paper, owned by officials of the paper company, that the men do not know what they are striking for. Virtually the paper makers are locked out, and the pulp workers walked out. President Carey of the Paper-makers' Union is on his way to Sturgeon Falls, and it is hoped for the good of the town that the trouble will be adjusted. Evidently a bonfire had been started in rear of the building, which is of frame. Loss $3000.

BIG BATCH OF ARRIVALS. Seven Hundred Immigrants, 300 Being Jews, Reach Toronto.

On Sunday three special trains, with 700 immigrants, arrived in Toronto. The majority of the newcomers were foreigners, 300 Jews being included. The latter were met by friends and made quite a picturesque procession as they paraded to "the Ward" with their belongings. The balance were mainly Norwegians and Russians, altho there were also 100 boys from the Barnardo Homes. The former were on their way to points in the United States west, chiefly to Chicago, Milwaukee and Minneapolis. The Norwegians were a high-class crowd of propagandizing appearance and seemed quite capable and happy. The men wore a uniform style of cap, which gave them quite a military appearance, while the women, most of whom were quite young, were neatly and even attractively dressed. The Russians, however, hung round the station platforms and had to be moved once or twice by the police and station officials. All these parties went west on the 11 o'clock train. The Barnardo boys were met at the station by their superintendent and escorted to the home on Farley-avenue. They were bright, intelligent-looking little chaps, and are to be sent out to homes with farmers and others in the province.

DEWDNEY FAILURE DUE TO TRADING STAMP LAW

Head of Jewelry Firm Which Assigned Says Liabilities Greatly Exaggerated.

A. H. Dewdney, senior member of the firm of Dewdney Bros., Jewelers, whose assignment was announced last week, has returned to Toronto after several days' absence, and made the following statement to The World of the firm's affairs:

"The published statement was not a true representation of the firm's condition. The trade debt amounting to $100,000 and direct bank advances to $10,000, my personal estate amounting to about $40,000, with only a few thousand dollars of liabilities. There are no engagements in real estate, and no money of the firm has been spent."

"The failure of the Benedict silver plating company of Syracuse, N.Y., lost the firm's stamping business. The failure of the Ontario Bank, when this institution was practically at a standstill."

"We were simply hounded to death by a few Canadian firms for small amounts, who did not hold a renewed debt against us, and with whom we had done business from ten to thirty years."

RIVERDALE FIRM HAVE SUCCESSFUL OUTING

Despondent Thru Illness, Ends Life—Former Scarboro Resident Dies.

RIVERDALE, July 21.—(Special).—The first annual picnic of the employees of Love Bros., the well-known builders and contractors of Riverdale, which took place on Saturday at Niagara Falls, was an unqualified success. A violent electrical storm, which passed over the town of Niagara Falls shortly after noon, delayed the sports for a short time, but otherwise the outing, so far as the company were concerned, was a delightful one.

The 310 employees of the firm, together with their wives, children and sweethearts, made up a happy company of fully 1,000 persons. At Queen Victoria Park twenty-one tents were run up, all of which were keenly contested. Among the features which attracted great interest and amusement were the baby show and the mile race. There was an abundance of good things provided by the ladies. The return journey was made in safety, the excursionists arriving back shortly before 10 p.m. The picnic was a happy indication of the cordial relations existing between Love Bros. and their large staff of employees.

EAST TORONTO. Council Meeting Will Be Held at Later Date—Business Pending.

TORONTO JUNCTION. Sad Case of Suicide—Young Married Woman Takes Poison.

TORONTO JUNCTION, July 21.—Mrs. Annie Hodson, wife of William Hodson, a butcher in the employ of Winter Bros. and living on Louise street, in York Township, committed suicide shortly after 9 o'clock on Saturday night by taking a dose of carbolic acid. Deceased expired just after taking the draught. Mrs. Hodson had been in bed for some time from rheumatism, and latterly had been greatly depressed in spirits. Coroner Clendenan was called in, but after a careful enquiry decided that an inquest was unnecessary. Deceased came here some months ago from the old country. Besides the husband two little children are left. Deceased was about 25 years of age.

During the disturbances in the last quarter of the lacrosse game yesterday, a young lady who was in the grandstand with her mother and sister became hysterical and fainted. She was carried to the house of B. Taylor, opposite the grounds, on Uxley street, and was attended to by Drs. Hopkins and Taylor. She was afterwards taken to her home at 99 Franklin avenue. This morning she had completely recovered.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Glassford, wife of W. J. Glassford of East Annet street, left her daughter, 5 years old, in charge of a neighbor, Miss Martin, and on returning found that Miss Martin and the child had gone out. As the evening wore on and the couple did not return, the parents became anxious, so Mr. Glassford and his son started out to look for them. The search was kept up all night, but failure attended their efforts till 4 o'clock this afternoon, when the child was found alone wandering on the Lake Shore road near the mouth of the Humber. The child's appearance indicated that she had been out all night, and was so tired that no information could be got from her. Those interested seem reticent about throwing any light on the matter or offering any explanation.

sure was very poor, until the company started their auxiliary fire pump, after which the fire was extinguished.

POSTAL AUTHORITIES READY. Deputy Postmaster George Ross is rapidly getting the suburban free delivery system into good working order.

In Toronto Junction, where the plan has been in operation since June 15, a month, general satisfaction is expressed.

In East Toronto the postal department were prepared to undertake the work before the town had satisfactorily completed the work of numbering the houses and changing the names of the streets, some of which corresponded to those in the city. This now seems to have been satisfactorily adjusted, and the delivery, which is now confined to the southern portion of the town, will be extended to the northerly limits.

At Monday's meeting of the York Township Council, the question of numbering the houses in the congested districts bordering on the city was under discussion, but no definite action was taken in the matter.

DEEPEST BITUMINOUS COAL MINE IN THE STATES.

The deep colliery being worked at Aitchison, Kans., is of interest because of its depth, which is greater than that of any bituminous mine in the United States. It is estimated that of any other mine in the middle west, and also because of some of the conditions encountered, which add to the difficulty of operation.

YORK COUNTY CROPS.

From many parts of York County come reports of the great injury which is being done to the oat crop by the presence of the "aphis" or oat louse, the ravages of which are becoming more clearly marked every day. Where a week ago its presence was unknown, or the withered appearance of the crop attributed to other causes, no doubt now remains as to the reasons. There is reason to believe that other counties are suffering even more from the destructive pest than in York County.
